BASE FIGHT TAX BILL LONGWORTH

Republican Leaders
to Base Tax Fight
on Offer in Long-Compromise—Some Declare Defeat of Rates Inevitable—
Expected Up Today.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 28.—Debate in the Senate in the income tax bill was postponed today for a day to allow for a further discussion of the Senator Simmons of Illinois.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 28.—Senator Longworth today led the income tax rates
in the house—the Longworth compromise. This move is believed to be inevitable
after the defeat of the Mellon plan.

Senator Longworth today announced that he would bring up the income tax
rates in the house today.
He said that the Longworth compromise was the only one that would give the public a fair deal.

Telegram States Coolidge Trying to Give Shares Away

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 28.— President Coolidge, quoted in a telegram produced today in the Senate Muscle Shoals hearing
as having stated he was trying to "deliver" Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford. The telegram came from James Martin Miller
to the Dearborn Independent, Ford's newspaper, October 12, 1923. Offering the telegram to Chairman Norris he said while the house records showed Miller
had interviewed the President that day, Secretary Weeks was on the stand when it was offered and declared he did not know Miller.

PARTICIPATION IN WORLD COURT IS UNLIKELY, WALSH

(By The Associated Press)
BUFFALO, Apr. 28.—The proposal for American participation in the world court is as "dead
as Caesar," unless the country can be aroused to its support, Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, declared here Sunday in an address to the League of Women Voters.
"Unfortunately it is associated,
in its origin, with the league of nations," said Senator Walsh.
"Enough. Away with it."

Tumultuous Scenes Enacted At Capital When Women Clash

WASHINGTON, Apr. 28.—Tumultuous scenes were enacted in a hotel here Sunday when representatives of a number of women's organizations clashed with delegates to the convention of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Called together to protest against the meeting of the international league, the women's gathering was thrown open to discussion and representatives took the floor to express their views.
Shouted questions and answers intermingled with hisses soon filled the air, and it was with great difficulty that the protesters finally were able to adopt a resolution urging congress to investigate the plan for meeting.

Seventeen Year Old Boy Held for Murder

(By The Associated Press)
TAMPA, Apr. 28.—George Anat, alleged slayer of Cyril Herbert, 17, is held in the county jail today charged with murder preferred by the boy's mother. He had been released Saturday under a $2,500 bond pending the outcome of the inquest.

MELLON FINDS THAT CHARGES ARE BASELESS

Treasury Department Investigating Charges Made by Brewer Against the Bureau of Engraving Completes Work and Finds Charges as Made Contain
No Element of Fact

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 28.—Secretary Mellon advised President Coolidge Sunday night that the treasury had completed its inquiry into charges of irregularities in the bureau of engraving and had found them baseless.

The charges, made by Chas. B.
Brewer, department of justice attorney and which were accompanied by wholesale dismissals in the bureau by President Harding, contained no element of fact, Mr. Mellon asserted. He informed the chief executive that he was enabled as a result of the investigation to confirm the integrity of the government's securities.

Without foundation
"Before concluding, I am taking this opportunity to assure you that a most exhaustive investigation clearly establishes Mr. Brewer's charges to be without foundation.
There has been no
duplication or overstatement of the facts, but on the other hand, by investigating the Brewer charges and establishing the utter falsity thereof, the treasury is enabled unreservedly to confirm the integrity both of the branches of the treasury and of the public debt securities which have been engaged in the handling of public debt securities."

URGENT REVISION C. A. BYRD TO BE OF PRACTICES SUCCESSOR OF COTTON TRADE HENRY ROSEBRO

Federal Trade Commission Makes
Report On Cotton Industry
In South.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 28.—Revision of trading practices on the nation's cotton exchange is recommended by the Federal Trade Commission in a report on the cotton industry to be transmitted to the Senate Monday.

The report, made public Sunday night, in response to a resolution directing the commission to investigate alleged violations of the antitrust laws by cotton exchanges and cotton dealers, and the effect of such alleged violations on spot cotton prices.

