

DEBT PAYMENT DELAY SOUGHT IN TWO HOUSES

Stimson Appears Before House Committee For Ratification Of Moratorium

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—High administration officials went before both Senate and House today in a joint appeal for moratorium ratification. Secretary Stimson presented a request for prompt approval to the House Ways and Means committee. He replaced Undersecretary Mills of Treasury who addressed a similar plea to the Senate finance committee yesterday.

Before hearing Stimson, Chairman Celler of the Ways and Means committee said there will be full discussion of the moratorium in the House but no filibustering. The Senate finance committee passed its moratorium hearing with the announcement it would open its inquiry next Friday into the sales of foreign securities in this country.

The word "impeachment" was heard in the House yesterday during debate on President Hoover's debt moratorium which the administration at that moment was asking a committee to approve.

Huge Alligator Is Captured By Boys

Thrills and excitement aplenty were furnished four Seminole High School students and a friend, and dozens of interested spectators near the emergency landing field on the Suwannee late Monday afternoon when, after a three-hour battle, the largest alligator captured in Florida in many years was finally subdued, placed on a trailer, and taken to a Jacksonville slough.

The 300 lbs weighed 1,000 pounds, was 10 feet, 10 inches long, and is estimated as being 60 years old. It now rests at the slough in a special pool, and attracts "Gatorheads," a species which has been the property of the farm for 40 years. It has an enormous head, and gives promise of eating several hundred pounds in weight with regular feeding. Both its eyes were shot out, and one leg was missing, probably the result of professional hunters who have frequently reported sighting a monster alligator in Lake Monroe. The loss of sight is held responsible for the alligator's venturing into the slough, and accounts for the boys' success in locating it.

Driving along the bulkhead late Monday, Bob Katsinger, J. D. DeGregory, E. E. Collins, and Paul DeGregory, sighted the creature in a hole in the bank of the Suwannee. With the assistance of E. V. Steiner, they succeeded in passing a chain around the neck of the reptile, and with the aid of a crowd of onlookers, hauled him into the slough. A furious battle ensued for several minutes, and one of the boys being knocked into the lake by a splash of the reptile's tail, and the splashing of the wing of an airplane parked nearby by another splash of the tail.

More than three hours time was required in piping the reptile on a trailer and, during the trip to Jacksonville, the alligator thrashed his head, and caused an airplane to be damaged by the splash of the tail.

Flier Seeks To Beat Trans-U. S. Record

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—Shooting at the 10-hour record from Los Angeles to New York, J. R. Wedell, New Orleans racing pilot left here early today on his high streamlined monoplane. The pilot was packed into a cockpit barely large enough to hold him and 140 gallons of gasoline. The plane lifted quickly after a short run and disappeared in the east. Wedell's immediate objective is Pacific, Calif., where he will refuel. The second stop will be Bloomington, Illinois and the third New York.

LENZ AND JACOBY INCREASE LEAD ON CULBERTSONS

Battle Lines Tighten As Bridge Players Resume Card Tilt

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—Lenz and Jacoby ran up their lead over the Culbertsons from 15 to 750 after three rubbers had been played last night in the seventh session of a 150-rubber match to test rival contract bridge systems. The rubber standing became: Lenz and Jacoby, 21; Culbertsons, 20.

Points of rubber 41; Lenz and Jacoby, 825; Culbertsons, 500.

The Culbertsons won the first rubber last night.

Battle lines tightened as four peevish bridge gladiators resumed the pastebard flipping.

The veteran Lenz tucked his chin deeper into his vest than usual, complained about the "confounding" late start, and told photographers to go take pictures of somebody's bluff game.

Mrs. Culbertson had a weary expression and her husband was unusually quiet. The usually beaming Oswald Jacoby, partner to Lenz. (Continued on page four)

UNITED CHINA SEEMS LIKELY AS SHEK QUILTS

Reconciliation Of Divergent Factions Is Anticipated Due To Political Shake-Up

NANKING, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—China, split in two since last spring when the Canton government was formed in opposition to the Nanking regime, seemed likely to be united today following a shake-up yesterday which resulted in the resignation of President Chiang Kai-Shek.

Chiang himself admitted the Canton faction was to take the upper hand in the coalition government looked for today. Belief was that Canton leaders, many of them some of the strongest figures in Chinese public life, would return here for a reconciliation.

The removal of Chiang was looked upon as the one thing needed to close the nation's political cleavage which last spring resulted in the formation of the Canton government, composed of many of China's leaders, who refused to continue their association with the nationalist regime under his domination.

Chiang's passing was dramatic. He had been under increasing pressure since the Manchuria conflict started last September. Throughout China students demonstrated against him. For several days recurring reports that he had resigned were denied.

