DeLand Defeated By 6 To 1 Score On Sanford Field

Reds Allowed Only 8 Hits; Game Over In Less Than 2 Hours

Sanford started to even the score with DeLand yesterday when the Lookouts defeated the Reds by the decisive score of 6 to 1. It was the third Sanford-DeLand contest of the season. Both of the other games were won by the Reds. The same teams play again this afternoon, in DeLand. Yesterday's game was on Sanford field and was witnessed by a double crowd.

Buddy Lake, Sanford's new ace pitcher, was in excellent form for the first game of the season. He struck out two men, allowed eight hits and walked one man. He also put on a good performance with the willow, getting a hit each of the four times at bat. Swindell, Sanford's home run king, also made a record, coming to the plate four times without an official time at bat. He sacrificed his first hit and worked the pitcher for a base on balls twice. Deal was put in the box for DeLand at the beginning of the game, but in the very first inning the Lookouts scored five of their six runs.

Paul Dean Wins First Game When He Beats Giants

ST. LOUIS, May 1.—(AP)—Paul, younger of the Dean brothers, notched his first victory of the season as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the New York Giants, 3-2, to sweep the two-game series.

Paul was nipped for 11 hits, four of them by Joe Moore, while the Cardinals got only five safeties but the Cards' blows were better bunched and longer. The Cardinals got underway in the second frame when they scored two runs, Johnny Mize hit a double and after Charlie Gelbert got the only walk of the game, Leo Durocher hit a double to drive them home. Lefty Al Smith who started on the mound for the Giants worked for six innings before being taken out for a pinch hitter. His successor, Harry Gumbert, was tagged for a homer by Mize in the seventh and this run provided the margin of victory.

Releases Signed For Two Pitchers On Sanford Club

Moses, A Local Boy, And Hugh Campbell Allowed To Travel

Herbert Moses of Sanford and Hugh Campbell of Gainesville, Ga., both pitchers, have been given their releases by the Sanford Baseball Association. Lou Lenti of Memphis, Tenn., second baseman, has also been allowed to travel.

Manager Staffy McCrone said that in the Moses case he had suspended the Sanford man, on pay, for a period of seven days while he was "trying" out other players, and had intended to pitch Moses against the Islanders in Saturday's game in DeLand. Under suspension, the pitcher was not allowed to be in uniform during a game, the manager said. However, suspended players on the payroll are expected to report at games, but Moses failed to show up at yesterday's game with DeLand on Sanford field, and he was therefore fined $5 and given his unconditional releases.

Great Victory Won By Saints Over Palatkins

ST. AUGUSTINE, May 1.—The St. Augustine Saints staged a track meet here in the Florida State League, shelling the Palatka Azaleas, 20 to 1, as local bats pounded out 17 hits off four Palatka hurlers.

Included in the St. Augustine assortment of base blows were home runs by Russell Turnblom and "Gas-House" Parker. John Schneider, St. Augustine southpaw ace, let the Azaleas down with five hits and fanned seven. The Palatkins used Pete Kinley, Gamornik, Crittenden and Andrews on the hill in a game that saw 19 walks issued. Palatka's lone run came in the fourth, the result of singles by White and Andrews and the only St. Augustine error of the game. Parker rapped out a homer, a single and a sign for the Saints. Mayo Langston hit two triples and a single and Turnblom added a single to his homer.

It was the worst St. Augustine defeat over Palatka in the long baseball rivalry between the two cities.

Time Up Today For Filing For State Offices

Qualifying Fees Of Such Candidates Must Be Received Before Midnight

Complete List Of Candidates

12 Out For Governor, Eight For Congress From 5th District

TALLAHASSEE, May 2.—(AP)—New issues remained at a premium in the 1936 political campaign today with the first primary 30 days away.

Up and down the state the sound wagons continued their journeys—although there were protests against the noise in some cities—and candidates continued to pour out their appeals for votes.

The first primary is June 2, and in races where there are more than two candidates, the two receiving the highest number of votes will enter the run-off campaign which will end with the second primary balloting on June 22.

By law, the time for qualifying ended today (Saturday, May 2) and qualification fees cannot be paid after midnight.

Registration books for the primaries closed Thursday at midnight, and reports from counties showed the usual mad minute rush which required registration of voters to remain open well into the night. Figures were not available immediately, but political observers said there was a record registration. May 18 is the last day to pay poll taxes.

At least an unprecedented number of persons to registration offices who are exempt from paying poll taxes because they have passed the maximum age.

Poll tax payments were running far behind the number of registrations on the basis of incomplete unofficial reports, indicating voters are following the usual practice of registering and then paying poll taxes later.

Grand jury investigations were under way in some counties on charges of fraudulent registrations.

Particularly in Dade and Duval counties (Miami and Jacksonville) the county commissioners studied plans for special checkup of registration books to strike off any fraudulent names.

Every candidate for office apparently was confident of victory, but here in Tallahassee some men who have watched many political campaigns said they were puzzled by what appeared to be only slandering interest in the state-wide race. However, they forecast quickened interest before the first primary.

Following is the list of Democratic candidates who have qualified in the various races:

GOVERNOR: Grandy Burton of Weachula, Stafford Childwell of Miami, Jerry W. Carter of Tallahassee, Dan Chappell of Miami, Fred F. Cane of Lake City, W. C. Hodges of Tallahassee, A. C. Lewis of Marianna, Carl Napier of Wakulla, Mark Martin of Ocala, E. F. Pate of West Palm Beach, Hugh Patterson of Tampa, J. E. Yearwood of Winter Haven.

