 The Chief Executive of the Navy, Adm. W. S. Anderson, and the Chief of the Naval Air Station, Capt. R. G. Miller, were introduced during the brief program. Following the program, the visiting dignitaries were taken on a guided tour of the Naval Air Station. Each visitor was presented with a folder familiarizing him with the Navy Base and pointing out points of interest throughout the base.

As the completion of tour and a parade through Sanford the dignitaries and civic leaders attended the Jaycee Navy Appreciation Day baseball game between Mississippi and Dallas. 'Pressure' Causes Navy To Reconsider Plans For Moving Base

Semi Trailer-Truck Smashes Into Rear Of Car; One Hurt

A 1957 Mack semi trailer-truck smashed into the rear end of a passenger automobile at Benson Junction on Highway 17-92 yesterday before noon with damage estimated at more than $15,000.

Driver of the truck, Felton Lamar Hobbs, 40-year-old Eastman, Ga. man, was taken to Fish Memorial Hospital in DeLand with a possible fractured right shoulder and a cut on the back of his head.

The huge truck, hauling heavy machinery was traveling south when it crashed into a 1957 Chevrolet sedan being driven by Henry Louis Martin, 29, of 134 E. Michigan Ave., DeLand.

Damage to the truck was estimated at $15,000 and to the car at $500.

Florida Highway Patrolman M. E. Norris investigated the accident.

Norris said that the truck, traveling an approximate 45 miles per hour crashed into the car traveling an approximate 10 miles per hour as he attempted a left turn into the Benson Junction road.

As the truck and trailer, a flatbed for hauling the heavy equipment, jackknifed it threw the passenger automobile into the ditch then overturned and clipped a power pole.

The pavement was gouged and turned into the Benson Junction truck turned over on its side and slammed into a huge wood pile. Damage to the power pole and lines was estimated at $300.

No arrests were made.

Plat In Chuluota Area Okayed; Has 200 Home Sites

A plat was approved this morning by the Board of Seminole County Commissioners that will probably get underway shortly the development of hundreds of homesites in Chuluota.

Lake Mills Shores, one of four subdivisions in the original North Chuluota plat, was approved.

Ludomil W. Morski, owner and developer of the entire site, said that the plat approved this morning contained approximately 200 home sites.

Lake Mills, one of six lakes in the overall development, is adjacent to the new platted area.

Morski, in a Sanford Herald story last week, predicted that Chuluota will grow into one of Seminole County's finest cities and predicted a population of 10,000.

Already, streets are being built in the area to add to the already-paved streets of the North Chuluota plat.

In addition to the paved streets, Chuluota also has its own water system of over five miles of three and four inch water mains.

Also in the plans for the subdivision is a recreation building which will be constructed from the former Chuluota School purchased from the Seminole County School system.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy said Saturday the "pressure" applied by Sanford residents is causing it to reconsider plans to abandon its air station there.

In February the Navy said it planned to move to a new station because of crowded flight conditions at Sanford. Now it is reconsidering and expects a final decision about June 1. In answer to questions, the Navy said:

"There has been a great deal of pressure applied by the people of Sanford to keep the air station there even though the traffic pattern would be right in the city and people would be living immediately adjacent to the air station and the noise of the aircraft.

"There is also limited room for expansion. However, the Secretary of the Navy has indicated that the decision on the disposal of Sanford is not yet final and probably would not be made until around June 1. The people in Sanford would rather have the station despite the danger of aircraft operation in such close proximity and the noise."

Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong, in Sanford for the Seminole County Navy Appreciation Day, said Saturday "In view of the work that has been done to retain the Naval Air Station in Sanford everything now looks optimistic. Nothing official has come out of the Navy Department.

"I think the reason we have been able to make as much progress as we have is because the people got together and worked with one another," he said.

Senator George Smathers, in a telegram expressing his regret in not being able to come to Sanford for the countywide Navy Appreciation Day "It is my hope that the Sanford Naval Air Station remain at Sanford I shall continue to urge that the Secretary of the Navy do everything possible to authorize its retention."

And Senator Spessard Holland, expressing his attitude toward retaining the Navy Base in Seminole County said to a Jaycee sponsored luncheon Saturday "I think this spot is an ideal one for the continuation of a Navy Base. I've always believed in keeping families together and when I see this fine family of civilians and Navy people—it would hurt me to be a party to breaking it up."

W. Austin Smith, a member of the engineering firm of Smith and Gillespie of Jacksonville, when asked if the sewage treatment plant is a necessary or desirable said "It is a point whether you want the water polluted or not or if you want the people to even think of it as polluted water."

However, members of the Board of Commissioners disagreed with the engineer when he said "It is all (sewage) concentrated which is a worse condition—and now you are doing something about it."

Mayor Gatchel and Commissioner Higginbotham immediately disagreed with Smith.

However, no action was taken at last night's meeting due to the lack of a financial study of the sewer services of the city.

Further studies on the proposed revenues from the water and treatment plant will be continued when both the engineer and fiscal agent study the report.

Optimism was added to the prospects for a Docks and Terminals for Sanford when the Board of Sanford City Commissioners discussed the half million dollar venture with W. M. Bostwick, engineer, of Daytona Beach and the city's fiscal agent, Wilson Holt of St. Petersburg.

Holt told the commissioners last night that in order to finance the project it would have to be "backed up" an additional pledge, either ad valorem tax, or utility tax, in addition to the revenue.

Bostwick presented additional sketches which included a traffic flow map and a sketch of dock facilities utilizing present road facilities.

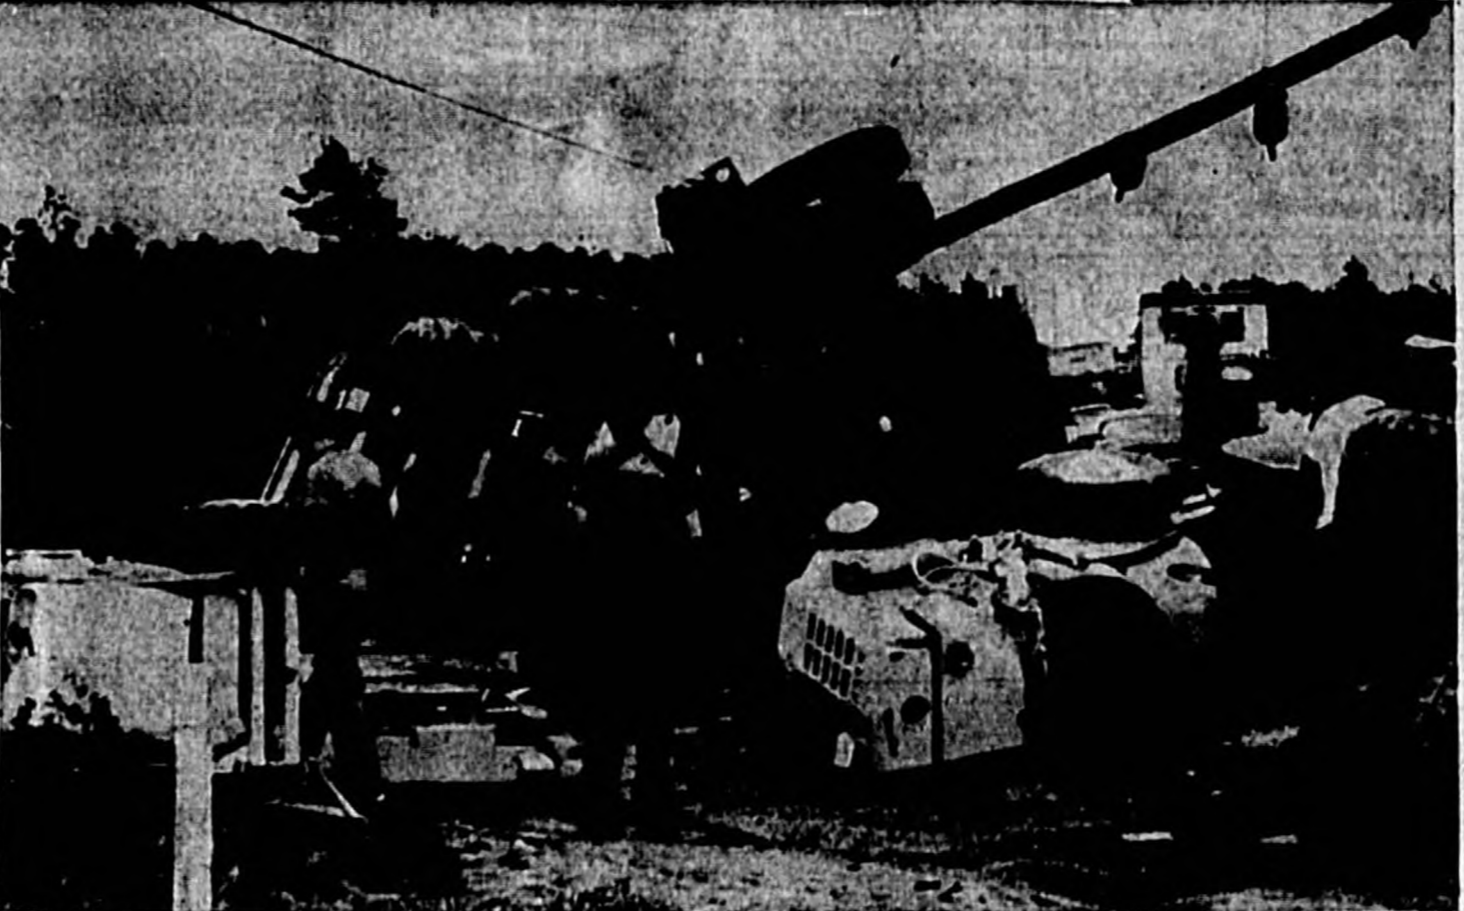

However, commissioners, appearing more interested in details of financing the project directed most of their questioning to Holt.

