If You Don't Mind Cavities, Pucker Up

ATLANTA (UPI) — Bad news, lovers. An Emory University researcher says kissing may spread germs that cause cavities and gum disease.

Emory dental researcher Steven Offenbacher told the American Dental Association Tuesday the oral bacteria found in patients suffering from tooth decay and periodontal disease may be spread by kissing or touching.

Offenbacher said a study of 14 couples indicated a "statistically significant match" between the oral bacteria of spouses.

"A lot of these organisms die quite rapidly if exposed to air, so it is unlikely to be distributed by using the same drinking glass or the same toothbrush."

The organisms found in periodontal disease and tooth decay do not exist outside the mouth and Offenbacher said "that suggests some kind of direct contact may be involved."

"While the results of the study are by no means conclusive, they do suggest the possibility that bacteria linked to gum disease can be transferred by mouth to mouth contact," Offenbacher said.

Offenbacher also told the ADA that organisms found in tooth decay may also be spread from one person to another. He said researchers have found tooth decay is often clustered within families.

Offenbacher said bacteria within the mouth behave like dominoes — the presence of one of the 10 types prepares the mouth for the next.

Residents Applaud

County Move Protects Geneva Water Supply

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Geneva area residents packed Seminole County commission chamber Tuesday night and applauded loudly as the commissioners unanimously denied a developer's request to tap into the "bubble" of fresh water floating atop a sea of salt water underground in their community.

Commission Bill Kirchhoff further suggested, and gained his colleagues unanimous assent, that the commission refuse to consider any further requests to use water from the Geneva bubble to serve developments away from the natural reservoir, until more is known about the effects such use would have.

In another matter, a move to create a 20-acre industrial area in Lake Monroe, near the Seminole County Port Authority, was also unanimously turned down by the commission and that denial delighted adjacent property owners and the Bookertown community, which turned out en masse to oppose the proposal.

During the 2½ hour hearing on the Geneva request, Margaret Cammack argued for permission to drill two eight-inch wells into the Geneva bubble to provide water for a development of more than 300 homes she plans to build.

Kirchhoff, in whose district both developments were to occur, recommended denial in both instances.

On the Lake Monroe matter, Myra Stewart, representing herself and Dr. J.W. Hickman, asked for a change in zoning from agricultural to industrial for five acres she owns and 15 acres Hickman owns on the north side of Orange Boulevard, 335 west of the Port of Sanford.

She said she asked Hickman to join her petition for rezoning when a buyer wanted the two parcels of property for an industrial use. The deal fell through when the prospective buyer purchased another piece of property, Mrs. Stewart said.

A rezoning would allow the highest use of her property, Mrs. Stewart said, adding she cannot lease the property on which she now has a cricket farm because of its agricultural zoning. She also said that opponents of the rezoning had spread false stories that the property, after rezoning, would be the site of an incinerator.

Jean Metts, a property owner near Orange Avenue, said, however, that an incinerator could be built in the industrial zoning requested. She said 37 acres are available for industrial development within the Seminole County Port Authority which

Site Eyed For New Sanford Library

Sanford may get a new library. County officials are negotiating with Marna Hunt to purchase three lots and a vacated alleyway to the north of the Sanford Library at 230 E. First St. for the site of a new facility.

County Commissioners agreed to offer the owners $125,000 for the property.

If a new library is built, the present facility will be converted into administrative offices.

The appraised value of the property being considered for the new library site is $95,000 to $115,000, John Percy, director of county development and buildings, told the county commissioners Monday. Percy said, however, the owner is asking $150,000 for the tract.

The commission agreed, on recommendation of Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff, to offer $125,000 for the tract.

Commissioner Barbara Christensen asked if the county might condemn the tract and thus have to pay a lesser amount.

But County Attorney Nikki Clayton said condemning property for library use is not a usual use of the condemnation law and even if successful it would cost from $10,000 to $25,000 more than the $115,000 appraised value to go through the court system through condemnation. She said, under condemnation, the county would have to pay attorney fees for the owner as well as the appraised value of the property at the time of the court action.

Commissioner Bob Sturm said, in view of Sanford's downtown beautification project, he can foresee the county having to pay much more than $125,000 for a downtown site in the next three to four years.

Jean Rhein, county librarian, said the cost of expanding the library, a two-story facility, to immediately adjacent property given by the city of Sanford to the county, would cost more than the purchase of the additional property and the construction of a one-story facility there.

In addition, a two-story facility would require more employees, Ms. Rhein said.

Kirchhoff said the tract is directly behind the library. He also said the land given by the city would be developed into a garden where persons could sit and read out-of-doors, if they wished, and this would be in keeping with the downtown beautification now underway.

Ms. Rhein said the present library would be converted for office and administration space.

The Sanford City Commission in May gave the county the go-ahead to begin planning to build a new downtown library to replace the one housed in the 1918 vintage postoffice building.

The county at the time sought assurance that if it did opt for a new building, it wouldn't lose the old facility and could plan to make use of it for library administrative offices.

Sanford city commissioners agreed, but stipulated that if the county at any time ceases to provide a downtown Sanford library, the city will take back the old building.

The city commissioners voted unanimously to approve a change in the deed restriction conveyed to the county by the city the clause requiring that the property revert to the city if it were not used as a library.

Battle Now Within For Seminole Firefighter

By Rick Brunson
Herald Staff Writer

On Sept. 12 firefighter Frank Kucera battled a brush fire on a wooded lot near Myrtle Avenue. It was an ordinary call for the 22-year-old Kucera and his colleagues from County Fire Station 35. But the incident was to trigger an emotional bombshell for the young firefighter and his family.

While fighting the blaze, Kucera had a hard time breathing, which is not unusual considering the area was filled with smoke. He had such difficulty that his superiors sent him to a doctor the next day. The doctor told him he believed Kucera had a heart murmur.

After further tests a week later, however, the diagnosis grew ominously worse. Kucera had cancer.

After examining X-rays, doctors told him a massive, rapidly-growing tumor was entangled around his heart and lungs.

"They thought my heart had enlarged," Kucera said. "Actually, it was the tumor next to my heart that was so large."

His parents, Frank and Mary Kucera, of 221 Spanish Oak Trail, Longwood, had returned from a vacation in New York the same day their son got word of his condition.

"I hadn't gotten our luggage unpacked when we went to the hospital," Mrs. Kucera said.

Doctors at Florida Hospital operated on Kucera immediately, excising for analysis a sample of the spindly tumor.

Kucera said he was told the cancer was "inoperable," and that he would have to start radiation and chemotherapy treatments right away.

Mrs. Kucera said the cause of her son's cancer is undetermined.

As a firefighter, Kucera is often exposed to cancer-causing fumes and materials, according to his battalion chief Joseph Walters.

"There are all kinds of carcinogenic materials out there where we are working that you can be exposed to," he said.

And Kucera said he has fought many chemical fires where suspected cancer-causing agents were present.

But he and his mother said the doctors assured them the cancer was not caused by such exposure. And Walters, citing Kucera's youth and that it takes a long time for cancer to develop, said the chances were

Reagan Letter Likens Kennedy To Marx, Hitler

Walter Mondale, trying to stop President Reagan from invoking Democratic heroes such as John Kennedy, unveiled a 1960 letter Reagan wrote to Richard Nixon that likened Kennedy's policies to those of Karl Marx and Adolf Hitler.

In response, Reagan conceded Tuesday that the 24-year-old letter was accurate but said he was "pleasantly surprised" at Kennedy's "toughness" as the 35th president.

Mondale released the letter at an enthusiastic rally of 10,000 students at the University of Michigan and called on Reagan to stop quoting Kennedy.

"We've had this thing all during the campaign," Mondale said. "He would have the American people believe he was John Kennedy's best friend. This kind of expression reminds the American people of who Ronald Reagan is."

The letter, signed "Ronnie Reagan," was sent to Nixon during the 1960 Nixon-Kennedy campaign — when Reagan headed a "Democrats for Nixon" group.

Mondale aides said the campaign received a tip about the two-page letter from a handwriting analyst who found it while researching Nixon's pre-presidential papers in the Los Angeles Federal Archives and Records Center.

The letter said, in part: "One last thought — shouldn't some one tag Mr. Kennedy's bold new imaginative program with its proper age? Under the touselled boyish haircut it is still old Karl Marx — first launched a century ago. There is nothing new in the idea of a government being Big Brother to us all. Hitler called his 'state socialism' and way before him it 'was benevolent monarchy.'" —UPI

EPA Scraps Planned Radiation Regulations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Citing what was termed a "trivial" increased risk of cancer, the Environmental Protection Agency Tuesday threw out plans to regulate airborne radiation emitted from facilities such as nuclear weapons plants.

On the last day it could act under a federal court order, the agency withdrew proposed regulations for radionuclide emissions from phosphorus plants, Energy Department facilities, Nuclear Regulatory Commission licensed facilities, other federal facilities and underground uranium mines.

The decision, EPA officials said, was based on a determination that there currently is an "ample margin of safety" to protect the public near the facilities from cancer.

The Sierra Club disagreed, however, and said it would appeal the decision to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Pedal The Friendly Skies...

BOSTON (UPI) — Engineering students at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who designed and flew a pedal-powered airplane at a world record 21 mph, have been awarded $24,000 for their achievement by the British Royal Aeronautical Society.

The aluminum and Mylar plane, which took more than 6,000 hours and $7,000 to build, flew around a 1,500-meter triangle at Hanscom Field, an Air Force base in Bedford, Mass., in 2 minutes, 49 seconds during a test flight May 11.

A group of MIT students will travel to London to accept the society's prize from a member of Britain's royal family on Dec. 4.

The society offered a $24,000 prize to the first group to design, build and fly the world's fastest pedal-powered plane.

Teams from Germany and California have since claimed pedal-powered flights at least 5 percent faster than the MIT record and have applied for additional $7,000 prizes offered by the society.

CBS Didn't Contact Key Witness

NEW YORK (UPI) — A key officer in Vietnam, who was in a position to know how enemy troop strength estimates were being dealt with, says CBS never asked him whether Gen. William Westmoreland was juggling figures released to the public.

Gen. Phillip Davidson, Westmoreland's chief of intelligence just before the Viet Cong Tet offensive, testified Tuesday in the third week of Westmoreland's $120 million libel suit against the television network.

Davidson said he was never contacted by CBS for the documentary, "The Uncounted Enemy: A Vietnam Deception." The 1982 documentary alleged that Westmoreland intentionally underestimated enemy troop strength in reports to President Johnson and the public just before Tet in January 1968.

19 Americans Injured In Philippines Hotel Fire

BAGUIO, Philippines (UPI) — The search for more bodies continued today at a popular resort hotel swept by a fire that killed at least eight people — including Americans in town for the anniversary of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's 1944 return to the Philippines.

The blaze broke out Tuesday night at the wood-frame Pines Hotel and raged for nine hours. Eight guests were trapped on the hotel roof nearly all night until a U.S. Air Force helicopter from Clark Air Base hoisted them to safety today.

Officials said at least eight people were killed and 51 others were injured. They said at least 29 people were hospitalized — 19 of them Americans.

Firefighters put out the blaze around 8:30 a.m. but said they feared more bodies might be trapped in the ruins of the four-story hillside hotel.

Officials said the exact cause of the blaze has not been determined.

Free Course For Diabetics To Be Offered By Hospital

Attitude and balance maintained in the life of a diabetic are two important factors in the control of the disease which will be explored in "Diabetes Series: Update" being sponsored by Central Florida Regional Hospital starting Thursday.

The free classes are to be held 2:30-4 p.m. every Thursday in the hospital classroom through December 6, except Thanksgiving.

Diabetes mellitus, a chronic illness, can be controlled by the individual. Therefore, both attitude and balance between diet, weight and exercise is vital in keeping control of one's blood sugar level.

Yet proper treatment, which can be learned in this series, can help the diabetic feel good, work, be normally active and live longer.

Preregistration is encouraged and can be obtained by calling CFRH's Nursing Education office at 321-4500, ext. 607.

Consumer Prices Up Rise Means Higher Social Security Benefits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumer prices rose a modest 0.4 percent in September, which will give 37 million people on Social Security a 3.5 percent increase in benefits next year, the government said today.

The inflation figure — the last issued before the Nov. 6 election — is also the last needed to set the new tax indexing rate for 1985. The exact figures were to be announced later today by the White House.

Tax indexing, a benefit scheduled to take effect in January, is designed to keep people from paying higher taxes simply because of inflation.

The personal exemption taxpayers are allowed also will rise, probably from $1,000 to $1,040.

The report contained no surprises. It showed a moderate 4.2 percent annual inflation rate since the beginning of the year, in line with the relatively stable price trend of the last three years.

Gasoline prices rose 1.1 percent in September after three previous months of declines.

But fuel costs are expected to change little the rest of the year and may even fall if price cuts in the international oil market are sustained.

Food prices dropped 0.1 percent, the first decline since May. Prices were down for beef and pork and egg prices dropped for the fifth month.

Tuition costs increased 0.8 percent.

The Consumer Price Index for September is 314.5, equivalent to a cost of $3.145 for the government's sample "market basket" of goods and services that cost $1,000 in 1967.

Social Security recipients were assured of some increase next year by Congress's vote to maintain a cost of living adjustment even if inflation fell below 3 percent.

As it turned out, inflation was strong enough to trigger the cost of living adjustment anyway. Social Security recipients will get a 3.5 percent raise in January's checks, based on the increase in inflation between the third quarter this year and the third quarter of 1983.

The increase, in turn, triggers an expansion in the wage base on which Social Security taxes are withheld, from $37,800 to $39,600. Health and Human Services Department Secretary Margaret Heckler announced today.

The wage base expanded by a record $3,300 last year.

Only one of the seven major categories of prices measured in the report, transportation, showed any acceleration over August. It moved from a zero reading of no change to an increase of 0.5 percent on the strength of the gasoline price rise and higher used car prices.

The 0.1 percent decline in food prices was helped by price breaks for vegetables and processed fruits. But fresh fruit was more expensive and prices for milk and other dairy products rose 0.9 percent, the most since the end of 1980.

Housing costs increased 0.4 percent, less than August's 0.6 percent, but with smaller increases in the cost of gas and electricity the major factor. Fuel oil prices dropped 0.3 percent, the fourth month of decline.

Clothing prices were up 0.6 percent, under the hefty 0.9 percent increase in August when back-to-school markups were higher than usual.

Medical care costs went up 0.3 percent and entertainment costs rose 0.4 percent.

A miscellaneous category was up 0.4 percent.

Man Gets 30 Months For Fondling Girl

A Sanford man who pleaded guilty to a lewd and lascivious assault on an 11-year-old girl has been sentenced to 30 months in prison.

William David Johnson, 41, of 510 W. 3rd St., received the sentence Tuesday from Seminole Circuit Court Judge Domick J. Salfi who imposed more than the one year or less in the county jail recommended by state sentencing guidelines.

Salfi said he handed down the harsher penalty because Johnson had not presented a sentencing plan that assured him Johnson would not be before him again for a similar crime.

