Oviedo man arrested From Staff Reports

Jessie Leon Bell, 24, of Oviedo, was arrested by Oviedo Police Investigator Frank Parker Wednesday, in connection with a battery and attempted robbery Monday at the Oviedo Post Office.

According to a police report, at approximately 10:15 p.m., an adult female parked her vehicle outside the post office. While she was still in the vehicle, she was approached by a man who demanded her purse. The victim kicked at her assailant, blew her vehicle's horn and screamed.

As she did so, the man struck her in the face more than once, injuring her, according to police.

A passer-by approached to help at which time the male ran westbound across SR-434.

Following an investigative interview Wednesday afternoon, Bell was arrested on charges of Battery, Strongarm Robbery and Burglary of an Occupied Vehicle. It was found Bell was also being sought in connection with an earlier robbery and attempted escape.

Schools appeal state grades

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

SANFORD — Seminole County Schools Superintendent Paul Hagerty is appealing the state performance grades of seven schools citing the drop in grade letters is misleading and inappropriate.

The seven schools, including Lake Mary Elementary, Partin Elementary, Greenwood Lakes Middle, Indian Trails Middle, Jackson Heights Middle, Teague Middle and Lake Mary High, received B's in the state's School Recognition

"Comparing two populations of students by contrasting their performance in the same grade in differing years is at best misleading, and likely inappropriate to the point of doing a disservice to a school in a changing environment."

Hagerty stated in his letter sent to the commissioner Monday.

In his letter, the superintendent also suggested adjusting the present criteria until the state testing system can move to a growth model that documents students' gains rather than comparing two

SANFORD - In a familiar scene, a Deltona couple asked the media for help in locating their teen-age daughter, who has been missing since Tuesday.

Cynthia and Ricky Wilkins contacted the Sanford Police Department after their daughter, Kendra Renee Wilkins, 18, never returned home from running errands Tuesday afternoon.

According to her father, Kendra Wilkins left her family's Olde Kensington Lane home at approximately 1:30 p.m. Tuesday to register for classes at Daytona Beach Community College's West Campus in DeLand. The teen-ager was then suppose to get her nails done at Lee's Nails, located at 2921 S. Orlando Dr. in Sanford.

Ricky Wilkins said he con-

LAKE MARY — Lake Mary took the brunt of a severe thunderstorm over Central Florida

Wednesday afternoon.
Complete damage estimates have not been finalized but the loss could be well into six fig-

The National Weather Service in Melbourne is still compiling reports on the information on the incident, but a spokesperson said he doubts it will be classified as a tornado.

"With roof damage we heard about, it could have been a tornado," said Dennis Decker with the National Weather Service. "However, we are classifying it as a possible microburst. There was no rotation, so we can't classify that as a tornado."

Most of the severe damage in Wednesday afternoon's storm was reported in the Crossings residential area.

"We had a power failure at about 5:30 in the afternoon," explained Lake Mary Police Chief Richard Beary, "so we had many of our officers out in the extreme heat directing traffic. Then, suddenly, a very heavy lightening storm started and they had to work in it."

SANFORD — The Sanford Police Department responded to a resident's complaint about prostitutes working in the neighborhood by arresting five men for soliciting sex from an undercover officer Tuesday night and early Wednesday

The arrests were made between 10:25 p.m. and 1:43 a.m. according to SPD information officer Cleo Cohen. Three of the arrests were near the corner of East 4th Street and Palmetto, the others near East 4th Street and Sanford Avenue. The SPD identified James Marion Court, Ronald Vince

Foreman, Antonio Velez, Robert

Allen Hayes and Reginald

Leroy Grant as those arrested for assignation to commit prostitution.

According to the arrest sheet, Foreman offered the undercover officer $4 to see the officer's breast, and then physically grabbed the officer at the corner of 4th Street and Palmetto. Foreman was stopped at the

Police find bones of missing man

By Nick Pfeifauf Staff Writer

Human bones discovered Saturday in Holly Hill, have been identified as those of David Christopher Clary, 25, of Lake Mary.

