ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI)—The Algerian provisional executive commission meets today to discuss proposals to speed up independence and to hand over the administration of the country to the Moslem majority.

The important meeting of Algeria's civil leaders later in the day was called against a background of mounting bloodshed caused by the Secret Army Organization (OAS), which has vowed to keep Algeria French.

Terrorist attacks throughout Algeria Thursday claimed 55 lives and wounded 28 others, bringing the 1962 casualty toll to 4,477 dead and 8,452 wounded.

Forty-four of the dead were Moslems, including 16 women. Among the other victims were a European mother and daughter whose throats were cut by Moslem terrorists in the city of Blida.

The OAS has turned its terrorist campaign against Moslem women in an attempt to provoke Moslems into bloody reprisals and postpone the independence date.

At Rocher Noir, the heavily fortified administrative capital outside Algiers, the provisional executive commission assembled to discuss referendum plans. The latest proposals include the pushing up of a self-determination vote to early July. It had been scheduled originally for a later date.

The vote is a formality in which the Moslems are expected to choose independence overwhelmingly. The country then will be turned over to them.

Eisenhower Says He Wants To Help GOP

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former President Eisenhower "wants to help and will help" Republican candidates running for Congress and other offices next fall, GOP National Chairman William E. Miller reported today.

Miller conferred with Eisenhower about the campaign Thursday during the ex-president's visit to Washington to meet with Republican leaders and hold a news conference.

The party chairman said Eisenhower would play "an active role" in the campaign although no firm plans had been made yet. He indicated, however, that the former president would not be expected to barnstorm from state to state in behalf of individual candidates for Congress and governorships.

Miller visualized regional GOP meetings at which Eisenhower could talk "basic Republican philosophy" rather than local issues. Funds permitting, he said, such speeches would be carried on national television networks.

Miller also announced that the first meeting of the All-Republican Conference, now being set up, will be held at Gettysburg, Pa., Eisenhower's home town, probably in June.

The group is being set up to serve as a voice of the GOP when it does not control the White House.

At his news conference Thursday, Eisenhower charged administration Kennedy with seeking greatly increased power and increasingly heavy government spending "on all fronts."

He referred specifically to administration proposals for standby power to lower taxes and increase public works spending in a recession and also attacked the Kennedy farm program.

House Republicans claimed public support for the general GOP position on these and other issues based on a summary of their own polls. They said the results showed "overwhelming opposition to key Kennedy administration proposals and general lack of support of new frontier policies."

This conclusion was based on an analysis of returns from questionnaires circulated by GOP House members in 32 districts throughout the country.

Titov Ends 13 Day Visit To U. S. Today

NEW YORK (UPI)—Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov, ending a 13-day visit to the United States which took him from Greenwich Village to the Golden Gate, returns home to Russia today.

Titov, who expressed mixed emotions about America during his stay here, was to depart from New York International Airport this afternoon with his wife Tamara, and their official party.

The 27-year-old Spaceman's day Thursday was typically varied. He went from the Princeton University campus to the prize ring at St. Nicholas Arena in Manhattan.

At Princeton, he spoke to about 1,000 students on the problems of man in space, such as weightlessness, space control, eating and sleeping. "It is possible to live in outer space as you can see for yourself," Titov told the students.

Titov, who last August orbited the earth 17 times, later told a rally at the sports arena his "number one impression" was their "friendly attitude."

The affair, sponsored by the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, drew a cheering crowd estimated at 4,000 by a Soviet official and 2,500 by a spokesman for the arena.

Titov, standing in a ring whose canvas had been replaced by a red carpet, declared: "The time will come when Soviet and American cosmonauts and astronauts will fly to Venus, to Mars, to other planets as friends and partners in this daring venture for the good of mankind."

A NEW PUMP HOUSE is under construction at the Enterprise Cemetery and when electricity and the pump are installed, another dream will come true for the community. In the past, all water has come from a centrally located hand pump. A pipe line running the cemetery's full length will be laid and 12 faucets and hose connections will be installed. 'He Can Pay,' Mrs. Reynolds Says

DARIEN, Ga. (UPI)—Mrs. Muriel Reynolds' lawyers Thursday afternoon attempted to prove that her tobacco heir husband R. J. Reynolds can afford to pay the huge alimony she demands after the couple's divorce trial was turned over to defense counsel.

The plaintiff and the defendant were absent resting as lawyers chafed up Reynolds' earnings from 1934 to 1938 on a blackboard for the jury to see.

The 57-year-old Reynolds, suffering from a lung ailment requiring him to use oxygen even in the courtroom, had just finished two days on the witness stand.

By reading testimony into the record from the first divorce trial between the pair in 1960, lawyers showed that Reynolds netted more than $1 million per year from 1934 to 1938 when he made $3.8 million by selling his personal interest in R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company.

The authority on the subject was Byron Harris, CPA and tax consultant for Reynolds.

Reynolds has claimed he is not able to pay his third wife the $200,000 annual alimony she wants because he has given most of his money to charities. He contends he lost $25 million when he sold the R. J. Reynolds stock at the insistence of his wife whom he described as "nagging."

Court To Consider 'Riders' Appeal

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI)—The Alabama Supreme Court today considered the appeals of 11 "Freedom Riders" convicted of breach of the peace and unlawful assembly following their arrest here a year ago.

The high court heard oral arguments Thursday in the cases, including those of four white religion professors from New England.

Nine of the defendants, represented by one white attorney and four Negro lawyers, appeared in court.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Leslie Hall asked the court to uphold the convictions because their actions were calculated to breach the peace while "there was a clear and present danger of a riot."

The case involves the second group of "Freedom Riders" to arrive in this capital city in less than a week last year. Their arrival followed on the heels of racial violence which broke out the previous Saturday at the Greyhound bus terminal when the first group of "Freedom Riders" entered this Deep South capital city.

The defendants were arrested after entering the trailways bus station and receiving service at a formerly "all-white" lunch counter prior to their planned trip to Mississippi. All were convicted in the court of complex.

The biracial group appealed their cases to the circuit court where they were sentenced by Judge Eugene Carter to 30 days in jail and fined $100.

Yank Soldiers Move Toward Laos Border

1,000 Set For Red 'Attack'

United Press International—American soldiers in Thailand were reported moving toward the Laotian border today, involving the United States more deeply in the battle to stop communism from swamping the rest of Southeast Asia.

Washington reports said a battle unit of 1,000 men of the 25th Army Division's 27th Infantry was ordered to the Mekong River town of Udong after pro-Communist rebels chased the remnants of the royal Laotian army cut of northwestern Laos into Thailand during the weekend.

High U. S. officials said 1,000 American Marines aboard a 7th Fleet task force were ready to land as reinforcements when the Thai government gave formal approval. It was expected momentarily.

Elements of the 7th Fleet were maneuvering into a semi-circle around the Indochina Peninsula. U. S. airborne troops in Okinawa and Hawaii and on the U. S. West Coast were on alert.

Thailand ordered its own troops to reinforce the border area and Premier Sarit Thanarat called on the people to keep calm and trust in the government.

Communist propaganda outlets set up a strident outcry against the American maneuvers. Radio Moscow said Laos is "being exposed to the danger of direct U. S. military intervention."

Radio Peking carried an interview with Laotian rebel Gen. Kong Le in which he charged that the United States actually provoked the rebel attacks in northern Laos and that the royal Laotian army broke the cease-fire first.

Nevertheless, both the royal Laotian government in Vientiane and the rebel leadership appeared ready to talk peace terms.

Two Country Clubs Looted By Early Morning Robbers

Looted Safe At Country Club

The Mid-Florida Country Club, on Sanlando Springs Road west of Longwood, was robbed of $1,110.62 early this morning when safe crackers broke in and looted the club safe, according to Joseph Oliver, manager.

It was also reported this morning by the Sheriff's office that the Casselberry Country Club had been broken into and $11.00 taken from the cash register.

The Mid-Florida robbery was reported to Oliver by the Sheriff's Office at four a. m. He went to the club to find the front door had been jimmied open, the large safe hauled out behind the club house and broken open.

Oliver declared, "It must have been a real job for two or three men to move that safe out behind the building. They took $1,110.62 in cash, but left some money in the bottom of the box, and they also left a considerable bundle of checks."

The money in the safe represented the week's receipts.

The manager said it looked as though the men might have been scared off before they had finished the job. The Sheriff's men were on a routine patrol of the premises when the robbery was discovered.

