SALADS MAKE AN IDEAL YEAR ROUND SPRING TONIC

BY HELEN HARRINGTON DOWNING

Director Home Economics, Calumet Baking Powder Co., Chicago, Ill.

There are few dishes more refreshing to the sight and to the appetite than a tasty salad served, chilled until the greens are crisp, and daintily garnished. From the standpoint of health we should consider salads as an all year dish.

Because of their refreshing quality and because of the minerals and vitamins contained, salads should become a part of every day's menu. Eminent nutrition specialists advocate a salad at least twice a day. Salads were first served by the Greeks and Romans at the beginning of a meal to create an appetite. At a later date salads appeared at the end of the heavier part of the meal to bring back or sharpen the appetite to greater enjoyment of the dessert.

Although served upon American tables for a comparatively few years, their popularity has increased daily. Green plants such as lettuce, celery and cress, and the salad plants—cabbage, too, has become popular in this guise. And, although not conspicuous for their nutriment, turnip tops, dandelions and even mustard may be considered. They contain valuable mineral substances, are slightly cooling, stimulating to the appetite and give food value.

In experimenting with the effect of certain diets on young animals, it has been found, there are vital principles in leaves which are not found in roots and seeds. These life-giving substances are called "Vitamins." Some scientists refer to them as "protective foods."

Aside from the mineral and protective value of such greens, they have little value, as they contain very little of the solid substances found in seeds and roots. The majority of salad plants are nine-tenths water and in order to make them a more complete, "all-round" food, we find that by combining them with other food principles, the greens fill an essential place in the dietary.

In various salad combinations, one can see how one material provides protein, another fat, and the salad plant itself yielding minerals and water, there being no carbohydrates or starch in this combination, we serve crackers or a sandwich to complete the dish.

The selection and care of materials for salads is important. Everyone should realize the necessary for washing and chilling these greens in advance of the time they are to be used. Salad dressings are many—sufficient in variety to serve any taste. These should also be well mixed and chilled before serving. Many questions are asked me as to what accompaniments are suitable to serve with the different salads, so I suggest the following:

Boston Brown Bread.
3 (3 Loaves)
2 cups graham flour
1 cup corn meal
1 level teaspoon salt
1 level teaspoon soda
1/2 cup sirup or molasses
1 1/2 to 2 cups sour milk
1 tablespoon melted shortening
3/4 cup seeded raisins
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder

Sift together dry ingredients, returning the bran to the flour mixture. Add together the sweetening, shortening and sour milk, and blend with flour mixture to which raisins have been added. If necessary, add a little more milk until a thick batter is formed. Beat well, and place in greased coffee or baking powder cans and steam three hours.

Whole-Wheat Biscuit.
(10 Biscuits)
2 cups graham flour (measured before sifting)
2 1/2 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
3/4 level teaspoon salt
1 or 2 tablespoons sweetening
2 tablespoons shortening
2-3 to 1 cup milk
Mix as other baking powder biscuits, returning the bran to the mixture after sifting, and dissolving the liquid used for mixing. Roll slightly thinner than for plain biscuit and bake a little more slowly and thoroughly, at 350 degrees Fahrenheit.

Nut Bread.
1/2 cup whole wheat flour
1 1/2 cups corn meal
1/2 cup flour
2 1/2 level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
3 tablespoons sugar
2-3 level teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped nut meats
1 cup milk
1 cup water
2 teaspoons melted butter
Mix all dry ingredients thoroughly. Add water, milk and melted butter. Pour batter in well greased one-pound baking powder cans. Bake 45 minutes at 400 degrees Fahrenheit.

And so we, a large family of us, 23 years ago, arrived in Miami, then less than 500 people. My father, having previously passed all his life in the retired cultured ways of student, literary man and minister, now plunged determinedly into the (to him) unknown world of tropical fruit and vegetable growing. His sole and entire capital, the result of years of meager ministerial savings, was less than $1,000.

However, a vision, far-seeing and prophetic, was undoubtedly his. At that time, when all the virgin country around Miami was cheaply available, in his quest for the ideal location, he was led unerringly to that section which was to be the beginning of Coral Gables. At that time, before Everglade drainage, when sea-cheaper than the back pine-lands; at that quarter-of-a-century-ago time when my father, with the unerring vision of the true discoverer or empire founder, selected from all that virgin Biscayne Bay country, as his first really purchase the first nucleus of Coral Gables.

