—A DELIGHTFUL NEW ENGLAND COLONIAL HOME—

For those who like the New England Colonial type—and this type is rich in possibilities for refinished houses along simple lines—the house shown herewith will at once offer a strong appeal.

The broad, straight front, unbroken roof, delicate entrance porch with benches and lattice, large windows divided into small panes with heavy muntins, and last but not least, the finely detailed entrance doorway—all reflect the old Colonial spirit.

The walls are heavy shingles laid wide exposure and finished in the old "whitewash" effect, while the roofs which are also shingle, are stained a rich moss green. The blinds and shutters should be finished a Colonial blue, the chimney painted white with a black cap.

The interiors carry out the simple refined treatment suggested by the exterior; the house is Colonial throughout. The ceilings are low, giving a cozy and homey atmosphere to the rooms.

A centre hall with a large living room on one side and the dining room, kitchen and pantry on the opposite side, comprise the first floor.

The second floor shows a convenient arrangement with three good bedrooms, a bath and abundant closets. An alcove room is also provided which connects with the hall and one of the bedrooms. This little room can be used for a variety of purposes; a sewing room, a child's room, a writing room, or it could be used in conjunction with the hall as a retiring room or lounge, and fitted up very attractively.

A cellar is provided under the entire house, with sofa, chairs and the like.

The house is designed to get close to the ground—on the laundry, heater, coal storage and such—the first floor being but two steps above grade, this adds greatly to the charm of the house.

Cost about $7,600.

Complete working plans and specifications of this house may be obtained for a nominal sum from the Building Editor. Refer to House A-62.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Proceedings of the Cleveland convention may be speeded up in order to make possible an adjournment late on the evening of Thursday, June 12.

For more than a few of the delegates view with apprehension the possibility of the convention concluding its activities on Friday, the Thirteenth.

Even among the "leaders" there are many who face unafraid the combined threats of Democrats and Independents, but who lose their nerve and complacency at the prospect of picking a vice presidential candidate and winding up the affairs of the session on a date popularly reputed to be laden with distress and disaster.

Of course these gentlemen are not superstitious. They'll tell you frankly they are not.

But then they ask, why take a chance? Why tempt Fate?

DEMOCRATIC interest in the Cleveland convention extends chiefly to the sort of platform the G. O. P. carpenters build.

For the Democratic program calls for the construction of a platform which will be more attractive and spacious than that of the Republicans—one on which there will be room for all who fear faulty construction may cause a collapse in the G. O. P. structure.

Incidentally, also, the Democratic architects will study the plan of the Cleveland platform in the hope of locating weak spots. For in the campaign, the plan of battle to defeat Coolidge calls first and foremost for knocking the props from under the promises and program which his party chiefs will lay down for him.

NEXT to the matter of the Republican platform, Democratic interest now centers in the sort of showing which will be made by the "Farmer-Labor" party convention at St. Paul, June 17.

For on the extent to which that third-party movement makes headway depends very largely the latent danger to the old parties in the La Follette movement, which will take shape at the conference in Cleveland, July 4.

If the St. Paul convention reveals a substantial following in the face of repudiation by La Follette and by the American Federation of Labor, it may mean a split in the independent vote in the northwest which would result in not merely a third but a fourth party this fall.

Any such division of course, would jeopardize the effectiveness of the proposed independent campaign. Two fighting "independent" groups simply would kill each other off and leave everything lovely for the dominant "old party" in the northwest—which party, of course, is the G. O. P.

SHOULD the St. Paul convention "fizzle," however, then the La Follette gathering at Cleveland becomes of major importance.

The assertion is openly made in some quarters that under-cover assistance is being given the St. Paul gathering by individuals and interests close to the G. O. P. in the belief that by encouraging an off-shoot independent organization of extreme radicals they can undermine and discredit any other independent movement.

Efforts to tie the St. Paul meeting up with the American Federation of Labor finally reached the point where "Bumal Gompers" issued a blanket warning to all organized labor that an attempt was being made to trick it into becoming a cat's paw for "Communistic enemies of orderly development."

Gompers flatly stated that enemies of organized labor "are uniting with communists and professional radicals" in promoting the St. Paul gathering and urged all loyal laborites to stay away.

On the effect of this warning may depend the fate of a real "third party" this year.

WEARIED
"I am to move!" growled old Sol Swagg of Fiddle Creek. "I'm plumb wore out by these yer Northern tourists that come roaring through yerin their motor cars, running over chickens, dogs, children and all such, or stopping to ax a feller if he 'stilling much liker these days, or has helped lynch anybody lately, and so on. I'm so tired of being made either a joke or a solemn warning that just as soon as I can get around to it I'm going to move out into my private swamp, some'r's and—by grab!—stay there!"—Kansas City Star.
