U. S. SENATORS

Are There Keeping in Close Touch With the Situation

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Sept. 7.—The Inter-Allied Council of Ambassadors, after a lengthy session this morning, adjourned this afternoon to await definite word whether Italy was prepared to accept the mediation of the council in the present Greco-Italian dispute. All further discussions are contingent upon Italy's response. During the morning session the ambassadors discussed the advisability of sending a commission to the scene of the massacre of the Italian boundary commission to conduct an investigation and report upon the responsibility for the crime. The French government favors trying every possible means of settling the dispute before appealing to the League of Nations. It emphasized that it does not question the League's competence but realizes the League's prestige would be greatly shaken if it failed to settle the question and believes the supreme test should be held from it.

GENEVA, Sept. 7.—The storm over Italy's refusal to recognize the authority of the League of Nations to regulate her dispute with Greece gives no indication of diminishing. On the contrary, it shows signs of developing into a political typhoon of the first degree. Representatives of world states like Belgium, Sweden and Uruguay went on record today as insisting upon respect for the league covenant and as being unqualifiedly convinced that Italy should submit the controversy to the league for settlement.

The cause of world peace demanded it; the very life of the league itself was at stake, several of the statesmen declared before the council's session; if the covenant was defiled, precious guarantees for the smaller nations of the earth would cease to exist.

The council again avoided taking direct league action on the Italian attitude towards the league, but endeavored to advance a compromise plan calculated to hasten solution of the Greco-Italian crisis through the collaboration of the league of nations and the council of ambassadors.

This plan was put forward by the Spanish member of the council, Count Quinones de Leon. It was not adopted, but the council agreed that the minutes of today's session should be forwarded to the Paris body for its enlightenment.

Signor Salandra, head of the Italian delegation, absolutely refused to accept all parts of the resolution presented, which engaged that Italy recognize the competence of the league to intervene, and even questioned the right of the council of ambassadors to settle the question of general reparation, which Italy has demanded of Greece because of the murder of the Italian officers.

United States Senators Swanson and McKinley, former United States Senator Hitchcock, Newton D. Baker, the former secretary of war and two-score other Americans squeezed into the crowded council chamber yesterday and witnessed the proceedings of a meeting which lacked nothing as regards dramatic incidents.

Lord Robert Cecil gave warning again that the competency of the

FLORIDA FACTS

Florida spent 28.69 per cent of its general revenue in 1922 for educational purposes. The amount was $938,663.12. More than half as much as the educational costs was spent for maintenance of the state's feeble minded citizens, or $527,841.17. This is 16.13 per cent of the general revenue fund. Jurors and witnesses took up another large slice of the fund, 6.23 per cent or $203,897.44 going for that purpose, while salaries in the judicial department reached a total of $173,669.63, the equivalent of 5.81 per cent.

PRESS GANG ENTERTAINED LAST NIGHT

Associated Dailies Had Fine Meeting and Royal Entertainment

The Associated Dailies held one of the best meetings of the year here yesterday afternoon carrying out the program as published in yesterday's Herald with several good talks not on the program. S. H. Benjamin, the dean of the daily papers in Florida arrived about one o'clock and was called upon for a talk and he gave some interesting bits of history as well as expressing pleasure at being with the editors again after a long absence and promised to attend the next meeting. W. T. McCall, southern manager of the Associated Press, was also asked to say something and gave an interesting account of the workings of the greatest newswriting agency in the world—The Associated Press.

Many matters of interest were discussed during the afternoon session among them being the question of an amalgamation of the dailies and weeklies into a working combination that would be able to get better results and have a paid secretary for both organizations. A committee of the Associated Dailies and one from the Florida Press Association were unable to arrive at any satisfactory conclusion about the matter and it is left over for other meetings of the two associations.

The meeting was adjourned after it had been decided that DeLand and Daytona will be the next places of meeting with perhaps a joint meeting between the two cities. This meeting will be held in January and the Association will hereafter hold semi-annual meetings instead of quarterly as formerly.

The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: W. M. Pepper, editor of the Gainesville Sun, president; R. J. Holly, editor of the Sanford Herald, vice-president; Clayton Coddington of the DeLand News, secretary and treasurer.

After the business meeting the editors and their friends were taken for a trip over the east side picking up

Automobile Accident at West Palm Beach Had Fatal Results

WEST PALM BEACH, Sept. 7.—Mrs. E. G. Devillbliss, 38, of Okeechobee City, died at 3:45 yesterday morning at a local hospital, about four hours after an automobile, which Mrs. O. F. Conklin, the driver, had lost control of, plunged upon the sidewalk where Mrs. Devillbliss was standing at the side of the Poinsetta hotel, on a principle business street, crushed her against the window ledge of the building, and, according to witnesses, dragged her along the sidewalk for a distance of fifteen feet. Her left leg was mangled and her right leg was broken.

GOVERNMENT MAKES OFFER TO HENRY FORD

President Coolidge and Secretary Weeks State Terms

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—Henry Ford, took under advisement today a request by Secretary of War, Weeks, concurred in by President Coolidge, to modify his offer for the purchase and lease of the government's power and nitrate projects at Muscle Shoals, Ala. Mr. Ford is expected to give his final decision after thorough consideration at Detroit.

Secretary Weeks is understood to have asked Mr. Ford to eliminate the Gorgas power plant on the Warrior river from his proposal for the operation of the Muscle Shoals property. Secretary Weeks is said to believe that the government would be compelled under a contract agreement to sell Gorgas plant to the Alabama Power Company and that the plant could be eliminated without sacrificing the end the Detroit manufacturer has in view.

Neither President Coolidge nor Secretary Weeks was willing that the Alabama Power Company should be allowed to buy the Gorgas plant until Mr. Ford had been consulted. The power company had formerly offered $8,000,000 for the plant, and if the sale is executed, it is understood that this sum would be deducted from the $5,000,000 which Mr. Ford offered for the Gorgas plant and the nitrate factories.

The Alabama Power Company, acting in accordance with the agreement entered into with the government when the Gorgas plant was constructed, have served notice that the war department should vacate the property not later than October 14. Presumably Mr. Ford's answer to the request to eliminate it as a part of his purchase offer will be made known to the war secretary before the date fixed for the exaction.

HOT ON TRAIL OF FLOGGERS IN GEORGIA

EVIDENCE HAS BEEN FORWARDED TO OFFICIALS OF MACON

(By The Associated Press) ATLANTA, Sept. 7.—Evidence that the same parties who directed the floggings at Macon were responsible for two of the invasions of the state training schools for boys at Milledgeville have been received and forwarded to Macon officials it was stated at the capitol today.

Six Indicted in Trouton Death Go on Trial Today

NEWMAN, Ga., Sept. 7.—The six men indicted in connection with the death of Millard Trouton, who disappeared from his home here August 10, and whose body was found four days later floating in Lime creek, will be placed on trial for murder today, it was announced yesterday by Solicitor William Y. Atkinson.

A number of the visiting editors expressed surprise at the size and equipment of The Daily Herald office. We proudly admit that this is the best and most completely equipped small daily shop in the state.

MORATORIUM PROCLAIMED FOR 30 DAYS

Japan Government Will Romp on All Found Profiteering

(By The Associated Press) OSAKA, Sept. 7.—The Japanese government has proclaimed a thirty day moratorium for all payments falling due from September 1 to September 30. The moratorium is inapplicable outside the zone of the disaster. Heavy fines are imposed for those detected in profiteering.

RESPONSIBILITY LAID TO HANDS OF KU KLUX KLAN

FOR TEARING DOWN MEXICAN FLAGS ON LIBERTY HALL AT EL PASO.

(By The Associated Press) EL PASO, Sept. 7.—The city council today passed resolutions laying directly to the hands of the Ku Klux Klan the responsibility of tearing down the Mexican flags on Liberty Hall. A statement by Mayor Dudley said the city owns a number of foreign flags and these were placed on the hall following the recognition of Mexico by the United States for decoration. Just before a Klan meeting next night in the hall some one tore down the flags. It has been a boast that El Paso has a branch of the Klan but has had no acts of violence. The Mayor said, "This looks like violence."

