STRENGTH FOR YOUR DAYS
The Bible
By faith we understand that the world was created by the word of God, so that what is seen was made out of things which do not appear.—(Hebrews 11, 3.)
We have never "seen" electricity, or the "waves" which carry radio and TV sounds and images. Yet we have faith in them, for we know that they are, and that they don't just happen. Truly, how can anyone then doubt for a moment that God is!

Now Hear This!

JACKY FENWICK

KNOW HEAR THIS

By Jacky Fenwick
Bill and Rosemary Finnegan, with Sharon, Beth, and Pat, left Saturday for Valdosta, Ga., to visit her sister and brother-in-law who are leaving there shortly for Corpus Christi, Texas. This makes Rosemary both homewick and jealous, as it is her "home town!" Bill just took them up there, and came back down this weekend, but Rosemary and the "kids" will stay for a week.
Which means that Rosemary will be missing V.A.H.'s All Hands Party at Sanlando Springs this coming Friday! This will get underway at 2:00 P.M., at the picnic grounds, and if the last one is any criterion, will last until who KNOWS when! As before, it will be a bar-b-que chicken dinner, but handled differently so that some of our souls don't get stuck with the cooking for the whole time! Talking about the party on Friday brings up a situation that I hope I can clarify for you, in case your husband doesn't remember to tell you! Friday is also the day for the presentation of the "Bombing Derby" trophies. However, this will take place at 10:30 A.M., and not in the afternoon as it was last time. As before, all squadrons that participated will assemble near "5's" hanger area, but this will be the "Savage Sons" day from start to finish! They will be presented with all three major trophies; the Corover Trophy, for winning the "Derby", (incidentally their second time at this,) and then the ASB Maintenance Trophy, for the work of those who maintained the gear that makes these contests possible; and also the Bombing Award, for high individual scores. The South Compound gate will again be open for the convenience of those wishing to attend, with one important "extra" this time. There WILL be parking space available inside the South Gate! (A real blessing if you hate to walk!) For the men, the uniform will be white, and in the case of officers, dress whites, minus their swords. If you're a "G" wife, and you missed the last one, don't miss it this time! Your husband HAS to be there so why not you??? To me there is nothing quite so impressive as an assemblage of Navy men in summer whites. I guess I'm just a soft-hearted sentimentalist at heart, but there's something so patriotic and so American about it. Here I go trying to put feelings into words, and I always get mixed up on that since I am not, (and contrary to what some people might believe,) have never claimed to be a writer!

Well to get back to what I've been talking about... the presentation of the trophies is at 10:30 A.M., and the Sanlando party starts at 2:00 P.M., so Friday promises to be a full day for all "Fivers"! I'll tell you more about what will be going on at the party in the next day or two.
If your children have wanted to make use of the City Pool at Fort Mellon Park, I'll give the hours for this coming week, as they will change the following week! Mr. Ed Christensen, a teacher at Seminole High School, will be in charge of the pool this summer, and in order to have this high degree of supervision, we must put up with the small inconvenience of shorter hours for one week. As usual, the pool will be closed on Mondays and for this week only, also on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. It will be open on Friday from 3:30 P.M. until 6:00 P.M., and from 7:00 until 9:00 P.M. And on Saturday, from 9:00 A.M. until 12:00 noon, and from 2:00 P.M. until 6:00 P.M. Starting on Friday, June 14, the regular summer schedule will be under way. So have a little patience for one more week, and then enjoy the pool to your heart's content!

13-Year-Old Finds Money; Receives $200 For Honesty

On a bus headed for Fanny Irarla is a 13-year-old boy, his mother and sister, for a visit with the youngster's grandmother. The trip was made possible because of a check for $200 given him by Waco George of Sanford for the return of a packet of money containing $6,114. Ricky Dreblow, of Enterprise, found the packet of money last week while riding his bicycle along Lakeshore Drive paralleling Lake Monroe at Enterprise. He was accompanied by two of his playmates. Discovering that the packet contained cash money, Ricky turned his find over to his school principal L. O. Hayman. Sheriff Rodney Thurbay was called in and an investigation was immediately gotten underway. The F. B. I. did not know of any large sums of money lost, there were no reports from Volusia County communities. Police Chief Roy Williams furnished the lead when a report of money lost by Waco George was investigated. George identified the packet and its contents and the paper-wrapped packet returned to its owner. Ricky has been commended for his honesty and promptness in turning in the cash found along side an Enterprise Road. The people of Enterprise, as one of the local citizens reported "Are all proud of him." The 13-year-old youngster chose the trip to Pennsylvania to see his grandmother made possible by Waco George and the reward tendered Ricky for "his honesty."

Massachusetts Moves To Block Adoption Of Hildy In Florida

Boston 47 — Massachusetts moved today to block the adoption of 4-year-old Hildy McCoy Ellis in Florida by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ellis. Public Welfare Commissioner Patrick A. Tompkins has sent a letter to the Florida Welfare Department in which he opposed the child's adoption. The Ellis obtained refuge in Florida last month when Gov. LeRoy Collins refused to extradite them to Massachusetts on charges of kidnaping the little girl. Tompkins said he listed twelve reasons in his letter why the Ellis should not be allowed to adopt Hildy. Tompkins contended: This department is satisfied that Miss McCoy was deliberately deceived by a doctor as to the identity, race and religion of the couple with whom she planned to adopt. Request For Beer, Wine License Is Tabled By Board

A request for a beer and wine license for 305 Sanford Ave. was tabled last night when Police Chief Roy Williams could not make a recommendation. "I couldn't find the man," Chief Williams told the commissioners. Henry Freise refused to accept an offer from the City of Sanford to sell him a strip of land 50 by 350 feet in the rear of his present property for $1,000. Such property would be retained by Freise as long as he or his wife lives and retains ownership of his present property. Commissioners instructed City Manager Warren E. Knowles to talk further with Freise and work out an acceptable compromise to be reported back at the next meeting of the board. The vacating of an alley in Grandline Court will be set for a public hearing following a request that the alleyway be abandoned. The City Attorney, William C. Hutchinson, will meet with the city's Zoning and Planning Commission to work out details relative to airport zoning. An agreement with the National Exhibition Company for the use of the Baseball Stadium and baseball fields was completed last night for forwarding to Horace Stoneham in New York. Due to insufficient funds for the purchase of a heavy duty scrubbing, waxing and polishing machine, requested by the Shuffleboard Club for the maintenance of courts in Fort Mellon Park, the club will be asked to use a lighter machine now owned by the city until such time as the new budget is created in the fall.

School Board Seeks Area For Jr. College

Both the City Manager, Warren E. Knowles, and Mayor Gatchel met with Superintendent of Public Instruction R. T. Millwee yesterday afternoon to talk over the school board's program relative to Sanford. "Considerable thought has been given the subject," said the Mayor, "and the sites proposed for the expansion include the Chase Farm between Mellenville and Locust Ave. and south of Celery Ave. To Rosalia Drive, of approximately 45 acres and a 40 acre site on French Ave. between 22nd and 24th Streets. "I thought it would be wise," Mayor Gatchel told the commissioners "for the city to take some stand and become familiar with the plans of the School Board." Commissioner Scott stated that the School Board is a separate governmental body just as the Board of Sanford City Commissioners and the City Commission "should not tell the School Board how to run its business." "However," said Commissioner Scott, "if the property on French Ave. could be used by the School Board we should recommend that it be done." The City of Sanford, it was explained in the Board of Commissioners, owns a 10-acre tract of land in the 40 acre site which had been used as a borrow pit. Sanford's population has been moving to the south and south-east and there are no large tracts of land available other than these. Mayor Gatchel told the commissioners that taking into consideration the fact that "the density of the population is growing that way I feel that this is the most feasible plan." A proposal that the cooperation of the City of Sanford be offered the School Board and the 10 acres owned by the city be swapped for property not being used by the School Board was made by Commissioner Scott. However, Commissioner Earl Higginbotham amended the proposal in that the property to be traded would be the eight acre

Rev. Thomas Tells Of Experiences In Mission Field

Some of the interesting, and at times exciting, experiences of a worker in the home mission field of the Episcopal Church were told to the members of the Sanford Rotary Club at its regular weekly meeting yesterday at the Yacht Club by the Rev. John W. Thomas, rector of the Holy Cross Church, here. Father Thomas mentioned his stints, work on the street corners of New York City, holding meetings in trailer chapels, in jails and in other places where the "lowly and underprivileged" congregated. He told of the farm families with whom he came in contact in the mountain section of northern Alabama who were suspicious of strangers and hated, with their entire being, revenue officers, who from time to time raided their moonshine stills. He told of one incident where he practically stumbled over a still and found himself looking into the business end of a double-barreled shotgun. Because of the uniform he was wearing at the time, he

When Is A Sign Not A Sign?

