

Sanford Loses 3rd Straight, 13-12, To Palatka A's

Paul Corbett To Hurl Against Daytona I's Here This Evening

By KENT CHETAIN
A combination of shoddy pitching and four more fielding errors contributed to Sanford's third straight loss last night in Palatka. The A's needed just eight or half as many Cardinal hits to meet out the locals, 13-12, in Azalea Bowl.

Tonight the fourth place Daytona Beach Islanders and their Cleveland Indian farm products invade the Memorial Stadium to battle the hapless St. Louis Cardinals farm contingent at 8:00 p. m.

Manager J. C. Dunn will probably throw his little rookie southpaw, Paul Corbett, at the 1's this evening, though Harry Melia might be employed on the basis of the Redbird hurling rotation system. However, Melia pitched in relief last night just long enough — one-third inning to get charged with his first setback of the season against one victory.

DeLand Red Hats End Cocoa's Win Streak, 12 To 2

By The Associated Press
DeLand's Red Hats gave Cisco Lopez and Jose Rodriguez a two-inning, 10-hit, 12-run nightmare Monday night to win, 12-2, and cut the Cocoa Indians' Florida State League lead to one game.

Lopez, the starter and loser, was erased after giving up six hits and seven runs in the fifth inning. Rodriguez had his turn in the sixth. Jim Vickery, the winner, was combed good himself but kept 11 batters off base by confining seven hits to the infield.

Sanford came from behind twice only to succumb three times to the timely Palatka hitting attack. The last instance was Azalea Manager Charlie Baird's three-run pinch-hit double in the eighth.

Charles Ingram, who usually turns in a creditable job on the mound, just didn't have it last night. After passing only three batsmen in 2½ innings, the native of the Peach State walked the first two Azaleas to face him last night and went on to pass seven before being relieved in the seventh.

Bill Hain, third of the Palatka lineup, was credited with the win. Rookie Jaworski started for the A's and he lasted until the fourth before yielding to Ham Hamm. The latter didn't last too long either.

While Sanford was blasting out 16 hits, Palatka made full use of eight. Bob Arendt slugged out a homer with two on in the fifth inning. Hank Hamm led off with a single and the latter drove in two more tallies. Leonard had a .513 average in the last eight encounters with 19 hits in 35 times at bat and a season's average of .112.

The Little Paul Water-type flycatcher now leads the club with 15 runs batted in. Another pleasant feature of last night's contest was the hitting and fielding of Frank Hartmann, bespectacled hot corner guard who has been labeled "good hit no field."

After a shaky start, both infield and at the plate, Hartmann is now batting a respectable .313 and leads the club in doubles, 6. The husky third sacker slugged out his fifth two-run blow and doubled his season's RBI total last night.

Bill Silverthorne, who just can't seem to run off the "Clint" Courtney. Skelton from behind the plate has blossomed into one of the stronger hitters on the Sanford roster.

Charlie Baird Silverthorne, who was obtained by the Redbirds in deal for John Imbra with Rock Hill three months ago, is now playing right field.

The Orlando backstop with a double and bing in four tries last night is now hitting a lofty .345. He is second to Hartmann in doubles with four in only 10 games.

Bob Wagner, recently acquired infielder, sent out four singles last night to boost his amazing average from .302 to .394. Manager Dunn and Bill Hain pushed their average up in the fruitless cause with a pair of hits.

On the reverse side of the ledger, Lou Calvelli went three times to the plate without a hit to give him one hit in his last three at bats.

Seminole Face Terriers Today; Smyrna Tomorrow

Seminole High School's red-hot baseball team sought its fourth consecutive victory in this afternoon's clash with highly regarded Titusville at the diamond series from 8:45. Jimmy Kiefer, 3-3, pitched seven hits for a home run and eight. After posting a mediocre 1-1 record this season, the Seminoles came alive to blast Mainland of Daytona, Edgewater of Orlando and Highland in the last three outings. The Fed's will play again on Wednesday here against New Smyrna Beach.

Woodling Makes Bid For Batting Title This Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Woodling of the New York Yankees, winner of four minor league batting championships, is making an early bid for 1953 American League hitting honors.

Woodling led the season only two weeks and the 30-year-old outfielder is setting the pace in the junior circuit with a .472 mark. Johnny Wyrostek of the Philadelphia Phils is the current National League batting leader with a .500 average. Figures include Sunday's games.

Final Selection Of Derby Entries To Be Completed

By ORLO ROBERTSON
LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Selection of the complete cast for the 70th running of the Kentucky Derby, America's most exciting race, is under way today in the halls of the $100,000 Derby Trial at Churchill Downs.

The trial, dwarfed by the Derby itself in both purse and importance, attracted a field of 15, at least three and maybe more, than is expected to start Saturday in the mile and one-quarter run for a share of the $100,000 added purse and a jargon of red roses.

Miami's Sun Sox Lead Of 2½ Tilts

By GENE PLOWDEN
Associated Press Staff Writer
Miami and West Palm Beach won doubleheaders and St. Petersburg whipped Havana in Florida International League games Monday night.

Miami trounced Tampa's Smokers twice, 7-4, and 11-3, to move the Sun Sox two and a half games ahead of the pack.

St. Petersburg, turning back the Cubans in Havana, 3-1, took over second place as West Palm Beach dropped Ft. Lauderdale twice, 5-2 and 7-3, and put the LLions in third with Tampa falling to fourth.

Miami went on a hitting spree, collecting 10 in the first game and 17 in the finale. Joe Gulvas, Al Baro and Huey Rhodes homered for Miami in the second game. Woodling, Dick Love and Jimmie Joe Guishe held Tampa to three hits in the opener and Art Seljas worked with Guishe to give up seven in the closer.

Frank Sulkowski doled out four hits at Ft. Lauderdale to give the Indians the edge in the first game, played before 1,501 fans. Glenn Nohak collected three hits in four trips, one a home run, to pace the Indians' pin-hit attack on four batters. Each team got seven hits in the nightcap but four Ft. Lauderdale pitchers tossed 14 walks. Gus Montalbano had a single, double and triple in five trips, driving in four runs for the Indians.

