Chinese Merchants Of Shanghai Step Into Peacemaker Role In Move Against War

SHANGHAI, Jan. 25. — (A.P.)—Chinese merchants stepped into the role of peacemakers today urging the national government to order acceptance by Shanghai city officials of Japan's demands for suppression of the Chinese boycott by organizations.

Atmosphere approaching terror in the city was intensified by a terrific explosion in the Whang-poo River where the fleet of Japanese warships is anchored. A lighter carrying a cargo of explosives blew up outside the French concession shattering windows and sinking a number of small boats and killing 29 laborers. Another burst was added to the strained relations when Albert Forges, American employee of the American Express Company and former New Yorker, was shot and killed by a Chinese guard who fired into Forges' automobile. An attempt was made to burn the home of the Japanese Consul General Mural.

Japanese consular and naval officials reiterated their demands that anti-Japanese societies be broken up. The Japanese cotton spinners association of Shanghai added another threat. They said that as a result of the Chinese boycott they might soon be forced to close their 18 mills, throwing 70,000 Chinese employees out of work.

Albert Forges, American manager of the American Express Co., office here, was shot and killed by a Chinese soldier as he was walking with a young woman. She said one of a group of Chinese soldiers fired without warning at him and Forges passed them outside the French concession.

Forges, who had been here three years and formerly was with the express company in New York, was shot through the heart. Neither his companion nor the Chinese chauffeur was harmed. The soldiers were in an ugly mood, the woman said. Complaint was made to officials that they had threatened with bayonets four other Americans who were strolling in the vicinity, but permitted them to pass.

Chinese business men urged the national government at Nanking to have Wu Teh-Chen, mayor of Shanghai, agree unconditionally to the Japanese demands.

Mayor Wu still declined to act, but there was a growing feeling that the Chinese would give way. The demands call for disbanding of local anti-Japanese organizations and payment of damages for a recent attack on a number of Japanese Buddhist monks, the second of whom died yesterday.

The Japanese remained firm in their threat to occupy the city and break up the anti-Japanese movement, their chief reinforcement by warships in the harbor and 7,000 marines ready to move on the city.

Severe Cold Hits California Citrus

LONG SWORN IN AS U. S. SENATOR FROM LOUISIANA

Urges Democrats To Select Garner For Presidential Race

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. — (A.P.)—Huey Long was sworn in as senator from Louisiana today bringing the Senate membership to its full quota of 96 for the first time this session. By taking the oath Long discarded his title as governor. Renewing the dispute over that office before the oath, Long urged the Democrats to nominate for President Speaker Garner, Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, or Senator Robinson, of Arkansas.

He said Al Smith will be elected if nominated but did not believe Roosevelt would win if nominated.

President Hoover named Harvey Couch, Arkansas, and Jesse Jones, Texas, as two of the three Democratic directors of the two-billion dollar reconstruction finance corporation. The House Appropriations Committee submitted the interior department supply bill allowing $50,000,000 for the coming fiscal year.

After slashing $8,000,000 off the budget estimate the House Naval Committee approved $106,000,000 naval construction bill but postponed indefinitely further action by Congress to balance the national budget.

Bookkeepers and treasury operators will be assessed a 25 percent tax on their gross receipts under a plan submitted to the House Ways and Means Committee by Joseph Klein, taxation professor, at New York City College.

The powers that be in the House of Representatives in an extraordinary maneuver toward balancing the budget as soon as possible, appealed to its committee yesterday to work for minimum appropriations.

The treasury at the same time published statistics showing its revenue from all sources dropped $1,018,911,438 last year.

Weight will be given to this when the House Ways and Means Committee in the next few days sets about revising the administration proposals for increased taxation.

Although the Democrats have yet to devise their program, it has been plainly hinted they will pass by various proposals for miscellaneous levies in favor of setting imposts on one or more large rich fields—such as electrical power.

Moye, 50, Engineer Of Coast Line, Is Claimed By Death

Sudden death claimed the life of J. M. Moye, 50, 612 Oak Avenue, veteran Atlantic Coast Line railroad engineer at about 12:30 o'clock today.

