Protestant Churches Muffling

By LOUIS CASSELL
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 America's Protestant churches are muffling the greatest evangelistic opportunity of this century. That stark verdict was reached by 1,500 Methodist leaders from all parts of the country who met in Washington to discuss what churches are doing—and failing to do—in the downtown areas of big cities.

The consensus was that Methodists and other Protestant denominations are concentrating too much on the relatively prosperous suburbs, and too little on the blighted "inner city" areas where millions of families have no church ties.

Need Missionary Work
 The conclusions of the three-day conference were documented, with typical Methodist thoroughness, by a wide variety of surveys, statistical reports, and sociological studies.

Here are some of the most significant findings:
 A generation ago, the new families moving into the crowded inner section of cities were European immigrants of predominantly Roman Catholic background. Today the newcomers are white and Negro families from the South and from rural areas, with Protestant backgrounds.

Neither the Methodists, nor other major Protestant denominations, are effectively serving this vast "missionary field."

 One survey of 50 "inner city" churches showed that more than half had barely held their own or had suffered a loss of membership during the past 10 years while the population of their urban neighborhoods was rising sharply.

Another showed startling low rates of church membership and attendance among families living in apartment houses and mass housing projects.

No City "Plan"
 Several speakers noted that Protestant denominations have no overall plan for serving the inner city. Individual churches are "left to work out their own problems as best they can." Many of them are in dire financial straits. They find it difficult to obtain ministers. Elderly women comprise a disproportionately large percentage of the typical congregation. Competent lay leaders are hard to find.

The conferees decided that the first step toward a solution of these problems for church members everywhere — especially those in the booming suburbs—to recognize that they share the responsibility for offering a vigorous Protestant ministry to the inner city.

As one report put it:
 "No individual church in a blighted area can stand alone. It must have the moral and perhaps financial support of the entire denomination in the work it attempts to do."

The places where deer and other wild animals come to lick the salt at out-croppings from the earth are known as "licks."

17,000 'Phones Used In Autos

NEW YORK (AP)—There was this rich Texan named Abe and this other rich Texan named Sol, and they were always competing in the field of show-off living.

Abe gets his wife a mink coat. So does Sol. Abe gets a white Cadillac. Sol too. Abe calls up Sol one day and says:

"Guess where I am—I'm in my white Cadillac talking to you over my new mobile car-telephone." Sol gets busy. Next day he phones Abe's automobile number.

"Abe, old boy," he says, "I too am in my car speaking over my new mobile phone."

"Just a minute, Sol," says Abe, "my other phone's ringing."

Let us behold, today, the telephone as an institution. There are nearly 68 million of the noisy things in use in the United States, and about 17,000 of these are in automobiles.

The phone is just getting into private airplanes. This is in the Detroit-Chicago area, on a trial basis. Both cities have radio stations operated by the phone company for mobile service, air-to-ground, and about 25 planes have phones—as does one commercial airliner.

Recently a man in South America telephoned a business associate in Chicago and finally got him in his private plane near Milwaukee.

Another trial run is taking place in Allentown and Bethlehem, Pa., and has been authorized for Columbus, Ohio, in a couple of months. It's a "personal signaling service" in which the user carries a gadget about the size of an overgrown glasses case wherever he goes. When he's wanted on the phone, the operator sends a signal that makes the gadget whistle. The user goes to the nearest phone and calls a pre-arranged number to get his call.

Several doctors, lawyers, delivery men, and priests are trying it

The phone people are somewhat nettled that there are more two-car families in the United States, 3,700,000 than there are two-phone residences, 3,400,000. But they find consolation that their 63-million-phone national figure beats the 59,106,000 passenger cars now on U. S. roads.

The phone experts have conquered many problems, but admit defeat on one thing—an effective conversation-limiter for teenage girls.

France Confronted With Critical Situation In North Africa

United Press Staff Correspondent
France is facing a critical situation in North Africa. It is embroiled in a serious dispute with Tunisia, its former protectorate, over the bombing of a Tunisian village near the Algerian frontier.

It has come under severe criticism by the United States because some of the planes used in the bombing were American. The State Department says the planes were supplied solely for use in the North Atlantic Treaty defense area in Europe.

To make things worse, the rebels in Algeria have opened a new offensive and have engaged French forces in four sectors.

The Algerian revolt, of course, lies behind the entire situation and behind most of France's present grave troubles. France and Tunisia accepted the diplomatic "good offices" of the United States and Britain in the Tunisian dispute.

Murphy is secretary of state, is now in Tunisia negotiating with President Habib Bourguiba. But he seems to be faced with an almost impossible task in attempting to bring France and Tunisia together.

President Bourguiba now insists that Murphy must go into the entire Algerian issue in his attempt to mediate. Premier Felix Gaillardet of France, trying desperately to keep Algeria out of international politics, rejects that demand.

Algeria is different. Algeria is not, as were Tunisia and Morocco, a French protectorate. It is politically a part of France itself, with representation in the French Parliament. Hence Gaillardet holds that Algeria is purely of internal French concern.

But every attempt to end the revolt since it broke out on Nov. 1, 1954, has failed. Upwards of 500,000 French troops have failed to crush the rebels. Legislation providing for a large measure of home rule for Algeria has failed to provide a way out.

GOP Accelerates New Public Works Program

Takes Hard Work To Win Trophy

Commander J. J. Tully Jr., commanding officer of VAH-3 at the Sanford Naval Air Station, said that it takes "just plain ordinary hard work" to win the Conover Trophy in one of Heavy Attack Wing One's quarterly bombing derbies.

Cdr. Tully spoke this morning to a capacity audience at the monthly Seminoles County Chamber of Commerce Coffee Club.

More than 60 Chamber of Commerce members and visitors heard Cdr. Tully explain the various phases of a bombing derby.

The graphic descriptions were available through the use of charts.

"Each squadron has three crews in the quarterly bombing competition," he told Chamber of Commerce Coffee Club visitors. The purpose of the derby is to improve efficiency and the esprit d'corps of the unit.

Describing the flying of the route on a chart of "Shape Drop," Cdr. Tully pointed out on the colorful diagram how the route was achieved.

On the RDS chart, the commander pointed to locations where radar ground units fixed "the plane in space" from which the dropping of a bomb could be computed.

The radar scope was described by use of a chart showing a simulated picture on which he described how to designate the target.

"The Conover Trophy is given by the North American Aviation Company in honor of the first pilot to fly a heavy attack bomber," explained Cdr. Tully, who added "when a squadron wins it three times in succession it becomes a permanent award."

"All of us like the Sanford Naval Air Station and we appreciate the attitude of the people of this area toward our problems," concluded Cdr. Tully.

Charlie Morrison, who introduced Cdr. Tully, said "We're awfully glad you fellows are on our side."

Eight officers of VAH-3 accompanied Cdr. Tully to the Coffee Club meeting.

WASHINGTON (UP) — The administration today pushed a stepped-up public works program to create more jobs and ease the economic recession.

A majority of the House-Senate economic committee meanwhile lined up with President Eisenhower in opposition to a tax cut now as an anti-recession weapon. The President said the time has come to press and accelerate works projects already underway. He added that work will begin on a number of other projects still in the planning stage for which funds have been approved.

Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-

Utah) reported after a conference with Eisenhower that the chief executive had ordered Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton to review reclamation projects which might be speeded up to combat unemployment and strengthen the economy of western states.

The House-Senate committee agreed with Eisenhower that taxes should be cut only if the recession worsens after other government actions to stimulate business recovery.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy said the administration will ask Congress next month for more than $1,300,000,000 for high "priority" defense programs to meet Russia's space challenge.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce opposed any cut in defense funds. But it called for a 3-billion-dollar cut in the overall 1959 budget as a companion measure to its earlier demand for an equal cut in taxes.

Employment Service Office Here Now Open

The Florida Employment Service office in Sanford, located at 110 West Second St., is "ready to get into full swing," said D. R. Hahn, Jr., local manager.

"We've spent this week getting our office set up and files in shape in order to efficiently take care of citizens of this community," he said.

The major function of the office, which has just been set up here, is to register individuals seeking employment or those employed who want to become exposed to other positions. Explaining the functions and methods used in the local office, the manager said that applications are filed in three types. Those he said are male, female and veteran. Each card filed on the individual is of a distinctive color separating it from the others.

Those making application are interviewed and then notified of possible openings. He said that the applications are kept active in the office files for 30 days unless the applicant is receiving unemployment compensation when the application is kept active indefinitely.

"The office will handle unemployment claims, also," said the local manager. These are for veterans, Florida unemployed people, Interstate claims, and Federal claims.

"At the present time we have 150 active claimants from this office," Hahn stated.

"We want to urge employers to use the service of this office," Hahn emphasized yesterday in an interview with The Sanford Herald.

