By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

American newspaperwomen have chosen one of their own as "Woman of the Year" for 1951. Miss Margaret Higgins, plucky and pretty young foreign correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune, whose coverage of the Korean War brought her both national headlines and a Pulitzer prize.

More recently the pert, blonde Maggie has traveled around the world writing a series, "Around Russia's Curtain," authored a book, "War in Korea" and covered the United States on a lecture tour.

The only newspaperwoman on the Korean battlefield, Maggie drew international attention when, ordered to the rear for safety, she stood her ground with the announcement, "I'm here as a reporter, not as a woman."

It is interesting to note that in the poll of women's editors of Associated Press newspapermen, runner-up for the title of outstanding woman of the year was Princess Elizabeth, whose recent American tour made miles of headlines.

Miss Higgins was born in Hong Kong of an American Army officer father and a French mother, moved to school in France and England and wound up with honors at the University of California and Columbia University's school of journalism.

She joined the Herald Tribune in 1942, and became a foreign correspondent in 1944, worked in the London and Paris bureaus, moved on to Geneva with the 7th Army during the closing days of World War II and soon afterward was made head of the Berlin bureau.

When the Korean War broke out she made a beeline from the Tokyo bureau to the battlefield, where for 23 weeks she reported all aspects of the fighting, under going dangers and hardships of the front.

Other new names show up among the ten women voted outstanding in their respective fields for 1951, from the standpoint of news value.

Top in the field of sports is Maureen Connelly, 16-year-old winner of the National Women's Tennis Championship, a teenager who has provided the nation's sports writers with a fresh and inspiring new personality to brighten up their pages.

In literature, the vote goes to Rachel Carson, author of the best-selling "The Sea Around Us." Judy Garland took the hat in the theater, for her sensational success in bringing vaudeville back to Broadway.

In the field of science, the voters have chosen Dr. Florence Rubin, one of three women doctors who were winners of the American Public Health Association's 1951 Lasker awards. Now director of health for Denver, Dr. Rubin previously was the first woman on the faculty of Johns Hopkins Medical School, the woman scientist on the staff of the Rockefeller Institute, first woman admitted to the National Academy of Sciences and first woman member of the American Association of Anatomists.

Others named as outstanding in their fields are: Public affairs: Anna Rosenberg, Assistant Secretary of Defense, now spearheading a drive for enlistment of 72,000 women in the armed services.

Radio: Tallah Bankhead, star of NBC's ambitious "Big Show." Music: Dorothy Kirsten, opera and concert star, who played in MGM's "The Great Caruso" this year and has just given a command performance in London on the occasion of the wedding anniversary of Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

Subzero Blast To Hit Snow-Bound Chicago Soon

CHICAGO (AP)—Already buried under the biggest fall of snow in 23 years, Chicago today faced a subzero blast which threatens the city's attempts to dig out its snail-paced transportation system.

While weary crews of workers battled to remove huge drifts which still had paralyzed transportation in the nation's second largest city, the Weather Bureau forecast a cold wave of zero to 10 below tonight.

But the weatherman had at least a cheery note for arm-weary householders who have been digging paths from house to garage to street for almost two weeks.

He said there was no more snow in prospect for the next 36 to 48 hours.

Air transportation out of Chicago also was affected by the piled-up snow, despite good flying weather. At Midway Airport, only two of eight runways were in operation. American Airlines canceled six flights to Detroit and Buffalo. Three West Coast flights were cancelled by Trans World Airline.

Snow shoveling was the major outdoor activity in the metropolitan area on Christmas Day. A Christmas Eve storm left a fresh blanket of more than eight inches of snow on the already snow-covered city.

The latest covering of white brought the city's December snowfall to a record-breaking 33.4 inches and the total for the season to 47.3 inches. This compares with the average of 33.2 inches for an entire winter season. The heaviest fall on record was 61.1 inches in 1916.

Transportation officials urged motorists not to drive. They sounded a similar warning Tuesday. But buses and street cars and elevated lines operated far behind schedule and thousands of motorists risked the chance of getting stalled. Hundreds became stranded.

Some tow-trucking operators reported they were unable to respond to trouble calls because equipment has been damaged by overwork in the several storms of the last two weeks.

The Chicago Transit Authority, which operates the street car, elevated and bus lines, said its total force of 200 plows and sweepers is being utilized around the clock to remove the snow. The CTA said it had spent more than $500,000 since Dec. 14 in the fight to keep its 100 miles of bus routes and 425 miles of street car lines open. The city sent out 200 snow plows and crews.

Fire Marshal Michael J. Corriani canceled all days off for firemen beginning today because of the increased danger of fire. Cold or weather—as low as five below—was forecast for the Chicago area tonight.

The snow was so deep at the Brookfield Zoo Tuesday that even the polar bears stayed inside. Five of the zoo's polar bears didn't move out of their dens. The sixth headed for shelter in a hurry after a brief look around its outdoor cage.

The fresh fall of snow in Chicago and most of Illinois extended over most of the North Central region, it moved into North-western Pennsylvania, Western New York and parts of New England. Rain fell through the Ohio Valley, the Southern Appalachians and the Middle Atlantic states. A narrow band of freezing rain and sleet pelted areas between the snow and rain belts.

Neighbors Rally To Fire Victims Aid

EAST KEANSBURG, N. J.—Townfolk pitched in today to help Mike Kelly, his heroic wife, Helen, and their 12 Kelly kids whose modest home was wiped out by a Christmas morning fire.

Neighbors, loud in their praise of Mrs. Kelly for the brave way she sheltered her children to safety, started practicing the spirit of Christmas before the day had dawned in this small Central Jersey town near Hamilton Bay.

Offers of food, shelter and clothing poured in on the Kellys who lost just about every worldly possession in the early morning blaze.

The 43-year-old mother had just put the finishing touches on the family Christmas tree when a two-burner oil stove exploded and set the small, frame home afire. Her husband was at work at the time. She roused her sleeping children and guided them toward the front as flames engulfed the rear of the house.

Four-month-old Dorothy, cradled in Mrs. Kelly's arms, was burned on the head and face before they all could get through the front door.

Volunteer firemen, aided by neighbors, did all they could to save the house but it burned to the ground.

Neighbors took in the children, ranging in age up to 19-year-old Robert, until a furnished house, closed for the winter, was opened to the family by Police Chief Earl Hoyer.

Czechs Are First Commies To Dicker For Iranian Oil

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Communist Czechoslovakia stepped up today as the first Iron Curtain customer to dicker for Iran's state-owned oil.

Iran needs the money badly. The government disclosed Tuesday night it is so broke it has called home 20 diplomats to save expenses around they include ambassadors to Britain, Italy and India, the minister in Belgium, and 22 lesser officials.

Britain, ousted owner and operator of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, already has served firm notice in a diplomatic note she will look on Iranian oil sales to outsiders as illegal.

And the company, mainly owned by the British government, has publicly stated it will take all possible measures to halt sales until Iran settles satisfactorily with the company. These measures have not been specifically defined.

The British notices followed an ultimatum from Premier Mohammad Mossadegh that former Western buyers of Iranian oil must bid for petroleum products within 10 days or he would look for customers wherever he could find them.

Accidental Deaths

A foot of new snow was reported in Chautauque county in southwestern New York. Two to eight inches of snow fell in other sections of the state. Highways were slippery.

A storm that ended today left six inches of snow in Maine. Highway travel was slow.

Trains and buses were moving but behind schedule in Michigan. Planes were grounded by field conditions. Two thousand men were put to work clearing clogged streets in Detroit. Detroit's snow has measured 32 inches since Nov. 1. Grand Rapids has had 54.6 inches since Dec. 1.

Jimmy McFadden of the Chicago Black Hawks in the National Hockey League was born in Ireland.

The agreements apparently were a jolt to the dominant Wafdist Party, whose leaders have insisted upon no compromise with the British. They want the British to clear out at once.

HIGH DETERGENCY

● Cuts engine wear up to 80%!
Yes, in short-trip, low-temperature operation (the kind of day-to-day driving most of us do) this new motor oil reduces engine wear by as much as 80%.

● Developed in 14,000,000 miles of driving!
800 cars and trucks of various makes were used in this test, each with a different driver. The test included all types of driving terrain.

● Keeps hydraulic valve lifters from fouling and sticking!
Your Gulf dealer can tell you if your motor has the type of high-precision valve lifter (many cars do) which requires a high detergency oil.

● Prevents plugging, sticking of piston rings, clogging of oil screens!
That means a reduction of oil consumption. Also, eliminates oil-starvation of vital engine parts, caused by clogged oil screens.

Whether your car is old or new, you can get the benefits of this revolutionary new oil NOW. Start using Gulfpride H.D. this fall, when you see your Gulf dealer for complete "Safety-first" car service.

Get your GULF man's complete "Safety-first" service—protect your car FULLY for safe, pleasant driving!

THE SERVICE

Your Gulf man will be glad to check your tires at any time for proper inflation; look for cuts and bruises. When you need new tires, there are none better than Gulf safety-tread tires.

GULFLEX LUBRICATION

Get full protection against undue winter wear; have your car Gulfed. Special Gulflex lubricants are used to reduce car wear at up to 38 vital points of chassis, engine, and body.