Salfi cited Johnson's misdemeanor criminal record that included a 1973 sexual offense. Salfi also noted the public's increased awareness of the type of crime in which Johnson was involved, also strongly recommended Johnson participate in the state's mentally disordered sex offender program while in prison.

Johnson, who said he was sorry for what he had done and felt ashamed, was arrested Jan. 18 by Sanford police on two counts of lewd and lascivious assault involving fondling.

On July 5, Johnson pleaded guilty to allowing the girl to fondle him. A charge he fondled the girl was dropped after the guilty plea.

He could have received up to 15 years under state statutes for the second-degree felony.

...How Does Your Garden Grow?

It has been some time since we had any significant rainfall in Central Florida, so 4-year-old Christa Thomas, daughter of Pat and Karen Thomas of Winter Park, figured if Mother Nature wasn't going to do the watering, she had better drag out the hose and do it herself. Christa was a little generous with the wet stuff, so the plants in front of her house should be OK for a while.

"very slim" that his was due to something he contacted on the job.

Since learning he has cancer, Kucera has not worked. He takes his treatments and stays at home. Though often nauseous from the therapy, Kucera manages to stay high-spirited.

He said he "hardly knows the cancer is there," and is only disgruntled about the prospect of losing his thick crop of brown hair — a side effect of the treatments.

"The only thing that will really affect me is my hair — I'm suppose to lose all of that."

His mother said the treatments keep him sluggish, restricting his normally busy lifestyle.

In addition to being a firefighter for 4 1/2 years, Kucera serves as a reserve officer on the Longwood police force.

"Everyday he used to be out washing and waxing his car just like his fire trucks," Mrs. Kucera said. "He wants to go back to work so bad."

Apparently, his fellow firefighters want him back just as bad.

Mrs. Kucera said he has been constantly surrounded and supported by firefighters from all over the county. From the outset of his ordeal, they hovered around the hospital and continue to visit him regularly.

"I don't think we could have made it without them. They were there every day. They even sneaked in when they weren't suppose to," she said.

Ronald Holcomb, an Altamonte Springs firefighter, swiftly organized a bowling tournament which netted $3,000 for Kucera's medical expenses.

About 100 bowlers participated in the Oct. 13-14 tournament, Holcomb said.

"It's a tough break for the guy," he said of Kucera, whom he worked with for three years. "We just wanted to show him that there are people who care."

Walters, Kucera's boss, said "Most everybody on his shift is pulling for him and hope he's back on his shift as soon as possible."

Kucera remains a bit bewildered by all the attention he's getting. He has concentrated on putting on 25 pounds he lost after his first treatment and is preparing for what he sees as a four-month bout with the disease.

After that, he expects to be back on the job as usual — driving a 6,000-gallon tanker truck and working as a policeman.

Meanwhile, his hope is best exemplified by a project he has taken on — helicopter flying lessons.

"I figure the county will get a helicopter one day — I hope. And when it does, I'll be there waiting."

she called a "good neighbor."

"So many should not have to suffer for the monetary gain of so few," Mrs. Metts said.

Marcel Thompson, president of the Bookertown Community Improvement Association, said the rezoning could also permit a chemical storage dump and no one has been told what kind of use the property would be put to if rezoned and sold.

"It's all right to make a dollar if it doesn't hurt someone," he said, suggesting access roads into Bookertown from the Lake Monroe area are already inadequate and industrial development nearby would worsen the situation.

Kirchhoff said it would be premature to allow further expansion of industry in the neighborhood until adequate roads and drainage are assured.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Cammack took her case to the county commission after the county's Board of Adjustment denied her request because no site plan for the water system property was presented and not enough information was available, a report from that board said.

She was asking for a special exception to permit construction of a public water system on a parcel of land on the north side of state Road 46, one mile east of SR 426.

The St. Johns River Water Management District had given its consent.

And Duke Woodson, head of the water management district's regulatory department and Dr. Larry Lee, chief hydrologist working with Woodson, said Mrs. Cammack's wells would have little effect on the Geneva bubble, and that there has been no measurable change in the quality of the bubble since 1960.

They said the bubble is replenished by about 5 million gallons of rainwater per day during times of drought and by more than 14 million at other times.

Lee said the bubble, shaped like a dish over a 26-mile area, floats atop a sea of saltwater underground. He said considering Mrs. Cammack's request and other wells dipping into the bubble now, about 1.2 million gallons of water daily would be used.

Former County Commissioner Edward Yarborough, a large property owner in Geneva, cautioned the commission against permitting overdevelopment over the bubble. He said if he and his sister developed all their property into single family homes, there would be nothing left in the bubble.

Nursery Owner Gets Tree Burning Stopped

MIAMI (UPI) — Dade County nursery owner Edward Tietig has received a temporary reprieve from orders to burn nearly $9,000 worth of citrus trees he brought from a Polk County grove infected with deadly citrus canker.

So far, no traces of the disease have been found in Dade County, but Tietig purchased the trees from Ward's nursery in Polk County, the site of the discovery of the first canker outbreak on Aug. 24.

Tietig, 58, owner of Eureka Field Nurseries Inc., which sells mostly ornamental shrubbery, sought an injunction to keep state agriculture workers from destroying the 2,118 orange and grapefruit trees he bought from Ward's.

State officials said they had to destroy the trees to stop the spread of canker.

"The state Department of Agriculture imposed a quarantine of my citrus trees and all trees within 20 feet of them," Tietig, who is also an attorney, said. "Then they came in and tested in the second week of September and found no infestation. Now, they want to burn anyway."

Diabetes 'Cure' To Be Tested

MIAMI (UPI) — A drug scientists hope will reverse early diabetes by inducing victims to produce their own natural insulin is scheduled to undergo tests next week by researchers at the University of Miami.

School researchers said Tuesday they will start the program by enrolling 100 diabetics for the study. Half the group will be given the drug Cyclosporine and the other half an inert substance, or placebo.

The researchers hope that Cyclosporine will enable the pancreas, the organ that produces insulin, to function normally, and free diabetics from the need to take daily doses of insulin.

Some doctors say the treatment could virtually cure diabetes humans, but others have reported that Cyclosporine may have severe side effects.

A report in the September issue of the New England Journal of Medicine, for example, said Cyclosporine cut kidney function by half in 17 heart transplant patients.

'Beating Acceptable For Blacks'

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — A judge rejected an attorney's argument that using an electrical cord to punish children is historically acceptable in the black community.

The attorney, Johnny McCray Jr., argued Monday that his client, Donnell Rogers Tillman, acted without malice and within accepted cultural limits when he struck his 15-year-old daughter on two occasions with a stick and an electrical cord.

The judge strenuously rejected McCray's argument, and forbade him to present the argument to the jury at Tillman's trial on two charges of child abuse, scheduled to begin Nov. 5.

"The defense seeks to dilute the 'malicious' aspect of the alleged punishment by showing that it is common for blacks to inflict such beatings, thereby setting up a different standard for members of this cultural group than applied to all citizens of this country," State Attorney Kathleen Kearney argued during the hearing.

Kiddie Poll: Reagan Will Win Election By Landslide

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Weekly Reader poll, a survey of school children that has picked political winners for 28 consecutive years, shows President Reagan winning the presidential race nearly 2-to-1 over Walter Mondale.

The poll taken by the magazine, which questioned nearly 1 million children in schools across the country, showed Reagan with 64 percent of the vote to Mondale's 33 percent. Three percent of the students chose "others," ranging from Geraldine Ferraro, George Bush, Jesse Jackson and Gary Hart to George Washington and Snoopy.

Dr. Terry Borton, editor of Weekly Reader, a national school newspaper, said the poll has proven correct in all of the presidential elections in the past 28 years.

As an example, Borton said, in the 1972 race between Richard Nixon and George McGovern students gave Nixon every state but Massachusetts. Nixon won every state but Massachusetts.

Couple Wants Commission Turndown Put In Writing

A Longwood couple has filed suit asking that the Seminole County Commission be forced to put an order denying them a zoning variance into writing so they can appeal the decision in court.

Gene and Dorothy Kowch, of 655 Markham Woods Road, who have been battling the commission for a variance since April, filed the suit last week.

The 177-page lawsuit stems from the couple's plans to house four ambulatory people and maintain one staff member to care for them in their home.

A variance to zoning regulations was needed to permit what county officials described as a nursing home in a residential community.

On Nov. 28, 1983, the Seminole County Board of Adjustment agreed to the Kowch's proposal providing there was no external change to their home. But after receiving complaints from the Kowch's neighbors, the board of commissioners verbally turned down the variance on April 10.

A month later, the Kowchs asked that the denial be reviewed in court. The commission, however, said the request for judicial review was submitted one day beyond the 30-day period for such requests and asked the request for the formal order be quashed.

On Sept. 17, Seminole Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor agreed with the county and denied the Kowch's request.

While the Kowchs state in the suit their day-late filing was untimely, they say the 30-day period to deny review of a county commission order begins after the order is put into written form and filed with the county clerk, not 30 days after the verbal denial is given.

They state that under Florida law, they have the right to have a written denial by the commission reviewed and they ask the court to force the commission to file such a denial.

The case has been assigned to Circuit Judge Dominick Salli, but no trial date has been set.

Our Age Of Treason

The ruthless realm of international espionage came much closer recently with the arrest of Richard Miller, an FBI agent for more than 20 years.

Mr. Miller, an official in the bureau's counterintelligence section, is charged with selling highly sensitive intelligence information to the Soviet Union. He was personally involved with a woman Russian emigre in Los Angeles who is reportedly a major in the Soviet KGB. He is alleged to have transmitted details of how the FBI and U.S. intelligence operate.

This first known Soviet penetration of the FBI arouses national concern about the agency's morale and discipline. The discovery of numerous secret FBI documents in Mr. Miller's home suggests incredible laxity in the operation of the Los Angeles office.

The unavoidable, chilling question now is this: If the heretofore inviolate FBI can be pillaged of its highest secrets in this way by Soviet guile, is any U.S. secret safe? Not very, is the only answer we can infer from what is happening.

On the same day the FBI espionage case broke on the West Coast, Samuel Morison, a member of a distinguished American family, was charged in Washington, D.C., with selling secret U.S. satellite photos of a Soviet aircraft carrier under construction. Mr. Morison, the grandson of the noted author and historian Samuel Elliot Morison, was able to compromise U.S. satellite capabilities because he held a top-secret government position.

Only last month, a Navy petty officer and his nephew and two other men were indicted on charges of trying to sell to Soviet agents top-secret Navy code cards used to unscramble messages to fleet units around the world.

Last May, an ex-Marine was sentenced to life in prison for selling the Soviet Union more than 100 top-secret documents detailing U.S. missile and nuclear defense capabilities that could impair the nation's defense program into the 21st century. He obtained this information from his wife who worked for an advanced technology firm in the Silicon Valley.

And in April, a former Army counterintelligence specialist was arrested for allegedly selling the identities of six U.S. double agents to the Soviet Union and compromising as many as 24 others.

All of this in 1984, mind you, and no one knows how much additional espionage escaped detection. Even worse, this year is not much different from other recent years that saw a series of espionage cases, equally serious, involving a national sellout by American citizens.

Why has this century, and particularly our own time, been so filled with treason as author Rebecca West forewarned in her book, "The Meaning of Treason." The reasons are complex. They not so much involve hatred of the United States and love of the Soviet Union as was the case of native spies beguiled by communism during the 1930s. An element common to most of the espionage cases in our time is simply greed and the need for money.

This is the cynical, sinister harvest of an amoral age. It is the consequence of the treasonous climate abounding in this country a few years ago when mobs burned the American flag and paraded under communist banners. It is the consequence of well-known American personalities such as Jane Fonda trucking with a wartime enemy.

Thus it is that American citizens in possession of valuable secrets have become increasingly willing to betray their country for the right price, which the Soviet Union is ever willing to pay.

In her book, author West accurately diagnosed, "the new age of treason." Home-grown spies nowadays, she advised, tend to be, "people who have no ideological interests at all but who have rejected all moral taboos and will pursue any prohibited activity, provided it brings them sufficient reward in money, power or security." Never mind that the entire Free World and future generations are jeopardized or that human lives are immediately sacrificed.

Coming Up Next: A Crate Of Champagne

WASHINGTON (UPI) — It being my beholden duty to keep readers informed about the latest cultural trends from the Continent, it is now my beholden duty to report that it has become possible to buy wine in a box.

Yes, folks, the wonderful technology that brought you non-alcoholic fruit juices in rectangular containers this month is beginning to produce fermented grape squeezings the same packages.

According to the Monsieur Henri company, the importer who is introducing the concept in this country, some 700,000 boxes are scheduled to occupy shelf space in places, especially supermarkets, where wine is sold.

No more wine bottles with funny-shaped necks taking up unnecessary space in the fridge. According to a Monsieur Henri press release, a one-liter box, which is about 6 inches high, "fits easily in the refrigerator door and in kitchen cabinets."

That, I might add, covers all the spots I can think of where surplus wine might be stored.

I have been aware right along that some connoisseurs buy wine by the case. Now, for the first time, it will be possible for us poor slob to bring home a six-pack.

A box of wine, which sort of unfolds at the top, also does away with the need for corkscrews. This type of packaging seems to have everything a wine bibber might need except straws.

Why bother with glasses? During dinner, you and your guests can siphon the beverage from a communal box. Silver straws can be provided, if you want to get fancy.

The only etiquette problem I can foresee might arise from setting the table. All guests should be provided with individual straws, of course, but should they go inside or outside the salad forks? The straws I mean, not the guests.

Be warned, however. If the boxed wine idea catches on in this country — and it is described as already an "unqualified hit" in Europe — it probably will only be a question of time before varietal critics start making rules.

Red boxes, for instance, should only be served with beef and other red meat; white boxes with fish and poultry. White boxes should be chilled and red boxes served at room temperature. And so on.

A good rule of thumb might be to store white boxes in the refrigerator door and red boxes in the kitchen cabinet.

When dining out, you should be able to order a box of house wine. If chilling is necessary, the waiter, rather than putting a wine bucket by your table, can put ice cubes in the ash trays.

"It's a pretentious little box, but I admire its spunk," a critic might write.

While carried away, I will go so far as to predict that eventually gin, vodka rum and whiskey bottles also will be replaced by little boxes. Even miniatures.

Already some distillers are packaging booze in plastic containers. But, so far, these pliable receptacles have been bottle-shaped. Wait until cocktails become available in unbreakable cartons.

Then you can stop by your friendly liquor store and pick up a six-pack of martinis. With a box of olives to go.

The New Political Struggle

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (NEA) — For Jane Wells-Schooley, the good news is that she is one of the few female candidates who has a very real chance to unseat an incumbent member of the House or Senate this year.

The bad news is that attaining near-parity with her male opponent has been an agonizing process which has forced her to endure derision and innuendo about what is euphemistically called her "sexual preference."

Ms. Wells-Schooley's bitter-sweet experience is being duplicated in hundreds of electoral contests throughout the country in which women are struggling to challenge the long-standing dominance of men.