The fiscal agent supported the use of the city management when Mayor David Gatchel places the possibility of a port authority before the commissioners. Holt said "A port authority would have taxing power and would be able to levy tax. The people of the city would still be paying without the management."

To a question as to whether the city could pledge its utility tax to a port authority, Holt stated "In order to pledge a city tax you must have a city project."

Wilson Holt, who represents Goodbody and Co. of St. Petersburg, commended the city on its record of debt payment. He told the commissioners "You have a very nice record of debt payment. There are so many who have gotten by with just levying enough to pay interest. Your record of debt payment is far above the average."

Governor Seeks Over $94 Million In Taxes

Teacher Pay Raise Proposed

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Florida Legislature opens today for what is predicted to be a history-making and harmonious session.

A new Constitution is expected to come out of the 1957 session. But the average citizen is most interested in the possibilities of new taxes. Gov. LeRoy Collins said Monday he will ask the lawmakers to levy new taxes.

Rep. Doyle E. Conner of Starke becomes speaker of the House, with Rep. Mack Cleveland of Sanford as speaker pro-tem. Mrs. Lamar Bledsoe as chief clerk and Amos Davis as sergeant-at-arms.

Veteran Sen. William A. Shanks of Gainesville takes office as president of the Senate, Sen. Irlu Bronson of Kissimmee as president pro-tem, Bob Davis as secretary and LeRoy Adkinson as sergeant-at-arms.

Leaders See Harmony
Predictions for a harmonious session came from the governor, Conner and Shanks. All three concurred in the governor's statement that "the legislators have done more advance work this time than ever before."

Gov. LeRoy Collins today called for $84,878,000 in new taxes to finance everything from teacher pay raises to increased old age pensions in the next two years.

Collins recommended the $80,378,000 be raised by eliminating from the state sales tax present exemptions on low-cost clothing, automobiles, heavy industrial equipment, alcoholic beverages and taxable items purchased for charitable, religious, institutional, educational and farm use.

The rest would come from an optional 30 per cent increase in automobile license tag fees, all of it to be returned to the counties levying it and earmarked for school purposes.

Collins proposed a flat $300 annual teacher pay raise from the state, plus $200 per teacher in the state. (Continued on Page 8)

No Action Taken By Commissioners On Sewage Plant

"I don't think there will be any problems in issuing party bonds for the Sewage Treatment Plant because they are financed from net revenues from sewer and water services of the city," Wilson Holt, representative of Goodbody and Co. of St. Petersburg, told the Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night.

To answer a question from Mayor David Gatchel "Do you think we can issue party bonds?" Holt answered, "I'm sure we can."

W. Austin Smith, a member of the engineering firm of Smith and Gillespie of Jacksonville, when asked if the sewage treatment plant is a necessary or desirable said "It is a point whether you want the water polluted or not or if you want the people to even think of it as polluted water."

Camp Owner Seeks Breakwater Wall

Jim Crowe, owner and operator of Crowe's Fish Camp, just off State Road 46, proposed that a breakwater wall be constructed in the area adjacent to his camp in order to reduce the heavy wash from waves caused by fast moving water craft.

The matter was referred to the County Engineer Hagan for authority and placement.

Crowe also requested that the Board of County Commissioners regulate the speed of boats within areas adjacent to boat loading ramps. No action was taken on the request.

Chances Of Fielding Ball Club Here 50-50

"There's a 50-50 chance to field a ball club here in Sanford," John Krider, president of the Florida State League told the Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night during a discussion with

W. C. "Red" Hires regarding the possibilities of Sanford's entry into the Florida State League this season.

Hires asked the city for the use of the Sanford Memorial baseball stadium, complete during the coming season's 70-game home schedule.

He told the Board of Commissioners that "So far we have $3,000 pledged and we have plans to secure the additional $7,000 to operate the club."

"We've been working for the past three weeks to determine whether we could operate this year without losing money," he said.

Some new developments have come up and there is a possibility that we could get ball players but there are a lot of loose ends to tie up yet, Hires explained.

Commissioner Scott asked "Are you going to use the stadium to develop ball players or to make money?"

Hires said "We are set up as a non-profit organization and the only way we could get ball players is by developing players."

Galloway To Get Stamp Machine Letter Sealer

Purchase of a Pitney-Bowes stamp machine and letter sealer was authorized by the Board of Seminole County Commissioners this morning for the Office of the Seminole County Tax Collector.

John Galloway appeared before the board to ask permission to purchase the machine which is manufactured exclusively by the Pitney-Bowes Co.

The Tax Collector said that more than 30,000 pieces of mail are stamped and mailed from his office. "We will save enough money in three years to pay for the machine he said, "in the economy of the operation."

George H. Vinson, representative of the manufacturer, told the board of commissioners that the machine would seal and stamp approximately 175 pieces of mail per minute. "Everytime an envelope is mailed," said Vinson, "the Tax Collector will save a half cent."

Cost of the machine was quoted at $748.60. However, the calculator and recording portion of the machine will be rented from the post office at $7.20 per month.

Additional discussion relative to the Docks and Terminals project will await the advice of an experienced warehouseman, according to the final decision of the board last night.

"I would rather take the advice of a man whose lifelong experience has been in this business, in the selection of a site and the final decision on proposed plans for the facility," said Bostwick.

Pryor Will Head Cancer Crusade

Irving Pryor has been appointed General Chairman of the 1957 Cancer Crusade in Seminole County, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Julius Dingfelder, President of the County Unit.

Pryor, serving as Chairman for the second year, will have Roy Britz as Co-Chairman in charge of the business area; Mrs. Phil Stanley as Chairman of the Women's Division in charge of residential solicitation; and Miss Myrtle Wilson in charge of County areas.

A concentrated one-day solicitation entitled "C-Day" or "Conquer Cancer Day" has been scheduled for April 9th when, under the leadership of Mrs. Stanley, hundreds of volunteer workers will conduct a Drive to leave educational literature and solicit funds.

"Today," Pryor said, "more Americans than ever before are being saved from cancer. The success of C-Day in our area, and throughout the Nation, promises greater gains to come, and will bring us one step closer to our common goal; the ultimate conquest of cancer. I know I can count on our community to contribute its share toward the achievement of this goal from which all of us will benefit."

Cinderella Hailed By Critics As 'Pure Champagne'

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK UP — Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein, a team that has concocted such heady potions as "Oklahoma," "Carousel" and "South Pacific," Sunday night untopped "Cinderella," their latest musical offering for TV.

It was almost pure champagne. If the bubbly lacked a little tinkle in spots, it could be chalked up to the slender frame upon which the Rodgers and Hammerstein score had to be hung. Fattening a slim fairy tale into a 90-minute vehicle meant inevitably that its padding would show occasionally.

The $103,000 color production, it went over its original budget by $20,000, was the biggest undertaking for a regular program in CBS-TV history. The cast, headed by Julie Andrews of "My Fair Lady," numbered 61.

There were 90 technical personnel on stage along with 34 musicians. The wardrobe department included another 20 members and there were even two people on hand just to serve coffee. Some 115 costumes were used.

CBS-TV cameramen employed for the first time a "fork lift" device customarily used for loading trucks. It enables them to jack themselves up and down as much as 20 feet for high and medium altitude shots.

Director Ralph Nelson, who recently won an Emmy for his "Requiem for a Heavyweight," called some 700 camera shots over the 90-minute span. His biggest problem, however, was squeezing more than a dozen sets in 4,200 square feet of studio space. Nelson and producer Richard Levine solved the problem by constructing the sets within each other like a maze.

Only one film clip was used on the show that which showed Cinderella's pumpkin and mice in this case, while rats. The original mice actors died during rehearsals turning into a coach and horses. It took 14 hours to get the right kind of shot for a 20-second sequence.