Co-Operative Marketing Is Indorsed By The Florida Bankers Association

JACKSONVILLE, Apr. 28.— (Special to The Herald.)—That cooperative marketing of citrus fruits was unequivocally indorsed by the Florida Bankers Association in its annual convention at Orlando, became evident when the full text of the resolutions that were adopted reached this city yesterday. While the declaration on the subject recommended by the resolutions committee and unanimously approved by the convention, does not specifically mention the Florida Citrus Exchange, it is tantamount to an indorsement of that organization since there is no other co-operative body engaged in the marketing of Florida citrus products.

CITIZENS HEAR 8 CANDIDATES SPEAK AT PARK

Congressman Sears and Two Candidates for Governor
Make Addresses—Stuart
Speaks in Behalf of Jennings—Candidates for State's Attorney, Representative and Senator Speak.

Saturday's political meeting to which the candidates for the several state offices were invited, proved to be of devoid of interest
as it possibly could be. Only eight office seekers took advantage of the invitation of the county Democratic Executive Committee to be present and present their claims for office.

Those speaking included: Congressman W. J. Sears of Kissimmie who is seeking re-election;
Charles H. Spencer of Tampa, candidate for governor; Worth W.
Turnell of Miami, also a candidate for the same office; A. T.
Stuart of Tampa representing Frank E. Jennings, Millard B.
Smith of Titusville, candidate for state's attorney; Lewis O'Bryan, candidate for state senator; R. J.
Lyle and Mayor Forrest Lake, both candidates for state legislature.

The speaker declared he was in favor of a government for the white people, by the white people and for the white people. He stated that he was a "tax booster" and declared himself income taxes both state and federal.

Sanity Experts Picked To Examine Bandits

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Apr. 28.—Examination of the mental condition of Celia Cooney, bobbed hair bandit and her husband, Edward, is to be made by two commissions appointed by Judge Martin, Brooklyn Monday. The decision to appoint the commission to examine Cooney was reached last week when it was learned that his father had died in an insane asylum. It was decided to examine the woman when it was learned that a motion would probably be made to have a trial of guilt set aside to enable trial in defense of temporary insanity.

Mr. Upshaw, for the past few years a representative in the lower house from Georgia, and one of the most prominent southern Democrats of that body, has always been an ardent supporter of Mr.
McAdoo and was one of those responsible for the sweeping victory that he made in the recent primary when he underwrote was defeated by a four to one vote.

The Georgia congressman is noted for his oratorical abilities and it is possible that he will be called

when it meets here this week-end.
Certainly, it is said, that his influence will be felt in the organization of the Florida forces for the coming primary.

Following a conference here Saturday and Sunday between Mayor Forrest Lake and W. T. Schuman of Washington, second assistant secretary of the United States
Treasury under William Gibbs Mc-Adoo, the former announced Monday that everything now indicates that the big state convention of McAdoo friends and supporters called to convene here Friday and Saturday of this week, will be a great success.

Mr. Schuman, announced that Mr.
Schuman, secretary of the national headquarters handling the campaign of Mr. McAdoo, stated that several prominent party lead-

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY: HEAR THE WORD: O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the Lord. Jeremiah 22:29.

DON'T CROWD: Don't crowd, this world is big enough; For you as well as me; The doors of art are open wide—The realm of thought is free; Of all earth's places you are right To choose the best you can, Provided that you do not try To crowd some other man—

What matter though you scarce can count Your piles of golden ore; While he can hardly strive to keep Mount famine from his door, Of willing hands and honest hearts Alone should man be proud; Then give him all the room he needs And never try to crowd.

By fostering all that's bad; But give to every virtue room, The best that may be had; Be each day's record such a one That you may well be proud; Give each his right, give each his room And never try to crowd.

Headline reads "Brother Gets Diamond Back." If he got the only Diamond Back we know anything about, he got stung.

Down in Miami the citizens who have already registered are taking an hour off each day to telephone their friends and remind them to do the same thing.

Saturday's political meeting was outstanding for the lack of enthusiasm and interest which is usually characteristic of that kind of gathering.

When you meet a man these days who complains of a headache, don't think that it is necessarily a "brain" matter. He may have just encountered a candidate who endeavored to him how he should vote.

During the first three hours of Miami's drive for the community chest fund the other day, that city raised $49,002. The community chest seems to have made a hit in Miami.

There were two candidates who spoke Saturday who reminded their hearers that this is their first venture in politics. One made a splendid impression. The other did not.

