Sanford Rejects 'Piddling' $40,000 For EDB Costs

Sanford refused Monday night to accept what its city manager called the "piddling amount" of $40,000 offered by the state toward the costs of providing Sanford's 9,000 water customers with an emergency supply during the EDB crisis. Actual costs are estimated at $283,000.

The Sanford City Commission voted unanimously to table a proposed agreement with the state Department of Environmental Regulation allotting the money to Sanford while City Attorney Bill Colbert researches action the city can take against the state to recover more of the actual costs.

City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles said of the $283,000, some $91,000 worth of pipes can be recovered when the pipes are taken up. "But in the meantime, we must store that pipe out of the sun for 3-to-5 years," he said.

City Commissioner David Farr said the tabling of the proposed agreement doesn't mean the city won't come back in a couple weeks and accept the $40,000.

When the sixth city well of the seven at the Mayfair Golf Course was declared contaminated with the pesticide and suspected carcinogen, ethylene dibromide, in late December, the city arranged to connect two irrigation wells to the city system to boost its water supply temporarily.

The $40,000 is to pay part of the fees for the use of irrigation wells owned by the Frank and Patricia Stenstrom family, the costs of the Meredith Corp. installing pumping equipment, the costs of purchasing and laying 12,000 feet of pipeline to connect the wells to the city system and related costs.

At a conference at the city attorney's office with DER officials from Tallahassee earlier this month, Knowles said the officials appeared to have a pre-conceived notion that $40,000 was the sum that should be paid.

"Their attitude was take it or leave it," Knowles said. He said the state is refusing to face up to its responsibility to the city. He said the DER has $8.2

Fingerprint Insurance

The children of Liberty Christian School in Sanford now have fingerprint insurance.

Members of the VFW Post 10108 Ladies Auxiliary, Sanford, fingerprinted approximately 140 students today at the school located at 2628 Palmetto Ave.

The students will take their fingerprint cards home for safe keeping in case they are needed later for identification purposes.

Students from kindergarten through high school had their prints taken at the school which is run by the Palmetto Avenue Baptist Church.

Voting Rights Suit Settlement At Hand

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Final settlement of the voting rights lawsuit against the city of Sanford by five black residents is in the offing.

Lawyers representing the city of Sanford and the black residents have concluded negotiations, agreeing to the creation of four voting districts for commissioners and come up with a final order to submit to Federal Judge Elizabeth Kovachevich for her approval.

But the Sanford City Commission, given copies of the proposed order minutes before Monday night's 7 p.m. meeting, tabled the matter until its Feb. 13 meeting to study the proposal.

The commission, which earlier authorized its attorneys Ned Julian Jr. and Bill Colbert to settle the suit by offering to create four districts from which four of the commissioners would be elected, were asked to suggest two of four polling places in city elections.

David Lipman, attorney for five blacks who brought the suit on behalf of the black community as a class, has suggested polling places at Crooms High School and the Sanford civic center.

Left for Judge Kovachevich to decide is whether the winners of election to the city commission will be determined by plurality — the candidate getting the highest number of votes in a race — or majority — the candidate polling 50 percent plus one vote in a contest.

Lipman has supported plurality, while Colbert and Julian have supported majority on behalf of the city. Currently winners in city elections are determined by majority through runoff elections if necessary.

The judge will also decide the amount of legal fees which the city must pay to Lipman.

Commissioner David Farr said the commission voted to table the matter to give additional time to read the proposed order submitted by the lawyers and to consider appropriate polling places in two of the districts. The class action lawsuit was filed against the city in the federal court at Orlando in late September seeking single member districts for city commission elections.

Lipman said at the time the suit was filed on behalf of the black community, "who had been systematically frozen out of the election process due to at-large elections."

Under the agreement, the mayor will continue to run at large.

Those filing the lawsuit were Alfred G. DeLattibeaudiere, E.N. Smith, Samuel Wright Jr., R. Fletcher McGann and Hannah Pinkney, all of Sanford.

If the proposed court order is approved by the city commission and Judge Kovachevich, single-member district elections for commissioners will be in effect in time for this year's Dec. 4 city election.

Under the proposal, one district has a majority of black voters, a second is evenly split between black and white and two districts have a white majority.

Assaid Baby Goes To HRS

The short life and background of an infant born to a woman now serving time behind bars has become sealed history with a circuit court judge's order putting the child up for adoption.

Seminole Circuit Court Judge Kenneth M. Leffer gave custody Monday of "Baby Boy Assaid" to the Florida Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services so the agency could arrange for his adoption.

The infant's mother, Susan Barret Assaid, is serving a 15-year prison term for manslaughter in the torture-death of her 5-year-old daughter, Ursula Sunshine Assaid, in Sept. 1982. The girl died after several days of torture at the hands of Miss Assaid's boyfriend Donald Glenn McDougall while Miss Assaid stood by. McDougall is serving a 84-year sentence in connection with the murder.

Miss Assaid gave birth to the infant May 30 while she was awaiting sentencing on the charge. Since that time, she has had weekly visitation rights and unsuccessfully tried to have permanent visitation rights granted. Miss Assaid will be eligible for parole in 1985.

The legal father of the infant, the man Assaid was married to at the time of the infant's conception, Thomas Assaid, of Florida, has waived any legal rights to the child. McDougall, who has not been proven to be the infant's father, also is denied an interest in the infant as is anyone connected with the case, according to HRS attorney Don Lykkebak.

Just as it is the intent of HRS that the infant not know the details of his background, it is also the intent of the department that the adopting parents not know of the circumstances surrounding his first eight months of life, Lykkebak said.

He said the infant will probably be placed with prospective parents in another state in about a month. If the arrangement works out, then he will be eligible for adoption within a year, depending upon the statutes of the particular state, he said.

The judge's ruling, based in part on the possibility that Miss Assaid would abuse the infant if he were with her, is permanent, Lykkebak said.

Chemical Awareness Week Proclaimed

The Seminole County Commission today proclaimed January 25-31 Chemical Awareness Network Week.

The action came this morning after C. A. "Tony" Liberatore, vice president of Sanford C.A.N., a recently formed citizen's group to combat drug and alcohol abuse, asked that the county join them in their efforts.

The county's proclamation noted drug problems among youth are a number one concern and Sanford C.A.N.'s efforts toward prevention and/or rehabilitation are a worthwhile effort.

Liberatore asked the county to appoint one or more members to help create a task force to be comprised of representatives of county government, city government, the sheriff's department, Sanford police department, the business community and citizens at large.

The task force, Liberatore said, would serve as a place where parents whose children have drug or alcohol abuse problems can go for help. At the present time youthful drug and alcohol offenders are taken through the judicial system and incarcerated. The purpose of the task force, Liberatore said, would be to help youth who have a chemical dependency and avoid getting them deeply involved in the judicial process.

Commissioner Bud Feather, noting he had served some time on the Seminole County School Board and board of directors of a drug prevention organization, said the goals of Sanford C.A.N. are the most promising he has seen to date.

Commission Chairman Sandra Glenn asked Feather to make contact with the county's Health and Human Services staff and report back to the commission on what additional participation the department feels the county should offer.

Man, 25, Jailed In Rape Of Longwood Woman

A Seminole County man charged with the rape and false imprisonment of a Longwood woman he abducted in November was arrested Monday and is being held in the Seminole County jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Sheriff's investigator Paul W. Jaynes reported that the 26-year-old victim, who was offered a ride by the alleged rapist after her car broke down on State Road 436 near Butler Plaza, Casselberry, on November 3, identified a suspect in the case after looking at a photo line up at the sheriff's department Friday.

The victim reported that before the early morning assault the suspect said he would take her to a telephone, so she could call for help to repair her car, but once she entered his car the man drove to an area she was not familiar with, a sheriff's report said.

The woman said she became frightened, but the man refused to let her out of the car. When she tried to jump from the moving car she said he pulled her back in. The victim said the rapist threatened her with a gun, although she never saw a weapon.

Jaynes said.

The suspect drove to Dean Road in south Seminole County, where the woman said he forced her to have sexual intercourse. The victim said the man released her in Orange County, the report said.

When sheriff's investigators arrived at the suspects home near Oviedo at about 4 p.m. Monday they spotted a Ford Pinto, which matched the description of the car driven by the assailant. The sheriff's report also said that the same vehicle was believed to have been driven by the suspect when he allegedly raped another woman under similar circumstances on Aug. 6, 1982. The report said the suspect had been charged by Orlando police in that assault.

The suspect was released from the Orange County jail in June 1983, after posting a 2,500 bond in the Orlando case, Orlando authorities reported.

Zachery Butler, 25, of Route 3, Box 395, Jamestown, was arrested at his home at 4:15 p.m. He is scheduled to appear in court at 1:30 p.m. today.

No Permit

While protesting Monday the divorce decree of Circuit Court Dominick J. Salfi, ten demonstrators waved their placards without a parade permit in front of the Seminole County Courthouse, according to Sanford Police administration officer Larry Monti. The group, led by Laurel Ising of Apopka, and supported by her children, grandchildren, a nephew and friends from Orlando, were protesting a court order to Mrs. Ising to sell her lake-side home to pay her husband a $25,000 divorce settlement. Henry Tamm, city clerk of Sanford, said parading without a permit is in violation of a city ordinance but the only way to enforce the ordinance without a city judge is to take the matter before the Code Enforcement Board which could levy a fine of $250 a day. Mrs. Ising's nephew, Sean Davis, said an unnamed group of 65 women met Sunday to start a petition drive and to consider candidates to run against Judge Salfi.

'I Don't Fear Death,' Antone Says

Court Halts Execution

By Bill Lehmann
STARKE, Fla. (UPI) — Aging Anthony Antone, sick and ready to "go on to the next life," won a temporary stay of execution early today, just six hours before he was to die in the electric chair.

A three-judge panel of the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta issued the reprieve around 1 a.m. EST today, giving Antone, 66, until noon Wednesday to go to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The order, signed by Chief Judge John Godbold and judges Paul Roney and Gerald Tjoflat, came in response to a frantic last-minute appeal filed by Antone's attorney after a federal judge refused Monday to block the execution.

Antone's death warrant is valid through Friday, Florida State Prison spokesman Vernon Bradford said. If the stay is dissolved before then, the execution still could be carried out. After Friday, the state will have to seek a new death warrant, a process that could take months, he said.