In many cases, female political aspirants of both major parties find themselves selected to run against incumbents who are so well-entrenched that no male politician is willing to challenge them.

For example, the number of female politicians in this year's Senate contests is superficially impressive — 10 major party nominees in 33 races — but most of those campaigns involve "kamikaze miselons" against male incumbents considered difficult if not impossible to defeat.

Only one of those 10 female contenders is virtually certain to win her race — Sen. Nancy Landon Kassebaum, R-Kans., one of the two women already in the Senate and the only one whose term expires this year.

The others, all facing incumbent males, include Republicans in New Jersey, Nebraska and Rhode Island and Democrats in Minnesota, Colorado, Virginia, New Mexico, Oregon and Maine.

There currently are 22 women in the House but two of those seats already have been lost to men. Rep. Katie Hall, D-Ind., was defeated in a primary, and Rep. Geraldine A. Ferraro, D-N.Y., had to give up her House seat when she accepted her party's vice presidential nomination. The major party candidates vying to succeed Ms. Hall and Ms. Ferraro are men.

There are 85 female candidates in this year's 435 House races, but only a few non-incumbents are expected to emerge victorious.

CIA Covering Firm's Tracks

WASHINGTON — The CIA is engaged in a desperate effort to cover the tracks that lead from the spy agency directly to a Honolulu-based investment company now under federal and state investigation.

The company has been accused of bilking investors of $22 million since 1978.

My associates Indy Badhwar and Dale Van Atta have been investigating the scandal. Sealed testimony charges that the CIA — with the knowledge of the Justice Department, which is now prosecuting the investment company's executives — "has been hiding persons and changing the identity of other persons" who could give embarrassing testimony in the upcoming trial.

The damage-control operation is aimed at limiting the CIA's liabilities — financial and political — that could come from its clandestine involvement with the investment firm of Bishop, Baldwin, Rewald, Dillingham & Wong. The company's assets were frozen last year, and it has been placed under trusteeship

Bombing South Africa

A terrorist group bombed the South Africa offices on Park Avenue in New York recently, and other bombs have been going off in the offices of companies doing business with the pariah nation. The anti-South Africa movement on the campuses remains active, and Walter Mondale has been vociferous in his denunciation of the apartheid regime.

There is no doubt whatsoever that apartheid is a repellent system, under which no American would willingly live. But what can be done? Probably nothing, or next to nothing.

The course of events in neighboring Rhodesia renders any movement toward one-man one-vote in South Africa a virtual impossibility.

All enlightened, liberal opinion in Europe and America detested the white minority regime of Ian Smith, but under the Marxist-tribal dictatorship of Robert Mugabe the former Rhodesia, now called Zimbabwe, has become a one-party Marxist state complete with a politburo and the elimination of political dissent. The tribal minority of Zulus, led by Joshua Nkomo, has been politically crushed. The whites who remain in the country have no political power.

Things might have been different in Rhodesia-Zimbabwe had Bishop Abel Muzorewa won the last election that will probably ever be held in that country. Muzorewa was offering political guarantees to the whites that would have safeguarded their position in the economy and the society. Muzorewa's position here was indeed in the best interest of a prosperous Rhodesia. But Mugabe swept him aside in a landslide based on tribal voting: one man, one vote, once.

No reasonable white South African can be expected to admire that political model. And, indeed, the white South Africans can afford to be contemptuous of it.

Since 1978, when the current prime minister, P.W. Botha, came to power, the equation of forces in southern Africa has changed dramatically. South Africa has reduced its dependency upon imported armaments from 70 percent in 1968 to a mere 15 percent in 1982, and the curve of military self-sufficiency is down. In any case, South Africa has been able to buy weapons from such nations as France and Israel, who care much more for hard cash than for United Nations boycotts.

During this period, South African economic and military power have made it preeminent in southern Africa, and neighboring black African regimes are accommodating themselves to that fact, with South African diplomats brokering deals all around their periphery, Angola and Mozambique are coming to terms. Mugabe's Zimbabwe regime is a South African economic dependency.

SCIENCE WORLD

On The Skies Of November

By William Harwood
UPI Science Writer

Crisp November evenings herald the winter panoply of deep space splendor and offer a fine opportunity for armchair astronomers to track Jupiter, Mars and Venus in the southwest sky at dusk.

Ringed Saturn vanishes behind the sun in November but observers with binoculars or small telescopes might get a glimpse of distant Neptune near the moon at the end of the month.

Venus, the most brilliant object in the sky after the sun and moon, can be seen shining like a beacon just above the western horizon at dusk.

Slightly smaller than Earth and second planet from the sun, Venus moves east through the constellation Sagittarius this month and passes 3 degrees south of Neptune on Nov. 13. Venus will be 2 degrees south of Jupiter on Nov. 24.

Mercury, 33 times dimmer than Venus this month and frequently lost in the glare of the sun, may be visible at the end of November low in the southwest sky after sunset.

The tiny planet Venus's elongation, or separation from the sun as viewed from Earth, of 22 degrees on Nov. 25, but viewing will not be favorable.

On Nov. 12, Mercury passes just 2 degrees north of the red star Antares in the constellation Scorpius.

Reddish Mars moves from Sagittarius into Capricorn in November and can be seen low in the southern sky at dusk, setting a few hours later. Jupiter appears low in the south-southwest at sunset.

Jupiter, Mars and Venus outline any other stars in the southwest sky right at dusk and are easy to pick out. But Saturn moves into conjunction, or behind the sun as viewed from Earth, on Nov. 11 and is not visible.

Observers with binoculars or a small telescope will have a relatively easy time finding elusive Neptune toward the end of the month. The planet will be located just 4 degrees above the 3-day-old moon on Nov. 25.

Because of the eccentric orbit of Pluto, in the constellation Virgo this month, Neptune has had the honor of being the most distant planet from the sun since January 1979. Pluto will recapture its title in March 1999.

in response to a bankruptcy petition and investor complaints.

The firm's chief executive, Ronald Ray Rewald, was jailed on charges of fraud; he was unable to raise the $10 million ball — the highest ever set in Hawaii. Rewald claimed he was running BBRD&W for the CIA. The agency denied it. So Rewald responded with a 54-page affidavit and 93 supporting exhibits showing that the investment firm was a CIA front.

Rewald lays the blame for the company's difficulties solely on the CIA, which has now admitted to a "low-level" involvement with BBRD&W.

But confidential documents and interviews with sources make it clear that the CIA's involvement goes much deeper. Here is what I've learned so far:

— After I first broke the scandal last week, CIA officials were forced to confirm that the agency ran a covert surveillance operation aimed at foreign students at the Hawaiian branch of Brigham Young University. A CIA agent recruited Rewald's son, Jimmy, to become a student at the university, to tail Chinese stu-

Laos were paid through BBRD&W. The firm's files also contain a letter from a former deputy director of the Defense Intelligence Agency that indicated Pentagon support for the Gritz mission.

— Jack Rardin, the CIA station chief who succeeded Kindachi, sent regular reports of his meetings with Rewald to headquarters in Langley, Va. Rewald secretly tape-recorded several of the meetings.

— According to testimony given to the FBI, a Justice Department prosecutor assigned to the case said "that the agency (CIA) would take whatever affirmative steps (necessary) to protect the identity of certain agents ... that the agency would kill to protect one particular agent."

— According to Rewald's court-sealed affidavit, BBRD&W was a crucial part of the CIA's Pacific and Far East operations. The investment company was used as a conduit for funds that went into covert action and arms transactions, and as a way-station for cash that foreign VIPs wanted to ship to the United States.

'Reason 84' Campaign Spending Tops $6 Million

TALLHASSEE (UPI) — The brief battle between doctors and lawyers over a constitutional limit on some damages in negligence cases cost both sides more than $6.2 million.

The doctors, who got started first, spent nearly $4 million. The lawyers, who won, spent almost $2.3 million.

The Florida Supreme Court threw Amendment 9 off the ballot Oct. 4, but both sides of the campaign still have to report their political contributions and expenditures to the Secretary of State's office every two weeks.

The Florida Medical Association, which formed its "Reason '84" campaign committee to put the amendment on the ballot through a massive petition effort, said it had spent $3,932,948 on the six-month effort to pass Amendment 9.

Floridians Against Constitutional Tampering, the campaign committee set up by the Academy of Florida Trial Lawyers, reported campaign spending of $2,287,855.

The FACT committee got a late start, waiting until Aug. 7 for the doctors to get their amendment formally certified on the ballot before mounting a television advertising campaign against it. By that time, the FMA had already spent $1.5 million getting more than 600,000 petition signatures to put "Reason '84" on the ballot.

Campaign aides on both sides said they expected to get back much of the money budgeted through advertising agencies for radio and television time and newspaper advertising no longer needed by the doctors and lawyers. After their unanimous rejection by the Supreme Court, the doctors decided to take their case for malpractice insurance liability limits to the 1985 legislative session.

The amendment would have imposed a $100,000 limit on court awards for "non-economic" damages, such as pain and suffering, mental anguish, loss of companionship and lost capacity to enjoy life. It also would have mandated "joint and several liability," requiring courts to apportion damages among defendants in proportion to each one's responsibility for a loss.

The Supreme Court threw the amendment off the ballot Oct. 4, saying it was deceptively presented as "establishing citizen's rights in civil action" when voters signed petitions for it. The court also unanimously held that the amendment improperly dealt with multiple topics.

FACT, formed by the Academy of Florida Trial Lawyers, had mounted a television advertising campaign stressing that the $100,000 limit would apply to drunken drivers, toxic waste dumpers, makers of faulty products and all other defendants in most negligence suits — not just to doctors. The lawyers said the amendment would unfairly deprive accident victims of compensation for lifelong suffering.

Doctors, however, said it was needed to hold down medical costs, by lowering medical malpractice insurance costs. After the court's unanimous decision, the FMA said it would work in the 1985 legislative session for malpractice limits.

Bondsman Who No-Showed On Attempted Murder Charges Turns Himself In, Released

An Altamonte Springs bail bondsman wanted for failure to appear in court on two charges of attempted murder turned himself in Tuesday and has been released from jail on a court order.

Leroy Ellsworth Hardman, 36, of 115 Hillcrest St., was re-arrested at the Seminole County Jail at 2:20 p.m. Tuesday and was released shortly after his arrest. He is scheduled to appear in court Oct. 31.

Hardman was to appear Friday before County Judge Wallace Hall to have a trial date set on two charges of attempted murder, shooting into an occupied vehicle and the use of a firearm in the commission of a felony.

When Hardman failed to appear, the judge issued a bench warrant for his arrest.

The charges stem from an incident Sept. 29 in which Hardman is accused of shooting at two gas company workers whom he reportedly thought were spies for the U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency. At the time of the shooting, Hardman was free on bond on federal charges of conspiracy to establish an illegal drug laboratory.

According to court records, two Florida Public Utilities workmen, Don Thompson and Michael Hill, told sheriff's investigators that Hardman approached them as they repaired a leaky gas line in front of his Action Bail Bonds business at 1050 N. U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood.

Hardman accused them of being DEA agents watching his office and ordered them to leave. The workmen were unable to convince Hardman that they were not federal drug agents and as they prepared to leave he took a .30-caliber, semi-automatic rifle from the trunk of a nearby Ford Granada, according to a sheriff's report.

Thompson and Hill told deputies that as they fled, Hardman fired at least three shots at their vehicle. Deputy Vicki Morris reported she later recovered three spent .30-caliber shells from the scene.

After the shooting, Hardman was checked into the psychiatric ward of Florida Hospital-Orlando and was taken into custody there by U.S. Marshals because his bond for charges stemming from his alleged 1981 involvement in an Orlando illegal drug laboratory had been revoked.

Hardman was taken to the Seminole County jail where he was charged and then released on a $10,000 bond.

Couple Sued For Backing Out Of Real Estate Deal ... Twice

A Maitland company is suing a Winter Springs couple for pulling out of a real estate deal for a second time.

The Ryland Group Inc. filed suit against Dr. Virgiliu Popa and his wife, Roxandra Manuella Popa, of 101 Partridge Circle.

The company is asking for an unspecified amount of damages in excess of $5,000.

According to the suit, the couple agreed to buy a lot in the Deer Run subdivision in Casselberry on May 9, and agreed to close the deal on July 28. At the time, according to the suit, the Popas knew the lot was what is commonly called a farm lot and backed a working farm.

On July 5, the Popas cancelled the contract because, according to the complaint, they saw some cows on the adjacent farm property.

The Popas then agreed to purchase another lot and home elsewhere in the development for $130,586 and despite protests from the developer, insisted on an early closing date of Aug. 16 to make subcontractors rush to get the house completed. Popa, according to the suit, then asked Ryland general manager Anthony Giordano what the "realistic" closing date would be and was told Sept. 28.

Popa then reportedly said, "You are Italian, ... you know how to get people moving around and do things."

The company states in the suit that Popa then could not meet the Sept. 28 closing because it reportedly did not fit into his schedule.

Another closing date of Oct. 9 was set and at that time, according to the suit, Popas refused to close the deal.

The company said it has been damaged, the amount yet unknown since the lands have not been sold, and states that Popa's behavior was willful, malicious, wanton and intentional with a reckless disregard for the company.

The case has been assigned to Circuit Judge Robert McGregor, but no trial date has been set.

Builder Charged In Church Fraud

A Longwood builder has been charged with grand theft and working without a contractor's license in connection with a $60,000 contract he made with an Orange County church, which he did not fulfill.

Bill Lipham of the Orange County consumer fraud unit said that in Oct. 1983, the suspect contracted with the Radiant Life Association of God Church, Pine Hills, to build a $60,000 classroom. He accepted a $30,000 down payment, but never started the job.

In January, a church representative and the suspect went to an Ocala building manufacturer to order a building, but Lipham said the $15,000 check the suspect gave the manufacturer bounced and the building was not delivered.

The church received nothing for its $30,000 and has been unable to get a refund, Lipham said, adding that the suspect has broken off communication with the church.

The suspect, who worked in Seminole County under the name of Super Buildings, Inc., 102 Robbin Road, Altamonte Springs, also faces similar fraud and theft charges in Brevard and Hardee counties, Lipham said.

John Blake Shaw Jr., 39, of 171 Columbus Circle, was arrested at his home by Seminole County sheriff's deputies armed with an Orange County warrant at 6:30 a.m. today. He was released on $10,000 bond.

POT IN PARK

Three Altamonte Springs men who reportedly had possession of marijuana and a pipe used for smoking the drug were charged with possession of pot and drug paraphernalia after they were spotted by sheriff's deputies in Sunland Park, Sanford.

The pair were arrested at 8:10 p.m. Saturday. David M. Mahnken, 21, of 550 Hattaway Drive #24, and Mark A. Sensus, 21, of 709 Milan Court, were released on $500 bond each. Both are scheduled to appear in court Oct. 31.

