$100,000 CHECKS LOANED TO FALL WERE NOT CASHED SAYS E. B. McLEAN

Former Secretary Said to Have Made Arrangements to Get the Money Elsewhere

By The Associated Press PALM BEACH, Jan. 12.—E. B. McLean, Washington newspaper publisher, loaned former Secretary A. B. Fall, $100,000 but the checks for this amount were subsequently returned uncashed with the statement that the former interior secretary had arranged to secure the funds elsewhere, Mr. McLean told Senator Walsh, of the senate tax panel investigating committee Friday, according to a letter addressed to Mr. Fall by Mr. Walsh and made public by the latter.

Mr. Walsh came here to question Mr. McLean concerning the trans- action. He held a private meeting with the publisher Friday afternoon, at the close of which he made public a letter addressed to Mr. Fall, who is also in Palm Beach.

Letter to Fall The letter was addressed to Mr. Fall at Palm Beach, where he is now staying as a guest of Mr. McLean. It stated:

"I have the honor to advise you that I have just taken the testimony of Edward B. McLean pursuant to the authority and direction on the committee on public lands and surveys of the United States senate, in the course of which Mr. Mc-Lean stated in substance, 'that while he agreed to loan you $100, 000 as stated in your letter to the chairman and members of the committee of date of December 28, 1923, and gave you his checks, two or three in number, for that amount and received from you your note for the same sum a few days thereafter, toward the close of the year 1921, you returned to him the checks which had not passed through the banks or been otherwise cashed and that he thereupon surrendered to you the note referred to, you stating in that connection that you had arranged to secure funds elsewhere.

"I shall be glad to take for the information of the committee, any further statement in respect to the matter you may care to make, either orally, before me at your convenience, at any time or in the shape of a letter to the committee,
if you prefer to take that course.

Letter to Walsh The letter from Mr. Fall to Mr. Walsh follows:

"I am in receipt of your communication of the 11th inst., advising me that after the taking of Mr.
McLean's deposition today you are ready, under the authority granted you by the committee, to take any statement that I might desire to make or to accept from me any subsequent written statement from me to the committee.

"I desire to advise you that I have carefully read the testimony of E. B. McLean given today and that I concur in the accuracy of same. I will also say that before giving his testimony Mr. McLean had a conference with me and I told him that so far as I was concerned, it was my wish that he ac-swer freely, and in this connection,
I will say that it is absolutely true
that I did not finally use the money loaned by Mr. McLean which he expressed himself willing to loan to me because I found that I could not obtain it from other sources. I wish it thoroughly understood that the source from which I obtained
the money which I used in no way connected with Mr. Sinclair or in any way involved in any connection regarding the Teapot Dome
or any oil concession.

"Further than this, I would not care to state the present time, inasmuch as I am not in any way
like the physical condition to stand the ordeal of an examination. It may be, though, that I will desire to amplify this statement to you for the committee at a later date.

SIMMONS EXPELLED FROM KU KLUX BY IMPERIAL KOURT

Both Simmons and Clarke Banished For Opposition

ATLANTA, Jan. 12.—William Joseph Simmons, founder and em- peror of the Ku Klux Klan, and Ed- ward Young Clarke, at one time acting imperial wizard of the or- ganization, have been banished from the Klan for their active op- position to the regime headed by Dr. H. W. Evans, imperial wizard. It was announced here Friday in Klan circles.

In a statement issued here
Clarke declared he was surprised at the development, declaring that
"the attempt was made because Evans and his associates are deperate and realize it is only for a short time they will be able to hold the reins of the organization and trample in the dust all the foundation principles and ideas of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan.

He declared that neither Dr.
Evans nor the imperial Klondike nor the body of dragons has the legal right to banish either himself or Emperor Simmons, and asserted that the "real reason for the attempted banishment" was an effort to stop the gathering of Klans men at the national congress which he has called to meet in Atlanta
February 28.

Will Appeal The Klan official said he would make a "regular formal appeal against the banishment through the regular courts of the order and then to civil courts of the state if it becomes necessary.

Officials at the imperial palace
declined to comment on the reported expulsions, but confirmation of the reports here came from persons closely associated with Evans. It was stated that the banishment was made after grand dragons representing every state in the Union had met in Washington two days ago and signed charges against the two officials.

A copy of these charges was in the hands of Mr. Clarke early today. The accusations are said to be lengthy, but the former acting imperial wizard would not make them public, declaring that "they were now in the hands of my attorney."

He is said to have admitted that the papers were served on him
early today. The order, it is understood, charged him with activity attempting to disrupt the organization, and "allying himself with enemies of the order and bringing it into disrepute."

Charges Countermevment The banishment, it was stated, was a countermevment on the part of Dr. Evans and his adminis- tration to the fight waged against him by the Simmons faction which remained loyal to the late imperial wizard Mr. Clarke directed a letter to President Coolidge, asking that steps be taken to reform a certain "element" in the organization or else that it be disbanded.

It is understood, it was charged that Mr. Clarke's letter to the president
"constitutes treason" in that it was an attempt to "disband and break up the order and bring it into disrepute."

Members of the Simmons faction stated today that the imperial headquarters of the Klan had been moved from here to Washington.
This was denied by imperial officials here and those representing the order in the nation's capital.

CIRCUIT COURT IS CLOSED SATURDAY AFTER SUCCESSFUL FIVE DAY SESSION

Frank Goodman Sentenced to Be Electrocuted—First Sentence Under Recent Law

After sentence had been passed in 13 cases by Circuit Judge J. J.
Dickinson and the minutes of the court had been signed and a jury list drawn for the spring term the circuit court, which has been in session here since Tuesday, adjourned Saturday morning.

Officials of the court feel that it has been one of the most successful sessions that has been held for some time. The orderly work which the court disposed of in the docket after it had gotten away to a late start, was noticeable.

Court convened on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and immediately a grand jury was summoned and went into session to consider the various cases. At noon Tuesday the grand jury made its report and sent in its presentment which was accepted and then that body was discharged.