Clary reportedly had been missing for approximately one year. The skeletal remains were found in a secluded wooded area off Alabama Avenue.

Seminole County Sheriff's spokesman Steve Ólson said local law officers believed from the outset the bones were those of Clary but had to wait for verification before making a conclusive finding.

According to Holly Hill police Lt. Mark Barker, police found a bicycle, small caliber rifle, a bank card, and other personal effects with the remains. The name on the bank card originally identified the Lake Mary man, but the Volusia County Medical Examiner's Office contacted Tallahassee then Maryland where Clary grew up, to obtain a match of dental records before officially releasing the name.

Barker said it is believed the man may have been staying in the wooded area prior to his death. The police report indicated the man was depressed and suicidal. It was originally suspected that the cause of death was self-inflicted gunshot wounds.

Specific time of death was not determined, but investigators said the body could have been in the woods for most of a

Ellis Clary, a breath of fresh air from Valdosta

Not nearly enough was written about the recent death of Ellis Clary, a long-and arguably the game's best story teller. Mr. Clary - he'd rather be called Ellis - lived 83 cheery years. He started accumulating stories to tell in later years when he was a kid trying to impress "Rawmeat" Rodgers, his manager with Sanford's Florida State League team in 1936.

There was a joy of its own to Clary's yarns about Wild Bill "Rawmeat" Rodgers, who in Clary's mind was just about the greatest manager — and greatest man who ever lived.

Russ

White

"Rawmeat was a poet, a philosopher, a wonderful baseball man, and funny," Clary used to tell his audiences. "He was from Texas and about half the players we had in Sanford were from Texas.

"He used to tell them, 'Any boy from Texas who says he hasn't had his way with a steer is either a liar, or a bad

Clary endeared himself to "Rawmeat" Rodgers in a game one afternoon at DeLand.

"I pushed dov and beat it out," Clary said. "On the first pitch, I stole second. On the next I stole third. Rawmeat yelled for me to go home, and I did. From that day on, Rawmeat introduced me as the guy who stole, first, second, third and home."

Clary's speed and a decent bat got him into the big leagues. He played in the 1944 World Series for the St. Louis Browns. Well, he pinch hit once. Lifetime, Clary hit .263. One of his 171 hits was a home run. He spent four years in the bigs,

> For years, Clary wrote a column in Valdosta Daily Times. He used the byline, Wolff Jay Flywheel. He also did radio play-by-play for the Valdosta Wildcats high school football team. He was proud of his hometown in Georgia, and used to say, "I lived so far out, I had to walk toward town to go hunting.

In more recent years, I enjoyed listening to Clary's stories while we watched ball games at Tinker Field in Orlando. He worked for nearly 40 years in the > Washington/Minnesota organization. He managed and coached Harmon Killebrew in the minors. He helped scout Rod Carew.

> > There's no

Hall of Fame plaque for Ellis Clary, and that's too bad. He was a lot more fun to be around than half the guys in the Hall. If they opened a new wing for storyfollors, he'd be the first one enshrined. Clary's plays of the day were with words and they were never meanspirited.

Ellis Clery

made a special visit to Sanford to attend a ceremony at the Sanford Historic Stadium. He loved the town and told great stories about it his whole life. I'll forever remember him behind home plate in the midst of a half dozen fellow scouts - fieldglasses in hand, scorebook on his lap. A real baseball

One-way conversationalists may find themselves alone

DEAR ABBY: What has hap: pened to the art of conversation? My husband and I practically run away from some people - not because of what they are saving but how much they talk

We were having Juner in a restaurant recently and a new acquaintance came in alone. We invited him to join us, and from that moment on we never spoke again past listened as the man droned on and onnonstop. I couldn't believe he could talk and eat at the same time.