U.S. District Judge George Carr

refused Monday to block the execution, maintaining that the four points cited by defense attorney Tom McCoun were invalid because McCoun had raised the same arguments two years before, and Carr had rejected them then.

The Atlanta judges denied Antone's appeal to them for a permanent stay, saying Carr was correct in dismissing Antone's petition for a new hearing. Antone's appeal, the appeals court said, was "successive and an abuse of the writ."

But the judges did grant a temporary stay "to afford petitioner an opportunity to apply to the United States Supreme Court for a stay of his execution."

The same appeal court granted Antone a stay of execution on Feb. 1, 1982, one day before he was scheduled to die that time.

Antone, who had refused a last meal and a visit from a clergyman, calmly prepared for death as his attorneys awaited word on the appeal.

"I'll sleep fine tonight. I feel good about my life," he told reporters in a news conference Monday.

Antone, who suffers from a cardiac disease, gallstones, chronic lung ailment, impaired vision and seizures, also told the reporters, "I don't fear death. I want to get it over with and go on to the next life."

He would have been the 12th man put to death since the Supreme Court lifted its ban on capital punishment in 1978 and the third in Florida. The last man to die in Florida's electric chair was Robert Sullivan, executed Nov. 30, 1983.

Convicted of arranging, at the request of mobster Victor Acosta, the murder of former Tampa vice squad Sgt. Richard Cloud in 1975, Antone still maintains he knew nothing of the murder plot.

"I didn't kill anyone. Being a Sicilian, they put a stigma on me of being associated with the Mafia. I have nothing to do with the Mafia," he said, chain-smoking cigarettes in the drab prison media room. "I was just a guy knocking out a living, working with air conditioners."

NATION IN BRIEF

Boy Rescued From Icy Waters Making Progress

CHICAGO (UPI) — Doctors say a 4-year-old boy submerged nearly 30 minutes in Lake Michigan's icy waters is out of a coma and making "extremely encouraging" progress, but it could take up to a year to determine whether he will fully recover.

Jimmy Tontlewicz's condition was upgraded Monday from critical to serious at Children's Memorial Hospital.

The boy and his father, Terrence, plunged through the ice into Lake Michigan Jan. 15 in a lakefront sledding accident. The father was rescued by passersby and a television crew filming another story.

Jimmy was submerged for nearly 30 minutes before fire department divers rescued him.

Doctors attributed his recovery to the "dive reflex," which directs blood to the brain and heart areas of a person submerged in extremely cold water.

Cocaine Ring Cracked

ATLANTA (UPI) — An extensive undercover investigation by federal and state authorities — dubbed "Operation Southern Comfort" — led to 53 indictments in the largest cocaine trafficking ring ever uncovered.

Federal grand jury indictments unsealed Monday in Atlanta, Miami, Little Rock, Ark. and Los Angeles charge 53 people with smuggling $3.8 billion worth of high quality into the United States.

The indictments allege some five tons of cocaine were flown from Columbia to Georgia, Florida, Tennessee and Pennsylvania in about 14 shipments between June 1982 and September 1983.

million in a state emergency fund for such problems. A. Alexander, manager of the St. Johns River District of the DER in Orlando, said the $8 million is being used to clean up hazardous waste sites in the state and "six or seven state cases will take all of it."

"The money is short and the problems are more and more," Alexander said. "Sanford is the only city receiving this help. Perhaps the Legislature will look at the problem this year and give more money."

Knowles made it clear that his criticism of DER was not directed to Alexander or at Frank Huttner of Alexander's office, but rather toward Tallahassee officials.

"One day I went through seven Tallahassee offices at DER and couldn't talk to anyone," he said. The officials were either ill, or out or not available and none returned his calls. Alexander and Huttner, Knowles said they used common sense approaches and were both sympathetic to the city's problem and helpful as well.

Knowles said the city's efforts to work its way out of the water shortage brought on by the shutdown of the six wells has not been cheap. Some $626,000 has been spent so far, including the $283,000 to provide emergency water, he said.

The additional money has gone for drilling four wells in Hidden Lake Park and for attempting to rehabilitate the least contaminated of the six down wells at Mayfair. In addition to installing new pumping equipment to increase the capacity at the contamination-free well at the Mayfair and installing new booster pumps at the city's auxiliary well field at U.S. Highway 17-92 and Airport Boulevard where eight wells are located.

Inflation Lowest Since '72

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumer prices climbed 0.3 percent in December to give 1983 an inflation rate of just 3.8 percent, the lowest in 11 years, the Labor Department said Tuesday.

Inflation for 1982 was 3.9 percent. Although most goods and services showed only gentle increases last year, the government report showed the biggest break for consumers was the decline in energy prices during 1983, down by 0.5 percent for the largest drop since 1963.

The category of fuel oil, coal and bottled gas dropped a record 9.4 percent for the year. Natural gas prices were up only 5.2 percent, in sharp contrast to 1982's skyrocketing 25.4 percent climb.

Gasoline prices dropped 1.6 percent for the year and were up only 0.1 percent in December.

The month showed an actual decline in prices for clothing of 0.1 percent, a year in which apparel, dry cleaning and laundry costs were up only 2.9 percent.

The year's 3.8 percent was the lowest annual inflation rate since 1972's 3.4 percent, and 9.5 percentage points below 1975's recession-high 13.3 percent inflation.

The improvement in the inflation rate from 1982's 3.9 percent was actually far more substantial than the figures showed. The Labor Department started figuring the index in a different way in 1983, replacing home ownership costs with equivalent rents. Had that system been used in 1982 that year's inflation rate would have been 5 percent instead of 3.9 percent, department economists said.

The Consumer Price Index itself ended the year at 303.5, another way of saying consumers paid an average of $303.50 for the government's sample "market basket" of goods and services that cost $100 in 1967.

In 1967 terms, the purchasing power of the current dollar is 32.9 cents, the department said.

Dairy products declined in price by 0.1 percent in December.

The report said fruits and vegetables went up only 0.5 percent, primarily because most of the price survey was completed by the time

December's freezing weather hit Southern crops. The cold weather destroyed more than a fifth of Florida's orange crop and devastated vegetable crops in both Florida and Texas, guaranteeing higher prices in that category for January.

The major categories of goods and services generally showed the same increases or slight improvements compared to November when the overall index also climbed 0.3 percent after seasonal adjustment.

—Food prices, up 0.3 percent in December, ended the year up 2.7 percent, with prices of both pork and beef lower than a year earlier.

—Housing was 0.2 percent more expensive in December, and up 3.5 percent for 1983. Only household furnishings showed any appreciable acceleration, going up in price by 0.5 percent, the most in eight months.

—Clothing and apparel expenses, down 0.1 percent in December, has shown no change at all in three months.

The economy's upturn has led to some consumer optimism. More people plan to make major purchases this year than last, according to a Business Week poll. In addition, there has been a marked growth of shopper interest in such big-ticket or luxury items as personal computers, new cars and new homes.

Executions Made Easy Court Rejects Calls For Death Penalty Review

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Supporters and opponents of capital punishment say the Supreme Court's refusal to force states to ensure the death penalty is applied equally now makes it easier for states to execute convicts.

The justices, voting 7-2 Monday, rejected pleas from death penalty opponents to require that every death sentence in a state be compared to sentences given all first-degree murderers to ensure the punishment is fair — a legal safeguard known as proportionality review.

Justice Byron White, writing for the majority, said a state's capital punishment law can be constitutional without providing for such a review.

The decision clears the way for California to proceed with the execution of Robert Harris, who would become the first inmate executed in that state since 1967. Harris still may appeal on other legal grounds.

California Deputy Attorney General Michael

Wellington, who prosecuted the Harris case at every stage in the last five years except for the trial, said he was "delighted" with the high court's decision for several reasons.

"The primary one is that the proportionality review issue, that Harris argued for, was the last major hurdle to implementation of the death penalty nationwide," Wellington said. "We, as a nation, have spent nearly 20 years questioning the death penalty and the process of deciding. This was the last major issue. All the debate is now over and we can get on with it."

Of 38 states with capital punishment, 30 hold some form of proportionality review.

The ruling also clears up potential problems with the capital punishment law in Texas, which does not require a comparative review. The state has not been able to execute convicts while the court considered the Harris case.

In October, White signed an order saving Texas death row inmate James "Cowboy" Autry from execution minutes before he was to die.

Autry was waiting with a needle in his arm for a fatal injection of poison when White decided the Texas law might be affected by the Harris case. White ordered the needle withdrawn 30 minutes before the execution was to take place.

Justice William Brennan and Thurgood Marshall registered their traditional opposition to executions in all circumstances, with Brennan chastising the majority for "unstudied decision making."

In other actions, the court: —Rejected an appeal from a North Carolina Pentecostalist who teaches his children at home because formal schooling is against his religion. Peter Duro asked the court to review a lower court ruling that said the "future well-being" of his seven children is more important than his religious belief.

Abortion Foes Take On The ERA

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Equal Rights Amendment, to be offered again in the new session of Congress, is "the most dangerous threat" to the anti-abortion movement, opponents say.

The ERA, which died when it was not ratified by the states and was narrowly defeated again last year when the House tried to revive it, has emerged as a possible focus of unity for the often-splintered anti-abortion movement.

"The National Right to Life Committee and other pro-life groups oppose ERA, as currently worded, because it would likely invalidate restrictions on abortion funding and otherwise reinforce abortion rights," said Douglas Johnson, legislative director of the nation's largest anti-abortion organization.

About 40,000 abortion opponents demonstrated their agreement with Johnson, chanting "No ERA! No ERA!" during a march and rally Monday called to mark the 11th anniversary of the Supreme Court's Jan. 22, 1973, decision legalizing most abortions.

Today, Sen. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, will hold hearings on the ERA-abortion connection.

But most of the anti-abortion leadership, including the dozen senators and members of Congress who addressed the rally Monday, do not need those hearings to make the connection.

"ERA does not ban abortions," march organizer Nellie Gray told the crowd. "They are trying to put abortion in the Constitution through the ERA."

"The ERA is the most dangerous threat" to the anti-abortion movement in Congress, Rep. Barbara Vucynovich, R-NeV., told the rally. "This time, the job (of killing ERA) will be harder. We must hope and pray that America will never accept an ERA if neutral abortion language isn't attached."