The case of Frank Goodman
charged with first degree murder
occupied the court's attention throughout the afternoon and until 10 o'clock Thursday night when a verdict of guilty was rendered by the jury.

When court opened Saturday morning sentence was passed on 13 defendants who had been found guilty. They were as follows:

Jessie McBride was sentenced to 10 years at the state prison farm for breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony.

Will Henry was sentenced to 10 years at the state prison farm at Raiford for breaking and entering
with intent to commit a felony.

Sylvester Davis received a similar sentence for the same offense
as did Joe Scott and Edward Frazier. Frazier was convicted of two charges of breaking and entering
with intent to commit a felony.

For his second offense he drew a sentence of one day in addition to his 10 year sentence for the first offense.

The above prisoners composed a ring of robbers who recently broke into several Sanford stores and residence and who were rounded up and brought to justice through the good work of the local police department and sheriff's office.

James Billings was sentenced to five years in the state prison farm
for the same offense.

Robert Wilson convicted of robbery and going armed with dangerous weapons, was sentenced to three years in prison.

James Williams convicted of receiving stolen goods was sentenced to five years in prison.

Henrietta Paul drew a prison sentence of two years for manslaughter.

Frank Goodman convicted of first degree murder was sentenced to death by electrocution by the court.

Robert Menon convicted of reckless shooting into a house drew a fine of $100 or two months in the state prison.

CITY'S $920,000 BOND ISSUE IS CARRIED BY OVERWHELMING MAJORITY FRIDAY'S ELECTION

GRAND JURY GIVES PRESENTMENT TO JUDGE DICKINSON

Reports That Railroad Crossings Are in Bad Condition; Com- mends Work of County Officials

Calling attention of the Board of county commissioners to the fact that there are a number of railroad crossings on the public roads of Seminole county which are badly in need of repair and commending the efficient work of the various county officers were among the statements incorporated in the presentment of the grand jury to circuit Judge J. J. Dickinson, made public Saturday.

The report of the grand jury as delivered on Thursday is as follows:

To the Honorable J. J. Dickinson, Judge of the Circuit Court of the Seventh Judicial Circuit of Florida
in and for Seminole County:

We, the Grand Jury, empaneled
for the Fall Term, A. D. 1924, beg to make our general presentments
as follows:

We have given most careful attention and consideration to all matters coming before us; we have found indictments in all cases where the evidence in our judgment warranted the finding of the same, bearing in mind at all times
our oath of office as Grand Jurors.

We have carefully investigated
all the County Institutions, to-wit:
the County Court House, the County Jail and the County Home.

We find the Court House to be in excellent condition with the exception of the toilet facilities, and we do recommend to the County Commissioners that they at once provide adequate toilet facilities for the Court House, making arrangements for both the white and colored.

In this connection we would say that the Board of County Commissioners appeared before the Grand Jury in a body, and have promised that within their jurisdiction, that this will be done as soon as possible.

We also call attention to the fact that the plastering in the former Grand Jury room is not in the best of repair and should be repaired at once.

We find, upon investigation, that at the county home there is one patient in the home who is suffering with tuberculosis; we recommend that the home be provided with adequate toilet facilities for protection of the inmates from infectious diseases, so that one suffering with any contagious or infectious disease may be segregated
from other inmates of the home.

We also find that the county home needs and should have an adequate water supply system, and arrangements made for the purchase of water at proper intervals.

We also find that the cook stove at the County Home is entirely inadequate for the number of inmates that are residing there at this time and we recommend the purchase of a larger cook stove at once.

With the exception of the several

450 Votes Are Polled With Only 14 Cast Un- animously Against Four Projects; Water Works Project Is Carried by Largest Majority With 96.5 Per Cent; City Hall Is Carried by 80 Per Cent

WOMEN CAST 30 PER CENT VOTES POLLED

Election Is Carried by Even Larger Majority Than Was Originally Predicted! Threatening Weather Was Reason A Large Vote Was Not Polled; Commissioners Are Elated With Results of Election and Assurance Is Given That Immediate Steps Will Be Taken to Have Bonds Advertised For Sale

Surpassing the most optimistic predictions the $920,000 bond issue which Sanford voters passed upon Friday, was carried by an overwhelming majority. The water works carried by 96.5 per cent majority; the electric light plant by 95.5 per cent majority; the gas plant project by 95 per cent majority, and the city hall by 80 per cent majority.

A total of 450 votes were cast approximately 30 per cent of which were cast by women. There were 316 votes polled in the ballot box for freeholders and 135 in the box for non-freeholders. Two votes were thrown out as mutilated votes. There were only 14 votes cast that were unanimously against all four projects.

For the water works the vote was recorded as follows: Freeholders (for) 303; freeholders (against) 14; non-freeholders (for) 127;
non-freeholders (against) 1. Total number in favor 430 and total number against 15.

For the electric light plant:
Freeholders (for) 302; freeholders
(against) 17; non-freeholders
(for) 123; non-freeholders (against) 2. Total number in favor 425 and 10 against.

For the gas plant: Freeholders
(for) 297; freeholders (against)
18; non-freeholders (for) 124;
non-freeholders (against) 3. Total number in favor 421 and total
against 21.

For the city hall: Freeholders
(for) 250; freeholders (against)
58; non-freeholders (for) 111;
non-freeholders (against) 16. Total
number in favor 370 and total
against 74.

Although there were only 450
votes cast when there were 813
voters qualified to vote, this is considered by many to be a high percentage inasmuch as previous bond elections sometimes have been participated in by but few over 100 voters. Strong supporters of the bond issue were elated over what they termed the splendid support given and the unusual interest taken in the issue. They also point to the fact that had not the weather been so threatening there would have been a still heavier vote polled.

It was also stated that there were many others who were in favor of the election but felt that it was going to carry by such a large margin that it didn't make much difference whether they cast their vote.

