GROWERS ARE TO CURB SHIPMENTS FOR NEXT WEEK

Committee Agrees To Limit Movement To 100 Cars Per Day

Supplementing their decision Saturday to suspend cutting operations for this week, the special committee of celery growers and shippers met Wednesday afternoon and unanimously adopted a plan to limit shipments by a week to 100 cars per day.

This action was taken to prevent a recurrence of the coldest market conditions, which have prevailed for the past 10 days due to unprecedented shipments from the local celery delta. The restriction in shipments is expected to have a material effect upon stabilizing the price of celery on a basis which will yield a fair return to the farmers.

The conference was featured by an optimistic atmosphere. The tension which has gripped the local situation for the past few days, was reported to be greatly relieved, and it was announced that the group is confident that such drastic steps as have been taken to control the release of surplus will bring about a favorable reaction in northern and western markets.

A better trend is already noticeable in the markets, it was pointed out. By the end of the week the several hundred cars that were rolling unsold last Saturday are expected to be disposed of and the market cleared for the organized shipments of next week. Management of the special committee, which is presided over by Frank P. Furtach as chairman and with Linton E. Allen as secretary, is keeping in the closest touch with the situation.

Fish Season Comes To Close At Midnight

D. B. Hodges, deputy game commissioner for Seminole County today called attention to the fact that the two-months' closed season on fishing will go into effect tonight at midnight.

The law, provides for a closed season from March 15 to May 15, inclusive, applies only to fishing in the fresh waters of the state. It prohibits the taking or possessing of fish from fresh waters, in order to discriminate between fresh and salt water fishing, the deputy said the law, enacted to permit fresh water fish to spawn unmolested, does not apply to the taking of fish in the following waters:

Lake Okeechobee, St. Johns River below Volusia bar; Doctors Lake, Lake George, Carrabelle and New rivers, in Franklin county;

Suwannee river, as far north as the fork forming the east and west passes, the Wacissa river as far as the mouth of Cow creek, and all other lakes, rivers, canals and so forth of the state up to their mouths.

OMERO, N.Y., Mar. 14.—John D. Rockefeller, one of the wealthiest men in the world, told this reporter today in an exclusive interview that he feels as young as did 10 years ago and that at the age of 89 he is getting as much happiness out of life as he ever did.

"My health is good," said Mr. Rockefeller. "My heart is all right, it gives me no trouble. I live moderately, and I chew my food thoroughly. I have many friends. I have learned how to enjoy life, and I am happy. Thank God for the blessing he has bestowed upon me. Some times I think we are ashamed to openly acknowledge his goodness. I am getting along well, and I haven't any enemies in the world." This is of course the blessing any person could desire. Mr. Rockefeller was interviewed at the occasion of his birthday. He much told the press that there was no such thing as a "boring person." "Why, I'm happy," he claimed. Mr. Rockefeller is all smiles.

RAINS INCREASE FLOOD DANGER IN VALLEY STATES

Inhabitants Flee To Higher Ground When Waters Cover Area

ATLANTA, Mar. 14. (INS)

—A tornado, floods and clouds burst took a large toll over a wide area of the South today. Rains approaching clouds marron thousands of persons in cities and sent swollen streams out of their banks. At Six Mile, Ga., nine persons were killed and 12 more seriously injured in a tornado.

Early this morning, the club house was overrun with school children who are being admitted free. Pupils from the several primary schools were the first to leave the show this morning. Others were expected to view the exhibition this afternoon. The doors will remain open until 9 tonight.

The exhibits have been arranged according to their classes.

Displays line both sides of the lower floor and many are located at either side of the entrance. Forming a most attractive background is the stage, which has been arranged and decorated as an outdoor living room. The stage display is the work of Otto T. Summersfield landscape architect, as is the arrangement of the entries. The back part of the stage is a mass of pines, palms and bamboo. Furniture has been placed to good advantage amid the overhanging boughs while large vases of flowers help to set off the attractive scene. A moon peeping over the palms adds a beautifying effect.

