Johnson Denies Hollywood Makes Obscene Movies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Assn., said today that major U. S. movie companies don't make, distribute or condone obscenity or pornography.

But Johnston, representing nine leading film makers, said that Hollywood's self-imposed production code never was intended to make all movies suitable for the entire family.

Johnston made the statement in testimony prepared for a House Post Office subcommittee headed by Rep. Kathryn E. Granahan (D-N.Y.). He was the first witness at hearings on Hollywood's self-imposed program and whether it needs toughening.

Mrs. Granahan said she and other subcommittee members had received complaints that some movie ads and motion pictures were too sexy. Subcommittee aides said the complaints generally involved foreign films and U. S. movies without the Johnson Office's seal of approval.

Johnston declared that movies and advertisements approved by the self-imposed Hollywood codes are not obscene or pornographic. "The members of our association do not deal in obscenity or pornography. They don't make it. They don't distribute it. They don't condone it," Johnston said.

Labor Department Opens Door To Public To View Reform Laws

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's "goldfish bowl" for American unions opens today. The Labor Department threw open the doors of a public document room so citizens can examine more than 50,000 reports filed under provisions of the new labor reform law.

No ceremony was planned. But the opening of the reading room on the first floor of the Labor Department building was a significant step forward in enforcement of the law.

The law was enacted partly to give rank-and-file members a method of finding out about the operations and finances of their unions. Testimony before the Senate Rackets Committee showed some union leaders kept members in ignorance while they looted union treasuries.

There are nearly 4,500 reports from international and local unions stacked on shelves in the department's file room. They will be made available to the public upon request, either in person or in writing.

The department will charge 25 cents per legal-sized page for duplicating the reports. No one knows yet how long it will take to fill an order.

The reports range in length from one page to the more than 20-page organizational report filed by Walter Ruther's United Auto Workers Union.

The International Typographical Union, United Mine Workers and Harry Bridges' West Coast Longshoremen's Union have all filed reports despite their vigorous objection to the new law's requirements.

Failure to file reports under the new law is punishable by criminal penalties — jail terms and fines.

Pastor Talks On Religious Freedom

"The freedom man sought in the 'new world' may well vanish within the next decade," warned C. W. Beach, pastor of the Sanford Seventh Day Adventist Church in services last Saturday.

Directing his sermon to the subject of religious liberty, the pastor said that "American freedom has more to fear from inertia within the country than from any foreign power."

The willingness of citizens to let someone else do their thinking for them and to rely on government for not only economic security, but also religious security, spells disaster for a free democracy.

In response to the minister's challenge for his congregation "to do something about it," Adventist members turned in a total of $60 to be sent as a donation from the Sanford Adventist Church to the work of the International Religious Liberty Association of Washington, D. C.

The Association keeps tabs on legislation that tends to indicate any encroachment on religious liberties and where necessary assists with legal action when such might help to defend these liberties.

Suit Is Filed On Grace Estate

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government Monday filed $2,500,000 in tax liens against the estate of C. M. (Sweet Daddy) Grace, Negro spiritual leader who died last month.

The Internal Revenue Service said the liens were filed in 13 states to protect an "assessment" of $2,500,000 in back taxes and interest for 1945 and 1946.

The 78-year-old self-styled "boy friend of the world," who founded Houses of Prayer in cities strung along the eastern seaboard, was understood to have left an estate valued at $25 million.

Central America is leading the world in population growth, adding more than 1,000,000 persons each year.

Felix Adler, King Of Clowns For 50 Years, Dies

NEW YORK (UPI) — The King of Clowns covered a vast area— as large as all the United States and then some—and he was dearly loved by his people, especially the children.

His royal raiment was a baggy spotted costume with a big bustle and long, floppy yellow feet. His face was chalk white with a bald dome and his crown was a tiny cone-shaped cap.

On his face was painted a huge red mouth in a perpetual grin with two large teeth. His nose was a bulbous red that lighted up.

His name was Felix Adler and he was King of the Clowns. Today the King is dead. He died Monday after two emergency operations at St. Clare's Hospital.

More more than 50 years Felix delighted his subjects with his antics. Millions of Americans laughed at his clumsy buffoonery from Madison Square Garden to Chicago, Peoria and wherever else the Ringling Bros., Barnum & Bailey Circus could set up its big tents.

Uncle Sam Saving Trading Stamps Too

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government at this point has no clear idea of how many trading stamps it has, or what it is going to do with them.

I assume that somewhere out there in the vast bureaucracy, someone has charge of taking the stamps as they come in and dropping them into a shoe box, as we do at our house.

Someday, that someone presumably will have to take them all out, tick them and stick them in stamp books. This is a job I do not envy.

The means that Uncle Sam was saving trading stamps, even as you and I. There emerged last year from the General Services Administration, the federal "house-keeping" agency.

Housewife, the agency advised all other government bureaus to hold on to any stamps they collected, pending further instructions. However, the instructions haven't been issued yet.

The government is still trying to work out with the trading stamp companies a plan for disposing of the stamps without exchanging them for merchandise.

Otherwise, it would have a secondary problem of how to dispose of the merchandise.

There also is a question of whether the value of the stamps is worth the paperwork they entail.

If the government doesn't mind my butting in, I think I can solve the problem. The thing to do is to keep the stamps until some foreign potentate, say the king of Saudi Arabia, comes here on a state visit.

The visitor is almost certain to have a surprise gift—a pearl-handled sword or a silver income burner for President Eisenhower. He will feel hurt if he has nothing for him.

Okay, all he has to do is keep his guest in a conversation while someone grabs up a batch of the stamps and runs down to the stamp store. I imagine any desert monarch would be delighted by a new electric blender, toaster or roaster, or even a charcoal grill for cookouts on the sand dunes.

Although the government is not keeping count of the number of stamps it collects, I learned that most of them are acquired with the purchase of gasoline for government vehicles.

Well, sir, the government owns more than 300,000 autos and trucks which are driven an average of 10,000 miles a year. The way I figure it, this represents a potential income of about 900,000 stamps a week—enough to fill 600 books.

At this rate, the government every year could exchange stamps for 5,200 electric razors, or 15,600 table cloths, or 7,800 floor lamps, or 6,240 play pens or 2,336 vacuum cleaners.

Or, better yet, it could save them up for 1,923 years and have enough to get every taxpayer a new bilfold.

Fabulous Fifties Shows TV Medium At Its Best

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI) — "The Fabulous Fifties" lasted two hours on CBS-TV Sunday night and left me wanting more.

That's how good it turned out to be. The instant decade, recreated for TV by Leland Hayward, offered a dozen stars doing bright things. Good taste and a flair for crispness and style were ingredients that never had the production as popular music, comedy sketches, pantomime, dance numbers, cartoons, photo montage and kinescopes of legendary TV shows were blended together in a fast-moving, often beautiful, and exciting panorama. Henry Fonda and Eric Sevareid served as the narrators.

There were no villains to bias. The message, courtesy of Tom Jefferson, was saved for a final wrap-up. The only barb in the show was contained in the routine by Miss Nichols and Elaine May, a water cooler summit meeting in which they sprinkled us with tantalizing comments on the TV quiz scandals. The fact that just about everything else was on a happy happy kick didn't bother me because, let's face it, folks, we weren't told to expect a definitive survey of the past decade by Prof. Arnold Toynbee.

The great emphasis in the show was in molding the many titillating facts, fancies and furies of the '50s into cohesive, entertaining chapters. As a result, our TV motion picture and Broadway achievements received most of the attention. Controversial figures in the world of politics and statesmanship were either given noncontroversial, cursory mention or overlooked completely.

