Supreme Court

Continued from Page One. The unpaid guaranteed installments were to go to the next person in line as beneficiary. The $250 figure was calculated on the basis of the American experience table on mortality (expectation of life table), plus 3 percent interest.

Mrs. Zazove contended the full $5,000 face value, plus 3 percent interest, should be paid in 120 guaranteed monthly installments of $48.08 each. She said she also was entitled to such $48.08 monthly payments as long as she lived beyond the 120 months.

War Damage Claims

Continued from Page One. The commission authorized the payment of $201,000 in the form of initial advances on six public property claims approved in the amount of $2,810,500. These advance payments were for the restoration and reconstruction of national war monuments near Manila and Cebu and reconstruction of various units of the Philippine General Hospital and the Philippine Normal School.

Atheist's Fight

Continued from Page One. The school board defended the system, saying that if the court should hold that no religious instruction in public school buildings the nation would be committed to a policy of hostility to religion. Counsel for Mrs. McCollum replied that the court upholds the Chamberlain system. It will make public schools the organ of religious education and will restore the religious situation of the colonies before the American revolution.

Geneva Church

Continued from Page One. The church building was then located near the cemetery but later was moved near the present school building and in 1926 was sold to the colored people.

Records of the church were kept regularly from 1926 to 1939. The Rev. J. N. DeVette was the first pastor of the new church, serving from July, 1927 until December, 1928.

During these years it was becoming more and more burdensome for the small membership to carry the finances of the church, so it was decided in conference on Sept. 1, 1928, to have services only two Sundays in each month, the first and third Sundays, a thing still observed.

Senate Turns To Ratification Of Inter-American Treaty Pact

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8 (AP)—The Senate, marking time while the House considers the plight of Western Europe, turned today to ratification of the Inter-American Defense Treaty.

The document, a product of last summer's conference at Rio de Janeiro, calls for all treaty nations to act jointly against any aggression in the western hemisphere.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the Foreign Relations Committee predicted there would be "no controversy" during the debate scheduled to begin at noon.

The committee recommended 13 to 0 that the Senate ratify the treaty. Such action requires a two-thirds majority. No House vote is required.

The treaty was signed by all the American nations except Ecuador and Nicaragua, both of whose governments were in a process of change at the time it was drawn.

However, only Mexico and the Dominican Republic of the 19 signatory nations have ratified it to date. The treaty will not become effective until it has been ratified by two-thirds of the nations.

This was cited by the Foreign Relations Committee as one of the arguments for speedy action. The committee said that while other countries are considering ratification "it is apparent that many are waiting to see what the United States will do."

The pact, known as the Inter-American Treaty of Reciprocity Assistance, carries out the so-called act of Chapultepec drafted at Mexico City in March, 1945.

In general, it provides that: 1. All the contracting nations shall take positive action to assist in meeting an armed attack against any American nation.

2. The nations shall consult immediately and plan action not only in the event of an armed attack but in case of any aggressive action against an American nation.

3. Political, economic and military measures may be taken against an aggressor, but "no state shall be required to use armed force without its consent."

4. Disputes between American nations shall be resolved if possible through "procedures in force in the Inter-American system" before they are referred to the United Nations.

5. The contracting nations "formally condemn war and undertake in their international relations not to resort to the threat or the use of force in any manner inconsistent" with the UN charter or of the treaty.

The treaty was signed at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Sept. 2. The United States delegation included Vandenberg and Senator Connally (D-Tex.), who was due to open debate on the document.

Senate Studies

The document was brought before the Senate as it awaited House action on emergency aid for Europe. House passage of the aid bill is expected late today or tomorrow. A big problem before the representatives is the amount. The Senate put the figure at the $597,000,000 asked by the Administration as it passed the relief measure.

A Republican program to battle inflation, based on voluntary agreements and without price and rationing controls asked by the President, will be submitted in a day or two, Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.) told reporters. He said it would call for agreements among industries to deal with economic problems. The program also is expected to include reduction and rent control.

Senator Morse (R-Ore.) chairman of a Senate Armed Services Subcommittee, declared that full inquiry will be made into claims made against this country by foreign nations for properties seized in Europe in wartime. He said his group wants to see that foreign governments do not take advantage of the American people.

House passage of the emergency foreign aid bill by the overwhelming margin was conceded by a top Republican opponent of the legislation.

Meanwhile, Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the Federal Reserve System presented to the House Banking Committee his proposals for inflation controls which he already has given senators. He suggested:

1. Increased productivity of labor and longer hours of work. 2. Suspension of future demands for wage increases, especially those of organized labor.

3. Continuation and expansion of the Treasury's saving bond campaign. 4. Legislation giving the Federal Reserve System authority to require banks to hold a special reserve, which would be in addition to existing regular reserves and might be held in Treasury bills, certificates, or notes, as well as in cash assets.

