New Adjustment Board To Be Chosen Tonight

Strolling In Sanford

Mrs. Harold Appleby has asked the stroller to remind those whose attendance is necessary that there will be a meeting of the directors of the Forest Park School at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the school.

A champion Doberman pinscher belonging to Mrs. Harold Kastner killed a coral snake this morning while Mrs. Kastner was exercising the dog at the Kennels at Twin Lake. The dog answers to the name of "Scott."

At recent elections held at Florida State University in Tallahassee, Miss Bebe Bibbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bibbee, was among those elected to the senior Women's Senate. Miss Gail Bittling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Bittling, was chosen to serve on the Junior Women's Judiciary.

Coincidence department — Mr. and Mrs. John Neumeier, Riverside Blvd., Menominee, Mich., became the parents of a boy and a girl, on May 5, (the fifth month), 1955, at 5 a. m. on the fifth day of the week, and each baby weighed five pounds. They have five living grandparents, two grandmothers, Miss Neumeier, Elsie Winkler, two grandfathers, John Neumeier, Joseph Winkler, and a great grandmother, Mrs. C. W. Sneider of Orange City. The children were born at St. Joseph and Lloyd Hospital at Menominee, Mich.

There was no meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club this noon due to the Ladies' Night event scheduled for Thursday, 7 o'clock, at the Mayfair Inn Country Club. However, Dr. R. W. Ruprecht, club secretary, was at the Yacht Club to check in for attendance credit, several out-of-town Rotarians and the local "may-not-be-there-Thursday-night" men.

The Stroller enjoyed the following comments by some popular TV stars: George Gobel (NBC-TV): "The nice thing about a live show is that it has live girls. They're the best kind." Don McNeill (Broadcast Club, ABC-TV): "A reckless driver is one who passes you on the road no matter how fast you're going." Jack Parr (The Morning Show, CBS-TV): "In answer to the question, 'Why does a newborn baby cry?' It's hungry, it's naked and it already owes the Government $2500." Sam Cowling (Broadcast Club, ABC-TV): "There's only one thing wrong with the younger generation — a lot of us don't belong to it."

Policeman's Auto Wrecked By Bomb

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Police Commissioner Russell T. Beebe says he won't leave what he terms a "lay off" to his men. He says he will not let them stop his drive against gambling.

No one was injured in the blast which wrecked Beebe's car and blew out three windows in his home Saturday. Beebe planned a top-level meeting with other officers today to discuss the situation.

The bombing came three days after Beebe led a raid against what the St. Louis Post-Dispatch called the headquarters of Frank (Buster) Wortman and Elmer (Dutch) Dowling, who the newspaper said "have taken control of the $500,000-a-week growing baseball betting business in the St. Louis area."

Chicken Runs Out At Band Barbecue

Seminole High School Band Director Ernest Gossard stated this morning that due to the generous response of the community to the band barbecue sponsored by the Elks Club, Saturday night, several persons who had bought tickets were turned away because the supply of chicken had run out.

Cowley related that "the Band Parents Assn. wishes to apologize to those persons, and those not served will be refunded their money."

A large crowd turned out for the barbecue at the Elks grounds which was given for the BSB Band to help alleviate expenses for the Jacksonville trip to state contest this weekend.

A new Board of Adjustments and Appeals, which will be the group to give City Building Inspector John Gillon the go-ahead signal on his slum cleanup campaign, will be appointed at tonight's City Commission meeting.

Nominated at the last meeting of the Commission were Lowell Oiler, F. B. Ashdown, W. A. Kratzert, E. C. Harper, J. H. Crapps, Roy Wall, and J. E. Terwilliger Jr. Five will be appointed to serve on the board.

Appointment of a new board was made necessary because the old board had been inactive so long the terms of all its members had expired.

"All I am waiting for is the signal to go ahead," Gillon said when he announced plans for a widespread slum cleanup in the Negro sections of Goldboro and Georgetown.

Gillon said between 50 and 75 below-standard houses would have to be condemned in Georgetown and "that many or more" in Goldboro because of lack of sanitary facilities.

In other action tonight, the Commission will name a successor to Clarence Redding, whose Housing Commission term expires May 20.

The Commission will also discuss the water and sewer program with consulting engineer Robert Angus. Other discussion will center around the need to increase the deposit on utility services and a petition to fill in the pond at 24th St. and Summerlin Ave.

The proposed right-of-way plat across the well field site land will also be viewed for road purposes. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Doctor Certifies Rev. A. G. McInnis As Commissioner

ATLANTA, Ga., (AP)—The Rev. A. G. McInnis of Sanford, has been officially certified by Dr. E. C. Scott, Stated Clerk of the Presbyterian Church, U. S., as a commissioner to the General Assembly of the denomination.

The Assembly, which the Rev. McInnis will attend as an official voting representative of St. John's Presbyterian, will be held in Richmond, Va., June 2-7. It is the highest court of the Presbyterian Church and meets annually. Some 450 commissioners from 11 states attend and review the work of the Church for the past year, and set in motion the program for the coming year.

Mr. McInnis, who is minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford, was selected as a commissioner by St. John's Presbyterian, and is one of six commissioners—three ministers and three laymen—from that Presbyterian church.

In recent news conferences, McInnis has said he wanted assurances of Russia's sincerity before he would take part in a big power conference.

Big Three Await Message From Ike

PARIS (AP)—The Big Three foreign ministers awaited word today from President Eisenhower on a proposal for a meeting "at the summit" with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in Switzerland next July.

Spokesmen for the British, who with the French have been pressing for a top level meeting, said last night Secretary of State Dulles had promised to ask Eisenhower for an answer on the proposal within 48 hours.

In Washington, Eisenhower's press aide, Murray Snyder, said he had heard of no communications between Dulles and the President on the subject but that he had not talked to the President during the day.

In recent news conferences, Eisenhower has said he wanted assurances of Russia's sincerity before he would take part in a big power conference.

Reception Starts Vets' Reunion Of Elbe Linkup

MOSCOW (AP)—The reunion of Russian and U. S. veterans of the 1945 Soviet-American linkup at the Elbe River got underway today with a post-midnight airport reception and a banquet of caviar, steak and vodka.

The nine American veterans of World War II arrived by plane shortly after midnight for a five-day stay as guests of the Soviet Union.

Col. Evgeny Porfiryev, chairman of the welcoming committee, greeted them at the airport as "Our friends, our comrades-in-arms who fought against Nazism."

Murray Schulman of Queens Village, N. Y., replied: "We sincerely appreciate your welcome and we, too, hope it will be a happy reunion."

Movie, television and still cameras recorded the arrival of the Americans. They had flown via Paris to Prague, where a twin-engine Soviet airliner picked them up. The visit is being given wide publicity in the Soviet Union.

Happy Ex-Chief Does Some Digging

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP)—A jovial Harry S. Truman did a bit of digging yesterday—his 71st birthday anniversary—on a project that's been closest to his heart since leaving the White House.