When is a sign not a sign? Such a question crept into the Board of Sanford City Commissioners' discussion last night following its adoption of an ordinance prohibiting signs on public property and regulating signs on private property. A member of the audience asked the commissioners if their new regulation included price tags. It was explained that such price tags include the huge cardboard and metal displays showing prices of merchandise such as gasoline and produce. "They must go, along with all other signs which are not constructed to meet the specifications of the city," it was explained. The new ordinance, adopted last night, eliminates all signs on public property regardless of the nature of such displays. It also requires that permits be obtained from the building inspector and city manager for the erecting of signs on private property. Placing of the sign is controlled by its size. However, all signs must be ten feet above the ground level. Regulating the distance from the property line, the ordinance states that signs must be placed back a distance of five feet plus the height of the sign. Commissioner Earl Higginbotham, apparently opposing some of the details of the ordinance, especially the height plus five feet regulation, said "We have a building on First St. more dangerous from falling than any of these signs." City Manager Warren E. Knowles called for a policy, to be set by the Board of Commissioners, regarding signs that do not conform to the sign ordinance. "Shall we ignore them or will we inform them that signs must conform," he asked. Commissioner Marie Warner stated "I think all signs should conform to the ordinance we have adopted." Mayor Gatchel commented "There's no sense in having a law on the books that is not used. I think we should erect gradual clean-up of signs around here with a time limit of six months." Commissioner Higginbotham emphasized "I won't go along unless there's no favoritism. What is the object anyway? To which City Manager Knowles said "To clean up the appearance of the city." "I would personally like to see a policy set up as suggested by the City Manager. It would mean that we have nicer signs and fewer of them," said the Mayor. The City Manager had suggested that the city refuse to allow signs to be repaired or replaced unless brought into conformity with the City's ordinance. Commissioners agreed to adopt the policy suggested by the City Manager but did not agree to taking a time limit onto the regulation. (Continued on Page 8)

Man Is Seeking To Locate Dance Pavilion On River

Possibilities that a floating dance pavilion and snack bar will be located along the sea wall near Fort Mellon Park came to light at the meeting last night of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners. John Kennedy Jr., of Fern Park, proposed to the board of commissioners last night that a large boat, now tied up at the city pier and handball, be turned into a pleasure boat. The young man, appearing before the commissioners, stated that he would like to transform his boat into an attractive recreation facility to be used for dancing and as a snack bar. Commissioners reminded Kennedy that the city is contemplating the use of the new Sanford Civic Center for teenage dances and other forms of recreation. City Manager Knowles told the board that Kennedy's plan is to use the boat for a unique place for dances and parties. Kennedy told the commissioners that his boat is certified to carry a passenger load of 114. Questioned as to the type of recreation facility being planned for the boat, Kennedy explained that he would like permission to pull the floating pleasure boat up to the sea wall and build a walkway onto the craft. "I do not intend to sell beer, wine or liquor," Kennedy said, "but I will not allow it to be brought on board." Commissioners granted permission for the new enterprise provided that it be policed in such a manner that there would be no reflection on the city.

Confab Speaker Says Pride Most Offensive Sin

FOREST CITY (Special)—Pride was named the sin "most offensive to God" and the sin "most hopeless and incurable" by a leading Seventh-day Adventist clergyman here today. Speaking to some 5,000 Adventists at the fifth daily session of a nine-day annual camp meeting, Pastor Taylor G. Bunch, minister of Silgo Church in Washington, D. C., said "pride in a Christian is a definite indication that he is spiritually poverty stricken." "Christians today are woefully ignorant of the Scriptures," he declared. "They need to dig deeper into the mine of truth for the gems that lie beneath the surface, and then they need to exercise faith to take God at His word even when the proof of what He will do is not apparent at the moment." "Concerning faith," Pastor Bunch said, "the modern Christian scarcely knows what it is. He is often too self-sufficient, and feels no need to exercise faith such as the apostles of old knew it." The speaker told the Adventists that "like many people, many churches are sick and are ignorant of their maladies. They look (Continued on Page 8)

City Turns On Another Section Of New Whiteway

Another section of Sanford's new whiteway was turned on last night. The new bright-as-day street lamps, lifted high over the broad thoroughway by steel standards, were turned on from 13th St. to Lakeshore Boulevard last night. This completes the downtown area from Sanford to French Ave. on First St. and the French Ave. whiteway. Another section, from 13th St. south to the intersection of French Ave. and Orlando Drive is still to be completed. City Commissioners and officials viewed the new section of whiteway following last night's session of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners.

Challenge For Dr. Mays

STELLA continued quietly, "Dr. Mays," interrupted the Chairman, "did you send Mrs. McCrillis to the County Hospital?"

"As I indicated previously," Chad hedged suavely, "and as you know, too, being a member of the County Medical Society, we'd had reports from within his own hospital that Dr. Wilkins-Smith was—careless about substantiating some of his diagnoses. The Society decided against action or investigation."

"Well, I had previously talked the general situation over with Mr. McCrillis; I had told him that I hoped to find out what lay behind the County Hospital's opposition to us. He knew that I was waiting for a break, and when Stella's case offered such an opportunity he agreed that I should use it. Stella herself had almost no knowledge of what was in mind. We told her it would help us if she'd take her neck through the Clinic, and then on to County Hospital; she was to appeal to that large group of bill-paying folk who don't ask for charity, don't need it. A lot of them have hospitalization insurance. But whether they do or not, they pay their hospital bills when they get seriously sick, and our idea is not to let them get seriously sick if we can help it. A quick check-up at regular intervals will accomplish this—if we are permitted to give that sort of service. If we're not—the whole program collapses."

"Was it your idea, Doctor," asked the small, dark lawyer at Wilkins-Smith's side, "that we would, here and now, call off our suit, on the testimony of Mrs. McCrillis?"

CHAD shook his head so that his hair tumbled from its smooth combing. "No, sir," he said quickly. "One case doesn't prove a situation. A situation which we have therefore doublechecked." He leaned over to look more closely at Wilkins-Smith. "Haven't we, Doctor?" he asked gaily.

BRING OWN TUB PLUGS
LONDON—A traveler to Russia advised would-be tourists to bring along their own tub plugs when they visit the Soviet Union. Richard Jones, in a letter to the Sunday Express, said bath plugs "are virtually non-existent in the Soviet Union" because it's an old Russian custom to wash oneself in running water.

PICKLES SAVE PICKLED
Milwaukee, Wis.—A novel plea got Mrs. Margaret Renmeister, 49, out of a pickle Saturday. A judge, after finding Mrs. Renmeister guilty of drunkenness, waived a jail sentence and imposed a $10 fine when she said that a barrel of pickles soaking at home would spoil if she went to jail.

OLDSMOBILE

"He sure knows how to pick 'em!"

Bridesmaid: You mean Lucille... or are you talking about that Oldsmobile?

Best Man: Both! But I was really looking at their car. What a beauty!

Bridesmaid: They sure are a lucky couple.

Best Man: And smart, too. That Olds costs less than you'd think. It has style that will stay in style. They get real comfort... a wonderful ride... and the big Rocket Engine...