"In the absence of a comprehensive scheme of controls," he said, "we must continue to put our main reliance on fiscal policy."

James G. Lee Named VA Conference Head

James G. Lee of Sanford, who is now majoring in business administration at Stetson University, has been named national administrative director of the National Conference of Veterans Trainers. It was announced recently by Fred Owen, Jr., Stetson University from Augusta, Me., and acting national chairman of the organization.

The organization has been formed by students veterans to obtain from Congress increase in subsistence allowance in order to combat the rising cost of living. Mr. Lee is a veteran of three years of army duty in the China-Burma-India theater as a private with the security forces. He will coordinate the affairs of the national organization until the conference in Washington D. C. is held on Dec. 1920 to obtain a hike in subsistence allowance for veteran trainees.

Puzzles Of Human Hair Are Studied At Medical School

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Reporter
ST. LOUIS—Some puzzles about human hair are being tackled in a new way by Dr. Mildred Trotter at Washington University Medical School.

Dr. Trotter, professor of gross anatomy, wants to learn just what changes occur in a person's hair from birth to maturity. Her subjects are 16 boys and girls, ranging in age from a few hours to 17 years old. She has taken samples of their hair every month, and is examining them under the microscope.

She doesn't expect to find any answers to such problems as why some people get bald.

This is a project to learn some fundamental facts about hair. The work might lead, however, to some way of examining hair and telling whether it belongs to a boy or girl, and about how old the child was in a kind of a "fingerprint" system for hair analysis.

This is the first time, Dr. Trotter said, that hair of the same persons will be studied over a long period of time. Previously, analysis of hairs from different individuals of different ages has shown gradual changes in the structure of hair occurring with age. The new study may permit exact tracing of these changes, what they may mean, and why hair grows darker with age.

Hair fluoresces under ultraviolet or sun-tan light, Dr. Trotter is interested in whether the degree of fluorescence changes, and what this might indicate. Hair research so far has demonstrated that hair grows coarser with age, that the individual hairs get thicker in diameter. It also indicates that there are only slight differences if any, between the hair of males and females.

Cutting hair does not make it coarser. Cutting or exposure to sun does not appear to have any effect upon the rate or amount of growth of hair, Dr. Trotter said.

New Biblical Project

The lay Bible student will be interested in a new project announced by the Dropsie College for Hebrew and Cognate Learning of Philadelphia. This calls for a translation, in 30 volumes, of ancient non-Biblical writings on Scriptural subjects. These include such early works as "The Book of Adam and Eve," "The Accension of Isaiah," "The Assumption of Moses," "The Book of Enoch" and many more.

These books were written in Ethiopic, Arabic and other languages of the Near East. While some go back as far as the sixth century, they are none of them authentic, and all were rejected long ago by church councils. In some cases they may preserve kernels of early tradition, but most of the many new facts which they contain about Biblical personages are the invention of the authors.

These books, known as Apocryphal Books and Pseudepigrapha or falsely ascribed books, treat both Old and New Testament themes. The Dropsie enterprise seems to call for publishing only those about Old Testament characters. As these have been long out of print and almost unprocurable, many who are not professional theologians will await the first volumes with deep interest.

Farm Youth

Back at Purdue University in Indiana after winning the national 4-H club achievement award, Donald Stoten of Carthage, Ind., is going to keep right on studying agriculture. He figures he can make at least $5,000 a year tilling the soil. Though only a first year student at the university, he knows what he's talking about. He is 20 years old, but he has been working on the family farm near Carthage, Ind., for 11 years.

The award was a partial scholarship to Purdue. Winner of the 4-H club girls' prize was Lavona Thornlycke of Lambert, Okla., a freshman also, but at Oklahoma A and M College.

The 4-H clubs of America held their annual congress and prize-giving in Chicago. It was an important national event. These clubs are boosting agriculture, trying to keep the beat of the young farm boys and girls on the farms. To do so the club leadership aims to make farming appear attractive and profitable.

A New Land

The first woman to set foot on Antarctica will leave her name on the map if Commander Finn Ronne, Edith Ronne's husband, so persuades the United States Board of Geographic Names. Ronne has discovered 100,000 square miles of new land in the Weddell Sea area, and proposes that this be called Edith Ronne Land.

The Weddell Sea, lying below South America, has, so far as known, been navigable only once. In 1823 the British James Weddell took his ship to the 74th parallel, and found the ice not thick enough to be serious. Except for the hazy mists of the season he might have gone much farther south. Since then all explorers have found the Weddell Sea to be rigidly icebound. Only the airplane has made explorations like Ronne's possible.

Life Lines

The Panama Canal should be made proof, if possible, against atomic bombs. This demand, voiced in Congress, recognizes the vitality that the canal has assumed for our commerce and defense. It is almost a wonder how we made out before 1914, the year in which the canal was opened.