Another man was also arrested by deputies at Sunland Park. At 8:10 p.m. Saturday, Glenn Jeffery Charles, 20, of 725 Heatherton Village, was charged with possession of pot and drug paraphernalia. Deputies say they saw him using a pipe to smoke pot as he sat in his car. They reportedly found a small bag of pot in his possession. He was released on $500 bond and is scheduled to appear in court Oct. 31.

FLED BUT NABBED

An 18-year-old Sanford man who fled when a sheriff's deputy tried to arrest him on a trespass charge Thursday has been captured.

The deputy reported that he had arrested the suspect for trespassing at Sanford Middle School, U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, but the man managed to flee while the officer was trying to subdue another suspect, a sheriff's report said.

Luke Wooden of 1900 W. 18th St., was arrested at his home at 6:20 a.m. Tuesday. He was charged with escape as well as trespassing and was released on $8,000 bond.

"LET ME OUT"

A Seminole County jail inmate who reportedly screamed "Let me out," as he pounded on a glass window in the jail broke the window and has been charged with felony criminal mischief. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Two corrections officers reported to sheriff's deputies that they heard a loud, banging noise coming from a prisoner confinement area and went to investigate. They found the suspect standing behind a shattered 4-by-4 foot glass window demanding to be let out, a sheriff's report said.

Gary Lee Connelly, 26, of 428 Ranch Trail, Casselberry was arrested at the jail at 3:30 p.m. Monday. He was initially jailed on an armed burglary charge. He pled no contest to that charge on Oct. 9 and was awaiting sentencing on Dec. 19, according to jail administrator Luke A. Stallworth.

GUN IN CLUB

A Winter Park taxi driver reported to Casselberry police that he saw a man take a gun from the trunk of a car and enter a topless club. Police arrested the suspect at the bar and charged him with carrying a concealed weapon.

The incident occurred at Club Juana, 135 Fern Park Blvd., at about 11:15 p.m. Saturday.

Daniel E. Brewer, 43, of Orlando, was released on $1,500 bond and is scheduled to appear in court Nov. 9.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

A thief took two lawnmowers and an edger with a total value of $950 from a shed at Rolling Hills Country Club, 1749 Jackson St., Altamonte Springs. A grounds worker reported to deputies that the items were taken Friday or Saturday.

William Jett, 48, of 219-A Georgetown Drive, Casselberry told deputies that $500 worth of fishing gear was stolen from his patio Monday.

Five cars were vandalized and burglarized at Jim Chumbley Volkswagen, U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, between 5 p.m. Sunday and 8 a.m. Monday. Windows were broken in the vehicles, several radios were stolen and the tires were taken from one car, according to a sheriff's report.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Anna Maria Johnson Holm, 21, of Deland, was arrested at 2 a.m. Tuesday on 25th Street at Sanford Avenue, Sanford, by a sheriff's deputy who reported she appeared lost and her vehicle failed to maintain a single lane.

—Millard Lee Sylar, 24, of 800 Pasadena Ave., Longwood, at 3 a.m. Monday after his car was seen traveling at 70 mph on U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry.

—Joseph J. Michaud, 20, of 1790 Oakhurst Ave., Winter Park, at 12:15 a.m. Monday after he was involved in an accident on Oxford Road, Casselberry. He was also charged with careless driving.

—Richard Leslie Shadler, 31, of 611 Riverview Ave., Sanford, at 12:10 a.m. Saturday after his vehicle was seen traveling 30 mph on state Road 46 west of Sanford.

—Leroy Demoss, 37, of Davenport, Fla., at 12 p.m. Friday after his car ran off state Road 427 one mile north of Longwood.

—Donnell Black of Route 2, Box 4M, Sanford, was jailed at 5:30 a.m. Friday. He was arrested on Lake Road, Longwood, after he left the scene of an accident with property damage.

—John Victor Rordy Jr., 48, of 898 Sterling Drive, Winter Springs, at 10:50 p.m. Saturday after his car ran off Dogtrack Road.

—Darlene L. Scott, 22, of 213 Justin Way, Sanford, at 1:10 a.m. Saturday after her car failed to maintain a single lane on county Road 15, Seminole County.

—Robert Mark Goans, 27, of Sulphur Rock, Ark., at 11:45 p.m. Sunday after his car was seen weaving on U.S. Highway 17-92. He was also charged with driving with a suspended license.

—Robert Leonard Williams, 41, of 1429 Lake Drive, Casselberry, at 10:24 p.m. Monday after his car was involved in an accident on Rave Avenue, Longwood.

—Theodius Williams, 44, of 2230 Church St., Sanford, at 10:10 p.m. Monday after his car was seen weaving on state Road 46 in Sanford.

FIRE CALLS

The Sanford Fire Department responded to the following calls.

Monday

—10:02 a.m., 409 Mellonville Ave., rescue. A 91-year-old woman fell and bumped her head. She was treated on the scene.

—10:54 a.m., 1101 W. 10th St., rescue. A 79-year-old woman with leg pains was taken to the hospital.

—11:20 a.m., 2471 S. Airport Blvd., rescue. A 49-year-old woman with chest pains was taken to the hospital.

—12:13 p.m., 950 Mellonville Ave., rescue. An 81-year-old woman with a terminal illness was taken to the hospital.

—1:40 p.m., West 25th Street, rescue. A 62-year-old man died after having a heart attack at a construction site. Rescue efforts failed to revive Teri Hagerty, of 1700 S. Fern Creek Drive, Orlando, who was then taken to the hospital.

—4:17 p.m., 2853 Sanford Ave., rescue. A 61-year-old woman with shoulder pains refused to be taken to the hospital after her car was hit from behind. According to a police report, Ruth Jernigan, of 119 Pinecrest Drive, Sanford, was trying to make a left turn on Sanford Avenue when a car driven by Jeffrey Pedigo, 24, of 2810 Park Ave., Sanford, rear-ended her.

—4:46 p.m., Lake Mary Boulevard and Hidden Lake Drive, rescue. One woman was taken to the hospital with neck and back pains after the car she was in collided with another. Annett Jacobs, 41, of 203 Hidden Lake Drive, Lake Mary, was treated at the scene and taken to the hospital. A companion, Dorothy Mangillo, 75, of 807 Spanish Moss Drive, Sanford, had a headache but was released. In the other car, Evelyn Wise, 51, of 105 E. Floyd St., Lake Mary, and her son, Steven, also complained of headaches but were not taken to the hospital.

—6:19 p.m., 2106 Amelia Ave., fire. A tree fire was already out when firefighters arrived.

—10:58 p.m., 1318 Oleander Ave., rescue. A 78-year-old man, weak from not eating, was taken to the hospital. The man said he was not able to keep food down for two months.

Guilty Plea Gets Man Off Hook On Second Charge

An Altamonte Springs man charged with grand theft and dealing in stolen property will not be prosecuted because he has pleaded guilty in Pinellas County to dealing in stolen property.

Under Florida law, Joseph A. Iafornaro, 19, of 115 Oak St., cannot be found guilty of both grand theft and dealing in stolen property if both charges stem from the same incident, according to Assistant State Attorney Kurt Erlenbach, prosecutor on the case.

Since Iafornaro pleaded guilty to dealing in stolen property in Pinellas County, he cannot be tried in Seminole County for grand theft in the same case which involved the theft of a boat.

According to court records, Iafornaro and a second man were arrested March 29 and charged with stealing a boat, motor, and other nautical items from David Lee Blackwelder, 622 Orange Drive, Altamonte Springs, on Feb. 29.

The missing boat, valued at $2,975, was recovered at a construction site on Montgomery Road, Altamonte Springs. March 2. Clearwater police recovered the $600 engine which had been sold in that city.

Co-defendant James G. Fisher, 19, also of 115 Oak St., arrested at the same time as Iafornaro, is free on bond awaiting trial in November on charges of grand theft and dealing in stolen property.

Wolfinger Qualified For State Attorney Post

Norm Wolfinger

It is time for a change in the state attorney's office. Republican Norm Wolfinger offers the prospect of intelligent and responsible operation of the office. His work as chief assistant public defender for the past 3 1/2 years has demonstrated his abilities. In that role, he helped transform a poorly regarded office into a well respected one.

In the eight years incumbent Douglas Cheshire has held the state attorney post, the staff and budget have grown tremendously — but bigger isn't always better. And the fact is that this office is not considered to be well run by a large number of the people who have dealings with it — law enforcement officials, attorneys, judges and others involved with the criminal justice system.

In Seminole County, the other half of the two-county 18th Judicial Circuit served by State Attorney Cheshire, the law enforcement officialdom is solidly against the man with whom they must work. Six of the eight police chiefs in that county, as well as the sheriff, have publicly endorsed Wolfinger. That's a bold and unusual step for police agencies to take — openly opposing the man on whom they must rely to prosecute their cases. Usually lawmen suffer in official silence when dealings between them and the state attorney's office are frequently unsatisfactory.

Although there hasn't been such a dramatic anti-incumbent stand in Brevard, there nonetheless is a strong undercurrent of dissatisfaction about various aspects of Cheshire's office, such as communications, decision making procedures and use of personnel.

One of our chief complaints about the incumbent, as detailed in a series of articles published in 1982, has to do with his spending and business management practices. In our opinion, he has squandered the taxpayers' money unwisely on purchases such as plush office furnishings. For example, on the last day of the 1982 fiscal year he bought 10 imprinted attache cases costing $610 and three briefcases that cost the taxpayers $130 each. In all, 43.5 percent of his annual purchasing (more than $23,000) was done in that one month. He had followed the identical practice the previous year, rather than returning unspent funds.

Wolfinger, in addition to his recent tour of duty in the public defender's office, has seven years experience in the state attorney's office, handling work in both Brevard and Seminole counties.

He has plans for a number of changes that we think will be beneficial to the state attorney's office, such as implementing a continuing program of legal education courses for law enforcement officers, better communication with law enforcement officers through required notification of reasons for case decisions, and a strong victim's rights program to keep citizens fully advised of what is happening in the bewildering world of the criminal justice system.

Wolfinger, 38, received a Purple Heart heart in Vietnam combat. He currently is engaged in the private practice of law in Melbourne. We recommend a vote for Wolfinger over incumbent Cheshire, so that a new day may dawn in the state attorney's office.

Lake Mary's Golddust Twins

Whigham, Renaud Sprinkle Athletic Talents In 2 Sports

No tennis isn't getting to be that physical. Mike Renaud just slipped off the football practice field to hit a couple of forehands.

Mike Renaud is 15 years old and is a very promising young tennis player. Shea Whigham is 15 years old and is also a very promising young tennis player.

Mike Renaud is a sophomore at Lake Mary High School. Shea Whigham is also a sophomore at Lake Mary High School. Mike Renaud is a wide receiver and defensive back on the JV football team, and I might add a good one. Shea Whigham is also a wide receiver and defensive back on the junior varsity football team and is an excellent football player.

Mike and Shea are best friends and have been for quite some time now. They have similar interests and their development as outstanding athletes has been parallel.

What one does it seems the other also does. Their talents and accomplishments have been so astonishingly alike that one local writer has labeled them the "Golddust Twins."

Their rise as not only fine tennis prospects but outstanding football players as well has been noteworthy, but the real excitement lies ahead. I believe that these two young men by the time they are seniors will be the two top tennis players in the area and also two of the best football players in the Five Star.

Larry Castie

Herald Tennis Writer

The success that Mike and Shea have attained could not happen to nicer or more deserving young men. In talking to both and getting information for this story, I found both to be modest about their accomplishments, seemingly unaware of what they have in the way of ability and talent, and very team oriented.

Both find that the success of their team, whether it be tennis or football, is more important to them than any individual success and Mike is very proud when Shea does well and Shea is equally proud when Mike does well.

Boy, did I find that refreshing. It's a throwback to years gone by where the players played for the team and delighted in others' success, and did not simply played for their own glory.

I could not coax either to brag on themselves; rather, they talked about each other or the team or the school.

Mike Renaud is the son of Jan and Lefty Renaud. They live in Loch Arbor in Sanford. Mike comes by his athletic talents honestly, for both his mother and father are fine athletes being very active in playing tennis as well as other sports. Lefty in fact was an outstanding baseball player and played pro baseball in the Braves organization.

Mike has an older brother, Mark, who was a starting quarterback for Seminole High School in 1978. During Mark's two years on the Seminole varsity, the team was 11-0 and 9-2. Mike naturally has been

Lake Howell Sends Lyman Backpacking

By Chris Flater
Herald Sports Writer

Avenging their only loss to a Five Star Conference team, Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks closed out the regular season with a 14-16, 15-9, 15-6 victory over Lyman's Lady Greyhounds in prep volleyball action Tuesday night at Lake Howell High.

Lake Howell, the conference champions, also defeated Apopka in Tuesday's tri-match and finished the regular season with six straight victories and a 13-3 overall record (8-1 in the conference). Lyman, which also beat Apopka Tuesday, ended the regular season with a 12-5 record overall and 7-2 in the conference.

After the Lady Hawks had won the Five Star, Lyman said that they "backed into" the conference title. That remark fired up Lake Howell for Tuesday's grudge match and, when it was over, it was clear the Lady Hawks had paved their own road to the conference championship.

"We didn't back into anything," an ecstatic Lake Howell coach Teresa Tinsley said after the victory. "The only backing up being done now is Lyman backing out of our gym."

Teamwork was the name of the game for the Lady Hawks Tuesday night. After dropping the first game to Lyman, Lake Howell rallied together to win the next two. Everyone who played for Lake Howell was instrumental in the victory.

"The whole team played with a lot of confidence," Tinsley said. "This win is what we needed going into the district tournament."

The district tournament begins next Wednesday (Oct. 31) at Lake Brantley High.

Lyman jumped out to an early 5-1 lead in the first game Tuesday, but Lake Howell came back with five straight points on Grace Ley's serve. Lyman tied it at 6-6 before Lake Howell regained the serve and took a 10-6 lead as Beth Saunders served four points.

Lyman failed to score when it got the serve back, and the Lady Hawks went up, 13-6, as Melissa Schneider served three points. Kim Forsyth's spike got Lyman fired up and the Lady Greyhounds came back to within 13-9 on Regan Stump's serve.

Lyman then pulled to within 13-10, but Lake Howell made it 14-10 on Sandy Gillies' serve. Lyman fought off game point and came back to take a 15-14 lead on Kim Montegny's serve.

Lake Howell regained the serve but failed to score as a nice spike by Stump gave it back to the Lady Greyhounds and they closed out the game, 18-14, on Donna Ball's serve.

Lyman kept the momentum going into the early part of the second game as it took a 4-0 lead. Lake Howell then grabbed the momentum and never let go of it the rest of the match.

Gillies, who played an outstanding all-around match Tuesday, came on to serve six straight points for a 6-4 Lake Howell lead. Saunders' spike highlighted the rally.

Lyman eventually came back to tie the game at 9-9, but Gillies came back to serve again and this time the senior standout served four points for a 13-9 lead. Kim Montegny's hit highlighted the rally.

Lyman got the serve back but a missed serve gave it back to the Lady Hawks and they took a 14-9 lead on Kellee Johnson's serve. After another Lyman missed serve, its eighth of the game, Montegny came on to serve the final point of the game to even up the match.

