Commissioners Adopt Budget

The Seminole County Board of Commissioners yesterday approved their "budget for 1936-37 as advertised" but not without additional requests for appropriations.

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce were turned down on their request for an additional sum to bring the appropriation up to $10,000.

Seminole County Judge Ernest Housholder took the Board of Commissioners "to task" for their refusal to grant the sum of money requested for the operation of the Juvenile Court.

Judge Housholder, in a letter to the commission said "I am at a loss to understand your refusal to appropriate additional moneys—a matter you should not oppose as a personal dislike for me."

"Apparently, to date, you have not seen fit to do what the law makes mandatory," the Judge wrote.

"The same law which makes it mandatory that I serve as Juvenile Judge makes it mandatory for you to appropriate funds for its operation," he said.

Judge Housholder concluded "I hope that you will view this request in the light of the law."

At a previous budget meeting, Judge Ernest Housholder, who also serves as Seminole County Juvenile Judge, requested $2,000 for the salary of a counsellor, $200 expense, $2,000 for an assistant counsellor and $300 for expense, $2,400 as Juvenile Judge salary and $2,400 for a Court Secretary.

Commissioner John Meisch, immediately following the reading of the request, made the motion that the budget be adopted as advertised.

The Board of Commissioners sitting as an Equalization Board received no complaints either by letter or by personal appearance.

J. Dan Wright Named Member Of Committee

The Florida Citrus Commission has announced that five of its members including J. Dan Wright of Sanford have been appointed to a special fresh fruit quality committee which will join a similar committee appointed by Florida Citrus Mutual to probe possibilities of improving both the grade and pack of fresh Florida citrus fruit.

Appointment of the FCC committee was made by Chairman Herschell Sorrells, who will also serve as a member of the group. In addition to Sorrells and Wright, other members of the FCC committee are Key Seales, Ross Bynum, and Frank Chase.

According to Sorrells, the joint FCC-FCM committee will be known as the "Fresh Fruit Quality Committee," and will direct its combined efforts toward creating greater consumer eye appeal for Florida citrus in fresh form. "It is our hope that we can maintain and increase the demand for fresh Florida citrus through better grade and pack," Sorrells said. "With the modern merchandising systems employed today, it is essential to maintain good eye appeal of our products. We hope that this combined committee will be the means of assuring this increased appeal for our fresh fruit."

The first meeting of the joint committee is scheduled for August 20, and will be held in the auditorium at Florida Citrus Mutual in Lakeland.

Oviedo Recreation Program Nearing Successful Closing

By MARIAN JONES OVIEDO—The summer recreation program is nearing a close. Starting on June 18th, it will end today.

Coach Paul Mikler, who has been supervisor of the recreation program, says he has had a very successful summer program. One hundred and fifty six students enrolled for the six weeks course. The average daily attendance has been around forty-six. Paul said that he personally attributed the drop in daily attendance due to the fright caused when a child was taken sick and it was believed to be spinal meningitis. That was when the sudden drop did come.

He has been ably assisted by Johnny Jones, a University of Florida athlete; Miss Myers, a Florida Southern College student; and Miss Kay Estes, an Oviedo High School student, a senior and this year's captain of the girls' basketball team.

The city of Oviedo contributed $125.00 toward the program, while the Oviedo Woman's Club, Oviedo P-TA, and Sylvia P-TA gave ample contributions. Paul said most of the money had been spent for helpers, for they figured they needed that more.

On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays the time was spent at the Oviedo swimming pool. He stated that about twenty had been taught to swim this year.

Other days the children gathered at the school playground. Small group games in baseball, softball, volley ball, croquet, horseshoeing and tennis were in progress at this time. Boys under fifteen engaged in a 5-game Lyman-Oviedo tilt, the result of which ended in four victories for the Oviedo Lads against the Lyman team.

Johnny Jones, who coached this team, said he had some promising material in these youngsters, especially in Sonny Priest at pitching and Roy Wainright at the catcher position.

The Titusville Recreation program used the Oviedo swimming pool each day from noon until 2 p.m. They have used it for three consecutive years now. Their average daily attendance has been fifty, with an enrollment of one hundred and sixty.

Mrs. Mabel Toews Waiting To Receive Mechanic License

By MRS. RUTH LAYO Little did Longwood, Fla., know that a certain young lady born in Philadelphia, Pa., a few years ago would come here to study and work for her Aircraft-Engineer-Mechanic's license. To date there are very few such licenses issued in the United States to the so-called "weaker sex."

This will be extremely beneficial to the citrus industry and all agricultural interests in Florida for it permits quick, available and flexible transportation of perishable crops to market. This results in a considerable saving—not only to the farmer but to the consumer as well.

As a result of the trucks being leased for the trip home, rather than moving empty, maximum use of equipment and an economic operation are insured.

Wednesday's Senate action clears the Smathers' bill for Presidential approval.

Sanford, County Safety Picture Will Be Subject

The overall safety picture of Sanford, Seminole County and Central Florida will be the subject of a talk to be given by "Chuck" Saunders, Safety Education Officer of the Florida Highway Patrol, with headquarters at Orlando, before the Rotary Club of Sanford, at its regular weekly meeting at the Yacht Club next Monday, noon.

The speaker will be introduced by Myron Reck, general program chairman of the club for the year 1936-37. Dr. Charles L. Persons, president, will be in charge of the meeting.

Gazil Makes Visit

Joe Gazil, owner-manager of the Tip-Top Supermarket, has returned from a two day visit as a guest of the Dixie-Lily Ranch at Williston, Fla. While there, he attended the dedication of that firm's grain elevator at Trenton, erected to help Florida farmers process and store their corn and other commodities.

Wednesday Senate Action Clears Bill For Ike's Approval

Senator George Smathers (D-Fla.) successfully steered through the Senate Wednesday his long-awaited trip-lease legislation. This is the result of three years' continued efforts by Senator Smathers to insure the haulers of agricultural products the most economical use of their vehicles.

It allows truckers of agricultural products to trip-lease on a return trip home after having carried agricultural products, livestock and fish to market centers.

The Board of Public Instruction also approved the recommendations of the Board of Trustees for the appointment of four teachers, two janitors and an assistant principal for Seminole High School.