Similarly the British reckon the Suez Canal as the life-line of their empire. Yet it has been British only since 1875, and till then Great Britain had no feeling of needing it.

Both Panama and Suez are important. Few Americans know, however, that more shipping passes through the St. Mary's canal on the Great Lakes than through Suez and Panama put together.

2,300 Ton Magnet Made For Use In Seeking Atomic Structure Secrets

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Reporter, IRVINGTON, N. Y., Dec. 9 (AP)—A huge magnet outweighing the steel in a U. S. destroyer was completed today for Columbia University's new giant cyclotron designed to delve into some of the deepest secrets of atomic structure.

The cyclotron will be the most powerful in the world, but not the largest. Columbia physicists said, it will fire atomic bullets at new high energies of 400 million electron volts, enough to smash the cores of even heavy atoms and lead into 10 to 50 component parts. The bullets will be protons, one of the fundamental building blocks of all atoms.

New kinds of matter may be created, and new clues may be found to the mysterious "element" that holds all atomic cores together, said Dr. John D. Dunning, scientific director of the project.

Built in cooperation with the Office of Naval Research, the cyclotron is expected to start operating next summer. Construction was started nearly a year ago at a new nuclear physics research center at Natick, a Columbia-owned estate overlooking the Hudson River near New York City.

The great magnet, weighing 2,300 tons, is the core of the atom-smasher. In a 100-foot long building, an overhead crane assembled 60-ton chunks of steel into place with the ease of a child playing with blocks.

Part of the magnet resembles a squat window frame of thick steel 21 feet high and 23 feet long. In the center are two round pipes of steel, each five feet thick and 14 feet in diameter. These are the North and South poles of the magnet, separated 18 inches apart. One is suspended from the top of the frame, the other rests on its base. Some 150 tons of copper wire will be coiled around the round pipes, making them electromagnets.

through a hollow electrode of new design) and high frequency modulation will give them kicks in speed as they travel around. Within one-thousandth of a second, the protons will travel 100 miles in widening circles until they hit their targets at a speed of nearly 110,000 miles per second. The chamber, enclosed in stainless steel, will be nearly a vacuum to keep the protons from striking the atoms of air.

All atoms are composed of protons and neutrons, held together in the nucleus or core, and electrons which travel in orbits around the core. Protons are positively charged and have 2,000 times the mass of negatively charged electrons. This great mass makes them good atom-smashing bullets. At 400 million electron volts, the protons will have 50 percent greater weight than at rest.

"This high energy will enable physicists to reach a new stage in studying the make-up of matter. Nuclear reactions such as the fission of uranium give off an energy of 200 million electron volts."

Dr. Dunning and Prof. I. I. Rabi, head of Columbia's physics department, said it is hoped the proton bombardments may create mesons, the mysterious high energy particles which have been observed after cosmic rays strike atoms in the atmosphere. Whether cosmic rays create mesons or liberate them from atoms is not known. It is suspected the mesons may be important in the "element" that keeps atomic cores together.

When completed, the cyclotron will weigh 2,500 tons, its 170-inch diameter of magnetic poles will make it smaller than the 184-inch University of California cyclotron, but it will be able to accelerate protons to higher speeds, Dr. Dunning said.

CHINESE BOMBING
 SHANGHAI, Dec. 9 (AP)—UNRRA charged today that the Chinese Air Force bombed Han-chen Airfield just after Chinese Communists repaired it, preventing the air transport of a Communist relief agency staff directly from Shanghai to Red Territory.

Han-chen is 225 miles southwest of Tientsin in extreme southwest Hopah Province.

THE LAST MATCH

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

The much discussed sales tax which is bound to be an issue in the coming gubernatorial election, was the principal topic of discussion at the recent State Chamber of Commerce conference held at St. Petersburg.

Recognizing the question as one of keen public interest, the State Chamber provided a sounding board where both proponents and opponents might express their views, with a no-decision ruling laid down in advance.

Four able speakers met on the rostrum: Senator A. G. McArthur of Fernandina and Lloyd Frisbie, publisher of the Polk County Democrat of Bartow, speaking for a sales tax, and Senator Walter W. Rose, Orlando realtor and Dallas L. Hostetter, executive secretary of the Florida Retailers Association opposing.

With one gubernatorial aspirant on the panel and four others in the audience, Senator W. A. (Bill) Shands of Gainesville, Fulton Warren, attorney of Jacksonville, Hans McCarty, grower of Ft. Pierce, and Attorney General Tom Watson, the sales tax made itself recognized as a hot topic in the coming campaign.

It was a case of pay your money and take your choice and both sides made points that set the audience to thinking. Opinions expressed after the discussions were varied, and no poll was taken and no effort made to determine which side won the debate.

