

Texas U. Player Seeks Letters In Four Major Sports

AP Features
AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 19.—Tall Frank Guess, a blond, 180-pounder, is going to be a busy young man for the next four or five months as he seeks letters in three major sports at the University of Texas.

He probably would have made it four but freshmen didn't become eligible for the varsity until the Southwest Conference started after the regular football season.

Guess did well in playing the College Bowl game, and if what he did was a fair sample, there's little doubt that he would have made his numeral on the gridiron.

The Army may prevent the university from having its first football team in history.

The 18-year-old Guess, a physical education major, is in the Army Enlisted Reserve and will probably be called to the service this Spring. He may go before completing basketball, baseball, and football.

Frank is considered by freshman Coach Clyde Littlefield as the best football prospect at Texas since the days of Harrison Stafford. For those who may not have heard of Stafford, well, this fellow was the greatest blocker ever to bounces a would-be tackler in the Southwest Conference. Guess already is a mighty good player and in addition can pass well, and is a shifty runner. His cut-back is something to see.

Littlefield, who has beenritchington coach and go at Texas for 22 years, compares Guess to some of the best men he ever coached, including Frank's hometown hero, Stafford. Both of them are products of Wharton, Tex.

Littlefield describes "the goods" of Bohm Hilliard (Texas' great halfback of the early thirties) the way he listens to what you have to tell him."

Guess already is out for the year basketball team and has been impressive in his ball-handling. He plays guards.

The next big question after basketball will be whether he'll be allowed to participate in both track and baseball, as he wishes.

Japanese Reported To Be Facing Bad Shortage Of Ships

Allied Vessels Destroyed At Least 445 Enemy Naval, Merchant Ships

NEW YORK, Jan. 20, (UPI)— Aside from the hard going in New Guinea, on Gladan canal and in Burma, Japan was reported facing serious shortage of ships.

Slashing steadily away at Japan's vital and long-extended supply lines, Allied submarines and warships and planes have destroyed at least 445 Japanese naval and merchant ships, and reports from Axis sources indicate the Japanese are facing a serious shipping shortage.

On another side, an official spokesman here and in London Tuesday emphasized anew the gravity of Axis ship losses. As raiders which have sunk at least 627 United Nations and neutral merchantmen in western Atlantic waters since America entered the war.

A United States Navy Department spokesman and Britain's deputy prime minister, Clement R. Attlee, both said the submarine menace is far from licked and that complex anti-submarine defenses are increasingly necessary.

An unofficial United Press compilation of western Atlantic sinkings reached 827 with Navy disclosure that two more British ships were blasted to the bottom last month in the South Atlantic, the favorite Axis hunting ground.

The Navy spokesman said, "Everything possible is being done to cut losses but as things now stand we're not winning the battle of transportation" and Axis raiders still are "going to town" off the South American coast.

He told the convoy system employed in the Atlantic was "working well" and the Atlantic and Caribbean "has forced the raiders to move southward but that such operations 'take more ships than we can muster.'

"Our shipping lanes are long and many," he said, "while our ships are not enough." Even convoys are vulnerable, he said, and many cargo ships still are "knocked out" under the guns of protecting escort vessels.

He said if the Allies are able to "stymie" the raiders in the South Atlantic "as effectively as we have from Canada to Trinidad, then we'll start winning the battle of transportation. As it stands now we are not."

In a House of Commons speech, described the U-boat menace as of the first magnitude and said there unfortunately is "no short, simple way of defeating it."

Selective Service To Keep Men On Farms

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—The Selective Service Bureau of the War Manpower Commission last night announced a far-reaching liberalization of agricultural deferment requirements to keep workers on the farms.

Henefer local draft boards will be guided by a "new criteria" which includes liberalized application of the war unit" procedure standard and adds to the list of essential crops for which farm workers may be deferred.

A "unit," for example, is one cow, or 80 feed lot cattle, or an acre of beets, or 20 acres of wheat—products deemed essential in the war food program. Farmers most farmers to whom deferments have been required to serve 16 months under the new plan as few as eight are required.

Fruit Packing Plants Essential Fuel Users

WABASH CITY, Jan. 20, (UPI)—Fruit packing plants have been rated essential users of petroleum products by the Petroleum Administration. Representative Peterson (D-Minn.) announced.

The representative said he had learned that additional allocations of ether, kerosene and gasoline were to be essential materials that their supplies had been cut too heavily.

Soviets Forge New Pincer Threat To City Of Kharkov

U.S. Heavy Bombers Begin Punishing Attack On Burma Rail Junction

(By Associated Press)
On the Russian front, Red army troops, now driving 60 miles into the Ukraine, were reported forging a new pincer threat to the big steel city of Kharkov after a 17-mile advance to the southeast. Other columns were reported sweeping through the southeastern Ukraine toward the Sea of Azov in a move to close the area around Rostov.

From New Delhi in the Indian theater, a communiqué reported United States heavy bombers made a punishing attack Tuesday on a railway installation at Thatla, a central Burma rail junction.

Back to the European theater, the German air force stabbed at London four times during the night but indications early today were that the Nazis had done no damage after a German daylight raid yesterday which spanned school houses and killed at least 30 gaily chattering children in the building.

The shelling last night and early today by the Nazi air force was regarded by observers as insignificant as a military operation to the Germans' own raid on the outskirts of London once.

Otherwise, the four alarms in the London area, one of them in only one section, produced almost no incidents.

Incendiary bombs were dropped in the southeast section during one alarm.