Another time, a relative we had n't seen in about 15 years came to our home for dinner. He sat down at our table and proceeded to talk, talk, talk. When he lett five hours later, I told my husband that other than knowing where we live, he doesn't know a thing about us

I have read about young men and women who, even though they are educated, cannot get dates. Perhaps they should ask themselves when they are with new people, who is doing the talking? Both of them? Or is one of them dominating the conversation so there isn't any real give-and-take of ideas?

Please, people! Ask questions about the person you are with. Wait for an answer before jumping in again. I guarantee vou II. have triends all around you. instead of people walking back. ward to get out of

DEAR HEARD ENOUGH: Lagree. Being a good listener will do more for a person's popularity rating than being a good talker, People enjoy talking about themselves and their interests it given the chance. And they usually regard the person who's an appreciative audience as a fascinating conversational-

Some individuals talk incessantly out of nervousness or because they're compulsive talkers. However, to turn a conversation into a soliloguy is selfish. One of the most appealing traits a person can have is a sincere interest in other people. Midway through the Winston Cup season, the points race is heating up, and a slipup by any of several drivers could change everything his time last year, Dale Jarrett had the lead in the championship race. Although the race appeared to be over sooner, Jarrett didn't officially clinch the title until the next-to-last race. He dominated the contest in the closing weeks

By Rea McLeroy

It's tough to imagine a repeat of that run by any-

Bobby Labonte has led the points race since March 5 at Las Vegas, but a veteran contender is cutting into the lead on a weekly basis.

With 16 races left, the Winston Cup Series has a true points battle raging. Labonte, Dale Earnhardt, Dale Jarrett, Ward Burton and Tony Stewart are separated by a mere 215 points.

Just 322 points stand between Laborite and Jeff Gordon in 10th position. A slip by anyone in the group could mean a significant drop in the points standings.

Heading into the final races, the drivers are cautious when discussing a championship.

"The guys you've got to be concerned with are Jarrett and Labonte," Earnhardt said. "Sure, all of them can be a threat. All of them who are in the top 10 can be a threat for the championship. ... I do think [Jarrett] and [Labonte] are the guys we're going to be racing for that championship."

Labonte watches Earnhardt; Jarrett watches everyone. Joe Gibbs watches both his drivers, Labonte and Tony Stewart. After Stewart's win at Michigan, Gibbs talked about the performance of the top championship contenders.

The key, he said, is consistency.

"When I looked out there today, what I saw was Earnhardt and Jarrett and people like that who have won championships, you notice where they are," Gibbs said. "Even some days their car may be off, but they're up there. I think that is what we're facing."

That's why seven-time winner Earnhardt and defending champion Jarrett become major concerns.

"We've never won a championship," Gibbs said. "They have, so I think we're going to have to be extra good."

Burton, who has been as high as second this season, is fighting to maintain position. He's just 214 points off Laborte's lead, but he's having to watch his mirror

"The points have really tightened up, so we need a good finish this weekend," Burton said of last Sunday's race at Poeono. "We have run great all year long, and we need to make sure that we continue to do that. With seven points separating fourth to seventh, it's more important than ever to have a good run."

One slip could be dangerous for any of these drivers. Mark Martin knows about that. Jone was a badmonth for Martin as he slid from second to ninth in the standings. He's rebounded since and put himself back in the race. He has four consecutive top-10 finishes and has gained 101 points on Laborte during that time.

"The performance of this team was never a problem," Martin said, "Sometimes you just have a string of bad luck that needs to be broken.

"I don't know if we have a shot at the championship," he added, "but it sure feels good to be competitive again every week."

Earnhardt can relate to that feeling. He won his last championship in 1994. In the five seasons since, he has run well but not strongly enough to contend for the title. Then came this year, a season that has reminded fans of Earnhardt's style and power on the track.

Earnhardt agrees with the other drivers - this championship is up for grabs.

"If you're counting points [in October], you might be counting down," he said. "At this point, I'm not counting them. I'm just waiting until it's closer to the end, and then I'll add 'em up.'