County Candidates Have Another Week In Which To File

While candidates for state offices and for Congress must qualify before 12 o'clock tonight, candidates for County offices and the State Legislature have until next Thursday, May 7, in which to pay their filing fees.

Registrars Busy On Last Day For Qualifying Voters

Books Are To Close At Midnight; Heavy Poll Is Indicated

Supervisor of Registration W. J. Thigpen and his assistants were busy today registering electors who put off until the last the inscribing of their names on the poll books of the County. Poll books in all other counties with the exception of St. Johns closed Thursday, but under a special law which requires the re-registering of all voters in Seminole and St. Johns the books in these counties will be kept open until 12 o'clock tonight.

Deputy registrars handling the First and Third precinct books had registered 2,667 voters up to noon today. They will remain on duty in the basement of the Court House until 9 o'clock tonight, or later if there are electors present wishing to register. When they close the office the books will be taken to Mr. Thigpen's office in the Brumley building where they will remain open until midnight.

There was a steady stream of voters at the registration table in the Court House today, and Mr. Thigpen reported that many registers of the county precincts called at his office to register. The county books were returned from the precincts to the supervisor's office early in the month. These books will be kept open until 12 o'clock tonight.

Electors have until May 16 in which to pay their poll taxes and thus become eligible to vote in the June 2 primary.

$504 Donated To Salvation Army Before Campaign

Advance subscriptions to the Salvation Army now total $504.25, Captain P. S. Feren of the local corps reported today. The annual appeal is to begin next Tuesday, and will continue for one week during which time it is hoped $5,500 will be raised to finance the Army during the coming year.

Additional advance subscriptions reported today are the following: H. B. Pope, $15; J. B. Orvitt, Victor Green, Otto Schmelz and the Seaboard Oil Company, each $10; Alan W. Wilson and M. L. Cullum, each $5; A. G. Timmerman and Rebecca Stevens, each $1.

General Chairman C. E. Dawson of the appeal committee reports that H. B. Pope, Walter Coleman Henry Behmmer, Jr., and W. A. Patrick have volunteered to work during the drive, bringing the total number of volunteer workers to 33.

Virginia Police Are Ordered To Arrest Zioncheck

ALEXANDRIA, Va., May 2.—(AP)—Police were told here last night to seize Representative Zioncheck the first time he sets foot, or automobile tire, within this quiet and historic city again.

Falling to appear in police court to answer charges of reckless driving and disorderly conduct, the recently widowed congressman was fined $68 and $500 bond posted by a professional bondman was ordered forfeited.

"The next time you see this gentleman," said Judge James S. Duncan, "seize him under a cap."

The congressman left a note with a friend and neighbor explaining that he and his wife, the former Miss Ruby Louise Min, were on their way to Tampa, Fla., where he planned to show the natives how to golf.

From Beaumont, N. C., however, came word that he had abandoned a yacht for a deep sea fishing trip, and had called without any word how long he would be gone.

Mother And 3 Children Hurt In Car Crash

Orlando Woman Said To Be Seriously Injured; Hit-Run Driver Is Arrested

Their car struck by a hit-and-run driver shortly after 7 o'clock this morning, Mrs. A. J. Thomas of Orlando and three of her four children were taken to Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital suffering painful injuries. Those sustained by Mrs. Thomas were reported serious.

Harry Perkins, the driver of the other car involved in the crash, failed to stop but careened on into town on three wheels. He was later arrested by Police Officer Bob Wilcox and was lodged in the County Jail, charged by Motorcycle Officer M. C. Gordon of the sheriff's office with drunken driving and hit-and-run.

After first aid treatment was given the injured at the local hospital they were taken to Orange General Hospital in Orlando.

Mrs. Thomas suffered a broken collar bone and a deep cut on one of her limbs, and it was feared by hospital attendants that she might also have been injured internally. Two of her young daughters were painfully cut about the face, and one of her little boys was cut and bruised on the body. The car was driven by Mr. Thomas, but he and the fourth child escaped injury.

According to reports made by peace officers, the Thomas car was driving west on Lake Shore Boulevard toward DeLand when the car driven by Harry Perkins met it in a head-on collision just beyond the west city limits. The impact of the crash demolished the Thomas car, and the Perkins car lost one front wheel. Despite that damage to his car, however, Perkins failed to stop and managed to drive the one and one-half or two miles to the City.

Both Officers Gordon and Wilcox hurried to the scene of the wreck, and while the former looked after the injured persons the latter followed the car on the pavement left by the three-wheeled Perkins car and soon located him in a downtown hotel.

Thirty-nine members of the Sons of the Legion attending last evening's meeting were told by Commander L. F. Boyle of the American Legion that he will give three prizes to the boys who learn the preamble to the Legion constitution and recite it better than the others. The commander is also endeavoring to get the Legionnaires to learn the preamble.

Older members of the Sons engaged in drills last evening while the little fellows enjoyed a marble tournament. The squadrons, started less than a month ago, now has more than 60 members.

Officers are to be installed on Friday evening, May 15, by J. Carl Johnson of Tampa, chairman of the Sons of the Legion committee of the state department of the Legion.

