HOOVER TO GO AS U. S. CITIZEN ON TROPIC TRIP

Rejects Suggestion To Be Official Representative Of United States Government

Mrs. Hoover Will Go With Husband

President-Elect Will Avoid Risks Of Involving Calvin Coolidge

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 15—(INS)—President-elect Hoover has rejected the suggestion that he visit Latin America as the official representative of the United States government.

He insists upon making his good will tour as a private citizen and has accordingly refused to accept official diplomatic status.

The uncertainty on this point which had perplexed diplomatic observers at home and abroad since the tour was announced at the White House a week ago was cleared today by final orders issued at Mare Island Navy Yard for the personnel complement of the bat-talion Maryland, which is to carry president-elect on the Pacific leg of the 10,000 mile jaunt.

Although an extra detachment of marines has been assigned to the battalion for guard duty and personal detail during the voyage, no provision has been made for either the military or naval aides and escorts required by diplomatic usage for formal government visits.

When Mr. Hoover goes ashore, he will go as a citizen of the United States visiting a foreign land. His diplomatic privileges and immunities will be limited to those extended by the various governments as honors and courtesies to a distinguished visitor.

Mr. Hoover's rejection of the more formal status is understood to rank naval officers at Mare Island to have been dictated by his determination to avoid all discussions along his route which might be construed as a pledge of policy from his own administration.

As president-elect he will enjoy, save possibly for the formalities of salutes, virtually every honor which would be extended under diplomatic etiquette to a visiting American president, but he will be without voice as a representative of the United States government. He will avoid all risk of involving President Coolidge for the remainder of his administration while preserving at the same time the utmost freedom of action in gathering facts on which to base his own administrative policies.

Never before has there been a tour so foreign and combining to such high degree the advantages of official privilege with the freedom of non-official status. This is as Mr. Hoover wished his trip to be from the outset—with no regard to his needs and representing no.

With this status of private citizen finally established and clearly understood in Washington officials, nothing in arrangements for the trip, please for the department.

ONLY THREE ARE QUALIFIED TO RUN FOR COMMISSION

ELECTION OF NEWMAN, SPEER AND GRAY TO BE MERE FORMALITY

The selection of Nelson Gray, R. A. Newman and Vivian Speer as City Commissioners will be made a mere formality in the general election to be held on Dec. 4, it became known today with the announcement by City Clerk F. S. Lamson that no other candidates have qualified.

The city charter provides that the names, accompanied by petitions carrying at least 25 signatures, shall be filed 20 days before the election. Yesterday was the last day for qualifying.

Mr. Gray, Newman and Speer were the only candidates to offer for the primary election, which was to have been held last month. Their names will be the only ones to appear on the ballot next month. The candidates will fill two new places recently created on the Commission and a vacancy, which will occur with the expiration of May 1. E. F. Housholder's term of office.

Mr. Gray seems a three year term of one year, and Mr. Speer a term of one year. Commissioners S. O. (Sam) and Frank L. Miller will be the holdover commissioners. The new commissioners will take office Jan. 1.

Mayor Housholder today issued a proclamation calling for the city election and designating the following poll officials: R. C. Maxwell, W. E. Betts and J. B. Lawson, inspectors and L. F. Chittenden, clerk.

Body Probes Federal Jails Thru Country

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 15.—(INS)—Over-crowded conditions in the federal penitentiary here were studied today by a congressional committee that came to Atlanta as the first step in a nation-wide investigation of government prisons.

John G. Cooper, Republican, Ohio, chairman of the committee, and the situation here, where 3,000 prisoners occupy a place originally intended for 1,800, convinced the legislators that the government must at once increase its prison facilities.

The committee members expressed surprise at the large number of youthful prisoners held in the prison. Cooper said the investigation probably would result in recommendations for a separate institution for narcotic violators who are addicts.

WOMEN ASPIRE TO CABINET OF HERB HOOVER

Feminist Groups Will Seek To Have Representatives On Official Family Of Chief

CLAIM THEY WON RECENT ELECTION

WOMEN SAY THEY HAVE ENTERED POLITICS TO TAKE AN ACTIVE PART

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The women's organizations, republican and independent, which supported Herbert Hoover in the campaign just ended, have launched a drive upon his managers, it was learned here today, for the placing of at least one woman in the president-elect's cabinet. The demand may cause Hoover to spend an hour of study before he meets it to the satisfaction of the feminist leaders.

The women's organizations, re-publican and independent, which supported Herbert Hoover in the campaign just ended, have launched a drive upon his managers, it was learned here today, for the placing of at least one woman in the president-elect's cabinet. The demand may cause Hoover to spend an hour of study before he meets it to the satisfaction of the feminist leaders.

The argument advanced by the Hoover feminists to support their demand is that women gave the Republican party its tremendous victory last Tuesday. Republican leaders, however, have found it difficult to meet this argument.

