Clarksburg Becomes Center Of Attraction As Democrats Gather There For Ceremony

Thousands Prominent Leaders of Party Arrive Saturday and Sunday to Attend The Formal Notification... Davis has Quiet Day Calling on Friends... Short Conference is Held With Several Party Leaders to Arrange Final Plans

LONDON, Aug. 11.—Allied and German experts attached to the international reparations conference have reached an agreement on the Dawes program, it is announced. French Premier Herriot's return from Paris with his cabinet's approval of his Ruhr evacuation policy put new life and hope into the negotiators. British observers believe the conference will end by Thursday.

The impression in French political circles is that the program involves the immediate evacuation of the Ruhr in order to enable the German government to put through the Reichstag the laws necessary to make the Dawes plan operative. M. Herriot, however, is quoted as having promised not to sign any London agreement until after he returns to Paris from London and obtains a vote of confidence both in the chamber and the senate.

Proves Socialists' Power... The decision of the cabinet to support Premier Herriot in making his concessions regarded as showing the dominating influence of the socialists in the government's parliamentary majority. It is generally conceded that unless M. Herriot brings back from London compensation, in the form of some tangible guarantee that the Germans will execute the experts' plan, he will have a bitter fight in the senate to obtain approval of the concessions he has made in London.

Confers With Leaders... After returning home Mr. Davis had a conference with a number of party leaders including George E. Moore, of Ohio. Besides these leaders the day's arrivals included Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, chairman of the New York convention, and the man who will formally confirm to Mr. Davis the rumors that has come to him that he is the Democratic presidential nominee.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—Industrial organization as part of a program intended to prevent another war, will be one of the features of defense day on September 12, according to an announcement Sunday by Col. James L. Walsh of the New York district office of the war department ordinance service.

Sixteen Cases Are Arraigned in Local Municipal Court... Sixteen cases were arraigned before Judge J. G. Sharon at this morning's session of the local municipal court, eight, or half, of which were dismissed. This is perhaps a record for dismissals, according to records during the past two or three months. Fines, costs, and arrested bonds amounted to $187.

Sub-Contract is Awarded Saturday For Dredging Work on Yacht Basin... It was announced Saturday by City Manager W. B. Williams that the dredging work on the municipal boat basin will probably begin sometime this week. He said that arrangements have been made whereby a dredge will arrive in a few days and will start work upon its arrival.

Laughed Two Weeks Ago—Now They're Worried

The smile has gone from the faces of Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold Jr., slayers of Fobby ranks. Two weeks ago, when the fight to save them from the gallows, started, the two youths took the proceedings lightly, they laughed and joked with each other. Today it is different—the picture at the right shows the serious, strained look that envelops the boys' faces. Perhaps they are now experiencing the "thrill they sought in murder."

FORD HAS 6 DAYS WITHDRAW NAME ON PRIMARY LIST

Petitions Nominating Him Senator to Be Effective Unless Countered by Note from Him in 10 Days... LANSING, Mich., Aug. 11.—Henry Ford, six years ago a Democratic candidate for United States senator and now an involuntary candidate for the Republican nomination for the same office, has 10 days in which to eliminate himself from the lists in the state-wide primary September 9.

Charles J. Deland, secretary of state, who accepted nominating petitions for Mr. Ford, made this announcement Sunday after extending a ruling from the state attorney general's office. Mr. Ford's name will go on the ballot, the secretary's office stated, unless a letter or telegram asking that his name be withdrawn, are received from him before the ballots are printed ten days hence.

Unless Mr. Ford withdraws his name from the lists, the September primary will find him opposing his former business associate, Jas. Couzens, incumbent, for the Republican nomination, as well as three other aspirants to the office. Candidates will be nominated for a short term, as well as the full term, the next being the unexpired portion of former Senator Newberry's term.

Mr. Ford, who is accompanied by Mrs. Ford, plans to remain at the Wayside Inn until after Wednesday and will probably attend the big picnic and outing which is being arranged by the Middlesex farm bureau and extension service with which he is co-operating to make it a success.

Every day will be Sunday by and by, thinks the optimist, but the pessimist feels sure they will be Monday.