Frisbie led off with a plea for relief of the present tax system which discriminates against certain groups and industries. He attacked excise taxes such as those on gasoline, liquor, cigarettes, etc., pointing out that such taxes penalized some forms of business while others escaped.

Senator McArthur said that too many politicians considered the best tax the one that will pick the most feathers from the goose with the least squawk. He stated, "The reason Florida does not have a sales tax today is because of the division of opinion in the pro sales tax school of thought. One segment has been sponsored largely under cover, a sales tax purely as additional revenue, the other wants it as a replacement."

"Anti-sales-taxers," he continued, "have based their arguments against this tax almost entirely on the false claim that it is an unfair tax on the poor. I challenge that contention."

Hostetter on the opposing side cited the Governor's Tax Committee report of March 1947 which appealed for no new taxes. "Is it fair," he asked, "to ignore the Committee's suggestions that the state should not embark upon a program of state controlled municipalities shared taxes until every other possible solution has been tried and in no event until the problems and consequences of such a program have been carefully explored in the light of adequate data and surveys?"

Senator Rose, also, an opponent declared against state spending. "The cost of government in Florida," he said, "is out of all proportion to the income of the people who pay the tax. To continue such a policy can only lead to economic chaos." Citing the large increase in government costs in the past decade, he declared, "This should be sufficient to convince anyone that we cannot afford to levy a sales tax at this time without injury to our economic welfare."

He contended that such a tax would retard the flow of investment capital, maintaining that Florida needs a "constructive program designed to promote and develop her natural resources and not discourage private enterprise."

Answering the argument of proponents that a sales tax would enable the state to realize much increased revenue from tourists, he contended that tourists and visitors are paying plenty now and one of the strong appeals that Florida can offer is the fact that we do not impose a general sales tax.

Pointing out that it is politically impossible to repeal a tax already on the statute books, he said a sales tax would never replace the property tax and, if imposed, would simply be an additional and unnecessary tax burden on a people already heavily burdened.

Turning the sales tax regressive and bearing more heavily on the poor man than the rich, he said the cost of collecting such a tax is an unfair burden on merchants, and if tokens are used they would be a nuisance to the public and would result in reduced sales, lower standards of living, more unemployment and encourage out of state purchases and irritate shoppers.

The State Chamber deserves much credit for bringing the subject to public attention at this time.

Red Movie Group Extends Sympathy

MOSCOW, Dec. 9 (AP)—Foremost personalities of the Soviet film industry, in an open letter to their counterparts in Hollywood, criticized the U. S. House of Representatives committee on Un-American Activities today and called on American movie makers to fight for peace.

"The police terror of American reactionaries against the foremost leaders of American culture in the movie art is merely a part of the campaign of American reaction against world progress," said the letter, published in the Literary Gazette.

"Hollywood makes films disseminating reactionary ideas throughout the world, propagandizing the notorious Truman Doctrine and the so-called Marshall Plan—programs of beastly malice and hatred toward humanity and the stronghold of peace, the Soviet Union."

Many names were signed to the communication, including those of such directors as Sergius M. Eisenstein, Alexander and Padovani, and the actress Orlova.

"Our weapon," the Soviet letter declared, "is art. The duty of art is to show the way to peaceful collaboration between peoples, to enlighten this path with the undying light of truth, to expose the abominable intrigues of the foes of democracy, peace and progress." "We call on you producers, screen writers, actors of Hollywood, our leaders of American movies."

Senator Asks If Canada Will Pay Its Part Of St. Lawrence Seaway

By GORDON BROWN, AP Special Washington Service, WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—The question of Canada's ability to finance its part of the proposed St. Lawrence Seaway in event Congress approves the project has been raised by Senator Overton (D-La.).

Overton wrote opposing the St. Lawrence Seaway in another member of the Louisiana delegation, Sen. Larcade (D.), said the British Empire now is facing a serious "economic crisis" and added:

"Can Canada also will discharge its financial responsibility within the empire and build its portion of the St. Lawrence Seaway? I do not propose to know the answer, but it is an answer which should be had before this project should be considered further by Congress."

Overton wrote opposing the St. Lawrence Seaway in Nation's Agriculture, the publication of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

He said the project now is being presented "in a new wrapper, decorated with a gaudy tin and calculated to resolve opposition and foist this gigantic and from an economic standpoint, highly dubious project upon a gullible public."

This new feature, he said, is the "self-liquidating" provision embracing a toll system. If a toll system were put in effect on the St. Lawrence waterway, he predicted, Congress would be called on to impose similar tolls on other waterways, including the Mississippi River system. This step, he said, would "destroy the freight rate system in much of the great Midwest."

Imposition of tolls, he said, would mean increased water freight rates which would "dry up" river traffic, and "when our waterways are no longer competitive, then we will see rates by other forms of transportation skyrocket."