Insurance for school children was accepted at $1.50 per student. The American Progressive Insurance Co. of New York was awarded the insurance with the provision that included students playing football.

The Board of Public Instruction also approved the installation of accounts in the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and in the Board Room of the Education Building. Cost of the project will come to approximately $200.

Burpee Seed Co. Wins Game

Five runs in the second inning of last night's game in the championship series of the city-wide softball league clinched the win for Burpee Seed Co.

The two teams, playing a best three out of five games, are now tied in the highly contested games to determine the championship team of the league.

Hunt-McRoberts was able to swing only one run around the bases off of their four hits. Burpee Seed Co. defeated Hunt-McRoberts, 5-2. Batteries for the seedmen were B. Q. Smith and John Jones; for Hunt-McRoberts, Bob Galk and Jim Pennington. Next game to be played in the playoff series will be under the lights in Fort Mellon Park Tuesday night, July 31, 7:30 p. m.

Race Track Plans Aired At Meeting

Recommendations Are Approved By Board

The Seminole County Board of Public Instruction approved the annual budget this morning with no complaints and no questions coming before the hearing called for 10 o'clock at the Education Building on Commercial Ave.

The budget was tentatively approved by the Board of Public Instruction on July 12 for $1,967,872.

The increased budget, Superintendent of Public Instruction Rayburn T. Milwee told the Board, came from Federal funds, State funds, an increase in property values within the county, and from the $50,000 appropriated from racing funds which can be used only for teachers salaries.

Milwee advised the Board of Public Instruction that the budget will be typed and mailed Monday to the State Department of Education for final approval.

Bids were received and opened this morning for desks, chairs and tables. The bids were tabulated and referred to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for study and acceptance of the lowest bid that met with specifications. Southern Desk, American Seating, Universal Seating and New to go. Equipment companies submitted bids.

Other bids were opened for mechanical equipment, which included typewriters and adding machines. The tabulation of bids was again referred to the Superintendent of Public Instruction for study and acceptance of the lowest bid. Firms submitting bids included: Powell's Office Supply, Sweeney, Hayes Office Machine, George Stuart, and Office Equipment Exchange.

The Board of Public Instruction approved the recommendations of the Board of Trustees for the appointment of four teachers, two janitors and an assistant principal for Seminole High School.

Insurance for school children was accepted at $1.50 per student. The American Progressive Insurance Co. of New York was awarded the insurance with the provision that included students playing football.

The Board of Public Instruction also approved the installation of accounts in the office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and in the Board Room of the Education Building. Cost of the project will come to approximately $200.

10 Negro Teachers Admit Purchasing College Credits

ST. AUGUSTINE, (A)—Ten Negro former public school teachers testified privately yesterday in pre-trial discussions about alleged purchasing of college credits.

The investigation springs from charges that an ousted Florida Normal College registrar sold credits to the 10 and 17 other students. The registrar, Frank T. Wilson Jr., faces circuit court charges of falsifying college records and illegally granting credits to senior students so they could be qualified to teach.

The charges arose after Dr. R. W. Puryear, president of the college here, reported irregularities to the State Board of Education. Most of the 27 teachers have admitted buying the credits and Dr. Puryear said many are attending summer classes to make up the work. Yesterday's investigation was conducted by State Atty. Murray Sam.

Rev. Wyatt Methodist Church Opposes Proposal

Plans for the building of a "Saratoga of the South" were aired yesterday before the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce at their noon luncheon meeting held at Jim Spencer's Restaurant.

William R. Kemp, president of Seminole Park Raceway told the Jaycees and a number of invited citizens that the new harness horse racing track would be the center of the southeast for the circuit of horse racing.

However, there was opposition to Kemp's proposal that a part-mutuel betting permit be used at what he termed "the harness horse racing center of the world."

Rev. Milton H. Wyatt, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Sanford, and representing the Seminole County Ministerial Association at the Jaycees meeting, answered Kemp's talk by saying "Gambling is an evil that we cannot support. Since pari-mutuel has been introduced there can be no other position than to be against it."

Rev. Wyatt added "The speaker makes a very fine talk—but involving as he has on the commitment to pass on the stockholders—we would not want to be involved."

Kemp told the Jaycees that "my original plan was for an aquacade on Lake Monroe with Guy Lombardo which did not materialize and I came out with this track and a boat."

"I have always been a great believer in Seminole County," said Kemp, "for many reasons."

"The main thing," he said, "is that I have been benefiting from it for 15 years. Your support, from Seminole County, has enabled me to operate the Coliseum."

We're just a couple of country boys who simply filled an application which is now up to the point of being accepted. Kemp told the Jaycees audience. "We've spent a total of 58 cents—just the postage on the envelope to mail the application."

The Seminole Park Raceway, owned originally by William Reynolds of Reynolds Tobacco Company, has trained more Hambletonian winners than any other track in the world, Kemp said yesterday. Every trainer knows its background, he said.

We've seen the potentialities, Kemp explained, and we have now put the track back into shape with new fences, barns, grandstand repairing and other improvements, especially to the clubhouse which is now something that Seminole County people can be proud of.

The basis for the operation of Seminole Park Raceway," Kemp said, "is that it will be a comfort (Continued on Page Six)

Methodist Church Is In New Home; Second Unit Begun

By MARIAN JONES OVIEDO—The Foster Chapel Methodist Church of Oviedo is in a new home, at least part of it is. One unit of the formerly estimated $150,000 church was opened for services in June.

The Rev. George C. Carlton, pastor, said construction work began in June of 1935 on the present new building. The steeple has not been added as yet. Too, there is another unit, estimated at $24,000 to be built. The present building cost is estimated at $130,000. Paul M. Campbell, contractor is in charge of the work.

Miss Ann Leinhardt was the first bride to walk down the aisle of the new chapel when she became the bride of Erwin W. Abel on June 15.

The old building cannot be demolished until the other unit is completed. T. L. Lingo is superintendent of the Sunday School. George W. Morgan is chairman of the board of Stewards, and C. R. Clonts is chairman of the building committee.

The formal dedication of the building has not been held as yet, but tentative date is set but not to be divulged immediately.