Among the factors deciding him upon the rightness of his selection, he always mentioned as "one of the most important" the fact of its being the highest elevation around Miami, with, consequently, the purest and steadiest breezes; free from the intense summer glare and stagnant marginal calms of the bayside and river valley; greatest freedom from plagues and sickening insects; the purest and healthiest water, and, owing to elevation, pine zone; therefore, entire freedom from malaria and tropical fevers, which at that early time were acknowledged by the old-timers as being prevalent along the river and bay margins.

Also, my father's vision foresaw and dictated choosing that first Coral Gables holding as being the most fertile, best adapted for growing all tropical and sub-tropical fruits and vegetables. In a word, my father's vision—always that of an idealist, but also most practical and far-seeing—comprehended in that first Coral Gables location the complete embodiment of those Marco Polo tales of his friend that had brought himself and family to this far Southland. He visioned here the ideal location for the bringing true of his dream, and future for his family.

As his visionings of the future of Coral Gables gradually began to be realized, and the truth of his first prophecies as regards the capabilities of this location, which he inspiredly saw he always said "selected, there grew the GREAT IDEA AND IDEAL that after a quarter of a century has been worked into a GREAT REALIZATION at Coral Gables.

With the untiring determination of a real pioneer heartened and buoyed by that broad-gauge vision that was always his, through the hard pioneering years that were a continual unrelenting struggle, he laid, broadly and with true empire-building capacity, the far reaches and foundations of that glorious embodiment of unrivaled beauty-achievement that is the Coral Gables of today.

In every way has been proved the unerring rightness of his vision of the possibilities and the family found health; the quincy and realism that had affected my parents for years absolutely faded away. Good health and prosperity were theirs for many years, until my father finally entered into rest from an unsuspected organic disease.

His discernment of the Coral Gables area, as of unrivaled fertility and adaptability for tropical and sub-tropical plant life, the years have abundantly proved. The first solid carload of grapefruit that was ever rolled from the Miami section was picked and loaded from groves which he had planted. He lived to see Coral Gables known throughout Florida as "Miami's Garden Spot," and to see carloads, even trainloads, of vegetables and fruits leaving seasonally from its prolific acres.

His choice of the Coral Gables tract as the healthiest, coolest, most delightful all-year-round residence section around Miami has been borne out by the conclusive testimony of the thousands upon thousands of Miami's "old-timers" and all-year residents that in crowding their all-year residences to the west of Miami, toward this Western Coral Gables heights area, have so definitely, unmistakably set the trend of Miami's greatest and most substantial building—Coral Gablesward.

This rapid advance of the most substantial residential density area of Miami toward Coral Gables is, indeed, so obvious to anyone who has watched Miami's growth during the past 25 years that inevitably the cool, fertile, tropic and fruit-verdured heights of Coral Gables, must within a very few years be actually the very center and heart of the Greater Miami to be.

Were my father living today, I believe that, viewing these wonderful justifications of his discerning vision and dreams, that he might suggest as a slogan typifying Coral Gables some such one as "The Suburb Where Castles in Spain ARE MADE REAL." From that first 160-acre purchase of my father's, the Coral Gables holdings and development has gradually been added to through the years until now it comprises well onto 2,000 acres. The same thorough planning, the same faithful adherence to one designed program has obtained throughout the development of one of these nearly 2,000 acres.

Over $5,000,000 worth of improvement outlay already accomplished is solidly, permanently evident and now before your eyes at Coral Gables and immediately adjoining vicinity.

Another $5,000,000 worth of further improvement is planned for this year and is now actually under construction and is being carried forward with the same dispatch and thoroughness that has always characterized Coral Gables development execution.

In every way my associates and myself are endeavoring to unite beauty, utility and solid commercial advantage in a way never before attempted around Miami. I have gathered together with me in this molding of Coral Gables into Miami's Master Suburb a group of men of national and continental achievement and experience: Artists, City Planners, Landscape Architects, Construction Engineers, Golf Course, Park and Recreational Architects. Such men as Denman Fink of Haworth, N. J., one of the U. S. Government Committee of Twenty-one American Artists,

National Academy Exhibitor, etc.; Frank M. Button of Chicago, landscape architect, under whose direction was developed some of the finest landscaping achievements of the Nation, such as Lincoln Park of Chicago, ex-Governor Lowden's estates at Oregon, Ill., and the Charles Deering estates of Miami. These and many others of this exceptional corps of experts in the creation of beauty insure the highest artistic ideals in this great enterprise. Utility engineers, such as Mr. Max Keller, for years in charge of important water and drainage work in Switzerland, and other prominent engineers, architects and specialists of long and wide practical experience are associated with me in the actual construction details, which mean that substantially and permanently is being worked out at Coral Gables "The Making of Castles in Spain."