Plant City Kiwanians Thank Sanford Club For Entertainment... Manager E. F. Lane, of the Sanford Kiwanis baseball team, has received a letter from Henry H. 28 MILLION LOSS REPORTED IN BIG NASHVILLE FIRE

45 Million Pounds Powder Burned When Old Hickory Powder Plant Destroyed By Fire Sunday Morning... NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 11.—Forty-five million pounds of powder were destroyed by fire at the Old Hickory Powder plant near here Sunday. The loss, on the basis of present prices, is estimated at more than $28,000,000.

The powder was manufactured for the federal government during the war at a cost of approximately $22,000,000 for the 45,000,000 pounds destroyed. Machinery and buildings erected by the government during the war at a cost of more than $5,000,000 were destroyed by the flames, which swept over an area of forty acres in the heart of the plant. The total wartime cost of the property and powder destroyed was estimated today to be more than $28,000,000.

The powder had been stored here by the government as a war reserve. One half of it was to have been used in road building under the direction of the department of agriculture.

The fire was declared to be the greatest single loss suffered by the government since the World War and rated as one of the most destructive incidents in the history of government munitions plants.

NO INTENTION OF CANCELLING WORLD FLIGHT

Message From Flagship Declares Conditions Will Not Prevent Finishing... Relief Plane is Checked by Fog... Next Leg of Flight Won't be Attempted Until It is Safe

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 11.—There is no question of calling off the American Army world flight because of the ice conditions around the shores of Greenland, according to a statement issued aboard the flagship cruiser Richmond, searching for a safe landing place for the fliers on the hop from Iceland to Greenland, state no ice was sighted up to yesterday afternoon.

United States cruiser Raleigh, exploring the East Coast of Greenland, reports a dense fog southeast of Angmagssalik and many floating ice-bergs. The Raleigh ran into the ice in the form of small drifts with little to be done until the fog lifts when a search for a landing place by the two scout planes will be attempted. Slight damage was done to the starboard forward propeller by ice.

EASTPORT, Maine, Aug. 11.—Unable to penetrate dense fog over the Bay of Fundy and further retarded by rain squalls the relief plane Boston II, en route from San Harbor to Pictou, N. S., was forced to turn back and moor in the harbor here for the night.

BAR HARBOR, Maine, Aug. 11.—Hopkins off into a fog, the relief plane Boston II, en route from San Harbor to Pictou, N. S., on its trip to meet the American aviators, was forced to turn back and moor in the harbor here for the night.

It was indicated that Lieut. G. C. McDonald and his mechanic would encounter heavy banks of fog from here to the Bay of Fundy. The aviators passed two hours in the morning going over the plane and after pronouncing her in perfect condition, set out for Nova Scotia at 11:45.

Soon Vanish in Fog... They were van out of sight in the fog that hung over the harbor yesterday's flights here from Boston the aviators flew almost continuously over high, heavy banks of fog.

Just before taking to the air, Lieut. McDonald said he would go as far as seemed advisable under the weather conditions, expressing his hope that he would have clear weather. Although confident of perfect performance on the part of Boston II, neither flier expected fast time on the Pictou flight, owing to atmospheric conditions.

There is no question of calling off the flight because of the ice conditions, the statement says, and in the opinion of Admiral Magruder, in command of the naval squadron, the flight will be completed successfully, barring possible accidents to the planes or unforeseen adverse weather.

"The change suddenly after the flight is started," said Admiral Magruder, "is a factor that may cause failure by watching the weather conditions using the best judgment of army world fliers will be approaching Labrador."

 Defina Gompers.
 NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American federation of labor, "can go as far as he likes" in making public correspondence between himself and John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, Mr. Davis declared tonight on the eve of his departure for Clarksburg, W. Va. He telegraphed Mr. Gompers to this effect.
 Mr. Davis' telegram also said that he was willing to stand on his labor record without any fear as to the outcome.
 Democratic state platform convention here Aug. 26, Chairman W. W. Durbin announced Friday.
 An invitation to address the convention on August 19 was sent Mr. Davis several days ago by Chairman Durbin and Giv. A. V. Donahay, but acceptance was held in abeyance until it was definitely determined that the candidate would be unable to accept on that date. Negotiations for an acceptable date then were commenced, resulting in the selection of Tuesday, Aug. 26, to which date the state convention then was postponed.
 No information was obtainable at local state headquarters whether Mr. Davis' address would be a special one or whether it would be the opening of a contemplated western tour.

