SANTA CLARA, Aug. 17.—(A.P.)—Eleven leaders of the rebellion which started last week when they overthrew President Batista, said to-day, were arrested and condemned, as he expected to release no leaders late today.

HAVANA, Aug. 17.—(A.P.)—Eleven rebels were among those former President Mario G. Menocal, who left Havana nine days ago to lead a revolution they hoped would blast President Batista from power, came back yesterday, prisoners of war aboard a gunboat.

With their coming, the uprising sporadic skirmishing that has taken place, according to an official count, 72 lives—apparently died, although government troops in Santa Clara province were reinforced.

Guanabacoa fortress, towering over the harbor into which the gunboat Fernando Quevedo, escorted by the cruisers Cuba and Esmeralda, slowly steamed yesterday morning, opened up its walls to receive General Menocal, president from 1913 to 1921, Col Carlos Mandella and the other members of their general staff, who surrendered Friday in Pharo Del Rio province.

They were encircled on the 11th by hours of fighting before their surrender. They were won by the figure of march and flight about hilly, wild Pharo Del Rio, while troops, for days, pressed ever closer upon them, thus catching (Continued on Page Two)

Most Brutal Murder In Reported By Police

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—(A.P.)—Police today revealed details of what they called the most brutal murder in Brooklyn crime annals, the killing of three girls who were made targets for flung knives in a speakeasy cellar. The victims, Charles Maturi, Charles Simmonelli, and Joseph Barberi, were found dead in a cellar; their heads crushed and bodies covered with knife wounds.

Police said an eye witness told them that two girls had been assaulted in a speakeasy and returned with six men friends. Identifying the three men as those who had attacked the girls one by one, the witness said the accused men were made to sit on a chair while the six avengers hurried knives and stilettoes. Each murderer was completed with black-jacks.

The state banking department prepared to take over their assets to conserve their assets.

In the face of previous steady withdrawals by depositors police patrolled the banking districts in preparation for any public emergency. Meanwhile there is pending a meeting between Mayor Jackson and Adjutant General Frank Heideman commanding the Ohio National Guard.

DALLAS, Tex., Aug. 17.—(A.P.)—Earth tremors shook central and west Texas yesterday, first in this section in more than a quarter of a century. Houses were reported shaken in scores of cities, but Valentine, in far southwest Texas in the southern Sierra Madre mountains, seemed to bear the brunt of the shock. Many adobe residences were wrecked. No loss of life was reported, but one man was injured.

At Home, two distinct shocks were felt, a rocking motion appearing to run from the northwest to the southeast along the rock uplift.

Taylor was the farthest city to report the shock to the east, giving it a width of at least 300 miles in Texas.

At Valentine the most severe tremor was preceded and followed by lighter ones. The first tremor aroused most of the residents. (Continued on Page Three)

The couple, on an aerial vacation trip, landed there yesterday after a flight of 554 miles from Khabarovsk, off the eastern Siberian coast.

The Lindberghs were met by two launches, which escorted the plane to an anchorage while 60 school children stood under a crude arch, erected on the landing stage in welcome to the Americans, and sang Russian songs.

In Tax Collections

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—(A.P.)—Treasury figures on tax collections for the fiscal year 1931 made public yesterday were an eloquent explanation on why there was a governmental deficit of more than $300,000,000 on July 1.

The statistics compiled by the internal revenue bureau showed a decrease of $61,916,978 in the $3,427,755,754 tax collections in the fiscal year. The figures did not include customs collections.

The major factor in the 23 percent drop was the falling off of income taxes which declined from $2,410,250,230 in 1930 to $1,860,440,497 last year. Individual income taxes totaled only $832,647,758, a drop of $133,196,685 and corporation taxes decreased $237,821,767 to an aggregate of $1,028,392,699.

Estate taxes during the last year totaled $48,078,362, a drop of $16,691,398. Every other major division of government tax income showed declines as compared with the previous year and only four subdivisions of 36 showing increases.

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—(A.P.)—Frank L. Smith, who was refused a seat in the United States Senate after his election in 1926, stated last night in an open letter to Prof. Carroll H. Woody of the University of Chicago that Julius Rosenwald, Chicago millionaire, offered him 10,000 shares of Sears-Roebuck stock to withdraw from the senatorial race of 1926.

Smith quoted Rosenwald as saying in a conversation Oct. 3, 1926, to the Congress at Chicago: "If you will withdraw from the senatorial race, I am here to offer you 10,000 shares of Sears-Roebuck stock." Smith added that he declined the offer without hesitation.

Appraised of the Smith letter, Lessing Rosenwald, son of the philanthropist, issued the following statement:

"The members of Mr. Rosenwald's family are not bringing to his attention the controversy between Professor Woody and Mr. Smith."