A quarter of a century of continuous creative effort of pioneering perseverance, of steadfast working toward, and up to the compelling force of a really inspired Vision and Master Ideal. Such has been the building of Coral Gables. Not a thing of the moment, of the year, or even of the passing period, but a wonderful monument to the achievement of worth-while perseverance in the creation of beauty and the bringing true of dreams, that will as solidly endure and as beautifully and bountifully age as does the everlasting coral upon which this master development is founded.

George Merrick Says Coral Gables Is At Last Realization of An Ideal

George E. Merrick (Owner and Developer of Coral Gables.)

The old New England street in front of the Colonial parsonage was a snow canyon, the banks towering so high that Dr. Noyes, traveling horseback to his scores of pneumonia patients, standing in the stirrups, could not reach their tops. All New England was in the grasp of that terrible blizzard of 1805. The thermometer was far below zero. There had been over 40 pneumonia deaths in the old Cape Cod village within a week, and as many more lay at death's door nearby our parsonage home, where death, too, had but just visited. So terrible was the blizzard that it was even impossible to bury all the fast accumulating victims. Quincy and the painful New England chronic type of rheumatism was rendering life unbearable for my mother and father.

One evening of that terrible time there came to the parsonage an old friend of my minister father's, who had just returned from Florida, with veritable Marco Polo tales of a wonderful new fairland of enchantment around a newly planted town called Miami, on Biscayne Bay. No greater contrast could be imagined than that between those tales of enchanted sunshine in the South and the frigid scene of ice, desolation and death all around us at Cape Cod.

That evening my father definitely embarked upon an undertaking, which in connection with all his circumstances, traditions, previous living and environment, called for the same courage, steadfastness of purpose and will power as fired Columbus on his adventure from Palos into the great unknown.

And so we, a large family of us, 23 years ago, arrived in Miami, then less than 500 people. Celery, too, Is Known by the Company it Keeps

In the markets celery is judged not only on its individual merits but in good part according to the company in which it travels.

It profits growers to produce good celery, but the fullest profit is to be obtained only when it goes to market in the company of other good celery.

The standards set for celery to be packed under the BLUE GOOSE trademark have been justified abundantly. The wisdom of maintaining those standards has been fully demonstrated by the unique position BLUE GOOSE celery has occupied at the top of the markets wherever sold this season.

Good advertising has interpreted the BLUE GOOSE trademark to mean to the buying public products which are Uniformly the Best of their kind from their respective sections. This is equally true of celery as of other things. Growers of good celery, therefore, find the BLUE GOOSE reputation of very great value to them in obtaining the fullest profit on their production.

All over the United States and Canada, in more than 160 offices, resident representatives of the American Fruit Growers, Inc., are on the alert to see that the interest of the growers are protected. The wide distribution made possible through this great national selling organization in good part accounts for the generally satisfactory nature of BLUE GOOSE celery sales.

From a very considerable number of markets we have this season received sincere compliments upon the grade and pack which have served to distinguish Sanford Celery sold under our BLUE GOOSE trademark. The sincerity of these compliments has been attested by the average higher prices paid by the purchasers for BLUE GOOSE celery than has been paid for any and all other offerings.

No small part of the credit for our accomplishments in this direction is due, we believe, to those growers for whom we market. Their loyal and hearty cooperation with our efforts is most keenly appreciated by our organization.

Captivating The Tourists.

Cities and towns throughout the whole state of Florida are now paying a great deal of attention to beautification. They are putting forth every possible effort to make the general appearance of their individual communities and of the entire state itself more attractive and inviting.

The pick of the nation come to Florida to live and as a result this state is composed of unusually progressive people. They are doing their part to make the different cities all that can be wished from an attractive standpoint and are improving the general appearance of the state at a rapid rate.

To the average northerner, Florida is thought of as a state of flowers, of beautiful tropical foliage, of pretty lawns, of new and clean appearing buildings, and a general state of progress and prosperity.

Besides making this a pleasant part of the country in which to live Floridians are spending their money and giving their time to develop it into an even greater tourist state.

Florida cities and towns are very much concerned with the establishment and development of parks, with the beautification of public grounds, with the paving of roads and laying of sidewalks, with the improvement of highways, with repairing old structures and with a lavish use of paint.

Sanford is doing its part in this great work. It is rapidly becoming one of the beauty spots of the state. Great progress is steadily being made in making "The City Substantial" an attractive and inviting place.

Charity For Political Purposes

No person can accuse the house of representatives at Washington of being "charitable." It seems to detest characteristics of this kind and in order to keep it's reputation for liberality it gives freely of its money and of everybody's money.