Taxation At Present Is Sufficient To Raise Funds, Solons Think

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—Belief that the present tax structure would raise enough revenue to balance the budget when the national income returns to normal was expressed today by Senator Bailey, Democrat, North Carolina, at Senate hearings on the House tax bill.

Bailey and Senator King, Democrat, Utah, both requested Treasury expert to estimate what the federal revenue would be from the structure if the national income reached the recently billion dollar level. Bailey said he believed it would amount to six billion dollars.

High Officers Of Legion Expected At Next Meeting

Two State Chairmen And 4th District Leader Looked For

Arrangements are being made for an attendance at next Monday evening's meeting of Campbell-Loving Post of the American Legion which is expected to be the largest in the history of the local organization. Legionnaire Angel has promised a "real" feed, and a number of prominent leaders in the Legion in the state are expected.

Among these are Louis Griffith, Arcadia, athletic officer for the state department, and Nathan L. Mallison of Jacksonville, athletic officer for the Fourth district, and they are looked for to give the "live down" on Junior Legion baseball. Griffith is organizing baseball leagues throughout the state, and Mallison is getting one under way in Jacksonville. The Sanford Legion Junior baseball league starts next Monday.

Claude Jones of Arcadia, chairman of the Legion's educational committee for Florida, and Chester Danner of Daytona Beach, the new vice-commander for the Fourth district, which includes Sanford, have also advised Commander L. F. Boyle of the local post they will attend the meeting.

The new 48-foot steel flag pole has been erected in front of the Legion Hut. It was put up by Lee Brock, and the Florida Light and Power Company on a concrete base built by Sid Riva.

$50,000 Stolen From Detroit Branch Bank

DETROIT, May 2.—(AP)—Michigan state police flung a line of highway blockades completely across southeast Michigan today in an effort to intercept five men who peeped up $50,000 in a swift holdup of a branch of the Detroit bank yesterday and escaped before an alarm could be sounded.

The Herald's attention was called today to the fact that there are many beautiful shade trees in the city now which are a mass of lovely bloom.

Among them are a jacaranda tree, the entire top of which is covered with blue flowers, at the home of Mrs. Frances A. Hickson, Twelfth Street between Oak and Myrtle Avenues; a mimosa tree producing salicy pink flowers in the garden of W. C. Hill's home, 1909 Magnolia Avenue; and a large tropical tree, the parkinsonia, which is a wealth of golden bloom in the garden of Mrs. Harry Hester's home, corner Palmetto Avenue and Twenty-third Street.

All Boy Scouts who can tout a horn, beat a drum or can play any other band instrument, and Scouts who are musically inclined, are asked to report as soon as possible to Bill Thorne, superintendent of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building and former Scout master, or to write him. Mr. Thorne hopes to organize a Boy Scout band, or at least an orchestra. "If any boy knows of another boy who is musical but who is not a Scout, bring him along and we will do the rest," said Arthur Brown, Scout commissioner.

Selassie Runs As Army Nears Capital City

Flees With Members Of Royal Family To Port Terminal Of Only Railroad

(By the Associated Press) Emperor Haile Selassie precipitately left his capital of Addis Ababa today, the British minister there reported to London, and his departure was regarded as an indication that organized resistance to the invading Italian armies was ended. Sir Sidney Barton, British envoy, added in his report that widespread disorder had broken out in the city.

In Washington the state department said the British invitation extending facilities of its legation to American nationals had been accepted.

The Emperor is said to have taken a train for the French Somaliland port of Djibouti, coast terminal of Ethiopia's only railroad. British officials in London interpreted the Emperor's departure as the collapse of organized defense against the Italian invasion.

The Italian northern army meanwhile had temporarily halted its advance on Addis Ababa as fascist troops prepared to push forward in the wake of an advanced guard. The motorized column commanded by Marshal Pietro Badoglio camped beside the River Robi at Macduf awaiting word from Italian outposts that the route to the seat of the Ethiopian government was clear.

Absence of reports from Addis Ababa caused London wireless companies to accept messages for the Ethiopian capital only at the sender's risk.

In Rome Fascist officials sought to check premature celebrations of the fall of the Ethiopian capital, with the provincial leaders summoned to discuss plans for a victory mobilization. Some sources indicated the anticipated occupation might not be announced officially until Premier Mussolini appears before the Chamber of Deputies Monday.

Imperial Palace Sacked

LONDON, May 2.—(AP)—Reuters' (British) news agency dispatch from Paris, said today the French foreign office has received a telegram from Addis Ababa reporting the sacking of the imperial palace of Emperor Haile Selassie. The message to the French foreign office confirmed reports that the Emperor had joined the Empress and other members of the royal family at the last moment on a special train bound for Djibouti.

Vandenberg Will Bid For G. O. P. Convention Vote

LANSING, Mich., May 2.—Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), tacitly declared his candidacy for the Republican presidential nomination last night when he asked Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald to sponsor his cause at the Cleveland national convention.

Vandenberg's long alliance concerning his presidential aspirations was broken with announcement by Fitzgerald that he had accepted the Junior Michigan senator's invitation to nominate Vandenberg before the convention.

At last week's Republican state convention Vandenberg was endorsed by the party and its delegates turned over to him without, however, any binding regulations. Fitzgerald, acknowledged leader of the party in Michigan, is slated to become chairman of the state delegation. Thus he is in an excellent spot to appeal for Vandenberg support at Cleveland.