A CONVERSATION WITH BOB MURRAY, STAFF ASSISTANT TO THE ATLANTIC COAST LINE PRESIDENT.

Reporter: Two weeks ago the County Commission adopted a resolution on the need for traffic controls by three major ACL crossings that have created a menace. Have you had any word on these resolutions yet?

Murray: No.

Reporter: We wonder if Mr. Rice (the ACL president) knows about these conditions here?

Murray: I'll tell him.

CONVERSATION WITH COUNTY ATTORNEY HAROLD JOHNSON.

Reporter: Two weeks ago the County Commission adopted a resolution on traffic controls by three ACL crossings. Have they gone out yet?

Johnson: No.

Reporter: Why?

Johnson: My fault—had to add some additional information.

Reporter: When will they go out?

Johnson: Today.

Reporter: Let's hope so.

I guess it takes money to win an election. . . . Anyway, District 2 County Commission winner John Alexander spent the most money out of all the local candidates and John topped incumbent Ted Williams quite handsily. Alexander spent $785.22 to Williams' $142.68. . . . In the District 4 County Commission race, runoff candidates Lee Gary spent $548.59 while Pitt Varner, spent $883.85. In the legislative race, victor S. J. Davis spent $89.70 compared to Al Lormann's $326.01.

Speaking of Davis, notice how many more people have Davis stickers on their cars now that the election is over.

There will be some precinct changes for the second primary May 29. One, Precinct 15, has already been changed from the armory to the Shrine Club. . . . Better facility, says Supervisor of Registration Camilla Bruce.

Official records show that over 5,000 votes in the first primary. . . . Will that number vote on May 29?

Plenty of business scheduled for the City Commission tonight. Among those "choice" items will be consideration of City Manager W. E. Knowles' $600,000 water improvement program. Talked to Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps this morning and Jimmy thinks the water program should have been started first. However, "our hands were tied" said Jimmy.

Crapps says he would like to see the city start the program (water) during the next fiscal year. . . . If it isn't too much of a tax burden.

We hear there will be a delegation of merchants before the City board tonight on asking the city not to use the present post office for a proposed library. . . . Earlier in the year, the board agreed to lease the facility for $1 per year and may turn it into a first class library.

There is no doubt our library is definitely inadequate. . . . we need a better library facility and hope the board visits the facility before making any "hasty" decision.

There won't be any commitment from the federal government on funds for a sewage treatment plant here until the bonds are validated. Originally, the government had agreed to put in $139,000. . . . Now the sum has dropped to $122,000 because of the low bid.

The County Commission meeting informally this morning on interviewing five engineers for the local job.

It's too bad Pat McKinney withdrew from the legislative race. It would have been interesting to see just how strong the GOP is in Seminole County.

Act 'Now' On Water Issue, McDonald Says

City Commissioner Tom McDonald will ask the Board tonight to put into effect "immediately" a $600,000 water improvement program.

The program, drawn up by City Manager W. E. Knowles, recently includes a new treatment plant and transmission lines.

McDonald said this morning he would act quickly and turn it over to the Board "soon" on ways to finance the program.

McDonald had reported earlier of looking into the possibility of refinancing some $400,000 in revenue certificates issued in 1956.

However, today McDonald indicated that it appears that the bonds can not be refinanced until 1972.

In other business expected to come up before the city fathers tonight, the board will discuss a group pension system for the city's general employees with the employees putting in three percent and the city matching that sum.

The board will also hear second reading on the bus franchise ordinance, but according to Attorney Bill Hutchison, can not adopt a blank ordinance.

Indications are that the commission will okay second reading and wait for any "interested" party seeking a franchise.

TOM McDONALD... 'Need To Act Now'

Rights Bill Condemned By Cloture Failure

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate today virtually condemned the administration's voting rights bill for this session by refusing to take a second time to curb a Southern filibuster against the legislation.

The vote was 52 to 42 against gagging the Southerners, 21 votes short of the required two-thirds.

The latest test came on a second cloture move by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. After an hour of windup arguments by both sides in the controversy, Mansfield's first cloture try was badly beaten last week.

Even before today's vote, the Democratic leader said the second cloture move would have to get "awfully close" to a two-thirds majority to keep the bill alive. Otherwise, he said, he would let the Senate move on to other business.

New Dam
JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—Bids for construction of a $1 million lock and dam on the Kissimmee River—the second of six locks and spillways to be under contract—will be opened here June 14. The lock will be about five miles north of the first one.

Laotians May Surrender Today

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The royal Laotian government was reported ready today to capitulate to rebel demands for control of the police and defense ministries as the price for peace and a coalition government.

Informed sources said telegrams containing the offer had been sent to "neutralist" Prince Souvanna Phouma in Paris.

They said Boun Oum's government only wanted assurances that Souvanna would keep his neutralist followers in the strategic ministries and not hand them over to the Communists.

Florida Tourist Taxes Not Unfair, Bryant

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant denied Sunday that Florida is over-taxing tourists and said if the tax structure was not fair, "we would not have the tremendous growth in our tourist industry that we are enjoying."

In a taped television-radio interview, Bryant said Florida has very nearly achieved a "happy medium" in taxation for a state whose economy is divided among tourism, agriculture and industry.

The governor said he is in "heartly agreement" with Comptroller Ray Green on the need for improving the balance of economy in Florida to make it less dependent on fluctuating income from tourism.

"As we expand the economic base, the tax structure will become more stable and more sound and this, I think, is completely consistent with what the comptroller has in mind," he said.

He pointed out that the rising costs of providing services such as roads demanded by tourists goes into determining the state budget and tax program.

"It is right and fair on a basis of benefit received that the tourist pay the bills presently assessed against him," Bryant said.

Court Denies Beck Appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court turned down today appeals by two convicted union leaders—Dave Beck, former president of the Teamsters, and Maurice A. Hatcher, head of the AFL-CIO carpenters union.

Beck, who was succeeded as teamster boss by James R. Hoffa, was seeking reversal of his grand larceny conviction based on charges he stole $1,900 involved in the sale of a union-owned Cadillac.

Board To Meet In Casselberry

The monthly business meeting of the Casselberry Board of Aldermen will be held at 7:30 p. m. today in the Casselberry Women's Club on Overbrook Dr.

Expected on the agenda will be reports from the attorney concerning annexation of properties in Redding Woods addition to the town and on a suggested ordinance for the control of septic tank openings within the municipal limits.

Further discussion also is expected on the proposed new dog ordinance which has been publicly posted for the past month.

Stocks Skidding

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks reeled today before the heaviest selling onslaught yet this year.

Despite a slight pre-noon recovery popular market indicators showed large losses at the lunch hour. High speed tickers fell as far as 22 minutes behind the trading floor at some points. Great chunks of stock value were peeled away from issues of nearly every type.

Cuban Patrol Boat Attacked

HAVANA (UPI)—A "heavily-armed pirate vessel" shot up a Cuban patrol boat east of Havana, killing three Cuban sailors and wounding five, the navy announced Sunday night.

A televised communique said patrol boat SV28, operating along the coast between Matanzas and Havana, was attacked northeast of Santa Cruz del Norte, about 30 miles east of Havana.

Surprise! Carter For Carter

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Charles Carter, unsuccessful candidate for the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, Saturday threw his support to incumbent Jerry Carter—no relation—in the May 29 run-off election.

Jerry Carter faces Jim Blanton, St. Augustine tourist train operator, in the Democratic run-off.

Sol Estes Case Shows Help From Inside Workers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Senate subcommittee today pushed ahead with its investigation into the dealings of Billie Sol Estes, apparently with help from some unidentified government employees.

Sen. Karl Mundt, (R-S.D.), said Sunday he knew of three employees of the labor and agriculture departments that had secretly volunteered information to the subcommittee on the Estes case.

Mundt, top GOP member of the subcommittee, said some of the workers may be giving the tips because they envy fellow workers "who drive Cadillacs while they drive Chevrolets."

But he said others appeared motivated by a desire for clean government in volunteering information about the business affairs of the Texas farm magnate. Estes is under indictment for fraud in Texas and has been fined more than half a million dollars by the Agriculture Department for alleged violations of cotton planting regulations.

Mundt said he personally had received tips from two government workers. He said subcommittee chairman John L. McClellan, (D-Ark.), had received at least one.

Mundt said he assumed other subcommittee members also had been given leads. He said the subcommittee did not invite the leads but would try to protect the tipsters from any reprisals.