The former President used a couple of shovels, both gold-plated, to make an official ground-breaking start on the Truman Memorial Library.

It will be a $1,750,000 structure housing the official and personal papers he collected during more than seven years as President.

Dr. Elmer Mills, University of Missouri president who was the principal speaker at the ceremony, called the Truman papers the core to an expanded library and museum of items and relics "which in the next 100 years will come to light as bearing in important ways on President Truman's career."

Scientist Declares Excessive Secrecy Causes Paralysis

CHICAGO (AP)—An atomic scientist-author charged today that "excessive" government secrecy caused "a year of paralysis" in civil defense preparations to meet the new peril of deadly radioactive dust.

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp said the Atomic Energy Commission waited until nearly a year after the March 1, 1954 Bikini H-bomb test before revealing "some facts" about its radioactive fall-out to the American people.

Declaring the knowledge could have been "of life and death importance" had nuclear war broken out, Lapp called for a "massive review" of America's atomic secrecy policy so civil defense planners will have more than "half-facts or unofficial information" upon which to build plans. He made the statements in the Bulletin of the atomic scientists.

April Phone Calls Break 1954 Record

Southern Bell officials announced today that "the company completed more telephone calls for the people of the South in April, despite the strike and despite attempts to disrupt the service, than in any previous April."

At the same time, spokesmen said that the total number of employees at work passed 2,000 on Friday.

Figures released today disclosed that 15,682,000 long distance calls were completed in nine states in April this year against 15,317,000 in April 1954, previous high April, or 345,000 more, local calls dropped in April this year against 30,000,000 per day for the nine states. This compares with a total of 25,500,000 for the same period last year, officials said.

More employees were on the job during the eighth week of the strike and more calls were completed than in any week since the walkout started, spokesmen stated. More employees returned this week than any week. Normal service was provided this week, to all but a relatively small part of the 4,600,000 telephones, 4,000,000 of which are dial-operated.

The company invites employees who have not yet returned to "join those who feel and take seriously their responsibility to provide this essential public service and are now on the job doing so. These returning are being welcomed and, of course, are being treated fairly and impartially. There is no truth in the union's implication that those who return to work to lose their jobs. The union has never fired an employee and it never will," a spokesman related.

Bill Consideration To Admit States To Be Voted Upon

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the first time in the long fight over statehood, the House today gets to vote whether it will consider a bill to admit both Alaska and Hawaii as states.

Before voting on statehood itself, the House must decide first whether to consider the bill under rules limiting debate and having amendments. You could get an argument either way as to the outcome.

Unofficial reports—by statehood supporters—say membership polls by House Democratic and Republican organizations indicate a majority will support the combined bill if it comes to a vote. But they concede it will be close.

As a result, the big fight is likely to come today with opponents seeking to block the bill's consideration. Such a move could draw support not only from those opposed to admitting either territory, but also from supporters who disapprove the no-amendment procedure under which the rules committee approved bringing the bill to the floor.

57-Day Walkout To End Neutral Referee To Hear Issues

WASHINGTON (AP)—An agreement was reached today calling for an end to the stormy 57-day Louisville & Nashville Railroad strike at 6 a. m. EST Wednesday.

The union representatives and management negotiators were in separate rooms. Government mediators shuffled back and forth for signatures to a series of documents that called for ending the strike and submitting unsettled issues to arbitration.

A formal government announcement of the strike-end agreement was made at 11:45 a. m. EST. The agreement calls for submitting key unsettled issues to a neutral referee for a binding arbitration decision.

The strike, marked at times by violence, had crippled rail service in 14 Southern states nearly two months. It was the longest rail strike since 1922.

The strike affected 29,000 employees.

Chairman Francis A. O'Neill Jr. of the National Mediation Board announced the agreement for an end to the strike in this statement: "The National Mediation Board, at long last, is pleased to announce that an agreement has been reached between the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, affected railroads and all unions which have been on strike."

"The dispute with the nonoperating organizations is to be submitted to a neutral referee whose decision will be final and binding."

"All employees are to return to service and full operations resumed on Wednesday, May 11. In the interim the roads will take steps to prepare for full operation."

Even before the announcement, a government source had reported the strike would end at 6 a. m. EST Wednesday.

Two Men Arrested After Friday Raid On Moonshine Still

Two men were arrested after Sheriff's deputies raided a moonshine still three miles west of Altamonte Springs Friday afternoon.

Chief Deputy O. G. Owen said the still was one of the largest ever found in Seminole County and estimated 150 gallons of illegal liquor could be brewed a day.

Owen said Russell S. Chaudoin Jr., a Lake County resident, is out under $1,000 bond on a charge of operating a still. Charged with possession of moonshine was Edward Chaudoin, Forest City. Bond was expected to be posted for bond today.

The officers drained and destroyed 20 gallons of fermenting mash and smashed almost 50 one-gallon and five-gallon jugs of the finished product. The still, two 55-gallon metal drums welded together, was pierced with an axe and otherwise put out of commission.

About 150 miles north of Spring Lake Road (State Road 436), the still was in a dry creek bed and rigged with a benzene pressure burner and a cooling coil containing about 60 feet of one-inch copper coil.

Deputy Andy E. Evans, who with Deputy M. R. McGlelland assisted Owen in the raid, said each five-gallon jug represented about nine dollars lost in tax money. At that rate, if the still operated fully for a day, the tax loss would be $2,250.

Peace Officer Homer Sewell, in whose district the still was located, also was with the officers when the outfit was destroyed and remarked that the still appeared to have been there for two or three months.

Owen said the raid came about after an anonymous tip that moonshiners were operating in that vicinity.

Reaction Mixed On National Park Service Proposal

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A National Park Service proposal for comprising the Everglades National Park boundaries drew a mixed reaction from Florida legislators and state officials today. No immediate agreement was reached.

The park service proposal, reviewed through U. S. Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) was that the federal government remove the maximum boundaries of the park substantially in exchange for concessions of state-owned lands in Collier and Monroe counties to form a western gateway and inland water route.

Gov. Collins and some legislators from Dade and Collier counties urged an immediate acceptance on the ground that it was the best compromise available, and the federal government could not buy the land as now it is desired.

Other legislators and some Collier residents urged that negotiations with the federal government be continued in an effort to bring further concessions.

Little Change Seen In Federal Workers

MIAMI (AP)—The number of persons employed by the federal government in Florida will not be "significantly changed" during the coming year, Civil Service Commissioner George Moore said in an address prepared for delivery today.

He was the featured speaker at a meeting of the Florida Postmasters Assn. Moore said that 28,684 employees are on the federal payroll in Florida now.