The demonstrators — large numbers of whom were young people from parochial and private schools bused in for the event — won a renewed anti-abortion pledge from President Reagan at a White House meeting of anti-abortion leaders.

Jean Doyle, president of the National Right to Life Committee, said Reagan promised "stronger support in the future than that we have seen in the past."

The march far exceeded last year's claimed turnout of 26,000.

Getty Takeover Cleared

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Texaco Inc. apparently has won its battle to take over oil-rich Getty Oil Co. by pumping up its offer by $3 a share and ending a legal challenge from heirs to the vast J. Paul Getty fortune.

Attorneys for three Getty granddaughters and for other heirs opposed to Texaco's takeover at $125 per share agreed Monday to support Texaco's new $128 a share offer that would make the merger the biggest in U.S. history at $10.1 billion for the 79.1 million outstanding shares.

The agreement approved by Superior Court Judge Richard Byrne apparently stops a takeover attempt by Pennzoil, which had bid $112.50 for Getty. Pennzoil suits filed in Delaware and Oklahoma are still pending.

The Texaco deal had been challenged most recently by three granddaughters of J. Paul Getty who said it would violate terms of the trust under which they will receive no income until after the death of the last Getty son. The granddaughters opposed the Texaco bid in favor of the Pennzoil bid.

Sanford Man In Serious Condition After Car Crash

A 23-year-old Sanford man was in serious condition today following an early morning traffic accident at El Capitan and Florida avenue, Sanford.

Jon Henry Cronkright, of 2580 Ridgewood Ave., Apt. 125, was in the intensive care unit of Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford, following a 12:51 a.m. accident Monday, according to a hospital spokesman.

Cronkright was travelling west on Florida Avenue at an estimated speed of 60 mph in a 25 mph zone when his 1975 Buick left the road on the south side, according to a police report. The vehicle struck a concrete power pole on the driver's side, then veered back onto Florida Avenue, the report said.

According to the emergency medical technician at the scene, Cronkright suffered severe head injuries, multiple lacerations, and was having a breathing problem. He was removed from the vehicle with the aid of a Kendrick's Extrication Device, a large vest with strips of support designed to keep a victim rigid when moved. Charges are pending in the case, according to the report.

JUVENILE DRUGS

Two 13-year-old Tusawilla Middle School students are facing drug charges, one for taking an illegal drug and the other for supplying it.

A Seminole County sheriff's deputy was called to the Winter Park school by Assistant Principal J.A. Baker at about 4 p.m. Friday.

The deputy reported that one of the girls was acting abnormally and was incoherent. The girl told authorities that she had taken a Quaalude which she had gotten from another student.

The parents of both girls were called to the school and the girl who allegedly supplied the drug was accompanied by her parents to the Seminole County jail where she was charged with possession of a controlled substance. She was later taken to the juvenile detention center.

The girl who had allegedly taken the Quaalude was taken to Winter Park Memorial Hospital because she reportedly has a heart condition, a sheriff's report said.

She was charged with possession of drug paraphernalia after her mother searched her purse and allegedly found a corn cob pipe and a bong, used for smoking marijuana, the report said.

A LITTLE POT
A Sanford man who aroused the suspicion of a Sanford policeman by yelling "Hey buddy," to a motorist passing Joe's Pool Hall on 13th Street, was arrested on drug charges.

The officer said that "Hey buddy" is a term commonly used by drug dealers who are seeking to make a sale, his report said.

The motorist ignored the man, but the policeman did not. The officer followed the suspect to the corner of 13th Street and Olive Avenue where he searched the man and found a small envelope of marijuana in his shirt pocket, the police report said.

Jerry Lee Dickerson, 21, of 59 Castle Brewer Court, was arrested at 11:48 a.m. Thursday and charged with possession of marijuana. He was released from the Seminole County jail on a pretrial release.

CONCEALED GUN
A Sanford man charged with possession of a concealed firearm and possession of a controlled substance posted $5,000 bond and was released from the Seminole County jail.

Sanford police arrested the man on the drug charge at 3:55 p.m. Friday at his home. When the officers searched the suspect, they reported finding a .38-cal. revolver in his jacket pocket along with 14 small packets of marijuana, a police report said.

Horace Cain Jr., 30, of 901 W. 13th St., is scheduled to appear in court on Feb. 10.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Rebels Accidentally Blow Up Commuter Plane

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — Leftist rebels said they accidentally blew up a commuter plane, killing a civilian, in a bombing intended for a transport plane carrying U.S. military advisers.

The guerrillas' Radio Venceremos claimed responsibility Monday for planting a land mine that killed a 50-year-old man and wounded five other people when it exploded under a civilian commuter airplane outside the eastern city of San Miguel.

Venceremos said the mine was intended for a C-47 transport plane carrying "North American (U.S.) advisers and officers of the hierarchy of the Salvadoran army."

U.S. Presence Supported

United Press International

Honduran army chief Gen. Gustavo Alvarez Martinez warned Nicaragua and Cuba are training 5,000 Honduran dissidents in guerrilla warfare and only U.S. military presence in Honduras protects the country.

His remarks were made in a speech to the Rotary Club of Honduras Jan. 11 and published in the monthly journal of the association Monday.

He said the army defeated the first band of 93 guerrillas who entered Honduras last year, but said more may come.

Alvarez Martinez responded to criticisms that the United States is occupying the country by saying, "We are not an occupied country. The Americans are here because we asked them to be here. If Honduras should decide it, they (Americans) would leave in 24 hours."

Kohl Visits Israel

BONN, West Germany (UPI) — Chancellor Helmut Kohl's five-day visit to Israel beginning today comes as the West German government considers arms sales to Saudi Arabia that are strongly opposed by the Jewish state.

West Germany has frequently considered selling Saudi Arabia the sophisticated Leopard II heavy battle tank. Although Kohl has to date ruled out Leopard tank sales to Saudi Arabia, the possibility of the sale of lighter armored personnel carriers has been suggested at recent meetings between Kohl and Saudi leaders in Jeddah and Bonn.

Other areas of Israeli-German friction include Bonn's adherence to the European Middle East peace plan that recognizes the Palestinian "right to self-determination" and accords the Palestine Liberation Organization a role in the peace process.

Search For Twins Uncovers No Clues

MELBOURNE (UPI) — Authorities say they fear that twin teenagers whose boat capsized during a weekend camping trip have drowned.

Officials said Monday rescue teams found no clues to the whereabouts of the 15-year-old boys, Kevin and Keith Huffstutler, of Melbourne. Another boy was killed in the incident Saturday and a fourth swam to safety.

Rescue teams dragged Lake Washington and a helicopter hovered overhead Monday in a search for the twins. A spokeswoman for the Brevard County Sheriff's Office said Monday night the search will continue today.

Jury Selection Slowed By Fears Of Violence

MIAMI (UPI) — Fears of violent community reaction is slowing jury selection in the trial of a Hispanic police officer charged with the negligent killing of a black man whose death triggered bloody race riots in 1982.

Luis Alvarez, 24, went on trial last Wednesday on manslaughter charges in the fatal shooting of Nevell Johnson Jr., 20, in a game arcade in Miami's Overtown ghetto on Dec. 28, 1982. Johnson's death sparked three days of riots in which another person died and 26 people were injured.

By the end of the fourth day of trial Monday, attorneys had completed questioning only 10 potential jurors. They questioned four of them during the half-day Monday session.

The prospective jurors were asked in detail how they would feel about having their pictures, names and addresses publicized if chosen for the jury. Local media have agreed not to identify the prospective jurors, but one newspaper, The Miami News, printed the names of two Friday afternoon.

Defense attorney Roy Black late Monday renewed his motion to move the trial out of Miami "based on the fact the court cannot advise the (potential) jurors their names won't be published and on the fact two names have been published."

Circuit Judge David Gersten temporarily denied the motion for a third time until he determines whether a jury can be chosen in Dade County.

Noting several of the potential jurors stated personal publicity or possible public reaction to the trial's outcome would not affect their verdicts, Gersten also denied a defense motion for a court order to gag the media on identifying prospective jurors.

Court bailiff Bill Allen testified he overheard two potential jurors expressing fears Monday that publicly identifying them would endanger them and their families.

"One was very adamant ... He said he would rather face contempt charges and any resulting penalties than be identified," Allen said. "He said that would protect his family."

Allen said all six other potential jurors in the sequestered room at the time also were discussing their concern over publicity.

"We are beginning to see now the affect of this case on this community," Black argued.

In response to the judge's announced intention to hold night sessions, Black told Gersten neither the defense staff nor Alvarez wanted to be in the courthouse area after dark. "My client has a right to a fair trial and also has a right to a safe trial," he said. The courthouse is located about seven blocks from Overtown.

Gersten agreed to recess each day's proceedings by nightfall.

Reagan Says Soviets Cheating On Arms Control Agreements

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan says evidence that the Soviet Union is cheating on arms control agreements "damages the chances" for improving relations with the Kremlin.

Reagan sent Congress a classified report Monday that contends the Soviet Union has violated four specific arms control obligations and "almost certainly" has failed to abide by others.

The document, summarized for reporters, was the product of a lengthy administration review and is intended to mollify conservatives in Congress who have accused Reagan of soft-peddling solid evidence of Soviet cheating.

The report was required by an act of Congress last year.

The Soviet news agency Tass, without referring to Reagan's accusations, charged Reagan is using talk about treaties and disarmament as an excuse to further build up the U.S. arsenal.

While his criticism was muted, consistent with a new, more conciliatory tone adopted last week, Reagan said such evidence "damages the chances for establishing a more constructive U.S.-Soviet relationship."

"Soviet noncompliance is a serious matter," Reagan declared. Soviet performance in this area "increases doubts about the reliability of the U.S.S.R. as a negotiating partner," he said.

Reagan said the United States will "insist upon explanations, clarifications and corrective actions," but in a separate document conceded the Soviets "have not been willing to meet our basic concerns" in diplomatic contacts.

He said the United States will continue to abide by existing agreements — a rebuff to conservatives who, in a lawsuit filed last week, argued Soviet violations release the United States from similar treaty obligations.