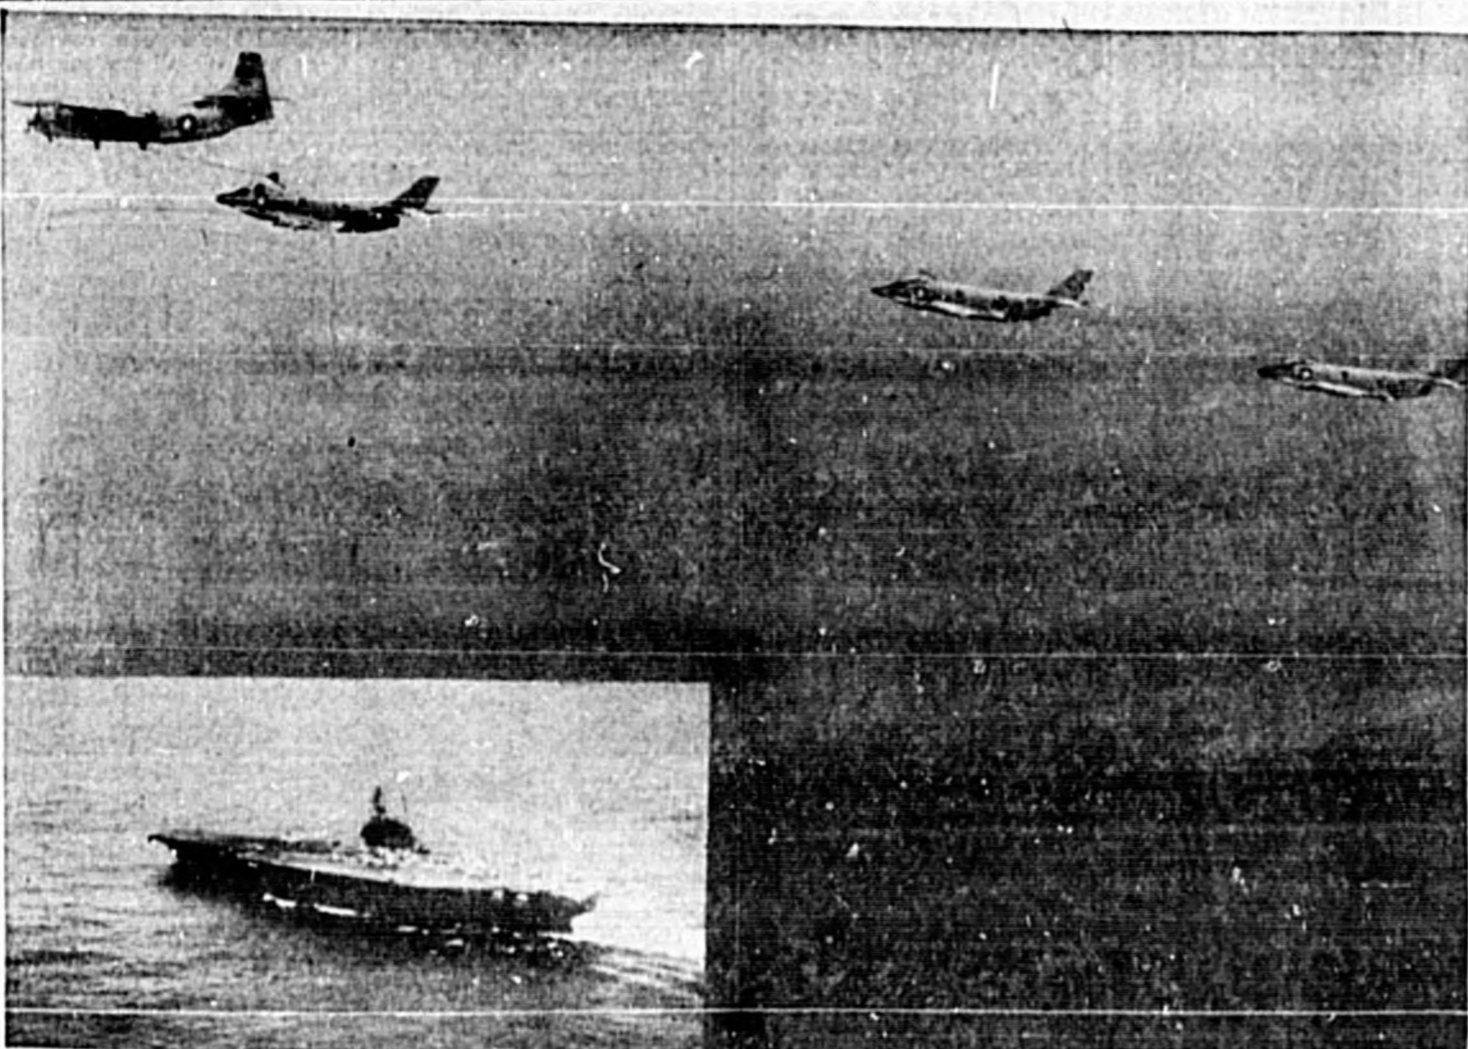

Bridesmaid: She looked so lovely...

Best Man: They'll really find out how smart they are to own an Olds at trade-in time. Why, an Olds brings a better price than lots of the most expensive cars, even after a couple of years of use.

Bridesmaid: You know what I wish? I wish that someday...

Best Man: That you can own an Olds? Don't waste your wishes. Let's take a ride in my Golden Rocket. Maybe your dreams'll come true sooner than you expect.

Health Hints

By DR. A. WOODALL
HOW ARE YOUR SACROILIACS?

According to official statistics, sacroiliac strain ranks third among compensable injuries. The importance of the sacroiliac joints is a very recent discovery, although these joints are as old as the human race.

Dr. L. J. Steinbach, of Pittsburgh, in a recent issue of the National Chiropractic Journal declared:

"Twenty years ago, the sacroiliac joints were still buried in the archives of human biology. Today, the public is on speaking terms with the sacroiliac joints; in fact, these joints are more mentioned or inquired about than any articulations of the human framework."

These two joints, situated where the base of the spine joins the large hip bones, can be, and are, the seat of much pain. Whether you call it lumbago, rheumatism, or just plain backache, much of the pain felt in the lower part of the back is the result of sacroiliac strain. At one time or another you may have been a victim of this painful condition yourself. If you have, you know how helpless and miserable one can be as a result of too much strain on a sacroiliac joint.

The onset of this painful malady may be brought about in any one of dozens of ways—a slip in the bathtub, or on a waied floor, or on an icy sidewalk; a strain from lifting, from working too long in a stooped position, or even from pulling on a shoe or getting out of bed. The pain may strike suddenly while one is at work or play, even when the body seems to be under little or no strain. There is often a feeling of something giving way, and stabbing pain in the lower part of the back.

In cases of severe sacroiliac strain, home remedies can do little more than give temporary relief. Electric pads, hot water bottles, plasters, liniments, etc., may ease the pain for a time but are not likely to give permanent relief. Such cases require the services of a doctor skilled in the correction of sacroiliac dislocations, for there is usually a partial dislocation between the base of the spine and one of large bones of the hip.

The sacroiliac joints may have been buried in obscurity twenty years ago, but they are rather familiar, and sometimes unpleasant, acquaintances today. The casualty insurance companies know this, for they are receiving an increasing number of complaints from persons "who can not keep properly coupled down where the back ends and the lower extremities begin."

Any persistent or recurring aches in the lower limbs may suggest possible sacroiliac trouble, and should be referred to a chiropractor for correction.

JULIUS LA ROSA HAS BEEN TAPPED AS PERRY COMO'S summer replacement starting in June. He'll front a musical variety hour much like the present Como show.

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN

Guess by now most people are aware that Betty and John Emanski have left for the west coast and HATWING TWO. Their Shannon Drive home is for sale.

Shocking news is the almost immediate departure of Mike and Bob Stone. This comes as a real surprise since the Stones had expected to remain here for another two years. Bob has orders to the Randolph, which he will join next week, I believe. By a stroke of good fortune, the Stone sold their house to Mary and Jim McGuire who have five children and are equally delighted, I'm sure. Bob Stone had just returned from the P.T.A. meeting in Gainesville, which he attended in his official capacity as Southside P.T.A. meeting in Gainesville, a president. Bob and Mike will leave several important vacancies, and a good many in the hearts of their friends.

Present plans are that Mike will follow the ship through the Mediterranean, this time taking the children. The home port will be Norfolk.

Another great wrench is hitting Sanford. Judy and Jack Smith are going to Chicago permanently. They plan to leave the seventeenth of June. We had all assumed that Jack and Judy were to become a fixture in the civilian population of Sanford, but no one can deny a successful young man advancement. Their loss will be felt throughout the navy and civilian world in this part of the country. It seems imperative that we have an emergency meeting of the After-Five Club. Our nucleus is slipping away.

This is indeed a sorry session with the typewriter keys. VAAH had a party Friday night. Cocktails were enjoyed at the H.O.Q. during Happy Hour, then the clan adjourned to the DesDrop Inn for steak. Pat Hansen was presented with a baby cup for her latest endeavor. This squadron routine. This means that the men are always in Guantanamo. Olathe, Jacksonville or some where else, but rarely at home. The women stay the same, anyway.