Julie Andrews, who slipped cham pain from her glass slipper after the show, was an incandescent Cinderella. Her closest rival for the evening's honors was Kaye Ballard who played Cinderella's step-sister, Ffilla. Miss Ballard wheeled and snorted her way through the evening with engaging wickedness.

Others in the cast included Howard Lindsey, Dorothy Stickney,

Local Delegates Attend NSDAR Conference

The Saltillo Harrison Chapter, National Society, Daughters of the American Revolution was represented at the 55th State Conference in Winter Haven, March 25-29 by Mrs. A. R. Key, regent, Mrs. L. B. Hagan and Mrs. Lester Wilder, delegates.

Mrs. Frederic A. Groves, president general of the National Society addressed the assembly following the banquet on Wednesday, using "National Defense" as the theme of her talk. Other speakers during the conference included Mrs. Ethel Ernest Murrell of Miami and Dr. William E. Fort of Rollins College.

Delegates to the conference were special guests at Cypress Gardens when a large beautifully framed picture of the Constitution of the United States was unveiled by Mrs. Groves and presented to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Pope, who will erect a suitable shrine for this picture.

It was one of twenty recently presented to the N.S.D.A.R. Each picture is valued at $1000 and one will be placed in the White House, one in the Supreme Court and one in the D.A.R. Memorial Continental Hall in Washington, D.C. The Lake Wales Chapter of the N.S.D.A.R. entertained the delegates with a pilgrimage to the Mountain Lake Sanctuary and Singing Tower. Mr. Kenneth Morrison, director, personally conducted a tour of the Sanctuary and Mr. Anton Brees, cartiloneer, played several selections on the Carillon.

Hostess chapters to the conference included Bartow, Lakeland, Lake Wales, Patriots and Ponce De Leon.

Leadership Course Begins Wednesday At McKinley Hall

The final schedule was announced Monday for the Girl Scouts basic leadership course. The course will be held at McKinley Hall beginning Wednesday at 9:30 to 12:30, April 5, 9:30 to 2:30, April 10, 9:30 to 12:30, April 12, 9:30 to 12:30. The final meeting on April 12 will be arts and crafts and is opened to the public. A baby sitter will be provided each day, and all interested adults are urged to attend.

Mrs. Roger Barker, second vice president of the Citrus Council of Girl Scouts and Mrs. John Slinkovetz, secretary of the Citrus Council both of Orlando are to be in charge of this very worthwhile course.

JACKY FENWICK

After all the excitement and confusion of the past weekend, it's a little hard to get back to the original format of this column. Got to gather up my thoughts, and bits of information, and let you know what's been going on around town, and around N.A.S. this past week!

Friday morning, at 10:00 A.M., a group of wives met at the Chief's Club, to form a new "Chief's Wives Club." Elected to office were Mrs. Charles Meads, as president, Mrs. Charles Ross, as vice-president, Mrs. R. J. DeJong, as secretary, and Mrs. N. H. Phillips as treasurer. Plans were made for the club to meet the third Thursday of each month, at 8 p.m., at the Chief's Club. The arrangements for this "get-together," to form the club, were made by Mrs. Lewis Brinn. Following the business part of the meeting, coffee and doughnuts were served.

Also had a report from Mrs. Joseph Greene on the plans for the Square Dance Group that has formed. So far, fourteen couples have signed up for the lessons, the first of which will be available this coming Monday, April 8, at 8:00 p.m. at the Chief's Club. The prices are still $50 per person, or $100 per couple. Those who have already signed up are: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Greene, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Petch, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bone, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Hoopengardner, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. U. W. Lembeck, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brinn, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Sundvall, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meads, and Mr. and Mrs. Amos Singuefield.

There were three transfers of station personnel last week, who have already left, as near as I can ascertain. They were: Carlos Rains, CS2, who transferred to the U.S.S. Rowe, stationed in Norfolk; Howard A. Lavis, A. N., transferring to the U. S. S. Randolph, also in Norfolk; and Billy Joe Jackson, AD3, who left for PATRON 44, again in Norfolk.

And we now have a new Secretary of the Navy! Probably isn't news to most of you, but I'm always behind times, so I was to me! So for those like me, he is Thomas S. Gates, former Undersecretary of the Navy. He replaced Charles S. Thmas, who resigned from that post.

Don't suppose I could get through a column without mentioning an appeal or two! This one is for the Station Blood Bank, which is badly, in fact, urgently in need of donors to replace blood already used, and to build up the supply on hand. This blood is available to all station personnel, AND their dependents, whether at the base hospital, or at a civilian hospital. Those that have had occasion to make use of this service already know of its importance, and it's also nice to know that it's there when we might have need for it. The Blood Bank will be at the dispensary on April 9. Those who are willing to donate their blood for this very worthy purpose should contact their Division Officer.

For further information in regard to this, contact Chief Ross, at the Dispensary.

Last Thursday, March 28, V. A. II. 5 (those "Savage Sons") had a B- Party at the Lake Golden Recreation Area. It was a combination celebration, as a "kick off" for this week's "Bomber Derby", and to honor a special "Savage Son" William Wallick, AN, who did so well in the Sixth Naval District Boxing Championships. All the "boys" had a good time, needless to say. I know my husband did, as I had strict orders to pick him up at 4:00 p.m., and had to wait around another hour while the team he was playing on, proceeded to win a softball game! May have been a little one-sided, as that team was made up of most of the regular squadron team, which has done practically nothing but practice lately, or so it seems, when I have to keep dinner waiting!

Sometimes I wonder, (along with my husband) just where my brains are! I made such a point of getting the list of dignitaries who were present at last Saturday's festivities, and then completely failed to make mention of even one name in yesterday's column! Everyone, of course, has heard of our Congressmen who were present; Senator Spessard Holland and Rep. A. S. (Syd) Herlong. And the high ranking Navy officers present were Rear Admiral Carl J. Pfingst, Assistant Chief of the Bureau of Naval Aeronautics; Capt. J. N. Curtis, Public Relations Officer, from N.A.S. Jacksonville; Capt. James Reedy; and of course our own top-ranking officers, Capt. R. W. Jackson, and Capt. J. T. Blackburn. I don't think many people stop to think what a very great honor it is to have such important men present at such an affair, and just one more example of the wonderful public relations job that the Jaycees did!

Support Medical Education Fund; Health, Security Are Important

Every time we call a doctor we acknowledge our debt to medical education. Every time we consult a specialist, send someone to the hospital, fill a prescription or take a drink of safe water—we pay tribute to the nation's 82 medical schools.

The average American, it is safe to say, sees the last 21 years of his life to medical science. In 1900, life expectancy at birth was 49 years. Today it is 80.

Life-saving drugs and miracle cures appear in a steady procession. Infectious diseases everywhere are in retreat. Atomic science and nuclear physics are paving the way for new laboratory triumphs.

However, there is another side to the coin. The very medical progress of which we are so proud—and for which medical schools are primarily responsible—has involved the schools in a struggle for solvency that can affect the future health and welfare of the nation.

At stake is not only the ability of the schools to supply medical personnel and meet their current obligations, but also their ability to realize the full potential of the biological sciences and to fulfill new opportunities for advancing the nation's health.

During Medical Education Week, April 21-27, the National Fund for Medical Education is appealing to business and industry for $10 million additional annual income for the medical schools.

Unless the schools get additional support, the people's demand for more doctors, more research, more services may go unheeded. Many talented young men and women may be denied an opportunity to learn medicine. New medical discoveries benefit no one unless there are skilled physicians to apply them.

Industry has a direct self-interest in medical education. Industrial health programs and public health safeguards jointly pay dividends in increased efficiency, stepped-up man-hour production, reduced on-the-job illness and accident rates, reduced absenteeism, lower insurance premiums and improved employe morale. Numerous before-and-after surveys of industrial plants show reductions to 50 per cent in absenteeism from illness and accidents.

Considering what may be at stake—the health and security of the American people—it is hard to think of a more worthwhile investment.

Lobbyists

Florida's legislature now in session finds itself confronted with countless problems, most of them concerned with where the money is coming from and where it is going.

Eager and anxious to help them in reaching a decision is an ardent crowd of lobbyists representing just about every conceivable private interest.

Lobbying is not confined to private interests; it includes organizations representing many boards and commissions, sheriffs, justices of the peace, judges, county commissions and many others.

The theme song is money, money, money and more money for increased salaries, for school buildings and teachers, for larger staffs, for anything and everything.

Many of these demands are justified. Florida is a fast-growing state. Living costs are high, construction costs are high. Many boards and bureaus are understaffed and unable to properly perform the jobs they are supposed to do.

House Speaker Doyle E. Conner and Senate President W. A. Shands must demand on their appointed committees to carefully consider each problem and make recommendations.