WIFE IS ORDERED TO PAY HER DESERTED HUSBAND ALIMONY

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6.—Marriage is fifty-fifty, said Judge John W. Summerfield of the Superior Court in ordering Mrs. Mary Scranton to pay her husband, Charles Scranton, $5 a week as temporary alimony. Scranton testified that his wife, who earns $150 a month in a bank, deserted him. He said he was ill and unable to work. "This couple married for better or for worse," remarked the court. "The husband has broken in harness. I am afraid the wife will have to pull a double load for a while, at least. Marriage is a case of give and take."

ONLY MEAGER PRESS REPORTS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED TO DATE

WORLD IS WAITING FOR STORY OF THE GREATEST DISASTER IN HISTORY—Banks Reopening

(By The Associated Press) SHANGHAI, Sept. 7.—All today's reports from Japan indicate that the first estimate of the loss of life and damage by earthquakes, fires and tidal waves were much exaggerated. An Associated Press radiogram intercepted here estimated the casualties in Yokohama at 50,000. An Eastern News telegram said 30,000 dead had already been counted in West Tokio. A Reuters dispatch said all banks were reopening. The Bank of Japan is intact, according to a dispatch. It is difficult to get a correct picture of the scene in the ruined zone because of varying reports.

The loss of life is estimated at such varying figures, in some cases running into hundreds of thousands, that any certainty of the casualties is impossible while communications with the devastated districts remain as they are.

On the whole, the news received today is of a more hopeful nature than any since the disaster, one authoritative message from a British naval official at Yokohama placing the deaths of foreigners in that port at seventy. Even this number of dead, which is small as large for a foreign colony of a few thousand and indicated that the loss of life among the native population may reach the highest reported figures.

The only official estimate based on home office information from Tokio that the loss of life there was 30,000, but Yokohama is known to have suffered much more severely than the capital city, and the home office figures do not attempt to take into consideration the many miles of coast line towns and villages, all in the path of the tidal wave.

All available information shows that Tokio and Yokohama were not totally destroyed, the foreign residential district of the port city which is on a high bluff overlooking the bay, having suffered comparatively little damage, while the residential suburban district of Tokio also escaped. This would account for the few deaths among the foreigners there, for on Saturday afternoon few would have been in their offices.

The destruction of Tokio extends over two-thirds of the metropolitan district of fifteen wards, with the low lying districts completely wiped out. These include the slums of Fukagawa, the industrial section of Honjo, both on the right of the Sumida river, Asakusa, famous for its amusement parks; Kyabashi and Nihonbashi, which include most of modern Tokio, where four or five storied department stores and office buildings lined the street. This section also includes Tanki in which before Japan was completely opened to the Western nations, foreigners were compelled to reside. It recently has been occupied principally by missionaries, their schools and hospitals. During the summer most of the Tanki residents are out of the city, but the loss of property there has been heavy.

In other sections of Tokio, Akiba, Shiba, Akasaka, Yotsuya, the Desai zone, where the foreigners live in more or less isolated foreign compounds, consisting of a few Western (Continued on Page Eight)

EXPLOSION KILLS 4 AND INJURES 27

168,000 Cases of Powder Explode in New Jersey Mine

SOUTH AMBOY, N. J., Sept. 7.—Twenty men and a boy were killed and twenty-seven persons were injured, fifteen probably fatally, by an explosion last night of thousands of cases of smokeless powder which were being transferred from barges to freight cars on the banks of the Raritan river.

The explosion, caused by a cooking fire on one of the barges, rocked the entire countryside, blew automobiles aside down on the road nearby and enveloped everyone within a hundred yards in a sheet of flame. The two men killed were Winston Taylor, and William Trench of Newark. The third man was unidentified. The boy, whose body has not been recovered, was blown into the river.

The powder consisted of a shipment of 168,000 cases belonging to the Atlas Powder Company.

Captain Emory Foss, of Addison, Me., and Captain Robert Brown, of New York, commanding the barges, said sparks from a cooking fire on one of the barges blew across the docks, igniting several other barges, and finally the freight cars.

The train of burning cars was immediately hauled from the scene, blazing and left standing on a trestle bridge crossing the main automobile road. Motorists slowed down to watch the fire, ignorant of what the cars contained. The first explosion stalled all the engines, and those in the automobiles were left helpless.

James and Walter Gillen, aged 17 and 18, respectively, and William Trench, 20, all of Newark, were the most seriously injured in the hospital. They were not expected to live. Thomas Kennedy, of South Amboy, conductor of the train which drew the cars of powder off the pier, was starting across the bridge when the explosion occurred. He (Continued on Page Eight)

THE TYRANT

You domineering little tyke,
Serenely grabbing what you like
And making plain by grunt and shriek
The glittering baubles that you seek,
Have you conceived the notion that You're rightfully an autocrat?

At one year old, have you begun
To think you rule the moon and sun?
Must I, your father, give to you
My precious watch of gold to chew
And calmly say, "That's what it's for,"
The times you bang it on the floor?

Because you will, must we obey?
Must I put down my book to play,
Do this or that to suit your whim?
Look here, you chubby cherubim,
I'll have you know, how'er you yell,
We grownups have some rights as well.

Well, well, if you are going to cry
Of course, I'll put the volume by,
And here's my watch for you once more—
Take it and throw it on the floor.
I guess you're right, in every case
A baby always rules the place.

Miss Marion Appleby is visiting relatives in Charleston, S. C.

Mrs. S. Pulston leaves Tuesday for New York where she will visit her aunt.

Have you made your date for the Script Dance at the Woman's Club Friday night?

George W. Sparkman, of Tampa, was among the business visitors in "The City Substantial" yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Butard, of Miami, arrived in Sanford yesterday and are stopping at the Montezuma for a short stay.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Duffer arrived in the city yesterday from Sarasota and are spending a few days here at the Montezuma.

Charles L. Polk, now of Jacksonville, but formerly of this city, is spending a few days here attending to business.

Don't forget the Script Dance tomorrow night at the Woman's Club. There will be good music and a good time is assured all.

Dr. L. C. Brown has moved his dental parlors from the Ball Building to Room 102, First National Bank Building.

Miss Belle Dickens, of Tampa, and niece, Miss Elizabeth Powell, of New York, are the charming guests of Miss Brenda Morrison at her home on Palmetto ave. Miss Dickens is a sister of John Dickens and was a former resident here and has many friends here who will be glad to see her again.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Gregorie returned to their home in Charleston, S. C., after a pleasant visit here as the guest of the latter's sister, Mrs. A. K. Appleby.

Dr. L. C. Brown left yesterday afternoon for Palatka where he will spend a few days with his mother, his brother and bride are also expected to spend this week in Palatka.

DANCE AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Tomorrow evening (Friday), there will be a Script Dance at the Woman's Club at 9 o'clock. This will be the last dance before the college set leave, and will be one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season.

There will be good music and you will be sure and be there. The chaperones will be Mrs. R. A. Newman and Mrs. R. J. Holly.

THEATRE PARTY

Mrs. Joseph J. Dickinson entertained at a matinee party yesterday afternoon at the Milane Theatre honoring her attractive house guest, Miss Gladys Bray, of Winter Garden, who leaves next week for Washington, D. C., where she will enter school.

Following the matinee, the guests motored to the home of the hostess where dainty refreshments were served.

Mrs. Dickinson's guests were: Miss Gladys Bray, honoree, Misses Julia Laing, Lila Murrell, Margaret Cowan, Sarah Wheelis and Dorothy Ray.

MISS RICH HONOREE

Honoring her sister, Miss Ruth Rich, who will leave shortly for New York city to become editor of the Independent Woman, Mrs. Jas. A. Craig entertained at luncheon yesterday at her home on West Duval street.

The dainty appointed luncheon table had as its central decoration an arrangement of goldenrod in a tall basket, mounted on a reflector, and marking the places were cards done in goldenrod design.

