Dyson objected to the plan because it does not include parking areas, playgrounds and alleys. "It seems to me that a subdivision of this size should have these facilities," he said. Attorney Speer objected to the park requirements. He said "With regards to putting parks in a subdivision, I don't think you all have anything to do with that." Commissioners agreed to discuss the project in greater detail and after further study at their Friday afternoon special meeting.

Throughout recorded history there have always been reports about charlatans who exploited the sick. We now have laws that protect you by only permitting a physician to practice medicine and a pharmacist to dispense medicines. Unfortunately there is a growing effort to increase the use of patent medicines by permitting their sale anywhere, instead of under the supervision of a pharmacist, who has the necessary training to advise you against wrong use. Any medicine to be taken should be taken and always secure any medicine from a pharmacist.
For your own safety, depend on your physician to advise you what medicine to take and always secure any medicine from a pharmacist.

Grocer Fights Gun Battle With Six Would-Be Robbers

CHICAGO (UP)—A grocer fought a gun battle with six would-be holdup men, killing one of the bandits and wounding two others before falling with a bullet wound himself.
Peter Capilupo, 41, operator of Pele's Grocery, was reported in fair condition today at the University of Illinois Hospital with a wound in the right side of his back.
The gunmen entered the store Monday night while Capilupo's mother, Sylvia, 70, was at the counter and Capilupo was talking on the telephone at the rear.
One of the robbers, John Stevenson, 19, drew a .32-caliber automatic and demanded money. Two of the other bandits also displayed guns.
Without hesitation, Capilupo whirled around, pulled a .38-caliber revolver from his pocket and advanced on the gunmen.
Stevenson fired once, hitting the grocer in the side. That was the last bullet fired by the robbers. Capilupo shot six times in rapid fire, emptying his gun.
One shot blasted Stevenson in the chest and he dropped dead. Another bullet struck Robert Jeffrey, 19, below the heart and he crumpled to the floor of the store. A third hit James L. Waddy, 18, as he and his remaining companions dashed from the building.
The grocer struggled to the door and tried to reload his gun, but the fugitives were out of sight. Police later picked up Waddy at his home and he was hospitalized in serious condition. Jeffrey was critically wounded.
Police said a card in Stevenson's pocket identified him as an Army private but listed no address.
Capilupo, a father of five children, said he recognized the gunman as "neighborhood fellows." Police said the gang had staged more than 20 robberies of small businesses in recent months.
Capilupo, who had been held up last year, carried most of the store money and gun in his pockets. His mother hid under a counter during the shooting.

Groucho Marx Is Back With Buddies

RADIO-TV BY FRED DANZIG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—Groucho Marx is back with his buddies around Beverly Hills, in the land of clean streets and unsatisfactory Chinese restaurants.
But the friends he just left behind in New York are still recovering from his all-too-short Eastern invasion.
Columnist Earl Wilson threw a party for Groucho a few days ago and it attracted a roomful of people who have grown accustomed to Groucho's face, mustache, cigar and all through years of cardtable association and foot-light frolicking. Even Groucho showed up, equipped with equipage. It was the sort of gathering in which the erudite Dr. Hergun Evans became dazed by the stars in the Wilson living room and approached this observer apologetically. "Forgive me for not knowing who you are," he said, "you're probably someone dreadfully famous."
Reassured that his apologies were unnecessary, Dr. Evans pointed to someone and asked,

Many Children Waiting To Enter Sunland Center

A special survey to determine which mentally retarded children on the Sunland Training Center waiting list should be admitted in the near future is underway in Seminole and surrounding counties. A joint effort of the Florida Children's Commission and the Division of Child Training Schools, the need for the project arose when a 500-bed addition to the Gainesville facility was authorized although over 800 children are on the waiting list. The addition will be completed in four to six months. Officials felt that admission should be made on the basis of actual need rather than priority by reason of length of time on the waiting list.
"One of the problems which confront the State of Florida is the lack of adequate facilities for mentally retarded children," explained Arthur Dozier, Director of the Division of Child Training Schools. "To help meet this need, the state has approved two building programs; the addition to the Sunland Training Center at Gainesville and the construction of a twin facility in Lee County."
The Lee County institution is presently in the construction stage, he revealed.
"While the primary purpose of the project is to select children from the current waiting list for admission, it is hoped that similar information can be obtained on all future applicants through local agencies and the Training Center's own social service staff," stated Mrs. Sylvia Carothers, director of the Children's Commission.
Headquarters for the survey is the office of the Commission in Tallahassee, with Mrs. Carothers as the overall coordinator. The secretarial staff transcribes records and reports and Mrs. Carothers has charge of the final evaluation.
Three criteria upon which to base the findings of the survey have been formulated, Mrs. Carothers said.
These criteria are:
Problems of the child—Is his behavior violent or destructive, does he have organic impairments, emotional disturbance, does he have epilepsy, how long has he been on the waiting list?
Problems of the home and parents—Can the parents care for the child financially, the number of other children in the home, the number of other children in the home needing special care, physical and mental status of the parents?
Community and social problems—Difficulty and time of community care for the child. His behavior outside the home, is he dangerous to himself and others, availability of community resources, has he been under community care and for how long?
"Each characteristic is to be weighed so that a quantitative basis in comparison with all other cases on file," Mrs. Carothers explained.
Six experienced social workers are conducting the survey throughout Florida.
Project worker for the Seminole county area is Mrs. W. S. Pittman, formerly a member of the staff of the State Department of Public Welfare.
The project workers, Mrs. Carothers, Dozier and Phillips will hold a day-long conference at the Training Center Friday to discuss progress and problems of the survey.

High Ping Pong Stakes

LONDON (UP)—American Eric Steiner won nearly $2,800 from Bolivian tin heir Jaime Ortiz-Patino in a marathon ping pong game at a St. Moritz resort, the Sunday Dispatch said. The game lasted several days with breaks for rest and food. The hotel manager halted the contest with Steiner, a Californian, ahead because the stakes were getting too high, the newspaper said.

Communist Wins Plurality

MARSEILLES, France (UP)—Communist candidate Pierre Doize won a plurality Sunday in the first National Assembly election since the Communist loss-of-face during the Hungarian rebellion in 1956. However, he failed to obtain the majority needed for election and will face a runoff election Feb. 16. Doize was running for a seat left vacant by the death of Communist deputy Jean Cristofol last year.

Frigid Weather Hits Eastern Half Of Nation Today

By UNITED PRESS
Frigid weather gripped the eastern half of the nation today, hitting northern Florida with another bout of freezing temperatures.
Snow flurries persisted in the Northeast and extended south to the mountains of North Carolina. Ice and snow-packed roads forced the closing of many schools Monday in Virginia, North Carolina, West Virginia and Tennessee.
Heavy snows blocked some roads in the Tennessee Smokies and the North Carolina mountains. Four-foot drifts choked streets in Boone, N. C.
Near and below zero readings chilled northern New England and portions of Wisconsin and Illinois during the night.
Scattered snow flurries swirled across the Great Lakes and the East, with the heaviest accumulation of about two inches in Western New York State.
Wind gusts up to 40 miles an hour whipped up clouds of snow in portions of Pennsylvania and northern New York, and winds of more than 60 miles per hour blasted Roanoke, Va.
Forecasters predicted continued cold in the East today with snow flurries in the lower Great Lakes, northern New England and the mountains of North Carolina. Fair skies were expected in most of the Southeast.

Circus Fame SOKC Favorite Tonight In Ninth Race

Circus Fame, a big 74-pound greyhound, stacks up as a solid favorite in the featured ninth race tonight at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club. He is listed at 5 to 2 odds on the morning line.
The Circus City Ranch completed an impressive record at tracks in Sarasota, Tampa and Denver during the past year, but has only recently begun to show his top form here.
Overall Circus Fame has collected two wins, five seconds and two thirds in 13 starts. However, the speedy son of Bowle Steel has finished in the money the last four times out and could be ready for his best performance of the campaign tonight.

22 Is Predicted For Central Area Tomorrow Morning

MIAMI (UP)—Florida faced another night of 20-30 degree temperatures today as a severe cold wave enveloped the state from the Georgia line to the Florida keys.
Tourists shivered and vegetable crops withered in the icy blasts. Ranchers reported their cattle dying from hunger in the frost-blackened pastures.
Temperatures dropped to 20 degrees today in northern Florida and to a record-tying 36.3 degrees for this date in tourist-filled Miami.
The weather bureau forecast freezing temperatures and frost in all sections of the state tonight except the waterfront sections of the southeast area and in the keys. Lows of 22 are expected in the colder areas of the north and central portions and 28 in the southern section.

Funeral Services For George Smith Tomorrow, 3 p.m.

George Raymond Smith, 69, Longwood, R. I. died last night at Seminole Memorial Hospital after a long illness.
Born Dec. 25, 1897, in Chicago, Ill., he came to Florida six years ago from Memphis, Tenn. He was a carpenter by trade. Mr. Smith served in the Canadian Army during World War I and was a member of the Royal Order of Moose in Memphis. He was a Jehovah Witness.
Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Elma Smith, Sanford; five sons, George L. Smith and Lemuel W. Smith, Sanford; Elmer W. Smith, Ft. Lauderdale; Robert I. Smith, New Bern, N. C.; John H. Smith, West Helms, Ark.; and 14 grandchildren.
Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Wednesday at Gramkow Funeral Home with R. N. Stafford conducting the services. Interment will be in the Paola Cemetery.

'58 Predicted As 'Year Of Missile'

TALLAHASSEE — State officials predict 1958 will be "the year of the missile" in Florida, with steadily increasing expansion in the fast growing new industry.

H. R. Fuller Jr., director of the Development Commission, said an accelerated U. S. missile program already has produced 15,000 jobs expanding as fast as buildings can be constructed and engineers and technicians hired.

However, despite the emphasis placed on the missile industry, Fuller said the real "bread and butter" of Florida's industrial boom still comes from a wide diversity of plants producing goods for civilian consumption.