While I wouldn't take the show seriously as proper history, I would not hesitate to take it seriously as an example of TV entertainment at its best. The numbers may have ranged from hilarious to boring, but they were never dull.

The entire production, of course, made an impression on me, but in sorting them out, I find myself recalling with the most pleasure Dick Van Dyke's pantomime number about dance jags. The number had a wistful bewhims and humor and I have the feeling that as the Swinging Sixties swirl on TV, Van Dyke will be an important part of the scene. Other highlights were the segment called "The Creature," which kidded TV commercialism, and "My Fair Lady," with Rex Harrison and Julie Andrews, and Shelley Berman's vignette of a frustrated father-son showdown.

Some emotional jobs were delivered by still photographs featuring show. We saw Judy Garland's career unfold — backwards to her infancy. We saw four pictures that told the Miss Todd story — climaxed by a photo of his widow in tears. The segment, by Charles and Ray Eames, typified the sure-handed, purposeful editing and skill with which the show was put together. My gratitude to Mr. Hayward, his coproducer, Marshall Jamison, director Norman Jewison, the writers, photographers, performers, set designers and, of course, the sponsor, General Electric. They made "The Fabulous Fifties" a memorable 120-minute of TV.

JOHN M. FITZPATRICK

Fitzpatrick Plans To Run For Board Post

John M. Fitzpatrick of Loch Arbor announced today that he would be a candidate in the forthcoming primaries for the office of county commissioner from District No. 5.

Fitzpatrick is a certified public accountant, has lived in Florida since 1950 and has been a resident here since 1959. He is 49 years old and is a graduate of Ohio State University with a Bachelor of Science degree in commerce and administration. He is married to the former Sarah A. Livingston and they have five boys, Mike, Pat, Tom, Jim and Dan.

Fitzpatrick is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, Florida Institute of C. P. A.'s and is a member of the Civitan Club, Chamber of Commerce, Elks Club and Delta Upsilon Fraternity. He and his family are members of All Souls Church. Following service of two years in the Air Force in the Pacific during World War II, he has been actively engaged in his profession and is a life-long Democrat.

Fitzpatrick said that this was his first venture in seeking public office, but he felt that his experience in his own profession could be greatly utilized "for the betterment of the community as a whole and for the improvement of the economy of the county." His wife said that it is his desire "to lend greater impetus and guidance to countywide policies in obtaining an expanded economy and a sound fiscal policy for Seminole County beyond the scope now contemplated by the present County Commission."

Fitzpatrick said he would announce a definite platform for achievement and progress in the community and would name his campaign staff immediately following the date of qualifying for the office in March.

Judge Cites Need For County New Courthouse

Circuit Judge Volie Williams said the county needs a new courthouse and yesterday urged county commissioners not to waste the taxpayers money with any makeshift operation.

Williams told the board that, according to statistics, the growth of the county will be so great by 1965 that there will be two resident circuit judges operating in the county.

Board Chairman John Krider told Williams that at the present time the county's financial structure would not permit both a new jail and court house.

He said that "we must start planning for a new courthouse in three years but on the basis of funds we now have, we can only remodel the present one."

Speaking on the need for a new courthouse, Judge Williams said there is a definite need now for two courtrooms, three judges chambers, an office for the court reporter and an adequate law library.

The board looked over preliminary sketches on a remodeling job which is expected to cost between $75,000 to $100,000.

Preliminary plans call for relocating the county commission room on the ground floor and utilizing the present chamber on the third floor as a library.

Other changes call for installing a small elevator and remodeling to furnish more space for the tax assessor and tax collector.

Ike Raps Generals On Space Viewpoint

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower today sharply rapped generals and others for limited viewpoints of missile and space development. He said he still thought the present U. S. program was eminently capable of deterring an enemy attack.

The President said the missile race with Russia might be a different matter three or four years from now if American progress in the missile came to a halt. But he told a news conference this would not happen and that in three or four years the relative U. S.-Russian position still would be about what it is today.

He said it was true that Russia was far ahead of this country in the development of a booster rocket engine for distant space and that the Soviets would be ahead for some time. He added, however, that the Saturn project showed the determination of the United States to progress. The country, he said, could look forward to a successful completion of the Saturn project.

Eisenhower said he would like to see the Constitution amended to provide four-year terms for House members as they would run at the same time presidential elections are held. He also favored amendment to give the President authority to veto specific items out of the appropriations bill. This, he said, would defeat pork barrelling.

League Hears Poland Report

The Longwood Civic League heard about a trip to Poland at its meeting yesterday.

Mrs. F. G. Westgate of Lake Mary showed films and spoke on her trip to that country. The 2 p. m. meeting was in the Longwood Civic League building. The Civic League will hold a bazaar Feb. 8 to get money to buy curtains on the building's stage.

Porter Lansing, longtime Sanford resident and garage owner, was critically injured last night in a head-on crash which killed two other men on Hwy. 17-94 near the Lake Monroe Bridge.

Lansing was listed in poor condition at Orange Memorial Hospital at Orlando this morning. He was reported to have a fractured upper leg and serious face cuts among his injuries.

Thaddeus J. Crosby of Jacksonville was dead on arrival at Semple Memorial Hospital and Leon L. Daugherty of Fort Lauderdale died in the Orlando Hospital five hours after the crash. Highway Patrolman Olin Garret reported.

A brother of one of the victims, Thomas Y. Crosby, also a passenger in the car driven by Daugherty, was admitted to the Semple hospital with compound leg fractures and face cuts.

Garret said he is continuing the investigation of the accident, which is the second fatal mishap in approximately the same location since Jan. 1. Two Naval Air Station men were killed in a crash in that area Jan. 27.

Floodwaters Roll Across Southland

By United Press International Floodwaters rolled across parts of Dixie today and the Weather Bureau said another round of thunderstorms could make matters worse.

Rivers from Alabama to the Carolina coast by a week of heavy rains, broke from their banks Tuesday and swept across thousands of acres of bottomland.

No towns were affected, but officials at Columbia, S. C., said the Congaree River there rose to the top of its banks.

In the lowlands below Columbia, the Congaree flood was described as the worst in years. In addition, the Cape Fear and Neuse rivers went out in Eastern North Carolina and the Wateree flooded near Camden, S. C.

Swamp flooding was reported on the Santee in South Carolina and the Tombigbee, Warrior and Chattahoochee rivers were on the rise in the Tennessee Valley, eastern Mississippi, north Alabama and Georgia.

Commission Okays Fair Exhibit Funds

Seminole County will be well represented at the Central Florida fair thanks to a helping hand from the County Commission.

The board yesterday agreed to give the county's agricultural exhibit $750 for an exhibit to be used at both the Orlando and Seminole County fairs scheduled later in the month.

The exhibit will feature the leading industries of the county. County Agent Cecil Fisher explained to the board.

At a recent Chamber of Commerce board of directors' meeting, Richard Deas, chairman of the agricultural committee, had other members give an account for the exhibit on how it would be represented at the fair and Florida Fair.

Deas, Chairman of Seminole County Agricultural Association, attended the meeting yesterday.

'Cats' Nip Seminoles, 75-72

The Sanford Seminoles made their greatest effort of the season in Winter Park last night only to see their hopes go down the drain in the final minute when the Wildcats ripped out a 75-72 victory.

It was the locals' second defeat of the season, both at the hands of the Wildcats.