Rep. Jim Courter, R-N.J., among Republicans who had pressured the White House to release the arms control material, said, "While this report is welcome, it does not address all the issues which Congress has raised, and we will be pressing for more comprehensive public reports on the unanswered allegations of Soviet violations."

Of the seven areas cited by Reagan, four are covered by the SALT II treaty, which the two superpowers agreed to uphold although it was never ratified by the Senate. All are concerns he has raised previously.

Reagan alleged definite violations in the stockpiling and use of chemical and biological weapons, inadequate prior notification of military exercises, ballistic missile development and impediments to verification.

Congress Off To An Inactive Start

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 98th Congress has sputtered back to life, but the Senate spent its first day debating whether to take up its first bill and the House broke down in partisan wrangling.

Monday's opening meetings did little to dispel widespread predictions that almost nothing will be accomplished in the election-year session.

Congress is scheduled to be in session about 135 days this year — one of its shortest sessions ever — as election-conscious members prepare for 33 Senate races and 435 House elections this fall.

Some action is inevitable because of the necessity to pass yearly appropriations bills and because of U.S. involvement in Lebanon and Central America.

House Speaker Thomas O'Neill, D-Mass., said that the House next month will take up legislation to bring the U.S. Marines home from Lebanon sooner than planned. But Senate GOP leader Howard Baker of Tennessee predicted that any House bill would be defeated in the Senate.

O'Neill said the House will take up bankruptcy legislation and immigration legislation in the next few months, along with other necessary bills, but "I don't look for a raft of new legislation out there."

The Senate attempted to take up a bill to set a two-year moratorium on proposed $2-a-month access charges for long distance telephone users, but bogged down in a debate over whether even to consider the bill.

Although the House did not at-

Peace-Keepers Warned To Get Out Of Lebanon

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Libya said it had sent arms to Lebanese rebels and warned that attacks on the U.S. Marines and the rest of the multinational peace-keeping force would escalate unless the troops were withdrawn.

"The multinational force in Lebanon should pull out this year, otherwise further commando operations will be carried out," Abdel Salam Jalloud, Libya's deputy leader, said in an interview Monday with the Kuwaiti news agency.

Jalloud said Libya was working with Syria and the Soviet Union "to create a qualitative change in the region (the Middle East)." Soviet-supplied Syrian troops hold northern Lebanon and the eastern Bakaa Valley.

"Libya's serious stand can be seen in our attitude toward Lebanon, where we provided weapons for all," Jalloud said, referring to opponents of the multinational force and the Lebanese government.

Coincidentally to the Libyan threat, a third group of 180 Italian infantrymen was to leave Beirut today, the Italian news agency said.

In other developments, the Lebanese army fought artillery battles with the rebel Druze Moslem militia in mountains ringing the capital Monday and sporadic fighting continued early today, official Beirut radio said.

In Tel Aviv, the Israeli newspaper Ha'aretz said U.S. warplanes searching for kamikaze planes off the Lebanese coast have been involved in near-collisions with passenger jets flying to and from Israel.

Limits On EDB Due Within Week

ORLANDO (UPI) — Sen. Paula Hawkins, R-Winter Park, says proposed limits on the use of the pesticide EDB in food will be issued within a week and will become effective in 60 days.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration will introduce the proposed limits, Mrs. Hawkins said Monday after a public hearing she called on national EDB standards at Orlando City Hall.

Mrs. Hawkins, a member of the U.S. Senate Agriculture Committee, said the meeting was "very useful."

Six state and federal officials have joined Florida Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Connor in asking the federal government to establish a nationwide EDB limit, even though they admit EDB is not currently "a serious health threat."

Ethylene dibromide, or EDB, is used most commonly to rid citrus groves of parasitic worms and has been determined to cause cancer in laboratory animals. It is also used in grain storage facilities.

Florida health officer Stephen King said he expected the federal EDB limit to be close to the detection level established by the state Department of Agriculture. The state has set one part per billion as the maximum acceptable level of EDB in food.

Dear Friends and Relatives:
We would like to express our appreciation for the outpouring of your love, expressed so magnificently by your visits, cards, food and beautiful flowers, during the long illness and death of our loved one, Jim Horton, Sr.

Saving The United Nations

The United Nations retained a reservoir of uncritical respect and goodwill in this country for about 20 years after the world organization was formally established in 1945. Today, however, even the United Nations' fondest admirers tend to begin any discussion of this international institution by conceding its many and obvious faults. And no wonder.

As a peacemaker and peacekeeper, the United Nations has proved a dismal disappointment more often than not. The General Assembly, global forum for 158 member nations, often seems a study in irresponsibility as the representatives of tyrants great and small flail away against (Western) strawmen while the world's real problems go largely unattended.

Several of the United Nations' independent agencies — where some of the organization's most important humanitarian work is conducted — have been shamelessly politicized. The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) is the most notable case in point. UNESCO's anti-Western bias grew so odious that even the State Department backed the Reagan administration's recent decision to withdraw from the agency and to terminate all U.S. funding for it.

These failures all reflect grievous institutional flaws that can only be corrected by fundamental reforms. But shaping a more responsible General Assembly, a less political UNESCO and a Security Council better able to discourage aggression would take many years if it could be achieved at all. In the meantime, there is much the United Nations could do in correcting less cosmic deficiencies that are nonetheless steadily eroding the United Nations' credibility and effectiveness.

The United Nations' administrative bureaucracies have grown increasingly wasteful, greedy and ineffectual. U.N. Secretary General Javier Perez de Cuellar has been widely quoted as saying that only one in four of the United Nations' 26,500 employees does any useful work. James Jonah, a former U.N. personnel chief, complains that many governments "seem to regard the (United Nations) secretariat as a dumping ground for officials unwanted at home."

Whatever the value of their work, too many U.N. employees are paid bloated salaries and pampered with unnecessary perks. One U.N. undersecretary general grosses $122,500 per year. Teenage messengers earn $13,257 per year. The secretary general himself is paid an annual salary of $167,860. In addition, he has a $22,500 annual expense account, use of a rent-free New York townhouse and a limousine on constant call.

All this reflects unseemly — some might say obscene — opulence for an organization chronically short of funds yet charged with responsibility for aiding millions of hungry and homeless around the world. Americans ought to be doubly galled inasmuch as they pay fully one quarter of the United Nations' total annual budget of almost $800 million.

But mere waste is not the worst of the U.N. bureaucracy's sins. The United Nations Charter authorized establishment of an international civil service to staff and operate a secretariat and other U.N. agencies. The charter is explicit: U.N. civil servants are to be strictly impartial, owing their first loyalty not to any nation but to the world organization. Indeed, these international civil servants are expressly forbidden to accept instructions from any national government.

Nearly 500 Soviet citizens work for the U.N. secretariat, many in critical posts. Virtually all are members of the Soviet Communist Party, subject to party discipline on and off the job. Furthermore, it is an open secret (confirmed by successive defectors) that all Soviets employed by the secretariat accept covert instructions on a regular basis from the Soviet government.

Naturally, the Soviets deny this. U.N. officials acquiesce in this deception because to do otherwise would provoke a confrontation with the Soviet Union, and with every other Soviet bloc nation as well. Clearly, the U.N. secretariat has no stomach for this, which is why Secretary General Perez de Cuellar refused recently to renew the contract of a Soviet U.N. official who defected to the West. The Soviets, who had obviously lost control of their man, demanded that Vladimir Yakimetz be fired and the secretary general meekly complied.

This is the principle of an impartial international civil service subverted right along with the U.N. secretariat itself.

Longwood-Winter Springs Area Chamber of Commerce has found a new home. The chamber was given notice to move from its offices in the Longwood Village Inn by March 1 by the historic old hotel's new owners. The president of Florida Homecrafters, Dick Tickal, a chamber member, has agreed to donate use of a 800 square foot office in a new building located a few blocks north of State Road 434 on County Road 427 in Longwood, according to Chamber President Dave Chacey.

The Longwood-Winter Springs chamber has a building fund and sometime in the future hopes to have a permanent home of its own.

The chamber is preparing to publish a new map of its area, which it calls "The Friendly Crossroads." The chamber will have 5,000 maps for free distribution and both cities will each get 500 maps to give away.

Like other area chambers the Longwood-Winter Springs chamber is preparing to launch its membership drive in February. It has the ambitious goal of doubling its membership from 334 to 668.

Award-winning art work and photography by middle and senior high school students from Seminole, Brevard, Orange and Osceola counties will be displayed in the eighth annual Central Florida Regional Scholastic Art Awards Exhibition to be held Feb. 18-March 4 in Robinson's Fashion Square Store in Orlando. The exhibition will be open 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and 12:30 to 5:30 p.m. Sundays.

If you know of an adult who is unable to read, tell him or her about the Seminole Community College Literacy Program, which is offering free instruction for those wishing to learn to read. Students are required to buy their books, however. For more information, call SCC and ask for Reed Gregory, Ext. 443.

The SCC Office of Community Instructional Services will be offering a Lamaze class Feb. 6-March 19 from 7-9 p.m. for prospective parents in Room V-14. The fee is $20 per person. The classes will be taught by Sharon B. Cannon, RN, an obstetrical instructor in the Associate Degree Nursing Program.

It will focus on relaxation, breathing, and concentration tools for utilization by the mother/couple during labor and delivery. Parenting, infant feeding, care and safety will also be explored. Call 323-1450, ext. 304 for further information.

Seeing Bishops As Economists

(Editor's Note: Edward J. Walsh is a staff writer for the USBC Writer's Group. His column is published in a variety of newspapers throughout the United States.)

The excitement stirred last May by the National Conference of Catholic Bishops' pastoral letter on nuclear war had barely died away when the public learned that a committee of bishops is taking notes on another subject on which they are amateurs: the U.S. economy. At a meeting at Notre Dame University last month, the bishops listened to arguments by a mixed bag of conservative-to-radical economists and theologians, corporate executives, and labor leaders, who hope to influence their views.

The bishops are not seeking controversy. The decision to produce a pastoral letter — a nonbinding, non-doctrinal statement of the bishops' opinion — was actually made at a synod in 1980, the same time the effort on nuclear war was inaugurated. Since then, separate committees have worked intermittently on both documents. The "Peace" Pastoral, as it is called by those who applauded it, was completed first.

