Lava Stream From Mount Etna Slows Down Say Natives

Hope Is Felt That Destructive March Of Molten Rock Has At Last Lost Its Force... Thousands Pray On Hearing News Many Other Figures However Continue To Emit Hot Masses

GIARRE, Sicily, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Hope was felt here today that Mt. Etna's latest eruption, probably the most destructive one of modern times, had spent its force.

Daring natives who ventured near the fringe of the molten mass that has been steadily nearing this city reported that at midnight the flowing lava appeared to have slowed down to a standstill.

With the receding of this new lava stream immediately felt that they would soon see the end of the awful calamity which has devastated the island.

Other streams of lava, however, were reported to be extending with unabated fury like huge smoky tentacles.

The lava of Mascal, Carrabba and Nuziata, together with several smaller ones have been reported.

At Nuziata, a lava stream, which had been reported to have stopped at the town's church in honor of the dead on the tenth anniversary of the armistice, is believed to have lost its life.

Refugees from the devastated district were being taken care of in the town's school building.

In some places the molten mass has more than 100 feet high. The eruption has laid waste to some of the most fertile citrus-bearing lands in Sicily.

Congress Will Get "Bigger Navy" Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Taking their cue from President Coolidge's armistice speech before the American Legion, congressional "big navy" advocates mustered forces today to get a cruiser building bill through Congress.

The President served notice that America was tired of hearing about Europe over naval armaments which was not equitable in the United States and intended to build more cruisers to put the American navy on a parity with the British.

HOOVER'S TOUR MAY OPEN NEW TRADING FIELD

President-Elect Proposes To Continue Prosperity By Opening Fresh Markets

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(INS)—The real purpose of Herbert Hoover's proposed tour of South and Central America is to insure American prosperity for another four years by opening fresh markets for American goods in the nations south of the Rio Grande, it was learned today.

The President-elect believes a personal visit would tend to promote a new era of friendship between the United States and the nations to the south, thus laying a proper basis for the development of new trade channels on the American continent.

The development of foreign commerce was one of Hoover's chief tasks as secretary of commerce during the last eight years.

During his tenure in the cabinet it was pointed out, American exports grew a billion dollars to a new grand total of $1,000,000,000 in 1927, the largest in the history of our country.

Hoover always has thought that American merchants were losing a golden opportunity in South America.

The President-elect incidentally has first hand knowledge of an ideal field for expansion in history.

He pointed out however that "these other great nations (that engaged in the war) are now emerging from the destruction of war."

As for Central America, Hoover always has declared that the United States depended on the import of raw materials from the tropics.

On one recent occasion, he declared: "Without continued interchange of tropical products with those of the temperate zone, whole sections of the world, including our own country, must stagnate and degenerate in civilization."

Gotham Newspapers Score Officers For Inactivity In Rothstein Murder Inquiry

Mystery Surrounding Slaying Of Gambler Is As Deep As That Of Celebrated Elwell And Rosenthal Cases Of Years Ago

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—(INS)—With developments tumbling out one after another, the murder of Arnold Rothstein, "king of the Broadway gamblers," today attracted propositions of a thrilling mystery replete with the sinister implications of the Rosenthal and Elwell slayings of a decade ago.

Though it was a week ago last night that the suave, dapper Rothstein was mortally wounded in room 219 of the Park Central Hotel, the police seemed as far away as ever from the arrest of the killer.

When the grand jury resumed its deliberations Tuesday, Kenneth G. Orniston, former radio operator at Angelus Temple, will probably be called as a witness.

It was also learned several former officials and present executives of Angelus Temple would be called before the grand jury to clarify certain angles of Mrs. McPherson's court appearance.

She and her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, were acquitted of charges of obstructing justice when District Attorney Van Kester found there was lack of evidence against them.

Orniston and the temple officials will be interrogated, it was reported, concerning purported documentary evidence concerning transactions in the McPherson case reported to have totaled more than $100,000.

Legionnaires Hold Memorial Service Sunday Afternoon

Commemorating the tenth anniversary of the close of the World War, members of the Campesque Post, American Legion, yesterday staged brief exercises at Memorial Fountain on the Municipal Plaza.

Speaking from the clubhouse, to the Legionnaires formed around the fountain while a small group of citizens were also present for the program.