Every Seminole that entered the game was determined to bring home a victory. Although Ed McKeever did a fine job of rebounding for the victors he did not outshine the work done by Oravets, Christensen, Gracey, and Doug Tamay. They kept the tempo alive all the way with their timely rebounding.

Gracey continued his great scoring again as he paced the locals with 10 field goals and a single free throw for 22 points. He made his personal assault on the Wildcats in the final quarter by dropping in four field goals but it was all in vain.

One of the Seminoles' brightest young stars enjoyed his finest night of the season. George Perdue came through with a big 18 points, of which eleven came in the first half. After he had hit several of his long two handers from the outside, the Wildcat defense loosened up and began to move out.

In the scoring department, Christensen and Ray Lundquist matched with 14 each but they didn't tell their story. Their defensive work and continual dogging of the Wildcats kept the Seminoles in there until the final horn. Ray also added eight points in the final period.

Covington Covers Sports

By JERRY COVINGTON

If there ever was a ball game more thrilling than the one last night I don't know where you would find it. The Seminoles came out set for battle and that is just what they did against the Wildcats.

Cosch Bud Laver's great ball club came out on the court with all the capabilities you could wish for in a high school ball club and then put these capabilities to work. Their rebounding efforts have been unmatched all season and their shooting was extra sharp. Their full court press and their great overall speed were at the best but there was only one difference—THE SCORE.

It was hard to realize just how we could come out on the short end of the stick when you watched these fellows in action. The only way you could really believe it was to read the scoreboard after the game. It was a great team effort all the way and there is only one explanation as to why we lost—they had three more points.

The local basketball squad has been providing us with the finest season in the history of the school and although the Wildcats have given them their only two blemishes on their 10-2 record they still have a shot at them. The OBC tournaments get underway Feb. 18 in Apopka and unless I am doing some wrong second guessing, it should be the Wildcats and the Seminoles in that final big game for the crown.

Athletic Director, Fred Ganas made an interesting comment following the great comeback victory over Apopka last week that I still go along with. He said, "I'm more convinced now that we can beat anyone we meet from here on out." We still have a rough road ahead but let me finish with this one comment—We have it this year.

Harry's Liquor Store took three games from fourth place New York Life Insurance Company to pull into a tie for second place in the Sanford City Bowling League last Wednesday evening at the Sanford Bowling Alley.

In so doing, they put the Insurors eight games out of third place with only eight weeks left in the season to almost guarantee their finishing in the lower half of the league. The run for the money in the league is now between Mather of Sanford, solidly entrenched in first place with a five game bulge, and Burnett Painters and Harry's Liquors, both in second place.

In the big match, Carl Von Herbulis of Sanford and Burnett Painters led the Liquormen with a 212 series, while Jim Maloney toiled for the losers with a 218 total. In other matches, Garry Fox rolled the season's high series with a big 210-207 total to lead Mather of Sanford to a two-to-one victory over Gene's Seminoles Cleaners and Laundry. Bob Steele did yeoman work for Celery City Printing, but the Printers could only take one game from the Burnett Painters.

"Split-shrinkers" for the opening found both Carl Von Herbulis and George Gans picking up the 6-7-10, while John Uhr got the 6-7-10 and Bob Borodoff the 5-7.

This week's "Match-of-the-Week" is a big one, featuring Mather of Sanford and Burnett Painters on the right hand pair of lanes. Three weeks ago these teams met in another important match, with Burnett Painters coming up with a big whitewash, job to cut down the Furmen's lead. It will be interesting to see if they can do the job again with more pressure on them due to the end of the season being closer.

Alleys three and four will see Harry's Liquors watching the game on their right very closely while they are trying to move into contention by taking Gene's Seminoles Cleaners and Laundry "to the cleaners". Alleys one and two find New York Life Insurance and Celery City Printing Company competing for the win.

Greyhounds Eye Track Mark Tonight

Wealthy and Andale will have their greyhound ears perked up tonight as they eye Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club's track record in the mid-week hot-hot 10th race on an 11-event schedule starting at 8:10.

Both hounds have covered the five-sixteenths-mile distance in record-challenging time, and both are predicted to get faster as they mature. Each is under two years old.

Wealthy, a lightweight miss with a tremendous future, has been nominated as the national pup of the year for her sports record last summer and this winter.

She's topped the fields in her last four encounters by virtue of power in the homestretch. Although only 33 pounds, the brindle miss has shown the ability to gain continuously throughout a race even when she starts slowly out of the box. Wealthy will have the sixth post position for tonight's headliner.

Andale will be romping from the third starting box. This 71-pound reddish tinted gen has marched to victory five times out of seven starts this year.

Artistry, in the one-box for the first race, is another win-hungry pup who will be scrambling for her third consecutive win.

Seasoned stars in the lineup will be Brookwood, O. E.'s Marriage, Discoverer and Wayne Roberts.

Action will be launched with an additional Grade-A race, including such stalwarts as Ruddy Rock and Linda Williams.

Loop Presidents Hold Friendly Meet

NEW YORK (UPI) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick said today his first procedural meeting with Continental League President Branch Rickey was "amicable" but refused to disclose any details.

Frick and Rickey met for 45 minutes Tuesday in the commissioner's private office. There were no aides or other officials present. It was their first meeting since the Continental League completed its eight-team roster last week with the addition of a franchise in Buffalo, N.Y.

Charles Segar, secretary treasurer of baseball, said only that the discussions concerned "procedural" matters and that "steps still to be taken" while a spokesman for the Continental League said the league and Rickey would have "no comment at all on this or any other meeting."

Bally Ache Favored In Stake Race

HIALEAH (UPI) — Bally Ache, the "hard luck" 2-year-old of 1959 because he lost five $100,000 races in photo finishes, was an early 2-1 favorite today in the $20,000, added Bahamas Stake.

The seven furlong race at Hialeah Race Course is being called a "Little Flamingo" because 11 of the field were in it tuning up for the $100,000-added Flamingo Stakes Feb. 27.

Bob Ucroy was scheduled to ride Bally Ache, the Edgwell Farms entry, top-weighted at 126 pounds.

Other 1959 stakes winners in the classy field were Venetian Way, Toby's Brother, Progressing, Greek Page, Catapult and Win-only.

Winonly is the only horse not eligible for the Flamingo. Columbus Farm is sending out Pied D'Or, a sharp allowance winner last week. Rounding out the field were Bourbon Prince, Grand Total, Moxien Chief and All Hands.

With 13 starters, the race would gross $24,000 with $16,000 going to the winner.

Pancho Still Pacing Tour

BOSTON (UPI) — Pancho Gonzalez, the hard-serving master of the pro circuit, was still on top today as Jack Kramer's touring professionals moved to Philadelphia.

Grumbling Heard At Olympic Site

BQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (UPI) — Grumbling echoed through the mountains surrounding the site of the 1960 Winter Olympics today.

The United States speed skaters complained because officials were not taking care of their rights—negotiating it for the figure skating rink.

The figure skaters complained because they had not had a chance to practice for a full week.

The male figure skaters complained because they were getting cold inoculations Thursday—and they believe it is too close to the games and may put them off their balance.

And Olympic officials complained as the International Ski Federation (ISF) indicated that it might ban—at this late date—India and Nationalist China from the games, which start Feb. 18.

The weather was upsetting the conditioning plans of the skaters. It rained and snowed during a near-blizzard on Monday; and on Tuesday it was hot and sunny.

The result was a mountain of slush on the valley floor. Included were stacks of it on the ice rinks.