The latest bit of philanthropy is a resolution to appropriate ten million dollars for Germany. It is supposed to be for the purpose of providing food for destitute women and children of that country, but some people think it will actually get to some of the post-war profiteers and exploiters.

The Chicago Tribune in commenting editorially on this matter says:

"And now they vote to give $10,000,000 of the taxpayers' money to Germany, which is generally recognized among all students and personal observers of European conditions to have ample food for its children, women, and men, if it will only distribute that food.

P. T. BARNUM bought Jumbo, the great elephant, for fifteen thousand dollars. Jumbo was only two inches taller than other elephants, but Jumbo's advertising was colossal.

A POOR ARGUMENT

What causes a person to commit suicide is something that nobody can tell beyond saying that there must be mental derangement of some sort. There have been suicides in St. Petersburg, where the sunshine usually inspires men and women with a desire to live.

Something happened to it Tuesday, nobody knows quite what. Perhaps it was because what doesn't stay up in spite of higher tariff. Whatever it was, stocks shook themselves down to lower levels and "call," or gambling money, went up to five per cent.

It's a foolish stock market for we have everything here between the two oceans, most of the world's gold, and have kept out of foolish European complications.

Greece, with enemies close by and indifference farther off, will always be in need of a strong central government.

EVEN IN Chicago, where men walk with their chins out, doubling nothing, not even that Chicago will soon have New York, there is an easy feeling.

Chicago corporations show enormous earnings in many lines. The Gary steel mills, in the suburbs, are running at record speed.

This country acts as though it were getting "rich man troubles." Rich men, you know, worry when there is nothing to worry about, just to remind them how rich they are.

LENIN is to be kept permanently embalmed, and for the present, at least, in view for the inspiration of his followers. He will lie in state, his cold, serious face reminding all that see him of the power that tore down the feeble empires, and established what is called a government by the workers, but is in reality the autocracy of a small group of powerful, intellectual men.

TO PRESERVE Lenin is not a bad idea. Sincere man, of great courage, he stands unique among men in the world's history.

IT ISN'T safe to prophesy unless you are inspired. James Russell Lowell, distinguished writing gentleman, who represented this country at the World Peace Conference, and out of the power of his will overthrew a great empire, seized a nation of one hundred and twenty millions, and held power as long as he lived.

"The Papacy lies dead in the Vatican, but the secret is kept for the sake of government is carried on in its name."

DOUBTLESS MANY, reading James Russell Lowell's essays in the last century, believed that when they read it. But it's the nineteenth century that is dead and buried.

THE CREATION of two American cardinals attracts as much attention in American newspapers as would the inauguration of an American president, perhaps more. The Catholic Church is more powerful in the United States today than any other organization and wielder by far than any other non-commercial enterprise.