Legislative wheels have just started to turn. They move slowly at first, but pick up as the session progresses.

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES W. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Soviet Russia is showing acute displeasure over developments in the international situation.

In recent days, the Moscow radio and Moscow newspapers have denounced President Eisenhower's decision to join the military committee of the Baghdad Pact against Communist aggression in the Middle East.

They have denounced the signing in Rome of a new treaty under which six European countries agree to form a common market, free of tariff barriers and to pool their resources for the development of atomic power for peaceful purposes.

The decision of the United States to supply Great Britain with long-range atomic missiles has been condemned.

Russia Refuses Agala
Soviet Premier Nikita A. Bulganin, in a letter to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, has repeated Russia's refusal to discuss the reunification of Germany on any terms which might even possibly be acceptable.

It also has been disclosed that Bulganin, in a letter to Norwegian Premier Einar Gerhardsen, warned that Norway faces a catastrophe if it permits the establishment of guided missile and rocket bases on its territory under the North Atlantic Treaty.

Russia's reaction to the decision to intensify American cooperation with the members of the Baghdad Pact was to be expected.

Every move the United States makes in the Middle East lessens the chance that Russia by intrigue and subversion will be able to get a lasting foothold in that area.

Increase West's Unity
The treaty for the common European market and the atomic energy pool is bad news for Russia because it increases the unity of Western European countries and makes it harder for the big brains in the Kremlin to stir up jealousies and rivalries.

The hardened Russian attitude on German reunification is clearly a reflection of the dangerous situation in the Communist satellite countries. A separate East German state, completely subservient to Russia, is an essential to the Soviet government and will be for a long time.

Probably the warning was given to Norway not only because nuclear weapons bases in Norway would be uncomfortably close to Russia but because there seems to be increasing realization in northern most Europe of the danger of Russian aggression.

ASK SEAL-ED VERDICT
TOYKO (U)—China Prefecture fishermen today lay their baby problem before the government fishery board. Usually they haul in small fish in their nets, but Saturday they found a 150-pound baby seal. The lost "little" baby he should be in the cold waters of the Northern Pacific is a problem because an agreement signed between the United States, Canada, Soviet Russia and Japan prohibits the catching of seals.

THEY THREW OATS?
CHEMAN, England (U)—Brenda Waby and John Birch rode away from their wedding on horseback Sunday. "We both love horses and I could not bear to be parted from them even on my honeymoon," the bride explained.

Too Late To Classify

By RUSSELL KAY
On the banks of the lazy Suwannee, Florida is developing a major attraction that promises to take its place as a National Shrine. In beautiful natural surroundings with ample room for expansion, we are creating an outstanding tribute to Stephen Foster. No composer is better known or more loved than the gentle soul who gave the world music and lyrics it could understand regardless of race, color or creed.

While the marble bust of Stephen Foster rests in the Library of Congress in Washington, his soul is sure haunts the beautiful grounds of Stephen Foster Memorial Park at White Springs where Mother Nature weaves her magic to create the natural beauty and charm that inspired Foster and brought to fulfillment such melodies as "Way Down Upon de Swannee Ribber," "Oh! Susanna," "Camptown Races," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair," and others.

Sponsored by the State of Florida, the Stephen Foster Memorial is the most visited non-commercial attraction in the Southeast, and many feel it is destined to become the "mecca of America."

This year marks an important step in the development of the memorial for the new 200-foot carillon tower will be opened to the public around July 1, according to Earl W. Brown, chairman of the Stephen Foster Memorial Commission.

Formal dedication of the impressive colonial brick, marble and cast stone tower will await the installation of the world's largest set of tubular bells which are now being cast and will be ready for use the latter part of this year. In the meantime, a high fidelity set of electronic bells and chimes will be used to play Foster melodies from the tower.

Although handicapped through lack of funds, the Commission has achieved much through the construction of the ante bellum $250,000 Foster Museum, gatehouses at the north and south entrances of the park, and now the imposing half-million dollar bell tower.

Popular also are the Conestoga Wagon tours that take visitors through the grounds and the 30-passenger replica of a paddlewheel river boat which offers rides on the Suwannee in season. Splendid picnic facilities provide pleasure for scores of family groups each week.

The Memorial stages a series of special events during the year as Sunday concerts by musical groups from colleges and universities. Outstanding, of course, is the annual Florida Folk Festival which will be held this year, May 3-8. The colorful event is directed by Miss Thelma Boltin.

Last year over 1,800 participated in the festival featuring the finest talent available, singers, dancers, musical groups, tale tellers and other craftsmen. Indications are that the 1957 event will attract larger participation and a greatly increased attendance.

The Memorial is collecting folk literature, costumes, musical instruments and other historical items, with the purpose of establishing a folk lore museum on the grounds. This promises to be the most complete and comprehensive record of old Southern ways and colorful costumes ever assembled.

You will find a visit to Stephen Foster Memorial well worthwhile. It is distinctive among Florida attractions.

Measles And Eye Ills

By HERMAN M. DUNDEEN, M.D.
MEASLES and eye-troubles often go hand in hand. But while the disease does present some ocular danger, the extent of the trouble usually is exaggerated.

One of the first symptoms of measles is detected in the eyes. From three to four days before the familiar skin rash breaks out, the lids will begin to swell, the conjunctiva will become red and there may be a slight discharge.

Tiny Ulcers
Once the blotches begin to peel, the conjunctivitis generally disappears. However, there may be tiny ulcerations of the cornea.

Certain complications may result from secondary infections. In this way, measles might precipitate a case of squinting.

But from the disease alone, there is seldom permanent visual damage.

Proper Precautions
Just the same, you'll want to take proper precautions to prevent any eye trouble when your youngster, or some other member of the family, is stricken with measles.

Frequently, the eyes will be sensitive to light. Keeping the room dark by lowering the shades

Look Ahead At Top World News

United Press correspondents around the world look ahead at the news that will make the headlines.

Claimer
Watch for increasingly persistent demands by the British Labor Party for parliamentary election. With the resignation of "Kingmaker" Lord Salisbury from the cabinet, is a dispute over Cyprus policy, the Laborites believe they have Prime Minister Harold Macmillan on the run. Nominally, Macmillan's conservative government is in office until 1960. But under the British political system, he might be forced to call an election on some big issue. The Laborites, already profiling by Macmillan's difficulties in the Suez situation, say that if an election were held now they would win a big majority in the House of Commons.

Postmeritum On Bermuda
Macmillan will face trouble, by the way, when Commons holds a full-dress debate next Monday on his Bermuda conference with President Eisenhower. Neither the Laborites nor a lot of his own Conservatives are buying the official version that the meeting was a big success. The most embarrassing question Macmillan will be asked: Just what is Anglo-American Middle Eastern policy, if any?

The United States may stage some atomic tests this summer which foreign countries won't be able to detect. The Russians, it is believed, may have done that already. The Atomic Energy Commission is thinking of testing small nuclear weapons in tunnels dug in rock under the Nevada proving grounds. Radioactivity from such tests would not escape into the atmosphere to be detected by foreign monitoring systems.

Teamwork
Word from Washington is that Secretary John Foster Dulles isn't practically a one-man State Department any more. New Under Secretary Christian Herter is taking over more and more of Dulles' political responsibilities—and may even do some traveling in his place later this year. Deputy Under Secretary C. Douglas Dillon, another new appointee, is expected to deliver the invitation personally when he goes to Washington for his delayed visit. Heus is recuperating from an attack of bronchial pneumonia which caused the postponement.

Home Buying Question

By ROBERT F. COLL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (U)—Are home builders pricing the average buyer out of the market?

This is a question that is increasingly asked by the buying public, government officials and buyers themselves.

Current building figures show that where once the trade was concentrating on low-cost housing, the target now could be described as "the junior executive class."

Thus far the discussion apparently has generated more heat than light, with the builders blaming the federal and local governments while prospective buyers leveled their guns on the contractors.

Everyone Shares Blame
An appraisal shows everyone shares the blame. The federal government must shoulder some of the scarce mortgage money which hits income men. When this man is unable to get a mortgage, experts say, the builder cannot be blamed too much for not putting up houses which may remain empty.

Local governments are blamed for the lack of low-cost housing. Over the years many municipalities have set up a crazy-quilt barrier of building codes to block less expensive housing. This has discouraged builders.

Buyers themselves have tended to jack up the market by their insistence on appliances. The average housewife, for example, is distraught if her kitchen doesn't look like a Univac machine.

Americans also want more space—a "second" living room to enable the television set to be an example—and more space means more on the price tag.

Jet-age Progress
Last but not least some builders have moved along on a pogo stick in the jet-age progress.

In almost every phase of American life, experts say, progress in raising living standards has moved hand-in-glove with mass production, with the exception of the building industry.

