

Ten Are Killed As Bad Weather Hits Northeast

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Ten persons were killed Sunday as rough weather slammed the country from the Mississippi valley to the North Atlantic States and eastern seaboard.

In the northeast, high winds, thunderstorms and driving rain raised havoc. Topped telephone poles and power lines cut off electric and telephone service to thousands, particularly around New York City and New Jersey. In New York, heavy rains poured water into subway tubes, interrupting service on several lines in Brooklyn and filling one tunnel with three feet of water.

Wind-churned seas threatened craft on the Great Lakes and off the Atlantic coast. Storm warnings went up on all the Great Lakes except the Ontario. Off the eastern coast, the Coast Guard received numerous distress calls from small craft.

Seven of the ten deaths attributed to weather conditions occurred on highways. A skid on a slippery highway sent a packed Trailways bus crashing into a tree near Gainesville, Va. Five persons were killed and 21 injured.

State police listed three of the dead as Robert Blinton Good of Raleigh, Va.; Mrs. Gertrude Rogers of Alexandria, Va.; and Lena Lunsford of Washington. The other two still were unidentified today.

Two servicemen were killed in Philadelphia when their car skidded on rain-swept highway.

A plane crash in which three Air Force men were killed was reported Saturday near Fort Knox, Ky., during a thunderstorm.

The Washington, D. C. area had a partial blackout as lightning hit transformers, disrupting power service.

The storm area shifted eastward Monday from the Great Lakes region and skies cleared in the Midwest area. East of Chicago to New England winds remained strong. The eastern seaboard had showers and thunderstorms Monday with the rain belt extending south to the Carolinas.

Series Of Bible Lectures Renewed

G. E. Carter, prophetic preacher, whose series of lectures at the Bible Lyceum, Ninth Street and Laurel Avenue were postponed for a week due to flooding of the area, renewed the talks last night with an illustrated lecture on Armageddon.

More human blood has been shed in this area of northern Palestine where it is predicted that Armageddon will be fought than in almost any battle area in the world, he stated.

He told of the awakening of the nations of the east during the past 70 years, the weakening of Turkey, and predicted from Bible prophecy that the great final clash of nations, that of the east, including Russia, against those of the west, will take place in the Palestine area.

Coming talks will include "How To Solve Life's Greatest Problems in Old Age," "The Peace of the Anti-Christ?" and "Who is the Anti-Christ?" Wednesday night, Harold Flynt will lead in song.

Federal Funds

 sons on the welfare rolls are being made on schedule entirely out of state funds, but they won't last much beyond this week. Smith said he was hoping to get an extension of time so Federal money will keep on coming until a final decision is made on October 31.

In accordance with Federal regulations, the state for years has reduced welfare checks of old age assistance recipients produced foodstuffs in gardens or backyards. Livestock operations. Such produce was figured as income to offset their need for assistance.

However, the 1951 Legislature passed a law declaring that the state agency should not consider produce from a half-acre garden plot, one cow, one hog and 10 domestic fowls in determining that the welfare recipient needed it. "provide reasonable subsistence compatible with decency and health."

The Legislature wrote into the law a "finding" that the costs of growing and producing foodstuffs on such a limited scale would not be exchanged by the producer and that the expense may be claimed only by a member of a family on the welfare rolls.

The law became effective June 1. It has been carried over without withdrawal of Federal funds until now because the state has agreed to try and make up the difference. The law is now being reviewed by the state agency.

The last passage, an actual exemption, was a result of the fact that the state had no other way to handle the new law.

Desmond Is Model Of Happiness In Years After Sixty

By ADELAIDE KERR
AP Newsfeatures Writer
 NEW YORK (The Times) — Desmond's friends call him a walking model of "how to be happy after 60."

Now he is busy preaching what he practices.

As New York state senator he fathered the first state plan in this country to prevent poverty, sickness and heartache in old age and keep people well and flourishing after 60. Other states are now studying it as a possible solution for a problem faced by all and one of the most serious of the times.

"Life does not have to be misery after 60," says Sen. Desmond. "It can be good if you work, plan ahead, have some kind of creative hobby and take care of health. It's best to start the program early. But it's never too late to start."

Desmond started about 50 years ago. He worked his way through high school, Harvard and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, labored on construction crews, saved his money, established his own engineering business, made a fortune, married the girl of his choice, retired from business at 41 and went into politics. For the last 20 years he has been New York state senator.

For the last 30 years he has had a complete health check-up every year. Today he is a bronchial, asthmatic and one of the hardest working men in New York. He has several hobbies — but his main love is an arboretum of 700 trees, shrubs and woody vines which brought him a flock of gold medals.

After World War II, when Sen. Desmond was studying unemployment problems he discovered that thousands of people over 60 were having an extremely rough time because they were jobless and state aid of their families was being cut. He decided to do something about it.

He led the state, cities, industries, labor and citizens groups in a drive to help oldsters get jobs, improve their health and enjoy creative hobbies. In the belief that if these people their children can remain well and self-sufficient after 60.

Desmond introduced bills covering state action in the legislature and wrote mayors of 50 cities. He believes the plan could save New York tax payers millions by relieving much of the present need for state assistance services.

"We had better give attention to this problem fast," says Sen. Desmond. "There are 11.3 million people who are over 60 in this country. In 20 years, as many as there were 20 years ago. At the same time, it is much harder for elderly people than it used to be. More people live in cities in small apartments, where there is no room for grand-children.

"We, too, people on the industrial scrap heap at 65 and then tax ourselves for their support. Two and three quarter million people who are 65 and over are drawing old age assistance today. But the support is far short of the need. Old age assistance averages $45 a month. Social Security payments to single people average $28 a month.