Mr. Moye, who was in his 28th year as an employee of the road, was at the throttle of a southbound local engine when at Bostwick, north of Palatka, he became faint. Conductor W. J. Morrison hurried to a nearby telephone, got in touch with the Palatka depot and requested that a physician meet the train. When he returned to the cab, Mr. Moye had died.

Funeral arrangements had not been made at an early hour this afternoon.

Mr. Moye was born in Georgia, Feb. 7, 1881, and would have been 51 years old within a few days. He was well known here and throughout Florida railroad circles.

BANK RELIEF IS BEING SPEEDED BY PRESIDENT

Meanwhile, Mobiliza- tion Of Reconstruc- tion Corporation Is Proceeding Rapidly

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25. — (A.P.)—President Hoover turned yesterday to the next step in the emergency economic program: legislation for relief of depositors of closed banks.

Meanwhile, mobilization of the new gigantic reconstruction finance corporation proceeded rapidly.

An understanding was reached at a White House breakfast between the president, Senator Watson of Indiana, and Representative Shull of New York, the Republican floor leader, to press for congressional authority for an organization to speed payments to depositors in closed banks.

Two bills providing for this action are well along in congressional deliberations. That of Senator Glass, Democrat of Virginia, for revision of the banking system, provides for a limiting corporation. The administration has a measure sponsored by Senator Thomas, Republican of Idaho, for a similar $150,000,000 organization.

Every emergency measure directed, meanwhile, by the administration to put into operation the massive reconstruction organization established last week by Congress. Secretary Mellon announced an issue of $350,000,000 in treasury certificates. Of this sum, $200,000,000 is for meeting the initial needs of the two billion dollar (Continued on Page Two)

PHOENIX, Jan. 25. — (A.P.)—Defense charges that the apartment occupied by Agnes LeRoy and Hevzig Samuelson before they were killed last became a museum through which the public flocked at 10 cents a throw temporarily blocked today efforts of County Attorney Lloyd Andrews to complete evidence of first degree murder against Winnie Ruth Judd.

The defense contended the state was not able to show the premises of the apartment and Mrs. Judd's home to have been in the original condition when investigators visited them. The statements featured the sixth day of Mrs. Judd's trial for the slaying of her two friends.

Catholic Church Burns To Ground In Early Morning Fire That Attracts Crowd

Sanford's oldest church structure, All Souls Roman Catholic Church, caught fire from an unknown source early this morning, and burned to the ground. The blaze consuming the contents of the interior, and meaning adjoining buildings one of which, the rectory, was partly destroyed. It is estimated that the total damage suffered will exceed $12,500. The loss was covered by $10,000 insurance.

Within 10 minutes after an alarm had been turned in at 4:30 o'clock, hundreds of persons, including many pioneer residents who recalled the erection of the structure, were at the scene, assisting in the removal of the wreckage and the removal of the contents of the church.

The principal loss of church equipment in the church fire was the organ, a costly hand-made affair, which was a few minutes after the fire broke out.

GANDHI'S REBELS GIVE NO SIGNS OF RELENTING FIGHT

English Severity Has Had Little Effect On Curbing Activity

BOMBAY, India, Jan. 25. — (A.P.)—Despite all forms of unprecedented severity and a veritable tidal wave of punishment, Mahatma Gandhi's army of Nationalist rebels showed no sign of relenting today.

All over the country his followers have been indulging in various acts of non-violence to harass the government and try the patience of the police in their unending campaign for independence from British rule.

Defying the ordinance making peaceful picketing a prison offense, Indian women captives to station themselves outside stores and urge the public not to buy British goods. Scores have been arrested but there seems to be no abating line of others to take their places.

Likewise, attempts to make an Indian salt were going on, as well as picketing of banks and the government mint, which already has resulted in a sharp reduction in the flow of gold to abroad. In some cases the police arrest the picketers and in others they ignore them.

Yesterday was quiet throughout India except for several minor incidents. Flagellation ceremonies were carried out in a number of cities. Authorities in Karachi were charged to find Gandhi's tricolor flying boldly over the city magistracy court.