The Rev. Mortimer Glover, post chaplain, gave the invocation, followed by the reading of a memorial to the fallen.

Although no celebration was being staged here today, Sanford is observing the day as a holiday along with a number of other cities in the vicinity.

COOLIDGE RAPS EUROPEANS ON ARMS QUESTION

Foreign Nations Are Blamed With Failure Of Program In Behalf Disarmament

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(INS)—President Coolidge, in his address last night on the observance of the tenth anniversary of the American Legion, rapped the failure of disarmament and international peace of the United States with a sternness unqualified since he has been in the White House.

Throughout the address, short speeches delivered in the Washington auditorium, under the auspices of the American Legion, ran a list of rebuke unlike anything in his past public utterances.

The anti-war treaty is the most effective instrument for peace that has ever been devised, he said, but so long as promises can be broken and treaties can be violated we can have no positive assurance against war.

Almost recently he struck down the idea that the United States grew rich out of the war. Its ultimate cost to this country will approach $100,000,000,000, he said.

No citizen of the United States needs to make apology to anybody, he said, for not having done more in defense of the cause of world liberty, he declared.

At the Washington disarmament conference, the powers agreed to limit the arms of combatants in which we were superior, but a fused limitation in the class in which they were superior, he said bluntly.

At the abortive Geneva conference, he went on, the British proposed, "not a limitation, but an extension of war fleets," then recently came the Franco-British compromise proposal which Mr. Coolidge criticized as "a kind of armistice in the kind of armistice and subsidies adapted to the use of the United States, but to leave without limit the kind adapted to their use."

While Europe divided up German territory, we sought and got none, he contended, the property of German nationals while we fought it back we agreed to settle the war debts owed to us "in accordance with what was due but in accordance with the merciful principle of what our debtors could pay."

We even loaned Germany $110,000,000 to get the German reparations plan into effect, Mr. Coolidge continued, and while Germany was paying out $1,000,000,000 in reparations to the allies "our people have lent to national, state and municipal governments and to corporations in Germany a little over $1,100,000,000."

Mr. Coolidge gave warning that the needs of our own people require that any further advances by us must have most careful consideration.

As for Europe's failure to pay the war debts, Mr. Coolidge observed dryly that "it is possible that we could better afford to live than they our debtors could afford to pay them."

After traveling several blocks, Chrysler later stated, the big sedan rolled along side of the Actor bus. There were three men inside and a fourth stood on the running board waving a revolver and shouting the boy said.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—(INS)—An alleged bank thief and his partner were arrested today by police officers in a raid on a hideout in the city.

Hoover May Spend Winter In Florida After Tropic Trip

No Definite Itinerary Has Been Named Yet But President-Elect Is Considering Plan

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Another of Ex-Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall's old contracts was cancelled today.

He may later suggest that the Royalty Oil Contract in the Cat Creek, Montana, field which the Lexington Oil and Refining Company of Detroit was negotiating with the government.

A similar opinion was delivered by Sargent on the Royalty Oil Contract of the Lincoln County Petroleum Company in the San Creek, Wyo., field, and the contract was cancelled.

Immediately upon receipt of Sargent's opinion, Secretary of the Interior West notified the Lexington Oil Company the government would stop offering it to it at 2 A. M. Monday and new bids would be advertised.

The Lexington contract was signed by Fall in December, 1922, and renewed last March by E. F. Fawcett, assistant secretary of interior, an recommendation of the general and office and the general survey.

The Lincoln contract was renewed by Ex-Secretary of Interior Work, now chairman of the Republican National Committee. When the Lincoln contract was announced, West ordered an investigation of similar contracts and the Lexington case was discovered.

Hoover plans now to sail from San Diego, but the Maryland will leave for Los Angeles, for fueling in this week, and he may decide to board her there.

Meantime the man who went into dry dock at San Francisco today, for complete inspection, repairs and a new coat of white paint, will be the ship Maryland, flagship of the Pacific Fleet, for the start of his history making journey to Alaska in the Panama Canal zone.

Hoover plans now to sail from San Diego, but the Maryland will leave for Los Angeles, for fueling in this week, and he may decide to board her there.

George Akerson, Mr. Hoover's personal assistant today completed arrangements for the departure of the Hoover party aboard the presidential yacht.