"Many elderly people want to go on working, but can't get anybody to hire them. Two years after they leave the payroll, many die of heartbreak. Others brood and fret until they sicken or become senile. And many of these end in state-supported hospitals for the chronically ill or mentally ill. Our study revealed that 25 per cent of the people in New York state mental hospitals are 65 or more.

"All this unhappiness is being bought at terrific cost. The total cost to the people of New York state of the care of oldsters every year is $601 million. No one knows what it costs the entire country.

"This is what the New York state plan for oldsters proposes in its field of work:

Start a job-finding service for elderly people in every sizable town. Place an expert in every local office of the State Employment Service to give oldsters counseling and placement service. Let the two offices cooperate. Maintain a full-time agency in the State Labor Department to do an educational and publicity job aimed at breaking down prejudices against elderly workers.

In the field of health the plan proposes that both state and city health departments start divisions and activities to fight the diseases of old age and teach people how to be healthy in later years.

Also the plan proposes that local organizations in every town start a recreation program for people over 60, with emphasis on creative hobbies, and that the state give them financial help.

Make a different kind of peanut butter sandwich for lunch for youngsters. Blend a little mayonnaise or salad dressing with the peanut butter and then mix in some finely diced celery, grated raw carrot, and chopped tomato slices.

The last passage, an actual exemption, was a result of the fact that the state had no other way to handle the new law.

Rotary Club

 are all familiar, I can assure you that some of the biggest and costliest fires in this country today are the direct result of Communist activity."

Other reasons that are sometimes given for starting fires, he said, are alcoholism, covering up crimes such as theft and murder, thrills, the desire to be a hero, a habitual criminal, pecuniary gain, and pyromania.

He even cited one case where a great forest fire was started due to the desire of a certain individual for blueberries. He had the idea that if he burned over the land every year, better blueberries would result in another year or two.

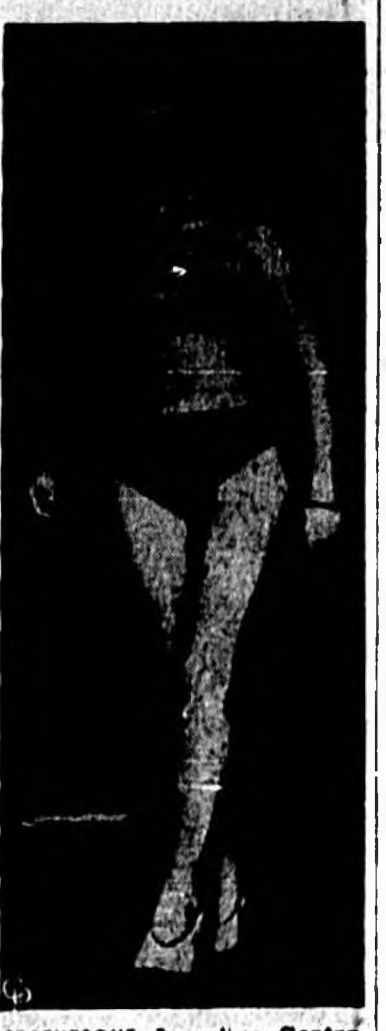

Line Jacobs of Deland, speaking for the Florida Wildlife Federation, thanked the Rotary Club for its cooperation during the past year and mentioned the fine work of Porter Lansing and George A. Speer, Jr., and invited the club to attend the convention in Daytona Beach on Nov. 3 and 4.

Orville Touchton, speaking on Rotary Information outlined the duties and responsibilities of the district governor. He pointed out that Florida and Georgia together once constituted this district of Rotary. Then Florida alone became the district. And now Florida is divided into three districts.

The district governor is nominated by the district conference, he said, but he is elected by Rotary International. He begins his term of office on July 1 of each year and serves until his successor takes office. Principal qualifications of the office, he said, are plenty of time and money, since the work of Rotary occupies about three-quarters of the time of every governor.

Among his duties are to visit every club in the district, to preside at club assemblies and district conferences, read all publications sent out by Rotary International and to send out monthly letters to all club presidents.

The meeting was presided over by Jack Ballan. Visitors introduced by Sonny Powell included Mr. Jacobs of Deland, L. M. Weeks of Deland, and Charles Wagner, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Princess Arrives

 specially built dais where Viscount Alexander, governor-general of Canada, and Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, waited to welcome the royal couple.

As the Princess emerged from the plane's doorway the governor general stepped forward to offer his hand.

The first shot of a 21-gun salute jarred the chill air. The band played "God Save the King." It was a dramatic moment in the brief welcoming program.

Smiling graciously, the Princess after being greeted by the governor general and the prime minister, inspected a guard of honor of the Royal Canadian Air Force.

She and her husband then entered an open car for a drive around the air port en route to the sliding where a train waited to take the royal party to Quebec, where the tour will get under way officially tomorrow.

The crowd sent up cheers after they saw Elizabeth and Philip smile and waved at them from their open car.

Before she had entered the car, Elizabeth shook hands with each of the crew members of the plane and chatted with each one briefly. The Duke did likewise.

The Princess wore very little makeup. She showed no signs of the strain the royal family has undergone as a result of King George's serious lung operation two weeks ago.

Caldwell Thinks Russia Can Atom Bomb U. S. Cities

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Civil Defense Administrator Mitchell F. Caldwell said today he thinks Russia has enough atom bombs to hit major American cities simultaneously in "an all-out grand-slam attack."

Such an attack, Caldwell said in a copyrighted article in the magazine U. S. News and World Report, probably would be designed to "stop production cold and blast the morale of the people."