In some districts the government appeared to be tightening its grip on the passive resisters. Authorities in Calcutta warned Indian shopkeepers that the repressive ordinances gave them the power to seal the stores of those who closed up as a protest against Gandhi's arrest and imprisonment.

A city magistrate in Lucknow ordered a Nationalist insurance concern to forbid the Gandhites to enter the company's premises for one month. The firm's officials threatened served notice on the government they would sue the secretary of state for India for any losses suffered.

Restraining orders were served on Mayor B. G. Roy of Calcutta and his chief executive officer, J. C. Mukherjee, forbidding them to participate in any Nationalist activities.

Small Return Shown On Celery Carload

An example of the small return now being realized by Sanford celery growers from a carload of their products is revealed in a sales receipt brought to The Sanford Herald office this morning by Joe Cameron, veteran grower.

Mr. Cameron sent a carload of celery to Cleveland on Jan. 21, receiving in return a check for $99.21, as net to him. Mr. Cameron estimated that crates for the 256 crates included in the car cost him $52.50; cutting, another $24.50, and hauling $7, leaving him a net of $14.71.

All but 53 crates sold for $2.50 or less, with 110 crates selling at $1.50. The total gross return was $124.50.

The following deductions brought the gross down to $109.21: net freight, $43.50; commission, $25.42; loading, $3.50; inspection, $1.50; washing, $20.15.

GRIDIRON THRILL HAS FIRST PLACE IN PRESS VOTING

Dempsey Wins Individual Honors As Leading Spine-Tingler

By ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(A.P.)—College football has furnished more thrills than any other sport for the experts who peer intently from the nation's press coops. But the individual who has given them by far the most spine-tingling sensation is William Harrison (Jack) Dempsey.

Of the total of 62 boxing events recalled by the experts as among their most exciting experiences, 13 Javore Dempsey. In the Associated Press poll, Dempsey's spectacular brawl with Luis Angel Firpo at the Polo grounds, 1923, and his fight with Tunney at Chicago, 1927, are tied, receiving 17 votes each as the most exciting events in memory. The Willard, Carpentier and first Tunney fights also are mentioned.

By comparison, even the golfing feats of Bobby Jones, the tennis triumphs of Big Bill Tilden, the footracing exploits of Paavo Nurmi, the world series feats of Walter Johnson, Grover Alexander and Pepper Martin, as well as the football thrills supplied by Red Grange fade into the background. Football's thrills top the list as a whole, showing an aggregate of 79 votes in a wide range of coverage. Boxing's total of 62 is next, and baseball is third with 51.

Golf furnished the most thrills for 20 experts, track and field 11, basketball and horse-racing each seven. Tennis receives five tallies, mainly from those who watched Tilden in his epic duel with Little Bill Johnston. Rowing supplied the most excitement for three quarters, wrestling two, swimming and polo one each.

The Notre Dame-Southern California football game of 1931 gets more votes than any other gridiron thrill-producer, with a total of 16.

Red Grange's exploits, against Pennsylvania as well as Michigan, were most exciting to seven experts. Two others recall Roy Hodge's famous backward run in the 1920 Rose Bowl game between Georgia Tech and California.

Thrills on the world series of baseball are recalled by 12 observers, whose memories range all the way from Eddie Plank's victory over Christy Mathewson in the final game of 1913 to Pepper Martin's sensational work for the Cardinals in 1931.

On the basis of the voting, the 1920 series was the most exciting, receiving 13 tallies.

Two veterans turn back the baseball pages nearly a quarter-century to recall, among their greatest thrills, the 1908 playoff between the Giants and Cubs for the National League pennant and, in 1909, the unassisted triple play pulled by Neal Ball, of Cleveland, against the Red Sox.

Out of the past, too, in golf is placed Francis Ouimet's national open victory in 1913, in the playoff with Vardon and Ray, to rank with various of Bobby Jones' achievements and a dazzling 18-hole round once shot by Johnny Farrell in 63 strokes.