"It follows that the same farmer who might be helped by the St. Lawrence Seaway on the one hand can be destroyed on the other because of the toll feature," he added.

He also said the U. S. Merchant Marine ships are too large to ply the proposed seaway and as a result "tramp steamers of the world" would carry the freight. This, he contended, would harm the Merchant Marine.

Tyre, Beard And Piercy Win Trophies At Grid Banquet

Team Elected Beard And Alexander As Captains For '47; Hi-Y Gives Fete

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR., Herald Sports Editor

Wallace Tyre, lanky 165 pound guard on the Seminole High School Celery Fed football aggregation, was named winner of the Peter Schaal trophy and won recognition as the most valuable man on the team at the annual football banquet given by the Hi-Y at the Longwood Hotel last night. The announcement was made by principal Herman Morris of Seminole High in the absence of Schaal, who was detained in Seebing due to automobile trouble. Over 150 players, Hi-Y girls, coaches and guests were present.

Byron Beard was named winner of the new Lions Club trophy for the player judged to be the best blocker on the team and Holly Piercy was declared winner of the Kader trophy as the most outstanding player on the team. Jack Morrison presented the Lions Club cup and Principal Morris gave the Kader trophy.

Byron Beard and Johnny Alexander were voted captains of the 1947 eleven by the team. Principal Morris stated:

Walcott May Get Return Bout If He Will Accept Contract Terms

HERE'S an unusual shot of champion Joe Walcott in his dressing room in Madison Square Garden, New York City, after his fight with Jersey Joe Walcott. His left eye is almost closed and has a cut under it. His cheek is badly puffed. The decision is causing much controversy in the sports world. (International)

By BOB GRUBB
NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—If Jersey Joe Walcott is willing to accept 20 per cent of what would almost certainly be a million-dollar gate, he can have a midsummer return bout with Joe Louis.

After hearing the New York State Athletic Commission reject his request for a reversal of Friday night's split decision which resulted in Louis retaining the World Heavyweight title, Walcott was advised that the Champion was willing to meet him again, this time in Yankee Stadium.

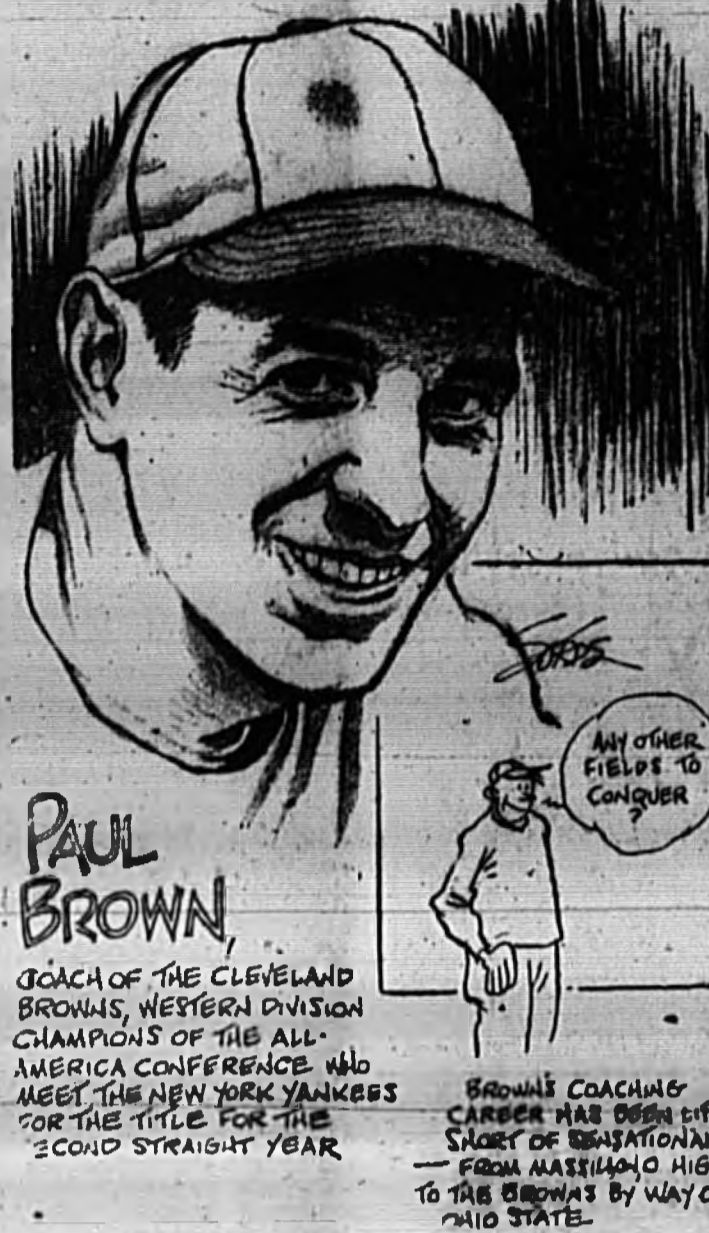

The Commission's decision yesterday surprised practically nobody. Walcott appeared with his manager, Joe Webster, before Chairman Eddie Egan and Dr. C. B. Powell, two of the three commissioners, and was told that the body had no "desire to interfere with the exercise of the discretion and judgment of competent appointed officials."