Championship Bout Set Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Raymundo (Batling) Torres feels he was born under a lucky star and the good fortune should continue when he meets junior welterweight champion Carlos Ortiz here Thursday night for the championship.

"I'm confident I will beat Ortiz," the 18-year-old Torres said as he rested in his hotel suite.

Auburn Plays 'Spoilers' Defeating Tech In SEC

United Press International
You won't find Auburn or George Washington listed among college basketball's top-ranked teams but they're dangerous "spoilers" in their own backyards.

Auburn handed sixth-ranked Georgia Tech its first Southeastern Conference loss of the season, 68-43, Tuesday night while George Washington spoiled Virginia Tech's perfect record in the Southern Conference by gobbling up the Gobblers, 105-90.

Henry Hart played one of his greatest games for Auburn, scoring 24 points and dominating both backboards. It was the Tigers' 23rd consecutive victory on their home court and Tech's sixth straight loss to Auburn in three seasons.

Jon Feldman scored 32 points and Dick Matuszewski added 20 in leading the Colonials to their upset victory over Virginia Tech on their home court.

Bob Ayersman tallied 34 points for Virginia Tech, which now shares first place with West Virginia in the Southern Conference with 6-1 records.

Third-ranked Bradley opened a two-game West Coast tour by outlasting Seattle 83-80, and Santa Clara surprised ninth-ranked Seattle with 72.

Mike Owen and Dan Smith each dropped in a pair of free throws in the final minute to earn Bradley its 15th victory in 16 games. Smith wound up with 20 points while Dave Mills paced Seattle with 22.

Georgia dipped South Carolina, 66-43, on a basket by John Johnson in the final minute and North Carolina State rolled to an 87-33 triumph over Virginia behind Dan Englehardt's 24-point barrage.

Notre Dame converted 54 per cent of its shots from the field in turning back invading Canisius, 71-46. Syracuse, sparked by John Mossey's 30 points, edged Connecticut, 65-64; little Russ Cunningham's 18 points helped NYU to a 67-58 victory over Duquesne, and Texas Tech downed Arkansas 82-79, in other major games.

Braves Sign Slugger Mathews To '60 Contract

United Press International
General Manager Johnny McHale has landed his first "big one" and now he hopes the other Milwaukee Braves stars will start nibbling at his bait.

Third-baseman Eddie Mathews, the major league's home run king, became the first of the Milwaukee stars to agree to terms when he signed Tuesday for an estimated $500,000. That represented an increase of about $10,000 as a reward for his sparkling comeback from a dreary 1958 campaign.

The Braves lost in their bid for the National League pennant in their post-season playoff with the Los Angeles Dodgers but it was no fault of Mathews. He raised his average from .251 in 1958 to .297 and he beat out the Chicago Cubs' Ernie Banks for home run honors when he hit No. 46 in the second playoff game.

The Kansas City Athletics reported two key winter additions to the fold and the signing of outfielder Norm Siebern and pitcher Tom Trowbridge.

The third of the Detroit Tigers' big pitching four was corralled when Jim Bunning returned his bid to the Yankees. Bunning had a 17-13 record and 201 strikeouts in his first season with Detroit.

The Yankees revealed they have signed pitchers Bill Beigel, who had a 15-11 record at Omaha; Eli Grish, who had a 2-3 mark in a half season with New York, and George Haney, who had a 6-1 slate at Kearney, Neb., in an All-Rookie League, raising their staffed list to nine.

The Pittsburgh Pirates signed southpaw pitcher Don Gross, who had a 1-1 mark with them last season, and Fred Green, 2-3 with Columbus in the International League, giving them nine players signed and accounted for.

Third-baseman Brooks Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles agreed to terms for a sum estimated at slightly over $10,000.

Sherry Wins Series Award

NEW YORK (UPI) — Larry Sherry, who won two games and saved two others for the Los Angeles Dodgers in their World Series triumph of 1959, today was named winner of the "Babe Ruth Award" as the outstanding player of the series.

The award, voted to Sherry by the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America, will be presented to the Dodger hurler in the pre-game ceremonies on June 27 when the Dodgers and the New York Yankees meet in an exhibition game at Yankee Stadium.

Sherry pitched a total of 12 2/3 innings in the series, giving up only four hits and one run.

Women on the Go

By JEANNE WARNEK

THE ELKS' CHARITY BALL and "The World of Carl Sandburg" inspired many parties and gatherings Saturday night.

JEANNE AND HENRY TAMM entertained with a cocktail party at their home on Crystal Lake before taking their guests to the ball at the Mayfair Inn—and their party is especially noteworthy since it is not every day that fried caterpillars, fried grasshoppers, baby bees and octopus on skewers are served in Sanford! All were imports from Japan, but the hostess felt that the stuffed curried shrimp was the favorite hors d'oeuvre.

Sampling this exotic fare were Mr. and Mrs. Art Beckwith, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Karris, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Walker of Cocoa and former residents of Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Kicklighter and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ray.

HOUSEGUESTS WERE INTRODUCED at the party given by Ann and Guy Allen and her mother, Mrs. Stephen Ter Horst, at their home in Loch Arbor. . . they were Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Patterson of Bismarck, N. D., and Guy Toyer of Winter Park and Rugby, N. D. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cowan, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wolfe (they have been with the Allens before every Elk's ball for the past "ne years) and "cdr. and Mrs. L. J. Leary.

PEG AND WILLIAM HARDIN invited friends to their home for an informal party. Their guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Caruthers, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Bowersox, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rogel, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hope, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hoffman, Mrs. Madelyn Kuhn and Frank Holmes.

THE EXALTED RULER of the Elks, Dick Mapes, and his wife entertained with a pre-ball party. Out of town guests were the State past vice-president of the Elks, Al Coe and Mrs. Coe, of Orlando, and the Exalted Ruler of Daytona, Fred Ennis, and Mrs. Ennis—Other guests were . . . members in charge of the ball.

Later the Mapes headed the receiving line at the Mayfair Inn and with them were Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Foster, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Androsko. Florence Mapes received in an avocado green chiffon dress embroidered in gold and wore an orchid shoulder corsage—Dorothy Foster also chose an orchid to pin on her white brocaded silk and Agnes Androsko wore fuchsia silk organza with a camellia corsage.

PETE BUKUR and his orchestra provided music and the ball ended on a happy note with a large crowd attending the breakfast served at the Elk's Club.

A LARGE CROWD also attended the "World of Carl Sandburg" at the Civic Center which received loud applause although some people had mixed emotions about the show as it was definitely something new for Sanford. Many out of town people were here for the show—among those we know, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Corey of Orlando, who sat with her mother, Mrs. Julius Dingfelder—also among those from Orlando, Dr. and Mrs. Ben Abberger and Dr. and Mrs. S. D. Klotz.

Later, meeting in the Bamboo Room of the Mayfair Inn to discuss the success of the show were members of the Florida Heart Assn., Mr. and Mrs. Tom T. Phillips of St. Petersburg, Mr. and Mrs. John Wood of Winter Haven, Douglas DeWeser and his mother from Clearwater and Dr. and Mrs. Leonard Munson.

BARRY SULLIVAN made an "after the show" appearance and met some of the town people—He was most pleasant—handsome, of course, and talked about such things as our fine auditorium—and his concern over a daughter who has the flu in California.

How to prepare and package meat loaf, fruit gelatin, pound cake and other foods were demonstrated by Mrs. Sapp.