Rejected suitor in New York shot the girl's mother and then turned the gun on himself. We are inclined to believe that most men, under the same circumstances, would get only "half shot."

The citizen who is always opposing any progressive step that is to be taken in behalf of his city, is generally so stingy that he wouldn't pay ten cents to see the statue of liberty do the ho-la-ho-la.

A hen at Fairburn, Georgia, hatched a brood of forty chickens. That might tend to indicate that everyone in that thriving little Georgia town must do things in a big way.

With celery and other farm products bringing such good prices and with the residents of this section in possession of ready money, business men ought to report collections good. This is a good year for paying bills and by doing so business conditions will be improved.

Things to worry about: it has been discovered that Howard Carter, the archaeologist who found King Tutankhamen's tomb, instead of being an American as originally announced, is an Englishman.

When you are casting your vote for delegates to the National Democratic Convention, you should give serious thought to Ed Lambright of Tampa, Florida cannot secure a worthy pair of delegates than William Jennings Bryan and Ed Lambright.

Representative Stuart of Hillsborough county speaking for Frank E. Jennings at Saturday's political gathering, was right when he declared that the campaign is between men and not issues. Further restricting the statement, we would say that it is between two men. Which one is your choice?

When you handed the hat-checker a dime or a quarter did you stop to think of the big earnings made in that line of business? New York spends $1,500,000 every year just for the privilege of getting its hat back from restaurant and hotel coat rooms. One restaurant on Broadway recently sold its hat-check room for $18,000 or $20 a day.

A Call To Laughter, "Mirth Day."

"Mirth Day" comes this week. Perhaps you never heard of "Mirth Day," but that is entirely excusable since "Mirth Day" begins its series on the first day of May, 1924. Long may it live!

The idea, it seems, originated with leaders of the American Child Health Association. Believing that the people of this country in their present state of business stress are living strained, unnatural lives, the Health Association has been fostering a movement which is to culminate—get that, culminate on May Day in a nation-wide call to laughter.

In many cities and rural communities the children, under the guidance of the national organization, are carrying on a crusade in behalf of a May Day free from business duties and worries. They are asking their elders to come out and play with them and—laugh.

The children, of course, do not understand the serious feature of this call to laughter. They think that it is just somebody's happy thought for a day of picnic and frolic. They do not know that the American Child Health Association has discovered that one of the grave causes of ill-health among American children is the repression under which so many children live.

Hearty laughter and merry play, the health workers find, are rarely found these days in American homes. Many people, they discover, have entirely discarded the practice of laughing. Even their smiles are mere slips of their faces. And the children of the average household are brought up to the tune of "Don't," with laughter and rumping held up as juvenile crime.

So May Day is to be a set time for laughter. The children are going to try to make their elders laugh out loud—a pitiful thing, when you stop to think about it. And yet Katherine D. Blake knew whereof she spoke when she wrote:

"Would ye learn the road to Laughtertown, O ye who have lost the way? Would ye have young heart though your hair be gray? Go learn from a little child each day, Go serve his wants and play his play, And catch the lilt of his laughter gay, And follow his dancing feet as they stray; For he knows the way to Laughtertown, O ye who have lost the way."

An Age of Great Endurance.

Physical strength and powers of endurance count for much. The boxer demonstrates his ability to take punishment and remain on his feet. The football player manages to stick until the last second of the game. Six day bicycle riders keep pushing their pedals day and night. In fact in all branches of athletics endurance is being sought.

The powers of automobiles, airplanes and mechanical devices to hold up under hard and unusual treatment are made great selling points by their salesmen. Only Wednesday The Herald carried a news story about an automobile making a non-stop record in Florida of 168 hours or covering over three thousand miles without a stop. Airplanes are now making flights across oceans and around the world to demonstrate their power of endurance. Machinery is being so constructed in this advanced age that it can withstand hard knocks and somehow continue to run smoothly almost indefinitely.

But in it all we don't hear much about the enduring powers of the lower forms of life. Animals and fishes have big records that have been made by necessity. It is well worth considering their great powers. As a rule those capable of withstanding great hardships, are like their human friends, killed by minor causes.