"We have 19 different classifications of unemployed people that need jobs now," he said. "In Sanford we would like to see local business people, builders, manufacturers, and housewives to use the services that the Florida State Employment Office affords," said Hahn.

At the same time, the manager stated, "we want all of the unemployed to register with the office in order that we might help find jobs for them."

Hahn explained that there are

Bystander Hit By Rifle Shot

A bystander, 100 yards and to the right of the direction in which a 22 rifle was fired, was accidentally hit in the back.

Sheriff Luther Hobby, this morning, said that F. F. French of Lake Katherine was shooting his rifle at a snake on Gee Creek when by a freak accident the bullet ricocheted and hit Eugene Orr about 6:30 p. m. last night.

The accident was investigated by Deputy Sheriff L. J. Kriz who said in his report that Orr was taken to the Winter Park Memorial Hospital.

Kriz reported that the doctor revealed that there will hardly be any complications but the man was held overnight in the hospital.

German Girl To Attend School Here Next Year

The Boys and Girls Committee of the Sanford Kiwanis Club revealed yesterday that a German girl has been selected as an exchange student to attend Seminole High School next year.

Committee Chairman Douglas Stenstrom said that the high school student will live with Dr. John Wilson and his family during her stay here.

The young lady selected and approved by the committee is Brigitte Geissler, a 17-year-old high school girl of Farnstrasse 15, Boshum Westphalia, Germany.

Her father and mother are Mr. and Mrs. Hans Geissler. He is a merchant in his community.

The young lady has fair hair, weighs 100 pounds and is 5 feet 8 inches tall.

Sponsored by the George District of Kiwanis International, the exchange student program brings students to this country for a year.

Stenstrom said yesterday that the girl is being considered by another club and that in case she is chosen by others, another selection will be made.

This is the first participation in the program, Committee Chairman Stenstrom said, for the local club.

BRIGITTE GEISLER, selected by the Boys and Girls Committee of the Sanford Kiwanis Club as an exchange student, will probably attend school here for one year.

Herron Hurt As Car Crashes Into Ditch Yesterday

Ray W. Herron, 48-year-old Sanford automobile man, narrowly escaped being crushed to death yesterday afternoon when he apparently lost control of his car on Grapeville Ave. and crashed into a deep ditch.

The 1954 Ford automobile Herron was driving was a total loss. According to investigating officers, the automobile approached a railroad crossing on Grapeville Ave. at McCracken Road, during an afternoon rain. In all probability, an investigating officer said, one of the front wheels grabbed when Herron attempted to slow down for the train crossing at the intersection.

The front end of the automobile was partially buried in the dirt embankment as the car straddled a deep ditch and only a bare inch or so from a concrete culvert.

In addition to the front end being badly damaged, the front windshield was smashed where Herron's head went into it, and the steering wheel was smashed as his body was thrown into it by the impact.

Herron, employed by the Willis Pontiac, was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital where it was determined his injuries were not serious. He received a laceration on the forehead and a chest injury.

The automobile man was traveling north at the time of his accident about 4:40 p. m. yesterday. Investigating officers were Deputy Sheriffs Verne Brewster and A. E. Evans.

No other car was involved.

THIS CAR WENT out of control late yesterday afternoon on Grapeville Ave. at McCracken Rd. Driver of the automobile was Ray W. Herron. The car, investigating officers said, was a total loss. Herron was injured and taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital. (Staff Photo)

Cdr. Deans To Head Unit In Puerto Rico

Commander Thomas Chilton Deans, who has been the Administrative Officer at the Naval Air Station, Sanford, since Feb. 21, 1956, recently received his orders to take command of Fastron-105 based at Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico.

Commander Deans, presently a "Sanfordite," is originally from Goldsboro, N. C. He graduated from Lees McRae College, Banner Elk, N. C., in June 1939 with an Associate of Arts degree.

In October 1939, Commander Deans, at age 19, enlisted with the U. S. Navy and went through boot camp in Norfolk, Va. In December 1939, he was sent to the Hospital Corps School in Portsmouth, Va. After completing the Hospital Corps School in March 1940, Commander Deans worked in the Naval Hospital, N. Y., in the Heart and Cancer Ward. In October 1940, Commander Deans, still an enlisted man, was chosen to be a member of the commissioning group along with recent Chief of BuMed, RADM Lamont Push, to put the first Mobile Base Hospital into operation. This included outside detail in which the commissioning group erected the mobile medical facilities. Commander Deans, who was an Operating Room Technician, was detailed to work with Rear Admiral Lamont Push in the Operating Room itself.

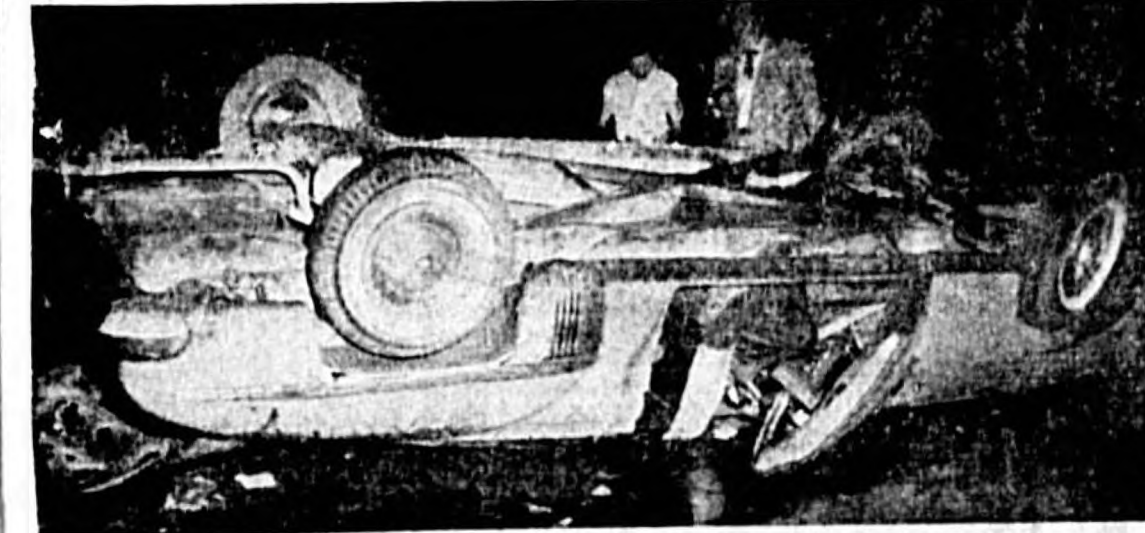

His tour of duty with the Mobile Base Hospital ended in March 1941, at which time he took Elimination Flight Training at the Naval Air Reserve Base, Squantum, Mass. After successfully completing this phase of training, in July 1941, Commander Deans proceeded to NAS Jacksonville for Aviation Cadet Training and was commissioned an Ensign on January 9, 1942. He was immediately ordered to duty aboard the U.S.S. Washington (BB-56) as an aviator in an observation squadron. In April 1942, he was ordered to an OS2U squadron based at NAS Corpus Christi, Tex. From October 1944 to March 1945, Commander

Eleven Schools Will Enter Spelling Bee

Eleven Seminole County schools will participate in a countywide "Spelling Bee" during the first week in April to determine the "Champion Speller" and a runner-up for this county.

Each of the 11 schools will enter three of their champion spellers for the contest that will determine which two of the group will represent the county in Miami for the South Florida Spelling Bee.

For the first time in the history of the "Spelling Bee" there will be a combination written and oral "spell down".

Schools participating are Sanford Junior High, Pinecrest, Sanford Grammar, All Souls Catholic School, Lake Monroe, Wilson School, Lake Mary, Lynnman School, Oviedo, Geneva, and St. Leo's Christian Day School at Blavia.

All of the participating schools are elementary.

R. C. Steele, Seminole County school teacher is in charge of the local spelling bee. The winner comes out with a huge trophy.

The "South Florida Spelling Bee" is sponsored by the Miami Herald and is an annual event which brings spellers from 22 counties to compete in the final spelling contest before sending a representative speller to a national spelling bee in Washington, D. C. June 9-14.

Prior to the countywide spelling bee, each of the schools participating in the event will conduct its own spelling match to determine the school champions.

The winner of the big county event, in addition to the huge gold trophy, will receive $10 in cash. The runner-up receives $5.

It is anticipated that other prizes will be given in addition to the gold trophy.

Tom Tom Talk

How did you kids like the mind-reader with the gossip in chapel? She really was in the know. "Thanks for the info, Jane," she said.

Bobby Johnson and Cynthia Roumillat are going steady now. Aren't they lucky? Both of them are dolls, don't you think?