Each year on the first Sunday in November, the Methodists have a basket picnic on the "countryside grounds. This is their annual Homecoming Day. Former Oviedoians from miles around come on that day to renew old acquaintances and talk over bygone days. This has grown over the period of time into quite a large affair.

The Rev. Carlton has a lovely wife, Mary Jean, who assists him quite a bit with his church work. They have an adorable son, Harvie, about 2 years of age.

Steel Strike Is Settled

NEW YORK (A)—A settlement of the 27-day nationwide steel strike was announced today but a formal end to the strike will not come until sometime early next week.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, announced at a news conference the settlement had been reached. John A. Stephens, chief industry negotiator, sat beside him nodding agreement.

McDonald said that it will take several days, however, before individual contracts with the steel companies can be completed and signed.

He said a return to work of the 650,000 striking steelworkers must wait until the signing of those contracts. No terms of the settlement were announced.

Reading Of Holy Bible Should Be On Every Summer Agenda

The reading of the Bible is not a seasonal matter. Hence the traditional lists of suggested books for summer reading tend to omit it; and the slick magazines of fashion, that put out their summer reading issues about this time of the year, put their faith in new literary bottles rather than old.

Yet on every summer agenda there should be a place for revivifying and enlarging one's knowledge of the Christian story. Some will find deep rewards in regarding the Bible as a source of the early history of the Middle East, so central to contemporary world international politics. It is interesting to read the biblical references in recent columns by noted writers, commenting upon the current edition of drama and tension in the Holy Land. We could all profit from enlarged knowledge of this region, from perspective as to its geography and place names. A good map of the Holy Land should accompany our reading.

The Bible, despite the endless interpretations to which it is treated, in Sunday sermons without number, can be read for pleasure, like any other book. This in part is the pleasure of reading stories that are generally familiar to us, as to which we can improve our detailed knowledge. And we can read as much as we like, something that is not possible when the readings must be fitted within the limits of a service of worship. Possibly we should rely more upon the interpretations of our ministers, in addition to the insight from our own reading.

One thing seems clear: any summer reading of the Bible will remain with us longer by far than the usual occupants of summer reading lists.

As we may find, in a season of calm weather, though inland far we be, that we have sight of that immortal sea which brought us hither, can in a moment travel thither and see the children sport upon the shore, and hear the mighty waters rolling evermore.

Possibly Wadsworth has a place on our list as well.

Drivers In Rain

It was a rainy afternoon. The highway was dim and gray in the uncertain light. Sudden spurts of heavier rain against windshields limited visibility even more, yet heavy traffic buzzed along almost as fast as in good weather.

The only apparent effect of the rain on traffic was that it cut down on the amount of passing. The result was that automobiles were clustered in long trains—six cars, a dozen or more. Impatiently the drivers nudged closer and closer to the car ahead, hoping for a chance to pass. There were fifteen cars in one such highway train, each dangerously close to the one ahead, the whole group hurtling along at sixty per.

Until the first driver saw a car loom out of the rain at an intersection and slammed on his brakes. The car behind was much too close to stop in time; it smashed into the leader. From then on, it was like dominoes, with each car in the train crumpling against the one ahead.

When it was all over, all fifteen cars in the train were crunched together. The pattern of the rain was obscured by screams and groans and curses. Many persons had been injured; damage to the cars was heavy.

Fourteen drivers, crowding too close at speeds too high for the driving conditions, were responsible for that accident. It was a clear case of poor driving judgement, multiplied by fourteen.

If each driver had followed the old rule about allowing one car length ahead for every ten miles of speed, there would have been no accident.

Water Supply

Even as we ponder plans here to conserve our water supply, others speak up on the subject:

Edward A. Bacon, Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Army, stated in a speech that "Water resources are of the utmost concern to every one of us, since our per capita share of the total nation use of water is twelve hundred gallons per day.

The demand for water is growing at such a rate, that whole regions are running dry, and cities are reaching hundreds of miles to quench their thirst.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to four questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I am going to summer school under the World War II GI Bill and my course ends August 31. Will I be allowed to finish, even though the July 25 wind-up of the program applies to me?

A. The law prohibits you from training after July 25, 1956 under the GI Bill. It does not provide for exceptions to allow veterans to finish their courses. You may, of course, continue your course after July 25 at your own expense.

Q. If a serviceman dies in service do his beneficiaries have a choice in type of payment of his indemnity?

A. No. The indemnity is paid in only one way: 120 monthly installments, with each installment at $9.29 per $1,000 of indemnity. It is only post-service Korean GI insurance that a choice exists in payment of the proceeds.

Q. As a service-disabled veteran with an 80 percent disability rating, I am drawing extra compensation because I have a 17-year-old son. He has just enlisted in the Marines. Will the extra payments continue since he has not yet reached age 18?

A. The extra payments may not be continued after he joins the Marines. Reason is that once he is in service, he no longer can be considered a legal member of your household, for purpose of the extra compensation payments.

Q. Is it necessary for a disabled Korean veteran to undergo vocational counseling before he begins arson and attempting to defraud insurers. The store burned July 15, causing a damage of about $30,000.

Consider Onion

Consider the lowly onion, a vegetable pungent and delectable. Flavor, above all, is what makes an onion an onion.

Yet, at a recent meeting a professor told of the determined labors to breed an onion notable, not for authoritative flavor, but for keeping qualities. Presently a man arose and remarked, "What you're trying to develop, as I see it, is a thing that looks like an onion but is hard as a bullet—and maybe tastes like one."

Unfortunately, this was not far from the truth. Something similar happens with fruits: Peaches bred for size and bloom taste like mush; big red apples look fine but don't excite the palate; pears that promise succulence taste flat.

Ah, for the days when no one much cared what fruit looked like so long as it made a man's taste buds do a jig.

NEW PRESCRIPTION FOR SNAKE BITE

Stassen Puts President On Spot

By JAMES MARLOW
 Associated Press News Analyst
 WASHINGTON, (AP)—Harold E. Stassen has now put President Eisenhower on the spot by indirectly challenging him to say whether he prefers Vice President Nixon to anyone else as his Republican running mate.