Heavy Weather In Midwest

Unk'd Press International—Thunderclouds carrying tornadoes and lightning storms to parts of the Midwest scattered rain on spots from Oregon to New York early today.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., was drenched with 1.59 inches of moisture in a six-hour period during the evening, while hail mixed with rain pelted areas in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Blistering heat set records in parts of Dixie Sunday with Sarasota, Fla., reporting a high of 91 degrees; Meridian, Miss., 86 and Birmingham, Ala. 95. In Birmingham, heat records were broken on five days last week.

The mercury in Columbus, Ohio, soared to 88 for a record high.

Twisters whipped communities in South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa, causing widespread property damage. Lightning touched off fires and killed at least one person. Sheriff's deputies and patrolmen guarded against looting and helped in clean-up operations at Wall Lake, S. D., where a tornado demolished or damaged dozens of homes. Authorities said about 12 farms in the area were badly damaged by the swirling winds, which killed cattle and tore down light poles and traffic signs.

The belt of destruction took in about 40 square miles west and north of Sioux Falls, S. D., where a tornado knocked down several buildings. Authorities said damage estimates may run high.

Plant Threatened

TELOGIA (UPI)—Firemen from five communities, aided by foam carried in by Air Force helicopter, were able to contain a blaze which at one time threatened the $1.5 million Newport chemical plant.

The fire was started by a bolt of lightning Saturday. The blaze was confined to a huge pile of timber stumps.

President To Be Named Tuesday

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The president of the Board of Control said Saturday the board hopes to recommend a name and a president for the proposed university at Boca Raton Tuesday.

Baya M. Harrison said after the two-day meeting that the board would probably submit its recommendations to the Cabinet Tuesday morning. This is in keeping with the board's practice of discussing state school presidents behind closed doors.

Confetti, Beach Ball Set For Orbit

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Astronaut Scott Carpenter will take a supply of confetti, a beach ball-sized balloon and a flask of green water into space this month to perform new experiments for American scientists.

He also will temporarily shut down his control system, let his capsule drift and then regain control, and perform several turnarounds of the capsule to help refine techniques for future space flights.

The 37-year-old Navy lieutenant commander relaxed during the weekend while technicians repaired the control system in his spacecraft. He is due to be rocketed into orbit Saturday morning if there are no further technical snags or weather problems.

During the weekend, the civilian space agency released flight plans for Carpenter's mission. The list of new experiments showed it would be more than a carbon copy of John Glenn's adventure into orbit last Feb. 20.

Among other things, America's next spaceman will fling brightly colored confetti into the heavens to see if space plays tricks on the human eye and to gather clues on the luminous "firefly" particles which Glenn saw in space.

The aluminum beachball-colored orange, white, silver, yellow and phosphorescent blue-green—will be towed behind his spacecraft to let Carpenter report on which colors show up best in space and to observe the drag effect of space on the balloon.

He will watch the water in the flask to see how it behaves, to help engineers learn how to construct fuel tanks for future spacecraft.

These are only a few of the new tasks programmed for the lanky naval officer. Some were to have been undertaken by Glenn, who had to pass them up because of control problems in his capsule.

Chutist Lands On 2 Women

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (UPI)—A Marine paratrooper landed on top of two women Sunday during an Armed Forces Day "invasion" of this ocean resort community.

A handful of Marines parachuted from a plane during a combined military exercise but gusty winds carried three of them off target.

One paratrooper landed atop Mrs. Anna Widman of East Orange and Mrs. Marion Hughes of Newark as they alighted from a bus. The women were treated at a hospital and released. The paratrooper was not hurt.

Another chutist landed on top of a restaurant. A third touched down on a car.

Gunman Attempts To Kill Sukarno

SINGAPORE (UPI) — A gunman believed to be a Moslem fanatic opened fire on Indonesian President Sukarno at a prayer meeting in Jakarta today, but radio reports said Sukarno escaped unharmed.

Five other persons, including National Police Chief Mohammed Noor, two legislative officials and two of Sukarno's police bodyguards, were reported wounded.

Radio Jakarta said the assailant was "arrested immediately." An investigation was reported under way.

Obscure wording in the first report of the shooting, broadcast by Information Minister Mohamed Yamin, made it appear the 60-year-old Sukarno had been killed.

Yamin's broadcast spoke of the president as "tertinggal," a word literally meaning "left" which is used in Indonesia as a polite synonym for "died" or "passed away."

A later broadcast by Lt. Col. Salubr of the presidential staff said, however, that "with God's protection the president was not harmed."

Sabur said police had taken precautions because of a warning that Kartosuwirjo, leader of the fanatic Darul Islam Moslem organization, had assigned nine men to assassinate Sukarno.

It was not immediately certain whether today's attacker was one of Kartosuwirjo's men.

The shooting was the latest of at least five unsuccessful attempts to assassinate Sukarno.

Prank Ends In Death Of Marine Corporal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A prank involving a 50-pound statue of "Smookey the Bear" has resulted in the death of a 21-year-old Marine corporal.

Cpl. Edward C. Kaltenbach of Erie, Pa., died of a skull fracture Sunday when the statue toppled from a broken flagpost. Police said Kaltenbach had taken the statue from an amusement park near Quantico, Va., and, with the aid of a friend, brought it to Washington.

They were hoisting it up a flagpole in front of a veteran's home when the accident happened.

Kaltenbach's partner was identified as Cpl. Timothy M. Parsons, 21, of Pittsburgh.

Police said Parsons told them the two Marines took the statue Friday night, returned with it to Washington, and hid it at the Marine barracks where they were stationed. On Saturday night, they smuggled

A Little Learning

We have all heard much about the way jobs and factories are quickly outmoded in this fast-moving technological age. What we are just beginning to realize is that major portions of the world's knowledge are being outdated just as speedily.

Some educators are saying that the endless torrent of new knowledge has the effect of rendering college degrees relatively obsolete within a few years after they are granted.

But the impact of the "explosion of knowledge" is far wider than this. A group of science teachers gave the matter a good hard look at a recent conference. They could see researchers, teachers, students, subject matter, all affected by the pace of change.

For example, scholars may no longer master a specialty and then rest content within its comfortable confines for the rest of their lives. New findings may shift the frontier of knowledge elsewhere.

The conferring science teachers seem to feel that the days are over when knowledge could be neatly packaged under simple labels like "physics" or even "biochemistry." Constant fresh disclosures cause an ebb and flow across traditional subject boundaries.

Just as scholars will have to shift with these tides, so schools will have to revise steadily the course structure and content to keep up. And, especially in important technical fields, school graduates who would make any pretense of "being current" will have to find ways of continuously updating their knowledge.

In Chicago recently, women's deans and counselors in U. S. colleges found this problem striking women graduates with particular force.

Most such women marry and raise families soon after graduation. Thus while their newly acquired knowledge is most usefully up-to-date, they have limited chance to employ it. Years later, when they have the time to seek work or enlist in civic enterprises, they find their schooling no longer fits the facts of life.

We used to think of our long span of school days as our great, golden opportunity to learn. It is still that. But, obviously, from warnings of educators, we can afford less and less to regard this period as our only learning time.

Some educators argue today for expanded adult education as basically a "catch up" effort for millions of Americans whose original schooling was somehow deficient.

Perhaps adult training should be thought of just as much as a "keep up" effort to be made by all of us, in an age when not to undertake fresh study is to chain oneself to a world of knowledge that no longer exists.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Freddy's problem is the sort that makes an auto driver go almost berserk. So save this case and use the ideas herein to soothe the nerves of daddy at the wheel, as well as the kids in the back seat. Stock up with comic books for long trips. But ration them.

CASE M-419: Freddy G.

So They Say

The New York police are exemplary. They hold out their hands and say "You are arrested." They say, "What can we do for you?" —Diamond Wyndham Dunphy, a Briton arrested at the request of Scotland Yard.

There is nothing, I think, more unfortunate than to have soft, chubby, fat-looking children who go to watch their school play basketball every Saturday and regard that as their week's exercise. —President Kennedy.

Our climate has got a bad name. For that I put the initial blame on Charles Dickens and other novelists. —Sir William Mabans, chairman of British Travel and Holidays Assn.

aged 11, has two younger brothers.

"Dr. Crane," his worried mother began, "Freddy is a good boy, but he is full of energy."

"So when we drive to visit the grandparents, we usually place all three boys in the back seat."

"Comic books and conversation keep them quiet for about an hour. But then the real trouble starts."

