UN Expected To Come Out Of Eclipse After Summit

By PHIL NEWCOM
UPI Foreign Editor

In the opinion of top United Nations authorities, the demonstrable failure of personal diplomacy at the summit will lead the world organization back into its own.

There is no concealing that the United Nations was by-passed and forced into eclipse during the Eisenhower-Khrushchev pen-palship, with the leaders of the other major powers contributing heavily to a trend away from collective diplomacy into private negotiation.

Class Of 1935 Reunion At SHS Brings Out 79

At the Silver Anniversary Reunion of the Seminole High Class of '35, 46 of the original members were present at the King & Prince celebration.

The total number of guests present were 79. Among these were the class sponsors, Mrs. Frank Chase and Mrs. F. J. Lynch.

Members of the class came from many regions of Florida and other states to attend the reunion. From Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cornell, Mrs. Helen Constantine, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reel, Mrs. Adelaide Higgins Moses, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jamison, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kanner, Mrs. Nell Knight Brown, Mrs. Estelle Lee Jennings, Miss Dorothy Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Ganas, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Touchton, Mr. and Mrs. William Viblen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair White attended.

Members from Orlando were Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Barcliff, Mrs. A. G. Van Ness, Mr. and Mrs. James Kinney, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ensign Jr., Mrs. B. E. Albertson, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Padgett, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Curtis.

Those present from Tampa were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hamill, Mrs. J. A. Naburn and Mrs. W. T. Hicks.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Watkins from Pahokee; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Altman, Belle Glade; Mrs. Malcolm Miller, Gadsden; E. C. Mrs. L. P. Fromberger, Greensboro, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Humphrey, Dunedin; Mrs. N. E. Chitwood, Kissimmee; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Monger, Fern Park; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Collins, Gainesville; Mr. and Mrs. David Earle, Oviedo; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hansen, Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Ferguson, South Bay; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Beecher, Pompano Beach; Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Herndon, Clearwater; Mr. and Mrs. William Weiskopf, New Port Richey; Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Copeland and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. O'Reilly, both from New Smyrna Beach.

The question of nuclear weapons' least suspension was kept out of the United Nations, on the problems of outer space, the assembly created a committee but Russia and the West have been unable to agree on terms for even its first meeting.

All this was evident omissions to the cult of personal diplomacy—confession of faith that more could be accomplished by face-to-face talks among the world's top leaders than in parliamentary discussion in the United Nations. That theory was blasted at Paris on May 14, 1960, when the summit fell flat at the starting line.

Now the top U.N. authorities will become the thing for the simple reason that the big powers realize they must talk and they have nowhere to do it except at the United Nations.

Russia will renew its demand for condemnation of U. S. espionage at September's General Assembly session. The United States will present its plan for world wide aerial surveillance at the same meeting. Outer space will gain a major share of discussion. Even the nuclear test talks, dragged out over 18 months now, may be brought into the assembly.

The pendulum of history swings slowly, but steadily.

In 1945, the United Nations was hailed as the panacea for a war-weary world. As such, it was oversold to most of the world by over-eager optimists who saw in it if not universal brotherhood of man, at least a lasting brotherhood of the big powers to keep peace.

Disillusioned by developments, public opinion swung away from the United Nations and global support—at least in the West, until it faced up to aggression in Korea in 1950.

The Flying Farmers of America was organized in Oklahoma in 1944.

Emergency Meet Set Wednesday By Florida Board Of Health

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—The Florida Health Board, alarmed over the possibility of loss of federal funds for hospitalization of the indigent, called an emergency meeting of county officials for Wednesday.

State Health Officer Dr. William T. Sawyer told the board that the money the Legislature allocated to match the federal spend will give out about Oct. 1.

The state must put up about 40 cents for each 20 cents the federal government gives in order to carry the program through the year, and all counties must particicipate. Board employees sent telegrams to various county officials calling them here for the Wednesday session to seek ways of getting the money.

In other matters, the board ruled commercial lawn and shrubbery spray firms must notify both occupants and neighbors of the premises to be sprayed and name the pesticide both by common and chemical name.

Miami spray firm operators Richard A. Zaun and James McGuire outlined the objections their industry had to being controlled by the board while householders, farmers and others were not.

U.S. To Quit Diplomacy At Summit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Eisenhower administration is abandoning personal high-level diplomacy and is again placing emphasis on "traditional channels and procedures of international contact," Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Congress today.

President Eisenhower plans no further good will trips, Herter told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee.

"But despite our deep disappointment at the outcome of the summit," Herter said, "and despite the propaganda campaign being staged against us, it appears that the basic conditions of the world situation have not so far been greatly changed."

Herter admitted under critical questioning by subcommittee chairman Lyndon B. Johnson that the State Department misgauged the size of the Japanese riots which led to cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit and disregarded recommendation of high congressional leaders that the trip be canceled earlier.

Johnson commented that, "not only was our judgment bad, but our information was bad."

Johnson reminded Herter that Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee and Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Foreign Relations Committee had advised against the trip when the Tokyo disturbances first cropped up.

Herter said the recommendations were considered but rejected. When Johnson demanded to know who made the "incorrect evaluation" about extent of the Japanese riots, Herter said that "from all the information we received, it was a collective judgment" but "you can pin it on me if you like."

Herter said that, despite the setback in Japan, the Senate should go ahead and ratify the Japanese treaty.

Cuba Rejects U.S. Protest On Ouster

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba has rejected a U. S. protest against the expulsion of two diplomats from this country, charging they were working with Cuban foes of Premier Fidel Castro.

A rejection note handed to U. S. Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal late Monday demanded that he instruct the embassy staff to take no part in anti-Castro plots.

The publication of Foreign Minister Raul Roa's rejection disclosed some details of the U. S. protest note, which has not been made public.

Roa denied among other things that Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro, the premier's brother, was "aggressive and insulting" when he questioned embassy attaches Edwin L. Sweet and William G. Friedemann.

Castro questioned Sweet and Friedemann at army intelligence headquarters, where they were held briefly before being ordered to get out of Cuba within 24 hours.

The foreign minister said the two Americans were arrested when they went to meet intelligence headquarters, and appointed Van Hoy to check into the matter.

Rotarians Studying Boys Club Program

Sanford Rotarians began Monday to look into the possibility of establishing a Boys Club program here.

Southern regional director of the Boys Club of America, Frank Wade, spoke at the Rotary luncheon on the merits of the organization and its need in this area.

In a quick resume of the history of the nationwide club, Wade said the organizations main aim is "concern for the boys that didn't belong."

The speaker said the club was formed and headed by men of national prominence, such as Herbert Hoover, Eddie Rickenbacker and J. Edgar Hoover, as well as many other top figures in American industry.

He told Rotarians the club was "more of a boys guidance organization, and membership dues should be kept low," using the example of 25 cents to a dollar as a guide.

He pleaded, "The boys were taught many things, even cooking and how to order from a menu and, most important of all, how to say grace before and after meals."

"Every city has its bullies, mean boys, followers, limelight seekers, and dominant leaders. Their future depends on what we do for them," Wade said.

"A community reaps as it sows, and a Boys Club becomes a life insurance policy for the future of a city," Wade concluded.

Discussion Slated On Eichmann Case
BRUSSELS (UPI) — Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion said today he would meet Argentine President Arturo Frondizi before the end of this week to discuss the Eichmann case.

Rowser Appointed
George Rowser of Longwood today was named by the County Commission to replace Ted Brooklyn on the board of electrical examiners for Seminole County.

1,500

More than 1,500 youngsters registered for Seminole County's summer recreation program Monday.

Playground directors reported that about 500 youngsters registered in Sanford and 1,000 in the county.

Ron Perry, recreation director, said that no child will be left out of the program because of missing registration the first day.

A child may register any weekday morning at one of the playground areas in the city located at Sanford Grammar School, Southside or Pincrest Schools.

Perry also pointed out that the areas will be open during inclement weather as there are indoor facilities available.

Jap Students Preparing Violent Demonstrations

TOKYO (UPI) — Japanese leftists today mobilized for a 24-hour siege of strikes and mob violence in a climactic attempt to derail the U. S.-Japanese security treaty.

The massive protest was preceded late this afternoon by a march on parliament by 20,000 students, who turned out despite heavy rain. The marchers were peaceful and quickly dispersed to await the main demonstration.

Zero hour was midnight when the giant Sohyo Labor Confederation ordered its claimed membership of 3,800,000 workers on a seven-hour nationwide strike.

Fanatic leaders of the Zengakuren Students' Federation supported the strike call by assigning 20,000 members to occupy principal railroad stations and muster twice that many for an attack on the Diet (parliament) later in the day.

Judge To Ask Aid In Juvenile Cases
The County Commission today authorized County Judge Vernon Mize to negotiate with either Lake or Brevard County officials to house juvenile offenders until a new county jail is built.

Judge Mize appeared before the board to ask for help in placing the juveniles after Circuit Judge Volie Williams last week issued an order barring detention of all juveniles in the county jail.

"I can't put them on my back and carry them home," Mize said. He asked the board's permission to negotiate with the Lake and Brevard officials and see if an agreement could be reached.

Mize estimated that the cost of housing delinquents would not be more than $2.50 per day in a neighboring county jail that has separate facilities.

He emphasized that only "extreme cases would be transferred."

Last week Mize said that juvenile offenders would have to be released to the custody of their parents pending final disposition of their cases.

Citrus Crop Income Lower This Year
ATLANTA (UPI) — Citrus receipts from Florida's orange harvest during the 1959-60 season ending in July are expected to be 10 percent below the $225 million receipts of the previous season, the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta said today.

The bank traced the decline in income from the state's orange crop to a sharp drop in prices. Although the crop was "well above" the two previous harvests, it was not enough to offset the decline in prices.

Board To Ask Speed Curb
The County Commission today agreed to ask the State Road Department to lower the speed limit on SR 326 between SR 331 and Bear Lake Road.