Elephants, a powerful animal, have died from gangrene in their feet. Whales, coming at the head of the list for longest surviving the evils which other fishes are heir to, have been found dead with dislocated jaws. The despised toad is supposedly not built to stand physical violence, but he seems to fatten on imprisonment. Toads which have been shut up in rocks for years have come to light from time to time, fat and well. And so we might go on, telling about the feats of endurance made by dogs and by animals with which perhaps we are more familiar.

This is an age of great endurance for man, machinery and beast.

A SUCCESS MIAMI HERALD

The wonderful success of the movement to raise funds for the Community Chest of Miami is another evidence of the efficiency of the Miami spirit.

When it was first proposed that the time had come for Miami to establish a Community Chest from which would be drawn the funds for the maintenance of the ten principal welfare organizations of the city there were some doubts expressed that the thing could be done.

But willing men and women conferred on the proposition and determined that it should be put over. The best organizers in the city were selected to head the movement and they selected the other helpers.

After the organization was fully completed the amount desired was stated and it was declared that the drive should be completed within three days from its beginning.

And Miami did it. With the wonderful organization of devoted workers every person within the city that could be reached was given an opportunity to give and very generally that opportunity was accepted. The amount raised within the time set, speaks for itself.

It will be much easier, hereafter, to fill the Community Chest. The first year is, always, the hardest, but when people learn by actual experience of the actual benefits of the chest, they will gladly give and promptly. Not only that, there will be an increase in the number of givers, each year.

Miami is to be congratulated on the fact that the drive was put over within the time specified and that it is now to have a real Community Chest.

MY FAVORITE STORIES By IRVIN S. COBB

This as it happens, is a true story. A few days before the holidays there met on Broadway two well-known citizens of New York. One was distinguished in business, the other, in certain circles, was equally famous as being the most persistent borrower of money—without security—on the entire eastern seaboard.

On one pretext or another he was forever getting sums, great or small, from friends or comparative "strangers," and never by any chance did he pay anybody back. He made a fairly comfortable living at it, too.

The business man was no intimate of his; their acquaintance was of the sketchiest sort, but of course, each knew the other by reputation. After a few casual remarks they separated.

That evening, at his residence, the business man found a letter sent out by special delivery. It was from the champion borrower. It read as follows: "My dear old man: Meeting you today so pleasantly revived memories of our former meetings. It stirred in my heart thoughts of the approaching Yuletide of the season, when there should be peace on earth and good-

As Brisbane Sees It

We Spend, Also Save. Why Except Laborers? Dignified Bobbed Hair. Old Men Crave Learning. Copyright, 1924

AMERICANS ARE saving money as never before, and prohibitionists will find comfort and ammunition in that.

Savings bank deposits increased last year one billion, one hundred and forty million, a good deal of money, and that's only a small part of it.

OTHER HUNDREDS of millions were invested in real estate, bonds, stocks, etc. In the world's history there is nothing like the way in which the American people both SPEND money and SAVE money.

Savings average thirty million dollars a day, about thirty cents a day for every man, woman and child—not bad.

YET YOU have pessimists predicting hard times and sensible business men actually frightened by their own talk about "a bad presidential year."

WASHINGTON predicts that postal employees will get an increase of $300 a year, "all except laborers."

WHY except the laborers? Their children eat as much, wear out as many shoes as others. The government can afford to pay its workers well, and should remember the child of a laborer may be the most important citizen of the future and, anyhow, should be well fed. Kents, too, post, worth ten million average human beings, was the son of a livery stable groom.

"TO BEND dignity to their bobbed head," English women wear fillets of green and gold, or little spikes, in Goddess of Liberty fashion. The real dignity of a bobbed head, is a well shaped skull. Nothing is more dignified than the symmetrical head of an intelligent woman, bobbed or not.

Eventually all women will cut their hair in such a fashion as to show the whole forehead, the ears, and the shape of the back of the head, but it will take time to get used to it.

THE GOVERNOR of Connecticut, cut, past fifty, will enter Yale University, to specialize in demagoguery and psychology, when his term ends and that is normal. At fifty men—really want knowledge and value it. In early youth they give exercise and excitement.

In school, we look them up in childhood, forcing knowledge into them by a painful process, when they ought to be out of doors. And when they are old we turn them out into the fields and let them grow up as they please.

