Dog And Monkey Hailed As Excellent Entertainers By Fire Department Guests

Sanford is not a city of the tropics. Consequently, one might be inclined to blame his bootlegger if he chanced to notice monkeys doing their "daily dozen" among the trees, here. In fact, there may be something wrong if the observer is unable to focus his attention upon one, and only one, monkey.

When one is in the vicinity of the Fire Department's quarters, on Palmetto Avenue, he should not be surprised to see a small sprightly monkey doing all sorts of "monkeying," for "Jack" is one of the live wires of the Department.

He is outranked in point of service by "Bull," the white bulldog, but what he lacks in seniority he makes up in activity.

No jealousy exists between the two. Some human beings might be jealous of their seniors, some seniors jealous of their inferiors when crowded out of the limelight, but their is a perfect friendship, based on mutual benefit and unselfish congenial respect.

The dog respects the gymnastic ability of the monkey and is benefited by his natural inclination to hunt fleas. The monkey respects the brute strength of the bulldog and depends upon him for protection.

Nature did not intend that these two should be playmates and there are times when their interests lead them apart.

The dog enjoys his luxurious ease, while the monkey is seldom quiet. They will enjoy a frolic together and seemingly by mutual arrangement suddenly cease, the dog stretching out for an undisturbed nap, and the monkey actively exploring parked automobiles or stranger's pockets, or taking to the trees if pleasant weather has invited them outdoors.

If stormy weather keeps them in, the monkey finds plenty to explore among the mysteries of a fire engine house. He performs his gymnastics on the big American-LaFrance pumper with its ladders, ropes and other appurtenances, and this is resting boxes of bolts etc., to investigate, and bottles to throw on the floor. One of his favorite playthings is a lighted match. Visitors should be careful that they are not robbed of their matches, for Jack shows enough interest in a box of matches to turn thief.

Perhaps these two realize that their greatest appeal lies in teaming up, for soon you will see them actively engaged in a mock battle. This battle has some of the aspects of a wrestler and a boxer trying to prove their superiority.

If the contest were to be decided on points, the monkey would be victor. But the monkey would monkey sometimes taking the dog could finish his little playmate with one snap of his powerful jaws. They spar for openings, the monkey sometimes taking the dog by surprise in a maneuver peculiar to his species. The movement is almost too rapid for the eye to follow. The monkey's tail, a decided asset, enables him to make unexpected gyrations while in the midst of a leap and sometimes he will land squarely on the dog's back. Like all true friends they sometimes become "snored" at what they consider unnecessary roughness, and during the whole performance there is medley of growls and squeaks, each trying to bluff the other by a great show of ferocity.

Besides the warning to visitors entertainment, the antics of these animals offer an interesting study. Members of the department will tell you that other dogs are not inclined to treat the monkey with much consideration and yet "Bull"

Gerald Chapman Now In Death Cell Waiting For Decision Of Judge

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 4.—(P)—Gerald Chapman, who was to have been hanged today for the murder of a New Britain policeman was again in his narrow cell at the Connecticut state prison, still battling for the right to spend the next 25 years at Atlanta penitentiary for robbing the mails.

Some time next week, Federal Judge Edwin S. Thomas will write the final chapter of a hearing held before him yesterday on Chapman's application for a writ of habeas corpus. Issuance of the writ would permit his return to Atlanta and make it impossible for Connecticut authorities to pass judgment prior to the expiration of his Federal sentence.

In the event that Judge Thomas renders an adverse decision, Chapman's senior counsel, Frederick Groehl announced that he will at once appeal the case to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Congress will open in a few days now. This is the 69th. Senators and representatives are arriving fast. So are the representatives of numerous private, corporate and other interests, with axes to be ground. Hotel lobbies are filling up. The shutters of many a long-closed-up mansion, where some one of the more affluent among the national legislators makes his Washington home are coming down. Rents are being advanced. The capital is awakening from its nine-months' trance.

The arriving lawmakers bring news from all parts of the country. It conflicts somewhat, according to the section from which the lawmaker who brings it comes, as well as with his personal and political sympathies and prejudices. The various parties, groups, and blocs have their plants for the winter pretty well laid. From all this hodgepodge here are some of the impressions I get:

That the Republicans will try to make tax-reduction the session's main business, not only for its own sake but to drown out other talk.