YOUNGSTER WINS LINKS TOURNEY IN ST. AUGUSTINE

New York Boy Plays Par Golf To Take East Coast Event

By ALAN GOULD

ST. AUGUSTINE, Jan. 23.—An 18-year-old youngster with a layoff of golf, some of which is truly professional, yesterday completed the sweep from medal to trophy and romped off to Palm Beach with the annual Florida East Coast men's championship. That youngster was Tommy Goodwin, of Monroe, N. Y., which, he explains, is right up there near Tuxedo.

Goodwin defeated Everett G. Livesay, Columbus, Ohio, left hander, 2 and 1 in a match that had it not been for the fact that the portlander negotiated six holes of the 17 using three putts. However, both finalists appeared to be overconfident.

Goodwin's golf has been par for better times than he qualified. Yesterday he let some of his shots get away from him and, in a couple of instances, over-shot with records.

Livesay, whose battle with Tom Somerville, Charlottesville, Va., star, Thursday was an epic, played Goodwin almost shot for shot down the fairways and was usually inside on the greens, but he was putting too cautiously and lost because of it. On six occasions he apparently stroked long approach putts for the can rather than for an easy drop.

Nevertheless, it was a great match. Both finalists have had about five years of experience. On one side was the terrific game of a powerful six-foot youngster and on the other was one of the most unusual and dangerous left-handed games being played by an amateur today.

Both started poorly with 5's. On the second Goodwin had an easy putt after two long woods for a birdie and a win. Livesay was short on the third and lost to a par 5 only to three-putt the fourth and lose it. He won the next two when Goodwin over-shot the green and three-putted. Livesay took the next with a perfect pitch but three-putted the ninth to arrive at the turn one down.

The cards:

Goodwin out: 531 535 553—30
Livesay 553 544 544—41

They halved the next three and Livesay lost a chance to even the match on the twelfth where he three-putted after being nicely on in two. His tee shot was in the rough on the next which he lost, missing a chance to get it back by three-putting the fourteenth for a half. The fifteenth was his when Goodwin hooked his tee shot out of bounds. They halved the sixteenth when Livesay three-putted again. Goodwin's beautiful iron on the seventeenth broke up the match when it put him hole high for a birdie 3 while Livesay's second left him with a dangerous chip across a hazard. He got down in four.

The cards:

Goodwin in: 445 355—43
Livesay 415 451—14

Morbid Story Is Told To Court In Judd Slaying

Edward Huntington Williams of Los Angeles, who, with Dr. Harry Goss of Phoenix and Dr. George A. Stephens, superintendent of the Arizona state hospital for insane, will testify to their belief that Judd was of unsound mind when and if she committed the slayings.

Although surrounded by her own experts, on whom the defense has indicated it largely will rely to save her from the gallows, Mrs. Judd remained unfriendly toward Dr. Joseph Catton of San Francisco, psychiatrist for the state. She leaped from her chair Thursday to drive Dr. Catton from her with bitter words.

Yesterday Mrs. Judd maintained her composure but snubbed Dr. Catton when he entered the room. The prosecution alienated itself once at the defense counsel table to chat with Dr. Williams. Mrs. Judd at the time was talking rapidly to the Los Angeles psychiatrist but she stopped when Dr. Catton appeared. She stared at him coldly and refused to address him directly.

"Dr. Williams," she said, "I can't talk to you any more now. Dr. Catton is here, and I won't have him near me. He talks about me."

Dr. Catton departed. Mrs. Judd's costume was changed. She discarded her blue frock for a dress of soft brown material, and a leather belt with enamel flowers.

She continued her nervous habit, developed after the encounter with Dr. Catton yesterday of rapidly wrapping and unwrapping her handkerchief about her left hand. The hand bears a scar at the base of the third finger. Physicians found a bullet lodged there when she surrendered in Los Angeles. She asserted Miss Samuelson had shot her.

The two stained trunks in which the state contends Mrs. Judd sent the bodies of her two friends were produced in the hushed courtroom. Mrs. Judd sat with impassive face during testimony regarding the trunks, and during the story of George Brooker, baggage clerk of the Southern Pacific station in Los Angeles who is the woman who came to the station at noon, Oct. 19 to claim the trunks.