Yesterday 600 students from Peiping wrecked the foreign office and attacked the headquarters of the Kuomintang (nationalist party), where the president and other leaders were discussing what should be done.

Bricks and stones were flung (Continued on page four)

FUTURE CHAMPION OF WORLD

Here is the first picture taken of the young man who will some day be heavyweight champion of the world, according to his father, Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion. The future champion was born to the former champion and his wife, Mrs. Polly Lauder Tunney, of Greenwich, Conn., on December 14, and is shown in a fighting pose at his gym.

MCADOO THINKS ARMS REDUCTION WON'T END WARS

Says It Must Be Accompanied By Economic Adjustments

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—The United States is deceiving itself, William G. McAdoo said in an address last night, if it believes a reduction in armaments, unless accompanied by profound economic readjustment, would end wars.

Speaking before students of the Southern Methodist University, the son-in-law of Woodrow Wilson observed that 12 years after the signing of the Versailles Treaty, the obligations of that treaty not only remain unfulfilled, but the leading nations of Europe are maintaining greater armaments and a more staggering burden of debt and taxation than that which prevailed before the World War.

He expressed belief that "no effective plan of disarmament can be made unless Russia is taken into the family of nations," and said that, had he been a delegate to the Geneva disarmament conference in 1927, he would have accepted Russia's offer wholly to disarm herself in full value.

He predicted that any effort on the part of the United States to purchase world peace by cancellation of World War debts with the (Continued on page four)

WINTER GOES ON SPREE WITH COLD ALL OVER NATION

Frigid Temperatures Are Reported From Pacific To Atlantic

(By The Associated Press)

Winter went on a pre-Christmas spree last night and cut capers from Los Angeles to Georgia.

In the California metropolis, four inches of snow followed a gale. Low temperatures were generally reported from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

Streams left their banks in Southern Ohio and many highways were flooded. The Ohio River was rising rapidly at Marietta, Ohio.

One death was indirectly attributed to high water in Ohio.

Strong winds and a bumper shipping along the North Atlantic seaboard.

Clear, cold weather predominated in the South.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—A heavy frost spread over Southern California in the wake of a storm which dropped snow within the city limits of Los Angeles and made highway travel hazardous.

Two men were killed in traffic accidents on adjacent streets yesterday. (Continued on page four)

HURLEY RAISES HOOVER STOCK FOR PRESIDENT

G.O.P. Committee Session Is Turned Into Rousing Rally For U.S. Chief Executive

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—Secretary Hurley today turned the final session of the Republican national committee into a rousing rally on the reelection of President Hoover. Deviating from his previous invitation of the national convention, the Secretary of War mouthed a message of support for the Democrats.

"The only man that the Democrats have been able to elect," he said, "is the only man that the country has elected. They have offered only a choice of President Hoover. The only man that the Democrats have no program."

A number of times the crowd rose to cheer enthusiastically as the Hurley address the committee formally increased the number of delegates to the next national convention to 1154 as compared with 1029 in 1928.

The Republican national committee selected Chicago for its national convention at a meeting yesterday that heard and applauded an endorsement of President Hoover's administration.

Bank Bandits Blow Safe, Seize $4500

ROACHDALE, Ind., Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—Ten men armed with machine guns and sawed off shotguns, blew open the safe of the Roachdale state bank early today and escaped with $4,500 in cash and bonds. The bandits severed the telephone and telegraph lines and cut off outside communication before entering the bank. The men kidnaped E. R. Lavin, telephone operator in the telephone office above the bank with Pauline Smith, operator, and the latter's young son. The entire front of the bank was blown out by the large charge of nitroglycerin.

CARLTON GIVES STIRRING TALK AT BAND SHELL

States Progress Day Marks New Chapter In History And Development Of City

Concluding a stirring address during which was pictured in powerful clarity the three elements which are necessary to the progressive growth and development of Florida, Sanford, and Seminole County, Governor Doyle E. Carlton, Sanford's distinguished guest of honor, speaking to nearly 3000 persons from the Band Shell late yesterday afternoon, expressing the hope that "we Floridians, with a true vision of our splendid resources, catch the drum-beat of progress which is being sounded on all sides, and go forward to what will surely be the Golden Age of our great state."

Inspired and warming to the subject of his address by having, only a few moments before, witnessed a parade of decorated automobiles and floats more than three miles in length and requiring nearly an hour and a half to pass the reviewing stand, Governor Carlton made an address which is said to have been the most interesting of the half dozen he had been called upon to make during the morning's events.

He expressed himself as being especially happy in having the privilege of sharing in the observance of the many evidences of progress which the day had brought, and declared that "it recorded a new chapter in the history and development of this community, a new turn to better things."