Tax Roll Estimated At $175 Million

Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker today informed the County Commission by letter that non-exempt valuation for all property on the 1960 tax roll has been set tentatively at $175,000,000.

Last year's evaluations were $162,000,000. Mrs. Walker also advised the board that "due to circumstances beyond my control it is a physical impossibility to have the 1960 assessment roll completed by the first Monday in July."

Mrs. Walker asked the board for a 30-day extension to have the tax roll ready. The commissioners approved the extension.

In her letter to the board, Mrs. Walker said that the $175,000,000 figure was a conservative estimate, "taking into consideration adjustments made by the equalization board and the former tax assessor on the 1959 roll adjustments which might be made for 1960, and a reasonable estimate of additional taxable value to be expected after all field work is completed."

Chairman John Krider said that the board will start its discussion on the budget this month, possibly at its meeting next Tuesday.

Storms, Floods Close Out Spring

By United Press International
One of the worst springs in memory rode a flurry of tornadoes and flash floods into the record books today.

The season, which started with record-breaking March blizzards and April floods, bowed out almost as violently Monday.

Tornadoes struck portions of Colorado and Nebraska and heavy rain hit the plains states and Florida.

A twister caused $50,000 damage at Peña, Colo., when it snapped off 60-foot light poles, smashed buildings and blew out windows.

Sidney, Neb., was struck by a twister which uprooted trees but did little other damage. No injuries were reported at either city.

Thunderstorms drenched the plains with up to five inches of rain, touching off dozens of flash floods in Nebraska. Many persons fled their homes and at least one died.

A Stanton, Neb., farmer, Donald Handrick, as Army helicopter was drowned in a bridge washout. His wrecked car was found in a creek bed and police said warning lights on the washout apparently blew away.

At the Omaha, Neb., suburb of Ralston, an Army helicopter picked up a young housewife whose home was cut off by a flooding creek and flew her to Offutt Air Force base hospital, where she gave birth to a son a half hour after landing.

Three-quarter inch hail fell at Imperial, Neb., during the storm, and winds reaching 76 miles an hour battered Rapid City, S. D. Sixty-mile-an-hour winds were measured in Wyoming.

The rain looked like the beginning of spring in the plains states with dozens of highways blocked by water and swollen creeks and rivers pouring into stores and houses.

The Elkhorn River which had sent families scattering from their homes earlier this year in one of Nebraska's worst floods, was expected to run at bankful or above throughout today.

Heavy rain drenched Florida during the night. Tampa had 2.58 inches in a six-hour period. It was the second straight day of rain in the southeast.

Board To Insist Offices Make Pay Scales Public

County Commissioners said today that they will insist that fee office heads in the courthouse make public their salary and bonus schedules.

The board agreed today to write one more letter to the four fee officers asking for cooperation in establishing uniform salary schedules for all county employees.

County Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr. said that the commission has the authority to make constitutional office heads open their books for inspection by the commission.

Commissioner Vernon Dunn said "I'm getting tired of all this writing. We have requested operation three times already and still no word."

Two Sanford Garden Club women from the Central Circle left this morning to attend a short course in Gainesville. Mrs. B. C. Moore and Mrs. George McCall will attend the 18th annual Garden Club study put on by the General Extension Division of Florida in cooperation with the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs.

Miss Karlene Miller, 8 Park Ave. left Sunday for Atlantic City, N. J. to represent the Sanford Seventh-day Adventist Church in the North America Youth Congress. At the youth program, which began today, more than 3,000 young people from 50 states and 6 provinces of Canada are expected to attend.

Collins Cites Need To Employ Senior Citizens

TALAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. LeRoy Collins Monday told the second State Conference on Aging that our society puts too much emphasis on youth in employment.

Collins, who opened the two-day meeting, called on delegates to study closely the needs and practical problems of Florida's senior citizens.

The governor listed four basic needs of the senior citizens, needs which he said were so different from those of any other age group. They were: enough money to live on, good health, a suitable place to live and meaningful and rewarding activity.

He said there were many of the senior citizens who still had many years of employment open to them if only employers would recognize it.

Church Holds Mission Program

An Open Door for Christian Missions, was the topic of the program at the meeting of the Royal Ambassadors of the Lake Mary Baptist Church last week. This recently organized group for boys is under the leadership of Jerry Lusk, counselor and Les Chavers, assistant. Members taking part on the program were Dale Wilhelm, "The Country of Pakistan"; Alan Roman, "The People of Pakistan"; Robert Bowman, "A Land of Contrast"; and Greg Wilhelm, "An Open Nation."

Suburban Miami Topped Other American Cities In Growth

MIAMI (UPI) — The suburban areas of Miami and Orlando topped the nation in population growth between 1950 and 1959, according to Monday's report by the U. S. Census Bureau. The report showed that Miami's suburbs led the nation's 189 metropolitan areas of over 50,000 population with an increase of 155.4 percent. Orlando was second with a suburban increase of 137.7 percent.

The suburban growth in both areas was more than three times greater than the national suburban increase of 47.2 percent. The city growth of Miami and Orlando was also higher than the national urban increase of 8.3 percent. Orlando's city population jumped 65.9 percent while Miami's was up 15.4 percent.

Mutual To Hear Conner Speak

WINTER HAVEN (UPI) — Retiring president Vernon L. Conner was to address Florida Citrus Mutual's 12th annual membership meeting today. More than 2,500 growers also were to hear Democratic gubernatorial nominee Paris Bryant, Tom Adams, nominee for secretary of state, and Doyle Conner, nominee for commissioner of agriculture.

Following the meeting, the board of directors will elect a new president and other officers. Conner, because of by-law restrictions, is not eligible for re-election.

In other news, a $10,000,000 emergency advertising fund for the Florida citrus industry was recommended by Robert W. Rutledge, general manager of Florida Citrus Mutual.

Rutledge, in his annual report to members at Mutual's 12th anniversary meeting, urged enactment of laws by the next Florida legislature to create the fund.

He asked that a $5,000,000 reserve be developed for advertising fresh Florida citrus and that an equal amount be set up to rebate processors, on a percentage dollar basis, who finance individual advertising programs of their own.

Back To Work Starts At Pratt

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI) — More than 500 hourly-paid workers reported for work Monday at the strike-bound Pratt-Whitney Research and Development Center, a company spokesman said. The spokesman said the figure constituted about 30 percent of all hourly wage employes. All strikers returned to work last Tuesday. It said the strike was over wage differences, but the company said the stoppage was in sympathy with strikes at company plants in Connecticut.

The International Association of Machinists started work last Tuesday. It said the strike was over wage differences, but the company said the stoppage was in sympathy with strikes at company plants in Connecticut.

Wildcat Pilots' Strike Crumbling

By United Press International
The wildcat pilots' strike against Eastern Airlines appeared to be crumbling today, but a pilots' spokesman in New York said the apparent back-to-work movement was nothing but a "misunderstanding."

Another strike leader in Miami said he would go back to work, but hinted the pilots might strike again—this time legally.

Meanwhile, pilots for National Airlines called off their strike, scheduled for one minute after midnight today, and agreed to meet with National officials to discuss wage, working conditions and pension grievances.

In Atlanta and Miami, Eastern pilots were reported returning to work after two federal judges refused to sanction the wildcat walkout and pilots' own executive council ordered its members back to their controls.

A federal judge also ordered striking Pan American Airlines pilots back to work.

But John C. Cropper, a spokesman for Eastern pilots in the New York area, said the returning pilots misunderstood the issues. He said he expected them to walk out again later today.

Cropper said 396 out of 450 Eastern pilots in the New York area voted Monday night to boycott flights in protest against demands that Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) inspectors ride in the third pilot's seat in cockpits.

In Miami, Clyde Muirhead, chairman of the Master Executive Council for Eastern pilots, said he would fly today and had "reason to believe" other pilots would follow him back to work.

But Muirhead said the pilots might renew the strike legally by returning to work, and then giving strike notice, as required by the Railroad Labor Act.

The major break in the strike came at Boston, where 16 of 25 scheduled Eastern flights left Monday and officials expected most of today's 25 flights to get off the ground.

Three developments Monday signalled an end to the walkout:

—The Eastern pilots' executive council "directed" pilots to return "immediately," and called the strike's position legally "untenable." The pilot's union—the Airline Pilots Assn. (ALPA)—also opposed the walkout.

—U. S. District Judge Julius H. Miner of Chicago ordered Eastern and Pan American pilots to stop calling in with "stomach aches" and get back on the job. The strikes have crippled much of the traffic by the two giant airlines.

—The district court of appeals in New Orleans refused to grant a stay of earlier federal injunction against the strike.

Cautious Tax Bill Shaping Up Along Lines Acceptable To Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A politically cautious election-year tax bill shaped up in the Democratic Congress today, pretty much along lines acceptable to President Eisenhower.

The revenue measure, approved unanimously by the Senate 84-0, would in the main extend present corporation taxes and Korean War excise levies on such items as liquor, cigarettes and new automobiles.

Because of differences, it goes to a conference of House and Senate tax writers where give-and-take bargaining but no serious disputes are expected.

The $4,500,000,000 tax bill was brought in line with administration recommendations when the Senate refused to adopt a move by its finance committee to cut out a 10 percent federal tax on local telephone calls, telegrams and travel. The House already has agreed to continue the taxes.

But the Senate adopted two controversial amendments to the House version which would wipe out some so-called "swindle sheets" business deductions and the present tax credit on dividends.

These are expected to be whittled down by the conferees.

Another feature of the bill would be a temporary national debt ceiling of $25 billion dollars for the next year. The corporation tax rate would be continued for another 12 months after June 30.

The crackdown on business expense deductions was adopted by a Senate roll call vote of 45-39.

Other Senate changes designed to raise new cash were elimination of the special tax credit on dividend income and a tightening of the minerals depletion allowance.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) offered the business expense amendment. He said it would rule out "swindle sheets" on business entertainment expenses, gifts exceeding $10 and club dues. He said it would allow deductions only for "food and liquor."