George Greer pitched six-hit ball for Havana, working out 200 fans turned out. St. Petersburg put together a double and single in the first for a run and after Havana tied it in the second on an error, infield out and Snapper Mel Monte's single, the Saints came back on Carlos Santiago's triple and a pair of singles for two runs in the fifth to set up it.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies currently occupying their perch at the top of the National League standings with a record of nine victories in 11 games, really have a good chance of playing far over their heads? Is not surprised by his teams' tremendous getaway. He realizes the club cannot continue at its current pace, but he is more confident than ever that the Phils can win the pennant.

Managers Leo Durocher of the New York Giants and Charlie Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers, as expected, do not agree with the Phils' contention that they are playing far over their heads. "I've said all along that we had the best team in the league," he said, "but we're getting all you fellows we had as good as won anybody to win the flag. We're winning because we have the confidence and we're in wonderful shape."

Plea For Softball Players Issued For City Men's League

With the prospect of a six to eight team City Men's Softball League forming, Summer Recreational Director Tommy Stringer sent out an urgent call for players today. All local softball players have been asked to submit their name and address and mail it to the Sports Editor, Sanford Herald.

The names of all players will be compiled and prepared for a player-draft meeting, tentatively scheduled for Friday night. If there prove to be sufficient number, the proposed six team league will be expanded to eight.

So far, four teams are definitely ready to play; National Guard, Wilson-Maler, and two teams from the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station — VC-9 and FASHION 51. In addition, Robinson's Sporting Goods, Enterprise, and Florida Power and Light have all expressed a desire to play this year.

All the Naval Station players will be playing on the two teams now entered in the league. The National Guard will have first choice on its available player talent as will both Enterprise and FP&L.

This leaves only two local teams to absorb all the Sanford players not otherwise classified with teams above. Wilson-Maler has its entire team returning from last year to be eliminated possibly from the player draft. The list narrows down to only one team that can pick up all the local talent.

However, if there are more players seeking to join than can possibly be accommodated for one team, another team or teams may be formed while some of the excess players may be shuffled around between some of the "closed" clubs.

A large portion of the local players will be absorbed by both Wilson-Maler's, National Guard, and FP&L. At present four managers have been appointed. They are as follows: Red Hren, Wilson-Maler; Lloyd Swan, National Guard; H. B. Newcomb, VC-9; Max Rutter, FASHION 51.

Majors Open Up First East-West Road Itineraries

By BEN PHILGOSAR
AP Sportswriter
Today the ball clubs take a look at their distant relatives for the first time this season.

The American League's Eastern teams go west while the National League views the sights in the East. This first interregional play is always particularly important. It shows how the leagues are balanced.

It also gives the rookies their first glimpses of some new parks. And it gives a better line on whether a club can be depended upon to win away from home, since it is a prolonged trip rather than the short opening junkets to nearby cities.

Here's the major league picture at the start of the East-West itneraries:

The Philadelphia Phillies, riding an eight-game winning streak, lead the National League by a big 2½ game over the second-place Chicago Cubs. Brooklyn, the experts' choice to win the pennant for the second straight season, is third, only one match over the 500 mark after 11 games. St. Louis and Milwaukee are tied for fourth, followed by Pittsburgh.

In the American League Cleveland owns a 25 percent edge point Champion New York Yankees, although due to a mathematical quirk the Yankees are half game ahead in the "games behind" column. This is because the Indians have played only nine games to the Yankees' dozen. The dangerous Chicago White Sox are a close third with the St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics tied for fourth. Boston, Washington and Detroit finish out the standings.

In both leagues, leaders will be playing at home. The Phillies begin an 11-game stand against the West with the Cardinals coming in tonight for three straight night contests. Milwaukee will stop off for two games, Chicago for four and Cincinnati for two.

The Indians have only seven games against the Eastern American League entries this time around. They start off tonight and tomorrow with the Athletics, rest a day before a two-game series with Boston and a double-header with Washington and then take a single day off prior to a single night game with the Yankees.

Other games today in the American League bring Washington to Chicago and Boston to Detroit while the Yankees play tonight in St. Louis.

In the National League all the teams wait until tonight when, in addition to St. Louis at Philadelphia, it will be Milwaukee at New York, Cincinnati at Brooklyn and Chicago at Pittsburgh.

DAYTONA BEACH (Special)—The Daytona Beach Islanders have signed two new players and cut a deficit three ball men, according to an announcement made yesterday by Club Business Manager Warren Keyes.

Newcomers on the Islander roster are Pitches Timothy Szaszynski of Pittsburgh, a rookie right-hander, and right fielder Rudy Mayling, also a rookie.

The Islanders released Third Infielder Herold Sullivan and Pitcher Henie Melne and placed Outfielder Ed Russell on the temporary inactive list pending his transfer to another Cleveland farm team. All are rookies.

Russell, 17, returned to his home at Staten Island, N. Y. He came to bat 18 times as an infield this season and had two hits for a .111 average.

Sullivan, 19, is from Chester, S. C. He was at bat 22 times and had one hit for a .045 mark.

Melne, 22, had been expected to shoulder the relief pitching chores but he lacked the necessary control. The Lemer, Mo., pitcher worked in two and two thirds innings, allowed two hits and six runs, struck out three and walked eight.

Szaszynski is an 18 year old, 155 pound right-hander who tried out with the Pittsburgh farm at Brunswick, Ga., this season and drew his discharge.

Mayling, 22, is a six foot eight-inch hitter from New York City. He was released by the Brooklyn farm organization.

Manager Ed Levy looked over Szaszynski and Mayling, and decided to give them a tryout. He was convinced that Sullivan, Russell and Melne could not help his club.

with Boston and a double-header with Washington and then take a single day off prior to a single night game with the Yankees.

Other games today in the American League bring Washington to Chicago and Boston to Detroit while the Yankees play tonight in St. Louis.

In the National League all the teams wait until tonight when, in addition to St. Louis at Philadelphia, it will be Milwaukee at New York, Cincinnati at Brooklyn and Chicago at Pittsburgh.

McCarty Stiffens On Teacher Pay Increase

Senators Launch Move For Further Hike

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Rep. Volie Williams today introduced a bill to increase the pay of Florida school teachers to a maximum of $350 per year.