That the Democrats will dispute the validity of Republican economic claims; that they'll raise the tariff issue; that they think they've gained a bit of ground in recent months and will fight like wildcats for more.

That the Senate radical group will be a trifle shy of its previous strength.

That the country is pretty prosperous in spots—not everywhere. That the farmers, though better off than they were, are not very well satisfied yet.

That religious antagonisms throughout the country have about reached their peak and may be expected to decline in intensity henceforward.

That the wets recognize their time hasn't come yet but are sure it will, while the dries feel certain it never will.

That there will be a tremendous row over aviation.

Law Officers Given Fines In Drug Case

MIAMI, Dec. 4.—(P)—Police Chief Damon Lewis, of Miami Beach, and his brother, Seth Lewis, sheriff of Osage county, Oklahoma, have been convicted in Kansas City, Mo., of violating the federal anti-narcotic law according to advices received by the Miami Daily News today.

The message stated that both were sentenced to seven years in the Leavenworth, Kan., federal prison. Convicted with them, according to the message, were Jimmy Graham, John O'Fallon and Roy O'Fallon, who were given three year sentences with fines of $3,000 each. The Lewis Brothers were also fined $5,000 each, it is stated.

The Daily News article, appearing today, declares in part:

The ring was found guilty last Saturday in Judge Franklin E. Kennamer's Court, in Oklahoma, by a jury after a lengthy trial. "All were convicted on charges of conspiring to violate the narcotic act."

She also spoke of the reference work done by the division, which is available all over the state, and which includes leading clippings and books at no charge except for postage.

An important service which she stressed is the sending of loan libraries of carefully selected children's books to the rural school, and she strongly recommended this work to clubs who are anxious to help the children in the more remote districts.

Mrs. William F. Blackman, state president, introduced Mrs. Parker, of Hollywood, who is opening a woman's department in the new Hollywood magazine, and who told what she wished the magazine to mean to Florida women.

Mrs. Blackman made the concluding address, and in an informal speech asked the club women to consider what they could do, both for the people of their own towns, and for the isolated women in the country districts, who often lack social and intellectual contacts and opportunities, she said.

Mrs. R. M. Shearer, as chairman of the resolutions committee, read a resolution of thank to the Bennett, son of a Chattanooga business man, held in Jacksonville on a Mann Act charge, has filed suit in the Tennessee city for a divorce, she stated here today. She came here about two months ago. I helped him during his trial here for killing H. H. Caruthers. I don't feel under obligations to help him any more. The divorce suit was filed before this Jacksonville arrest. The grounds are non-support and desertion," she said.

PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION OF SOUTH SIDE HOLDS MONTHLY MEET

The monthly meeting of the South Side Primary Parent Teachers' Association was held Thursday afternoon at the South Side Primary School, with the new chairman, Mrs. A. K. Powers presiding.

Following the reading of the minutes and the report from the treasurer, many matters of importance were discussed and passed upon, among them being the advisability of providing paper plates, cups, and spoons for the use of the children in the lunch room, thus doing away with dish washing, and probability of disease spreading. A committee was appointed to investigate this matter.

Another matter of equal importance was the playground funds and the question of how these were to be raised. At the last meeting it was decided to have each member donate one or more dollars for this purpose.

It was voted at the Thursday meeting to take $1.00 already in the treasury and add to the playground fund. All members were

"There are orders against girls smoking at the college," Mr. Kellum said, "and if such rules are disobeyed, the offender will be summarily dealt with, allowing the punishment to fit the crime."

Alathean Class Holds Enjoyable Meeting At The Home of Mrs. Bolz

The monthly meeting of the Alathean class of the First Baptist Church was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Francis Bolz, 301 Magnolia Avenue. The hostesses, all of whose birthdays come in December were Mrs. Bolz, Mrs. A. M. Phillips, Mrs. R. T. Warren and Mrs. L. R. Goch. The lower floor of the attractive home was thrown en suite and the bright warm rooms with decorations suggestive of Christmas were a cherry sight for the dull wintry day. Despite the inclement weather the attendance was good.