But the pastoral on economics, tentatively entitled "Catholic Social Teaching and the U.S. Economy," cannot fail to disturb many Americans. That is because, if it is to have any substance, it must attach moral weight to competing economic systems: capitalism and socialism, or the free market and central economic planning. A statement that tries to compromise endlessly will only anger Catholics and non-Catholics on both sides.

The Notre Dame meeting provided a few clues as to where the bishops will land. They heard Gar Alperovitz, a socialist economist, aggressively defend central planning, which is the theory that if bureaucrats as bright and unselfish as him run the economy, all would be fine and fair. The free market view was represented by Peter Petersen, former Secretary of Commerce and Marina Whitman of General Motors Corporation, who pointed out simply that bureaucrats, like businessmen, make mistakes. Michael Novak, the brilliant Catholic philosopher, reminded the bishops that capitalism, for all its shortcomings, still provides a better life for the poor than socialism, the world over.

As would be expected, the bishops and their clerical staff were more sure of themselves in the realm of theology. Dr. Daniel Rush Finn, a scholar of ethics, said wryly that the question isn't whether we can run an economy according to the highest Christian values, but whether we can run it on the most basic Christian values. The reaction of the participants suggested that they think not.

It's likely that the bishops will produce a deeply moralistic call for a "humanitarian, Christian economic policy," deftly short on details. Such a document would be heavy artillery for the advocates of socialism, even without a specific endorsement. The committee chairman, Archbishop Rembert Weakland of Milwaukee, has retained as chief economic consultant Professor Charles K. Wilber of Notre Dame, a believer in central planning.

Auditors Can't Trim Contracts

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon's purchasing officers are notorious for giving defense contractors every penny they ask for — no matter how outrageously the contractors overprice what they sell to the armed services.

Even when the Defense Contract Audit Agency catches a particularly gross overcharge, the purchasing officers negotiate a settlement with the ineptitude of an American tourist let loose in an oriental bazaar.

That's why I'm keeping a watchful eye on the negotiations over a proposed contract with Texas Instruments Inc. to supply infrared viewers for Army tanks. Texas Instruments thinks the job is worth almost half a billion dollars.

But the overburdened auditors disagree. My associates Donald Goldberg and Jock Hatfield have seen an internal review of the proposed contract. The auditors discovered what they termed — with masterful understatement — "several significant weaknesses" in the way Texas Instruments estimated its costs on the contract.

WILLIAM RUSHER

TV Covers Valley Forge

NEW YORK (NEA) — With the XYZ Network's "News Tonight," here is Lance Lookgood in New York.

L.L. — Good evening. It's Jan. 19, 1778, and the cause of the American colonists is in deep trouble. A stretch of failure hangs over the Continental Congress, which fled to the interior of Pennsylvania after the British defeated Gen. Washington at Brandywine Creek on Sept. 11 and occupied Philadelphia on Sept. 26. The Brandywine fiasco was followed, you will recall, by Washington's unsuccessful attack on the British forces at Germantown Oct. 4.

Since Dec. 19, about 11,000 ragged survivors of the Continental Army have been holed up with Gen. Washington in what the general's spokesmen describe as "winter quarters" at Valley Forge, on the west bank of the Schuylkill River some 22 miles northwest of Philadelphia. They will try to hang on there till spring, but the odds are heavily against them. XYZ correspondent Godfrey Grumblemuck has this report live, from Valley Forge.

(The screen now shows Godfrey Grumblemuck, a microphone pressed close to his lips, standing in a snowstorm in front of what appears to be a campfire. Six or seven motionless men are huddled around the flickering logs.)

G.G. — Thanks, Lance. It's 3 degrees below zero here at Valley Forge this evening, but the wind chill factor makes it feel like 42 below. What's more, as you can see, it's snowing hard — which is par for the course. It has snowed here almost every day since late December.

That doesn't bother Gen. Washington very much. Why should it? He's installed with some of his staff officers in a stone house about a mile away, over there (pointing). But the average soldier is lucky if he has a hut, or even a lean-to. And firewood is, of course, at a premium, with officers taking most of it.

Food is another problem. The commissary is grossly mismanaged, and semi-starvation is a common condition among the troops here. All things considered, it's hardly surprising that morale is at an all-time low. With me is a typical soldier, whose face is covered so that Gen. Washington, if he happens to be watching, won't recognize him.

Tell me, soldier, what do you think the Continental Army ought to do?

Soldier — If Washington had any sense, he'd disband us and let us go home. It's all over — any fool can see that. We're too cold and hungry to defend ourselves, let alone attack anybody. What's this war about, anyway? The British are our cousins, ain't they?

G.G. — Are you getting enough to eat?

Soldier — That's a laugh! (Coughing) I haven't had anything but hardtack in a week — and not even any hardtack since yesterday morning.

G.G. — Well, thank you, soldier. That's about the size of it. Lance, back to you!

L.L. — Thanks, Godfrey. Tell me, though: What does Gen. Washington have to say? Does he see any hope?

G.G. — Well, of course, officially, spokesmen for the Continental Army keep insisting that, if the troops can just hold out till spring, the situation will get a lot better. But there are soldiers dying from hunger and exposure here every day — in my next report I hope to have some footage of one of the pathetic little funerals — and it's hard to see any realistic hope. Gen. Washington seldom has anything to say to the media, preferring to spend most of his time sending off appeals to the Continental Congress for more money and supplies.

But, according to one member of Washington's staff who asked not to be identified, the Congress is almost as badly off as these troops are. For XYZ News, this is Godfrey Grumblemuck, with the Continental Army at Valley Forge, Pa.

L.L. — And there you have it. Here at XYZ, we've been getting a lot of mail recently, criticizing our coverage of the situation of Washington and the remnants of the Continental Army as "too negative," and warning that we may be hurting the colonists' cause. Some writers even demand to know "whose side" we're on. Our answer is that the media have a higher duty than just being on the colonists' side. Our duty is to the truth. For XYZ News, this is Lance Lookgood, bidding you good night.

Digestive Diseases Examined

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Here are some of the ailments and digestive complications the National Digestive Diseases Advisory Board and American Digestive Disease Society think you should know about.

—Inflammatory bowel disease: The society calls these ailments "among the most serious and baffling problems in gastroenterology today." They afflict about 500,000 Americans. They are divided into two categories: ileitis, affecting the ileum or lower part of the small intestine, and colitis, affecting the colon, or large intestine.

Symptoms are often similar, including pain which follows eating. The pain can be sharp, stabbing down through the abdomen or burning flashes across the chest. Other symptoms are constipation or diarrhea, frequent need to defecate, weight loss, fever, bleeding from the rectum or bloody stools.

Ileitis and colitis are systemic in nature. That is, they affect more than just the intestine. Along with bowel troubles, victims can suffer inflammation of the eye, throat and other areas of the body.

—Ulcerative colitis: The most common form of chronic colitis, this disease afflicts one out of every 1,000 American adults. It causes the lining of the colon to become inflamed and begins to disintegrate in sections, or ulcerate, causing bleeding. In rare cases, the ulcers may work their way through the whole bowel wall, perforating it.

—Crohn's disease: Affecting the colon or ileum, it is named for gastroenterologist Burrill Crohn, who was on the team that described it. The disease is an ulcerating inflammation of the deeper layers of intestinal walls.

—Pancreatitis: Inflammation of the lining of the pancreas, which produces enzymes for transport to the intestine of digestion of food. In pancreatitis, the enzymes escape into surrounding tissues, proceeding to digest and destroy them. The leading cause is excessive alcohol consumption, although heredity is involved. Other factors believed to be involved are prolonged use of certain drugs — such as diuretics and oral contraceptives.

—Irritable bowel syndrome: Also known as spastic colon, mucus colitis, nervous diarrhea and other names. It means the large intestine misbehaves even though the patient has no organic disease. Symptoms include frequent or occasionally recurring diarrhea, constipation, or a feeling of cramps. The syndrome is believed to be triggered by emotional stress.

—Cancer: This can affect the stomach, liver, intestine and other digestive organs. The American Cancer Society estimated there would be 128,000 new cases of colon and rectal cancer in 1983 and 24,500 of stomach cancer. The society began a new crusade for early detection with the slogan: "Don't be embarrassed to death." Symptoms of colo-rectal cancer resemble those of other digestive diseases. For stomach cancer, there are no early symptoms. Later symptoms include weight loss, anemia and vague feelings of indigestion.

agency's resources go toward contract reviews, that the auditors are routinely denied important contractor records for their reviews, and that the auditors are regularly given little time and a heavy workload when making the reviews.

UPDATES: Last year I nominated two Labor Department investigators for the congressional Excalibur Award for outstanding service. Wesley Walker and Fred Ferrone had risked their necks getting the goods on mobsters who controlled New York's Fulton Fish Market. They have now received the awards.

— Last Dec. 17, I reported that Internal Revenue Service official Gerald Swanson had been issued a letter of reprimand because of "potential embarrassment" to the agency — allegedly caused by Swanson's refusal to cut a deal on taxes and fines owed by former Nevada bordello owner Joe Conforte. It was a bum rap for Swanson, but the IRS brass has since informed him that it will not withdraw the reprimand, as he had requested.

Kittles' Blind-Side Pass Covers Up SCC Comeback

JACKSONVILLE — Rod Kittles came back to haunt the Seminole Community College Raiders Monday night.

Kittles, who committed to SCC two years ago before changing his mind and opting for national power San Jacinto J.C., whistled a blind-side pass to Bobby Esquerria for a crucial three-point play to lift Florida Junior College to a 80-75 victory in Division II, Mid-Florida Conference basketball at FJC.

"Kittles didn't even look," said SCC assistant coach Dean Smith. "He just heard Esquerria scream and then fired him the ball."

Kittles' pass put the choke hold on a furious SCC rally which had pulled the locals within 74-69 with just 1:04 to play. Esquerria went up for the bucket, was fouled by Lenny Grace and added the foul shot to preserve the win. Florida Junior is on top in the division with a 4-1 record. It is 15-5 overall. Lake City, which lost at Santa Fe Monday, 78-70, is tied for second with the Raiders at 3-2. SCC, 14-9 overall, hosts Lake City in a big conference game Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Although SCC lost, guards Payton and Grace and Mike Tolbert continued to perform well. Payton tossed in 7 of 12 fielders and hit 6 of 9 free throws for 20 points. Grace threw in 9 of 14 and 4 of 5 for 22. He also handed out seven assists. Tolbert added 13 points and five assists.