Floods Threaten Chilean City

CONCEPCION, Chile (UPI)—Fire and flood posed new threats Monday night to this southern city, shattered by last month's devastating earthquakes.

Fire caused by a short circuit blazed up in Concepcion University's quake-damaged dental college. The flames inflicted new damage on offices and lecture rooms, but firemen were able to save the technical classrooms where the college's dental instruments were installed.

At the same time, authorities expressed concern over the rising waters of the bio-bio river, swollen by four days of torrential rain in the mountains behind Concepcion.

Slow Approach To Negro Voting Expected

Flash Fire Hits Children's Home

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)—A flash fire ripped through a suburban children's home Monday night, but the youngsters ranging in age from tots to teenagers were herded quickly to safety.

Five firemen were overcome by smoke, but these were the only injuries reported.

Children old enough to walk were led "very calmly" out of their rooms and down stairs by volunteers, policemen, firemen and home employes.

Younger children were carried out in their beds, some of them sleeping through much of the excitement. There were about 100 children in the home when the blaze erupted.

The home started as an orphanage several years ago but lately has housed many children from broken homes.

Finch Trial Postponed Again

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The second murder trial of Carole Treggoff and Dr. R. Bernard Finch was postponed for another week Monday because the state Supreme Court failed to act on a petition to disqualify the judge.

Finch, 43, and his red-haired mistress, 21, were in court an hour before Superior Judge Leroy Dawson announced the trial would be continued until June 27.

The wealthy physician and his receptionist-lover are accused of first degree murder in the July 18, 1958, slaying of the doctor's wife in the garage of their suburban West Covina home.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON—Within a few days 100 college students will be flying to Africa to take part in an experiment that owes something to America's pioneering spirit and to the deep strain of idealism that is a part of the American character.

Once there, they will divide into groups and go back into the bush in 10 West African countries to join with African students in working on particular projects such as schools and community halls in new settlements. Living under rugged conditions, asking for favors, they will work long hours alongside Africans of their own age.

In a time of cynicism and the "realism" of avowed espionage and more and more nuclear arms, Operation Crossroads Africa has a certain simple, direct objective. One is to spread the ideal of what newly developing Africa means through intelligent young people who will come home to lecture as widely as possible about what they themselves have learned. Another is to show that Americans are deeply and immediately concerned with the future of those who are struggling to achieve independence and nationhood.

Crossroads Africa is a wholly voluntary organization. It illustrates one of the great advances of a free society in which, in contrast to a dictatorship, people themselves may take the initiative and do what government could not or would not do.

The International Cooperation Agency lists 58 voluntary agencies at work in every corner of the globe. It includes the Friends Service Committee, which has sent student work groups to many European and Latin American countries. Technical assistance, refugees, feeding the hungry, distributing books—all these and many other functions the voluntary agencies carry on.

The big foundations, Ford, Rockefeller and the others which are not listed among these agencies, do a great deal of work overseas. The Ford Foundation in India has provided invaluable assistance and advice in helping to formulate India's program of village reform. The voluntary agencies do not suffer from the inhibitions that handicap the government in its overseas activities.

This is the second year that Crossroads Africa has sent students to work with Africans. Although the project has had little publicity, more than 100 young men and women applied for 150 places. Represented in the group now undergoing a week's indoctrination in New York are students from 100 colleges across the country representing every religious faith and racial background.

The problem of the impact of communism upon Africa was not our primary concern," a report by the organizing group states. "We did not begin by being against something; we were rather motivated by the democratic concepts within ourselves."

"Our initiative was not provided by the role of communism, but rather by the firm conviction that the United States has a moral responsibility to develop a positive relationship and to create a large, capable, intelligent and devoted body of experts who would understand and interpret to the African people every area of African life."

In 1958, the first year for Crossroads Africa, one group of 13 students went to the impoverished village of Buel in French Cameroons to help build a two-room cement-block elementary school and a stone chapel with seats for 400 worshippers. Another group went to Ghana and took part in the construction of a seven-room school in the remote Ashanti land village of Sate.

In Sierra Leone, the work project at Gbedembu was to build a hillside water system in rugged, hilly bush country. Working with out sufficient or proper tools with the ever-present danger of co-bras and black mambas—the students killed six during their six weeks on the project—they were able to accomplish the greater part of their project.

Long and serious discussions went on, with the African students and the Americans speaking with complete frankness about every subject under the sun. The Americans discovered that Little Rock looked large, and they set out to convince their friends that this was only one small part of America and that there was an earnest effort in almost every section of the country to find a way for the races to live together as equals.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Maudie is a mule who learned psychology. Mules are very smart animals, even exceeding the horse in practical intelligence. But Maudie learned so much psychology in so short a time, that she went on a strike and wouldn't pull her master's corn planter.

CASE E-492: Maudie, aged 10, is a Tennessee mule. She recently took her first course in practical psychology.

For Maudie developed what we psychologists call a conditioned reflex. Indeed, "conditioning" is one of the primary methods of learning.

By "conditioning" we do not mean what athletic coaches have in mind when they use that term to indicate a player is hardened or toughened for intercollegiate football.

No, we mean that a person or animal has become habituated to a specific situation.

For example, suppose a large fish is in one end of an aquarium and a small minnow in the other, with only a glass plate between. The minnow, moreover, is the master food of the large fish.

As soon as the minnow makes a move, the big fish darts after him, but strikes the glass partition. He hurls his nose.

But the large fish soon forgets. A few moments later he again darts after the minnow and for a second time he forgets a sore nose.

Ultimately he becomes "conditioned" adversely as regards that minnow. It then represents pain instead of pleasure. So even after the glass partition is removed, the big fish will actually avoid the minnow.

You modern farmers now use this law of "conditioning" when you employ a single strand of wire instead of the former woven fence.

You fasten the wire with porcelain spools, so it is insulated from the ground. Then you hook it to an electric battery.

Soon a horse or cow or mule approaches the single wire and either reaches over the top or tries to crawl under it.

But as soon as its skin comes in contact with that charged wire, the animal gets an electric shock, for its feet on the ground make a complete electric circuit.

So the animal rears back in pain and surprise. It doesn't take more than one or two experiences of this sort until the animal is thus "conditioned" adversely to the wire. It stays away from it thereafter.

A Tennessee farmer used this same type of charged wire around his pasture fields. But he had been quick to learn that a single wire on a post was bad medicine.

But they generalized, and became afraid of single wires in general. The farmer didn't know this till he tried to hitch them to his corn planter last spring.

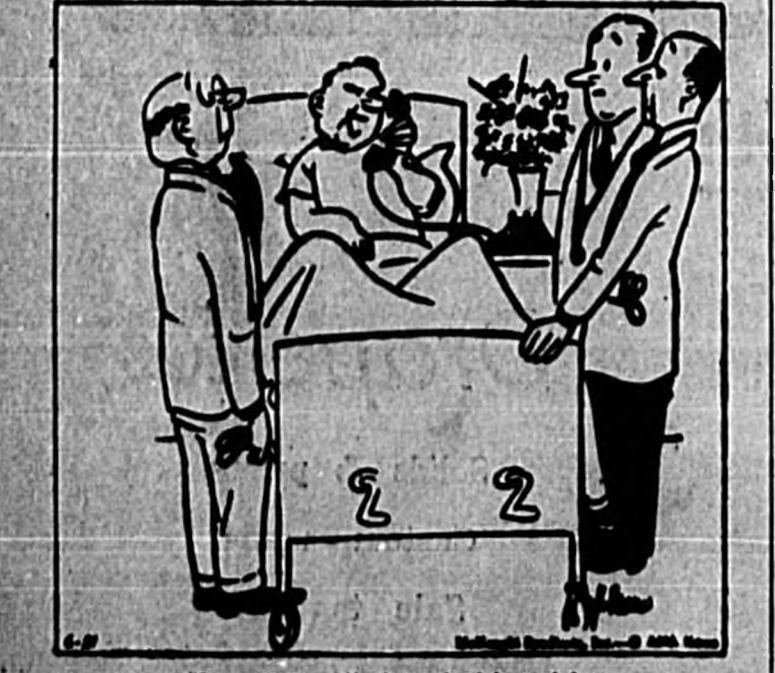

He was backing his corn, which means he used a single check wire that causes the corn to be dropped at fixed intervals, thus enabling the farmer to have straight rows both lengthwise and crosswise of the field.

But when Maudie saw that check wire, she refused to go near the corn planter. For she apparently thought the wire was electrically charged.

So the farmer had to borrow another team with which to plant his corn. Maudie had been too well "conditioned" to wire.

Some human parents could save a lot of time and headache if they'd "condition" their youngsters with a hairbrush when the toddlers are wantonly destructive.

A judicious use of corporal punishment is still an efficient aid in child rearing.

Several of our young men are going to grow beards this summer. (I pick up this kind of intelligence from our teenage daughter. She is a fount of important news.)

"Is that good?"

"I think it's just awful," she said. "Ugh!"

The about-to-beard young man is out of high school for the summer. I don't know what high schools think about beards; I imagine they are against them.

Anyway, it shows the trend. Beards are on the upswing. And Gillette was down %. This shows Wall Street is hep.

The beard fashion has been creeping up on us. Used to be a man with beard was a Weary Willie. On the bum.

Now a beard indicates a poet. (Or a member of Mr. Castro's Cuban hotel management.)

It is definitely "in."

If we had our unshaven elders in a predicament. Do we lick 'em or join 'em?

In my own downy youth, I yearned for a moustache. Who was it who said moustache so debonairly? Ramon Navarro? Anyway, it was somebody who slathed around with swords, confounding the Cardinal's Guard.

"En garde! Slash, Stab! 'Volla!"

In any case, we were all raising moustaches at that time. I was shaving every other day at that time.