For Third Party Is Still Unknown

 WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—Scope of the campaign in behalf of the LaPollette - Wheeler presidential ticket, those in charge of arrangements said Wednesday, will not be determined until it is known approximately how much money will be available for expenditure.
 Solicitation of funds from the public and from members of labor, farm, and other groups supporting the LaPollette movement is still in the organization stage, it was said, with the probability that it will be several weeks before contributions in substantial amounts are received.
 Confidence was expressed by both Robert M. LaPollette, Jr., in charge of campaign activities here, and William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, who is directing the work of canvassing organized labor for funds, that financial support adequate for a vigorous nationwide campaign, would be forthcoming.
 In an effort to obtain funds from members of labor organizations, Mr. Johnston is sending communications to locals of twenty or more national unions, urging each to appoint a committee of at least three to canvass the local membership for funds. Contributions of one dollar and up are sought.
 Declaring that "Wall Street" is ready to spend millions of dollars in support of its two candidates, Coolidge and Davis, because it knows whichever one is elected will be subservient to the interests of special privilege," Mr. Johnston's letter asserts.
 "LaPollette and Wheeler are both men of limited means. They have no corporate connections or rich friends. They are bitterly opposed by the forces of greed and predatory wealth. Their opponents who controlled and based the conventions of both the old parties, also control the newspapers, the magazines and the radio. In order to carry this fight to victory, we must send speakers over the country and print millions of pieces of literature."

Case of Alleged Bootlegger Again Continued by Court

The case against F. D. McBride who is charged with selling intoxicating liquor, continued from Wednesday's session of municipal court, was again continued at Friday's session because of the absence of City Attorney George A. DeCottis. G. W. Spencer, Jr., of this city, and two Orlando attorneys were present in behalf of McBride. The case will be resumed Monday when it is expected that Mr. DeCottis will be present.
 At Friday's session Elijah Canty was tried on a charge of selling intoxicants and was fined $200 and costs or sentenced to serve 60 days in jail. Total fines, costs and estimated bonds were $258.
 The cases as arranged were:
 R. N. DeBarry, reckless driving, dismissed; T. W. Tindale, speeding, $10 bond entreated; A. E. Dickson, speeding, $10 bond entreated; R. W. DeBarry, speeding, $15 and costs or 10 days in jail; Elijah Canty, possession of liquor, $200 and costs or 60 days in jail; Dehney Bird, possession of liquor, dismissed; Elijah Canty, speeding $3 and costs or 10 days in jail; Cony Gilmore, disorderly conduct, dismissed; John Snipes, disorderly conduct, $5 and costs or 10 days in jail; Mosella Snipes, disorderly conduct, $5 and costs or 10 days in jail.
 FORT PIERCE, Aug. 7.—Out-of-season game killing in St. Lucie county must be stopped, says an edict passed out by Sheriff J. R. Merritt who announces his determination to break up illegal hunting in the county. He has offered a reward of $50 for evidence of any person killing quail, turkey or other protected game out of season.
 The sheriff also says that in addition to this reward the state law given half the fine imposed in such cases to the informer.

Office of R. C. HUNTER & BRO., Architects.
 (House A-73)
A DUTCH COLONIAL HOUSE OF REFINEMENT
 The Dutch style is enjoying a much deserved popularity. The pleasing, graceful lines of the Dutch roof, the delicate detail and the appearance of a real home, these are the qualities that are so much admired.
 The architects have designed this little house with thought to every detail, however small and seemingly unimportant. The result—the pictures speak for themselves. The house has been called "A Little Gem."
 What could be more pleasing than the refreshing contrast of this little white house setting snugly amid a bower of trees and shrubbery with a foreground of neat green lawn?
 This is the kind of a place that comes to mind when we think of a home in the suburbs—a neat white cottage with a green roof; a tree or two to shade the entrance porch and the living porch as well; a stretch of green lawn; shrubbery banked on one side for fragrance and for color; an entrance porch with benches and wine covered trellis to bid one welcome and offer a suggestion of old time hospitality within.
 Here it is, down to the last detail.
 What a contrast does this picture make with a stuffy city apartment with its outlook on red brick court walls or dirty back yards, or at least, noisy, hot and dusty streets.
 This serves to bring out strikingly the difference between a home and a stopping place, the difference between living and existing.
 Nor are the plans of this house disappointing, they give all the exterior promises, they are convenient, compact and, above all, livable and homey.
 The ceilings are low, after the manner of the old Colonial houses, there is plenty of well space for furniture, and windows to let in the sunshine are not lacking. The interiors furnish and decorate in a charming manner and complete an ideal little home.
 Cost about $7,600.
 Complete working plans and specifications of this house may be obtained for a nominal sum from the Building Editor. Refer to House A-73.