A very interesting business session was held and at this time the president, Mrs. C. H. Pearce, presided. Reports from various committees showed that the class is growing in numbers and strength. A visiting and glad hand committee, with Mrs. Peurifoy as chairman, was appointed.

Class activities for December will include enlistment of new members, aid extended to needy families in and around Sanford, and Christmas boxes sent to the orphanage in Arcadia. The class also voted to pay the music tuition of a little orphan that is being clothed by the Nellie Turner Circle.

During the social hour the guests were favored with delightful vocal selections by Mrs. George Ray and piano numbers by Miss Dorothy

Progress Is Made Toward Waste Elimination Through Many Scientific Methods

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Progress made by industry in the United States toward the elimination of waste is bringing about "one of the most astonishing transformations in economic history," Secretary Hoover declared today in the 1925 annual report of the Commerce Department.

The attainment in this direction through the standardization of articles and the betterment of processes, in which official participation was co-operative rather than administrative, he treated as of more far reaching importance than any of the routine conduct of government placed under his direction. Such attainments, he held, made possible the upholding of American standards of living for the whole population—laboring, farming and distributing.

"In addition to elimination of waste we have had the benefit of notable advances in science; improvement in methods of management; and prohibition."

The Secretary cited the labor department figures indicating that where as in 1920 the wage rate was 99 percent above pre-war and the wholesale price level 126 percent above pre-war, in 1924 the wage rate had risen to 128 percent above pre-war, while the wholesale price level had dropped to 50 percent above pre-war.

"While wages are higher than in 1920, wholesale prices are lower," he explained. "We thus have the highest real wage in our history, and we have had three years of remarkable price stability."

"The philosophy that underlies the campaign for waste elimination has but one purpose; that is, to maintain American standards of living for both workers and farmers, and to place production on a more stable footing."

"The activity of the Commerce Department in this field of waste elimination was recorded in fact that since the work was launched on a large scale in 1921 some 900 group conferences have been held under the auspices of the department, practically all at the request of the industries themselves, while upwards of 200 committees are now at work in co-operation with the department on various phases of the program."

The Secretary introduced into the report accomplishments during the past five years as reported by his various associates in the department. These noted greater efficiency of the railroads, a sixty percent increase in electric generating capacity, wider provision of business statistics as a stabilizing influence reducing speculation in commodities, the expansion of industrial research, the extension of the building season in the construction industries, and millions saved through "simplified practice."

Eugene S. Gregg, chief of the department's transportation division cited remarkable improvement in railroad transportation, with car short ages practically a thing of the past. Since 1911, he said, the average weekly car loadings had increased from 693,533 to 986,475, the number of miles per car per day from 22.4 to 26.9 and the average tonload from 656 to 731 tons.

The department's interest in waterways improvement was outlined by Paul S. Clapp, special assistant to the Secretary, who urged completion of the Mississippi system of waterways at the earliest possible time. He also told of an economic study being made of the St. Lawrence project, and of great strides in the electrification of the country, and in the generation and distribution of power. This was being accomplished, he said, not only with an enormous saving of fuel, but with large increases in productivity, reduction of physical effort and labor, and added comfort in the home.

William M. Stewart, Director of the Census, told how statistics have been put to work to enable the business community to avoid the extremes of the business cycle. The Bureau of Standards had likewise lent a hand to the industrial improvement by waste elimination, Dr. George K. Burgess, its director, pointed out. Ways and means of better utilizing raw materials had been found and the improvement of manufactured articles had been brought about.

In the construction field, where Secretary Hoover has for two years facilitated efforts to reduce seasonal operation through a committee of building leaders, much accomplishment was described by John M. Gries, a divisional chief assigned to assist its progress. "Activity of a large number of contractors on operations throughout the country averaged about a third greater during the three winter months of 1924 than in previous years," Mr. Gries said. "During the past year the total amount of construction reached a value of more than $6,000,000,000, the highest in our history."

This enormous construction program was executed with no marked labor shortage or serious pressure upon the building material, manufacturing, or transportation industries, he said, and prices of most building materials actually decreased.