> Who's Hot: Mark Martin. With four consecutive top-10 finishes, Martin is back in contention for the points championship. He is sixth in points, 217 behind Bobby Labonte.

Who's Not: Darrell Waltrip, He's 38th in points with no top-10 finishes for the season. Waltrip's best performance this year? Twenty-fourth at Texas.

On the Record

"Have I ever been scared to get back in a race car? Absolutely not. I would rather run 190 miles an hour all day than run with half these morons on the streets." - Tony Stewart

Pit Stop answer: (tie) Buddy Baker and Richard Petty both have 7 top-5 finishes.

NASCAR NOTES

ed Musgrave has been hired to drive for Team SABCO for the next two Winston Cup races. Musgrave returns to the NASCAR Series in a revamped Felix Sabates car. The team removed the number 42 from the vehicle after Kenny Irwin's fatal accident. A new number, 01, and a new design have been placed on the car.

Bobby Hamilton has overcome his share of obstacles this season. His car has suffered baffling mechanical failures in races where he was performing well. Now he's replacing his crew chief. Danny Gill has moved up from Hamilton's truck team. He replaces Robert Larkins, who moves into a shop foreman role.

Busch Grand National sponsor Sprint announced that Kyle Petty will run the rest of the schedule for this season, with the possible exception of this week's race at Pikes Peak. It's speculated that Petty will not run a complete Winston Cup schedule for the rest of 2000.

Air bags become debate topic in NASCAR garages

So, why not air bags? That is a hot tople in stock-car racing after Kenny Irwin's fatal crash. Air bags, common in passenger cars, might become the newest safety device in NASCAR racing.

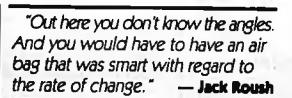

"Air bags work, and they've been discussed," crew chief Paul Andrews said. "It would be pretty neat if we could work it out. And I'm sure we could work it out, with as much technology as we've got to work with." But car owner Jack Roush said that air bags aren't an easy answer.

MIKE MULHERN

It's a frightening moment for a driver, reaching the end of the straight, taking his foot off the gas and hitting the brake ... only to realize suddenly that his throttle has hung. That's what apparently happened when Irwin was killed, and ever since, drivers and crews have considered that incident and how to keep out of the same situation.

So, why not air bats? "There is technology to put side air bags in these cars, to put forward impact air bags in these cars," Roush said. "But every system is subject to malfunction, and unless it would be beneficial in all scenarios, neither an insurance company nor a manufacturer nor a sanctioning body would be inclined to go with it. And it is awfully hard to get the data to be that sure, without doing it.

"I could not put such a safety system in my car if it wasn't first approved by NASCAR. I couldn't put an air bag in, nor would I want to. Because there might be a scenario where if the air bag deployed incorrectly, it could wind up being like the tail of a bullwhip. You could anap a person's neck worse, and have higher G-loads if the timing was wrong.

"Out here you don't know the angles. And you would have to have an air bag that was smart, with regard to the rate of change, like a G-meter that says anytime you go past three-Gs you deploy. But we really don't have enough information to be responsible, even though we understand how to fire an air hag and how under some scenarios it could be useful.

"We're not nearly ready for air bags," Roush continued. "I'd estimate we'd have to spend #20 million to #50 million and work on it for five years to know if we had something that could be beneficial.

"One of the reason safety systems come so slow into racing, and into passenger cars, too, is once somebody says 'This is going to be good for you,' if that system creates a problem of its own, then the person who proposed that really has a responsibility for the outcome. It may be only one bad result, and 100 lives saved, but there is then a huge debate over whether it's good or bad."

However, Roush does have some other ideas spinning out of the Irwin and Adam Petty crashes that might make for safer racing, such as changing the corners of New Hampshire International Speedway and increasing the banking to make the entry into the corner less abrupt.

Irwin went head-on into the wall at full speed. A more curving entry might have put his out-ofcontrol car on a more tangential collision course with the wall, perhaps making the crash survivable.