A delicious several course luncheon was served.

The affair was delightfully informal, and was one of a series of parties being given in compliment to Miss Rich prior to her departure.

Enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Craig were the honoree and a number of her intimate friends from among members of the Business and Professional Woman's Club.

After luncheon Mrs. Craig was hostess at a theatre party at the Duval the party enjoying the Duval Players' presentation of "Up in Mabel's Room" —Times-Union.

S. W. Haitt, of Gainesville, district agent in charge of the county agents of the East Coast section; T. A. Brown, of DeLand, and J. O. Traxler, of St. Augustine, were appreciated visitors to The Herald. The party was in charge of our own Ben Whitner, Jr., and he was showing them the sights in and around Sanford. Mr. Traxler came here to secure celery and lettuce plants for the Hastings district, where they will attempt to imitate Sanford this year. The party, accompanied by Mr. Whitner, departed today for a trip of inspection down the East Coast. Mr. Haitt is an old friend of N. J. Lillard of The Herald and they enjoyed a good visit yesterday.

Yowell & Company are advertising "Happy Homes" house dresses and quoting special prices on gingham and wash goods for Friday and Saturday. This is National Gingham Week, and this store has all the new things offered in this line. They have arranged a big table of gingham remnants which are offered at half price, affording the ladies of this section an opportunity to save money.

TOKIO AND YOKOHAMA TAKE STOCK AFTER QUAKE AND FIRE WORK PROGRESSING SLOWLY

The city almost immediately, driven by the high winds, leaped into the canals and finding no refuge in any direction, were finally overcome by the debris which soon choked the waterways.

The shopping district downtown was overwhelmed, and here many thousands of shoppers and business workers died.

To add to the dangers, immense crevices opened in the streets in some places, isolating entire blocks and making it absolutely impossible for those within the sections to find safety from the fire.

For two days the fires of Tokio raged, destroying possibly 200,000 houses and property, the value of which cannot be estimated, cremating the bodies of many of the dead and probably ending the sufferings of scores of injured. The casualty list will be very great; estimates at present vary from 50,000 upward in Tokio alone. How many were killed in the outlying districts is not known because for a long time Tokio was cut off from communication with the outside world.

Immense difficulties are being encountered in forwarding news of Japan's great disaster to the countries of the world. Couriers have been sent out with special press dispatches; the Japanese naval radio is being utilized, and details have been forwarded by airplane to Nagoya and thence to Iwaki, about 150 miles from Tokio, for transmission abroad.

The foregoing is the first direct news from the Japanese capital since Saturday, when the earthquake occurred. Tokio was for a considerable time shut off from all communication with the outside world; then couriers bearing dispatches were sent out for the nearest radio stations which had escaped destruction and meagre dispatches giving brief details began to filter through from points such as Osaka, which lay outside the zone of destruction.

IWAKI, Sept. 6.—A courier returning from Tokio today described the effects of the disaster there as unspeakable. The city, he said, was three-fourths burned. In ponds in the parks he found charred, unidentified bodies floating like fish. Within certain areas all things are reduced to ashes, except iron frame and brick pillars. The burned remains of street cars and automobiles clogged the streets, and the sufferers had gathered in public squares and parks, lying under sheets on mats and living on scanty food supplied by the authorities. The army, which was mobilized, was restoring means of communication.

BIG DONATION FOR AID OF JAPANESE

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Donations of $100,000 each from John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and from the Laura Spellman Rockefeller Foundation for the relief of the sufferers in the Japanese earthquake disaster were announced last night by the Red Cross committee of greater New York, which opened an intensive drive to raise its quota of $1,000,000 in the nation's $5,000,000 campaign.

OPERATORS AND MINERS GETTING CLOSER TOGETHER

(By The Associated Press)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 6.—Representatives of anthracite mine operators and officers of the miners' union today agreed in conference with Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, to material change in positions which they have hitherto held and which have resulted in suspension of mining. The employers' group tentatively abandoned its demand for arbitration which the union has unyieldingly opposed.

Miners' officials definitely accepted the 10 per cent wage increase which Governor Pinchot tendered in an effort to compromise the dispute but asked more than that amount for day laborers employed in and around the mines. They did, however, agree to modify the demand for a "check-off" of union dues, by limiting the amount which could be collected by it from individual miners.

Both the employers' group and the union committee, which met with Gov. Pinchot in executive sessions, regarded their alterations of original stands as concessions. The governor, while keeping silent as to the proposals involved, said that "progress had been made," and that the statements had been exchanged by him between the parties concerned.

The conference adjourned until ten o'clock this morning. Though the employers agreed to drop, for the time being, the demand for arbitration and to make a one year contract covering wages and working conditions, they were said to be entirely unwilling to grant more than a 10 per cent wage increase. While Gov. Pinchot suggested this figure as a compromise when he first embarked on his efforts, the union group yesterday was still seeking to get the amount increased so far as day laborers are concerned. The day workers number about 100,000 out of the total of approximately 155,000 in the territory.

Pending the resumption of negotiations today none of the spokesmen on either side had a definite opinion to express as to whether an actual basis for settling the strike had been worked out. The employers were unwilling to take even a limited application of the "check-off" system according to expressions available, while the union leaders expressed determination to obtain the wage increase for day men or continue the suspension.

Robs Calomel of Nausea and Danger

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet Called "Calotaba"

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotaba." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity, purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

NEW CITIZENS REVERE MEMORY OF LINCOLN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 6.—Of the thousands of pilgrims who annually visit the tomb of Abraham Lincoln, the most enthusiastic and most welcome, according to H. W. Fay, custodian, are the immigrants who are just about to become American citizens.

Crowned heads, ambassadors, famous generals, prime ministers and presidents come by the score to lay wreaths on the sarcophagus of the martyred president. And men and women from more humble walks of life come too.

"Many times a year the foreign born coal miners comes to Springfield from neighboring towns to take out their first citizenship papers," said Mr. Fay, "and he is the most reverent visitor of all. I like to tell men like that about the martyred president."

There has never been any disorder at the tomb within the memory of the present custodian. "Everybody who comes here is quiet and reverent," he said. "I have never had to ask a visitor to remove his hat."

Wonder if the Italian who swam the English channel developed his arms eating spaghetti?

SAVED MONOPOLY IN PIPES

Clever Trick Credited to Dutch Traders Who Had No Desire to Lose Lucrative Business.

There is a story to the effect that once the Dutch had a profitable monopoly in the manufacture of smoking pipes. Flanders, in a desire to cultivate craftsmanship for economic reasons, decided to make pipes, too, and quit sending money to Holland for such articles. In that way, it was planned, Flanders could not only keep Flanders money at home, but the country could sell its pipes to other people at a profit.

So the manufacture of pipes began. Seeing what this competition might lead to, the Dutch said: "We will sell our pipes at a loss in Flanders until this upstart industry shall have been ruined. Then we can raise the price higher than before." To this the people of Flanders resorted by laying a prohibitive tax upon Dutch pipes, to keep them out. Thereupon the Dutch loaded a ship with pipes, sailed it over to the coast of Flanders, and wrecked it there. It was salvaged, of course, and the people of Flanders got a shipment of pipes for nothing. For the next two or three years pipes were so ruinously cheap in Flanders that the new industry perished.

Thus the Dutch, by sacrificing one shipment of pipes, saved their monopoly.

FIRMLY BELIEVE IN "SPIRITS"

Odd Superstition That Prevails Among the Inhabitants of the Island of Luzon.

During the life of a person in Luzon his spirit is called Tnko. After death it receives a new name. It is believed to go about in a body invisible to the eye of man, yet unchanged in appearance from the living person. If a man becomes unconscious, the natives think a vengeful spirit has lured away the soul of the sick man and they hold the ceremony of "Calling Back the Soul." Then they hold a big feast, to which they invite all the spirits in order to induce them to bring back the sick man's soul.