The state's largest single employer, he said, is the giant Chemstrand Nylon plant at Pensacola. Food and kindred products account for more than 5,000 jobs while chemicals and allied products add another 3,200.

He said Florida achieved a milestone in 1957 when for the first time manufacturing passed trade as a source of jobs in Escambia County. Factory employment in Escambia reached the 12,000 mark in mid-September.

For 1958, Fuller said plans already are underway for various new firms and continued missile development. The Martin Company will start moving into its $18,000,000 plant in Orlando soon, while another missile launching area similar to the one at Cape Canaveral is being planned for west Florida.

The new Martin plant will build the Lacroix Army field artillery missile, the short range Bullpup, being evaluated by the Navy for plane-to-ground use, and the Missile Master, an electronic system for anti-aircraft missiles like the Nike and Hawk.

Two major breweries, Schlitz and Anheuser-Busch, have announced plans for plants in the Tampa area, each to employ more than 1,000 workers. A northern firm has acquired 4,000 acres of land in Osceola County, probably for a lanery.

Fuller said the state had gained rapidly in electronics and similar fields even before Russia's " Sputnik" touched off the increased missile activity. He pointed out that Florida obtained 17 plants with 1,700 employees in the electrical machinery, equipment and supplies field during the first six months of 1957.

Typical of the growth, he said, was that of Radiation, Inc., Melbourne and Orlando, which started in 1956 with 23 employees, and now has 850 employees and is playing a vital role in the missile program.

There Will Be An Election This Year -- An Interesting Campaign

There's going to be an election in Florida this year.

The excitement hasn't started yet since, for the first time in the state's history, the primaries will be held in September—the 9th and 30th—instead of in the spring.

As usual, the general election will be held in November.

The 1957 Legislature made the change in election law in order to shorten the time between the primaries and general election and to ease the tension on candidates and voters.

As we look at the coming campaigns this far in advance, there could be a lot of excitement with interest centered on the race for United States Senator for the seat now held by Senator Spessard Holland. There's been a lot of talk that former Senator Claude Pepper might throw his hat in the ring on a comeback challenge against Holland, but so far there has been only speculation.

Two supreme court places are to be filled—those now held by Justices B. K. Roberts and E. Harris Drew; and three judges for the new district appeals court.

According to the way we figure it there will be 23 circuit judgeships to be filled—among them the places now held by Judges Volle A. Williams Jr., of Sanford, John M. McCarty of Fort Pierce, D. C. Smith of Vero Beach, and W. A. Pattishall of Orlando.

Other state offices that must be filled this fall will be two posts on the Railroad and Public Utilities Commission, now held by Jerry Carter and Wilbur King; all eight places as representatives in Congress; and numerous legislative seats in the House and Senate.

Locally, however, that will mean voting for two representatives to the State Legislature, posts now held by Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and Gordon V. Frederick. And, of course, local voters will choose a Congressman for the Fifth Congressional District, man for the Fifth Congressional District the seat now held by Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong Jr.

There will be several offices on the county level up for filling—Seminole County Judge, for the unexpired term. Attorney Wilson Alexander was recently appointed to fill the office until the coming elections; two seats on the Board of Seminole County Commissioners post now held by Commissioners Fred Dyson and B. C. Dodd; and three places on the Seminole County School Board now held by John Brumley, L. E. Jordan, and W. A. Patrick.

Polling period for the statewide offices has been set from noon of June 24th to noon of July 8th; and for county offices from noon of July 8th to noon of July 22nd.

Anything can happen but from the way we see it there could be quite an interesting campaign both locally and statewide.

Court Ruling Trend For Hoodlum

The trend of Florida court rulings on admissibility of evidence at criminal trials is in favor of the hoodlums and if the trend isn't changed the hoodlums will take over.

Assistant Attorney General George E. Owen sounded that warning the other day in an address before the Tallahassee Kiwanis Club.

Owen was particularly critical of a recent State Supreme Court ruling that the identity of a confidential informant must be disclosed when his information leads to the arrest of an accused lawbreaker.

Disclosing the name of a confidential informer, Owen told the Tallahassee Kiwanis Club members, would be an invitation to murder or violence, and this makes it difficult for law enforcement officers to do their job.

Owen was also critical of Florida courts for what he contends is overly strict interpretation of search and seizure laws.

"It's getting to the point," he declared, "that before you can make an arrest you have to write a man a letter and tell him that you are coming with a search warrant with a marked car and flying flag."

Owen isn't the only person, by a long shot, who's convinced that some of the courts—particularly the Supreme Court—give more attention to the most trivial technicalities than they do to the realities of law observance and enforcement.

They seem to lose sight of the inevitable fact that an accused man before the bar is either guilty as charged, or isn't guilty—despite the unimportant circumstances of whether every "I" is crossed and every "it" is dotted.

A similar criticism was voiced only recently by Attorney General Richard Ervin. It is good to have public attention focused on such conditions. Maybe that will help remedy them.

Pravda reports the Soviet Union has a waiting list of 1,300 prospective space travelers. The Reds had better check to find out whether some are merely hoping to make a getaway.

Cold weather thought: With seed catalogues beginning to arrive, can spring be far away?

TODAY'S THOUGHT

"They have rewarded me evil for good and hatred for my love."

My New York

By MEL HEIMER
NEW YORK—The other night I came whooping into New York International Airport (Idlewild) after such a quick trip to and from London that it really isn't worth mentioning (and I defy anyone, even the wandering Bill Holden or Mel Ferrer, to make a statement as casual as THAT), and was so stupefied I almost fell over my bowler hat.

For many seasons now, this chief airport for the world's greatest city has been a joke—a crowded, dirty, run-down, unappealing depot through which citizens mullied like frightened sheep. Maybe the worst part of it was the system for putting the citizens through the customs wringer. It was such an unsavory mish-mash that you were lucky to pass through in two hours.

However, the other night—Utopia. Millions of dollars have been poured into the making of what was to be the finest airport in the world, and I do not except London's or Berlin's Tempelhof. The buildings are all spanking new, there are brightly-colored blocks of color everywhere like Piet Mondrian Scotch-tape compositions, doors open electronically—and even the baggage porters seem only mildly surly, whereas before they'd just as soon spit in your eye as look at you.

And the customs—well, my dear, they've got a fabulous great section of the Arrivals building, featured by a couple of huge signs in color which are used by the inspectors to flash a number telling their boss to hurry over to their particular conveyor belts because they've caught smugglers.

The Arkraft Strauss people, who make most of those Broadway spectaculars, fashioned this one and it's dilly. I got through without incident; not even a official from the Bureau of Animal Husbandry was called to grill me about suspicious animal husbandry I might be carrying.

LONDON, INCIDENTALLY (this boy grows more casual by the moment) seemed as bustling, unpressed, impoverished and nutty as ever. The children still are almost depressingly polite, the theater is still as wonderfully skillful and professional as ever, the arguments go on about whether the Queen speaks like a high school valedictorian or not and there are customary suspects being held by Scotland Yard for multiple murders.

The swiftness of my journey—it took me less than 30 hours to make it to London and back, in walled time—was due to the Hovot Britannia, the huge new turbo-jet plane that B. O. A. C. is using to span the Atlantic. We whooshed off the ground at Idlewild in the morning and were touching down in England eight and a half hours later, before I'd had any time at all to digest the contents of my English-American dictionary. Most of the flying was done at 30,000 feet or so—and if you feel that up that high you're bound to be in lovely, complete solitude, be informed that halfway across the big drink we

Inside Washington

BY HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Writer
WASHINGTON—In the few months that he has been in Washington, Defense Secretary Neil E. McElroy has achieved a popularity that astounds veteran politicians in the nation's capital.

McElroy, who gave up a top industrial post as president of a huge soap company to accept President Eisenhower's Cabinet has won praise from Democrats and Republicans alike.

What's more surprising is that he occupies a Washington "hot seat" where his predecessor, Charles E. Wilson, felt the barb of many political attacks.

McElroy, however, enjoys one advantage that Wilson did not have: He took office at a time when just about everybody in the capital was anxious to give him anything he wanted to match Russia in the arms race.

However, the former Cincinnati industrialist has won many friends on Capitol Hill in his few appearances at hearings and now is being talked of as possible presidential timber.

ADAMS' ASSAULT—Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams has replaced Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the Republicans' most uninhibited campaigner. This was evident in Adams' recent speech at Minneapolis in which he savagely attacked the Democrats' record on national defense issues.

Political experts who are close

The joke? Stripped of its long build-up, it's about the young man who travels the world over trying to find out what is life, and finally is told by a wise old African in a fountain. "Life is a fountain," the puzzled young man asks. The wise man looks startled. "Life ain't a fountain?" he says.

And then, finally, back to the splendor of Idlewild. I have no qualms, now about inviting my Siamese and South African friends to come and visit Manhattan. At long last, we have an entrance into which we can show them with pride.

to the White House say these factors are being taken into consideration in shaping Adams' new role as the top GOP "give'em hell" orator.

There is a determination among certain influential Republicans to make Adams better known, in preparation for a drive to win him a place on the GOP ticket in 1960.

Since neither Mr. Eisenhower nor Vice President Richard Nixon want to make defense a partisan issue, Adams has volunteered to take on that chore because he is convinced that the Democrats will exploit the United States lag behind in space weapons developments.

Adams, after five years of White House experience, has no wish to return to private life when Mr. Eisenhower's term ends and is now taking steps to place himself in the position of being an "indispensable" man from a party standpoint.

BUTLER-FOR-SENATOR—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler will have to make a decision soon on whether he wants to run for the Senate in Indiana. The primary is in May. Butler, a resident of South Bend, had been giving serious consideration to the idea before Senator William E. Jenner, a Republican, made the surprise announcement that he would not seek re-election. When Jenner dropped out, Butler admitted it would make things easier for Democrats in Indiana. Some observers thought he would be a candidate. However, he hasn't tested his legs to the ring yet, and the time for decision is near.

TAX REFORM—Amid efforts to find ways to pay for the costly space program, some congressional leaders are demanding sweeping reforms of the nation's income tax laws.