There are many, many parties planned this week, mostly of the farewell nature. The Jacksons will be honored Friday night by their many friends. Louise and Jim Parker are the recipients of much attention these days, and The Doolleys are entertaining for the Smiths Friday night. The Haddens are having a horrible party Friday also, to bid farewell to the Horrible Duncans. At this time we are promised horrible food, a horrible time and I guess we must wear horrible clothes. That will be the easiest part. And I've never seen Anita do anything horrible yet.

The Hospital Auxiliary needs new members. Not desperately, but this would be a nice time to join, if you are going to be here for the summer. So many people go away, it is very difficult to get substitutes. Besides, the hospital is air conditioned and working there is very pleasant. It is pleasant all year round, I might add. If you are interested and would like to know more about it, give me a call and I will fill you in. We are having more and more navy patients at the hospital all the time, and could use some proportional volunteers. Those of you who have no children, or whose children who can

Cutting Down On Salt

By HERMAN M. BUNDELEM, M.D.

FOR most of us, food would flavor to a meal which might taste pretty flat without a little otherwise lacking in taste. salt. But you never realize how much natural salt, or sodium, there is in various foods, until your doctor places you on a sodium-restricted diet. Generally, our daily consumption of sodium in one form or another totals somewhere between three and six grams.

Cut Salt Intake

Simply by eliminating the use of salt in preparing the foods and at the table, you can cut this intake to between 1,000 and 1,500 milligrams, or a gram to a gram and a half.

For persons suffering congestive heart failure, high blood pressure, certain kidney diseases and other illnesses, even this amount may be too much. So the doctor will advise cutting down on sodium intake.

There's only one way to do it—confine the diet to foods with low sodium content.

Fruits and Vegetables

Raw fruits and vegetables will have had tuberculosis and am comprise a major portion of any such diet, because for the most part they contain insignificant amounts of sodium. They are especially desirable in a sodium-restricted diet, because they add by your doctor.

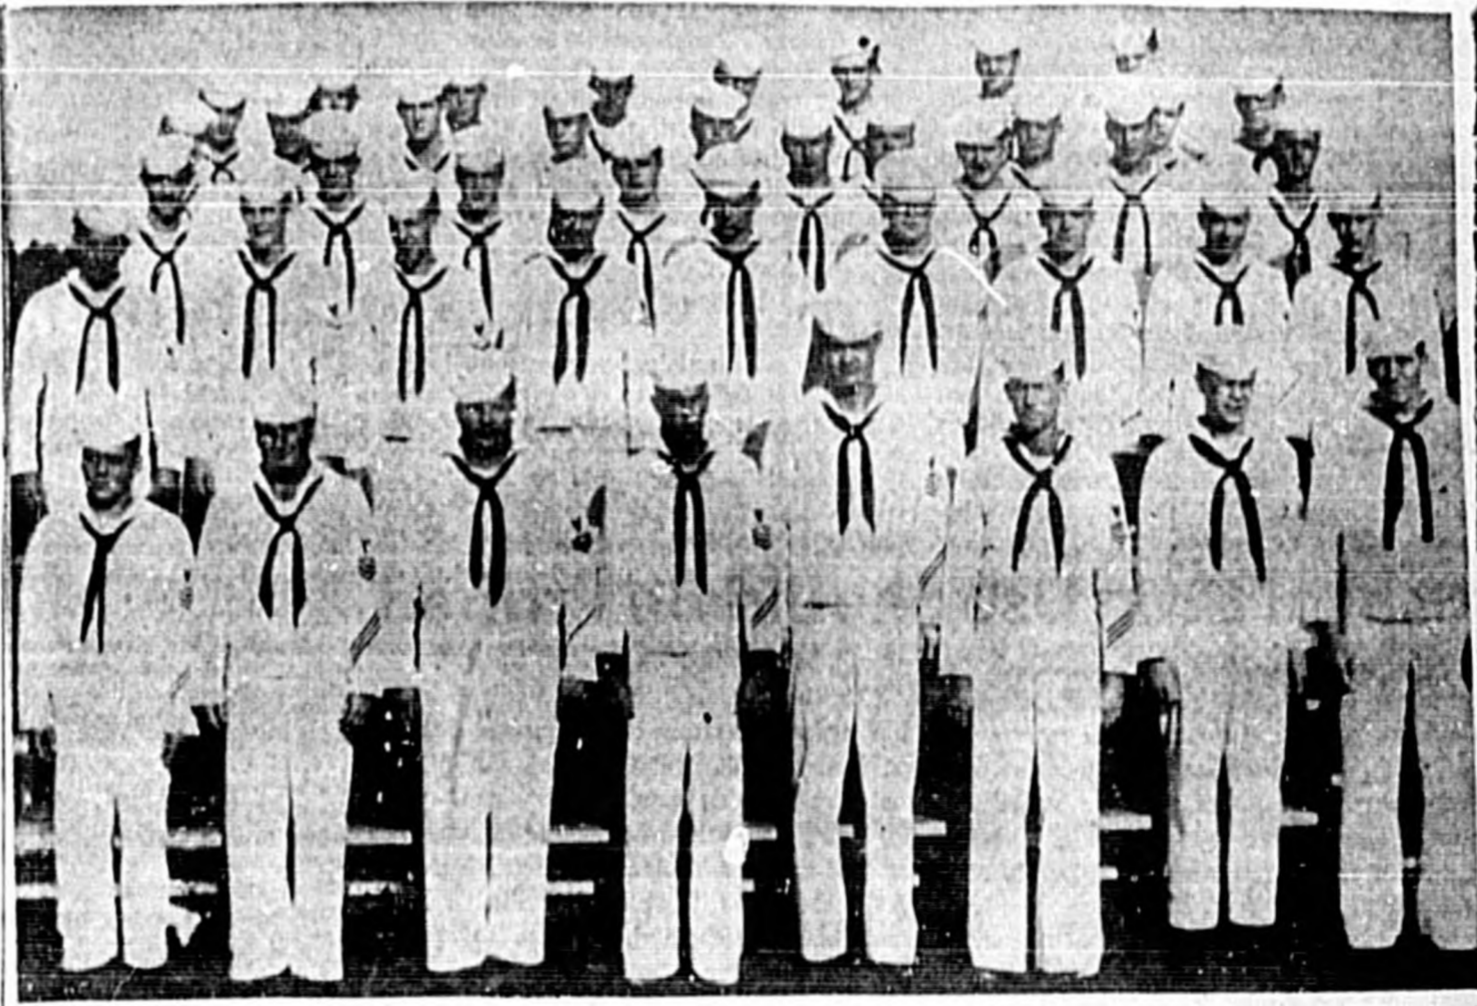

Banned from Diet

Larger amounts of sodium are found in shellfish and organ meats, so they are usually banned. The white of an egg contains considerably more sodium than does the yolk, and the dark meat of a chicken and other poultry has greater sodium content than does the white meat.

Use of salted bread and butter, of course, must be restricted. However, you don't have to go hungry on a salt-free diet. There are plenty of foods you can eat.

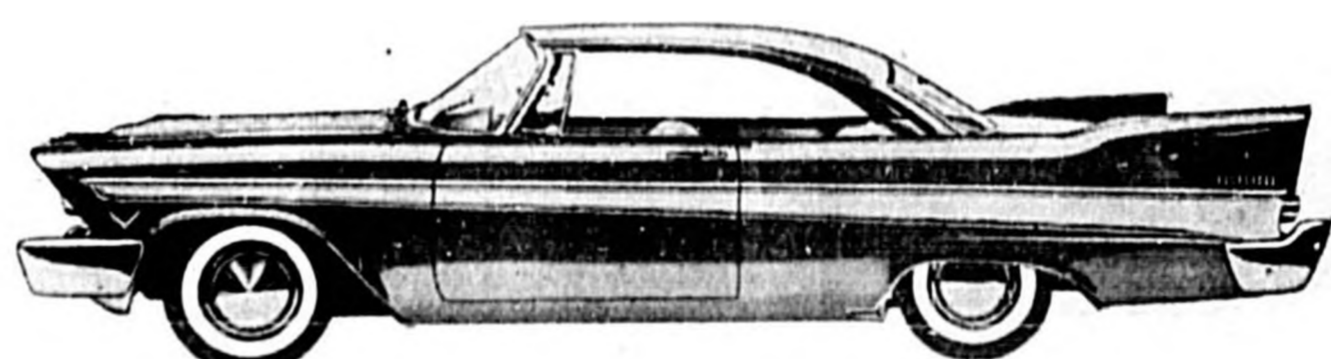

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Q: Mrs. U. P.: My metabolism is extremely low. My doctor wishes to give me thyroid. However, I have had tuberculosis and am afraid to take it. Can you advise me on this? A: Persons who have had part they contain insignificant amounts of sodium. They are especially desirable in a sodium-restricted diet, because they add by your doctor.