"There will not be one blast, as I visualize it," the Civil Defense chief said. "There will be a number of cities hit at the same time."

Caldwell's views were published as the Senate began debate on a bill carrying $97,625,000 for civil defense. This amount is about $30,000,000 more than the House voted. Caldwell had asked for $35,000,000 to prepare the nation for possible enemy attack.

Should such an attack come from the air, Caldwell estimated the casualties per city at "about 75,000 dead and 75,000 injured."

Caldwell said "considerable progress" is being made in setting the "pattern" for Civil Defense in this country but that his organization is handicapped by a shortage of funds.

He laid the major blame for this on Congress which he said "does not know a great deal about the need for Civil Defense and what it includes." Remarking that one member of Congress he did not name had expressed doubt that Russia has produced an atom bomb, Caldwell added:

"Maybe in view of the announcement (last week) that Russia has exploded a second bomb, he will be convinced now."

He said the famous blue room of the White House.

Mossadegh Lands In U. S. To Argue Iran Oil Dispute

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Iran's ailing premier, Mohammed Mossadegh, arrived here by plane today to argue his country's oil dispute with Great Britain before the United Nations.

He indicated the keynote when he told a group of 100 waiting newsmen and photographers that British oil interests were using "international organizations" to national wealth of a poor nation. He tried to continue the "pillaging of the Mossadegh was assisted down the Dutch airlines plane by Nassrollah Entezam, Iranian ambassador to the United States.

The 72-year-old premier was wearing a black overcoat, and carrying his hat and a walking stick.

By special pre-arrangement, he was cleared aboard the plane by U. S. public health, customs and immigration authorities.

As he posed for photographers at the foot of the ramp, a bouquet of red roses was presented to Mossadegh. The donor was not disclosed.

About 200 Iranian government officials, friends and well-wishers applauded as the premier entered an automobile.

The automobile hardly started before the premier noted a group of 100 Iranian students waving American and Iranian flags from the international airport's observation deck.

The car stopped and he stepped out to raise his right hand in greeting to the young people. From the airport he drove to New York hospital where he will reside during his stay.

He told reporters at the hospital he felt a little weak and expected to have a physical check-up.

The premier spoke in Iranian, with his remarks translated by a member of his party.

Acheson, Jessup Contradicted By Ex-Gov. Stassen

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(AP)—Harold E. Stassen contended today the record makes it plain the State Department played a part in undermining the Chinese Nationalists, and contradicted denials by Secretary Acheson and Ambassador Philip C. Jessup.

Testifying before a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, Stassen said:

"The denials by the State Department of things which I know are true, leave me very uneasy and disturbed with regard to our country's future policy."

The Senate group is considering Jessup's nomination to be a delegate to the coming United Nations General Assembly meeting in Paris. He is now an ambassador-at-large, a post in which he represents this country on many special occasions.