FJC jumped to an 8-2 lead early, but Payton, Grace and Bernard Merthle spearheaded a comeback which netted the Raiders a 20-13 advantage. Merthle came off the bench to grab seven rebounds and funnel in six quick points to highlight the surge.

But turnovers, and an inability of 6-6 Luis Phelps and 6-5 Delvin Everett to score inside, cost SCC its tempo game and FJC rallied behind Robert Henry's eight points to seize a 31-27 lead before 6-8 Doug Bell cut it to two with a basket just prior to halftime.

"They went to a 2-2-1 press which bothered us," said Smith. "They kept it on in the second half and we couldn't handle it."

Florida Junior then went to the foul line to pad its lead as Darrell Williams converted eight straight points, six of which were free throws, to ease FJC ahead by 59-48.

Grace, who scored 18 points in the second half, and Payton, who chipped in 13, fueled a comeback bid which pulled SCC within 71-67 with 1:48 to go. Then, Howard converted two free throws and Kittles came up with his super pass to pin defeat No. 9 on SCC.

Kittles finished with 10 points and 13 rebounds. Williams totaled 13 and led a parade to the free throw line with 11 free ones. FJC hit 28 of 42 from the charity stripe compared to 19 of 30 for the Raiders. Esquerria also had 13 points while Howard added 12.

Merthle led SCC with eight rebounds, but seven came in the first half. Phelps, who scored only four points, pulled down seven boards, five off the offensive glass.

SCC made 28 of 61 shots for 46 percent while FJC hit 26 of 59 for 44 percent.

Doo, Doo, Doo, Doo... Buzzer Baskets Bizarre

This is Chris Fister, a mild-mannered 22-year-old sports writer for a newspaper in Sanford, Florida. Fister had no complaints about the way things were going, except that there were too many blowouts lately in high school basketball games he attended.

Little did he know on that cold and misty night (last Friday) at Milwee Middle School that he would soon be entering the world of the macabre, a surrealistic microcosm he had never known before. Chris Fister would soon be entering "The Twilight Zone."

Doo, doo, doo, doo...doo, doo, doo, doo...doo, doo, doo, doo.

I'd like to thank the late Rod Serling for that posthumous introduction. Going into Friday's double-header at Milwee Middle School, featuring Lake Howell vs. Lyman's girls followed both school's boys, I had seen an unusual number of blowouts in the recent weeks. But, the two ensuing games were far from blowouts.

In the girls' game, Lake Howell's Lady Hawks were slight favorites but Lyman's Lady Greyhounds were on a roll. The game was pretty close the whole way until Lyman's Kim Goroum broke a tie with 10 seconds left as she came up with a steal and dropped in a layup. Lake Howell came back and threw the ball down to Christy Scott who put up a shot at the buzzer, but was fouled.

Scott, standing all alone at the free throw line, courageously hit both free throws to send the game into overtime. Both teams traded baskets throughout the overtime period and it looked like the game would go two overtimes as Lyman had the ball out of bounds with only one second on the clock. But, Kim Forsyth broke into the open and Ulanda Bouey got the inbounds pass for her and Forsyth dropped in a layup at the buzzer to give the Lady Greyhounds a 68-66 victory.

Well, after that thriller, I certainly didn't think the second game could rival it in excitement. However, Lyman's Greyhounds made a furious comeback from seven points down with 50 seconds remaining and Rick Neal connected on a jumper at the buzzer as the Greyhounds claimed a 53-52 victory over the stunned Silver Hawks of Lake Howell.

So, after those two games, I was definitely satisfied and didn't care if the next game I witnessed was a blowout. However, the next game I saw, Boston College vs. Syracuse (Saturday on the USA television network) took on a familiar tempo in the last few seconds.

With six seconds left, BC's Martin Clark made a layup to tie the game and was fouled. Clark missed the free throw, though, and Syracuse outletted the rebound to Dwayne "Pearl" Washington to dribble to halfcourt and shot. The ball didn't even hit the rim. It swished right through the net and the fans at the Carrier Dome in Syracuse flooded the floor to celebrate the victory. Washington later said there was no doubt that he could make the shot and he knew it was going in.

So, after three last-second shots in a row, I was beginning to feel a bit peculiar. Then, I turned on the news just in time to catch the sports, and the first thing I saw was Boston Celtic Danny Ainge throwing in a shot from halfcourt at the buzzer (in the first quarter). Now this was getting bizarre. I saw images of Rod Serling in my head. I quickly changed the channel to a cable station and what do you think was just coming on, "The Twilight Zone."

So, if you see me in your gym this week, don't be surprised if the game goes down to the wire.

Seminole High doesn't always eat goat meat, insert, only about half the time. Seminole forward Willie Mitchell, right, battles Lake Mary's Billy Dunn for a loose ball during the big county showdown last Friday. The Tribe held off a furious Ram rally to win by five points. Sanford's Lady Seminoles also whipped the Lady Rams Thursday night to give the Tribe a sweep of the varsity competition. But they're hope in the future for the Rams. Lake Mary's boys' and girls' junior varsity teams both posted wins. The rivalry resumes on the wrestling mat Friday at Lake Mary.

Hillery, Seminoles Shake Off Mainland

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

DAYTONA BEACH — After three quarters Monday night, Daytona Beach Mainland's unheralded Lady Bucs were getting a little too close for comfort to Sanford's Lady Seminoles. Mainland trailed by just three points, 40-37, going into the fourth.

That's when Seminoles' 6-2 senior center, Dielde Hillery, took over and started to dominate inside. Hillery poured in 10 of her game-high 23 points in the fourth quarter to lead the Lady Tribe to a 60-50 victory over the upstart Lady Bucs in Five Star Conference basketball action at Mainland High.

Seminole, which fell out of the top 10 of the 4A Prep Poll because of back-to-back losses last week, improved to 17-5 overall and 11-1 in the Five Star Conference. Seminole is back in action Thursday night as it hosts the hottest team in the conference, Lyman's Lady Greyhounds. Lyman, 12-4 overall and 7-4 in the conference, has won six straight games.

"Mainland played very well tonight," Seminole coach Ron Merthle said. "But Dielde took over in the fourth quarter and Mainland never got closer than three points."

Hillery also pulled down a game-high 15 rebounds Monday night and blocked seven shots. She was joined in double figures by Gene Stalworth who pumped in 12 points. Catherine Anderson turned in another fine effort with nine points and 11 rebounds and Maxine Campbell added eight points. Seminole was playing without playmaker guard Mona Benton who was out sick. She will be back in the lineup Thursday against Lyman.

Seminole got off to a quick start, building an eight-point, 13-5, by the end of the first quarter. Mainland came out firing in the second quarter though, outscoring Seminole, 17-13, to cut the Tribe's lead to four, 26-22, at halftime.

Mainland continued to play well in the third quarter and stayed within striking distance, trailing by just three points, 40-37, going into the fourth.

Howell Ploy Fails, JV Rams Win 10th

In junior varsity action Monday night at Lake Mary High, Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks moved three of their sophomores on varsity down to junior varsity but it still wasn't enough to overcome the talented Lake Mary JV as the Lady Rams rolled to a 71-56 victory.

Lake Mary now stands at 10-0 for the season and gets back into action Saturday as its hosts Oviedo at 6:15 with a varsity game to follow.

Lake Howell moved sophomore twins Jolee and Kellee Johnson along with Patti Rae down to junior varsity and, although all three scored in double figures, the Lady Hawks couldn't keep up with the high-scoring Rams.

Lake Mary rolled to a 45-18 lead by halftime and 61-33 after three quarters. Lake Mary then went with its substitutes the remainder of the game. Tonya Lawson led the way for Lake Mary with a game-high 16 points and was joined in double figures by Karen DeShetler and Cynthia Patterson.

LAKE HOWELL (56) — Estabrook 2, Gardner 4, Hamilton 15, Johnson 12, Johnson 11, Osgood 4, Rae 11, Scott 3, Stanley 3. Totals: 22-17 56.

Freshmen Snare 16th

In freshman basketball action at Lake Brantley, the Seminole freshman cagers rolled to their 16th straight victory with a lopsided 73-28 decision over the host Patriots.

Seminole, 16-0, tries to wrap up an unbeaten season Wednesday at Ocoola Kissimmee. Seminole, formerly Crooms High, has won 64 consecutive regular-season games under previous coach Chris Marlette and first-year coach Bill Klein over the past four seasons.

David Daniels (17), Rod Henderson (17), James Dennard (14) and Freddie Grooms (10) were all in double figures. Jerry Parker added eight, Todd Kniebbe chipped in four and Antoine Cockerhan contributed three.

Seminoles Just 1 Game Back, Face Bucs In Key Clash

DAYTONA BEACH — Guess who's back in the Five Star Conference basketball race?

Seminole High, that's who. With Mainland's shocking 21-point loss to DeLand Friday night, coach Chris Marlette's Fighting Seminoles are just one game back and they can pull closer tonight when they travel to Daytona Beach to battle the stunned Bucs.

Marlette, as much as anybody, was puzzled by Friday's lopsided loss. "I don't know how DeLand did it," he said. "They were playing at home and if it got to be a physical game, they might have gotten them in foul trouble."

Marlette also said that the end of the semester grading period may have played havoc with the Mainland starting lineup. "Someone told me that Mainland lost three starters to grades," said Marlette. "But he didn't know how accurate it was."

Lake Mary's Rams continued their march through county competition Monday by claiming the Seminole County Junior Varsity Wrestling Tournament at Lyman High School. The Rams' varsity won the Five Star Conference tournament Saturday.

Lake Mary totaled 150½ points. Lyman (136), Oviedo (130), Lake Brantley (81), Seminole (48½) and Lake Howell (27) were next in line.

"We had eight guys in the finals," said Lake Mary coach Doug Peters. "That's what did it. All the guys wrestled really well. It's sure nice to

Rams Continue Victory March, Add County Junior Varsity Title

Lake Mary's Rams continued their march through county competition Monday by claiming the Seminole County Junior Varsity Wrestling Tournament at Lyman High School. The Rams' varsity won the Five Star Conference tournament Saturday.