REPUBLICANS FEAR a third party led by LaFollette, who craves dread the possibilities of an independent democratic candidate in the south, should Al Smith be nominated. Politicians cry: "What a terrible thing to have four candidates." How would they manage politics in Germany, where twenty-three separate parties will fight at the polls on May 1.

ONE OF the leaders, Hauser, is at least interesting. He wears only one small flopping garment and would go naked if the police would let him. He says that is what we all should do and he is working under the direction of Nietzsche, Robespierre and the founder of Christianity. He has a large following, because he promises a millennium. That following need surprise nobody. To gather a crowd you must appeal to one of three things—fanaticism, publicity or hate. If all three, so much the bigger crowd. That is why human intelligence often plays a small part in great movements.

GENTLEMEN WITH wide necks and narrow foreheads say women have no right to vote "until they give their can fight like men," given Pickens, going to school, slipped between platform and railroad track. Both her legs were cut off at the knee. To her father, who arrived a few minutes later, she said, "I am a free, conscious, and smiling, in spite of my pain, said: "Don't worry, father; it will be all right."

A little later a pint and a half of blood was taken from the girl's mother by transfusion, and her daughter, twice fed with her mother's blood, will probably recover.

There are many kinds of courage, and women have them all.

"WE ARE, indeed, fearfully and wonderfully made," and may we praise the Lord. What horrible things, MIGHT happen if our glands, as wild, as in the case of a little Russian boy four years old. He wears a full beard and has such abnormal power that he wrestles successfully with grown men and must be watched lest he strangle his playmates, having the brain of a child and no realization of power.

Doctors say the unfortunate boy has excessive development of various glands, especially the thyroid.

MARVELLOUSLY WE are balanced and we should be grateful. At the equator, temperature one hundred and forty, or the North Pole, fifty below zero, the temperature of your blood, remains the same, not a change of one degree, while outside temperatures changes two hundred degrees.

And the earth, that floating hot house, in which you live, sails through frightfully cold ether permanently at "absolutely zero," cold enough to freeze the very air.

IS WORTHY THE HONOR BRADENTOWN HERALD

Non, Edwin D. Lambright, associate editor of the Tampa Tribune, is a candidate for delegate to the national Democratic convention from this congressional district.

The Herald takes pleasure in endorsing Mr. Lambright for this honor. It carries no emoluments with it, and is purely honorary. He is a worthy gentleman, a Democrat of the best type, and worthy to represent this or any other district in any capacity whatsoever.

Mr. Lambright, like most newspaper men, is usually busy with his county, state and nation. He has done yeoman service for this state and for the congressional district. His editorials, always optimistic and sane, are builders. He is level-headed. For twenty-five years he has been identified with newspaper work in Tampa, and his efforts have been of the constructive type. His editorial page is the most widely read and circulated and the most influential in Florida—and not without cause.

Mr. Lambright states: "I shall work and vote for the choice of the Democrats of Florida as expressed in the presidential primary. And he will do just that."

AN ACT THAT NEVER FLIVVERS

EVERGLADES FIRES TAMPA TIMES

This is forest protection week, coincident with that announcement came the news that thirty sections of the Everglades were burning without any fire protection whatever. Now a fire in the Everglades is a very serious matter. Once beyond control it will smolder away for weeks and even months, burning out the muck until nothing is left but the barren sand. It completely destroys the value of the land. Nothing short of a heavy rain soaking the muck down to the sand will extinguish the flames. Why that section should be deprived of its fire-fighters at a critical time when big fires were racing over a large extent of territory, is one of those inexplicable things that sometimes are done by governments.

W. R. Burton, deputy fire warden of Dade county, gives this explanation in a Miami paper: "A week ago while the Glades were burning the planes belonging to Miami and the Tampa canal, I received notice from the chief fire warden at Moore Haven that the secretary of the state drainage board was holding up our March payroll for inspection, advising me not to put out any more fires without express orders from him (the warden) until further notice.