More confident and determined than ever, Lake Howell came back to play impressively in the third game.

After Lyman took a 2-1 lead, Gillies served three points to put the Lady Hawks in control, 4-2. Jolee Johnson's spike got the Hawks rolling on Gillies' serve.

Lyman failed to score on its next two serves and Lake Howell went up, 9-2, as Montegny served four points. Lyman pulled to within 9-5 on Dawn Boyesen's serve, one an ace, but that was as close as the Lady Greyhounds could come.

Gators Hit For 3 Years

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — The University of Florida's football program is facing three years of NCAA probation for spying on opponents, paying some of its players, and allowing others to scalp free tickets to Gator boosters.

The long-expected probation was announced by university officials Tuesday. The sanctions take effect Nov. 7 if the university does not appeal, or if an appeal is rejected.

The NCAA sanctions include:

—No bowl appearances by the Gators for three years, beginning this season.

—No appearances in televised games sanctioned by the NCAA for three years beginning in 1985.

—A loss of 10 football scholarships for each of the next two years.

—Annual reports detailing Florida's compliance with NCAA regulations.

The NCAA, after a 21-month investigation, found the Gator football program guilty of 59 rules violations — all of them during the six-year tenure of Coach Charley Pell.

Pell was fired by university president Marshall Crier last month as part of the "corrective action" the NCAA said would reduce the probationary period to two years.

Other corrective actions the university agreed to take were to fire assistant coaches Joe Kines and Dwight Adams at the end of the 1984 season and to restructure its athletic program.

Florida has 15 days to appeal the sanctions. Crier said in a prepared statement the school would review the report and decide in several days whether to appeal.

"This is something that has been hanging over this team's head for a couple of years," said interim coach Galen Hall. "The players have been waiting for this. They've met, talked about it and accepted it."

Starting freshman quarterback Kerwin Bell summed up the team's reaction after practice late Tuesday.

"We expected what happened," Bell said. "We were ready for the worst. Now we're just glad we can get it behind us and go on."

The Gators, ranked 18th this week by the UPI Board of Coaches, boast a 5-1-1 record this season and a have an outside chance to win the Southeast Conference championship.

The 59 alleged rule violations included establishing an illegal slush fund "of at least $4,000" controlled by Pell, which he used to pay players and for spying on opponents.

The NCAA also cited incidents of Gator boosters paying hundreds of dollars to players for complimentary tickets and supplying recruits with money and other amenities.

Mike DeBose, Underwood Capture Football Awards

Although Lake Howell and Lyman didn't play last week, their open dates did level off the statistical comparisons for county teams. All six squads have played six games, thus giving the departments which aren't based on average an even comparison factor.

This week's slate shows all six returning to action. The biggie, of course, is league leaders Apopka at Lake Mary. A victory is crucial for both clubs. Especially with Seminole (one-game back) waiting in the wings. An Apopka loss would be disaster for the Blue Darters and set up a winner-take-all game between Seminole and Lake Mary on Nov. 9.

Elsewhere, Seminole hosts a fired-up DeLand club which disposed of Spruce Creek, 31-0, Friday. The score was reported in reverse Friday, a wire service mistake. Lyman hosts Lake Howell while Oviedo journeys to Bishop Moore and Lake Brantley travels to Daytona Beach's City Island Park to complete the schedule.

Getting back to the leaders, Seminole linebacker Mike DeBose took over the tackle lead from his brother, Bryan, with a 12-tackle, 8-assist, 1-sack effort in the 7-0 victory over Oviedo.

Mike also earned Sanford Optimist and Burger King defensive player of the week honors.

Offensively, Lake Mary's Scott Underwood turned in a fine 131-yard performance in the Rams' win over Mainland. Underwood, Lake Mary's bread-and-butter fullback, also scored a touchdown. Underwood picked up the Burger King's offensive award.

Lake Howell's Allan Jack maintained his passing lead despite being idle. Mike Whitchel, Seminole's senior QB, moved into second place with 321 total yards and three TD tosses.

Charles "Pop" Bowers only rushed for 66 yards against the Tribe's tough defense but he held on to his lead with 852 yards. Lake Mary's Charlie Lucarelli, Lake Mary's shifty tailback, is second with 472.

For the receivers, Jeron Evans was idle but still leads the way with 27 catches for 323 yards. Lake Brantley's Rich Pearce, however, is coming on strongly. Pearce had eight grabs for 91 yards to push his total to 19 catches and 276 yards. Lake Mary's Donald Grayson hasn't been as prolific as last year but his average gain per catch is a whopping 27 yards.

IN BRIEF

Penney Pays Rookie Dividends, Preserves 3-1 Win Over Quebec

United Press International

When the Montreal Canadiens made their surprise run at the Campbell Conference championship in last season's playoffs, they cashed all hopes on a Penney.

Rookie goaltender Steve Penney may yet pay further dividends.

Penney, who was back in the lineup after missing two games with a knee injury, preserved a one-goal lead early in the third period when he stopped Anton Stastny on a breakaway and rookie defenseman Tom Kurvers scored his first NHL goal Tuesday night to lift the Canadiens to a 3-1 triumph over the Nordiques in the battle of Quebec.

"We got off to a slow start, but picked up in the last two periods," said Montreal's Bobby Smith. "You've got to give a lot of credit to Steve Penney because he stole a lot of goals away from them. Even though they got the first goal, with a good goaltender, we could continue playing our game. Quebec got a lot of shots in the first period (14), but we held them down in the last two.

Penney turned aside 24 of 25 shots. It was the Canadiens' first victory on the road this season and extended their unbeaten streak to five games.

Elsewhere in the NHL, the New York Islanders nipped Vancouver 6-5. Philadelphia routed Minnesota 7-2 and Calgary squashed 9-4.

Connors: Mixed Doubles Is Fun

HOUSTON (UPI) — Jimmy Connors says the World Mixed Doubles championship is a fun event, but he and partner Chris Evert Lloyd will not take lightly the chance to defend their title and compete for the $100,000 first prize.

Connors and Evert Lloyd face challenges by two-time Wimbledon mixed doubles champs Wendy Turnbull and John Lloyd and 14 other teams in the $400,000 tournament beginning today and ending Sunday in the Astrodome.

"I think it is an event that not only the players enjoy, but the people get to see a different side of the players than they have seen on the tour," Connors said.

"I don't play very much doubles, and we don't get to see too much of the women players because we play separate tournaments," he said. "It makes for some good tennis and also is a nice week. It's a fun week, but it is also very serious.

Duquesne Plans Sports Complex

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Duquesne University's Board of Directors has hired a Pittsburgh-based architectural firm, Deeter Ritchey Sippel Associates, to draw up preliminary plans for a multipurpose sports complex on campus.

Ken Service, vice president for university relations, said the Dukes hope to move their basketball games to the new facility, which would include a 7,000-seat gymnasium, for the 1986-87 season.

Duquesne has been playing its home games at the 16,000-seat Civic Arena, and will continue to do so until another facility is available, Service said, adding the university would spend no more than $10 million to build the complex.

DeBartolo Jr. Covets Giants

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Ed DeBartolo Jr., the young owner of the San Francisco 49ers, is apparently interested in purchasing the baseball San Francisco Giants franchise and keeping it in the Bay Area.

DeBartolo said Tuesday at the NFL meetings here that under the right circumstances and if the price were right, he'd strongly consider buying the club.

"I'd say I'm between 50 and 70 percent interested," DeBartolo said.

Tribe Tricks Treat Ferrell To Win

By Chris Flater
Herald Sports Writer

Halloween is still a week away but there were enough tricks in Tuesday night's freshman football game between Oviedo and Seminole to satisfy any ghost or goblin or whatever else comes out on Halloween.

Seminole coach Mike Ferrell even got scared there for a moment, but his team treated him to a 22-16 victory over the Lions at Seminole High.

The Tribe, 4-2, concludes the season next Tuesday (Oct. 30) against unbeaten Seminole County rival Lake Mary at Lake Mary High.

It was after Seminole's first touchdown of the game that things started getting a little weird. Tracy Turner's nine-yard touchdown capped off a 65-yard drive that gave the Tribe a 6-0 lead in the first quarter.

On the extra point, Seminole, as a lot of teams do, lined up all but the kicker on one side of the field. Usually, the team will shift back to the middle for the extra point. But Oviedo's defense didn't follow Seminole's team over to the side. So quarterback Jeff Blake took the snap and tossed the two-point conversion pass to Bernard Burke for a 8-0 Seminole lead.

"It's an automatic play," Ferrell said. "If the defense doesn't shift over, we snap the ball for the two-point conversion. I expected Oviedo's defense to shift over, but it didn't."

Freshman Football

Seminole's 8-0 lead held up until early in the second quarter. After Oviedo intercepted a pass deep in Seminole territory, Andy Devine scored from nine yards out to pull the Lions within 8-8.

Oviedo then lined up for the conversion kick, but it was faked and it caught Seminole by surprise as quarterback Mike McUndy threw the two-point conversion pass to Anthony Green to tie the score at 8-8.

Seminole came right back with a 75-yard scoring drive highlighted by the running of Rudolph (11 carries for 48 yards in the game) and Turner (10 carries for 64). Rudolph capped off the drive with a one-yard touchdown run. Seminole tried to kick the extra point this time, but Oviedo blocked it and Seminole took a 14-8 at halftime.

Neither team scored in the third quarter and it remained 14-8 going into the fourth. Oviedo had the first scoring threat of the fourth quarter as it drove down to the Seminole 20.

But the Tribe's defense held up and Oviedo attempted a field goal on fourth down. But Seminole blocked the field goal and Ardine Daniels scooped up the loose ball and darted 70 yards for a touchdown. Blake then hit Jeff Blankenship for the two-point pass and a 22-8 Seminole lead.

The Lions didn't give in though and came back to drive inside the Seminole 10 on their next possession. Oviedo had a first and goal at the Seminole four-yard line when the Seminole defense put on an impressive goal line stand to stop Oviedo from scoring.

After taking over on downs, Seminole couldn't move on its first two plays and Blake quick-kicked on third down to get the Tribe out of the hole.

But Oviedo was back in the game moments later as McUndy hooked up with Pete Lingard on a 30-yard touchdown pass to cut Seminole's lead to 22-14. McUndy then ran in the two point conversion to pull the Lions within 22-16 with two minutes left in the game.

It was pretty obvious that the Lions would try an onside kick and Seminole was ready for it.

"I knew they were going to do it so I put five of my best ballhandlers up front," Ferrell said. "But they just stood there and looked at the ball and Oviedo recovered it and, all of a sudden, it started to get a little scary."

But Seminole's defense stopped the Lions on four plays and the Tribe then ran out the clock.

Sutcliffe's Big Numbers Add Up To Unanimous Cy Young Award

Baseball

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rick Sutcliffe posted some pretty impressive numbers in 1984 that added up to the National League Cy Young Award.

Now the real numbers game begins.

Sutcliffe, whose 16-1 record propelled the Chicago Cubs to the NL East title this season, was unanimously named the league's Cy Young Award winner by the Baseball Writers Association of America Tuesday, less than a week after he filed for free agency.

At a news conference in Chicago Tuesday, Sutcliffe refused to say he would be back in 1985. He also did not say how much money it would take to keep him in a Cub uniform, but his agent, Barry Axelrod, has indicated he wanted the 6-foot-7 right-hander to become the highest paid pitcher in baseball. Sutcliffe earned $900,000 this season and will be seeking somewhere in the neighborhood of $1.5 million next season.

"Right now, and I don't want to sound rude, I really can't say anything," said Sutcliffe, who helped lead the Cubs to their first pennant of any kind in 39 years. "My family and I want to get our feet on the ground and weigh everything."

Sutcliffe, acquired by the Cubs on June 13 in a seven-player trade with Cleveland, said he would resume negotiations with the Cubs probably at the first of next week. But he emphasized he has not set a deadline when he would want to complete talks with any club.

"And I don't plan on setting any type of deadline," Sutcliffe said. "The good Lord has been good to me and it will be up to myself and my wife, Robin, to decide where He wants us to be next year."

"Right now the only ballteam I'm talking to is the Chicago Cubs. I'm hopeful things will work out."

Sutcliffe lives in Independence, Mo., which is near Kansas City. The Royals and the San Diego Padres are at least two of the clubs that have been known to covet the right-hander's services next year.

Sutcliffe had one of those seasons pitchers dream about having yet seldom ever achieve. After being acquired by the Cubs from Cleveland, he won 16 of his 17 decisions with Chicago, including 14 victories in a row to end the season. His only NL loss came at the hands of the Los Angeles Dodgers, 2-1, on June 29. He was 9-0 against NL East teams. His overall record, including 4-5 with Cleveland, was 20-6.

"Getting traded over here was the best thing that ever happened," said Sutcliffe. "The fans had a lot to do with my turnaround but mostly it was exposure to a pennant race. It was a great opportunity and great feeling being around them."

In the BBWAA voting, Sutcliffe was named first on all 24 ballots, making him the fourth pitcher to win the award unanimously. The others were Sandy Koufax (1963, 1965, 1966), Bob Gibson (1968) and Steve Carlton (1972).

Dwight Gooden, the New York Mets' sensational rookie who had a 17-9 record and 276 strikeouts, finished second. He had 12 second-place votes and nine for third, giving him 45 points — 75 behind Sutcliffe.

Bruce Sutter of the St. Louis Cardinals was third in the voting with 33 1/2 points followed by Joaquin Andujar of the Cardinals, the league's only 20-game winner, with 12 1/2; Rich Gossage of the San Diego Padres with 3 and Mario Soto of the Cincinnati Reds with 2.

Two members of the BBWAA from each NL city participated in the voting and they were asked to name three pitchers on their ballots. Five points were awarded for a first-place vote, three for a second and one for a third.

Rick Sutcliffe posted some pretty impressive numbers for the Cubs this year. He won 16 of 17 decisions to boost Chicago to the N.L. East Division championship. Sutcliffe was a unanimous Cy Young Award winner Tuesday.

Saunders came on to serve a pair of points for a 1-5 lead and Lyman scored his last point on ump's serve to make it 11-6. A spike by Gillies gave the Lady Hawks the serve and Schneider served the final four points.

Eileen Thibault keyed the rally with a nice back for the 13th point and her hit provided the 14th point.

"We're psyched now and ready for districts," Inaley said. "We'll take one day off of practice and they really work hard for the tournament. We have to be consistent in the district and take it one game at a time."

In Tuesday night's first match, Lake Howell breezed past Apopka, 15-3, 15-7. In the final game, Kellee Johnson served five points for the Lady Hawks and Saunders served the final six points.

Lyman sailed to a 15-5 win in the first game over Apopka, then came back from a 13-9 deficit to win the second, 15-13. Forsyth served six points in the first game for the Lady Greyhounds and Boyesen served the final three points of the match with Forsyth's block providing the winning point.

LAKE BRANTLEY TRIMS TRIBE IN 3
Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots ended the regular season on a positive note with a 15-7, 3-15, 15-7 victory over Seminole Tuesday night at Lake Brantley High.