The bill would increase the pay of teachers from the $250 provided by the House and Senate in their appropriations act. McCarty recommended $300.

"I want to say frankly that I hope these efforts will stop. As a governor I cannot and will not approve one dollar more," the governor said.

The House listened to a hot debate among Dade County's representatives on whether the city of Miami and Dade County government should be merged without a referendum.

The Senate without discussion accepted a House amendment to the five million dollar University of Florida medical school construction bill and sent the measure to the governor.

The governor in his statement said, "It is now indicated that for the next biennium the state will increase its aid to our free public school system by more than 10%."

Seminole County Sportsman Group Meets Tomorrow

Robert Z. Johnson, president of the Seminole County Sportsman Association, said today the organization has several current projects of interest to all sportsmen which will be discussed at tomorrow night's meeting in the City Hall.

The main one is the clearing of the property on the Wekiva River. This land was donated to the Association by the Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mr. Johnson declared work has been started and plans are to have a fish fry there in the near future.

He stated that with the Legislature now in session a large meeting is needed to meet and discuss what sportsmen want.

"We are happy to note that Governor Dan McCarty sent to the Senate for confirmation the names of five new members of the State Game and Fish Water Fish Commission," he asserted and listed the members as John Clardy of Ocala, E. W. Hinson of Quincy, A. Sterling Hill of Bradenton, and Henry M. Jernigan of Ft. Pierce.

They will succeed Walter Warren of Leesburg, A. F. Fish of Tallahassee, and W. W. Webb of Ocala.

The commission was confirmed by the 1951 Senate and has a term running until 1955.

He urged all members of the County Association to attend tomorrow night's meeting at the City Hall.

MARVIN WALKER IS ELECTED PRESIDENT
ORLANDO (AP)—At the closing session Tuesday of the two-day farmer cooperative conference Marvin Walker, Lake Wales, was elected president.

SPARKS INDUSTRY DRIVE

Brailey Odham Is Named To Lead New Sanford Industrial Board

J. Brailey Odham was last night elected chairman of the Sanford Industrial Board by acclamation at a reorganizational meeting of the group in the Commissioners' Room in City Hall.

Selected as the executive committee for the board were Ralph Cowan, president of Sanford Industries, Inc.; Forrest Breckenridge, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce; Al Wilson, president of the Sanford Merchants Association; and Fred W. Williams, engineer. Mr. Odham through his election as chairman automatically became a member of the executive group.

The board, which was organized last night, George H. Williams was unanimously elected recording secretary.

Mr. Odham, a candidate for Governor last year, was elected to cooperation of all members of the group.

Prices Increase Following Frosts In Other States

Remaining crops in the Sanford area have benefited in price following reports from states north of Florida that last week's frosts severely damaged tender vegetables and retarded maturity.

That announcement came from M. L. Cullum, sales manager of the Sanford area, who added that squash growers in this section have already received better prices. He added that the season which normally forces to a close by South Carolina competition by the end of April appears to have been prolonged for several weeks.

Mr. Cullum declared there is every indication that the Ocala muckland celery market may continue to advance since the deal that is only half finished, he asserted, it will probably become the first transaction of the season on a major crop in Central Florida to show good returns.

Markland celery from Zellwood and Ocala continues in fair volume, according to the Chase executive, but it is believed that yields are off fully one-third from last spring. The market, though, has strengthened since last week, and at current FOB prices, Mr. Cullum believes growers will be able to show a small profit.

He also expressed a belief that the Sanford section will begin pulling corn in a light way by tomorrow. First corn of the season moved from Zellwood yesterday shipped by C. R. Clovis and Associates, Growers of Ocala. It graded U. S. Fancy, four and a half dozen.

While the prices of corn at the present time is slightly off from last spring, the market, he asserted, it is expected that with return of warmer weather in the north, supplies will not be equal to demand for next quality corn. He foresees a good outlook for fair returns to the growers.

Chase and Company yesterday received a small shipment of peppers from the state. Local peppers, added Mr. Cullum, were hardly damaged by the weather and light yields are in prospect.

Ervin Plan To Fight Rackets Being Debated

Crime Tie-Up Hit By Attorney General

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Atty. Gen. Richard Ervin's plan to set up a racket squad was halted today as the only cure for organized crime in Florida and continued as a "tool for evil and a political weapon."

The bill was outlined before a joint hearing of the House and Senate Governmental Organization Committees. Neither committee took a vote.

Ervin told the legislators "there is a serious situation in this state" in terms of crime "which needs handling at the state level."

He said his measure would coordinate all law enforcement agencies in the state, cut out duplication and help curb crimes connected with bookie operations, narcotics, lotteries and salaried racketeering.

Ervin's bill would set up a 10-man racket squad with membership drawn "from the cream of the crop" of investigators in existing state law enforcement agencies.

The racket squad could go into any Florida county upon request of local authorities or upon order of the governor. A criminal identification bureau and criminal detection laboratory would be set up.

The winner of the bill in the bill was brought on by his duty to recommend measures to fight crime. He added "I'm not running for governor. I'm not a candidate for governor. I want to get out of it."

Madigan said a racket squad could come into a county "after a Hollywood production, make headlines and move on and make the sheriff the laughing stock."

Later, in answer to questions, he said the sheriff would have no objection to the bill if the search and arrest powers to be given members of the racket squad were taken away. He said some state investigators wanted to come in and check on them.

George Owen, assistant attorney general, read to the committee what he called examples of racketeering in the state.

Another case was where the head man in another racket was caught today.

$970 Final Judgment For Florence Muse

Circuit Court Judge M. B. Smith has allowed a final judgment of $970 and costs in favor of Florence M. Muse from Bankers Life and Casualty Company of Chicago on the failure of the defendant to answer the court.

The plaintiff alleged she had taken a family medical and dental policy from the company, but after an operation last year was unable to collect from the defendant.

John Pierson Named Coordinator For C. Of C. Activities In County

Selection of John Pierson as coordinator of activities in town and communities throughout Seminole County was announced today by Earl Brockridge, chairman of committee.

Mr. Pierson will continue in veterans work as a vocational instructor at the post office school at Sanford. His parole will be in effect work for the Chamber of Commerce and as a teacher of English.