The Sun declared as "preposterous" a statement by William Green, president of the A. F. of L. that "15,154,000 persons are without normal work."

Karpis Taken Back To St. Paul, Scene Of Two Kidnapings

Long Search For Karpis Equalled Dillinger Hunt

Public Enemy No. 1 Started As Thief When Only A Boy

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 2.—(AP)—New Orleans last night ended a man-hunt as extensive as that of his predecessor as Public Enemy No. 1—John Dillinger.

Karpis—his real name is Raymond Karpavicz—gained the title of the most wanted man in America after the slaying of Dillinger and George "Baby Face" Nelson. Karpis started out as a petty thief and rapidly "graduated" as one of the nation's big time-burglars, bank robber, killer and kidnaper. He was sought widely after spectacular bank raids in which blood flowed freely, but the hunt was intensified after the $200,000 kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, young St. Paul bank president, in January, 1934. The banker, in his own words, said he was confined "in a living hell" for 31 days.

The desperado was born in Canada on Aug. 10, 1900. At an early age he was taken by his Lithuanian parents to Topeka, Kan. He was the only boy in the family but had three sisters.

When 16 years old, he was arrested in Topeka for stealing tires. Convicted of second degree burglary, he was sent to the State Industrial Reformatory, Kan., for a ten-year term.

In the Kansas reformatory he met Lawrence Devol, alias Larry Barton. The two sowed through the cell bars and escaped after Karpis had served three years. Devol now is serving a life term for a sensational Minneapolis bank holdup in which two patrolmen were slain. Karpis also took part in that crime. Devol admitted.

After a year of freedom, Karpis and Devol were arrested at Kansas City Mar. 23, 1930 and Karpis was sent back to the Kansas reformatory. When knives were found in his possession, he was transferred to the State Penitentiary in Lansing, Kan., on May 19, 1930. A year later he was freed.

A month later he landed in Tulsa, Okla., the headquarters of the Barker family—"Ma" Kate Barker, Freddie, Arthur, who also was known as "Doc" Herman and Lloyd. "Ma" Barker and Freddie were slain in Oklawaha, Fla., after a six-hour gunfight with federal agents. "Doc" is serving a life term in Alcatraz for the Bremer abduction.

Karpis and Freddie Barker met in the Lansing, Kan., penitentiary and became friends. It was there they plotted a $5,000 jewel robbery at Henryetta, Okla.

On June 10, 1931, Karpis was arrested in Tulsa and taken to Okmulgee, Okla. Barker eluded officers but his pal was sentenced Sept. 11, 1931, to four years in the state penitentiary at McAlester, Okla. But the No. 1 badman never was taken to prison to serve that term, for after serving three months in the county jail during and shortly after his trial, he was paroled by the trial judge.

Shortly after his parole Karpis killed Sheriff C. R. Kelly of West Plains, Mo. That was Dec. 10, 1931. Freddie Barker was with him when the sheriff was slain.

"Ma" Barker knew Dolores Delaney, pretty St. Paul girl, and was anxious to have her "pat." Karpis, make her acquaintance. So not long afterward, Dolores (Continued on Page Five)

Car Dealers Attend Jacksonville Meeting

C. F. Proctor, owner and manager of the Proctor Chevrolet Company, Edward Higgins and Pat Morris, new and used car managers, respectively, returned yesterday from Jacksonville where they attended a meeting of all Chevrolet dealers in South Georgia and Florida.

Among the important features of the meeting, according to Mr. Proctor, were discussions of the company's nation-wide used-car campaign and of the prizes which will be given salesmen who sell the most new cars during May and June.

G-Men Under Hoover Capture Notorious Criminal In Hide-Away In Louisiana

Rushed By Plane To Northern City

Made No Resistance When Surrounded By Federal Agents

ST. PAUL, May 2.—(AP)—Sullen, travel weary and shivering, Alvin Karpis, outlaw, was brought back to St. Paul today to face trial on kidnaping charges. Department of Justice agents who trapped the nation's most notorious gunman in New Orleans late yesterday returned him here in an overnight plane ride.

Escorted personally by J. Edgar Hoover, Department of Justice head, and a squad of picked agents, Karpis was landed here slightly more than 12 hours after the heavily armed party flew northward out of New Orleans. The desperado, wearing thin summer apparel in temperature just above freezing, was hustled from the plane to a heavily armed automobile, surrounded by machine guns, and was taken to the agents' headquarters in the federal building.

Whether Karpis would be promptly arraigned on indictments charging him with the abduction of Edward G. Bremer, banker, and William Hamm, Jr., brewery head, was not immediately determined. At Washington the Post Office Inspection Service said efforts will be made to try Karpis for the Garrettsville, Ohio, train robbery last November unless he is given a death sentence in an earlier trial.

During the entire trip by plane from New Orleans here, Karpis was manacled to his seat.

Hoover said no reward would be paid as the federal agents themselves discovered and captured Karpis. Rewards totaling $7,000 had been posted.

Hoover said Fred Hunter, captured with Karpis, is being held in New Orleans pending decision as to whether he would be tried on a small robbery charge or a postal offense.

Hunter is not so well known as Karpis, but he is wanted for a post office robbery on Nov. 2, 1935, at Garrettsville, Ohio, in which $34,000 was taken. Karpis was also connected with that robbery.