The Lady Patriots snapped a four-match losing streak with the win and finished the regular season with a 5-8 record overall and 4-5 in the Five Star Conference. Seminole fell to 2-12 overall with its fourth straight loss. Seminole, 1-7 in the conference, closes out the regular season Thursday as it hosts a tri-match with Apopka and DeLand.

"It's a real dilemma how we can wake up and then go right back to sleep," Seminole coach Beth Corso said. "There was a lot of confusion in the first game, then we played well in the second game and went back to confusion again in the third." While Seminole is looking to break its losing streak Thursday, there is a bigger streak the Lady Seminoles are looking to snap. In 13 matches, Seminole has never won a first game.

One of the few bright spots of the evening for the Lady Seminoles came in the second game when Cindy Hogan served 14 straight points. Hogan took over with Lake Brantley holding a 1-0 lead. Sheri Peterson served the final point of the second game.

"Cindy (Hogan) and Sheri (Peterson) played really well," Corso said. "But I wasn't able to start my regular lineup. Debra Hillery is out sick and Jackie Farr didn't start because she was late to practice three days."

Involved in sports all his life and, indeed, could have chosen baseball or soccer or track and field and have done just as well.

Football and tennis are what Mike chose, though, and from all indications they look like the right choices. Possessing fine speed and great hands, Mike has all the necessary qualities of a good receiver. He is also a fine place kicker and has already developed field goal range of up to 40 yards.

In one game this year Mike scored 15 of the team's points. In tennis, Mike hits with lots of topspin and is developing a good serve and volley game. When asked which sport he likes better, Mike said, "It depends on which one is in season."

Shea Whigham is the son of Beth and Frank Whigham. Shea was born in Tallahassee, but moved to Sanford when he was five. Shea attended Lake Mary Elementary and Lakeview Middle School.

Shea also came by his athletic ability honestly because his father was an outstanding football and basketball player at Seminole High and his mother is a fine tennis player in her own right. Shea's grandparents, John and Nancy Morgan, have been very active local tennis players for many years and are fine players. Shea's younger brother, Jack, is already a fine young player and looks like a star of the future.

Shea started playing tennis when he was about 10 years old, but had been active in various types of "ball games" for many years before that. It was apparent even then that he had the talent and motivation to become an outstanding athlete.

The question was, which sport. Shea has played and done very well in baseball, soccer, basketball, and now of course has settled on tennis and football. Shea's athletic ability is so evident as one watches him on the team's court. His movements are quick and strong but graceful and seemingly without effort. On the football field it's the same. He glides when he runs and seems to make the tough moves and plays look easy.

Against Seminole High's JV's, the Lake Mary quarterback Shane Letterio looked for Shea downfield, spotted him, and let fly with a long, long pass. Shea was open but the ball was underthrown and wide to the left. It looked like a sure incompletion, but out of nowhere came Shea and made a sliding circus-like catch for the first down. I haven't seen a lot of people capable of making catches like that.

Shea downplayed the acrobatics, however, and said, "If it had been on the other side Mike could have done it."

Most experts say that you cannot combine two very demanding sports and ever expect to be good at either. "The Goldust Twins" are proving this theory wrong. They are outstanding in both tennis and football and will delight area fans in both sports for years to come.

Marcos' Closet Ally Named In Aquino Plot

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — Members of an investigative panel told President Ferdinand Marcos today that Armed Forces Chief Gen. Fabian Ver — Marcos' most trusted aide — directed the assassination of opposition leader Benigno Aquino.

Marcos quickly announced that Ver — regarded by many as the most powerful man in the Philippines — requested and was granted a temporary leave from his post as head of the nation's 250,000-member military force.

But Aquino's widow, Corazon, said she was not satisfied with the report. She said she could not believe the assassination was "planned and executed without Mr. Marcos' foreknowledge or express approval."

Four members of the five-member panel appointed by Marcos to investigate the Aug. 21, 1983 slaying of his most powerful political opponent submitted a report blaming the killing on a top-level military conspiracy involving Ver, two other generals, two colonels, 20 other soldiers and a civilian. The report was presented just one day after panel chairwoman Corazon Agrava issued her own report exonerating Ver and laying the blame on a lower-ranking general and a half dozen soldiers.

Aquino was gunned down at Manila International Airport moments after he returned to the Philippines from the United States where he had spent three years in self-imposed exile.

The four civilian investigators met with Marcos and members of his cabinet at the Malacanang presidential palace to submit their report, which names Ver as head of the high-level military plot.

Ver, a relative of Marcos, is regarded by many observers as the most powerful man in the nation. Ver's three sons also hold key military posts, adding to his clout.

The report submitted Tuesday by Agrava, a retired justice, named Brig. Gen. Luther Custodio, chief of airport security for Aquino's arrival, as the plot's mastermind and cited six soldiers as co-conspirators.

Custodio and the six soldiers have been confined to barracks pending prosecution by a special judicial panel. Marcos has ordered a speedy trial for the seven.

After meeting with Marcos today, the four commission members publicly announced their findings before a cheering crowd that applauded as they read the allegations against Ver, Custodio and Maj. Gen. Prospero Olivas, chief of the Metropolitan Command that headed the military probe of the killing.

Like Ver, Olivas requested and was granted a leave of absence pending the trial outcome.

Marcos accepted the majority report and immediately directed that it be submitted to a nine-member civilian court that tries public officials on charges of graft and corruption. Agrava's report also was submitted to that court.

Ovary-Fallopian Tube Transplant A Medical First

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — In a major step forward in the fight against infertility, a doctor reports transplanting for the first time an ovary and Fallopian tube from a woman to her identical twin sister.

The feat was announced Tuesday by Dr. Sherman Silber, a noted reproductive microsurgeon, at the 70th annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons.

The transplant represents the latest usage for a technique performed to eliminate congenital blockages of the male reproductive tract and reverse vasectomies and tubal sterilizations. Nearly half the 500,000 American women who are surgically rendered infertile each year later change their mind.

Although the transplant is currently limited to identical twins, Silber said, "it is still of interest as an example of just how far you can go in microsurgery."

The procedure may become available on a routine basis some day, he said.

Cook Of The Week

Secretary Takes On City Hall For Happy Birthdays

By Brenda Lowe
Herald Correspondent

At age 10 when she received her first typewriter, this week's cook, Gracy Posley, "knew" she wanted to be a secretary. Having such a clear vision at such a young age is a rarity. But with that decision made, Gracy took business courses throughout her school years to enable her to reach that goal.

Gracy, who was born and raised in Sanford, says that she comes from a very large, noisy family in which she was the quiet, shy one. She adds that her quietness amid all the noise made her feel unique in a positive sense.

For the past six years, Gracy has been employed at Sanford City Hall in the assistant city manager's office. As well as benefiting from her secretarial skills, the folks at city hall also favor the fruits of her culinary labors. Gracy says that no one believed her when she told them she could cook, so she had to show them. The proof is in the birthday cakes she bakes for her fellow workers and in her special "City Hall Coffee Cake."

Gracy adds that she likes to bake for her younger sisters and brothers, too. Her son, Shawn D. McCrary II, 2, is now old enough to also enjoy his mom's good cooking.

In her spare time, Gracy says that she has fun doing ceramics and sewing. She took sewing classes and didn't like it much at first. But she says that she was determined to learn. Once she learned the basic skills, she came to love the art of sewing.

Gracy's warm, friendly manner and pride in her chosen profession combine to create a truly unique and lovely lady.

Following are four of Gracy's favorite recipes, each one a pleasant change from the ordinary.

CITY HALL COFFEE CAKE

1/2 cup sugar

Gracy Posley has been employed at Sanford City Hall in the assistant city manager's office for the past six years where the employees savor the fruits of her culinary labors.

Herald Photo by Tammy Vincent

2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
1 cup chopped pecans
1 cup flaked coconut
1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 (8 ounce) carton commercial sour cream
Combine 1/2 cup sugar, cinnamon, pecans, and coconut; stir well and set aside. Cream butter; gradually add 1 cup sugar, beating well. Add eggs; beat well. Combine flour, baking powder, soda, and salt; add to creamed mixture alternately with sour cream, beginning and ending with flour mixture. Spoon half of pecan mixture over batter. Repeat layers. Bake at 350 degrees for 45-50 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool 5 minutes in pan; invert cake onto serving plate. Cool. Yield: one 10-inch coffee cake.

CREAM CHEESE POUND CAKE

1 cup margarine, softened
1/2 cup butter, softened (do not substitute)
1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese, softened

3 cups sugar
6 eggs
3 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons lemon extract
Combine first three ingredients, creaming well; gradually add sugar, beating until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flour to creamed mixture stirring until combined. Stir in lemon extract. Pour batter into a well-greased 10-inch tube pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 hour and 45 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool in pan 10 minutes; remove from pan, and cool completely. Yield: one 10-inch cake.

CHOCOLATE RAISIN COOKIES

1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup chocolate-covered raisins
1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans

In a mixing bowl, with mixer at medium speed, cream shortening and sugars until fluffy. Mix in egg and vanilla. Sift together flour, salt and soda. With mixer at low speed, beat flour mixtures into shortening mixture until smooth. Fold in raisins and nuts. Drop by spoonfuls onto greased cookie sheets. Bake in a 350 degree oven 10-12 minutes until lightly browned. Remove to wire rack to cool.

CHICKEN AND RICE BAKE

1 can cream of celery soup
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 1/2 cups rice
1 stick butter or margarine
1 cut-up chicken
Cook rice; when done, mix into bowl with cream of celery soup and cream of chicken soup. Pour into casserole dish. Melt butter. Dip each piece of chicken in butter and pack on top of rice. Bake at 350 degrees about 1 hour and 15 minutes or until chicken is done.

Clubwomen Report On Florida's Water Crisis

The fall general meeting and luncheon of the Garden Club of Sanford was held Oct. 18 at the Garden Center. The business meeting was conducted by President Mrs. Carl Tillis. All members were urged to attend the flower and garden show held at Legu Gardens Oct. 19-21. Mary Tillis and Abbie Owen entered floral arrangements and horticulture. Several members worked as hostesses during the show.

One of the projects supported by the Garden Club is the purchase and preservation of Tiger Creek, located in Polk County. Slides were shown at the pristine creek and its surrounding area by Mrs. D.C. Spivey.

Luncheon was served by Jacaranda Circle members.

Mrs. Gerald Behrens gave an interesting report on a Water Conservation Congress and Environmental Education Workshop she and Mrs. Herbert Behrens attended in July. The theme of the conference was "Nor Any Drop to Drink." The fact that the drinking water supply in Florida is becoming critical was emphasized. Different companies gave reports about methods they are using to preserve the quality and quantity of water they use in their businesses.

It was announced that the Magnolia Circle is holding a workshop on how to make decorations for the holidays. The workshop will be held at the Garden Center Nov. 8, 1984 at 10:30 a.m. All members of the Garden Club and the general public are invited to attend. Bring any materials you have, and projects you might want to work on. Also bring a bag lunch.

The meeting was adjourned until Feb. 21, 1985.

Some Women Don't Buy The New Mannish Look

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 years old and so is my girlfriend. This summer she got her hair cut real short and started combing it like a boy. I didn't like it and told her so.

Last weekend I took her to a movie, and she wore a man's shirt and tie, a man's type jacket and trousers, and even a pair of wing-tip shoes. I felt embarrassed to be seen with her and refused to hold hands with her because I was afraid people would think we were a couple of homosexuals.

She got mad and said I was a real square. She said she was being fashionable — that the mannish look for women is "in." Is this true?

Am I weird to want my girlfriend to look like a girl?
BOB

DEAR BOB: You aren't weird — the fashion designers are. Your girlfriend has the right to dress the way she wants to dress. And you have the right to refuse to be seen in public with someone whose appearance you find embarrassing.

First the bad news: The mannish look for women is "in." Now for the good news: A lot of women aren't buying it.

DEAR ABBY: "Safe and Secure," who ignored a male driver who was trying to get her attention when they both stopped at a red light, could also be paranoid. The stranger might have been trying to alert her to a faulty taillight, a hanging muffler or perhaps a belt hanging out her door.

I know because I have been ignored for trying to communicate the same things. And by the way, not all men are ax murderers; I wish women would give us men half a chance before shutting us out.

Dear Abby

INSULTED IN NEW YORK

DEAR INSULTED: You're 100 percent right. But I would rather mistake a good guy for an ax murderer than mistake an ax murderer for a nice guy.

DEAR ABBY: Last weekend I had a date with a man I didn't know very well. (I had met him in a bar the night before and gave him my phone number.) He took me out for dinner so we could get better acquainted. He came on to me pretty strong, and there was something about him I didn't like (bad vibes).

When he took me home, I planned on saying goodnight at the door because I really didn't want this man in my apartment (I live alone.) When I said goodnight, he asked if he could use my bathroom. What could I say? After he used the bathroom, he sat himself down in my living room and asked if I would make him a cup of coffee. I was beginning to get the idea, but didn't want to be rude. He sipped his coffee slowly, and kept looking at me in a way that made me uncomfortable. After the coffee, he made a grab for me. I pulled away from him, said I had to get up early for work, then I asked him to leave. I was trembling inside for fear I had a rapist on my hands. Thank God he didn't give me any trouble.

Please print this to let other women know that "May I use your bathroom?" is one way a man can get into a woman's apartment. Now I'm sorry I didn't say, "Sorry, find a gasoline station."

LUCKY IN DALLAS

DEAR LUCKY: Your first mistake was letting the man know where you lived before you got to know him better. You should have met him somewhere to get better acquainted, then taken a taxi home when the vibes were bad.

Problems? What's bugging you? Unload on Abby, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Season Opener

The Fine Arts Theatre of Seminole Community College will present The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds by Paul Zindel as the first show of the 1984-85 season. The play opens tonight through Saturday, beginning at 8 p.m., and Sunday, Oct. 28, at 2 p.m.

This touching award-winning drama explores the relationship between an embittered widow, portrayed by Ginny Cortez, and her two young daughters, played by Anita Kahler and Kathi Brown.

General admission is $4 and senior citizens and students, $3.

Garden Circle

HIBISCUS CIRCLE
The Hibiscus Circle of the Garden Club of Sanford held the October meeting with Mrs. Herbert Moreland. There were 12 members and one visitor in attendance.

Members were reminded of the coming autumn days with the orange motif and hot apple cider and pumpkin pie. The guest speaker, Mrs. Florence Wehrwein, told members how to grow herbs, and the value of putting them to use in seasoning foods. They can be very helpful when on a salt free diet, she said, adding that they can easily be dried under low heat.

Those Large Skin Spots Can Become Cancerous

DEAR DR. LAMB — Is there any cure for those awful brown spots or liver spots that appear on the face? Do they cause any medical or cosmetic problems? I don't want them to get any worse. What can be done to prevent them?

DEAR READER — These spots are very common and are caused by a localized accumulation of normal skin pigment. They are called lentigines. Most of them are harmless, but some of the larger ones can become malignant, which is why you need to have your doctor examine them.