Aroused by disclosures of tax avoidance and evasion, key figures have joined in urging creation of a Hoover-type commission to study the tax laws and propose a general revision to Congress.

Although new drives are underway to get Senate and House action on measures to create such a commission, the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees feel Congress should make any survey.

Senator Alexander Wiley (R) Wisconsin, has renewed his campaign for the Hoover-type group. And Senator John A. Williams (R) Delaware, the Senate's tax sleuth, has asked for a new study.

Pilots' Rule On Alcohol Wise For All Drivers

BY NORMAN M. BURNHAM, M.D.
TAKE a tip from the airline pilots when you get into your auto to drive anywhere.

Regulations adopted by the airlines, and supported by the pilots' union, prohibit drinking of alcohol by pilots for 18 hours before flying.

Commercial Drivers
Now the Harvard School of Public Health has looked into the matter pretty thoroughly and recommends a similar rule for commercial drivers. Let me go one step farther and suggest that all drivers, even you motorist, abstain from alcohol for a minimum of 18 hours before climbing into a car to drive.

I'd like to explain why. Alcohol, you see, is eliminated from the blood stream and tissues very, very slowly—at the rate of only one-third of the amount per hour. And contrary to popular belief, the Harvard investigators say, drinking black coffee or exercising will not speed up this rate.

Speedy Sober
For example, drinking eight highballs over a period of four hours will boost the blood alcohol content to 18 per cent in

It will remain at this high level for some time. In fact, 14 hours after the final drink, the alcohol level still will be .08 per cent.

Of even greater importance, possibly, is the fact that alcohol is eliminating from the brain's spinal fluid at an even slower rate. All of which means simply that alcohol reduces a driver's standards of performance and his insight into the quality of his performance.

Or, to put it more bluntly, you can't drive as well, but you don't know you can't. QUESTION AND ANSWER: T. E.: My brother's eyes frequently shift horizontally from one side to another. What can be causing it? ANSWER: From your description, it would seem that your brother is suffering from myopia. This may be caused by a vision difficulty, badly-fitting glasses or eyestrain. However, since nervous disorder may also be the cause, Better see your eye doctor.

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay
Tampa plans to let her hair down and kick up her heels when she stages her 1958 Florida State Fair and Gasparilla Carnival. You might think that an invasion by Jose Gasparilla and a state fair would be enough but this year there will be an added attraction when Ringling Brothers & Barnum and Bailey enter the picture and present their big show as a feature of the fair.

Yes, sir, the BIG show has been added this year as a grandstand attraction along with big car auto races, thrilling auto date events plus the world's greatest carnival with the Royal American Shows.

So much for the entertainment features, but what about the fair itself. General Manager J. C. Huskisson assures me it will surpass all others in quality and quantity of exhibits. Maybe you are tired of that old "Bigger and Better" stuff, but remember, Tampa and all Florida for that matter is getting "bigger and better" day by day and you can rest assured that Gasparilla and the Florida State Fair are keeping pace.

Twenty-five big exposition buildings await you and each of them packed with interesting entertainment and instructive exhibits that include just about everything from Afghans to zebras.

If you like a parade, and who doesn't, you will get your fill during the 11-day state fair period. Feb. 4-15, Egypt Temple will stage a mammoth Shrine Parade on the opening day, Tuesday, Feb. 4. Nothing can touch a Shrine Parade for fun and frolic so don't miss this one.

Jose Gaspar and his motley crew will stage their extravaganza on Monday, Feb. 10, with a two-hour event that can hold its own with the Mardi Gras in New Orleans, or the Tournament of Roses in Pasadena, plus the added thrill of the pirate invasion and capture of the city.

And while we are on the subject of Jose Gaspar, Jack Beater and MacLennan Roberts tell an exciting story of Gasparilla in their book, "Sea Avenger", published this month by Dell Publishing Company. They have mixed fact and fiction to give the reader a delightful pirate tale that should be of particular interest to Floridians. The authors stuck as closely to known facts as they could in dealing with the background and principal events of the famed pirate's career.

The Tampa Electric Company is again sponsoring their electrical exposition which has always been an outstanding feature of the Florida State Fair. This year they will show the housewife how she can spend more time at the bridge table or PTA and still have the reputation of a perfect housewife and housekeeper.

While the recent freezing weather has sharply reduced the state's production of fruit and vegetables enough top quality material remains and a marvelous show is assured as far as county exhibits are concerned.

Livestock exhibits will again hold a top position among fair features and this year's show will be outstanding in every respect.

Candlelight Ceremony Saturday Unites Miss Hunter, Mr. Vinson

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday, February 1, Miss Elizabeth Ann Hunter became the bride of Vernon Leigh Vinson. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Graham Hunter. The groom is the son of Mrs. Thomas Talmadge Vinson of Portsmouth, Va., and the late Mr. Vinson.

The double ring service was held at 4:00 p. m. in the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. A. G. McInnis officiated, assisted by Mr. Richard Little, Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va.

The church was decorated with branches of ligustrum and hickory. The bride wore a white tulle gown with a fitted bodice and a full skirt. The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a dark tie.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of tulle over taffeta, featuring a Sabrina neckline bordered with scalloped chantilly lace. Matching lace appliques graced the full skirt.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a close fitting cap adorned with seed pearls. She wore long mitts with matching lace and carried a cascade bouquet of white caryanthemums and carnations.

Mrs. Thomas Ratliff Jr., sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. Maid of honor was Miss Patricia Green of Fishersville, Va. Their gowns featured full organza skirts and fitted chantilly lace bodices.

Mrs. Ratliff's gown was deep aqua. Her crescent bouquet and head dress were of yellow caryanthemums.

Mrs. Hunter's gown was gold. Her bouquet and head dress were of bronze caryanthemums.

George Samuel Brown of Bridgeport, W. Va. was the best man. Ushers were Robert L. Hunter and Thomas Ratliff Jr.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hunter chose a street length dress of pink lace over taffeta. She wore pink accessories and a corsage of pale blue flowers.

The groom's mother was attired in a light blue jacket dress of taffeta with a lace bodice. Her accessories were blue. She wore a corsage of pink rosebuds and baby's breath.

The reception was held in the Educational Building of the church. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth. Silver candelabra, white caryanthemums and fern flanked the three tiered wedding cake.

Guests at the door was Mrs. H. D. Dague Sr., Mrs. R. L. Hunter kept the bride's book. The cake was cut by Mrs. Kirby Pitt Sr. Mrs. A. G. McInnis served the punch.

Others assisting were Mrs. C. L. Redding, Mrs. W. L. Roche, Mrs. W. M. Anderson, Mrs. Charles Lawson, Miss Katherine Brown, Miss Caroline McInnis and Mrs. Jack Greene.

For her wedding trip Mrs. Vinson chose a blue and gray figured sheath dress with three quarter length sleeves. She wore matching black and white accessories, and the carnations from her wedding bouquet.

Out-of-state guests were Mrs. Thomas T. Vinson and Mrs. Daisy Farham of Portsmouth, Va.; Richard Little, Richmond, Va.; Richard and Mrs. A. E. Houff, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Reynolds, Fishersville, Va.; Miss Patricia Green, Miss Shirlee Campbell of Fishersville, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Huak, McMechen, W. Va.; George Samuel Brown, Bridgeport, W. Va.

Also Mr. Roy Beard, Oxford, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Hood and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Adams of Charlotte, N. C. Mrs. Vinson is a graduate of Maryville College, Maryville,

The troops are led by Mrs. Claire Fike and Mrs. Sally McInnis. About 25 attended the showing which was held at the Inno-Crest Church.

Troop 221 acted as hostesses for the afternoon. Mrs. Anne Oliver is assistant leader.

Sewing Hints Revealed Today

This is the season to get the family's clothing ready for spring, says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent. Although many of you buy garments ready to wear, there are hems to take up or let out, seams to reinforce, and rips to stitch. Do you have a box, basket, or pile of such work waiting for you to work on?

One way to cut down on the family's clothing cost is to prepare and repair garments quickly. Have just enough to keep the children clean and comfortable, for it is better to have them wear out their clothes than to outgrow them.

One reason you may be slow in getting adjustment and mending done is because you do not keep your equipment together and do not have the area well lighted. Research on lighting showed that at least 40 foot candles is needed for sewing. For prolonged sewing or work on dark material, additional light is needed to prevent eye strain or fatigue and to get good results in your work. Nothing is more important than the protection of your eyes. Experts say this about the kind of light needed for sewing:

For sewing by hand use a senior floor lamp or a double swinging arm floor lamp which has height to lower edge of shade of 47-49 in. above the floor.

The bottom of the shade should be 1 in. below shade.

The size of the shade is important. The minimum shade dimensions suggested are top-10 1/2 in., depth-10 in., bottom-16 in. for sewing and 18 1/2 for senior floor lamp.

If you are using a table lamp, you need a 10 in. diffusion bowl and a height to lower edge of shade 18 in. above a 25 in. high table, or a total height from the floor of 43 in. to lower edge of shade. The minimum shade dimensions for the table lamp for this use are: top 14 1/2 in., depth 13 1/2 in., and bottom 16 in.

The placement of this light is important. If you are right-handed from center of work, measure 15 in. to light and from this point at a right angle toward the rear of the chair, 12 in. for the floor type and 8 in. for the table lamps. Place the lamps so that the center of the shade is at this point, or pin-up lamp with an 8 in. diffusion bowl, or hang the bottom of the socket two inches below the bottom of the shade.

The minimum shade dimensions: top 8 1/2 in., depth 8 in., bottom 13 in. Hang this lamp so that the lower edge is 4 in. above machine and is centered 12 in. to left of the needle and 7 in. behind it. If you prefer, use the floor lamp suggested for hand sewing, but place it differently. From the needle measure 18 in. to the left. From this point 12 in. at right angle so that the shade center is above this point.

For sewing a dark fabric or prolonged sewing, attach to the shaft of the floor lamp a clamp-on-holder with a 75W. R-30 reflector lamp, spot or flood type. This supplies at least 80 additional foot candles.