Automatic Waste Disposer Plan May Be Answer To Community Sanitation

Part of the price a flourishing civilization of 170 million people has to pay for its existence is constant attention to the detail of cleaning up after itself. One phase which is fighting a losing battle in this day of burgeoning Suburbia and overtaxed facilities, is garbage removal. Often a perplexing problem the year 'round to homeowners and city government alike, it becomes a crucial issue in the hot summer months when prompt removal is a question of public health.

Unfortunately, the problem won't go away. Literally and figuratively, it's right in our own back yard.

One solution has been less frequent pick-ups, which may help from the point of view of labor costs, but is definitely a poor method in terms of sanitary conditions.

One of the foremost manufacturers of electrical appliances, whose engineers have been working on the problem for a quarter century, reports that a more practical solution is to be found in an interesting trend that has become apparent in recent years. Increasingly, cities and communities are enacting local laws intended to alleviate the problem by requiring individuals to install electric food waste disposers in their homes. The point, of course, is to eliminate not only garbage removal, but garbage itself. Food wastes, harmless when new, are ground and washed away to the sewer lines or septic tank before they have a chance to decay into garbage.

The advantages to the homemaker lie in ending an unpleasant chore; safeguarding his family against disease risks, particuly in the hot months; and, in the cases where the homeowner has to arrange for his own cartage, to relieve him of a considerable extra expense. For the municipality concerned, the problem of refuse removal is considerably simplified, not only from the administrative point of view, but in the cost of personnel, landfill sites, trucks and other garbage removal equipment.

The number of communities requiring by law the installation of disposers in all "new-home" construction is growing rapidly. Among them now are Dearborn, Michigan; St. Paul, Minnesota; South Pasadena and Beverly Hills, California, as well as the highly concentrated metropolitan area of Detroit, which enacted such a law in 1955.

Some cities have gone the whole way and require disposer installations in all homes—old as well as new—and these include Jasper, Indiana; Shorewood, Wisconsin; South Euclid, Ohio; and Mount Dora, Florida. The present trend in metropolitan areas is toward codes permitting the use of disposers wherever desired, since research has shown that the liquidation of the wastes does not tax sewage systems to any appreciable amount. Chicago is the latest metropolis to enact such a code, joining San Francisco, Cleveland, Houston, Washington and Los Angeles.

As far as municipal government is concerned, it may well be a good idea to examine the issue thoroughly since an automatic waste disposer program is undoubtedly the healthiest—and possibly the most economical—approach to this phase of community sanitation.

School Drug Use Should Be Probed

The American Medical Association's decision to investigate the use of drugs to pep up athletes beyond their normal powers will be followed with widespread public interest. It seems a safe guess that few Americans would want to see the creation of so-called super-athletes at the cost of possible drug addiction.

One would hope, certainly, that no college or high school athletic coach would permit the use of amphetamine or other such drugs to stimulate extraordinary performance. That would negate the whole purpose of school athletics, which is to develop strong, well-coordinated bodies and the qualities of character that emerge from teamwork and competition. The use of stimulating drugs by professional boxers and other athletes would be frowned on almost equally.

Yet the nation's leading medical group has ordered a study of the matter because of reports that drugs are being used, not only by professionals, but to some extent by college and high school athletes. That sort of thing is intolerable. Even before the AMA concludes its study, individual schools and communities might do well to investigate the matter locally.

Mass Merchandising

More than two hundred years ago Thomas Fuller remarked that to sell cheaper means that either quality or service must be cut—usually both. Of course, this principle was laid down before mass production and its partner, mass distribution, existed, and these two forces have changed matters enormously.

Another statement by the same man however is as completely true today as it was then: "A fair profit must be made or one does not last long."

The modern retailer, chain and independent, has brought down prices by trading in greater volume. By this means goods can be sold cheaper and still be of quality. By the same means the standard of service can remain excellent and a "fair profit" can be made. Thomas Fuller and the retailers of today would have considered the percentage of profit earned under modern merchandising methods fantastically small.

Mass merchandising has out-moded the old theory that in order to sell cheaper, quality or service must be cut.

On Farm Front

By GAYLORD P. GODWIN
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department has issued recommendations to farmers on how to protect their families, livestock, crops and land from radioactive fallout in event of a nuclear attack.

The details are given in a bulletin titled "Defense Against Radioactive Fallout on the Farm," prepared in cooperation with the Atomic Energy Commission, the Federal Civil Defense Administration, and the U. S. Public Health Service.

The bulletin deals with contamination that may exist following atomic explosions during war. It emphasizes the recommendations are not the last word in defense against fallout. The study of the effect of radioactive fallout on agriculture is a continuing project and some of the suggestions may have to be changed.

Farmer Counted On
"If we were attacked with nuclear weapons you, the farmer, would be counted on to supply the food and fiber needed to keep the economy going," the department said. "One of the problems you might face in doing this important job is radioactive fallout."

"In the event of enemy attack first provide for your own safety and that of your family and neighbors. To do this, you may initially have to ignore your livestock, your crops, and your land. Your best protection from fallout is to remain indoors, preferably in a basement or cellar, and to avoid contact with contaminated objects. When in doubt, seek shelter. Authorities will make every effort to let you know when it is safe to come out of shelter."

The department warned that fallout could settle anywhere. Several feet of earth or concrete provide excellent shielding. The walls of an ordinary frame house give some protection.

MEETING HOT-WATER DEMAND Modern American homemakers demand a generous supply of hot water and, wherever possible, more than one bath-room per home. As these new facilities are added to thousands of new homes each year, the popularity of automatic gas water heaters continues to grow. The reason is the high "heat recovery" rate and compactness of the new gas operated equipment.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD A. DUNN JR.

Virginia Sapp, Donald Dunn Jr. United In Double-Ring Ceremony

In a quiet simple ceremony held Friday, June 7, in the College Park Baptist Church, Orlando, Tressa Virginia Sapp became the bride of Donald A. Dunn Jr.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Sapp of 2009 West South St., Orlando. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Dunn Sr. of Sanford.

Rev. Fayette Hall performed the double-ring rites against a background of greenery. Wedding music was played softly during the ceremony by the minister's wife.

Given in marriage by her father, the young bride chose a dach and cotton street-length dress of white. It featured a full skirt and high bow neckline with insets of lace accenting the bodice. She carried a white satin covered Bible topped with a single orchid and streamers of ribbons interspersed with orange blossoms.

Serving as only attendant was Miss Clara Morgan, friend of the bride from Orlando. She wore an aqua cotton street-length creation which featured a bouffant skirt and a fabric neckline. A tiny band of white flowers was worn in her hair. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations, roses, baby's breath and greenery off set by gathered bunches of blue lace.

Nolly Dunn served as his brother's best man.

Mrs. Sapp chose for her daughter's wedding a lavender street-length gown showing a scoop neckline and large collar. She had white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Dunn chose a varied-colored green print dress with a sweetheart neckline and matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rose buds, baby's breath and burnt orange ribbons.

Grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Lillie Futrell, Orlando was given a corsage along with the grandmother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Anna Cowan, Sanford.

A reception for family members and close friends was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard King, 5610 Arundel Dr., Orlando; brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

Centering the lace covered table was a three tiered wedding cake topped with the traditional miniature bride and bridegroom under an arch of roses and leaves.

Upon returning from a short wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the couple will reside at 2613 1/2 Jefferson Ave., Orlando. They plan to move to Sanford in a few months.

The new Mrs. Dunn is a graduate of Edgewater High School in Orlando; Class of 1956. She is employed at Southern Trucking Equipment Service, Orlando.

Mr. Dunn was born and reared in Sanford. He attended Semole High School and at the present time is employed with his father.

American Legion Has Covered Dish Supper Friday

The American Legion Auxiliary was hostess Friday night at a covered dish supper to the members of girls state and boys state representatives for this year.

The girls were introduced by Mrs. Sybil Routh, American Legion Auxiliary girls state chairman as Nancy Richards and Shirley Morgan.