Eisenhower has never gone beyond saying he would be "delighted" to have Nixon on his ticket. His reluctance to express a preference has made it possible for Stassen to question Nixon's fitness and cause conflict in the party.

Republican hopes this year are entirely pinned on Eisenhower. Because that is so, there is no question he could name his No. 2 man any time. If he had done so already—even if he had picked Nixon—Stassen almost certainly would not have attempted to interfere.

Stassen says he will drop his campaign—to have Nixon shoved aside in favor of Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as the vice presidential candidate—if Eisenhower says he wants Nixon.

This is pretty much the same as laying down conditions to the President: unless Eisenhower speaks out more forcefully for Nixon than he has so far, Stassen will keep on shooting at Nixon and causing trouble in the party.

This creates an awkward situation for both Eisenhower and Stassen, who is the President's special assistant on disarmament.

It would seem the President now has been forced into one of four choices: speak out for Nixon; tell Stassen to pipe down; fire him if he doesn't; or say nothing while Stassen continues what is so far only his own one-man campaign.

The calendar of Eisenhower's comments at his news conferences this year—on the subject of Nixon and the vice presidency—shows how Stassen found room to do what he did:

Jan. 25. This was after Eisenhower's heart attack but before he said he'd run again. He was asked—if he did run—would he want Nixon with him. He avoided a direct answer. He said he had never talked with Nixon about it. But he praised him highly: "There has never been a vice president so well versed in the activities of government." Nixon, he said, had his admiration, respect and deep affection.

Feb. 8. Eisenhower was asked—if he didn't run again—would he want Chief Justice Earl War-

Gals Get Homesick On Honeymoon

BY HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP)—What do brides complain about most on a honeymoon?

"Surprisingly, the problem girls mention most often is that they miss their mothers—they feel homesick," said psychologist Harold Greenwald. "But usually a phone call home makes them happy again."

"I've never met a bridegroom who admitted he felt lonesome for his father. Women are more willing to tell their honeymoon troubles than men. Most men feel they have to keep a stiff upper lip—like Gary Cooper."

Dr. Greenwald, a midtown psychoanalyst, is something of a specialist in the woes of honeymooners. As staff consultant for the Hotel Concord, a Catskill Mountain resort at Kiamasha Lake, he has acted as adviser to hundreds of newlywed couples.

"After homesickness," he remarked, "the most common problem brides mention is their husbands' lack of orderliness. They are completely dismayed by the way he throws his clothes around."

Brides have a neater nesting instinct. They can't understand how a man can be so untidy, and maybe they worry a bit that they'll have to spend the rest of their lives picking up after him."

The problem of sexual adjustment, Dr. Greenwald has found, often arises from feminine ignorance.

Here are other complaints he hears most often from brides: "My husband isn't attentive enough. I thought he would have eyes only for me on my honeymoon. But he wants to golf, swim and play cards. I don't understand him. How can he really love me if he is so interested in all those other things?"

"Why do I always have to tell my husband the things I want to do? If he were absolutely in love with me, would I have to put everything in words?"

Dr. Greenwald, admitting that this feminine trait often was found in wives married 20 years, said it was undeniably difficult for any man to learn to read a woman's mind or anticipate her whims, but added:

"It does show the desperate importance of communication between newly married people—the need to find a language of their own."

Some men make the same complaint about their brides, that they don't instinctively understand them, he said.

DISCOURAGED BY a laundryman who shrank his clothes to such a degree that he scarcely could squeeze back into them, Colonel Francis Duffy finally sent the offender a big railroad spike, with a note reading, "I'll bet you can't shrink THIS." The laundryman met the challenge. The Colonel got back a measly carpet tack and a card demanding "Says WHO?"

"Anyone who attempts to drive a wedge of any kind between Dick Nixon and me is—has just as much chance if he tried to drive it between my brother and me."

Eisenhower hasn't indicated yet whether he thinks Stassen was using a wedge. On April 26 Nixon said he wanted to run again. Eisenhower sent out word he was "delighted."

May 4. He said publicly he was "delighted" but said he didn't know what the nominating convention would do.

Nervous Ailments Helped By Tranquilizing Drugs

By HERMAN H. BUNDSCH, M.D.

DEVELOPMENT of numerous new tranquilizing agents has spurred recent medical advances. In today's monthly review of medicine, let's take a look at some of these drugs.

Serpasil is a combination of the tranquilizing agent, Serpasil, and the mild psychomotor stimulant, Ritalla. It is used by the doctor in the treatment of various disorders marked by tension, nervousness, anxiety, apathy and mild depression.

Clinical Studies
 Recent clinical studies have indicated that combining the two drugs produces complementary action. Serpasil frees the patient from tension and anxiety while Ritalla stimulates and brightens his mental outlook.

Serpasil is reported useful in treatment of hypertension, chronic fatigue, menopause ailments and other conditions.

Meratan-Reserpine is a combination of a powerful but harmless mood-lifting chemical with a tranquilizing agent. Doctors report it combats the three major symptoms of Parkinson's disease—trembling, mental depression and muscular rigidity.

While the new drug does not affect the underlying disease, it does hold the physical symptoms in check while also giving the Parkinsonian patient experiences of pleasant relaxation.

The tranquilizing drug, Miltown, is reported to be effective in treating epilepsy and in controlling severe pain associated with advanced cancer.

The drug brought relief to 80 per cent of the patients to whom it was administered in one particular type of epilepsy and some relief to one of every three persons tested with epilepsy of all types, Chicago doctors report.

New York State doctors, meanwhile, have been using the drug with cancer patients. They report it reduces psychic as well as musculoskeletal tension.

But here is a timely word of caution: This drug should be used only under the doctor's direction.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 Q. L.: Do the lungs do anything besides provide oxygen for the body?
 Answer: The lungs have many functions besides the providing of oxygen.
 They help regulate the body heat by warming the air that is breathed in and out and eliminating excessive heat from the body.
 An excessive amount of water in the tissues in many cases created by the lungs in the form of mucus.
 The movements of the lungs also promotes circulation.

Shower Fetes Expectant Bride Miss Jones

OVIEDO—Miss Beverly Ann Jones, who will be married to William H. Morgan, of New Smyrna Beach, was again feted with a miscellaneous shower at the Gold Room of T. G. Lee in Orlando, on Wednesday evening.