We used to rub our chins after school. "Guess I'll have to shave tonight," we said. We said it regretfully. It showed we were overpowered by our beards and five o'clock shadow.

I think they must have made razors sharper in those days. Even every other day, my beard simply melted before the razor. Nowadays, I slick myself and I pull terribly. Unless I have a fresh blade.

We rubbed them with a little olive oil. It is a sovereign remedy for a moustache and I pass it along to the beard growers. They probably don't know that.

We grew these moustaches and mostly they were disappointing.

by Stan Delaplane

Our mothers—it is amazing the way mothers say the wrong thing. Our mothers would look at us across the dinner table and say: "Did you wash your face today? Your lip doesn't look clean."

If we had our swords we would have skewered her like shish-kebab.

However, among ourselves we were polite and congratulatory. "I see your ol' moustache is coming right along," we said. "You gonna let it run up into points at the end?"

The only boy who had a really GOOD moustache had a dandy. It was black and stubby.

He was about 20 years old and had been in high school for seven years. He was a star football player, too. There were no eligibility rules in our league. If you could stand up, you could play.

At the high point, my moustache had a silky, droopy look. It would not grow stiff and bushy. (Like the Musketeer in the movies.)

I tried letting it grow longer—so I could comb it across and make it kind of a cavalry moustache.

It grew long enough. But it refused to comb across. It just hung down over my upper lip.

So after awhile, we all agreed to shave them off. It was so much trouble we said keeping it trimmed. We shaved them off and took up something else. I forgot what. Bell bottom trousers, I think.

Strange Case Nobody Wants To Talk About Goes Before UN Council

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor

A strange case nobody wants to discuss goes before the United Nations Security Council Wednesday when it takes up Israel's accusation of Nazi Col. Adolf Eichmann from Argentina.

Russia, on that ground, would appear to have a propaganda cinch in the Eichmann case. But if the Soviet Union supports Israel's claims, it will go against its current campaign to woo the Arabs, arch enemies of the Israelis. Yet it must demand quick punishment for any leader of Nazism, the number one target of the Kremlin since June 22, 1941, the day Hitler invaded Russia.

Even more Nazi-hating by tradition than Russia is Poland, the first country overrun by Hitler in World War II. If the Kremlin's line is too soft in the Eichmann case, Poland might face the unlikely proposition of a minor split with Russia in the council.

Almost forgotten is the U. N.-sponsored genocide treaty, a life work of Rafael Lemkin, a Polish law professor at Yale. The treaty calls for trials of such as Eichmann by an international tribunal. But nobody has asked for such a trial.

Diplomacy is a funny bird.

WASHINGTON

by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON—After dinner I reached into my shirt pocket for a cigaret. This wouldn't have been so unusual, except that I gave up smoking a year ago.

This habit of reaching for a smoke has worn a scar in the area of the skin behind that shirt pocket. The craving becomes worst after a meal.

Nowadays, however, the urge to light up doesn't last more than a few seconds, and these "hunger pains" are getting to be farther apart. But, still, what distresses me is that a fellow who gave up smoking 14 years ago told me the other day he still has nicotine neuritis.

Another gentleman, Al Riley, correspondent for the Atlanta Constitution, had a different story. We were sitting around the press table of the Senate restaurant when Al saw my dry run reach for that cigaret pocket.

He grinned a confident grin. I had noticed that Al had been looking extremely well lately. "You're looking extremely well lately," I said to him. His cheeks were fuller, his color brighter.

"I gave up smoking four months ago," he said.

"You still have the urge, I assume," I said, and he replied: "Not at all." Al gave up smoking by hypnosis.

Now, the thought of smoking leaves a blank in his emotions. He can even light the cigaret of another person and his mouth doesn't pucker up.

Riley used to smoke two to three packs a day. One day he felt a canker sore under his tongue. It worried him. He went to a doctor, who advised him strongly to give up smoking.

So Al tried. For nine days he tried. He had to use one hand to hold back the other hand from reaching for that cigaret pocket.

Then he heard about what happened to Earl Mazo. Earl is the author of the highly successful book, "Richard Nixon."

Mazo, a four-pack-a-day man, quit painlessly after a series of visits with a Washington psychologist who practices hypnosis. Mazo heard about him through a mutual friend, the highly successful Post man who was able to quit after the hypnosis treatment.

Now it worked on Al. He's so enthusiastic about it that he plans to do a magazine story detailing his experience. He gave me a quick fill-in on how the doctor not only got him to stop, but took away his urge.

"On the first visit," Al said, "he put me under just slightly, and on succeeding visits — it took three altogether — I think he put me under a little deeper each time."

He said that when he was under — but still aware of his actions — the doctor made him take a whiff of nicotine.

"This," the doc said, "is distasteful — it is poison." And Al would jerk back and tremble.

That was four months ago, and to this day Al Riley strolls past crowds of cigaret smokers with a smile of contentment.

"But," he said, "I may go back in six months to sort of get a shot in the arm — go under hypnosis again to make sure this sticks."

Al turned and left me. I reached into my empty pocket for a cigaret.

Three Minutes A Day

By JAMES KELLER

No one knew the name of the man who rescued a 10-month-old baby from a burning building in North Hollywood, Calif. In the excitement, he left without identifying himself.

When the modest man got home, he casually told his wife and children about the incident. Next day when newspapers hailed the unknown hero, his 11-year-old son, a newsworthy, decided to call the paper with this information.

"I see you want to know the man who saved that baby. Well, he's my Dad!" He then gave the name of his father, Lee Ritchie, 30, a store manager and father of three.

You can be quite sure that your motives are nobly high if you are willing to be considerably inconvenienced in serving others and to be forgotten yourself. God sees what you do and that counts more than any amount of personal recognition.

Remember Christ's words: "When thou givest alms, do not let thy left hand know what thy right hand is doing, so that thy alms may be given in secret, and thy Father, Who sees in secret, will reward thee." (Matthew 6:3-4)

Teach me the wisdom, O Holy Spirit, of seeking the good of others even though I am forgetting myself.

Oviedoans Leave For Camp Schools And Vacations

This week will be "departure week" for several of the Oviedo boys. Eric Pearson left June 18, for MQ Ranch at Osteen, where he will be a worker this summer. Following him on the 12th, was his younger brother, Jimmy, who will attend the camp for four weeks.

Also leaving on Sunday were Arthur, David and Charles Evans for McCallie's School Camp, Chattanooga, Tenn. Arthur and David have attended this camp before, but this will be little Charles' first trip.

Albert Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Myers, left for Darlington School for Boys at Rome, Ga. Leaving later in the week for the same destination will be Tommy Estes, son of Mrs. R. W. Estes. Albert will be with his aunt and uncle and will be a day student at the school. Tommy will be a dormitory student.

Wea Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, left for Stetson University for the summer. Leaving June 25th will be Jimmy Jones, son of Postmaster and Mrs. J. B. Jones, for Chimney Rock Camp, Chimney Rock, N. C. This summer he will be a service worker in the gymnasium. Next summer he will be a junior advisor. He will be away for eight weeks.

"Departure week" also included the John Evans family, Mr. and Mrs. Evans, Mrs. B. F. Wheeler, her mother, and Miss Kathryn Lawton, a cousin, for their European voyage.

Mrs. John Shepard, worthy matron of Seminole Chapter No. 2, O. E. S., spent a hectic 48 hours last week. On Wednesday she received the news that at the Grand Assembly of Rainbow Girls being held in Tampa, her daughter, Sherlene, past worthy advisor of Rainbow Girls, Sanford, had been elected Grand Faith, State of Florida.

Although she had worked all day, she jumped in her car and headed for Tampa, reaching there about eight o'clock, to attend the final session. She spent what remained of the night with her mother, Mrs. Clinkscapes, in Tampa, and was back in Sanford Thursday morning in time for work.

She presided at a meeting of Seminole Chapter O. E. S. Thursday evening looking as fresh as a daisy and proud as punch. Winter shoes should be stored with care to preserve them.

JIMMY SHOEMAKER is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Shoemaker Sr. at their home on Mellenville Ave. Jimmy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Shoemaker of Pine Bluff, Ark. He is a sixth grade student in Pine Bluff, is an active member of the Boy Scouts, sings in the Methodist Church Choir and likes to swim and water ski. His parents plan to come to Sanford next month for a visit and take him home.

Joyce Harvey Celebrates Birthday

Joyce Harvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Learne Harvey was ten years old Friday and celebrated with a group of school friends with a party at her home in Osteen.

Those attending were, Susie Crim, Lynn and Diane Jones, Linda Noel, Janette Hosack, Shirley Sermons, Joy and Judy Harvey, Karen and Kirby Osteen, Gary and Donald Brown and Ronald Gaskin.

Serve sticks of peppermint or lemon candy with cups of steamy tea. Guests will stir, sweeten, and flavor their tea all at once and there are no spoons to wash. Peppermint or molasses sticks are also good with Hot cocoa.

Eastern Star Plans Corn Roast June 21, At Geneva

Members of Seminole Chapter No. 2, Order of Eastern Star, met for the last session of the summer at Masonic Hall. Resolutions were read and the charter draped in memory of past patron, D. G. T. Starr, who died recently.

Past matrons and past patrons were reminded of the corn roast and chicken fry to be held at Geneva Community Hall, June 21. They were asked to bring three ears of corn, cleaned and ready for cooking.

The birthday guest of honor was associate patron, J. T. McLean. The Robert Morris picnic, honoring the founder of the order, will be held in August.

The next meeting of the chapter is scheduled for Oct. 6.

Rebekahs Initiate Six Candidates At June Meeting

Final plans were made for the official visit of Mrs. Hugh Lee Mick, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Florida, at the June meeting of the Seminole Rebekah Lodge No. 43. The group met at the Odd Fellows Hall, with Mrs. Bertha Snyder, noble grand, presiding.

Mrs. Pearl Godwin, district deputy president, was present and presented her commission.