Seen lately in the halls have been Richard Barnes and Judy Petty. I imagine Marion Routh would like to know who got her in the middle of that deal. After all, I think she has a crush on Richard Powell. Too bad, Faye. Obviously, David Brown and Judy have broken up. He has been seen lately making eyes at Gwen who has just recently broken up with Ted Jackson. Ted now has himself a darling new girl friend whom he adores. (Is this the story of the old triangle? Oh, Well!) Good luck to all of you.

Occupying cloud number nine (just outside the auditorium doors) have been Rachael Rugh and Nolly Dunn. We all approve, you two love is grand, isn't it? I don't believe Joan Grant has noticed yet, so we'll just inform her. Wendell Brooks and she would make a perfect match. At least he thinks so.

Guess what? Roger King heard recently that his girl, Judy Heron, has been receiving telephone calls from another fellow. Something should be done about this. Roger, talk to the boy.

Linda Cannon and Jack Urig aren't going steady anymore. Well, at least there is no present. Changing of rings. However, they are together all the time. Well, Well!

Irma Jean Corley is heard every so often roaring at her fellow, Leo the Lion. I understand this is a nickname he has acquired.

Don, we were sorry to hear about your accident. I hope you have gotten everything straightened out by now.

What is this about Amort Speir changing instruments in band? It could accidentally be because she might have wanted to sit beside Berry, perhaps?

Do you reckon so, you all? Have you seen that auto transportation Carol Petty from school every afternoon? Lucky Girl. He's gorgeous.

Any suggestion for the couple of the week should be placed in the orange box in the upstairs hall, O. K.?

You should see Pete Rans racing from gym upstairs so she can walk with Tommy Brown to third period. It's really a sight to see.

Who has Bobby Bennett been dating lately? I've heard she is another of those freshman dolls. Good boy, Bobby.

Is it true that Bill Brown and Agnes Stansfield are dating again? I hope so. Now there are two kids who are evenly matched.

Elnae Mims rushes home every afternoon after school to get her mail from David. It is too bad he isn't here, but he does write. That's more than some boys do.

Two of the Bob's in high school having darling angels for girl friends. Bob Osburn has fallen for Sue Ann Toney, and Bob Willis is all wide eyed over Sally Wallace. Now there are two girls they can be proud of. Agreed?

Three loud cheers! Robert Eubanks has a special girl. Mary Ann May is her name and we're all still trying to get over the shock of losing Bob.

There sure is a cute couple around school these days. Pam Brooks and Tommy Waters. Good luck, kids!

Apparently Marty B. and William B. are together again. One of our spies saw them hand in hand, and now everybody is happy.

Have you heard that Bev Brown is doing just fine with her new steady, namely Pat? Good Luck! We keep hearing about Jimmy Head's new girl friend. Tell us if it could be F. S., Jimmy.

Couple Of Week

The Couple of the Week is Marty Stempier and George Paris. Marty is a sophomore. She is active in Glee Club and is a major. Marty's favorite record is "You Are My Destiny." When asked what her pet peeve is, she replied, "George always starts to tell me a secret, then says, 'Never mind, I'll tell you tomorrow!'"

George is a junior and is active in Glee Club. His favorite record is the same as Marty's, but "The Twelfth of Never" and "My Special Angel" are favorites, too. His main interests are cars and, of course, Marty.

Marty and George will have been going together a year, on March 7. They really make a cute couple. Congratulations and good luck to you both.

Kiddie Korner

By John Miller
Hooray for Delores! It's not often I congratulate a senior, but I'll make an exception this one. Through her efforts to see just what was what about this civic center, she has brought to the average SHS student the lowdown.

I for one enjoyed her article in last week's paper very much. It was awfully hazy about the thing, but the way she describes it, we've got a place on our hands! (You can pay me down in the lunchroom tomorrow, D.)

Angelo, after reading last week's Kiddie Korner, including the attached editor's note, my mother has announced that she completely and utterly forgives you. Her words: "Well Angelo that a person who can apologize as gracefully as that doesn't need to eat humble pie." Of course, my feelings on the matter vary slightly from the above quote. However, until I see my lawyer next week, I shall reserve my opinions.

A junior has given me some advice on my subject matter in this column. He (whom I shall not name) mentioned the fact that I didn't write enough about school activities. People, that's just what I want. I'm glad to see that you are interested enough to criticize when you think it's necessary. As for the junior's comments, I will try in the future to take more copy with school activities.

Last Tuesday, the student body was quite happy to have two assemblies on one day. Add to this the fact that they were both especially GOOD assemblies, and you have a recipe for a happy student body. The magician was awfully (I know it's awfully bad grammar to say "awfully") good, especially with his hot seat trick.

Larry McDaniel, you now see what happens to freshmen who go up on the stage with upperclassmen. Of course, the Florida State Band was wonderful, and their selection of pieces was very wise. I enjoyed both programs to the fullest. (It seems the members of the band didn't like our juke box in the lunchroom. . . well, at least the music it played! You should have heard some of the groans.)

Suzanne Jones and Rosemary Southward had a party the other week, to be exact, the 14th of this month. The guests came to Rosemary's father's packing house, for an evening of dinner, (pack lunches were brought), scavenger-hunting, and dancing. Everybody had a wonderful time, especially the team and the author and his date.

Frank Noble (almost) every afternoon. Good girl, Carol! Next thing you know is that he'll be driving you to and from school.

Bruce McCoy, we understand that you have artistic talents—draw what you meant? We greatly admired your "portrait"—who was it supposed to be, Bruce? (As if WE didn't know!)

Y'all who read our admonition not to take physics, we take it all back. Physics is a very stimulating, interesting, loveable, enjoyable, delightful, pleasing, colorful subject. (Now, please, Mr. Hickson, don't give me ANOTHER B! Please!)

Key Club inducted new members last Friday. Five freshmen, four sophomores, and two juniors were inducted. Initiation will be held soon enough, and with Wally Pope and Pat Donahoe on the Initiation Committee, we can expect that those five lonely freshmen will have an early preview of their own private Rat Day. Let us not forget that the soph and juniors will also be "properly initiated". . .

Incidentally, Kiddies, do enjoy Tuesday's chapel program; it shall be of the utmost interest—WE think.

Problem Corner

By Ann Cry-Shoulder
Dear Miss Cry-Shoulder:
The other night I went to the show and one of my friends introduced me to a very nice boy in the Navy. He wanted to know where I lived and my telephone number. Miss Cry-Shoulder, I knew that I had better not tell him because my parents don't let me date any boys they don't know.

I don't go out with boys in school because they just don't ask me. Most sailors are no different from any other boys. There is good and bad in every crowd. They are just boys away from their family and home. I wish that our people would look up to our servicemen instead of down on them. What would America be without them?

I can't talk this matter over with my parents because they can't seem to see things from another point of view. I would like to have him come over and meet my parents, but I can't see a chance of it.

I am afraid that my friend might tell him where I live and he might come over. What would I tell my parents if he does? I know that they would never trust me to go out again—but I haven't done anything wrong.

Little Mis-Understood
Dear Little Mis-Understood:
The one main necessity in a teenager's life is to have someone to talk to when one has a problem. Some high school students are a human being, just like his parents. I don't mean to say that a teenager has any right whatsoever to like to disagree, but I think that a teenager should be able to express his opinions and ideas and be able to make a few decisions of his own.

Little Mis-Understood, in your particular situation, it's time you sit down and explained your true feelings to your parents. If you believe in something, stick to your guns! In your case, you're believing in yourself. After parents have made decisions for their children for so long, they can't seem to realize that they no longer have the right to make decisions for you. If you are capable of making their own decisions sensibly.

If I were you, I would tell my parents about this young man. I admire him for wanting to meet your parents instead of forcing the idea of sneaking out. If you sneak out, all trust would be lost.

If your parents could only understand the harm they are doing you by not listening, trying to understand, I'm sure they would regret their mistake.

I advise you to sit down and speak politely to get them a hear you through.

Please write your results; I'm extremely interested in this situation because it could determine your whole future in this world. Always remember that you are

By John Ott
Money can buy almost anything of material value so, being a materialist, money in unlimited quantities would enable me to purchase innumerable things such as railroads, steamships, yachts, Rolls Royces, jets, and internal combustion engines, airplanes, factories, and other necessities.

If I had enough, I might even indulge in swimming—in money, that is. Oh, the thrill of diving off the high board into the deep end of the pool full of rice, loose thousand dollar bills, or floating quietly on a smooth surface of silver and gold dollars. The pennies, nickels, and dimes would be in the shallow end for wading purposes only.

Think of the relaxation of sitting in a small boat in the middle of a bin of money. A cast of the fly rod in your hand and you would find yourself fighting a bundle of twenties, fifties, hundreds, or even thousands dollar bills on the end of your rod.