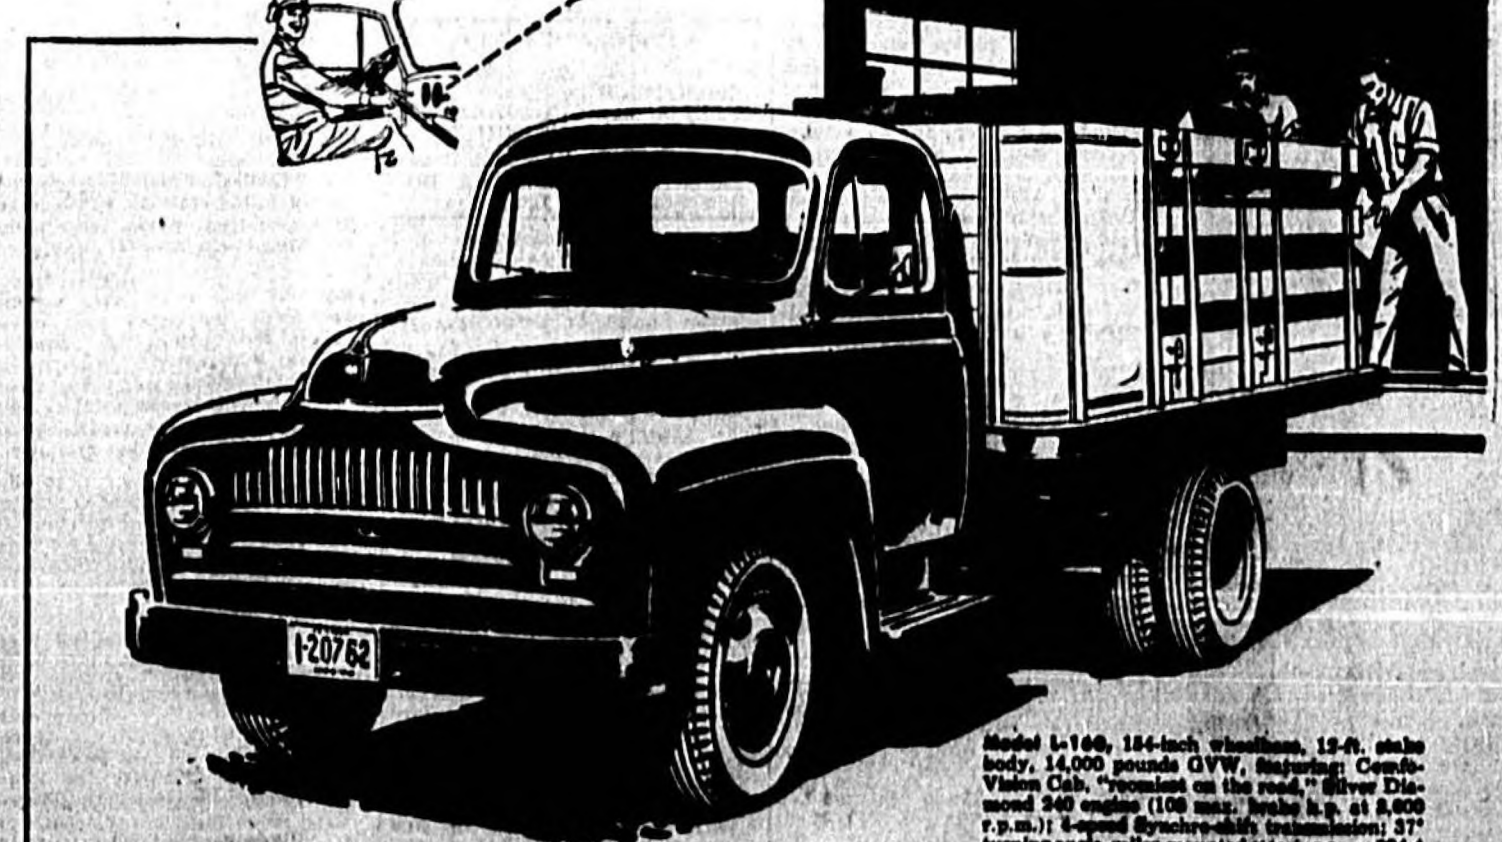

Stassen, former Republican governor of Minnesota and now president of the University of Pennsylvania, testified last week on the Jessup nomination.

He said then that the late Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R-Mich) told him that Acheson and Jessup meeting at a secret White House meeting in 1949 for a cut-off of aid to Nationalist China.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

God will judge our cause whether we commit it to Him or not. Better adopt a sound cause. Unto God shall I commit my cause. —Job, 5:8.

It is later than you think. If you plan to do something constructive you had better do it now. They hear thy words but they do not do them. —Eze. 33:32.

Governor Warren may be in danger of becoming known as "the great dissenter" if he continues to be the only one who condemns the Kefauver Crime Committee.

If you are a war veteran, you enjoy no unique distinction. More than 25 million Americans have fought in the nation's eight wars, some 18,828,000 of them are still alive, according to the Veterans Administration.

Senator Holland is not particularly worried over the plan of the AFL to "purge" him next year. "I have always found Florida folks well qualified to handle their own political affairs without dictation of outside interests," he says.

Have you noticed the beautiful yellow wild flowers along the banks of the St. Johns River this fall? They remind us of Wordsworth's poem: "A host of golden daffodils, beside the lake, beneath the trees, fluttering and dancing in the breeze."

White House officials have asked another $261,000 to finish up the renovation of the White House. Nearly $5,500,000 has already been spent fixing up the President's residence, and the total may be close to six million dollars before they are through. But we doubt if Mr. Truman will be there to enjoy the place once it is finished.

The diary of Senator Vandenberg reveals that President Truman's National Security Board of which Secretary Acheson was an important member, recommended against aid to Nationalist China about a year before the Korean invasion. Inasmuch as the Nationalists could not hope to do anything against the Communists who were being aided by Russia without aid from America, the recommendation was tantamount to a death warrant for the Nationalists and a victory for the Communists who are now fighting our troops in Korea.

Braley Odham, Seminole County candidate for governor, almost the first formally to announce, promises a two-fisted campaign against crime and corruption, with particular emphasis on gambling racketeers who want to control the state and everyone in it. He couldn't have a better campaign issue. The people are sick and tired of politicians who let criminals tell them what to do. If Odham can manage somehow to see enough people, get his message across to the hundreds of thousands of voters all over the state, he is liable to start a fire which will stampede the racketeers for cover and land the right in the governor's mansion.

If you are interested in American foreign policy and are reading the Forrestal Diaries, you should know that the first as Secretary of the Defense, became so worried about the trend of events as far back as 1943 and 1946 that he suffered a nervous breakdown and took his own life. Some pertinent comments by General MacArthur, Admiral Nimitz, Henry Wallace and other leaders of the administration are given.

Alloting Materials

A conference in which twenty-eight nations are represented has agreed on allocation among themselves of the available supplies of some important materials which have become scarce because of the war situation. Copper and zinc have recently been added to the list.

Economists will quickly find flaws in the scheme. It sounds good for the nation which needs to buy such materials, but the nation which has them to sell may not be so happy. A system of allocating materials among nations also allocates markets. Chile called attention to this point in relation to the agreement on copper, and was willing to go along only on condition that it be allowed to sell a fifth of its output outside the terms of the allocation agreement.

The making of these agreements, however, is a good sign of progress in the relations of nations. In numbers of nations, they are about half of those in the world. To obtain agreement among these as to the distribution of important materials is quite an achievement. The conference may be of some actual assistance in assuring that the nations capable of making things needed by the group will get materials with which to make them. It may be of more significance in giving a new demonstration that large groups of nations can get together and work out plans which will help to eliminate possible causes of friction among them.

Cost Of The Ballot

In a recent primary election in a large city it was estimated that the cost of conducting the election amounted to more than seventy-five cents for each ballot cast. The figure was arrived at by dividing the costs of operating the polls by the number of votes.

Is the figure high? It might be high or it might be low; it all depends on what election it might be compared with. The cost per ballot varies widely among communities and from election to election. But whether it is relatively high or low, a seventy-five cent ballot is cheap when its power in the hands of a good citizen is considered.

The cost of any given election is mostly determined in advance, and is not affected to any great degree by the size of the vote. The cost per ballot, therefore, depends on the turnout; if many people vote the cost per ballot is low, if few vote it is high. Thus the ballot is like many other really good things; the more it is used the less its costs.