Six candidates were initiated into the lodge with impressive ceremonies. Mrs. Eloise Pfeiffert sang the initiatory music. The new members are, Mrs. Flora Addleton, Mrs. Margaret Dillard, Mrs. Irene White, Mrs. Elizabeth Mossman, Mrs. Agnes Moulle and Mrs. Mildred George.

Mrs. Helen Bruce and Mrs. Hazel Norris, both members of lodges in New York, were first time visitors. There were also visitors from Kissimmee. Mrs. Ruth Wilkinson, who has recently moved back to Sanford, was also present.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Eva Beckham, Mrs. Eva Williams, Mrs. Mable Brown and Mrs. Mary Jameson.

Tarpons Edge Greyhounds

BY JERRY COVINGTON

A three-run homer in the fifth inning by Tarpon third baseman Charlie Green gave the visiting Tampa club a 5-2 victory over the Sanford Greyhounds, Monday night. The game was delayed by rain and playing conditions were anything but suitable for a baseball game. It was a contest filled with walks and wild pitches. However, a hearty bunch of 60 noisy baseball fans were on hand until the final out in hopes that the Greyhounds could pull the game out and go into a tie with Palatka for second place.

The only bright spot in the game was the fine relief pitching of Ron Banovic. Righthander Dairo Sequi, started on the mound for the locals and shut the door for three innings but in the fourth he issued four walks. However, he got out of the inning with the Tarpons scoring only one run. In the fifth inning with one out he walked second baseman Jingling. Left-fielder Hoy then singled and Green hit a blast over the left field wall. Banovic, the crafty little lefty, then came in to relieve Sequi and immediately got the next two batters with the greatest of ease. He worked the remaining four innings giving up but one single in the seventh inning. He struck out five and issued but two bases on balls. The Tarpons scored against the Rooster in the seventh on a walk, the single and a Sanford error.

At the plate the Greyhounds had their troubles. Ken Harrison blasted a double in the first inning and scored when Bolivar Hinojosa singled him home. In the fifth inning Orzie Chavarria tied off with a double. He moved to second on a sacrifice by Banovic and then was singled home by George Arroyo. In other FSL action, Lakeland's Indians, specialists in cliff-hanger finishes while winning the Florida State League's first half pennant—repeated the story with a 3 to 2 win over St. Petersburg. The Indians scored all their runs in the ninth to grab the victory. Pitcher Ron Schamp won his own game with a sacrifice fly that drove in the deciding run. Tonight's action includes Lakeland at St. Petersburg, Leesburg at Palatka, Orlando at Daytona Beach and Sanford at Tampa.

Hammering Hank Back In Business

United Press International
That hammering National League pitcher Hank Aaron is ready to knock down the fences again for the Milwaukee Braves.

The NL battling champion with a .355 average last season, Aaron slipped to .279 with an early-season slump but he looked like the slinger of old Monday night when he hit two homers to power the Braves to a 4-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The victory moved the Braves into second place, seven percentage points ahead of the idle San Francisco Giants and four games behind the first place Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Kansas City Athletics pounded out a 9-6 victory over the Boston Red Sox in the only other major league game played Monday.

Joy Jay, the righthander who has been straining at stardom for three years, shared the honors with Aaron Monday night with 6 2/3 innings of scoreless relief pitching that earned him his first win of the year.

Jay took over from Dodger nemesis Bob Buhl in the third inning after Buhl walked four batters to force in a run and cut Milwaukee's lead to 2-1. Jay retired the side by throwing a double play ball and allowed only four singles the rest of the way. Two singles and a walk enabled Dodgers to fill the bases with two out in the ninth but pinch-hitter Irv Noren fouled out at the plate. Aaron sent the Braves off in front with his 14th homer of the season in the second inning and hit his second of the game in the sixth. Don Drysdale had brushed back Aaron with several pitches in his other appearance at the plate in the third inning and the crowd of 11,000 gave the righthander a loud chorus of boos when he left the game in the seventh.

The loss was Drysdale's fifth straight and ninth of the season compared with four victories.

Andy Carey, ex-Yankee celebrating his return to the Kansas City lineup, drove in four runs with a homer and a double to lead the Athletics to their victory over the Red Sox. Carey, sidelined for a week with a virus infection, entered the game as a pinch hitter in the sixth inning and drove in three runs with a double. He followed in the eighth with a homer.

Marty Pate, who pitched the last 2 1/3 innings for the Athletics, won his second game while Tom Borland suffered his second loss.

Gophers Take Baseball Title

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—Minnesota's persistent Gophers, who have the golden touch in the clutch, outwitted Southern California Monday night to claim the national collegiate baseball title they expected to win all along.

The championship run came in the 10th inning of the Big Ten kings' third overtime game with Southern California. A Trojan reliever issued a bases-loaded walk to give Minnesota the crown, 2-1.

The Trojans scored in the top of the ninth after two outs to force the extra inning, but Minnesota's steady righthander, Jim Rantz, starting his first game, sent the Westerners down in order in the top of the 10th.

Palmer, Sneed Favored In Play

PORTSMOUTH, Ireland (UPI)—Arnold Palmer and Sam Snead are 2-1 favorites to win the team title for the United States in the International Golf Assn. and Canada Cup matches starting Thursday.

Palmer is favored by the same odds to win the individual title in the four-day, 72-hole competition. The Elginer, Pa., star was quoted at 5-2 before the United States Open but the odds dropped after he made his brilliant comeback to win that event Saturday.

Rescheduled Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The world junior lightweight title fight between Flash Elorde of the Philippines and Harold Gomes of Providence, R. I., has been rescheduled for Wednesday, Aug. 17 to accommodate Elorde. The bout originally was set for July 4 but was postponed to give Elorde enough time to recover from an illness.

Patty Ready To Fight Ingemar Again In 90 Days

NEW YORK (UPI)—Floyd Patterson, who vindicated himself heroically by achieving the ring's first recapture of the heavyweight crown, is willing to fight Ingemar Johansson again within 90 days—but still groggy Ingemar is uncertain whether to accept.

Patterson, whose explosive left hooks floored Swedish Ingemar twice in the fifth round for a knockout Monday night before 31,000 paid spectators in the Polo Grounds, said: "I'll live up to our contract for a rubber match. I always keep my word."

Promoter Jack Fugazy said Feature Sports, Inc., would like to promote the bout "within 120 days" but in some other city, unless New York's police commissioner could provide better protection for the promoters and the fans.

It was estimated that more than 8,000 rushed into the ball park first after smothering three gates. Ingemar, who was flat on his back for three minutes after suffering the first professional defeat in his career of 23 fights, told friends: "I don't know what I want to do. I don't want to talk about it now."

However, the decision may be taken out of Ingemar's hands by the National Boxing Assn. Tony Manceroni of Providence, R.I., NBA president, said the organization would not approve a third fight between Patterson and Ingemar because of the very definite manner in which Patterson established his superiority Monday night.

Brown-haired Ingemar, with the nicked and nearly closed left eye and the cut, swollen and swollen nose, appeared still woozy from the head blows he had taken before being counted out at 1:31 of the fifth round by Referee Arthur Mercante.

Patterson, an underdog at 74-3 because he had been called a "chance champion" even before his third-round knockout defeat, vindicated himself dramatically Monday night by beating the odds and tradition.

Although staggered by one of Johansson's stunning rights to the head in the second round, 25-year-old Floyd quickly took command of the fight again and gave Ingemar a thorough beating that was climaxed by the two knockdowns from left hooks to the jaw in the final fifth session.

Patterson, who became the first man in ring history to win back the heavy crown, was estimated to have earned about $500,000 from what shaped up as the "richest fight" in history. Johansson was estimated to have wound up with a similar sum.

The show drew a gross gate of $24,814.07 at the Polo Grounds. Irving B. Kahn, president of Telepromer Corp., estimated that the gross receipts from the sale of about 500,000 theater-television seats in 123 cities in the United States and Canada would be more than 2 million dollars.

In addition another $500,000 would be grossed from a $300,000 guarantee for movie rights, $170,000 from radio in the United States and Canada, $35,000 from foreign radio and $85,000 from a pre-light TV show.

Fugazy said the total gross receipts from all sources should exceed $3,500,000. That would be greater than the fabulous $2,638,600 "live gate" attracted by the

Cannon Wins Court Battle; Set For Oilers

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—America Billy Cannon is free to play football with the team of his choice, the Houston Oilers of the fledgling American Football League.

Federal Judge William Lindberg described Cannon as a wonderful athlete but "anything but an astute businessman" Monday in ruling he could play with the Oilers.

Cannon, former Louisiana State University halfback, was taken to court by the Los Angeles Rams who tried to keep him from playing with anyone but them.

Cannon signed a contract with the Rams Nov. 30—a month before he played with LSU in the Sugar Bowl Game—calling for some $50,000 over a three-year period. Later he signed with Houston at double that salary.

In voiding the Los Angeles contract, Lindberg said the agreement Cannon signed was simply an offer to enter into a binding agreement. He said the pact should be characterized as a "conditional precedent to execution" of a working contract.

ANOTHER GREAT FLORIDA RESTAURANT CHANGES TO natural gas!

Morrison's New Imperial House in Winter Park owes its reputation to superb cuisine and service!

Add one more fine Florida dining establishment to the long list that have made the switch to natural gas. The Morrison management cites speed, economy and flexibility among the more important reasons given for the changeover... but most of all, it's the natural good taste of highest quality food... cooked with natural gas.

Natural gas contributes to clean, efficient kitchens which are a Morrison "trademark."

"SPEED IS A PRIME CONSIDERATION"

Mr. Richard C. Higley, Manager of the Imperial House, says: "In a kitchen like ours, designed to prepare foods fast and efficiently for large numbers, speed is a prime consideration. That's why we switched to natural gas. With natural gas, we avoid long warm-up periods. And can cook at the exact temperature desired. We can be sure the meals reach our customers with the natural juices cooked in... so the food looks, and tastes better. And, it costs less to prepare... that's the best news of all!"