The business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. H. L. Johnson. New Year Books were given out and plans discussed for the coming Seminole and Orange County Fairs. Mrs. J. E. Andrews was appointed fair chairman. Mrs. C. E. Hunter, clothing chairman, told of the program the

Mrs. Pina Harrison, county music instructor, gave a demonstration on modern ballroom dancing. Members participated in the demonstration of steps including the foxtrot, jitterbug, bops, cha-cha and other dances.

Mrs. Reida McCall gave the history of folk games and dancing. She stated that they are dances dating back to primitive man, showing his emotions. She pointed out that in recent years a great revival of folk dancing has taken place and that societies are being formed in Europe and the United States to study this type of dancing.

Mrs. Pat Largent presented the part of the program concerning the ballet. She stated that the distinguishing feature of the ballet is "that it tells a complete story." She also told the story of the first ballet when King Henry II commissioned a ballet performance for guests at a wedding banquet.

Mrs. Peggy Lawrence gave the history of religious dances and quoted the phrase from the bible "a time to mourn and a time to dance." She also gave a brief history of the whirling antics of the Arabs and Persians, gesture dances of the Indians and prayer dances of the Orientals.

Mrs. Ann Howland presented the concluding part of the program by demonstrating ballet exercises, employed by dancers to develop a graceful figure.

Following a brief business session, refreshments were served to the members and guests present.

Senate Works To Speed Through Giant Federal School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate worked under a hurry-up timetable today on a federal school aid bill that would give states one billion dollars over the next two years to build classrooms.

Sen. Pat McNamara (D-Mich.), chief sponsor of the measure, said there was an "excellent chance" the senate would approve his bill.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) announced that the chamber would come to work early and remain in session late today and Thursday in an effort to complete action on the bill by early next week.

The lawmakers first must consider a series of proposed amendments. One would up the bill to two billion dollars. Another would authorize the government to guarantee half the debt service on long-term school construction bonds.

The McNamara bill would provide 500 million dollars to the states in each of the next two years. The states would have to put up matching funds based on state income and the number of children of school age.

Mr. Moke Faces Hearing Today

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Mr. Moke, a chimpanzee who once delighted children as a television star, faced a more solemn appearance today—an extradition hearing that could put him behind bars in a zoo again.

Mr. Moke, 30-pounds, 2-foot tall, was not facing legal action himself. The extradition proceedings were against his pal and trainer, Robert Tomarchin, who admitted kidnapping the chimp from the St. Louis Zoo.

Tomarchin, who reared Mr. Moke from infancy, sold him to the St. Louis Zoo for $1,500. Later saddened by the thought of Mr. Moke behind zoo bars, Tomarchin said he tried to buy him back. When the zoo refused to sell, Tomarchin broke into the monkey house at night and spirited the animal away. He hitchhiked back to Miami by a devious route to throw off pursuit.

Other congressional news:

Movies: Gordon S. White, director of Hollywood's self-imposed advertising code, said that with a few exceptions movie ads were within "reasonable bounds of decency and morality." He made the statement in testimony prepared for a House Post Office subcommittee investigating whether Hollywood's self-imposed p r o g r a m should be tougher. The subcommittee has received complaints that some films and movie ads are too sexy.

Commentary: Benjamin J. Davis, identified as Communist Party national secretary, was under subpoena to appear for questioning by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee and 30 minutes later by the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Davis jumped up from his seat in the audience at a hearing by the Senate group Tuesday and engaged in a shouting match with another witness, self-confessed ex-Communist Leonard Patterson.

MOST UNWANTED AUTO IN TOWN is this Jaycoes Membership Drive vehicle. Jack Erickson is the 17th Jaycoes to try and figure out who he can get to join the organization in order to get rid of the problem auto. Sixteen Jaycoes have passed on the car to their fellow members by getting young men to join the junior chamber. The drive, which started Jan. 25, will end Feb. 15. McKee Motor Co. contributed the car and is responsible for its artistic finish and erratic performance. (Herald Photo)

Minister Narrowly Escapes Death When He Finds Dynamite In Car

ATLANTA (UPI)—A 36-year-old Baptist minister, who was aggravated by a "lump" on his back, stopped his automobile Tuesday night and found two sticks of dynamite in the upholstery of his car seat.

The dynamite was wired to go off when the Rev. J. T. Robinson pressed his foot on the light switch to turn on his "bright" headlights.

Rev. Robinson was returning to his home in Milledgeville, Ga., from a Bible class in Atlanta when he decided to stop at an ice cream parlor to get a milk shake and take a look at the "lump" that was bothering him.

Robinson, who is pastor of the Milledgeville Baptist Church and the father of three, said his habit of not driving with his bright lights on in the city limits probably saved his life.

Robinson said he was afraid to touch the wire and quickly telephoned police, who held back curious spectators.

specialist, placed an auto seat in front of him and dismantled the dynamite charge. Police said the sticks contained 60 per cent nitroglycerine. The device was taken to the state crime laboratory for further examinations.

Robinson theorized that the person "who wired the explosives must have picked the wrong car." "I can't even imagine why anyone would want to make an attempt on my life," he told United Press International. "As far as I know, I don't have any enemies at all."

Asked whether he had taken any stand on integration recently Robinson said, "I stick to the Gospel. I have never preached any such message as that."

Kennedy Plans To Smoke Out Opponent In Contest

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy attempted today to smoke out Sen. Stuart Symington for a presidential primary contest but reserved a decision on whether to answer Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey's challenge in West Virginia.

Humphrey, already set to collide with Kennedy in the Wisconsin primary, snapped back at the Kennedy camp, meanwhile, by crying "foul" about a strategic coup pulled by Humphrey backers in that state.

Kennedy, who has urged all prospective candidates for the Democratic nomination to get into the state races, entered Maryland's May 17 primary Tuesday. He is unlikely to have serious competition in his bid for the 24 Maryland convention votes.

He leaves Thursday on a two-day trip to Indiana and is expected to enter that state's May 3 primary.

Kennedy announced that he would decide this week about the May 10 West Virginia primary, which Humphrey has entered, but he pointed out that it falls on the same date as the Nebraska contest, in which he already has filed.

Kennedy complained again Tuesday about action of the Wisconsin Democratic Committee in changing the national convention delegate election setup. The committee cut the number of delegate votes to be elected from the state at large from 10 to 5, leaving 25 to be chosen from the 10 congressional districts.

The Massachusetts senator said the change would permit a situation in which a candidate polled a majority of the Democratic primary vote without winning a majority of the delegates.

And as he did when he entered Nebraska, adjoining Symington's home state of Missouri, Kennedy invited Symington Tuesday to meet him in Maryland, which was Symington's boyhood home.

Symington has said repeatedly, however, that he has no plans for entering primaries. Humphrey made it clear today that he does not intend to enter the Maryland primary.

Politics In Background As Reds Visit U. S. Cities

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Twelve miniature models of the Philadelphia Liberty Bell, symbol of American freedom, are bound for a permanent home in the Soviet Union.

They will probably end up on the desks and coffee tables of some of Russia's highest officials—as a reminder of a day well spent with Americans in the City of Brotherly Love.

The little bells, all inscribed with the Soviet officials' names and the date of their visit, were presented to the Russian guests at a dinner in their honor given by the city Tuesday night.

The Russians saw most of the city in one day. They visit Charleston, W. Va. today. They have been exposed to a great deal during the five days since they arrived in the United States for a 26-day visit. It is, perhaps, not too early to look for their first reactions to this country.

Their faces and their comments show that they find America stimulating. In relaxed moments, the less inhibited of them come right out and say what they like as well as what they don't like.