GEAR LUBRICATION

Fall, after a summer of hard use, is the best time to let your Gulf dealer flush out the old gear lubricants and replace them with tough, long-lasting Gulf gear lubricants.

GULF BATTERY SERVICE

For cold-weather starting, a fully charged battery is a "must." Your Gulf dealer will make a careful check and recharge if necessary, or install a new Gulf Powercrest battery.

Rewards Are Promised In Bomb Cases

Two Explosions Rock Miami Area But Location Of Blasts Can't Be Learned

MIMS, Fla.—(AP)—Rewards for the arrest and conviction of dynamite in Florida soared to $11,325 today following the death-bombing of a Negro leader and more mysterious explosions in Miami. The State of Florida offered $2,000 for information leading to conviction of those responsible for the death of Harry T. Moore, and another $1,000 for similar information in connection with attacks on Jewish, Negro and Catholic centers in Dade (Miami) county. The cities of Miami and Miami Beach and numerous organizations have posted rewards totaling $8,325.

MIMS (AP)—The State of Florida today offered a $2,000 reward in the death-bombing of a prominent Negro leader and at the same time his injured wife said she had "a couple ideas" who might be responsible.

Federal, state and Harvard County officials were probing the case with unannounced results as to what kind of bomb it was, or who might have been responsible.

But it seemed clear that the reason Harry T. Moore was slain and his wife hurt in one blast which shattered their isolated home a mile from here Christmas night was his aggressive leadership in state Negro affairs.

Gov. Warren said he would pay the $2,000 reward for information leading to conviction of those responsible for the bombing; and another $1,000 for information leading to conviction of those guilty of bombing and leaving explosives near Jewish, Negro and Catholic centers in Greater Miami.

In a Sanford hospital where Moore died an hour after the blast, his wife told a newspaper reporter: "I have a couple of ideas who might have done it, but when you do those kind of things they do someone else for it."

She was reported "slightly improved but not out of danger" today. Today was to have been the 24th wedding anniversary of Tallahassee, Bill Hendrix, head of the Ku Klux Klan in Florida, said "Moore was a good fellow who was trying to help his race but he had just found out he was going about it wrong."

Hendrix, who has announced his candidacy for governor of Florida, said he had talked to Moore recently.

He said the Klan "didn't have anything to do with the bombing. If we caught one of our men doing it, we'd be the first to have him prosecuted. That's not in our program and it's just what our organization is for."

$2,463,000 Bond Issue Is Sold On Housing Projects

Castle Brewer Is Now 90% Completed; 2 Others Pushed

The Sanford Housing Authority recently completed the sale of bonds totaling $2,463,000 in value for the financing of three housing projects here. George Williams, SIA executive director, announced this morning.

Williams and Volte Williams, Jr., attorney for the SIA, signed for the bonds in New York City on Dec. 14. The firm of Phelps Penn and Co., bonding firm, submitted the bids in behalf of the purchasers.

Bonds for Castle Brewer Court, 12th and 13th streets, near the railroad, totaling $1,320,000 in value. This housing development is now 90 percent completed.

Immediately west of Castle Brewer Court is the William Clark Court, now under construction. Bonds for this 80 unit project sold for $762,000. It is expected that it will be ready for occupancy by Negro families in April or May.

Bonds totaling $379,000 in value were sold for the Edward Higgins Terrace project on West 13th Street. This project is being developed by 10 white families during latter March. George Williams declared.

The administration building in Castle Brewer Court has been completed, and equipment has been ordered for it. This will include a fully equipped kitchen, a nursery, and a 30 by 60 foot auditorium seating about 200 persons. Back of the building will be a large playground for children.

Shrubbery and trees have been planted in the area and laws are to be added by Skaggs Gardens Co. of Jacksonville.

City Manager Clifford McKibbin announced this morning that City workers have started digging drainage ditches along Eleventh Street on the south side of William Clark Court. This will drain 10 blocks in the area, the water running into Mill Creek.

Paving of streets bordering Castle Brewer Court is being held up until the ditch work is completed. City and Sanford Housing Authority have agreed to share equally the cost of the paving.

Light to moderate variable winds will become fresh in moderately strong winds from the north and northeast winds today, the Weather Bureau said, and continue tonight and Friday.

Fire of undetermined origin caused damage to clothing early this morning in a bedroom of a two-story frame house at 911 Holly Avenue, occupied by Charles Galtson and Ernest Dickson, Negroes. Fire Chief M. N. Cleveland stated.

The building, which is owned by James Harris, was not damaged. Firemen answered the call at 9:47 A.M.

Korean Truce Is Closed On Ominous Note

Many Of 50,000 Unaccounted Allied Prisoners Reported To Have Died Of Cold

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—It appeared almost certain today that the lull in Korean ground fighting would linger on despite end of a 30-day "truce" period in a provisional buffer zone. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander, was in a South Korea rear area Thursday. If anything big militarily was planned or expected, it seemed certain the General would be on the front-line or at his headquarters.

By ROBERT H. TUCKMAN
MUNSSAN, Korea (Friday)—The 30-day Korean cease-fire line agreement ran out today on "a rather ominous note" to true talks about Allied prisoner of war deaths.

There was no indication here of plans to extend the agreement responsible for the 30-day truce. The full five-man armistice committee which signed the original agreement Nov. 27 did not even meet. An official U. S. spokesman said neither side asked for an extension.

But in a subcommittee session at Pannunjon Thursday, Gen. Van Fleet said the Communists hinted they may report many of the 50,000 unaccounted for Allied prisoners of war died of exposure and disease.

Lady said it was "a rather ominous note" it might have been a forewarning that all these people died of illness.

Subcommittee members working on the problems of exchanging war prisoners and supervising a truce still were deadlocked when they adjourned their last session before the scheduled expiration time. The agreement ran out at midnight (10 A.M. EST) Thursday.

Washington sources expressed belief the new truce would be approved a 15-day extension of the period in which the 145-mile line drawn across Korea Nov. 27 could become a permanent ceasefire line.

High diplomatic officials in Washington said the supreme U. S. commander had been authorized to extend the truce.

Port Terminal Is Promised Help By Florida Senators

Gus Hall Sentenced To 3 Years In Jail

Florida's two Senators, George Smathers and Spessard Holland, have promised to go to the Department of Commerce and consult with department officials as to the feasibility of the proposed Sanford port and terminal.

Alfred Pitts and today, the Senator is going to see how the Department feels about fostering our port project because of the apparent desirability of using the inland waterway for a compromise settlement of the bloody dispute with the British over the Suez Canal and the Sudan.

Doubts Grow Over Release Of U. S. Fliers

Tourist Building Dangers For Future Are Seen By Contributions Go Over $1,000 Mark

New Bids May Be Asked On Center. Only 3 Received

Contributions to the Tourist Building Fund went over the thousand dollar mark today with the announcement at the weekly luncheon of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce, at the Yacht Club of an anonymous contribution of $100 from a Sanford citizen.

The Jaycee sponsored fund now totals $1,020.76 including 11 one dollar contributions to last Friday and Saturday's "Buy A Block" campaign.

A scale model of the proposed tourist center, which is to be erected in Fort Mellon Park, was presented to the meeting by Joyce Clarence Knight. The small balsa wood and cardboard model, based on drawings by Architect E. T. Moughton, is a complete reproduction from the tiny glass windows to the green hedge around the building.

Joyce Bill Stepper, in discussing methods of financing the building, bills for which were accepted by the City last Friday, pointed out that it may prove inadvisable to contract the building on a "labor alone" basis. Only one bid was received for work alone, said Mr. Stepper, who is also a member of the Sanford City Commission. And the "labor alone" bid was slightly under the low bid for the complete job including all materials, he added.

Only three bids for the complete work on the building were submitted last Friday and Architect Moughton has recommended that new bids be called for, according to City Clerk H. N. Sayer. Decision on the new bids rests with the new City Commission which will hold its organization meeting Jan. 8 to select new members and elect a mayor.

Sanford attorney and West Virginia Congressman, today announced his candidacy for State Representative in Green No. 1 district in the Democratic primary.

Mr. Cleveland was born and raised in Seminole County and has lived his entire life here. He was educated in the public schools of White Bluffs, graduating from Sanford High School in 1925. He attended the University of Florida for one year and then entered the U. S. Army. He served in an infantry unit from 1942 to 1946, including 22 months overseas as a New Guinea, the Philippines and in Japan.

Mr. Cleveland later completed his education at Sanford College, receiving the B.S. degree in Business Administration and an LL.B. degree in law. While at Sanford he was elected to membership in the highest judicial organization at the university. He is now engaged in the practice of law in Sanford.

"I respectfully submit my candidacy to the people of Seminole County in the hope that I can give them straight forward and sane representation in the Florida House of Representatives. I shall constantly endeavor to clean and honest government in the affairs of our state, and I will actively oppose the organized efforts of the gambling syndicates seeking to control our state government."

"I would like to place on file a record of the outstanding Indian debt of living salary money to all Florida Public School teachers. If financed, if the State, if annual conditions requires more revenue to meet this end of living increase, by removing the 100 tax ceiling on heavy equipment, by simplifying however, equipment used for agricultural, mining, and transportation purposes."

"I shall also work earnestly towards more practical and effective method of eliminating those who are not justly entitled to State Welfare benefits. I am confident that I will be able to remove and of living increase."

