DEATH SAYS BENEDICTION FOR BILLY SUNDAY

Celebrators Of Armistice Day Go To Orlando

Address By Johnson Highlight Of Day; Parade, Football, Other Attractions

Sanford Has Big Part In Pageant

Scouts And Veterans And Their Engine Add Bit Of Color

Almost complete cessation of business marked Armistice Day in Sanford today, even though there was no formal celebration in this city. While a number of cities and towns in the vicinity arranged celebrations, the greater number of Seminole County people imbibed with the holiday spirit and went to Orlando where the 17th anniversary of the cessation of hostilities in the World War is being recognized in a big way.

The speech at 11:30 o'clock this morning by General Hugh Johnson who helped hatch the Blue Eagle and administered the NRA codes the first year, was Orlando's main drawing card. The football game between Rollins College and the Alabama Teachers on Tinker Field at 2:30 this afternoon was expected to be another magnet for the celebrators. The jubilee in the Orange county capital is to be continued this evening with a Legion drum corps competition in Exposition Park at 7 o'clock, a boxing program in the American Legion Arena at 8 o'clock, and dancing later in the auditorium and at the Country Club. Homage Paid To Unknown Soldier, Throngs At Tomb

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The lone, unnamed soldier, lying in the slinky crypt on a peaceful Virginia hillside, received today the honor and homage paid to those who died in the nation's fiercest struggle. Quietly lay his body in a casket whose top was adorned with a medal of the nation of the world with President Roosevelt joined in the prayer that this unknown soldier and his comrades had not fought in vain for the prolonged peace the nation craved.

Before his town in Arlington, American soldier shrines, were assembled dignitaries of the government, statesmen who help guide destinies of world powers, soldiers in neat uniforms or others drooping still with injuries of conflict, and plain folk from every walk of life. From early morning into shadows of afternoon delegations of patriotic organizations streamed up to the glistening marble monument to the unknown soldier. Throughout the quiet other Armistice Day celebrations were held.

President Roosevelt, without mentioning specifically the war now being waged by Italy and Ethiopia, said in his Armistice Day proclamation:

"It is particularly fitting on this anniversary of the Armistice that we should express our determination to remain at peace with all nations and our conviction that permanent peace can and must be attained throughout the world."

Directors Asked To "Strain A Point" And Go To Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Chamber of Commerce building Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Adoption of a budget, discussion of a program of work for the year, and approval of new literature about Seminole County are listed among the important matters to be handled. In the past several sessions of the meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce building, the directors to "strain a point" to be present Tuesday evening.

ARMISTICE DAY, AN OCCASION FOR PEACE

As the conclusion of the World War is celebrated today, America, through President Roosevelt, proclaims it an occasion for an expression of "our determination to remain at peace with all nations." Numerous observances are scheduled for the day, including parades, as depicted below, and memorial addresses, the highlight of which will be a talk by President Roosevelt at Arlington National cemetery. War veterans' graves in Arlington are shown above. (Associated Press Photos)

Armistice Din Echoes Fade As Drums Recall Old World Nations To Arms Once More

Last Shot Was Fired In War To End All Wars 17 Years Ago

By ALEXANDER R. GEORGE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The World War will end this morning at 11 o'clock Washington time, 11 o'clock Paris time. Seventeen years ago today that simple but highly dramatic Associated Press bulletin touched off a great, nation-wide outburst of joy and thanksgiving for the "triumphant ending of the war to end all wars" and for the "victory of democracy over autocracy."

At 11 minutes to 11, the big silence, more startling than the thunder of guns, came to the western front. The Kaiser was hiding in Holland, a republic "of and for the people" was being set up in Berlin, and leading American citizens hailed the day as the most momentous of the century, a turning point in history.

Today thousands of the American communities, which on Nov. 11, 1918, staged an unparalleled demonstration at the coming of peace, observe the anniversary with apprehensive eyes turned again to war clouds over Europe and the rest of the world.

This anniversary of the "Great Peace" finds the American nation apparently more determined than ever to keep out of war.

By mandate of Congress and by declaration of President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull, the government is committed to a policy of neutrality much more rigid than that which obtained before this country was drawn into the World War.

The United States then based its neutrality on "freedom of the seas" which meant the right to trade.