Building codes are partly responsible because they call for different requirements from one community to the next.

This defeats the prefabricators who try to build for Milwaukee and Miami at the same time and at low cost only to find themselves balked.

Builders have showed lack of interest in experimenting with innovations that pay out in proportion to the number of units they put up. In addition, a builder faces the high cost of land these days. They argue that it is not good business to put up a cheap house on land that requires them to price it over the heads of the family that could buy it.

Like everyone else, the builder can cite his rising costs of labor and materials when the buyer gulps at the price of a new house.

HARVEY BREIT'S "The Writer Observed" contains some revealing comments by the authors interviewed. Truman Capote, for instance, confessed, "I'm about as high as a shot-gun—and just as noisy. I think I have rather heated eyes."

Everlyn Waugh declared that no writer should be caught dead with a message. "A writer," he said, "has no right to be like Lawrence or Hemingway, thinking they're prophets."

Hemingway, himself said, "As a Nobel Prize winner I cannot but regret that the award never was given to Mark Twain nor Henry James."

Carl Sandburg reserved his barbs for TV. "I am disgusted," he fulminated, "with people who just watch indiscriminately for hours and hours. These machines are thieves of time, with not even a mechanical conscience about the hours they will waste in a day."

"You seldom see drunks walking on the streets in Hollywood," boasts native son Billy Gray. "They're all driving automobiles."

Conring The News

BY VIRGINIA COON

Reminiscing on Navy Appreciation Day is the discussion in Sanford today. One of neighbors, Mrs. W. E. Gray, and her husband entertained several navy couples in keeping with the spirit before all went down to the fishery at Fort Mellon Park. We were terribly sorry to miss it, but were hung up in Daytona Beach until it was too late. Enjoying the Grays' hospitality were Bob and Mike Stone, Anita and Bob Hadden, Ruth and Joe Tully and Betty and John McCracken. Nancy Gray is one of those wonderfully efficient people who can run the Sunshine Committee at the hospital with one hand, and landscape her beautiful Lake Mary place with the other. At the moment the Grays are in the process of making a bird sanctuary out of an island in the lake. Watching it from afar, it looks like much work. But anyone who can keep the number of props straight that Nancy Gray did in the recent High Fever Follies, will undoubtedly have all the birds cataloged and trained before the year is out.

One person convinced that Sanford has at least ten thousand navy hats, is Doty Roumillat, who handed out tickets to the navy as they came into the park Saturday night. As we tramped in, she peeled off a yard, and we were not the only ones who have so many children. Betty and Bill Lemos were there with five, Ann and Dave Tenney have six, Olivia Simmons has five. Sounds as if the service are starting a competition to see how many kids they can have. But it is no fun when you start to move.

More faces in the crowd Saturday night were those of Jack Morrison, and Harry Robson, in one of the serving lines, their eager smiles inviting one and all to partake of the fish and hushpuppies—also Mayor David Gatchel as he mingled with the crowd looking as happy as any clam on the eastern shore. It was a good show, David, and one of which to be proud.

Sunday afternoon Bob and I attended one of the Robert Jackson's little get-togethers where the company is always good, and the hors d'oeuvres superb right down to Katie's hot meat balls, and Bob's radishes. Here is one side of Bob Jackson that not many of us are privileged to know—his role as farmer. A flourishing vegetable garden is located in the rear of the Jackson quarters, and the radishes were but a small sample. Also included in this most pleasant crowd were Ruth and Ray Herron, Lib Cleveland (Red) who is in Quonset, Julie Anderson, Tom Blackburn and CDR. and Mrs. McGuire—her name is Mary, but I apologize for not catching his name. CDR. McGuire is the new operations officer on the station. They have five children, and will soon be moving into my favorite coffee shop—the home of Dodie and John King in Loch Arbor. Speaking of Dodie and John, they had out of town guests on Sunday. Dr. and Mrs. Phil Mahan of Warren, Ohio stopped in to see them. The Mahans were stationed in Panama with the Kings nine years ago.

Jane Pruden has been in Orange Memorial Hospital, but is at home now, following an operation on her leg. Let's have no more of that! All VAH-ers must be in good health!

Hope Jack Smith isn't brooding too much about losing his golf match to Cy Fitton. If I know Cy he talked Jack out of it. Cy is a past master at gamesmanship. Wish he would start a class in how to be successful with it. My personal experience is that I completely battle myself, while unwittingly urging my opponent to greater victories. Or else I admire the shadow of my golf swing which Jackie Crawford likes so much, and miss the ball.

Belated good news is better than none at all, and I have just received a report on the Annual Girl Scout Cookie sale from the neighborhood cookie chairman, Mrs. E. S. (Dottie) Higginbotham. The almost perfect record of sales resulted in the turnover of nearly 5,784 boxes of cookies. Limited only by time, and not by enthusiasm, the 313 Girl Scouts and Brownies of Seminole County had only a few boxes left unsold. Seventeen troops in all participated in the sale, and were tremendously pleased by the way Sanford and Seminole County responded in purchasing their delicious wares. Since the Scouts are limited to selling only to their friends, relatives and neighbors, this was a very good record, even by my simple arithmetic. And I'd like to add, if only out of geographic pride that we in Seminole County who are working in Scouting, receive far more co-operation than most neighborhoods, from everyone, commercial or otherwise.

Guiding the Cookie Sale this year was Mrs. Higginbotham. Mrs. L. M. Millsaps offered her house as the Cookie Cupboard, where the many cases of cookies were stored prior to the sale. Those mothers and friends of Girl Scouts and Brownie Scouts, who served as Cookie Chairmen for their troops and gave untiringly of their time, enthusiasm and helping hands were the following:

Troop 10 — Mrs. Fred Perkins
Troop 149 — Mrs. James Peterson
Troop 214 — Mrs. R. A. Cobb
Troop 215 — Mrs. B. L. Perkins Jr.

Change of Command ceremonies in VAH-11 were the order of the day Monday morning. Following the ceremony a coffee was held at the B.O.Q. honoring the Bears and Mildahns. Polly Brubaker and Spook Hook made the arrangements. About sixty people including commanding officers and their wives from other units, attended the affair. Coffee and tiny sweet rolls were served. Ann and I were presented with corsages of yellow rose and blue iris, and the table arrangement was composed of blue iris and yellow pompons. Noticed the moving van at the Mildahns Loch Arbor home this afternoon, so by now they must be on their way.

Inspection Held At Pack 10's Meet

The monthly meeting of Cub Scouts Pack Ten was conducted Thursday evening at the First Methodist Church. Den 6 led the opening ceremony with the flag salute and singing of the National Anthem.

Chief D. M. Hall, newly elected chairman of the pack committee, held inspection, and Den 12 was the winner. Hall also announced that the next committee meeting would be on April 15, and a larger turnout of parents is desired. The next Pack meeting will be on April 25.

The boys' skits showed considerable preparation, especially in the costumes. Den 2 demonstrated various Indian dance steps, while Den 4, with their handsome tepee, reported on the habits of different Indian tribes. Den 8 enacted "An Indian Deer Hunt," and Den 11 featured the Dance of the Fire-gods.

The attendance count was won by Den 14, and its members were rewarded with tickets for the baseball game on Saturday, April 6. The boys of Den 12 also received tickets, for winning the inspection.

Assistant Cubmaster Woodrow Cash presented the following awards: Bobcat pins, Paul Harvey and Bobby Driscoll; Wolf badges, Wayne Hoopengardner, with assistant denner badge, John King, Jay Loop and Bruce Rowell; Bear badges with Lion books, Andrew Simmons, Gary Grell, with gold arrow, John Leach, with gold arrow, and Gary Webber; and Lion badge, Tommy Dohne.

Other awards were: Glen Webber, Bear book, Gary Webber, Lion book with gold arrow, Don Sheppard, service star, Steve Willis, Lion book, David Scott, gold arrow, Roth Vihlen, Lion book, Tommy Baggerly, Lion book.

The meeting was closed by Den 6 leading the singing of "Goodnight Cub Scouts."

Charming pictures such as this are surprisingly easy to shoot.

Picturing Reflections

We'd like to take a minute to share some reflections with you. No—not the usual mental ones—but the actual kind made in mirrors. Ever since the fateful day Narcissus looked too long and too lovingly into a shimmering lake, man has been attracted by reflections of himself. And when it comes to picture taking, he runs true to form. He seems to find a special fascination in mirror pictures, too.

If you'd like to try a little looking-glass magic yourself, don't hesitate for a moment. You'll find it's really quite easy to get impressive results even the first time—armed only with a simple camera and flash or flood lamps.