Boy Scout News

Now that the camping season is over, the Boy Scouts are looking forward to the time when school will start and Courts of Honor will begin, where they can pass their Merit Badges.
 Plans are being perfected at scout headquarters for opening up a scout leader's training school the latter part of September or the early part of October, where all men interested in scouts or scouting in any way, are invited to attend. As soon as the plans are completed the public will be given a general invitation to join these classes.
 It doesn't make any difference whether you have had any experience in scout work or not, as a Tenderfoot Scoutmaster's class will be formed in which all the rudiments will be explained.
 The work is of such an interesting character that we feel that anybody taking it up as a pastime will find it of great value in everything he undertakes. It covers a field of activities which the ordinary business man does not get in his daily routine. It is hoped to have this training course conducted at a permanently located Scout Camp, several sites for which are now being inspected before decision is made.
 These training schools are invaluable to men who participate, it is said, as it fills a gap they skipped when their health and vigor with outdoor exercise and a program that stimulates every fiber in their body.
 Any person wishing to join this class may communicate with Scout Executive Morris who will give them full information. These instructions will be absolutely free to men who will devote part of their time to the scout work.

 coast and make a report on conditions there.
 WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Redoubled efforts will be made to locate and equip emergency bases in Greenland for the use of the American around-the-world flyers, it was said Friday by the army air service in answer to suggestions that the remainder of the flight may have been postponed until next year because of increasing unfavorable ice conditions. Ice apparently has prevented entry into Angmagssalik, on the east coast of Greenland first selected as the terminal, and threatens the withdrawal of the navy convoy.
 Informed that Rear Admiral Thomas P. McGruder, heading the naval guard on the Atlantic route, had called a conference of the pilots to discuss the advisability of discontinuing the attempt at Reykjavik, Iceland, without reaching a final decision, officials of the air service declared no necessity for abandoning the flight was yet apparent in any reports received here.
 "It is expected that the world flight will not be much further delayed," a statement issued from aviation headquarters said, "and within a short time the planes will be on their way to Greenland."
 Would Further Safeguard.
 Should the 750-mile jump to the southern point of Greenland become necessary, officials thought it possible further to safeguard the route by locating a floating base on the edge of the ice midway between Iceland and Greenland terminals.
 Admiral McGruder's precautionary steps were strongly approved at the navy department where it was explained, however, they have been taken on his own responsibility. The admiral's responsibility for hundreds of lives and for the several ships under his command was declared to prevent him taking the slightest chance of being caught in the southward movement of the great Arctic floes.

WINTER HAVEN BOY WINS FROM BUTLER ONE UP

Jacksonville Golfer's Uphill Fight is Put at Naught By Dick Pope's Birdie for Final
 DAYTONA, Aug. 9.—Increasingly fast play marked the semi-finals of the all-Florida midsummer golf tournament on the Hotel Clarendon course at Seabreeze Friday, and enthusiasm displayed assures annual holding of the tournament hereafter. By besting Jack Butler, of Jacksonville, one up, Dick Pope, of Winter Haven's youthful star, won the honor of going into Saturday's final with Hough Louden, of Babson Park, who bested Frank Seymour, of Winter Haven, two up.
 Butler made an uphill fight, establishing the fact that he has a future in the golf world. He was three down and three to go and furnished the last three holes in two holes for a half, putting Pope in the semi-finals.
 J. Densen, Sanford, won over J. P. Murdaugh, Bartow, two-one, and is paired with Cy Young, Daytona, who beat James Louden, of Babson Park, one up at the twentieth hole. Other players going into the final are local men.
 Saturday's principal battle is expected to be between Pope and Hough Babson, Polk county's chief rival.
 The most spectacular feature of the tournament was the contest between Mrs. E. L. Kincaid and Mrs. George R. Bennett, of Seabreeze, in which Mrs. Kincaid won on the twentieth hole, one up.
 Trophies to the number of twenty-three will be awarded the winners by the Seabreeze-Daytona Beach Association at a dinner-dance at the Clarendon Hotel Saturday evening.