"To change the race track in some way to give the driver more room could be a consideration," Roush agreed. "But it is not clear how to change it and make it less risky.

"It may be that this track would benefit from more banking. We may be a little short on banking here. That may be a contributing factor. So to have experts in race-track design come back and look at where the apex points are and how wide the track is and what the predictable angles of coincidence of a misfired race car would be ... well, maybe the track should be narrowed.

"But I don't have any reason to believe that the problems that have occurred wouldn't have occurred at any of the other NASCAR tracks if there had been the same thing happening in the oockpit. The Bahre family [who owns the the New Hampshire track] has just been extraordinarily unfortunate, and the drivers have been extraordinarily unfortunate."

Mike Mulhern has covered NASCAR for 26 years for the Winston-Salem Journal.

Fairway Jeep rolls to double titles in Lake Mary

By Donn Smith SPORTS EDITOR

LAKE MARY - For four-and-ahalf innings it looked like a major upact was going to occur in the semifinals of the City of Lake Mary Department of Parks and Recreation Men's Spring Friday Night Slow Pitch Softball League End of the Season Tournament at the Lake Mary Sports Complex.

Then regular season champion Fairway Jeep decided to play ball and by the time the Championship Game had ended the No. 1 seeded squad had posted a pair of run rule victories to add another trophy to the booty the team had already claimed.

The tourney featured the top four teams from the rainplagued regular season and it looked like it would be great battic as Fairway Jeep had finished the regular season a little shaky, while Blue Haven Pools and Nice & Easy had been hot and nearly caught the leaders for the title.

The possibility of new winner seemed imminent as fourthseeded J.F.F. built an 8-1 lead in the top of the fifth inning.

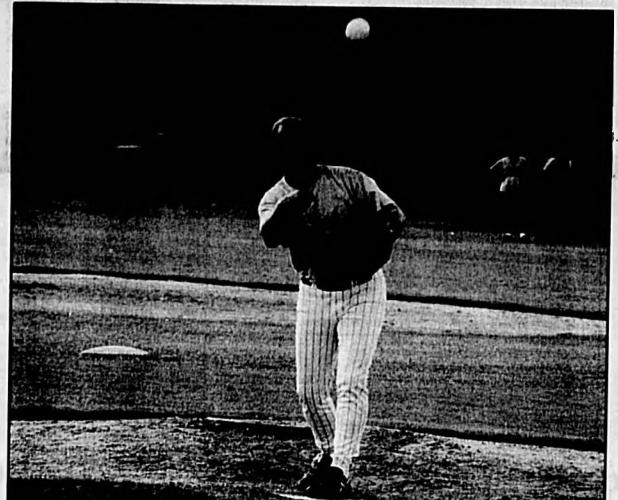

Fairway Jeep got back into the game as a three-run home run by Todd Hunter capped a fiverun bottom of the fifth inning making the score 8-6.

After holding J.F.F. scoreless in the top of the sixth inning. Fairway Jeep went to work, ripping five straight hits (including a two-run triple by Kevin Julian) before a line out to shortstop, then collecting 10 singles and a walk without another out being record to score 14 runs and end the game with a 20-8 run rule victory.

The second semifinal started off pretty much the same way with No. 3 seeded Nice & Easy jump out to leads of 5-0 and 8-2

See Lake Mary, Page 2B

Slade Hodges and his JFF teammates (above) were in high spirits after Hodges' home run gave the fourth-seeded squad a 7-1 lead over top-seeded Fairway Jeep in the City of Lake Mary Parks and Persetion Department Men's Friday Night Spring Slow Pitch Softball League End-of-the-Season Tournament at the Lake Mary Sports Complex.