We women entered politics, not to sit on the sidelines, but to participate in our government," one Hoover woman told International News Service. "We were just as active as the Republican men in the campaign and we feel entitled to an equal if not a greater share of the credit for the victory. The women elected Hoover and now we are entitled, just as the men have always been, to a share of the spoils." Women in politics now in a serious way."

The feminist claim to having elected Hoover is readily conceded by some leading Republicans.

Some of the Hoover managers have estimated that the Republican nominees received no better than an even break with his Democratic rival in support by male voters.

The Hoover leaders believe that the Republican nominees received from 60 to 70 per cent of the female vote and that this excess was his margin of victory. Consequently, these same leaders, having agreed with the fundamental argument of the women, find themselves hard pressed to devise an answer, rejecting their plea for representation in the cabinet.

WASHINGON, Nov. 15.—(INS)—The board of trade, which deals with marine shipping—will make a vigorous inquiry into the loss of the Vestrus, it was officially announced this afternoon. The registry of the Vestrus was British.

The statement follows: "Searching inquiry must be made both in the loss of the Vestrus and the loss of life. The date and place of the inquiry will be announced later.

It was learned from an unofficial source that the government takes a grave view of the matter and is calling for a stringent inquiry into all phases of the disaster it possibly will be conducted by a supreme court justice. Instructions have been given that

Walker Reopens Rothstein Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—(INS)—With startling suddenness, Mayor Walker today reopened his personal digging into the Arnold Rothstein murder mystery, which had been quiet for months. Warren, Inspector Coughlin of the detective bureau, and every detective assigned to the case and "in absentia" district attorney Banton, had a conference at city hall. Both the summer and the "invitation" were heard, and it appears after the arrival of the guests that the Mayor had set up police headquarters in City Hall. Banton today threatened that if George McManus, the man whose body was found in room 310 of the Park Central Hotel where Rothstein was mortally wounded.

For questioning in the case, the Mayor has given himself up.

He will be charged with murder.

GATORS WORK TO GET IN TRIM FOR CLEMSON TIGERS

Bucks And Ends Held 'Fast Drill'; Reeves Only Gator Injury

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA, GAINESVILLE, Nov. 14.—(Special) — The University of Florida Gators swung into practice Tuesday for their contest Saturday at Jacksonville with the Clemson Tigers, defeated only by Mississippi and conquerors of the stalwart Gamecocks of South Carolina.

The cool snap that bore down on the campus pepped up practice and those men who were not continuously busy sat on the sidelines huddled under blankets and hoodies.

The backs and ends swelt through a faultless signal and pass work-out while the linemen brashed up on blocking and charging and ended the workout with a session on the bucking machine.

All cogs of the machine clicked in harmony and both the shock troops and Crabtree's cannonball cohorts went through a fast, sharp signal drill at the conclusion of more strenuous work. The third string got in a lively scrimmage against the "Omelet" eleven, which used Clemson formations.

Alex Reeves, guard hurt in the Georgia fracas, was not on hand for today's doings, but he is expected back before Saturday and should be in the Clemson game.

Thursday has been set aside as football day, and the chapel hours will be given over to tributes for the Gators and yearlings. They turned in the second double victory of the season in their last contest, the freshmen defeating Clemson's Baby Tigers at Orlando Monday, to add to the victory of the varsity over the Georgia team.

FOOTBALL BRIEFS

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Princeton's football playing will be confined to Saturday for the remainder of the season. Coach Roper announced no scrimmages would be held on week-days. He is unwilling to risk injury to his regulars during practice.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Yale's only strenuous practice session of the week in preparation for the Princeton game was to be held today. The coaching squad has been augmented by the addition of former Eli stars, including Ted Lilley, Ralph Bloomer and Myron Pulier.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Football will not be a full strength against Detroit unless several of the injured regulars improve rapidly. The squad was crippled badly in the Boston College game.

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 14.—(INS)—The Dartmouth varsity is showing signs of life on the eve of the Cornell game. The regulars scored five times against the scrubs yesterday.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Coach Dodge is stressing the running attack in preparing his Cornellians for Dartmouth. The Ithacans have put up a splendid defense all season but their offense has been unusually weak.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 14.—(INS)—With the hope of finishing an otherwise disastrous season in a blaze of glory, Michigan's varsity gridironers are concentrating on the idea of wrecking the victorious Iowa eleven when they clash here a week from Saturday. Ignoring Michigan State, this week's foe, the Wolverines are practicing trick formations designed to upset Iowa.

CHICAGO, Nov. 14.—(INS)—Stagg's luckless Maroons will close their season here Saturday with another chapter of their annual feud with Illinois. Despite the confusion in the Chicago camp, Stagg gets credit for still trying. He is putting his battered remnants through stiff daily workouts.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Don Dunaway, second string halfback, is working in the Wisconsin varsity backfield and may get his big chance against Ohio Saturday. Bergmann was on the field against the frosh, using New Haven plays. On this game, however, Wisconsin's hope for the Midway championship.

