Even Slot Machines Operated By Church Must Have Licenses

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 7.—Slot machines—even those operated by clubs, fairs and charitable organizations—must have the license attached to the machine before it is operated, according to an official notice from the office of State Comptroller J. M. Lee.

Mr. Lee points out there are no exemptions and no exceptions. Also, it is a fact, according to the statute, slot machines are gambling devices, and therefore, subject to confiscation as gambling devices until the license is attached.

It is his notice, the comptroller points out that agents of his office are now seeking for confiscation all non-operated devices described in the non-machine act to which licenses are not actually attached and adds that applications for the license does not authorize the operation of the machine.

Few other license laws are as stringent as the slot machine license law, one of the most stringent being the liquor law which also prohibits exemptions.

Bilious Spells

In bilious spells, one of the first things to do is to take a dose of Black-Draught to relieve the attending constipation. You can rely on Black-Draught whenever a laxative is needed.

Mr. T. L. Austin, of McAdenville, N. C. tells of having used Black-Draught for a long time. "There is a box full on my mantel, now," he writes. "I take it for biliousness, if I did not take it, the dullness and headache would put me out of business. It is the quickest medicine to relieve me."

Black-Draught is purely vegetable. It is one of the most economical laxatives. Sold in 25-cent packages containing 25 doses.

"WHY DON'TCHA BUY HER A RADIO FER UPSTAIRS?"

Just because it's Hubby's turn to entertain the gang, is no reason for the rest of the house to be as dead as a bug in a rug. At least, not when you have that second radio on hand. In fact, you'll find that another radio will fit right into your home like a long lost brother, and you'll wonder how on earth you ever got along with only one (radio). It's a regular Jack Sprat for keeping harmony when two good programs are on at the same time . . . and in the best room it will teach you to sleep at night and help you start the day right in the morning. So why not see these double radios about that comparative second radio? There's one to fit into the decorative scheme of any room.

Visit the stores of these dealers or see their display in our advertisement. We do not sell radios.

Arrangements Completed For Fair Exhibits

Group Views And Approves Rack Being Built For Display Of County Products

Growing Celery Is To Be Shown

28 Different Fruits And 50 Vegetable Varieties Gathered

Final and complete plans for the Seminole County exhibit in the Central Florida Exposition in Orlando the week of Feb. 18 were made last evening by the exhibit committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee viewed the display racks being built by Huddleston & Phillips, approved the design, and authorized R. N. Nipper to select the color scheme and decorate the booth.

While the fair is not to open until Feb. 18, the display racks will be taken to Orlando next Wednesday, the fruit will be shipped on Saturday, vegetables and canned goods will be delivered Monday, and everything will be in place Monday night for the opening of the exposition the following morning.

"Not an orange not here next Saturday will be placed in fair," said County Agent C. R. Dawson who will arrange and have charge of this county's exhibit in the exposition.

In addition to the usual display of fruits and vegetables the exhibit this year will include growing celery. Mr. Dawson today wired Alex R. Johnson, in charge of the "celery progress" booth placed in the state fair at Tampa by the Future Farmers of Seminole County, asking him to place the same exhibit in the county's exposition. He said he hopes this can be done, but if the Future Farmers' exhibit can not be repeated by that county because of school work, Mr. Dawson will build another like it for the Central Florida fair.

Sanford people returning from the Tampa fair informed Mrs. Dawson that the celery booth of the Future Farmers is attracting more attention than any other exhibit in the big exposition. The main exhibit from Seminole County will be on the stage of the auditorium in Orlando, but

Church Robbed Of Sterling Silver Communion Set

Four Costly Pieces Taken From Holy Cross Episcopal

Theft of four valuable pieces of a solid sterling silver communion set from Holy Cross Episcopal Church some time between Wednesday and Friday was reported today to the police by the Rev. Martin T. Bram, rector of the church, who made the discovery yesterday. All of the pieces were deeply engraved in memory of deceased members of the church and because of such engraving the thieves will not be able to dispose of the articles but will probably melt them up for silver bullion, Chief Roy G. Williams believes.

The Rev. Mr. Bram reported the theft of the chalice, or communion cup; the paten, or plate; the bread box and a baptismal basin. All were of the heaviest solid sterling silver and of considerable value.

Description of the stolen silver has been broadcast by police to neighboring cities.

"To rob a church is about the meanest and lowest down thing a man can do," was the comment of Chief Williams.

He pointed out that the justification given for the canal by Major General Edward M. Markham, chief engineer of the War Department, was that it would be useful and economical for American shipping. Almost every shipping company that might use the canal had, according to Senator Vandenberg, indicated that it would not use it and saw no need for it.