"Where Would We Be Tomorrow"

When asked by a fellow passenger on a train traveling from New York to San Francisco why after spending millions of dollars in advertising he did not stop and add the money thus saved to his profit, Mr. Wrigley, of chewing gum fame, said, "We are traveling west at sixty miles an hour. Where would we be tomorrow at this time if we took the engine off the train?"

Advertising is not only the pulling power, but it is the reliable scout ahead of the travelers making everything smooth for the rest of the train. If Mr. Wrigley's intelligent appreciation of its value to a going concern could be grafted into the brains of struggling merchants and of well-meaning business men in general who are afraid to spend money to make money, what a mighty revival would come to the business world!

If the groceryman, for instance, who is getting only the pick-up trade of his community would take a survey of his stock, figure on how low he could sell his shelf-worn goods and still make a profit that would cover his advertising cost, and then go after patronage that would clean out his store for a new stock, what a chance he would open for continued patronage, and fast money-making.

Men with little vision do not realize that the duller business seems to be the more need there is for "going after it." When the "dull" time comes, then is the occasion for creating business. And nothing is easier, if an intelligent use of advertising is made.

"Where would we be tomorrow at this time," Wrigley asked, "if we took the engine off the train?" We would have answered his own question with: "We would be standing right here with competitive trains gliding past us on the other tracks, out-distancing us, 'getting there' first."

The Mouth

What any one accomplishes in life depends very much upon one organ—the mouth. In contradistinction, this important part of the human anatomy controls two streams that determine the end to which most lives eventually run. It controls the quantity and quality of food that comes in; and it controls the quantity and the quality of language that flows out.

It is not generally known how enormous is the part played by the food we eat, not only upon our physical fitness, but upon our mental freshness and to an extent even upon our morals. People talk much about the harm done the brain by alcoholic beverages and tobacco, but very little attention has been paid so far to the foods that will build up the brain cells in the proportion that drugs and harmful drinks tear them down.

We are told what NOT to do and what NOT to eat; but it is just as important that we DO eat what we should eat, as it is for us not to eat those things which should be left alone. In just the same proportion that morphine, opium, alcohol, and other harmful drugs, tear down our bodies, dull our minds, make us immoral, there are certain foods that build up our bodies, make our minds alert, and raise our moral tone so that it becomes clean and healthy.

Then the reaction takes place, and the stream that goes out of the mouth is bright, sunny and cheerful; and others derive happiness from hearing us talk. Make good use of the mouth. It is a precious possession.

As Brisbane Sees It

"Never Was in Klan," J.W. All Ready to Borrow. No Last Changes. Another Censorship. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1924)

JOHN W. DAVIS denies that he was ever a member of the Ku Klux Klan. He says, "I never was and never shall be a member."

That is definite. The question that interests politicians is, "How much difference will it make in the vote?" Between the Ku Klux Klan and various religious organizations in various States Mr. Davis will find conditions much mixed up on election day.

ENGLAND AND Russia apparently agree on a treaty. The House of Commons applauds it. England wants business, not fancy notions. You don't hear the statesmen of England talking the pitiful droll that comes from American statesmen about Russia's immorality, how she must be a good Christian nation and repent in sackcloth and ashes before we have anything to do with her.

LORD BEAVERBROOK expressed the British attitude when he said, "Why shouldn't Great Britain trade with Russia? We trade with cannals if they have anything that we want to buy, or can buy what we have for sale."

BRITISH LEADERS are statesmen and business men also. Our politicians are neither statesmen nor business men. And that is a handicap for the American business man who wants to get his share of the world's trade.

THE PARIS MATIN in an interview quotes Secretary Hughes to the German government as follows: "Don't make any mistake, this is your last chance." Secretary Hughes warned Germany that if she did not approve the Dawes plan she must "not count any more on the United States."

ON THAT POINT, of course, the United States and not Secretary Hughes would decide. He will pass on. The United States will remain.