"Mr. Rosenwald has been confined to his bed for the last four months and that nothing may distract him from his rest,"

TOOMER, ULMER REACH FINALS IN ASHEVILLE MEET

Two Florida Men Will Face Each Other In 36-Hole Play Today

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Aug. 15.—(A.P.)—Jack Toomer and Al C. Ulmer, both of Jacksonville, Fla., will meet here today in the 36-hole finals for the championship in the annual Biltmore Forest country club invitation tournament.

Yesterday Toomer, Florida champion, made a sensational rally against Joe Adams, of Biltmore Forest to win in the 21st hole, one up, while Ulmer downed G. W. Spencer, of Sanford, Fla., easily, 8 to 6.

Adams had Toomer three down and four to go at one time, and then two down and three to go. Finally Toomer was down two. Here Adams hooked his drive into the rough on the 17th and although he managed to get a par five, Toomer was on in two and down in two putts for a birdie four to stay in the fight.

On the home hole both were on in two, and Toomer, rolled it with a four-foot putt at the 18th. Adams putted to within 15 inches of the can.

Toomer holed his putt for a four and Adams missed the short putt for a match win and the golfers went to the 19th. They halved the 19th and 20th in fours and on the short 21st both were on from the tee. Toomer laid his putt dead while Adams was four feet over. He missed coming back to give Toomer the finalist honors.

Ulmer was six up on Spencer at the turn and experienced little difficulty in doing so. Ulmer won the first six holes from Spencer and roared to victory. Spencer defeated Carl Dann, Jr., the defending champion, Thursday, one up, although Dann should have won the contest easily.

The Gators kept up their winning ways at the expense of the Pirates when they defeated 2 to 1 in a smart pitch's classic. Mel Ott's fifth homer in the last three days and his 22nd of the year was the margin of victory which fell on the shoulders of the Giants and young Jim Moneymaker, a rookie left-hander making his first start in the big show. The Pirates outhit the Gators, but sparkling hitting and heady pitching saved the day.

The Phillies busted the Cubs in the 10th for the third time during their five game series, winning by a 14 to 4. Bush, Sweetland, Baechl, and Teachout, all paraded before the hard-hitting Phillips, all of whom got one or more hits with Pitcher Benge getting four for four. The Cubs managed to get seven hits, bunching them for their four runs. Hartnett hit a Homer for the Cubs in the eighth, went out to deep right field, and came home from third.

The Braves swept a double bill from the Reds to even the series. Great pitching by Brandt and Sherdell was responsible. Brandt won the first game 1 to 0, while Sherdell capped the second 2 to 1, allowing only five hits. Lance, Richebourg's triple with Brandt on at the top of the eighth, scored the only run of the first game in which the Reds got six hits to the Braves' seven off. Brandt was headed for a shut-out until Nick Cullop, hitting for Karp in the eighth, went out to deep right field, and home came home from third.

The White Sox made it three straight from the Senators, if you can believe that. The score was 8 to 4, and the game had a rip-roaring finish when in the ninth, with two men on and one out, Frazer came into the game for the Sox and struck out the next two batters. Reynolds hit a Homer for the Sox. Jones, the Senator pitcher got three hits in three tries.

The Indians took a double-header from the Yanks by scores of 12 to 7 and 9 to 1. Gehrig, Averill, and Ruth hit homers in the first game which the Indians won by sheer hitting ability. Hudson let the Yanks down with six hits in the night-cap, uh got four hits in eight tries all day, to lead off the sluggers during the day.

The Red Sox beat the Sox out of the series, winning by a 12 to 6 score, and evening their four game series. McMillan and Kress led the Browns to their win by great hitting performances in pitchers. Cuffman was touched for nine hits, but held them in check as the Browns got 13 three-burners for plenty of runs.

County's Appeal Against Levy Is Denied By Court

(Continued From Page One) ing in a discussion of recommendations by their attorneys as to the next step to be made against the levy.

A brief history of the efforts to bring about the construction of a canal, as revealed in an interview with H. B. White, attorney for the County Commissioners, and Fred R. Wilson, of Wilson and Boyle, associate counsel in the matter, reveals that the Upper St. Johns River Navigation District was organized and incorporated by a legislative act passed at the special session of the 1925 Legislature. Considerable publicity attended the inception of the idea and its dissemination among residents of this section.

The purpose of the district is to promote the maritime shipping and commercial interests of the upper St. Johns River, and to bring about the construction of a canal connecting the St. Johns and Indian Rivers. Clay, two counties, Seminole and Brevard, are included in the district, agitation against the plan in Volusia, Putnam and Orange counties along the upper St. Johns quieting all efforts to effect the co-operation of those counties.