Take a tip from the "pros" whose reputation depends on serving the best. Natural gas is just naturally better for your kitchen, too. There is no cleaner, safer way to cook. Visit your gas appliance dealer or your natural gas showrooms... get the work-saving, money-saving facts!

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating a man for well over a year. I admire him immensely and enjoy his companionship, but only when we are in public or with friends.

This may sound ridiculous, as we are not in our teens. We are both in our middle forties, each previously married.

I am certainly not "cold" but, Abby, could you stand to be kissed and hugged and told the same endearing things every time you are alone, be it ten minutes or ten hours? ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: I could if I loved the man. And so could you.

DEAR ABBY: "Dazed parents" wrote to you and asked, "What can we do about this mess?" Wasn't it a little late?

If people were going to buy a car, they would look over dozens of makes and drive the salesman crazy asking questions and making demands. But when their daughter decides to take a husband, she walks into a USO Club and from hundreds of strangers she picks one she thinks will do.

Who he is, where he comes from, what his religion and background are means very little. I know what I'm talking about because I have worked in USO's for years. I also know that for every scoundrel there are hundreds of decent young men. But if parents would investigate the boys their daughters go with BEFORE they start going with them, there would be fewer scoundrels making progress.

MRS. E. M.

DEAR ABBY: I have never done things behind my husband's back so I don't know what made me do it this time, but here's my problem: My husband has a large family, the visiting kind. They are very noisy and make me nervous.

One of my husband's sisters (she lives in town) called and told me another sister (this one is a real cat) and her husband planned on coming to stay with me for two weeks. So I sat down and wrote this letter telling her not to plan on staying with me because I am too nervous to do all the things that go with being a good hostess. Was that so terrible?

My husband doesn't know I wrote her. I still don't want them, no matter what. I need your help. How should I handle it from now on? TOO NERVOUS FOR COMPANY

DEAR NERVOUS: The next sound you hear will probably come from your husband's side of the family, so all you have to do now is sit back and wait for the explosion! Get your husband in a good mood and tell him about the letter. You can't be blamed for trying to protect yourself, but there are many ways to skin (and dodge) a cat. If you use diplomacy, you're safe. If you let her have it with both barrels, you've undoubtedly alienated the whole clan.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CAROLE: Woman does not chase man—neither does mousetrap chase mouse.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Abby's best-selling book, "Dear Teenager," is on sale at all bookstores.

May's Contract Not Renewed

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Actress May Britt's contract will not be renewed when the option falls due this summer, a 20th Century-Fox spokesman said Monday night. The studio refused to say if the action was an outgrowth of the blonde Swedish girl's plan to marry Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. She and Davis were housed publicly in London recently where Davis was appearing in a stage show. "Let's put it this way," the spokesman said, "Her picture, 'The Blue Angel' didn't set any records at the box office. We don't believe we have any further properties... that would suit her."

Mr. Billogg

Trouble is what polite people say they hate to give. Having thus forcefully expressed their feelings, they ask for information that calls for hours of research. People who hate to give trouble follow persons from their offices to their homes, getting them up from the table in the middle of a meal and sometimes even getting them out of bed. If the persons they are seeking have gone out to dinner, they may pursue them to the home of their hosts. People who hate to give trouble do not hesitate to pick flaws in something that has been done, suggest that it be undone and done over again. They make an engagement for a time which they say will be most convenient, then at the last minute ask that the hour be changed. People who hate to give trouble, when they are preparing for a weekend trip, are not above ask-

TV's Big Pitch For Title Bout Ends Up Championship Caliber

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI)—What ever your opinion of the fight "game," TV's big pitch for Monday's big fight was of championship caliber. The prim, trim ABC-TV special, "Biography of the Fight," consisted mostly of revealing replies by the champ, Ingemar Johansson, and Floyd Patterson, the challenger, to probing questions about their motivations and innermost thoughts. Johansson, the charming, handsome TV performer, emerged from the interview as a hard, proud, fierce battler. Patterson, on the other hand, came out as an introspective fellow, filled with compassion and admittedly lacking the killer instinct. Both men emerged as interesting, complex human beings and not as marionette, punchy clods. In fiction, prize fighters often are humiliated, of course, so it was engaging to discover that life has imitated art once more. James Cagney, as the host, brought together Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney for some insights into the fight. Dempsey and Tunney, ready to do or die for dear old Tailor-Tops, squared off against each other and Dempsey landed one on the Tunney midsection, which is now well-protected. Cagney? I fully expected him to grab Gene and Jack by their necks and say, "All right, you guys... break clean and come out fighting."

The half-hour show, written by Bill Heinz and Alvin Horset, was rare for another reason. It was free-TV plugging a pay-TV attraction. But that's a fight of another color.

For years comedians have kidded Ed Sullivan's show with the line, "next week, on our stage, the Chicago fire..." It finally happened Sunday night. The CBS-TV hour had the Chicago fire—somewhat reduced in size—during a too-brief, unsatisfying videotaped visit to the East's brand new answer to "Disneyland," a quickie-history park called "Freedomland."

The best part of Sullivan's show was Benny Goodman's segment. Benny and his cats blew the dust off some oldish sounds, made them sound fresh again and stopped the show.

Dialing and Filing: NBC-TV's "Movie of the Week" came up with a quaint costume piece by Gore Vidal, "Dark Possession." Whalibone—hard acting and Jabot-swathed dialogue made it a funny, funny show.

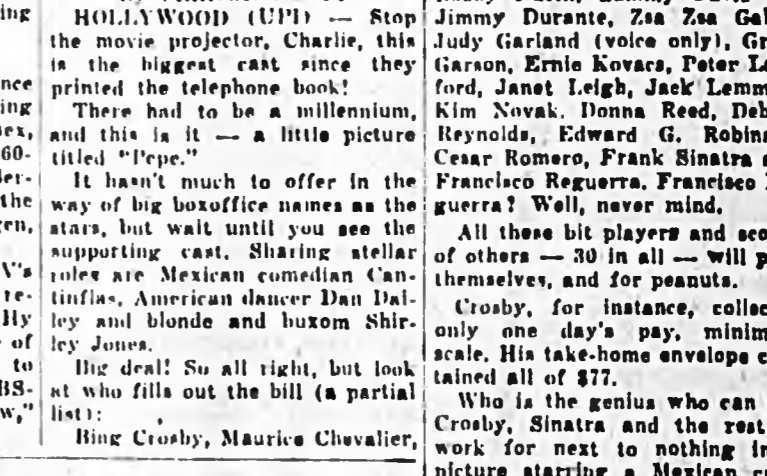

Cary Middleoff and Mike Souchack were all even after Sunday's "World Championship Golf" hour on NBC-TV. They'll decide who gets the $25,000 first prize with next Sunday's match. The best line in the show came when host Bob Crosby whispered, as the camera panned along the crowd, "There's Phil Harris—drinking in the action."

The Channel Swim: Audience reaction to circus programming has encouraged a sponsor, Times, to prepare two more for the 1960-61 season: one features the Bertram Mills troupe in London; the other will be taped in Copenhagen, Denmark.

"Beat the Clock," ABC-TV's daytime game show, has been renewed for another season... My Avesback is leaving as director of ABC-TV's "The Real McCoy" to become producer-director of CBS-TV's "The Tom Swell Show," which debuts in the fall.

TV Industry Hands Out Emmy Awards

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Two foreign stars, Ingrid Bergman and Sir Laurence Olivier, shared top acting awards today with Robert Stack and Jane Wyatt for the 1959-1960 television season. In Monday night's 12th annual TV academy show both Miss Bergman and Sir Laurence won Emmys in their American video debuts. Both have previously won Oscars in motion pictures. Stack was honored as best actor in a series for his portrayal of federal agent Eliot Ness in "The Untouchables," while Miss Wyatt won top series honors for her widely role in "Father Knows Best," which leaves the air this season. The best dramatic series of the year award went to "Playhouse 90," which will not be seen next season. In a year when one shot "specials" were the rage, Miss Bergman's performance last Oct. 29 in "The Turn of the Screw" was rated highest for a single performance by an actress. Olivier was voted his award for "The Moon and Sixpence," which was beamed Oct. 30. The 90-minute NBC colorcast mixed comedy and music with the awards programs which saw winners in 22 categories, and a special trustees award. The program was hosted by Fred Astaire who won nine Emmys last year in Hollywood and Arthur Godfrey in New York. One oddity of the balloting: Western's most popular program in the rating systems, failed to gain a single award. Conedy honors went to Art Carney, Jackie Gleason's ex-aside-kick, for his uproarious antics in "Vip," another special. Harry Belafonte captured an award for "Tonight with Belafonte," the outstanding variety show of the year. Presented the statuette by Astaire, the Negro actor-singer said, "I'm sorry

Supporting Cast Sparks New Film Venture Titled 'Pepe'

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Stop the movie projector, Charlie, this is the biggest cast since they printed the telephone book! There had to be a millennium, and this is it—a little picture titled "Pepe."

It hasn't much to offer in the way of big boxoffice names as the stars, but wait until you see the supporting cast. Slating stellar roles are Mexican comedian Cantinflas, American dancer Dan Duley and blonde and buxom Shirley Jones.

Big deal! So all right, but look at who fills out the bill (a partial list):

Ring Crosby, Maurice Chevalier, Bobby Darin, Sammy Davis Jr., Jimmy Durante, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Judy Garland (voice only), Greg Gerson, Emile Meyer, Peter Lawford, Janet Leigh, Jack Lemmon, Kim Novak, Donna Reed, Debbie Reynolds, Edward G. Robinson, Cesar Romero, Frank Sinatra and Francisco Reguerro, Francisco Roa guerra? Well, never mind.

All these bit players and scores of others—30 in all—will play themselves, and for peanuts.