The great amount of interest in the election taken by the women of Sanford was a source of a great deal of satisfaction in the ranks of the supporters of the big issue.
Another gratifying aspect of the election was that there were only 14 votes that were cast that were unanimously against all four projects.

Those who were in charge of the ballot boxes and in charge of the counting of the votes Friday night
were: S. C. Rines, R. C. Maxwell and C. G. Woodruff, inspectors and David Speer, clerk. City Clerk L.

W. E. Farley Makes Second Talk Here To The Merchants

W. E. Farley, who spoke to the Chamber of Commerce at its weekly luncheon Friday at the Valdez Hotel, made another talk Friday night at 8 o'clock to a large group of merchants and salesmen in the Ford salesroom of Higgins Garage.

Mr. Farley's second talk was an elaboration of his talk which he made at the luncheon and aided by the use of charts which he exhibited to prove his statements, he made an interesting talk which was greatly enjoyed by those present.
The meeting was attended by about 60 business men of this city.

Among other things, Mr. Farley urged the organization in Sanford
of a retail division of the Chamber of Commerce. This organization, he pointed out, would greatly help in solving some of the problems that confront the business men of this city.

Salesmanship, he stated is composed of three elements: Approach, argument and closing.
Many sales are lost because clerks are not acquainted with the value of all three requisites to good sales-manship ability.

Mr. Farley interspersed his remarks with witty and humorous stories which served to keep his listeners in the best of spirits. He concluded his remarks with the statement that he had been favorably impressed with Sanford and with the kind hospitality that had been extended him during his short visit here.

Mr. Farley left Saturday morning for St. Augustine where he is scheduled to give his address on
"Do you work for your clerks or do they work for you?"

SAY BULRUSHES CONTAIN SUGAR

MUNICH, Jan. 11.—German and Austrian scientists have come forward with the statement that bulrushes, and certain other kinds of water grasses and reeds, contain sugar, and possibly in sufficient quantity for commercial use. A content in some cases as high as 20 percent is mentioned. Plans are in hand to start a factory.

FLORIDA RAISES VOLUSIA FAIR 95 PER CENT OF THE GRAPEFRUIT

Porto Rico Raises Remaining Five Per Cent While California's Output Is Almost Negligible.

TAMPA, Jan. 11.—(Special.) Florida's pre-eminence in grapefruit culture, and her importance as an orange producing state, are convincingly set forth in a citrus statistical review for 1923, compiled by the Florida Citrus Exchange and announced Saturday by its business manager, C. E. Stewart.

The exchange's records show that of all grapefruit sold in United States and Canadian markets the past year, Florida produced 94.9 per cent. Porto Rico supplies were 5.1 per cent of the total consumed, while California's contribution was so small as to be considered negligible in this comparison. Including lemons (which Florida not grow in commercial quantities) in the compilation of figures on the country's citrus consumption, the exchange's review shows the state produced 42.8 per cent of all citrus fruit sold in United States and Canadian markets last year. California's share was 55 per cent, and Porto Rico furnished the remaining 2.2 per cent. California's orange crop was 62.4 per cent of the total volume consumed by the American public. Florida's 31.2 per cent, and Porto Rico's 1.6 per cent. All lemons marketed in commercial quantities came from California.

The total volume of all oranges, grapefruit and lemons sold in Florida, California and Porto Rico in this country, last year, is shown to be 40,205,561 boxes. Of this, 29,379,912 boxes or 73 per cent were oranges, 7,599,329 boxes or 19 per cent were grapefruit, and 3,226,320 boxes or 8 per cent were lemons. Estimating the country's population to be 120,000,000, the average per capita consumption of citrus fruit the past year was just about one-third box, including oranges, grapefruit and lemons.

CONGREGATIONAL MEN'S CLUB MEETING.

The Men's Club of the Congregational Church had one of their largest attendances Thursday evening when almost 50 men turned out. Four new members were taken up.

Mr. Harris of Enslits, who was to speak on fungus diseases did not show up, and while the men were disappointed in not having him the evening was very pleasantly spent.

The men have something up their sleeve for the coming spring and big times are assured.

Next meeting will be a social stag party at Mr. Kent's home.

AT THE MILANE

"The Sign of the Rose" What is the meaning of the title of George Behan's new picture of that name which comes to the Milane Theatre Friday.

Often titles are found not to mean a great deal after a photograph has been seen. Frequently they are discovered to be more attractive than the picture they describe. So when the picture they express the spirit of a picture or cover the span of its plot. It is refreshing to discover one that does all this.

"The Sign of the Rose," in the first place, was written by George Behan, who also supervised every detail of the production. The story concerns a humble Italian who enters a flower shop in quest of just one rose for his little daughter.

Waiting in the shop is a wealthy woman who has received an anonymous letter demanding that she appear at this rendezvous with a large sum of money which she is to hand without question to a man wearing a rose. In return she will be taken to her child who is held for ransom by kidnapers. Sharing her vigil is a detective eager to apprehend the criminal.

DELAND, Jan. 10.—The Volusia county fair grounds, adjacent to the A. C. station in Deland, is almost entirely completed, at a cost of approximately $40,000, and only minor details of construction work remain to be finished in time for the first Volusia county fair, to be held Jan. 22 to 26, inclusive.

The fair plant consists of six major display buildings erected on a 50-acre tract which a few months ago was wooded. An imposing arch of Moorish design and stucco construction marks the entrance to the fair grounds. The largest display structure is the automobile building, containing more than 15,000 square feet of display space and believed to be the largest auto exhibit building in the state.

Wednesday, Jan. 24, has been set aside as Seminole county day and farmers' and fruit growers' day at the fair. Residents of Seminole county have displayed a keen interest in the preparation for the annual fair of the neighboring county, and many Seminole products will be entered in competition with the products of other counties at the showing, and agriculturalists of that county expect to capture many prizes.

Whether the other two utility plants will be erected or purchased from the Southern Utilities Company, has not been decided. However, it is felt that the main question to be settled in regards to the three is the water works and with that in mind the City Commission is devoting its main attention to getting that project started.