One is "insupak" when the spirits have made themselves known to him in a dream. He thereby declares himself to be "insupak" and as no one can prove he has not received a message from the dead he becomes a full-fledged medium. A pronged spear is supposed to protect the people from the ever-vengeful Anito, or evil spirits, who are always waiting to trip one up on the trail, to cause him to fall and hurt himself or to kill him. When a native walks alone on a mountain trail and feels his hair creeping on his scalp he knows of the Anito's presence.

He Found Out

An old Yarmouth fisherman settled in the east end of London. On looking over his grocery bill he occasionally found charges like the following: "To 1/2 lb. tea—to 1/2 lb. ditto."

"Wife," said he, "this 'ere's a putty business; I should like to know what you have done with so much of this here ditto."

"Ditto, ditto," replied the old lady. "Never had a pound of it in the house in my life!"

So back went the ex-fisherman in high dudgeon that he should have been charged for things he had never received.

"Mr. Brown," he said, "I shan't stand this. Wife says she hasn't had a pound of ditto in the house in her life."

The tradesman thereupon explained the meaning of the term and the old man went home satisfied.

His wife inquired if he had discovered what ditto meant.

"Yes," he said. "It means that I am an old fool and you're ditto."—London Tit-Bits.

"E Pluribus Unum."

The motto of the United States, "E Pluribus Unum," is a Latin phrase which means "Out of Many, One." It appeared first on the design of the Great Seal recommended to the Continental congress July 4, 1776, by a committee composed of Franklin, Adams and Jefferson. The motto appears on several coins, though it has never been officially approved for this purpose.

A Model of Discretion.

"Are you a competent chauffeur?" "I drove for a man who had an eye for the ladies and a suspicious wife."

"Well?"

"When I left both begged me to stay and both meant it."

"You must have brains."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Fair Enough.

"I would like to get a mirror for my office desk. Can you suggest something?"

"We still have a few polished steel trench mirrors, sir. You may look into one of them, sir, and if you make even a dent in it you may have it free of charge."—Houston Chronicle.

THE PERILS OF "BAD" BLOOD

The Disease That Shortens Your Life. Quickest Way to Get Well is Through New Prescription Containing Seventeen Ingredients That Renew Every Part of the Body.

That itching, pimply, irritated skin is only a surface indication of the horrible pollution in your blood that your heart is pumping every minute through your veins into every inch of your body, carrying disease germs that break down skin tissues, weaken the liver, stomach and kidneys. That is why any remedy that merely relieves skin eruptions is not sufficient, but a complete systemic treatment is necessary to get permanently well.

This complete treatment is found only in a prescription called Re-Cu-Ma, which contains seventeen well known and thoroughly tested medicines, so skillfully compounded that each one performs its function on the various parts of the body perfectly and harmoniously.

This remarkable prescription starts right to work purifying the blood, relieves constipation, cleanses the kidneys and gets every particle of pollution out of the colon, which, according to Prof. Metchnikoff of the Pasteur Institute, Paris, is the direct cause of all our aches and pains. Re-Cu-Ma quickly and surely dispels biliousness, sick headaches, nervousness, rheumatism, restoring the appetite and normal strength and completely rids your system of those toxic poisons which have been making you feel so sickly and good-for-nothing.

Re-Cu-Ma is sold and recommended by the Union Pharmacy and other good drug stores, and if you don't feel a decided change in your condition after taking according to directions, you get your money back.—Adv.

SANFORD CHESS CLUB.

Sanford Chess Club held an enthusiastic meeting last evening and elected officers for the following year: Mr. Seaford, of DeLand, president; Mr. Bishop, secretary, and Mr. Palmer, treasurer. There were enrolled as members last night Messrs. Bishop, DeSoites, Raffield, M. F. Robinson, Palmer, Roberts, Owens, Ball, Marshall, Selman, Lossing and Searett. Next Thursday will see the close of the second tournament at which the winner will receive a fine prize, and by all indications, will be a dark horse, as a number of unexpected defeats have been handed out by tail-enders in last tournament to the would-be champions.

Americans Lured into Red Fiasco By 'Bill' Haywood

Russia Today a Chamber of Horrors, Says Colonist Who Escaped.

The ghost of "Big Bill" Haywood, former secretary of the I. W. W. who jumped a $50,000 bail bond in Chicago and fled to Russia, returned to America recently as the promoter of a "get-rich" scheme of industrial colonization in western Siberia.

Surpassing in its audacity and in its dramatic outcome the wildest of wildcat promotion schemes, the Haywood fiasco is exposed in McClure's Magazine for September by Emmund J. Maguire, a former member of Uncle Sam's army of occupation in Siberia. With other Americans, he was lured into Red Russia by glowingly worded pamphlets describing what purported to be vast concessions in coal, iron ore and agricultural lands to the "Kuzbas" industrial colony.

"I had seen enough of misery and suffering behind the battle lines in France to satiate any man," he says, "and I saw the beginning of the Russian debacle with the American army of occupation in Siberia, after the Armistice. But the Russia of today proved a chamber of horrors besides which these experiences were mild indeed."

Maguire says he first heard of "Kuzbas" about a year ago.

But three months at Nadejdenki Zavod, he says, were enough to dispel any illusions he might have had about the enterprise. "Hope died there. The factory is complete, all right—a complete wreck. Roofs are either missing entirely or so leaky that they are useless, and the machinery is rusted beyond repair. By some miracle one blast furnace has been kept going and a part of one rolling mill. About five thousand Russians are at work doing the work of a hundred men."—The coal mines at Kemorovo, about a thousand miles north, were no better off, he adds. They were flooded and would take years of intensive effort before they could be gotten into production.

"The first intimation I had that Haywood had any connection with the colony was upon the arrival of our ship in Petrograd, when Haywood rushed aboard to greet us, and at the very first opportunity—within my hearing bullied our treasurer into giving him $250 from our emergency fund for 'personal expenses.'"

Later Maguire learned, he relates, that Haywood and his associates really had no concession at all, but only the promise of a concession if they should meet a set of conditions which seemed impossible.

COUGHS DISTURB SCHOOL WORK

School teachers should give the same advice to children who have coughs as did this Florida teacher. "I recommend FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR to the children in my school who had the 'flu' and good results came whenever it was used," writes Mrs. L. Armstrong, Okeechobee, Florida. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates. Ingredients printed on the wrapper. Quickly relieves colds, coughs and croup. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

MANNERS AND THE 'PHONE

According to This Writer, the Instrument is Responsible for a Number of Delinquencies

J. M. Keyes opened a topic of wide interest when he proposed a code of telephone manners.

This is nothing less than a yearning for perfection. It cannot be achieved, and before telephone manners in their present state are condemned it is best to consider social advantages which the telephone offers. The invitation, which stirs Mr. Keyes to the depths of his being is not so unbearable as the nuisance who brings his invitations with him, and sits down to argue with you about it. The one who wants to know why you cannot come when you tell him that you cannot is very difficult to get rid of. On the other hand, it is exceedingly easy to say: "Well, good-by," and hang up at the first opportune pause. Moreover, the telephone is a great encourager of those who are timid in their lying. One can look into the little black hole where the transmitter is and tell any sort of whopper, when the words would die on his lips if he were faced by an inquisitor. Furthermore, a man who is well and hearty can safely say that he is suffering agonies with headache when the other party to the conversation cannot see him.

As for the difficulty of thinking up the proper fib for each occasion which afflicts, that is nothing at all in the life of the expert telephone liar. He has a list of them for unexpected invitations and they are as handy as canned sardines for the unexpected guest.—Detroit Free Press.

FIRST OF GREAT SEAFARERS

Vikings May Be Said to Have Possessed Truly Uncanny Knowledge of the Ocean.

