THE KIWANIS CLUB HOLDS BIG MEETING AT THE OLD STAND

BIG EATS, BIG DOINGS, BIG SPEAKING AND BIG EVERYTHING FOR BIGGER SANFORD

The Kiwanis club held one of the biggest meetings of its career at the same old stand—the Palm Room of the Valdez Hotel today. Every place was filled when Dail Dumas, the efficient time-keeper of the club rang the gong, and more places had to be arranged.

After Divine blessing had been invoked by Dr. Brownlee, President Sharon asked Dr. Hunt of Hunt's Pharmacy, and Mr. Thompson, otherwise known as Luke, of the Lu-Beth Cafeteria, to stand and be recognized as new members. These two gentlemen are new members of the Sanford Club but are admitted on demit, so to speak, for they were each Kiwanians before casting their lot with Sanford.

Visitors welcomed at the day's luncheon were Capt. Houston, the presiding genius of the Southern Utilities Company, who in a few remarks asked the support of the club that his company and the city might make it possible for the PEOPLE to own the local water plant, as negotiations are now under way between the two to that end.

Hal Majnes, nephew of Judge Majnes, and who is connected with Hunt's Pharmacy, was also recognized as a visitor, but pleaded that he was not a speaker and was let off. Mr. Evers, of the government reporting bureau was present.

Major Chester H. Wilson, of the Engineers Corps, State Board of Health, otherwise familiarly known as Mr. Mosquito, in Sanford in the interest of discomforting the mosquito, spoke at length on the proposition of how to rid Sanford and the state of Florida of the pests. This talk was interesting for many did not know that of the thirty varieties of mosquitoes only three are really dangerous—the others merely uncomfortable, but the Major's idea was to eliminate all contenders.

At this point Mr. Lake brought up the matter of the proposition to bulkhead the lake front from Lake Monroe to the city, with the idea of eventually having a boulevard along the bulkhead. Upon the motion of Kent Rossiter the Kiwanis Club endorsed the proposition and extended the bulkhead to Osteen-ferry.

The speaker of the day was A. P. Connelly, who had for his subject, "The Greatest Need of Sanford." Mr. Connelly was of the opinion that co-operation of the citizens, and of the public corporations was the greatest need. His address was received with hearty applause.

The entertainment committee, of which Ed. Lane is the chairman, had Mrs. Fitzgerald render some readings, much to the delight of the club. Mrs. Fitzgerald gave two readings, one "Nigger Joe talking over the phone to Marse Henry Watson" and "Aunt Mirandy on 'Matrimony as a Failure'." Both were very highly entertaining and brought forth round after round of side splitting laughter.

In this connection Chairman Lane announced that the Kiwanis Club had engaged Mrs. Fitzgerald to superintend a play at the High School Auditorium Friday night, using all local characters, and from some of the announcements as to the characters the local Kiwanians and others will impersonate it is safe to say that the evening will be one long to be remembered by Sanford people.

We were about to forget to chronicle that Mayor Lake, Dad Dumas and Kentchun Rossiter were wearing "crape" today because Father Neal, of the Herald force, was conspicuous by his absence from the meeting, because of the absence of his teeth.

Then too, Joe Hutchinson, insisted that he sing "I've got a Gal" for in fact there is a new girl baby at Hutch's house—came last night.

Dollar Gasoline Coming Unless Something Done

Committee Issues Warning to The American Public

WASHINGTON, Mch. 6.—"A dollar a gallon for gasoline" is the prospect held up for the consumer in the report of the oil investigating committee to the senate, unless means are taken to break what the report declares to be a complete domination and control of the oil industry by the Standard companies. If a few great oil companies are permitted to "manipulate prices" during the next few years as they have been doing since 1920, the report presented yesterday said, the people of the country must be prepared "before long" to pay "at least" that price.

The result of a three months inquiry into conditions in the industry the report declared the Standard companies in violation of the 1911 dissolution decree of the supreme court exercise their alleged control in such a manner as to "fix the price which the producer of crude oil receives for his gasoline and kerosene as well as the retail price to the consumer."

Asserting that the "more subtle" methods of such control placed the industry and the public "even more completely at the mercy of the Standard Oil interests" than before the supreme court decree dissolving the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and its subsidiaries, the report declared that "with slight exceptions" there are still a total avoidance of competition among the Standard companies. Not only is there still a division of marketing territory among them over the entire country, the report said, but "two of the leading companies—New Jersey and New York—divide the world between themselves in marketing operations."

Other methods of control set forth in the report were ownership by the Standard companies of the principal pipe lines, interlocking stock ownership, fixing of prices in the producing fields, and ownership of basic patents for the cracking process of gasoline production.