An important election will soon be held in Sanford. It is the duty of every citizen over 21 to vote. But in order to do so, he must be registered. Are you?

Too Many Jobs

Revelations before the House subcommittee investigating income tax collection practices furnish good basis for the argument that federal officials should not have outside business interests.

A former internal revenue collector told the subcommittee that while he was collecting taxes from the government he also was taking attorney's fees from some business firms which were delinquent in their tax payments. Even if the best possible interpretation be made, that he was merely accepting fees for his services in private law practice, it can be seen that the greatest strength of character would be needed to enable this collector to look without special interest on the back taxes owed by his private clients.

A private business dealing with people does not mix well with a public office dealing with the same people. Sometimes the mixture may be unavoidable, especially in local government. But there is logic to support the principle that a person who has a public job and a private job has one job too many.

Princess Elizabeth

Major Lucien Borne and others waited to greet her. Eight trumpeters from the Royal Canadian Air Force and the red-coated band of the Royal 22nd Regiment provided a musical welcome for the royal couple as the train pulled up to the shed.

Elizabeth smiled as she descended to the platform. She wore her short mink jacket and a moss green velvet dress. The dress was simply cut with flaring skirt, wrist-length sleeves and a modest y-neck. Her hat—a large—was of matching velvet decorated by a band of velvet leaves over the top of the hairline.

Her accessories were of brown suede—shoes, gloves and a large envelope purse. She wore on her left shoulder a large and brilliant diamond brooch in the shape of a maple leaf. The duke wore his full dress naval uniform, with medals, and carried a sword. Despite the chill weather, he did not wear an overcoat.

The Princess walked through the shed along a red carpet and out into the raw October air, to inspect a 100-man guard of honor made up of parachute troops of the Royal 22nd Regiment. With the lieutenant-governor at her side she chatted amiably with Capt. commander, and smiled at the soldiers. The inspections took only a few minutes and the whole dock-side ceremony only 20 minutes.

A motored of sleek automobiles pulled up to take the party into this centuries-old city, capital of French Canada. A round of cheers from the spectators went up as the royal couple drove by in an open car. The Duke waved to the crowd.

He was also told that according to the deed which the Navy gave to the City for the station property, the consent of the Navy and the Civil Aeronautics Association has to be secured before disposition of any part of the property can be made.

J. R. Jones, trustee of the Sanford Tourist Club, asked that definite information be given as to whether or not the tourists will be allowed to use the Tourist Center this fall, and declared that tourists are willing to divide their time in the use of the building with the Navy.

He was told, said City Manager McKibbin, that the Commission has an agreement with the Chamber of Commerce not to make any definite commitment until after Dec. 1.

Last year there were 207 tourists at certain corners including Olive Avenue, Sheppard Avenue and the Southwest Road. A traffic light was requested at Olive Avenue and Thirteenth Street.

Commissioner W. H. Stempfer agreed that there was a traffic problem in Goldboro, and he and Mr. McKibbin and Police Chief Williams were directed to make a study of the situation and report their findings to the Commission. Mayor Fred Dyson commended the Negro group for the way that they had presented the matter.

Members of the City Election Board were appointed as follows: Mrs. F. E. Roumillat and Edward F. Lane, clerks, and Mrs. Ralph A. Smith, Floyd Palmer, Orin D. Farrell, Jr., James H. Gub, Malcolm MacNeill and B. L. Perkins, Jr., as inspectors of the election.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Seminole High School was advised that students may continue to use the City Hall and Celery Crate headquarters for the coming year.

J. H. Conrad, who is building a home on Seminole Boulevard near the Mayfair Inn, requested that he be permitted to build an eight unit apartment on the softball park site on the lakefront. The Commission, said Mr. McKibbin, deferred action on the matter.

restrictions had been relaxed previously.

The designation of "critical" permits easier credit terms, liberalized mortgage insurance for programmed defense housing and aid to communities in providing necessary facilities and a limited amount of federally constructed housing to supplement the local housing supply.

All of these aids are designed to encourage construction of housing.

It was pointed out, he added, that new and relaxed credit controls might permit more units to be financed by the Federal Housing Authority.

A street light was authorized for the 1700 block on West First Street. No parking signs were ordered for the south side of Thirteenth Street between Magnolia and Sanford Avenues due to the narrowness of the street.

No parking was ordered for the east side of the block between Myrtle and Elm Avenue on the south side of First Street.

struction of the national economy, he pointed out that the buying of defense bonds sets up a counter reaction to inflation.

Urging more thrift, he warned that during the coming transition from military back to civilian production there may be unemployment such as resulted in bread lines in 1929. He stated that the $2 billion dollars invested in savings bonds during World War II had prevented a depression afterward.

Were it not for the $8 billion dollars invested in defense bonds we might have a 15 cent dollar today, he declared.

"We can bring about an appreciation of the dollar by buying and holding defense bonds," he concluded.

Clarence Welsh outlined plans for Lion teams to secure articles to be auctioned at the Sanford Farmers Auction on Oct. 26, and asked that prospective donors telephone him at 411 or Jack Morrison, Lion secretary at 37

Proceeds of the auction will be used in furthering Lion projects including providing eye glasses for the underprivileged, supporting the Junior Baseball League and in other projects, said Mr. Welsh.

13 Of Major League Managing Jobs Are Set For Coming Year

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Now that Rogers Hornsby has been chosen to lead the St. Louis Browns out of the wilderness, thirteen of the 16 major league jobs are set for next year.

The unsettled ones are the Boston Red Sox, St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates. Of these, the only good bet for a change is at Boston.