Was Easily Captured

NEW ORLEANS, May 2.—(AP)—Alvin Karpis, public enemy No. 1 of the United States, was captured last night at a downtown apartment building without firing a shot by a squad of between 15 and 20 officers, led by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"They were in an apartment on the first floor of the building and were leaving the house to enter an automobile when the agents surrounded them," Hoover said. "The agents called upon them (Continued on Page Five)

Murder
 Florida has the highest homicide rate of any state in the Union. That is to say, more murders are committed in Florida than anywhere else in the country. The city of Jacksonville has the highest homicide rate of any city in the United States. And since the United States boasts more killings than any other civilized country in the world, having a homicide rate 2 1/4 times greater than Italy's, 11 times England's, 29 times Holland's, and 7 times the average for all Europe, Florida is the most murderous section in the world.

These facts of which we cannot be very proud are gleaned from an article on crime written by Miss Dorothy Thompson, appearing in the New York Herald Tribune. Miss Thompson is not directing particularly her shafts at Florida. She merely mentions in passing that Florida has the highest homicide rate in the country, that Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, and Louisiana follow closely, that New England has the lowest rate of any section of the country, that Vermont has the lowest in New England.

At first we are inclined to excuse the South on the grounds that so-called "nigger killings" are included in the statistics which go to make up the homicide rate. But what about the high percentage of low caste foreigners who make up the populations of many congested New England cities—Greeks, Sicilians, Corsicans, Italians, Armenians, and similar quick-tempered, hot-blooded people? The average dandy is a docile, placid, contented individual, who commits his crime with the ignorance of consequences and irresponsibility of a child.

Discussing the causes of crime in this country, Miss Thompson says some things which may have some applicability in this state. "The alliance between politics and crime, between industry and crime, and between labor and crime," she writes, "must be counted. Elsewhere in this column I have written about the labor spy and the hired strikebreaker. But check against the trades unions the hired thug, the hired intimidator. Count in the crooked judiciary, and the whole system of the election of judges, which makes the state and municipal courts responsible to swart politicians. In greater New York today, a public prosecutor is working on a serious kidnaping case, who only the other day was removed from the prosecution of a murder case by the governor. Nevertheless, the prosecutor was re-elected, and while he represents New York justice, one of his staff is under indictment.

"The business has many facades. Add the low standards of some of the legal profession. And there are two sides to this story, too. There is, in our country, polite crime, and impolite crime. A banker accused of embezzlement, an insular, or a Doheny, can command the ablest and most respectable legal talent in the country. A bank wrecker can get the support of an eminent member of the bar. A bank breaker cannot, a murderer cannot. The result is that most criminal cases are handed over to the dregs of the bar, to the 'fixers,' the 'lowlives.' Yet somebody has got to defend them. If decent lawyers will not, then there is a premium for men of no honor. A girl who shoots her lover in hysteria is usually defended by a lawyer of questionable reputation because only such a man will defend her. But a man who has ruined widows and orphans may be defended by a leading citizen.

"Add public sentimentality toward the criminal, resulting in such shocking things as the idealization of Hauptmann and his widow, and in the lax suspended sentence probation system, against which some of our most eminent jurists have protested vainly. And add, finally, our incredible lack of public indignation. And who, in this, shall call the kettle black? If for the boy of the streets, Dillinger is a hero, men who have committed the more polite crimes are heroes to others on Park Avenue."

Whatever may be the reason that this country leads the world in the number of murders, whatever may be the cause of the shameful homicide rate in Florida, it is certainly not one of the records of which we can be proud. It should be a constant source of concern for everyone. For it is a disgrace to the nation.

Major Trade Seen Climbing Toward Famous '29 Peak
Business Has Passed About Half Way Up Arc Of Recovery

How does the nation stand economically? Just how far have we recovered from the depression? If business is improving in many lines, why are so many persons out of work? These are some of the questions discussed in a series of six daily articles, of which this is the first.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
 NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP)—Cold hard figures telling the tale of America's march out of the land of hard times indicate that the dividing line between depression and prosperity has been reached.

Statistics measuring several major aspects of economic America indicate that since the business pendulum struck bottom, it has swung up to the recovery arc about half way between the high level of 1929 and the low levels of three and four years ago.

Business analysts see profound significance in the fact that in many respects about half the extreme losses since the busy days seven years ago have been regained.

The Associated Press weekly index of industrial activity has risen to a point slightly above midway between the 1929 low and the lows of 1932 and 1933.

Factory employment, as measured by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics' index, has likewise recovered approximately 50 per cent of its extreme loss from 1929 to early 1933.

In Wall Street, shares listed in the Stock Exchange have recovered almost half of the billions of quoted value that were swept away in the black torrents of selling from 1929 to the summer of 1932.

The net income of corporations shows a somewhat similar comeback. The Standard Statistics Co.'s index of the earnings of 126 industrial companies came back in 1935 from less than nothing in 1932 to a level slightly more than 40 percent of 1929.

But analysts generally acknowledge that the recovery march, impressive as it is, has been in some respects a struggling one. A large part of the population continues to live on the credit of its government or on the fat of former years.

Uncle Sam has borrowed some $13,000,000,000, chiefly from the banks, since 1929, and still is borrowing. President Roosevelt recently indicated that some 12,000,000 persons were living partly or wholly on relief.

Overcoming the lag in employment presents a major problem. While factory employment shows considerable recovery, idleness in many lines connected with building and construction, and in the service industries—where it includes everything from manning to chimney sweeping—remains of huge proportions.