Secretary Ickes was careful in his language about the canal, which already has been started with $5,000,000 of relief money. Before it is done it will be a great cut diagonally across the state from the Gulf to the Atlantic

Region Warned May Back Knox Of Cold Wave For President

The Weather Bureau advised Florida fruit and truck regulars today that vegetable crops may be hit by frost early Monday morning. No danger was reported for tonight, but Meteorologist E. S. Ellison of the Lakeland forecasting station said another cold spell will settle over central Florida Sunday night and temperatures may reach the danger point early Monday. The Weather Bureau at Jacksonville forecast slightly warmer weather in Central Florida tonight, colder in the northwest part Sunday and in north and central portions Sunday night. Extreme northwest Florida; probably rain tonight and Sunday; considerably colder Sunday afternoon and night.

Roaring along in 40 miles an hour winds, the cold wave sent temperatures as low as 52 degrees below zero at Hill City, South Dakota. Train and bus schedules were suspended in that state, where Custer had 50 below and Rapid City 31 below.

Cool showers remained acute in many states.

Agitation Causes Early Closing Of Miami Dog Track

Three More Continue With Daily "Take" Of Half A Million

Miami, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Agitation by business men of a move for shortening the racing season resulted in the closing last night of the Biscayne Kennel Club's track 12 days ahead of time. Three other dog tracks and one horse-racing track continue in operation, but none being as big as the Biscayne track.

To ethics patrons, the greyhound tracks advertised night club singers, imported dance bands, grand entertainment of all kinds, including "autograph night" when some film stage star would be present.

City Solicitor Al Aronovitz, advising a "very strong group" of merchants considered him as a means of forcing the state commission to place racing on a "sane basis," refused to reveal names, but said:

"It doesn't take a seer to realize that when half a million dollars a day is wagered at race tracks here, and untold thousands are tossed into other gambling, the business men... are going to suffer."

Also, as Aronovitz pointed out, there is gambling to be had at night resorts, "and other places, which runs the daily gambling turnover to an astounding figure."

It was not indicated when the merchants would make their demand upon the commission. Solicitor Aronovitz, however, declined to comment on whether Miami's tourist trade, said business men "must have some relief."

Was Descendant Of Indian Chief

Wore Indian Blanket When Boy, Senate Toga For 21 Years

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—(AP)—Charles Curtis, former vice-president and long-time senator from Kansas, died today. He was 76-years-old. Dr. George H. Calver, physician at the capital, announced: "Hon. Charles Curtis, former vice-president of the United States of America, died of a heart attack at 10:25 this date."

Curtis was elected to the House in 1892 and served continuously until 1907. That year he was appointed to the U. S. Senate where he served continuously until elected vice-president in 1928, with the exception of the period from 1912 to 1914.

Since his term as vice-president expired he has practiced law at Washington, making his home with his sister, Mrs. Edward Everett Gann. Curtis was a widower. Only recently he had planned to resume political activities in the interest of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the Republican presidential nomination.

For several days the former vice-president had been suffering from a cold, but apparently was recovering and ate breakfast as usual this morning. His sister, Mrs. Dolly Gann, was downtown shopping, when a maid telephoned her to come home. Only the maid was reported at the deathbed when Curtis passed away.

Informed of Curtis' death, Vice-President Garner said, "I was always fond of him. He was a fine man and a good friend."

Charles Curtis was the first man of Indian ancestry to occupy the vice-presidency of the United States. In his youth he wore the blanket of his Indian forebears on the Kaw reservation in Kansas, and at the age of 47, by his own

Largely as a result of the Senate's investigation of the proposed cross state canal in Florida, many editors in the North are beginning to take note of this municipality for the first time. "It is astounding," says one of them, "to learn that the great Florida canal project is still clouded in as deep a fog of scientific and economic doubt as ever."

Calling the cross state canal just another "New Deal Experiment," the New York Herald Tribune, in a lead editorial, comments that the government is trying to find out "by spending a trifling $100,000,000 or so, whether turning Florida into an island will also turn that fertile state into a desert." Explaining at somewhat greater length the idea back of this comment, the Herald Tribune goes on as follows:

The project itself is an old one; it had, in fact, been hatched about four years, nurtured on the delusions of grandeur of local chambers of commerce, when it was suddenly revived, like so many similar projects, by the discovery that Uncle Samuel was having trouble in getting rid of his money. When then Secretary Hoover's cabinet members looked it over on a finding that it could hardly even pay for its first cost, the whole carrying charge on the bonds, the Geological Survey was convinced that it would drain off the state's fresh-water supply, and the shipping companies which were to bring the world to the front door of Ocala and...

Tips For Light Sleepers

If you have trouble keeping awake while driving your car, tense your muscles and grip the steering wheel tightly. That safety suggestion, developed from laboratory research, is reported by Dr. Donald A. Laird, eminent psychologist, in an article in the Rotarian Magazine. There is more widespread need, however," he adds, "for knowing and acting upon the complimentary fact that relaxation of both body and emotions is essential for going to sleep and for getting sound sleep."