Hostesses for the occasion were Bertha Patton, Mrs. Marjiv Brown and Mrs. Kyukko McEwen.

Guests enjoyed writing a telegram using Beverly and Bill for the letters of the message. Mrs. Jean Boor won the prize for this contest.

Miss Jones was assisted with her gifts by Mrs. Jean Boor and one of the hostesses kept the bride's book. The serving table, overlaid with a lace cloth, was centered with a white cake decorated with pink rosebuds and bearing the inscription, "Congratulations Beverly" and silver candleholders holding pink tapers entwined with a white wreath graced either side of the cake. Cutglass punchbowls on either end of the table lent charm to the unique arrangement. Small pink nutcups completed the arrangement.

Guests present included Miss Carole Jackson, Miss Nancy Urban,

Miss Diana Cleveland, Miss Kendra McAllister, Miss Patricia Lord, Miss Ann Stewart and the guest of honor, from Orlando; Mrs. Jean Boor, Mrs. Sue Buchanan; Mrs. J. M. Jones, mother of the bride-elect, and the hostesses from Orlando; also Miss Ann Pierson and Mrs. J. B. Jones Jr. of Oviedo.

STORIES
1957, Seattle was a bustling, busy gateway to the Klondike gold fields...

CHAPTER TWELVE
MEG was glad to be helped into the back room, grateful to have her head held as she vomited.

"I'll take you home this minute! I wonder if you have a fever?" Jenny's hands, dry and cool as those of a very old person, were on Meg's forehead.

"Maybe I'd better go home and lie down a while," Meg admitted. She refused to let Jenny accompany her. "I can walk. We can't leave the shop just because I've caught a cold in this beauty rain!"

"By the time she had dragged herself home, she was willing to accept Mattie's concerned help. "But he's back to you yet, Johnny's safe with Gretchen and her mother. Go to bed and take it easy," Meg lay down and allowed Mattie to tuck in her heart's content.

"You are with child, Meg?" she asked gently. "Meg's eyes filled. 'I didn't know you'd say that!'"

Mattie patted her. "Don't fret, child, you're natural. But maybe you'd like to go back to Illinois. Do you need money?"

"No, I won't go back!" Honored by Mattie's words...

footnotes to fashion

American designers are "painting with silk" this year, the way an artist strokes paint on a canvas to delineate the contours and the highlights of a beautiful figure.

The new softly flowing textures, intricate, light-refracting weaves and patterns, and rich colorings of the Fall 1956 silks as used by top designers to compose today's portrait of a lady, were exhibited by the International Silk Association, USA in a brief "vernissage" fashion show on Sunday evening (July 23) which officially opened the Press Week program.

It grouped the incoming fashions in silk under three major influences, each expressing a fashion philosophy: GEORGE BRAQUE, the abstract modernist of bold forms and textures in cool neutrals or strong color harmonies; LEON BAKST, the costume designer for the Ballet Russe in 1918 who set the fashion world of that time afire with his flaming Oriental colors and sultry harem draperies; and GIOVANNI BOLDINI, the society portrait painter, whose pastel loveliness was the twin ideal of the same era.

Original paintings by each of the artists formed the stage setting for the showing, and each scene opened with a tableau "in the mood of Braque, Bakst and Boldini" arranged by Lester G. Brague's "The Red Curtain" was loaned from the private collection of Mrs. Albert D. Lauer, and Boldini's "Portrait of a Lady" from the painting collections of the Brooklyn Museum.

The Braque sequence emphasized the thin mat-finish, silk crepe which designers are drawing gently into abstract folds and shallow lines, drapery over the body to form the new eased, super flexible silhouette of Winter 1956.

Silk falls in newly thinned-down weights and "interesting" neutral tones, silk twill with a diagonal weave that gives a brush stroke effect, muted shades of silk twined in smooth or lighter weaves, black combined with different shades of brown and the interplay of textures for unusual effects were incorporated in the opening scene.

The show itself ended with the crash of pure glossy color blocks into swaggy outlines in satin evening clothes. Typical was a floor-length costume that combined a white sheath with a bright saffron coat.

The Oriental influence, never more gorgeously expressed than by Leon Bakst in his breathtaking costumes for "Scheherazade" and "La Peri," is once again casting a perfumed spell over fashion. The Silk Association cited the importance of brilliantly colored and fur-toned brown brocades and jacquards threaded with elaborate, glittering metallic designs. Several sumptuous theatre costumes and silks represented these, sometimes given the added Marco Polo touch of plump sable collars or deep-cutting crushed sable hats. A fabulous mink coat topped one gleaming dinner dress.

Bakst's master-stroke of dazzling color and his absorption with the East came to glowing life in a group of late day and evening dresses that evoked the mood of his ballet sketches. It included royal blue tissue-taffeta drawn into a puffed harem neckline, exotic orange biased into an uninterrupted princess line and cerise satin slashed tunic with an underkirt of flowered damask.

De Bary Personals

The family reunion, picnic dinner and entertainment of guests from the North were observed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon R. Dillon on Smyrna Drive last night. Present were: Mr. and Mrs. Breder, Dillon of Winter Park with children, Diane, Patrick, Beverly and Tommy; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dillon of Cincinnati with Bobby and Billy, daughter Susan; Mr. and Mrs. Jack West of Cleveland, Ohio, with daughter Janice and Mr. and Mrs. James Deane of Arlington, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Deane will soon be Florida residents.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Dockray were happily surprised when their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lance Dockray brought their two grandchildren, Gary and Ralph down for a vacation visit. The young sprouts will also be entertained by the Dockrays' parakeet that has a fine vocabulary.

Mr. and Mrs. James Richards recently entertained Mr. and Mrs. Orville Tyler of Miami who were en route to Huckleberry Mt. near Hendersonville, N. C. They invited the Richards to join them and today Jim informs us that they are about to take off for this wonderful mountain trip.

Mrs. Milton Laitner who is known to De Baryites as the "beautiful model" of the Howard Chandler Christy era is traveling with husband Milton to New York and points west.