The three essentials to growth, Governor Carlton said, are a state's government, its natural resources, and the vision, energy, and determination of its people. "Because of a happy combination of the three, we have reason to look to the future with hope and confidence," he said.

He pointed out many of the re-employment measures now in effect under his administration, measures he termed necessary in the future growth of Florida, measures which will find nearly $18,000,000 lopped off the budget during the coming year.

He referred to the nearly 500 school children occupying front seats at the band shell by declaring that while he has been deeply impressed with the agricultural and industrial possibilities of this county, yet, the greater resources are in the boys and girls here before me." Discussing further some of the tax measures recently effected, Governor Carlton declared that he made no apology for measures which will find Florida's school system re-vitalized and strengthened. "It is far better to open the highways of culture for our children than to lavish huge sums of money on the highways of our state," he said.

Florida's wonderful resources, "which have never gone bankrupt," formed the next portion of Governor Carlton's address, and for 10 minutes he pictured the hundreds of opportunities which offer to health, wealth, and happiness to the world. He termed them the finest evidences of one of the greatest states in the nation, and said that upon these natural resources, and armed with the lessons and experience of the past, Florida should lay a new foundation for the mightiest development this nation has ever seen.

At the conclusion of his address, Governor Carlton and the official party were escorted to the Sanford Woman's Club where a public reception, attended by hundreds, was staged.

The day's events, considered successful in every detail and attracting thousands of visitors, concluded with an informal ball at the Mayfair Hotel. One hundred and fifty couples crowded the ballroom, beautifully decorated for the occasion, and, until nearly 2:00 o'clock, enjoyed one of the most successful dances ever held in Sanford.

JUDGE ACQUAINTS KIWANIAN WITH DADE MASSACRE

J.C.B. Koonce Relates Details Surrounding Historic Event

Judge J. C. B. Koonce, of Tallahassee, one of this state's most distinguished jurists, today brought members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club a story, complete in detail of that event in the history of Florida and its war with the Seminole Indians, known as the Dade Massacre.

In summing up the incidents relating to the massacre, occurring near Bushnell in Sumter county, on Dec. 28, 1818, in which Major Dade and a company of 100 men were mercilessly slaughtered, Judge Koonce told something of the Indian tribes roving Florida forests in those early days.

"The population of the Florida Seminoles is made up of two distinct tribes, speaking different languages and having little in common. The Northern tribe, usually known as the Cow Creeks, numbering 25, speak the Muskogean language." (Continued on page four)

Light Vote Marks Balloting Today On Proposed Races

Less than 250 persons had cast ballots either for or against the proposed 60-day dog racing meet at the Jacksonville oval, returns from the two Sanford polling places at about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon indicated.

At the polls in Precinct One, in the Marshall Motor Co. building on North Park Avenue, 119 voters had cast at that time. R. C. McFadden, clerk of the election, declared that indications at that time pointed to a vote of about 10 to 1 in favor of the track's opening.

At the Court House, where voters in Precinct Three cast their ballots, 116 votes and more a record at 2:30 o'clock. A. D. Shewmaker, clerk, stated that he believed the election had at that time carried by a three to one vote.

No returns had come in from the several county polling booths, but, with only a small set of voters in each town, all votes should be counted, and a vote announced by 3:30 o'clock, half an hour after the polls close.

Community Meet Held By Towns In Fern Park Building

The Fern Park Little Theater building was the scene of a large and representative community meeting Monday night, attended by about 100 residents of the section and several visitors from Altamonte Springs, Longwood, and Sanford. It was that community's official welcome to Karl Lehmann.

R. F. Haines, of Altamonte, first vice-president of the county trade body, presided, and introduced the various speakers, all of whom outlined the fine work being done and planned by the county trade body.

W. J. Wells, Longwood member of the Board of Governors, discussed the school system of the county, pointing out many of the features which have given it a reputation of high regard throughout the state.

James H. Sharon, chairman of the county-wide cooperation committee, made an inspiring address on the new spirit that is permeating this county, making it the envy of the counties of Florida, and assuring its permanent growth and development.

President Papworth of the county trade body spoke of the many accomplishments of the organization and the value and effectiveness of the work being done. He concluded by pledging the Fern Park community the good will and active co-operation of the trade body in the development of that community.

Karl Lehmann, secretary of the county trade body, presented many interesting facts about Seminola County and invited Fern Park to elect the three members of the Board of Governors to which they were entitled. Captain C. J. Hixley, G. W. Sheats, and Gordon J. Barnett were unanimously elected by the group.

Gangster Spurred To Tell Story Due To Tears Of Wife

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—Tearful pleadings of his wife, to whom gang shootings are an old story, led Matty Martin to tell police yesterday something about the battle that has put him in the shadow of death.