Three motor ships will be made by the Maryland on the Pacific side at Balboa, Canal Zone, Panama, and the Panama Canal. As a part of the Panama Canal zone, the Maryland will be used to transport supplies to the Panama Canal zone.

The 500 mile trip from Honolulu to Boston, Alaska will require three days, part of the time over single track narrow gauge, and through mountainous terrain through altitudes ranging up to 15,000 feet.

Island Community Has No Local Laws To Govern People

HARRERS ISLAND, N. C. (INS)—This island community with its 1,200 inhabitants, where Mr. Walter Raskob's ill-fated oil wells are said to have built their homes, has no local laws or government and comes near to being the Utopia of idealists.

No fights, no lawsuits, no automobile accidents and a great abundance in the goodness with trustworthiness of human beings are the points of life of the islanders most vividly trying to mind.

Its 5,000 acres give to each inhabitant his own little plot of ground. The one negro on the island is a servant of a white family. Most of the inhabitants are fishermen.

Lying off Cape Sound, off the coast of north Carolina, the island is "self-sufficient unto itself." Its resources are simple, and its life quiet. Its interior is a beautiful jungle of yucca trees bedecked with myriads of scarlet berries, pine trees and wild flowers, all cut by winding paths trod by fishermen for years.

Its folk share the spot and profit when a whale occasionally appears off the coast and is captured. The shore front is covered with racks for drying fishing nets, and in the sound are silken boats small as at anchor. The houses of the islanders are situated on the southern shore of the island.

Thin Hose Are Now Being Worn Inside Out By Parisiennes

PARIS, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Thin silk stockings are now being worn inside out in Paris instead of the usual way around.

In the artificial light, the seam practically disappears and the inside of the knitting gives a softer texture than the upper, shiny outside one and makes for a much more striking effect. With cotton, crepe and taffeta gowns, lace or velvet, which are glossy in their own right, the shiny, outer surface of the stocking is the last one to get stockings in fine knits and silk, hidden silver and gold, are being shown to wear with gold and silver slippers. They are more attractive than those of plain silk for they can be better matched to the shoes.

Brilliant brogans are coming out for wear at smart winter soirees. There are white ones with long and subtle strip of bright green, red or orange. And others have the color scheme reversed.

New black and brown suede shoes have daring designs in gold or silver.

Crystal buckles for shoes are sometimes very large. One smart footman is offering small square cut ones, singly set, which give a very decorative effect.

The right kind of shoe to go with the hat is a simple pump or one strapped over the instep with a bow to match the shade of the hat, depending on the French fashion. All the latest and trimmed brogue which are possible for shades this season can be duplicated in patent and black.

TUESDAY

The Presbyterian Auxiliary will hold its Mission Study Class at the church 11:30 to 1:30.

Circle Number Four of the First Baptist Church will meet at 3:30 at the home of Mrs. H. Cummings on Pomegranate Avenue.

There will be a G. E. A. meeting at 3 o'clock at the Odd Fellow's Hall.

The Social Department of the Women's Club will have an evening bridge party at the club at 8 o'clock. Hostesses will be Miss R. B. Aldrich, Mrs. John F. Stone and Miss Mabel Brewer.

The Women's Sunday School Class of Presbyterian Church will hold a social meeting at the church at 7:30.

THURSDAY

The Religious Department of the Sanford Public Schools will give an exhibition recital in the Junior High School recital in the afternoon. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Specialist Removes His Own Tonsils In Difficult Operation

DENVER, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Capt. F. N. Stiles, eye, ear, nose and throat specialist at Fitzsimons Army Hospital here has gone into the annals of surgical history as one who took out his own tonsils.

The Captain performed the throat operation at two different times. One tonsil was removed eight years ago because of deafness in his left ear. The deafness was corrected by operation. The other was removed five years ago because of acute tonsillitis and rheumatism and the ailment was cured.

The public was given Dr. Robert Meals of Hollywood when he removed his own tonsils, recently prompted Capt. Stiles to reveal that he also had performed such a feat. The officer said he made his own diagnosis, then by using a mirror he brought into use every precautionary measure in a tonsil operation.

their age-old animosities. We do not see how difficult it is for them to displace distrust in each other with faith in each other. On the other hand, they appear to think that we are going to do exactly what they would do (they had 600 chances).