You cut down fatigue, protect your eyes, speed up the job, and get a better quality of work done with a good light for sewing.

Conning The News

Having a dinner party at the house tonight, and if I don't hurry they will beat me out there. Joe Porter, one of the mainstays of the Sanford Herald, is leaving, so the office girls are having a little party for her. Others coming are Janie ("Miss Echo") Shoemaker, Patty Walker, Carolyn Lane, Evelyn Cushing and Anna Jardine.

Joyce Roberts, Sally Warwick and Shirley Youngblade gave a baby shower Monday night for Betty Bilesener at Joyce's home. Present were close friends and neighbors.

The dining table was decorated with pink and blue streamers. The gifts were presented in a basket. Refreshments of cake and coffee and ice cream were served.

Betty was given a corsage of two pink carnations and a baby rattle (quite a unique idea, isn't it?)

Attending were Anne Mergl, Ethel Fitzsimons, Dianne Sangster, and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Sangster, Millie Premeo, Sally McInnis, Pat Darrough, Rena Farmer, Billie Tait, Bernia Harward, Ruth Chaffee, Skip Horrell and Joanne Shover.

A group from the local woman's Golf Association went to Intercity at Leesburg Tuesday. Don't know whether they played or just ate and visited.

Don't forget the High Fever Follies Queens, DeBary and Lake Mary are way out in front in supporting their girls. The voting board is in front of Roumillat and Anderson's drug store downtown. Put your pennies in.

Benefits from the Follies will go to purchase a blood bank refrigerator.

Fellowship Supper Enjoyed Recently By Bethany Class

A delicious ham dinner was served recently when members of the Bethany Class of the First Baptist Church held a Fellowship Supper. The affair was held at the home of Mrs. Lucy Gay in Grove Manor. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, Mrs. Marie Lewis and Mrs. Marie Brooks.

After supper a short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Marie Lewis. Mrs. Reynolds gave the devotional "Seven Views of Jesus."

The class decided to make a friendship tree for one of the members who is ill.

Several games were played during the evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. Lenora Green, Mrs. Lois Heckenbach and Mrs. Sue Guerry.

Present were Mrs. Janette Benton, Mrs. Lenora Green, Mrs. Sue Guerry, Mrs. Lois Heckenbach, Mrs. Letha Johnson, Mrs. Martha O'Donnell, Mrs. Jane Parker, Mrs. Wannell Rabun, Mrs. Helen Stapler, Mrs. Florence Stenstrom, Mrs. Jackie Brooks and Mrs. Marilyn Tripp.

Mrs. Walter Chosen By Anna Millers For February

Mrs. Gene Walter has been chosen by the Anna Miller Circle as its "Member of the Month."

Mrs. Walter is a charter member of the circle. She has been one of its most active members since the circle was organized in October 1946. She has served two years as 2nd vice president and three years as Chaplain. She has also substituted in any office in which she was needed.

Mrs. Walter has always been one of the leaders in planning and carrying out the annual Christmas dinner at which the circle members entertain their husbands. This dinner is one of the most outstanding activities for the year.

Mrs. Walter originally came to Sanford from Alabama. She is a member of the First Baptist Church.

The Anna Miller Circle chooses its "Member of the Month" by looking for the person with qualifications of loyalty, dependability, cooperation, personality, and leadership. Marie Walter certainly deserves the honor of being "Member of the Month."

Women's Golf Assn. To Hold White Elephant Tournament, Steak Fry

Bisbee Earns Letter At FSU Last Season

TALLAHASSEE—Thirty-two Florida State University football players earned letters during the 1955 season, Coach Tom Nugent announced today. Included was Ham Bisbee of Sanford.

Seventeen of the 1957 lettermen, at least one in every position except fullback, will be back for the Seminoles' 1958 campaign. Fifteen lettermen have completed their collegiate eligibility.

Nugent said the returning lettermen, along with the 1957 squadmen and freshmen, will begin spring practice Feb. 17.

Two 1956 Seminoles lettermen who sat out last year will return for their final season. Quarterback Vic Prins of Waverly, N. Y., has recovered from a spleen operation and guard Leo Baggett of Panama City is back on the team after scholastic difficulties.

FSU's fullback spot is wide open. All three lettermen at the position—Bob Nelums, Eddie Johnson, and Carmen Battaglia—are scheduled for graduation.

The 24 lettermen: Ends—Ron Schomburger, Ham Bisbee, Jim Arnold, Bill Kimber, John Spivey, Clare Bagnall, James Hooks.

TACKLES—Bill Musselman, Trop Barnes, Melvin Pope, Jerry Graham, Steve Holton, Lou Wallace, Jerry Lane.

GUARDS—Bob Fountain, Joe McGee, Abner Bigger, Al Ulmer.

A golf tournament is being sponsored by the local women golfers in an effort to raise funds for the Florida Women's State Tournament being held in Sanford April 8 thru April 13.

Entrance fee is $1 per person and each contestant must bring a "white elephant" prize. The choice of the "white elephants" will be determined by the scores—everyone wins a prize! All members of the Golf Association and members of the Mayfair Country Club are eligible to participate.

Those wishing to attend the steak fry will bring their own steak and a charge of $1 will be made to cover the food furnished by the Mayfair Inn Country Club. Reservations for the Steak Fry must be made by Friday noon.

Make reservations with Mrs. Helen Andrews, FA2-2531 or Mrs. David Cuning, FA2-0849.

The field will be made up of husband & wives and singles. Ladies that do not have "golfing" husbands may choose a partner or contact Mrs. Bill Foulk, FA2-4894 who will arrange for a partner. All single golfers may select a partner of their choice or contact the above person. All contestants may arrange their own foursomes and starting times—arranged to call or sign up for a starting time as soon as possible. Contestants are asked to register with

CENTERS—George Boyer, Paul Slaton.

QUARTERBACKS—Jerry Henderson, Ted Rodrigue, Joe Majors.

FULLBACKS—Stan Dobosz, Billy Weaver, Jerry Philip, Bobby Henn, Johnny Sheppard, Fred Dickard.

FULLBACKS—Bob Nelums, Eddie Johnson, Carmen Battaglia.

The Tournament Chairman, Mrs. Bill Foulk or a member of this committee that is on duty.

"We believe the golfers will be many—and the fun will be worth the effort! We predict clear and warm as the weather bulletin for Feb. 9th. See you Sunday," stated Mrs. Earl Higginbotham.

Florida To Be Represented At CNS Show

TORONTO, ONT.—Florida, the mecca for 500,000 Canadian tourists annually, with its sunny climate, tropical trees, Spanish moss and deep sea fishing, will be represented at the 1956 edition of the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show which gets underway at the Coliseum here on March 14.

Oddly enough, the commercial exhibit booth for the Sunshine State has been reserved and will be manned by a group of Canadians. They are members of the "Florida Travel Club", a social organization comprised largely of residents of Ontario who holiday in the south each year. Its headquarters have been established at 2408 Yonge Street, Toronto.

The Club was formed on the basis that with so many Canadians now holidaying in Florida cash discounts and other concessions should be obtained from hotels, motels, amusement centers and other places of business patronized by the "snowbirds" from the north.

The Florida booth will be located in the travel section, one of many features of the 1956 Canadian National Sportsmen's Show which is expected to attract upwards of 250,000 throughout the eight days of its duration.

Other highlights of this big outdoors and sports extravaganza, reputed to be North America's finest springtime exhibition, include a boat and marine show, an International Motor Show, a cottage show, a wildlife exhibit, three dog shows, bowling competitions and a water skiing clinic. In addition, a stage and water revue will be presented twice daily featuring some of the world's best circus and television acts.

The Show will again be sponsored by the Toronto Anglers' and Hunter's Association as a public service. All profits will be used to finance an extensive program to conserve the nation's natural resources of forest, field and stream.

BREAKS WORLD RECORD MOSCOW—Soviet weight-lifter Peter Matiukha, a middle heavy weight, lifted 327.8 pounds during a recent meet at Lvov to break his own world record for the two hand press.

TO SCOUT COAST PITTSBURGH—Thomas E. (Pep) Lee of Hollywood, Cal., has been signed to scout West Coast prospects for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Lee formerly scouted for the Dodgers and the Redlegs.

SPONSOR GLOBAL SERIES CHICAGO—The National Baseball Congress will sponsor the Global World Series again this year. The site and playing dates for the tournament will be announced next month.

Hawaiian Enters Handlebar Derby

DAYTONA BEACH—For the first time in the history of the event, a rider from Hawaii will compete in the annual Handlebar Derby here March 4-6.

Today's Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK—West Virginia is battling for the mythical national championship today with a "no star" team which could change the entire concept of collegiate basketball coaching.

For years the overworked coaching concept has been that all a team needed was one star. Usually a skyscraping backboard artist, he was "fed" by the rest of the team and as he went so went the ball club.

It provided an era of one-man teams.

The NCAA champions in five of the past six years proved this to be somewhat less than a theory. Last year, North Carolina won with Lonnie Rosenbluth as its key man. The two previous years it was San Francisco with 6-foot-10 Bill Russell. Before that it was LaSalle with Tom Gola with comparatively starless Indiana interrupting a precedent set by Kansas and Clyde Lovellette.

Duke Loss Hurts
This year's "wonder man" was Wilt The Big Chamberlain of Kansas while other "one-man teams" include such Cincinnati with Oscar Robertson and Seattle with Elgin Baylor.

But, while Kansas is right up at the top, West Virginia's no-star aggregation has held the top spot most of the season and dropped into second place today only after losing to Duke. Which brings to mind a conversation with Frank McGuire, North Carolina's straight-talking court coach, on the day of the West Virginia-Duke game.

"Duke, playing on its home court will beat West Virginia tonight," McGuire predicted. "You can't imagine how tough it is to face Duke in Durham. That's their partisan crowd of 'em all and it's practically an impossibility to beat 'em there."