The German daylight raiders buried 20 to 30 children and three women beneath a pile of debris tons of debris but rescuers were digging for them. It was the worst blow suffered by London schools since the blitz attack began.

Only six raiders stayed London overnight and three were wounded, two of them severely. One of the dead was a woman who was digging for her children.

There wasn't a chance that the children and teachers buried in the ruins were alive, for they had been chattering gaily at lunch on the first floor; but 200 rescue workers kept digging for them.

In southern England, where the raiders also delivered destruction, one elderly man died of shock in a southeast coastal town where 40 to 60 planes appeared in two waves, but dropped no bombs.

German night raiders kept hitting at the south, dropping incendiaries on the residential areas of the southeast coast towns and starting small numbers of fires which were quickly put out. No casualties were reported in the night attack but there was considerable property damage.

Escorted by up to 100 fighters, some 25 German fighter-bombers approached the coast at Beachy Head from the east and headed straight for London at top speed.

Some had done just enough to give the R.A.F. and Royal Canadian Air Force fighters, who heavily engaged the force and damaged many others in addition to shooting down the 18.

End Is Near For Cut In Civilian Economy

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21, (AP)— With Chairman Donald Nelson today indicated the Government is near the end of trimming down civilian economy and declared little surplus remained which, if taken away, would make essential contributions to war production.

He said the W.P.B. shortly would announce a large-scale program of simplification of consumer goods, so as to put maximum production with the use of least possible materials and equipment.

Long-Distance Rates For Telephoning Cut

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21, (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission announced last night that American Telephone and Telegraph Co. has agreed to re duce rates on long-distance tele

Canned Baby Foods Will Be Rationed By OPA

Eleven Items Added To List Of Products By Wickard

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21, (AP)—The O.P.A. today announced many canned baby foods will be rationed under the same point system to be used for packaged fruits and vegetables. Baby foods rationed will include strained or chopped foods made of fruits, vegetables or meats and put up in cans, jars, cans, glass or cartons.

Food Administrator Wickard has added 11 other general items to the list of foods expected to be rationed. It was disclosed last night as the Office of Price Ad ministration began cracking down on a growing black market in meats.

At the same time, Rep. Edwin Wickard introduced a bill designed to prevent the O.P.A. from taking ration cards as a means of punishing any violators of O.P.A. regulations. His action followed reports that O.P.A. officials in New York would withdraw food ration cards of persons violating the pleasure driving ban.

Wickard's order authorizes the O.P.A. to ration "as necessary" canned and evaporated milk, jellies, jams, preserves, fruit, but ter, pickles, relishes, food prod ucts containing meat, and proces sed fish and shell fish. The order is designed to "facilitate admin istration" of food rationing, retain ing with Wickard the authority to ad just O.P.A. when rationing of these canned foods becomes necessary.

The order, which was made public yesterday, was given in the Federal Register, a government organ for promulgating orders and regulations.

Incendiary bombs were dropped in the southeast section during one alarm.

The German daylight raiders buried 20 to 30 children and three women beneath a pile of debris tons of debris but rescuers were digging for them. It was the worst blow suffered by London schools since the blitz attack began.

Only six raiders stayed London overnight and three were wounded, two of them severely.

There wasn't a chance that the children and teachers buried in the ruins were alive, for they had been chattering gaily at lunch on the first floor; but 200 rescue workers kept digging for them.

In southern England, where the raiders also delivered destruction, one elderly man died of shock in a southeast coastal town where 40 to 60 planes appeared in two waves, but dropped no bombs.

German night raiders kept hitting at the south, dropping incendiaries on the residential areas of the southeast coast towns and start ing small numbers of fires which were quickly put out. No casu alties were reported in the night attack but there was consider able property damage.

Escorted by up to 100 fighters, some 25 German fighter-bombers approached the coast at Beachy Head from the east and headed straight for London at top speed.

Some had done just enough to give the R.A.F. and Royal Canadian Air Force fighters, who heavily engaged the force and damaged many others in addition to shooting down the 18.

Transport Plane Crashes And All Aboard Killed

LONDON, Jan. 21, (AP)—The new costing edition of $1 the 100,000 daily two years ago cost was $90,000,000.

The total expenditure of the present financial year which ends March 31 will exceed $21,000, 000,000. To foot the bill, Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Kingsley Wood will ask Parliament to vote another $2,400,000,000 to carry him over until the end of March.

In considering these figures, it is worth remembering that Brit ain votes money only according to the estimated actual expendi ture during the forthcoming fi nancial year—unlike the United States where estimated total ex penditure is voted at the be ginning of the year regardless of the fact that the money may not be spent until following or the next following year.

Aussie Mosquitoes Are Plenty Tough

HENKIN, Mont. Jan. 21, (AP)—People who live in the U.S. A. should go to Australia if they want to make acquaintances of any sort of mosquitoes, says Pat Frank Jones in a letter to his mother.

He drew a picture that showed a man-size mosquito equipped with goggles, gas mask, hand gun, smoke bomb, pick, and spikes to prevent sliding while driving.

The Federal Communications Commission announced last night that American Telephone and Telegraph Co. has agreed to re duce rates on long-distance tele phone calls of more than three minutes and to cut charges for leased wire services.

"Three of our aircraft engaged one and after a long, arduous battle they managed to shoot it down," he said. "I am in dis agreement with you that the most casualties are equipped with armor plating."

The commission estimated the amount would result in an im mediate saving of $15,700,000 to the public and the annual rev enue of the industry's long lines departments $60,700,000.

The commission, in a statement by the W.P.B., said the FCC said,