The principal operator of a grocery store in Baker County and most of his sales live in Columbia County. The head of a bakery line lives in Lakeland but his general residence is in Placer County.

Of Alachua County, he said "it is amusing" that the principal grocery operator lives in the county and 20 others operate in several districts.

The Chamber of Commerce manager said he felt the new program will be a progressive step with a possible check in some activities. He urged all communities to cooperate in the program in order to receive the largest benefit.

Through this program, Mr. Brockridge asserted, the entire weight of the Chamber will be behind local programs. Once the communities decide what they need and steps are initiated toward

Reds Reported Ready To End Deadlock

By ROBERT LUSON
TOKYO (AP)—There were signs today that a break might be imminent in the deadlocked armistice talks at Panmunjom.

After three days of no progress the Communists indicated they were getting ready to nominate their choice for a neutral nation.

And President Syngman Rhee of South Korea said he would agree to send to the neutral nation some 15,000 Chinese who have rejected communism.

Most observers predict that once the Communists and United Nations Command agree to administer further screening of Chinese and North Korean prisoners who have refused repatriation, the rest will be easy.

It will take time to work out the many details, but some should present a major stumbling block. The big issues still facing negotiators are:

1. Naming a neutral country.

2. Deciding whether prisoners who have renounced communism will be sent to the neutral country or turned over to the neutral country.

So far the major choice in Asia has been India. Although United Nations spokesman said Communist officials "it was thought India would be acceptable."

The main point here seemed to be "Would India take the job?"

On the second issue the United Nations was firm on its stand that the North Koreans, who have refused repatriation should remain in South Korea.

The United States and high U. S. command sources said to believe the Communists would insist on moving these North Koreans from Korea. They say Koreans there have said they don't want to go back to North Korea, but they want to remain in South Korea and be assimilated by that country.

There at a news conference said the same thing, then added: "That's divide all of the prisoners held by the United Nations into three categories."

We will agree to Red demands and the 15,000 Chinese who have renounced communism by a neutral nation for further screening.

But the 30,000 more North Koreans who say they want to remain in South Korea, to be turned over to the neutral country.

The deadlock was about to break it seemed, but there was a twist.

Celery Growers Called To Meet In Lakeland, Fla.

John W. Evans, executive chairman of the Celery Division of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association, has called a meeting of Florida celery growers and shippers for 10:00 a.m. Thursday, May 1, in the Assembly Rooms of the State Capitol Commission Building in Lakeland.

Purpose of the meeting is to examine and discuss the various proposals of action open to growers and shippers to help the celery industry.

"The meeting will be open to all interested parties, whether members of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association or not." "This will probably be the only opportunity to attempt to determine a policy before the celery industry's usual seasonal marketing crises next season. If you cannot attend, please designate and authorize a proxy to speak for you," urged Mr. Evans.

SPEAKERS' WIFE
ORLANDO (AP)—Mrs. E. Parris Bryant, wife of the House of Representatives Speaker, escaped without injuries when the automobile she was driving crashed into the front of a grocery store 3 1/2 miles west of Ocala on route 27 Tuesday.

MUMFORD'S SPORTING GOODS STORE is now open for business in its modernized setting at the former Florida Fashiona quarters on East First Street. Mumford's moved from its old location at 304 East First Street this month to its present larger quarters at 304 East First Street. The new store was completely renovated with interior pinewood paneling. In the foreground, left to right, Mrs. James Ferguson, her daughter Kay, and Mrs. Harry Hobson. Industry Will Debate Question Of Whether Or Not To Give Increases

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—Steel management and labor this week start the big debate on whether there'll be another round of wage and price hikes this year.

The industry in the past has usually been the leader. Whatever spiral it starts generally moves through the rest of the heavy industries.

But with the price trend for most other commodities down, with the cost of living a little below its peak, and with other unions apparently concentrating more on fringe benefits than on big wage boosts, many observers feel that the debate getting under way this week may take a different turn from former years.

The executive board of the CIO United Steelworkers met to discuss what demands to make when negotiations with management open in June.

Directors of the two largest steel companies—U. S. Steel Corp. and Bethlehem—meet this week, too.

Steel prices are already pushing upward. Three of the largest companies—Bethlehem, Republic and Jones & Laughlin are raising extra charges tacked onto some major steel products. Another big one, Colorado Fuel & Iron, is raising base prices of steel rails, iron pipes, joint bars and spikes.

These price increases—first since decontrol—were said by the companies to reflect rising costs which they weren't permitted to pass along under the control law. Others in the industry may follow this lead, regardless of what the coming wage negotiations may bring forth.

Some leaders in the steel industry, however, think that for base prices in general the question isn't settled until after the June wage negotiations. The theory is that a general price increase now would be bad policy while management is trying to hold down wage demands.

Still others question whether the steel industry can make a general price rise stick very long.

Demand for steel is very high now and the industry says the strong demand will last at least till fall. But steelmen have the example of other metals to watch.

Sharp drops in the price of zinc, lead and tin illustrate how quickly a tight supply situation can change to one of abundance.

Copper is giving them another example of how quickly consumer psychology can change. The demand for copper seemed insatiable as controls ended, and the price shot up—in some cases as much as nine cents a pound. Prices have been backing down recently.

And almost overnight consumers found that the shortage apparently had a time limit. And to consumers' stepped ordering just to build up their inventories of copper. They are still buying large amounts of copper for immediate use but for no great distance ahead.

Even the most optimistic of the copper producers admits the market for his product is likely to be weak this summer.

How much of the present press of orders for steel is also due to inventory building by users is a debatable question. But steelmen admit that when consumers see the day approaching when prompt delivery may be a reality again, the demand can slump as quickly as it has in the case of the other metals. And then steel prices might turn down, too.

These are some of the questions that are being debated—both by labor and management; whether the industry can stand another wage hike without a big price hike, and whether such a price hike would stick.

All heavy industry will be watching the debate.

Rollins Announces Vet Scholarships

WINTER PARK, (Special)—Rollins College today announced a scholarship program for an unlimited number of qualified veterans.