Sophomore Dale Reisenhuber, freshman Steve Charles and Junior David Kingsbury all won individual championships for Lake Mary. Reisenhuber pinned all three of his opponents at 108 pounds. Charles, a brother of former Seminole heavyweight standout Robert, dethroned Oviedo's J.C. Buscemi, 18-9, at 141 pounds and Kingsbury, pinned Seminole's Walt Lowry in 3:12 at 170 pounds.

Seminole had one individual champ. Junior Anthony Hall dethroned Lake Mary's Elwell Ferrell, coach Skip Pletzer. "Matt Breen and Marty Waxman really did good jobs, too.

Breen, a sophomore, won at 158 pounds while Waxman took the 223-pound title.

Reconstructed Georgia Tech Outlasts Virginia In 3 OTs

United Press International
Georgia Tech may well be college basketball's finest piece of reconstruction to hit the South.

In the past, the Yellow Jackets were the great balm of the Atlantic Coast Conference. Need a victory? Tired of the likes of North Carolina, Wake Forest and Maryland? No problem. A game with Georgia Tech heals all.

But under Coach Bobby Cremins, in his third year at the school, Georgia Tech basketball has come of age. And there was no better case in point than Monday night's 72-71 triple overtime victory at home over Virginia.

"That's one of the greatest basketball games that I've ever been involved in," Cremins said. "Virginia is a great basketball team."

Georgia Tech, 13-2 on the year and 3-1 in the ACC, was backed by some tough full-court pressure as well as 22 points from Mark Price and 19 points and 10 rebounds from Yvon Joseph.

College Basketball

Bruce Dalrymple and Anthony Byrd each scored 4 points in the third overtime to carry the Yellow Jackets. Virginia fought back to 72-71 with 52 seconds remaining but fell short when Othell Wilson missed at the buzzer.

The Cavaliers trailed by 8 points in the second half before evening it 51-51 at the end of regulation. Neither team scored in the first overtime and Joseph hit two free throws to make it 63-63 with 10 seconds left in the second overtime.

"One game doesn't make a season," Dalrymple said. "We have a lot of games on our schedule left."

For Virginia, 12-3 and 2-3 in the ACC, Rick Carlisle had 18 points and Jim Miller and Wilson 14 each.

"Georgia Tech certainly has an outstanding basketball team," said Virginia coach Terry

Holland. "I think that they proved that time and again."

In the Top 20, No. 4 Georgetown defeated Boston 92-83; No. 8 Texas-El Paso downed Air Force 85-52; No. 14 Louisiana State stopped Mississippi State 80-64; No. 15 Memphis State beat Tulane 57-50; and No. 20 Oregon State took Stanford 73-68.

At Landover, Md., the Hoyas won their Big East game behind Bill Martin's 18 points and 10 rebounds. The Hoyas, 16-2, trailed by 10 points in the first half and cracked BC's press in the second half. The Eagles were paced by Jay Murphy with 25 points and Martin Clark with 17 points and 13 rebounds.

At Air Force Academy, Colo., Texas-El Paso ran its record to 17-1 behind Donnell Allen's 13 points in the Western Athletic Conference game. Air Force, led by Todd Beer's 18 points, has lost eight in a row.

At Baton Rouge, La., Jerry Reynolds provided 18 points and 9 rebounds in LSU's Southeastern Conference victory. Butch Pierre kept Mississippi State in the game with 19 points.

At Corvallis, Ore., Steve Woodside scored 28 points and Charlie Sitton added 20 as Oregon State won after losing its last two to Washington State and Washington. Keith Jones had 19 points for Stanford in the Pac-10 game.

"Any time you've blown two in a row, you better win the next one or you're in trouble," said Oregon State coach Ralph Miller.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

Cotton Leads Tip Top Past McCoy's Cleaners

Kevin Cotton poured in 18 points and Oscar Edwards and Darayous Grayson added seven apiece as Tip Top Supermarket upended McCoy's Cleaners, 42-31, in Sanford Recreation Junior League basketball action.

After a 16-18 first half tie, Tip Top outscored McCoy's, 26-15, in the second half. Eric Small led the way for McCoy's with a game-high 21 points while Carl Ruffin added six and James Jackson tossed in four.

In Intermediate League action, all seven players scored for McClain-Pierce and Associates as it claimed a 25-23 victory over Pamar Inc.

Darrell Faison led the way for McClain-Pierce with eight points followed by Craig Dixon and Curtis Rudolph with four each, Bernard Burke with three and Rufus Laster, David Higginbotham and Willie Grayson with two apiece.

Darrell Williams led Pamar with eight points. Roosevelt Washington added six. Horace Knight tossed in five and Bobby Coefield and Steve Hathaway had two each.

Rams Blank Boone, 3-0

Andre Sanders scored two goals and goalkeeper Joe Dalton came up with 10 saves as Lake Mary's Rams upended Boone's Braves, 3-0, Saturday in prep soccer action at Lake Mary High.

Lake Mary improved to 12-4 overall and stands 3-2 in the Five Star Conference. The Rams will be back in action Wednesday as they host Daytona Beach Mainland at 7 p.m. in the second of two games at Lake Mary High. Lake Mary's Lady Rams will host Lake Brantley's Wednesday at 5.

After a scoreless first half, Sanders broke the ice at the six-minute mark in the second as he took a pass from Paul Holmes and booted in his 15th goal of the season.

Marcus Siebmann dribbled through the Boone defense and dropped in a goal to give Lake Mary a 2-0 lead and Sanders added some more insurance late in the match as he scored his 16th goal of the year.

In junior varsity action, Luis Rosen's goal in the second half was the only score of the game as the JV Rams blanked Boone, 1-0.

Phillips Leads Hawks' Win

James Phillips kicked home two second-half goals to lead the Lake Howell Silver Hawks to a 2-0 soccer victory over Trinity Prep at Lake Howell High School Monday.

Lake Howell outshot the Saints, 18-3, but couldn't find the net until the second half. Trinity had 14 saves while the Hawks saved three potential scores.

Roughed, Ready Theismann Eyes Pro-Bowl Appearance

TAMPA (UPI) — Tote that barge, lift that bale. Joe Theismann got roughed up pretty good by the Los Angeles Raiders, and you'd think he had more than enough football to keep him for awhile, so where do you think he's going now?

Off to play still another football game. This one, though, won't be half as hard for the weary, banged-up Washington Redskins' quarterback to take as last Sunday's 38-9 flogging in Super Bowl XVIII where he couldn't do much to avert the most one-sided beating ever inflicted on any Super Bowl team.

Theismann is heading for Honolulu to play in the Pro Bowl for the second straight year. He's going with six of his Redskins teammates, Charlie Brown, Russ Grimm, Joe Jacoby, Mark Murphy, Jeff Bostic and Dave Butz, and it'll be a little like old home week because while all of them will be playing for the NFL team, seven of the Raiders, Todd Christensen, Lester Hayes, Ted Hendricks, Henry Lawrence, Howie Long, Vann McElroy and Greg Pruitt, will be staring at them across the line wearing AFC jerseys.

These are the best players in the NFL, chosen by their peers, their fellow players. A lot of players used to consider the game a drag, the same way many of the major league baseball players look at the annual All-Star contest. The Pro Bowl meeting turned into a fun game four years ago when it was shifted permanently to Aloha Stadium in Honolulu from such other mundane places as Los Angeles, Seattle, Kansas City and Irving, Texas. Now the players chosen can bring their wives or girlfriends to Hawaii and lie on the beach with them soaking up some sunshine. The $10,000 for each winning player and $5,000 for each loser isn't that hard to take, either. The best part of all is the knowledge it is the last game until next season.

Theismann is taking a souvenir of the Super Bowl along with him. He's going to the land of the pineapple with a nice red strawberry bruise under his chin where he took a late lick by Dave Stalla, the Raiders' defensive tackle, during the fourth quarter of Sunday's one-sider.

Quite possibly, Rich Milot, the fifth-year linebacker for the Redskins, spoke for all of them when he glanced around the gloomy locker room, noticed all the solemn expressions on the faces of the members of the media, and declared:

"Nobody died. It was a football game. Nothing else. This isn't a funeral."

Theismann felt that way, too. He answered all the questions put to him evenly and patiently until one reporter asked him whether the loped loss wasn't "a bitter pill for you to swallow."

Standing in his locker stall with the charcoal smears still under his eyes, Theismann frowned. Why would such a question be asked him, he wanted to know. The query was prompted by the fact Theismann had been so enthusiastic about the game and the Redskins' chances all week long, he was told.

"I am not devastated, I'm disappointed," he made the distinction. "We didn't really get many breaks. It was like banging your head against the wall hoping you'd finally break through, but we never did."

Musicians Needed For Fife And Drum Corps

A "community" Fife and Drum Corps is now being formed in the Longwood area according to Evelyn Towler. Evelyn, who is currently leading the award winning Longwood Elementary School Fife and Drum Corps is looking for talented persons who would like to be part of a community corps.

No age limit is set. The corps is open to anyone who can read music and play either a fife or drum. For more information call David Beck at 339-5883, or Evelyn at 831-8639.

Evelyn also pointed out that the school's Fife and Drum Corps is still actively raising funds for the transportation costs for a special performance they are presenting in Tallahassee later this year. Former Longwood city commissioner Chick Pappas donated $135 left over from his recent campaign, she said.

A home decorating contest was held recently in the beautiful neighborhood of Sabal Point. Judges were Marilyn Reilly and Betty Given of Sweetwater Oaks Garden Club, and Mary Hawkins Turner and Charlotte Hobak of the Sabal Point Garden Club.

First place winners were each awarded seasonal potted plants by the Sabal Point Garden Club as the club's way of showing their appreciation for the effort, time, and ingenuity invested by the Sabal Point Villagers who participated.

Contestants in the contest were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Kim Moore of Cypress Landing; Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rugg of Sabal Bend; Mr. and Mrs. Brad Young of Sabal Glen; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rodiek of Sabal Place; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Castle of Sabal Place; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Arena of Sabal Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Bujarski of Sugar Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams of Whisper Wood; and Mr. and Mrs. George McLean of Whisper Wood II.