Among eight measures recommended by the committee to curb the evils found were establishment of a uniform accounting system for oil companies, to show costs and profits; a compulsory monthly reporting to a government agency to show particularly the quantities of crude oil and its products in storage and transportation; divorcement of the ownership of pipe lines from companies transporting the oil; and prohibition or regulation of the exportation of petroleum. Investigation looking to contempt proceedings before the supreme court in all cases of "implied" or expressed agreement to fix prices arbitrarily or restrain trade also was recommended as was institution of grand jury proceedings whenever price manipulation is attempted.

It is Senator Borah's great good fortune that while his party has a creed none of the party bishops seem to know exactly what it is.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

EIGHT SUSPECTS IN JAIL

(By The Associated Press) FRANKLINTON, La., March 7.—Eight suspects were in the parish jail here yesterday and a posse of more than 1,000 men armed with rifles and shotguns were beating the woods and swamps between here and Bogalusa in a search for the bodies of Wesley Crain and Willie Pierce, deputy sheriffs, believed murdered Saturday when they surprised moonshiners at a huge still in the swamps near here.

QUESTION "WHAT IS STYLE" IS SOON TO BE ANSWERED BY BAUMEL'S SHOP

The question of "What is the Style for 1923" will soon be answered for the benefit of the fair folk of Sanford, according to the announcement from Sam Baumel, better known as the owner and guiding spirit of Baumel's Specialty Shop.

Under the auspices of this popular store a comprehensive spring style show is to be conducted in the Parish House on Thursday night. The current modes for milady will on this occasion be presented on living models.

The new dresses for Spring and Summer—dainty bodices in the slim and lithesome basque; winsome bouffant skirts come down from the days of pinfore; delightful straight line effects, youthful, bewitching, slender; the much talked of three piece costumes; here a vivacious note from the Spanish; there an alluring theme from the Oriental—these, according to Mr. Baumel, are some of the things which the new season will bring forth, and which will be shown at the forthcoming display.

The show will be open to public without charge. The invitation to attend is extended to men, women and children.

TIES BETWEEN MONTVERDE AND LAKELAND, ORLANDO AND SANFORD UNDECIDED

TEAMS WILL PLAY ON NEUTRAL TERRITORY TO GAIN ADMISSION

District 1.—No teams reported. Montverde and Lakeland will play preliminary game to substitute.
District 2.—Live Oak.
District 3.—Gainesville.
District 4.—Orlando and Sanford will play off tie.
District 5.—Hillsborough.
District 6.—Wauchula.
District 7.—Miami.
State at Large.—Duval.

Duval high school was selected as the team from the state at large to play in the second annual boys' high school basketball tournament of Florida to be held at the University of Florida, March 9 and 10, it was announced Monday by Dr. R. G. Manchester, director of athletics at Florida.

Live Oak will represent congressional district No. 2, because of her victories over Monticello, Tallahassee and others. Greenboro has a good average but her report to the state committee did not show any important games played within her district.

Hillsboro showed a better percentage than Lakeland, and was selected from district number 5. Gainesville split with Montverde, but defeated Leesburg twice for the championship of district number 3. Orlando and Sanford, in the fourth district with Duval, will have to pay off a tie, it was announced by the committee. It is thought that this game will take place at Rollins College tomorrow night. Miami was selected from district number seven because Fort Lauderdale failed to turn in a report to the committee. It is understood that Miami was defeated by two points, when they played Ft. Lauderdale in the latter's city.

Wauchula will attend the tournament from district number six on account of their victories over Winter Haven, Bartow and others.

As there was no report received from any team in district number one, which includes Pensacola and others thereabout, Montverde and Lakeland, the second best teams in districts 3 and 5, will play a game for admission instead of the teams in the first district. This game will in all probability be played in Gainesville Thursday night at the same time as the freshman game with St. Petersburg Y. M. C. A.

Drawing for numbers in the tournament schedule will take place Thursday night at the Freshman game, at which all the teams will be guests of Coach Joe Barchan and his staff.

Dr. R. G. Manchester, director of athletics at Florida, and Joe Barchan will officiate at all tournament games. Check Byrd, manager of the varsity quintet, will act as score-keeper.

One of the fullest week-ends in the history of sports at the University of Florida will take place within the next few days, when the second state high school boys' basketball tournament, the inter-class track meet, the first annual high school cross-country meet, and a basket ball game between the University of Florida freshmen and the St. Petersburg Y. M. C. A. will be on schedule.

Hundreds of visitors from all parts of the state are expected to pour into Gainesville beginning Thursday morning, and the crowds will undoubtedly stay until Sunday morning. Last season when the first tournament was held, it lasted for a period of three days, and ten teams from the state entered. Those who come to the tournament for the second time will be Gainesville, Hillsborough, Wauchula, Miami and Duval. Duval was the winner last season by defeating all comers with a margin of play to spare. Gainesville established the record of playing three games in one day and defeating all of them during the last tournament.

The schedules of play for the tournament has been arranged this season so that it will be impossible for any team to have to play three games in one day, and only those teams which drop into the consolation round will have to play two games without an afternoon intervening.—Gainesville Sun.