Mr. Cleveland is a member of the Junior and Senior Chambers of Commerce, Sanford Masonic Lodge No. 62, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Kiwanis, Seminole County Children's Committee, and the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Cleveland will serve as his own campaign treasurer and has named the Sanford Atlantic National Bank as his depository.

ELKS TO MEET
Sanford Lodge 1241 of Elks will meet tonight at 8:00 o'clock and a committee report will be heard from Morris Moss, head of the Christmas Tree Committee, concerning the Christmas party given Saturday for underprivileged children. ## Tourist Building Dangers For Future Are Seen By Officials In Paying Fliers' Fines

Mack Cleveland, Jr.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Responsible officials concerned today there are dangers for the future in the U. S. decision to pay the $120,000 in fines levied by Communist Hungary against four American airmen.

At the same time, authorities asserted there were compelling reasons for the decision and that in terms of propaganda the result will not necessarily be entirely adverse to the United States.

Hungary has held the U. S. airmen since Nov. 19 as violators of her border. A Communist court had decreed they each would have to spend three months in jail if the fines were not paid. The Hungarian action was widely denounced here as international blackmail and the fines were termed a ransom.

On the negative side of the U. S. decision to pay the fines these dangers or disadvantages were noted:

1. The Communist leadership can and undoubtedly will exploit the U. S. decision in Europe and elsewhere as evidence of American weakness, and also as evidence that the airmen were guilty.
2. The four Air Force men on an official duty were charged with having deliberately violated the borders of Hungary to discharge spies. The U. S. insisted they last their way on a flight to Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and that they may charge was baseless.
3. Aside from propagandizing the Kremlin may be led to think there is a lack of determination in Washington in handling such matters and may be encouraged to run greater risks in the future in dealing with the U. S. and its citizens.
4. The Hungarian incident may lead to a series of similar irritating actions involving greater sums of money and more people—either military or civilian forces, diplomats or private citizens.
5. The danger is seen as being likely to materialize if the Communist demand for the airmen's release is not met.
6. On the positive side of the decision to pay the fines, officials said there were these considerations:

1. The airmen were charged with having violated the borders of Hungary to discharge spies. The U. S. insisted they last their way on a flight to Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and that they may charge was baseless.- 2. The decision can be viewed as a gesture of goodwill towards the U. S. and its friends in Europe and in dealing with Communist propaganda.
- 3. The decision shows that the U. S. stands behind members of the armed forces in such a situation as the airmen's.
- 4. Initial reaction from members of Congress varied widely.
- 5. Sen. Robert Taft (R-Ohio) called the decision to pay "a serious and tragic mistake." But Sen. ## Budapest Says Offer Of American Government Has Not Yet Been Accepted

By RICHARD O'Regan

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet News Agency Tass said today four spies who parachuted into Romania last October from a U. S. airplane have been executed. The agency declared in a dispatch from Romania that a fifth member of the group committed suicide by swallowing poison.

Tass said the five were trained as spies by the "American Intelligence Service," which recruited them in an Italian camp for displaced persons.

VIENNA (AP)—Conflicting reports tonight raised doubts concerning negotiations for release of four American fliers jailed by Hungary.

An official American report from Budapest indicated the Hungarian Communists had not yet accepted a U. S. government offer to pay $120,000 in fines for release of the fliers, convicted of violating the Communist country's borders.

This information was in conflict with a statement by the Hungarian legation in Washington. The legation said Wednesday night the offer to pay the fines was accepted. It had been expected that the fliers would be released some time today.

The new report from Budapest may mean delay. Walter J. Donnelly, U. S. high commissioner and ambassador in Austria, talked this afternoon with the U. S. legation in Budapest.

George Abbott, U. S. charge d'affaires in Budapest, reported in Donnelly had seen the Hungarian undersecretary of foreign affairs at noon.

"Abbott was told that the Hungarians had made no decision on the American note which was delivered on Christmas Day," Donnelly said.

"The Hungarians told Abbott that the note was being considered by judicial and financial authorities. He had no decision on the American note which was delivered on Christmas Day," Donnelly said.

Navy Party Slogs Through Swamp In Search Of Planes

ST. STEPHEN, S. C. (AP)—A search party slogging through a swamp today found the body of a young Navy pilot in the wreckage of his plane. The pilot, identified as Lt. Alan Henry Stoves, 28, of St. John's, Mich., had been missing since last Thursday when two Navy planes disappeared.

ST. STEPHEN, S. C. (AP)—A Navy party, guided by radio from a blimp, slogged through wild marsh lands today in an attempt to reach two missing planes.

The planes, both single-seat fighters, disappeared in a thick fog that shrouded the South Carolina low country last Thursday. They were last reported over South Carolina on a flight from the carrier level off Norfolk, Va., to Sanford, Fla.

It was believed to be the wreckage of the planes was sighted late Wednesday by their Navy blimp K-38 out of Geneva, Ga. Naval Facility. The K-38 went aloft early today to direct the search operation by radio. It was piloted by Lt. William Balzari who identified the two sighted planes as Navy F-119s, the same type as those missing.

The missing pilots have been identified as Lt. (jg) William Robert Dougherty, Alexandria, Minn., and Ensign Alan Henry Stoves, St. John's, Mich.

A four-state search for the two was called off Christmas Eve. However, the blimp continued to patrol the wild swamps around Charleston in hopes of finding the planes.

The Navy said the planes were sighted about 10 miles northwest of St. Stephen, a tiny lumbering town about 35 miles north of Charleston on the edge of South Carolina's inaccessible Hail Hole Swamp.

The search party used motorboats and ambulances were posted in the vicinity. The State Highway Patrol joined the Navy searchers.

Plenty Of Oil In The Earth But Bringing It To Surface Is Problem

By HAN DAWSON
 NEW YORK—Oilmen know exactly where billions and billions of barrels of oil lie under the United States that they haven't yet been able to coax to the surface. Some of them think they're going to be able to find the way—and soon. Defense needs of the nation for oil reserves that can be used up by the oil engineers and chemists on Oilmen have learned how to bring forth other billions of barrels they once gave up as lost forever. By injecting salt water or natural gas deep into the earth they have brought back to the old oil fields they once thought milked dry. They expect this way to recover an estimated 75 billion barrels once thought lost.

But that still leaves oil they know is there but can't pull out of the pores of the rock and sand where barrels are produced.

Perhaps 150 billion or 200 billion barrels are in known oil fields but beyond the reach of current methods of recovery. This oil is a prize worth working for—especially in the nation's defense.

Now they are turning to chemistry to get at it. They are attacking hydrocarbon molecules of acid deep into the earth to eject the oil from the rocks. Some are using detergents to flush oil loose from the porous rocks in which it hides. Some use carbon dioxide in the water with which they flood old fields to push the oil toward the bottom of wells that are going dry. Fatty acids and ammonia salts are also used to induce the rocks to let off the oil that clings to them. Other chemists are experimenting with bacteria to stimulate the underground flow of oil from the oil-bearing sands in the bottom of oil wells. Some are testing out the effects of heat on the reluctant oil stores.

Much of this oil was once thought lost because in the early days of the oil industry men knew only one way of getting oil—pumping out the petroleum which flowed by natural means in the bottom of the well. The natural means was pressure. The fruitful sands bore not only oil but gas and water. The pressure of the gas and water forced the heavy, slow-flowing oil from the porous rock in the bottom of the well. The well casing where the pressure could escape from the earth.

But the gas and water came to the surface with the oil. In time there wasn't enough pressure from gas and oil to force any more oil to the well casing. Oilmen were reconciled to abandoning an oil field after getting anywhere from 15 to at most 50 per cent of the oil which their wells had tapped.

Then they learned that by pumping back this gas and water down dry wells into the oil-bearing sandstone they could create the pressure to bring on more oil. By this method—the secondary recovery—they are now able to get from 70 to 80 per cent of the oil content of the fields.

Oilmen now start these secondary recovery methods in a new field right after they start the primary recovery—that is the pumping to the surface of the oil which nature forces to the bottom of the well. This early use of secondary recovery assures a steady recovery—under present methods.

They are also re-entering oil fields once abandoned. They pump gas or water or both down old wells under pressure. To hasten the time it takes this water or gas to force the oil to the bottom of producing wells, they often put a vacuum on the producing well. Thus they both push and pull the oil from the rocks.

HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Talk, talk, there was lots of it emanating from Hollywood this year. This was one of the film town's talkiest years. Film folk were yacking all over the U. S. trying to convince citizens that Hollywood was full of solid citizens. Meanwhile, there was a lot of gabbling in Hollywood, plus a bit of spitting and shooting, that created another impression.

Out of the year of talk, I have tried to cull the more memorable quotes. Here they are:

Frank Sinatra, frat at reporters who trailed him and Ava Gardner in Mexico before their marriage: "It's a fine thing when we can't go on a vacation without being chased."

Humphrey Bogart, explaining how he escaped insects in Africa: "Nothing bites me. A solid wall of whisky keeps insects at bay."

Pauline Goddard, learning ex-husband Burgess Meredith had married for the fourth time: "I think it was quite normal of him. He always was domestic."

Acress Kay Scott, divorcing Auto Dealer Douglas Nerrey: "Music has been part of my life, but when I tried to play classics on the piano my husband turned on the television set for me."