"For they pick on each other and fight or quarrel until my husbands threatens to stop the car and whip them."

"The grandparents live 200 miles away, so that means the boys are confined to the back seat for four hours. What can be done to reduce their friction and soothe my husband's nerves at the wheel?"

Mrs. Crane and I have gone through this same turmoil hundreds of times, except we had five kids in the back seat.

So let me give you a few practical hints that will help. First, make it a rule to stop about every 75 miles. Buy your gas in $1.00 amounts, and when you are at a gas station, be sure the children are urged to get out and run a foot race.

For leg muscle action drains off their energy faster than seatwork games. That's also why we have recess periods in grammar school, so the youngsters can run and romp on the playground.

But while they are in the car, play the "corn" game (or use beans or small pebbles, too).

Let one child close his fist on any number of grains of corn ranging from zero to 5 at the maximum.

The other then guess as to how many grains are hidden in his closed fist.

If they get it right, he must give the winner the grains. But all who miss, must pay him the difference between their guesses and the actual number in his palm.

Thus, if you guess "five" and he has "two", you pay him "three", etc.

The slight handwork involved helps soothe the children's nerves better than mere spelling games, though the latter are also helpful.

And for variation at guessing, have everybody start with the very next truck that looms up ahead and then estimate how many passenger cars you will pass before meeting a second truck. This is usually good for another 15 to 30 minutes.

Or you can divide into two teams. One takes the right side of the road and the other the left.

Have daddy indicate when exactly 30 miles have been traveled. Meanwhile, count all the cows or horses, or even all four-legged creatures, on your side of the road.

If you stop for a brief picnic lunch en route, by all means urge the children to do a lot of running. Remember, leg action drains off far more energy per minute than hand work or purely mental games.

Medically, too, it is wise even for daddy and mother to get out and walk around every 75 miles.

For this exercise prevents the excessive stagnation of blood in the lower legs, and thus tends to lessen the chance of a floating blood clot to the heart or brain.

Send for my booklet on "Games for Children," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 30c. Keep it in the pocket of your car as a psychological tranquilizer.

"Come books and conversation keep them quiet for about an hour. But then the real trouble starts."

"For they pick on each other and fight or quarrel until my husbands threatens to stop the car and whip them."

TEST VS. PROTEST

Dick West Says

Housework Easy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American husbands usually are pictured in the Dagwood Bumstead image, gawky all-thumbs who couldn't survive 24 hours without their wives.

This sort of household mythology suggests that a brilliant atomic physicist, capable of devising a formula that could blow up the world, couldn't mix an infant's formula without blowing up the kitchen.

How such a canard persists in the face of overwhelming evidence to the contrary is beyond me. The truth is that the average male can run a house just as efficiently, if not more so, than the average female.

I happen to know this because my wife recently left town for a visit with relatives, leaving me with three-fourths of our progeny to keep house for.

I'll concede that the one-fourth she took with her causes more than one-half of the problems at our place. But enough remained for a thorough testing of my courage, ingenuity, perseverance and patience in an unfamiliar assignment.

Although conditions were ripe for the old bumbling hubby bit, which is sure-fire cartoon material, in actual practice it worked out beautifully.

I managed the house and children, performed my own usual chores, did my regular work at the office and kept up my correspondence course in home taming—all without a bit of difficulty.

In fact, I made a few discoveries which may be of value to the science of pediatrics, dietetics and cosmetics. These are listed below in what I hope is the proper technological format:

1. It is possible for pre-adolescent girls to subsist for five days running on a bowl of crinkle puffs for breakfast, a peanut butter and jelly sandwich for lunch, and a hamburger for dinner.
2. The hair of pre-adolescent girls will become unduly tangled if it is not brushed for three days. This can be temporarily remedied with scissors found, after a long search, in the sewing basket.

Letters

To The Editor

Dear Mr. Verhel; My daughter narrowly escaped being badly hurt in an accident at French Ave. and 8th St. last fall. I have wondered all winter why the "green-arrow" system of stop light cannot be installed at this intersection.

It certainly would be a lot cheaper than an overpass for the time being and would be a much needed improvement.

Sincerely, Marie Stumpf Crystal View Drive Loch Arbor

P. S. Who would be the property authority to talk to about this? (An authority that would not have to "refer the problem" to some other authority?)

I get the chills every time I drive past that intersection.

Dear Mr. Verhel:

Having lived at 15th and Oak since 1946 I also wondered not only why the crossing was not fixed, but also why the track between Elm and Park was not reworked to eliminate noise and also why the whistling at crossings within the city limits was not muffled.

Drop by some time and I will show you my file that shows my one man campaign to eliminate these unnecessary noises whether it be crossing, loose ties, or whistling. Its real informative. Yours truly, W. M. Hong

WASHINGTON—(NEA) — "Adjustment assistance" programs intended to provide relief for American business firms and their employees hurt by foreign trade competition have now become the key issue in President Kennedy's trade expansion legislation which will soon come before the House.

The "Big Three" business organizations — Committee for Economic Development, National Association of Manufacturers and U. S. Chamber of Commerce — have now formally expressed their opposition to trade adjustment though they endorse the principle of expanded trade and lower tariffs.

This opposition to adjustment assistance comes as something of a surprise. It was put into the Kennedy program to help United States business and labor hurt by expanded imports in industries that could not be protected through escape clause mechanisms.

Kennedy administration estimates are that about 800 United States business firms and some 90,000 American workers might be affected by lower tariffs over the next five years. A $100 million revolving fund is proposed for loans to injured firms and the cost of the adjustment assistance is estimated at $7 million a year, $10 million of which would go for unemployment benefits and retraining of workers.

But now, along comes business and says it doesn't want these props. On the surface, this looks like a resurgence of the old free enterprise system that scorns government aid.

The paradox of this development is that it might help passage of the President's program. If enough high tariff congressmen are persuaded that business wants the trade expansion program, but without adjustment assistance, it's a shoo-in.

The other side of this case is that if adjustment assistance for displaced workers is cut out of the trade expansion program, it may bring down opposition from labor and free trade organizations that have been its big boosters.

CED, made up of 200 leading corporation executives and college presidents, has just issued a new research and policy committee statement which endorses "A New Trade Policy for the United States"—in general, the Kennedy program—as something urgently needed. Emilio G. Collado of Standard Oil, N. J., was chairman of the drafters.

Only one CEDer, John D. Biggers of Libby-Owens-Ford disapproved the statement in toto. Only one member, Charles W. Englehard, a New Jersey rare metals chemical processor and friend of the President, supported adjustment assistance.

CED opposition to adjustment assistance is based on opposition to government subsidy, difficulty in determining the cause or extent of damage from foreign competition and a belief that competition from foreign trade is just another hazard in doing business that business itself must overcome.

Also, that existing area re-development programs are adequate for the job of providing any assistance needed. NAM's policy on trade legislation is contained in a little-publicized statement to the House Ways and Means Committee. It supports the principal of expanded foreign trade but questions giving the President powers to cut tariffs on major imports by as much as 50 per cent without congressional, Tariff Commission or other restraints.

On adjustment assistance, however, NAM is opposed. It opposes giving greater unemployment and retraining benefits than are granted by the states. And it opposes government assistance to distressed industries where the cause of the distress by foreign competition may be hard to determine.

A major, two-hour hassle on foreign trade policy developed at United States Chamber's annual meeting in Washington. It exposed a lot of opposition to the Kennedy program in local chambers. But what finally emerged was reappraisal of a two-year-old policy statement in favor of reduced trade barriers.

The Chamber expressed some reservations on adjustment assistance. Any steps taken to expand the escape clause, the Chamber says now, "should not take the form of cash subsidies, should be subject to qualified terminal dates, and the eligibility criteria should be carefully defined."

Nine Believed Killed In Boat Tragedy; Six Bodies Found

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—A fishing expedition ended in tragedy Sunday when the bodies of six men—five of them mutilated by sharks—were recovered and three other men were presumed drowned.

The Coast Guard said nine men were aboard the 25-foot cabin cruiser Happy Jack when it left Los Angeles Harbor Friday on its first sea trip under command of its new owner, Chester McMinn of Norwalk, Calif.

The six bodies were discovered Sunday by another fishing boat. A school of sharks was still swarming around the bodies as they bobbed in the cold offshore waters supported by life preservers.

Coast Guard rescue units combed the area late into the night but failed to turn up a trace of the three men still missing.