Think of taking a bath in clean fresh bills, smoking an expensive cigar made of fifty dollar bills, or the luxury of a suit with money for the lining.

Cluttered Purses

By Delores Bailey
Have you girls taken time lately to clean out your purses? (I did just before I started writing this article.) You would be surprised at some of the odd things there are in it. I have taken a survey of "odd things in girl's purses".

Here are just a few: Valerie Kirchhoff—an inhaler & a card stating she had a dentist appointment.

Betty Crow—shoe clips & a diary key.

Fay Noel—wax paper & a newspaper clipping from the funnies section.

Annette Woolf—a dog tag & an excuse for an absence dated Dec. 31st.

Patty Griffith—an address book & a poem about ten little autos.

Sandra Kader—a gigantic toothpick & a picture of Mr. Dracken.

Linda Anderson—Chap stick & CANDY.

Peggy Lundquist—hair curlers & an odd sort of kleenex.

Marcia Loecheit—Lifeaversers & gum. (I thought there wasn't supposed to be any gum at school.)

Barbara Mitchell—old chewing gum wrappers & a compass.

Nellie Pickins—a manicure set & two letters from two different boys.

Barbara Bennett—nothing odd them the praise they deserve. I hope this feeble column will make up for it.

And Mr. Dracken how about more chapel shows featuring these guys and also the long lost "Cavaliere", where ever they are. That is if they are not too busy writing autographs.

Celebrities?

By Pam St. John
Do you know we have celebrities here at S. H. S.? Well we do! Their names are Henry Russel and Jerry Stealy, S. H. It's answer to Johnny Cash and the Everly Brothers. Henry and Jerry have finally hit the "Big Time" with their own show every other Saturday from 8:00 to 8:15 on WTHR.

The show will be called the "Dixie Rhythm Boys" and will feature, "Hill-Billy" and "Rock 'n' Roll" music which will tickle Mr. Dracken pink! I!

This paper has sadly neglected Henry and Jerry and has not given anyone reaching for something, and if that something is right and good, never give up until your goal is accomplished. If this boy is a gentleman, the fact that he is a sailor is not important. Our servicemen should be shown more respect. It's a shame that foreign countries look up to them more than their own country does.

Miss Cry-Shoulder
Dear Miss Cry-Shoulder,
I'm so tired of hearing kids complain about step parents. I have one of the most wonderful stepfathers you've ever seen. He is very understanding and takes an interest in all of my school activities. Any time a club of which I'm a member sponsors a fund drive, he always gets right in the game and helps me out.

My real dad died when I was a small child and my stepfather has certainly filled an emptiness in our household. I think I'm awfully lucky, and I hope some people will realize that a lot of step parents are wonderful and do a great job as parents.

Apology Corner

By Delores Bailey
This week we have an apology corner. The sole purpose of this column is to apologize and rewrite and reread past news.

As for all of the ideal girls who weren't mentioned in last week's paper, all of the fellows know that Sanford has the best and the most ideal girls.

A car really isn't the only thing a girl looks for when she dates a boy. You boys ought to know that by now.

I am glad the Teen Guide was re-explained. I know I understand it better now. Thanks, Teddy Walker, for the wonderful write-up.

John Miller, the Magiarized Child, we will see you in court. I don't like you, freshman. (Just kidding.)

John, Angelo and I apologize to Cindy May. I hope there is forgiveness in her heart.

Teachers, we are sorry about stated book being mentioned in Smoke Signals. You, of course, know it is being read in every spare moment!

You couples in the halls, how about moving outside or somewhere you won't hold up traffic. Students, when the sophomore class comes out with their luscious spray, be sure to support them and buy a can. You realize that after you put this spray on your shoes, you don't have to polish them ever again. I'm lazy, so I'll adore it.

Did the column that started out "It displays your lack of sense of decency" do any good? I hope you at least read it.

You underclassmen had better watch out, leaving assembly before the seniors. How dare you! We waited three years for the privilege just as you should. Be respectful.

"Midnight Man" is played often because everyone likes it. It is not sickening. So Angelo, all you can do is just endure it.

Did you know that a bachelor is a rolling stone who gathers no moss? Ask Richard Phagan, the Loafer.

How can you girls think of conceivables on these cold days? Just think, you'd freeze.

I'm sure everyone had a huge time on St. Valentine's Day. I did. To find what out I've been talking about, look at last week's Smoke Signals. Everything will be cleared up then.

If there are any articles you would like printed in the paper just send the material in to Mr. Ray, Angelo, or me. We'll see what we can do for you. Bye now.

Modern Devices Provide Safety! But Let's Plead It: Guilty

An editorial which appeared in the Amarillo, Texas News-Globe is an interesting one. We have pleaded in the name of safety for these many months as have other news media.

There's nothing new in the way of asking automobile drivers to make their driving habits safe. But, it's just the way this editorial is written prompts us to pass it on to you.

"Almost every mechanical device that can be dreamed up has been added to automobiles in the name of safety. Propagandizing of every emotional stimulus from decency to fear of the cop on the corner has been used. Yet the death toll on our streets and highways catapults higher and higher. So perhaps we might as well face the plea of 'guilty' which W. L. Kleinkmeyer, editor of the Ada (Okla.) Weekly News, enters for all of us:

"Well, we're still killing them, aren't we? One after another, right down the line, day after day. Young men just starting life, girls who never reach womanhood, children who never get as far as the first day of school. We kill the grandmothers when they venture away from home, and we jerk the babies out of their mother's arms and splash their brains out on our four million dollar slabs of concrete.

"We hire highly trained engineers to design newer and better weapons for us. Nothing but the best will satisfy us. We've got to have the fastest and most efficient devices that science and industry can dream up, so that we can do our killing in style.

"We're a cultured and civilized race, and so we insist on having streamlined beauty and soft pastel colors even when we go out to do murder. It's a good deal like duck hunting. When you divide the average hunter's investments in shotguns, shells, decoys and so on by the number of ducks he kills, you find he's paying a lot more than the ducks are worth.

"And when you consider the price of an average car, and remember that the thing is quite often ruined for further use after only one kill, you find that we're paying a lot more than the people we kill are worth.

Because, after all, life is cheap. There aren't many of us nowadays who'll come right out and admit that. But we know it, we all believe it. You can tell that by the way we act. And there's no real harm done, is there? We kill off a good many people each year, yes. But natural increase more than takes care of that. The population goes on increasing in spite of our murderous activity. It's funny how inconsistent we are, though. We have pretty strict laws regulating the use—and misuse—of weapons like firearms, for instance. And the laws are backed up by strong public opinion.

"If a man took up a position in the middle of Main Street, say and began firing a machine gun down the length of the street, we'd all be rather disturbed about it, wouldn't we? We'd more than likely report it to the police. And the machine gunner would be arrested. Probably we'd send him to prison for a good long stretch. And we'd even take his weapon from him, so he couldn't go on endangering life and property. Even if he explained that he didn't really want to hurt anybody and that he was trying his best to shoot through gaps in traffic, we'd still disapprove of his actions. And we'd take steps to make certain he didn't anymore.

"But when the weapon is a car and a man drives past us on the highway at 70 or 80 miles per hour, about the most we do is shake our heads and say, 'Look at that crazy so-and-so. He's going to get hurt some day.' Or maybe we bear down on our own accelerators, just for fun, to see how our own weapons perform in comparison with with his.

"If we really disapproved of automotive murder we'd stop it. Because it can be stopped. It might put us to a little inconvenience now and then, but that's all it would cost. We can give you the recipe for it, in case anybody should happen to be interested. It could stop the killing in five minutes. The recipe comes in two parts. Here they are: One: Drive, always, so that you can stop within the assured clear distance ahead.

Two: crack down on offenders as you would on the man with the machine gun. The killing goes on because we don't really want it stopped. We can't be bothered. But let's stop kidding ourselves. Let's not pretend we're civilized. Let's hear less talk about how wonderful we are and how religious we are and how we all go to church. Because as long as we keep murder as a national sport, we're still in a state of barbarism."

Will It Be Women's World Next?

Clearer Understanding Of Views Possible Through Questionnaire

"Some of the questions are the same as in previous years. The reason is these issues are still before the Congress. We want to know if changing world and domestic conditions have altered your thinking. Naturally I will use my best judgement in voting on these issues, but it is helpful to have the expression of the views of the people I represent. Obviously I can't agree with all of you on any issue because I am sure that your replies will not be unanimous on any one subject. I will appreciate it if you will fill out the questionnaire and mail it to me, Congressman Syd Herlong Jr., 1506 House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

Income Tax Tips

The Florida Accountants Association is an affiliate of National Society of Public Accountants.

Did you have attorney's fees in connection with getting alimony? You can deduct the cost of collecting taxable alimony.