He said that of 609 postmasters in Florida, only nine have been removed since January, 1953.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN

SUSAN averted her eyes and turned toward the gates, thinking hard. The house in which Jim Andrus had drunk wine on the night Roger was killed with Michael Brodsky and a woman was within reasonable walking of Brodsky's cabin—and that was four miles to the south. There was no car around. If the woman she had just left was the right one, how had she got here? She must have come by bus, would go back the same way.

Harry put down the paper he was reading and opened the door for her with an indulgent smile. "Satisfied, Susan?"

She drove slowly back the way they had come, looking in the rear view mirror except rain. At the intersection she pulled into the curb near a small grocery store. "I've got to pick up a couple of things and I might as well do it here."

There was a bus drawn up across the street. It was a starting point. People were climbing into the bus. The driver was a doorway, talking to a couple of men. Susan went into the store. She bought ham and cheese and fruit and milk and was getting change when the cemetery woman hove into view, hurrying and clambered into the bus as it was getting ready to take off. Susan was back in the car when the bus started. She followed in its wake.

Harry picked his car up at the garage and went back with her to the house. As she approached it she had trouble with her breathing. But there was no excitement, everything was peaceful. Andrus was still safe. When they went inside, making a dash for it through the downpour, Edith was there. She surveyed them, her black eyes snapping. "Where on earth—"

Harry's presence made a concealment impossible. "You went to that man Brodsky's funeral Reilly, Susan, really?" Edith's narrow smile said that Susan had always been peculiar, but that there were limits. She said, laughing, "I only hope you won't get into the papers."

Regina sat on the couch turning the pages of a magazine listlessly. She merely observed in a quiet voice, "I'm a better at of those wet things." Her thoughts were obviously elsewhere. She was probably wondering about Andrus, where he was, what was happening to him. To tell her that he was concealed in the loft of the barn within a hundred yards of them would not be any help, Susan decided.

It was a good thing she hadn't tried to hide her trip to the cemetery. The police knew about it. He dropped in occasionally for a cup of tea between calls, not really to have a look at Regina. Dave Rodgers' eyes took in everything there was to see. He brooded Susan in the hall and was out, and Susan, what were you doing at that cemetery on Maiden street, a little while ago? I saw you, a patient of mine lives near there."

Susan shrugged. "I had my reasons."

"It's Andrus, isn't it? Susan, what's your interest in that man?" She said, "I just happen not to believe he killed Michael Brodsky."

Dave's gray-green eyes were slanted. "I don't know, Susan—and I don't care. It's Regina I'm thinking of. She was getting over Roger's death, was beginning to straighten out—until Andrus showed up, and all this happened. I don't want her hurt again."

Susan said in a low voice, "Regina loved him, Dave. I don't think she's ever stopped."

The doctor said, "You must be wrong. Regina adored Roger, he was her life. No man—"

"Suppose Jim Andrus didn't kill Roger?"

Dave said, "Now, Sue, don't worry any more. It's over and done with. Don't go on thinking about it, brooding. What you need is a sedative—I'll send something over later." He got into his coat and picked up his hat.

Harry left a little later. Susan walked out on the porch with him and he said, "I hope you're not going to let this business about Andrus interfere with you too much." His hand was on her arm, his brown eyes on her face. "I'm worried about you, Susan. I wish you'd marry me."

She was very fond of Harry, he was the best of companions and friends. She said she had thought it might do but that was a long time ago. She merely gave her head a shake and smiled. "I love you very much, Harry, but I won't marry you, and you know it."

Harry continued to look at her. He said with startling and unusual vigor, "Curse that fellow Andrus, I'm starting to hate him." He said her cheek and walked off.

It was getting dark. Susan had driven her car into the barn when she got back but Harry was behind her. She wanted to give Jim Andrus the look she had bought, and more important, the information about the cemetery woman. Better wait until it was full dark before trying anything; she went into the house.

In the loft of the barn Andrus also waited for darkness to come. He had been looking down at Susan at a quarter of three. Shortly after they left Regina had gone out, in a raincoat and coat, leaning against the wind, in post a letter. Watching her return, he had looked up at the stars. He could take up their interrupted lives where they had broken off a year and a half ago. To his own surprise there was no lift to the idea.

Leaving the window he threw himself full length on the couch, his hands behind his head. He looked up into the gloom at the dusty rafters, listened to the rain on the roof, and tried to empty his mind of the present and let it fill with the details of that distant night in May, the night before the wedding. So far his brain had produced only two pictures, a picture of the room with the piano and the love birds and the woman, and the interior of Midnight Mike's cabin. After a while against the wall of the wind another image began to form, of someone, himself, being violently ill in a gutter, and a man, Midnight Mike, taking his arm. "Hold up, lad, hold up." He had been hanging onto a telephone post—nothing else, nothing more. Presently he fell asleep.

He woke shivering. The cold was intense. The loft was dark. Night had come. Something had roused him. He sat up and spoke aloud without any previous mental effort, any conscious volition.

"A white mouse with a white picket fence around a front yard—"

That was all—and there it was. Now he knew what to do, what to look for. The Wolf Hill inn as a beginning, the white house as the end—"

He unrolled blankets, threw them off and got stiffly to his feet.

It was pitch dark out. Ice rain was changing to straight sleet. Lighted windows glimmered faintly here and there behind veils of sleet. The sidewalks were empty. An occasional car went past. Andrus went toward the Wolf Hill inn and past the gates in the direction of the flattened-out curve at the summit of the hill. (Once there had been a big hotel started there but it had burned to the ground and all that was left of it was a long tunnel boring into solid rock at the base of the cliff with a mountain of silt choking the end of it. He and Regina and Roger had explored the tunnel on the last week-end they had had together. Roger had gone on ahead, and Regina had been nervous. "Don't go in so far, darling. There might be snakes or something." Roger and he had made common cause against her, smiling at each other.

There was nothing there now but a little park overlooking the city and the river and the park. The drop beyond it was precipitous. The escalator that had serviced the hill in the early 1900's had been demolished but there was a path of sorts down the steep northwest face with steps set into it at intervals. Andrus found the opening to the path and started down.

Five minutes later, assisted by gravity, sodden to the skin and considerably the worse for wear from vines and whipping branches, he reached the flat top of the old railroad embankment 1,000 feet below. He rounded the final pair of steps, descended them carefully, and was on a small side street running into one of the main roads. Andrus looked around. His eyes half shut—they had grown accustomed to the darkness—and saw it—the white mouse with a white picket fence enclosing a front yard. It was just as he remembered it. There was a vacant lot on one side, on the other the embankment. Between the embankment and the picket fence the path, edged with white stones, led in a side door. He remembered something else. He had wanted one of the white stones as a souvenir, and Midnight Mike had objected.

DIAMONDS ARE PRICELESS

Most of us use a deck of playing cards in some way or another. One way of spending a few relaxed hours with friends. In addition, some famous Americans have found even greater and more ingenious uses for the humble playing card.