The commissioners congratulated the Camden, N. J., boxer on his "splendid performance" and said he "deserved great praise for his ability, sportsmanship and courage" in extending the hitherto invincible Louis to 15 rounds, only to lose the decision on a close, split verdict.

Louis was still in seclusion with a badly bruised eye and a split on his swollen right hand. He authorized, Sol Strauss, acting promoter of the 20th Century Sporting Club, to say that he was willing to defend his title next June, "providing satisfactory terms can be arranged."

Strauss said that Louis would agree to the same terms that prevailed for the second bout with Billy Conn, accepting 40 per cent of the gate receipts. It was believed the Walcott management might be reluctant, however, to settle for 20 per cent, 5 per cent more than Jersey Joe received last Friday night.

PAUL BROWN, COACH OF THE CLEVELAND BROWNS, WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS OF THE ALL-AMERICA CONFERENCE WHO MET THE NEW YORK YANKEES FOR THE TITLE FOR THE SECOND STRAIGHT YEAR

New Commissioner To Be Named At Meet Of SEC On Saturday

By CHICK BOSCH
ATLANTA, Dec. 9 (AP)—Selection of a new commissioner is the main item on the agenda of the Southeastern Conference's annual meeting at Biloxi, Miss., Friday and Saturday, but several other important matters also are under consideration.

The issue's bylaws will come up for an overhaul to delete any sections, or phrases, not now in accord with a list of proposals prepared for adoption by the National Collegiate Athletic Association at New York next month.

Speculation as to the selection of a successor to Mike Conner, former governor of Mississippi, who resigned early this year after serving since 1950 as the league's first commissioner, favors Conference President John J. Tigert. Dr. Tigert retired several months ago as President of the University of Florida.

—Steve Conner's resignation, Dean N. W. Daugherty of Tennessee has served as interim-commissioner but in several instances has said he does not want to serve permanently.

Dr. A. B. Butts, former chancellor of the University of Mississippi, and Coach Slatt Bell of SMU, among others, also have been mentioned in connection with the position.

DON'T TRIP ON THAT BEARD

MIAMI, Dec. 9—Quarterback Tip Mester of Kansas is the granddaddy of the 1948 Orange Bowl squads. He is 28. End Colin Anderson and Tackle Tom Coleman of Georgia Tech and Center Bob Kline and Halfback Dan Mallon of Kansas are all 18 years old.

ALSO ALL-AMERICAN CAGER

MIAMI, Dec. 9—All-American in both football and basketball is the sensational halfback, Ray Evans, who will sparkplug Kansas against Georgia Tech here in the 1948 Orange Bowl game on New Year's.

Mississippi, and Coach Slatt Bell of SMU, among others, also have been mentioned in connection with the position.

COMMENTS from the SIDELINES

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.

Elwood Cooke

The City of Sanford welcomes Elwood Cooke and his troupe of professional tennis players. We are lucky to have Elwood, his wife Sara, Pauline and Pauline Bets in the city for the winter and the spring months.

Elwood told us Saturday that he plans to open a tennis school in the heart of York City next summer, and he intends to teach tennis to the top players of the country.

He stated that the school will be set up to teach men and women how to play tennis professionally, how to buy the correct equipment, how to string rackets, how to build tennis courts and a million other fine points of being a professional tennis player.

Local tennis enthusiasts are fortunate to have such an able instructor in this area, and about take advantage of the opportunity.

The students of Central Florida will benefit from his presence in that the coaches have stated that they want Elwood and his gang to help them on their tennis instruction program.

Cooke mentioned that Bobby Riggs may also come to Sanford during the winter, and possibly put on several exhibitions for the people of Central Florida.

Sanford will rightly be called the sports capital of the world when we get all of these, and the other sports personalities in Sanford during the winter.

Red Hat School

The DeLand Red Hats are expecting to operate their ball club independently during the '48 season and are preparing to line up their required six rookie players before the season opens, it is reported.

Under the new Florida State League regulations, each team is required to carry on their rosters six men with no previous professional baseball experience. To get the rookie material for the Red Hat aggregation, it is possible that a baseball tryout school will be conducted by the Hitts prior to the regular Spring training dates, March 25 to April 15. Julian Camp, Gainesville rookie infielder and outfielder, has recently inked a contract to play with the Hitts in 1948.