This appeared to be a manner of saying that Europe in our place would use its power to rule the world.

"If they would give a little more attention to our history," Mr. Coolidge went on, "and judge a little more closely by our research and especially find out in what directions we believe our interests to lie, much which they now appear to find obscure would be quite apparent."

G. O. P. Director Of Publicity Denies Charges Of Raskob

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—(INS)—Denying charges of John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, that Republican leaders had plotted anti-athletic attacks upon him, Al Smith, Henry J. Allen, Republican director of publicity, today accused the Democrats of "manufacturing evidence" against Herbert Hoover.

"To hear out his charges, Raskob sent exhibits to Hubert Work, Republican chairman, by special messenger. Copies also went to Hoover."

"Mr. Raskob has now fully revealed to the country that his first appeal for a clean campaign was a mere mask to hide his own mud game," said Allen.

"All efforts to link the Republican party with the religious issue having failed, because of the refusal of the Republican party to renounce the appeal to bigotry, the committee of Raskob has deliberately descended to the Tammany tricks of manufacturing evidence for their own use. This is what they did in referring to the recent pretended meeting in New Jersey between Klan leaders and Republican leaders, a canard which has been easily traced to the Democratic headquarters in Philadelphia."

Famed Donkey Will Be Entered In Pet Show In Windy City

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—(INS)—"Milk," the famous donkey opera star known to thousands of Chicago opera lovers, has been entered in the Pet Show to be held in the First Regiment Armory, 12, Nov. 15 to 18 by the Chicago Club Opera Company. The donkey has appeared in many operas here during the past few years, including "Pagliacci" and will soon resume her stage work.

Intending "Milk" the opera management stated that she was a pet as well as a performer and therefore was entitled to a place in the show. "Milk" is known to animal men as a variety of female of the species, and is groomed for the opera seasons.

Many species of animals are being entered for the show and a vegetable North-west of pet life will be on display.

A troop of milk goats from the Stock farms of Mrs. James A. Patten, Charles A. Stevens, Mrs. A. L. Farwell, M. C. Hoedler and other members of the Illinois Milk Goat Association will have a special division at the show. Mrs. Hoedler, president of the association, will have a number of champion does in attendance, including "Milkheart, Jubilee," owned by John W. McConnell of Carthage, Ill.; "Aces Silverbell" from Mrs. Farwell's farm "Superior June" and others from his own farm.

“NOT in the least with the idea of restricting the benevolence of those whose compassion is moved by the hurricane disaster which has afflicted Porto Rico and made its presence felt in Florida, but in order to preserve a sense of proportion some comments here can be usefully made. Standing crops, like coffee or sugar on an island like Porto Rico, represent a serious loss to a population mostly of small means living from hand to mouth. But two years ago there was an opportunity to see how absurdly hurricane damage could be exaggerated so far as Florida was concerned.

When the newspapers of California proprietors had attained a wind velocity of 125 miles an hour and reported damage to the extent of $150,000,000, it had already been pointed out in these columns that $20,000,000 would more than cover the bill and that such wind velocities, except for a few moments, were unknown outside the so-called “news” columns of the Hearst newspapers. There is a simple rule which can once more be brought to public attention, if only to discourage hysteria.

Cyclone or hurricane damage is essentially surface damage. It has every element of the spectacular and it always looks several times as bad as it really is. Apart from the deplorable loss of life, something which happens any day of the year from other causes than hurricanes, the damage is rapidly and easily remediable.

When the Florida winter season opens at Christmas there will be no evidence of wreckage that the Northern tourist can recognize.

A summer hotel out of the season looks seriously dilapidated when its roof has been rolled up, or even rolled off, by a high wind followed by enough rain to do vexatious damage in the upper floors. It does not take long to put the roof back again. If the hurricane could rip up the streets, destroy the lighting connections, move the sewer system over into the next country or turn the street plan upside down, cities in hurricane areas might as well go out of business. But these things do not happen nor could they happen in any circumstances. What is injured is not only readily replaced but has been regarded as on a replacement basis.

There is a story of Rudyard Kipling's written thirty years ago of 'The Ship Who Found Herself.' It was on the first trip across the North Atlantic, in the teeth of typical North Atlantic November weather. The Dimdula made that passage in twelve days and looked like a wreck as she came into New York Harbor. But the chief engineer, who was of course Scotch and knew his business, said that she was 'soopled' and that the damage was 'amerfeercial' which was entirely true.