Orange County Deputy Coroner Eugene Miller said five of the bodies recovered "were chewed by sharks . . . in many cases all the way down to the bone."

"They possibly were eaten alive," Miller said.

Only McMinn's body was not touched by the sharks, Miller reported.

The six known dead were identified as McMinn; Charles W. Chudy, 52, of Westminster, Calif.; Robert Herman Schmidt, of Stillwater, Okla.; Harvey L. Johnson, 30, of Hollywood; John Treadway, 30, of Los Angeles; and William F. Huffman, 29, also Los Angeles.

Still missing were Robert Cain, 26, Bell Gardens, Calif.; E. R. Huffman, William Huffman's brother; and Robert Gibson Jr., 21, husband of the boat.

The coroner's office said there were no indications of burns or gasoline fumes on the bodies recovered.

The Coast Guard said this probably ruled out the possibility of an explosion aboard

Death Awaits Astronaut Who Spends Day In Radiation Belt

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An almost certain death awaits the astronaut who flies for more than 24 hours in parts of the earth-circling Van Allen radiation belt.

Scared Boy Dies In Fire

SENECA FALLS, N. Y. (UPI)—Edward Lawrence looked from his house Sunday to see his barn on fire.

Then he spotted his son, Ralph, 5, standing in an open doorway on the blazing building's second story.

Lawrence raced to the barn. He held out his arms and shouted for his son to jump.

Instead the frightened boy retreated.

Lawrence ran for a ladder, but he was too late. A coroner ruled Ralph died of asphyxiation.

The Coast Guard said seas had been rough in the area Saturday and small craft warnings had been posted.

All that was found of the vessel was a bait tank, a few boards, and several fishing poles.

The warning about the lethal dangers of the wide ring of radiation came from its discoverer, Dr. James A. Van Allen, during a closed meeting of a House appropriations subcommittee. The testimony was made public today.

The University of Iowa professor told the congressmen that radiation readings from high-flying satellites indicated the part of the belt stretching from 2,000 to about 40,000 miles above the earth was "uninhabitable."

"Anyone flying in this inner region for as much as a day would very likely have a fatal dose of radiation in any present type spacecraft," he said.

Van Allen stressed, however, that the ring was not an absolute barrier to sending a team of space explorers to the moon.

"I do not wish to leave the impression that the radiation belt constitutes a barrier in any absolute sense to extending our space flight capability and our space flight program," he said.

French Open New Drive On Algiers OAS

ALGIERS (UPI)—Drastic new measures announced over the weekend strengthened the hand of French authorities today in their fight against the underground Secret Army Organization (OAS).

The government dismissed the city council of Oran, an OAS stronghold, moved an estimated 27,000 fresh troops into Oran and Algiers, and ordered the replacement of European policemen of Algerian birth by Arabs or natives of metropolitan France.

These emergency actions were part of an all-out campaign to destroy the European settlers who are fighting President Charles de Gaulle's plan to give Algeria back to the Arabs.

In defiance of the government campaign, the OAS exploded 13 bombs in Algiers Sunday and two elsewhere in the country.

Girl Charged In Killing

HIALEAH, Fla. (UPI)—An 18-year-old girl who told police she beat her two-year-old stepdaughter with a belt because she refused to eat supper or take a bath was charged with manslaughter Sunday after the child's death.

Blue-eyed Charlotte Lipford, a toddler with blonde, curly hair, was dead when taken to Hialeah Hospital early Sunday. Authorities said she died from a ruptured intestine and other injuries.

Pinecrest Room Becomes Hawaiian Island

The sixth grade classroom at Pinecrest School occupied by Mrs. Cathryn Lee and her students was transformed Friday into a Hawaiian village, as the students feted Fremont Long, intern teacher from Stelton with a farewell party.

Long has been with the class for the past 10 weeks, working with the students and Mrs. Lee. He had formerly lived in Japan and in the islands and had taught the children much about the life there during his time with them. In honor of his leaving, they decided to put their newly-gained knowledge to work and have a party based on what they had learned.

Walls were hung with fish nets, masks and nets were also draped over the tables.

These were decorated with shells, bamboo cups full of flowers, sea shells, coconuts and pineapples. The ceiling was hung with Japanese lanterns. On the floor, the students placed cushions, pillows, mats and towels to sit upon. Planter pots of bamboo also were placed about the room.

John Rich brought his electric Hawaiian guitar and played Aloha and other songs on it for Mr. Long. David Williamson and Colleen Gary did a hula dance, and there was a puppet show, games and singing.

Students of Mr. Winoker's room presented Long and Mrs. Lee with silhouettes they had made in art class, and all the students of Mrs. Lee's room presented Mr. Long with individual gifts. They also presented a class gift of two Tiki torches to Mrs. Lee.

Also, Bob Repp, John Rich, Debbie Rowland, Linda Russell, Bill Shepard, Jeff Simpson, John Smith, Mike Spain, Elaine Valenti, Sharon Wagner, Sharon Whitaker, David Williamson, Sharon Woods, and Carol Wyatt.

Garden Circle Closes Year With Installation Party

The final meeting of the current season for the Bear Lake Garden Circle was held last Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Albert Jacobs in Bear Lake Manor.

During a brief business meeting preceding the installation party for new officers, the circle planned a cake sale for June 1 to begin at 10 a. m. at the Northgate Shopping Center in front of the Public Market.

New members of the circle were welcomed during the following party and officers were installed by Mrs. C. L. Brunk, retiring second vice president.

Highlight of the evening for retiring president, Mrs. Alan Wentworth, came when the group presented her with a lovely white brass-footed planter containing a spathiphyllum plant and a philodendron.

Refreshments of cheese bread, crackers, cake, decorated party sandwiches and fruit squares were served from a buffet table beautifully decorated with colorful spring flowers. Mrs. William Massey served punch and the hostess presided at the coffee service.

Members of the refreshment committee for the occasion were Mrs. Jay W. Malone, Mrs. Vernon Herrington and Mrs. Massey.

The circle will resume meetings in September with the first meeting set at the home of Mrs. Massey on Lake Asher Circle, Bear Lake Manor.

Eight Killed In Collision

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (UPI)—Eight persons were killed Sunday night—three of them children—and six others critically injured in a head-on collision at this huge Marine base.

Marine Corps officials said the accident occurred about a half-mile from the San Luis Rey Gate on the four-lane highway that leads out of the post toward the eastern boundary.

Investigators said an out-bound vehicle crossed the divider line and slammed into an oncoming car. Both vehicles were registered to military personnel stationed at the base.

One of the injured was a child. All six were taken to the Navy hospital on the base.

Names of the dead and injured were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

NEW 'JEEP' TORNADO-OHC ENGINE

You'll be amazed at its performance!

BIRTH OF A CHAMPION! Today, after years of research, development and testing, Willys Motors proudly presents the 'Jeep' Tornado-OHC—America's first overhead camshaft engine designed for commercial vehicles.

WHAT IS AN OHC ENGINE? In a pushrod engine the valves are on top—the camshaft, which operates them, is at the bottom. It's an awkward situation like playing the piano sitting on the floor—you have to stretch up and over to hit the keys. Giving the Tornado-OHC engine overhead cams—which is what the initials OHC stand for—is like giving the pianist a chair. You get much better performance.

LOADED OHC VEHICLE POLLS LIKE IT'S EMPTY! The Tornado-OHC engine is the strongest, most economical 'Jeep' engine ever... gives you 33% more horsepower yet it cuts gasoline consumption up to 25%. And still more important it produces very high torque at very low engine speeds. So it makes tight work of starting off, accelerating and climbing hills with heavy loads.

SIMPLER DESIGN MEANS LESS MAINTENANCE! The Tornado-OHC has 36 fewer moving parts than a conventional pushrod 6-cylinder engine. So it runs more smoothly, keeps its tune longer, needs adjusting less often.

And most of the parts that need servicing are at the top of the engine—so maintenance is easy, quick and inexpensive.

LONG LIFE? IT'S ALMOST INDESTRUCTIBLE! Our engineers tried every means possible to destroy the prototype Tornado-OHC engines—but they came through the severest service tests without flinching. And because Tornado-OHC produces more power with less effort it lasts much longer than a conventional engine. It's almost indestructible!