Opposition To Cross-State Ship Canal Is Causing Concern To Party Leaders

Writing in the Miami Herald, Gladstone Williams, that paper's Washington correspondent, states that opposition to the cross-state canal is the cause of considerable concern to party leaders in the nation's capital. Williams writes as follows:

"Administration leaders are beginning to manifest some concern over recurring reports from Florida that a break in Democratic ranks is threatened because of the federal government's sponsorship of the All-Florida ship canal from Jacksonville to the Gulf of Mexico. 'Word has been brought to Washington from responsible sources in the state that a growing opposition has developed to the canal in the south Florida counties where, it is felt, normal sources of fresh water supply may be endangered by the excavations. BRUSSELS, Nov. 11.—(AP)—A torch-bearer from the Belgium Corps will participate for the first time this year in the Armistice Day ceremony of rekindling of the sacred flame here.

From all parts of Belgium, from Paris and from the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, ex-servicemen will bring torches to the "Warriors' Tomb" in Brussels. The torches are passed from village to village, timed to arrive at dusk when veteran organizations meet to commemorate the end of the World War. The Congolese torchbearer set out on his long journey weeks ago. He will be accompanied to Brussels by the designated torchbearer from Antwerp.

Johnson Urges Attendance At Night Classes

Interested Persons Welcome, He Says; Farm Co-Operation Now Being Studied

Attendance of more people at the evening class discussions held in the Seminole High School on Thursday evenings was urged today by Alex R. Johnson, instructor in vocational agriculture at the school. There is no admission fee or charge of any kind for attending the meetings, and any interested person will be welcome, Mr. Johnson said.

The next meeting will be held in the High School on Thursday evening of this week, beginning at 8 o'clock and closing promptly at 9:30. The meetings are sponsored by the Vocational Agricultural Department and, as Mr. Johnson said, have been arranged for all persons interested in the agricultural industry in Seminole County, not being confined to farmers alone.

Believing that co-operation is one of the chief corner stones for profits in farming under present conditions, Mr. Johnson stated that the Vocational Agricultural Department is at the present time offering at these Thursday evening classes a series of discussions on "Co-operative Purchasing and Marketing."

"Co-operation has been practiced more or less (mostly) by farmers for the last decade," Mr. Johnson said, "but recent trends in agricultural industries have made co-operation essential to the welfare of the farmer. Someone has said that the farmer is the only man who buys at retail and sells at wholesale and expects to make a profit."

James C. Stone, chairman of the Federal Farm Board, is given authority for the statement that one half of the cotton crop finds its way to three concerns, and half of the wool crop to 10 concerns. Two fifths of the livestock, according to Stone, is handled by four concerns. Five percent of the nation's wheat is raised in this country finds its way to not more than a half dozen concerns.

Continuing with his tabulation, Stone estimates that approximately 50 percent of the grocery business is now being handled by chain stores operating through some 300 warehouses or associated buyers in larger units, thus reducing the number of buyers in the field. These facts, according to Stone, "make it evident that organization of the producers of agricultural products is essential to efficiently trade with the 'big' organized agencies which buy the farmers' products and sell them."

Red Cross Drive For Members To Begin Tomorrow

Seminole County Chapter's drive for members of the American Red Cross will get under way Tuesday with a house to house canvass in Sanford and other communities of the county. Board members will carry a street and in each block will select some "key" person who will see to it that residents of every house in the community are contacted on Friday and Saturday there will be lengthy down town in charge of Miss Helen Douglas. The drive is to continue until Thanksgiving Day. Membership in the Red Cross cost $1 per year.

To publicize the annual "roll call" drive of the Red Cross, displays are being arranged in the windows of several business establishments. These are being placed under the direction Miss Helen Douglas.

A four year record of what Seminole Chapter has accomplished and what the national organization has done will be shown in a display in the large plate glass window of the Florida Power & Light Company. In Spear's "Island" window there will be posters and two figures robed to represent Red Cross nurses. A first aid display is being assembled by Lela Nettles of Crooms Academy and will be placed in the display window of the Rounhill & Anderson drug store.

Chinese-Japanese War Is Feared Impending; African War Rolls On

Another City Taken By Invading Force On Forward March Through Ethiopia

ROME, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The invading armies of Italy penetrated swiftly toward the interior of Ethiopia early today on both northern and southern fronts.

The armies in the southern Ethiopian desert struck a long and telling blow Sunday toward Emperor Haile Selassie's "garden" province of Harar and his only modern artery, the railroad to the sea.