Duke beat previously undefeated West Virginia, 72 to 68. Tribute To Schaus
West Virginia's record also is proof that you don't need one hot shot to hit the top. Because Schaus tried it the last three years, when he planned his offense on "Hot Rod" Hundley and the best club could do was a seventh place ranking nationally last year.

"We don't have one boy in the first 30 in scoring," says Athletic Director Red Brown. "But we've scored more than 100 points five times and have a team shooting average of 48. We have speed, experience, noise, depth and balance—plus a free-lance offense in which all the boys can do everything from the all-court press to a zone defense."

It's a good club. It broke North Carolina's amazing streak of 37 victories, performed the unheard of feat of beating Kentucky at its home court, came from 14 points back with eight minutes to play in whipping Villanova, scored 18 points in four minutes against Canisius and won the Orange Bowl Classic and the Kentucky Invitational.

And, proving something else, only two of the boys are from outside of West Virginia.

Peter Schubert Jr., 21, Honolulu, has submitted his entry papers as a competitor for the Daytona 100, the 100 mile beach and road race for "amateur" class riders here Saturday, March 8.

Schubert filed for the race after the American Motorcycle Assn. notified him he had been classified as a qualified amateur motorcyclist.

He earned this classification by competing in California races last year and gained enough points to be upped to amateur class. Only the expert class is higher than amateur in AMA ratings. Although the class is designated "amateur", the rider is a professional.

Schubert is the first from Hawaii to compete in the Handlebar Derby held here annually since 1937, except for the World War II years.

The Daytona 100 precedes the national championship Daytona 200 which will be contested on Sunday, March 9, and will be the final event of the 1956 Handlebar Derby. The Daytona 200 is for 200 miles over the 4.1 mile beach and road course. The Daytona 100 is on the same course.

Winner last year of the Daytona 200 was Joe Leonard, San Jose, Calif., who set a new AMA mark for the event—an average speed of 86.53 mph. Winner of the Daytona 100 was another Californian, Kenn Brown, Covina, who also established a new mark for the Daytona 100—an average speed of 52.87 mph.

Drag and lightweight motorcycle races will open Handlebar Derby Week, Tuesday, March 4. Other events during the week include sportsman hillclimb, scramble race, short track races, the annual endurance race, time trials and the annual Awards Night Ceremony.

At the Awards Night ceremony, Friday, March 7, Amanda trophies will be presented to the most popular competitive rider, the most popular and typical girl rider and the top motorcycle club in America. The name for the trophy—Amanda—was coined from the official name of the award: the American Motorcycle Assn. National Derby Award.

The AMA sanctions the Handlebar Derby events. The Central Labor Union of Daytona Beach handles the promotion.

Jayhawkers Top Basketball Ratings

NEW YORK—The Kansas Jayhawkers, proving again it pays to study, have replaced West Virginia in first place in the United Press major college basketball ratings despite a 16-day layoff for mid-year examinations.

Kansas owed a deep bow to Duke, which snapped West Virginia's unbeaten streak at 14 games last Monday night, 72-68. Duke's triumph made the Kansas bookwork pay off as the Jayhawkers took over the No. 1 spot by a slim, two-point margin. They collected 290 points against West Virginia's 288.

The 35 leading coaches who rate the teams for the United Press based their ballots on games played through Feb. 1. The ratings thus did not include Monday night's Kansas-Kansas State clash. It was Kansas' first game since Jan. 18.

San Francisco remained third but Kansas State, moving up from fifth, replaced Cincinnati in fourth place. Cincinnati slipped to fifth. North Carolina, last year's NCAA champion, advanced to sixth, breaking a seventh-place tie with Temple.

Oklahoma State slipped from sixth to seventh. Temple was eighth and Bradley remained ninth. Maryland, 11th last week, moved back into the top 10, replacing Kentucky in 10th place.

In the balloting each coach selects his 10 top teams in order. Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first through 10th place.

West Virginia received 12 first-place votes, one more than Kansas. But the Jayhawkers broke West Virginia's four-week grip on the No. 1 spot by drawing more second-place votes. Kansas received 11 second-place votes while the Mountaineers drew eight.

At the Awards Night ceremony, Friday, March 7, Amanda trophies will be presented to the most popular competitive rider, the most popular and typical girl rider and the top motorcycle club in America. The name for the trophy—Amanda—was coined from the official name of the award: the American Motorcycle Assn. National Derby Award.

The AMA sanctions the Handlebar Derby events. The Central Labor Union of Daytona Beach handles the promotion.

BACK TO LIFE—Veldon Averett, 37, fell through a plate glass window during a scuffle, cutting his jugular vein and carotid artery. He was brought to Central Emergency Hospital in San Francisco with "not enough blood left in him to keep a chicken alive." Dr. Sanford Marcus (L) and Ambulance Steward Arliss Sherman operated on Averett after bringing him back to life after he was technically dead. Averett was given 3 pints of plasma, 5 pints of whole blood and 1 pint of blood substitute and regained consciousness. (UP TELEPHOTO)

ICY PLUNGE IS ONLY A BAD MEMORY—Patricia Groom, 8, and her brother, Tommy, 6, are glad to be alive at Meadowbrook Hospital, Hempstead, N. Y., as they are visited by three of the men who helped save their lives. The children fell through thin ice on a river basin in nearby Seaford, and while Patricia was able to call for help, Tommy was pulled from under the ice, blue and apparently lifeless. Firemen (l. to r.) Al Gumba, Austin Verity and Chris Kirgan helped to revive the boy.

To be on your toes—

Eat A Good Breakfast

Top hot cereals with preserves, jellies, or jams and flaked coconut for a new taste treat for breakfast.

Would you and your family like to—be sharper in your thinking and actions, be calmer and steadier, and work better, especially in the late morning hours? If your answer is "yes"—Eat a good breakfast and see if your family does not feel better and work better, especially in the late morning hours.

Scientists at the State University of Iowa studied the importance of breakfast on the physical and mental well-being of 70 subjects 12 to 80 years of age. After six years of research this conclusion was reached: A good breakfast is essential for maximum physical and mental efficiency during the late morning hours.

A good breakfast is both quick and easy to prepare and can offer a wide variety of interesting, new combinations. The new instant and quick-cooking hot cereals can be quickly prepared in just minutes. For a new taste treat use preserves, jellies, or jams in place of sugar and for an extra special treat, sprinkle flaked coconut over the top of the cereal just before pouring on the milk. To complete the meal for an adequate breakfast serve fruit juice, buttered toast, a glass of milk, and coffee, if desired. This breakfast can be ready in just minutes.

Start tomorrow and prove to yourself and your family that they will feel better and act better, especially in the morning hours when "Food Comes First" and they start the day with an adequate breakfast.

Sack Dresses

By DOC QUINN

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP)—Wilbur, our office grouch, has adopted a philosophic outlook on the fad of bag, or sack, dresses in which milady is chemising herself.

"It is none of my affair," he said, "if women want to make asses of themselves in sackcloth, let them go right ahead."

He said it, not me. Take your complaints to him. Pressed on what he really thought about the new fashion, he said: "I think it's merely bagging the question."

However, the question of the bag may turn out to be academic. In the case of women's styles, now you see it, now you don't. The New York fashion showings a couple of weeks ago plumped for a gunnysack look for American galhood.

From Sacks To Sex

But in Paris, whence the sack shape sprang forth like a monstrous ogre last July and breathed its poisonous message around the world, the spring season showings this week so far seem to be the greatest reversal—from sacks to sex—since Itoy Niregels galloped to glory.

Doubtless influenced by anguished cries from males in all nations, the Parisian fashion boys are said to be sacking the sack and returning to clothing that shows signs of what's underneath it.

However, in Italy there's still bad news. The Italian fashions, instead of reversing themselves to something more form-fitting, have progressed right through the sack and outward into a thing called the barrel shape. It looks something like a blimp standing on end.

What Of The Future?

So much for the cloudy present. What of the future?

A New York firm put on a show recently in which it attempted to project what a ladies' retail clothing department might look like 10 years from now. Three predictions were notable.

One was the idea that a decade from now women might be fitted by radar.

Another was the suggestion that a brassiere might be manufactured on a do-it-yourself basis—applied in a spray—or from an aerosol bottle and removable by washing.

The third idea was an electronic cash register with its tendrils in all phases of the business, able to tell the proprietor not only the current sale but also keeping track of the stock sold and how much is left.

Air Mail

PAWTUCKET, R. I. (AP)—(UP)—Arthur Richmond, 27, noticed his parked car moving and leaped in to apply the brakes. Instead, he accidentally stepped on the accelerator and the car leaped ahead, hit a mailbox and sent it flying through the air to hit John Hill and Barbara Romanovich.

The Nursemen are said to have introduced the bazipipe to Scotland.

Dangerous Decade

By DELOS SMITH

United Press Science Editor
NEW YORK (UP)—The real trouble of some people entering the "dangerous decade"—age 60 to 70 years—is that all channels of creative action are blocked, according to Dr. Flanders Dunbar, a leading authority of geriatrics, the science of aging. It is the "dangerous decade" because people who get through it without acquiring some degenerative, geriatric disease have an excellent chance of living on to a very old age. If only people entering the decade could meet "stress" as the adolescent does, with creative "action," said Dunbar.

"Physiologically, the best release of emotional tension and the anxiety aroused in the stress situation is action," he said. "This is the release chosen by healthy adolescents, and as long as they do not come to grief as the result of ill-considered action they are unlikely to become ill. Become Sickly

"It is those for whom all channels of creative action are blocked that become the sickly ones. The same is true for those in the dangerous age, but the barriers to creative action which they confront are more than parental restraint and code.

"They must face the mass conviction that for them life is over, that from now on they are of no particular use and the best they can do is amuse themselves and try not to become a nuisance."

He saw as a principal ingredient of any recipe for a long life the ability to maintain a harmonious balance of mind and body. One attribute of this ingredient is "avoiding frustration." He cited his own study of persons who lived 100 years or longer.

These persons showed positive life-long genius in that regard. They "escaped conflict with authority," often by being their own bosses, yet they had little "desire to boss others."