Mr. and Mrs. Maury Gilbert are flying to New York to get their first glimpse of two brand new grandchildren; one arriving soon from Calif., the other awaiting them in Yonkers, N. Y.

Mrs. Everett Waite expects to motor soon to Avon Park, N. J. to spend a vacation with Mrs. J. Poyntell Kemper of this village who will return in September with Mrs. Waite.

Miss Joanna Higgins of Rego Park, N. Y., is spending some of her vacation time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Raymond Higgins of Leleon Road. Miss Higgins, who teaches physical education at the Cathedral school of St. Mary's in Garden City, L. I., expects to start work on her Master's degree at NYU this fall.

Four year old Davy Byrn thought so much of his grandparents that he brought them his pet turtle all the way from Milford Conn., when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Byrn came to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Byrn.

Richard and Robert Sparks of Alexandria, Va., are spending the summer with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hofstetter on Smyrna Drive. Robert Hofstetter is the zoning inspector for De Bary district.

MAN CHARGED WITH KIDNAPING WAITRESS
CLEARWATER, Fla. — P. James Lennox, 29, a legless Navy veteran, has had placed against him a formal charge of kidnaping a waitress and abducting her in his specially built car at patrol point. State Atty. Clair Davis filed the charge yesterday.

Lennox is accused of kidnaping a Tampa waitress, Katherine Taylor, 37, from an Oldemar tavern July 15. She was unharmed and was released in a short while.

Mrs. Mabel Toews

(Continued from Page One) thought of her work, Mrs. Toews replied, "At first he was rather startled, but now has become very interested and has given me much assistance." The son who is 19 years old is an ardent model plane enthusiast. Daughter, who is 10 years old, has shown no desire of following in her mother's footsteps.

Mrs. Toews, tells us that she is required to put in 36 months of the job training under the constant supervision of a Civil Aeronautic Administration Government licensed mechanic. Also as there are no local schools where she can take the necessary book work, she must do this on her own and there are several manuals that she must complete before taking the tests. She must have complete knowledge of welding, sheet metal work, fabric work, wood-working, rigging, instruments also aircraft engines to name a few of the requirements.

When the 36 months are completed as well as the studies she will then go to Tampa, Fla., where the written and practical Federal Examination is given. Upon passing this examination and being granted her license she will then be permitted to work on any aircraft, small or large.

When visiting the Slade Aircraft Service to interview Mrs. Toews, we found both she and Frederick Slade busily putting new fabric on a wing of a plane that had suffered wind damage. While Mrs. Toews was doing the actual work, Mr. Slade was in constant watch so the job would be completed perfectly. Mr. Slade was the first pilot in Longwood, having been flying since June 1, 1927. He was a wing-walker in air-shows all over the country. Giving up the stunt, Mr. Slade opened the Slade Aircraft Service and now does major repair work on most all aircraft, including both small and large planes, business aircraft, crop dusters, in both cloth and metal. We were shown the many tools that are used to make the necessary 25 to 100 hour inspections. The C.A.A. requires these inspections on all commercial planes as well as the annual inspections for all other planes. The 100 inspection takes two people working constantly five to six hours on a single-engine aircraft. Upon completion of inspection and all necessary repairs having been repaired, the plane must then be test flown. When asked if Mrs. Toews would also train for test flying, Mr. Slade remarked that he thought Mrs. Toews was much better qualified to do the mechanical work as she has the ability for the work. That she apparently is a born mechanic, Mrs. Toews replied, she intends to keep on with the Slade Aircraft Service after completing her training. There is no doubt she will find plenty of all types of work there, from the tip of the propeller down to a tire change.

HOW TO BUY A HOME:

The purchase of a home is the most important investment the average family will ever make. It represents a large sum of money, and it means a great deal to the happiness and well-being of the family.

Therefore, it is important that you select the right home. Among the factors which should be considered are the following:

LOCATION. Is it convenient to stores, schools, churches, transportation and other facilities?

PLAN. Is the home well-planned to meet your requirements? Does it have enough room, and large enough rooms?

VALUE. Do you know how much the home you are considering is really worth? Is the home well-built with latest modern features?

YOU'LL FIND A HOME WITH ALL THESE REQUIREMENTS

OFFICERS WERE ELECTED Friday night to head the Seminole Chiefs Club, organized to create and develop interest in high school sports activities. John Schirard (left) was named president, John Keeling was elected secretary-treasurer. (Staff Photo)

President Signs Bill For Military Construction Jobs

President Eisenhower this morning signed the appropriation bill for military construction.

The bill includes the nearly 7-million dollars for expansion at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Captain Robert W. Jackson, commanding officer of the local Navy Station, this morning said "I am delighted to know that the present program at the Sanford Naval Air Station is being assisted by this larger appropriation."

There are 18 Florida Navy expansion programs for which appropriations were made and 11 Air Force appropriations for expansion in Florida.

Only two of the 29 programs drew larger appropriations than the local Naval Air Station.

Captain Jackson, when hearing of the Presidential approval of the appropriation, said that $32,000 had just been received for additional improvements at the NAS. However, this amount is separate from the nearly $7-million in funds.

"This year," Captain Jackson reported, "The Sanford Naval Air Station has been allotted over $1-million for operating expenses. This, he said, is the first time operation allowances have gone over the one-million dollar mark."

Funeral Services Are Set Tomorrow For J. McLain Sr.

J. T. McLain Sr., 86, passed away at his home at 1:15 p. m. yesterday in Geneva after a two-month illness.

Born July 4, 1869, in Cedar Town, Ga., he came to Oviedo at the age of 16 and lived in Geneva for 63 years. He was a member of the First Baptist Church of Geneva. A retired citrus grower and shipper, Mr. McLain was one of the first County Commissioners of Seminole County of District Five. He built the first bridge between Geneva and Sanford.

Survivors include six children, Mrs. W. L. Sigg of Geneva; Mrs. William Llewellyn, Bradenton, Mich.; Mrs. Ruth Lee of New Smyrna Beach; J. T. McLain Jr., Geneva; and Lee W. McLain, Sarasota; eight grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Tuesday at the Brison Funeral Home with the Rev. W. A. Ellenwood of the Geneva Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in the Geneva Cemetery.