Joel Field, chairman of boys state for the American Legion told of how the representatives are picked and named Sidney Vihlen, Al Collins, Dick Roundtree, Pat Donahue, and Richard Phagan as the boys state representatives.

Mrs. Dorothy Webster spoke to the representatives. Mrs. Routh, Mrs. Webster, and Mr. Field were given bouquets of gladiolus.

Prior to this, the members and guests were entertained by Sidney Vihlen and his orchestra consisting of Doug Payette, Johnny Peckham and Mrs. Lulu Bailey which was greatly enjoyed. Miss Shirley Vihlen also was well received in her tap and recitation numbers.

Another guest at the meeting was Mrs. Lillian Severs, District 6, President of the American Legion Auxiliary. Following the program, the business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Olga Hunter, unit president.

THE "DUTCH BOY" walking dress from Busy Perette's spring collection has interest both coming and going. At the front is a long row of bright black buttons; to the rear, the new full-back look achieved by three neat pinch pleats. Slim lines are softened by the flat stand-up collar and cuffs, and a series of waistline tucks give a modified peg-top effect to the skirt. A useful and smart model for spring, through cool summer days, right into fall.

Rare Night-Blooming Cereus Vine Blooms At Home Of Mrs. W. Scott

By ROSALIE HOLLAMON BECK
On Friday evening, Mrs. Lora Davis entertained at a neighborhood Canasta Party. The highlight of the party came when Miss Daisy Elrod, called for the guests and transported them to the home of Mrs. Wendell Scott at 407 Scott Avenue to view a night-blooming cereus vine.

This vine is seven years old and blossoms in a sub-tropical climate. Neighbors, strangers and passers-by stopped to see the rare plant and were made welcome by the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Scott. Each visitor left with one or two graceful feathery blooms and Sanford was indeed a friendly, flower-laden town. Fabulous Florida grows more fabulous every day.

Mrs. Davis' guests were Mrs. George Ewan, Mrs. Jay Beck, Mrs. Bertha Rhodes of Lake Mary and Miss Daisy Elrod.

A newly designed key, for use by clubs, will unlock a door only if the member's dues are paid.

Now Hear This!

by JACKY FENWICK

If this gets to you before the time does, be sure and make it to the Chief's Club for the Fleet Reserve Association: installation of officers. It starts at 7:00 P.M. and will last until midnight.

I don't think we can ever say too much about this organization and what it does for its members, and for others as well. I guess I couldn't pick a better time to tell you all about it, than the night that they start a new year, administration-wise at least!

The Fleet Reserve is an association organized some thirty years ago to promote the best interests and look out for the welfare of all its members. To be a member you must have completed six years of active duty as an enlisted member of the Navy or the Marines. The only way an officer is eligible to join is if he started his service career as an enlisted man! One of the prime aims of the Fleet Reserve is to defend the rights of its members on sea to it that they always get fair and just treatment in whatever the controversy. This covers everything from a hardship discharge to proper medical care for members of your family. It costs $2.00 a year to belong to the Fleet Reserve Association, and $75 of this is for a subscription to a monthly magazine called "Naval Affairs", a magazine that keeps all members informed of the latest developments regarding their rights. If you were to join the Fleet Reserve here in Sanford, and transferred out the next day, your membership "goes with you", so to speak! You can be transferred to any branch of the organization at your new duty station! There are branches all over the world, wherever there are sailors or Marines. The permanent office of the FRA is in Washington, D. C. Also of interest is the fact that they retain the full-time services of a law firm in Washington, for the sole purpose of representing the members when the need arises!

In addition to what I have already told you about the FRA, they also are there to handle all your affairs and claims for your survivors in the event of your death, at no cost to them. Once you've become a member, and as long as you keep up your dues, you will always have the Fleet Reserve Association behind you! Even after retirement! Well, I think, and hope, I've covered all the important points for you, and any omissions are not intentional! All this sounds like we're a Fleet Reserve family of long standing and I'm only doing all this because of a personal interest in it. (I'll be accused of it, I'm sure!) However, if you want to stop and check, you'll find that my husband is not, nor has he ever been a member of it! But you had better check quick, because now that we know what it's all about, he intends to join immediately!

leaves the end of June for two years active duty. They hope to still be there on July 13 so that they might help her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Glynn, celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Hope they have an easy trip with two-year-old Judy and three-year-old Barbara. Though I'm convinced that the smaller children are, the better they travel! (And this I say from experience!!!)

Do wish I had remembered to get this in earlier, but better late than never! Jacky Filby left today to join her husband in Hawaii. (Oh, for that kind of duty!) Jacky stayed behind, when he left a few months ago so that their daughter Jeff might be able to complete her junior year at Seminole High School. They go from here to Washington, D. C. to spend a week with Jacky's parents, and fly to the West Coast from there, where they board the queen of the new Hawaiian Line, the S.S. Lani. Jacky expects to join her husband Bill Filby, CWO, in Hawaii, on June 27. Has already wished her a pleasant voyage, and though she'll have her hands full with one-year-old "Chips", she'll have her very pretty Jeff to help her out, and they can't help but enjoy it, knowing who's at the other end!

Americans Will Spend Quarter Trillion Dollars

By ROBERT SHORTAL, United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — Americans are going to shell out more than a quarter of a trillion dollars this year for goods and services.

This record 277 billion dollars will go for everything—automobiles, houses, clothes, ice cream sodas, haircuts, vacations and even a few bets on the ponies. It averages about $1,500 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

It will be about 10 million dollars more than we spent last year. It will help keep the wheel of industry humming along at a prosperous clip.

Increased government and business spending will add fuel to the rise which is expected to carry the gross national product—the value of all goods and services produced—to a new peak of 435 billion dollars this year.

Consumers Most Important
 Consumer spending is the most important cog in the wheel—six times the amount to be spent on industrial expansion and three times the outlay by government.

In most cases, the consumer appears to be better off financially than ever before. Disposable income is at a record high. Savings and employment are near their best levels. The economic outlook, on the cloudy side a few months ago, has brightened considerably and many experts look for better business in the months ahead.

All these factors, economists predict, will combine to keep consumers in a buying mood.

More Expansion Seen
 Industry is expected to spend some 37 billion dollars for expansion, a gain of 2 billion dollars over 1956. Federal state and local governments will shell out around 106 billion dollars up more than 6 billion dollars from last year.

The picture is not all rosy, however. The economy this year has been going through a rolling adjustment—some industries declining and some advancing. The overall result has been a general leveling off in the economy.

Mitchum Latest Calypso Singer

HOLLYWOOD — One of the new promising calypso singers in the Capitol Records stable is not a Trinidadite but Robert Mitchum, who is most quick to admit that movie actors who become record stars are weak attractions.

Mitchum, in fact seem almost embarrassed that his album, "Calypso Is Like So", complete with a photograph of the star, a native girl and a bottle of rum is a popular item in record stores. "You could put John Foster Dulles on a record and sell a million copies," said Mitchum in his usual don't-give-a-hang manner.

Cohen Singing?
 "I've wonder how an album would do entitled, "Mickey Cohen Sings Say It Isn't So."
 "Well, the record companies don't want to hire bus boys. Whether I can sing or not is beside the point."

One music critic, complaining about film actors who record tunes, wrote that Mitchum "croaks" his calypsoes. But such observations bring only a glum shrug from the actor.

Apparently song publisher Lou Levy did not care whether Mitchum had a passable voice. Levy spotted him in a hotel bar one day and became excited when Mitchum drewled he was back from movie locations in the West Indies "Fire Down Below" and "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison" where he learned as much authentic calypso as he did dialogue.

So They Started
 "He said why don't I do some records," said Mitchum. "So next day we started the project. He sent somebody to Trinidad to copyright the tunes. I had learned them from some friends of mine there."
 "Of course, we had to clean up

"DELAYS BREED DANGERS"

One of the reasons why the average life expectancy is increasing each year is that people now are wise enough to consult their physician at the beginning of an illness. To delay proper treatment can be dangerous.

Grandma's home treatments were often helpful, but remember how long a cure took, and how weak they left you.

Don't handicap your physician's ability to help you! Always visit him at the beginning of an illness. Delay can be dangerous.

was mistaken for a "revelation" and had a difficult time talking himself out of that experience, he said.