When you want to picture a subject along with his reflection in the mirror, there's one fact to remember in judging distance. Place your subject in front of a mirror and be sure your camera is aimed so that it images his reflection, too. Now measure the distance from camera to mirror, and add to it the distance between your subject and the mirror. In other words, if your camera is five feet from the mirror and the subject is one foot from the mirror, the reflection will be six feet from the camera—and six feet is the distance at which you should shoot.

Remember, too, that your flash or flood should be on your subject, not on the mirror. So direct the light to one side or the other—not straight at the mirror—to avoid getting a bright glare spot in your picture.

1 In 4 Teachers Will Not Return To Jobs Next Year

TALLAHASSEE — Researchers at Florida State University said a survey showed about one in four Florida teachers will not return to their jobs next year and 12 per cent will quit teaching altogether.

Drs. H. A. Curtis and Russell P. Kripp, of the school of education, made the survey of a cross-section of state teachers in January.

According to the survey, teachers with an average of 12½ years service are making an average of $3,075. They said they needed $3,518 "to live at the standard expected of teachers."

The average debt of the group was $1,400, not including home mortgages.

More than half of the married men in the group said their wives were working. Thirty-eight per cent of all the teachers and more than half of the men held other jobs to supplement their jobs.

Married men reported their outside earnings averaged $1,104 a year. This is within four dollars of the raise per teacher asked by the Florida Education Assn.

Married men reported their average savings last year as $77 and single teachers saved somewhat less than $200. Married women teachers reported average savings of $1,000.

Seminoles Eager For Victory Over Melbourne

Masters Tourney Opens Thursday In Augusta, Ga.

United Press Sports Writer
WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP) — The touring professionals are split on who will triumph in the honor-rich Masters golf tournament which opens Thursday in Augusta, Ga.

The majority give the nod to the younger players, the minority to the old guard of Ben Hogan, Sam Snead and Cary Middlecoff.

The names of Mike Souchak of Grossingers, N. Y., Dow Finsterwald of Jupiter, Fla., and Arnold Palmer of Laird, Pa., were tossed into the favorites' ring as long the practice fairway at the Cape Fear Country Club here.

Only one professional queried, George Bayer of Los Angeles, declined to comment. "I don't want to cause any hard feelings," the gigantic Bayer said as he worked in his putting stroke.

What others said:

Tony Siracusa — "Dow Finsterwald. He's got the sound game to win and he's due. You know he hasn't been out of the money since September 1953."

Doug Ford, the winter circuit's leading money winner — "I'll be Finsterwald or Palmer. Both are good putters and both are long off the tee which is what counts at the national. You just don't get the results with good iron play at the national."

Paul Harney — "I'd say Mike Souchak. It looks like the big boy's got his putting touch back and he's got the big fairway game needed at the Masters."

Finsterwald — "Arnold Palmer. He's hitting the ball solid and he's long off the tee. That National is too big for most of our guys."

Henry Ransome — "I always stick with the money winner because he's obviously playing the best under all conditions and courses. Doug Ford should take it."

Mike Souchak — "Hogan. He's always the man to beat, or rather it's his game. However, one of my younger fellows will be in there pushing him."

Billy Maxwell — "Hogan. No outsider can take the Masters."

Bob Rusburg — "Hogan will take the Masters. He's playing very well and he's already had so many shots at it that he knows the course and those greens like the back of his hand."

Jerry Barber — "I'll be Jimmy Demaree or Jackie Burke or Palmer. They all hit the ball a mile and that's what it takes at the National."

Johnny Palmer — "Snead, Middlecoff or Hogan. You just can't go outside that trio of greats when it comes to the Masters."

Gardner Dickinson Jr. — "Hogan... because he's 10 shots better from tee to green over 72 holes than anyone else, and that's a conservative estimate."

Those in the running for prize money at the end of the season are: Harold Ring; high game on the league; 235 — Jim Maloney; High series; 578 — Sanford Bowling Alley; High team single; 818 — Powell's Office Supply; high team three; 2157 — three women high averages; Ellen Betts, 154; Dot Powell, 147; Lillian Donat, 147 — three men high averages; Harold Ring, 165; Jim Maloney, 162; J. Cook, 161.

Seminole Dry Cleaners are coming up behind Weibolt Camera Shop since they took two games last week. The wins over Weibolt hoisted their record to 8-28. They still are in sixth place however. Bill Hartwick bowled a 175 single and a 493 series for Seminole.

Weibolt Camera Shop has 11-25 record for the season. Larva hit a 160 and 428 series for his team and his effort was good enough to keep his team in fifth place.

Mixed Bowling League Nears End Of Season

Last week the Mixed Bowling League went into full swing once again as they neared the end of the Bowling season. With only three weeks left to go, Powell's Office Supply sat high on the top last week, winning two games from Sanford Bowling Alley, with a second half season record of 24-10.

Fred Murray had a good night for Powell's as he bowled a high 195 single and a 500 series.

Sanford Bowling Alley stayed in second place by virtue of the one game they won from Powell's, running their season record to 23-14. P. Senn seems to be on the ball the last few weeks. Last week he hit a 202 single and a high single of 565.

Clyde's Grill broke the third place tie with Harvey's Plumbing Co. with a 21-15 record. Pat Foster came through and hit a hot 202 single plus the high series of 476 for her team.

Harvey's dropped into fourth place behind Clyde's with a season record of 20-14. Audrey Bolger has her ball working for her

SHS Track Team In Tri-School Meet Tomorrow

Track Coach Fred Ganas will take his thrifolds to Melbourne tomorrow night for a Tri-school meet that is expected to be the toughest of the season.

Cocoa and Melbourne will be the Seminole opponents and it is expected that the Seminoles will again feel the sting of out manning.

Both Melbourne and Cocoa are in the fastest growing section of Florida and just the manpower gives the two schools a decided advantage in numbers.

An example of being outmanned occurred last week in the meet with Eustis, Deland, and the Seminoles here. Mike Tammy won the event for Sanford but DeLand entered four runners and took second, third and fourth places to beat the Seminoles in points.

But this morning Ganas was optimistic about the outcome. "We'll be well accounted for over there," he said. "Our main trouble is exhaustion because we have to use so many members of the team in so many different events, but they're holding the meet at night and that will help us a little."

For the entire list of 15 events Ganas has only a 12 man squad, which means that there is only enough numbers in the personnel for one man in each event without doubling.

The event will be held tomorrow night under the lights in Melbourne.

Today's Sport Parade

By OSCAR FRALRY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Two aging veterans could spell the difference today for the pennant hopes of the Cincinnati Reds.

There is no question but what the burly Redlegs have the batting muscles. As usual, the problem is the pitching.

But Warren Hacker and Russ Meyer may supply the answer for a club which finished only two games back last season.

Word out of the spring training camps is that Hacker may do it all by himself. The big pitcher, obtained from the anemic Chicago Cubs 1, 8 November, will find it a novelty being with a club which can get him some runs.

Only Eight Runs

He was only 13 last season, but small wonder. In seven of those unlucky 13 defeats the Cubs gave him a total of only eight runs. Earlier, when he lost eight in a row, the Cubs didn't get him a single run over a span of 30 innings.

There is doubt that even a Bob Feller could win with such flimsy batting support, and this accounted for Hacker's feeling that "I had to strike out everybody to win a game."

A sidearm fastball pitcher with an adequate knuckler, the 32-year-old Hacker has looked good in spring training.

Meyer, who also was obtained from the Cubs late last season, had a mere mark of one win against six losses last season. But the "Mad Monk" hurt his arm against Brooklyn in June and never was right thereafter.

"I've been throwing harder than at any time since then," he glows. "There's no pain and I believe I'm on my way to regaining my stride."

Was 17 in 1949

The 33-year-old Meyer, who won 17 games in 1949, also has something else going for him. Finally, he contends, he has learned to control the explosive temper which provided his nickname.

"When I got mad, I started throwing instead of pitching," he admits. "It was no way to be and I had to learn to control myself. I think I've done it."

If he has even at this stage of his career, Meyer could be a surprise benefit to the pitch-poor Redlegs.

Hacker is the big hope to provide the winning difference and could be the deciding factor of the pennant race. Anything Meyer contributed would be that much grayer.

Sanford Citizens' FSL Responsibilities

By HUGH ANELEY

With hopes that this may not be too pessimistic to the wonderful effort expanded by our very capable sports enthusiasts to enter Sanford in the Florida State League class D baseball circuit, I think some of the responsibilities of the citizens of this area should be outlined.

The first and foremost need for such an undertaking is money. By a tremendous personal effort of John Keeling, Cotton Brown, and George Kenis it seems that a possible $10,000 in cash, pledges, and promises of merchants and fans is in sight.

That may or may not be enough to make the club a success for a season.