At this time there were three large fires burning between Miami and the Tampa canal; one just west of Hialeah, one south of the Pennsylvania Sugar Company property, and one west of the company's property. Rains stopped two of the fires to a great extent but the one west of the company is burning today over an area of thirty sections. Muck is burning in what is known as the Russian colony, owned by Mr. Saknosky. He came to me to solicit my aid in mending the flames. The best I could do was to furnish him the state's equipment and let him put out his own fire."

World history offers but one parallel to this supreme folly of holding up the payroll "for inspection," while three fires were eating their way into the heart of the richest section of Florida and depriving that section of its only defense against fire. That was when Nero was fiddling, while Rome was burning, and for that act he has received the execration of all mankind.

Perhaps the Everglades, not coming under the head of "forests," are not entitled to protection during this "week." It is evident that the planes belonging to Miami and the Tampa canal, I while great enterprises are in danger and honest colonists must do their own firefighting or see their possessions go up in smoke. It would seem that the responsibility, resting on the state to save these fertile lands for posterity would take precedence of any mere "inspection of the payroll." Of course frequent inspections of the payroll are all right in order that the barnacles that cling to them may be dropped, but we would suggest that they be carried on at some more opportune time and not when the Everglades are ablaze at several points.

WHERE OUR MONEY GOES MIAMI DAILY NEWS

Writing in the New York World, John F. Sinclair, a former banker and lecturer at the University of Michigan, presents some impressive figures bearing upon the outlay demanded of the taxpayers of this country for defense purposes. It requires no stretch of the imagination to appreciate the fact that this tremendous demand largely is responsible for the high taxes which prevail in the United States.

According to Sinclair, who takes his figures as a basis for his presentation of facts and figures, in 1915 and 1916 the so-called "protective functions" or military expenses of government acquired two-thirds of all government revenue. The so-called commercial function (also designated as primary expense) took thirty per cent and the development function (research, science and educational) only four per cent of all the money that the United States government spent.

During the protective function at up ninety-three per cent of all the expenditures of the nation, and the development function went down to one per cent. To reduce taxes to understandable figures, eighty-three cents out of every one dollar paid into the national treasury as taxes from 1917 to 1922 went into the World War, in some form or other. Over and above the normal military expense that the taxpayers of the nation must meet for years to come, unless the government finds a way to reduce this expense, must come the cost of the war to us. This cost in 1923 was $2,000,000,000 out of total expenditures involved in the struggle of $3,500,000,000.

These matters are all closely involved with discussions relating to taxation problems in this country. The continued and constantly increasing expense attached to military preparedness grows out of a condition which obtains here, in which the United States has refused to take a hand in bringing back confidence to a troubled world. Call it the league or an association or designate it by any other name, and still you have the foundation for an agreement among all first class and smaller powers whereby advantageous steps may be taken looking to a reduction of military necessities. What is true of America, so far as its high taxes growing out of the "protective function" demands equally is true of other nations. We have not been offered such an opportunity in a half century to reduce taxation through resort to less military expenditure, and yet we squibbles along in Washington, halting, hesitating, undecided, and apparently helpless. Unless we manage to see things as they are and approach them in this way, talk about material taxation reduction is a mere gesture among our public officials.

HE FOUND $3864

An Illinois man died recently, leaving a $3864 buried in the cellar of his residence. After long search, the executor found the money. He is now looking for securities thought to be part of the estate.

It was just chance that this money was discovered. And the inference was considerable. For example, if this $3864 had been deposited in a savings account a year it would have grown to almost $4,000; in two years to about $4,500. It pays you to keep your surplus at interest.

Mrs. Rosebro Honor Guest of Mrs. Owen

One of the prettiest events of the week's full program was the gathering of a few guests, Friday evening, at Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Owens' new home, in that, it was just undergone a thorough remodeling and redecorating.

Mrs. Owen entertained at bridge in honor of Mrs. H. R. Rosebro, who is soon to leave Sanford to the regret of her many friends here.

The living room was a scene of beauty with its display of baskets of sweet peas and gladioli. Two tables for bridge were laid, those numbered among the guests were Mrs. B. F. Whitner, Mrs. E. D. Mobley, Mrs. Deane Turner, Mrs. L. P. McCuller, Mrs. M. S. Wiggins, Miss Martha Fox, and Miss Emma Owens.