"Was she alone?" Prosecutor Andrews asked.

"No, a young man was with her."

Burtan J. McKinnell, Mrs. Judd's brother, was brought into the room.

"Is that the young gentleman who accompanied Mrs. Judd?" Andrews demanded.

"Yes," he said, "that's the man."

HOOVER SIGNS TWO BILLS TO AID BUSINESS

emerged from the White House less than an hour later. Beyond letting it be known an understanding had been reached and that the President would announce the full directorate formally probably today, they would say nothing.

Soon after the bill was signed, the President issued a statement which follows in full: "I have signed the Reconstruction Finance Corporation act. It brings into being a powerful organization with adequate resources, able to strengthen weak areas that may develop in our credit, banking and railway structure in order to permit business and industry to carry on normal activities free from the fear of unexpected shocks and retarding influences.

"Its purpose is to step deflation in agriculture and industry and thus to increase employment by the restoration of men to their normal jobs. "It is not created for the aid of big industries or big banks. Such institutions are simply able to take care of themselves. It is created for the support of the smaller banks and financial institutions, through rendering their resources liquid to give renewed support to business, industry and agriculture. It should give opportunity to mobilize the gigantic strength of our country for recovery.

"In attaching my signature to this extremely important legislation, I wish to pay tribute to the patriotism of the men in both houses of Congress who have given proof of their devotion to the welfare of their country irrespective of political affiliation. "Three members of the board will serve ex-officio. They are Secretary Mellon, Governor Meyer of the federal reserve board, and Paul Bestor, federal farm loan commissioner.

Several names are prominently mentioned in connection with the vacancies including those of Angus W. McLean, former governor of North Carolina, M. B. Walden, former governor of the Atlanta federal reserve bank, Harvey Coudert of Arkansas, B. S. Heck and P. H. Saunders of New York.

With a chuckle over "the fun I'm going to have," Basil Sydney, the actor, disclosed yesterday he is planning a modern-dress version of Shakespeare's famous play about the Roman emperor.

"We're going to put the Roman soldiers in black fascist shirts instead of white tunics," he explained with a broad grin. "It will all be done in 1932 style. And Caesar will be Mussolini, or Mussolini will be Caesar, whichever way you want to put it.

"It's amazing what a resemblance there is, even before you modernize it, between what Shakespeare wrote about and what's going on in Italy now. They talk constantly about dictators in Julius Caesar and even the salute his soldiers used is the same as the one Mussolini has taught his black shirts."

It was Mary Ellis, Sydney's wife and leading lady, who persuaded him to break silence about what she called "our big secret." "But you'd better put 'patent applied for' in the announcement, Basil," she said.

AN HOUR

A woman pulled a wooden shovel from her shoulder, moved to go.

When on her mouth she felt the fall

Of unseen snow.

And in the night an old man grew frustrated and rose to find his son.

And when he sat to write he knew

He could not rise again.

And that same hour a child returned

Wary from having played all day.

And while he slept a fire burned

His breath away.

These things occurred that moment

The death the cards and some one said,

"Let's play another hand, and then Go home to bed."

"Delicious", Starring Charley Farrell and Gaynor, Is At Milane

Since that memorable romance, "Seventh Heaven," Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell have remained the screen's most popular co-stars. As a matter of fact while the Bank-Coleman, Garbo-Gilbert combinations faded into the background, Gaynor and Farrell actually increased their popularity with each succeeding picture, which is something of a record.

Several times during the past year or two it was decided to star Miss Gaynor and Charles Farrell in separate pictures. Although each did exceedingly well without the other, notably Janet Gaynor in "Daddy Long Legs" and Charles Farrell in "Heartbreak." It was the insistent demand of the theater-going public which convinced Fox studio executives to again co-star this famous pair in a series of new pictures.

Fox, heading the public demand, again reunited these two luminaries in the recent success, "Merely Mary Ann," which is now succeeded by a new and delightful romance, "Delicious," co-starring Gaynor and Farrell in what are already being called the outstanding roles of their careers. And judging from past experience it seems safe to say that Gaynor and Farrell will have a continued enthusiastic reception by audiences throughout the country.