Ethel Barrymore, learning that John Barrymore Jr. had skipped out on a summer theater play: "John let the family down. It's the first time in 300 years a Barrymore failed to comply with the billing. I'm deathly sick about it."

Joyce Matthews, after slapping her wrists in Billy Rose's bath room: "I just love razor blades."

Director Fletcher Markle in an interview: "Now please don't write me up as a genius like some of the others have. I'm just a fellow who works hard."

Tallulah Bankhead, asked if she would enter politics: "Heavens, I wouldn't inflict that on any country."

Robert Mitchum, answering the Hollywood press women who voted him "the most unco-operative": "Your magazine award became a treasured addition to a collection of inverse citations. These include prominent mention in several to worst-dressed-American list and a society columnist's 10 most desir-

Frank Christopher Doesn't Remember How His Girl Died

CINCINNATI—The next thing I remember—I was going up the road with blood on my hands. I do not remember how I picked up the scissors or anything.

But Frank Christopher, 22, did tell Sheriff Dan Tahan of a conversation he had had up to the fatal stabbing of dark-haired, beautiful blonde, 19-year-old, ex-Marine said he stopped at her home to object to the "way she was acting" and to tell her he planned to re-enlist in the corps.

"Betty accused me of cheating on her and called me a sucker. She slapped me in the face. I told her never slap me, never do that—and that's all I remember."

Mrs. Sloan's body, clothed except for her dress, was found on her bed. Twenty stab wounds had gouged into her chest, throat and hand. A blow through the heart had killed her, Coroner Herbert T. Lyle said.

Police threw a dragnet for Christopher but he surrendered late Wednesday.

Detectives pieced together the story from Christopher's signed confession. This is what emerged: Christopher, who had served three years with the Second Marine Division, had known Mrs. Sloan since May. She left her husband, Robert Sloan, in September and promised Christopher she would marry him after she got a divorce. The couple went together steadily.

Then—last week—trouble began. "I saw her Monday night and she told me she had cheated on me by dating another guy," Christopher stated. "She did not tell me who the other fellow was."

When he saw her Wednesday, he said, he told her there was "no sense" in his staying there. Then she accused him of cheating on her.

She started laughing and called me a sucker and slapped me.

Christopher, asked by a detective what the last thing was that he remembered, Betty saying to him, whispered it was: "I love you, I love you."

West's Ministers Try To Establish Joint Arm Forces

PARIS—Cabinet ministers of six Western European nations met here today in an effort to press their men and munitions into a single European army. They remained silent on whether they thought it could be done.

The foreign ministers included Italy's Alcide de Gasperi who is also Premier; France's Robert Schuman; Belgium's Paul Van Zeeland; Holland's Dirk U. Stikker; Luxembourg's Joseph Bech; and Prof. Walter Hallstein of West Germany's "Foreign Office."

The first issue before the ministers was whether to run their proposed unified army with a single high commissioner or to put it in the hands of a board of commissioners. France and Italy were known to favor a single commissioner, while Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg want a board of commissioners.

The ministers remained non-committal on the prospects of success.

There was some basis for hope that a compromise could be worked out making one man a sort of European defense minister whose task would be to recruit an army of 43 divisions in the next three years.

France and Italy would provide 12 divisions each. Germany's proposed 14 divisions and the five from the Benelux countries—Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—would be stripped down versions of not more than 13,000 men each.

Optimism that agreement could be reached was based mainly on reports that the French would be willing to compromise simply to get the European army formed. The French seem to think organizational differences can be solved later after a trial period of one to three years of actual practice.

The entire European army plan would be turned over to Gen. Eisenhower as part of the Allied defense force.

Blues In The News

By BOB ANTHONY

Many of the men who went home for Christmas have begun arriving back aboard the station today talking about their "Christmas at home" while other men prepared to leave Sanford tomorrow morning to be home for the arrival of the New Year.

Those that spent Christmas in Sanford are still talking about the Navy Center's Christmas Eve Dance. Our congratulations go to Mrs. Ed Lane and her entire committee for making the affair such a success. The Navy was well represented and among the guests were Comdr. and Mrs. G. R. Pearson, "Footies" and Polly Lawrence won a prize for being the best dancers present and they accepted their award from July Old St. Nick.

The Rollins College extension course in English literature that has been scheduled to commence Jan. 10 may be unable to get underway. It is the policy of Rollins in any extension course to have a class of at least 15. To date only 12 men have registered for the semester beginning Jan. 10. We need at least three more men. Why don't you take advantage of this wonderful opportunity offered you by Rollins College and the Navy? Call me on the base at 280 and let me talk you into it!

Larry Tabachnik came down to Sanford from the Naval Hospital in Jacksonville over the Christmas holiday to visit his old shipmate here. Larry has been undergoing treatment on his knee and is now awaiting transfer from the hospital in Jacksonville to the Naval Hospital in Philadelphia for further treatment. Good luck, Larry, hope you'll soon be back with us.

Harold A. Nelson, HMC came aboard recently from Jacksonville for temporary duty in connection with helping in the installation of some X-Ray equipment at our dispensary. We welcome aboard, Chief, may your stay with us be a pleasant one.

To those of us who knew him, Bob Whittington was a real family—a swell guy doing his part in serving his country. It was a terrific shock to me as it was to all to learn an automobile-train accident had taken Bob's life on Christmas Eve. In the papers he is just another name on the long list of holiday casualties but to me he was an individual—a friend and a shipmate. We extend our sincere sympathy to Bob's parents in this, their hour of bereavement.

to a subpoena. Lang, wounded in the groin when Wanger found him talking to Miss Bennett in a Beverly Hills parking lot Dec. 13, is recovering at his home.

Dr. Marcus Crutan, county all physician, accompanied a sheriff's detective to Lang's home to serve the bench warrant. Both agreed, however, that Lang was in no condition to appear in court.

Beverly Hills police said Wanger told them after the shooting that Lang was "breaking up" his home. Miss Bennett insisted that her relations with her agent were "strictly business."

SURROUNDED BY MEMBERS of their family, the Rev. and Mrs. Carl Dosa, of Bonville, Cal., join in singing Christmas carols with radio minister of ceremonies Tommy Bartlett. Chosen the "family that best exemplifies the spirit of Christmas—all year long," the Dosa's will be presented with more than $10,000 in gifts on Christmas morning. The fact that the Reverend and his wife, during the past decade, looking into their home 10 children for adoption won top honors for them. (International Soundphoto)

500 Pound Man Has Trouble With Casket

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Even in death, Virgil Tackett's weight was a problem.

When Tackett's special casket was built at the small home on nearby Robinson Creek, the family had to remove the door frame before they could get the box out side.

Tackett, who tipped the scales between 500 and 600 pounds, died Wednesday in his sturdily built chair, a chair he found more comfortable for sleeping than a bed. Death apparently was caused by a heart condition.

The 20-year-old Pike County man, who will be buried Friday, was big all his life. At birth, he weighed 13 pounds, but his parents said it had been years since Tackett stepped on a scale.

He had no formal education because the family doctor feared the walk to the school house would endanger his life. Despite this, he possessed keen intelligence and a sense of humor that revolved around his size.

Manufacturers didn't make overalls and jackets large enough for the six-foot, one-inch Kentuckian. The family would buy two pairs of the biggest size made—56—and sew them together. One leg of the overalls would have made a pair of pants for the average fat man.

With his 40-inch thighs and 78-inch waist, Tackett dwarfed his three normal-sized sisters. His parents also are about average in weight.

Smathers Predicts New Oil Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) predicted today the Senate will act "reasonably early" next year on legislation dealing with oil share of lands.

Smathers, a member of the Senate Interior Committee, said members of the committee are agreed that some kind of tideland bill would be put before the Senate to get the issue to the Senate floor.

"It can be amended on the floor," he told a reporter.

Three proposals are before the committee:

1. The administration bill to give the federal government dominion and control over oil rich offshore areas.

2. A bill to give the states control over offshore lands within their boundaries.

3. The House passed bill to give the states title to offshore lands within the boundaries fixed by their legislatures, in some cases as much as 80 miles off shore.

Smathers said he favors a "Middle of the road" approach, fixing the state responsibility at the original offshore boundary line. He predicted Senate action in February or March.

Tax Investigations Follow No Pattern, Says Revenue Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Internal Revenue Bureau spokesman says he knows of no co-ordinated pattern in the filing of tax liens against persons who have figured in a House investigation of tax collection irregularities.

Liens were filed Wednesday against Abraham Teitelbaum, Chicago attorney, and Henry Grunwald, Washington man who refused to answer questions before a House subcommittee.

And it was disclosed that a tax lien was filed Nov. 10 against property believed to be held in Houston, Texas, by Troy Whitehead. Whitehead's name came up in the inquiry as having taken government officials on pleasure trips in his airplane.

A spokesman for the Revenue Bureau said he didn't know of any "concerted effort" which might be indicated by the actions.

Teitelbaum told the House group early this month he had been threatened by two Florida men with "bad tax returns" unless he paid them $20,000. He said the two claimed to be in contact with a combination of high Washington officials, all of whom said they knew of no such clique.

Liens were filed in Chicago against Teitelbaum, his wife, his law partner and the partner's wife. They charge the four owe more than $50,000 in back taxes, penalties and interest.