Benjamin Franklin, in addition to being statesman, author and inventor, was one of the first manufacturers of playing cards in the United States. He even used cards in some of his early electrical experiments. In 1781, Franklin made a "diamond" card which created friction by means of a belt connected two wheels, over which hung a silk string. On a revolving rod at the top were eight discs cut from old playing cards.

Around 1790, it was the style to send invitations written on the backs of playing cards. There is one such card in a collection of historic playing cards at the Cincinnati Museum. On the back of the card is an invitation written to the granddaughter of the first mayor of Philadelphia. In lovely old script it says, "The gentlemen of the Army present their compliments to Mrs. Jekyll and beg the favor of her company to a ball at the Statehouse on Monday next." The well-known Lord Geoffrey Hamlyn was another famous person who followed this custom by using playing cards with plain backs for the handwritten invitations he sent out for some of his famous parties. In his time it was popular to cut cards into quarters and to use the sections as visiting cards. This may well have been the origin of our modern visiting cards.

In 1785 playing cards were used as admission cards to the classes at the University of Pennsylvania. One of the most unusual uses for cards and certainly the most expensive one ever made was a single playing card that sold at public auction in 1880 for $12,750. The card was a five of diamonds. Appropriately, which contained a miniature painting by Hans Holbein, the famous German painter who lived in the 15th Century and who was one of the foremost artists of his time.

Paintings on playing cards are rare nowadays, but many people find that it is fun to trim up their old decks and fasten them together in unusual table decorations for parties, or to cut up the face cards and paste the heads on paper matchboxes.

New Program Told Prospective Pilots By U. S. Marines

WASHINGTON, D. C. — In a re-emphasis of its traditional air-ground relationship, the Marine Corps today announced a new training program for prospective Marine aviators.

The first new program for Marine officers since World War II, it has been termed the Aviation Officer Candidate Course. It will result in earlier commissions as second lieutenants for men who desire to become Marine pilots.

Previously all Marine Corps aviators were drawn from the Naval Aviation Cadet Program (NAVCAD) or from the ranks of Marine officers on active duty. This new program is intended to supplement the present ones.

The ADCOC will be offered to college graduates who will attend a 10-week basic indoctrination course at Marine Corps Schools, Quantico. This course will give them basic Marine Corps training, with an emphasis on the infantry aspects.

Successful graduates of this orientation course will receive reserve Marine Corps commissions and be ordered to active duty as student aviators. Upon completion of Flight Training, which lasts from 15 to 18 months, they will be obliged to serve a minimum of two years with the air arm of the Marine Corps.

Applications for the Marine Aviation Officer Candidate Course are now being accepted. Twenty-one Officer Procurement Officers located at major cities throughout the country will be authorized to accept applications. It is expected that the first session will convene at Quantico this fall, with a second one after the new year.

Protecting Parks

Parks, to some people, are still definitely a luxury very nice, no doubt, but nothing that should stand in the way of individual convenience or profit. One example is the growing tendency of planners to put expressways through parks, regardless of the destruction involved. This tendency was cited by Prof. Harlow O. Whittemore, professor of landscape architecture and planning at the University of Michigan. In an address to the American Institute of Planners, he said:

"Parks are meant for people. They contribute to civic amenity, and have a secondary benefit, the stabilizing for property values in surrounding areas."

He praised the concept of big open spaces, city breathing-spots, whose best know example is New York's Central Park. Some interests, incidentally, would like to have a new roadway cut through the middle of Central Park.

It is doubtless important to enable a driver to get to his destination five minutes earlier than he otherwise would, but it is far less important to the community at large than an area for recreation and enjoyment.

Some Industrialists See Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—All that talk about American industry being over-expanded is a outdated already?

Some top industrialists are saying so and calling for further increases in the capacity of mills and factories to keep in step with the increased consumer demand they foresee.

Just one year ago it was fashionable in some circles to say that the great postwar burst of building new plants and buying new equipment had given the United States a production capacity well in excess of current civilian consumer demand.

It would be quite some time, they said, before civilian demand—unaided by an additional huge defense production—would catch up.

But now plans for future expansion are being announced by the corporate leaders in many industries. The basic industry steel is a good example.

Between 1950 and 1954 it increased its capacity by one fourth. Last year industry leaders were saying that present capacity of 154,500,000 tons a year should be enough for at least five years more.

This week the nation's steel mills are set to turn out 2,350,000 tons, according to the American Iron & Steel Institute. This would top the record set in March 1952.

And today at least five of the

Who's Who in Russia?

If Nikita Khrushchev is the top man in Russia, as the general opinion has held him to be since Georgi Malenkov was ousted last February, he is getting very little publicity. An editorial in Pravda, the official news-run by a committee, and not by the one-man run by a committee, and not by the one-man system that prevailed under Stalin. The editorial praised the collective wisdom of the Central Committee of the Communist party, and mentioned neither Khrushchev nor any of his associates. Stalin was referred to in one short sentence.

This state of affairs is not likely to last. No committee ever ran a large country successfully for any stretch of time. Sooner or later the pulling and hauling for power that must be going on under the surface will break out, and there will be more purges on a large scale. The survivors will be the winners—for the time.

Fly-By-Nights

Bruny Island is a place rarely in the news. It is an island located near Tasmania—another spot that seldom rates headlines. So it's a shame that when something does happen there, it isn't an event of local origin, but it's something that happens because of a flock of publicity seekers.

Until recently Bruny had few problems. Now suddenly it has a traffic situation caused by an overdose of some loud-noised, self-important birds from up north. These dudes have descended on Bruny and taken over the streets. Pedestrians are crowded off the sidewalks, motorists honk to no avail and the whole business of getting through town is a mammoth headache. The Bruny Islanders are a tolerant people and normally welcome tourists, but this flock of swagging transients is too much. Citizens are talking of building tunnels under the highway or an overpass to take care of the overflow of guests.

These tourists, in an excitement-seeking throng, flew from the Antarctic to Panama this year. Perhaps they'll simply up and leave Bruny stranded some morning with a partially built pedestrian walk and an enormous island debt. Who in the world can predict where an aimless flock of penguins is going to go, once it takes over a town?

Efforts May Be Last Before Chaos

WASHINGTON (AP)—The frantic efforts of the free, South Vietnamese to create their own government may be the last convulsion before chaos. Efforts now to save them from eventual absorption by communism may be too late.

Still, there is a chance the United States and France can agree on a policy which will rescue South Viet Nam in Indochina from the Communists, who last year in battle forced the French to let them have North Viet Nam.

If there is such agreement, and it succeeds, it must come under the head of better late than never. Secretary of State Dulles flew to Paris today for high-level talks with American allies. Officials say he will talk with the French in search of a unified policy toward South Viet Nam.

Ever since the Communist-led civil war against the French began in Indochina nine years ago, the United States and France had time to work out such a unified policy. There still seems to be none.