But the celebration was shortlived as Tom Gracey (left), singled twice, scored twice and drove in two runs during a 14run bottom of the sixth inning to help lead his Fairway Jeep squad rally for a 20-8 victory to advance to the finals were Gracey went 4-for-4, scored four runs and drove in three and pitched a five-hitter as Fairway Jeep romped to the Championship, 22-2 in three Innings, over No. 2 seeded Blue Haven Pools.

Miracle break losing streak

ORLANDO - All-Star Nykesha Sales scored 20 points to lead all five starters in double figures and dished out a career-high seven assists as the hotshooting Orlando Miracle remained atop the Eastern Conference with an 88-78 triumph over the Detroit Shock at the T.D. Waterhouse Centre Wednesday night.

Eastern Conference All-Star starting center Taj McWilliams added 19 points and 10 rebounds and rookie Cintia Dos Santos had a career-high 17 points for the Miracle, who had lost two in a row heading into the All-Star break but defeated Detroit for the second time in 11 days. They entered with a half-game lead over second-place Cleveland and a one-game edge over New York in the East.

All-Star Shannon Johnson chipped in 15 points and Adrienne Johnson 12 to help Orlando match a season-high point total. The Miracle also scored 88 points at Indiana on June 3 and at Utah 10 days

Adrienne Johnson natied an 18-foot jumper from the right corner and a three-pointer as Orlando scored the final nine points of the first half for a 44-29 cushion.

The Miracle lost second-year guard Elaine Powell. who suffered a potentially serious left knee injury in the first half and was taken to a local hospital. Claudia Maria Das Neves hit five-of-nine threepoint attempts and netted 19 points to lead the Shock, who had won two in a row before the break

Wendy Palmer chipped in with 15 points and six rebounds and Astou Ndiaye added 11 points and aix rebounds for Detroit.

but lost for the fourth time in their last five road

The Miracle shot nearly 57 percent (37-of-65) to make up for a 36-22 rebounding disadvantage. They established team records for field goals in a game and in a half (19). Orlando's starters combined for 83 points, with Dos Santos tying a team mark with five blocked shots.

The Miracle will head to Washington for a 7 p.m. game on Friday against the Mystics at the MCI Center and then return home to host the Utah Starzz at 4 p.m. Sunday at the T.D. Waterhouse Centre before hitting the road for a 13 day trip to take on Los Angeles (Tuesday, July 25). Sacramento (Thursday, July 27), Portland (Sunday, July 80), Phoenix (Tuesday, August 1), and New York (Friday, August 4).

Samion wins Orlando Sportsman headliner

By Dave Westerman

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

BITHLO - Not even a persiatent night-long drizzle could stop the action last Friday at Orlando Speedworld on a evening that saw several wacky finishes.

The headline event was a 50lapper for the Sportsman cars. Rich Clouser set fast time at 14.61 seconds but drew the six pill inverting the first halfdozen cars putting Doug Samion on the pole.

Samion survived two complete restarts to set the pace in the early going as Clouser was working his way to the front.

Lake Mary's Bobby Lee Good was Samion's first challenger but his car began to smoke and he dropped out along with early front-runner Sam Bowman and Tommy Johnson.

Clouser moved up to put the pressure on Samion and finally got around him near midrace, but broke a driveshaft a few laps later and was forced to pit. Samion regained the top apot only to get turned around by second running Kelly Jarrett sending both to the rear of what was now a very elim field.

Jeff Wright assumed the point but he and second-running Mike Carr locked horns sending both of them to the tail of the field. Samion re-assumed the lead and held off Jarrett for the win. It was Samion's Divisionleading sixth win of the season and first for his new Rainaldi's Air Conditioning Repair Chevy. Following Jarrett's Spectrum Painting/Auto Parts of Taft Monte Carlo to the finish were Jeff Wright, Richard Hight and Mike Carr. The Classic Auto Racing series made its second appearance of the year and the evening belonged to Dave Nunes as he took advantage of his pole position to lead every lap of the 20-lap feature.