Camp played one game with Palatka last year after playing with the University of Florida for two seasons. He is 22 years old, five feet nine inches high and weighs 185 pounds.

Pirates Give 3 Players To Bums In Walker Trade

BROOKLYN, Dec. 9 (AP)—Dixie Walker, hard-hitting Brooklyn outfielder, and pitchers Victor Lombardi and Hal Greer were traded yesterday to the Pittsburgh Pirates for Shortstop William Cox and two other players, Branch Rickey announced.

No cash was involved, said Rickey, in revealing one of the most important trades of the year. In addition to Cox the Dodgers acquired Elwin (Preacher) Roe, a left-handed pitcher, and Gene March, utility infielder who had gone to Pittsburgh early in the season from Brooklyn in another deal.

Walker wound up the season with an unofficial batting average of .306, compared with Cox's .274.

The Dodgers already have one of the best infield combinations in the majors with Eddie Stanky at second and Pee Wee Reese at shortstop.

Branch Rickey, Jr., in commenting on the trade, declared "There may be another deal in a couple of days, with Pittsburgh or with others."

The trading of Walker has been rumored for several weeks, but Rickey said the papers were not actually signed until this morning.

Pinewoods Trials For Bird Dogs Set

ORLANDO, Dec. 9 (AP)—Competition for bird dogs field trials for the Pinewoods field today with the running of the amateur derby. Two braces in the event were completed yesterday.

The open all-age and open derby are scheduled to follow the trials, expected to continue through most of the week.

In the initial event yesterday, Saffire, Sapphro, owned and handled by Lester Vero of Jacksonville, won first place in the amateur all-age stake.

Dr. O. B. Kirby's Stylish Hill, handled by H. B. Goodrich of Tampa, was second and Boazons, owned and handled by W. J. Sears, Jr., of Jacksonville, third.

FLORIDANS ON TECH SQUAD
MIAMI, Dec. 9—There are four Floridians on the Georgia Tech squad coming here to play Kansas in the 1948 Orange Bowl football classic. They are Quarterbacks Joe E. Brown from Plant City and Jim Hill from Panama City, and Guard Leonard Bethes and Halfback Billy Queen from Jacksonville.

SECOND ORANGE BOWL TRIP

MIAMI, Dec. 9—Four Georgia Tech players—Tackle Bob Davis, Guard Rollo Phillips, and Halfbacks George Matthews and Alton Bowen—will be participating in their second Orange Bowl game here New Year's Day when the Engineers clash with Ray Evans & Co. from Kansas. The four played against Tulsa in the 1945 Orange Bowl.

Gators Top Miss. State In 53-47 Cage Contest

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 9 (AP)—Mississippi State's basketball team suffered its first Southeastern Conference defeat here last night at the hands of the University of Florida five, 53-47.

Gator Forward Harry Hamilton sank the game's first field goal to put Florida in the lead and at half-time, the gators held a 28-21 margin.

Center Willard Daley of Mississippi State turned in an excellent performance in controlling his backboard and scored 26 points for the visitors. Florida's center Hans Tansler led his teammates with 17 points.

In previous conference competition this season, Mississippi State defeated Vanderbilt and Auburn. It was Florida's second victory in two staffs and the Gators' first SEC win.

Auburn will come here this weekend for games with the Gators Friday and Saturday nights.

WHAT'S NEW?

A WHIZ QUIZ on what's new can be an appropriate diversion for a New Year's party. In the meantime, you can try out yourself, to see how good you are at catching on to things that are "new".

- 1. Where's the old year old and the new year new first—New York or New Guinea?
2. Quick, now, how many of the United States have names beginning with 'New'?
3. A new scientific law is said to have been established by the falling of an apple upon the head of Sir Isaac New—?

PUZZLES AND PASTIMES

SMART STUDENT

A PROFESSOR, wishing to choose an intelligent student for a special assignment, called Allen, Bacon and Cooper to him and said: "I shall place either a red or a blue circle on each of your foreheads. As soon as you see a red circle, put up your hand. As soon as you know what the color of your own circle is, put your hand down, and he who first knows what his own circle is gets my assignment."

After a moment or so, Allen put his hand down, knowing his own circle was red. This is pure logic. How did Allen know that his circle was red?

TURN ABOUT IS FAIR PLAY

The found-defined below are ten reversals. Reverse the spelling of the first word to get the second. By way of illustration: "Delt break" could stand for "strap parts."

- 1. Eager prima-donna.
2. Kindly heir.
3. Colorless poet.
4. Vampire's fate.
5. Twofold praise.
6. Manufactured cheese.
7. Street-car market.
8. Wagon enclosure.
9. Food town.
10. Snare fragment.