What they like is the abundance of high quality consumer goods and services available everywhere here. What they disapproved of is the high price tags attached to these goods and services like housing, higher education and medicine in the United States.

The Russians have been saying to each other privately that America, wonderfully rich country that it is, would be even more wonderful if it were Communist. The longer the Soviet official stays here the more convinced he becomes that the Communist system would make a paradise out of what is already almost a capitalistic seventh heaven.

Educational TV Gets Trial Here

Educational television is being tried by Sanford Junior High School and Principal Hugh Carlton said that, if the programs warrant continued viewing, the school will buy a TV set and keep them in the school science class schedule.

Network science shows are being watched by eighth graders and can be the basis of weekly studies, Carlton said. This is the first use of educational TV in Sanford schools and it might be a useful addition to the teaching methods already in use.

The armed services have found audio-visual training aids highly successful, as have various colleges and industrial training groups.

Anybody who has heard a small child rattle off TV commercials from memory will agree that television makes an impression. A further report on the use of this medium at the junior high school will prove how well the proponents of educational TV have worked out their presentations so far.

The networks can make a major contribution to education if such programs can be utilized by using regular TV sets in the school room. And the cost, always a big item for our school people, would be just the cost of the set.

HUNTER'S MOON

ASSIGNMENT WASHINGTON

by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — The first time I heard about her was on a national television program. It was three years ago. She was an infant then.

Sen. Joe McCarthy sort of hurtled it out—he and his wife, Jean, had brought a little darling into their home. They would christen her Terney Elizabeth McCarthy. Terney for Joe's mother, and Elizabeth for the mother's name.

Since the senator's death in 1957, the little girl and her mother had dropped almost completely from the rays of public attention. Where are they now? I rang the bell of the unpretentious white frame duplex on a side street, just off a main thoroughfare in northeast Washington. A vase of red roses stood in the parlor under a portrait of the senator. The roses were a token on Mrs. McCarthy's 35th birthday.

The tall, lithic, attractive brunette took my coat and hat and called to the lively little form in the doorway of the kitchen: "Terney, come here and meet someone."

The tot, in a kewpie dress that flared out above her chubby knees, put down her doll—bigger than herself—and skipped in like a bouncy little melody. She hopped up onto the sofa, curled up in a corner, stuck three fingers in her mouth, and after awhile asked: "Mamma, is he a man?"

Mrs. McCarthy smiled tolerantly, like parents do when their kids come up with unexpected things like that. I sat down on a chair across the room, and instantly Terney was on my knee.

She talked a blue streak. More than a month before, Terney, her mother and Grandmother Kerr had made a trip to Wisconsin for the holidays.

"We went to Miss Cousin," she said. "And I saw Santa Claus there."

I asked: "What did he bring you?"

She took a deep breath and sighed: "He brought me the snow." Her mother stepped to the kitchen to fetch coffee. "Tell me a story," Terney said.

I took the Santa Claus cue and fished about how I ran into the old man at the Pole getting ready for the next season. "He asked me about you," I said. "I wanted to know if you were a good girl, and I said you were."

"Huh-uh," she corrected. "I always put my fingers in my mouth."

It's around Terney that Jean McCarthy's life revolves these days. It is in a setting where there is no display of ostentatiousness. After Joe died, Jean sold their house on Capitol Hill and moved in with her widowed mother, to the home where Jean was born, the house built by her Dad, a Scottish carpenter.

Now, Jean McCarthy was beckoning her youngster to hustle off for an afternoon nap.

When all was quiet upstairs, Mrs. McCarthy recalled how the family stopped in the snowy cold before a Nativity scene in front of a church in Wisconsin.

Terney studied the life-like model of the Christ Child wrapped casually in a light blanket. She started to peel off her coat. Mrs. McCarthy admonished her. "But Mama" the child cried, "the baby will catch cold."

That's the little girl Joe McCarthy left behind.

WASHINGTON SEE-SAW

by Win Pendleton

Word has just been received in the office of Congressman Billy Matthews from the General Services Administration that Uncle Sam will build a new $3 million federal building in Gainesville. This building will replace the present structure which was put into service in 1911. Government red tape and processes being what they are, construction on the new building probably will not begin for another year or 18 months. It will house the Gainesville Post Office as well as the office of the federal judge and other federal agencies such as agriculture, health education and welfare, the veterans' office, defense agencies and the office of Internal Revenue. Even though Gainesville is the only city in the 8th District large enough to have a federal building, plans have been announced to build post office buildings in Palatka, Williston, Chiefland and Yankeetown. Since coming to Congress, Matthews has seen the construction of new post offices in Glen St. Mary, Earleton and Welaka.

When word began to get around that the Air Force was going to cut back their weather activities in the Caribbean, Congressman Paul Rogers dug into the story. Here is what he found: The Air Force will continue to operate the six weather planes out of Bermuda as they have prior to October, 1958. They will discontinue three other planes that were put on for a special one-year experiment. This experiment is over and the planes are not needed now. One reason the story spread so fast seems to be because the Air Force made a change in the designation of the unit from a "squadron" to a "detachment." It doesn't sound as important that way, but the number of personnel and planes will remain the same—and they will continue their principal task of hurricane hunting just as before.

Last Monday saw a major shift in office personnel within the Florida congressional delegation. James W. (Bill) Norman Jr. has moved from the office of Congressman Charlie Bennett to the spot in North Africa. The U. S. Secret Service will, as usual, accompany President Eisenhower on his Latin American trip. Not the least of his worries will come when he hits Chile. This nation is plagued by one of the most active Communist groups in South America. The Communists and other leftists have seized every occasion to blame Chile's economic plight on the United States. This, in part, will be an impression Eisenhower will try to correct.

When Fance gave Tunisia its independence four years ago, it kept the huge strategic naval base of Bizerte. Now the Tunisians want that too and are starting to turn the psychological screws. Starting next Monday Tunisians probably will begin a series of protest strikes, demonstrations and diplomatic pressures gauged at further making life miserable for France in North Africa.

Russia may have tripped into one of its greatest diplomatic blunders in its postwar relations with Japan. It has threatened to keep two Japanese islands, which it got in World War II, unless Japan tears up its new security treaty with the United States. Such is the national indignation in Japan at this interference that it has served to counter the highly vocal opposition to the treaty among Japanese leftists. The backfire may bring the Russians up sharply in their dealings with other Asians.

The search for oil in the Sahara and other regions of the world appears to have an exciting future as it has a past. Present prospects are that west Europe, in 15 years, will double its demand for energy and U. S. needs will increase by 60 per cent. This is to say nothing of the needs which will grow in Africa and Asia. Atomic energy may take up some of the slack but it still will be a baby by 1975.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Active church folks like Ruse seem healthier than non-church people, for teaming up with God lowers blood pressure and slows down the heart rate. Very few deaths from strokes or heart attacks or perforated peptic ulcers or ruptured appendices ever occur among the 50,000,000 people during Sunday morning services. Do you know why?

CASE D-457: Russ W., aged 64, is a dynamic clergyman.

"But Dr. Crane, I guess my heart is wearing out," he began.

"In fact, I had a light heart attack six years ago and my doctor warned me to take it easy.

"That's hard to do when you are a preacher, for I get so enthusiastic in the pulpit that I forget all about the doctor's advice."

"But what scares me a little is the fear that I might suffer another attack when I am alone in the house."

"I might even be unable to reach the telephone. Nobody would know I was stricken for possibly several hours."

"Is there anything a heart patient can do to help himself in such an emergency?"