Work Long and Hard

"They have worked long hours and hard, but usually managed not to have to punch the time clock," Dunbar continued in a communication to the American Geriatrics Society. "Unlike the typical victim of hypertension, they are rarely interested in getting to the top. They like people and appear to be well-liked. They are sociable and have a sense of humor, but they are disinclined to argue. They are good fighters about major issues but they are not combative about little annoyances and disagreements."

The statistics showing that one of every two persons spends two weeks or more in bed ill every year, ignore the persons who are not sick in bed for two weeks in 5 years, he said. That was a part of the "genius" of the centenar-

BACK IN SADDLE

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Johnny Longden, the world's all-time leading jockey in number of victories with 5,000, plans to return to riding at Santa Anita Friday "if all goes well." Longden suffered a broken leg at Del Mar last August and has been idle since. He reported his leg is in "good shape" now and he is anxious to ride again.

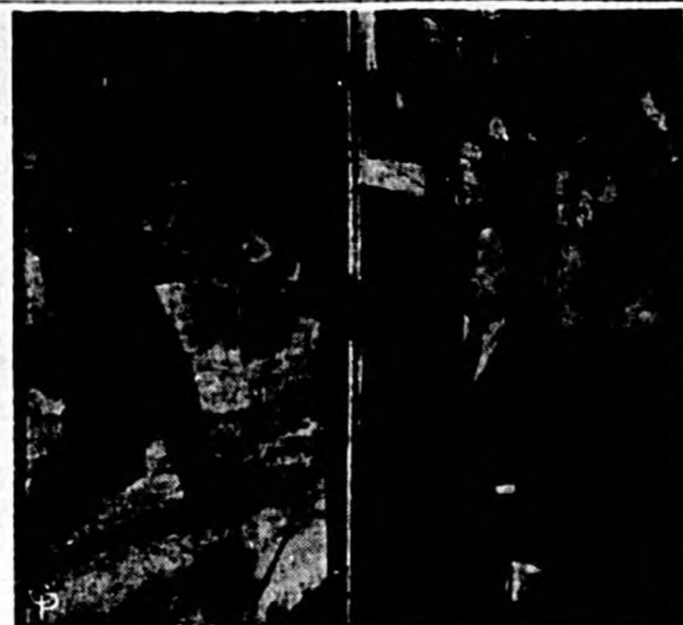

S. D. FARM INCOME

BROOKINGS, S. D. (AP)—South Dakota farmers probably will not get the same amount of money in 1957 as they did in 1956. The Agricultural Extension Service at South Dakota State College figured farmers averaged $2,577 after expenses last year, dropping about 28 per cent from the 1954 net income figure of $3,496 per farm.

DERBY ORIGINS

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The race horse, Omar Khayyam, is the only Kentucky Derby winner foaled outside the United States. Sixty-six winners were foaled in Kentucky, three in Tennessee, two in Texas, New Jersey and California, and one each in Montana, Ohio, Virginia, Kansas, Florida and Missouri.

The Academy was the garden in Athens where Plato taught his students. They had almost completely avoided acute illness.

Varied Program Improves Reading

CHICAGO—Three fifth-grade suburban Skokie teachers and their principal grew tired of the endless battle over why some students could not read as well as others.

They decided that fifth-graders who appeared to be fairly bright but lagged in reading ability needed only the right person to help them. And they decided the "right person" was a teacher.

So they planned a remedial program. Hard work, novel ideas and understanding paid off. Only in one case did the study plan fail, and that involved a boy whose progress indicated the necessity for a basic metabolism test and possibly psychiatric guidance.

The teachers set aside four days a week for a remedial reading period. They used tape recorders, film strips, special recordings, and above all, hard work, to guide their charges to better reading. Even language games were used in the search for materials to make reading interesting.

Other benefits the teachers found tape recorders a valuable aid. The children told stories about themselves and were recorded, reproduced and given back to the children with all the spoken mistakes unchanged. When each child read his own story from the printed page, he easily pronounced words he would not have attempted before. The method proved one of the best ways to put the speaking vocabulary to work to help the reading vocabulary.

In two and one-half months each student showed a marked advance in reading ability.

The teachers shrug off the aided work. They feel they were well rewarded for their efforts. They said that not only was reading ability improved, but there were many other benefits.

They said returned confidence was expressed by straightened shoulders of the students as they walked down the hall, by a smile for teacher and by a lessening of the need to cause trouble among schoolmates.

The teachers believe the remedial reading classes helped their students discover inner discipline and encouraged them to become happier, more skilled, more self-confident individuals.

ARREST SMUGGLERS

Two Lions

The two lions were taken to the Sanford Zoo where they were released into the cage that has become their permanent home.

A huge sign was across the cage, and on it with baby pink and blue lettering reading in foot-high letters "Welcome". Also lining the front of the cage were bouquets of flowers from Sanford merchants.

More than a hundred people were on hand to greet the two lions and the crowd grew larger moments after the arrival here. City Manager Knowles said this morning that instructions were to "leave the cubs alone for a few days" until they become acclimated to the new cage and home.

Mrs. Arnold Hood, Zoo Keeper at the Sanford Municipal Zoo, immediately began getting acquainted with the cubs, feeding them at the airport and constantly talking with them.

However, both lion cubs demonstrated signs of being tired from the long air trip to Orlando and the constant watching by curious folks on their arrival.

Neither of the cubs has been named as yet. However, it is expected that a contest will be conducted to secure names for the two new arrivals here.

T. E. Tucker, president of the Florida Elks Lodge, joined the crowd at the local zoo this morning to welcome the regal newcomers as did numerous members of the local Jaycee organization.

It is expected that huge crowds will flow through the Municipal Zoo for several days getting a glimpse at the cubs in their newly renovated quarters just across from the pop-corn stand at the zoo entrance.

Mayor Warner said this morning "I am happy to welcome the newcomers to Sanford and accept the gift of the two cubs from the Jaycees and the Florida State Bank on behalf of the City."

Volunteer Fire Department To Be Formed In Oviedo

Oviedo Town Council, in regular meeting Monday night, authorized T. L. Lingo Jr. to organize the municipal volunteer fire department. He was instructed to draft new regulations governing personnel, the use of the fire truck, and the use of all fire fighting equipment.

Councilman W. R. Clonts was authorized to investigate the cost of purchasing 500 ft. of 1 1/2 inch fire hose and a set of new tires for the old fire truck.

Council approved the painting of the Memorial Building. Mayor Leo Gary was instructed to have this done at the earliest possible time.

Council voted to have the city attorney George Speer, Jr. draft a bill to have the City Charter changed to raise the municipality's borrowing limit from the present $5,000 to $15,000.

Fit Department Answers 6 Calls

The Sanford Fire Department has answered six calls since early Monday morning.

At 7:24 a. m. Monday a grass fire was reported at 100 W. 13th St. and at 4:52 a. m. a overheated heater at 823 W. 13th St.

While answering a call at 8 that night at a small building on 205 W. 13th St., another building was burning at 109 Willow Ave. The building on W. 13th suffered a considerable bit of damage.

Early Tuesday morning at 2:08 a. m. a defective oil furnace caused a fire and that night at 6:50 damage was reported by fire at a building on West 18th St., followed by another one at 107 and 109 W. 19th.

Soviet Ambassador Arrives Tomorrow In Jet Airliner

WASHINGTON (UP)—Russia will stage a new display of air prowess Thursday when it flies the new Soviet ambassador here in a jet airliner.

The State Department said the giant Tu-104 carrying Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov is scheduled to land at 4 p. m. e.s.t. at Friendship Airport, midway between Washington and Baltimore.

The landing will give the Russians another chance to show off the 500-mile-an-hour plane on which they are staking claim to supremacy in the jet passenger field. The United States has no scheduled commercial jet airline flights.

Friendship Airport was chosen for the landing because it has a runway long enough for the jet, which requires about 8,000 feet or more to land and take off. Friendship's longest runway is 9,450 feet. The longest runway at Washington's National Airport is 6,710 feet.

Interland Airport in New York has barred landings by the Russian jet, but other jet planes on grounds there are too noisy.

The TU-104 made its first flight to the United States last September when it brought Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to this country to attend a session of the United Nations General Assembly. At that time, two of the planes landed at McGuire Air Force Base, N. J.

The Air Force's Military Air Transport Service will assign a radio operator, a navigator and pilot to the Soviet jet to pilot it through American air space.

The three-man U. S. crew will board the plane at Gander, Newfoundland, officials said.

Two names prevented the Board of Seminole County Commissioners from approving a Tax Study Group to be empowered by the commission to study the tax problems of the county and report back with recommendations.

Each commissioner, at a previous meeting, had agreed to furnish the names of two citizens to be named on the committee.

Commissioner Lawrence Sanford named Vernon W. Dunn and Richard McCanna to the committee from his district; Commissioner Homer Little named Danver Cordell and Al Lee as the substitute members from his district; Commissioner B. C. Dodd, confined in his home because of illness, did not name the representatives from his district to the committee.

"We will officially get the committee study underway just as soon as Commissioner Dodd secures the names from his area," Chairman Krider said yesterday.

Course On Making Out Tax Returns Offered Negroes

An opportunity for Negro taxpayers to learn how to prepare their own income tax returns will be offered and sponsored by the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction through the Adult Education Program.

A U. S. Government Internal Revenue Agent from the Orlando office will conduct a course for adults on how to prepare an income tax return beginning Monday, Feb. 10.

This will be an opportunity for all Negro adults to learn how to prepare their own income tax returns correctly. Any adults may attend this informative class.

Classes will be conducted for three successive nights, February 10, 11, and 12. Classes will begin promptly at 7:30 p. m. and end at 9:30 p. m.

There will be no charge for these classes. Classes will be held all three nights in the school lunch room at Croombs Academy. Students are requested to bring their own pencils with them. Further information can be had by contacting Fred C. Murray, Director of Adult & Vocational Education.