The lien against Grunwald and his wife charges he owes $31,157 for 1950 income taxes. It was filed in Miami, Fla., where Grunwald has an expensive home and other property.

Four liens aggregating $1,328,464 were filed at Houston against Whitehead, the machinery company he heads, and his wife. They allege he owes that amount on taxes for the years 1942-46 and for 1950.

Another frigid blast hit the snow covered North Central region today and more snow was on the way. No relief from the wintry weather is in sight, U. S. forecasters said.

The cold extended across the Eastern two-thirds of the nation, touching all the way to the Gulf Coast.

The subzero weather in the Midwest struck as travel and production in many cities slowed because of the heavy snowfalls in the last two weeks.

Two Midwest metropolitan centers, Chicago and Detroit, appeared the hardest hit by the transportation. There have been record snowfalls in both cities this month and traffic and mass transportation was still snarled in many sections.

The fresh icy air from North-western Canada sent temperatures tumbling to far below zero in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, and Northern Illinois early today. In Chicago, the temperature fell to 20 in Howard Park, Minn. Some subzero readings also were reported in Northern New England.

The cold air moved southward and eastward from Montana and sent temperatures to near freezing as far south as Mobile, Ala. It was expected to be colder in the Eastern states Friday.

Snow was forecast for the North Central region tonight. Snow fell early today in the Northern Rockies and snow mixed with rain hit parts of Washington and Oregon. Some rain fell in Northern Florida.

Every available piece of snow removal equipment was being utilized to help get Chicago's 3,700 miles of streets and boulevards open. The city has had a record snowfall of more than 23 inches in December. Thousands of cars the estimate, ran as high as more than 100,000 were stalled in Chicago's latest snowstorm on Christmas Eve.

ized to arrive in the next few days up to 15 days if he felt there was hope of reaching an agreement.

Nov. 27 negotiators drew a tentative cease-fire line and agreed it would be at the center of a 2 1/2-mile wide buffer zone if an armistice were signed within 30 days.

Otherwise the line would be redrawn just before a truce is slanted to follow changes resulting from battle action.

Explanation of the cease-fire line agreement could bring an explosive end to the month-long lull on the battle front, or the twilight war could continue while negotiations go on.

In Thursday's fruitless talks, each side accused the other of needlessly delaying the truce.

Diary Of Joan's Husband Revealing

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Walter Wanger's diary and reports of private detectives he hired to and her agent, Jennings Lang, will be introduced at Wanger's trial for shooting Lang.

Wanger's attorney, Jerry Giesler, so asserted Wednesday. He won a continuance until Jan. 7 for Wanger to plead to a grand jury indictment charging assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder. He told the court he will insist that the detectives' reports and the diary be made available, "on one side or the other."

Adolph Alexander, deputy district attorney, assured Giesler the state will present all its evidence.

Giesler indicated later that Wanger will plead innocent and that the detectives' reports will play an important part in his defense.

At Giesler's request, the court that Lang was "breaking up" his home. Miss Bennett insisted that her relations with her agent were "strictly business."

Prison Heel-Cutting Being Investigated

BUFFALO, Ga. (AP)—State Prison officials today began looking into a Christmas Day heel-slashing out-break which sent about 30 of Georgia's incorrigibles to solitary confinement.

Warden Hubert L. Smith of the state's new Rock Quarry Prison said Wednesday the hardened inmates cut their heel tendons with a safety razor blade to escape work. Most of the cuts were light, he reported. The prisoners were confined to solitary cells after the prison doctor sewed their wounds.

The prisoners, who make up about one-fifth of Rock Quarry's inmates, began slashing their tendons following a big Christmas dinner the warden related. He said one of the group obtained a razor blade, cut himself, and the instru-

The prisoners reportedly were demonstrating against limited visiting privileges and a lack of reading material and radios at Rock Quarry.

500 Pound Man Has Trouble With Casket

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Even in death, Virgil Tackett's weight was a problem.

When Tackett's special casket was built at the small home on nearby Robinson Creek, the family had to remove the door frame before they could get the box out side.

Tackett, who tipped the scales between 500 and 600 pounds, died Wednesday in his sturdily built chair, a chair he found more comfortable for sleeping than a bed. Death apparently was caused by a heart condition.

The 20-year-old Pike County man, who will be buried Friday, was big all his life. At birth, he weighed 13 pounds, but his parents said it had been years since Tackett stepped on a scale.

He had no formal education because the family doctor feared the walk to the school house would endanger his life. Despite this, he possessed keen intelligence and a sense of humor that revolved around his size.

Manufacturers didn't make overalls and jackets large enough for the six-foot, one-inch Kentuckian. The family would buy two pairs of the biggest size made—56—and sew them together. One leg of the overalls would have made a pair of pants for the average fat man.

With his 40-inch thighs and 78-inch waist, Tackett dwarfed his three normal-sized sisters. His parents also are about average in weight.

Smathers Predicts New Oil Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) predicted today the Senate will act "reasonably early" next year on legislation dealing with oil share of lands.

Smathers, a member of the Senate Interior Committee, said members of the committee are agreed that some kind of tideland bill would be put before the Senate to get the issue to the Senate floor.

"It can be amended on the floor," he told a reporter.

Three proposals are before the committee:

1. The administration bill to give the federal government dominion and control over oil rich offshore areas.

2. A bill to give the states control over offshore lands within their boundaries.

3. The House passed bill to give the states title to offshore lands within the boundaries fixed by their legislatures, in some cases as much as 80 miles off shore.

Smathers said he favors a "Middle of the road" approach, fixing the state responsibility at the original offshore boundary line. He predicted Senate action in February or March.

Tax Investigations Follow No Pattern, Says Revenue Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Internal Revenue Bureau spokesman says he knows of no co-ordinated pattern in the filing of tax liens against persons who have figured in a House investigation of tax collection irregularities.

Liens were filed Wednesday against Abraham Teitelbaum, Chicago attorney, and Henry Grunwald, Washington man who refused to answer questions before a House subcommittee.

And it was disclosed that a tax lien was filed Nov. 10 against property believed to be held in Houston, Texas, by Troy Whitehead. Whitehead's name came up in the inquiry as having taken government officials on pleasure trips in his airplane.

A spokesman for the Revenue Bureau said he didn't know of any "concerted effort" which might be indicated by the actions.

Teitelbaum told the House group early this month he had been threatened by two Florida men with "bad tax returns" unless he paid them $20,000. He said the two claimed to be in contact with a combination of high Washington officials, all of whom said they knew of no such clique.

Liens were filed in Chicago against Teitelbaum, his wife, his law partner and the partner's wife. They charge the four owe more than $50,000 in back taxes, penalties and interest.

New $144,000 Municipal Stadium To Be Finished By January First

By KENT CHETLAIN
The highly controversial but big new concrete Municipal Baseball Stadium will be completed Jan. 1 at a cost of $144,000. This will give Sanford one of the newest and finest ball plants in the D classification of organized baseball in the country.

The new stadium is the result of 15-months of construction by the Jarco Construction Company which has had to struggle against acute restrictions on building materials as a result of the Korean War.

It was in March of 1930 that voters of Sanford approved by referendum the construction of a modern baseball stadium to supplant the obsolete and condemned old wooden structure built in 1906. Actual construction of the new plant began in October of 1930.

Originally contractors figured the construction costs would be $78,000 for the new stadium as it stands today, but due to the increasing prices on scarce materials and mounting labor costs, the final bill has reached the astronomical total of $144,000.

The new stadium is dressed in an exquisite silver and black paint with a roof extending over the grandstand section, which stretches from about eight o'clock to about one o'clock. A modern press box is set on top of the roof to the edge directly in back of the plate. Adequate room is provided in the press box for writers and radio men.

All modern construction devices and building techniques have been incorporated in this new stadium, according to Elton J. Moughton, the architect. Next year's fans will be impressed with the all-steel and concrete stands with all the aisles coated with non-skid paint. This latter item is causing the current delay in the stadium's completion.

"We could have completed the stadium earlier if our order for the non-skid paint had arrived," Mr. Moughton said. The paint is also still lacking on minor protection guards for the lights around home plate.

The stadium will seat 2,362 in the box seats, grandstand and bleachers. Mr. Moughton's statistics revealed:

"Of course this figure can be expanded by overflow crowds jamming their way into the seats and stands," Mr. Moughton stated. "We have designed the stadium to be expanded along the foul lines to the outfield fence according to future needs," he added.

The new grandstand alone will seat approximately 1,000 white fans and 200 colored patrons. Box seat allocations permit the seating of 230 whites and 32 Negro spectators. In all 1,212 permanent seats will be afforded all patrons in the new stadium.

In addition along the left field foul line 800 more white people can be placed in the portable bleachers with 250 additional colored fans being accommodated in the right field bleacher section.

At present the portable colored bleachers are still in the old park but will be moved soon to the new park. Work still remains to be done on the playing field and outfield fences but this material is on hand, according to Mr. Moughton.

The stadium has modern rest rooms and concession space allocated in an up-to-date permanent setting directly behind the grandstands facing the outer entrances.

The new park is located to the north and adjacent to the rickety wooden ball plant on the east side of Mellenville Avenue near the 10th Street "Y" intersection.