Assuming that you were divorced in 1957 and that you had attorney's fees of $1,000 in connection with the divorce and getting alimony which is taxable income to you. Assume also that the attorney's fee can be divided; one-half or $500 to the cost of getting the divorce and one-half or $500 to the cost of getting the alimony. Then you would be able to deduct the $500 attributed to the cost of getting alimony.

Any portion of the attorney's fees which might properly be charged to getting child support would not be deductible.

An child support received should not be included in your taxable alimony as it would not be income to you.

If you have used your income to furnish over one-half of the support of the child, and, of course, the child qualifies in all other ways, then you can claim the child as your dependent.

If the child support that you received is over one-half of the cost of supporting the child, then your husband is entitled to the dependency credit for the child, even though you may have contributed substantially to the cost of supporting the child.

If the child lives with you, and you do not furnish over one-half of the child's support, you still may be accorded treatment as the "head of the household" which would give you a tax advantage if your net income is over $2,000.

Alimony, separate maintenance child support and divorce are tricky questions. You and your spouse should be in agreement as to who is going to pay the taxes and claim the dependency on your tax returns. An amicable agreement between you can save you both a great deal of trouble and misunderstanding later.

You and your divorced spouse cannot file a joint Federal tax return if you have a final divorce decree although in some community property states you can split income up to the date of the final

NOTEWORTHY SPEECH—The other day, a Florida Congressman made a speech in the House.

As speeches go, it didn't cause much of a stir. It didn't make national headlines. (Neither did Lincoln's Gettysburg Address at the time he made it). We think that the remarks of Congressman Billy Matthews are so timely that we recommend them to you. Space does not permit printing the entire speech—a copy might be obtained by writing directly to his office, but in part he said:

"I am going to suggest seven musts for the survival of our nation and not a single one of them will cost any money... The first must that I would suggest is this: We must realize that money cannot solve all of our problems. I have been somewhat fearful since we began the present session of Congress to note a feeling that all we think is too general that all we have to do now to win this fight for survival... is just to spend more money..."

"The second must I want to suggest if we expect to survive is the fact that: The words our responsibilities must assume equal status in our thinking as do the words 'our rights'."

"The third must is: We must evaluate properly the statement 'all men are created equal.' In discussing how to evaluate these

The Communists are conducting parallel drives to win diplomatic recognition of East Germany and North Korea.

The North Korean Reds are using a plan under which East and West Germany would enter into a federation of separate states, enjoying equal status.

Would Mean Recognition
This, of course, would mean recognition of the East German puppet state, with a population of 17 million, as a sovereign country equal to free West Germany, with population of 51 million.

The Russian occupation commander in East Germany announced last week the details of the announced Soviet plan to withdraw 41,000 of its troops, as part of a previous announcement in Moscow that the Russian armed forces would be reduced by 300,000 men.

This was a bit of propaganda intended to convince West Germans that Russia would be willing to withdraw its forces from East Germany if the allied troops were withdrawn.

There is good reason to believe that Russia would use the Polish "Rapacki Plan," providing for the banning of nuclear weapons from Poland, Czechoslovakia, East Germany and West Germany as an argument for troop withdrawal if by any chance it were accepted. Conventional Arms Superiority

The West German government has firmly rejected the Rapacki Plan. One reason is that the nuclear weapons race would give Russia overwhelming superiority because of the size of its armies.

Another reason cited is that if such a zone were agreed upon, the United States might decide to pull out its troops.

Communism China and North Korea said in a joint statement last

Herlong Report

The Ways and Means Committee has temporarily dropped the subject of tax legislation in order to hold hearings on the extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. We completed the tax hearings as far as the taking of testimony is concerned, but we did not complete action on any bill because it would take another several weeks to do that, and we are running up against a deadline on the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. The present act expires in June, and if the act is to be extended we have to pass the bill in the House in ample time for the Senate to act on it.

As soon as we complete action on this bill, the Committee Chairman advises us that we will go back to the matter of taxes, after which we will hold hearings on Social Security. The way things are going now, this will take us until about the first of June.

We are receiving basically the same arguments pro and con on the Reciprocal Trade Agreements famous words of Thomas Jefferson, Matthews pointed out that many orators today are saying that "all men are equal." He then explained that he believed in equal opportunity for everyone, but that in the field of education, the bright student should not be held back in school by the students of lesser ability.

"The fourth must that is essential, Matthews continued, 'If we are to survive is: We must be honest with ourselves and the rest of the world...'

"The fifth must is the fact that: We must solve fiscal problems... the interest on our national debt is closely approximating $8 billion a year. If the people of the sovereign states did not have to pour this vast amount of money into the Federal coffers, think, if you please, how many schools they could build... the new hospital... new public buildings... in every country in the union..."

"Now, a sixth must is: We must preserve our form of government! He spoke of the founding of our country and the aims of those who wrote the constitution. He continued, 'The philosophy that the states are incapable of solving their problems to me is one of the most dangerous philosophies prevalent in America today... We find the Supreme Court in many decisions taking away from the states certain responsibilities and privileges which should belong to the states... We must realize that our form of government is judicial... and we must never have a clear division of powers as among the executive, legislative and judicial... and we must never fall to realize that this is a sovereign nation composed of sovereign states. The only powers given to the nation are those powers that the states, themselves, delegated to the Federal government.'

"The seventh must is that: Each of us must sacrifice. Plato said that when the citizens of a republic had rather serve the republic with their money than with themselves, the republic is not far from its fall. We need to have in America today more than ever before a sense of service to the people of this nation.

"These seven musts will challenge each of us to do our part... in the race for survival that confronts us."

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN, Society Editor
Bridge was the order of the day instead of golf on this, the regular tournament day for ladies at the Mayfair Country Club. The rain came pouring down and even the hardiest could not withstand the puddles of water on the fairway.

Hazel Rowell entertained her bridge club recently with a luncheon of chicken salad in avocado halves. Dottie King won first prize, and Carlie Stribling the "bookie." Others attending were Ruth Tully, Marge Hoop, Rena Farmer, Billy Taff, Virginia Johnston, Lorraine Langford, Marilyn Bailey, Berta Conn, Kitty Boyd, Nancy Garvin, Bertie Brough and Lucille Hoesehan.

House Plants Improved By Good Growing Conditions

Problems encountered with growing house plants are most likely due to poor growing conditions, such as light, temperature and humidity, according to Dr. H. N. Miller, plant pathologist with the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station.
He says dry atmosphere is probably the worst hazard of house plants. Low humidities may result in tip and marginal burning of the leaves. Large straw-colored blotches may occur on the leaves, giving the impression of some serious disease, says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent. Fungus often grows over these areas, but they are secondary and not the cause of the trouble.
Much can be done to avoid humidity troubles. Foliage, pots and damp soil give off moisture. Therefore, if plants are in large pots, spray the plant foliage occasionally with a fine mist of water. Keeping a pan of water near the plants will, through evaporation, increase the moisture in the air around them.
Another essential of growth is light, although plants very considerably in their need for light. Some need direct sunlight; others will grow well only in subdued light; and still others do their best in rather dark corners.
Plants that do not get enough light usually become pale green and look anemic. Their leaves are smaller than normal, and the stalks and stems become weak and stretch toward the light. Plants receiving too much light may become yellow or whitish. The leaves may roll, or show tan or straw-colored blotching.
When attempting to control bad lighting conditions, make a change gradually. Never move a plant suddenly from a dark to a sunny location.
Temperatures suitable to human comfort are not always favorable for plants. Excessive heat causes plants to become spindly and weak; makes their stems lengthen unduly; and lengthens the distance between the leaves. Low temperatures check growth. A yellowing or bluing is often caused on red-leaved plants. Discoloration of leaves is followed by leaf drop, with the lower leaves falling first. Improper watering may cause trouble. The best rule to follow is to soak the soil thoroughly until water drips from the hole in the bottom of the pot; allow the excess water to drain out and wait until the soil is fairly dry before watering again.

Woman's Club Will Have Card Party This Friday

Hostesses will fill in tables Friday when the Sanford Woman's Club sponsors a benefit card party in the afternoon and evening. This means that guests will not have to make up a table to attend the party. It has been suggested that those who have cards at home should bring them to insure enough decks for all.
Many prizes will be given during the day, according to Mrs. N. V. Farmer, president of the Club. In addition to high score awards, attendance prizes will be presented continually.
The afternoon play will begin at 1:30 p. m. Mrs. E. C. Harper Sr. is the chairman. Mrs. J. Colin Hires is the chairman of the evening party at 8:00 p. m. Dessert and coffee will be served at both affairs.