Yes, and it would be smart for everybody to memorize these simple rules from modern medicine.

But first of all, you should realize that the heart does not obtain its oxygen from the blood that fills its chambers.

No, that blood must be squirted out and then go back to the heart muscles via the two coronary arteries that spread over the outside surface of the heart like two branching trees.

In a typical heart attack a tiny plug occurs in one of these branches.

The nearer the end of the branch this occurs, the less danger of death. The larger the area of heart muscle shut off from blood via this plug, the more the heart is hampered in keeping up your circulation.

The sharp pain in heart attack is due to oxygen hunger of the heart muscle that has suddenly been shut off by the plugging of a branch of the coronary arteries. If your heart thus is crying for oxygen, and you are still conscious, then indulge in rapid, forced deep breathing.

Despite the intense pain you may suffer at the moment, grit your teeth and keep up this rapid deep breathing.

For this strategy utilizes the oxygen in the air and thus piles up a surplus of it in your blood stream to help your handicapped heart.

When we doctors arrive on the scene we do much the same thing for you, except we enrich the oxygen content of the air by use of an oxygen tent.

But your patients can increase your own oxygen intake right where you lie, just by remembering to breathe deeply!

Also, relax, for if you are conscientious, the odds are already in your favor. A bad attack usually knocks you out at once.

And by all means, don't try to stand up or climb stairs or even undress, for such exertion puts a greater load on your hampered heart.

Just lie down or slump in a chair. Open your shirt collar. And relax in the thought "I am conscientious, so the attack is not as likely to be fatal."

Then keep breathing deeply to aid your heart with that extra oxygen you thus pour into the blood stream.

Remember, a little extra oxygen during those first five minutes after an attack, are much like a bucket full of water when a fire first starts!

And don't ever eat if you are subject to heart attacks. Avoid obesity, too and by all means leave tobacco alone.

Meanwhile, team up with God Almighty, for this gives you the utmost relaxation.

Fright raises the blood pressure and speeds up your heart, but a heart victim needs lower blood pressure and a slower pulse rate. So teaming up with God is still the best medicine for heart patients.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Gentlemen may prefer blondes but meteorological engineers have found that brunettes are finer, too. For years only blonde hair was used in delicate weather instruments that measure and control humidity. Because pure blonde hair is in short supply, engineers in the instrument division of the Bendix Aviation Corporation were forced to search for other supply sources. They discovered that jet black Korean hair works in their weather instruments, leaving the blonde for the more precise devices.

Smithsonian Real Sensitive About Appearance

By DECK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Smithsonian Institution, that proud old relic hoarder, is getting sensitive about being described as "the nation's attic."

"Please don't call us that," said Frank A. Taylor, director of the Smithsonian's Museum of History and Technology, and I promised I wouldn't. But offhand I can't think of a better description.

I dropped in on Taylor to find out about the new museum the Smithsonian is building to house part of its vast collection of memorabilia from America's past. I found out I had been housing a misapprehension.

Someone had told me that the Smithsonian was required by law to accept everything that was tendered to it and was forbidden to throw anything away.

I understood it had several warehouses crammed with unsorted, useless and unwanted objects that had been handed over to it for preservation. Not so, said Taylor.

He said this impression must have stemmed from various magazine articles that have pictured the Smithsonian as squirreling away such attic treasures as old bird cages, broken baseball bats and portraits of maiden aunts.

"Actually, we're pretty selective in what we take," he said. The Smithsonian does, in fact, have several million articles in storage. But Taylor explained that this reflected a shortage of display space rather than any desire to keep them hidden.

He said the public tends to think of the Smithsonian in terms of those two medieval-looking buildings that stand on the mall between the Capitol and the Washington Monument. This is a misconception.

The institution institutes on a far-flung scale, operating three museums, two art galleries, a fine arts collection, a bureau of ethnology, an astrophysical observatory, a biological center, an international exchange service and a zoo.

I presume all of them have space troubles. However, the problem in Taylor's history and technology ballwick will be largely solved when the new 36-million-dollar museum is completed in 1962.

It will be situated near the two castle-like eyesores on the mall. But it won't look anything like them. It will be a marble structure of contemporary design. There will be three exhibition floors especially laid out for such things as a steam locomotive, the desk on which Jefferson drafted the Declaration of Independence, Washington's sword and Jane Appletton Pierce's inaugural gown.

I think Taylor is right in rejecting the traditional description of the Smithsonian. Whoever heard of an attic with a locomotive?

An Honest Man Settles A Debt

FORT MADISON, Iowa (UPI) — A 76-year-old retired railroad man recently settled a 37-year-old repair bill of 14 cents by sending a $2 money order to cover the money he owed plus compound interest and a $1 bill "to cover unnecessary expense."

"I had no intention of defrauding your company," wrote R. M. Francis of Big Rapids, Mich. to the W. A. Sheaffer Pen Co., enclosing a repair invoice dated July 24, 1923, "but did that which was about as bad — I failed to settle an old bill."

The firm returned the $2 to Francis and sent him a new pen to replace the one repaired more than 37 years ago.

'Slander' Keeps Good Men From Running, Krider Says

Most leading citizens are afraid to run for public office because of "slander campaigns" they have to face, County Commissioner Chairman John Krider told the Kiwanis Club yesterday.

"Many citizens are reluctant to seek office because they know they face character assassination by those who oppose them," Krider said in a talk at the Kiwanis luncheon.

The commission chairman, who also has served on the City Commission, said "people have accused me of graft and corruption of all kinds while I've been in office. I'd be glad to have a grand jury check the records, but the witnesses just sit on the sidelines."

Krider, commissioner for District 1, said "Right now, I don't even know whether I'll make any plans to run again myself."

The county commissioner also gave a brief rundown of county problems due to a projected increased growth by 1975 of 150,000 persons and summarized the progress the county commission has made on a new county jail, remodeling the courthouse and road work.

$2,500 In Cash Stolen From Roumillat Store

About $2,500 was stolen from Roumillat and Anderson's Drug Store Monday, Sanford police revealed today.

Police said F. E. Roumillat Sr. laid the money behind the prescription counter and left it there in three bank bags and one paper sack for 20 minutes. It was gone when he returned. Roumillat said today that he was outside the prescription room only about 20 feet away from the money when it was taken.

The theft happened about 7 a. m. Roumillat intended to deposit the money in the bank.

Police said they are holding a former Roumillat and Anderson employe on suspicion of having taken the money. The employe was in the store at the time of the robbery, they said.

Roumillat said his insurance only covers breaking and entering the store, not thefts of this kind. The drug store never has been burglarized before.

Chief Roy Williams said that another local businessman reported $1,500 lost a few months ago. The money had been misplaced, however, and police found it.

Heroic Measures Needed, Taylor Tells Probers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, former Army chief of staff, told Senate investigators today that "heroic" measures are needed now — "men, money and sacrifice" — to reverse what he called a declining trend in U. S. military strength.

"The alternative is military inferiority," the retired general said, "and there is no living long with communism as an inferior."

Taylor testified before the Senate's combined space committee and armed services preparedness subcommittee. He was the first witness as the group turned its attention to Army needs.

His testimony echoes views Taylor had previously expressed in a book published since his retirement last June. He again urged a "complete reappraisal" of military policy.

Major reliance on weapons of massive destruction has, he said, "lost all justification." He called the manned bomber force "a dwindling military asset."

Taylor told the Senators: "Our long range missile force is limited in size, uncertain in reliability and immobile upon exposed bases. We have no anti-missile missile defense in being or in sight. There is no effective fall-out protection for our civil population."