Ray M. Hudson, chief of the Bureau of Simplified Practice, contributed a series of estimates, as to annual savings made in industry by the reduction in types of articles produced and general standardization. These were said to amount to $1,000,000 in paving brick; $2,400,000 in sheet steel; $1,500,000 in steel reinforcing bars; $5,500,000 in range boilers; $10,000,000 in builders' hardware; and as much as $200,000,000 in lumber.

Julius Klein, Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, described the rise of the farmers co-operatives and the efforts of the department of help eliminate waste in domestic distribution. Henry O'Malley, Commissioner of Fisheries, cited concrete examples of savings in the fishing industry, and A. B. Barber, Director of the National Commerce on Street and Highway Safety, instanced the mounting curve of human material and financial losses due to street and highway accidents as one of the most conspicuous examples of waste in modern American life.

Mr. Hoover urged that Americans residing abroad and engaged in business there be relieved of federal taxation, on the ground that this hindered American trade expansion. He advocated the reduction of fees charged for visas on passports.

A codification of navigation laws, and a transfer from the Treasury to Commerce Department of the work of measuring vessel tonnage were also suggested. He asked that new buildings be provided in Washington for the bureaus of the Commerce Department, and advocated the establishment in permanent legislation of the appropriations for the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

Valiton Returned To Florida Prison Camp

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 4.—(AP)—Walter C. Valiton, who escaped from the state prison at Raiford about two weeks ago, and was later recaptured at Tampa, was returned to the prison farm yesterday, according to a report made this morning to the state prison bureau here.

Valiton was taken back to the penitentiary by O. H. Rogers, state recruiting officer. Valiton who made his get-away from the farm by speeding off in an automobile during a visit of his relatives, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the slaying of a Miami policeman.

Lady Astor Wears Flowers In Season

LONDON, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Lady Astor views the bouquet she always wears according to the season. A glance at the flowers the little American-born member of parliament is wearing in Commons is almost as good as looking at a calendar.

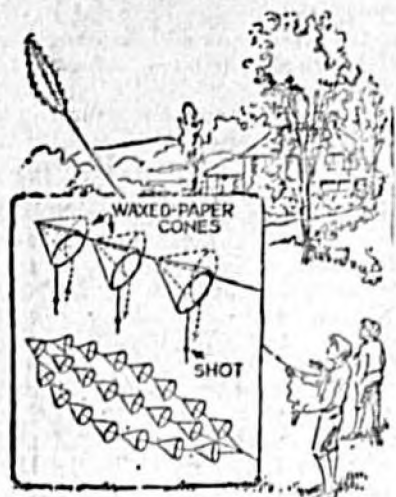

At the opening of Parliament she wore violets. Frost has finished virtually all the outdoor flowers of which she is especially fond, but she only turns to blossoms that grow under glass when her garden no longer will supply her the bit of color which she likes to set off her always simple gown.

What the World Is Doing

As Seen by Popular Mechanics Magazine

Flying a "Drinking-Cup" Kite

Flying kites will always be a popular boys' sport and a distinctly new type of kite, which has been found successful, is shown in the drawing. It is made from ordinary cone drinking cups, a number of which can be purchased for a few cents. The sharp end of the cone allows the kite to climb in the wind while a small lead shot, split and attached to a short length of thread, which is fastened to the rim of each cone as indicated, acts as a tail. Small round split fishing sinkers can be used instead of shot. The cones are strung at intervals along the line and the kite can be fashioned into various shapes, depending on the ingenuity of the builder. The "pull" of the kite increases with the number of cones used. The tow lines are threaded through the point of the cones.

Repairing Galoshes

Rubber galoshes wear out rapidly at the heels and are then usually discarded. It is, however, an easy matter to repair them. Cut two pieces of thin leather, place them over the hole, on both inside and outside, and nail them together securely. Galoshes repaired in this way have lasted several seasons.

In certain parts of Africa, the locusts attain a length of four inches and feed on mice.