CARRIER KEEL LAD

NORFOLK, Va. (UP)—The keel for the world's first atomic powered aircraft carrier was laid at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. Tuesday. Secretary of the Navy Thomas F. Gates Jr., said in Washington the carrier will be named "Enterprise" to perpetuate the name of the World War II carrier that won seven battle stars in the Pacific, and six other predecessors of the same name. The vessel will be powered by eight atomic reactors.

EXHIBIT DRAWS INTEREST

VIENNA (UP)—An American architecture exhibit in Bucharest is attracting unusual interest in Communist Romania, informed sources reported today. The sources said 150,000 persons saw the exhibit during its first 12 days and Romanian newspapers and magazines have published long commentaries. The three-week exhibit was organized by the Romanian Union of Architects and the Romanian Institute for Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries.

Local

preparing to read a contract which he said "has not been duplicated in this league" in terms of the concessions it makes.

Krider likely will interpret the San Francisco Giant offer in that it came direct to him, reportedly from Cal Hubbard, farm club director for the Giants who soon will have hundreds of players in training here.

Commenting on the opportunity now presented Sanford baseball fans, Krider today said he "hoped there will be no delay in accepting one of the three fine offers now before us. This has never happened here before. Any one of the offers is 100% better than anything we've ever had. This is so because things have settled down in baseball to the point that we are nearer to efficient management than ever before. Players go through a training and selection period which results in weeding out the best talent before the club assigned to us finally reaches the major league level."

The three offers have the benefit of experience gained by our sponsor in every league from the D's thru the majors. With an even break in our summer weather, it would seem that if ever our fans wanted to have a summer of fun with a minimum of cost, this is the summer.

Today's meeting is open to the public, Krider said, and among the reports that will be made will be one by Charles Morrison, prominent local sports follower who has spent the past several days scouting out numerous people who have long been identified with the local sports picture.

Go Suzzie Tries For Ninth Win At SKC Tonight

Go Suzzie, the winnertent jockey-hound at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, tries for her ninth win of the season in the featured tenth race on tonight's eleven-race midweek program.

The star of R. F. Bennett's powerful kennel has only missed the money twice in 13 starts and every one of her eight wins have been registered in featured contests.

W. P. Swafford's Run Happy may spell trouble for Suzzie tonight. This four-time winner has been clocked at a blazing 21.25 seconds, the fastest anytime of any jockey-hound in this sector. Other top performers in this main attraction include Blackwell Kennedy's Surprised and Happy Stew; last season's track champion, Ed's Deacon Jones; and P. C. Collier's Cholina.

Two pups, that may develop into world beaters, should provide plenty of excitement in the Grade A eighth and ninth races. John H. Groves' Fable Contessa, a six-time winner, is in the ninth race lineup, while B. F. Bennett's Aubrey Phillips tries for a fifth win in the eighth event.

Swimming Precautions To Take Next Summer

By HERMAN N. BURDICK, M.D.
A CHANGE at the calendar tells me that it's time to talk to you about swimming. You know it's time to have your own life. You may only lose your own in the attempt.

But you can and should know a little about helping to take care of a person who has just been rescued from drowning.

The method of artificial respiration is too difficult to attempt to explain here. Have someone show you how to perform them.

Four Points:
1. But you can learn four simple points of after care.
2. Once a newly-rescued person has been revived, he should be:
a. Kept warm and dry. Cover him with a blanket, towels or clothing to keep him from becoming chilled.
b. Given a stiff whiff of spirits of ammonia. This may temporarily help him breathe deeper.
c. Laid on his side, if his condition permits it. This will ease his breathing movements and prevent regurgitation.
d. Removed to a hospital as soon as possible. He must be handled with great care to prevent development of secondary shock.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
D. G.: What causes a child to have extreme weakness in his arms in spite of the fact that the muscles are extremely well formed?
Answer: It may be that the child is suffering from a form of muscular dystrophy in which there is some wasting of the muscles even though they may appear to be well-formed. This can only be determined by a careful examination of the muscles and nerves.

J. Cavoli Sets New Round-World Speed Record

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—Restaurant owner Joe Cavoli has established a new round-the-world speed record for a passenger on regularly scheduled airlines.

Cavoli touched down at Cleveland Hopkins Airport at 9:06 a. m. to establish a time of 89 hours and 13 minutes for the globe-circling trip.

He smashed the previous record of 90 hours and 59 minutes, held by Pamela Martin, Chicago advertising woman.

Cavoli's trip started at 3:47 p. m. last Friday when he left Cleveland for New York. He continued to Rome, then to Beirut, Karachi, Calcutta, Bangkok, Hong Kong, Seattle and Chicago.

The global circuit totaled 20,400 miles and cost Cavoli $1,856.73.

NEW ORLEANS, La. (UP)—Police Tuesday found a near-nude wanderer on the banks of the Mississippi who said he was trying to "get lost" in penance for "a multitude" of unnamed sins.

The bearded man, Louis P. Sapia, 31, was taken to a hospital for treatment of exposure.

Elks To Supply Gifts For Pupils At Boys' School

MARIANNA—Elks of the state have announced plans for supplying gifts from home for students at The Florida School for Boys at Marianna who otherwise would not be remembered.

J. Pierce Smith of Gainesville, president of the 30,000 strong Florida State Elks Association, told of state endorsement for the plan sponsored by the Marianna Elks Club when he visited the school this week.

Under the gift plan, members of Elks lodges throughout the state will take parents of boys at the school on a shopping trip and will see that packages are mailed in time for Christmas. In cases where parents are unable to send gifts, the lodges will see that the boys are not left out. Efforts of the Elks will receive no recognition from the boys. Rather, the gifts will come from parents, with no mention of the lodge. Shortly before Christmas, the Marianna Elks lodge will furnish other lodges with names and addresses of parents of boys at the school who have not yet received packages.

Accompanying the Elk president on his trip to the school were George Carver, immediate past president of the Elks association and manager of the Harry-Anna Crippled Children's Home; J. L. Cole, vice president of the Northwest Florida Division of Elks; and Otis Padgett, past district Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler. Padgett, who is local post master, has been a friend of the school for many years. For the others it was the first visit to the school. They spent two hours with Buford Mitchell, administrative assistant of the superintendent, going through facilities and observing the school program. All commented on the completeness of the school and the variety of activities offered here.

Mitchell, himself a member of the local Elks lodge, expressed his appreciation for this unselfish gesture by Elks of the state.

Ministerial Assn. Meets Tomorrow

The Seminole County Ministerial Association will gather for its regular monthly meeting tomorrow morning at the First Presbyterian Church at 10 a. m.

A precession fellowship will be held at 9:45 at which time coffee will be served.

No special program has been planned but the Rev. Joe Courson, program chairman, will submit a report on plans for the future programs. Other important items of business will be considered.

Designer Reveals 2 Cars Of Future

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP)—A designer declared that there will be two "cars of the future," one a long-range travel car, the other a short-range electric powered vehicle.

Aarre K. Lahti, associate professor of design at the University of Michigan, said the comeback of the electric will be brought about by suburban city living.

Lahti called it "ironic" that the long-range auto, which eliminated the short-range electric cars of 50 years ago from the market, had brought about suburban living and the need for a short-range car.

"Our way of living, our decentralized cities and industries, will make multiple-car ownership mandatory," he said. "Our cars today do not fulfill the present needs of the two-car families and they would be completely inadequate for the future."

"They are too small for the vacation-leisure time transportation for the larger families with increasing gear, but too large for everyday shopping and commuting. So the only solution is two cars for the family," he said.

Lahti pointed out that the "shopping commuting car" would need a cruising range of no more than 35 miles a day and top speed of 35 miles an hour. He said it should have capacity for three or four persons with space for shopping purchases and "family rear-ear equipment."

The small car will be chiefly charged by plugging its batteries into a garage electric outlet.

The big long-range car as seen by Lahti would be a station-wagon type for family living and outdoor recreation trips. Lahti predicted more "fishing and hunting season widows," although more wives will join in sports activities.

Education Group Hears Reports

TALLAHASSEE.—The Continuing Education Council heard reports—and speculation—on why some high school students who rank high on placement tests don't make the grade in college.

Dr. J. B. White of the University of Florida said often a brilliant student intentionally will not make good grades because he doesn't want to be branded an "egghead" or "intellectual" by his friends.

Another educator, Dr. Mode Stone, dean of Florida State University's education school, warned that placement tests did not always indicate how a student will succeed in college. In many cases, he said, high school grades would furnish a better yardstick, especially in the case of students from small schools.

The council, composed of lay citizens and educators, heard a report by Dr. Vince Hines of the University of Florida on how admission requirements established by the board of control for state universities had affected high school programs.

Some 200 Florida high school principals were questioned concerning the requirements, which in effect limited entrance to state universities to students placing in the upper 60 per cent of high school placement tests.

Hines said returns from 96 of the principals seemed to indicate a "greater emphasis on academic scholarship, a change in the direction of guidance to stress English, mathematics and science. A de-emphasis of discouraging of students from other types of activities curricular and non curricular and an attempt to teach for the specific tests or to develop a testwise among students."

The report also showed that 34 percent of the top fifth taking the tests got below a "C" average in college, and of these, 9 per cent dropped out of school after the first semester.

Of those in the lowest fifth, just below the cut-off point, 94 per cent either withdrew or got below a "C" average.

SCARE DELAYS

NEW YORK (UP)—The departure of a Northeast Airlines DC-3 with 19 passengers last year was held up one hour and 25 minutes Thursday night because of a bomb scare. Airline officials said an anonymous caller telephoned saying "a plane going to New Hampshire" had a bomb on it. A search of the delayed plane, bound for Keene and Lebanon, N. H., failed to uncover any explosives.

N. Y. Officials Appeal For More Money To Curb Student Lawlessness

NEW YORK (UP)—School and city officials, faced with fresh teen-age violence and parent-teacher criticism of a new school anti-crime program, appealed to the state today for more money to help curb student lawlessness.