BODWELL SEEKS A PROPER NAME FOR SUBDIVISION

The sum of $25 will be given to the one who offers the most appropriate name for the property recently purchased by Harry T. Bodwell and known as the Pace Acres, according to an announcement made Friday by Mr. Bodwell.

Elsewhere in this paper will be found a blank which may be filled out with the person's name and the name that he offers for the beautiful property east of this city, which according to Mr. Bodwell will be opened shortly as Sanford's latest subdivision. The opportunity to pick an appropriate name for this subdivision will continue up to and including Jan. 15.

All suggestions are to be mailed to Mr. Bodwell or left at his office on Magnolia Avenue, and he will pass upon them personally and the name which he thinks the most fitting will receive the award. The winning name along with the name of the one who suggested it will be announced after the close of the contest, said Mr. Bodwell.

There are no strings attached to the offer made by Mr. Bodwell and he only asks that while selecting a name for the subdivision, please bear in mind the following things in reference to the property and offer a name that will be fitting according to these suggestions:

- 1. A name which will be pleasing to the people of Sanford.
- 2. One which, in part or whole, may later come to apply to the entire eastern section of the city.
- 3. A brief name—easily pronounced and easily remembered.

DECLARE HAINES IN FAVOR CROSS STATE HIGHWAY

A Canal Across The Glades Is Suggestion of Candidate For Governor of Florida.

A real canal is needed across Florida, and that means a ship canal, is the idea of Charles D. Haines, candidate for governor, has foremost in mind as he tours the southern part of the state trying to convince the citizens that this is the greatest way to make Florida grow.

"It is not a local project," he tells the people of Fort Myers, where the canal is to have its beginning, "but one in which the state must take an active part. That is, the people of the entire state must be made to realize it is something that will mean the rebuilding of the state as no other possible project could. The state still owns 2,000,000 acres of the Everglades. A canal with drainage would make those state lands worth $200 or more an acre, and with a ship canal, the taxpayers would be the gainers, with their gain several times more than the value of the lands."

Can Feed 10,000,000
"With 2,000,000 or 3,000,000 million acres of the Everglades put into early vegetables, garden truck, etc., we can, with cheap water transportation, feed 10,000,000. Ships laden with our choice products will sail the Atlantic to the northern ports, and smaller craft and barges will go out into the gulf and up the Mississippi through the middle states to Chicago, then into the Great Lakes, and thus Florida could supply the necessities of life to three-fourths of our national population, at lower prices than have been possible before, thus proving a blessing to the people and giving our producers satisfactory profit. Not only that, but it would bring thousands into the state to make their homes."

Haines' vision goes still further, because he sees, finally, the deepening of the St. Johns river and its extension to Lake Okechobee.

UPSALA AND GRAPEVILLE

Rev. Wahlberg, the Baptist preacher from Groveland, will preach next Sunday morning in the Swedish language and in the English for the evening service, at the Lutheran church.

Rev. Albertson and wife came over Friday from DeLand, spending the night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ballinger. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Collier of Sanford and Ed. Cramer from New York state were evening callers there. It will be remembered that Mr. Cramer, the brother of Mrs. Collier, spent the winter here in Sanford once before. This time he is not very well. Mr. and Mrs. Noah Fry, Mrs. Deuston, Misses Enrico and Elinor Tyrner and Emil Magnusson came from Windemere late Sunday to bring home, Elinor, who has been visiting there at her aunt's for a week.

Mrs. Westerdick spent the day, Tuesday, with her daughter, Mrs. Barney Beck.
Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lundquist and family spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. J. F. Lundquist and her brother, A. H. Lundquist.
On account of the cold Sunday and the lack of a stove at the church only the Sunday School session was held, though we had two or more teachers. Rev. Clark led the Bible class. A friend kindly took him to Sorrento, in a closed car, later bringing him to Upsala and home.
Rev. Albertson only held a morning service.
C. M. Yearby was among those at Sunday School.

Boston Steel of Bearall Avenue has the largest acreage of any one near here, of strawberries. Besides those on his own place he has an acre on the Jones farm. They are picking fine fruit and finding a ready sale for them. Strawberries are a new venture here for marketing. F. F. Dutton had several acres here last year, that were the first of any amount grown.

Mr. Steele has his fields all neatly-strawed to protect them from the cold.

Two cars of fine celery left Moor's Station on Tuesday, cut from the Joe Cameron farms. Mr. Potter cut a car of Escarole and Chase & Co. bought a car of very fine cabbage from the F. F. Dutton farm. A large amount of celery is used in bleaching paper and the harvesting of it will begin on a large scale shortly.

The recent cold snap did very little damage. The wind whipped young tender growth to some extent but it will outgrow this in a few days. Those having pepper seed beds worked over time, reinforcing the seed bed covers.

Mr. Ward and family, who lived on the boulevard, have removed to Miss.

Many car loads of celery will soon move from this section. Many farmers have boarded their celery and much will go under the bleaching paper within next two weeks. A fine grade of celery is found all through this section. The Spring pepper plants are looking thrifty also egg plants.

FUTCH MANAGER JENNINGS' RAC FOR GOV. FLORIDA

Hon. T. G. Futch Predicts Victory For His Candidate—Jennings Running On His Own Merits.

LEESBURG, Fla., Jan. 11 (Special).—In an interview this afternoon, Hon. T. G. Futch, of this city, confirmed the report that he will manage the campaign of Frank Jennings, candidate for governor.

Assurances of a light contest on a high plane were given by Futch, former member of the legislature from Lake county and present state's attorney for Sixteenth Judicial Circuit.

"In accepting the management of the Jennings' campaign, I am prompted by the opportunity afforded in giving Florida a capable, constructive and efficient administration," Mr. Futch said.

"I know Mr. Jennings intimately—know him to be clean, honest and sincere. It was my privilege to serve with him in the 1921 session of the Florida legislature. I found him fair but first-class speaker of the lower house, able in his work as a member."