The only slow-down of this one came on lap eight when the engine blew in Randy Harden's coupe dumping a mass amount of oil in turn the restart but his car developed a push allowing Dan Hammerbeck to close in. Nunes was up to the challenge and took his second Classics victory in a row.

Hammerbeck was second for his best finish of the year. Mr. Consistency, Ed Yates, who had finished second in the last five Classics races, settled for third this time.

Robert Kasper started 10th but charged to fourth at the finish in his Durkee Machine sedan while point-leader Rodney Early came home fifth—his worst finish of the year after taking six wins in his first nine races. Eddie Thornton had a consistent run to sixth while Jim Rahman came from dead last on the 16-car grid to get seventh. George Hall, Bud Spencer and Frank Conrad rounded out the top 10.

Stmeon Spagnuolo finished 11th and earned the Big Daddy's towing Rookie of the Race Award.

Back in championship form, Bill "Goldberg" Pratt took the lead near mid-race from Rusty Ebersole and ran away from the Super Late Model field in one of the only races of the evening to go green to checker.

It was the second win of the year for the defending Super Late Model Champion in his B & K Used Auto Parts/Eddelman Air Monte Carlo. Ebersole held on for second over Florida West Coast driver Lee Collins, Bryan Mansfield and Travis Kittleson.

Scott Bramlett took the Late Model victory in Mike Murphy's Central Florida Septic machine when race leader Earl Beckner spun on the last lap. Bryan Mansfield, doing double duty, came home second in this one ahead of Chris Fontaine, Kenny Crites and Jacob Warren.

"Wild" Bill Gunn led most of the way in his Gunn-Struction Modified to claim his first win of the season in the open-wheelers. Gary English came away with a hard-fought second while Frank Polly took third and a $50 bonus from Dick Bennett Motors of Orlando. Aric Almirola and Jason Boyd rounded out the top five.

Lakeland's Kenny Hankins dominated the Mini-Stocks in his VW while point leader Kelly Jarrett tangled with Tim Clark coming down for the checker and pounded the turn four wall.

Jarrett had the wind knocked out of him for awhile but was otherwise okay other than being a nervous groom-to-be...Clark came across the stripe second in front of Geoff Williams, Ron Abeles and Rex "Boneman" Hollinger.

The Wildest finish of the night was in the Super Stock class as the top five cars, Charles Fry, Duane Freed, Carl Peters, Bob Wines and John Smith crashed with two laps to go.

Only Smith could get his car running again, but since he went to the infield to inspect his car, sixth running Homer Gordon was awarded the win. his third of the season. Smith was placed second followed by Freed, Fry and Wines.

The MMRA Super Mini-Cup cars were also on the card and it was Josh Guy of Auburndale taking the measure of the 15-car field. Casey Smith came from 11th on the grid to second followed by Doug Smith. Steve

Smith and Terry Lee Tullis.
Scooter Carpenter outran Russ Rainaldi and Junior Gould to win the Strickly Stock feature.

The Champ Karts race was won by Mike Phelps #9.

This Friday, July 21st, the Mini Stock 50-Lap Goodyear Challenge will be contested at Orlando Speedworld.

before Blue Haven Pools took the lead by scoring seven runs in the bottom of the third inning.

Nice & Easy regained the lead by plating three runs in the top of the fourth inning and Blue Hayen Pools answered with two runs in the bottom of the fourth inning to leave the game deadlocked at 11-11.

Nice & Easy failed to score in the top of the fifth inning and Matt Epstein tripled leading off the bottom of the fifth inning for Blue Haven Pools.

After a line-out, Bob Palagano lifted a sacrifice fly to left to score Epstein and Nice & Easy could not answer in the top of the sixth inning as Blue Haven Pools advanced to the finals with a 12-11 triumph.

Blue Haven Pools got off to a good start in the Championship Game, scoring two runs in the top of the first inning.

But the one-game layoff did not harm Fairway Jeep as it picked right up where it left off with the first six batters in the bottom of the first inning getting hits.

After a ground out, five hits, an error and a walk followed as 11 runs crossed the plate.