Coaches Pick Teams For Blue-Gray Game
MONTGOMERY (AP)—With only two more days of practice remaining, Blue-Gray coaches picked their offensive and defensive lineups for the 13th annual Yankee-Hotel football clash Saturday.

Coaches Grayall Tinsley of the South and Rip Engle of the North announced their units yesterday. Some of the stars found themselves in new positions when the lineups were posted. Gil Bocetti, who was in the position he played two years ago—at fullback, Engle revealed he had shifted Bill Hatcher, Iowa fullback, to a starting halfback post for the North.

The South added a new name to the roster when Chester Freeman, left back, replaced Jim Roshto, another Louisiana Stater, on the Rebel squad. Roshto, also a back, was called home because of his father's serious illness.

Stanford Upset By Oklahoma In Big Seven Tournament

By SKIPPER PATRICK
KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas State Wildcats take their first step in the big seven conference's annual December basketball tournament tonight with fingers crossed.

Captain Jack Gardner's K-State, who met Nebraska in the final set of first round games, at in the stands last night as favored Kansas University looked average in beating Colorado 70-56 and Oklahoma upset previously unbeaten Stanford, 77-71.

The pre-tournament favorites were Kansas, Stanford and K-State.

The Kansas State-Nebraska game is scheduled for 9 P.M. tonight at the State and Missouri follow at 10:45.

Kansas, with huge Clyde Lovellette scoring 23 points, averaged about 50 percent from the field, making 20 of 42 shots. Lovellette brought his season total to 220 points for 8 games this season—all Jayhawk victories.

Oklahoma, which entered the tournament with a record of only one victory in six starts, handed Stanford its first defeat in nine games. Oklahoma's Sherman Norton broke the meet scoring record with 39 points.

Maynard Johnson of Minnesota set the record for one game at 38 points last year.

Norton, a senior from Lafayette, Ill., also set a free throw mark of thirteen points. He did not miss from the charity line and hit 13 of 16 from the field.

Stanford the guest team, played raggedly the first half and was behind by 10 points, 20-12, at the intermission. The Indians came back strong to go into the lead twice during late stages of the game and were in the running until Norton's fender put Oklahoma ahead to stay, 73-71, with twenty-six seconds remaining.

Only two-time winner of the tournament, 1917 and last year, Kansas State will depend on a balanced attack to get by Nebraska tonight. The Wildcats are favored by ten points but if Nebraska's Jim Buchanan is hitting it will be an interesting evening for the students.

Kansas State had won six of its eight games this season. Nebraska has a 2-5 record.

The Missouri-Iowa State game will be a low-scoring affair. Iowa State has won four against a single loss. Missouri, playing a tougher schedule, has won three and lost three.

Kentucky, the country's No. 1 ranked team, and Louisiana No. 12, lined up for their appearance in the Sugar Bowl today. Friday and Saturday with easy victories.

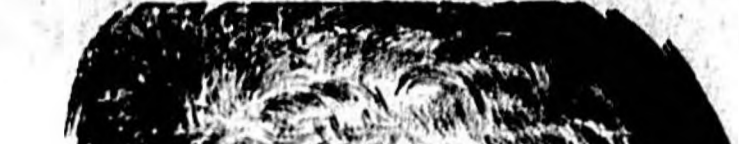

Kentucky, with Cliff Hagan sinking 34 points, routed UCLA, 81-53. St. Louis took an early 15-1 lead to drub Dartmouth, 63-45.

In the Southwest Conference tournament at Dallas, Texas A & M beat Arkansas, 49-46, and Texas took Southern Methodist, 52-42.

Ohio State opened a far west tour by leading Oregon State, 61-55. The Buckeyes took an early lead and stayed in front all the way.

Forham was upset by St. Francis Brooklyn, 54-52. The Big Seven Tourney (First Round) Oklahoma 77, Stanford 71. Kansas 70, Colorado 56. Northwest Conference Tourney (First Round) Texas 58, Southern Methodist 43. Texas A & M 49, Arkansas 46. Midwest Tourney (First Round) Indiana Central 78, Muskegon 72. Ottawa (Kan.) 70.

Matthews Rated Best All-Around Fighter Of Year
NEW YORK (AP)—Middleweight Champion Ray Robinson and Light Heavyweight Contender Harry (Kid) Matthews share the honors in Ring Magazine's awards for the year.

Editor Nat Fleischer named Robinson "fighter of the year," and selected Matthews as the best all-around fighter of the year. The awards and Ring's annual ratings were announced in a copyrighted article in the February issue of the boxing monthly.

It was the second time in three years that Sugar Ray has been chosen for fighter of the year laurels. Fleischer awards it to the boxer who combines boxing proficiency with sportsmanship and contributes to the uplift of the sport.

Fleischer backed up his choice of Matthews by designating him as the No. 1 challenger for Light Heavyweight Joe Maxim. Archie Moore, for years the No. 1 contender, was moved back to the No. 2 spot just ahead of Harold Johnson.

All champions were listed at the head of their class—something not always followed by Ring if Fleischer believes someone is a better fighter—excepting for the welterweight division. Fleischer left the 147-pound title vacant and said Kid Gavilan of Cuba and Charley Humes of France should meet for the crown.

Joe Louis was placed in a strange spot—No. 5 in the ranks of heavyweight contenders. Louis has never been lower than the top or No. 1 contender since he won the title. Ezzard Charles, the ex-champion, was ranked as the No. 1 contender.

Fred Ganas, head coach mentor for the Seminole High varsity, reports that despite what anyone predicts or says Daytona Beach Seabreeze High School is still the state's top A division high school basketball team. With 11 wins Seabreeze crush good little team from Winter Garden last week with a whopping 68-27 score, Ganas said.

"We tangled with Winter Garden on Jan. 3 here in our first home cage contest of the season," he continued. "I figure we have a good chance to win that one and of course if we do it will be our first win of the year," Ganas added.

The following night the Seminole varsity invaded the now-overpacked Seabreeze courts in Daytona to try to put up a game battle. For the record Seabreeze has taken four consecutive state cage titles in the last four years, three of which were in the B classification and one, last year, in the A division. This A title was capped after a reclassification of the teams in the state-lacing Daytona in the A group.

Ganas attributes the Seabreeze strength to the fact that basketball is taught to the youngsters in junior high school and flows even in the grade schools where the high school coach with a large array of experienced players to draw from.

"The immediate reason for Seabreeze's basketball power is that the junior high school there has won the Seabreeze odd consecutive games," Ganas pointed out. The other teams in this section, and also in the state, now have to be as a matter of self defense begin training their players in the junior high schools and grammar schools, says Ganas.

Getting back to the current powerhouse at Seabreeze High School, Ganas says that Coach Joe Nelson of a Duke's claims he has the best rebounding team he has ever coached through the many state championships they have won. The present team is thus the strongest Nelson has coached and in all probability the greatest quintet Daytona has produced.

As far as Nelson and Ganas are concerned the Seabreeze engers are a cinch to repeat as Florida A division champs again this season.

Ganas feels that the Nationals will begin to click and win their share of games after the holiday recess because the boys will be in better condition and have added polish through these later games and training. Currently the Sanford Warriors are on a week's vacation from practice but they will resume their practice grind on Tuesday of next week.

Data: Dog racing fans here is a tin on the third race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club tonight. Marlet Lou, Wally Jimmy Smith in the Winter Garden game next week. . . He is due to get hot. The Seminole guard can sink from out on the court and drive in under on lay-ups. Wise Hardie is due, also, to have a hot game under the boards at that contest. . . This.

New $144,000 Municipal Stadium To Be Finished By January First

By KENT CHETLAIN
The highly controversial but big new concrete Municipal Baseball Stadium will be completed Jan. 1 at a cost of $144,000. This will give Sanford one of the newest and finest ball plants in the D classification of organized baseball in the country.

The new stadium is the result of 16-months of construction by the Jercz Construction Company which has had to struggle against acute restrictions on building materials as a result of the Korean War.

It was in March of 1950 that voters of Sanford approved by referendum the construction of a modern baseball stadium to supplant the obsolete and condemned old wooden structure, built in 1920. Actual construction of the new plant began in October of 1950.

Originally contractors figured the construction costs would be $78,000 for the new stadium as it stands today, but due to the increasing prices on scarce materials and mounting labor costs, the final bill has reached the astronomical total of $144,000.

The new stadium is dressed in an ornate silver and black paint with a roof extension over the grandstand section, which stretches from dugout-to-dugout behind home plate. A modern press box juts out on top of the roof to the edge directly in back of the plate. Adequate room is provided in the press box for writers and radiomen.

All modern construction devices and building techniques have been incorporated in this new stadium, according to Elton J. Moughton, the architect. Next year's fans will be impressed with the all-steel and concrete stands with all the aisles coated with non-skid paint. This latter item is causing the current delay in the stadium's completion.

"We could have completed the stadium earlier if our order for the non-skid paint had arrived," Mr. Moughton said. The paint is also still lacking as minor protection guards for the lights around home plate.

The stadium will seat 2,002 in the box seats, grandstand and bleachers, Mr. Moughton's statistics revealed.

"Of course this figure can be expanded by overflow crowds jamming their way into the seats and stands," Mr. Moughton stated. "We have designed the stadium to be expanded along the foul lines to the outfield fence according to future needs," he added.