The Vikings were not only great warriors, but they were equally distinguished as maritime explorers. They were so vigorous in their activities, so dauntless and daring, such genuinely strenuous shipmen, that they were bound to do great things, or fall where none could have succeeded," said Dr. Keble Chatterton, in "Ships and Ways of Other Days." And Doctor Nansen reminds one that "they had neither compass nor astronomical instruments, nor any appliances of our time for finding their position at sea; they could only sail by the sun, moon and stars, and it seems incomprehensible how for days and weeks, when these were invisible, they were able to find their course through fog and bad weather. But they found it, and the open craft of the Norwegian Vikings, with their square sails, sailed north and west over the whole ocean. It was not till 500 years later that the ships of other nations were to make their way to the same regions."

How to Make Shoes Last Longer.

The soles of shoes can be made to last much longer if ordinary varnish is applied to them. When the shoes are new, or have just been resoled, apply the varnish to the soles. Allow an interval for drying, and then give them a second coat. When this has become hard, give them still another coat. The whole operation will not take very long, as varnish dries more quickly on leather than it does on wood. Be quite sure that the varnish is set before attempting to wear the shoes. After a few days the varnish will wear in certain places on the soles, so that it will pay to touch these spots up again and leave them overnight. The application of varnish has the additional advantage of making leather absolutely waterproof. For this reason it is a good plan when putting on the varnish to put a little on the part where the upper joins the sole.

Proved His Capacity.

Jefferson Boyce enjoyed a local reputation as an eater of no mean dimensions, and on numerous occasions had won wagers on his capacity and endurance. One day a friend offered to bet that he could not down 30 doughnuts at one sitting. "Never tested my ability on doughnuts," said Jeff, "but I'll just take that chance to the extent of $5. Sticks were put up and the contest was scheduled to take place at Pete's Original Coffee house at 6 p. m. About five o'clock Jeff hunted up his challenger. "Say, you don't want to make that bet $20?" he queried. "Huh! You must think you've got a hunch on this!" "That's what I have," rejoined Jeff. "I've just got through making a test."

Palm Two Centuries Old.

Set out by the Jesuit missionaries in 1720, thousands of date palms in Lower California are still producing quantities of high-class fruit, approximately 2 1/2 million pounds being shipped to all parts of Mexico each year. Small groves of date palms may also be found in many communities of the state of Sonora, where water is available, at Guaymas there being an old date palm tree that has produced as high as 1,000 pounds of dates in one season.

Most of the Mexican date crops are handled by Chinese merchants and the bulk is shipped to points in Sonora and Sinaloa.

The Post's Aim.

To console the afflicted; to add sunshine to daylight; to make the happy happier; to teach the young and the gracious of every age to see, to think and feel, and, therefore, to become more actively and acutely virtuous.—Wordsworth.

North End Road To Be Built From DeLeon to DeLand

Chairman of State Road Department Makes This Assurance.

Judge H. B. Phillips, chairman of the state road department, and one of the engineers of the department met in an official session with the board of county commissioners Monday at which time Judge Phillips stated that the state road department would continue its road gangs at work on state road No. 3 from DeLeon right on into DeLand. The money of district No. 3, the North End, is available for the stretch from DeLeon to the district line and the DeLand district has the authority to sell $50,000 in time warrants for the stretch from the district line to DeLand.

A committee of citizens from Glenwood, headed by W. A. Bredow, appeared and made a strong presentation against changing the route from DeLeon to DeLand and eliminating Glenwood. It is understood that the state road department has surveyed four possible routes for this stretch but has not decided on any of them as yet.

County Commissioner W. C. Jackson stated this morning that he would immediately take steps to sell the $50,000 of time warrants in this district so that the money could be turned over to the road department and thus assure no delay in building this road right on into DeLand.

In Commissioner Beck's district—New Smyrna—Judge Phillips decided to advertise for bids at once for the stretch of road from the district line at Rose Bay to the Brevard county line the county turning over $220,000 of a recent bond issue and the state providing a similar amount.

Nothing definite was decided on state road No. 3 from the DeLand district line through Orange City with the exception that Judge Phillips stated that he would soon have surveyors on this road and map out the shortest route from Orange City to the Monroe Bridge. The money for this road was recently voted in a bond issue and the bonds are now being advertised for sale.

At the conclusion of the meeting Judge Phillips was the guest of Commissioners, Thursday, Jackson and Beck and Mr. Earl W. Brown to a dinner at the Ingelhart Inn and he spent the night here.—DeLand News.

Discuss New Method of Punishment in State

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 7.—A difference of opinion exists among state prison inspectors in Florida, both as to the humaneness and effectiveness of the new method of punishment in convict camps. This was disclosed by the replies from inspectors to the query sent out by the commissioners of agriculture. Two inspectors, S. A. Ogilvie and B. S. Dickson, employed since the substitute punishment become effective, believe solitary confinement more humane than the lash and declare conditions are gradually improving in convict camps. J. O. Gates, an old timer who worked under both regimes, thinks the present method more humane, but believes prisoners show less respect for it. Their morale is not so good. T. B. Jonesff does not consider present punishment as humane as the whip, but believes present morale about on a par with former discipline.

SARAH CURTIS HOME AND BAPTIST TABERNACLE DESTROYED AT TOKIO

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The American Baptist Foreign Mission Society learned by cablegrams from Kobe today that the Sarah Curtis Home and the Baptist Tabernacle at Tokio had been destroyed by fire. The messages confirmed previous advices that all Baptist missionaries are safe.

LORD CECIL INSISTS ITALY MUST RECOGNIZE COMPETENCY OF THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

(Continued from page 1) League to intervene was, in Great Britain's view, certain, and he indicated very strongly that "something more would be done about it." The clear voice of Paul Hyman, the Belgian leader, rang through the chamber with the words that the issue involved was exceedingly grave for the future of the league. He was convinced that the covenant applied to the Greco-Italian dispute, and he added:

"The pact forms a precious guarantee for the lesser states and application of its stipulation is essential to the maintenance of the new order of things in the world, in which all countries have placed supreme hope."

Hjalmar Branting, of Sweden, subscribed to the Belgian view. The Uruguayan delegate, Dr. Alberto Guani, declared that the competency of the league in such international questions which affected the peace of the world, could not be disputed.

Cousins are people related just enuf to fuss.

PINCHOT WILL RENEW PEACE EFFORT TODAY

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 5.—Governor Pinchot will renew today his effort to compromise the labor controversy in the anthracite region and get miners who suspended work September 1, back at their tasks.

Representatives of employees and officials of the miners union will meet with him at 2 p. m. to go over position which they failed to get together last week.

The governor has continued his study of the situation since negotiations was adjourned last week, but has not indicated properly any change of plans. His previous suggestion was that the workers be given a ten per cent in present rates; that the union be allowed to install an agent in mining company offices to collect dues, that eight hour employment be made fully effective; and that the union be recognized and principles of the union maintained. Mine operators have accepted the proposals with some qualifications, provided that contract run for a number of years of annual revision of wage scales to be brought about by arbitration.

The union response opposing all forms of arbitration asked that workers paid by the day be given a greater percentage of increase and that check-off system of union dues collection, by which the employers holds the amount involved, from earthquake by miners pay check and turn it over to the union, be continued.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—Miners and operators charged with working without a new wage contract the workers and mine owners last night were preparing to resume their conferences today at Harrisburg, where they were temporarily suspended last Saturday. The best information obtainable here was that neither side has changed its position and unless Governor Pinchot has some new idea to present to bring about a settlement and end the suspension of mining.

The wage question is the big issue. With this out of the way it was believed rapid progress could be made on the other demands of the miners.

Reports from the coal fields where the suspension started last Friday night when contract in September, 1922, expired, indicated that no coal is being mined.

Well, so long as we have plenty of fat pine wood there will not be any worry amongst us, about the coal strike.

The public need not be obsessed with the idea that the coal operators are angels—they are far from it. It is about six to one and a half dozen the other.

When two honest and fair men have a matter in dispute, it can be settled because each party will do the square thing. If the miners and the operators were honest and fair this dispute could be adjusted in ten minutes.

The coal operators seem not to be satisfied with a reasonable profit on their output but are determined to not only grind the public, but oppress the miners also; and then there are so many foreigners—un-Americans—among the miners that they will not abide by a contract so long as agitators can make money by calling strikes. There you have it.