"Mr. Jennings is progressive but not wasteful, competent but not presumptuous; aggressive but not noisy. His ability to make his own manifest to those who come in contact with him does not require effort on his part to make it impressive."

"The attitude of Mr. Jennings on all important issues has been certain and definite to the point that no person has ever been able to a loss to know his position. He has always been on the right side of every moral issue. In accepting the duties of the office the governor he will not be controlled by any special interest."

Is Woman Man's Mental Equal?

Yes! - says GENE STRATTON-PORTER No! - says Signora GINA LOMBROSO

Famous American Novelist Challenges Italian Woman Scientist's Assertion That the Solution of Woman's Rights Question Is to Appeal to Man's Chivalry.

"Catch 'Em When They're Young and Make 'Em Be Good," is Mrs. Porter's Advice.

GENE STRATTON-PORTER

Dr. GINA LOMBROSO

"It is only by modifying man's habits and appealing to his chivalry that woman's condition can be bettered. * * * Woman is an alterocentrist; she lives for others. Man is an egocentrist; he makes himself and his pleasures and activities the center of the world in which he lives. Woman is submissive because at heart it does not displease her to obey a man. When man is obliged to help woman and care for her, his best instincts are developed."

—Signora Gina Lombroso.

attention, and as men they have been in a position that enabled them to take and to keep the reins of leadership in civics, politics and business," says Mrs. Porter.

"Shirking parental responsibility is the primal cause of much marital unhappiness, divorce and 'man's inhumanity to woman.' Men must realize that their children are entitled to more personal attention than their business associates or their car; and women must devote more time to their offspring than they do to bridge or social scandal."

Take care of the present generation, and the next generation will take care of itself."

—Gene Stratton-Porter

defeated woman suffrage in France and is now causing a lot of discussion in America. Dr. Lombroso defends the "old fashioned woman" as the truest and best feminine type, basing her argument upon pure reason and not sentiment.

"There is no man denying it; woman is not man's equal," asserts this eminent female scientist.

"Aside from physical and intellectual differences between man and woman, there is another which overshadows and stamps them all. Woman is an alterocentrist; that is to say, she centers her feelings, her ambitions, in something that is outside of herself. She lives for others, and the flame which burns within her goes out if there is no one to help her keep it alive."

"Man, on the other hand, is an egocentrist; that is to say, he makes himself and his pleasures and activities the center of the world in which he lives. Therefore, man is the natural and inevitable leader, and woman as his complement, his self-sacrificing and dependent helper."

Dr. Lombroso concludes her diagnosis of the sex problem by asserting that it is a mistake for suffragists to proclaim that woman is an independent creature, having no need of man's advice and counsel, summing up her conclusion in these words:

"Woman is submissive because at heart it does not displease her to obey a man—if she happens to like him. When man is obliged to help woman and care for her, his best instincts are developed."

Doubtless a great many more or less intelligent males will rise up and call Dr. Lombroso blessed; while an equally large number of brave feminists will wield the bludgeon of invective with telling effect on this outspoken, if rash, female deliverer into sex psychology.

While not a rabid feminist nor yet posing as a learned scientist, Gene Stratton-Porter is a deep student of human nature, and her opinion will carry more weight with the American public than the militant suffragette or the metaphysical scientist of whatever eminence. Writers with the tremendous following that Gene Stratton-Porter has, wield a powerful influence in the molding of the opinion of American women on social problems. Any novelist who has a reading public of 50,000,000, as Mrs. Porter has, is to be reckoned with. The secret of her great popularity undoubtedly lies in her ability to touch a responsive chord in the hearts and minds of her readers, and the melody she evokes from the human instrument rings as true as the folk lore that is the basis of all national music. It is an appeal to the fundamental sincerity that lies in the heart of humanity.

By JOSEPH O'SULLIVAN

Will the next Great War be The Battle of the Sexes?

Is the antagonism which is being constantly fostered by the antagonists of various movements now extant, merely a reflex of the unsettled condition of the world in general, or an antipathy that has a logical reason for being or, account of centuries of oppression of the "weaker sex" by the hitherto dominant male?

Is woman man's mental equal? If not, will she ever be?

These are questions which have kept the present generation in a perpetual state of ferment. Have disrupted homes. Have filled the divorce courts.

What is the solution, if any?

Shall we go back to the spurious chivalry of the Middle Ages, so delightfully satirized by Cervantes in "Don Quixote," or even to the mid-Victorian period of Lavender and Old Lace; or shall we progress to a fairer equation of the sexes without becoming involved in a cataclysm of social revolution?

Dr. Gina Lombroso, daughter of the great Italian criminologist and wife of Guglielmo Ferraro, noted historian, and herself a scientist of note, asserts that woman is not man's equal, that she never will be, and that it is only by "modifying man's habits and appealing to his chivalry that woman's condition can be bettered."

Gene Stratton-Porter, noted American author, whose books have sold more than ten million copies to date, does not agree with Dr. Lombroso.

"Woman is not only man's mental equal in whatever field she has competed with him, but she has demonstrated her superiority in many vocations hitherto monopolized by him," says Mrs. Porter.

"However, it is not a question of woman's ability, but the readjustment of the relationship that has existed between man and woman for centuries, that is involved. Men and women both must meet these changed conditions fairly and without prejudice, without laying down any arbitrary restrictions for either sex, co-operating for the benefit of the family unit, which is the basis of the social structure."

Who is right? Gene Stratton-Porter, American novelist, who plays upon the heartstrings of her public with the unerring artistry of a master-craftswoman; whose great popularity undoubtedly lies in her ability to touch a responsive chord in the hearts and minds of millions of her readers; or Dr. Gina Lombroso, daughter of a renowned criminologist, descendant of a brilliant race, dissector of the human mind and soul-analyst extraordinary?

The reasons given for the remarkable and retrogressive conclusion arrived at by Dr. Lombroso are found in her book called "The Soul of Woman," which is said to have fore, man is the natural and inevitable leader, and woman as his complement, his self-sacrificing and dependent helper."