Pupils beat or stabbed two students in schools in Manhattan and the Bronx Wednesday, and at another school detectives arrested a 18-year-old youth who admitted, they said, that he had robbed two pupils in the school to get money for narcotics.

Dr. William Jansen, superintendent of schools, and Charles E. Silver, Board of Education president, will ask state officials and legislators in Albany today for more state aid for the schools.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner also planned to confer there with Gov. Averell Harriman on ways to improve New York City's violence-ridden schools.

Critics Hit Budget

A barrage of criticism from parent, teacher and citizens groups hit the Board's $50-million budget for 1958-59 when it was submitted formally to the city budget director Wednesday.

The budget includes funds for adding six new schools in which youthful trouble makers and delinquents would be segregated from other pupils, as part of an anti-crime program adopted by the Board Tuesday.

Organizations called the program "warmer-over", "sympathetic", "handcuffs" and "inadequate".

The United Parents Assn. asked the Board to seek more money and charged that the "new" program actually contained nothing new. The Teachers Union said "there is no cheap way out of this school crisis" and the Citizens' Committee for the Children of New York, Inc. said the plan was "doomed to fail" unless it became part of a "realistic" state and local program.

Monitor Stopped

In the latest outbreaks of violence that in recent weeks has included two rapes and several beatings and robberies, a 14-year-old Negro student stabbed monitor Philip Romano, 15, when the monitor stopped him from entering Henry Hudson Junior High School before the opening bell rang. Romano was hospitalized with two stab wounds near the abdomen.

Later, three students at George Washington High School beat 16-year-old Frank Sloan so severely he was taken to a hospital with a brain concussion.

At the High School of Music and Arts in Manhattan, detectives arrested Robert Asby, 19, who said he was recently released from seven months of hospital treatment for drug addiction. They said he confessed robbing two students of wristwatches and money Jan. 28 and last Tuesday.

Weather

Big Drive To Explore Space Taking Shape

WASHINGTON (UP)—A mammoth drive to explore space began today.

It was learned that half a dozen concrete projects are now under study in the Defense Department. They are forerunners of a vast new program that eventually may take man to the moon and planets.

Providing the impetus and early knowledge for future plans is America's Explorer satellite, now whizzing around earth in an egg-shaped orbit calculated as ranging from 219 to 1,378 miles out in space.

Exact nature of the half-dozen projects was not disclosed. High defense officials said after Russia's Sputnik I was launched that a survey was made of the armed services to see what they could do in satellite and space development.

Half-Dozen Plans

A group of scientists and industry experts comprising the Pentagon's Special Capabilities Panel analyzed the various proposals and winnowed out "half a dozen solid projects" that are now under intensive study. No go-ahead has been given on any as yet.

Meantime plans are already set for a second Explorer, the Navy Vanguard satellite program and development of the Air Force "Pied Piper" television reconnaissance satellite.

High officials disclosed that the agencies are now casting about for another launching site capable of shooting moons into a north-south orbit. The Cape Canaveral, Fla., range is reported unsuitable for launchings other than in a general east-west direction.

President Eisenhower indicated the American space program is in its formative stages when he held a news conference Wednesday. Government scientists are still mapping the "general rough" outline of how to proceed.

Ten Years to Moon

The range of military proposals is from a 300-pound satellite feisty soon to a huge 20-ton satellite—presumably manned—perhaps 10 years from now.

Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation, told the United States today most government scientists believe a space program should be based on a "thorough scientific study of outer space." This would be accomplished with the data radioed back by Explorer and other satellites scheduled for launching this year.

Hard Work, 'Cold Cash' Needed To Enter FSL

A group of basket ball fans met at the City Hall here last night to hear various plans and offers to return baseball to Sanford once again. Baseball has been missing from the local scene for 2 years and it was the opinion of most who were present that everyone is ready to talk business and prepare to enter the Class-D Florida State league once again. All it will take is hard work, much interest, and above all, "Cold Cash".

Peter Schaal, president of the league opened the meeting by going over the financial statements of various clubs in the league and he showed how teams working under much weaker conditions were able to come out in the black, some by a very wide margin for class D ball. As Schaal stated, "the only club in the league to lose money was Leesburg and that was because of several minor things that could be eliminated here in Sanford. Gainesville, who is the farthest club from being centrally located, was able to withstand additional traveling expenses to towns such as Tampa and St. Petersburg and still show around $200 in the black for the season. Schaal pointed out that "with the location of Sanford these travel expenses could be just about half of the amount required by Gainesville." With the present situation in minor league ball this is all that a club will have to do to give the people of Sanford a wonderful summer of recreation.

Neither Waterman nor the President would hazard a guess on when sufficient knowledge will be gained to lay out a step-by-step program for sending a space ship to the moon. However Dr. Werner Von Braun, head of research at the Army's Huntsville, Ala., ballistic missile agency and "father" of the Explorer, has suggested a manned U. S. rocket may make a moon round trip in 10 years.

Yemen To Be Added To New United Arab Republic

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The Syro-Egyptian union moved today to add Yemen to the new United Arab Republic in a development that could affect the balance of power in the oil-rich Arabian peninsula.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser began formal talks in Cairo with Yemeni Crown Prince Seif el Islam el Badr to work out details of Yemen's entry.

The Egyptian and Syrian parliaments unanimously approved plans for the new republic Wednesday, while other Arab states looked on with mingled interest and apprehension.

Gerintology Kiwanis Speaker's Subject

Pinellas County has become a mecca for old people," Dr. C. W. Carter told the Sanford Kiwanis Club yesterday at its noon luncheon meeting.

Dr. Carter said the national average of people over 65 is 8.7 per cent; the Florida average is 10.3 per cent; but the Pinellas County average is over 20 per cent.

St. Petersburg, the geriatrics specialist said, has gone "all out" to be nice to old people and in the last election in May of 1957, 34 per cent of the 130,000 registered voters were over 65.

Gerintology, said Dr. Carter, is the "study of aging and includes all ages. You start aging the minute you're born, he said and gerintology is the study of psychological and mental changes as you get older.

Fire Dept. Stops Blaze Threatening Populated Area

Firemen fought a stubborn blaze that threatened to spread through a heavily populated Goldsboro area this morning shortly after 8 o'clock.

Chief Mack N. Cleveland, heading the Sanford Fire Department, however, brought the flames under control about 8:30 and kept the fire from spreading to other frame dwellings in the area.

A frame dwelling at 1204 Lincoln Court, owned by Chief Roy F. Williams, was destroyed as the result of the flash fire that Bill Williams, 74-year-old Negro man who occupied the dwelling said "went everywhere like a shot out of a rifle."

The Negro man said a heater exploded and before he could get out of the house the hair was singed on his head.

"I lost everything but what I've got on," Bill Williams said as he sat across the street watching his house go up in smoke.

Employment Office To Open Here Soon

The Florida State Employment Service will open a Sanford office "sometime during this month," it was announced yesterday.

"As soon as office equipment and supplies are set up," John Krider, Manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, said "the office will be opened."

Manager of the local office has not yet been named, Tom Lawson, manager of the Central Florida office, said yesterday.

The office will be located at 110 West Second St., and the space has been made available through the courtesy of the Florida State Bank, Krider said.

"The need has been so great for such an office," Krider said yesterday afternoon, "I am exceptionally happy that the services of such an office will be made available."

The office will handle registration for employment and will make these registrations available to local industry, commercial houses, and home owners.

Also, to be handled through the new office to be opened here, will be unemployment claims.

Farmers Count Losses In Wake Of 3rd Freeze

By UNITED PRESS

Florida farmers today counted their heavy losses in the wake of the season's third, and worst, freeze. Heavy rains, meanwhile, drenched the nation's midsection.

Winter vegetable crops which escaped the frosty touch of two earlier freezes were just about destroyed in the cold snap that elung to the sunshine state since Monday night and relaxed its grip late Wednesday.

Officials reported extensive damage to the huge citrus industry and big losses in the billion-dollar tourist trade. Hundreds of cattle have died on blackened pasturelands, while thousands of migrant workers, living with their hungry families in shacktowns, were forced out of work.

Agricultural agents estimated that in fourth of the state's 600,000 acres of citrus trees may have been seriously damaged and many young trees possibly killed by the latest cold wave. Gov. LeRoy Collins said last week that the season's estimate for citrus shipments already had been cut about 15 per cent.

John B. Campbell, Dade County agricultural agent, said Wednesday's freeze may have dealt a death blow to rich winter vegetable regions in the southern part of the state. In his own county alone, he said 40 to 50 million dollars damage was done.

A broad thunderstorm belt extended from eastern Oklahoma to Tennessee early today.

Special Group May Form On Space Invasion

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate may vote today to set up a special committee to decide whether the government's invasion of space should be directed by military men or civilians.

A resolution to establish such a panel was introduced Wednesday under the powerful sponsorship of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.). It cleared the Rules Committee and rocketed to the Senate floor within five hours.

It appeared likely Johnson would himself become chairman of the new committee. Under his resolution the other members must be chosen from among the men who serve on a half-dozen of the upper chamber's most important permanent committees.

To Question Strauss

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.) chairman of the space subcommittee of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Commission, was considered a sure selection for the new group. His subcommittee planned to question Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission today on how the AEC would handle the space program if given that responsibility.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) introduced a bill to liberalize the size of unemployment benefit payments to meet the threat of recession. The measure—co-sponsored by nine other northern and western Democrats—would set up federal standards states would be required to meet by July 1, 1959.

14-Year-Old Boy Hurt As Scooter Crashes Into Car

A Seminole High School student was seriously injured shortly after noon yesterday when his motor scooter crashed into the rear of an automobile attempting a left turn on French Ave.

Gary Swalm, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Swalm, 2108 Amelia Drive, is in Seminole Memorial Hospital with a fractured leg as a result of the smash-up.

Mrs. Swalm said today that her son seemingly "is in better spirits this morning."

Sgt. Ben Butler, of the Sanford Police Department, who investigated the accident, said that the youngster was traveling north on French Ave. "when his attention was distracted" and he crashed into the rear end of an automobile which had come to a stop in the