On Jan. 19, students from the Sabal Point Elementary School's Ecology Club made an investment into the future. All the fifth graders in the Ecology Club spent an hour, planting magnolias, gum, pine trees and seedlings. Their goal was not only to help beautify the school grounds, but to show what they've learned from teachers aide Holley Meyers who heads up the club. The tree planting was held in honor of Arbor Day.

Other school happenings at Sabal Point Elementary are two special performances being put on by the talented Fantasy Theatre Factory on Feb. 1. Show times are 9:30 a.m. for grades kindergarten through second, 10:30 for grades three through five. All parents are invited to come and join their children watch the delightful comedy titled, "A Twist Of Lemon."

The Longwood Woman's Club will meet Feb. 7, at 1 p.m., at the clubhouse, 150 W. Church Ave. A special program will be presented by Edie Winchell, past president of the Seminole branch of the Audubon Society.

Edie's presentation will include a talk on "Birds from the Audubon Society," plus the reading of some original poetry.

Hostesses for the meeting will be Ida Cox, Francis Wade, Wilma Stenzel and Nellie Balkus.

Club secretary Marion White wanted to share the fact that Commissioner Ed Myers donated all leftover funds from his "successful" campaign to the Longwood Woman's Club.

Decent Secretary Would Protect Boss After Death

DEAR ABBY: I've been thinking about the letter you published recently from a woman signed "Crushed." She thought she had an ideal marriage, but after her husband died, his secretary delivered his personal belongings and among them were some "love letters" from two women. These letters nearly destroyed her and consumed her with hate due to her husband's deceit.

Having been a secretary for many years, I wonder how necessary it was for the secretary to have included those "love letters" with the rest of his belongings? Why didn't the secretary do the decent thing and destroy them?

I wonder how other secretaries feel.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for "Crushed." I, too, have been married to a wonderful, honorable man (for almost 38 years) and I have never questioned his faithfulness. If he should die before I do, and someone would bring me evidence of his unfaithfulness, I would be suspicious of the bringer.

Has it occurred to you that the secretary could have cared for your husband and been jealous of his devotion to you? What better way to hurt you than to bring you "evidence" that would break your heart and desecrate his memory?

Are you absolutely certain that these letters are legitimate? I do not believe they are. And you should not believe it either.

A FRIEND IN ILLINOIS

DEAR ABBY: Here are my thoughts about the widow signed "Crushed." You were right to tell her that if she "thought" she had a good marriage, she had one — regardless of what she learned later.

And now I have a message for all secretaries: Should your boss die suddenly, if you have never been snoopy before, now is the time to be snoopy. Look through his "personal things" and conveniently throw away anything that would cause undue grief to his widow. If the wife was not aware that her husband had been playing around while he was alive, what good would it do her to know after he is dead?

I have been married for 40 years. Sign me ... LOVING WIFE, COLUMBIA, S.C.

DEAR ABBY: While reading the letter from "Crushed," who was presented with love letters from other women after her husband died, a little bell rang in my mind. I was reminded of a confidence trick whereby the con artist sends hard-core pornography to a man he knows to have recently died. (The obituary column provides this information.) The widow, profoundly shocked and desperate to avoid scandal, pays the bill — usually huge and supposedly representing several months of a long-standing account.

Although no monetary gain would be involved in the case of "Crushed," anyone with malice toward the dead man or his wife could manufacture these "love letters."

"Crushed" should examine the postmarks, if any, on the envelopes, and if they postdate her husband's death, she should be, like me ...

'Get Naked Or Get Out'

HOUSTON (UPI) — Plans to convert an apartment complex to the world's largest nudist colony angered some tenants who say they would rather fight than disrobe in public.

Some residents of the 270-unit Fieldstone Apartments said they may file suit against the management of the complex after it announced plans to convert the facility into a "clothing-optional community," effective April 1.

"This is Houston, not California!" said one irate tenant. "We don't want this kind of thing. And we don't like that type of resident that will be living here after the change."

No clothes will be permitted in the pool, hot tub, sauna and other interior areas of the complex, said Peter Nutting, president of the San Jose, Calif.-based Corsun Financial Corp. Clothes will be optional in other areas of the 3-year-old complex.

Nutting said the apartment complex, to be called Club Fieldstone, will be the world's largest residential nudist club.

Developers Supporting Proposition 1

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Common Cause, which last week said defeating Amendment 1 was its top priority this year, says nearly half the financial support for the controversial proposal comes from developers.

"This information is hardly surprising. The only people who may come out ahead are the big out-of-state developers, who do not have a stake in the quality of life in Florida," Paul Harvill, a Common Cause researcher, said.

Amendment 1, also known as Proposition 1 and the people's choice amendment, is a proposed constitutional amendment that will be on the ballot in the November general election.

If successful, it would reduce government revenues in 1985 to 1980-81 levels plus a partial adjustment for inflation and property taxes on new construction. It would also allow for limited increases in subsequent years.

The Common Cause report said that as of Jan. 1, $180,000 — or 43 percent — of the $420,000 raised by eight pro-amendment political action committees came from developers or related interests, including $57,000 from out-of-state interests and $125,000 from within Florida.

The report included a list of major contributors, headed by St. Petersburg developer Thomas Mahaffey who contributed $58,318. Michael Block, a Hollywood accountant, contributed $30,000, the report said.

The next six largest contributors were business interests — Capital Real Estate Management Co. of Los Angeles with $13,433; Lincoln Property Co. of Dallas with $12,500; the Paragon Group of Dallas with $7,500; Halkey-Roberts Corp. of St. Petersburg with $6,000; the David Williams Hotel of Coral Gables with $5,500; and the Equity Group Inc. of Chicago with $5,000.

In contrast, Gov. Bob Graham's "Florida's Future Inc.," a non-profit group formed to fight Amendment 1, has raised only about $10,000 so far, a Common Cause spokesman said. Graham eventually hopes to raise about $2 million.

Stretch Muscles To Avoid Stiffness

DEAR DR. LAMB — When I kneel or sit too long my joints become stiff. Can you suggest a diet supplement or exercise that can help? I'm 62 and live in Denver's dry climate. I ride a bike, swim and walk. I have no pain in my knees, but would like to try to prevent it. The "crick" may be a sign.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm glad you have no pain or discomfort. Stiffness is not always caused by changes in the joints. The ligaments and tendons often cause the problem.

You don't need a diet for this, but you need to learn the value and proper way of stretching. That becomes more important as you get older.

First, warm up with a walk or light exercise. Even a warm bath or shower helps to warm up the body so that it's easier to stretch. The kind of stretching you do is important. The long, slow stretch that stretches the muscles to their full length without pain is the one you should use. Once you have reached the maximum amount of stretch, hold it for 30 seconds. Warm ligaments and tendons stretched in this manner will lengthen properly. Bouncing or rapid movements to stretch muscles are not nearly as effective and may be harmful.

Ligaments and tendons are made up primarily of gelatinous material. If they're warm, they will stretch. If they're cold, they will behave like a spring and snap back to their original short length.

I have outlined a short routine that covers most of the important principles of stretching in The Health Letter 19-10, Stretching and Flexibility, which I am sending you.

Stretching should include all of the major muscles in the body, including the feet, ankles and neck.

One reason posture changes as people get older is the tendons and ligaments shorten. This tends to close the joints, causing the knees and hips to bend. These problems usually can be avoided by a proper stretching program used on a regular basis.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm a young girl and I haven't yet started my period. I have a boyfriend who I love, and sex has come up. I really feel I am ready.

Is it possible to engage in sex if you haven't begun menstruating?

DEAR READER — Yes, you can have sex. But it may not be wise. Your letter suggests that you are very young and you should ask yourself some serious questions.

The fact that you have not menstruated yet doesn't mean you can't get pregnant.

What about the dangers of venereal disease? If you and your boyfriend are free of disease and neither one have sexual relations with anyone else, you wouldn't have a problem. But such idealistic arrangements seldom stay that way.

What if your love dies? What will your next boyfriend think of your previous experience? Will you feel guilty if you start such a relationship? Remember that fulfilling one's desires also requires being ready to meet your responsibilities. Think it over, as it's difficult to undo the situation.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY

JANUARY 25, 1984
Ties with persons of whom you are already fond will be greatly strengthened this coming year. From time to time, each of you will be in a position to do helpful things to brighten one another's lives.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) The general drift of today's events may at first appear to be going against you. Don't be discouraged, since these conditions will swiftly alter. Want to find out who is best for you romantically? Send for your NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet. Mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. For your sign's year-ahead predictions, mail an additional $1 and your zodiac sign.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Doing things entirely on your own today will leave something to be desired. Seek an amicable companion with whom you can share your time and interests.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In career situations today, appreciate the fact that you have certain advantages in your favor. Utilize them to the fullest.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Partnership situations can be carried off successfully today if you draw upon knowledge that has been helpful to you in the past.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Chores you've been dodging because you felt they might be a trifle too difficult are not apt to be as awesome today. You can overcome difficulties.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be very selective today regarding group activities and those with whom you associate. You'll derive enjoyment from quality, not quantity.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Unresolved family differences have a good chance of being rectified today. Call a council and iron out differing points of view.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't be too surprised today if you receive more than your usual share of compliments. What's more important is that this praise will be sincere.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Personal acquisition is likely today because you'll understand one of Nature's greatest secrets: In order to get, you must first give.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The reason you are likely to succeed where others fail today is because you won't be discouraged if things don't work out after your initial attempt.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You can manage financial or commercial matters with considerable skill today if you choose to apply yourself. Give it a go — and turn a profit.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Friends will be looking to you today to take charge of situations that collectively affect them, as well as yourself. Don't let them down.

perfect hand for him. The doubleton king of diamonds took care of all diamond losers. The ace of hearts took care of one heart loser and gave him a simple play for his contract. All he had to do was play East for the king of hearts, and the hand was home.

Unfortunately, the bidding clearly marked West with that king, so another line of play was essential. South found it! He discarded his deuce of hearts on that club king. West led a second high club.

South trumped this one, cashed two top trumps, led a diamond to dummy's king, ruffed a club, cashed the diamond ace, ruffed his last diamond and ruffed a fourth club just in case clubs might break 4-4.

Then he cashed his last two trumps to come down to a two-card ending. West was forced to unguard his king of hearts to keep a high club. Now the last club was thrown from dummy, and the ace and queen of hearts gave South the last two tricks.