In recent years, while this country pumped in supplies costing many millions of dollars, the French lost not only the friendship of millions of Vietnamese but eventually lost in their war with the Communists.

Up until a comparatively short time before the French went down to disaster at Dien Bien Phu the Truman and Eisenhower administrations continued to talk optimistically about the prospects for French success.

Yet to realistic readers of American newspapers in this country it must have seemed apparent the road was going to lead all down-in the call for another round of expansion.

This expansion of basic steel production capacity will be accompanied by upgrading facilities for making finished products.

HAL BOYLE

Parents Of 13 Boys Quite Happy

NEW YORK (AP)—The parents of what is believed to be the nation's largest all-boy family don't see why poverty should cause juvenile delinquency.

Emory and Thelma Harrison, a farm couple who live near Johnson City, Tenn., have 13 sons ranging in age from 21-year-old Guy to Ivan, an infant of 3 weeks.

Money poor all his life, Harrison said his children "never caused us a speck of trouble," and explained why:

"It's the way we raised them. We raised them to obey us, never to bother anybody, and never to pick up anything that belonged to anybody else."

"If they need a spanking, they get it. But they don't need it often. Each has his chores—one feeds the hogs, one feeds the chickens, one does the milking. Some dry the dishes, some cut wood, some carry it in.

"They all help each other. The big boys are just as crazy about the new baby as my wife and me are."

"There never was a child born but what there was a bite made to fill his mouth with—but there have been fathers and mothers too trifling to fill a child's mouth."

"When we had one child we just lived. When we had six children we lived. Now we got 13—and we're still living."

Mrs. Harrison was named "Honorary Mother of the Year" by the Interfaith Movement in recognition of "her exemplary life as wife, mother and neighbor."

The Robert Hall clothing firm paid the expenses of the entire family here so they could see her get the award.

During a four-day stay the boys won a $3,200 jackpot in cash and prizes on a CBS network show "On Your Account." But the wonders of Manhattan palled quickly and left the whole family homesick.

"It's corny Nantia's farm," explained Harrison.

The tall, rawboned farmer, who had to quit school after the fourth grade to go to work, is a man of natural dignity with a rich vein of homespun humor.

Having a large family came naturally to the Harrisons. His wife is one of 18 children. His grandfather, a religious man as he calls it, had 27 children, 3 wives, rode a red mule to church every Sunday until he was 85, and died triumphant at 93, still praising the Lord for a good life.

"And he raised all 27 children on a 10-acre farm," said Harrison.

"I courted for a year before I got married when I was 23," he added. "I'll never forget that day. I didn't have anything at all—only a woman!"

Mrs. Harrison glanced up with a shy smile—"and maybe 75 cents in my pocket. I earned only $2 the first week we were married."

After years of struggling labor during which he sometimes had to go out after his day's work and cut wood to trade it for groceries, Harrison was able with the help of a friend to buy a 75-acre hill farm.

The farm has 2 horses, 2 cows,

225 chickens, 8 or 9 hogs, a large vegetable garden. The cash crops are wheat, corn and tobacco.

"We don't spend more than $15 to $14 a week for food," Harrison said. "We raise the rest."

"I don't believe our medical bills have been more than $50 all told since we were married, not counting the cost of getting the boys born."

"If they get a cold I just mix up some hog lard, turpentine and kerosene, rub it on their chest—then turn 'em off barefooted. We don't pay no attention to 'em not wearing shoes."

One Tuesday last October a fire destroyed their home. For the first time in his life Harrison felt completely down at heart. But the next Sunday the congregations of 12 nearby churches pitched in with money, materials and labor to build the family a larger, better home.

"I think I know now what faith and friendship come to," said Harrison. "I've known a right smart of trouble, but I've had a happy life."

"But the children—they're the biggest enjoyment we've got in this world. It would be lonesome without anyone of our children. We'd miss 'em."

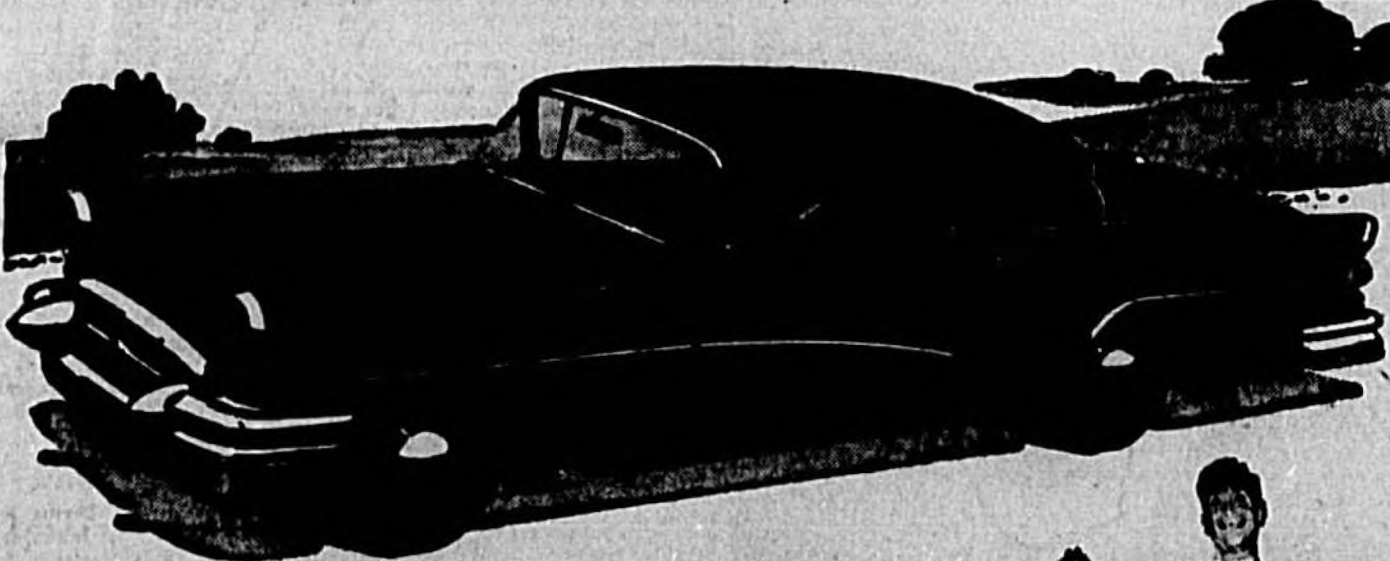

Mrs. Harrison nodded quietly. Harrison said he hoped to use the cash money the family won on television to give his boys as much schooling as possible.

"If I give them an education I know it's the one thing nobody'll be able to take away from them later on," he said. "I'll help 'em go farther than their daddy."

UNION PRESIDENT ADDRESSER BARBERS ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A union president urged barbers and hairdressers today to look in a few plugs for "beneficial" labor laws while chatting with customers.