The criminal record of this country is a disgrace to our name. There are three or four reasons for this shameful record. First, the luxury of the courts and court machinery in regard to enforcing the law. Second, the availability of a technicality before our judges which so often thwarts justice. Third, pistol toting among the masses. A man who carries a pistol is usually looking for trouble and is a long way removed from a brave man. Pistols should be taken away from 98 per cent of those who have them—they have no real use for them except for criminal purposes. Fourth, the low ideals with regard to crimes, entertained by our so-called best citizens.

The people of England have some respect for the authority of law. "His Majesty's Government," has some meaning to them. They are not in the habit of taking law enforcement into their own hands. The duly elected officers do their duty in this respect, and are not bought off by money or political promises, neither are they afraid to arrest men who violate the law of the realm. Prominent men are not immune from arrest as in that country. For decades England has been well governed and its laws respected. At the same time America has been going the other way until the average man laughs in your face when you talk to him about law. A few smart lawyers, with several technicalities, backed by a sufficient fee, can secure an acquittal for the most of our chief offenders.

MEXICO MUCH IMPROVED

BABSON BULLISH ON OUTLOOK FOR SOUTHERN REPUBLIC

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Sept. 7.—Roger W. Babson today issued the following statement regarding conditions in Mexico.

"The most interesting event of the week to business men and investors is the announced attitude of the Administration relative to Mexico. For some time, it has been known by those in intimate touch with the State Department that relations were becoming friendly day by day between the United States and our neighbor to the South. Secretary Hughes, who went into the Cabinet very much prejudiced against Mexico, has been gradually becoming more friendly. In justice to Mr. Hughes, however, it should be said that conditions have entirely changed and that he has been a large factor in the improvement of relations. Fear was expressed in some quarters for Mexico with the announcement of President Harding's death; but President Coolidge has quieted these apprehensions with the assurance that he will carry out Mr. Harding's Mexican policy. This accounts for the recent action of the Administration and the hopefulness of all concerned.

"About a year ago, the Mexican government, thru the efforts of New York bankers, agreed to a readjustment of its indebtedness. Continually during the past year various corporate readjustments have been going on, which show the good faith of the Obregon government. The action of the Mexican Congress regarding confiscation has been very satisfactory to American investors. The fact that all usurers have been put down and that Villa himself has been finally eliminated has strengthened the situation. There are still many wild-eyed radicals in the Mexican government but these are gradually being tamed. Like Russia, Mexico is steadily becoming more conservative, having learned the lesson that natural resources are of no avail unless developed by men of integrity, industry, and intelligence. The Mexican revolutions of the past ten years have been costly; but thru them the people have learned that it is men that make values, and that souls—not theories—make men.

"Mexico is a wonderful country. It is a large country, about a quarter the size of the United States, and is very rich in natural resources. You hear mostly about the oil of Mexico; but oil is only a small fraction of her wealth. The timber, mineral, and agricultural resources far exceed anything that can ever be developed in oil. We talk about conditions in Europe, but forget these tremendous opportunities at our very door. However, this is only human nature. Most people of Boston have never been to Bunker Hill Monument, and very few New Yorkers have climbed the Statue of Liberty. In the same way, investors in England and France are today enthusiastic over the improved conditions in Mexico while we—her

FORD'S CASH BALANCE IS ONLY $210,293,922

DETROIT, Sept. 7.—(By the Associated Press).—The Ford Motor Company had a cash balance on September 1st, of $210,293,922. It was announced yesterday. This is said to be the greatest amount ever held by any concern at one time in the world.

are not as dependable as both stocks and bonds. The wider the range of one's possessions the more certain he is to enjoy a satisfactory income.

A farmer with a small acreage on which he must depend wholly for a livelihood, plants peas, beans, lettuce, tomatoes and other vegetables for his table during the summer; potatoes sufficient for the year, and enough corn to feed his few cows, horses and hogs for the year to come. He has a few acres for pasture; space for his hogs and chickens; and makes provision for his cows. He practically covers his food necessities, and depends on eggs, milk, butter, chickens and garden truck for the accumulation of a surplus from his small possessions.

That is what the small farmer must do to live. He must diversify his products. Many a man makes a comfortable living and something to save on as little as 10 acres, if near a town or city market. But what sort of a prospect would a man have with 100 or even 200 acres all in cabbage, or all in beans, or all in potatoes? If bumper crops came and prices fell, he would go under.

What's the matter with wheat now? Only this, that farmers are using war acreages for wheat. Prior to 1914, 50,000,000 acres were the record. This year we have 58,000,000, last year we had 57,000,000, in 1921 we had 62,000,000, and the year before, 61,000,000 acres, all in wheat! And the farmers want war prices for huge overproduction. He suffers now from putting to many eggs in one basket, just as the cotton planters did before they learned to diversify their crops. As a matter of fact, the farmers, denying speculators gambling privileges through legislation, have gambled themselves, and this year lose.—Tampa Tribune.

A Brooklyn baby who swallowed a toy auto will recover. Please tie your flivver outside.

Many investors in the United States and Canada are interested in Mexican securities. The great public utilities of Mexico are financed from Montreal and Toronto. Canadian investors are also interested in Mexican cotton mills. Investors in the United States are interested in mining projects, railroads, and especially in Mexican oil. All of these properties should be benefited by the United States recognition of the Mexican government. Not only does this recognition help American investors directly, but also indirectly, as it encourages investors in England and France who are also largely interested in Mexico. In the past three or four years almost every letter that I have received from English friends has asked, 'Why will not your government recognize Mexico?' It certainly should. Of course it will be some time before Mexican trade will make any impression on the Babson chart, which now stands at 10 per cent below normal; but some day it will, and that impression then will be distinctive favorable."

Mob law is rank anarchy. It is destructive of all constituted authority. Mob law will continue so long as otherwise good citizens endorse it. Under the reign of the mob no person is safe and no man can depend upon another. The mob is unreasonable, brutish, cowardly, unjust, and un-American. If our courts were not so everlastingly slow in administering the law, if trials were held at once and witnesses forced to attend, and if appeals and mistrials were almost blotted out from the record, we would have less occasion for the mob's action. The mob should, if it proposes to run things, begin with several juries, a few judges, and a good batch of pettifogging lawyers, and after that sort of work was done the probabilities are the sentiment toward respect for the law would undergo a change.

GAMBLIN GON THE FARMS.

A homely rural admonition generations old is not to put all one's eggs in one basket, lest disaster follow. Its truth applies to all forms of wealth. Security comes with possession of many kinds of property. The man with a fat bank account is not as secure as the one whose fortune also includes real estate. The man with an orange grove only is not as safe as he would be with a farm also. Stock in one great company which may undergo a few years of bad conditions,

THE NEWSPAPER MAN

Others may loiter and squander away
A generous slice of each God-given day,
But luxurious leisure 's no part of the plan
Of that hustler de luxe—the newspaper man.

He keeps tab on the pulse, feels the heart-throb on earth,
No symptom escapes him—how trifling its worth.
Does the stork call next door, or a quake shake Milan?
'Tis instantly known to the newspaper man.

Though a creature of rapid, ubiquitous brain,
His heart beats quite normal with pleasure or pain,
As our triumphs or failures he daily must scan—
The human and brotherly newspaper man.

From antediluvian ages, and aft,
These ne'er was vocation, or job, or craft,
Which could hold a candle in scope or span
To the trade which is plied by the newspaper man.

With one hand he pushes a pencil which thrills,
With the other he pays the numerous bills.
'Twas ever thus, since the press began—
That practical plodder—the newspaper man!

The "sanctum sanctorum" 's a rank misnomer
For him who must quote stock markets or Homer,
Be cultured scholar or one of the clan,
Your friend and neighbor—the newspaper man.

An air-ship, or "Ship of State"—it's the same—
Or the "easy chair"—euphonious name—
Or the "seats of the mighty," or flivver sedan;
They're all in the life of the newspaper man.