But business analysts see hope because residential building is running nearly triple the levels of 1932, although still only around a quarter of 1929.

Optimists expect the service industries to boom with the coming of broader recovery.

The route forward from here is nonetheless befogged in mists of economic and political controversy. Some advocate a shorter work week to combat growing use of labor saving machinery. Others see the growing government debt as undermining confidence and retarding business enterprise.

Yet none gainsay the progress already made, and hope is high that the nation may be moving forward into a new era of good times in which prosperity will be better balanced and of a more abiding nature than that of 1928-29. Few attempt to predict how the transition will come. The post-war depression of the early 1920's ended with a building boom and the rapid growth of the automobile industry. Earlier depressions ended with railway building booms opening up new territory.

America no longer has a geographical frontier, but business optimists assert there is no foreseeable limit to its economic frontier. Leaders of the automobile industry anticipate the best year since 1929. The use of electric power has exceeded 1929 to register unprecedented levels. Industrial laboratories are busy developing new and better products.

While controversy swirls about the problems of the proper spheres of government and private industry and the measures desirable or feasible to avoid business and trade and to avoid the pitfalls of the past, economic America marches on.

(In the second of this series of articles, Frederick H. Cooper, Associated Press business writer in Washington, discusses in detail the problems of employment.)

Seven Principles Of Recovery

Declaring that "There are billions of dollars of stored up expansion in this country today, if the forces of recovery are unleashed," the directors of the National Manufacturers' Association, as recorded in the current issue of the Review of Reviews, lists the following principles which it believes a recognition of by the government would assist most greatly in promoting recovery and in augmenting employment by private industry:

1. That an accurate knowledge of the extent and character of unemployment is essential as a basis to practical discussion, and the manufacturing industry would gladly co-operate in obtaining such an authoritative census.
2. That the chief pools of unemployment lie in the durable goods and particularly the construction industries, and the service industries dependent upon them, and that the financing of efforts herein requires long-term investment based upon confidence in the future.
3. That prosperous industry is the cause of expanding employment and the source of reliable and enlarged public revenue.
4. That neither an individual nor a business can employ at continuing loss nor unduly increase operating cost without jeopardizing through bankruptcy the employment of those now employed.
5. That expanding government competition with private industry is not only a deterrent to expansion of private employment, but is accompanied by methods of competition which government itself prohibits as between private competitors.
6. That expansion of private enterprise would be encouraged by the curtailment of governmental extravagance, which clouds the future with burdensome taxes.
7. That the importation of foreign goods and rejected ideas affect injudiciously American employment and adulterate American concepts of social and political life.

Major Trade Seen Climbing Toward Famous '29 Peak

How does the nation stand economically? Just how far have we recovered from the depression? If business is improving in many lines, why are so many persons out of work? These are some of the questions discussed in a series of six daily articles, of which this is the first.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
 NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP)—Cold hard figures telling the tale of America's march out of the land of hard times indicate that the dividing line between depression and prosperity has been reached.

Statistics measuring several major aspects of economic America indicate that since the business pendulum struck bottom, it has swung up to the recovery arc about half way between the high level of 1929 and the low levels of three and four years ago.

Business analysts see profound significance in the fact that in many respects about half the extreme losses since the busy days seven years ago have been regained.

The Associated Press weekly index of industrial activity has risen to a point slightly above midway between the 1929 low and the lows of 1932 and 1933.

Factory employment, as measured by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics' index, has likewise recovered approximately 50 per cent of its extreme loss from 1929 to early 1933.

In Wall Street, shares listed in the Stock Exchange have recovered almost half of the billions of quoted value that were swept away in the black torrents of selling from 1929 to the summer of 1932.

The net income of corporations shows a somewhat similar comeback. The Standard Statistics Co.'s index of the earnings of 126 industrial companies came back in 1935 from less than nothing in 1932 to a level slightly more than 40 percent of 1929.

But analysts generally acknowledge that the recovery march, impressive as it is, has been in some respects a struggling one. A large part of the population continues to live on the credit of its government or on the fat of former years.

Uncle Sam has borrowed some $13,000,000,000, chiefly from the banks, since 1929, and still is borrowing. President Roosevelt recently indicated that some 12,000,000 persons were living partly or wholly on relief.

Overcoming the lag in employment presents a major problem. While factory employment shows considerable recovery, idleness in many lines connected with building and construction, and in the service industries—where it includes everything from manning to chimney sweeping—remains of huge proportions.

But business analysts see hope because residential building is running nearly triple the levels of 1932, although still only around a quarter of 1929.

Optimists expect the service industries to boom with the coming of broader recovery.

The route forward from here is nonetheless befogged in mists of economic and political controversy. Some advocate a shorter work week to combat growing use of labor saving machinery. Others see the growing government debt as undermining confidence and retarding business enterprise.

Yet none gainsay the progress already made, and hope is high that the nation may be moving forward into a new era of good times in which prosperity will be better balanced and of a more abiding nature than that of 1928-29. Few attempt to predict how the transition will come. The post-war depression of the early 1920's ended with a building boom and the rapid growth of the automobile industry. Earlier depressions ended with railway building booms opening up new territory.

America no longer has a geographical frontier, but business optimists assert there is no foreseeable limit to its economic frontier. Leaders of the automobile industry anticipate the best year since 1929. The use of electric power has exceeded 1929 to register unprecedented levels. Industrial laboratories are busy developing new and better products.