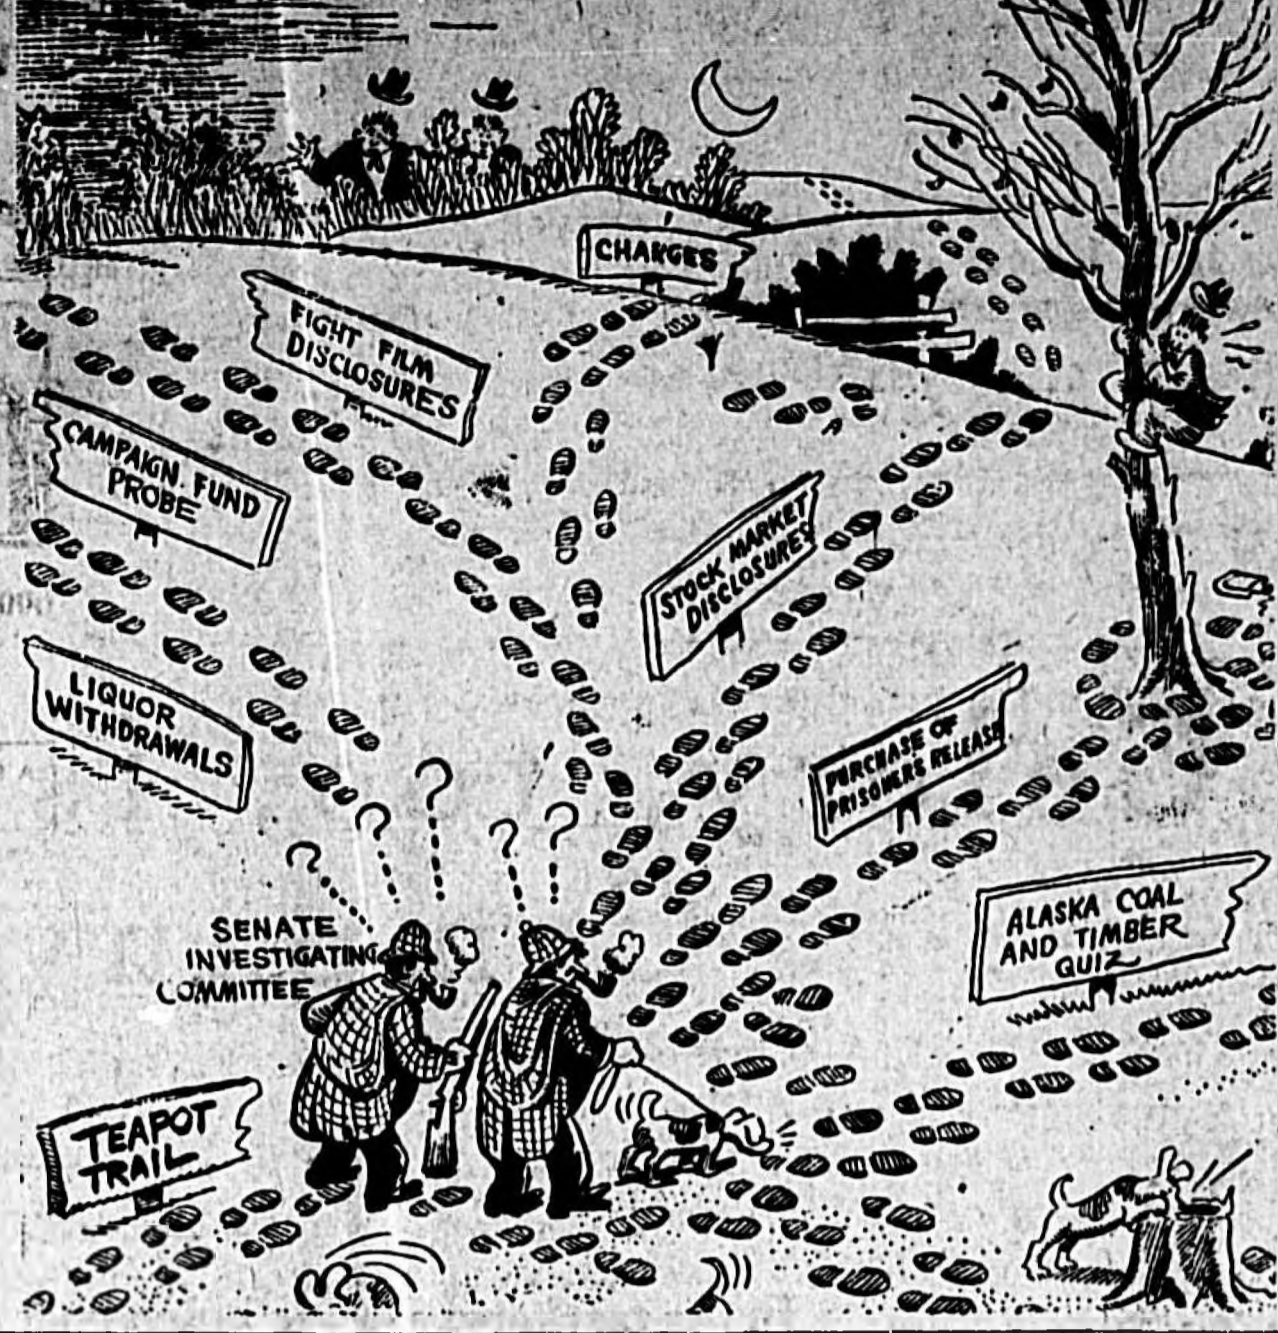

THE CATHOLIC Church looks ahead, follows the trend of the times, selects its Pope, not like royalty, by the accident of birth, but by careful selection based on ability. Such organizations do not die.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE has set aside seven thousand, one hundred acres of gas-bearing lands in Utah as public property. These lands, containing valuable helium gas that can be used for dirigibles because it does not catch fire or explode, will be called "Helium Reserve No. 1."

THE BRITISH have started on their race around the world against the American flyers. The race is to see which can make the trip most rapidly, if both get around, or which can go farthest.

That is the kind of competition that ought to exist among nations—friendly competition in the world of science, fighting against nature and her difficulties in place of fighting with poison gas, bayonets, tanks and brutal commercial selfishness.