Columns of Gen. Rudolfo Graziani's forces said dispatches from the Southern front, seized the strategic city of Sava Banch in a swift, 3 day march from Gorrabeh, almost 100 miles to the south.

Apparently they met little opposition. That will come later, when they strike at Jimra, 100 miles or more farther north and the reputed concentration point for swarms of fierce Ethiopian defenders.

The capture of Sava Banch put the southern armies something more than 150 miles short of coveted Dire-dawa, control point on the vital, narrow-gauge railway that winds through mountain passes and across all but bottomless chasms on its way from Addis Ababa to Djibouti, French Red Sea port.

Up in the north, 11 Duce's army of occupation consolidated its lines around Makale.

The blackbirds were eager to push on the south of Makale, and Ethiopian officials at Addis Ababa, the empire's largest army 100,000 men under Ras Kassa, was massed behind a towering mountain range to reinforce the border of Ras Seyoum, the Ethiopian emperor's commander.

The emperor, meanwhile, watching his "gold army" of 50,000 men in review as Addis Ababa. These elite and wealthy soldiers, each with a retinue of servants, came from Wallega Province, where much precious metal is produced. A dispatch from an Italian correspondent at Djibouti said today and travelers arriving from Dire-dawa reported Ras Nasibu, governor of Harar, was assassinated during a revolt among his troops at Sava Banch shortly before it fell to the Italians.

New Smyrna House Owned By Mrs. Lovell Damaged By Children

The New Smyrna Daily News of last Friday reports the "coffy mutilation" of the interior of a residence in that East Coast town owned by Mrs. W. V. Lovell of Sanford. Disks were broken, furniture damaged and walls and rugs were marred.

By means of fingerprints the police ascertained that the damage was done by children, and four youngsters between the ages of 11 and 13 confessed, the News reports.

Special Issue Stamps Will Be On Sale In Sanford Post Office During Month

Special issue of commemorative stamps, the Trans-Pacific and the Michigan Centennial will be on sale in the local post office this month. It is announced by Postmaster R. J. Holly, though the exact date they will go on sale is not as yet known. A few of the 3-cent Boulder 10 cent commemorative stamps are yet available at the local office.

The Michigan stamp commemorates the centennial of that state. It is purple and contains in size to the current special delivery stamp. In a narrow panel with white edges and dark background along the top of the stamp is the wording "1886 Michigan Centennial 1936" in white is a reproduction of the state seal, draped by the national emblem and the Michigan state flag.

The Trans-Pacific air service stamps are in the denomination of 25 cents, the postage charge from San Francisco to Hawaii. It will take two of the cents to carry a letter to the Philippine Islands. The stamps, depicting the Progress of trans Pacific travel, will be run off in time for the inaugural flight, now set for Nov. 22.

Because of President Roosevelt's knowledge of ships, the figure of an old Yankee clipper on a forthcoming issue of air service stamps will have three masts instead of two. The Bureau of Engraving recently did a rush job in preparing the plate for the stamp. When the engravers submitted their work to the President, he spotted, in one corner, the Yankee clipper with only two masts. He suggested it should have three, and the plate was changed.

Planes Continue Their Search For Kingsford-Smith

Hope Not Abandoned; Six Lives Lost In Airplane Crashes

SINGAPORE, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Two more Royal Air Force bombers, not at Victoria Point, joined today in the search for Sir Charles Kingsford Smith, famed Australian aviator and his co-pilot, Tim Pethybridge, lost for three days on an attempted record flight to "Down Under."

Kingsford Smith's plane carried a wireless, but nothing has been heard from it since he left Allahabad at 8:25 P. M. local time Thursday, later passing over Akaba, Bombay on the bay.

The fact that the plane could have remained aloft indefinitely had it alighted on the water, coupled with Kingsford Smith's proven ability to get out of tight places, kept hope alive for the pilot.

"Serious" Situation Caused By Slaying Of Marine, China Is Told By Japan

Japanese Marines Occupy Shanghai

Chinese Seek Safety In International District Of City

SHANGHAI, Nov. 11.—(AP)—The "seriousness" of the situation arising from the slaying Saturday night of Hiroo Nakayama, a Japanese marine, was to be formally pointed out to Chinese authorities today, a Japanese consular official announced this morning.

Although the only Chinese eyewitness asserted the assassin was wearing foreign clothes, Japanese investigators insisted there were indications he was Chinese. They ascribed the slaying to political motives, saying they believed the killer was a Chinese soldier in plain clothes.