President Hugh F. McKean says that yearly awards of from $200 to $500 will be added to the educational benefits of the Korean GI Bill. Financial need and other qualifications will govern the scholarships.

The program begins with the 1953-54 school year. Scholarships awarded during the next four months will enable holders to attend the Rollins fall term which opens Sept. 27.

McKean listed two important reasons for the program, the achievements of World War II veterans and Rollins' limitations of the Korean GI Bill.

Chief Machinist Robert L. Letton checked off the station yesterday with orders to duty somewhere in Korea. Mr. Letton was Transportation Officer here at NAAS during his stay in Sanford. The NAAS officers and wives held an informal party in honor of his and Mrs. Letton at the 804 Monday. Good luck to you Mr. Letton. It's been nice serving at NAAS with you!

William J. Herring, commissaryman third class, has reported back to duty with NAAS after a short stay at the U. S. Naval Hospital in Jacksonville where he underwent treatment. Bill performs his duties aboard the station as a cook in the Station Galley.

A welcome aboard to Daniel V. Martin, engine room fireman apprentice. Dan checked aboard Monday after completing a course of instruction in the Class "A" Engine Room School in San Diego, Calif. He hails from Chicago, Ill. He has been assigned to duty with the Supply Department of NAAS.

Another examination for advancement to pay grade E-3, that is fireman, seaman and airman, has been scheduled for May 5. The examination will be for all eligible NAAS apprentices and will be held in the station Education Office.

Chief Machinist A. B. Murray, Special Services Officer has reported back to NAAS for duty after undergoing treatment at the Naval Hospital in Jacksonville. Welcome back, Mr. Murray!

Those men interested in attending the Naval Academy will be happy to know that applications are now being accepted for entrance to the Naval Preparatory School. It is necessary to attend the Naval Prep School before being appointed to the Academy. Some of the requirements prospective candidates must meet include three years of high school, including courses in algebra and plane geometry, have at least one year active naval service, be unmarried and never have been married and be between the ages of 17 and 21. If you meet these requirements and are interested in this year's class at the Naval Preparatory School, you may receive more information from your Education Officer.

Tonight is the night of the grand talent show at your Sanford USO. The program is scheduled to get underway at 8:00 o'clock and there is plenty of talent to provide the entertainment. Your Junior Host Betty Hall and the Senior Hostesses will be representatives of the USO Club. That's at the Sanford USO tonight at 8:00 o'clock. Don't miss it!

University Of Florida Suspend Professor Who Wouldn't Testify

GAINESVILLE (AP)—A University of Florida professor who refused to testify in a congressional committee whether he ever has been a member of the Communist party has been suspended.

Hillis Miller, university president, announced the suspension a few hours after John H. Reynolds, assistant professor of social sciences, was subpoenaed by the House Un-American Activities Committee in Washington Monday.

Reynolds, named by three other witnesses as a member of a Red group at Harvard around 1940, denied the constitutional guarantee against self-incrimination in refusing to answer certain questions.

Miller said in a statement: "I regard Mr. Reynolds' refusal to answer questions of a duly constituted agency of the government as a serious breach of his moral responsibility to the university, his colleagues, and the public which his university serves."

He added that Reynolds "will have a right to an expeditious hearing before a committee of the faculty on the basis of the findings of which the president will be pleased to make his recommendations to the Board of Control."

Reynolds refused to tell the committee whether he was ever acquainted with Norman Divinson and Dr. William T. Martin of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Tolbert G. Davis of Smith College.

These professors had testified that they were members of a Red organization at Harvard more than 20 years ago and knew Reynolds was a member of the same organization.

Reynolds also refused to affirm or deny testimony by Courtney Cowley, committee investigator, that he denied Communist party membership in an interview at the University of Florida last month.

The interview was held in the presence of Dean Winston W. Little and Prof. William G. Carlton. Reynolds was not under oath at the time.

Reynolds told the committee he revealed his Red membership in Education probe "voluntarily." However, replying to a question by Rep. Doyle (D., Calif.), he said he does not believe a member of the Communist party should be allowed to teach in American universities. Quoting from a statement of the Assn. of American Universities, Miller said that if a professor "is called upon to answer for his convictions, it is his duty as a citizen to speak out. It is even more definitely his duty as a professor. Refusal to do so, on whatever legal grounds cannot fail to reflect upon a profession that claims for itself the fullest freedom to speak and the maximum protection of that freedom available in our society."

Miller said "The legal right of a citizen to refuse to testify under protection of the Fifth Amendment (the right against self-incrimination) is not in dispute in my mind. However, the moral right of Mr. Reynolds to exercise this legal right under the circumstances is open to serious doubt."

Reynolds was appointed to the Florida staff in 1948 after undergraduate and graduate work at Harvard and teaching at the University of New Hampshire.

The university president said that before Reynolds was appointed for a second year he was informed by letter: "If your personal belief is such as might lead colleagues and students to think of you as a radical, 'left' teacher, or otherwise, do not accept, because the offer is made on the opposite assumption."

Reynolds agreed to this without qualification, Miller said.

CROWN VALCADE PREDECESSORS ELIZABETH II

Next engraving of Stephen in battle armor. He was last of English kings of House of Normandy. He died of what was personal banner's his doctors called a "blue passion".

Born: 1100, grandson of William the Conqueror and nephew of Henry I. There's nothing good that can be said about him. Some authorities pick him as the worst of all English kings. Stephen was brought up by Henry I, knighted and presented estates in England and Normandy. In 1128, Stephen hastily secured support and claimed the throne himself. This plunged England into virtual anarchy. His whole reign was a constant struggle of his forces with those of his cousin. At one point, Stephen was captured and Matilda, for a short period, reigned as "Lady of the English." She made the mistake of not killing him and he regained the throne. It's estimated that one-third of the population died during the strife of his reign.

River-fishing was popular sport of around knights during steps in civil wars of Stephen's time. Heavy duty made it perilous for the loser.

Special Health Problem Presented By Increasing Old Age Category

(Editor's Note: Have you noticed how much more you've been hearing and reading about old folks and their problems? Didn't we always have old folks? Yes, but many of them are not so many people lived to be old. Houses are smaller now and many families just can't accommodate grandpa and grandpa.