Crosby, for instance, collected only one dollar's pay, minimum scale. His take-home envelope contained all of $77.

Who is the genius who can get Crosby, Sinatra and the rest to work for next to nothing in a picture starring a Mexican comedian, an American hooper and a buxom blonde?

Producer-director George Sidney, that's who.

"A picture like this has never been made," Sidney said modestly. "Other films have had supporting players who are an integral part of the story, and each one of them will be playing himself on the screen for the first time."

"You have no idea how difficult it is for some of them to behave normally—I mean as they really are in person, so they are being humanized even if they are self-conscious about it."

"You could almost say this is a 'person to person' situation for the movies," Sidney said happily.

Plenty Of Unclassified Data Comes Out Of Cocktail Parties

WASHINGTON (UPI)—I have no doubt our spy system can continue to function without the U-2. But if prohibition ever comes back, it may be in real trouble. I mean we don't have to depend on overflights to bring in intelligence data. It seems apparent that a lot of information can be collected by getting high on the ground. Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon gave a tantalizing hint of the way that alcoholic espionage works when he was testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee the other day. One of the Senators wanted to know when the State department first learned that the Soviets might have captured the U-2 pilot alive.

Millionaire, Former Olympic Champion Dies

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — John B. Kelly Sr., 70, father of Princess Grace of Monaco, who rose from an apprentice bricklayer to millionaire contractor and a leader in civic, business and sports circles, died of cancer Monday at his home here.

Dr. James A. Lehman, said the death of the former Olympic sailing champion came sooner than anticipated.

Kelly, who built one of the nation's largest brickwork contracting empires, underwent abdominal surgery last month in Woman's Medical College Hospital and returned home to recuperate.

Princess Grace, Hollywood movie actress before her story-book marriage to Prince Ranier of Monaco, recently visited her father.

Princess Grace was informed of her father's death by telephone in Monaco. She and the Prince were expected to arrive in the United States today to attend the funeral.

With Kelly in his final hours were his wife, the former Margaret Major, his only son, John J. (Jack), who followed in his father's footsteps as an international champion cricketer; and two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Davis and Mrs. Lizanne Levine.

Quotable Quotes

By United Press International
NEW YORK — Floyd Patterson, after regaining the world heavyweight boxing crown with a fifth round knockout over Ingemar Johansson:
"I was waiting for him to come to me. When he didn't, well, I had to go to him. I guess I did, huh?"

NEW YORK — Edwin Ahlquist, Johansson's advisor, telling reporters the former champ would have no statement just now:
"Ingemar doesn't feel like talking to anyone right now... The best man won."

HOLLYWOOD — Robert Stack, on receiving an Emmy Award as best actor for his TV role in "The Untouchables":
"I always laughed at people when they got things like the Emmy. But I'm not laughing now."

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio — Dr. Barbara Moore, still trudging across the country in the wake of two British sergeants who completed the San Francisco-New York hike Friday, repeated her charge that the men got riled:
"They just had a good hitchhiking holiday across America. But if they try to claim a record, I will subpoena them."

AF Pressing Forward On Advanced Titan Missile

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Air Force is pressing forward on an advanced Titan II Intercontinental Ballistic Missile which will require only "a few seconds" to fire with deadly accuracy at an enemy target one-third of the world away.

The new missile will be able to catapult an H-bomb from its concrete underground silo to a target 9,775 miles away directed by a guidance system that cannot be jammed by any known means. The Titan II was expected to be ready for operation in about two years.

The Titan II represents a great advance over earlier ICBMs because liquid fuel can be kept inside the missile for long periods at normal temperatures. This is a major factor in the trigger-quick firing ability of the missile.

The Atlas, America's first ICBM, and the Titan use hard-to-handle liquid oxygen as part of their fuel. This requires a liquid oxygen plant at each launching base and special containers to keep the liquid at 300 degrees below zero fahrenheit.

It takes several minutes to launch these missiles after the fire order is given because only then can the liquid oxygen be fed into their tanks.

The Air Force, which announced the new break-through Monday, said the Martin Co. had been awarded an $8,000,000 contract for development and manufacture of the Titan II. The total Titan II program was expected to cost about $400,000,000.

8 Die, 2 Hurt In 4-Car Crash

NEW IBERIA, La. (UPI)—Police said today "drag racing" may have caused the four-car crash, possibly the worst highway accident in Louisiana history, that killed eight persons and injured two others so badly one wasn't expected to survive.

It happened on a two-lane state highway just inside the city limits after dark Monday night. The four cars were so badly mangled that police at first thought five cars were involved. What they first thought was two cars turned out to be one car cut in half.

Killed were the Rev. Douglas Taylor, 28, a Pentecostal minister from Tupelo, Miss.; George Babineaux, 17; Alvin Bodin, 18; and Bastiano LaPorte, all of New Iberia, and four members of a Patoutville, La., Negro family, Aaron Williams Sr., and his three sons, Lloyd, 28, Roger, 26, and Aaron Jr., 17.

Patrick Henry, a teen-ager from Jeanerette, La., and Archie Alexander, 24, Negro, New Iberia were injured. Henry wasn't expected to live.

State police headquarters in Baton Rouge said it is believed to be the worst highway crash in the state's history.

$ WIN CASH PRIZES WEEKLY! $

BASEBALL CONTEST!

FREE CASH PRIZES will be awarded each week (in accordance with Contest Rules at right) as follows: 1st PRIZE: $15; 2nd PRIZE: $10; 3rd PRIZE $5. Nothing to Buy. Nothing to Pay. No Obligation.

CONTEST RULES

- 18 Baseball games scheduled to be played this weekend are placed, one in each ad on this page. Indicate the winner by writing in the name of the team opposite the advertiser's name in the entry blank on this page. No Scores. Just pick the winners.
- Pick a number which you think will be the highest number of runs scored in any one game — by BOTH teams — and place this number in the space provided in the Entry Blank. This will be used to break ties.
- One entry only to each contestant. Entries for this week's contest must be brought to the office of this newspaper, or post-marked, not later than Noon, Friday, June 24th.
- Winners of this week's contest are not eligible to win again within three weeks. Decisions of our contest judges are final.

New Post Office Set For Fern Park

Fern Park will get a new post office with bids to build and lease the new facility to be opened in July, postmaster Mrs. Minty S. Warren said today.

Mrs. Warren said she was informed by the post office department that the closing date for the bids will be July 18. "This proposed new building," Postmaster Warren said

"will replace existing facilities located on the southeast corner of the intersection of Hwy. 17-92 and SR 434."

Specifications call for a structure containing approximately 3,148 square feet with an outside loading platform and adequate space for parking and truck maneuvering.

Postmaster Warren said she has been advised that the Post Office Department will enter into a lease agreement with the successful bidder which will run for 10 years with two 5-year renewal options.

Bids should be submitted, the postmaster advised, to the Real Estate Officer, Mr. W. P. Selzer Jr., P. O. Box 4064, Jacksonville, who will supply information with regard to bidding forms, building specifications, lease provisions, etc.

Postmaster Warren quoted Regional Operations Director W. L. Crawford, for the Post Office Department's Atlanta Region, as saying that "significant progress now is evident in the postal modernization program begun by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield."

Under the Post Office Department's unique Commercial Leasing Program, the resources and investment funds of private enterprise are utilized to obtain needed postal buildings. More than 4,200 new structures have been erected during the past five years.

Moreover, due to Congressional approval of the Postal Modernization Program, construction during 1960 will be greatly accelerated with 1,400 new facilities scheduled for completion and several hundred obsolete post offices modernized and expanded.

Tappy Sets Time Limit For Answer In Integration Suit

DELAND (UPI) — Attorney Francisco Rodriguez, representing 32 persons seeking integration of Volusia County schools, must answer a counter-suit from the county school board within 30 days.

Circuit Judge Thomas Tappy laid down the deadline Tuesday in the latest move in the complicated legal in-fighting over the issue.

Tappy acted after turning down a motion from Rodriguez that he dismiss the school board suit. He gave Rodriguez a month to answer it.

The battle began when the 32 filed a petition asking for school desegregation. The board replied with the present suit asking circuit court to declare the petitioners without legal grounds.

Rodriguez then filed a second integration suit, this one in federal court. The board has asked for a stay of the federal case until the current wrangle in circuit court is settled.

Among the petitioners is Rev. E. C. Tillman of Daytona Beach, one of two Negroes on Gov. LeRoy Collins' 1958 anti-segregation study committee.

Among the spectators at Tuesday's hearing was State Asst. Atty. Gen. Ralph Odum, generally considered the state's top authority on segregation laws.

Red Plot To Kill Garcia Exposed

MANILA (UPI) — Military intelligence men today stepped up their investigation of a Communist plot to assassinate Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia and his search for Dr. Jesus Lavan, top Communist leader in the Philippines.

Military officials revealed the capture Tuesday of Communist rebel Hukbalahap leader Silvestre Lwanag, alias Linda Bie. They said he had in his possession documents showing that Garcia and other top government officials had been marked for death at public appearances.

Officials indicated that they would demand the death penalty for Lwanag, considered number two man in the Communist hierarchy here. Number one man is Lavan, who is still at large.

Chief-of-staff Lt. Gen. Manuel Cabal ordered all intelligence agents to double their efforts in tracking down his whereabouts as well as that of Castro Alejandro and Pedro Tarue. They reportedly replaced Lwanag in the "Huk" roster.

For the first time since the Sanford Navy Air Station was reactivated in May, 1951 there is a Wave Line Officer aboard.

While this is something new for the base, it is also something new for Lcdr. Frances S. Mitchell, who is relieving Lcdr. Herman C. Finkel as NAS military personnel officer. It marks the first time that she has been stationed at an active other than an administrative or headquarters command.

Mrs. Mitchell is a native of Miami. She graduated Senior High School in Miami and attended the University of Southern California where she studied Journalism. While at USC, she was a member of the Kappa Delta Sorority.