While controversy swirls about the problems of the proper spheres of government and private industry and the measures desirable or feasible to avoid business and trade and to avoid the pitfalls of the past, economic America marches on.

(In the second of this series of articles, Frederick H. Cooper, Associated Press business writer in Washington, discusses in detail the problems of employment.)

Registration In County Is Much Heavier

2,800 In Sanford And 1,805 In County Are Qualified To Vote In June 2 Primary

Poll Books Were Closed Saturday

Rush Of Voters Kept Registrar Busy Up To Midnight Hour

Four thousand, six hundred and five residents of Seminole County registered before the books closed at midnight Saturday. County Registrar W. J. Thigpen reports. The number is greater than ever before. Registration in the City precincts (One and Three) is between 200 and 300 greater than for the election two years ago.

Though the books were open for several weeks, there was a rush of voters at the eleventh hour, and the registrar said he was kept busy up to midnight Saturday. Despite widespread advertising of the fact that all voters in the County must re-register this year and that they must do so before midnight on May 2, five residents of the City called at the registrar's office this morning with the request that their names be put on the poll books.

The latest registration is in the two City precincts. The books in these precincts contain the names of 2,805 voters, but as five died after they registered the net total in the City is 2,800. The number registered in the 13 country precincts is 1,805, though as one died the net in those precincts is 1,806.

Registration by precincts is as follows:

No. 1, Sanford	1,263
No. 2, Lake Monroe	238
No. 3, Sanford	1,542
No. 4, Paola	110
No. 5, Orlov	315

Candidates Must Be On Time Else They Won't Speak

First Rally Will Be Held This Evening In Longwood School

First of a series of political rallies under the auspices of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee will be held this evening, and Secretary Sherman Lloyd of the Committee will preside at the meeting. Candidates who are not there on time will not be allowed to speak.

This evening's meeting is to be held in the Lyman school near Longwood and, Mr. Lloyd said, will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock. "A" group of candidates will speak and they will be called on alphabetically. "If a candidate is not present when his name is called it will not be possible to allow him to speak later should he arrive at a later hour, because that would disarrange the entire program," Mr. Lloyd declared. "They must be on time at the evening meetings if they wish to avail themselves of the opportunity of addressing the voters."

The "A" group of candidates who will speak at this evening's rally are those announced for the County commission, for sheriff, for County judge and for superintendent of schools.

There will be another political rally in the Lyman school on Friday evening, May 13, and at that time candidates in "B" group will speak. Candidates for Congress and for the State Senate are invited by the Committee to address one of the two meetings to be held in each precinct before the primary on June 2.

Mr. Bentley is 64 years old, a lawyer of Lakeland and is a well known member of the American Legion, past district governor of Lakeland and at the present time is secretary of the Florida State Bar Association and editor of the Law Journal.

Annual Appeal For Salvation Army To Begin

Volunteers To Start Campaign Tuesday For $3,500 Fund For Year's Work

With $245 in advance subscriptions, 40 volunteers started out tomorrow morning to carry the annual appeal of the Salvation Army through the City and County in a campaign to raise $3,500 to finance the work of the religious and charitable organization in this vicinity for the coming year. According to H. J. Lehman, chairman of the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army, and C. E. Dawson, general chairman of the campaign committee, the $3,500 figure is "positively" the lowest amount needed to cover properly necessary expenses.

The campaign this year is to be directed wholly by volunteer workers and therefore prompt response is desired. It is explained they will not have time to call the second or third time, and therefore it is hoped persons called will not put them off. Large subscriptions are wanted, but small gifts will be appreciated. Chairman Dawson stated, those subscribing will be given buttons bearing the Salvation Army crest.

Five more volunteered today to help put the Salvation Army "over the top," bringing the total number of workers to 45. These five are Mrs. A. E. Marlowe, Mrs. Sheridan Stewart, Mrs. J. O. Andes, Mrs. W. W. Gostack and O. P. Horndon. All workers were to meet this afternoon in campaign headquarters in the Hill Hardware building.

McRory Says He Will Be Candidate For Committeeman

George W. McRory, former state representative, and for six years a member and secretary of the State Democratic Committee, today announced his candidacy for election as State Democratic Committeeman from Seminole County.

Mr. McRory is a native Floridian, and came to Sanford 15 years ago from Monticello. Since residing here, he has taken an active interest in state and national politics, and has been the recipient of many honors at the hands of the Democratic Party.

In making his announcement, Mr. McRory said, "Although the idea is my own, since it became known that I intended to make the race for State Committeeman, many of my friends all over Seminole County have come to me and tendered their support, which is warmly appreciated."

Young Inventors Are To Be Aided By Light Company

100 From Each State To Be Educated By Edison Foundation

One hundred young men who have outstanding inventive talent are to be selected from schools and industries each year for training as Edison scholars under the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation, it was announced today by H. H. Coleman, manager in Sanford for the Florida Power and Light Company, Seminole County young men will be eligible in the competition, he said, and all those with scientific aptitude are asked to communicate with Mr. Coleman for further particulars of the campaign which will be conducted by a committee of which Owen D. Young of Chicago is chairman.

The plan projected by the Foundation now carries out as a "living memorial" to the great inventor a project conceived by Mr. Edison just before his death, by which, in his own words, he hoped "to bring unusual youth and unusual opportunity together."