People over 65 numbered three million and constituted 4 per cent of the population in 1900. By 1970 they are expected to total 20 million and 10 per cent of the population. Most industries place a premium on youth. It all adds up to thousands of lonely oldsters, many of them barely subsisting on meager pensions or welfare benefits.

(What's to be done for the age?) Chris MacGill explores the subject in a series of five articles of which this is the first.)

By CHRIS MACGILL, Staff Writer

You start aging as soon as you're born.

That's why some experts don't think brain surgery, obstetrics or pediatrics, but they all agree the old have special health problems.

Disability and chronic disease attack the aged much more frequently than the young. Unrecognized tuberculosis is a special problem. The only cure for this is research into the causes and early symptoms of chronic disease.

As one grows older, dist problems may arise. After a wife or husband dies the old person left alone may feel good meals are a much trouble to fix for just one person that can lead to malnutrition.

The number of old people severely enough handicapped either physically or mentally to require institutional care is increasing as a greater number of people live to be 65 or older.

This is a particular problem to you states where large number of people go to retire—like Florida and California.

Dr. W. D. Rogers of the Florida State Hospital reports he already has 1,800 patients over 60 in his 6,300-bed institution. His waiting

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

One whose performance equals his promise is to be highly commended. That should be our firm ideal. The fulfillment of prophecy is God's way of keeping faith. I have sworn and I will perform it. —Ps. 119:106.

That seemed like a foolish warning when it was uttered, but the proud empire that Spanish pronouns were upon did indeed undergo unpeppable rain and was, in fact, patient but not so patient as we imagine. Was it there that spillover and thou was not spoiled; and death not treacherously with thee. —Is. 33:1.

A good critic, a friend of ours says, is a person who steps on other folks' toes so he can stand on his own.

There is more than $50,000,000 worth of pirate treasure buried beneath the gently rolling sea off Florida's keys. But the folks who spend their time looking for it will find little, while the real treasure of this state, which is its fertile soil and mild climate, will make thousands rich.

The first American soldier died at Lexington 178 years ago. The first American automobile fatality occurred in New York City 53 years ago. But since then more Americans have been killed by automobiles than by all the wars our nation has fought. There have been 1,009,750 killed in battle; 1,050,000 killed in highway accidents.

When the man bites the dog that is news, someone has said, so it should be emphasized in the press somehow that a Milledgeville (Ga.) banker has been convicted of trying to bribe two federal revenue agents. We have heard a lot about revenue agents who have accepted bribes in the last few years and so we think they deserve a lot of credit when they turn these offers down.

There need be no apology for the American Way of Life in a world where the other ways of life are such as they are. "We must have the stamina to speak up for our American Way of Life—boldly and proudly," says J. Ollie Edwards, president of Stetson. "If we are to live our duty we must be positive citizens. We must dare to stand for certain things, and, in a showdown, there must be things for which we will not stand!"

It is hard to determine where a fire starts after the building has burned down, so a coroner's jury investigating the burning of the large nursing home where 33 lives were lost wisely concludes it was of "undetermined origin." But perhaps the real origin should not be too hard to find for it lies in public apathy and general unwillingness to have condemned as unfit for use those public places which are known fire hazards.

Nearly 165,000 Floridians find employment in truck transportation, and earned a total of $513,364,000 last year. Truck registrations have increased 143 percent since 1940, 65 percent since 1946, and there are now nearly 200,000 trucks operating in Florida. Yet there is still no adequate provision made to separate them from passenger cars on the highways or to provide them with adequate or suitable roads on which to run.

Most municipal revenues in Florida come from real estate taxes. But this is no longer true, as a survey made by the University of Florida reveals. With the advent of homestead exemption, cities have been forced to turn to other forms of taxation, mostly on goods consumed. Operating expenses of Florida cities amounted in 1952, for instance, to $39,500,000 of which 45.7 per cent was raised by property taxes. The remaining 54.3 per cent was raised by sales, excise, and other taxes.

The Right To Know

One of the most impressive marks of a democracy is the accessibility of its elected officials and public servants. In the United States we have come to take this for granted as one of the services our government owes us.

Yet today almost fifty per cent of the high ranking government leaders only President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have made themselves available for questioning. Most of the others have not been so cooperative. Two members of the cabinet have held no press conferences since they took office. Five others have held two apiece.

No one expects cabinet members and other officials to spend all their time explaining their actions. Officials who are too avid for publicity are just as bad as those who avoid it. But there is a middle ground between the two extremes.

Answering questions at a press conference can be a nuisance. Not all reporters are polite, not all questions are fair. But men in responsible positions owe the people information about how the government is running. Where information is withheld, news is often based on speculation and conjecture and is likely to be inaccurate.

Anonymous Letters

The Iowa State Board of Education recently set an admirable example for other such groups. They cleared instructors at the Iowa State Teachers College who were charged with subversive activities. The accusations had been made in anonymous letters. In dismissing the charges the board said, "Nothing is more un-American than anonymous accusations relating to a man's character and loyalty."

Many people have felt the sting of anonymous attacks. The mere fact of anonymity is enough to discredit such attacks. Too often, however, it is assumed that "where there is smoke there is fire." The fact is forgotten that the only fire present may be somebody's smoldering hatred or jealousy.

Any man who has serious charges to level against another man should have the courage to do so under his own name. If he lacks such courage, his character and motives are open to suspicion.

The Newsprint Industry

In nothing that we have seen recently has it been so clearly demonstrated that the old economic law of supply and demand is still working than in current newsprint paper developments. Due to the unprecedented cost of today's newspapers—the greater supply of which comes from Canada or the extreme northern United States where there is still an abundance of spruce—two new mills are going into operation in the South to make paper from hitherto untouched raw materials, sugar cane waste and sawgrass. In addition there are a number of mills, some producing and some being built, which make or will make paper from pine. While it is true that the entire production of all these mills will not be sufficient entirely to offset shortages or to provide price relief, it is still significant that any new mills are being built at all.