The highest score was won by Mrs. Wiggins, another lovely linen towel; low prize was captured by Mrs. Whitner, three embroidered kitchen glass towels; the cut prize was a consolation, a large box of crystallized orange peel.

The favors for the occasion were dainty little rose buds.

At a late hour, refreshments of toasted cheese, crackers, olives, coffee and ice cream and cake served.

Quite a little excitement was aroused for a few minutes Saturday afternoon when the oil stove in the kitchen of Frank Miller's home exploded. It is not known just what caused the explosion, as Mrs. Miller had just a few minutes before turned out the stove. Not a great deal of damage was done as the fire company responded immediately upon the call of fire, but the kitchen was well smoked up.

Mrs. J. C. Stewart, with her daughter, Miss Bessie Stewart and grandsons, Foster Myers, of Plymouth, were the guests yesterday of Mrs. Sarah Stewart at her home on Mellonville Avenue.

BILLY DAWSON'S FIGHT CARD FOR NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT WILL BE BEST YET OFFERED TO FIGHT FANS HERE

Young Wallace and Ben Brewer, Two Classy Welterweights Will Furnish Headline Attraction for Ring Followers of This Vicinity—Battling Myers and Mickey Dugan Will Be Seen in Semi-Final Mill.

What promises to be the fastest boxing card ever presented in central Florida is scheduled to be held here Friday night under the auspices of Colonel George W. Knight and Major H. E. Stevens, of the local national guard company. Matchmaker Billy Dawson has arranged a great program for the occasion, having secured Young Wallace of New Orleans, and Ben Brewer, champion of South America, to do battle in the headline ten round event of the evening.

Wallace and Brewer are both past masters at the boxing game and their records show they are not slow to mix matters and that both have punches that a mule would be proud of. Wallace has won decisions over such sterling battlers as Jimmy Finley who is rated as one of the south's leading welterweights, while Brewer has been knocking them over for a row of coconuts down below the line and continuing the operation upon his return to the land of prohibition. His first engagement upon returning to the United States resulted in his passing out of Mickey Shannon in one round and a short while later he disposed of Tommy Farrell in four rounds.

This scrap is bound to be one of the nearest and hardest fought ever seen in Sanford, as both scrappers are working hard to advance to the head of their class and get a whack at the championship now resting upon the brow of one Mickey Walker. A victory here is sure to mean much to both boys, and it is a moral cinch that they will be in there plugging away from start to finish. Battling Myers, the little Boston featherweight who made such a hit on his first appearance here a short while back, has again been secured to toss boxing gloves in the ring by Matchmaker Dawson. Myers will have as his opponent the day night one Mickey Dugan, from Bridgeport, who Dawson claims is one tough little scrapper and sure to give Myers a real battle. Both of these lads like to tear in and sock often and hard, so the fans can rest assured of a real, honest-to-goodness contest when the referee's son comes away on their eight round argument.

A pair of first class preliminaries is being arranged by Dawson. One of these will be the four round curtain raiser and the next a six round appetizer before the semi-final bout. Good scrappers are being secured for both of these bouts and the card as a whole promises to be well balanced and full of pep.

With all of the extraordinary improvements and beautifying features which are being added almost daily to the already remarkable accomplishments of the past two years, it is most interesting to hear the unstinted words of praise which Miami's bestow upon Coral Gables—and especially Miami's who a year ago were not exactly boosters of the beautiful suburb. We made many promises the first two years of Coral Gables development. They have been fulfilled a thousand fold. Now we are making no promises. We are doing things. Doing things on a scale never before attempted or dreamed of in property development in Florida. Doing them so magnificently, and beautifully, and with such far-seeing results that the greatest skeptic in the world cannot question the verdict of his own eyes.

But Coral Gables today is bigger and better than ever before. An investment at Coral Gables is better today than ever. The best advice in the world—is come to Coral Gables today and buy.

Theft of Rare Wines Sensation in Berlin

BERLIN, Apr. 28.—The theft recently of a lot of Rhine wine of the vintage of 1811 created more of a sensation and excitement than usually attend a diamond robbery or murder. The wine belonged to a wealthy family, which formerly owned its own vineyards, and had been handed down for generations.

REWARDS were offered for the return of even part of the wine and detectives assigned to the case took up the watch at antique shops.