Which brings up the second important point, attendance. $10,000 could be enough money to get by if the team could draw an average of 800 fans to every home game. At first that sounds simple, but when one is reminded that the team will play seven nights a week, the picture becomes complicated. Although Sanford's attitude has become extremely progressive lately, the city has built up a reputation—and it isn't particularly good. We have a reputation of giving tremendous support if we are leading the league and of vacating the stadium if we aren't.

While it's true that things would probably be much different with another chance in the FSL, we still are remembered. During the past football season the people of Sanford paid themselves a tremendous tribute by giving the team the best following in more than a decade in spite of the fact that the Seminoles were having one of their worst years. But football is played only once a week.

A third major factor to be considered is player personnel. Entering into a contest so late in the game will not be an advantage to Sanford. It will be a hindrance. Sanford will get the credit from the bottom of the barrel unless they are lucky. That means that Sanford fans will have to be loyal and make spirit and enthusiasm take the place of selectiveness by the rest of the teams in the league.

A fourth consideration is a working agreement that is acceptable by all organizations concerned. If Pittsburg, Brown, and the Giants all are affiliated in a working agreement it will be the first time in the history of baseball. A full working agreement with one organization means $3,000 to the local club. But will the teams share equally or according to the number of players they contribute to the team.

Which brings up the fifth consideration. Which team will furnish the manager? That is a dangerous question, but it should be faced. The organization that furnishes the manager will have a distinct advantage in player development, which, after all, is the purpose of working agreements.

A sixth question is the legality of a working agreement with three organizations. If it has never been done before, chances are that there is no legislative authority to cover the situation and then it becomes extra-legal and subject to different interpretation by different points of view.

A seventh and very important thing that must be considered are the breaks the club will be given by local businesses and coverage of anticipated losses. Things like gas, lights for night games in the stadium, and transportation is very important.

Selma, Ala., the team that took up the Cocoa working agreement with the Giants this year is in a situation much like Sanford. Earl Ellsley, vice president of the Ala-ma-Florida League and prominent civic leader in Selma said in an interview with the Herald that the business houses of the city would mean the difference in Selma's success.

Selma hasn't had baseball for six years, and on their return to the league this year they are anticipating a possible loss of $8,000 and are prepared to weather the storm. On top of all this they have furnished the team with two station wagons for transportation and many other small but important contributions.

An eighth point is very important. If Sanford doesn't move into the FSL, some other team will have to be dropped. That will mean that Sanford will not be able to enter the league again just whenever we want to. In order for Sanford to ever get into the league, or even have an opportunity to get into the league, there must be another team to keep the numbers even. If an opening presented itself later, Sanford wouldn't get the first chance; the team dropped this year would.

This could be a great stride for Sanford. We are definitely progressive and we are not afraid to do what has never been done before if it is legal. But let's not deceive ourselves; to make this dream a reality, to take advantage of this opportunity, we must all, every one of us, get out and support a team.

We should not let the almost heroic efforts of these few men go unrewarded and then make them martyrs to a lost cause. Let's do what we want to, but if we don't want to, let's let it be known in a hurry.

Millers, Dallas Clash Saturday In Shrine Benefit

Minneapolis and Dallas will clash Saturday night in Memorial Stadium for the Shrine Benefit in one of the hottest rivalries in spring exhibition baseball in Florida.

The two top stars of the fabulous New York Giants Farm System have agreed to play their only night game of the season Saturday night to go toward the Shrine Benefit.

It is the only night game this year by any of the New York Giant Farm teams.

The rivalry between the two teams became apparent in their first meeting and every game between the two teams has been witnessed by huge turnouts in Memorial Stadium.

The game, coupled with the Seminole High School Band concert is expected to pack the stadium for the most worthy cause.

Co-chairman for the event are Ray Kennedy and S. G. Harriman. Kennedy is an outstanding baseball man with many glorious days behind him—40 years of them. He was general manager for Pittsburgh, Kansas City, and the N. Y. Yankees.

When Minneapolis and Dallas meet the fur files and the odd sheet is tossed out of the stadium as Orlando Cepeda, for Minneapolis opposes the heavy bats of Willie McCovey and Harmon Killebrew with a heavy bat of his own.

Minneapolis is the big brother of the Giant System and is in Class Triple-A, while Dallas is the upstart little brother with a Class Double-A rating.

Door prizes will be awarded at the event that will mark the highlight of the New York Farm System Exhibition Season schedule in Sanford.

NEW YORK (AP) — Two aging veterans could spell the difference today for the pennant hopes of the Cincinnati Reds.

There is no question but what the burly Redlegs have the batting muscles. As usual, the problem is the pitching.

But Warren Hacker and Russ Meyer may supply the answer for a club which finished only two games back last season.

Word out of the spring training camps is that Hacker may do it all by himself. The big pitcher, obtained from the anemic Chicago Cubs 1, 8 November, will find it a novelty being with a club which can get him some runs.

Only Eight Runs

He was only 13 last season, but small wonder. In seven of those unlucky 13 defeats the Cubs gave him a total of only eight runs. Earlier, when he lost eight in a row, the Cubs didn't get him a single run over a span of 30 innings.

There is doubt that even a Bob Feller could win with such flimsy batting support, and this accounted for Hacker's feeling that "I had to strike out everybody to win a game."

A sidearm fastball pitcher with an adequate knuckler, the 32-year-old Hacker has looked good in spring training.

Meyer, who also was obtained from the Cubs late last season, had a mere mark of one win against six losses last season. But the "Mad Monk" hurt his arm against Brooklyn in June and never was right thereafter.

"I've been throwing harder than at any time since then," he glows. "There's no pain and I believe I'm on my way to regaining my stride."

Was 17 in 1949

The 33-year-old Meyer, who won 17 games in 1949, also has something else going for him. Finally, he contends, he has learned to control the explosive temper which provided his nickname.

"When I got mad, I started throwing instead of pitching," he admits. "It was no way to be and I had to learn to control myself. I think I've done it."

If he has even at this stage of his career, Meyer could be a surprise benefit to the pitch-poor Redlegs.

Hacker is the big hope to provide the winning difference and could be the deciding factor of the pennant race. Anything Meyer contributed would be that much grayer.

will clash, Powell's Office Supply and Harvey's Plumbing Co. will do battle, and Clyde's Grill and Weibolt Camera Shop will vie for importance.

Sanford Bowling Alley stayed in second place by virtue of the one game they won from Powell's, running their season record to 23-14. P. Senn seems to be on the ball the last few weeks. Last week he hit a 202 single and a high single of 565.

Clyde's Grill broke the third place tie with Harvey's Plumbing Co. with a 21-15 record. Pat Foster came through and hit a hot 202 single plus the high series of 476 for her team.

Harvey's dropped into fourth place behind Clyde's with a season record of 20-14. Audrey Bolger has her ball working for her now and hit a high game for Harvey's of 176 and K. J. Cook had a 500 series.

Seminole Dry Cleaners are coming up behind Weibolt Camera Shop since they took two games last week. The wins over Weibolt hoisted their record to 8-28. They still are in sixth place however. Bill Hartwick bowled a 175 single and a 493 series for Seminole.

Weibolt Camera Shop has 11-25 record for the season. Larva hit a 160 and 428 series for his team and his effort was good enough to keep his team in fifth place.

Those in the running for prize money at the end of the season are: Harold Ring; high game on the league; 235 — Jim Maloney; High series; 578 — Sanford Bowling Alley; High team single; 818 — Powell's Office Supply; high team three; 2157 — three women high averages; Ellen Betts, 154; Dot Powell, 147; Lillian Donat, 147 — three men high averages; Harold Ring, 165; Jim Maloney, 162; J. Cook, 161.

This week Seminole Dry Cleaners and Sanford Bowling Alley

will clash, Powell's Office Supply and Harvey's Plumbing Co. will do battle, and Clyde's Grill and Weibolt Camera Shop will vie for importance.

Boudreau Forms Team Around 12 Ex-Yanks

By LEO H. PETERSEN
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Lou Boudreau has only one aim for the Kansas City Athletics this year—to get them out of the American League cellar.

He is one of the two American League managers training in Florida who isn't talking in terms of the pennant—the other being Chuck Dressen of the Washington Senators.

Boudreau is moulting his 1957 team around 12 ex-Yankees, won as used to winning as the A's are to losing.

Only two infield positions are certain—Vic Power, a .304 hitter, at first base and Itee Lopez at third.

Short At Stake

Billy Hunter, one of those ex-Yankees, and Joe DeMaestri, last year's regular, are contesting the shortstop post. Milt Graff, a rookie Lou Skizas, another one of the ex-Yankees sent platters Bobby Shantz and Art Dimmar to New York, is battling Curt Roberts, the ex-Pirate who won another major league shot by hitting .320 at Columbus last year, for second.

Only Harry Saltcase Simpson, who batted in 105 runs last year with an average of .293, has won an outfield spot. He will play right.