What You Should Do When You Cut Your Finger

While cuts usually are not dangerous unless an artery or a vein is severed, they are likely to give considerable trouble if not properly treated, says Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Commissioner of Health, City of Chicago, in a special article. Over 600 persons die in the United States every year from the effects of cutting or piercing instruments, and many of the injuries were not at first considered serious.

Have the wound cleaned. That is the first and one of the most important steps. Always try to get someone to dress the cut for you. The cleansing should be done carefully so that no dirt or other source of infection is left in or introduced into the wound. If the skin is covered with grease or oil, remove this with benzine or alcohol (not wood alcohol). Green soap and water are sufficient in other cases. Rub away from the cut so that foreign matter will not be brushed into it.

The next step is to use an antiseptic. Iodine is good for many wounds. It should be put on with an applicator—a toothpick or a small stick with a bit of gauze twisted around it. Use this as a swab, dipping it into the iodine and gently brushing it over the injury.

Next apply a strip of sterile gauze. Handle the gauze by the ends so that the fingers do not touch the part that is to come in contact with the wound. Lay the piece directly on the cut and then apply the bandage.

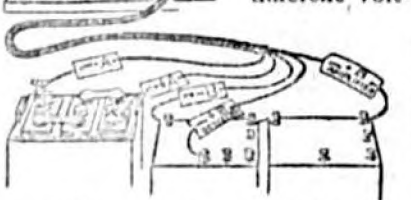

This should be wound firmly but not too tight. With a little practice, you can learn to twist the cloth as you wrap it, so that it will not slip. Split the end for tying or use a cord or sew the bandage. Use no salves or ointments.

If a vein or artery has been severed, call or visit a doctor at once, and in the meantime endeavor to stop the bleeding. This can usually be done with a tourniquet, improvised from a handkerchief and a stick. Fold the opposite corners up and spread them so the cloth will be nearly the same width throughout.

The important point to observe in using a tourniquet is the position of the wound. If an artery has been cut, which is indicated by intermittent spurts of bright-red blood from the wound, the tourniquet should be applied above the wound. When a vein is severed, the blood will flow evenly and will be darker, and the tourniquet is put on below the cut because blood in the veins flows back toward the heart. After tying the handkerchief in the proper position, insert the stick between two folds and turn it until the bleeding stops. Loosen the tourniquet slightly after a few moments to ease the strain and cleanse the wound, but twist it back again quickly.

A battery cable that eliminates the binding posts in the set is now available. Various-colored, flexible insulated leads are incased in a fabric covering, and the battery ends are labeled for the different volt-

The opposite end of the cable terminates in a hard-rubber or composition block, the ends of the wires protruding just beyond this block. Two holes are provided for mounting the unit on the subpanel in the position shown. The battery leads of the circuit are then soldered to the terminals on the block, going away with the usual binding posts in the set.

"MA" RETURNS TO FIND NEW APPEAL FOR EXTRA MEET

Governor Of Texas Is Asked By Stick Raisers To Call Special Legislature; Book Contract Up For Disposal

AUSTIN, Dec. 4.—(AP)—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson was back on the job today after a two-day visit to her home town of Temple to find a new appeal for a special session of the legislature and a $600,000 school book contract threatening to widen the breach between her and Attorney General Ben Moody.

South Texas stock raisers and dairymen in an appeal from Galveston yesterday asked for a special session to appropriate funds to reimburse them for stock killed by federal and state authorities combating the recent foot and mouth plague.

Some of the smaller stock owners were left in "desperate circumstances," it was reported "by failure of the state to pay for cattle killed." It was charged that owners gave up their cattle "through force or presence of Texas rangers." Most Lauds 1925 Team As Greatest He Ever Coached

4.—(P)—The greatest team in fact in the history of the 1901 team is the team that I am making prominent of the 1901 team.

major team in years has made such a remarkable defensive record—and that against the strongest kind of opposition.

“Three of you—Friedman, Oosterbaun and Molenda—are among the five leading point-makers in the Big Ten. Friedman stands first; Oosterbaun is third and Molenda is fifth. Each of you three made more points than ‘Red’ Grange.

“Friedman made 52 points. Oosterbaun made 48; Molenda made 36 and Oosterbaun an end, made 8 touchdowns—one more than anyone else in the Conference.