Florida found herself long ago and she has been 'soopled' by more than one hurricane. If she keeps her eyes on the stars she nevertheless keeps her feet on the ground.”

Mississippi Wants Bodies Of Lee And Jackson As Their's

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 12—(INS)—The bodies of Robert E. Lee and "Stonewall" Jackson "cannot rest or sleep peacefully"
in the "Republican soil" of Virginia, according to a resolution introduced into the state legislature here, which would request the Governor of Virginia to permit removal of the bodies of the con-federal rate leaders to "the Democratic soil" of Mississippi.

This was the most recent gesture in various sections of the South apparently "to shame"
other sections for having voted for President-elect Hoover last Tuesday.

The first such "stunt" was reported from the University of Virginia campus where the statue of Thomas Jefferson was draped in mourning after that state had gone for the first time in its history into the Republican ranks.

Later the statue of Andrew Jackson, straddle his charger on the capital grounds at Nashville was similarly draped and adorned with a message of death and abandonment.

The resolution regarding the removal of the bodies of Generals Lee and Jackson was the second introduced into the Mississippi legislature touching upon the election. The first invited Governor Smith to move from New York to Mississippi and live the rest of his life "like a good Democrat
on Democratic soil."

Mississippi was one of the Southern states casting its elec-tional vote to Governor Smith.

Army Has Death In Engineer Corps Despite Transfers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.— (INS)—The Engineer Corps of the Army is short of officer personnel despite the transfer of officers from other branches, it was disclosed today in the annual report of Maj. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, Chief of Engineers, for the fiscal year ending June 30 last.

The Engineer Corps as a whole, however, is larger than at any time in its history. The present commissioned strength is 538, a shortage of 22 under the authorized strength, Jadwin reported.
Most of the shortage is in colonels, with a corresponding preponderance of majors and first and second lieutenants.

This has resulted, Jadwin said, "in the necessary assignment of majors to duties and responsibilities which would normally be borne by colonel and lieutenant colonels, and a greater proportion of lieutenants to regiments than prescribed by tables of organization."

During the year, however, a net gain of 208 was made in the number of reserve officers commissioned in the Engineer Station, Officers' Reserve Corps, making a total of 7,742 such officers avail-

Wall Street Hums With Comment On New Bull Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 12—(INS)—
Wall street buzzed with comment
today on the spectacular bull market which have prevailed since Herbert Hoover was elected president.

Total transactions for the day
were now $1,300,000,000, with the $500, 000,000 mark. This is considered outstanding for a few years ago
a 2,000,000-share day was regarded as extraordinary. Beginning with the Coolidge bull market in 1924 the total daily transactions increased steadily and early this year the $3,000,000,000 a day market became common. The total transactions yesterday were 4,992, 000.

Today's "short session"—only two hours, as is the rule on Saturdays—will be watched with interest by traders who are trying to determine how long the bull movement will continue. The big feature of yesterday's sensational market was a sudden 23-point rise in Railroad Corporation of America which stock lifted from $247 to a share at 2:44. At 3:27 a sharp decline of $14.00 brought the price to $237.50 and it closed at $250 bid.

Arrest Is Expected In Fatal Shooting Of Youth And Girl

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 12 (INS)—
An arrest was expected monday following the fatal shooting at Germantown near here,
last night of Robert McDonald, 18,
and the wounding of Miss Beth Seyers, 14.

The young couple were shot in the car of J. W. Turner as they were leaving a dancing party at the home of J. W. Forrester, police said. McDonald was shot four times and the girl received a flesh wound in her head.

Forrester told police they declared that the shooting was caused by the accidental discharge of a rifle found in the back seat of the car, when McDonald opened the rear door. Because of the four bullet wounds, officers were inclined to discount this story, they said.

Miss Seyers, youthful fiancée of Miss Seyers, was questioned by authorities this morning but put in the claim of an alibi. Parents of the two young people were insisting that a full probe of the shooting be made.

FINANCIAL HOUSES CLOSE

NEW YORK, Nov. 12—(INS)—
The banks, country merchants and country stores here today all closed
today for the national one week observed. All financial institutions and country merchants were closed
today and the country merchants closed today.