Dr. Lombroso concludes her diagnosis of the sex problem by asserting that it is a mistake for suffragists to proclaim that woman is an independent creature, having no need of man's advice and counsel, summing up her conclusion in these words:

AN ENGLISH HOUSE OF DISTINCTIVE CHARACTER
For those who prefer something different, a house of distinction; here is a design that will command attention. A house of which one can say—"It has really been designed, and is true to form." It is not gaudy or creakish but it is full of strong character, at the same time, in excellent taste. It is a pure English cottage type with a very unusual chimney and a most attractive entrance. These two features are well placed and properly balanced with plain stucco walls. The steep pitched roof is thoroughly English. Too many of the so-called English houses in this country have roofs that lack character due to the pitch not being steep enough.
The exterior walls are built of hollow tile and stuccoed, with occasional brick and stone trimmings. The plaid chimney top is alternate squares of brick and stucco. The roof is slate. All timber work is solid stucco, with antique hand-adzed finish. Windows are of the casement type.
The first floor plan provides a small entrance vestibule with toilet and coat room adjoining. This vestibule has a tile floor and is two steps below the living room, allowing the entrance door to be placed on level with the grade, adding to the exterior appearance.
The main stairs go up from the living room, with steps from the kitchen to the landing. A dining alcove is provided off the kitchen.
Three bedrooms and a bath are found on the second floor while a servants' room, a bath and generous storage space are provided on the third floor.
Cost about $9,900.
Complete working plans and specifications of this house may be obtained for a nominal sum from the Building Editor. Refer to House A-100.

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS

No. 11
The period for filing income tax returns for the calendar year 1923 ends at midnight of March 15, 1924. Heavy penalties are provided by the revenue act for persons who fail or "willfully refuse" to make a return or pay the tax on time.

For failure to make a return a taxpayer becomes liable to a penalty of $1,000, and a further penalty of 25 per cent of the amount of the tax, unless a later return is filed and it is satisfactorily shown that the delinquency was due to a reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.

For willful refusal to make a return or pay the tax on time a taxpayer becomes liable to a penalty of $10,000 or one year's imprisonment, or both, together with the cost of prosecution, and an added penalty of 25 per cent of the amount of the tax.

If in an income tax return attempt is made to evade or defeat the tax, the offender is liable to imprisonment not exceeding one year and to a fine of not more than $10,000 and costs, and, in addition, 50 per cent of the total tax evaded. If the understatement is due to negligence but without attempt to defraud, there is added 5 per cent of the total amount of the deficiency plus interest at the rate of 1 per cent a month until paid.

For Constipation

Black-Draught Recommended by an Arkansas Farmer Who Has Used It, When Needed, for 25 Years

Hatfield, Ark.—Mr. G. W. Parsons, a well known farmer on Route 1, this place, says: "I keep Black-Draught in my home all the time. It is the best all-around medicine I have ever found for the liver and for constipation. We began using it 25 or more years ago and have used it whenever needed since. I have never found any other medicine as good for constipation, and that was what I suffered with till I began using Black-Draught. Black-Draught corrected this condition, and now we use it for the liver and for indigestion—a light and sluggish feeling after meals, for bad taste in the mouth and sour stomach.

"My wife uses it for headache and biliousness. It acts on our shell and we don't let it get out. It has been a great help to us. I believe a great deal of sickness is caused by hurried eating and constipation, and Black-Draught, if taken right, will correct this condition."

BE LOYAL.

Be loyal to God and your country.
 To your innermost self be true,
 But don't forget there's another
 debt.
 To the Boss be loyal too!

He has paid for your time and
 your labors.
 You have given your promise to
 work;
 It's up to you to be honest, true,
 And it's hardly the square thing
 to shirk.

It is easy to knock down the minutes,
 To clip off an hour here and
 there,
 And none may know you are doing
 so,
 But ask yourself now, is it fair?

He has taken you on as his servant.
 Stenographer, bookkeeper, clerk
 He expects from you what you're paid to do—
 To be loyal to him and to work.

Would you cheat playing cards,
 dice, or checkers,
 Deceive any man in a game;
 In a moment rash steal jewels or cash
 And think you were never to blame?

Most certainly not! You'd assure us
 You're honest, you'd proudly
 say;
 Yet men like you who boast proudly to
 Will do down the boss every day.

It's cowardly, despicable, yellow;
 And a man is a thief no matter
 Who would steal or rob when upon
 the job,
 And boast of his faithfulness.

So be loyal to God and your country,
 To your innermost self be true,
 But don't forget there's another
 debt.
 To the Boss be loyal too!
 —Edmund Leamy.

Another Progressive Step

In registering approval of the bond issue yesterday Sanford citizens have shown their determination to make this city continue its rapid strides until it becomes the largest inland city in Florida. By an overwhelming majority the bond issue was carried.

There can be no doubt in the minds of everyone just how the people feel in regard to public ownership of the gas, water and electric plants. It was a decisive vote and shows the world how solidly the people are working together for the growth and advancement of Sanford.

Nine hundred and twenty thousand dollars is no small sum of money. With it great things can and will be accomplished. Sanford will soon have good water and plenty of it. Sanford will soon have ample fire protection. Outlying districts within the city limits will soon have running water. Sanford has solved its water problem.

And after the water supply is attended to the city commissioners will see that the public gets lower rates for gas and electricity and a better supply.

By endorsing the proposition of the City Commission to build a new city administration building the people have also done a wise thing. Sanford should have a beautiful and more serviceable city building. Sanford is reaching big city days and the public affairs require more and better quarters. In constructing a new city building it should be built for the future needs of the city as well as the requirements of the present.

In approving this bond issue Sanford takes its place along side of many other progressive Florida cities. Sanford not only is benefiting itself when it takes advanced steps of this kind but is also doing its part in the making of Florida a greater state by stepping to the front rank of cities having municipally owned public utilities.