"Since our skin sensations remain awake except in the most profound sleep, we must watch to keep our sleep from being disturbed by them. Night garments which leave the shoulders exposed to chill air make sleep lighter, because temperature sensitivity remains throughout practically all sleep. And those garments which are constructed at one point or another also disturb sleep. So do garments which are made of any material which has a tendency to cling.

A Supreme Court Bill

A vote of at least seven of the nine justices of the Supreme Court would be required before a law could be held unconstitutional according to a bill presented in Congress Monday by Senator Pope, Idaho Democrat. The measure, an Associated Press story reports, "and the people by their votes had approved the AAA program and added he did not propose to use the notion under the 'absolute rule of nine men, however wise'."

Properly the court is called upon at times to interpret that Constitution, but its interpretation, this paper believes, is determined by its sincere conception of the meaning and intent of the basic law, rather than by personal factors. The judges being human, temperamental and other inclinations may exert subconscious influences, but that the integrity of the court is beyond question is the evident conviction of the American people.

It also seems apparent, finally that, despite the great popular support for laws that have been invalidated by the Supreme Court, slighting and humorous references to the "nine old men" are nothing so innocuous as they were once. "Nine" as they are called still have to be "nine" in the sense that the American people generally and H. H. Henshaw for one at least, are in hearty sympathy toward the court, it is likely that Mr. Henshaw and the average citizen will remain firmly in the latter's camp.

Wishes, the Herald: It seems that most of our politicians, college professors, rich men, and those who do not think are worried by certain policies advanced by the people for the betterment of their lives, employment, and bringing about a method for preventing depression.

The other thirty-two missed an average of less than a day each. Some students kept the habit of 'school sickness' or took for reasons to stay away from school of which reacts directly upon the record. Students should be cautioned by parents and others interested in their welfare that it is just as important for them to be in school as it is for 'Dad' to be in his office every day. The most important business they have at this time in life is attending school and nothing should be done to minimize the highest realization of the opportunities which this business presents to them.

Mrs. Waldo Cummer Is Guest Of Honor

Mrs. Waldo E. Cummer of Jacksonville was honor guest at the annual luncheon of the Garden Club of Sanford held Friday afternoon at the Mayfair Hotel, with a large number of members in attendance. Mrs. Joel Swift, national president, was also a special guest and gave a short address.

Report Of Survey Reveals Possible Danger Of Desert

(Continued From Page One) Mr. Slattery's letter, it was written after the plan to make the canal run at sea level instead of carrying it across that state by a system of locks, had been adopted for the sake of economy. Mr. Slattery applied to the Geologic Survey for information as to the potential effects of the plan, and the Survey prepared a report for him, in the shape of a letter to his chief, which he signed. The meat of the letter follows:

"A canal excavated thirty feet below sea level would cut into the porous water-bearing limestone to a depth of about seventy feet below the present outlet of the springs. Unless the canal would be effectively sealed throughout many miles of its course, a procedure presenting difficulties that appear to be practically insuperable, it would inevitably drain enormous quantities of water from the limestone, would lower the water level in it and might even divert the water that now rises in many of the springs. The water that would thus be drained off now circulates underground through considerable distances and is the source of important municipal and domestic supplies.

"Moreover, after an unlined sea level canal with the passage of time had drained down the fresh water now in the limestone, ocean water, particularly from the western end, would tend to enter the canal at high tide and to seep into the limestone along the canal banks, and thus to contaminate its fresh waters. Furthermore, with the loss of head or fresh water due to the drainage from the upper part of the limestone along the side of the canal, the salt water that is already present in the lower part of the limestone would have a tendency to rise and enter the wells.

"To summarize, there appears to be no reasonable doubt that serious adverse effects will be produced upon important underground water supplies of the Ocala limestone, in a wide zone extending outward from the canal line."

The Ocala limestone mentioned in the principal rock formation along the backbone of southern Florida. The canal, on its way from Jacksonville on the Atlantic coast to Fort Ingalls on the Gulf, would have to cut it, and if by cutting it, such effects are produced as the Geologic Survey predicted, the fertility of the whole state might be affected by infiltration of salt water, as was pointed out in a series of telegrams from Florida farmers' associations introduced into the record today by Senator Royal F. Copeland, Democrat, of New York.

Ex-Vice President Charles Curtis Of United States Dies

(Continued From Page One) efforts he attained the toga of a United States senator. Then with the inauguration of the Hoover administration in 1929, he presided as vice president over the Senate, where he had served 20 years and in which he had risen to be Republican leader.