The speaker recounted many items in the lives of his 133 farm families; their worshiping in the log mission church and holding their "singing dances" in the same building, the only one in which they could meet. Curtaining off the altar and moving the rough wooden benches to the sides, the folks engaged in a dance similar to present square dances, the first one lasting over an hour without a break.

According to Gordon L. Bradley who introduced the speaker, the sixtieth anniversary and guests enjoyed the remarks of Father Thomas, Dr. Charles L. Persons presided. Bradley offered the invocation while the club singing was led by Charlie Morrison with Harry Kudsk at the piano.

tract opposite the Municipal Baseball Stadium.

The proposal and its amendment met with unanimous approval of the Board of Commissioners.

The possibility that the 44-acre site between Mellonville and Locust Aves. was being proposed as a school site met varied reaction from members of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners. The area has been considered as a home building site by one or more developers. The entire tract is platted for streets and alleys and is in the center of a fast developing residential section of Sanford.

Mayor Gatchel had prepared, for the commissioners' perusal, a list of property taken off of the tax rolls for school use. The list contained 14 parcels along with its usage, assessed value and taxes that would be levied if taxable.

Property owned by the school board in the City of Sanford is shown as being valued at $171,700 with taxes, if levied, at $2,314.78.

Adventists Observe Saturday Sabbath

FOREST CITY (Special)—Seventh-day Adventists observe Saturday as the Sabbath because "it memorializes creation, is one of the Ten Commandments and was observed by Jesus Christ," delegates to the denomination's statewide camp meeting were told here Monday night.

In the second of two sermons on "Why I Am a Seventh-day Adventist," Francis D. Nichol, Washington, D. C. editor of the Adventists' weekly REVIEW and HERALD, explained: "I keep the Sabbath because the Bible is my only guide, and it lists only one morally binding weekly day of rest—the seventh day. The Bible makes clear that the seventh-day Sabbath was instituted on the seventh day of creation, the beginning of a weekly cycle which has not changed to this day."

"By holding to the Sabbath and observing it," Mr. Nichol said, "I keep creation ever clearly in mind and all that creation signifies—a personal God who created, who has promised to recreate me a new man in Christ Jesus and ultimately to give me a home in a new earth that He will create for those that love Him."

"Then too," the speaker continued, "the seventh day is enshrined in the Ten Commandments. That is why all the prophets, all the apostles and Christ himself always observed the seventh day and kept it holy Sunday was a man-made substitution which came into the church shortly after New Testament times."

The Adventist editor and theologian restricted his two-sermon series to the two main doctrines of the church: belief in the second coming of Christ and the Seventh-day Sabbath.

In an earlier service Monday, Pastor Taylor G. Branch of St. Luke Church in Washington, D. C., continued his sermon series on "The Message of Destiny." He declared that "a lukewarm Christian is worse in God's sight than a raw heathen. The Christian who drags his feet knows better, but the heathen doesn't."

Other speakers Monday included Chaplain William H. Berghem of the U. S. Army Reserve; Eric Ristau, secretary of the Adventist Publishing Department for eight Southeastern states; and Mrs. Taylor G. Branch, speaking on the "woman's place in the Christian home."

Tuesday the delegates will hear Pastor Bunch again at 11 A. M. and Evangelist Roland K. Comer

Plant Commissioner Ed L. Ayers yesterday gave the signal for bulldozers to move into a decline-infested citrus grove in the Ridge section of Polk County. Actually, this is a continuation of work interrupted by the court order, with the contractor completing the pushing of approximately 20 acres of citrus.

The high court, in reversing the decision of a circuit judge in Polk County, declared the push-and-treat program illegal unless coupled with a system of compensation for trees destroyed. This ruling effectively blocked the program, since no provision had been made for paying owners of bulldozed trees.

The legislature last week overrode the governor's veto and voted sufficient funds to continue the control program and to provide for reimbursing those growers who might protest the loss of "healthy" trees. This legislative-approved program goes into effect on July 1, the beginning of a new fiscal year.

In recent weeks requests have been dispatched to decline headquarters at Lake Alfred by growers anxious to have diseased groves pushed and treated. Those growers are willing to forfeit all claims for compensation in exchange for prompt action. The property of these volunteers now is going through the preliminary steps of mapping and delimiting.

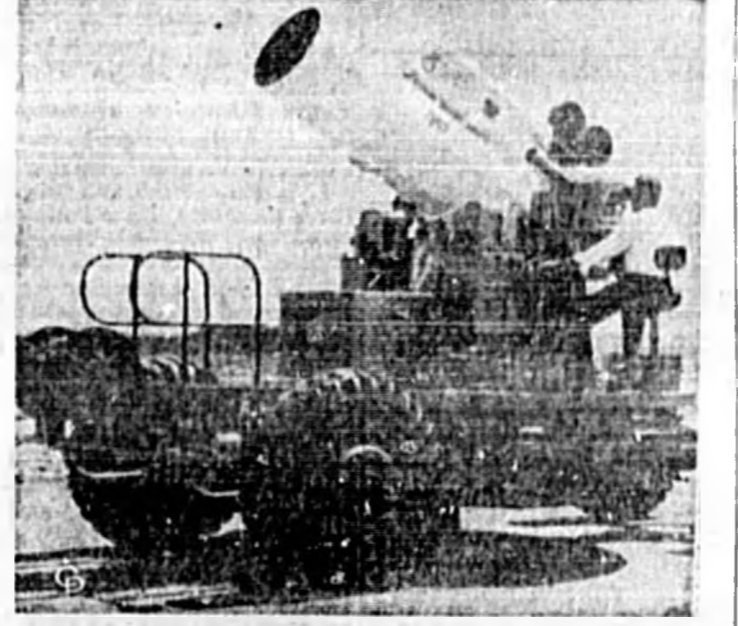

Ayers said he expected a great many growers to join the voluntary movement now that completion of the program had been assured. It was under a voluntary plan that more than 3,000 acres of infested citrus land were pushed and treated since start of the program in 1955. When the list of volunteers dwindled away, an attempt was made for compulsory participation and the result was the court case that eventuated.

Push, Treat Plan To Combat Decline Resumes This Week

The State Plant Board's push-and-treat program to combat spreading decline resumed this week after being sidetracked last January by a State Supreme Court ruling.

Seminole County is one of the 16 counties in which spreading decline has been found in citrus groves.

Plant Commissioner Ed L. Ayers yesterday gave the signal for bulldozers to move into a decline-infested citrus grove in the Ridge section of Polk County. Actually, this is a continuation of work interrupted by the court order, with the contractor completing the pushing of approximately 20 acres of citrus.

At no time did Miss McCoy state or imply that her child was to be placed in an institution.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis and their counsel gave this impression to the press.

The couple violated the law by purchasing a baby. Thompson claims this was verified by a sworn statement by a Dr. Sands that he "sold" the baby to Mr. and Mrs. Ellis.

The doctor broke the law by offering to dispose of the baby and further violated the law by selling the child.

Two authorized attorneys, hired by the Ellises as counsel, withdrew when the couple refused to follow their advice.

Mrs. Ellis is a guilty party in a divorce decree awarded to her first wife and is currently under order of court to pay alimony to his first wife.

Mrs. Ellis is also divorced. The couple have not provided good, continuing, stable supervision direction and standard home atmosphere for Hilly, as evidenced by the widespread publicity of the multiplicity of their homes in which they have lived to escape due orders of the Massachusetts Supreme Court.

There is no religious issue before the courts, nor has there been any religious issue considered by the courts in the several previous and pleas in the case. The issue has been one of custody of the child with the natural mother and the denial of the petition of the couple to adopt the child whose custody was awarded to the natural mother.

Under basic principles and standards subscribed to by all reputable and public and private agencies authorized to place children for adoption, Thompson is personally and officially confident that no agency public or private would select the couple as suitable adoptive parents and would not place any children in this home for adoption purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis are fugitives from several orders of arrest and contempt citations in Massachusetts courts.

Jordan-Egypt Relations Near Breaking Point

Radio Attack Heard

By United Press
Diplomatic relations between Jordan and Egypt neared the breaking point today. Cairo radio savagely attacked Jordanian leaders as traitors who should go to the gallows and blamed them for the loss of Palestine in 1948 when Israel defeated the Arab world.

It was the most bitter attack ever made by Cairo's "Voice of the Arabs" on another Arab state. It emphasized that Syria and Egypt had been left alone in the face of "positive neutrality."