On the heels of widespread rumors that Japanese military action was impending in retribution for the unavowed slaying of the Japanese marine, a stream of fear-stricken refugees poured into the International Settlement throughout the night and continued this morning.

Balloon Soars On Belated Flight To Stratosphere

RAPID CITY, S. D., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Explorer Second, the world's largest balloon, took off at 1:00 o'clock this morning, mountain time on its long-awaited journey into the stratosphere for scientific exploration.

Outlasting a six week wait for perfect weather, the giant craft soared successfully from the rock-walled natural bowl, 11 miles southwest of here, about two hours behind the scheduled ascent. Rising approximately 600 feet a minute, the bag quickly cleared the 500 foot rock wall and moved over the hills a trifle south and east. Captain Orvil A. Anderson, pilot, dumped several bags of ballast when it appeared the balloon might come too near trees on the rim of the bowl, but the bag successfully cleared the obstacle.

Captain Anderson, who was accompanied by Captain Albert W. Stevens, commander and scientific observer, expected to land about 2:45 this afternoon, mountain time. Then, in charge of the flight said they expected the balloon to follow an almost straight eastward course with a landing probably in the vicinity of Sioux Falls, about 100 miles from here.

The bag rose in almost quiet air after all night preparations. A tear in the lower portion about midnight caused some delay in inflation, but the damage was repaired with a little patch without loss of gas.

Captain Stevens said the fliers planned to rise about 53,000 feet before halting observations.

Charleston Jails 25 Sunday Dancers

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Twenty-five young Charleston county men and women spent last night in jail charged with violating the ancient "blue law" which bans Sunday dancing. With three others who later made bond, they were arrested at a roadside near here by county policemen and lodged in jail to await a magistrate's hearing.

County police said they had invoked the ancient "blue law" several times recently, but this was the first time a raid had resulted in wholesale arrests.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Nov. 10.

The Golden Text from Psalms 138:1, 2, "Lord, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? Who shall dwell in thy holy hill? He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart."

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was following from the Bible: "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall. There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man; but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it." (1 Cor. 10:12, 13).

Opposition To Ship Canal Is Causing Concern

"There are growing indications of the canal becoming not only a local, but a national issue. During a recent speech at Dayton, Ohio, his native state, Congressman Chester C. Bolton, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee, directed severe criticism at the Roosevelt Administration for initiating the canal, citing the project as one which had been started without the approval of Congress. Attacking the financial policies of the Administration, he complained that the canal has never been approved either by Congress or the army board of engineers.

"Aside from feeling the canal would serve no useful purpose south Florida counties have sent word to Washington that they believe their subterranean water supply coming in from the Georgia and Carolina foothills will be placed in jeopardy by the extensive excavations required to permit ship navigation across the state. The geological survey is known to have touched on the subject in the recent study it made of the project, but the agency's report is being withheld from publication and efforts to obtain copies have been met with failure thus far.

"The only obvious explanation of the survey's refusal to release copies of the report is that it contains recommendations not altogether in keeping with the initial $5,000,000 allocation made. Congressional opponents of the project will be sure to demand its publication, however, when the subject comes up in the January session.

"All government reports on the project, in fact, will be demanded and if it is found that army and geological survey engineers support the fears of below-the-ground residents regarding contamination of water supply, Congress undoubtedly will reject authorizing legislation.

"Agitation for division of Florida into two states has not been received as welcome news in Washington. Many complications would be certain to arise in planning the Administration. While the state meeting at Orlando commencing only a comparatively small gathering, Administration officials looking for the movement were growing, having in mind the presence of those present at the first meeting, the next will witness an attendance of 500 or more."

Opposition To Luxury Tax And Beer And Milk Prices Reported By State Papers

Opposition denoted by the Pensacola Journal as "vigorous" has been made to the proposed imposition by the city council of "luxury taxes" in Pensacola, while at the same time the city commission of Winter Haven voted to suspend a gasoline and kerosene tax ordinance, it is reported by the Winter Haven chief in the meantime the price of beer and milk has been boosted in St. Petersburg and as a result "consumers are up in arms" in that Gulf Coast city, according to the St. Petersburg Times.

Pensacola business men urged by the chairman of the Escambia County Better Business Association to demand that the proposed tax on tobacco products be forgotten. The Journal quotes the Better Business man as saying that "Such a tax would only divert the business to outside stations, lunch stands and other places across the city and while the city government would get no revenue."