Porter Lansing Still Critical

Porter Lansing, longtime Sanford resident who was injured in an auto accident, Tuesday night, which killed two men, is still in critical condition at Orange Memorial Hospital late this morning.

The two men killed in the mishap, which occurred on Hwy. 17-92 near the Lake Monroe Bridge, were Thomas J. Crosby of Jacksonville and Leon J. Daugherty of Fernandina Beach.

A brother of one of the victims, Thomas Y. Crosby, who was involved in the accident is reported in fair condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Utility Company Awards Employes For Long Service

Service pins in recognition of a total of 313 years of the job were presented to 20 Florida Power & Light Co. employes last night at a dinner at Lake Monroe Inn.

Henry Moore, supervisor of distribution and transmission, and L. J. Reeves, power plant supervisor were recognized for 34 years service each with the company.

Marian W. Williams and C. L. Moore, assistant to the vice president, got awards for 30 years service in the ceremony presided over by Manager W. Scott Burns, who got a 25-year pin himself.

Other awards given included W. O. Livingston, customer service supervisor, 28 years; J. B. Grant, commercial service supervisor, 25 years; Margaret M. Wright, 24 years; J. B. Phillips, 20 years; Lucille Carver, 18 years; D. E. Thrasher, 11; B. S. Austin, 10; H. A. Canell, eight; J. W. Buckler, 6; Lucy Nowlin, three; W. M. Osborne, three; J. E. ## Stockholders Meet ORLANDO, Fla. — Minute Maid Corporation announced today that the annual meeting of stockholders will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday, Mar. 24, in the offices of the Bankers Trust Company, in New York City.

The report followed reports from Syria that strong tanked forces were being rushed to the main border trouble spot.

Fresh troops and battle equipment were being moved toward the embattled demilitarized zone village of Tawfik on the Israeli-Syria border despite an urgent United Nations plea that both sides withdraw all military forces from the area.

Neither side had so far responded to the U. N. request, and at the United Nations in New York, Israel and the United Arab Republic traded charges of aggression Wednesday night in letters to the U. N. Security Council.

New Church Set For Casselberry

A United Presbyterian Church is planned for Casselberry.

An organizational meeting will be held in a week, Town Mayor W. M. Benson said today. A fund drive for the church will also start then. The property on the corner of Winter Park Drive and Crystal Bowl has been acquired for the church, Benson said. All Presbyterians in Casselberry are invited to attend the organizational meeting.

Tuesday, James A. Cotton of Altamonte Springs was also found guilty of driving while intoxicated and reckless driving. County Judge Wilson Alexander decided to withhold Cotton's sentence until Friday.

Harry L. Zim of Maitland was found guilty of DWI and was fined $75.

Flu Warning

School Administrative Assistant Walter Teague today advised all parents to keep their children at home if they have signs of the flu rather than sending them to school.

A check of schools in the area this morning revealed that while the flu has hit most student bodies, absenteeism has not reached "alarming proportions."

Mrs. May Fort, attendance officer for Seminole High School said "a good many children were out yesterday, but many have returned today."

Mrs. Fort denied any report that the school may be forced to close down because of the excessive absenteeism due to the flu bug.

Sanford Junior High School and elementary schools in the city also report absenteeism up, but nothing alarming.

Israel Border Dispute Spreads To Other Areas

The Israeli radio reported today an Israeli soldier was wounded at midday in a new exchange of fire along the tense Israeli-Syria border.

Syrian soldiers were said to have opened fire on an Israeli patrol near the village of Shaar Yishu in the Hula Valley in upper Galilee.

District 5 Forms Voting League

Residents have formed a District 5 Voters League "to get candidates and get out to vote" in that district.

Don Fletcher is chairman of the league, which has scheduled its first meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the courthouse. Letters are being sent out to all registered voters in District 5 urging them to join the league and attend its meetings.

Speakers at the Tuesday meeting will include John Fitzpatrick, Loch Arbor resident, who announced Wednesday that he will qualify as a candidate for the District 5 commission post.

Two Men Fined On Driving Counts

Two men were fined $250 on driving while intoxicated and reckless driving charges in county court Wednesday.

John Minarik of Sanford was fined $150 on two charges of driving while intoxicated. Minarik pleaded guilty. Lester Coleman of Gainesville pleaded guilty to reckless driving and was fined $100.

Tuesday, James A. Cotton of Altamonte Springs was also found guilty of driving while intoxicated and reckless driving. County Judge Wilson Alexander decided to withhold Cotton's sentence until Friday.

Harry L. Zim of Maitland was found guilty of DWI and was fined $75.

VOL. XLIX United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1960 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 628

Educator Stresses Teacher's Job

How teachers can improve their offering to pupils was explained by Dr. Sara Lou Hammond here Tuesday.

Dr. Hammond is president of the Association for Childhood Education and an authority on state and national education.

Teachers should find out the situation in a child's home and referrals at their command and should know what they are doing and why, the doctor urged.

Teachers should provide activities that will develop skills in which children are lacking. They should be able to look at criticism and use it to their advantage in improving teaching, Dr. Hammond said.

Sometimes a child will get bad grades but the teacher should make the parents understand that this is only one case and should not give a false picture of the whole school system. Teachers should know what cultural and recreation centers are available for youngsters, Dr. Hammond said.

Casselberry Course To Double Its Size

The Casselberry golf course will double in size before the summer is out, Mayor W. M. Benson said today.

The nine hole course will be enlarged to 18 holes. Town developer Hibbard Casselberry owns the present course property and the adjacent land to be used for expansion. The course is self-maintaining.

Commie Countries Sign 'Policy' Declaration

MOSCOW (UPI) — Eastern European Communist countries today signed a declaration of their policy on East-West issues.

A Soviet journalist said the text of the declaration would be released later by the Tass news agency.

Soviet and foreign journalists were called to the elaborate St. Catherine throne room in one of the Kremlin palaces to witness what was called a "signing ceremony."

But what exactly was signed was not revealed to the approximately 70 newsmen present.

The signing came at the end of a one-day meeting of the eight members of the Warsaw Pact.

The premiers and first secretaries of the Communist parties of Albania, Bulgaria, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, and East Germany, and Nikita Khrushchev for the Soviet Union, each signed four times — either copies of one many-paged document or four different documents.

Approximately 75 leaders of the various Communist countries were on hand for the 30-minute ceremony, as well as observers from Red China, Viet Nam, Mongolia and North Korea. The observers did not sign.

The countries signed the document in alphabetical order with Khrushchev, smiling broadly and obviously in good humor, signing next to last.

The ceremony was staged to obtain the greatest effect. Photographers also were present in good numbers.

Frederick called the attorney general's office that the people of Seminole County want the election.

The District 2 post, representing Sanford, has been vacant since November when David Gatch resigned.

The attorney general's office told Frederick that under the Florida constitution, the governor is required to call a special election to fill any vacancy created by a resignation.

DeGaulle Fired Deputy Premier, Sources Claim

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles DeGaulle today fired Deputy Premier Jacques Soustelle, former rightist strong man in Algeria, informed sources reported.

Sources close to Soustelle reported his ouster, but there was no official confirmation from DeGaulle's office.

The sources said Soustelle was fired by DeGaulle at the end of an abrupt three-minute interview.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department sent to Congress today a bill authorizing construction for military construction totaling $1,604,181,000 to be started during the year beginning July 1.

The total was more than $500 million below the $2,100,000,000 authorization passed in a similar measure last year.