FASHION PAINTS GLOWING COLORS ON SUMMER FROCKS

The parcel which Milady yields so nonchalantly might well be questioned by passersby as a shield against the riot of color displayed in this robe d'après midi of printed crepe de chine in gorgeous Chinese colors, which will manage to retain the travers banding of the Cheney design characteristic of the newest silks. There are several fashion points about this dress which the woman who is alert to changes in the modes would do well to notice. The diagonal closing line of the bodice is very new and makes the dress much easier to get into. The line is further accentuated by two sets of buttons fastening with loops. The bodice is long and fitted and its snugly, giving somewhat of a basque effect, is very often found in the latest type of dress. The neckline is slightly squared indicating an effort to get away from the inevitable "bateau". The sleeve is hardly more than a gay little frill added to a dropped shoulder, and like the skirt flounces is bordered with bands of Chinese red. The color in the costume. The fringed flounces of course appear only at the front. The lack of a modish frock is as gullible as ornamentation as a paper doll dress.

From Paris, Henri Creange, the fashion authority, writes us that skirts are shorter, averaging in length from ten to twelve inches above the ground. This will be welcome news to American women who have never really taken the long skirt to their hearts or rather to their ankles.

MERRIE MATRONS BRIDGE CLUB ARE GUESTS AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. D. P. Drummond entertained the members of the Merrie Matrons Bridge Club and extra guests at a bridge luncheon Thursday. A color scheme of pink and white was used throughout the rooms.

The dining table was laid with a dainty lace cloth and centered with a silver basket filled with pink radiance roses and sprays of gypsophila, and lighted with pink candles in silver holders. A buffet luncheon was served, Mrs. H. B. Lewis presiding at the table.

Baskets of pink and white petals were used on the smaller tables, the favors were corsages of pink sweet peas.

At cards, the club prize, an imported powder jar, was awarded to Mrs. H. B. Lewis, the guest prize, an amber perfume bottle to Miss Kathryn Wilkie, the cut prize, an amber flower bowl, to Mrs. F. I. Miller.

Hints From a House-Wife's Kitchen Diary

Good Food for Children and Adults

A PRACTICAL ANSWER TO A QUESTIONNAIRE

Some time ago a questionnaire was sent out to housewives in an endeavor to find out how they spent their time. It is to be confessed that in the great majority of cases the inquiry aroused only amused exasperation. Busy! Of course they were busy. Every woman was occupied and they would not take time to answer questions which seemed to lead nowhere.

One woman, however, did take the trouble to fill out the blanks as well as she could and in the space left "observations" said: "As I suppose your object in this investigation is to help women to more leisure by systematizing their work, I wonder you have not asked to simplify the cleaning-up process after meals. For myself, I am sure I save much time and effort by a judicious choice of cooking utensils."

She was asked for more information on the point she mentioned. Her answer was "enameled ware." This, as easily washed as crockery and practically unbreakable with any kind of care, she had found she could keep spotless and daintily attractive with a minimum of effort. So for once a questionnaire got a practical answer!

FOR THE KIDDIES' SUPPER

Children who take cold luncheons to school need hot and hearty food at night. Care, however, should be taken to see that the food is digestible as well as substantial in its nature. One mother, whose three thriving children show her good care, contributes this hint.

Try a vegetable soup made with milk. Cook carrots, potatoes, a little onion and a little turnip all together in an enameled ware saucepan until all are very soft. Rub through a colander. Put milk into an enameled ware double boiler. Heat just short of the boiling point and then stir in the pureed vegetables. Cook slowly in the milk until all is smooth. The soup will not be discolored if it is cooked in enameled ware.

Served with toast or oyster crackers, this soup makes a meal in itself. It is very nourishing and will never give even a delicate child the nightmare, which can be so easily acquired from food too rich or heavy.

Mrs. James Frederick Hawkins, Hostess At Bridge Party First Of Series To Be Given

Mrs. James Frederick Hawkins, was the gracious hostess, Thursday afternoon at bridge at the home of Mrs. A. K. Powers on Ninth Street. This party was the first of a series which she is giving.

The rooms where the card tables were placed were converted into a veritable garden with their decorations of yellow nasturtiums and snap dragon artistically arranged in crystal baskets and bowls. The color motif of white and yellow was carried out in every detail.

The afternoon passed all too quickly playing bridge. Scores were kept on tallies in yellow parrots, and late in the afternoon scores were counted and prizes awarded. The prize for top score, a yellow luster and gold perfume bottle, was won by Mrs. Fred Daiger. The consolation prize, a lovely corsage of violets, went to Mrs. Herman Schwalbe.

At the conclusion of the card game, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. A. K. Powers, Miss Mary Zachary and Mrs. Fred Daiger served dainty refreshments consisting of yellow and white brick cream, gold cake iced in white, and coffee. On the plates were cunning yellow baskets filled with yellow and white mints to be used as favors.