MAIN STYLES PROVE AGELESS—The modern tricks of hairstyling appear to have had their origin in the famous coiffures of history, illustrated in this display by Joseph Fischer, wig-maker, Queen Elizabeth I of England (top, left) featured ringlets, while the Gibson girl (right) favored a smooth, round pompadour. In center is the ornate and powdered creation popularized by Marie Antoinette (note widow's peak), contrasting with the center-parted tresses of Sarah O'Hara (right), which often had false curls pinned on. At bottom are the shingled bob of the flapper (left) and a style called "Madame Butterfly." The display is part of the National Antiques Show to be held at Madison Square Garden, New York, March 10-14.

Rhonda Fleming Sacks The Sack

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Actress Rhonda Fleming has joined the ranks of those who would "sack" this season's popular chemise fashion.
"I think the style is an insult to the intelligence of the men for whom women dress to please," she said. "Women devote a good part of their time in dieting, exercising and even attending gymnasiums to develop an attractive figure—then along come a few eccentrics who want to cover the result of all the hard work with a sack."
Miss Fleming made her remarks as she lilted on her dressing room chaise while dressed in a $200 gold lame evening dress which lent weight to her argument.
"This year," Miss Fleming said, "will probably go down in fashion history as a great year for pregnant women. They are the only ones who are going to benefit from this charmless design."
"And, as I step off my soapbox," she concluded, "may I say 'sack the sack, let's get the figure back!'"

The Sanford Herald SPORTS

Today's Sports Parade

BY OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK—Bowling has reached the stage, T-Vstar Frank Clause said today, where it deserves a national intercollegiate championship the same as any other sport.

"There are more than 25 million bowlers in the United States," asserted the Old Forge, Pa.; high school teacher who doubles in brass as one of the nation's leading tournament bowlers. "Can basketball or football or any other sport you name make this kind of a claim?"

The answer, of course, is no. Only 17 colleges now are promoting intra-mural bowling competition. These include such as Syracuse, Ohio State, Minnesota, Purdue, SMU, Utah State and Notre Dame.

Needs More Support
But, while there are organized leagues in the Midwest and in the East, there has not even a whisper from such national organizations as the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. or the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference about the formation of organized college bowling.

"It is about time that such an organization as the NCAA thought about organizing a national college bowling tournament with titles for singles, doubles and a five-man team championship," says the man who has been a high school teacher for 20 years and a bowling instructor for 18 of those years.

Two of the stories against inaugurating collegiate bowling on a nationwide scale are that it would be too expensive or would require too few participants to make it attractive in college circles.

A Bowling Letter
"There are golf teams in most major colleges," Clause illustrated. "But every time they take a swing at a ball they are hitting a little pellet which costs them $1.50. Then, too, there are greens fees and caddy fees as well as the expensive country club life. But the lobbyists of golf have pushed this sport over and nobody seems to mind."

"Most college teams in basketball have no more than 11 to 15 players on the varsity squad," he added. "But basketball still is regarded as one of the great participant sports."

College baseball, Clause pointed out, doesn't make money to assist the average collegiate athletic program and yet, while it caters to relatively few players, is accepted as a part of college life. "It's about time we realized that there are more bowlers than there are competitors of any other type," he said. "The smallest man thus can qualify to win his letters and win a national collegiate championship."

Barons Head Ratings

By EARL WRIGHT
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (UP)—The Steubenville (Ohio) Barons, victors in their last 22 starts, topped the United Press small college basketball ratings today for the second straight week.

The Wheaton (Ill.) Crusaders, with 17 straight triumphs and victories in 43 of their last 44 games, again were second.

The nation-wide board of small college coaches which rates the teams based on their latest balloting on games played through Saturday, Feb. 22.

Steubenville made a 23-1 record into its final regular season game tonight against St. Vincent at Latrobe, Pa. Wheaton, warming up to defend the college division championship of the NCAA, has a 22-1 record this season.

Western Illinois Unbeaten
Western Illinois (21-0) the only perfect record team in the top 10, strengthened its grip on third place. Evansville (Ind.), Southwest Missouri State, Tennessee State A and I, West Virginia, Tech, Texas Southern, Pacific (Wash.) Lutheran, and St. Peter's (N.J.) completed the first 10 in that order.

Steubenville, which features a strong defense, received 13 first place votes and a total of 343 points. Wheaton, which led the ratings four straight weeks before Steubenville moved to the top, received 18 first place votes and 348 points. Steubenville led Wheaton by 15 points. Wheaton trailed by 11 last week.

As was the case last week when Wheaton received more first-place votes, Steubenville won the No. 1 spot by drawing more votes than the Illinois school for second, third and fourth place.

Smith Leads Barons
Brandeis (Mass.) was 11th with one first-place vote and 40 points. South Dakota, Boston University, Belmont Abbey (N.C.), Montana State, Grambling (La.), Pasadena (Calif.), McNeese (La.) and Mississippi Southern followed in that order. Wittenberk (Ohio) and Regis (Colo.) tied for 20th.

Jim Smith, Steubenville's scoring and rebounding star, led the top-ranked Barons to a 65-45 triumph over St. Francis (Pa.) in their only game last week. It was the Pennsylvania team's first loss at home in its last 13 starts here.

Wheaton walloped Lake Forest (Ill.), 74-45, and Illinois Wesleyan, 77-44, in its games last week, while Western Illinois defeated Northern Illinois, 101-79.

TAR HEELS ADD IRISH
CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—The University of North Carolina will meet Notre Dame in basketball next season at Charlotte, N. C. It will mark only the second time the schools have met in basketball. The Irish whipped the Tar Heels, 89-70, in Chicago earlier this month.

Justice, My Brother

After they went out Bill Hageman said, "I'll see you, Smoke." "Thanks for the help." "He grinned and waved and went outside to mount his horse. After he rode down the street, the cattle buyer said, "There goes a man who's finished. He thinks he can ride this out, but in two years he'll find out that he can't get to his feet." He spoke with not looking at me. "The range is drying up. Another year of this and there won't be enough for the grasshoppers to come after."

"We'll get rain," I said. "It's been dry before but there's always rain." "He laughed and shook his head. "You people never give up, do you?" He ordered whiskey but did not drink it immediately. "Kid, in this country you have to have land. A lot of land to care for through the dry years. Sixty acres at least for every head you run. The good years, you can cut that to a steer for every fifteen, but you've got to have land to take care of the dry spells. He slapped me on the back. "You O'Dares used to have that kind of land before the government moved you out. You listen to Cord, kid. He knows he's got to have land. A lot more than he has now."

"The buyer paid for his drink and went out. Lanahan turned to me and said, "You want another beer? On the house." "In that case, yes," I said. "What's Lanahan straightening with a foamy stein, he said. "That fella made sense, Smoke. Bill don't know it, but he's through, selling off that way. He'll stick it out for a year or two, but he'll never survive it." He paused a strip a wrapper from a cigar. "How many head you got left now?" "Maybe a hundred and fifty-two hundred."

Lanahan shook his head. "That Cord. Don't see how he does it, but he hangs on. Watches his nickels and hangs on while the others drop off. You think he'll try and buy up Hageman's place?" "Bill wouldn't sell." "Maybe he won't have any choice," Lanahan said. "Since I didn't have anything better to do, I stood there and listened to him awhile. I nursed the free beer until it got warm, then I offered Lanahan by not buying any one."

A horseman came into town at a gallop and Lanahan and I turned our heads toward the door as Lanahan dismounted out front. "Not to be running a horse," Lanahan said. "Lather stumbled when he came onto the saloon porch. His face was flushed and from the brevity of his stop I knew that he'd had a few too many. He was standing there and came up, flinging an arm around me, whether in brotherly love or searching for support, I didn't know. "The bottle," he said to Lanahan, then stared at him until it was placed on the bar, along with a shot that was too big and then drank it as though it were pink lemonade. He stood there, blinking away the tears and breathing through his open mouth. "Ain't you had enough?" I asked. "He looked at me in that stunted way all drunks have. "I've just started boy."

When he reached again for the bottle, I just pushed it out of his way. Lanahan picked it up and set it beneath the bar. Lather looked at me, then at Lanahan. "Aaaaay! What is this?" "Let's go home," I suggested. "That's a quarter for the drink," Lanahan said. "He had a double."

I pulled out the roll and the change and gave him a quarter. While I was signing it out, Lather reached over and snatched the bills from my hand. There was nearly three thousand dollars in that wad, enough to feed a family for nearly three years at the going rate. I tried to grab it back but he was retreating. "Ooooo!" he said. "Look at all that money!" "You'd better give me that," I said, trying not to excite him. I groped for something to distract him. "Come on and have another drink, Lather."

He grinned. "Maana! This is better than whiskey. I just want to hold it. Never had that much money before." He fanned the ends of the bills. "Sure a lot of money, Smoke. Won't have to ask of Cord for money now, will it?" "Come on, Lather. Give me the money and let's go home." "I'm not ready to go yet," he said. Before I could stop him he lurched out of the place, driving off the porch and across the street.