A romantic and versatile career marked the life of Mr. Curtis. From the Kyan reservation he went to become a jockey on the western race tracks, worked as a hack driver, embarked on his life profession of law, was a crusader against vice as a county prosecuting attorney, and then was elected to the House of Representatives and later to the United States Senate.

Immediately upon his elevation to the vice presidency he served notice that he would not pursue the course of his predecessor, Charles G. Dawes, in his efforts to revise the rules of the Senate permitting unlimited debate. He threw down the gauntlet to his predecessor in his speech of inauguration, declaring "The Senate is the master of its own rules."

Almost at the outset of his incumbency as vice president he gained nationwide notice when he protested to the state department against the place accorded his sister and official hostess, Mrs. Edward E. Gann, at official social functions behind the members of the diplomatic corps. Secretary of State Sumner was called upon to revise the ruling of his predecessor, and the vice president's sister took rank second only to that of Mrs. Hoover, the president's wife.

Born Jan. 25, 1856, at North Topeka, Shawnee county, Kansas, Mr. Curtis had in his veins the blood of an Indian chief and of French and Canadian traders on his maternal side. His father, William Curtis, traced his American ancestry back to 1621. His mother died when he was a baby and he was taken in charge by his wrinkled old Indian grandmother, Julie Poppin, the daughter of White Plume a chief of the Kawa. His grandmother persuaded him as a youth to go to his white relatives and become one of them.

League Holds Meeting In Palatka Sunday

Dispute Over Split Of Gate Receipts To Be Ironed Out

President G. E. Gilliland of the new Florida State Baseball League has called a meeting of directors of the organization in Palatka tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock when attempts will be made to iron out the disagreement over the split of gate receipts.

With the Palatka, Gainesville and St. Augustine clubs favoring a home-and-home split of the receipts, and with Deland, Sanford and Daytona Beach supporting the 75-25 division, it was agreed at the circuit's last meeting to run the first half of the season on the 75-25 basis.

If after the first half of the season it was seen possible for a 7 teams to complete the schedule without benefit of the 75-25 split, it was agreed the season would be completed on a home-and-home basis. It is also understood that if it did not care to participate in the class D league under this arrangement, President Gilliland said, and some agreement will be reached Sunday to the extent will not be jeopardized.

Fighting Dog Is Ruled Off Track Of Kennel Club

Officials of Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club greyhound race track call attention to the fact that in ruling a fighting greyhound off the track for the remainder of the season they took one of the steps which guarantees the permanency of dog racing in Florida as well as other states. The dog was barred because it fought a vicious battle against another entrant in the 10th event. It was the first case of its kind this season.

Featuring tonight's program is the additional race which may be expected every Saturday from the remainder of the season. The eleventh event will be staged at about 11:30 o'clock, giving residents of the vicinity plenty of time to witness four or more races after business closes hours.

First race, quarter mile, LAND LORD (1), Dear Fashion, 2:40. WILLY BOY (2), Dear Fashion, 2:40. DICKIE CHOICE (3), Hot Day, 2:40.

OLD PEOPLE find way to keep breath wholesome

Halitosis (bad breath) quickly yields to Listerine, safe antiseptic and deodorant.

Either because of stomach disturbances, food fermentation, or the wearing of false teeth, old people frequently have halitosis (bad breath). No wonder others consider them a nuisance.

But now Listerine has found that the regular use of Listerine will often overcome offensive mouth odors due to the fermentation of tiny bits of food on mouth, teeth, or dental plate surfaces.

This safe antiseptic and quick deodorant works quickly. It cleanses mouth, teeth, and gum surfaces. Halitosis (bad breath) and fermentation, a major cause of odor, and thus counteracts the odors themselves.

Try using Listerine every two or three days. How much more wholesome it leaves your mouth. How it sweetens your breath. Lambert Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

BASEBALL'S IMMORTALS VOTED PLACES IN HALL OF FAME

Players and sportswriters voting in the poll to select players meriting places in baseball's hall of fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., could agree only on five men—although scheduled to pick ten—to represent the period from 1900 to the present day. Top choice was Ty Cobb (foreground), the "Georgia Peach," who set a staggering assortment of records in his stormy playing career with the Detroit Tigers. He received 222 votes, only four short of unanimous. The others chosen, left to right, were Babe Ruth and Hans Wagner, who polled 215 votes each; Christy Mathewson, next, with 205, and Walter Johnson, fireball king, who qualified with 183. FLOOD TORRENTS ROLL OVER ALABAMA

Alabama bore the brunt of a mid-winter flood that caused four deaths and great property damage in southern states. The Warrior river is shown (top) after inundating homes at Warrior, Ala. The house at the right was lashed to a tree to prevent it from being washed away. Hastily unstrapping what possessions they could, the family of Don Jackson (below) presented a scene typical of the flood zone as they waited beside their home near Warrior for transportation to higher ground.