Steve O'Neill is reported on his way out as manager of the Red Sox, to be replaced by Lou Boudreau, the former Cleveland pilot who is now a Boston infielder, or Pinky Higgins, Louisville manager.

Billy Meyer is said to have a 60-40 chance of returning to Pittsburgh and there's a good chance Marty Marion will be given another try with Cardinals, who finished last.

Two managing situations, those of the St. Louis Browns and New York Yankees, were clarified yesterday and a third the day before.

Willy Casey Stengel, who has won three straight pennants and is going on his third World Series, denied a report that he planned to step out.

The report said Stengel would retire out of deference to his health.

"I feel great," the graying old campaigner said. "I expect to manage the Yankees next year."

Hornsby was signed by owner Bill Veeck to a three-year contract as manager of the Browns, Veeck, declining to give details, said the salary was the highest ever paid a Browns manager.

Brooklyn's Charley Dressen, who saw his team dissipate a 13 1/2 game lead in the final weeks of the campaign, was given assurances over the week-end that his job is safe for 1952.

Here, in thumbnail, is the managerial situation in the majors.

National League
New York Giants—Leo Durocher and Laraine won't have to worry about where the next meal is coming from. Leo's contract was torn up for a fatter one in mid-season.

Boston Braves—Tommy Holmes is working under a two-year contract that has another year to run.

Philadelphia Phillies—Eddie Sawyer under contract.

Brooklyn Dodgers—Charley Dressen not formally signed yet.

American League
St. Louis Cardinals—Owner Fred Saigh says he'll make an announcement after the World Series. Good bet Marion will return.

Chicago Cubs—Phil Cavarretta already signed.

Cincinnati Reds—Luke Sewell signed to return as manager during the past few days.

International League
New York Yankees—It's Casey Stengel's job. Only a breakdown in health can keep him away.

Washington Senators—Bucky Harris in solid.

Boston Red Sox—Steve O'Neill reportedly out; Lou Boudreau or Louisville Manager Pinky Higgins in.

Philadelphia A's—Jimmy Dykes sure to be retained.

Cleveland Indians—Al Lopez signed during the past week.

Detroit Tigers—Red Rolfe all set for next year, although he hasn't signed.

Chicago White Sox—Paul Richards has another to go on a contract signed last year. He's the year's pin-up boy.

St. Louis Browns—Rogers Hornsby signed to replace Zach Taylor.

Michigan State Still Rates As No. 1 Grid Team

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Michigan State still rates as the No. 1 college football team in the country today but not by any great margin.

The Associated Press' second weekly nationwide poll of the season gave Coach Biggie Munn's Spartans from East Lansing a 10-point edge on California's Golden Bears, with Tennessee's Volunteers not far behind in third place.

Michigan State was ranked first by 42 of the 112 writers and broadcasters participating in the poll and received a total of 971 points on the basis of 10 points for first, nine for second and so on.

California was No. 1 on 36 ballots and received strong support for other high positions to roll up 961 points. Tennessee, the pre-season No. 1 eleven, received 821 tallies and 18 first-place selections.

The top three teams were in the same order in the first poll last week but Michigan State held a much larger lead while Tennessee pressed the Bears for runner-up honors.

The voters apparently thought more of California's 55-14 conquest of Minnesota than Michigan State's come-from-behind 24-20 triumph at Ohio State and Tennessee's 26-0 white wash of Duke.

Oklahoma's 14-7 setback by Texas Aggies was disastrous to the Sooners in so far as the poll is concerned. Last year's No. 1 team dropped from the lofty fourth spot of last week to 11th with only 102 votes.

The Texas Aggies replaced the Sooners as No. 4, moving up from the bottom rung in the first ten.

Notre Dame, 40-6 victor over Detroit, remained at No. 5, as did Texas in No. 6. Illinois, however, moved up from eighth to seventh without getting a first place vote.

Ohio State, dropped from seventh to ninth, was the only other member of the select group which failed to command at least one vote.

Sliding home in a cloud of dust, the hectic fifth inning of Saturday's World Series game between the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Browns. The Yankees' catcher Yogi Berra dropped the ball and the umpire announced: "He's safe." The Giants won 6 to 2, taking a 2 to 1 lead over the Yanks in the first three games. Rain put off the fourth. Giants To Set New Player Payoff Mark

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Win or lose, the New York Giants will set new player payoff records for the World Series.

Although not official until announced by Commissioner Ford Frick, it was learned today the Giants voted to split their share of the series players' pursa into 81 shares. That means each share will net $7,594.71 if the Giants win. If they lose to the Yankees each share will be worth $5,192.17.

The Yankees, spreading their money around more, voted to split into 35 shares. A winning share will return $6,539.80 and a losing one $4,259.65.

Yesterday's game was the last in which the players' share. The players' pool reached $500,522.37, topping the high set in 1948 by some $12,000.

The competing teams received 70 per cent of the total pool and split that amount on a 60-40 basis. The remainder goes to the clubs finished second, third and fourth in each league.

KANSAS CITY OPEN
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Two of the rank-D file golfers match shots with one of the game's leading money winners in an 18-hole play-off today for top cash in the $16,000 Kansas City Open tournament.

Principals in the showdown over the 6,600-yard Millbain Country Club for the lead-off spot.

The poll participants liked Georgia Tech's 13-7 conquest of Kentucky and moved the Engineers into eighth. Maryland dropped a notch, from ninth to tenth.