Under the terms of the act, the Commissioners of the district were authorized to issue bonds in the sum of $750,000 for the construction of the canal and other improvements. A tax levy of not less than three nor more than eight mills was authorized, the millage to be divided between the two counties.

In 1926 Brevard county levied four mills, collected the anticipated revenue, and apparently turned it over to the District to be used in payment of lawyer's fees and engineering costs in connection with surveys made. Because of considerable local opposition, a Seminole County Commissioner refused to make the levy.

Later that year, Judge Wallace W. Wright upheld the validity of the act creating the District, an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court by the County Commissioners, and the lower court was reversed on a technicality arising out of the serving of the process.

In 1927, the Legislature passed an amendment to the bill originally creating the district, and increased the amount of bonds the district might issue to $1,250,000, but provided that the bonds could not be issued except upon authorization by a vote of the people. On Aug. 16, 1927, the bond issue was defeated by a 2 to 1 vote.

The amended act also provided that in the event the issuance of the bonds should not be authorized by the people, no tax could be levied except a tax against that portion of the district which may be raised from a four mill levy in this county, the average to be borne by both the counties.

Mr. Wilson declared that there are other indebtedness but that he had not been able to determine their nature or amount. He further stated that if the debts are found to exceed the amount which may be raised from a four mill levy in this county, the average is to be borne by both the counties.

The district's board is now composed of but two members, A. P. Connally, of Seminole, and Dr. W. J. Clegg, of Eau Gallie, treasurer of the board. Three of its original members, W. F. Allen, of Oviedo, and J. G. Ball and Geo. W. Knight, of Sanford, are deceased. Governor Doyle E. Carlton has the power to appoint additional commissioners to complete the board.

In pursuance of that provision of the act, Seminole County levied a one mill tax in 1928, about $100,000 of which was collected by Jas. D. Jenkins, its tax collector. However, the County Commissioners were not satisfied with the terms of the act and its effect on the members of the organization before the courts, brought a suit instituting by the following taxpayers: C. W. Entzminger, R. G. Smith, H. H. Pittman, Joe Camerer, and Ben Parcell. The board paid approximately $100,000 for the cotton bought from the 1928 crop. At present its investment has dwindled in value to about $80,000,000.

Taxes which have been waived in the past will be collected in full after September 1 according to a resolution passed. Also that the acceptance of city bonds in payment of delinquent taxes and improvement items will be discontinued on the same date.

Counter Plans To Help Cotton Men Considered

(Continued on Page Six) ing that 10 of that number must accept the plan to make it effective. In return, the board promised to withhold stabilization stocks, or cotton from the market for a year.

Senator Caraway (D. Ark.) telephoned the board urging adoption of a substitute plan. He proposed that the board purchase 7,000,000 bales at not less than 8 cents a pound from farmers who would contract not to plant next year.

This proposal is similar to one advanced by Senator Smith (D. S.C.), who suggested purchase of surplus cotton from farmers to be resold to them next year at the purchase price, plus a reasonable interest, storage and insurance charge provided they sign legally enforceable contracts to grow no cotton next year.

Senator Smith advanced this idea last winter, but it was rejected by the board. In a letter to the manager, Carl Williams, cotton manager, pointed out the impossibility of obtaining such contracts under the law.

The board itself has no alternative to offer now in the event Southern governors fail to adopt its drastic emergency suggestion.

Bonds sold down in New York and New Orleans yesterday at the opening, but rallied and closed yesterday at 10 points lower in New York and 4 1/2 in New Orleans. Gains up to $1.50 a bale were recorded Thursday after publication of the cotton destruction plan.

While awaiting the governors' answer, the board considered the financing program of cotton cooperatives for this crop year. Directors of the American Cotton Co-operative Association agreed upon a program this morning.

Even though the board's suggestion is rejected, officials here expect the board to announce a formal agreement to hold the 1,200 bales of stabilization cotton bought in 1929 from the market for another year. It is likewise held certain the cotton cooperatives will make a similar announcement concerning the 2,100,000 bales they own.

These cotton stores are held joint under arrangements which save large sums of money over a long period of years. The cost is about $4 a bale a year. The cooperatives have been promised financing by the board which will permit them to hold their stocks for two more years.

It was learned from a reliable source yesterday that stabilization operations will not be undertaken again. Speculation on this possibility was aroused when the Cotton Stabilization Corporation selected Alexander Legge, former Farm Board chairman, as its directorate.

The board paid approximately $100,000 for the cotton bought from the 1929 crop. At present its investment has dwindled in value to about $80,000,000.