Libya also was angry at the Egyptian government. Foreign Minister Wahbi Buri summoned Egyptian Ambassador Ahmed Hassan Fathi to his office in Tripoli and protested against Egyptian press attacks on Libya's rulers.

Registration To Start Tomorrow For Summer Recreation Program

Registration for the summer recreation program will be tomorrow and Friday mornings at 8:30 a.m. Children who live north of 26th St. will register at the Elk's playground in Fort Mellon Park on the lakefront; and those who live south of 26th St. will register at Pinecrest School.

John Angel, recreation director for the citywide program, said that all children who attended school this year, up to 12 years of age, may register. Parents are asked "not to register their pre-school children."

It was pointed out that all children must provide their own transportation to and from the playgrounds. Each morning will consist of three periods, a supervised play period, arts and crafts, and a swim period.

The daily program will begin at 8:30 a.m. and end promptly at 11:30 and parents are urged to "pick up your youngster at that time."

Afternoons and evenings will be devoted entirely to the teenage youngsters.

Another important phase of the recreation program will be the driver training program conducted by Bill Fleming, instructor at Continued On Page Two VAH-7 Taking Part In Naval Review At Norfolk, Va.

NORFOLK, Va. — A mighty 18-million feet moved smoothly into position late yesterday for the greatest international naval review in history.

Aboard the American carrier Randolph are over 100 officers and men of the Sanford Naval Air Station's VAH-7, Detachment 3A, together with five A-1J airplanes ready to participate in the gigantic sea show.

The ships began before dawn yesterday to form a 14-mile long line of naval might stretching from Hampton Roads to the Virginia Capes.

A United Press correspondent watched the sea giants from aboard a helicopter.

No doubt, the VAH-7 officers and men will bring back with them, following a cruise in the Mediterranean, some of the thrilling stories of the many-nation rendezvous as they jeckered into position in readiness for the review.

The perilous undertaking called for moving 85 American warships and 38 warships of 17 visiting nations—the largest number of ships ever moved in one day in Hampton Roads.

It was a precision maneuver. (Continued on Page Two)

Former Navy Man Returns To Sanford To Practice Law

A former Navy man, attached to the Sanford Naval Air Station, and now discharged from the service has returned to Sanford to set up his law practice.

Carroll A. Burke, a 29-year-old Kentucky man, married the former Miss Jessica Andrews of Sanford.

Burke is now in Sanford associated with Mack N. Cleveland Jr. in his law practice in the Sanford Atlantic National Bank Bldg.

The Burkes have two children, Kenneth Allen, four, and Glen Steven, two-and-a-half.

The young attorney attended elementary and high school in Kentucky and graduated in 1946. He then attended Western State College in Bowling Green, Ky. for two years in 1947 and 1948. He also had one year at Stetson University in Liberal Arts.

Burke attended Stetson Law School in Deland for one year and two years in St. Petersburg where he graduated in May of 1956.

He was admitted to the Florida Bar on Oct. 15, 1956.

The affable young man was in the U. S. Navy from Oct. 1948 to Oct. 1952. During that time he saw duty at the Great Lakes Training Center, NAS, Quonset Point, R. I. and NAAS, Sanford.

His duty with fighter squadrons took him on cruises aboard the U.S.S. Kestrel, U.S.S. Lathrop. He has visited Cuba, Japan, Panama, Korea, Sasebo, Yokosuka with Mediterranean cruises taking him into the ports of Lisbon, Portugal, Casco, France, London, Italy and Rome, Italy as well as Athens, Greece and Izmir, Turkey.

Burke was an aviation Machinist Mate with a rating of AD2. "I like Sanford," said Burke, "and that's the reason for my return here to begin my practice of law."

Mack N. Cleveland Jr. said "I am delighted to have Carroll Burke associated with me in my practice of law."

King Hussein himself was conferring with King Saud of Saudi Arabia on the worsening relations between Jordan and Egypt and it appeared the Arab rift extended to Saudi Arabia and Egypt as well.

Saudi Arabia and Jordan issued a communique today announcing that travel by Muslim pilgrims to Mecca via the Gulf of Aqaba was undesirable because of the "current situation" in the Gulf.

The communique cited Israel as conditions in the Aqaba area. Saudi Arabia recently protested to the U. N. Security Council against the presence of Israeli war vessels in "what is called 'Arab territorial waters'."

Israel dispatches hinted that the United States had urged Israel to tone down its claims to use the Gulf of Aqaba and to go slow on sending an Israeli test ship through the Suez Canal.

Jordan was depending more and more on Saudi Arabia for economic help, and an Amman dispatch today said a plan was being worked out whereby Saudi Arabia would buy more of Jordan's industrial products and invest more money in the Jordanian economy.

McKibbin Named To Head CoC; Cleveland Is VP

Members of the 1957-58 Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors named Clifford McKibbin, Sanford insurance executive, to a second term as president of the organization. McKibbin was reelected to the presidency of the chamber group by a unanimous ballot.

Named as vice president of the organization was Mack N. Cleveland Jr. also on a unanimous ballot. The young Sanford attorney and Seminole County Representative told the members of the Board of Directors "I appreciate the honor of being elected vice president and with the excellent leadership of the president and the manager, I hope to do a good job for you."

Dallas Loop, director of the Florida State Bank's Personal Loan Department was elected to the office of treasurer.

At a well attended meeting held at the City Hall directors agreed to approach both the City of Sanford and Seminole County for appropriations of $10,000 to be devoted to advertising the area's advantages. "Because of our accomplishments this year we will (Continued on Page Two)

Over $5 Billion OK'd To Run 17 Agencies

WASHINGTON 12 — The Senate today approved 72 to 0, a bill carrying $3,378,594,800 to run 17 independent government agencies for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

The total was $448,870,200 below the amount requested by the administration. But $163,750,000 of the reduction was in the appropriation for veterans' compensation and pensions and represented no savings. These payments are fixed by law and Congress must restore the money during the next year if it should be needed.

The bill was passed just as it came from the Senate Appropriations Committee except for the addition of $370,000 for the General Services Administration.

Of the total in the bill, most would go to the Veterans' Administration, for which $1,686,594,900 was earmarked.

This was the third of four money bills on the Senate program this week. It now goes to a House-Senate conference committee for adjustment of differing versions passed by the two chambers. The Senate total was $6,606,900 below the House version.

C. Morrison Will Present Jaycee Program Tomorrow is there slant in the Bible? What does the status of the Jimmie Swan hold in his right hand? What American princess married an Englishman? What two coins total 15 cents and one is not a dime? What was the name of the president of the U. S. in 1916? Who is the most important person in a story? Who made the first solo flight around the world? In what theatre was Lincoln shot? Who ran and ran and ran and never became president?

These questions and over 100 others will be asked at the weekly meeting of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce tomorrow noon by Charles Morrison, for several years a member of the advertising staff of the Sanford Herald, and at present, director of public relations and good will "ambassador" for Joller Motor Sales. Morrison, well-known throughout Central Florida as a quizmaster, will present silver dollars to the Jaycees who qualify by answering a few questions in various categories. Members of Rotary and Kiwanis here who are also members of the Junior Chamber will find many chances in the program which has already been staged before their respective clubs.

Jaycee president, M. L. "Sonny" Raborn Jr. in asking Morrison to handle tomorrow's program, stated that he had tried, without success, to get a good program to start his term of office. "Since many of the high class programs we usually have are not, at this time available, we will settle for genial, corpulent Charlie," he said.

A large crowd was in attendance at the Chief's Club last night for the installation of officers of the Fleet Reserve Association. The ceremonies commenced at 7 p. m., and were completed by 7:55 p. m. The ceremony was quite impressive with all the new officers and Board members escorted to the rostrum by the Sergeant-at-Arms.

Girls To Attend YWA Session At Ridgecrest

Two 16-year-old Sanford girls leave this afternoon for Ridgecrest, N. C. where they will represent the First Baptist Church in a week-long session during "YWA Week" at the popular conference camp.

Miss Marchetta Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Campbell and Miss Marcelle Elford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Elford were chosen by the Young Women's Mission Association of the Baptist Church for the six-day event.

"Good attendance" and "interest shown" in YWA meetings and to come to the aid of their party work were responsible for the representatives being chosen for the trip and conference.

The YWA is a branch of the Women's Missionary Union of the church, a spokesman said today. The W.M.U. is sponsoring the trip for the two girls.