On the balcony are the school exhibits together with the displays of window treatments and sunroom room and garden accessories. The schools' part in the show has received much favorable commendation, their exhibit being one of the features of the annual exhibit.

Another feature that has aroused more interest than in preceding years is the plant sale, which is being conducted on the lawn in front of the clubhouse.

Mrs. Endor Curlet has the sale under supervision and is assisted by Mrs. Harry Horner, Mrs. Howard Long and Mrs. W. H. Tunnicliffe.

Mrs. W. M. Scott, general manager of the show, today expressed general satisfaction over the hearty reception which has been accorded the show. Members of the Woman's Club, she said, have especially pleased with the interest that had been shown by the exhibitors, who displayed a wider variety and more attractive group of flowers and plants than ever before.

The exhibits were inspected yesterday before the doors opened at 3 o'clock. The judges were profuse with their praise of the show. Grand awards were made.

TROOPS MASS FOR BIG FIGHT OF REVOLUTION

Huge Movement Of Rebel Forces Made In Direction Of Del Rio Concentration Point

Tension Prevails On Border Areas

300 U. S. Soldiers Are Ready To Safeguard Lives Of Americans

NOGALES, SONORA, Mexico, Mar. 14. (INS)—Heavy troops movements began from here early today toward northeastern Sonora, with additional rebel reinforcements being rushed to the rebel concentration point at Del Rio, 20 miles south of Naco, where General Augustin Olachea with approximately 1,000 federales awaits a possible insurgent siege.

The successive columns of the rebels, numbering under Colonel Benito Hernandez, moved over the Southern Route of Mexico and early toward the town of Del Rio, where it is believed 100 insurgents under command of General Francisco Manzo, second in command of the revolutionary army.

Four hundred Yaqui Indians, under the resolution, under General Nemesio, are stationed at Villa Prieta, 25 miles east of Naco, awaiting orders to advance. Bernardo's regiment arrived in Nogales last night from Ortiz, Sonora.

Large movements during the last 24 hours indicate the rebels' plan to overpower General Olachea by sheer force of numbers holding up operations in the Naco sector until a large force has been concentrated at Del Rio.

The rebel strategy appears to be the setting up of Olachea with the columns of rebels advancing on Naco simultaneously from the south and east, while Olachea is prevented from marching westward by lack of roads and transportation facilities.

Troops on both sides of the international border are engaged in a series of skirmishes.

Says
Many Ways Are Suggested To Render Undersea Craft Better

WASHINGTON, Mar. 14. (UPI)—With $200,000 appropriation by Congress and heading a nation-wide appeal to make the submarine service safer, the Navy experts have gone to work and are now evolving many new schemes of rescue.

The progress of the Navy's work was outlined in the house appropriations committee by Rear-Admiral J. D. Bentler, chief of the bureau of construction and repair.

Some of the schemes of the naval experts seem to the moving men fantastic than stories of fiction or the dream of a movie producer.

The first rescue story from an other source came from the entry of Captain Daniel Britton, of the bureau of construction and repair.

A single device.

When the S-1 was rammed by the Coast Guard destroyer Pamlico and sunk, it required adroitness and luck to bring the bottom of the ship to the surface. The long, soft tyvek devices used to locate the submarine were released by the crew.

They would only bring them to the surface if they could be located.

It is the opinion of Captain Daniel that a life of safety can be had by men in the water.

Loss.

In support of the statement made by the man who fought him down, the Bureau of Construction and Repair said when some hours ago:

"We'll get him off if he can't get himself off. He's been told to do his best to get himself off."

The next news story might say that the commander of the submarine has telephoned the exact condition of the crew and the damage done. The telephone would be on the boat, according to one of the men.

The last news story might say that the Navy diver has reached the submarine and has attached an air line to it. It is believed that the diver will be able to attach a pump to the submarine.

Should the crew be impeded long another story might say that food and heat are being supplied to the crew through an air tube from a rescue ship above.

Air-Hose Connection.

The department already is supporting the man who fought him down, and the Air Force is doing its best to supply him with food and heat.

Getting down to the bottom of the following question, what is the following getting him off the boat?

What is the name of the boat?