Pete Lanahan said, "You'd better get that damned fool, Smoke." "Pete didn't often come up with words of wisdom, but that sure made sense. With Lather drunk, I was no telling what he would do next. . . .

"I belted him solidly on the jaw. He went limp and I bent over him. Then I put on 'Justice, My Brother' in this paper Monday."

Stetson Enters Team In Tourney

Stetson University will enter a six-man team in the Florida Intercollegiate Golf Tournament to be held March 6, 7, and 8 at the Ocala Country Club, according to Wesley M. Berner, golf coach and co-founder of the tournament.

Berner, working with H. T. "Pug" Allen and Warren C. "Buddy" Cowell staged the first tournament in 1948 at College Arms Club. After the College Arms Club was sold, the tournament was held at the Miami Billmore Club in 1955 and 1956 and 1957 tournaments were held at Ocala.

Nine Stetson students competed in a 36-hole elimination to select five men for the team. Joe Kubanks was not required to qualify due to his fine showing last year in the tournament.

With Kubanks, the other members of the team are Rudy Weber, DeLand; Merle Teague, Durham N. C.; Bill George, Haverrhill Mass.; Bob Mason, Wilmington, Del.; and Jere Hutinson, Marietta, Ga.

The Florida Intercollegiate is a 72-hole medal play tournament with team championship to be determined by the best four totals of the six-man team. The individual state champion is also decided over the entire 72 holes.

THE CARD OF THANKS
 Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent floral tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.
 Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily only the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.
 There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.
THE "IN MEMORIAM" NOTICE
 It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memoriam" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation of selection of a suitable verse brings back to them tender, pleasant recollections. As Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:
 "How cruelly sweet are the echoes that start
 What memory plays an old tune on the heart."
 Most frequently an In Memoriam is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.
 If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heart-strings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.
THE RATE
 Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

Agents Move In On Illegal Shad Fishing In Area

Florida Conservation agents moved in on illegal shad fishing in the area last night and confiscated a net and more than 500 fish.

Mackery, General Agent for the Board of Conservation, and a group of agents brought the two boat loads of shad to the Sanford State Farmers Market this morning for Judge Wilson Alexander to legally release the fish to an institution.

Agents C. A. Willis and C. V. Holland spotted the net at Mullet Lake Park last night about 10 o'clock, according to Mackery. The General Agent and three other agents moved in in an attempt to take the illegal fishermen along with the net.

The net, said Mackery, is a 300-foot four-inch stretch cotton net worth about $500.

About 300 pounds of live fish were released back into the water, the agent said. The total amount of fish confiscated amounted to between 1,000 and 1,200 pounds.

All of the catch were white shad with a few catfish.

General Agent Mackery said that the salt water fish agents were in this area inasmuch as they had jurisdiction wherever salt water fish were found.

Other agents assisting in taking the net and fish were Frank E. Dawty, Dan Newbold and Earl Westler.

"It is a shame that fishermen of this type would take in their spawning ground," said one of the agents. "It merely ruins fishing for years to come, maybe even for the children of present day sports fishermen," he said.

Three Men Escape Bad Accident; Car Total Loss

An unemployed painter and his two nephews miraculously escaped from the wreckage of an automobile that went out of control on Onora Road shortly after 11 o'clock last night.

Wayne Remery, 35-year-old painter, was thrown from his 1949 Oldsmobile traveling east on Onora Road when it skidded for approximately 300 feet, and over 75 feet of that distance on its top.

The car was a total loss, said Sheriff J. L. Hobby, investigating officer at the scene.

Debris was scattered over a wide area as, according to the Sheriff, the car "arced at an apparently high rate of speed before coming to a stop in front of

Cdr. Deans

Deans was a student in PB4Y-2 Training at NAS Hurler, Kan. From June 1943 to August 1944, he was a PB4Y-2 pilot in VPR-116 and VPR-117 which were based at Iwo Jima and Kwajalein. During this time he participated in "Operation Crossroad".

In October 1946, Commander Deans became Flag Secretary and Aide to Commander, Fleet Air, West Coast, and served with him until June 1948. In July 1948, he was ordered to duty on the Staff, Commander, Military Air Transport Service. In December 1949, he was ordered to duty as Assistant Training Officer of the Auxiliary Technical Training Unit at NAS Corpus Christi, Tex.

In March 1952, Commander Deans enrolled in General Line School, and in December 1952, he was ordered to duty aboard the U. S. S. Valcour (AVP-35) as Operations Officer. In April 1954, he reported for duty with VP-16 as Operations, Training, and Executive Officer, and in February 1956, he reported for duty at Sanford.

Commander Deans, his wife, Dorothy, and their two children, Dorothy Mitchell, 12 and Thomas Anderson, 5, have been residing in their home on West Crystal Dr. since they have been in the City of Sanford. Mrs. Deans and the children will accompany Commander Deans on his new tour of duty.

Commander Deans has been quite active in civic organization and his endeavors since he's been in Sanford, and as Public Information Officer at the Naval Air Station, has done his share in establishing good working public relations between the City of Sanford and the Air Station. In spite of his many time-consuming duties as Administrative Officer, Commander Deans always found time to handle the many problems that were constantly being brought to him for solution.

Many of us, both military and civilian, are going to miss Commander Deans, whose pleasing personality and never-ending wit never failed to brighten one's day.

the Pinescrest Baptist Church. Remery received a bad cut on his left hand and he complained of his back. He was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital for treatment.

His two nephews, Donald Eckenrode, 22, and David Eckenrode, 17, emerged from the wreckage with only a few bruises and pavement burns. Neither of the two were thrown from the car.

Remery and his two nephews who are brothers, gave their home address as 303 Holly Ave.

Assisting Sheriff Hobby in the investigation was Deputy Sheriff James Sincletary.

"The thin red line" was a name given to British troops in action by a correspondent in the first world war.

Kiwanians Vie For Eleven Prizes In Quiz Program

Members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club were vying with one another yesterday amid a "notorious quiz program" staged by Charlie Morrison, honorary member of the Kiwanis group.

Accelerating interest in the quiz were eleven prizes contributed by Kiwanis Club members which were awarded those who answered questions posed by the quizmaster.

As a result of the program Charles "Chuck" Brandies won two dinners at the Mayfair Inn; Dr. John Wilson was awarded a lubrication job and five gallons of gasoline from Brown's Amoco Station; a litter carrier contributed by Heller Motor Sales was won by Jim Grant; five quarts of oil from Nicholson Bulk Co. was awarded to Leon Cornell; a color telephone from Southern Bell Telephone Co. was won by Ed Shinholtzer; 50 pounds of potatoes from H. H. Kasper Co. were won by Neil Fagnery; two steaks from Central Florida Quick Freeze Plant were won by Marion Harman; Sanford Furniture Co.'s smoking stand was won by Howard Montleth; an electric iron contributed by Wilson-Maler Furniture Co. was won by Mack N. Cleveland Jr.; and Randall Electric Co.'s canister set was awarded to Arthur Greer.

The meeting was attended by Rotarians from North Orlando Kiwanis Club and the Mount Dora Kiwanis Club.

Randy Rock, the youngest contestant in the featured ninth race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight, is also the winningest, having bagged six firsts in date. This one juvenile, owned by W. F. Swafford, was born in April, 1956, and only won his maiden race here in December. Then he rapidly advanced to Grade A competition. If he triumphs tonight it will be his second victory in a main event.

Seven other top notches round out the field. Included are such fan favorites as Azurine, a five-time winner, Lightning Mike and Alriguide.

Alriguide is only a month older than Randy Rock but has had more experience, having campaigned at Pensacola. Here he has been a factor in seven quintelas in 17 starts, four times with wins.

Lightning Mike is the veteran in this main attraction. Born in 1954, he has been successfully campaigning several seasons and has an excellent record.

Scientist Proposes U.S. Develop Earth Launched Space Ship By '70

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rocket scientist Kraft A. Ehrlicke proposed today that the United States develop by 1970 an Earth launched atom-powered space ship which would orbit the moon and circle Mars.

Ehrlicke, a German-born missile expert, glimpsed the future at the Air Force jet age conference. His proposals outlined anything else heard at the meeting for their sheer imagination and immensity. Now an American citizen, the 46-year-old Ehrlicke is with the Convair Astronautics Division of General Dynamics Corp., makers of the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile. He participated in the World War II development of the German V-2 missile.

Ehrlicke said he hoped the Atomic Energy Commission's current development programs would result in practical nuclear power plants which would make possible the lunar voyage by 1970.