STAMFORD, Ill., Nov. 14.—(INS)—The Maroons will try to end the three conference wins in the season Saturday. It will be the Wildcat's final big game and the several of the school's best. It will be the windup of the season's football.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Tech will try to end the season with a win in its road game Saturday. The Maroons will be the visitors.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Rumor of a shake-up in the Vanderbilt line-up for the Tennessee combat Saturday was spiked today by coach McGinnis who announced Jimmy Armstrong, captain and quarterback, would start in the game. It has been reported Armstrong would not be in the opening line-up.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Nov. 14.—(INS)—Alabama's injured first team line, except one, has been ruled out of the ballgame, but it was expected today some of the players now out of the game will be able to return for Saturday's encounter with Georgia Tech's Golden Tornado.

AFRICA DIAMOND BOARD

That between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000 worth of diamonds, mainly belonging to the Government, are stored in vaults of Johannesburg, South Africa, awaiting disposal, has been reported. General Herold, the Prime Minister, recently announced that the Government is contemplating an extensive irrigation scheme involving the damming of the Orange and Vaal rivers from revenue derived from the Namqualand State diamond fields.

While cheering his team to victory, seventy-year-old James Anderson dropped dead at a football game at Crief, Scotland. HOOVER TO GO AS U. S. CITIZEN ON TROPIC TRIP

We moved forward with characteristic Hoover snap and directness today.

First was the decision that Mrs. Hoover and her secretary, Miss Ruth Fessler, of Duluth, Minn., would be members of the party.

Secondly, it was determined that George Barr Baker, friend and close campaign adviser of the president-elect, since the Kansas City Convention, would be aboard the Maryland.

Third, it was learned that no definite and binding itinerary will be made public before the Maryland steams out of San Pedro harbor Monday morning. Mr. Hoover will make up the schedule from week to week to suit his wishes.

TRACTORS HAUL BARGES

Because of the success in Belgium of the plan of hauling canal barges by tractors, the operating company has ordered 45 more machines, which are expected to be placed in service this year. It plans to have 300 in operation by 1931. The service was inaugurated last year and nine tractors, supplemented by horses, were used to haul the line between Liege and Maestricht, in the Netherlands.

U.S. Investigations Begin To Fix Blame For Vestris Sinking of passenger steamships. Silver said.

Officials of Sanderson and Company, local representatives of the Lamport and Holt line, operators of the Vestris, were reluctant to make any comment upon the bitter charges made by the survivors.

What about these charges? reporters asked David Cook, vice president.

"The inquiry will answer them at the inquiry this afternoon," he replied.

The result of Tuttle's inquiry is to be presented at 2 o'clock this afternoon before United States Commissioner O'Neill.

"Will your company be represented at the hearing?" Cook was asked. "Yes." "Why wasn't the SOS sent out sooner?" "The officers will answer that." "Was the ship unfit to put to sea?" "It was inspected three days before it went out."

Cook said the Vestris was "in perfect trim" when it left port. He denied the ship was listing.

Subpoenas have been served on officials of the Lamport and Holt line, officials of the federal steamboat inspection service, which gave the Vestris a clean bill when it left port, and survivors of the disaster.

Considerable difficulty was experienced by Deputy U. S. marshal in attempting to serve a subpoena on Frank W. Johnson, chief officer of the Vestris, and other officers, all of whom were quartered in the Holley Hotel. They were skeptical as to what might be forthcoming and arranged rather extensive plans in connection therewith.

What kind of Investment should I make?

The person with surplus funds to invest has a wide range of possibilities before him. That's why this question is usually so puzzling to those uninterested in investment matters.

The informed buyer insists that investments meet a three-fold standard: first, safety of principle; second, a reasonably good income return; third, freedom from care and worry.

This bank can supply you with a variety of bond issues which meet all of these requirements. These securities have been investigated and underwritten by bond houses of high repute. We will be glad to help you make good investments whenever you have surplus funds beyond those needed for reserves and emergencies.

Palm Beach Red Cross Head Urges Full Support Of Annual Roll Call

R. J. Holly, chairman of the local National Roll Call Committee, and the American Red Cross today met with a letter received from H. C. Tuttle, chairman of the board of the Palm Beach County chapter of the Red Cross. Both expressed their pleasure at the recent success of the Roll Call.

The letter was received on the second day of the annual Roll Call.

The message from Mr. Tuttle reads as follows:

"On the eve of the National Roll Call of the American National Red Cross, I am directing these instructions to you, the active members of your local Chapter:

"The effects of recent disasters have caused a fresh concern about the services rendered by the Red Cross organization.

"As quickly as the disaster was over and while we were planning our preliminary steps of organization to handle the emergency situation, we had many valuable information regarding their past experience with the Red Cross in other sections of the country. We were skeptical as to what we might be forthcoming and arranged rather extensive plans in connection therewith.

Whether the fate of the ship will be repeated is not known. The world has not yet learned whether the American Red Cross will be able to assist the survivors.

It is the great desire of the Red Cross to assist the survivors.