The first ten with first place votes in parenthesis:

- 1—Michigan State (42) 971
- 2—California (35) 821
- 3—Tennessee (18) 821
- 4—Texas A. & M. (3) 694
- 5—Notre Dame (4) 652
- 6—Texas (4) 632
- 7—Illinois (3) 552
- 8—Georgia Tech (3) 522
- 9—Ohio State 233
- 10—Maryland (1) 222

Second ten: Oklahoma, 102; Baylor, 100; Princeton, 86; Southern California, 85; Holy Cross, 51; Clemson, 41; Cornell, 40; Oregon State, 26; Stanford, 20 and College of Pacific (1) 26.

Other teams with points included: Louisiana State 15, Mississippi 7, and Florida 1.

Big Guy Is Happy After Breaking Hitless Streak

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(AP)—"I think I'll sleep tonight."

The big fellow relaxed on his stool, his mobile face split by a contented, toothy grin. He looked like the happy guy he was—at peace with himself.

"It's a terrific feeling, going day after day, not able to do anything right at the plate."

Joe DiMaggio spoke softly after the Yanks 6-2 victory over the Giants yesterday. "It was not so much that I wasn't getting any hits. It's that I didn't even know what I was doing wrong."

It was as if I had completely lost the strike zone. I was not so much that I wasn't getting any hits. It's that I didn't even know what I was doing wrong."

"I got to thinking horrible thoughts. Like I was going to go through the entire World Series without getting a single hit. It couldn't be possible, I thought. But there I was—heading for just such a thing. It wasn't possible, but it was happening—and to me."

Although the game had ended an hour before, Joe was still undressed, relaxing from his labors.

It had been, indeed, a most profitable afternoon for him. A pathetic figure in the first three Series games, the Yankee Clipper, one of his batting slump with a two-run homer, and a single.

He warmed up for his circuit-clout in his first turn at bat, connecting for several slashing fouls, one of them close to home run territory, before striking out.

Club course are Gary Middlecoff, of Memphis, Tenn., 1949 U. S. Open champion and winner of five major tournaments this year, and Dave Douglas, of Newark, Del., and Doug Ford, of Harrison, N. Y.

DIMAGGIO RECORD
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio and the late Babe Ruth are the only men in baseball ever to play in ten World Series.

Today "Di Mag" will tie Frankie Frisch's record of having competed in the most World Series games—10. And with the Series bound to go at least one more game he is certain, barring accidents, to heat that record tomorrow.

Crooms Academy Takes Opener 12-7

Crooms Academy Panthers opened their 1951 grid season with a 12-7 victory over the Euclid High Tigers of Deland on the Sanford school field Friday afternoon.

The Tigers from Deland led the first quarter battle with seven points racked up on a successful pass into the Panther end zone. The conversion was good.

The Tigers held off Panther attack throughout the first half.

In the second half the Panthers came back red hot. Angered by damage to their new jerseys and fired by a talk from their coaches the Crooms Academy boys took advantage of a Tiger fumble on their own three yard line with guard Robert Fielder recovering.

Seconds later fullback George Evans roared through the Tiger line like a locomotive scoring the initial Panther touchdown.

In the third period the Panthers sewed the game up with pass over the middle field strip from fullback Alton Wheeler to end Greedy Edge.

The Panthers play their next game Oct. 13 at Florence, S. C.

"I did things differently today," Joe said. "I got my timing back by shortening my swing. Lefty O'Doul helped me and so did Lou Fonseca, who came to me before the game with some tips. He had looked at some old movies of me to find out what was wrong."

Fonseca is a former Chicago White Sox first baseman and righthanded American League batting champion. O'Doul, also a former big league batting king, is a former manager of DiMaggio's at San Francisco.

DiMaggio revealed he was using a 34-ounce bat, the lightest he ever carried to the plate in his career. He declined to discuss what changes he had made in his batting stance, but it seemed to veteran observers that he had widened his stride, moving his left foot forward nearer to the plate. He also seemed to be holding his bat a bit further away from his body.

"I'm not going to tell you what they did for me," he said good-naturedly.

Grand Jury Eyes Promoter Of Big Boxing Business

International Boxing Club May Receive Federal Scrutiny

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—(AP)—The International Boxing Club, promoter of virtually every championship fight in the country since the demise of the 20th Century Sporting Club, was under the scrutiny of a Federal grand jury today.

Jim Norris, I.B.C. president, who was threatened with a Congressional investigation only two months ago, said he was not worried.

"My door is open all the time," he added. "As far as monopoly or conflict with anti-trust laws is concerned, we are advised by our attorneys we are absolutely in the clear. We must operate under the laws of the state in which we are incorporated."

"That statement still goes," said Norris when asked if he had anything to add.

The nationwide investigation of the game was directed by U. S. Attorney General Howard McGrath. Although it did not mention the I.B.C. by name, obviously it was aimed at the gigantic corporation which reportedly does $14,000,000 yearly business exclusive of radio, television and movies here and in Chicago, Detroit and St. Louis.

The inquiry was started by McGrath after the Department of Justice had made a study of the situation following numerous complaints. It will look into arrangements and leases for boxing in Madison Square Garden and will decide if some boxers are chaffers of the I.B.C.

There have been rumors—and accusations—that boxers not under contract to the I.B.C. have trouble getting fights. Sen. Herman Walker (R., Idaho), has charged that the I.B.C. operates a monopoly in that it is a closed business which governs and controls professional boxing in almost every major city in the United States.

The probe here is under the direction of Melville C. Williams, head of the anti-trust division in New York. Operating under the direction of McGrath, Williams today called Middleweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson along with his manager, George Gairford, as witnesses.

Among the first questions they will be asked is whether they have signed an exclusive contract with the I.B.C., which makes it a practice to sign champions exclusively wherever possible. All major boxing outfits through the years have done this.