In staccato fashion, the man who ruled Brooklyn's tough waterfront, police said, by right of marriage, told how two men came to his home Monday night and lured him to a speakeasy.

The place was crowded. He was standing at the bar when someone behind him shouted:

"Turn around. I want to get you good."

He turned, keeping his arms folded across his chest to protect his heart.

"Someone leaped at me and tried to pull my hands down," Martin explained. "He was shot for his trouble by someone else. Then they landed on me and I fell. That was when I got the two bullets in my chest."

She was Mrs. Nestle, who Monday night vowed vengeance on the gang she said "rot" her husband.

She had stood in the same manner years ago beside her father's bed after he had been shot. Later she had threatened to "get" the men who killed her brother. "Pey-Log" Lomgren, when he was king of the Brooklyn mobsters.

Not long afterward the bullet scarred body of her first husband, "Wild Bill" Lovett was found on a bench—the ninth legend of the gang to die in the so-called battle of the canyon and...

Rigid Enforcement Of State's Vehicle Statutes Is Urged

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—Rigid enforcement of all state laws governing the operation of private and public vehicles on the highways of Florida was recommended yesterday by a special committee appointed by Governor Carlton to study the question.

All state departments having any connection with highways and traffic, the railroads and the motor transportation interests, and the State Chamber of Commerce were represented at the meeting. Chairman E. B. Matthews, of the State Railroad Commission presided.

The special committee voted to ask Governor Carlton to request the sheriffs and state and county attorneys throughout Florida to co-operate with the State Road Department and the Railroad Commission in enforcing existing laws.

R. M. Duncan, state highway engineer, said the road department soon will place inspectors at strategic points throughout the state to enforce the law limiting load weights on trucks. A deputy sheriff will be with each inspector to make arrests whenever violations are found.

The committee also asked Chairman Matthews, Attorney General Cary D. Lambie and Comptroller Ernest Amos to work out a method of adding the back of motor carriers operating under supervision of the State Railroad Commission. These trucks will enable the state to collect all mileage taxes due under existing laws, it was said.

The railroad commission reported that about 80 per cent of the taxes was collected at present.

Senate Resolution Reported Favorably

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—(A.P.)—The Johnson resolution calling upon Secretary Stimson to produce all the notes exchanged with foreign governments relative to the Manchuria dispute was reported favorably to the Senate today by the foreign relations committee after a sharp discussion.

An attempt was made to delay action on the resolution by Senator Johnson, California Republican, pending a hearing by the committee of Secretary Stimson. The move was lost and the committee agreed without roll call to report the resolution. It would call for notes exchanged with Japan and China as well as messages sent to the government of American representatives dealing with the League of Nations.

MIAMI BEACH—Village Grill opened for business.

The trial of A. J. Rosier, Sanford filling station operator, charged with the assault with intent to commit the first degree murder of J. E. Hodge, last August, was fast drawing to a conclusion at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Millard B. Smith, state's attorney, was at that time arguing his case against Rosier, before the jury, following which defense counsel was scheduled to make its appeal in behalf of Rosier.

The trial began Monday morning and the state offered J. E. Hodge, Sheriff J. P. McClelland, Dr. W. T. Langley, R. W. Pearman, Bobby Pearman, and Mrs. E. W. Pearman as witnesses, following which the defense offered Mr. Rosier and rested its case.

This morning the state offered R. W. Pearman, Bobby Pearman, and Mrs. Badger as witnesses, in rebuttal of defense testimony.

Herald Christmas Editor Swamped With Letters To Saint Nicholas

The Christmas Editor of The Herald, who has been in close communication with Santa Claus for the past few days, was this morning swamped with letters from Seminola County's good and bad little boys and girls. They are among the most interesting ever sent Santa from Sanford, and indicated that as a rule, boys and girls living in Sanford and Seminola County have been unusually good.

Here's a letter from Charlie McWalters, a youngster living at Lake Mary: "Dear Santa— Claus: I am writing to you tonight. I am a little boy, age 12, and I go to school at Lake Mary and my teacher's name is Mrs. Cochran. She is sure a good teacher. I am in the fourth grade and I haven't missed one day and haven't been lardy any. I am making good in all my studies, and I wish you would bring me a few things for Christmas. I want a new sweater and a cap and a pair of shoes size six and one-half, and some candy and nuts. And do please send my mamma something in, as she has to work very hard to make a living as my pappa is dead and my brothers don't help us very much. I guess I will close as you will get tired of reading this letter. With love to you and a merry Christmas and a happy New Year. You will find my home on the Lake Mary road near the old bank road, first house on the right going to Lake Mary or the left going south."