In "Delicious," Miss Gaynor and Charles Farrell are to end by the hilarious comedy of that joyful comedienne, Mary Ann. It is this Broadway comic, who, as Farrell's money maker, doubles for Cupid and brings about a happy conclusion to an amusing and charming romance.

"Delicious" will be presented at the Milane Theater tonight.

RAIL EMPLOYEES REVISE POSITION IN WAGE DISPUTE

Early Vote On Acceptance Or Rejection Of Cut Is Expected

CHICAGO, Jan. 25.—(A.P.)—The committee of nine railroad unions for a voluntary 10 per cent wage reduction last night completed a revised statement of their position. The revision, according to Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, was intended "to more nearly meet the views of labor" as presented to the presidents Saturday.

The clarification of the rail presidents' position on the union's labor stabilization plan clears the way for an early vote by the unions on acceptance or rejection of the wage cut.

The revised statement was transmitted to David B. Robertson, chairman of the union leaders, who said it would be submitted to representatives of the 21 unions today. Both Robertson and Willard refused to make public its contents.

Union leaders previously had refused to submit the question of the wage reduction for a vote until the presidents had offered a more definite statement of their stand relative to the union's stabilization program. Robertson said last night he expected the unions would require at least all of Monday to consider the executives' statement.

Earlier in the day Robertson had made public the rail executives' previous answer to the request of the unions for stabilization of employment.

Under the heading of "immediate measures" the unions had sought to "stabilize employment by assuring one year of employment to the necessary employees in every class."

(A)—This stabilization should include provisions for putting to work as many men as possible consistent with maintaining satisfactory conditions in the respective classes of employment.

(B)—The necessary stand-by forces should also be assured of a minimum of part-time employment.

To this the railroad presidents' answer was:

(A)—We agree that whatever may be practicable should be done to remove the feeling of uncertainty which may exist at the present time in the minds of many who are now employed either upon a whole or part time basis. Varying conditions make it necessary to deal with these questions by local negotiations between management and men on each railroad.

The railroads will carry on such negotiations for the purpose of stabilizing employment so far as possible for such periods as conditions may justify.

(B)—We can not encourage the thought that the so-called necessary stand-by forces can be assured of a minimum amount of work each month.

FIRE DESTROYS BRIDGE

PRESIDIO, Tex., Jan. 25.—(A.P.)—Fire virtually destroyed the Santa Fe Railroad's international bridge over the Rio Grande river here yesterday. AIR TOUR CLOSES

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 25.—(A.P.)—The third annual Florida air tour came to a close here yesterday after an afternoon of races and stunting events at the municipal airport. Thousands of spectators witnessed the various aerial events but were handicapped at times in their watching by smoke from burning woodlands just north of the airport.

Catholic Church Is Consumed By Fire Attracting Crowd fair, insurance amounting to $3000 was placed on the organ alone. Priestly vestments, gold chalices, and other articles used during the various services were valued at approximately $500, and comprised the remaining articles of value, although stained glass windows of large size also had considerable value.

All church records, including baptismal, marital, and financial, as well as valuable papers and books were saved, although the fire gutted the priest's study and damaged furniture and bookcases and their contents.

The roof and top floor, with the north side of the rectory, are a total loss, while the lower floors and kitchen may be rebuilt. Considerable furniture was removed from the rectory during the fire, causing only small damage to second-floor furniture.

Rev. J. J. McInerney, pastor of the church, declared that while the loss is terrific and a severe blow at this time, services will be held in the parish house until further notice. He expressed the belief that a new structure might arise within a few years, and left for St. Augustine this afternoon to report to his superior, Rt. Rev. Patrick M. Barry, bishop of St. Augustine.

On behalf of the congregation, he extended his thanks to members of the Sanford Fire Department and the numerous volunteers who rendered valuable aid in the three-hour fight against the flames. "I am deeply appreciative of the splendid work of Mr. Cleveland and his men and the friends and neighbors who lent their efforts in our behalf," he said.