Advisory Committee To Organize Tonight

The organizational meeting of the advisory committee for the Diversified Cooperative Training Program will be held at the Seminole County School Administration Building on Commercial Ave. tonight at 8 p. m., according to Louis J. Girard, Coordinator.

All of the civic organizations of Sanford will be represented at tonight's meeting, said Girard.

The purpose of the Advisory Committee, Girard pointed out, is to advise the coordinator and the principal of Seminole High School. "It is just as the name of the committee implies," said the newly appointed coordinator who will serve at Seminole High School this year.

In addition to the representatives from Sanford Civic clubs attending the meeting, there will also be a trustee from the Seminole County School Board, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, E. T. Milnes, principal of Seminole High School, Andy Bracken and Vocational Director Fred Murray.

The Advisory Committee will work with the Coordinator and the Seminole High School principal in matters concerning the choice of training agencies, the program, relative to employer-employee relationships, and in bringing the community, through this committee, closer to the program.

A chairman will be chosen by the members from its group, Louis J. Girard, the coordinator, will serve as the Advisory Committee's secretary.

Girard said this morning that he will make a "general report on the Diversified Cooperative Training program to date."

Tonight's meeting will round out the organizational parts in the establishment of the DCT program which will officially begin on the opening day of school in September.

COTTON BOWL COMES OF AGE

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Cotton Bowl will come of age on Jan. 1, 1957. That will be the 21st birthday for the New Year's Day Football classic sponsored annually in Dallas by the Southwest Conference.

MOTHER PLAYS STEADY GOLF

DENVER (AP)—After Mrs. Emmett Heitler, former Colorado women's golf champion, won the Denver Metropolitan Invitation this year, she told a reporter: "I'm the mother of five children, that's why I'm such a steady player. Nothing bothers me."

Brownie Day Camp Begins Next Week At Silver Lake

The annual Brownie Day Camp will be held this year during the week beginning Aug. 6, continuing through Friday, Aug. 16 at the Silver Lake Boy and Girl Scout camp.

Officials of the local Brownie organization, in releasing information concerning the 1956 Day Camp, state that a bus will be operated to and from the camp. A bus will provide transportation to the camp each morning leaving Southside School at 8:30 a. m. and McReynolds' Drug Store at 8:25 a. m.

The bus will leave the camp at 3:30 p. m. each day and will bring Brownies back to the bus stops.

Requirements were set forth by the officials as follows: Brownies attending the Day Camp should wear shorts or slacks and shirts; wear shoes and socks but no sandals; should bring bathing suit and towel; a noshbag lunch (milk will be furnished); a non-breakable drinking cup with name written on it; one man's sock and three buttons.

All other materials will be furnished, according to the release from the Brownie Girl Scout officials today.

"There will be many interesting activities for our Brownies this year," it was pointed out. However, the officials stated that for further information and the detailed schedule, parents are advised to read The Sanford Herald.

"Parent's Day will be Friday, Aug. 10 from 1 to 3:30 p. m.," today's release outlined. And the officials say "Come out and see what your Brownie has done."

Meeting Revealed

Ralph Withrill, president of the De Barry Republican Club, has announced a special meeting for Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock at the Fire House, for the Board of Governors and the chairman of publicity and entertainment committees.

Two Bills Hold Key To Close

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Two controversial bills today held the key to whether the Legislature will adjourn its special session in mid-week or stay on for the legal limit of 30 days.

One would set up a committee to investigate the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and other organizations, and the other would provide for local option on setting up a private school system to preserve racial segregation.

Both bills came up before the House Rules Committee at 11 a. m. this morning. Should they win clearance there, they will go before the Special Segregation Committee which set a hearing for 3 p. m.

If the rules committee should reject them as being outside the scope of Gov. Collins' special session call, a hot floor fight likely will result on the proposition of getting the two-thirds vote necessary for consideration.

The investigation bill cleared the Senate with only one dissenting vote and was sent to the rules committee by House Speaker Ted David.

It would set up an interim committee of three senators and four House members with subpoena power and a $50,000 appropriation to investigate any organization or persons whose activities are inimical to the interest of the state or violate state law or could lead to violence. The NAACP is not mentioned by name, but Sen. Dewey Johnson of Quincy, one of the introducers, said he knew of no other group it would fit.

Some House members said, however, that the language of the bill appeared to be too broad and might open the way for a "witch hunt."

The private school bill packs the punch that might create a controversy. Education forces are prepared to wage a real fight to prevent doing away with the public school system.

Rep. Premias P. Pratt of Monticello has proposed an emergency amendment to set up a local option plan for a private school system in areas threatened with integration.

The Special Segregation Committee is slated to consider proposals for an interposition resolution and prohibiting state, county and city officers from taking part in boycotts.

The House and Senate Judiciary committees will hold a joint public hearing today on an administration bill designed to prevent out of state mail order buyers of real estate from being billed by false advertising.

The bill provides stiff penalties ranging up to five years in prison and $100,000 fine for false and misleading advertising by real estate promoters.

The governor's five-phase segregation program is in shape for final Senate action and except for the real estate and 60-mile highway speed limit bills, his emergency program either has cleared the Legislature or needs only routine action to go through.

The speed limit law drew strong opposition and the administration may abandon it.

So far no segregation proposal outside the program drawn up by the Fabianaki committee has cleared the Legislature. Collins said members of the Fabianaki committee feel that additional action might "weaken the legal efficacy of the program they have recommended" since the courts might construe the program as a whole in determining constitutionality.

The House goes into session at 1 p. m. and the Senate will reconvene three hours later.

Chauffeur's Driving License Act Is Cleared In Ruling

The Attorney General's office has issued a ruling to clarify the 1955 legislative act defining who is required to have a chauffeur's driving license.

Under provisions of the law, the Attorney General said that any person who drives a motor vehicle in excess of 8,000 pounds gross weight must have a chauffeur's license whether he does or does not own the vehicle.

The law applies to private chauffeurs, instructors of driving schools, ambulance, school bus or wrecker drivers even though the operator is not specifically hired to drive but driving a vehicle is part of his duty.

The law exempts an owner who transports produce to market whether he grows the commodity or buys it from others for resale, the Attorney General said.