Those that do become malignant spread outward from the edge of the area. They do not spread to other areas of the body, but can damage the local area in which they are found.

Most of these spots occur from radiation exposure from the sun. Hemorrhages into the skin sometimes cause them, too. It follows that the main way to prevent them is to avoid excessive exposure to the sun. Gloves will help protect the backs of the hands, which are frequently affected by lentigines.

You can fade these spots in time with medical preparations that contain hydroquinone, such as Esoterica Medicated Fade Cream, Melanex and Eldoquin. The problem is that if you continue to be exposed to the sun, the medicines may not be able to keep ahead of the damage done from solar radiation. Because people often misdiagnose their own skin spots, I think it is best to see your doctor before you try any self-treatment of such lesions. Your doctor may wish to remove some such skin lesions with liquid nitrogen or other procedures. This is usually fast and effective.

I have included liver spots in a new issue of The Health Letter, Special Report 28, Skin: Aging, Spots, Cancer and Sun.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 75 and take vitamins and minerals every day. Often, the next day, I notice they have passed through my digestive system completely whole. What is the reason for this?

DEAR READER — It has nothing to do with your health, but it is a problem with the preparation you are using. Some vitamins, minerals and even prescribed medications have an outer coating that is hard to digest. As a result, the external coating remains intact. In that case, your doctor is right: They are not doing you any good.

This happens just often enough that it pays anyone taking such preparations to ob-

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
The one-level overall has a wide range of strength. It can be a lead-directing bid with a good suit and a few high-card points, or the bidder may have a good hand with which he would have opened the bidding himself. Although South's club queen was worth less after the opening bid by East, South still liked his cards well enough to make a game try when North raised his one-heart overall. North had a close decision and pressed on to game.

What now? Without having any previous knowledge of the bidding or play of the hand, he would take a spade finesse, but South was playing with his eyes and ears open. So it was perfectly legal for him to remember that East had opened the bidding and should hold the spade king.

After the queen of diamonds had held, declarer played a low spade from both hands. He won the diamond continuation with the ace and played a spade to the ace, dropping the king. Now a low spade was trumped and declarer drew trumps, ending in dummy with the queen. The good spades now took care of the diamond losers.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY OCTOBER 25, 1984
This coming year you are destined to be a leader, rather than a follower. Don't play second fiddle because you can be quite fortunate in ventures you personally direct.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) What you hope to accomplish today might not be achieved on your initial efforts. Don't be discouraged because victory can be realized on your second try. The areas in which you'll be the luckiest in the year ahead are revealed in your Astro-Graph predictions for the coming year. To get yours, mail $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your ace in the hole today is your inner resolve. However, this may not be tapped unless you feel circumstances have squeezed you into a corner.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Someone fond of you is still dubious about your loyalty. Prove you're a pal to be relied upon when the chips are down.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Even though competition may be tougher than usual today, don't buckle under at the challenge. You have what it takes to win.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) It's imperative today that you believe there is a solution to every problem confronting you. The answers you seek are available.
ARIES (March 21-April 19) It's important that you take a firm position today in your commercial dealings or others may be tempted to walk over you. Stand fast for your rights.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Even if it puts you in a difficult position today, back up someone who has proven loyal to you in the past. Your support means a lot.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) The main thrust of your energies and efforts today should be devoted to the fulfillment of your ambitions. Produce now, play later.
CANCER (June 21-July 22) Unless you step in and take firm control, something you are presently involved in with others could begin to drift a bit today.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A problem which appeared unmanageable can be resolved today. However, tenacity will be required to erase it from the boards.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your critical faculties will be more acute than usual today. Take care that your comments to others aren't too caustic or biting.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Normally you're a generous person, but today there's a chance you might be a trifle selfish in sharing what you have with others.

Judge Rules She Can Refuse Treatment

Cancer Victim Still Alive Despite Suicide Attempt

STUART, Fla. (UPI) — A terminally ill cancer patient who apparently attempted to commit suicide has been in serious condition since a judge ruled she could refuse treatment for her self-inflicted stab wounds three days ago.

Naomi Schumann, 55, was still in shock and hemorrhaging early today at Martin Memorial Hospital, a hospital spokeswoman said. Schumann, who has suffered from terminal breast cancer for five years, stabbed herself several times with a butcher knife Sunday in the shower of her home.

Attorneys for the hospital sought an emergency court injunction Monday ordering life-saving surgery after Schumann refused an operation. They said Schumann was not competent to make the decision.

"If they don't do it (operate), she will die," said hospital attorney Larry Buchanan.

After hearing testimony Monday from a psychiatrist who interviewed Schumann, Martin County Circuit Judge Dwight L. Geiger ruled she was competent.

"The court concludes that neither Mrs. Schumann nor her husband should be enjoined from refusing to consent to necessary and reasonable treatment for Mrs. Schumann."

Geiger ruled. Buchanan said the hospital would not appeal.

"The hospital felt it was not in keeping with the public interest or the hospital's purpose of saving lives to allow her to go untreated," he said.

The key legal question was whether she was mentally able to make a decision that would end her life, said James Stuckey, Schumann's attorney.

"The law in Florida seems to say that a competent adult may decide to refuse medical care for any injury or illness, if, indeed, they are competent," Stuckey said.

He said both Schumann and her husband Lloyd were of "above-average intelligence," and made a "considered decision" not to allow treatment for the wounds.

"She was entirely cognizant of the decision (not to have surgery) when we made it," Lloyd Schumann said.

He said they first decided to go ahead with the surgery to repair the stab wounds, but later decided against it.

"This was a very personal decision for us; something we discussed and agreed upon," he said. "What she did to herself (Sunday) night was something she had to do because she just couldn't take any more."

Orphaned, Frozen Embryos Might One Day Be Adopted

MELBOURNE, Australia (UPI) — Legislators in Australia have blocked the destruction of two frozen embryos from a dead California woman — raising the potential of them being implanted in another woman.

The Upper House of the Parliament of the state of Victoria Tuesday amended the state's infertility law dealing with medical procedures to allow frozen embryos to be implanted in another woman when the original mother cannot accept them due to death, accident or injury.

The decision went against a state commission report last summer that said orphaned embryos could be destroyed. The new ruling makes it possible for the frozen embryos to be adopted.

Speculation about the embryos' future, however, could be academic. Doctors have said they have little chance of survival after thawing because freezing techniques were imperfect when they were frozen.

Still, several women have volunteered to carry the embryos to term.

The mother of the embryos, Argentine-born Elsa Rios, and her Chilean-American husband, Mario, were killed when their small plane crashed in the Chilean Andes in April 1983.

Another source of disagreement was whether the embryos — should they develop successfully and grow into human beings — would be heir to the Rios estate.

Carol Dolle, a Los Angeles attorney handling Elsa Rios' estate, said the woman's mother is heir to the family's wealth because the dead woman has no living children. She refused to estimate the worth of the estate.

Laura Horwitch, the lawyer for the Mario Rios estate, said the children would have no claim to that money because they were fertilized by another man's sperm and thus are not legally Mario Rios' children. She said the only heir to Rios' $500,000 estate is his son from an earlier marriage, Michael Rios, who lives in California.

Barricaded Road Leads To Suit

A Lake Monroe property owner is suing his neighbors, charging they are blocking legal access to his property.

Roy Lenfar filed suit Friday against Terry P. Moore and Jo Ann Moore.

According to the suit, Lenfar wants either the Moores to continue to recognize the easement he has to his property across the Moores' land or have the county allow a road to be constructed to his lot-bound property from a nearby county road.

Lenfar said the Moores have barricaded the roadway easement to his property and attempted to close it. He is asking the court for a mandatory injunction against the barricading.

The case has been assigned to Seminole Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor though no trial date has been set.

Researchers To Crash Jet To Test New Engine Fuel

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A jetliner packed with dummies will be test-crashed in California next month in an unprecedented demonstration to evaluate an engine fuel made to retard fire and save lives in airplane accidents.

Federal Aviation Administration officials said Tuesday the four-engine Boeing 720 jet will be crashed through remote control. The plane will use an anti-misting fuel additive that scientists believe can prevent a blaze from erupting into a ball of fire sweeping the airplane after an accident.

Each year, an estimated 130 people including 30 Americans — die in airplane fires worldwide in otherwise survivable accidents, the FAA said.

If the test is successful, the FAA hopes to issue rules requiring use of the additive by the end of the year. The rules are not expected to take effect for a year or two because of a lengthy administrative process required by law.

In a related development, the agency announced it has adopted two safety regulations that would improve the chances for passengers to survive airline accidents involving fire and smoke.

The first rule re-

Pig Pickin's

Barbecued Ribs Hit The Campaign Trail

Barbecue seems to be America's favorite up-and-coming food, and nowhere is the pork barbecue as popular as in the Carolinas.

"During the campaign season, there's hardly a hog safe anywhere in South Carolina," said the state's Rep. Robin Tallon. The statement may be even truer of North Carolina, where the rituals of pit cookery and "pig pickin's" or whole pig cookouts have developed into a high art. The hogs are covered with a sauce that's less likely to be divulged than top secret campaign strategy.

Barbecued Ribs from the Carolinas is an eastern North Carolina version featuring a vinegary barbecue marinade. The piquant taste comes from Tabasco pepper sauce, the American condiment so flavorful, one teaspoon provides the seasoning level of two teaspoons of other brands of liquid hot pepper sauce. Frequent basting with the marinade will help produce the rich, smoky, tart flavor essential to Carolina-style pork barbecue.

The recipe is featured in a booklet "16 Classic American Recipes" prepared by the makers of Tabasco pepper sauce. It brings to life America's culinary heritage from 16 regions of the U.S. with details on the people and times related to dishes such as chilli, shrimp jambalaya and black bean soup, standbys that are delectable any time of year.

BARBECUED RIBS FROM THE CAROLINAS

6 lbs. pork spare ribs, cut in 2-rib widths

2 quarts cold water

Barbecue Sauce:

1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar

1 tablespoon dry mustard

1 teaspoon black pepper

1 teaspoon salt

2 cups cider vinegar

Juice of 1 large lemon

2 tablespoons red pepper sauce

1 cup (2 sticks) unsalted butter

Preheat oven to 325°F. Arrange ribs in large shallow roasting pan, pour in water to depth of 1 inch, cover with foil and bake 2 1/2 hours. Meanwhile, prepare Barbecue Sauce: Combine sugar, mustard, black pepper, salt, vinegar, lemon juice and Tabasco sauce in a small heavy pan; drop in butter and simmer uncovered, 5 minutes. Remove from heat but keep warm. When ribs are tender, increase oven heat to 400°F. Drain ribs, arrange one layer deep on large baking sheet, pour on barbecue sauce and marinate 1/4 hour. Lift ribs to a second baking sheet, again in one layer. Brush with sauce and bake uncovered 10 minutes per side, brushing often with sauce. Top with remaining sauce and serve. Serves 6.

Barbecued ribs from the Carolinas is a southern election time favorite featuring a piquant vinegary barbecue marinade.

Treat Kids To Apples

Tickle the fancies of your ghosts and goblins this Halloween with the naturally delicious duo of chocolate and apples. Chocolate Dipped Apples and Apple Cartwheels are two wholesome recipes calling for little more than apples (plentiful during this time of year) and milk chocolate morsels.

A perfect activity for Halloween parties (with adult supervision), even the youngest of witches, warlocks and monsters will delight in dipping their apples in rich, creamy milk chocolate and rolling them in nuts or coconut.

CHOCOLATE DIPPED APPLES
One 1 1/2 oz. pkg. (2 cups) milk chocolate morsels
1/4 cup vegetable shortening
8-10 medium size apples
Coconut (optional)
Popsicle sticks (optional)

Melt over hot (not boiling) water, milk chocolate morsels and vegetable shortening. Remove from heat. Insert popsicle sticks in apples if desired. Dip apples, one at a time, into chocolate mixture, using a popsicle stick or a large spoon or rubber spatula. Apple should be completely coated with chocolate mixture. Garnish with coconut or nuts, if desired. Place on wax paper-lined cookie sheets. Chill until chocolate coating sets. Serve immediately or keep in refrigerator until ready to serve. Makes 8-10 chocolate dipped apples.

English Muffins

British Specialty Now Favorite In America

Did you know that until recently English muffins had virtually disappeared in England? The once popular British specialty had been supplanted by the scone.

Before it fell out of favor in England, the English muffin enjoyed a lengthy reign as the "most fancied" bread on the isle. The muffin started out at the lower rungs of class-conscious Victorian England. Back when English homes routinely had large household staffs, the family baker would combine the remains of all of the doughs and mashed potatoes he made for the "upstairs" that day, and fry the mixture on a griddle. The result was a tasty muffin for the "downstairs."

Soon the families "upstairs" discovered the delectable doings "downstairs," and began eating the muffins themselves. Victorian society even created an etiquette for serving them. Muffins would come served in a heated, covered silver dish, accompanied by a folded cloth napkin.

As English muffins grew in popularity, English muffin factories sprang up. Freshly-baked muffins were sold by colorful "muffin men," who could be seen strolling through the misty streets of England, ringing a small bell to get the attention of kitchen maids and housewives. The muffins would be split and toasted over an open fire and served at teatime. Indeed, the "muffin man" and his goods were considered crucial to a successful teatime. "Oh, have you seen the muffin man?" became a familiar nursery rhyme to many British children.

The English muffin reached its heyday in England just before World War I. However, its popularity began to fade after World War II. By the late 1950's it was rumored that only the Queen Mother had access to her own private supply. But by that time, the English muffin had found a home across the sea in America.

In 1933, George W. Bays, founder of Bays English Muffins, started making and selling English muffins in Chicago using an authentic recipe brought to America from England by his grandmother.

Bays uses the same recipe to make its muffins today, although potato flour now replaces the mashed potatoes called for in the recipe used by the "downstairs" staffs of England's Victorian kitchens. Bays muffins get their buttery, crunchy goodness from other natural ingredients including Hawaiian cane sugar, spring wheat flour and whole milk from Minnesota. AA butter from Wisconsin and Idaho potato flour.

English muffins were first sold in the U.S., not by "muffin men" bearing trays, but in paper said. Bays was among the first to package muffins in the late 1930's.

The English muffin was considered a specialty item in America until the introduction of the now-familiar breakfast sandwich that combines a fried egg, cheese, and Canadian bacon on top of an English muffin. It allowed the public to rediscover the English muffin and to see new possibilities for cooking with the muffin. Today the English muffin is an American favorite. Word of the English muffin's popularity in the U.S. has even reached England, where Bays sells its product to an American-style restaurant chain.

The recipes here from Bays English Muffins demonstrate just a few of the imaginative ways English muffins can be used in cooking, any time of day. For more ideas on how to make the most of an English muffin, write for a free copy of the recipe booklet: "New Ways to Serve Bays." Bays Home Service Institute, 500 North Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60611.