Take Your Choice

VALUABLE ores were discovered on Jose Mendoza's land. A mining company came to him with a proposal.

"We'll lease your land and start payment at the rate of $1 an acre. As to further payments, you can take your choice; we'll raise the rental $1 every day, or $35 every week. Which will you take?"

"Suppose you had only one minute in which to advise Jose which offer to accept. What would be your choice?"

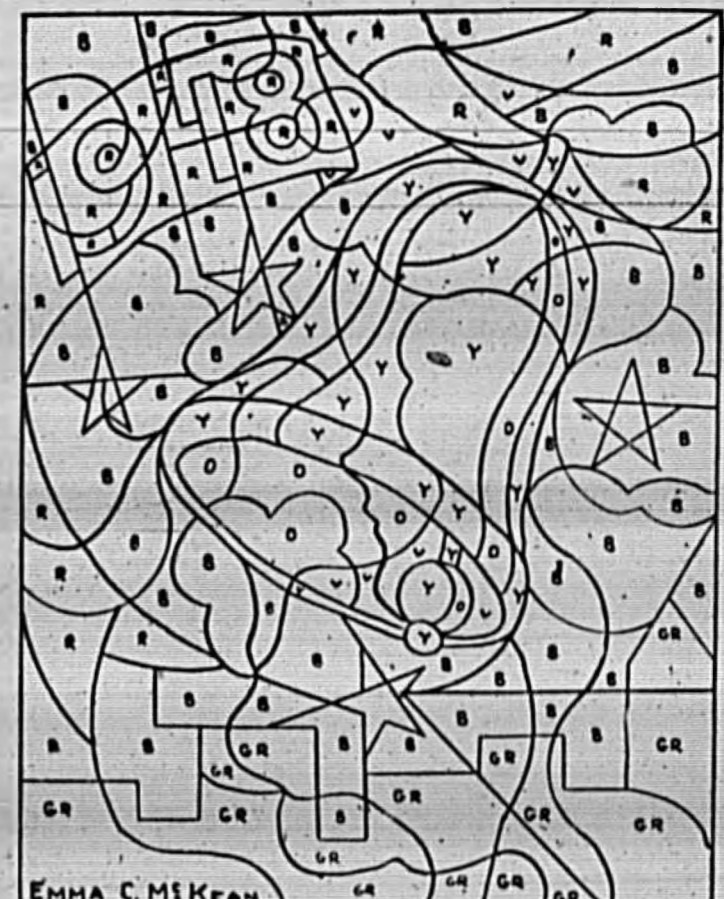

BOWL THIS OVER

SIXTEEN players have entered the bowling tournament staged among employees of the whiffletree factory. The winner will play the champion of last year's tournament. This means the winner among the sixteen has to defeat five opponents to achieve the title.

All of the players, including last year's champion, seem to be evenly matched, considering the handicaps allocated to them. This being the case, what are the odds against any of the 16 entrants winning?

A COLORGRAPH FOR NEW YEAR'S

JUNIOR readers can find some enjoyment in making an appropriate decoration for New Year's Day among this maze of lines. To effect the appearance of the hidden design, it is necessary to color each segment with crayons or colored pencils in accordance with its key.

HERE'S a magic trick for our junior readers. A thimble is placed on a table and is given a little push with the finger. It mysteriously glides gracefully from one end of the table to the other.

MURDER MYSTERY
SEE how good your friends are at solving this mystery: A lawyer and a physician lunched together, usually spending a couple of hours together, nearly every day. The physician always paid the bill. The other day, the doorman of the restaurant they frequented, ran in, calling for a doctor. The physician responded to the call, followed by the lawyer. The physician found a woman, seriously injured, lying face down on the sidewalk. He turned her over, then said in shocked surprise, "Sally! He added the explanation, 'It's my wife!'"

Palindrome Problem
A PALINDROME, as you know, is a word that is spelled the same forward and backward. For example, HANGAH.

Using the 12 letters given below, form four three-letter palindromes words that can be arranged to form a sentence that asks a question.

ENIGMATIC CITY

SOLUTION of this enigma is to be found on any map of Canada. How quickly can you find it?
The first letter is eye, but not in morn.
The second in laugh, but not in scorn.
The third in cinder, but not in coal.
The fourth in chime, but not in toll.
The fifth in goat, but not in ram.
The sixth in mutton, but not in lam.
The seventh in lice, but not in die.
The eighth in wet, but not in dry.
The ninth in rhyme, but not in ditty.
The letters all spell the name of a city.

If a fifth of X is equal to a fourth of Y and a third of Z and if the difference between X and Z is 80, what are the three numbers, X, Y and Z?

WOODEN YOU KNOW?

WENT into the woods and it caught me, I sat down to look for it, and then went home with it because I could not find it. What?