The manufacture of newsprint paper is both a hazardous and an expensive undertaking. Initial investment is tremendous. There are many pitfalls which await the inexperienced manufacturer or the one who ventures into a brand new type production. In the past these factors have operated so effectively as to virtually stifle any new paper enterprises in anything except expansion of existing facilities. Now that the pinch of high prices has brought the law of supply and demand into acute focus, we are seeing what may well be a drastic change taking place in the industry. Spruce as a raw material is slowly but certainly going out of the picture to be replaced by a variety of other cheaper materials. The biggest of these is still wood—the southern slash pine—such potentially rich sources as bagasse, saw and marsh grass and other fibers are going to play an important role too. The development of all this has come about simply through the normal operation of the oldest economic law in the books. —Savannah Morning News.

Industrial Board

(Continued from Page One) In his acceptance speech, he said that it was his desire to have a closely knit organization with members working together as a team and not as individuals. "Everyone will have a specific job to do and is expected to accomplish tasks assigned to the best of his ability," declared the new leader. "The executive committee will designate the various committees in the very near future."

As an aid in helping to determine the responsibilities of the Board, which was authorized by the City Commission, Mr. Ogham asked each member to write a letter of about 250 words giving his viewpoints on what Sanford can do industrially. He requested that the memoranda be given to him by Monday. The chairman said that officers elected would serve for the remainder of the calendar year. Meetings will be held monthly with regular reports to be submitted to the City Commission.

Teen-Aged Students Held On Suspicion

DAYTONA BEACH — Ten teen-aged students, most of them from Winter Park High, were held in city jail on suspicion of stealing cakes, pies and popcorn from an A & P store here.

It is customary for deliverymen to leave such articles outside the front of grocery stores early in the morning until the store opens. Police officers J. V. McKnight arrested seven of them at 5:30 when he saw them in a car piled high with the loot. About an hour later, two others drove up to officer Paul Lyons and asked him the way to the city jail, saying their buddies were being held for stealing bread.

McKnight identified those held as Henry J. Banks and Harry Cone, 19; Edward L. Parker, 20; Sam L. Dickson and Jay Richard Phelps, 18; and John McCasland, 17, all of Winter Park High; Enoch Lester Oster, 19, and James L. Harden, 18, Winter Park, but not students; and Donald E. Parker, 18, Matland; and Ted Dittler, 17, Fern Park.

All were held on suspicion of theft.

He said Dade County has 600 agents selling lottery tickets. Willis McCall, Lake County sheriff and president of the Florida Sheriff's Association, said all those examples cited by Owen "were taken care of in the last election."

He said there are 27 new sheriffs in Florida and they are doing good jobs. Creation of a racket squad, he said, would lead to a situation where a Huey Long could take over. He said grand jurors could well investigate crime without having to call on a state agency.

THE WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — How can a woman working in the Children's Bureau be a security risk? Or a member of the Fish and Wildlife Service? Both seem pretty far removed from anything that could hurt national security.

But President Eisenhower's new security program covers every government worker in every agency. It is far from a complete blueprint, as it stands, for getting rid of government employees who are considered security risks.

Details will have to be worked out. Some flaws may show up as it goes along, because Eisenhower did not lay down the same rigid rules for all agencies. He left much of the rulemaking up to them.

So the test of what is a security risk in the Children's Bureau may not be the same as a test in an agency like the State or Defense Department, where a man who talked or drank too much might do national damage.

Yet, Eisenhower said he wants uniformity in this program in order to treat all employees fairly and equally.

He has ordered the Civil Service Commission to oversee the program in order to get uniformity. But because of the varied nature of the agencies and their work, uniformity will hardly be achieved overnight.

At the very beginning of his new order Eisenhower said he was interested in the interests of the national security require that all persons privileged to be employed in the departments and agencies of the government shall be reliable, trustworthy, of good conduct and character, and of complete unswerving loyalty to the U. S.

A man might be completely loyal but he might not be considered "reliable" from the standpoint of national security. It will be the job of agency heads to establish rules by which a man can be judged "reliable." That is a word which may need some precise definition.

Eisenhower must stand ultimate responsibility for the success or failure of this program although it was prepared in the Justice Department.

This is usual practice for any president since, with all his staff, he can't possibly be expert himself on every one of them but must rely on subordinates. One thing seems clear: that a number of government employees who could not be proved disloyal can, under the wide scope of this order, be fired that all those now in sensitive jobs have been fully investigated. The files of everyone of them will be examined again to see whether, although their loyalty may be unquestioned, they could be considered security risks.

Under this order a government employee who holds his job through competitive civil service examination must be given a hearing by a board created in his own agency if he's challenged as a security risk and if he has been in the government more than a year.

If he got his job through competitive examination but has been with the government less than a year, he can be fired on security grounds without a hearing.

What about a man who got his job through appointment? If he has had it less than a year he can be sacked as a security risk without a hearing. That is, if he is not a veteran. If he's a veteran it's not clear at this time whether he will get a hearing.

If he's an appointed man and his job over a year, it's still an unsettled question whether he can be fired outright as a security risk without a hearing.

Korean Talks

(Continued From Page One) no indication that an armistice in Korea would be reached with any speed. After a neutral nation is named and its exact jurisdiction decided, the delegations have to hammer out decisions on: 1. Will the neutral state have total jurisdiction over the prisoners? 2. How many teams are there going to be trying to influence them to go home? 3. How many observers will be on hand to watch the teams? 4. Who provides for the teams? 5. Who provides for the observers? 6. Where will be the final line of demarcation dividing the two opposing forces?

Naturalist Notes

The Seminole Audubon Society combined with the Florida Audubon Society for a most pleasant all-day field trip to Peristemon Hammock Saturday, Apr. 25. A beloved bike was taken through the wooded section. Upon return to camp, supper was furnished. The packed lunches were most appetizing and gave us a special treat, and the hostess, Mrs. Don Norton, furnished hot coffee for the perfect finishing touch. After a lazy hour of conversation and loafing, the trip was made by car over the bridge and continued along the water's edge.

$576 Is Raised By Band Association At Farm Auction

The Seminole High School Band and Orchestra Association met at the farm auction held at the Farmers' Auction.

The decision was made to hold a picnic supper in Daytona on May 7 when the band will present an annual concert in the famous Daytona Beach bandshell.

The secretary was instructed to write a letter to Principal Herman Morris from the Band Association thanking the various school organizations for contributing to the debt of the group thus completely clearing the band of all debt.

HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD — Another Hollywood mystery shot to pieces. Cliff Webb likes children. "The report that I defecated children is false," declared Webb, who is famed for having crowned his parents' secret Georgia love affair with a public "Sitting Pretty." "Of course, it would make better publicity if I did defecate them. There is no news in the fact that I adore my children."

Personal

Mrs. T. E. Smith and Mrs. Lillian Vickers left this morning for Miami where Mrs. Smith will visit with relatives for about two weeks. Mrs. Vickers will continue on to Key West where she will visit her daughter, Miss Thelma Vickers.

Farm Income In Southeast Area Is Off Over '52

ATLANTA (AP)—Falling prices slanted $31,893,000 from the cash income of farmers in the Southeast for the first two months of the year compared with the same period of 1952.

The income loss by states ranged from $2,628,000 for Alabama to $18,564,000 for Georgia. Only two of the region's seven states were able to show income gains for the two months. These were Tennessee up $3,503,000, and Mississippi, $1,237,000.

The income figures were released today by Merrill C. Lotton, regional director of the U. S. Department of Commerce. He quoted from a report of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Georgia's sizeable decline from cash farm returns of $67,283,000 for the first two months of 1952 to $48,710,000 this year was exceeded only in Arkansas, Texas and California. All told, 27 of the 48 states experienced farm income declines.

For the Southeast, cash returns from livestock dropped from $183,140,000 to $169,431,000—a loss of $13,709,000. Cash from crops fell from $248,809,000 to $227,825,000—off $20,984,000.

The comparative two-month figures on total cash farm income for other states:

North Carolina, $37,354,000 in 1952 and $31,254,000 in 1953—down $6,100,000; South Carolina, $29,882,000 and $23,430,000—down $6,452,000; Florida, $105,013,000 and $97,364,000—down $7,649,000; Tennessee, $17,184,000 and $19,637,000—up $2,453,000; Alabama, $43,067,000 and $39,309,000—down $3,758,000; Mississippi, $12,216,000 and $10,453,000—up $1,763,000.

million dollars. "Our state public education costs will be more than half of our entire general revenue fund expenditures."

"Under our laws too the state does not assume the full responsibility for financing our public school system. Much responsibility remains with the counties and this is as it should be. I realize that many counties have failed to meet their responsibilities and that our laws should be strengthened to remedy this situation. I urge our school people now to concentrate their efforts in this field and not seek further aid from the state treasury."

"Our legislators have applied themselves diligently to the tremendous job at hand. They have much hard work ahead of them and their time and efforts should not be sidetracked."

"In support of our teachers I also want to urge all school boards in the state to continue the cost of living raises which have been put in effect from local funds during the past two years."

"Alan in the year ahead I hope that each school board will make its best effort, by such supplementation as it can, to see that our teachers are fairly and adequately compensated for the great work they are doing."

Governor's Mansion
TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A bill authorizing construction of a new $250,000 governor's mansion was introduced today in the Senate by its Appropriations Committee.

The proposed mansion would be erected on the block where the present mansion is located about a mile north of the Capitol.

State Purchases
TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The governor's bill to coordinate state purchases was approved today by the Senate Committee on Governmental Reorganization.

The plan calls for a State Purchasing Council made up of representatives from the legal state agencies. It would set standards and maximum prices on goods to be purchased by the State.

A House Committee has approved practically the same bill. A bill to abolish the State Milk Commission completely was introduced in the House by Rep. Vern of Hernando.

Bills previously introduced would require more county representation on the Board and strip it of its price fixing powers. A public hearing on them is scheduled for tonight.

The Vern measure was referred to committee. The House voted 48-34 to let the citizens of Miami hold an election should the city charter should be abolished. An ordinance would have abolished Miami's city government and handed its functions over to Dade County without a vote of the people.

Meat Inspection
TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A proposal to exempt the small farmer and small processor from state meat inspection laws is under consideration by Senate Livestock Committee. Chairman Black said today.

The committee will act Thursday on the proposal which would exclude the processor of less than 100 hogs and less than 40 hogs from inspection.

Convict Labor
TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Florida Senate today defeated a bill which would have enabled judges to convict persons confined in county jails if sentenced to two years or more. The vote against the bill was 24-18.

Rural Common Sense

By RUDIS JOHNSON

The wise farmer shelters and otherwise takes proper care of his equipment so he may obtain long and efficient service from it.

Prader Rogers, head of the agricultural engineering department of the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station, recently emphasized three very good reasons for taking proper care of equipment: For efficient service, for keeping repair and replacement costs to a minimum, and for safety.

A machine that is allowed to rust and decay, and when some part is weakened by these processes, it may break down at just the time when it is most needed. When the efficiency of such a machine is reduced or when it goes out of operation because of wear or breakage, valuable time is lost before it is restored to good working condition. And, of course, repairs or replacements cost money in addition to the labor loss from the job.

Mr. Rogers pointed out that proper care of farm equipment is a relatively simple and easy matter, for manufacturers usually provide instructions for care of the machines they sell. Most farmers know that shelter, proper lubrication, and paint are necessary to protect machines and keep them in good condition. Lubrication is essential to efficiency of moving parts, and its machine should be used when it is not properly lubricated.

Paint will protect metal and wooden parts. Application of a coat of oil to metal parts of machines that are not in use also will serve to keep them from rusting.

Try and Stop Me

—By BENNETT CERF

AT A MOVIE STUDIO last summer, reports Bob Sylvester, life was enlivened by weekly baseball pools. Each of sixteen actors or actresses drew out of a hat a pill representing one of the major league teams, and paid a dollar for it. Marilyn Monroe had been taking other pills to cure a cold and as a scene was being rehearsed, she took one from her purse and gulped it. Suddenly she realized that she made a mistake. "Help!" she cried. "I just swallowed the St. Louis Browns!"

Richmond Miller tells about a kindly old Quaker who used to rest on a bench in a public park. He was quite deaf and carried an ear trumpet. One afternoon some young hoodlums approached him and he was quite deaf and carried an ear trumpet. One afternoon some young hoodlums approached him and he was quite deaf and carried an ear trumpet.