The afternoon was of exceptional enjoyment to the guests, the cordial hospitality of the hostess was reflected in every detail. There were four tables of players, and a number of other guests joined the players for refreshments.

FAN TAN SHOP HAS MANY SURPRISES FOR CITY WOMEN

The Fan Tan Shop opened Friday with a pleasant surprise to the many shoppers crowding the store. The interior was artistically decorated with fresh cut roses and a beautiful variety of other flowers. The draperies of blue against the white business cabinets with the colorful lighting effects added a distinct charm to the complete array of charming spring styles of frocks, capes, gowns and hats which were tastefully displayed throughout the store.

Roses and candy were given as favors to the many visitors.

An added surprise to the ladies in Sanford and surrounding territory was the invitation message sent through the Western Union Telegraph office in the form of a telegram.

Sanford Association Of Business Women's Luncheon

Among the members present at Thursday's meeting were: Miss Agnes Berner, Mrs. J. B. Skinner, Mrs. Meekins, Mrs. Arthur Marshall, and Miss Mell Whitner.

E.M.L. Mah Jong Club Of Orlando Enjoy The Party of Mrs. H. Long

The lovely home of Mrs. Harold Long on Magnolia Avenue, was the scene of a very pretty party on Thursday afternoon when Mrs. H. Long and Mrs. Victor Check entertained the members of the E. M. L. Mah Jong Club of Orlando, honoring Miss Jean Newton and Miss Margaret Lindley both of New York.

Quintas of snap dragons, chrysanthemums, and other cut flowers, together with numerous Chinese lanterns and other Chinese novelties transformed the rooms where the card tables were arranged into a veritable Chinese garden. The tables were laid with Chinese covers, and scores were kept on quaint Chinese tallies.

After a number of interesting games of mah jong, scores were counted and the prize for high score, a Chinese incense burner, was awarded Mrs. John McLaughlin of Orlando. Second prize, a Chinese dental floss holder, went to Miss Ellis. Low score, a box of Chinese nuts, fell to the lots of Miss Frances Parmateer. The honorees were presented imported Chinese beads as mementos of the occasion.

Late in the afternoon the tables were laid with dainty covers and original Chinese refreshments were served by the hostesses.

AFTER BOOTLEGGERS JACKSONVILLE, Mar. 28—

Men going to state at the approach of the liquor "red line" block the places where rum is sold.

He probably will take a look at this territory within the next few days, and as soon as he lines up his office and other routine matters the new chief will seek conferences with the district attorneys, collector of internal revenue, county judges, sheriff and the police.

WASHINGTON IS OPTIMISTIC AS WALTER SHOWS MID-YEAR FORM

TRAINING CAMPS—Walter Johnson, war-scarred veteran of 17 campaigns as member of the Washington Senators, is displaying mid-season form and has given Griffith's club an air of confidence. Griffith feels confident that the Senators are going to cause considerable trouble in the American League this summer.

Johnson's fast ball is working in great style this spring and has given Stanley Harris, the new manager, much confidence. Harris is sure his big speed ball pitcher is in for a great year. When the Senators were checked in their winning streak after five games, Johnson was nominated to start the club on its feet again, trimming the New York Giants yesterday.

The pruning knife has appeared in several training camps, Stanley Harris of the Washington Senators being the greatest manipulator. The new pilot ended the aspirations of Shano Roe for the season by returning the young Southpaw to the Chattanooga Southern Association club, and then followed up by shipping three more rookies back to the bushes, Godfrey Brogan, Leo Moon and Clise Dudley going to the Minneapolis American Association club.

Down at Winter Haven, Fla., acting manager Johnny Evers, of the Chicago White Sox, let it be known that his orders must be obeyed until Manager Frank Chance reports to the club about April 4. Failure of John Inman to obey Evers' orders resulted in the young short stop being sent back to Mayville, Ky. Inman gave promise of winning a permanent berth at the start of the training grind, but failed to keep up his work. More releases are anticipated.

Differences between Ray Kremer, star pitcher of the Oakland Pacific Coast League Club and the Pittsburgh Nationals, were satisfactorily adjusted following a conference between the player and the owners of the two clubs and the twirler signed his contract. Kremer was purchased from Oakland by the Pirates and had held out for part of his purchase price.

MAY BOX IN MIAMI.

MIAMI, Mar. 28.—The tamer of Young Stribling, Jimmy Slatter, will box in Miami some time in April, if the negotiations under way to bring him here are successful. It is announced by Ed Dougan, boxing promoter, that Slatter, who has expressed a wish to come here and will box anyone that will take him on, and it is probable that Mickey Forekin, Memphis sensation, may be selected at his opponent.