The new grandstand alone will seat approximately 1,000 white men and 200 colored patrons. Box seat allocations permit the seating of 200 whites and 32 Negro spectators in all 122 permanent seats will be afforded all patrons in the new stadium.

In addition along the left field foul line 800 more white patrons can be placed in the portable bleachers with 250 additional colored fans being accommodated in the right field bleacher section.

At present the portable colored bleachers are still in the old park but will be moved soon to the new park. Work still remains to be done on the playing field and outfield fences but this will be completed soon since all materials are on hand, according to Mr. Moughton.

The stadium has modern rest rooms and concession space all located in an up-to-date permanent setting directly beneath the grandstands facing the outer entrance.

The new park is located to the north and adjacent to the rickety wooden ball plant on the east side of Mellonie Avenue near the 10th Street "T" intersection.

BOSTON (AP)—Johnny Bright, Drake University halfback, today was named recipient of the 1951 "Swee" Nelson award for sportsmanship by the gridiron club of Greater Boston.

Bright, named on the West's squad for Saturday's Shrine football game in San Francisco, drew a total of 36 votes in the halloting in which 68 football coaches and writers in 27 states participated.

The Nelson award, dedicated to a former Harvard player and named in his honor, is usually given to the player who, by his conduct on the gridiron demonstrates a high esteem for the football code and exemplifies sportsmanship to an outstanding degree.

Truman Urged To Intervene In Mims Blast

National Council Of Churches Asks Presi- dent To Conduct FBI Investigation

NEW YORK (AP)—President Truman was urged today by the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. to intervene in the Florida bomb killing of Harry T. Mims, Negro campaigner for equal rights.

The council, representing 29 Protestant and Eastern Orthodox churches with a membership of 31 million persons, asked him to order an FBI investigation and the convening of a federal grand jury.

A telegram to the President, signed by Dr. Samuel M. Cavert, the council's general secretary, asked him to take action regarding other "recent incidents of flagrant lawlessness in Florida."

It described as examples of lawlessness the bombing of Negro churches and the bombing of Jewish synagogues in Miami and Coral Gables.

The telegram asked the President to direct Attorney General J. Howard McGrath to set the federal law enforcement machinery in motion. The council also sent a letter to McGrath, asking him to take "prompt action."

"The Christian conscience is shocked by such disregard for human life as is evidenced in Florida," said the telegram to Mr. Truman.

A recent concern for our fellow men," it continued, "lays on the government a moral as well as a legal responsibility to take appropriate action to redress the good name of America."

The letter to McGrath said: "Only vigorous action without delay can correct the Florida situation, which is not only morally shocking but dangerous to the international position of the nation. Equal rights before the law, which entitle every person to equal protection of the law, is not only the foundation of our democracy but is demanded by the Christian concept of justice."

13 Sailors Saved From Sinking Ship After 7 Storm-Tossed Days

Wanger Sees Wife

CARRYING GIFTS, film producer Walter Wanger enters the Bennett hall at Beverly Hills, Calif., where he had Christmas dinner with his wife, actress Joan Bennett, and their children, Stephanie, 8, and Shelley, 3. It was the first time the estranged couple had met since Dec. 13 when Wanger shot and wounded his wife's agent Jennings Long, whom he called "the other man."

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (AP)—Thirteen haggard seamen came ashore here Thursday night after seven days buffeted by Atlantic winds aboard a tiny disabled cargo vessel.

Their arrival—in tow by the motorship Algerine—brought first news that their vessel, the Mayfall, had been in trouble. Their 321-ton craft carried no wireless.

Scarcely of food, water and heat added to the crew's worries since last Friday when the Mayfall's fuel pumps failed en route from Bonavista to St. John's.

The crew sent up rockets in hope of attracting passing ships but got no response.

As a howling Atlantic storm swept the little ship farther out to sea, the crew jammed mess tables and furniture into the furnace in an attempt to raise steam. But they had to give this up when the boilers began to leak.

The small galley stove provided the only heat, as northeast gales brought temperatures down below freezing.

"We were afraid the ship, which was only in ballast (towing in the cargo holds) might ice up and capsize," said the Mayfall's skipper, Capt. John Rose.

The helpless craft was finally sighted and taken in tow Thursday by the Swedish liner, Anna Saloon, 170 miles southeast of St. John's. The Algerine took over a few miles from port.

The Mayfall, owned by Frierson and Robertson of Tampa, Fla., is on charter to North Sydney Agencies Ltd.

450 American Prisoners Die In Red Camps

77 Percent Of POWs Are Not Accounted For In Red Lists; Xmas Hill Is Taken

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR
MUNSON, Korea (AP)—The U. N. Command said today at least 450 American soldiers have died in North Korean prison camps.

An official communique said that 77 per cent of United Nations troops known to have been imprisoned in rear areas and not accounted for in last week's list of living prisoners.

Simultaneously the Communists indicated a complete list of living U. N. prisoners already in Allied hands.

The 450 soldiers were not among those listed on the Communist roster of 11,550 prisoners. They apparently were among 571 Americans the Reds said Wednesday had died of disease or were killed by Allied air raids or artillery fire.

The U. N. Command said its announcements are based on a study of the Reds' Wednesday report.

"We must presume they died in prison camps," said Brig. Gen. William F. Nichols, official U. N. spokesman. "This is the first time we have had knowledge of any deaths in prison camps."

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang-ho hinted Friday at Panmunjom that many other Americans, not yet accounted for, had died of disease or exposure in prison camps.

He said that the Reds would report that many other Americans, not yet accounted for, had died of disease or exposure in prison camps.

Four American Fliers Are Released By Red Hungarians

Vogeler Seeks 'Blackmail' Funds For U. S. Fliers

Funds Tie Up Work On Widening Farm- To-Market Highway

The City of Sanford yesterday requested the State Road Department to extend the time for the widening of French Avenue, which is the truck route alternate for U. S. 17-92 in Sanford, has been delayed due to the difficulty in making the necessary financial arrangements. As we understand, this work was scheduled for 1951.

"We would appreciate the extension of the time for the construction of this project into 1952 as we hope to make arrangements very shortly to complete procurement of the right-of-way. It is our understanding that our opinion as to the widening of French Avenue has been affirmed by the Road Department officials, and we would appreciate every consideration in the extension of the time of completion of the project."

City Commissioner Andrew Caraway pointed out this morning that one of the chief reasons why the City has not been able to go ahead with the securing of the right-of-way for the French Avenue project is the "very expensive" cloverleaf interchange proposed by the Road Department for the junction of the Orlando Highway and French Avenue.

To build this it would be necessary for the City to secure the property known as the Anchor Inn, he desired. He added that City officials asked the State Road Department if there were not a more economical way that this could be done, but no solution was offered.

"We have hoped that the County would help on the project," he stated. He pointed out that the City Commissioners had no idea concerning the securing of right-of-way for the cloverleaf interchange when they committed themselves to furnish the right-of-way.

County Commissioner J. F. McClain said this morning that as far as he knew the City had not approached the County Commission for aid in securing the right-of-way for the French Avenue project.

Mr. McKibbin said that at a recent City Commission meeting at which County Commissioner W. G. Kilbuck was present, the latter (Continued On Page Five)

Prices Are High As New Yorkers Plan New Year Parties

NEW YORK (AP)—The gay who celebrated New Year's Eve in the glitter spots of Manhattan will need a batch of money again this year if he wants to do things up brown.

For supper, entertainment and favors, he can pay up to $27.50 per person. The drinks come extra, everywhere.

Generally, tips at the better known spots like average around $15 a person.

But the man without the fat wallet can find almost anything his speed among the city's 1200 clubs and cabarets and 20,000 dining places.

The $35 price is at the Plaza Hotel Cullion Room. The Waldorf Astoria will charge $24 a person in two of its rooms, less in its other eating places.

Prices at the Copacabana Night Club will run to $25, $20 at the Waldorf Astoria and $15 at the El Morocco. Less desirable tables are cheaper.

Many places, like the Stork Club and the El Morocco, will make up for their high prices by offering a traditional throng in Times Square.

Others will welcome 1952 by wrapping in churches or attending parties in private homes.

Trial Recessed When Art Teacher Suffers Crackup

Dr. Mundel Sues West Virginia Education Board For Slander

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (AP)—Dr. E. H. Mundel, art teacher at the State College, has filed a lawsuit today with the circuit court to sue the West Virginia Education Board for slander.

Dr. Mundel, 40, is a member of the board of education of the State College, which is a member of the West Virginia board of education.

Dr. Mundel said the board had threatened to sue him and had wanted to ask for damages of $10,000.

The board, he said, had accused him of being a "crackpot" and "insane" and had threatened to sue him for $10,000.

Dr. Mundel said he had been a member of the board since 1948 and had been a member of the board since 1948.

No Damages Noted As Cold Wave Hits State Of Florida

By The Associated Press

WINDS of gale force whistled over the state today as a cold wave swept across the northern end of the state.

By 11:30 a. m. the wind had whipped the seas and swayed palm trees from Miami southwest through the Keys.

Small craft warnings were continued until sunset from Vero Beach to Daytona Beach.

The wind began to blow from the northeast and snow in Florida dropped rapidly over the state but it shifted to the north and the temperature rose rapidly over the southeastern part of the peninsula.

At 11:30 a. m. the temperature at Miami was 70 degrees and at 1:30 p. m. it was 72 degrees.