Members of the City Commission have good reason to believe that the people are backing them in any steps they take for the building and advancement of the city substantially. Friday's election should convince the most skeptical of the solidness of the progressive spirit of our citizens.

The Fire Hazard Still Exists

While the voters have decided that Sanford will have a sufficient supply of water with which to fight fires, some little time will pass before this city is free from the great fire hazard which now exists. A fire right at this time might prove disastrous.

Great care should be taken in the use of matches by everyone, especially should the smoker be ever watchful of the disposition made of his matches and cigars or cigarettes. Statistics show that carelessness with matches and smoking materials constitute the greatest single cause of fire loss in the United States today.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters says that the destruction of property from this cause amounts to nearly $26,000,000 a year, which is far more than the toll exacted by any other hazard, despite the fact that the damages from matches and smoking are so largely preventable.

Until Sanford gets its new water system in operation and the fire department is in a position to successfully fight big fires this city is in a dangerous situation. Too great care cannot be taken to prevent any kind of a fire. The best way to insure against a big fire is not to have a small one. Watch where you throw that match.

ALL AROUND US the world is convulsed by the agencies of great nations. Hundreds and thousands of women and children will die of hunger and exposure this winter while the American producer goes bankrupt for want of a market. There is scarcely a government in Europe which looks upon the future with complacency. Intolerance, racial animosity, vengeance; and no great power speaks the voice of conciliation, humanity and justice. Is it not time, after these five years since the armistice, to make a real effort to establish a spirit of amity and to bring in so far as possible accord among the nations? One of England's greatest premiers among a most trying international occasion declared: "Courtesy of language, a willingness to concede, reluctance to take offense will always, even when carried to excess, command respect and admiration" and bring their fruits of good understanding and peace. What the masses of mankind are praying for now, is that some great nation may lead out in a broad, tolerant, healing, construction policy which will bring these estranged nations together and restore old relations of interchange, trade and confidence.—Senator William E. Borah.

MY BANK BOOK is my favorite reading, I confess. I do my work for the love of it, because my heart is in it. But a bank book can be thrilling—the best literary thriller in the world.

Next to the Bible, the bank book is the world's greatest book. The edition of the bank book is too limited. Every man should have his copy. And he should keep it for private circulation—very private. No other one in the world should know what is in that precious bank book. The Scots have a proverb: "Aye keep somethin' to yersel' ye woulna tell to any'." That's your bank book.

On every page there should be something nicer than on the page before. And every bank book should have a happy ending. On the last page the end should be: "Continued in our next." The bank book should be the foundation of the family library. People open the check book too often and the bank book not often enough. The check book's too full of reading matter!—Harry Lauder.

THE BEST BIT of irony we have seen in a long while appears in Life, New York's Journal of satire and humor. "What the farmer needs," says Life, "is to have his industry run by the bankers and financiers, same as the coal mines and railways are managed. Look at the price of coal and freight rates. No low prices are reduced rates there. Incorporate the farms with about 20 billion dollars of preferred, and twice as much common stock, and prices would be double. All it needs is a little of the high quality of brains that has made such a success of the coal and rail industries."

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

The East side pronunciation is rapidly becoming a part of the composite dialect of New York City. This collection already has been enriched by the story of the small Lexington street who, on being asked by his teacher if he knew the meaning of the word "stole," answered: "Sure, teacher, I know—a stole is the bald what brings the BOIBIES."

Remembering this classic I am reminded of two more little tales of a similar tenor which, like the foregoing, are said really to have occurred.

A mountaineer took a troop of soldiers from the shadows of the Williamsburg bridge up to the Bronx Zoo. In front of a cage containing a rare and gorgeous cockaton one of the youngsters halted in admiration.

"Oh look at the purty BOID!" he cried out.

"Not 'BOID,' Sidney—it's a bird," corrected the scoutmaster. "Is it?" said Sidney, doubtfully. "Well, anyway it looks like a BOID to me."

The other yarn has to do with an examination in syntax. The instructor was calling out a list of not particularly common words and asking for their definition.

"Now here," she said, "is one which I'm afraid none of you know. The word is 'kyrie.'"

"Do you want the hand of a bright twelve-year-old Boverite?"

"Why, Landore, how nice," said his pleased teacher. "I rather thought you would be stumped by that one—it's not a word that we hear every day. So you know what a 'kyrie' is?"

"Sure I know teacher. A kyrie is the place where you wash the dishes."

ONE GOOD thing may come of Mr. Bok's famous peace plan, which is a rehash of the World Court and the League of Nations, poorly rewritten.

That marvelous peace plan will probably result in the killing of the World Court in the Senate. A foolish thing can always be talked to death, and although it wasn't what he planned, Mr. Bok has rendered a valuable service. Neither President Coolidge nor any responsible Senator will tack himself on behind a preposterous ballooning on a preposterous proposition.

MOVING PICTURE people among other qualities, include speed and generosity. Charles M. Schwab whose expansive smile and big personality have sold many a battleship, met the moving picture men at luncheon yesterday to ask about a little contribution for the Harding Memorial.

WHEN SCHWAB had finished, Mr. Zukor, who organized the "Come Across" luncheon, announced that ten thousand dollars had been subscribed for while Mr. Schwab was talking. Mr. Schwab said Mr. Mellon, President Harding's intimate friend, was deeply interested in the Harding Memorial, and added truly that any American business man should be glad to oblige Mr. Mellon.

A DISTINGUISHED lady writer says: "When deep, powerful love cools, marriage should end in divorce." Newspapers discuss that because it sounds new.

Yet it is what the monkeys said, or would have said if they could talk half a million years ago. Mr. Monkey would say: "When I am tired of one lady monkey, I go off and find another. That's my idea of love."

BUT MONKEYS don't know their own children a year after they are born, and are not responsible for them. They haven't been trusted by Divine Providence with the job of building a respectable civilization on this earth.

MARRIAGE IS an institution not established for the amusement of monkeys or men, but for the protection of children, to establish respect for women, and to make men gradually more decent.