YOU'LL BE SURPRISED HOW MANY GAS STATIONS YOU PASS BY! For the heavy loads it hauls your Tornado-OHC engine uses surprisingly little fuel. And it sings happily along on standard grade gas. Spheroidal (dome-shaped) combustion chambers and centrally-placed spark plugs make it thermally very efficient—that is, it squeezes a lot of energy out of quite a small amount of fuel. And the Tornado-OHC engine has positive crankcase ventilation to get rid of corrosive exhaust-forming gases.

COME IN AND TEST DRIVE A TORNADO-OHC ENGINE! Now available in 'Jeep' Pick-ups, 4-wheel drive Utility Wagons, 2 WD Station Wagons and Panel Deliveries. But be warned—with its exciting performance you'll probably want to take it home with you. You'll be unhappy with anything else—except another OHC 'Jeep' vehicle.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Priest recently celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary and were guests of honor at a family dinner. Hosts for the family gathering were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Priest and family, Sarah, Elisabeth, Daniel, Louise and Emily, at their home on S. Sanford Ave. After opening their many gifts, the honoree enjoyed visiting with those present and discussing some of the family heirlooms which were on display, including a blouse Mrs. Priest wore on her wedding day and several hand-made quilts, made during the past years by "Grandma" Priest, as she is affectionately called. The six children gave Mr. Priest a white carnation boutonniere and Mrs. Priest a lovely corsage, a white orchid surrounded by tiny white rose buds. The dinner was served outdoors on picnic tables and flowers used for decorations were all grown by Mr. Priest, whose hobby is gardening. Five of the six children and their families were present for the celebration. In addition to the host family, they were Pat Priest of Miami, Mr. and Mrs. George Sims, Mt. Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You sure started something in this office when you ran that letter from a reader who asked what you thought about an executive who cluttered his office desk with pictures of his family. Although you said it was perfectly okay, the day after your article appeared my boss got such a ribbing he took his pictures home.

GIRL FRIDAY

DEAR ABBY: You goofed! In our opinion (and we took a pool in an office of 12 girls and 2 men) an office desk is no place for pictures of the wife and kiddies. When a man is at work, he should carry "pictures" of his family in his mind. If he has to have their smiling faces trained on him all day long to remember what they look like, heaven help him! And them, too.

THE 4TH FLOOR GANG

DEAR ABBY: I am a nurse. The doctor for whom I work told me that he kept plenty of pictures of his wife and children on his desk as a constant reminder to some of his patients that he is a family man. He is an OB, and lots of women get some strange ideas about their doctors.

DOCTOR'S NURSE

DEAR ABBY: An executive's life should be divided into two distinct parts—his home and his office. A man should not have photographs of his "family" in his place of business. Neither should he have pictures of his office employees in his home.

ALL BUSINESS (office manager)

DEAR ABBY: You say it is all right for an executive to have pictures of his wife and family on exhibition at his office. I'll bet YOU don't have pictures of YOUR husband and children all over YOUR office.

DEAR "SNOOPY": I'll bet I have!

DEAR ABBY: In regard to pictures on desks: Your philosophy is good, but I disagree. My husband adores his family, but he will NOT put our pictures on his desk. A good executive's wife should accept her husband's judgment pertaining to his work. After all, anyone who visits his desk daily surely knows whether or not he is proud of his family.

AN EXECUTIVE'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: For my part, pictures of the loved ones belong in a man's wallet. And should stay there until he is asked to show them.

"CYNIC"

DEAR ABBY: I just love to see a man's family proudly displayed in pictorial form in his place of business. And the more the merrier. They say one picture is worth 10,000 words.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

In planning your play at no-trump the first step is to count the sure tricks. The next step is to look around for enough additional tricks to insure making the contract. After that, you can and should think about overtricks, but not before.

South can count two hearts, three diamonds and two clubs for a total of seven sure tricks at his three no-trump contract. He has two potential extra tricks in hearts if he can finesse successfully for the queen and break the suit. He may also gain an extra trick in clubs if the finesse for that queen works. But finesse don't always work and if South looks further he can find two sure tricks in the spade suit.

All he must do is to lead spades twice. The defense will take the ace and king, whereupon South will wrap up those two needed tricks in spades.

Can anything bad happen to South while he is setting up those two spades? Not if he still has two stoppers in each of the other suits and has plenty of time.

What about the finesse? He can try them later if he wishes, but his first job is to make sure of his contract.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

It takes a cheerful woman to make a cheerful house. I found that out recently when I agreed to water the house plants for a vacationing neighbor who lives in what I have always thought of as a particularly cheerful house.

But every time I entered the house during her absence, I was struck not by the cheerfulness of the house but by its empty, deserted look.

All the things we tend to think of as making houses cheerful—looking were still there; the bright, pleasant colors, the growing plants, the inviting comfort of the furniture, the books and pictures and treasured heirlooms.

But the air of cheerfulness was gone. The most important item in a cheerful house was missing—a happy-faced, cheerful woman to give life and meaning to the rooms.

Whenever I had entered the house previously, the door had been opened by a happy-looking woman—friendly, hospitable and with a hearty welcome.

The cheerful rooms were only the background for the happy face, the pleasant voice, the welcoming smile and the ready hospitality of its owner.

Too often, women get the idea that cheerful houses are decorating triumphs, when actually the cheerfulness of a house depends mostly on whether or not it is a house presided over by a happy, cheerful woman.

Basis for happiness. Read "How to Have a Happy Husband." Send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 489, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.

TV NOTEBOOK

You may not be overly impressed by American "rating" systems. But in Soviet-occupied Germany, choice of radio or TV fare is a serious matter.

It is common practice for Security Police to check the program tuned in. Being caught listening to a western station—Voice of America, for example—leads to dire consequences: the offenders are packed off to a People's Court for immediate trial and sentencing.

Speaking of "trials," how about dropping in at TOWN and COUNTRY TV SERVICE to sample a new WESTINGHOUSE in action? Some local boaters who like the organized cruises have been prodding me to get some information on any upcoming ones, so I called Ransom Downes, one of the major domos of Central Florida Cruises, Inc.

The Pirate Cruise is coming up May 18, 19 and 20.

It will begin at the south bridge in downtown Daytona Beach at 9 a. m. the 18th, which will be a Friday. First night's stop will be the Lobster House in Jacksonville, with motel accommodations at the Travel Lodge right next door. Reservations should be made if rooms are desired.

From there, the cruise will proceed to Ponce De Leon Springs for a Saturday night party. Each boat will depart the springs at the owner's leisure Sunday and move on to Sanford.

Bobby Green will be cruise-master for the Pirate Cruise and will include a year's membership in the organization in the $2 fee for the cruise along with the regular packet. These membership cards will be used to draw numbers for several nice prizes along the route.

Boat owners in this area can contact the cruise-master at the Daytona starting point or call Ransom Downes, GA 8-3593, Orlando for information.

Keep in mind that the Pirate Cruise has been switched with the annual Silver Dollar Cruise, which will be on Labor Day.

Crooms Defeats Eustis Nine

Second baseman Calvin Davis drove in five runs with two hits and a sacrifice, and catcher Billy Dush had a perfect day at the plate as Crooms launched a 13 hit assault to trounce Eustis, 12-3, last Wednesday.

In the second inning, after Gaines and Hartfield had walked and advanced to second and third by stolen bases, Davis lined a shot into right field, scoring the two hitters and tying the game. Earlier, Eustis had gotten off to a first inning two-run lead. A walk, a wild throw, and two errors had produced this.

Crooms pitcher, Harry Boston, settled, however, and held Eustis in check until the sixth inning. In this inning, pitcher Brown led off with a hard double, followed by a walk, a passed ball, and an error. These miscues cut the Panthers' lead to three runs.

The Panthers picked up three runs in the fourth, three more in the fifth, and ended the game with four runs in the seventh. After catcher Bush and shortstop Gaines had hit back singles in the fourth inning, Davis lined a shot between first and second, base for his third and fourth RBI's of the game. His last RBI came on a sacrifice in the seventh.

Nazarens came out on top over First Baptist in a close 5-4 contest that saw big Joe Morgan emerge as the winning hurler and Tanner come out the loser. Davis and D. Carter had home runs for Nazarens.

Florida State came back to down Nazarens the following night 16-3 on 21 big hits. Cooper was the winning pitcher and Morgan was the loser. Cooper and Underwood had round trippers for the Bankers.

Essegian Keeping Tribe 'Singing'

United Press International
Chuck Essegian, the chunky outfielder with the musical name, came to the Cleveland Indians for a song, and from the way he's rapping the ball of late it's the prettiest tune heard anywhere by manager Mel McGaha.