But it is as a team even more than as individuals, that you boys have excelled. Every man knew his part and did it. In every play, offensively and defensively. In every single game where conditions permitted the playing of football you held your opponents scoreless and in the six games in which there was firm turf under your feet—namely the M. S. C., Indiana, Wisconsin, Navy, Ohio and Minnesota games you made 222 points for an average of 37-points per game. And in each of these games you held your opponents scoreless.”

Coach Jacksonville Signs "Red" Grange For Game On January 2

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 4.—(P)—“Red” Grange and the Chicago “Bears”, professional football players, will meet an aggregation composed for the most part of former and present southern grid stars in a contest here on Jan. 2. It was announced here today by J. S. O'Brien, former Minnesota University player.

The game in Jacksonville is one of a trio of games to be played by the two teams in Florida during the holiday season, the others being scheduled for Miami and Tampa.

Players who will perform, according to O'Brien, the opposition for the “Bears” are “Pup” Phillips, Bill Fincher, Fed Barron and Godwin of Georgia Tech; Cy Williams and Goldstein, the latter an all-Southern conference tackle for the past three years, of Florida; Hek Wakefield, Rives and Gil-Resse of Vanderbilt; Lowe of Tennessee; Thomas of Washington and Lee and Kelly of Montana.

Others, who according to O'Brien have expressed willing to participate in the series are: Ernie Neverson of Stanford; Red Roberts of Centre; Weir of Nebraska; “Pezzy” Flournoy of Tulane and Johnny Marshall of Georgia Tech.

Rollins Eleven Is Training Hard For Coral Gables Game

WINTER PARK, Dec. 4.—(P)—Coach Howard Talyan, of Rollins College football team, is giving the final touches of preparation to his squad before it leaves for Coral Gables, where it will meet the Oglethorpe University eleven in a feature game, marking the opening of the new stadium at Coral Gables on Dec. 5.

The game, which will be played under special permission from the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association, will be a real interest throughout the association for it will mark the first clash between the Oglethorpe Petrels, champions of the S. I. A. A. last year, and the Rollins Tars, youngest of the members of the association.

The Petrels slated for the association title again this year until they were decisively defeated by the Mercer Bears, will bring the strongest lineup of the year to Florida, according to information from their camp in Atlanta.

To offset this, Coach Talman has developed his offense to the highest peak reached this season and has re-inforced his defensive as was shown in the Thanksgiving Day game when the Tars held the strong Howard team, which had a fine record this year, to a lone touch down.

According to Dr. Patterson, 21 mission churches will go into support at this conference, and it is expected that 18 new mission charges will be formed. Besides Dr. Patterson, who is conference missionary secretary, the board of missions is composed of the following clerical members: Reverend A. H. SUPREME COURT GIVES NICKELS ANOTHER TRIAL

Man Twice Convicted and Sentenced To Scaffold Is Given Third Trial By The Highest State Tribunal. TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Dec. 4.—(P)—The state Supreme Court, this morning, reversed the judgment of the Circuit Court of Volusia county in the case of Aurely Nickels, under sentence of death, for an attack upon a white woman at DeLand in 1921. The opinion rendered by Justice Strum, bases the reversal upon the fact that the trial was erred in refusing to admit testimony for the defendant and for the acceptance of other testimony given at the trial by a special physician, who claimed to have examined the alleged victim. The opinion of the higher court, it was stated, will have the effect of reopening the Nickels case. Nickels after his arrest for the alleged attack, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to be hanged. In latter appeal to the court, the execution held that before Nickels must be tried by a jury, guilty, and Nickels was again sentenced to die, with a second appeal to the court ruling.