East Coast Golf Tournament Gets Off to Good Start

(By The Associated Press) ST. AUGUSTINE, Mich. 7.—A brilliant sun was chasing the night dew off the greens at the St. Augustine links this morning when the first of the forty-four leading golfers of the country teed off at nine o'clock for the first round of the 72-hole play in the Florida east coast professional tournament which is to continue throughout tomorrow.

The perfect weather, with a gentle breeze, brought out the largest gallery in the history of the links to watch the former and present title holders of the United States and of Great Britain battle for supremacy.

The gallery was content, however, to allow the lesser lights to go thru, waiting for the more important pairings. Cyril Walker, of Englewood, N. J., left at 8:35 with Frank McNamara, of Jacksonville.

Shortly after ten o'clock the big guns were turned loose and Tom Kerrigan, of Swaney, got away with Larry Ayton, Wilfrid Reid, of St. Augustine and Detroit, followed with big Tom Boyd of Fox Hills, and the crowd of spectators took the field in large proportions, when Jim Barnes, former open champion, started with his skillful young partner, Johnny Farrell, of Quaker Ridge. Next came Walter Hagan, British open champion, and Joe Kirkwood, the Australian wonder, and Leo Deigle, Lochmoor, with Freddie McLeod, of Columbia Country Club. Jack Hutchison was scheduled to start at 10:35 with Willie Daman, but when the field had well started his train from the south had not arrived.

JESS WILLARD TAKES TRAINING QUARTERS FOR HIS BOUT WITH JOHNSON

WITNESS TELLS OF MASSACRE, WAS VICTIM

(By The Associated Press) MARION, Ill., March 6.—Still bearing the scars of his wounds, William Cairns, one of the survivors of the Herrin riots, took the witness stand yesterday at the trial of six men charged with murder in connection with the outbreak, and pointed out three of the defendants as either having taken part in the tragedy or been at the scene with guns in their hands.

While lying beneath a barbed wire fence with 17 buckshot in his back and a bullet in his side, the witness testified that he had seen Phillip Fontannetta, the youngest of the defendants, walk up to John Shoemaker, assistant superintendent of the mine where the trouble started, who was lying near by badly wounded but still breathing.

"Here's that machine gunner," Cairns quoted Fontannetta as saying and continued: "Then he placed a gun beside Shoemaker's head and blew the side of his face off."

Just before the shooting began the witness said, an automobile drove up to the crowd that was escorting some 50 unarmed prisoners taken from the mine and he heard someone shout: "Here comes Willis."

Hugh Willis, state board member of the Illinois mine workers, is one of the men on trial charged with the slaying of Antonio Mulkovitch, one of the 22 non-union workers killed during the riots. Cairns said he could not identify anyone in the automobile.

The witness testified that the workers and armed guards in the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal company had been attacked early in the afternoon of June 21, those shots being fired from outside the pit.

He declared the defenders raised a white flag about 5 o'clock that afternoon but the firing continued during the night. The fire, he said, was returned from the pit but the next morning about 50 men remaining in the mine, a score having fled during the night, laid down their arms and surrendered. "I heard one of the armed men who marched us out say that we were to be put aboard a train and sent out of the country," the witness said, "but we were marched up the road and I saw C. K. McDowell led away by two men, one of whom was Otis Clark."

"A little farther on I heard a man say 'they all ought to be hanged,' and a negro who carried a gun and wore a battered army helmet replied, 'well, we're going to fix 'em.'"

The witness then stood up and pointed out one of the defendants, James

Brown, as the man who had made the statement. Clark, who was acquitted at his first trial on a charge of having slain Howard Hoffman, another victim of the riots, also is a defendant in the present case.

Continuing his testimony, Cairns asserted that the prisoners were then lined up before a barbed wire fence and the shooting began. He said he tried to crawl through the fence, but pulled it over and lay face downward on the ground while the crowd chased the fleeing prisoners.

"While I was lying there," he said,

"I saw a wounded man leaning against a tree with his blood-streaked face on his arm. A couple of men with guns came up and said to him, 'You big—— can't we kill you?' and fired into his body."

Cairns testified that he recognized the speaker as Peter Hiller, one of the five defendants acquitted at the first trial. Hiller is not a defendant in the present trial.

Have You Ever Visited A Great Oil Refinery?

To the untrained eye, crude petroleum all look pretty much alike, but to the refinery expert their grades and qualities vary widely.

The process of converting this crude oil into various products is a most interesting one. Refining, distillation and filtration bring about the separation of various "fractions"—from gasoline to roofing and paving materials.

The production of a motor oil is one of the most important steps in this process; the effort being made to take out the impurities and at the same time leave in the "oiliness" or "viscosity".

STANOCOLA Polarine MOTOR OIL

is made from the heart of choicest, selected "crudes", in one of the world's greatest refineries, and by painstaking care in every step of its manufacture, it comes to you as the perfect motor oil.