Thursday, had a 70 degree reading at midnight. The thermometer dropped only two degrees to 68 at sunrise, and then began to climb.

The northern tier of counties had colder weather as the high pressure system edged over them.

A freezing 31 early today. Tallahassee registered 35, Lakelandville 36 and Tampa 45. It warmed rapidly southward of that area.

President Ends Vacation, Heads Back To Capital

Truman Has Conference With Defense Officials On Costs

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—President Truman ended his Christmas visit at home today and headed back to Washington with budget problems on his mind.

The President took off in the White House plane Independence at 9:45 a. m. EST after driving to the Fairfax Airport here from his home in nearby Independence, Mo.

Mrs. Truman and their daughter, Margaret, did not accompany him back to the capital.

He had an important session scheduled with military officials on the defense spending figures for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, almost immediately after his arrival in the capital this afternoon.

He has called that part of the budget the most troublesome he has encountered in 16 years as president.

Senator Sturgis' decision not to become a candidate will have an important effect on the political race. He was known to have strong general support throughout the state. He is regarded for his speaking ability and background of experience, he had been widely acknowledged as a leading contender among the possible candidates for governor.

Persons close to Senator Sturgis have been unable to tell him he was persuaded not to run by reason of the serious impact of such a race on the younger members of his family and on his law practice, and he said today, "These considerations were foremost among those which included me not to make the race."

It is significant that the statement issued by Senator Sturgis specifically referred to the year 1952, in saying that he was foregoing his bid for reelection as governor "for the present." He would not imply upon this statement.

Ransom Of $120,000 Is Paid By U. S. To Gain Freedom For Captured Air Men

By CURT HAMPT NICKELSBURG, Austria (AP)—The four American aviators taken by Communist Hungarians for 10 days came back to freedom tonight.

The fliers crossed the Hungarian frontier into Austria at 8:00 p. m. (11:00 a. m. EST). Within a few minutes they were spotted on their way back to their base at Erding, Germany.

U. S. officials at the border kept the four men under wraps, but as they were starting to drive to Erding Airbase, outside Vienna, one of them was asked by a reporter how he was treated in Hungary.

"All right" was all that Sgt. Jess Duff of Spokane, Wash., replied. He was the mechanic aboard the C-47 transport forced down on Hungarian soil by Soviet fighter planes Nov. 19.

The four men appeared through the mist of the raw, damp evening, looking tired. They were hustled into a room of the Austrian border police building. Eagerly they drank the coffee and ate the sandwiches provided by the welcoming party. Two staff Russian officers and the American party joined in the snack.

The fliers are:

- Capt. John A. Swartz of Glens Falls, N. Y., pilot.
- Capt. Dave H. Henderson of Shawnee, Okla., copilot.
- Tech. Sgt. Jess A. Duff of Spokane, Wash., mechanic.
- Tech. Sgt. James W. Egan of Kingsland, Ark., radio man.

They were forced down near Papa, Hungary, Nov. 19 by Soviet fighter planes, stationed in Communist-ruled Hungary under the World War II peace treaty. In a twin-engine C-47 they were en route from Erding, Germany, to Belgrade, Yugoslavia, on a routine delivery of supplies when they reported themselves lost.

They were not heard from until Dec. 1 when East Russian news agency announced they had been forced down and were being held on charges of violating the Iron Curtain for the purpose of "planting spies and saboteurs" in the United States promptly demanded the charges and demanded the fliers be released. American diplomats in Budapest tried without success to see the fliers. They had to wait before Christmas Hungary announced a Soviet military court had tried, convicted and sentenced the four (Continued On Page Five)

Cancer Victim Vanouiver, Wash. (AP)—A blond 4-year-old boy whose eyes had been removed in an effort to save his life died of cancer Thurs- day night.

The boy, Dean Ault, had his right eye removed two years ago, but physicians said a cancerous growth had spread to the left eye. Jack Ault, 34, and his wife, Jacqueline, 30, took their son to a number of eye specialists and finally last October the remaining eye was removed.

"We did what we thought was right," the father said sadly. "The doctors didn't know whether an operation would have saved him."

The Aults have two other sons, 8 and 9.

COLDER WEATHER LAKELAND (AP)—Slightly higher temperatures tonight and warmer Saturday is the Federal State Post Forecast Service forecast for Pen- insular Florida.

The bulletin said it would be cloudy to partly cloudy except partly clear to cloudy and windy in the Indian River and Lower East Coast Districts.

No frost danger was seen through Monday.

YUGOSLAV MONEY BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)— Yugoslav Finance Minister Milen- ko Popovic told Parliament today that the dinar will be drastically devalued effective Jan. 1.

The new value, he said, will be 300 dinars to the dollar instead of the present official rate of 50 to the dollar.

Yugoslavia had drastically refused to devalue her currency despite her weakness in the free money market. Dinars could be purchased unofficially in some places for as little as 70 to the dollar.

The new move indicates much closer economic relations with the West and the possibility of bringing down the door to increase foreign trade.

Two New Members Welcomed By Elks

Two local business men, Irving Feinberg and Clark Biegler, the latter formerly of Palmetto, were made members of Sanford Lodge 1241 of Elks at its weekly meeting last night.

Morris Moses, chairman of the Christmas Tree Committee, told of the success of the annual children's party which was attended by more than 150 youngsters and parents. He thanked all who had assisted in the program including J. C. Williams, and J. D. McNeill, who aided in the decorating.

Robert St. Hillinger reported on the results of the Elks annual charity ball at the Mayfair Inn from which a substantial sum was realized for the Harry Anna Home for Crippled Children at Unadilla.

Al Coe vice-president of the Florida State Elks Association told of his official visit, together with Harry Kroll and R. P. Blum, to the Winter Park Lodge Thursday night. Following the suggestion of Mr. Coe, a barbeque will be held here soon to secure funds to erect a sign in front of the local Elks Lodge in order that out of town visitors may more easily locate it.

STOCK MARKET NEW YORK (AP)—The year-end rally extended into its second day this week with price increases of a modest nature.

Rails, steels, and oils were in the forefront of the forward movement, but there were enough gains in other areas to provide a drag on the list.

Other sections doing well were motors, rubbers, merchandising, and the copper, many chemicals, airlines and distillers.

Higher stocks today included Southern Pacific, Texas Co., Eastern Air Lines, U. S. Gypsum, American Telephone, Phelps Dodge International Nickel, American Cyanamid, American Can, General Electric, International Paper, Republic Steel, Bethlehem, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, California Tractor, Boeing and Schenley Industries.

REST CONTROL WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Production Administration today certified six critical defense busi- nesses for rent control and ex- panded three other areas where controls already are in effect.

The certification does not in itself invoke rent controls, but such action normally follows.

The areas include Sanford, Fla. included in the Sanford area is all of Seminole County. Here, DPA said, the Navy has reported excessive rents for military families.

A recent survey showed rentals for units never under control to be 50 per cent higher than similar units controlled prior to the removal of rent ceilings in June 1949.

UNIQUE PRESENT TROY, N. Y. (AP)—William Gillo re- ceived a unique Christmas present —a copy of the Bible written in long hand by his mother.

Mrs. William Gillo, 65, of New York said the project took 15 years, 18 bottles of ink and covered 1,828 pages of paper. She used only one pen.

Mrs. Gillo, a Seventh Day Adventist, copied the King James version of the Bible. She said she worked during her spare time, in periods ranging from 10 minutes to more than four hours.

The task, which fulfilled a childhood dream, never tired her, Mrs. Gillo said. Instead, she added, it gave her a "high."

RED ATOM EXPERT LONDON (AP)—The London Daily Express said today the boss of Russian uranium mining in East Germany, key man in Soviet atomic works—may have been taken to Washington after he fled to the West six weeks ago.

He was identified as Lt. Col. Fedya Abramov, whose scientific achievements once were honored by Russia's coveted Stalin prize.

KOREAN CASUALTIES WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army to- day estimated total enemy casual- ties in Korea at 1,546,868 through Dec. 17.

This is an increase of 19,970 over the last estimate through Dec. 5. The new total included 1,110,010 battle casualties, 286,273 non-battle casualties and 150,585 prisoners.

The latest count of United Nations casualties, made early in December, was 109,459. This did not include 212,544 casualties reported up to last June by South Korean forces fighting under the U. N. Command.

FOR LEGISLATURE TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Joe N. Crowder of Abundant qualified with Secretary of State R. A. Gray today as a candidate for the State House of Representatives in Polk County. He is the first to qualify for any of the three Polk seats.

The northern part of Mexico's Lower California has enjoyed a decade of such phenomenal population growth that it is now seeking promotion to Mexican statehood.

Sen. Sturgis Of Orlando Declines To Run For Governor

ORLANDO (AP)—Senator E. Sturgis, president of the State Senate, who has been prominently mentioned as a possible candidate for the governor's office, has declined to run for the office.

It will not be a candidate for governor in 1952.

"Because of the interest of my friends over the state for which I love and always will be proudly grateful, it has been my intention for some time to decline to serve as a candidate for the office of governor."

Senator Sturgis' decision not to become a candidate will have an important effect on the political race. He was known to have strong general support throughout the state. He is regarded for his speaking ability and background of experience, he had been widely acknowledged as a leading contender among the possible candidates for governor.