The Winter Haven chief reports that 60 filling station operators, bearing petitions signed by 1,500 citizens appeared at the regular weekly meeting to present their objections to the tax which the commission estimated would raise approximately $7,000.

Ten cent bottled beer was priced a 15 cents, or two for a quarter and 15 cent beer was jacked up to 18 cents, or two bottles for 35 cents in St. Petersburg. The independent reports, and milk consumers of Pinellas county today found themselves paying 17 cents a quart for milk two cents more than they have been paying for several months in accordance with an order of the Florida milk control board.

Beer and liquor establishments in St. Petersburg now close at 10 P. M. but 29 out of 50 restaurants checked last week were found to contain nearly enough signatures to require the authorities to call a special election to vote on the beverage Association's request that the sale of alcoholic beverages be allowed as late as midnight.

Wilcox Hears About Sanford Bond Troubles

Mayor Dumas Told He May Be Ordered To Appear Before Inquiry In Miami

MIAMI, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Congressman J. Mark Wilcox, continuing his exploration of by-ways of municipal re-financing today, sought to learn whether bondholders committees in Florida were paying attorneys too much money. His first witness was Harry A. Dunn of Jacksonville, secretary of the Florida Municipal Bondholders' Protective Committee which represents holders of obligations of 27 Florida municipalities.

After establishing the fact that Thomson, Wood and Hoffman of New York served as the committee's general counsel with local counsel for several municipalities, Wilcox asked: "Does the committee have a contract with Thomson, Wood & Hoffman for regular compensation?"

"Not to my knowledge," Dunn replied, explaining that bills were rendered and paid every three months. No annual retainer is paid, he said.

Balloon Soars To Near 74,000 Feet In Stratosphere

Valuable Scientific Data Obtained On Remarkable Flight

MITCHELL, S. D., Nov. 12.—(AP)—Man's greatest penetration of the stratosphere was accomplished yesterday by Captains Albert W. Stevens and Orval Anderson, who brought their giant balloon, Explorer II, to a safe landing near White Lake, west of this city. Their balloon, with the huge steel ball in which they rode, attached soared to a height of more than 74,000 feet. The exact altitude may be 74,000 feet, but this will not be definitely known until the detailed instrument are read.

In radio messages to the spot of the flight, the National Geographic Society and the U. S. Army, the balloonists reported a successful achievement of all objectives during the flight.

Atmospheric conditions during the regular air level were used. Cosmic ray data was obtained. The balloon, despite some mishaps to its fabric, was placed some 14 miles up, practicing its technical coding.

Federal Funds For Repaving Sanford Streets Allocated

Uncle Sam To Spend About $40,000 On First Street And Park Avenue Work

Money Given To Women's Centers

Work Centers Are To Be Established In Three Communities

Federal funds approximately $80,000 were today allocated for repaving two streets in Sanford and for building women's work centers in Sanford, Longwood and Oviedo. Notice of the approval of the projects and allocation of funds was received by the local WPA office this afternoon.

Construction of the proposed women's work centers is to be started on Thursday of this week, while the repaving projects will get under way the last of this week or the first part of next week, it was announced by WPA officials.

Park Avenue is to be widened to 50 feet between Fulton Street (the street immediately south of City Hall) and Fourth Street, and will be widened to 44 feet from Fourth Street to 12th Street. The average now varies in width from 24 to 40 feet.

The backs with which the avenue is now paved are laid on edge on sand, but they are to be taken up and laid flat on a more solid base, the project comprising 14,125 square yards along a linear footage of 3,863 feet. Concrete gutters are to be built, catch basins installed and sewers laid to those basins, and the white top lamps will be reset.

The government's allocation of funds for the Park Avenue project is $19,800. The city will pay $4,273, making the total cost of the project $24,073.

First Street is to be repaved with 20,000 square yards of sand asphalt from Sanford Avenue to Ponce Street, and the pavement will be extended from Ponce Avenue to the city limits with asphalt graded, lock concrete gutters two feet wide and seven inches thick will be built, curbs will be reset, old catch basins repaired and 14 new catch basins installed and 600 linear feet of sewer pipe will be laid.

The total length of the project is 10,000 feet and will approximate 14,000 yards.

The government allocates $10,581 for the project, the city puts $4,493, the total cost being $15,074.