FURTHERMORE, it is risky to say to a nation possessing seventy million inhabitants and considerable scientific knowledge that its "last chance" has come. It would have been foolish to tell France in 1870 that she had had her last chance. It is foolish to tell Russia, as our statesmen do tell her, that she must do what we say, or go to the wall via famine, disease and anarchy.

GERMANY AND other nations will have many more chances. Eventually, it is to be hoped, they will settle down to a combination of nations, a "United States of Europe" and stop fighting.

IF ALL BROADCASTING stations imitate one in Massachusetts, you will have a dull radio campaign. The Massachusetts concern decided that candidates may talk about themselves, their own party, and praise themselves. But they must not attack their adversaries.

IT'S THE SAME old "censorship" again. With the first printing of books, printers were told that they must say only what they were allowed to say. Milton put an end to that in England.

SENATE CONTROL

The Democrats now must win five states now held by Republicans to gain control of the Senate after next March 4. More specifically, they must win from the Republicans five of the 17 Republican seats that are to be defendant next November, while they hold every one of the Democratic chairs they are put at hazard.

It is that year the Republican party was able to organize the Senate by a single vote. Two years later the Senate of the Sixty-Seventh Congress was composed of 37 Democrats and 59 Republicans, following the landslide of 1920. But in the following biennial and special election, the Democrats gained five seats and the Republicans lost seven.

A queer turn of circumstances lends particular interest to the senatorial elections this year. It is just possible that the present Senate may be called upon to name the next President. In such a case the way Senators fare in the forthcoming campaign may probably have considerable influence upon their attitude in such an emergency. Party yokes bear lightly now and not much would be required to lead some recalcitrants to jump the Republican reservation.

Of course, the possibility that the Electoral College will fall to elect is remote. We have had such cases but only twice has Congress been called upon to choose the executives of the nation. The further eventuality that the House should be unable to agree that the candidate elected Vice President by the Senate should become President is extreme.

A COURAGEOUS FLYER NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE The American flyers took every opportunity to express their admiration for the singlehanded rival they found in Major Stuart MacLaren. That courageous British officer has at last come to grief on the remote shores of Siberia, and his gallant attempt has been given over, but it deserves the praise that the Americans were so ready to offer.

THE EDITOR of a Kansas paper states that he borrowed a Winchester rifle recently and started up the street to return the gun to its owner. Delinquent subscribers suspected immediately that he was on the warpath and every one the editor met insisted on paying what he owed him. One man retired a debt of ten years' standing. On his return to the office the editor found a load of hay, 15 bushels of apples, 22 bushels of potatoes, a cord of wood and a barrel of turpins that had been brought in hastily by patrons in arrears. All the country editors around here would like to borrow that Winchester.—Suwannee Democrat.

do not fit. A man should know his business before backing it with cash. He should put his money in a business or industry about which he has some knowledge, otherwise his chances of success are small. Stick to your own line unless you know in your heart you are better fitted for another, but be careful not to fool yourself. Don't permit the lure of sudden riches to turn you aside from the path of safety, but stick to it. When one profits by taking risks a hundred fail and lose all.

For the average person accumulating savings is a slow process. It lasts for years. It spells work and self-denial, often hard hardships, but a competency for old age is worth all it costs. But the worst hardship of all is to see it swept away by foolish investment. Be careful, therefore, what you do with the money you have saved for a rainy day as a result of your industry and economy. See to it that it does not go to fatten the purse of some conscienceless bond shark. Shun him as you would a poisonous snake.

Large Dredge Starts St. Petersburg Work

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 11.—The dredge Burlington is on the job at North Shore, Coffee Pot Bay, after a journey of nearly 2,000 miles from Minneapolis to this city. It left Quincy, Illinois, June 8, and came down the Mississippi river to New Orleans thence across the Gulf of Mexico to Tampa. The vessel, 150 feet long by 42 feet wide, is capable of pumping 1,000 yards of material per hour when working under most favorable conditions, which is on a mud bottom.

Last Year's Meeting Praised By Farmers

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 11.—Letters requesting room reservations for Farmers' Week carry a story of endorsement of last year's effort in behalf of Florida farmers by the University of Florida. The following verbatim copy of a letter just received expresses clearly the sentiment conveyed by many of the letters: "Please make reservations for a family of five for coming Fruit Growers' Week. I was with you all last year and ever enjoyed a week more, so this time I'm bringing my family." Advance registrations indicate a very large and enthusiastic attendance.