In fact, Essegian, who wasn't counted on for regular duty when the season began, is wielding such a hot bat that he is making it downright difficult for the platoon-conscious McGaha to keep him out of the starting lineup.

Chuck, a failure with five different major league clubs before the Indians got him from the Kansas City Athletics a year ago for pitcher Julius Grant, hit a key home run and single Sunday to lead Cleveland to a 6-4 and 2-3 sweep over the New York Yankees and into first place in the American League.

Essegian had five hits in eight at-bats during the long afternoon to boost his batting average to .375, his home run total to four and his runs batted in to 11 in 17 games. Dick Donovan went all the way in the opener to register his sixth victory without a loss. It also was the veteran right-hander's second win of the year over the Yankees, whom the Indians now have beaten five times in seven games. The second-game victory went to Barry Laitman, second of three Cleveland pitchers.

The Indians tagged Whitey Ford for nine of their 11 hits in the opener, John Romano hitting a three-run homer right at the start to make things easier for Donovan. Essegian hit his homer in the fifth after the Yankees had cut the deficit to 2-2.

Jerry Kindall's three-run homer in the second game started the Indians on a comeback after the Yankees had built up a 5-0 lead. Essegian's sixth inning single broke a 5-5 tie and Cleveland went on from there to nail down the second game and take a half-game lead in the AL.

The Minnesota Twins routed the Kansas City Athletics, 10-3; the Chicago White Sox rallied for seven runs in the eighth inning to beat the Los Angeles Angels, 15-8; the Baltimore Orioles beat the Washington Senators, 2-2, on a disputed homer, and the Detroit Tigers nipped the Boston Red Sox, 6-5, in other AL games.

In the National League, the first-place San Francisco Giants downed the Houston Colts, 7-2; the Los Angeles Dodgers took advantage of loose St. Louis play to beat the Cardinals, 4-3; the Cincinnati Reds beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-4; the Milwaukee Braves nipped the New York Mets, 3-2, and the Chicago Cubs climbed out of the cellar by beating the Philadelphia Phillies twice 6-7 and 8-5.

Vic Power drove in five runs with a grand-slam homer and a single to lead the third-place Twins to their win over Kansas City. Rookie Joe Bonikowski went the route in his first major league start. Power's blast came off Dan Pfister in the seventh, but A's starter Norm Bass, chased in the sixth, was the loser.

The White Sox sent 12 men to the plate in the eighth to break a 5-5 tie and make their win over the Angels a rout. Los Angeles used four pitchers in an effort to stop the White Sox in the eighth. Bob Botz, who finished up, also was raked for three more runs in the ninth. Floyd Robinson had four RBI's on a double and single. Dom Zanni pitched 2-3 of an inning and got the victory.

Dick Brown belted two home runs and a single and Dick McAuliffe hit a three-run double to pace the Tigers as Dick Regan picked up his third victory. Earl Robinson's ninth-inning homer, which touched off a dispute over whether it was fair or foul, was the margin of difference in Baltimore's victory. Brooks Robinson also homered for the Orioles and Jimmy Piersall hit one for the Senators.

Jack Sanford, who had a shutout after eight innings, gave up only six Houston hits in registering his fourth victory for the Giants, who remained four games ahead of the Dodgers in the NL race. Orlando Cepeda and Jim Davenport each got three hits to pace the San Francisco attack.

The Dodgers, held to only two hits by Larry Jackson through the seventh, scored all their runs the following inning. A two-run error opened the way. John Roseboro's sacrifice fly accounted for the winning run and handed Jackson his fourth loss against three wins. Los Angeles used three pitchers in the last two innings to hold the lead as starter Johnny Podres picked up his third win.

Vada Pinson, with a homer (his 11th) and triple, and Frank Robinson, with a two-run homer, paced the Reds, who beat the Pirates for the third straight time. Bob Purkey went all the way to gain his sixth victory without a loss. Jim Marshall's three-run third inning homer was the big Pittsburgh blow.

Frank Bolling's two-run homer in the eighth, a "wrong field" blow that traveled only 237 feet, and an equally short homer by Roy McMillan accounted for all the Milwaukee runs against the Mets. Before the game began, manager Birdie Tebbets read the riot act to the Braves, who had dropped a twin-bill to the Mets on Saturday.

The Cubs hit six home runs—three in each game—to move past the Mets into ninth place. Both victories went to reliever Barney Schultz, the Cub knuckelballer who now has appeared in eight straight games, one short of the NL record. He came on in the ninth inning of the opener with the Cubs trailing by a run and in the second inning of the nightcap with the Cubs behind again by a run and pitched 3½ innings. George Alaman paced Cub hitters with two home runs, driving in three runs in the first game and two in the second.

Business Briefs

Bill Hemphill, owner of Bill Hemphill Motors, Inc., announces the appointment of a new member of the sales staff, Ray Herron.
Herron has been active in the automobile business since 1934. He is a long time resident of Sanford and is widely known and respected for his knowledge of all phases of the automobile business.
Herron has extended an invitation to his friends and customers to visit him at his new business location.

Now that spring is here and a steady program of feeding your plants is necessary, the easiest way to take care of the job is a liquid plant food and a sprayer that attaches to the garden hose.

Proper balance of nitrogen-phosphorus-potash and the minor elements needed to keep plants healthy is essential for best results. The elements provided must be readily "digestible" by the plants and not locked in the soil.

One of the most effective plant foods on the market today is a liquid plant food (ORTHO-GRO) made with organic fish and other materials and containing a chelating agent. It's great for plants grown in containers.

What's a chelating agent? It makes iron and other minor elements available to the plant so that leaves turn green and stay green — thus keeping the plant healthy and growing. Frequently there are plenty of minor elements in the soil but they are locked up in the soil complex. The chelating agent converts them into lunch and dinner for your plants.

SAA Meets Today At 7:30 P. M.

The final business meeting of the year for the Sanford Art Assn. will be held at the Civic Center at 7:30 p.m. today.

Officers for the new year will be elected at this time and plans for next year will be made. The club is planning a covered dish supper party home in Loch Arbor.

Osteen Installs New Officers For P-TA

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
New officers of the Osteen P-TA were installed by Rev. Trammel Kilpatrick, pastor of the Osteen Baptist Church, at this month's meeting of the groups.

Before officially installing the officers, Kilpatrick read the objects of P-TA and offered a prayer for continued future success of the organization.

Mrs. Edward Pell, retiring president, presided at the business meeting during which the membership voted to sponsor a school ground beautification project and named Albert Pell as chairman for the job.

Mrs. W. B. Whidden, chairman of the recent ham supper sponsored by the association, reported that a profit of $172.67 was realized from the event.

The summer recreation program was discussed and the committee agreed to meet with the school board for further discussion. Mrs. Pell reported that the board had allocated $508.80 to put fluorescent lighting in the school. In other business, members approved an insertion to by-laws amendments; announced that Mrs. Whidden has been appointed lunchroom manager for the coming year, and appointed Mrs. Darlene Nettles as summer recreation program chairman and Mrs. L. W. Jones as co-chairman.

Chairman of the Emergency Disaster Committee, is A.B. Peterson Jr., and help is needed on this committee, which operates in the event of floods, fires, and other such emergencies.

AROUND THE CLOCK
BY LARRY VERSHEL
First the downtown clock, next the bandshell and now the greatest loss of all... the airplane at the Elks Playground. Yes, the City Commission is considering abandoning the obsolete aircraft... It could take anti-aircraft but the kids were too much... Monday night the board agreed to talk to the Navy on their feelings about the plane. "Maybe we could get a more modern obsolete aircraft," said Mayor J. H. Crapps... A youngster was injured the other day when the tail section pinned him to the ground.

LEFT OVER CITY COMMISSION NOTES... The Sanford Fire Department was commended by the board for successfully controlling the highly dangerous fire at the Standard Oil Bulk tanks the other day... Lt. Harriet and Lt. Faint were singled out for their jobs... Both volunteered to go to the top of the tank at great risk... The commission agreed to recover the pool table at the fire station... Rack 'Em up... Cost, $57.05...

AND SOME MORE... B. L. Perkins reappointed to the Sanford Housing Authority... City fathers talked about installation of ladder safety devices on the two water tanks... Cost $900... Industrial Commission ordered the board to get busy on the devices... Wonder how that youngster who scrawled "Class of '62" on one of the tanks got up there?... City thinking of periodical physicals for all employees...