She joined the Navy in October, 1948, as a member of the first Wave Midshipmen's Class at Smith College, Northampton, Mass. Upon commissioning her first assignment was in communications with the Gulf Sea Frontier in Miami.

Twin Satellites Launched By Air Force And Navy

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The United States fired unique "mother and daughter" satellites into a high orbit today to give all nations an accurate navigation system, measure the sun's radiation and make the world's clocks more accurate.

The Navy and Air Force joined forces to put a transit 2-A satellite into a 600-mile high orbit crossing parts of Russia and the arctic and antarctic regions.

The complex, 233-pound aluminum sphere gave birth to a second satellite as soon as the orbit was achieved.

The transit has three major purposes and several comparatively minor ones including an experimental receiver and antenna to tune in on cosmic noise and let man know what it sounds like in the Milky Way.

The major purposes: 1—Provide an all-weather global navigation system to pinpoint locations on earth.

2—Find out exactly where the land masses of the earth are located.

3—Determine, through an electronic "digital" clock, the precise time simultaneously — for example — in New York and Cairo.

The clock could become a time standard to replace the age-old chronometer on ships.

A 70-foot Thor-Able-star rocket performed perfectly in putting the satellite into orbit. It rose almost vertically into the night sky at 1:54 a. m. and ground observers could see the successful separation of the first and second stages.

A mobile tracking station was moved from Edling Air Force Base in Germany to a new location at Punta Arenas, Chile to determine the orbital character of the transit. The move was necessary for this shot because of the new orbit position of 67.5 degrees.

Fresh water fishing licenses are now on sale at Judge Vernon Mize's office in the courthouse.

Prices are the same as last year, resident license, $2; non-resident, three-day license, $1.25; and non-resident, 14-day license, $3.25.

The old licenses for 1959-1960 do not expire until June 30 but the new licenses are good on purchase.

The new licenses are good until June 30, 1961.

Expensive Robbery Probe Set By Police

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) Federal, state and city law enforcement authorities primed themselves today for what may turn out to be the most intensive West Virginia robbery investigation in modern history.

State Police Supt. Hazen H. Fair pushed the investigation of $500,000 Department of Motor Vehicles robbery into high gear Tuesday with the appointment of L. E. L. Roush as its head.

Roush said today his team has not decided whether it's "an inside job." The police lieutenant said the group "is keeping an open mind on that while checking every possible lead that comes our way."

The robbery was discovered Monday.

Jap Reds Chant 'Yanks Go Home'

TOKYO (UPI) — Thousands of leftist students and labor union members staged a "Yankee go home" demonstration before the national parliament building today in a futile last-ditch effort to smash the U. S.-Japan security treaty.

The demonstration grew in tempo with the disclosure that Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's cabinet and Emperor Hirohito secretly put the treaty through its final Japanese ratification processes Tuesday night.

The action was kept a quiet—instead of a cabinet meeting messengers took the documents to individual cabinet members' homes—that not even the energetic Japanese press or the nation's largest press association knew about it until many hours later.

All that needed to be done now was for the U. S. Senate to ratify the treaty—expected today—and for the formal articles of ratification to be exchanged here in Tokyo.

More than 22,000 union and fanatic Zengakuren student demonstrators rallied before the Diet (parliament) which has been under siege almost daily in protest against the treaty and Kishi's government.

Kishi is expected to resign and call for new national elections shortly after the articles of ratification are exchanged.

Union workers carried many placards reading "Yankees go home... expel American bases... take your U. S. back to America."

The leftist Shoyu Labor Union started the day by tying up the nation's rail traffic with a three-hour strike. Its leaders predicted that before the day was over up to 170,000 demonstrators would participate in the anti-treaty protest.

Ike To Report On Asian Tour

HONOLULU (UPI) — President Eisenhower was preparing today a report to the American people on his controversial Far Eastern tour.

He feels that evaluations indicate the trip was highly successful in generating goodwill for the United States at a time when America was under heavy Communist propaganda in the Orient.

The President, after checking reaction with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, is convinced the net result of his arduous journey was on the plus side—despite cancellation of his trip to Japan and the occurrence of anti-American demonstrations at Okinawa.

Eisenhower plans to remain in Hawaii until the weekend, unless urgent congressional business arises in the meantime. He is working on his television and radio report to the American people with one of his top speech writers, Dr. Kevin McCann.

A time for the speech has not been set, but it will be shortly after he returns to Washington. Eisenhower also is expected to hold a news conference in the nation's capital next week.

The White House took a non-committal attitude toward testimony by Herter that Eisenhower planned no more personal goodwill trips abroad.

Reliable Atlas Launched At Cape

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — America's only operational Intercontinental Ballistic Missile, the mighty Atlas, thundered away today on a scheduled 5,000-mile sky ride into the South Atlantic.

The reliable Atlas was launched at 9:50 a. m. without a hiccup and, after a steep climb, headed down range for a planned impact around Ascension Island.

The firing was to test guidance and power functions in a continuing program to perfect the "Big A," currently the nation's top war-ready long range rocket.

No nose cone recovery was planned.

Offices To Open Books On Salaries

Three of the four fee office heads in the courthouse today said they would open their books for inspection by the County Commission to give the board an idea of salaries schedules paid in the offices.

Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker declined to comment on the subject.

Tuesday the board agreed to write the officials for the third time to ask their cooperation in establishing a uniform salary schedule for all county employees. The commission said that if this last attempt failed they will order fee office heads to open their books next week.

The commission has the authority to inspect any books in the courthouse, according to county attorney Mack Cleveland Jr.

County Judge Vernon Mize and Tax Collector John Gallaway both agreed to open their books to the commission but declined any comment on whether they favored a more equal salary for all county employees and eliminating bonuses in fee offices.

CHRISTIAN HERTER

Herter Says Now Is Time To Cut Cuba Sugar Supply

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told Congress today this is "an appropriate time" for the United States to reduce the dependence of its consumers on Cuban sugar.

Herter told the House Agriculture Committee that a Republican proposal to end back-scheduled Cuban marketing of sugar in the United States is acceptable to the administration.

Herter, in a prepared statement made no reference whatever to the public attacks by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro on the United States. Thus, there was no reference, even implicit, to use of the sugar program for political reprisals against Castro.

Herter pointed out that the United States now depends on Cuba for about one third of its total sugar supply. He said the United States now must take into account the policy statements of the new Cuban government calling for greater diversification of agriculture.

Declaring that experts predict Cuba's sugar production will soon drop at least one million tons from current levels, Herter noted that the Cuban government recently agreed to supply Soviet Russia with one million tons of sugar a year for the next five years.

He also cited recent sugar sales agreements between Cuba and other Communist-controlled countries.

"Because of these and other circumstances," Herter said, "it is would be an appropriate time for the United States to seek ways to diversify its sources of supply and reduce the dependence of its consumers on Cuban sugar, the supply of which may become increasingly uncertain."

Ruling Favors Jail A'air Extension

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled today that a Volusia County Jail-Air Fronto was entitled to 90 days of winter activity if it was requested, plus additional days in the summer.

The court ruled that the Fronto, owned by Volusia Jail-Air Inc., was entitled to the 90 days during the winter and as many days, up to 90, in the summer if the racing commission chose to grant them.

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — A killer heat wave with temperatures up to 116 degrees has brought death to at least 395 persons in northern India since June 1, the All India Medical and Health Assn. reported today. The reports said another 800 had been hospitalized with heat strokes.

Summer Rains

By United Press International

Warm summer showers splattered the Eastern half of the nation today. The light rains dampened the upper Great Lakes and upper Mississippi Valley and the Central and Southern Atlantic Seaboard during the night. The heaviest rainfall—7.9 of an inch—fell at Augusta, Ga.

NAACP Meet

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI)—The annual convention of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) today mapped a two-pronged attack on Communism. The youth and college section of the NAACP met to plan "strategy and procedure" for future protests against integration like the Southern sit-in demonstrations.

New Citrus Head

WINTER HAVEN (UPI) — D. Maxwell Acree of Deland is the new president of Florida Citrus Mutual, major voice of Florida's 410 million dollar citrus industry. Acree was elected Tuesday to succeed Vernon L. Conner of Mount Dora, whose four and a half years in office were the longest served by any Mutual president.

West Criticized

GENEVA (UPI) — Communist members of the ten-nation disarmament conference accused the West today of "continuing to evade businesslike discussions on disarmament." The five-nation Communist statement issued after today's four-minute meeting was taken by the West to mean that the Russians were building up a case for breaking off the conference when American delegate Frederick Eaton returned from Washington.

UN Gets Squabble

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) —The Security Council reluctantly turned its attention today to the Argentine-Israeli squabble over Adolf Eichmann, accused of executing millions of Jews during World War II. Indications were the big power council members, including the United States and Russia, would retard debate until a meeting in Europe later this week between Israeli Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion and Argentine President Arturo Frondizi.

Policy Victory Claimed By Nikita

LONDON (UPI) — Reports seeping from a closed Communist summit meeting in Bucharest indicated today that Nikita Khrushchev had won a major victory over Red China for his policy of peaceful co-existence and had proclaimed another dramatic break with the past.

In a move interpreted as his most daring breach with tradition, Khrushchev declared that Communists must interpret the writings of Marx and Lenin in the light of the times.

At a closed meeting coinciding with the Romanian Communist Party Congress in Bucharest, Moscow Radio quoted Khrushchev as saying:

"We live in a time when we have neither Marx, nor Engels, nor Lenin with us. If we act like children who, studying the alphabet, compile words from letters, we shall not go very far."

The teachings of Marx, Engels and Lenin heretofore have been considered as nearly inviolable dogmas. Any departure from them has been considered heresy.

Moscow Radio and the official Soviet Tass News Agency reported that Khrushchev's views were expressed in a top-hour speech attended by top-ranking party leaders from Eastern Europe and an observer from Red China.