Annual competition for Edison Scholar grants are to be drawn from three general classes of applicants. These include young men and women now employed in industry who, though lacking scholastic qualifications for matriculation in scientific schools, nevertheless possess special aptitudes; graduates of colleges and universities who have shown brilliant scientific promise; and finally, those outside industry or the universities chosen on the basis of personal achievement or of unusual ability. Details of the annual competition are to be supervised by regional councils set up in twelve geographical areas, with final selection passed upon by a National Qualification Board. Outlining the plan, the Foundation statement says:

"In general, according to the announcement, it is the plan of the Foundation to reverse the usual order in scholarship, and instead of making the student fit the school, the scholarship will be made to fit the student, in the hope of achieving each one an equality of opportunity of the kind that will best equip the scholar for a certain specified career."

Blum Leading As Socialists Carry French Elections

PARIS, May 4.—(AP)—A Socialist government for France was in prospect today as the result of yesterday's parliamentary election. Leon Blum, leader of the Socialist party, announced he is ready to take over the power.

The Socialists will be the largest party in the new Chamber of Deputies, with 146 seats, and they claimed the right to head the "people's front" government with Blum considered likely as Premier. People's Front parties, Socialists, radical Socialists and communists swept the polls.

Communists and Socialists joyfully celebrated the red landslide. Nearly a half million members of the popular front were on the streets of Paris and the suburbs at midnight, singing and shouting. There were no disorders.

The grandeur shrouded for dissolution of the Fascist Croix De Feu organization and yelled: "Do Le Roque to the gallows." Col. Casimir De La Roque is head of the Croix De Feu.

Unofficial leaders of the victorious reds said their parliamentary representatives will push a program involving reform of the Bank of France and taking the profits out of war by nationalizing the munitions, industries, insurance companies, railroads, power companies and public utilities.

Edouard Herriot, veteran mayor of Lyons, former premier and president of the radical Socialist party, was re-elected in the runoff. It marked the first time since 1905 that Herriot failed to be elected in the first ballot.

Dr. Townsend Will Be Questioned In House Tomorrow

Committee Summons Founder Of Old Age Pension Plan

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—The Congressional inquiry into the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan will shift to Washington tomorrow when Dr. F. E. Townsend, founder of the movement, appears before a special House investigating committee.

Members of a sub-committee who have been holding hearings in California and Michigan will return to Washington with new testimony to be used as a basis for questioning the elderly retired California physician who proposed payment of $200 monthly pensions to all over 60.

Into the record will be inserted 1,197,539 affidavits from members of 3464 Townsend Clubs which Representative Tolson, California Democrat, said he had received in protest against the investigation.

Representatives Gavan, New York Democrat, and Collins, California Republican, conducted the Los Angeles hearing while Representative Hoffman, Michigan Republican, investigated Townsend activities in Michigan.

As the full committee prepared to resume open hearings, directors of the Townsend movement, meeting in Baltimore, said their national convention this summer in Kansas would be "the answer to the Townsend Clubs and the Townsend legion to the Congressional investigation."

Buildings Fired And Pillaged By Mobs As Americans Try To Hold Legation

American Among Slain Nationals

Urgent Appeal Made For British Help By U. S. Minister

(By the Associated Press)
Fire, pillage, rioting and wild disorders continued to hold Addis Ababa in their sway today while a small band of Americans bravely held the legation against bandit attacks and sent out a radio appeal for British aid.

With a second-hand machine gun and a mere handful of friends, Cornelius Van H. Eneert, United States minister to Ethiopia, held off the mob attempting to storm and pillage the legation. The fighting diplomat reported by radio "it would be a great pity to be obliged to abandon" the house from which the Stars and Stripes are flying. He asked the state department in Washington to make contact with the well-fortified British legation in Addis Ababa with a view to sending him a few Sikhs, native Indian soldiers on guard at the British compound.

Paul Bodard, French minister to Ethiopia, reported today that Ethiopian soldiers assigned to guard his legation had mutilated and turned their guns on the building. The minister said there still was no word of the Italian advance and that Fascist troops who are expected to relieve the mob-ridden city are not yet in sight. Bodard said the French legation had been under siege all night long. He said several foreigners in the Italian legation had been wounded by shots by the bandits.

After sending his radio appeal for aid from the British, Eneert wireless that the "situation is getting worse. Several direct shots were fired at legation buildings and the radio station since this morning and two native women in our servants' quarters have been seriously wounded."

In response to Eneert's appeal the state department telephoned Robert W. Bingham, ambassador in London, who went to the foreign office to convey the message. British officials assured him they would try to get a message through to Addis Ababa, but so far today nothing had been heard from the British radio station there.

It is estimated that at least 10 Europeans have been killed in Addis Ababa during the last 48 hours, among them one American, Mrs. A. R. Stabin of Loma Linda, Calif., who was struck by a stray bullet while asleep in the Seventh Day Adventist medical center.

Marshal Pietro Badoglio, commander-in-chief of the Italian armies in East Africa, advised his government that an advance guard for the motorized column of the Italian main body, were virtually at Addis Ababa. The motorized column itself, he said, has passed a point some 50 miles from the city.

Emperor Haile Selassie, whose flight from the capital led to the bloody riots, boarded a British cruiser at Djibouti and started for the safety of Palestine under protection of the United Nations.

It is estimated that some 3000 persons of 33 nationalities are sheltered in the British legation compound at Addis Ababa.