"The barber and beauty shops today," said Ernest Hebert of East Meadow, N.Y., "are America's miniature town halls in which public opinion can be molded to support measures beneficial to labor and the welfare of the country."

Want to keep cabbage green when you are cooking it? Steam the shredded vegetable in only enough water to keep it from sticking; there should be practically no liquid left in the pan by the time it is tender-crisp. Cover the saucepan while you are cooking the cabbage, but lift the cover several times; this uncovering the pan will help retain the green color.

Sanford, Daytona Lose One Apiece

DAYTONA BEACH—The Daytona Islanders fattened their batting averages off a trio of Sanford pitchers last night enroute to a 15-6 victory over the Cards, reversing Saturday night's decision.

Everybody on the Islander lineup got in on the slugging last night, a complete about-face from the night before when the Islanders were unable to push across even one run against these same Cardinals.

Bob Arendt started and after a disastrous first inning in which the league's top slugger, Card manager Dan Keith, had slammed a three-run homer, settled down to pitch effective ball until a two-run seventh. Wes Roberts finished the three-hour, 21-minute marathon.

Jerry Micham led the assault against Sanford with four hits and Jack Slade was right behind with two singles, a double and two walks.

Not much could be said for the game itself as far as real excitement went, unless the sound of baseballs rattling off the outfield fences is pleasant music. In all the Islanders collected 16 hits and stole seven bases. Both shortstop Bill Patris and second baseman Al Wagner stole home—a high of some sort.

Most of the fireworks was concentrated in the hectic first inning. After Arendt gave up Keith's tremendous blast the Islanders right back with four runs of their own.

Two walks and singles by Slade, Jeanwhite, Gainesville's G-men, unhappy about being in the cellar, took out their wrath yesterday on Orlando, bossman of the Florida State League.

The combined efforts of four CB pitchers were unavailing. They got clubbed for 17 hits and the G-men won before 393 hometown fans 16-4.

Billy Wyatt led the attack. His triple, double and three singles, six at bats produced five runs. Winning pitcher Bob Reed who came on in the fourth also was handy with the stick, collecting three singles in three times up and driving in three runs.

Other action saw Cocoa defeat

Lakeland 5-4. St. Petersburg at West Palm Beach was rained out.

Cocoa scored four runs in the seventh to whip Lakeland. Orlando Gonzalez' two out single drove in the tying and winning scores. A crowd of 262 saw the Cocoa game. Vern Watercutter and Micham chased starter Howard Peterson without retiring a man.

And so it went with the Islanders cashing three more runs in the fourth and four in the fifth to erase any doubts as to the eventual outcome.

The Islanders' journey to Sanford for a two game series beginning last night.

Dan Keith (right photo) catching out Micham of Daytona in the last of the ninth to end the game. The final play was very close. Terrell's homer, which traveled over the score board, racked up the Cardinals' fourth run. John Bartek, Sanford left-hander, shut out Daytona with a six-hit effort before 847 fans. Losing pitcher was Mark Teitelman. (Photos by John Gontner)

DAYTONA BEACH—The Sanford Cardinals punctured Daytona Beach's four game winning streak decisively here Saturday night, handing the Islanders their first shut-out setback of the season, 5-0.

John Bartek, a 19-year-old rookie southpaw from Omaha, Neb., blanked the Islanders on six hits. He was helped by Islander mistakes on the base paths.

A crowd of 847 fans attended the first meeting of the year between Sanford and Daytona.

Mark Teitelman, steady rookie southpaw, absorbed the loss last night and now has a 2-3 record. He gave up six hits and three runs, before being relieved for a pinch hitter in the seventh. Bob Tommy finished inauspiciously.

It was just one of those off nights for Johnny Vander Meer's Island men, who have been playing headup ball. They ran the bases wrong, and they couldn't afford mistakes against the alert Cards.

In the fourth inning the Islets got a walk and two hits, failed to score, and left nobody on base. Bill Patris led off with a pass and was picked off first. Vern Watercutter followed with a single. Jerry Micham singled, and Centerfielder Ron Schmidt threw out Watercutter with a rifle peg to third base. Then Micham was caught trying to steal second.

The Redbirds produced two runs in the second inning off fielder's choice and back to back doubles by Dewitt Cook and Manager-first baseman Dan Keith.

An error put Russ Davis on first in the sixth. He advanced on an error and stole third and home.

Terry Terrell greeted Tommy with a homer in the eighth. A walk, Nat Sharper's single and a wild pitch brought in the fifth Card run of the evening.

The Cards swiped five bases. NOTES . . . The Islanders released infielder Manuel Heredia . . . Vander Meer, a righthand hitter, operated at first because Sanford used a southpaw. He replaced Ralph Sita, a lefthand hitter . . . The Islets added Cotton MacDonald, a first baseman, to their roster as the required ninth rookie. Cotton, 31, a former Mainland High athlete and more recently a coach at Cocoa, is assigned to bench duty. Each FSL club must carry nine rookies.

CARDS HAD "SPIRIT"

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Rip Collins, first baseman for the St. Louis Cardinals during the "Gas House Gang" era of the early thirties, recalled, "We used to fight all the time on the Gas House Gang. Fight over teams, fight among ourselves. They call that dissension now, but it was team spirit then."

New York University's Abraham Belk is the only fencer to win two National Collegiate individual titles in one year. He won the epee and foil events in 1947. Two years later the rules were changed to limit participants to competition in one weapon only.

Cincinnati is the only National League team without a bonus player under the present bonus rule.

Home Demo Work Set On Basis Of State Rules

Home demonstration work as part of the Agricultural Extension Service is organized on a state basis, with headquarters at the Florida State University.

Offices are located in county seats of 62 of Florida's 67 counties. It is an adult and youth educational service to thousands of Florida families.

The state home demonstration agent directs, under the guidance from FSU in Tallahassee. One assistant agent, four district advice directors, the state program of the Agricultural Extension Service and ten specialists serve on the State Home Demonstration staff.

A junior and senior home demonstration club program functions in 62 counties in Florida. There are 1,337 clubs with a total membership of 31,601. In 1954, 8,480 adult leaders gave demonstrations in home industry, marketing, clothing, family life education, food and nutrition, food production and conservation, health education, home improvement, and 4-H girls club work.

Appropriations were granted for work in three additional counties in 1954, making a total of 62 counties with home demonstration programs.

Farm and home development work has been added to the program this year. Eight counties — Columbia, Hamilton, Jefferson, Leon, Washington, Holmes, Okaloosa and Santa Rosa — have been named as pilot counties.

Miss Myrtle Wilson, county home demonstration agent, meets with the eight home demonstration clubs each month, and has 18 4-H Girls' Clubs organized in the different schools, and has regular monthly meetings in the schools with them.

Home demonstration clubs are having their annual achievement day today at the County Home Demonstration Center, 401 E. 25th St., to which the public is invited.