Not merely reporter or notes and news,
But shaper of policies, mold of views,
What any man dares or does, he can—
Mighty but modest—the newspaper man!

He "carries on" the torch of learning,
Keeps civilization's home fires burning.
In the march of Progress, find him in the van!
Hats off to our hero—the newspaper man!

Why Are Some Store-keepers So Obstinate?

I am an old-fashioned buyer of the necessities for my household. I go to the store myself. To me this work is not irksome. In fact, I like it. I like to look at the shelves so full of cans and packages of so many colors. I like to do this for the same reason that I don't mind being in a crowd.

When in a crowd I look for familiar faces. When I see them I am delighted. When I am in a store I look for familiar goods and when I see them I buy. Those goods have become familiar to me through advertising and I have noticed that the grocery men who have the most of those familiar packages somehow or other seem to always go ahead.

I went into a store not of my own choosing but with a friend who, among other things, asked for a very well known article of food which is packed in a can, although she did not ask for any specific kind. I always buy—and instinctively I told her that was the kind she should ask for.

The dealer overheard me and said, "Madam, I never sell that article, I sell instead something very much better—my own brand."

Then he launched into a five-minute talk on why this article was better than the one I had named. But somehow my friend had been convinced by what I had suggested and she did not buy that can which the grover offered.

And I thought as I walked out how stubborn and obstinate that man was. He had lost a sale, had probably taken his first step toward losing a customer, and had certainly lost a good deal of time, especially since some other people were standing around waiting to be waited on.

If that grocer had sold advertised goods he would certainly have had the brand I suggested and he would have made a sale; incidentally, he would have bid us good day cheerily and we would have been satisfied.

Familiar faces are wonderful. To me, in my capacity as a buyer for a fairly large household, familiar things on the shelves of the stores I visit are only a little less wonderful, for those familiar things help me in doing better and more economically the job which I must work at every day.

Those advertised articles which I buy and which I always buy I know have been submitted to the criticism of both competitor and consumer. This subjection to almost world-wide critical examination demonstrates to me that the manufacturer has supreme confidence in his goods. He cannot tell a falsehood about the things he makes, because there are too many in the world to find him out.

Constant advertising of any product proves that product has stood the test of scrutiny. Is it any wonder then why I, as one of several million women in my same position, prefer articles with which I am acquainted to products about which I have no knowledge and about which the manufacturer does not seem to have the courage to enlighten me?

MILANE NEWS

"Look Your Best" at the Milane tonight.

That's the name of the picture that is on at the Milane tonight but as tonight is Country Store night you had better look your best.

"Look Your Best"—the comic troubles of fat folks trying to look thin.

Better than a Turkish bath for those who want to laugh themselves thin.

Deliciously funny advice for those who like to eat—and don't care who knows it.

The laugh-packed story of a girl who would rather die than diet.

She had the choice of losing weight or her job—it's no laughing matter but you'll think it's the funniest predicament you ever heard of.

Remember that tonight is country Store night—come and see the fun.

You can win something—if you have the lucky ticket.

"Look Your Best" at the Milane Tonight

Tonight at the Milane Theatre Goldwyn presents a Rupert Hughes Picture, "Look Your Best" written and directed by Rupert Hughes.

Every woman's problem—"To eat or not to eat" pictured uproariously in the screamingly funny story of the pretty little dancing girl who could resist everything but food!

She felt that she would rather die than diet, but when the career of her dancing partner was at stake she bravely cut out the tempting dishes.

This picture stars Colleen Moore and Antonio Moreno and a big cast.

PRINCESS NEWS

Viola Dana in "Crimoline and Romance" tonight at the Princess.

The old-fashioned girl having left her stern grandfather's home, decides to discard her quaint crinolines and adopt the clothes of the fashionable girls around her.

To prove she can be as modern as the rest, she smokes her first cigarette gamely, even though it chokes her; she insists that her partner teach her the latest dance steps; and she behaves as gaily as the others.

While the frivolity is at its highest, grandfather makes his appearance, and is shocked beyond words.

It's a Metro picture. Also "Fresh from the Farm" a comedy.

And as a special added attraction today and tomorrow will be pictures shown of the Lake Monroe celebration which was held on Labor Day. If you were at Lake Monroe you were in this picture.

Tomorrow (Saturday)—William S. Hart in "O'Malley of the Mounted." Also International News one day old. And Monday night as a special added attraction will be picture of the Elks' parade which was held in Sanford a few weeks ago. Don't fail to see it.

Two Leading Men in Viola Dana's Picture

Viola Dana is a very fortunate young woman. In "Crimoline and Romance," her new Metro picture, she has two handsome leading men. Both John Bowers and Allan Forrest have leading parts in this story, written especially for Miss Dana by Bernard McConville. Harry Beaumont directed the photoplay, at the Princess today.

AT THE MILANE THEATRE TONIGHT

UPSALLA AND GRAPEVILLE

Gilbert Ericson and Leonard West spent part of the day at Palm Springs August 28th. The boys may well be proud of their new bicycles which they have earned themselves during the vacation.

Mrs. Elmer Lundquist and children who have had a cottage at Coronado Beach for the summer, returned home Sunday, the 26th.

Mrs. Mal's Krell and children left for their home at Arcadia on the 17th to be home in time for Fred's birthday.

On the 26th there was a family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Tynor in Grapeville at which 22 were present. Those from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tynor and children and mother, Mrs. Jean Tynor, who came on Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tynor all of Tampa, while Mrs. James Fisher and daughter Emily Pearl and Grandma Bengston were already here as well as Mrs. Fred Krell and children.

The following Tuesday was Mrs. Christine Bengston's 84th birthday. Mrs. Alfred Ericson, Mrs. Nora Swanson and Mrs. G. J. Stedt called in honor of the occasion as well as some of the near neighbors. Cream and cake and lemonade were served. All wished her many more such pleasant days.

Mrs. Borell is getting stronger. One day she spent a few hours with Mrs. Carl Carlson. Mrs. Vihlen was able to go over to see her also.

We hear that Frank Ericson has returned from Ohio where he expected to make his home with his daughter, the climate not agreeing with him.

The above was for last week but the writer was too ill to send it in. Elmer Dudley of Orlando, was a supper guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cramer last Wednesday.

Mrs. Barney Beck and Charles, Minnie and Barnwell, all of whom spent the month of August at the beach, are back home from their outing, having had a fine time.

Mrs. Volie Williams and children and their nurse motored to Kissimmee last Sunday with Mrs. Wm. Henderson and their three youngest children who are to spend this week there with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tynor.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lundquist and children are expected home this Sunday having spent the last two weeks in South Florida at Fort Pierce and other points with relatives. They went in their car.

Mrs. Charlotte Tynor and little Doris returned home to Tampa Tuesday.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fry came from Windemere for the day, Grandma Bengston and Mrs. Fisher and daughter returning home with them.

Brother Clark and wife were calling Tuesday in Upsalla at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Borell, Walfrid and Carl Pierson and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Pierson.

Mr. and Mrs. Wester and sons with Mr. and Mrs. Reinberg and the twins, all of Lake Mary, came over to surprise Mr. and Mrs. Stedt on Friday evening as it was Mr. Stedt's birthday but they were not at home so they spent the evening with Grapeville friends. Mr. Stedt's were with Mr. Lee's on the west side.

Little Alice and Sidney Vihlen are spending this month with their sister, Mrs. Ed. Hunter, at Coronado Beach.

Mrs. Hilmer Lundquist and daughter, Melva, are visiting relatives this week at Winter Garden. Grandpa Letson who has been here for some time returned home with them.

Rev. Wahlberg will be here next Sunday.

Wednesday, the 5th of September, some forty-two young and old surprised Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lundquist on the twentieth anniversary of their wedding, bringing many pretty gifts of choice and lovely home made cakes. It was a very enjoyable and happy time, music adding much to the pleasure of all present. A number were present from Lake Mary. The table was set three times. Much guessing as to the maker of an especially prettily decorated cake and come to find out one of the men made it.