A RESOLUTION PROVIDING FOR THE PAVING, RE-PAVING, HARD SURFACING AND RE-HARD SURFACING OF GRANDVIEW AVENUE "NORTH" FROM SANFORD AVENUE TO LILY COURT, GRANDVIEW AVENUE "SOUTH" FROM SANFORD AVENUE TO LILY COURT, AND HUGHLEY STREET, ROSEWAY AVENUE AND INDIANOLA AVENUE, A WIDTH OF 24 FEET; HIBISCUS COURT AND LILY COURT, A WIDTH OF 32 FEET; 16 FEET ON EACH SIDE OF CENTRAL PARKING STRIP; ROSEWAY AND INDIANOLA AVENUE, A WIDTH OF 16 FEET.

Jim Thorpe Hails Big John Levi As Greatest of Indian Athletes

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 28.—"Big John" Levi, as he is familiarly known at Haskell Institute, was looked over by Jim Thorpe, the famous Indian athlete, recently at Lawrence, Kan., the home of the Haskell School. Thorpe was very much impressed with Levi, and stated that in his opinion, Levi was the greatest Indian athlete ever developed. Those who remember the track and field performances of Thorpe and his wonderful ability as a football player, may consider that the above statement is correct with Thorpe himself eliminated.

The criticism of Thorpe is his real opinion, based on the performances of Levi on the track and field, his great football playing last fall and the fact that Levi is sought by several of the teams in the National and the American leagues. Levi has turned down all the offers from the baseball men this year, as he is anxious to make the Olympic team in the pentathlon and the decathlon.

Levi is entered for the pentathlon at the Penn relays on April 25 and 26. He will be a real contender for honors there. Levi in the spring plays on the baseball team, an is a regular Babe Ruth with the bat.

This season he is giving all his attention to the pentathlon events. He has done 23 feet four inches in the broad jump and has thrown the discus 137 feet, the javelin 165 feet. Although he is a big fellow, he runs the 200 meters in good time. He will score high in the first three events mentioned. In fact, there is no one entered who should beat him with the discus and the javelin, and he looks as good as any of the others in the broad jump. His chances for first honors will depend on his speed in the 800 meters, the two track events in the 1,500 meters, and his stamina in the 1,500 meters, the two track events in the pentathlon.

Manager of the City of Sanford, Florida, is hereby authorized to declare the cost of paving, re-paving, hard surfacing and re-hard surfacing of Grandview Avenue "North," from Sanford Avenue to Lily Court, Grandview Avenue "South," from Sanford Avenue to Lily Court, and Hughley Street, from Sanford Avenue to Lily Court, Hibiscus Court and Lily Court, a width of 24 feet, 16 feet on each side of central parking strip, and Roseway and Indianola Avenue, a width of 16 feet; that all of said paving, re-paving, hard surfacing and re-hard surfacing of Grandview Avenue, Hughley Street, Hibiscus Court, Lily Court, Roseway and Indianola Avenue, as aforesaid, shall be done in strict compliance with the plans, specifications, profiles and estimates thereof, now on file in the office of the City Manager of the City of Sanford, Florida, which said plans, specifications, profiles and estimates have been heretofore approved by the City Commission and constitute the plans and specifications for said proposed improvement of Grandview Avenue "North," from Sanford Avenue to Lily Court, Grandview Avenue "South," from Sanford Avenue to Lily Court, Hughley Street from Sanford Avenue to Lily Court, Hibiscus Court and Lily Court, 16 feet on each side of central parking strip, Roseway and Indianola Avenue, as aforesaid, as a necessary public improvement.

Think of owning a Car with a body finish like this!

For the first time in motor car history—Oakland has successfully combined beauty and permanence in an automobile body finish. This extraordinary achievement is made possible by the use of an entirely new substance—Duco, the remarkable qualities of which provide—

- A finish in a beautiful Oakland Blue, distinctive and striking;
- A finish which, though covered with dust, can quickly be restored to its original beauty, without scratching, by wiping with a dry cloth;
- A finish impervious to all weather, to sun, rain, salt air and alkaline conditions;
- A finish so resistant to harm that sulphuric acid and the chemicals of fire extinguishers have been sprayed upon it, then wiped off, leaving no marring trace;
- A finish so enduring that it will retain its original beauty and lustre indefinitely without checking or dulling.

See this remarkable finish and let us demonstrate its rare qualities to you. Examine also the many other advanced and exclusive features. You, too, will realize then why the True Blue Oakland is so frequently called the surprise car of 1924.

E. Roebuck. The judge ruled that the ordinance, passed by the city commission February 27, 1923, created a monopoly in favor of the concern which was prejudicial to the public welfare.