Korean War

(Continued From Page One) near bloody Heartbreak Ridge. The Chinese shifted east to halt the Allies who have gained up to 15 miles there since the Reds broke off cease-fire talks Aug. 23.

The Reds will deliver a new message to the Allies tomorrow, presumably their latest word on reopening Korean truce talks. Tonight they asked Allied liaison officers to pick up the message at Panmunjom, proposed new locale for the talks, at 8 A. M. Wednesday (6 P. M., EST, Tuesday).

That is only two hours before the time suggested by Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway for a meeting of liaison officers in the Panmunjom area to lay detailed plans for renewing cease-fire negotiations. It was considered likely that the Red message would be a reply to Ridgway's proposal for a meeting of liaison officers.

Since they broke off negotiations the Reds have suffered nearly 80,000 casualties, by U. S. Army estimates, and lost nearly 250 square miles of territory. Returning U. N. pilots reported they killed or wounded 400 Red pilots Monday—the heaviest toll they have taken in months.

The Navy announced Red mines and shore guns damaged two American warships. Twenty-seven Americans were killed or wounded.

The shift of Chinese troops to the Eastern Front was reported Tuesday in a front-line dispatch by Associated Press Correspondent Stan Carter.

He said five Chinese were captured on Kim's long Ridge after Red forces hurled unsuccessful counterattacks at U. S. Second Division troops. Kim Il Sung Ridge is northwest of Yanagu. The Americans are known to provide for creation of a new Middle East defense system linked to the Atlantic.

In such a system Britain, France and Turkey would set up a Middle East defense board which Egypt and other Middle East nations would be asked to join along with such commonwealth states as South Africa, Australia and New Zealand.

Britain would share the responsibility of guarding the Suez Canal along with the other members of the board.

For joining this setup, Egypt wants the Sudan, diplomatic officials said.

They based their forecast on the Cairo government's move yesterday to void the 1936 Anglo-Egyptian Defense Pact.

The informants added: Egyptian leaders had been notified they would receive by Wednesday details of the defense plan sponsored by the Atlantic Allies as part of their anti-Communist front.

The new arrangement provides for cancellation at least of the military clauses of the Anglo-Egyptian treaty. It would leave only the future status of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan to be settled between London and Cairo.

Tax Agent

(Continued From Page One) investigation by a St. Louis grand jury. Federal intelligence agents have testified that Finnegan or his family received $6,193 from a St. Louis insurance firm specializing in selling insurance to firms and individuals in trouble with the collector's office.

Finnegan said the money was legal fees. Meanwhile Administrator Stuart Symington said the RFC's loans have been trying to take it for four days.

The prisoners said the Chinese replaced North Koreans on that sector two days ago. Carter said it was not known whether Chinese had taken over other parts of the Ridge, which the attacking Americans named after the North Korean premier.

U. S. Army intelligence officers described the Chinese as mostly "reluctant draftsmen" rather than professional soldiers. An Army communique reported attacking Allied forces in the eastern ridges were held to gains of a few hundred yards—or none at all.

Elsewhere along the front no significant action was reported in an early afternoon communique issued by the U. S. Eighth Army.

Allied troops in the west fought off a series of Chinese probing attacks made under cover of darkness. They began Monday night and continued up to dawn.

The U. S. First Cavalry Division attacked after daylight Tuesday north-northwest of Yongju. The foot troops drove 2,000 yards forward in the morning. The communique said they were heavily engaged by entrenched Chinese at noon.

negotiations with Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson have been "a very normal thing." Symington made that comment when asked at a news conference whether the Reconstruction Finance Corporation gave the matter any more attention than usual because Gabrielson personally negotiated a $18,500,000 loan for the Cathage-Hydrocol Corp., which Gabrielson heads.

Dean Rusk, Assistant Secretary of State, was quoted as telling Senators today he believes no top State Department official ever has advocated U. S. recognition of Red China.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) said Rusk made the statement at a closed meeting of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee which is considering President Truman's nomination of Ambassador Philip Jessup as a United Nations delegate.

The subcommittee called Rusk before it in an effort to reconcile a conflict between the sworn testimony of Jessup and Harold E. Stassen as to whether Jessup favored recognition of the Chinese Communist regime.

Those attending the meeting from Sanford were President Porter H. Lansing, and Mrs. Lansing, Mrs. Jimmy Ekers, Secretary, Robert Z. Johnson, President of the Seminole County Sportsman Association and Mrs. Johnson, and George A. Speer, Jr.

COURT RULING TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 9.—(AP)—Without comment, the Florida Supreme Court declined today to reconsider its decision that 25 alleged big time Miami gamblers were immune from prosecution on the bookkeeping records that were seized from them by the grand jury.

The denial of Attorney General Richard Ervin's petition for rehearing apparently blocks for once and all efforts to prosecute the defendants, including admitted members of the notorious S. and G. Bookmaking Syndicate, on charges raised by a grand jury last year.

THOMAS BRENNAN HUNTER, four day old son of Rev. and Mrs. W. Hal Hunter, the former Miss Esther Strange, died Friday morning in a Jacksonville hospital. The infant was born on Oct. 1.

Surviving in addition to his parents are his sister, Elaine Marie Hunter, and a brother, William Hal Hunter, Jr., maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Strange, Sanford; paternal grandmother, Mrs. N. T. Green, Zephyrhills. His paternal grandfather was the late Sheriff Arch Hunter of Live Oak.

Funeral services were held at 3:00 P. M. Saturday at the Live Oak Cemetery. Rev. Tom M. Collins, Pastor of the North Jacksonville Baptist Church, officiated at the graveside service.

Rev. Hunter is pastor of the Brentwood Baptist Church of Jacksonville.