Over its last two turns at bat, Fairway Jeep had scored 25 runs as 30 runners reached base on 26 hits, two walks, one error and a fleider's choice with only two outs being recorded.

The shock of the big inning took the wind out of the Blue Haven Pools attack as it only got two runners the rest of the way, on a single and an error.

With the momentum in hand Fairway Jeep tacked on five more runs in the second inning and six runs in the third inning to close out a 22-2 victory.

Fairway Jeep finishes the season with an 8-1 record and was followed by Blue Haven Pools (7-3), Nice & Easy (4-4), Mace Aluminum (3-4), J.F.F. and Hill's Gang (both 3-5) and Polo's (1-7).

Top ranked martial artists compete at AAU Junior Olympic Games

Special to the Herald

ORIANDO - It is not unusual that two brothers are both top-ranked Tae Kwon Do martial artists with gold medals to show for their efforts, but what is amazing is that they are both under 10 years old.

Alex Kilmartin, 7, and Ryan Kilmartin, 9, both of Charlotte, North Carolina, bring their highkicking martial arts styles to Central Florida, July 26 - August 6, 2000, to compete in the 2000 Amateur Athletic Union (AAU)

Junior Olympic Games.

The games, presented by SunTrust, include 25 different sporting events being held at 30 venues throughout Central Florida. This nationally-renowned event is expected to bring more than 14,000 athletes, between the ages of 6 - 19 years old, as well as 3,500 coaches and an estimated 35,000 friends and relatives to the ages ne area. "If you want to see a parent's cycs fill-up with tears of pride, knowing that their children are moving along and doing really well for themselves, then you have to come and experience the games," said Sean Kilmartin, father of Alex and Ryan. "These games teach kids to be successful and to make a difference in whatever they do."

For Alex and Ryan this will be their third AAU Junior Olympics competition after becoming All-Americans and gold-medal winners in both point sparring and Olympic-style sparring.

Alex, who is a brown belt (one level away from his black belt), is ranked first nationally in the 6 to 7-year-old age group by the North American Sport Karate Association (NASKA). Ryan, a fourth grader, is the second ranked black belt in the world in the nine and under age group. Alex and Ryan were also recently ranked number one and number three in the world, respectively, for competitors 17 and under by Sport Karate

The boys are taught by some of the best in the field, including Laymen "Flame" Williamson, Roosevelt Moss and Karate World Champion Dewey Earwood.

International.

Alex and Ryan achieved celebrity status after being contacted by such shows as the Late Show with David Letterman and the Rosie O'Donnell Show. A feature on the boys, filmed by MGM appeared on Television. National Enquirer Television. Additionally, Alex has appeared on the Maury Povich Show. The young Kilmartins have not let this notoriety go to their heads. They are both looking forward to coming to Orlando and still think about the things most children do at their age.

"it's going to be real fun going to Dianey World," said Ryan, who wants to be a movie star someday.

"I want to look around and have fun," younger brother Alex added.

In addition to SunTrust, other sponsors of the event include BDO Seidman, LLP; Central Florida Sports Commission; Chick-fil-A; City of Orlando; Executive Source; Florida Sports Foundation; Greater Orlando Aviation Authority (GOM): Kenton 8mlth Advertising & Public Relations. Inc.; Lynx; Orange County: Orlando Regional Healthcare: Osceola County; POWERaDE; PowerBar: Seminole County: Sprint; Sunshine Network; and Toshiba Business Solutions.

The games are being managed by Team Central Florida 2000, a non-profit organization created by the Central Florida Sports Commission, a regional partnership designed to bring highprofile national and local sporting events to Central Florida.

More than 2,000 volunteers are needed to help with this event to assist in such areas as media room coordination, ushering, greeting, athlete registration and check-in, in addition to the actual sporting events. If interested, please call (407) 648-9505.

Spectator venue seating is limited, so do not delay - call (407) 648-9505 for ticket information.