Gus Zernial, the long ball hitter but faulty fielder, has to beat out Lou Skizas, another one of the ex-Yankees who batted .311 for the A's last season, for the right field spot. But Skizas, like Zernial, leaves plenty to be desired defensively.

Another possible starter is Wally Burnette, who won six and lost eight for Kansas City after being obtained from Denver last season. The No. 1 bullpen man will be Tom Gorman, who was 9-10 last season, and another ex-Yankee, Arnie Portocarrero, who won another chance by winning 10 games with Birmingham last year and the veteran Lou Kretlow, 7-4

Baseball Spring Training Period Draws To Close

By OSCAR FRALRY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The baseball spring training period is drawing to a close and, for guys like Mickey Mantle and Billy Sarni, it will be one they'll never forget.

Pretty soft, you say, to escape the wintry blasts and lull around in the sunshine while getting paid for it. But to the players this is the toughest part of the season—the rehab and warm-up period which some of them don't survive.

Sarni didn't—and with Mantle every day is hazardous.

At 29, the Giant catcher reached the end of his baseball career who he suffered a heart attack. He'll coach, sure, but at his age you don't expect to be finished competitively.

And can you imagine Mantle's feelings when he stepped into an outfield hole on a sizzling hot day wondering whether he, too, had "had it."

Legs Are Fragile

Because actually every day could be Mantle's last. His legs are that fragile. There's that arrested osteomyelitis in his shin as well as the trick knees which have been operated on twice and must be kept tightly wrapped up all times against the dangers of sudden stops and starts.

At 25, Mantle has it "made" in his luck holds. Winning the triple crown batting championship and most valuable player honors netted him a $60,000 salary this season. And they insist, he is just getting started.

Lots of other suffered serious and painful difficulties this spring. Early Wynn can hardly walk because of a pulled leg tendon. Herb Score suffered a wrench ed knee. Gentry Staley of the White Sox came back after a lip operation for a cancerous growth and Ted Kuszewski is fighting the crippling effects of a pinched sciatic nerve. Bill Skowron broke a thumb and Ray Narjeski a finger.

Aches Disappear Eventually

For most of them it's a temporary situation. The minor breaks knit and the aches disappear eventually.

Sarni will be carried on the roster so that he can obtain his five-year status but actually he has to take it easy. It's a heart-breaking case of a guy without a chance.

Mantle's ankle is healing nicely. But the club breaks into a cold sweat when it thinks of what would have happened to him. Considering the case history of his legs, it could have been the end.

Pretty soft, you say? They'll be glad when the season starts.

with the A's last season, have a chance to stick along with Ed Blake drafted from Toronto, where he won 17 while losing 11 to Ben Flowers, who failed to make it with the Phillies and Cardinals in the National League and Rold Duran, an 11-game winner with Vancouver.

Crandall Appointed Manager Of NAS Branch Of Bank

"The one thing that has impressed me most about Sanford is the cooperative spirit of the Navy people and local citizens," said Erwin P. Crandall, newly appointed manager of the Florida State Bank's baby facility, the Naval Air Station branch.

"It seems to me as if the community has accepted the Navy as good citizens and the Navy is trying to live up to it," said Crandall.

The announcement of Crandall's appointment as the new manager for the Naval Air Station Branch of the Florida State Bank was made yesterday by T. E. "Gene" Tucker, president.

Crandall came to Sanford from Eau Gallie where he was associated with the First National Bank. Prior to that time he was connected with the Marion County Bank in Marion, Ohio.

"The foundation for the new bank facility at the Sanford Naval Air Station was poured yesterday," said Crandall, "and we expect to have the bank underway in about (Continued On Page 10)

Mayfair's Last Saturday Super Dance Apr. 6

The last Saturday night supper dance of the current 1956-57 season will be held at the Mayfair Inn next Saturday night, Apr. 6. In announcing the plans for the final dance of the winter social season here, Mebane said that the event would begin at 7 o'clock with a buffet being served.

Dancing will start about 7:30, he said, with the champagne hour, so popular with Mayfair Inn guests, during the dancing period. Dress for Saturday night's supper dance will be informal. Mebane said, and reservations may be made by calling FAirfax 2-3411.

Over-All Approval Heard

TALLAHASSEE — Florida legislators were to consider raising their own expense allowances today before taking up Gov. LeRoy Collins' expensive and generally well-accepted program.

The House met at 10 a. m. this morning to adopt rules for the 1957 session and set expense allowances for members. In 1955, members received $15 a day but there was talk of hiking the allowance to $20 or more this session.

The representatives also were to elect Tom Beasley of Walton County speaker-designate for the 1959 session and choose between Reps. Elbert Stewart, Hendry, and James N. Beck, Putnam, for speaker pro tem in 1959. Beasley is unopposed.

The upper chamber was to meet at 11 a. m. to adopt rules and discuss expenses for members and attacks.

This afternoon, the appropriations committees of both houses met to tackle the big general appropriations bill. The House Insurance and Water Resources (Continued on Page 10)

Saturday To Be Glee Club Day In Sanford

It's going to be Seminole High School Glee Club Day in Sanford next Saturday.

The girls and boys of the glee club will be doing chores to raise funds to take them to the State Contests in Tampa later this month.

Many of the girls and a number of the boys will be washing cars at Merle Warners Service Station with the proceeds from the polishing and washing tasks going into the "kitty."

Other girls will be selling cakes, cookies and goodies in another section of downtown Sanford. The cakes and cookies are being made by the young ladies with both singing and cooking fame.

The entire group, under the direction of Miss Ollie Reese White, have made remarkable records in the various contests about the state, and in order to show their prowess at singing fund must be raised to take them to Tampa.

Demos Retain Control Of U. S. Senate As Yarborough Wins Race

DALLAS, Tex. — The Democrats retained control of the U. S. Senate today on the hard-fought victory of liberal Ralph Yarborough in a Texas special election.

Yarborough torpedoes his Democratic opposition and Republican hopes in his first success in five tries for high office. He previously had lost three bids for the governorship and one for state attorney general.

His election meant that the Democrats will continue to hold a 49-47 edge in the U. S. Senate. The Republican Party went all out in an effort to get a GOP candidate elected and win a 48-18 tie in the Senate.

With Vice President Richard M. Nixon's tie-breaking vote, this would have given the Republicans control of the Senate. But that Hutcheson of Houston, upon whom the Republicans had pinned their hopes, never was in the running.

All told, there were 20 men in the race—18 Democrats and two Republicans. The Republicans, concentrating on Hutcheson, had hoped that the Democratic ma-

Common Methods Of Propagation Told By Speaker

Sylvester A. Rose, Assistant Ornamental Horticulturist, University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service, returned to Sanford for the second time last night to instruct the sixth class of the Sanford Garden Club's Landscape and Gardening School.

Rose first spoke to the Sanford audience on Mar. 19 when his subject was "Maintenance of the Landscape Planting."

Last night a capacity audience heard the agricultural specialist speak on "Propagation of Ornamental Plants."

The speaker outlined the common methods of propagation; by seed, cuttings, layering, division, and grafting.

He explained, in detail, the reasons for using the various methods of propagation. The use of seeds, he said, may not produce the desired variety and may be slow to obtain the specific plants wanted. In the use of cuttings the same variety of plant is produced as the parent plant and a larger plant is secured in a shorter length of time.

In outlining the other methods of propagation, Rose said that the use of layering produces the same effect as in the use of cuttings.

In the use of division, only perennials and clumpy plants are affected when the plant is divided into segments. Grafting is used a great deal, he said, when changing the plant from one variety to another.

Rose then instructed his audience in the procedure in the various methods of propagation and then divided the cuttings into classes.

His fifth division of last night's instruction was to explain the methods used in common grafts of plants.

The seventh in the series of the Landscape and Gardening School will bring James E. Brogdon, Extension Entomologist who will instruct on the subject "Common Insect Pests of Ornamental Plants."

The final class of the school will be held on Tuesday night, Apr. 16.

Plans Underway For Annual Jaycee Easter Egg Hunt

Plans are already under way for the Annual Jaycee Easter Egg Hunt in Fort Mellon Park.

This year, plans include the hiding of approximately 5,000 eggs in the municipal park where children of Sanford and the surrounding area under the age of 10 are invited to take part.

Kim Kimbrell is the chairman of the Jaycee Easter Egg Hunt Committee.

In addition to Kimbrell, 15 Jaycees have volunteered to help in the event which this year will take place on Easter afternoon.

Those assisting Kimbrell are: Bob Bratzel, Harry Canell, Herb Stenstrom, Jack Sewell, Bill Evans, Ralph Pezold, Gerald Melzer, David Thrasher, Bob Landreth, Gordon Frederick, Garfield Willetta, Bill Livingston, E. C. Harper, Jr., Melvin Dekie, and Glenn Lyons.