According to records taken from the corner stone of the structure this morning, the church was dedicated on July 1, 1887, in the presence of a large gathering of Sanford and out-of-town residents. It was constructed of hand hewn pine lumber taken from nearby forests, and according to many veteran carpenters who visited the fire this morning, the carpenter used in construction was of the highest grade. Huge wooden girders were joined in an interlocking system. They were further reinforced by iron bolts. The church was built of wood throughout.

The contents of the corner stone included a letter, written in Latin; dozens of small personal and business cards containing the names of persons who aided in constructing the edifice, and four newspapers of the time: The Daily Sanford Journal, printed in Sanford Thursday evening Mar. 17, 1887; The South Florida Argus, printed in Sanford June 30, 1887; the Florida Christian Advocate, printed in Sanford Thursday June 30, 1887, and the Daily Sanford Journal, printed in Sanford, July 5, 1887. A program of a Fourth of July celebration in Sanford in 1887 was also found in the small package of papers.

A literal translation of the Latin letter is as follows: "In perpetual memory of this ceremony, on the fourth day of July 1887, the festival held in the fifth week after Pentecost and on the sixth day within the octave of the feast of St. Peter and Paul, in the reign of Pope Leo XIII, and under the direction of the most reverend John Moore, D. D., bishop of this diocese of St. Augustine, with Grover Cleveland, as 17th president of the United States, E. A. Perry, as governor of Florida, and H. L. Lillenthal, mayor of Sanford, the Reverend Felice P. Swenbergh, in the presence of an assembly of Christian people, this cornerstone of a new church was laid, the blessing of the souls in Purgatory having been invoked by the Rev. Swenbergh."

"Let this place be destined for prayer, for the worship and praise of God, so that the true faith of Christ may flourish here, and the fear of God and brotherly love, and let this house remain built forever for the habitation of the most sacred body of Jesus Christ, and the true temple of God to his greater glory, and to the well being of our souls."

"The principal benefactors of this church, among whom were Jews and Gentiles, are: Rev. F. P. Swenbergh, C. Demont, William T. Cotter, Mary A. Cotter, Willie Cotter, Edith Cotter, Alma Cotter, R. H. Marks, Christina Zink, John S. Keane, John L. Davis, S. Adler and Co., L. C. Miller, Mrs. Brotherson, King Welly, M. D. Arthur Chaires, W. C. Yeiser, L. W. Shepard, W. J. Hill, Frank Caldwell, M. D. R. A. Wheeler, C. H. Whitney, Hon. A. M. Thrasher, Seth Taylor, Judge Wellborn, Judge Foster, S. Gumpert, J. S. Vandebow, Wm. Sirrine, Fred Hotchkiss, C. Jones, M. S. Brown, Robert Summs, John Smith, Joseph Zapp, W. H. Hynes, Mr. Brunley, Theo. Miller, A. E. Phillips and brother, J. E. Lane, E. P. Ahern, Willie Cannon, A. Kennedy, Z. Adams and Co., Gilman and Co., A. C. Martin, W. Dombrowski, George Altree, Z. T. Deane, Delaney Way, John Wellington, Mrs. Hopper, New York, John Mitchell, D. W. Hammond, Ed. Morse, E. H. Tomlinson, J. E. Laine, A. O. Taylor, R. T. Patton, and Mrs. C. A. Fox, and many others who contributed smaller sums toward the building of the church."

The Rev. F. P. Swenbergh was the first pastor of the church, and upon his death in the fall of 1887, it was served by several pastors, including the Rev. M. Fox, now of Orlando, who lived here for many years.

Father Fox remained here until early in 1912 when the Rev. Patrick J. Brennan, now of South Jacksonville, arrived. Then followed the Rev. M. J. Farley, now of Lakeland; the Rev. J. J. O'Riordan, now of St. Petersburg; the Rev. J. A. Hennessy, now of Euclid; the Rev. Wm. Humphries, now of Daytona Beach; the Rev. M. C. Clark, now of St. Petersburg; and the Rev. McInerney, the present pastor.