NEGROES SOUGHT SUSPECTED IN MIAMI MURDERS

A Killing And Assault Are Attributed To Same Ones Who Murdered Miami Grocer A Few Days Ago. MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 4.—(P)—Police, today, are combing the city for two negroes, whom they connect with the killing of one man, and the assault of another, in two separate attacks here last night, and an unsolved murder of several weeks ago. The dead victim of last night's attack was an unidentified man, about 30 years old, who was shot in the temple and killed. The man's assailants apparently fled without searching his person, for he wore two diamond rings and carried other valuables. The sole clues to the man's identity were a laundry mark, "WHI" and a Springfield, Massachusetts label in his suit. George Stonebach, aged laundry watchman, received severe wounds about his head and a possibly fractured skull in an assault earlier last night. The attack was made with a four foot gas pipe in the laundry plant, in which the man is employed, during an interval while city lights were out. He was not rebbed. Police assert these crimes, with the killing of George Arran, Syrian grocer, who was found dead in his store in North Miami, are very similar in all important characteristics.

Schafer Drops Cue Crown To Horemans

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—(P)—Edward Horemans, Belgian master of the billiard cue, is the world's champion at 18.2 balk line billiards. He won the title from young Jake Schaefer, 1500 to 1495, despite a record setting run of 422 made by the former champion in his desperate effort to retain the crown. The final night's score was: Schaefer 582, Horemans 500. Play of 500 point nightly blocks began Monday.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist, Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (adv)

New Invention Saves Millions

A Lamp That Burns 91 Per Cent Air. A new oil lamp that gives an amazing brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to any ordinary oil lamp. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no humming up, is simple, clean, safe, burns 91 per cent air and 9 per cent common kerosene (cond oil). The inventor, P. K. Johnson, 642 N. Broad St., Philadelphia, is offering to send a lamp on 10 day's FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $300 per month. NOTICE TO PAYING CONTRACTORS. Did You Ever Think of This?

DID YOU EVER THINK of the amount of actual work now under construction in the Greater Miami district and which must be finished, with the incident payroll? DID YOU EVER THINK of the additional amount of work necessary to be accomplished in the enlarging of Miami, in its improvements alone, incident to the expenditure of the proposed $15,000,000 bond issue of the city over the new Greater Miami district.

Did You Ever Think of This?

DID YOU EVER THINK of the payrolls incident to the various building supply houses, lumber yards, plumbing establishments and all enterprises that enter into the development, improvement and building program? DID YOU EVER THINK how much of a building program would be necessary simply to comfortably house the great throng now here in the Greater Miami district? Have you ever thought how these definite, positive and already necessary enterprises will bring about a continuation of the present prosperity of the Greater Miami district if there were to be no additional building or improvement projects from now on—or if the population of Miami were to stand still?

But this is Not the Case!

Incoming throngs are headed Miami-ward. Otherwise analytical managers of transportation lines, both rail and steamship, would not be adding so extensively to their equipment as they are doing. And so MIAMI SHORES now realizes more than ever the imperative need of Miami Shores as a very definite part of all this program of expansion... and as this program is carried out in Miami Shores as well as in the city of Miami (although in Miami Shores it is included in the purchase price with the improvements all installed and paid for by the Shoreland Company) it will inevitably bring about assured and definite profits and unusually stable values.

"Kansas City grew from nothing to a population of 250,000 within a space of fifty years. Her fibers is exceptionally firm and her prosperity, having been built upon the land, is sound."—"Abroad at Home."

WHEN KANSAS CITY WAS WEST PORT LANDING

Think of the Kansas City of today! With its great population; its thriving commercial and industrial enterprises, and its fame spreading to the four corners of the earth, it hardly seems possible that it was just fifty-four years ago when it was a little, muddy river landing called "West Port."

Today Kansas City is the 19th municipality in the United States.

Why this remarkable growth?

For hundreds of miles around Kansas City there is a rich farming belt. The city is strategically located as to transportation. Farmers had to be served—the banks, the merchants, all businesses of this rich agricultural country prospered. When the suburban development at Kansas City, known as Sunset Hills was opened, a few years ago, even old residents thought it was a wild and foolish speculation.

Ask your neighbor from Kansas what he knows about Sunset Hills. Plant City has prepared the way. It is a complete city—it is modern in every sense—progressive and prosperous. There are banks, retail establishments of every nature, fine schools and churches. All of which is known for the convenience of modern living.

Plant City—as Kansas City—surrounded by the richest of farming lands—is bound to grow. It's bound to keep on growing!

Those whose vision penetrates the future reap the profits of tomorrow.