UNION LEADERS ARE DODGING THE ISSUE IN THE TELEPHONE STRIKE

They are issuing a lot of misleading statements about the company's position on arbitration.

These statements don't check with the facts.

Look at these facts --

Ever since we've had a contract with the union, the true intent and meaning of every provision of every agreement between the company and the union has been subject to arbitration.

BEFORE THE STRIKE STARTED

Southern Bell proposed that any disciplinary action resulting from violations of the no-strike clause demanded by the company would be subject to arbitration.

Before the strike started, Southern Bell proposed that all suspensions of employees, regardless of the cause, would be subject to arbitration.

In spite of what union leaders have said, the truth is that before the strike started, Southern Bell proposed full and complete arbitration on every type of discipline that could be imposed under the new contract.

In fact, not only all discipline but practically every other item in the new contract proposed by the company before the strike started was made subject to arbitration. The only items on which no arbitration is available under the company proposal are the pension plan, leaves of absence, company compliance with health, safety and fire protection laws and demotions and discharges during trial periods — matters which the union and the company have agreed over the years in collective bargaining should not be left to the final decision of an arbitrator. This is all a responsible union should want.

BUT THIS UNION WANTS STILL MORE

They are going so far as to demand that an arbitrator be called in now to decide what the terms of the new contract shall be. He would, in effect, write a whole new contract and his decision would be final. There his responsibility ends.

Southern Bell's management is charged with the sole responsibility for providing communications services in the area the company serves. It cannot surrender that responsibility to others. Our obligation under the law cannot be delegated. We must retain the right to make the final decisions essential to the sound and effective management of this public service.

The issue in this strike is simple and clear—Will union leaders live up to a contract once it is signed?

Southern Bell guarantees good wages, good working conditions and other contract benefits. In return it asks only that union leaders agree not to disrupt service to the public by strikes while the contract is in force.

This they refuse to do on any reasonable basis. They still demand the right to call workers off the job whenever it suits their purposes, while the contract is in effect. They want the contract to be binding on the company but not on the union.

Strolling In Sanford

Mrs. Marjorie Graham, 2295 Grandview Ave., was telling the Stroller about the Miami publicity recently given to an Easter lily bearing 16 buds. But it seems as though Mrs. Graham can get a pearl out of an oyster, but it takes a pretty girl to get a diamond out of an old crab.

Due to the lack of a quorum, the meeting last week of the Sanford Theatre Guild was postponed. George Dubba, president, has announced that another effort will be made to get enough interested persons together to meet Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the City Hall Auditorium. He urges all Guild members and any other interested persons to attend.

Underwater Blast To Go Off Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Seeking new tactics for defense against submarine attack, U. S. military scientists will set off in the Pacific within a few days the second known underwater atomic blast.

A test announcement yesterday said only that a "small yield nuclear device" will be exploded in a few days in the eastern Pacific "several hundred miles" from the closest land area off the West Coast.

The explosion location will be "completely clear of fishing grounds and shipping lanes," said the announcement from the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department. It added there will be no hazard to persons on the mainland or any islands in the eastern Pacific.

Soviet Officials Head For Warsaw

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikhita Khrushchev and a Soviet delegation to Warsaw today for the birth of the Communist version of NATO. The Moscow radio announced the delegation's arrival by plane in the Polish capital.

The dogfight started over international waters of the Yellow Sea, the Air Force said, when eight Sabres were attacked by 12 to 16 Communist fighters. All the Sabres, on a patrol mission, returned later to their Korean bases.

The fight area was about 50 miles southwest of the mouth of the Yalu River, boundary between North Korea and Red China. Communist China has a large air base at Antung, and North Korea at Sinuiju, on opposite banks of the Yalu.

The Air Force gave no clue on the nationality of the MIGs, used by the air forces of North Korea, Communist China and Soviet Russia.

An Air Force announcement said the MIGs fired first. It said the Sabres, from the 35th Squadron of the 4th Fighter-Bomber Wing, returned the fire. Two Communist pilots bailed out and "the third plane was last seen diving straight down trailing smoke."

It was the third almost identical incident in the same general Yellow Sea area in 10 months.

Government Plans Much Closer Check

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Priest (D-Tenn.) said today the government evidently plans a "much closer" check in the future antipoll vaccine for public use. Some Democrats in Congress said undue confusion had accompanied the Eisenhower administration's handling of its part of the program, but Priest described as "well in order" the recommendation for a temporary halt in mass vaccinations.

He is chairman of the Commerce Committee, which handles most health legislation. On the basis of consultations with administration officials, he said in an interview he understands the Health and Welfare Department is planning a much closer laboratory check on future supplies before they are released.

Officials Likely To Step Up Efforts In Phone Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is likely to step up efforts to settle the South's two-month-old telephone strike now that an agreement has been reached to end Dixie's big rail walkout. Federal mediators expressed hope today that the "psychological effect" of the rail settlement might spur similar efforts toward peace pacts in prolonged phone and bus strikes.

An agreement was reached here yesterday to end the eight-week-old Louisville and Nashville Railroad strike tomorrow morning and to send the unresolved issues to arbitration. A neutral referee was to be named today.

The National Mediation Board today designated Francis J. Robertson of Washington as referee.

Collapse Of New York Coliseum Remains Mystery To Officials

NEW YORK (AP)—Rescue squads dug into tons of rubble today in search for construction workers missing in the roaring collapse of the New York Coliseum's main exhibition floor.

Teachers Are Told To Change Figures

Auburndale Principals Tell Board Move Was Made For Good Of Pupils

BARTON (AP)—Two Auburndale school principals told the county school board yesterday they instructed teachers to change attendance figures in certain instances.

They denied a charge by one teacher, Charles G. Manos, that they instructed the teachers to falsify the records so the school could get a higher attendance average and qualify for an extra teacher.

A. R. Liggett, supervising principal of the Auburndale area, testified at a Polk County School Board hearing that he told his principals children with excused absences could be counted as present if they made up the work missed.

Mrs. Marguerite Levisne, principal of the Auburndale Junior High School where Manos is assigned, said she passed along Liggett's instructions to her teachers. Evidence was introduced that absences had been created in several cases.

Spectators To See Blue, Gray Clash

LEXINGTON, Mo. (AP)—They're going to re-fight the Civil War or at least one of its strangest conflicts—this week in a campaign to restore a historical battle site.

Thousands of spectators will line Missouri River bluffs to watch the Blue and the Gray clash on the site of the original Lexington engagement.

In that 1861 battle, Maj. Gen. Sterling Price's Confederate troops defeated (Lt. James A. Mulligan's Union forces after a siege of several days.

The battle produced two oddities: 1. The Union troops' own horses helped drink them into surrender. 2. The Southerners introduced bales of hemp as a movable breastwork.

Leonardy Accused Of Violating Rights

Sam Sheppard Has New Hopes To Gain Freedom

CLEVELAND (AP)—Twice loser in moves to win a new trial from the judge who sentenced him, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard today based his hope of freedom from life in prison on an appeal court hearing scheduled for May 23.