"O'Malley of the Mounted" at Princess Theatre Tomorrow

William S. Hart's latest Paramount picture of the west, "O'Malley of the Mounted," will be the feature at the Princess Saturday. It is certainly one of the strongest character portrayals with which Mr. Hart has favored his followers in many months, to say the least.

Eva Novak heads a capable supporting company and all acquitted themselves with credit. The picture is well worth seeing.

Your children's food

The foods your children eat today, determine their strength and health in later years.

Remember this; they must have well balanced meals. Their food should contain the right amount of mineral salts. These salts act as bone building material. They furnish the different fluids and juices that help keep the tissues young—the body strong and active.

Bakings that are made of good plain white flour and baking powder contain a large amount of mineral salts. Allow your children to eat hardy of these bakings together with fruits and dairy products. This forms an ideal food balance.

When making quick rising breads and pastries such as: biscuits, muffins, cakes, waffles, etc., don't fail to use Calumet—the economy Baking Powder. It contains more than the ordinary leavening strength—it's the purest and surest leavener made. That's why it helps make your flour foods light and easily digested.

Millions of mothers use Calumet daily because they are interested in their children's welfare—their present and future health.

Give it a Good Home

To keep your car running smoothly and looking its best you should give it a good home. You can economize on rental by owning a garage and its convenience is also a great advantage.

Select your garage with these points in mind; it should be fireproof, reasonably low in first cost, attractive in appearance and easy to clean. Moreover, it should require little or no upkeep.

"Choosing the Garage" is the name of a booklet that you should read before deciding on the type you will build. We'll be glad to give you a free copy.

PRESS GANG ENTERTAINED LAST NIGHT

The ladies of the party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly, where they were being entertained by Mrs. Holly with a bridge party.

At seven o'clock the visitors were given a banquet at the Hotel Valdez as the guests of the Chamber of Commerce that was a most enjoyable affair, Mine Host Falk putting on an elegant menu with the usual excellent service and all present voted the Hotel Valdez Grill one of the best ever.

R. J. Holly acted as toastmaster and called upon Mayor Forest Lake for the address of welcome and with his usual hearty and humorous vein Mayor Lake made the visitors feel that they were indeed welcome to Sanford. He paid a glowing tribute to the many big things accomplished by the newspapers of Florida and paid a fine compliment to the Sanford Herald.

Hon. F. P. Forster, president of the First National Bank gave a vigorous and hearty welcome to the visitors and dwelt at length on the importance of good roads and especially of Road No. 3 and brought down the house at several points in his speech.

The toastmaster here called attention to the fact that the Herald was most pleasantly situated with the advertising of three banks of the city as they carry daily advertising the year round and called upon W. H. Tunncliffe, president of the Peoples Bank to say a few words about newspaper advertising. Mr. Tunncliffe responded with a splendid but brief talk on newspapers and their benefit to the community and the value of newspaper advertising.

Harry Brown of the Lakeland Star-Telegram in a response said it was a mystery to him how Holly could induce the bankers to come to a meeting of the newspaper men but after hearing all the good things the bankers had said about the newspaper he could well believe that Sanford bankers were real friends of the newspaper men.

Others of the press gang who were called upon by the toastmaster and responded with good talks were Ed

Taylor of the Miami Herald, Ed Fitzgerald of the Daytona News, George Hosmer of the Ft. Myers Press, Lynn Bloom of the Lakeland Star-Telegram, Charlie Carr formerly of the St. Petersburg Times but now with the Carr Advertising Company, W. T. McCall of the Associated Press, Clayton Cordington of the DeLand News with Secretary eParman of the Chamber of Commerce.

All of the talks were impromptu as the programs of the Associated Dailies usually are and no one had any set speeches but they all were good and filled with the splendid spirit of friendliness and that fraternal feeling that is more apparent in the press associations than in any other profession or business.

At nine o'clock the editors were the guests of the Milane Theater where a fine Metro production was put on for their benefit and a comedy of Al St. Johns both of them being greatly enjoyed by the visitors who were loud in their praises for the new Milane Theater.

Among the visiting newspaper men not given in the account of the meeting yesterday and who came in the afternoon were J. H. Benjamin of the Ocala Star, Stanley Lichty of the Melbourne Times, George Hosmer of the Ft. Myers Press, R. B. Brosiere of the Orlando Reporter-Star, L. W. Bloom and Harry Brown of the Lakeland Star-Telegram and many others.

The meeting in Sanford was one of the best attended in the history of the association and while there was but little time to arrange for any entertainment the editors and visitors were entertained in a manner that touched their hearts and the headquarters at the Hotel Valdez were all that could be desired with Manager Richardson and his assistants and Chef Falk on the job every minute, with Secretary Pearmon of the Chamber of Commerce and others ready to do everything for their comfort and the whole city willing to give the visitors a warm welcome.

At noon the visiting ladies were the guests of George Kellar and the men the guests of Frank Kay Anderson at a luncheon at the Hotel Valdez that was greatly enjoyed and during the afternoon the ladies were the guests of Mrs. R. J. Holly at her home on Park avenue.

SHOTGUN TRAP PROVES EFFECTIVE —1 DEAD; 1 JAILED

GASTONIA, N. C., Sept. 6.—shotgun trap set by S. L. Kiser in his country store ten miles from here last night to catch robbers proved effective. As a result Herman Falls, of Kings Mountain, is dead; Raymond Benfield of Bessemer City, is in jail under charge of robbery. Officers are searching for Will McDonald, charged with complicity in the robbery, and fifteen pairs of shoes stolen from the store and found scattered along the road have been recovered.

According to information gathered by the officers, the three men entered the store early today and took fifteen pairs of shoes to their automobile outside. Falls re-entered the store and tripped a string which was attached to the trigger of the shotgun Mr. Kiser had set. The gun fired a load of shot into his body.

The other two men in the car ran away. Falls dragged himself some distance from the store and was picked up by his alleged confederates and taken to a hospital, where he died later. The shoes are supposed to have been thrown from the car as it dashed away from the store.

INHABITANTS OF STRICKEN AREA ARE BRAVELY RALLYING TO TASK CONFRONTING THEM

style houses built on small hills, the damage was fire, which on account of the number of open spaces could be controlled. The foreign embassies and legations were widely scattered throughout the higher districts of Tokio, and a number of them, including the American embassy, have been destroyed.

While the foregoing dispatch indicates the loss of life might be less than at first feared different sources all agree that the destruction wrought has been tremendous. All reports agree that two-thirds of Tokio has been laid waste and Yokohama virtually destroyed.

Don't Experiment Buy a 1924 Studebaker

The 1924 Studebaker Light-Six Touring car, with its refinements and improvements, offers the closest approach to mechanical perfection in moderate priced cars yet produced. It continues to set the pace in the amount of value for the money invested. No radical departure from approved design has been attempted. There's nothing experimental about it—everything of recognized merit. Every vital unit has proved its satisfaction in the public use.

No matter how much money you expect to invest in a car, by all means see this Light-Six Touring car, ride in it—and drive it yourself. It is then that you realize the difference.

Comparison with other cars costing more—or less—will provide convincing proof of its greater dollar-for-dollar value, its dependable performance, ample power, extreme comfort, and many other desirable features.

The Light-Six is practically free from vibration because Studebaker machines the crankshaft and connecting rods on all surfaces. No other manufacturer follows this practice on a car at anywhere near the Light-Six price. This is just one of many superiorities.

After seventy-one years, the name Studebaker enjoys confidence and respect more than ever.

New all-steel body of striking beauty. One-piece, rain-proof windshield with attractive cowl lights set in base. Quick-action cowl ventilator. Door curtains, bound on three sides by steel rods, open with doors. Removable upholstery in tonneau. Door pocket flaps with weights hold them in shape. Upholstered in genuine leather. Large rectangular window in rear curtain. Theft-proof transmission lock.