AND SOME MORE... City commission ordered flag poles in front of all city buildings and to fly the flag every day the building is in use.

City fathers backed down and agreed to a compromise salary advance for all employees... There's a catch though... Have to pay it back within three paydays... Seems when they get started they don't leave us working people anything.

There won't be any changes in the precincts as was reported yesterday by Supervisor of Registration Camilla Bruce. "Not enough time," says Mrs. Bruce.

CRYSTAL BALL DEPARTMENT: Things coming up at the county commission meeting this afternoon... Engineer's report on Lake Orienta drainage... property owners paying the cost... move on to stop drag races at the Osceola Airport... complaints from Geneva... we hear letter going to the governor...

AND SOME MORE: FRANCHISE DIRECTIVE COMING UP AGAIN... board may decide to set a public hearing on the matter... might be some talk about paying road department personnel a week instead of twice a month.

About the Ballard Ave. blockade erected by County Commissioner Dunn to stop Altamonte Springs traffic to Highway 17-92, the following conversation was reported by Mayor Larry Swofford of Altamonte:

Swofford: Do you think this is serving the people?
Dunn: I ordered it blocked.
Swofford: Why?
Dunn: Because of the dust.
Swofford: Are you going to close all unpaved county roads because of the dust?
Dunn: I sure closed that one.

Youngsters Take Over Local Government

New student government officers at Seminole High School who won their offices in hotly-contested elections last week were honored today, on the Elks-sponsored Youth Activities Day. Fourteen student officers worked during the morning with city and county officials in a close-up observation of the duties and responsibilities of government and attended the County Commission meeting in the afternoon. Working with County Commission Chairman J. C. Hutchinson was Student Body President J. B. Phillips. Vice President Steve Sewell will work with City Manager W. E. Knowles, Secretary Linda Mills with Court Clerk Art Beckwith and Treasurer Louise Higginbotham with Tax Collector John Galloway. Senior Class President Robert Murrie worked with Mayor Crapps, Vice President Steve Wilson with Public Works Director Sid Richard; Secretary Susan McCall with Val Robbins; Treasurer Pat Kuhn with Chief Mack Cleveland. Casselberry Zoning Plan Abruptly 'Halted'

Progress on a new comprehensive zoning plan for the town of Casselberry was called to an abrupt standstill Tuesday night when the Board of Aldermen voted to halt any further work until a map is approved which definitely establishes the municipal boundary lines. Final copy of the town's new map was available at the board meeting Tuesday, however reduced workable copies will not be made until it is officially approved by the board. Attorney Kenneth McIntosh warned that the map now being used by the town's zoning commission in its preparatory work is not a true map of the municipality and could result in trouble. Hibbard Casselberry, owner of Casselberry Gardens, Inc., pointed out that he wanted a chance to study the draft of any new zoning ordinance before it comes up for adoption. He made it clearly understood that he wanted his property left alone and would go to court if necessary should the proposed zoning fail to meet with company agreement. Members of the Casselberry commission have met regularly with McIntosh and County Zoning Board Chairman Bob Brown for the past four months in an effort to draw a new zoning plan and according to the attorney now have 26 pages in readiness with some 50 more to go. McIntosh repeatedly emphasized that before any further work is done he and members

'Sick Of The Whole Rotten Mess' --- Baker

Commission Rules Out Bus Franchise Ordinance Ok

The City Commission by a split vote, ruled out second reading of the bus franchise ordinance despite charges by City Commissioner Joe Baker that his previous motion on the ordinance "had been altered in the minutes" and he was disgusted with the "whole rotten mess."

Members of the board contended the company had withdrawn its request for a franchise. "The president told me last night that he was definitely interested in the franchise," Baker said. Commissioners Earl Higginbotham, Mayor J. H. Crapps and Al Wilson refused to hear a reading on a blanket franchise and wanted to wait until someone was interested in taking the franchise. To this Baker charged that he made a motion at a previous meeting that second reading be ordered with the transit company name inserted. "However, I see this part of the minutes have been erased." "Who did that," Baker said. City Clerk Henry Tamm wanted it clarified he had never altered any minutes and the notes "I take down are only my interpretation until the board has approved them." Baker kept asking the board to vote. However, Crapps suggested that they hold up any action one way or another until they can get a taker for the franchise. "You vote your conscience and I'll vote mine but let's vote. This has gone far enough and I'm sick and tired of the whole rotten mess," Baker said. After the meeting, when questioned by the Herald, Baker said he had reference to the fact that the minutes reflected that this business had been put off and put off without "any just reason." Baker and Tom McDonald voted for hearing the second reading while the three other members of the board voted "No."

City Moves Ahead On Condemned Bldgs.

The City Commission, despite protests from Mayor J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps, moved a vigorous step forward to clean up dilapidated buildings in the city by condemning 18 structures at its meeting Monday night.

The board gave property owners Jeannette Laing and Jay Beck from 60 days to six months to clean up their premises. Crapps felt that 10 of the homes, owned by Beck, were only in need of minor repair. "Wish you had gone out inspecting these homes with us instead of with the property owners," Tom McDonald told Crapps.

Beck appeared in person to defend his homes saying he was one of the biggest taxpayers in the city and cited figures from 1958 to back his statement up. Beck said "I've never been delinquent, and all these homes are structurally sound. I just can't find a renter," he added. The homes include 406, 408, 411, 413, 812, 814, 816 1/2, 816 3/4, Pine; 801 and 803 Cypress; 805 and 807 E. 8th St.; 614 and 618 E. 10th St.; and 910, 914, 914 1/2, 918 Hickory.

Put Post Office Up For Bid -- Merchants

A delegation of downtown merchants asked the City Commission Monday night to reconsider using the present post office for a library when a new postal facility is constructed.

The merchants, led by Francis Roumillat Jr. and E. C. Harper Jr., suggested the board ask the General Service Administration to put the building up for public bid. However, commissioners said that the GSA would only allow the building to be used for "certain purposes."

Probe Asked Of Financing Water Program

A complete investigation into the financial picture of Sanford to help pay for a $600,000 water improvement program was ordered by the City Commission at a lengthy meeting Monday night.

The board asked for the report "as soon as possible." Commissioner Tom McDonald told the commission "on my own" he had asked Fiscal Agent D. Kirk Gunby of DeLand to come up with some cost estimates and Gunby would be present at the next regular board meeting.

The biggest objector to the water program was Earl Higginbotham who repeatedly took issue that the city had nothing to worry about for at least another five years. Higginbotham emphasized the city would get itself into debt loaning money to the "limit of its borrowing capacity."

He also added that to finance such a program would add $2.25 each month to each meter in the city. Included in the $600,000 program would be a treatment plant, new well field and transmission line. The board discussed the possibility of adding booster pumps to the lines but City Manager W. E. Knowles said "it just was not feasible."

Commissioners asked the delegation to get in touch with the county board to set up the districts, and District 4 County Commissioner John Fitzpatrick, who was in the audience, said "The machine has already been set up and will be discussed at today's county meeting." In a memo to the board, City Manager W. E. Knowles said the city offered cooperative effort to the county in 1957 but it was turned down. Knowles explained that the city's forces should not presently be used over a larger

Reappraisal Study

City Manager W. E. Knowles was asked by the City Commission Monday night to investigate and come up with a recommendation on the reappraisal of all vacant property in the city limits.

Commissioner Joe Baker called vacant property "out of line." Baker also brought up the matter of using the county tax roll but Earl Higginbotham chimed in "We don't want to get into that."

The board agreed to look into the matter of the reappraisal and determine how much help it would take to put it into effect. In other action the commission:

Fire Cooperation

The City Commission Monday night agreed to cooperate with the county on setting up fire districts within fringe areas if the people in the area approved the district by referendum vote.

A delegation of property owners outside of the city asked that Sanford aid them as "the cheapest method of fire protection." Spokesman for the group was Jack Taylor, who said he lived in the city but owned some property outside, and stressed there were close to 100 homes in the fringe area without fire protection.

School Bus Driver Has Quite A Day

Mrs. H. L. Johnson had quite a day on her school bus run Monday. As she was about to leave the junior high school with her load of kids she smelled smoke and discovered a short circuit was causing the trouble.

Treatment Plant Upsets Council

Monday night's meeting of the Oviedo city council was marked by consideration of the treatment plant to be erected with the County Commission's approval on Round Lake and a discussion of a municipal water system and the decision to have a preliminary survey made to gauge town reaction.