Oviedo Pool Site Part Of Well-Known Resident's Estate

By MARIAN JONES
OVIEDO — The Oviedo Swimming Pool, known as Sweetwater Park, is a part of the Theodore L. Meade estate and was given to the town to be used as a park.

Mr. and Mrs. Meade lived many years in a home not too far from the site of the pool. Mr. Meade was famous as an archivist and collector, including the one that bloomed at midnight only, many times. His lovely collection of china and many other antiques he proudly showed to his friends who called.

Mrs. Meade was dead when I came to Oviedo 26 years ago, but Mr. Meade was a grand old man. He was Boy Scout leader for many years and many of his Scouts now are living in Oviedo and some in Orlando or Sanford.

Meade Gardens in Orlando is named for this lover of flowers. He is also buried in Orlando where we attended his funeral. I can also remember when we had a birthday party at our house for our mother, in the form of a kid party. Mr. Meade, up in years then, came and played drop the handkerchief, etc. as spy as anyone.

About 30 years ago it was decided to try to put a swimming pool at this location. Bob King and Bette Jones were on the committee to raise funds, which subsequently meant Bob's wife, Mae and I were on that committee. Mae and I walked the leather off a good pair of shoes raising that money, but the results have been well worth the effort we put out.

Three-Car Collision Blocks 17-92 Traffic

Traffic on Highway 17-92 south of Sanford from 26th to 27th Streets was blocked this morning for three-quarters of an hour as wreckage from a three-car collision was cleared.

The accident, which occurred at 11:15 a. m. just south of Today's Restaurant at 27th St., involved three automobiles, one traveling north and two traveling south.

The driver of a 1950 Packard convertible, Glenn Morris, 31-year-old Negro of 1119 Locust Ave., is reported to have told bystanders that "I blacked out and don't know what happened."

The Negro received a severe gash just above his left eye. However, he said that he was not thrown from his car.

Morris, according to the driver of the first car that was hit, headed for his car while he was attempting a left turn and had come to a complete standstill near the intersection of 17-92 and 27th St.

C. F. Holloway, driving a 1950 Ford, was the first car that the Packard convertible smashed into. Holloway, of 1308 Locust Ave., said that he was not badly hurt even though he was on crutches from a previous unrelated accident.

The impact from the crash threw Holloway's car in to an oncoming 1956 Chevrolet Station Wagon being driven by Edward H. Scheif of Daisy, Tenn. Scheif said "I was traveling not more than 20 miles per hour, if that, when the collision occurred."

Three persons were injured in the collision, all occupants of Scheif's car. The driver's wife was thrown through the windshield of the station wagon and his mother was completely covered with luggage thrown about in the car. Scheif's mother, 4- (Continued on Page Eight)

Rev. Zimmerman Attends Church, Group Life Session

The Laboratory on the Church and Group Life which was sponsored by the Department of Christian Education of the Episcopal Church's National Council, ended its 13-day session at Seawaco, Tenn., July 28. It was the second laboratory of its kind to be held on the campus of the University of the South this summer.

The laboratory, attended by the Rev. H. Lytle Zimmerman of Sanford and the Holy Cross Episcopal Church, consisted of 31 participants and a staff of 15 and had representatives from 34 states, Washington, D. C., and the Hawaiian Islands. The director of the session was the Rev. Alfred E. Persons of Greenwich, Conn.

The laboratory was one of many held throughout the country this year for Episcopal clergymen and women church workers and a few lay leaders. The purpose of the laboratories is to provide a situation in which people may observe and study the forces and factors at work in group life.

Schirard To Head Group

Officers were elected and by-laws adopted at the first meeting of the Seminole Chiefs Club, an organization of citizens which will create interest and promote enthusiasm for local high school athletic programs.

John Schirard was named president of the newly formed club with Thomas Stringer elected to the post of vice-president and John Keeling as secretary-treasurer.

George Touhy, who exceed the proceedings during the organization meeting, pointed out that the important citizens group was one that would include the heading up of a city-wide membership drive.

Primarily to promote and encourage interest and enthusiasm in the Seminole High School athletic program which would include football, basketball and baseball as well as the other athletic ventures of the school, the by-laws adopted at Friday night's meeting stated the objects of the club shall be "To aid and encourage competitive interscholastic athletics at Seminole High School; and through properly supervised athletic sports develop the sportsmanship, honesty and integrity, as well as the physical well being of Seminole High School students."

Dues for membership in the organization were set at five dollars per year. However, first dues were a plan whereby members would have paid a higher membership fee for individuals and families in which they would receive admission to the various sports activities of the school.

The latter plan was not adopted. The Executive Committee of the Seminole Chiefs Club will be composed of the officers of the organization, the Seminole High School Principal, and the Seminole High School Athletic Director.

It was pointed out at Friday night's meeting which was held in the commissioners room of the Sanford City Hall, that frequent meetings of the organization would be held in order to boost enthusiasm in high school sports.

Memberships in the organization began to pour in to the secretary-treasurer following the adjournment of the meeting at 10 o'clock.

Both the president and the secretary-treasurer were immediately installed in their office and took over the business of the evening. Schirard said "I will call another meeting in the immediate future so that a membership drive can be conducted as quickly as possible."

Athletic Director Fred Ganas told the meeting of high school sports enthusiasm that receipts from sports activities at Seminole High School last year came to approximately $7,500. However, he said that the School Board budgeted nothing for athletics at the school in the way of travel, equipment and other expenses involved in athletic competition. "We're about $700 in the hole," he said.

Principal Andy Bracken of Seminole High School explained that "In order to operate the high school program we need about $10,000. In the past we've received approximately $8,000 and paid out more."

Attending Friday night's initial meeting of the Seminole Chiefs Club were: John Krider, Floyd Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McMurray, Fred Ganas, George Touhy, Fred Murray, M. L. Roberts Jr., M. R. Strickland, Briley Odham, John Kader, B. L. Perkins Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Schirard, Dr. John Morgan, Dr. A. W. Epps Jr., Dr. John W. Epps, Andy Bracken, Bill Brumley, T. V. Motte, Henry Jameson, Lee Adams, Joel Field, John Keeling, Floyd Cooper, W. W. Tyre and Bill Fleming.