Judge Edward S. Blythin, in whose court a jury convicted Sheppard last Dec. 21 of clubbing his wife to death, rejected late yesterday a motion for a new trial on the basis of newly discovered evidence.

Weeks ago Judge Blythin denied a new trial motion citing numerous alleged errors in the 31-year-old osteopath's 10-week trial. That earlier denial was carried to the Appellate Court, and Sheppard's chief counsel William J. Corrigan said he would "with dispatch" supplement it with an appeal from yesterday's decision.

Sheppard remained in County Jail, where he was taken last July 30, charged with bludgeoning his pregnant wife Marilyn in her bedroom at their Bay Village home July 4. He had no comment on Judge Blythin's ruling.

West Goes Ahead With Signing Plans Of Austrian Treaty

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The West went ahead today with plans for signing the Austrian independence treaty, which would end a new monetary war from the Soviets.

In the continuing talks here on the treaty draft, Russian Ambassador I. I. Ilyichyev demanded yesterday that economic concessions Moscow promised last month to the Austrians be left out of the pact.

Instead, Ilyichyev insisted that the original draft treaty's provisions for reparations to Russia remain as written in 1949. He said the reductions Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov had agreed to in March should be covered in a separate pact to be signed later only by the Russians and the Austrians.

Discussion of the issue was to be renewed today by Ilyichyev and the British, French and U. S. ambassadors to Austria.

Traveling Judges Caught By Radar For Fast Driving

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Two judges who came a long way to Richmond for the annual conference of the National Council of Juvenile Court Judges got a firsthand look at Virginia law enforcement en route.

They were caught in the state police radar net for trapping speedsters.

Judge Maurice Sapienza came from Hills, Hawaii, by way of Detroit, where he bought a new car. He got as far as Hanover County before the "whammy" clocked him at 64 miles an hour. He posted bond of $10.25.

Judge Paul A. Martineau of Corpus Christi, Tex., was nabbed in Fluvanna County. Radar caught him "between 70 and 80 miles an hour" and he posted bond of $15.25. Explained the judge: "It was the first stretch of wide open road I'd seen since Texas."

Diamond Diggers Find New Riches

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Riches have come to diamond diggers working a new field at Bellabank, in remote bush country northwest of Kimberly, South Africa's fabulous diamond center.

Frederick Makes Charge At Meeting Of City Commission

City Police Judge John Leonardy was accused last night before the City Commission of "flagrantly" violating a defendant's constitutional rights in court yesterday.

Attorney Gordon Frederick charged Judge Leonardy pronounced the defendant, David Pringle, a Sanford Negro, guilty without listening to Pringle's testimony. Frederick said Pringle had been requested to be heard.

Pringle began serving a jail sentence yesterday on his conviction of driving while intoxicated.

"My client is spending the night in city jail when he hasn't been afforded justice," Frederick declared.

Police Chief Roy G. Williams said he offered to turn the defendant over to Frederick and reopen the case.

Frederick replied his client could not afford an appeal to a higher court or wait for one year each. "As an attorney I'm deeply perturbed by the charges," City Attorney A. Edwin Shindolfer remarked. He suggested the commission summon the judge and ask him point-blank if he had refused to hear the defendant.

The Commission decided to air the whole matter at its next meeting.

In other action last night, the Commission appointed a new five-man Board of Adjustments and Appeals. Named to the board were W. A. Krattberg, F. B. Ashdown, E. C. Harper, Lowell Oiler and Roy Wall.

Krattberg will serve for three years, while Ashdown and Harper will serve for two years each and Oiler and Wall for one year each.

Appointment of the new board was made necessary because the old board had been inactive so long the terms of all its members had expired.

The Commission reappointed Clarence Redding to the Housing Commission. Redding, whose present term will expire May 30, will serve for another three years.

Elizabeth Heads Giving Testimony Commit Suicide

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP)—Two Elizabeth officials, who testified before a Union County grand jury probing alleged laxity in connection with gambling, committed suicide yesterday.

A bullet in the head ended the life of 65-year-old Police Capt. August F. Winkelmann, who had been on terminal leave and was due to retire next month.

Fire Commissioner Francis B. Stephens, 39, waded fully clothed into Karitan Bay and was drowned.

Both deaths were listed officially as suicide. Both men were found in Monmouth County, about 25 miles apart. Dr. Stephens' body was removed from marshland in Matawan Township. Winkelmann was still alive when found near the Manassas River inlet. He died later in Point Pleasant hospital.

Neither man left suicide notes, police said.

HUSBAND KEEPS PROMISE
CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—William Flay Moore's will filed here yesterday reads: "My will is as follows: When I married my wife Minnie Lou West I vowed at the altar, and sealed the vows with a ring upon her finger, with all my worldly goods I thee endow, and as much as it has always been, at the altar I made my will, and much as it is now, in my will I have I do bequeath."

Western Big Three, Backed By NATO, Invites Soviets

PARIS (AP)—The Western Big Three, backed by the whole NATO alliance, invited the Soviet Union today to a top-level conference this summer on East-West problems in Europe.

Notes suggesting such a meeting were being called to Moscow for delivery at the Kremlin tonight or early tomorrow, diplomats informed.

Armed with President Eisenhower's conciliatory American, French and British experts furnished by the text of the invitation, and quickly obtained the approval of the NATO ministers, including West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Under the proposal, U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov would meet a day or two in advance of a meeting "at the summit" of Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Nikolai Khrushchev, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure.

Viet Nam Premier Tells Formation Of New Regime

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem tonight announced formation of a new government with the immediate goal of calling free South Viet Nam's first general elections.

Diem said in forming his new cabinet he had followed the wishes of two national congresses which met last week. But his announcement made no mention of the future of Chief of State Bao Dai.

Sponsor of one of the congresses, the National Revolutionary Party committee has been increasing pressure on the premier to dissolve the absentee Bao Dai. Diem reportedly wants to leave Bao Dai's fate to the National Assembly for which his government has pledged to arrange elections.

To his new 14-man cabinet the Premier named seven men from South Viet Nam, three from his native Central Viet Nam and four refugees from the Communist-held North. Four former ministers were included. Five political parties or groups were represented.

Millionaire's Son Faces Arraignment On Murder Charge

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP)—The son of a New York millionaire faces arraignment on a murder charge today in the slaying of an old friend at a reunion party where the flip of a coin failed to settle an argument.

Julian Hammer, 25, a technical writer and son of Dr. Arnold Hammer, of New York, was arrested Sunday after the death of Bruce Whitlock, 24.

Police said Hammer shot Whitlock in an argument over a 10-year-old debt after a party at which Whitlock, a recently discharged soldier, hoped Hammer and his pregnant wife Sue, 23, celebrate the technical writer's birthday.