2 tablespoons minced parsley
1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1 egg

Sauce:
1 8 oz. can whole tomatoes, peeled

1 15 oz. can tomato sauce
1/2 teaspoon dried basil
1 tablespoon olive oil

Stuffing:
4 English muffins, ground (approx. 3 cups crumbs)
1/2 cup parmesan cheese
1/2 cup minced onions
2 tablespoons minced parsley
1/2 teaspoon dried thyme
1 teaspoon salt

See MUFFINS, Page 3C

In Victorian England, the "veddy" upper class had their English muffins heated up and served to them on silver trays. The common folk bought their English muffins from the "muffin men" who strolled the cobble streets of England. Today, the English muffin is popular in the U.S. where it is used in the preparation of breakfast, lunch and dinner.

English muffin crumbs layered inside Meatloaf Twirl.

...Muffins Any Time

¼ teaspoon black pepper
½ cup chicken stock or water
3 strips bacon

In large bowl, combine ground beef, ham, salt, pepper, parsley, nutmeg, and egg. Mix until well combined; reserve mixture. In another bowl, combine muffin crumbs, parmesan cheese, onions, parsley, thyme, salt, and pepper. Mix well. Add stock; stir well to moisten.

With water, sprinkle a sheet of aluminum foil. Spread meat mixture out to 9" x 13" size. Spread stuffing mixture over the meat, leaving a ½" border on all sides. Roll mixture up like a jelly roll, using the foil to guide. Seal ends and place in a buttered baking dish, seam side down. Place bacon strips on top. Bake in preheated oven at 350 degrees for 1½ hours. Remove from oven; let rest 15 minutes before carving. Serve with the following sauce:

Drain canned tomatoes and squeeze gently to remove juice. Chop pulp. Place in medium saucepan; add tomato sauce, basil, and olive oil. Simmer ½ hour. Yield 1½ cups.

EGGS BENEDICT VARIATION

6 English muffins
12 eggs, poached
6 ounces thinly sliced ham cut into 12 slices
1 28-ounce can peeled

tomatoes, drained and chopped (1½ cups)
½ cup juice from canned tomatoes

1 tablespoon dehydrated minced onions
1 tablespoon butter
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper

Easy Blender Hollandaise Sauce
minced parsley
Toast muffins and keep warm. Poach eggs and drain. Drain tomatoes; reserve ½ cup liquid. In medium saucepan combine tomatoes, reserved juice, minced onions, butter, salt, garlic salt and ground black pepper. Simmer over medium high heat for fifteen minutes, stirring frequently. Remove from heat; keep warm. Make Easy Blender Hollandaise Sauce.

EASY BLENDER HOLLANDAISE SAUCE
2 sticks butter
4 egg yolks
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon water
salt
white pepper
Melt butter until bubbling. Remove from heat. In blender place egg yolks, lemon juice, water and salt and pepper to taste. Blend at high speed for 30 seconds. Open top of blender and slowly pour in hot butter in a thin stream. Hollandaise sauce will be thick and creamy.

To assemble:
Top each muffin half with a slice of ham. Then add 2 tablespoons of the tomato mixture. Make a well to hold egg. Place a poached egg on each half. Top with hollandaise sauce. Sprinkle with minced parsley. Serve with steamed broccoli.

FRENCH TOASTED MUFFINS
4 eggs
½ cup cream
2 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
6 English muffins
4 tablespoons butter

Beat together eggs, cream, sugar and vanilla extract. Place muffins, cut side down, in the egg mixture and soak for about one minute; turn over and dip other side to moisten. Stack muffins, cut side up, until ready to cook. Preheat oven to 425 degrees. Place butter in sheet pan; put in oven to melt. When butter is bubbling, place muffins, cut side down, in pan and bake for 7 minutes or until cut side is brown. Turn over and bake 2-3 minutes more. Serve with butter and maple syrup or powdered sugar and preserves. Leftover slices can be refrigerated and then reheated in a toaster.

CHICKEN MELT
6 English muffins
butter
4 cups cubed chicken meat
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup mayonnaise
½ cup bottled French dressing
½ cup sliced almonds
salt and pepper to taste
12 slices canned pineapple
12 slices Swiss cheese

In small bowl, combine chicken and celery. Add mayonnaise, dressing, almonds, salt and pepper; mix well. Lightly toast and butter English muffins. Divide chicken mixture evenly among 12 muffin halves. Top each half with one pineapple ring, then one slice cheese. Broil or microwave on medium until cheese bubbles.

CHICKEN SALAD TWIST WITH GOLDEN SAUCE
2 cups cut-up cooked chicken
½ cup thinly sliced celery
¼ cup toasted slivered almonds
½ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups biscuit baking mix
½ cup cold water
1 egg yolk
1 tablespoon water
Golden Sauce (below)

Heat oven to 425 degrees. Mix chicken, celery, almonds, mayonnaise, lemon juice, onion and salt; reserve. Mix baking mix and ½ cup cold water until soft dough forms; beat vigorously 20 strokes. Gently smooth dough into ball on surface floured with baking mix. Knead 5 times. Roll dough into rectangle, 14x11 inches; place on ungreased cookie sheet. Spoon chicken mixture lengthwise down center of rectangle. Fold strips over filling. Mix on 14-inch sides of rectangle. Fold strips over filling. Mix egg yolk and 1 tablespoon water; brush over dough. Bake until light brown, 15 to 20 minutes. Prepare Golden Sauce; serve with twist. 6 servings.

Golden Sauce
½ pound pasteurized process cheese spread, cubed
¼ cup milk
Combine process cheese spread and milk in saucepan; stir over low heat until smooth.

Profits From Recipe Collection To Help Needy Children

Writing a cookbook seems to be one of the easiest ways to pick up some extra pocket change these days, for cookbooks are a hot item among collectors.

Ruby Jeanne Caldwell of Salem, Va. has joined the band wagon and she's hoping to make a bundle from her Celebrity and First Families-plus Cookbook.

But any money she makes from it won't fatten her bank account. She plans for all the profits to go to help needy children.

"I've worked with needy children in and around the Roanoke Valley most of my life," she says. "I needed a way to be able to do more for them."

"I know through the sale of the cookbook, many more can and will be helped, so the profits will be channeled to the needy children everywhere."

The Christians Children Fund in Richmond, Va., they reach children world wide. The Christians Children's Ministries, to build schools, in countries where there are no schools. To feed and clothe these children where ever there is a need.

"My dream is to make the cookbook available nationally," Mrs. Caldwell said.

Mrs. Caldwell has done a variety of volunteer work, can recount a string of occasions in which she's found an opportunity to help children, but specific cases are not important she insists, for "there's always a child out there without shoes or enough to eat. They need so much more than social services can provide."

Caring about the needs of others began early for Mrs. Caldwell. "My mother was a school teacher, and she always helped those in need. I guess she instilled the same values in me."

"It has been a joy and privilege to be able to help those who needed it."

Mrs. Caldwell raised four of her own children, a son and three daughters, one of the three girls is an attorney, who works with children in some capacity almost each day. She also raised three girls that needed a home and an education. They are a great group.

There are endorsements from senators, a congressman, judges and nationally recognized personalities, who enthusiastically support this work, among them many who contributed recipes for the collection.

There are over 250 choice recipes, very colorful lively pages, state seals, letter headings, plus a variety of cooking tips, menu tips, household hints, a lot of useful information.

Mrs. Caldwell said she had been considering a number of ways to raise extra money to supplement her work with the needy, when one night, "I awoke with the idea of doing this cookbook."

She wrote over 200 notes to entertainment personalities, politicians, and other notables, describing her project and requesting a couple of their favorite recipes. The response was great, resulting in a beautiful, colorful and unique cookbook.

The president of the company that printed the cookbook stated that he hoped that it was enjoyed by those that purchased it as it was by those that put it together.

Many of the recipes were accompanied by personal notes, that boosted Mrs. Caldwell's enthusiasm.

Dr. Norman V. Peale wrote that the cookbook would become one of their favorite because of the quality of the recipes.

Among the recipes are New York's Mayor Ed Koch's summer gazpacho, Kenny Roger's chicken salad, with nut meats — Glen Campbell's chili con-carne.

Ann Murray's deep-dish pizza, Patty Duke Asten's chicken burritos, John Ritter's fudge, Ed McMahon's loin of pork, Willard Scott's cheese souffle and brown sugar pound cake, Art Linkletter's stewed chicken, Gov. Charles Robb's Baja California chicken, Joan Mondale's pumpkin bread, and such an array of casseroles and desserts.

These are just a few. All governors contributed plus the first family of Puerto Rico, with some great Spanish cooking and beverages. Rose Kennedy contributed three.

The book sells for $8, and may be ordered by writing Cook Book, P.O. Box 583, Salem, Va. 24153. Please allow three to four weeks for delivery.

Skillet Souffle

Tired of the same old vegetable meal after meal? Give your family a change of pace with Vegetable Skillet Souffle. It's a flavorful combination of California ripe olives, eggs, cheese, and your choice of broccoli, asparagus, or spinach. Served in the skillet it cooks in, it is appetizing, nutritious and a snap to make.

Vegetable Skillet Souffle makes a tasty, cash brunch, luncheon, or meatless entree. Serve with a salad of sliced oranges, apples, bananas and dates. Warm bran muffins would round out this satisfying menu.

VEGETABLE SKILLET SOUFFLE

- 4 eggs, beaten
  - 1/2 cup milk
  - 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
  - 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
  - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
  - 1 cup cooked chopped broccoli, asparagus or spinach
  - 1 cup pitted ripe olives
  - 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
  - 1 tablespoon butter
- Combine eggs, milk and seasonings; stir in vegetables, olives and 1/4 cup cheese. Melt butter in 8-inch skillet; pour in egg mixture. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Cover and cook over low heat 15 minutes. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 6 servings.

Firm, Flavorful Artichokes Are In Good Supply

This column has recipes from A to Z. Artichokes to Zucchini, that is. This past weekend I had both of these vegetables prepared in the microwave. Both could not have been better so far as flavor, texture and appearance.

The artichoke is a member of the thistle family. It is eaten leaf by leaf, hot or cold. It can also be stuffed. The hearts and the bottoms are sold canned or frozen and can be served pickled, or in salads and casseroles. Artichokes are in good supply now. Choose only those that are firm, plump and with tightly closed leaves.

To microwave two whole artichokes follow these simple directions: Trim off the stem, rinse; shake off water. Brush with lemon juice to prevent discoloration. Place in a hollow baking dish with 1/4 cup water. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave on 100% power 5-8 minutes or until the lower leaves can be pulled off easily.

The leaves can be dipped in melted butter or a sauce. I prefer a Hollandaise sauce. This is one that you can make in the microwave oven. The timing is crucial, seconds not minutes for the cooking of this sauce.

HOLLANDAISE SAUCE IN SECONDS

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 2 egg yolks, beaten well
- 2 tablespoons evaporated milk
- 1/4 teaspoon salt

Melt butter in small bowl or 2-cup glass measuring cup for 30 seconds. Stir in lemon juice, egg yolk and milk. Microwave on 100% power for 15 seconds, stir and microwave 15 more seconds, until mixture begins to thicken. Let stand a few seconds, stir and serve.

To serve artichoke hearts as an appetizer or hors d'oeuvre this marinade is especially good.

MARINATED ARTICHOKE HEARTS

- 2 packages frozen artichoke hearts
- 2 tablespoons water

- Marinade:
- 3/4 cup vegetable oil
  - 1/4 cup white wine
  - 1/4 cup white vinegar
  - 2 tablespoons chopped onion
  - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
  - 2 cloves of garlic - minced
  - 1/2 teaspoon parsley flakes
  - 1/2 teaspoon chervil
  - 1/2 teaspoon marjoram
  - 1/2 teaspoon basil leaves
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/2 teaspoon sugar
  - 1/2 teaspoon tarragon
  - 6 peppercorns
  - 1 bay leaf

Place the artichoke hearts in a 1 1/2-quart casserole with the water. Cover. Microwave on 100% power for 8-9 minutes, or until tender, stirring to break up after half the cooking time.

Combine the marinade ingredients in small bowl. Microwave on 100% power 1 minute to blend flavors. Drain artichokes. Pour the marinade over the artichokes. Cover. Refrigerate at least four hours. Stir occasionally.

*If you use fresh herbs, double the amount of the herbs.

There seems to be no end to the ways we have found to prepare zucchini squash. Its bland flavor makes it possible to combine it with many other flavors for pleasing results.

These Zucchini Boats are ideal for holding an array of stronger flavored food stuffs.

ZUCCHINI BOATS

- 2 medium zucchini
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1 cup coarsely chopped fresh mushrooms
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 1 medium tomato, chopped
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 3/4 cup soda cracker crumbs
- 1 egg
- 1/2 grated cheddar cheese
- 2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- Paprika

Cut zucchini lengthwise. Scoop out pulp leaving a shell. Chop the pulp. Combine pulp with the onion, mushrooms, celery and tomato in 1 1/2- to 2-quart casserole. Cover and microwave on 100% power 4-6 minutes, or until tender. Stir once during cooking. Drain. Stir in beaten egg, cracker crumbs, cheese, salt and pepper. Mound 1/4 of the filling in each zucchini shell. Sprinkle with paprika. Arrange the Zucchini Boats on a microwave roasting rack. Cover with plastic wrap. Microwave on 100% power 5-7 minutes, or until filling is set and the squash is fork tender.

This recipe involves the Chinese art of stir-fry, a modern day appliance and an Italian vegetable.

CHINESE ZUCCHINI

- 2 tablespoons salad oil
  - 2 cups onion, sliced
  - 2 cups zucchini, sliced
  - 1 clove garlic
  - 2 tablespoons brown sugar
  - 2 teaspoons water
  - 2 teaspoons soy sauce
  - 1/4 teaspoon Accent
- Combine first 5 ingredients in casserole. Cover. Microwave on 100% power 2-3 minutes. Stir. Recover and microwave 3 minutes. Add remaining ingredients, stir. Cover. Microwave 3 minutes, or until tender crisp.

Tempting Sandwich

- TUNA TO GO
- 1 8 1/4-oz. can tuna, drained, flaked
  - 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
  - 1/4 cup chopped onion
  - Real mayonnaise
  - Salt and pepper
  - 1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish

2 hamburger buns, split
Soft margarine
Alfalfa sprouts
Combine tuna, eggs, onion and mayonnaise to moisten; mix lightly. Season to taste. Reserve 1/4 cup tuna mixture for Tomato 'N Tuna. Combine remaining tuna mixture with pickle relish. For each sandwich, spread bun with margarine; fill with tuna mixture. Wrap sandwich securely; chill. Place alfalfa sprouts in airtight container; chill. When ready to serve, top sandwich with alfalfa sprouts.

2 sandwiches
Variations: Substitute chopped sweet pickle for pickles relish.

Dill weed adds zest to the reserved tuna mixture which is spooned into a fresh tomato cup. Ideal for lunch. Tuna 'n Tomato makes a satisfying light supper, too. If it's part of a brown-bag lunch, carry the tuna salad mixture and tomato separately and combine at lunchtime. Croissants or crusty French bread are easy-to-carry accompaniments.