Needed for the space jump, he said, was a two-stage "chemo-nuclear" vehicle which would weigh 1,800,000 pounds at launch. It would stand 200-feet high and would have rockets developing 2,700,000 pounds of thrust. The lower stage of the vehicle would be a glider with triangular wings of 90-feet span. Powered with gasoline and liquid oxygen rockets, the glider would carry the Moon-bound vehicle through the Earth's atmosphere. There it would detach and return to Earth.

The second stage, carrying the crew, would be powered by "feed-back" liquid hydrogen to a rocket engine that has a nuclear pile as its energy source. A jet stream of hydrogen atoms expelled from a rocket nozzle would provide thrust for the remainder of the trip. Ehrlicke predicted that in "concentrated national effort" these events could take place: —In the next two years, rockets could be shot to the moon or made to circle the moon as satellites. —In the 1964-66 period, manned rockets could carry out lunar reconnaissance and land instruments on the moon. —It is "worthwhile" to build a moon base, that could be done in the early 1970's.

Abandoned Auto Found Early Today On Upsala Road

An abandoned Mercury automobile was found on the New Upsala Road early this morning. The car, according to Deputy Sheriff Verne Brewster, skidded a distance of 300 feet before coming to a stop on its top.

Apparently the car was traveling north at a high rate of speed when it failed to negotiate a sharp curve near the abandoned clay pit.

No estimate was placed on the damage but the car was badly smashed as it turned over on its top.

Spots of blood were detected at the scene.

Identification in the automobile led Sheriff's Deputies to believe that the automobile is owned by Russell Jackson of a Castle Bredner Court address.

Scouts, Manager To Arrive Tomorrow

By Jerry Covington

The Scouts and several managers of the San Francisco Giants Farm System are scheduled to arrive here tomorrow at their new home at Mellenville Avenue. A group of 14 scouts and Jack Schwarz, secretary of the farm system, will join Carl Hubbell and the advance crew. They are scheduled to look at the young free agents for the first time Monday morning.

At present there are 32 free agents who will be trying for a contract to one of the 8 clubs of the Giants' system. There are also 9 players who have signed contracts but have not been assigned to a club. They are also scheduled to work out with the free agents.

Nick Shinkoff, scout for the Florida area and a well-known local figure, is one of the early arrivals here in Sanford. Shinkoff has become a part of the baseball picture here and is looking forward to the Spring.

Carl Hubbell, director of the farm system for the Giants, is expected to have a fine spring season here and promises the local fans some outstanding exhibition games this year.

Cotton Brown, well known, retired navy man, is the newest member of the staff at the dormitory. Brown will be the assistant steward and will work with Karl Kazusa who is head steward at the Giants' headquarters here in Sanford.

The list of scouts to arrive tomorrow includes: Hans Lobert, Dale Alexander, Willard Marshall, Frank Genovese, Hugh Poland, Gene Thompson, Tony Tavish, Ken Merchants, Charles Fox, Alex Pompey, Frank Burke, Ray Lucas, and Herman Reich. Among this list are many former major leaguers.

The Managers scheduled to report early are Bobby Hofman who will manage the Danville, Virginia, Class B club, and Richie Claus who will be at the helm of the St. Cloud Minnesota class C club. Both are very familiar names to baseball fans.

The first club scheduled to arrive here in Sanford is Phoenix of the Pacific Coast League. The pitchers and catchers will arrive on Mar. 10 and infielders and outfielders will arrive on Mar. 23. This club will replace Minneapolis. (Continued On Page Seven)

U.S. Coast Guard's Purpose To Aid In, Prevent Disasters

"The purpose of the United States Coast Guard at New Smyrna Beach is to assist in disasters and prevent disasters in the area to which we are assigned from Cape Canaveral to St. Augustine," Engine Man First Class John Scott said at the Sanford Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce at its noon meeting yesterday.

"We are equipped to operate with a 250-mile radius," he said.

Scott warned the Jaycees of the importance of boating safety. "It's a good idea," he said, "to let someone know where you are going and when you expect to be back when you go out in a boat."

Safety is something everybody is looking for," he said, "and let me give you fair warning that the sea has no mercy — it will take your life and mine."

The Coast Guard man explained that there are an officer and 21 enlisted men on the staff at New Smyrna Beach. "This includes a communications section," he said.

"We are standing watch 24 hours a day," Scott said. There are five boats in the equipment at New Smyrna Beach. There are a 40-foot utility, a 36-foot, a 40-foot, a 25-foot and a 30-foot crash boat.

"In addition," Scott told the Jaycees, "the Coast Guard has its own air detachment to which we can call for assistance."

One third of our crew is aboard the station at all times, he said. Explaining that the Coast Guard is under the Treasury Department in peace time and the Navy Department during war, Scott told the Jaycees that "our primary duty is to determine a state of readiness for emergencies."

Scott was introduced by Bob Landreth, program chairman for the day.

Marlin Company Official To Speak

"What is the Marlin Company?" "Why did it come to Central Florida?" "What is the Marlin Company doing here?" These and other questions will be answered at the regular weekly meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club Monday noon, at the Yacht Club when Norman E. Hollands, Procurement Evaluation and Services Manager for The Marlin Company will talk to the local business group.

Hollands has been with Marlin for 15 years and for six years was with the New York Stock Exchange and for another six years served as a General Claims Agent for a division of the B&O Railroad. He is a member of the Rotary Club of Winter Park and with his wife and two children, both girls, has been a resident of that city since June, 1957.

In the course of his talks, he will include a presentation of both a silent movie and a series of slides that, according to John Kader, program chairman for the day, should prove very interesting to his audience. Hollands will be accompanied on his trip to Sanford by Carl B. Foster of the Information Services Dept. of his company.

Toastmaster Gene Zak presented a program which included speeches by Club President Bill Holcomb, Ray Harvey, Jack Langford and Herschel Pahl.

The speeches were evaluated by John Stribling and Toastmasters Langford and Pahl were unanimously selected to represent the Seminole Toastmasters Club in an area speech contest which will be held during a dinner meeting at the Langford Hotel in Winter Park on Mar. 8.

Ed Graham and Bill Fleming, who are vice presidents of Club 1485, have been appointed to serve as judges of the area speech contest.

Jaycee Scrapbooks To Be Prepared For State Contest

Jaycee Scrapbooks will be prepared for statewide competition by David Klingensmith, M. L. Raborn Jr., president of the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday.

Scrapbook competition will take place at the Jaycee state convention to be held this year at Tampa which is approximately two months away.

"Klingensmith will need as much help as possible," Raborn told the Jaycees, "and he will start to work on the project immediately."

Wheels, Tires Taken Off Car

The wheels and tires of a car in your own garage under lock and key!

That's the experience of one Seminole County man on State Road 430 when he lost wheels and tires off his automobile last night.

Sheriff J. L. Hobby said this morning that Banks Ford notified his office that thieves broke into his garage, jacked his car up, and made away with wheels and tires.

The sheriff stated that the breaking and entering is under investigation but no leads have been developed so far.

The idea now is to develop some plan to lock the wheels and tires of an automobile to the ground or devise some method to prevent a car from being jacked up and the wheels taken off.

"It's another one of those cases that presents problems hard to solve," Sheriff Hobby said.

'Normal' Florida Weather Seen Now, Next Year

WASHINGTON — Moderate weather in Florida for the rest of this winter, and a "normal" winter next year are predicted by Dr. Francis Reichelderfer, chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau.

The weather man made the predictions in a television interview with Senator George Smathers, scheduled for release to Florida stations on Sunday, March 2.

He blamed the record shattering freezes on a river of frigid Canadian air which swept down the Mississippi Valley and lingered over Florida for several weeks, rather than moving on to other areas as is the general case.

"Unusual weather of this kind does not come frequently. We can count with certainty that next year in Florida will be more normal," Dr. Reichelderfer said.

He said present indications show that H-bombs, Sputnik firings and other artificial influences do not seem to have any important effect upon our weather, because unusual patterns occurred long before the age of atomic energy.

Jaycees Adopt 'S. O. S.' Program

Members of the Sanford Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce unanimously adopted the "S. O. S." program recommended by the Florida Jaycee organization.

The program is a statewide effort to counteract adverse publicity given the state through recent cold weather reports.

The "spread our Sunshine" program will include the use of post-cards "boosting Florida weather," fliers, prospective visitors and tourists and every Jaycee has been asked to write at least 10 or more cards "boosting Florida weather."

Businessmen are being asked to use the S. O. S. program in their mailing projects and to include the "Spread Florida Sunshine" in their letters, telephone calls, and other correspondence out of state.

The local Jaycee organization will cooperate with other Jaycee groups throughout the state in staging the "best" program.

M. L. Raborn Jr., president of the Sanford-Seminole County Jaycee group told members at yesterday's noon luncheon meeting of the statewide plans to stage the gigantic program.

In addition to mailing 10 post-cards personally, Raborn said that the Jaycees would urge everyone to write frequently as many cards