We should be even closer to the monkeys than we are now, but for the institution of marriage, which has trained men to suppress the monkey within them.

DIGGING ON the site of old Carthage archeologists discover that ladies of 2,750 years ago, in the great city at the edge of the Mediterranean, powdered and painted their faces as foolish women do now.

THE HUMAN race changes slowly. Go back 2,750 years before the day of those Carthaginian ladies and you find an older civilization on the great Island of Crete, with women painting their faces white, wearing tight corsets, puffed sleeves, "pull-back" skirts.

AND YOU would find professional bull fighters in old Crete, young men and young women slaves, captured, perhaps, on the Spanish Peninsula, and forced to fight the bulls. Pictures five thousand years old show a young girl seizing the maddened bull by the horns and vaulting over its back. They had boxing matches, also. Sometimes they fought with gloves of solid metal. A right or left hand swing could crush in the side of the skull. That would not please refined, expensive heavy-weight champions of to-day.

IN CANADA a bank bandit is sentenced to life imprisonment with "thirty lashes to be given at the rate of ten a month for three months."

Life imprisonment is probably all right. But why the lashing? You wouldn't lash a rat caught in a trap. Men do to each other, rats old habit, what they wouldn't do to a rat or a wolf.

THE FRENCH are worried about the franc and may well be. It fell to a new low price yesterday more than twenty francs per dollar. It used to be five for a dollar.

The French Government expelled Duzzen, a Dutch banker, accused of "clandestine statements about the fall of the franc."

The French should read and carefully think over a speech just made by Monsieur Briand at Nantes, warning his countrymen to abandon militarism and go back to French democratic methods.

That is what the franc needs. Expelling Dutch bankers won't solve the problem.

Wonders of Electricity
 FLORIDA TIMES-UNION

Reading of new developments almost every day and even witnessing the modern miracles that are performed by scientists, who delve into the possibilities of electricity, it would seem that the boldest would not dare to predict limitations to this wonderful, slightly understood power that is everywhere and in everything. Not so long ago the foreign dispatches told of strange occurrences when airplanes passed over a certain section of Germany. Military engineers and experts delved deep into the problem, for the situation appeared to be worthy of close study. It was said that planes passing such and such a point would go out of control and it was evident that something, sent up or directed from the ground, affected the instruments on the flyers and the discovery was most disturbing.

Now word comes from Paris that a way has been discovered to successfully pass places where radio force is used to affect the delicate instruments used on airplanes. The properly "insulated" mechanisms will not be affected by the radio waves, and the planes will sail on safely and properly. But the fact that something had been found to affect the flyers suggested a new defense against airplane attacks, and sooner or later this secret will be generally known—and the means perhaps applied to guard a frontier in the "next war." If the Germans have a way of directing radio waves against airplanes it would seem that the matter of anti-aircraft guns would become obsolete—even as they have previously proved almost useless in attack.

The wizards of the century have admitted that they know very little about electricity and promise more wonderful things, to add to the wonders accomplished. The layman looks on and is amazed for a few minutes and then accepts the mysterious fluid as messenger, cook, burden carrier, and general servant. Small towns near a stream of water get electric current for light and power cheaply and every day some new task is added to the list that electricity is expected to accomplish.

Scientists recently demonstrated the passing of electricity from a tube to an incandescent lamp, lighting the lamp although there was no actual contact. Radio is accepted without argument and Marconi declares that he will soon be able to direct it at will. That it can be done is scarcely to be questioned. Electricity is already the most powerful and the most tractable servant of man and each year adds to the duties man assigns it.

A Growing Menace
 THE MIAMI HERALD

Readers of the newspapers may think that undue stress is placed upon the matter of automobile accidents. The constant comment on the subject is made an obligation upon the papers by one of the large insurance companies, which declares in a bulletin that deaths from automobile accidents are reaching alarming proportions. If these accidents were in any considerable measure unavoidable, or if they came as a result of scientific efforts calculated to be of help to humanity, there would be less occasion for frequent mention of every instance the result of carelessness that is hardly excusable, and they will not concern until the public has come to have a keen sense of the value of human life.

Late statistics indicate that there are more deaths in motorcar accidents than from diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever and measles combined. These are considered among the most serious of the diseases and the most dreaded. Typhoid fever is also held to be a real foe of humanity and very great precautions are taken against the spread of the disease. For every person who dies from typhoid there are three slain by automobiles. Carelessness in the matter of a contagious disease is held to be criminal. Is it any less criminal to be careless in the handling of a piece of machinery which has the deadly potentialities of the automobile?

Neither Heat Nor Cold Kill in Florida
 PALMIRA NEWS

So equable and unvarying is the climate of Florida that never has there been a death directly caused by excessive heat or undue cold.

This record can be duplicated in no other state in the union, and opens up a propaganda of which much might be made were the people so inclined.

During the summer, when the occasional visitor will wonder how the people of Florida manage to exist amidst such awful heat, and when there are daily chronicles of men, women, children, horses and dogs falling dead, or being so badly overcome by extreme heat, residents of Florida are enjoying the cool nights, and appreciating the breezes which are constantly stirring throughout the day, with never a prostration being recorded.

During the extreme chills of winter the mercury rarely touches the 32-degree mark in Florida, while records are being made in other states of as great a cold as 40 degrees below; while in other southern states the mercury will fall to go as low as 20. The cold snap just passed failed to reach a level so low as to create any severe damage in Florida, even though the chill was very unusual over the south. To be sure, the outcome of the threatened freezing wave was most fortunate for this state; so complete an escape from serious loss was most propitious in every way, and will do much toward spreading the fame of the state for its "even climate."

It is the fortune of all other states in the union to have great extremes in heat and cold at the varying seasons of the year. Until one has spent one or more full years in Florida it is a considerable task to impress upon him that every state has hotter weather during June, July and August than is found in Florida; but after remaining a summer in any portion of the state the assertion is accepted as a fact.