FALLAHASSEE, Aug. 11.—The supreme court has reversed the judgment of the circuit court for several counties in the case of the Green Lumber Company, plaintiff in error, vs. the South Atlantic Dry Dock Company, defendant in error, on the ground that the lower court erred excluding from evidence a letter from the lumber company to the dry dock concern, notifying the latter that it would be entitled to five per cent of the contract price for building 10 saw lighters at $9,000 each.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 11.—Fishes dying by millions in Danish land waters due, it is explained, to the unusually long and severe winter, which made the waters ice and rotten. Industrial establishments dump much of their waste into the waters, but officials think this does not harm the fish; the obnoxious gases escape.

Se Springs Will Be Pine Growers' Picnic

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 11.—Those who are planning to attend Farmers' and Fruit Growers' Week at the University of Florida from Aug. 15 to 16, should bring their picnic suits with them, says the program of the entertainment committee. Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 15, will be given over to the entertainment committee which will give a big picnic at Poe Springs. Everything in connection with the picnic will be free except the picnic suits on those who are expected to bring them.

Dad Beats Son at Tennis

The new tennis champion of South Dakota is John Barton, 47, a dapper. John Barton won title by beating Horace Barton, 17, in the finals. Horace happens to be the son of the elder Barton. It was one of the few times in the history of sport that father opposed son in the finals of an important championship.

SENSATIONAL DRIVE OF BROWNS TOWARD PENNANT IN AMERICAN IS FEATURE OF THE WEEK'S PLAY

Sisler's Men Take Six Out of Nine Games During Past Six Days and Enables Browns to Become Serious Contenders for Pennant—The Yankees, Detroit and Washington Senators Even

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—A sensational spurt by the St. Louis Browns featured the past week of major league baseball. Winning six out of nine games while the Yankees, Tigers and Senators were breaking about even. Sisler's club entered the charmed circle of serious pennant contenders. By an odd coincidence Detroit and New York occupy the exact relative positions they held just seven days ago. Cobb's men leading the procession by a one-point advantage over the world champions. Washington trails the former by two games and St. Louis follows in fourth place at a distance of two games.

Indians Show Power
Cleveland also had a very successful week, capturing five out of seven contests and advancing to fifth position, a fraction of a point ahead of Chicago, Boston, losing six out of seven, continued down the toboggan and brought up in the cellar. The Athletics tonight hold down seventh place by a margin of one point.

Cincinnati made National League followers sit up and take notice with a winning drive of six victories in eight starts, concluding the seven-day period with a double triumph over the Giants in today's twin bill. As Brooklyn did almost as well, however, the Reds failed to oust the Robins from fourth place. The Dodgers won five and lost three. They now trail Chicago by a game and a half and lead Cincinnati by the same margin.

Giants serenely leading
The Giants still rest serenely on the top rung of the ladder, with the Pirates seven games and a half to their rear in second place. St. Louis, Philadelphia and Boston follow in sixth, seventh and last positions respectively.

Noteworthy pitching performances were rare in Ben Johnson's circuit during the week just ended. Shocker and Vangilder of the Browns, each of whom twirled a three-hit game, made the most creditable showing. Shocker also turned in a five-hit win. Next in order of excellence, came Hoyt of the Yankees and Zahniser of the Senators with four safety contests. Baumgartner of the Athletics registered a fivebingle victory and Coveleske of Cleveland let Boston down with six hits.

High Grade Pitching
National League batters had to face a far higher grade of pitching than the younger circuit hitters. Three hit performances were turned in by Meadows of the Pirates and Dickerman of the Cardinals and four hit contests by Vance of Brooklyn, Ring of Philadelphia, Bush of Chicago and Kremer of Pittsburgh. Kremer also pitched a five-hit game, as did Blake of the Cubs. Those in the six safety class were Bentley of the Giants, Cooper of the Pirates, Laque of the Reds and Dickerman and Stuart of St. Louis.

Ruth Outdistances Rivals
Ruth, with five homers for the week, hopelessly outdistanced all competitors for champion circuit hitter of the season and raised hopes among his admirers that he may break his record of 59 for a single season. His total now is 66.

The week's major league totals of games won, and lost, runs, hits, errors, opponent's run and home runs including Saturday's games, follow:
