tricks unless West holds all four against him. Four in the East hand will be no trouble at all since in that case the 10 spot will be finessable. Therefore, the careful declarer will win the first spade in his own hand and lead a low diamond. West will be between Scylla and Charibdis. If he goes right up with the ace of diamonds he will only have one diamond trick and South will make four diamonds; three hearts and two spades. If he ducks, dummy's queen will win. South will have diamonds to knock out the ace of clubs and make his game with three club tricks.

The answer to this one is that in "Bridge" the first game of the Whist family that allowed for any bidding a player was given a small score in the honor column for "chicane" (notrumps) while "double chicane" (both partners void) was given double that bonus. United Way Aids 'The Workshop'

The Central Florida Sheltered Workshop Inc., is another beneficiary of the United Way of Seminole Inc. The Workshop is a community-sponsored, non-profit corporation supported by civic, professional and business groups to serve those who are mentally retarded, physically handicapped or emotionally disturbed living in Orange, Osceola and Seminole Counties. The Workshop provides evaluation, training and adjustment programs which are designed to prepare the student for eventual outside employment, if possible, or home or sheltered employment, if outside employment is not possible. The Workshop provides services to the individuals and businesses through sales of workshop products, as well as through sub-contract work. Profits derived from sales are shared by the employees to demonstrate that working can be profitable, as well as satisfying. Several of the Workshop's 85 students are from Seminole County. According to Rehabilitation Coordinator Jerry Peden, most of the work going on at the Workshop at present is sub-contracted—plastic-packing, assembly, collating. Peden said much of the work is done for Disney World.

Zoo Park Road Sub-Base Down

The first step in a donated road construction project for the Central Florida Zoological Park is expected to be finished today, according to Executive Director Al Rozon. "The last 50 tons of the cement sub-base or stabilization is going down this afternoon... I'll take about 18 days to cure or bond it," said Rozon. Rozon said he didn't know yet which of the firms in the Central Florida Association of Road Builders will be doing the free paving of the equivalent of two and a half miles of single lane road, but it will be completed this fall. The project is worth more than $60,000 in equipment supplies and manpower, Rozon said, "and it's just costing us a cent."

Price Jump Predicted Board Approves Clay Pit Bonds

The issuance of bonds would be improper and a waste of taxpayer's money. The cost of clay would increase by 100 per cent. The vice-president of a Markham Woods homeowners' association charged Tuesday night that the Seminole County Commission's approval of a financing mechanism for purchase of a $37,000 clay pit will raise the cost of clay five times—from $20,000 to $100,000 yearly. At the weekly commission meeting, commissioners approved by a 2-1 vote, an ordinance which will allow Seminole County to float bonds for capital construction. Commissioner Mike Hattaway and Harry Kwiatkowski voted for the measure, while Commissioner Dick Williams cast the lone vote in opposition. Due to illness, Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. was absent and Commissioner John Kimbrough is out of town on business. Although County Attorney Tom Freeman said the ordinance is geared toward bond sales for all capital construction, Tom DeWolf said there is "only one reason for the ordinance—purchase of the clay pit."

DeWolf, the vice-president of the Markham Woods Civic Association, then spelled out a list of economic reasons why he believes that purchase of a clay pit was Markham Woods Road, a not economically feasible for the county. "The issuance of bonds would be improper, and a waste of taxpayer's money. The cost of clay would increase by 100 per cent," DeWolf said. He said the project should be voted on by all of the county's taxpayers. DeWolf said that over a 19-year period a $37,000 bond sale—including interest payments and the cost of floating the bonds—would result in more than $1 million dollars in county expenses. He said last year Seminole County paid $20,000 for clay. He said that over the eight or nine months he said he was a principal in the theft operation. "That's a rough estimate," he said. "I didn't keep records." Davis, who faces charges in Orange and Seminole counties in connection with the theft ring broken up by sheriff's agents with raids in the two counties Aug. 15, disputed reports that the theft ring did "a million-dollar-a-year business." Davis admitted that he, Yates and James Arthur Onie stole a $3,200 portable industrial air compressor last November in Orlando. He said it was delivered to Maitland Marine, U.S. 1742, Fern Park, after being disguised and that Ralph Dilso, 41-year-old owner of the business, paid him $200 for the air compressor. Yates hasn't been charged in Seminole and he testified Tuesday that he helped steal the air compressor and that his auto was used to tow the unit. Dilso is on trial for buying, receiving and concealing stolen property. When he was arrested Aug. 15 sheriff's agents seized an air compressor that he said was the unit stolen in Orlando. Yates, an admitted member of the theft ring who said he spent the last five months working with law enforcement after confessing to 100 to 150 area burglaries, testified Tuesday that he didn't tell Dilso that the unit was stolen or hot but "I made it very clear to him that it was, in other words." Davis claimed that Dilso refused to pay the price that another man, Roland Durand, had indicated Dilso was willing to pay for the compressor. "We were shorted $100 from the original deal," Davis said. "I wasn't paying taxes on it anyway." Davis testified today that Dilso didn't ask if the air compressor was stolen. Davis said he didn't tell Dilso that the unit was stolen or hot but "I made it very clear to him that it was, in other words." Davis claimed that Dilso refused to pay the price that another man, Roland Durand, had indicated Dilso was willing to pay for the compressor. "We were shorted $100 from the original deal," Davis said. "I didn't keep track of it," he said. Davis, who is on federal parole in a 1969 auto theft ring case, testified that Yates, who he's known for 13 years, has the reputation of "stretching the truth—lying—even about trivial things." But Davis also told the jury that "in my opinion, at this point, Yates wouldn't lie under oath in court."

Theft Ring Trial Continues 'Steal-To-Order' Testimony Differs

Beckwith Seeks Some Direction For Paychecks

Circuit Court Clerk Art Beckwith Jr. said today administrators' paychecks will continue to be unequal over a year's time until the county commission returns to monthly pay or agrees to make up the differences at year's end. Beckwith's reply came after county commissioners on Tuesday battled the issue back and forth after receiving a direction-seeking memo from Beckwith. The issue centers on about 39 administrators who complained when paychecks the last day in fiscal year 1974-75 turned up short. Though, administrators received a full year's pay, the last paycheck was unequal to the other 51 checks. "I understand he (Beckwith) said it was the commission's fault, but it's the other way," Commissioner Dick Williams said Tuesday. Williams said the commission should make the decision—which it did last year when a switch was made from monthly to weekly paychecks—and Beckwith should work it out—without shortages.

TELEPHONE LINES SPICED

Workers from Southern Bell Telephone Co., have been busy splicing cables as work proceeds on the Osteen Bridge. In the photo above, the new bridge begins to take shape (at far right). At the left, wire splicer Manley Rusch prepares the telephone cable which will be placed in three metal encasements to prevent it from being cut as construction of the bridge continues as well as to preserve the precious lines.

Both Davis and Yates testified that they removed Taylor Rentals decals from the air compressor at Davis' Orlando residence and spray-painted the unit before delivering it to Maitland Marine. The trial, before Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor is expected to possibly continue into Thursday before the jury, two women jury deliberates on a verdict for Dilso.

School Board Meeting Set

Reports on busing and transportation for Sterling Park and Lake Orienta communities are expected at the Seminole County School Board meeting today at 7:30 p.m. in the County Courthouse. Superintendent William P. "Bus" Lyster said Jean Derdington, representing the Sterling Park Homeowners' Association, on tonight's agenda may have a proposal regarding bicycle paths.

Ford Security Plan Found On Courthouse Lawn

By C.D. HYLTON
Hinton Daily News
ELKINS, W. VA. (AP) — A six-page security plan for President Ford's visit to Elkins last Saturday was found on the lawn of the Randolph County Courthouse three hours before the President's arrival.

Ford Rejects Fund Request

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, having urged a new tax-cut plan tied to curbs in federal spending, rejected a Republican governor's request for more federal funds and gave him a blunt lecture on balanced budgets.

Ford, who announced plans earlier this week for what he said was "the biggest single tax cut in our history," met Tuesday with seven Appalachian state governors in Knoxville, Tenn., and immediately was confronted with a plea for funds.

Ford Meetings Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is set to hold separate meetings with his Cabinet and vice president today following a day-long visit to Knoxville, Tenn., where questions about marijuana and security arose.

From the security point-of-view, Ford had a relatively quiet day Tuesday in Knoxville, where his only appearance in crowds came at the secure Air National Guard facility area at McGhee-Tyson Airport. Ford traveled to Tennessee to attend a White House regional conference.

One family matter arose during a press conference where Ford was asked to comment on the recent disclosure by his 23-year-old son, Jack, that he had smoked marijuana.

Guid Voted Against Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the third time since the beginning of a week-long press strike against The Washington Post, editorial and advertising employees have refused to join the walk-out.

During a four-hour meeting Tuesday, which witnesses described as "stormy," members of the Post unit of the Washington-Baltimore Newspaper Guild voted 270 to 20 to continue working despite picket lines around the newspaper's office.

Debate within the guild, whose 843 members comprise the largest of the newspaper's 12 unions, reportedly turned on the question of whether joining the strike would signal approval of the violence that damaged all nine of the newspaper's printing presses.

Spy Officials Admit Error

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three U.S. intelligence agencies, declining to speak openly of the current cyber operations in Portugal, admit they misread the situation that led to the still-seething political unrest there.

Officials of three intelligence agencies told a House panel Tuesday that they were unable to predict the coup that last year ousted rightist dictator Marcello Caetano, partly because they were not paying great attention to Portuguese affairs.

While the officials were speaking before the Select House Committee on Intelligence, a White House official denied rumors that Central Intelligence Agency director William Colby will be fired.

SLA Prosecutors Gather

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Prosecutors with potential Symbionese Liberation Army cases gather here today for their second "summit meeting," and Patty Hearst's name is likely to dominate their talks.

The meeting, the second within a week, was initially planned as an evidence-and-idea-sharing session to follow determination of Miss Hearst's mental competence in her federal case here.

But a federal judge put off that decision Tuesday, postponing her competence hearing to allow more examinations.

Hirohito Tours Midwest

PLAINFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Emperor Hirohito, once considered a god in his native Japan, toasted America's most powerful mayor, visited a farm family and played with a night on a day-long visit to the nation's heartland.

The 74-year-old monarch and Empress Nagako arrived in Chicago on Tuesday, with Secret Service agents and about 1,000 police officers on guard duty.

14 Banks Utilized For School Funds

By JOE ASKREN
Herald Staff Writer
When it comes to big business, the Seminole County School Board probably comes as close as any. It does business with 14 different banks in the county at the same time.

Actually, the School Board's total $11,613,403.59 on hand meets three of its four budgets is deposited currently in 10 of the 14 state-approved banks, according to Roger Harris, assistant superintendent for finance.

Band Tickets On Sale

Tickets to the Civitan Club-Evening Herald's Seminole County High School Band Festival are now available at Music Unlimited (Sanford Plaza), Outer Limits (Altamonte Mall), Evening Herald (Sanford) and from any member of Civitan or a Band Boosters member of one of the high schools.

The Band Festival, the first county-wide fund-raising event for all high school bands, will be held at Seminole High on Nov. 8 from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

All public high school bands in the county will participate, as will Bishop Moore High School of Orlando. The evening will feature performances by each band and will open with a dramatic patriotic music series with all bands play together.

Tickets are $2 each. All money collected (after expenses) will be distributed equally among the participating bands.

Each band will be awarded a significant participation trophy, donated by The Evening Herald.

This year's band festival marks the beginning of what is hoped will become a yearly event to raise badly needed funds for High School Bands in the county.

The Civilians were searching for a project that would do the most good for the most people and, according to Civitan President Ed Hughes, "We think we've found our project in the band festival. Everyone is in contact with our high school bands at some time during the school year, and hundreds of youngsters are involved."

"They need the funds to keep quality music programs going and Civitan will help them meet expenses with our annual festival!"

John Blair, band director at Lyman High, will coordinate the first festival, to be held on Oct. 11, at the Seminole County Civic Center.

Success in succeeding years the event will be held at different high schools.

Second Seminar Slated

The second in a series of free seminars for senior adults is scheduled Thursday at the Interstate Six Theater in Interlatale Mall, Altamonte Springs. Sponsored by Project INVEST, a program directed by Florida Tech University's division of continuing education, this week's seminar will be presented in cooperation with the Social Security Administration.

Subjects to be presented include Social Security, supplemental security income, and Medicare. Designed for those 65 years of age and above, the seminars are being offered each Thursday during October from 10 a.m. to noon.

The first session on Oct. 2 dealt with "Timely Tips for Mature Job Seekers." On Oct. 16 a medical program will feature free examinations for glaucoma, diabetes, blood pressure and hemoglobin.

Speakers on heart disease will be cardiologist Dr. Michael A. Nocero Jr., who formerly taught internal medicine at Bellevue Medical Center in New York.

On Oct. 23, the FTU program will present a seminar on trusts, wills and the new Florida probate law in cooperation with the Orange County Bar Assn. The new law becomes effective Jan. 1, 1976.

The final seminar on Oct. 30 will be a medical program devoted to the problems of aging and how to cope with them. Speaker will be FTU audiologist Dr. Torr Mullin.

Industry Sought For County

SCIDA Will Advertise

It pays to advertise, so the Seminole County Industrial Development Authority (SCIDA) plans to do as much as possible in the months to come.

"We have to do the best we can with what we have," said Jim Daniels, executive director of SCIDA. Daniel said the advertising budget for this year is only $23,000.

The Development Authority held its October Board meeting today at the Courthouse and advertising was a prime topic on the agenda.

"So far we are advertising in The Wall Street Journal, Florida Trend magazine and a few others," Daniel said. "We're planning to expand our advertising to the industrial climate in the area, Daniel said, "It isn't getting worse, but it isn't picking up very fast either."

"But it often takes about three years to realize the benefits from advertising and promotion. Companies have to have time to phase out in one place and relocate to another," Promoting industrial growth is more than just recruiting companies to the area, Daniel said.

"It's just as important to fill up empty offices on Highway 436 as to bring in new companies," Daniel said. Daniel took over the SCIDA executive director on June 23.

Other items on the agenda for tonight's meeting include a report from Councilman Martin Bacon Sr. and Burt Perinichief limit on Lake Mary Boulevard near the Forest mobile home park.

Forest residents have requested that the speed limit be lowered to 30 miles per hour.

A resolution will be considered reducing the number of zoning board members from seven to five and Council member Lillian Griffin is to report estimated costs from private contractors on repairing the Rinkhart Road-Lake Mary Boulevard intersection.

Council will again discuss providing insurance and hospitalization coverage for city employees.

George McCommon will request approval to plant a road easement for Five Points-Lake Mary Limited and a resolution will be considered approving a proposed bicentennial project sponsored by the Lake Mary Parent-Teacher Organization. (P.T.O.)

Eight County Officials To Attend Hearing

At least eight Seminole County personnel — five from the county commission and three from the sheriff's office — are scheduled to attend Sheriff John Polk's budget appeal hearing in Tallahassee.

Polk flew to the capital on Monday to prepare for the hearing which is scheduled for Thursday, not today as reported Tuesday. He will seek the full $2.6 million for fiscal 1975-76.

Also driving to Tallahassee to assist the sheriff are Sgt. Herb Hartley and the sheriff's controller, Ken Monroe.

Commissioners Tuesday approved air travel today for Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr., County Attorney Tom Freeman, Sig Pearson, chief of the county's Office of Management Analysis and Evaluation (OMAE) and Roger Neiswander, the director of community development.

The county offered Polk $2.3 million, which he turned down. Vihlen offered $120,000 compromise, which the full commission turned down. Now, the appeals board will hear both sides and make a recom-

Council's Delay Brings Scolding

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald Staff Writer
WINTER SPRINGS — Mrs. Mary Daniels, wife of Councilman John Daniels, gave other council members a tongue-lashing Monday night for the site surveyed and the company is following all the steps required by city ordinances.

When it was learned Fire Chief Charles Holzman had not seen the plans, councilman Donald Browning suggested council hold back a week before accepting.

"I've never seen anything soinine. There you idiot people stand up here and drag your stinking feet," Mrs. Daniels, resident of Gulfstream's Tusculum development, told the council.

Daniels, who had negotiated the agreement with company representatives for donation of the site, on Northern Way, and fire station displayed an artist's drawing of the outside of the building, which did not include a floor plan. He values the land and proposed fire station at $100,000.

The payroll account is set up for payments three times a month on the 15th for non-instructional personnel; on the 20th for teachers; and the 30th for 12-month contract personnel and lower income, non-instructional people, he explained.

For the month of October, for which the school district will collect a total of $68,111.79 in interest from time deposits on account with the 10 banks, said Harris.

"Last year, our total earned interest amounted to $1,545,428.93," Harris said, which is now part of the board's $2.7 million local carryover monies in the new budget.

He said this earned interest cannot be spent "in the year it is earned" unless the board approves a budget amendment.

Money on deposit at the 10 county banks, according to Harris' figures, include: — $1,865,000 at 6.15 and 6.41 percent at the Atlantic Bank of Sanford.

— $345,000 at 6.28 percent at Barnett Bank of Seminole.

— None at the Atlantic Bank of Casselberry.

— None at the Citizens Bank of Oviedo.

— $2.4 million at 6.26, 6.28 and 6.5 percent at ComBank of Casselberry.

— $100,000 at 5.75 percent used as a "semi-drawing account" to pay bills at First Federal of Seminole.

— $487,000 at 6.4 percent at Flagship Bank of Sanford.

— $1.7 million at 6.15 and 6.385 percent at Flagship Bank of Seminole.

— $1,265,000 at 6.33 and 6.512 percent at Palm American Bank of Altamonte Springs.

— None at State City First Federal Savings & Loan, Longwood.

— $1,185,000 at 6.51 percent at State Bank of Forest City.

— $200,000 at 6.13 percent at Sun Bank of Seminole.

— None at Sun Bank of Semoran, Fern Park.

— $1,288,000 at 6.376, 6.4012 and 6.5012 percent at Winter Park Federal.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Grand Jury Calls Lawyer, Adman In Batfalls Probe

TAMPA (AP) — A Washington lawyer and an Orlando advertising executive have been called before a federal grand jury investigating a charge that Rep. L.A. "Skip" Batfalls accepted an unreported $10,000 cash contribution during his 1972 campaign.

Batfalls is expected to testify before the panel but his Washington office said Tuesday that no time has been set for his appearance.

Neil Combs, a lawyer associated with the Washington firm headed by George Webster, and ad man Peter Barr were the only witnesses called Tuesday as the panel resumed its probe after a 10-day recess.

The Batfalls allegation surfaced during the bribery conspiracy trial of former Sen. Edward J. Gurney.

Court Wrestles With Definition

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — In a case that could drastically affect the state's power to regulate dredge-and-fill permits, the Florida Supreme Court is wrestling with the problem of just what is a navigable lake.

The definition of navigability was a key point raised by justices Tuesday while hearing arguments over whether the Deltona Corp. can dredge and fill without state permits on property it owns in two Florida counties.

Circuit Judge Ben Willis has ruled two state laws on the matter unconstitutional because they contained no easily understandable definition of navigable. The state upheld the ruling to the high court.

Askews Attend Open House

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — "I swear, you see all kinds of people at these open houses," said one mother who noticed Heublin and Donna Askew at parents' night at Leon High School.

With nearly 500 other couples, Gov. and Mrs. Askew had come to the annual Parent-Teacher Organization "open house" Monday evening to see where their daughter Angela will be getting her high-school education.

The governor might have gotten a bit of education himself as he met school officials and learned that the school's problems include overcrowding and shortages in the PTO treasury.

Permits Needed, Official Says

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Law enforcement in Florida will be restricted if policemen cannot get temporary permits to work while they complete all required training, a state official said Tuesday.

Small towns and counties would be especially hurt because some could not completely train police and deputy sheriffs for up to a year, Donald Fish of the Florida Department of Criminal Law Enforcement told the Cabinet Tuesday.

The Cabinet postponed action on a recommendation to abolish the temporary permits, giving Atty. Gen. Robert Shriver time to investigate legal authority to issue them.

City Employees Return To Work

CORAL GABLES (AP) — Garbage collectors, janitors and other city employees returned to work under court order today in this fashionable Miami suburb after a one-day mass sick call protesting salaries.

"Just about everyone is at work," said city general services director Arvis Porter. "You never have every person on the job."

Officials said about 185 of the 300 workers in the Coral Gables Employees Association, an independent union, had called in sick Tuesday. Garbage pickups were canceled and the city's car inspection station was closed.

Governor Doubts Tax Increase

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — U.S. Rep. Rubin Askew says he is not among those who claim the state's dim revenue picture calls for a tax increase.

"It would be premature for me to decide before I have completed my budget, but my inclination is against any tax increase," Askew said in a Tuesday interview.

He said that this year, as last year, the only area where he was inclined not to rule out an increase was in the gasoline tax that provides money to the Transportation Department.

Grand Jury Calls Lawyer, Adman In Batfalls Probe

TAMPA (AP) — A Washington lawyer and an Orlando advertising executive have been called before a federal grand jury investigating a charge that Rep. L.A. "Skip" Batfalls accepted an unreported $10,000 cash contribution during his 1972 campaign.

Batfalls is expected to testify before the panel but his Washington office said Tuesday that no time has been set for his appearance.

Neil Combs, a lawyer associated with the Washington firm headed by George Webster, and ad man Peter Barr were the only witnesses called Tuesday as the panel resumed its probe after a 10-day recess.

The Batfalls allegation surfaced during the bribery conspiracy trial of former Sen. Edward J. Gurney.

Court Wrestles With Definition

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — In a case that could drastically affect the state's power to regulate dredge-and-fill permits, the Florida Supreme Court is wrestling with the problem of just what is a navigable lake.

The definition of navigability was a key point raised by justices Tuesday while hearing arguments over whether the Deltona Corp. can dredge and fill without state permits on property it owns in two Florida counties.

Circuit Judge Ben Willis has ruled two state laws on the matter unconstitutional because they contained no easily understandable definition of navigable. The state upheld the ruling to the high court.

19-Year-Old Chief Fights Youth Crime

BUNNELL, (AP) — Police Chief Donald Brock says he's ordering an immediate crackdown on this eastern coastal community's No. 1 crime problem — juvenile delinquency. And Brock should know as much as anyone about solving the problem. He's a teen-ager himself.

"The biggest problem we're facing is keeping the juvenile crime rate down," says the 19-year-old police chief. "There is no organized recreation for teen-agers in this city or county. And with nothing else to do, the kids turn to crime."

Brock, a graduate of Bunnell High School and a veteran of 400 hours of police training at Daytona Beach Community College, served as acting police chief of the six-member force in this town of 1,500 for six weeks after the former chief resigned.

The five-member Bunnell Council voted unanimously Monday night to make Brock permanent police chief.

"I'll stay as long as I'm able, physically and mentally. It's an accomplishment for the 18- to 19-year-old group, and they need the encouragement."

"We're a small town, but we have the same problems as any town. We need the support of the people and the kids' attention, which we haven't been getting."

"The only thing we can do is start working with the kids, but the law can't do it alone. As long as we work together, we won't have any problems."

Brock, a bridegroom of 10 months, said he has "always wanted to be a policeman."

Chilean Wins Deportation Delay

MIAMI (AP) — A Chilean refugee who was to have been deported to his native land, where he says he faces death, is still in the United States after a district court issued a temporary delay.

A lawyer for Lorenzo Lucardi, 28, of Jacksonville, received an order Monday restraining the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service from deporting Lucardi and his family, officials said Tuesday.

A hearing is set for Thursday before U.S. Dist. Judge C. Clyde Atkins on the lawyer's motion to get Lucardi a permanent residency visa.

Lucardi came to Jacksonville in 1970 on a visitor's visa. He received an order Monday restraining the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service from deporting Lucardi and his family, officials said Tuesday.

Although the government has changed, Lucardi fears death at the hands of Communists if he returns to Chile.

Lucardi was granted a work permit in 1971 and got a job as a sandwich-maker. His wife and two older children joined him in 1972. A third child was born in government of the late Marxist

President Must Take Precautions

The U.S. Secret Service is a force of 3,000 men and women whose highest priority task is assuring the safety of President Ford. Yet once again the nation has learned that this dedicated force is powerless under existing procedures to prevent suspected assassins from moving to within pitiable range of the President.

When Secret Service Agent Larry Buendorf wrested a .45-caliber pistol from the grasp of Lynette Fromme in Sacramento after she had pointed it at President Ford, one would have thought that incident would have prompted new limitations on the President's exposure to murderous psychotics who can freely join crowds of well-wishers.

The President acknowledged criticisms of his penchant for mingling with crowds, stating: "I have no intention of allowing the government of the people to be held hostage at the point of a gun."

Beyond donning a "protective" vest during his public travels, the President has made no drastic changes in his open style during a busy schedule of speeches, public appearances and shaking hands with voters.

But we believe the American people will be deeply concerned if no changes are made after a 45-year-old woman allegedly fired a revolver shot at Ford as he came out of the St. Francis Hotel in San Francisco.

We understand the President's reluctance to be shielded from crowds or to ride in a bullet-proof enclosed limousine. He is a gregarious man who obviously relishes close-up contact with the public. It is part of the "open presidency" he has encouraged in contrast to the "closed" administration he succeeded.

But to the American people, he is more than just another official, but the symbol of the highest office in the land, and of the strength and integrity of the nation. His death would be a shocking blow to the nation, as anyone old enough to remember the assassination of John F. Kennedy knows.

President Ford owes it to the country to take reasonable precautions, to cooperate with those Secret Service agents who are willing to give their lives to protect him.

Blocks To Peace

The United Nations is moving with a certain inevitability toward dissolving its military command which has been helping police the armistice in Korea for 20 years. In his recent speech to the U.N., Secretary of State Henry Kissinger urged that the organization not abandon its role in the Korean stand-off entirely.

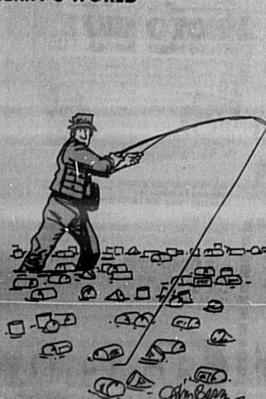

The international conference Mr. Kissinger proposed would be one way for the U.N. to keep its ear in, but the prospects for a U.N.-sponsored "peace conference" in Korea are not much better than for U.N.-sponsored peace efforts in the Middle East, and for similar reasons. Like Arabs who refuse to recognize the state of Israel, the North Koreans refuse to recognize the legitimacy of the South Korean government. North Korea is refusing to join the U.N. if South Korea gets in, too.

Further, both Communist China and the Soviet Union have a stake in the political future of the Korean peninsula, and are likely to take conflicting positions in any negotiations.

While the absence of the U.N. command might weaken the moral authority of the armistice it would not affect the security of South Korea, which rests on its military strength and commitment of U.S. forces. It would hardly induce North Korea to mount another invasion deemed to fail.

Mr. Kissinger has tried to remind the U.N. that the division of Korea is among its unfinished business, but his proposal for an international conference only seems to call attention to the roadblocks in the way of solving the problem.

Arabs Blacklist 2,000 American Firms

Some 2,000 American firms, ranging from Ford Motors to small pet shops, have been blacklisted by the Arabs.

The boycott list, identifying allegedly pro-Zionist companies for economic retaliation, was prepared in Lebanon. It is considered more important than earlier lists, because a Lebanese source says the Arab boycott office in Damascus.

A similar list, provided of the Commerce Department by firms that actually were approached by the Arabs, is now the subject of a hot controversy in Capitol Hill.

Commerce Secretary Rogers Morton has refused to surrender the list to Congress, contending that the firms were promised confidentiality. Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., whose investigating committee has demanded the list, is considering whether to cite Morton for contempt.

The Lebanese list was approved Dec. 6, 1974, at a close cabinet meeting in Beirut. Rep. James Scheuer, D-N.Y., managed to get a copy and showed it to us.

Although this particular boycott list is treated with great gravity by Arab governments, it is curiously haphazard. For example, more than one insignificant pet store and a shoe repair firm

RAY CROMLEY Getting Drop On Weather Tomorrow

President Ford and Congress are overlooking major payoffs in dollars savings, energy conservation and increased food and mineral production that might be realized through rapid development of specialized space data gathering systems.

A study by the National Research Council of the National Academy of Sciences notes that space systems could immeasurably improve weather forecasts and make important reductions in the $500 million a year weather-caused cargo and shipping losses.

Space-based navigation could so improve routing that the U.S. shipping fleet could save appreciable amounts of the $450 million now spent each year for fuel in trans-Atlantic services alone.

An estimated $8 billion plus a year of time could be saved by instituting a worldwide agricultural survey using satellites, aircraft and ground-based systems — the savings coming from improved output, distribution and lower costs.

Space-based remote sensing, added to conventional data collection, could save a significant part of the $1.2 billion current national inventory of water resources is expected to cost.

Only space monitoring can provide an accurate, cost-feasible ongoing check on air and water pollution and the shift of concentrations from one point to another on a sufficiently wide basis to be of value. Without satellites, it is difficult indeed to measure the effectiveness of area pollution control systems.

Without an appropriate vigorous satellite program it will be impossible to accumulate data in time to determine whether certain aerosol sprays are depleting the ozone layer and endangering our future health.

Space surveys are no substitute for prospecting. But they can, by mapping geological faults and other features, put the finger on hitherto unsuspected targets of opportunity for those seeking petroleum, metal ores and other minerals.

Example — A large-scale mosaic, made from satellite data has revealed previously unrecognized details of an east-west fault associated with the Colorado mineral belt, opening new exploration possibilities.

Satellite warning systems provide the only feasible possibility for assessment of danger sufficiently early to cope with a variety of serious floods and storms.

Satellite-provided data on rain and snowfall, snow cover and the rate of snow melting, are essential for the efficient operation of hydroelectric power plants and conservation of water supplies.

With these necessities staring them in the face, Mr. Ford and Congress have moved at a laggard's pace.

It is true the Landsat series of satellites, calculated to aid in the development of earth resources, is being expanded. But only after a major fight that threatened to kill off most practical aspects of the program, and, for a period, condemned the project to movement at a snail's pace.

Some people may think apartment living is rather dull, but you'd have a tough time convincing those who live in two of Sanford's complexes.

Intent on coming up with novel "togetherness" functions to build good relations among tenants and foster a spirit of community, Sandalwood Villas and Mariner's Village recently staged two such events.

Sandalwood, on Airport Blvd., recently had a covered dish dinner for all its tenants with a good turnout of tenants.

Not to be outdone, Mariner's Village, just off US

17-92, held a huge tenant party featuring Polyesian dancers from Walt Disney World. It was a luau type event and a good time was had by all.

This is the type of thing we think more people ought to try, as it encourages friendships and provides wholesome entertainment.

United Way of Seminole County Inc., reports that it is about one-third of the way "home" on its goal for the current fund-raising drive.

However, there are only about two more weeks remaining in the drive and everyone is urged to contribute his "fair share" in order for United Way to go over the top in 1975.

Remember, most employers had a payroll deduction plan for collecting United Way funds and we're certain you'll never miss that small amount from the weekly paycheck.

Give, no matter how slight.

All too often, we take such senses as sight and sound for granted.

Ever wonder what it would be like to have an impairment of these vital senses?

Well, realizing that there are many people afflicted with such impairments, Southern Bell Telephone Co., is doing something about it in the way of special aids.

For instance, there is the electronic larynx for persons who have lost the use of their larynx. This device substitutes electronic vibrations for the natural vibrations of the voice. The user can speak conversationally — and even with inflections — forming words with tongue, lips and teeth in the usual manner.

Too, this little marvel is available in two pitches—lower for men and a higher one for women. Then for those afflicted with a hearing problem who cannot hear an ordinary telephone bell, there are signals in different frequencies, a tone ringer, loud bells and gongs.

For those with more serious hearing impairments or for locations where loud bells cannot be used, a special designed "beehive" lamp can be installed to visually indicate a telephone is ringing.

There are many, many more such devices and if you're one of those who suffers from a hearing or sight impairment, we suggest you investigate the possibilities of installing one of these special tools to help you.

Isn't modern technology great?

JOHN CUNNIFF Is Tax Cut Feasible?

NEW YORK (AP) — The question that arises immediately in connection with President Ford's proposed $28 billion tax cut is whether it is feasible economically or politically.

Nearly three-quarters of budget expenditures are what has come to be termed uncontrollable. That is, because of laws and actions made in prior years, like it or not, the government is committed to spending those funds.

If, as the President said, spending seems headed toward $423 billion next year, a $28 billion cut would amount to a reduction of between 6 and 7 per cent, not merely of the one-quarter of the budget under control, but of the total budget.

Whether such an accomplishment is possible, especially in a politically volatile election year, is debatable at best. Rep. Brock Adams, D-Wash., chairman of the House Budget Committee, immediately called it unrealistic.

What are these "uncontrollable" that leave the President and Congress so few options in changing the course of federal spending? The biggest by far are expenditures for Social Security and railroad retirement, accounting for roughly one-third of the total.

Smaller in percentage, but so numerous as to underscore the point, are a basketful of other expenditures, including unemployment assistance, veterans benefits, Medicare and Medicaid, housing aid, revenue sharing.

Of growing importance is interest on the national debt, which amounted to "only" $10.3 billion as recently as fiscal 1967 but which had risen to $22 billion in fiscal 1975, the result of more borrowing and higher interest rates.

The President's hope that both taxes and government expenditures can be cut simultaneously is consistent with the economic and political philosophy he has espoused since he took office — and before.

In his view, a growing federal establishments threatens to drain away the prosperity and vitality of America, "as one big spending program after another has been piled on the federal pyramid."

The bureaucratic superstructure, he maintains, is "taking a larger share of your personal income and creating record budget deficits and inflation," while at the same time "trying to run too much of your daily life."

This is a very basic dispute that underlies almost every political and economic argument in the country today, and it has long been so. It is in sometimes quietest, sometimes boiling.

The President, it now seems, believes the underground rumblings must be quieted or the pyramid, like a volcano, might blow its head. It seems to be his hope that he can seal it off before that happens.

However, a look at some comparative statistics suggest the situation might not exist or be resolved at the federal level alone. The biggest percentage increases in government spending in recent years have been at city and state levels.

A few of the blacklisted organizations and products include: B'nal B'rh, Brush On Eye Shadow, Coca Cola, Connecticut Mutual Insurance, Hartz Mountain pet foods, Hertz, Knopf and Random House books, Moon Drops, Laurance Rockefeller Associates, Republic Steel, Allstate Insurance, Bergdorf Goodman, Ronrico gold and white rum, Leased Fries investments and Leeds Music.

Also Minkus stamps, Mervola, Playtex, Pratt and Whitney, Republic Pictures, Topps Chewing Gum, Xerox, Zenith Radio, Astia Casualty, American Doll and Toy, American Electric Power, Bassant Mills, Bontany Mills, Bulova watches, Fairbanks Morse, Golden Bear oil, Harry Winston jewelers, Helms Rubenstein (listed three times, with two misspellings), Israel Numismatic Service and Jewish War Veterans.

Footnote: About 99 out of every 100 blacklisted firms are American. But companies were also boycotted in Britain, Taiwan, Tanzania, Turkey, Venezuela and Yugoslavia.

MAIL BAG: We received a letter last week from Lynette "Squeaky" Promme, one of President Ford's would-be assassins. She wanted to be put in touch with Dr. John Gofman, a noted nuclear physicist, whose warnings against nuclear power development we had published. Squeaky sought some information from Dr. Gofman. "I would get it myself," she wrote, "but I am presently incarcerated in the Sacramento county jail."

We reported last month that the FBI's computer center had been misused to hunt down non-criminals. One of the victims, Eric Staubes of Binghamton, N.Y., wrote to us about his experience. He was confronted with a computer printed 14 feet long. Police grilled him for six hours. He was wanted in two states, they charged, on 14 counts of auto theft. They claimed he had 40 aliases. It turned out that the supposedly foolproof computer system had fingered the wrong man. "Do you get the feeling Big Brother is watching?" Staubes asked us.

A Denver man, who asked not to be identified, has sent us his correspondence with the Postal Service over a lost money order. Exasperated, he finally decided to file a class action suit and wrote the Justice Department for background information. The letter was returned him, stamped, "Unable to Locate," by the mailman.

Moslem-Christian Truce Breaks Down In Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The cease-fire between Lebanon's warring Christian and Moslem factions broke down today as fierce fighting with mortars and automatic weapons erupted in Beirut.

Heavy casualties were reported, most businesses closed behind steel shutters and the state radio broadcast an appeal from security forces to "stop the massacre."

Witnesses said one mortar round exploded next to a bakery where housewives were lined up in a rush for bread, wounding 36 persons, and that another round exploded near a hospital in a Moslem district, leaving several dead and wounded.

Five Die In Terrorist-Police Gun Battle

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Terrorists attacked a Barcelona police headquarters early today, sparking a gun battle in which police fired killed three innocent civilians in a passing car and two of their own officers, police said.

Two other persons, including one policeman, were seriously wounded in Spain's bloodiest day of violence this year.

The attack resulted in the death of eight policemen and four civilians in seven days of political violence since Spain was plunged into crisis at home and abroad by the executions of five young terrorists Sept. 27.

Zoning Ordinance Changed Altamonte Commission Ignores City Attorney

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The city commission ignored a warning by City Attorney Joe Davis here Tuesday night and changed a proposed zoning ordinance on its final reading.

The attorney said if the ordinance on its final reading could lead to a court challenge. The deleted portions would have permitted home occupations in higher priced residential areas of the city much in the same manner as now permitted in lower priced areas.

The commission, under pressure from the Altamonte-Casselberry Chamber of Commerce and the business community, to vote down the expansion of home occupations in the residential areas, deleted the provision after more objections were leveled at a public hearing.

City Attorney Joe Davis, Altamonte Springs' city attorney for nearly 20 years, said the action made a "substantive change" in the ordinance and the adoption process should begin anew.

In accordance with the state home rule law and the city charter, usual procedure in Altamonte Springs with ordinance adoption is to pass a measure on first reading, hold a public hearing some three weeks later and adopt on final reading.

The attorney said if the changes — deletion of two sections and a portion of the law's title — were made the process of adoption should begin again with first reading and a new public hearing.

One resident, James Serra, favored the home occupations section while three others —

Ross Brewer, Byron Kimball and George Wilmer — protested that permitting home occupations in the better residential areas would cause a blight on the community and that occupations permitted were too broad in scope.

Serra said he began his consulting engineering business in his home after the slowdown in the building industry and cannot afford to rent an expensive office.

A workshop to consider a new ordinance on home occupations and a suggestion raised by Kimball that home occupations be denied in all residential areas was set for Friday. In other action, the commission: — Adopted, after public hearing, an ordinance outlining procedures to be followed by the Personnel Administration Board. The advisory board hears administrative appeals and grievances from city employees.

— Informally authorized Mayor Norman Floyd to discuss with consulting engineers, Glace and Radcliffe, the feasibility and costs of fluoridating the city's water supply.

— Received campaign contributions totaling $4,245, according to documents filed with City Clerk Phyllis Jordahl's office.

California Governor 'Foolish' If He Runs

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. would be "foolish" to start running for president nine months after becoming governor, his ex-politician father says.

Former California Gov. Edmund G. Brown Sr. was asked Tuesday why his son was shying away from announcing any strong desire to be president.

"He certainly would be foolish to run for president after nine months of the governorship. I think he owes a duty to the people to work as hard as he can. If that makes him a presidential candidate, so be it," said the 69-year-old Democrat.

Brown Sr. said his son was definitely "presidential timber."

Davis Sued For Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Mac Davis has been sued for divorce by his wife of five years.

Sarah Jane Davis, 24, separated from the 33-year-old entertainer three days ago. The couple married in Las Vegas on Feb. 18, 1970, and has no children. Davis was married once before.

In the suit filed Tuesday in Superior Court, Mrs. Davis cited "irreconcilable differences" and asked for judgment and her legal share of "substantial community assets."

Former Bishop A Counselor

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Former Nebraska Episcopal Bishop Robert Varley, who says he had to overcome alcohol and drug dependency, is now counseling others on overcoming addiction.

Varley, who resigned his church post last summer, is now a private counselor at the Omaha Consultation Center.

Rickover Reappointed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. Hyman G. Rickover, at 75 the oldest U.S. military officer in uniform, has been reappointed for another two-year term as chief of staff of the Navy's Naval Reactors Division.

Secretary of the Navy J. William Middendorf II announced Tuesday that Rickover would continue as head of the nuclear propulsion team, where he is the principal figure in the Navy's atomic ship and submarine program.

Floyd Dismisses Charge He Misused City Funds

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Charges by his opponent of misappropriation of funds have been labeled "unfounded bunk" by incumbent Mayor Norman C. Floyd.

Mayoral candidate Lawrence Swofford declared Tuesday that the mayor had misused funds from the water and sewer trust fund and had falsified budget reports to the city commission.

"Swofford doesn't wander from the truth, he just ignores it," Floyd said, adding Swofford's 20 years in public office in Altamonte Springs were "riddled with scandal and turmoil."

Saying Swofford's "thirst for fanatical growth" had created problems for years to come, Floyd said none of the $170,000 which Swofford claimed was misappropriated had anything to do with bond issue money and was "downright lying."

Floyd leveled his blast at Swofford during a political forum and luncheon sponsored by the Altamonte-Casselberry Chamber of Commerce at the civic center before an audience of nearly 200 persons.

At a city commission meeting Tuesday night, Floyd distributed to members, a report from city auditor, Charles Lansing of Lansing, Snyder and White, on the $176,992 in question.

Lansing's detailed report said that the money designated as "contributions from water and sewer fund" in the general fund was, in fact, reimbursements to the city and in county government, saying he was responsible for bringing the hospital to the city and the "hopping malls, creating a tax base and a commercial district any city could be proud of."

Floyd said Swofford did bring growth to the city and "a heck of a lot of problems" including drainage and traffic. He said Swofford was "harping" on money, but had not told the story that budgets were increased at a phenomenal rate while he was in office.

Council Sworn At Oviedo

OVIEDO — Two new city councilmen and the mayor were sworn in at Monday's council meeting at city hall.

Robert W. Whiter and Charles "Chuck" Pratt took the oath of office, along with Oviedo Mayor Leon Olliff, who is beginning his third term.

Councilman Arthur Evans was elected council president, replacing John Kuhn Whittier, who was elected vice-president.

Later, the council heard a Representative of the King Hele Planning Group present a list of proposed goals and objectives for Oviedo which will be incorporated in a county-wide planning report to be published at a future date.

The council referred to City Attorney S. Joseph Davis a question as to whether federal revenue shoring funds could be used to fund a position in the police department.

Stolen Pickup Found In North Florida

Sanford police today said a sheriff's deputy's pickup truck, stolen from a parking lot at the county jail, has been recovered in North Florida.
But officers said they are still trying to locate a new $9,000 pickup taken from a local dealer's sales lot.

St. Augustine Coach A Sanford Native Fooths Brumley's Coming Home

By PETE OSBORNE
Special To The Herald

ST. AUGUSTINE — Fooths Brumley is going home to Sanford this week, only the second time in his coaching career that he has taken a football team on the road to play an alma mater.

He hopes, of course, that meeting No. 2 works out better than visit-to-Sanford No. 1, for in 1962 his Hastings High Wildcats pushed the Seminoles before falling, 14-7.

Besides that, there's last year's meeting between St. Augustine High and Sanford that Brumley wants to avenge for the Seminoles came here last year and with a not-overly-impressive team defeated Brumley's Yellow Jackets, 22-14. This time, St. Augustine will take a 2-1 record to Sanford, on the heels of consecutive triumphs over Green Cove Springs Clay High, 21-0, and last week, Palatka Central, 28-14. The loss came at the hands of Jacksonville-Englewood, like Sanford a Class AAA school.

On the heels of several dismal, winless seasons, Brumley turned the program around in two years and since he has had just one season — last year — with a record on the deficit side of the ledger.

Presently his Jackets are 2-0 in District 4, with the district championship to be determined Nov. 21 when Palatka South visits there.

The 1972 version of the Yellow Jackets snared the championship of the then 15-school district.

Over the years, the Seminole High product's record has been well on the plus-side, and Friday night's game in Sanford may be pivotal for the current campaign.

He describes the host team for Friday night's battle as "big and much improved" over the 1971 team which defeated the Yellow Jackets.

But, the Yellow Jackets, too, are vastly improved and will enter this week's game with the momentum of a pair of wins.

Brumley, over the years, has been a frequent visitor to Sanford, where his parents and a number of other relatives still live.

He was a star athlete at Seminole, and went to Rollins College after an Army stint and he played as an end on the Tart teams coached by Jack McDowell.

While he was a star athlete at Seminole, and went to Rollins College after an Army stint and he played as an end on the Tart teams coached by Jack McDowell.

Coaching openings were scarce when he left Rollins, but he heard through a friend that "there might be a job in Hastings."

So he came to St. Augustine, where school board headquarters are located, competed with two other applicants for the Hastings coach's job, and he was hired.

Fooths Brumley — his real name is Herman Lester Brumley — has been a fixture in St. Johns County — and North Florida — school and athletic circles ever since.

But he would like nothing better than to get victory No. 3 of the St. Augustine season Friday night "back home."

Lyman High's Jerry Human: Football His Top Priority

Meet Jerry Human.

It's no ordinary introduction, because the Lyman High School linebacker is no ordinary young man.

Jerry's priorities are football. The thing he likes next best is football. And in his spare time he likes to play football.

Why else would he push automobiles around in a parking lot? Or hang by his fingers from a bar every chance he gets? Or swap a blacking lifestyle into eating, lifting weights and running? Or swipe a blacking dummy?

"Football is just about everything at this stage of my life," admitted the 17-year-old senior Tuesday afternoon. It had rained, and the football team was given the day off by coach Dick Copeland. Two hours later, however, Human was still at school. He spent the time in the weight room.

Human, who will have a birthday in three weeks, is the best player on his team.

A football cliché that would fit him perfectly is "pound-for-pound a great player."

"That's another way of saying he is small. Not that anyone around Lyman picks on him. He's 5-10, 196 pounds. But that's small for college football, and that happens to be Jerry Human's long-range goal."

Right now he is looking at the final five games on Lyman's schedule. "I think we can go 5-0 in the second half," he said realistically. "Edgevale is next, in two weeks. That's the toughest one. But this team is just realizing its potential."

Human got an early exposure to football at Lyman. When he was in the fifth grade, his oldest brother Stan played for the Greyhounds. "That was in the Rick Browne era," said Jerry, recalling attending games at the old field now a playground for Milwee Middle School. Another brother, Fred, played for Lyman two years ago.

The Humans moved to Danville, Ill., for a few years, but returned in time for Jerry's freshman year.

"I had a few goals," Jerry said. "I wanted to be a linebacker, well, we accomplished all of them."

Jerry gets a's on the field, B's in the classroom. He has completed all required subjects for graduation, so all he has this year are four electives — humanities, political science, psychology and American literature.

When football isn't in season, he wrestles and throws the discus — just to keep in shape for football. Last spring he set a school record with the discus — 151 feet, 10 inches. "Rick Browne had the record," said Human, "and obviously as happy as who held the standard as the guy he broke it."

Size is gnawing at the back of Jerry's mind. It's not so much his weight as his height. "If I only had a couple inches," he said, "I have been hanging from a bar over my bed room door trying to stretch myself. I do it for a minute every night when I get home. Then, too, I do it on commercials while I'm sitting around watching TV. It might not help, but it sure can't hurt anything."

Jerry also eats as much as he can — especially bread, potatoes or anything fattening. "I don't worry about getting fat, because I lift and run. Eat, lift and run. That's what I do."

Jerry talked to Gregg Wallick, another "small" linebacker who played at Lyman and walked the odds to star for Miami as a sophomore. "Gregg said a guy on Miami's team had been lifting weights all the time, and when he got out on the field he was all stiff. That's why I run so much. I don't want my lifting to make me stiff."

In his early teens, Human idolized Dick Butkus. That's where he gained the desire to play linebacker. "I read in one of his books that he increased his strength by putting cars into neutral gear and pushing them down an alley behind his house. So I tried it. I took dad's car over to the parking lot (he lives two blocks from the high school) and started pushing it around. I think it helped."

You see, he still has a goal. And anyone who would go to the extremes he has to excel in football isn't likely to be discouraged easily.

Anyway, he should start stretching any day now.

OAKLAND (AP) — It was the Boston Red Sox who inspired the play of the 36-year-old Carl Yastrzemski, fly the American League pennant today after destroying the Oakland dream of four straight titles.

"It's a very strange feeling," admitted the A's volatile owner Charles O. Finley. "But you can't win them all."

Boston, with a 5-3 victory Tuesday night, swept the best-of-five playoffs in three straight and now return home to open the World Series Saturday against the National League's Cincinnati Reds.

"We've won during the season on defense, and that defense won it for us in this series," declared Yastrzemski whose fielding gem in the eighth inning was the turning point of the final game.

Yastrzemski, down by Yastrzemski in the fourth inning, he tried to stretch a single into a double, was robbed of an extra base by the left fielder in the key eighth inning and admitted after the 5-3 defeat, "Yaz was the story."

Five hits by the veteran, including a two-run homer which put the Red Sox back in Sunday's second game after they trailed 3-0, also helped make Yastrzemski the undisputed top performer of the playoffs.

"We thought when Jim Rice got hurt it was a break for us," said A's captain Sal Bando. "It turned out to be the worst thing that happened."

Rice, who played left field most of the season and along with center fielder Fred Lynn gave the Red Sox the best two-rookie combination to hit.

Any way, he should start stretching any day now.

Rollins Slates Pair Of Games

WINTER PARK — The Rollins College soccer Tars will meet and compete against two nationally ranked teams this weekend when they match their skills against Florida International University and Quincy College on Sunday.

Tickets for the weekend doubleheaders, on sale now at the Eynart Alumni Field House and at the gate on the day of each contest, are $1.50 for adults and $1 for students. Each ticket is good for one doubleheader (two matches). The first match of each day will begin at 1 p.m. to be immediately followed by the second encounter.

Rollins, 31, recently swept North Carolina by defeating both the University of North Carolina and Duke by 10-0 scores.

Champion Reds Win Praise

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds left here with the National League title, a yearning for their first World Series victory since 1956, and a mighty compliment from Al Oliver of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"They'll go all the way. They definitely have the best team I've seen since I've been in major league baseball," said Oliver, whose eighth season ended Tuesday night when the Reds beat Pittsburgh 5-10 in innings in the National League playoffs.

The Reds swept the series in three games even though Pirate rookie John Candelaria pitched superbly Tuesday night, matching a playoff record with 14 strikeouts.

"This is the happiest day of my life," said Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson, whose club won the World Series Saturday in Boston against the American League-winning Red Sox.

The Reds dealt Pittsburgh its final defeat about a half hour after the Red Sox swept Oakland in the AL playoff.

"I'm ready to play in Fenway Park," said Cincinnati's Pete Rose, who provided the key spark in the title-clinch.

OAKLAND (AP) — It was the Boston Red Sox who inspired the play of the 36-year-old Carl Yastrzemski, fly the American League pennant today after destroying the Oakland dream of four straight titles.

"It's a very strange feeling," admitted the A's volatile owner Charles O. Finley. "But you can't win them all."

Boston, with a 5-3 victory Tuesday night, swept the best-of-five playoffs in three straight and now return home to open the World Series Saturday against the National League's Cincinnati Reds.

"We've won during the season on defense, and that defense won it for us in this series," declared Yastrzemski whose fielding gem in the eighth inning was the turning point of the final game.

Yastrzemski, down by Yastrzemski in the fourth inning, he tried to stretch a single into a double, was robbed of an extra base by the left fielder in the key eighth inning and admitted after the 5-3 defeat, "Yaz was the story."

Five hits by the veteran, including a two-run homer which put the Red Sox back in Sunday's second game after they trailed 3-0, also helped make Yastrzemski the undisputed top performer of the playoffs.

"We thought when Jim Rice got hurt it was a break for us," said A's captain Sal Bando. "It turned out to be the worst thing that happened."

Rice, who played left field most of the season and along with center fielder Fred Lynn gave the Red Sox the best two-rookie combination to hit.

Any way, he should start stretching any day now.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds left here with the National League title, a yearning for their first World Series victory since 1956, and a mighty compliment from Al Oliver of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"They'll go all the way. They definitely have the best team I've seen since I've been in major league baseball," said Oliver, whose eighth season ended Tuesday night when the Reds beat Pittsburgh 5-10 in innings in the National League playoffs.

The Reds swept the series in three games even though Pirate rookie John Candelaria pitched superbly Tuesday night, matching a playoff record with 14 strikeouts.

"This is the happiest day of my life," said Reds' Manager Sparky Anderson, whose club won the World Series Saturday in Boston against the American League-winning Red Sox.

Three Conferences Oppose Grid Playoff

NEW YORK (AP) — Three of the nation's major conferences have reaffirmed their opposition to a national college football playoff although such a proposal may come up for a vote for the first time at the National Collegiate Athletic Association's January convention.

The College Football Association's Feasibility Committee, headed by Temple University athletic director Ernest C. Casale, recommended a four-team playoff to the policy-making NCAA Council last week.

The Associated Press learned the vote was 84 — five members of the 17-man committee were absent — and three of the negative votes were cast by representatives of the Big Ten, Pacific-8 and Southeastern Conferences.

They were faculty representatives Marcus L. Plant of Michigan, a member of the Big Ten; athletic director J.D. Morgan of UCLA, which belongs to the Pac-8, and Boyd McWhorter,

CB Beauty Pageant Still Has Openings

Calling all potential beauty queens! Stop dreaming, face reality, stand up and be counted, and you just could be wearing a regal crown on your pretty head.

Applications are still being accepted for Tri-County Roadrunners Hearing Conservation Contest, which will be an event of Oct. 26, at Sanford Civic Center, the highlight of the three-day Tri-County Roadrunners C.B. Radio Jamoree, designed for the hard of hearing children of Seminole County.

The first step toward your possible coronation is filling out an application blank, available through Margaret Koger, contest chairman, at Badcock Furniture Co., Magnolia Ave., of Anita Williamson, overall jamoree chairman, 711 Briarcliffe.

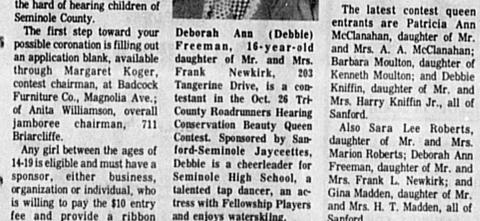

Any girl between the ages of 14-19 is eligible and must have a sponsor, either business, organization or individual, who is willing to pay the $10 entry fee and provide a ribbon bearing the sponsor's name.

A queen and four runners-up, selected by a panel of judges, will each receive a crown and trophy. In addition, the queen will be awarded flowers, $100 worth of Sarah Coventry jewelry, and a $25 Savings Bond.

On the big day, contestants are to appear on stage twice — in a short set or sizzler and a long dress, when they will be judged on poise, personality and beauty.

The latest contest queen entrants are Patricia Ann McClanahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. McClanahan; Barbara Moulton, daughter of Kenneth Moulton; and Debbie Kniffin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kniffin Jr., all of Sanford.

Also Sara Lee Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Roberts; Deborah Ann Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Newkirk; and Gina Madden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Madden, all of Sanford.

DeBary Mansion Closes; Art Treasures For Sale

DeBary — Historic DeBary Mansion, home of and scene of many elaborate banquets and parties, lavishly staged by Baron DeBary, formerly of Germany and Belgium, for his close friends, associates and even royalty, will no longer house the Florida Federation of Art (FFA) and is closed to the public until further notice by the State.

The FFA Board of Directors, at its September meeting, voted to move the DeBary family in 1941, upon the death of the last surviving heir, to a developer. Most of the property was sold to the homeowners in DeBary, but the mansion and surrounding grounds were left intact and turned over to the FFA. In 1967 the FFA decided the property to the Florida Board of Parks and Historical Memorials.

Scholar stated that Mrs. Alberta Coy, vice-president of the FFA, is now busy engaged in cataloging all the art treasures within the Hall, which will then be placed on sale, on or about Nov. 1.

Lack of income, substantial enough to maintain the art center, is the reason given by the FFA Board, as reason for moving from DeBary Hall to a more economical place.

The DeBary Mansion and property belong to the State Park System. Ownership passed from the DeBary family in 1941, upon the death of the last surviving heir, to a developer. Most of the property was sold to the homeowners in DeBary, but the mansion and surrounding grounds were left intact and turned over to the FFA. In 1967 the FFA decided the property to the Florida Board of Parks and Historical Memorials.

Of Lake Mary Woman's Club Pila Hughes An Active President

By DORIS DIETRICH

Sanford's Little Red Schoolhouse is the community service project adopted by Lake Mary Woman's Club for the 1975-76 season, according to Mrs. Lawrence B. (Pila) Hughes, president.

Launched in 1960, the club joined Florida Federation of Women's Clubs in 1962.

"We are a civic organization and I see no point in having money in the bank and not using it for charitable purposes, which is actually what I think civic groups are for," the attractive president said.

Club members, Kat Noel and Beth Gregory, undertook the project of furnishing hundreds of sheets and towels from sheeting and toweling fabrics for the school. Members have also donated books and newspapers to the school for sale purposes, and the club plans a bake and plant sale to benefit the institution.

Last season, under Pila's presidency, the club donated $100 to Central Florida Zoological Society for a plank in the club's name. This year the group plans to disperse available funds to Little Red Schoolhouse, as well as other deserving beneficiaries.

The agenda for the season includes a fashion show, Oct. 23, at the home of Claire Evans. Other programs and events will feature American Heritage, Our Bicentennial, Arts and Crafts Festival, Chinese Auction, Book Review and Public Affairs.

Born in Torreon, Coahuila, Mexico, near Monterrey, Pila was graduated as a business administration major from Esquima Commercial College, a private school there, where she taught for the following four years.

She met a vacationing U.S. Marine, Lawrence B. Hughes, at a dance in Mexico. He returned four years later and they were married in her hometown. Pila has been in the United States for 25 years, and an American citizen for 15 years.

The couple built a spacious country home with a tennis court on Longwood-Lake Mary Road, where they have lived for 10 years.

Lawrence is a greyhound breeder and has been in the business since January.

Community College can use the computer model to help determine program costs for upcoming years. Once the base data are entered in the computer, the model can test the effects of proposed budget changes, such as salary increases or a change in the faculty workload, in just a few minutes. In this way, some changes which might require too great a change in other areas can be avoided.

"The model has effected a very real saving in time, and very real money," said Alfred Norris Miner, who represents Seminole Community College on IRC. "A budget run now is done in minutes, whereas each hand-operated run involved several days."

Top management of colleges are also using the model to determine the financial impact of different approaches to resource allocation. Miner told participants at the recent Florida Statewide Invitational Conference on Institutional Research.

Nickens said the IRC staff and a committee composed of college representatives have been working on the computer model since January.

Administrators at Seminole State College of Florida, Orlando, are also using the model to determine the financial impact of different approaches to resource allocation. Miner told participants at the recent Florida Statewide Invitational Conference on Institutional Research.

Adopted Children Have Certain Rights, Too

DEAR ABBY: I recently saw a TV program that really shook me up. A 30-year-old wife and mother who had always known that she was adopted decided to try to locate her "real" parents. With the help of a lawyer, she was successful in finding her "real" father. (Her mother had died.) Although the young woman was certain that she had found her natural father and the man at first confirmed that he was, he later denied it.

Abby, I was an unwed mother at the age of 15. I gave my infant girl up for adoption and later married a fine man with whom I had four children. I told him about my illegitimate child, but our children don't know it and neither do any of his relatives — which is the way I want it.

I think it's grossly unfair for an adopted person to look for his or her natural parents. The couple who raised my firstborn are her "real" parents.

In some states, when an adopted person reaches legal age, he has a right to know who his natural parents are. But what about my right to privacy?

NAMELESS IN CHICAGO. DEAR ABBY: I agree with you. But for another point of view on that subject, read on: DEAR ABBY: I was adopted. I know that I was adopted. I have had cut three roses from his rosebushes. The rosebushes have loads of buds on them, and I can't see that I did them any harm. My husband claims that roses should not be picked in the first year. I always thought that rosebushes produced bigger and more abundant blooms after the flowers were plucked. Who's right? If my husband is right, I'll keep my bloomin' hands off his blooms.

DEAR N.: Picking roses off the bush the first year will not affect the health of the rosebush. But it might not be too healthy for your marriage.

Cook Of The Week

'Connecticut Yankee' Loves To Cook

By DORIS DIETRICH

Mrs. Joe (Betty) Kurimal, who was born and reared in Connecticut, claims that she is "really just an old-fashioned cook brought up on non-spicy, hearty food."

The "Connecticut Yankee" has lived in Sanford for 17 years and spends much time in the kitchen experimenting with original recipes. With a mini-commissary of food supplies on hand, the attractive blonde can whip up a palatable meal in 30 minutes.

Betty said she enjoys all forms of casual entertainment and the preparation of food for persons with hearty appetites gives her pleasure.

The Kurimal home on Loch Arbor court is a continuous "open house" for friends, unexpected guests and friends of children, Holly Anne, 16, and Joey, 13. Lots of homemade goodies are always on hand for the gang to nibble on.

She entertains, with the greatest of ease, several times a year for as many as 65 guests, buffet-style. In the early summer, Betty was hostess to an old-fashioned, family style, sit-down Thanksgiving dinner for 26 guests.

A gracious hostess, Betty, who helps her husband in his business, gives family and home priority above her many community interests. Anne, 16, and Joey, 13. Lots of homemade goodies are always on hand for the gang to nibble on.

from the "Kurimal Collection." Betty is an avid golfer and bridge player, when time permits. The following recipes are 1/4 lb. butter

Melt butter in large pot, add chopped onion and cook until onion is clear. Add paprika and salt. Add chicken and enough water to cover. Bring to a boil, cover, and cook on low until tender — about one hour. Remove chicken from broth. Mix and blend well 1/2 pint sour cream and 2 tablespoons flour. Slowly add 1 cup milk to flour and sour cream and blend until smooth. Carefully add the sour cream mixture to the broth stirring continually until it bubbles. Bone the chicken and add to the sauce. Serve with mashed potatoes or egg noodles and a green vegetable.

Art Of Budgeting, Cooking Eye Appeal Important As Taste

By NANCY BOOTH Herald Correspondent

Eye appeal is as important as taste, when serving food. The more attractive to the eye, the more pleasing to the palate, is a hard and fast rule for any good cook.

Another rule of cooking is the use of illusion. Illusion is a deceptive appearance. Applied to cooking, it is making a small amount of food appear to be a banquet by the way it is prepared and arranged on the plate.

Utilizing both the above rules, homemakers can receive accolades from one and all, and still stay within the limited food allowance.

Letuce is a great aid to the art of illusion cooking. It adds color, as well as the bulk necessary for your diet.

Utilizing both the above rules, homemakers can receive accolades from one and all, and still stay within the limited food allowance.

using these few cooking tricks, your family is supplied with the necessary amounts of vitamins and nutrition, which will produce a healthier person. Did we really need that second sandwich?

A simple illusion I have used over the years is to serve the mundane lettuce, tomato and cucumber salad in a different way.

Most of us, for a family of four, would use several whole tomatoes, a head of lettuce and a whole cucumber. Produce prices go so high we sometimes hesitate to purchase these items, even though we know they are important to our family's diet.

Have you noticed most restaurants serve a sandwich surrounded by several slices of pickles and a handful of chips? This creates the illusion you are getting more for your money and adds eye appeal. Why not try this little trick at home. You may find your family will be satisfied with one sandwich instead of two.

Most Americans overeat. By using these few cooking tricks, your family is supplied with the necessary amounts of vitamins and nutrition, which will produce a healthier person.

TV HIGHLIGHTS

TV: The thought occurs that perhaps the Federal Communications Commission ought to butt out of programming, and just stick to handing out franchises. When the FCC decreed a new prime-time access regulation that took away a half hour each night from the networks, ostensibly to force local channels to produce more of their own shows, viewers got a conglomeration of infantile game and panel shows. Family-viewing, which the FCC forced upon the nets, has reduced the first hour of each evening in prime time to a sack full of meaningless situation comedies — with some exceptions — and a handful of adventures like "The Invisible Man" surely inspiring for all the family.

And now there's the children's hour, which means the nets can reclaim that hour on Saturdays and Sundays from 7-8 if they have children's fare. So what do the kids get? Irwin Allen, who made his reputation by creating disaster films, in an interpretation of "The Family Robinson," which reduces that fine old classic to

For Those Under 20 High School Is Different

By LINDA BISHOP
The Herald Service

There was a time, perhaps only last year, when your teachers watched closely over your shoulder as you pursued your studies. Parents, too, were usually checking to see if you had done all you should have done with your studies. But that was yesterday, before high school. Now both teacher and parent expect more performance from your own diligent, without constant supervision

DEAR DR. LAMB — I was surprised to read you do not recommend running as a suitable physical fitness exercise. I just read a recent book and the doctor who wrote it thinks running is the best way for people to condition themselves. He nearly pooh-poohs anything slower than a mile and a half in 12 minutes, provided this is worked up to slowly and the individual is in good shape medically. Your advice is to walk or at most jog slowly, and it seems to me that this fits in the face of this book.

I'm 33 years old, and like most people, I'm too fat, too lazy and smoke too much. However, I've followed the program in this book with pretty good success except for those occasions when I have tried to do too much on the treadmill, suddenly turned hot and humid, after which I'd feel tired for three or four days from only one running session.

I'd like to know if you think the program in this book is dangerous.

DEAR READER — You have

TV Sports Blitz Angers Viewer

By DICK KLENER
The Herald Service

DEAR DICK: Sunday I turned on TV and guess what was on sports! We work all week long. On Sunday we like to relax and watch a good movie and all there is to see is sports shows. Why can't they put a movie on at least one channel? — PATRICIA SNYDER, Dixon, Ill.

You have a good point. In fact, a great point. I've been advocating for years that the networks get together and schedule sports so the viewers have a choice. But, no — they often schedule the same type of show in the same time period. Example: Tuesday night on 9 CBS has Switch!; ABC has the Rookies and NBC has Police Story. Three crime shows. Anybody who doesn't like crime shows, forget it. But people who run the networks and stations think of their private good before the public good. They say Sunday is sports day, period. Complain to your local stations, that's all you can do.

DEAR DICK: I would like to know what makes actors cry when they are playing in movies. Do they use onions? I would also like to know if they drink alcoholic beverages on western shows, movies and dramas. — J.T., Jackson, Ala.

No onions for Hollywood's phony tears. Some actors can cry on cue, but most can't. They squirt something (I won't tell you what it is; I don't want a lot of kids trying it and getting the formula wrong and hurting their eyes) in their eyes to induce tears. No, they don't drink real booze; it's generally colored water or maybe ginger ale.

DEAR DICK: Please tell me if Roy Rogers died. — MRS. RICHMOND, Morgan City, La.

No, he's not. In fact, he's making a movie now, his first since "Son of Paleface."

DEAR DICK: Is Tom Snyder of the Tomorrow show handicapped in any way? Why does he sit so much? Sometimes he never gets up from his chair during the whole program. — MRS. INA BEUSE, Rayland, Ala.

Snyder is perfectly healthy. He's just more comfortable sitting than standing. Or maybe a bit on the lazy side.

Verdict Returned In Less Than An Hour 'Steal-To-Order' Defendant Found Innocent

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

A circuit court jury deliberated less than one hour today before finding Maitland Marine owner Ralph DiLisio innocent of knowingly buying property stolen by members of a multi-county "steal-to-order" theft ring.

DiLisio told the jury Wednesday that he bought the air compressor from James L. Davis for $300 cash thinking Davis was a Cocoa Beach contractor who was going out of business.

DiLisio said he'd told employees his firm was in the market for a used compressor for sand blasting work and outward motor mechanic Roland Durand told him he knew of a man who had a compressor to sell.

DiLisio said the compressor had already been delivered to his business when he first met Davis, when Davis came for the money.

DiLisio admitted his business was in "dire financial straits" in November 1974 when he bought the compressor and that the cash payment was made from personal "emergency" funds instead of company check because he knew a payroll had to be met.

DiLisio said his business is now in "better stand after receiving a $125,000 federal loan.

DiLisio said he didn't know the compressor had been stolen from an Orlando area rental store and that one of his employees modified the unit for Maitland Marine's use without instructions from him (DiLisio).

Durand is still employed by DiLisio, according to testimony, and faces trial next month on a charge of buying, receiving and concealing stolen property.

DiLisio and Durand were among 13 suspects arrested in connection with a multi-county "steal-to-order" theft ring after sheriff's agents conducted raids Aug. 15.

James L. Davis, 30, of Orlando, and Calvin C. Yates Jr., 26, of Casselberry, admitted members of the theft ring and involved in numerous burglaries and thefts, testified that they stole the air compressor, disguised it and sold it to DiLisio.

DiLisio testified that when he was arrested and the modified compressor seized at his business Aug. 15 that he thought he'd paid for the unit by check and Sheriff John Polk helped search the office for the check. He said he later remembered paying cash for the compressor.

DiLisio said he knows "90 per cent" of the sheriff's force and has helped vice squad detectives "solve cases" including narcotics cases.

In closing arguments to the jury in the three-day trial, defense attorney Michael Sigman contended Davis and Yates testimony was "unworthy of belief" and that if the jurors believe Davis they're believing "everything that's bad and rotten in our society."

He said the case boils down to a question of whether DiLisio knowingly bought stolen property.

Assistant State Atty. Bill Heffernan admitted the credibility of admitted thieves Yates and Davis was in question but said, "to get to the root of corruption and filth we sometimes have to get down with it."

"Without the Ralph DiLisios, thieves would be stuck with stolen merchandise," Heffernan charged.

United Way Aids 'Home Society'

The Children's Home Society of Florida has placed 15 children in Seminole County homes this year, according to Dorothy R. Pearson, division executive. The Children's Home Society is partially funded by the United Way of Seminole County, Inc. The Society performs a variety of functions, including providing care for natural parents, adoptive parents and healthy, as well as handicapped, children. For instance, natural mothers are provided financial assistance for doctor, hospital and maintenance costs. The Society accepts applications for adoption, performs a home study with the couple, places the child and performs follow-up studies. The Society seeks foster homes for mentally and physically handicapped children and performs follow-up studies after the child is placed. Besides placing the 15 children this year, the Society so far has taken 14 children from Seminole County into its care; has conducted 20 adoptive family studies; and has found five foster homes for nine of Seminole County's retarded children.

The biggest cost for the Children's Home Society is medical expenses, Ms. Pearson said.

The Society pays boarding parents to keep the child until it is placed in a foster home. Foster parents are charged a fee for adoption, usually eight and one-half per cent of the family's annual income.

During the past year, adoptive parents in Seminole County paid $15,000 in fees, Pearson said. She said the entire child care and adoption process is an expensive service.

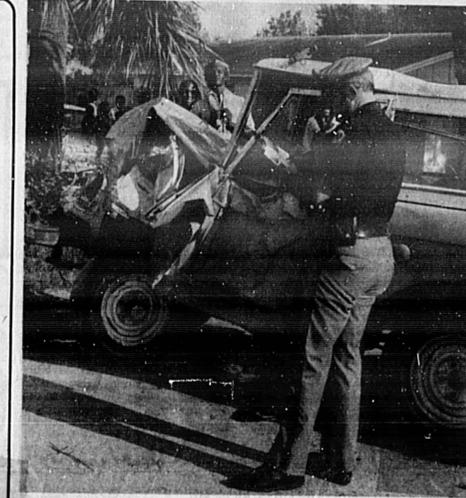

The board agreed to investigate the problem, determine responsibility for providing a bike path and curbing and estimate costs by the next meeting, 7:30 p.m., Oct. 22, at the Altamonte Springs City Hall.

The motion was made by Davis Sims and seconded by E.C. Harper Jr.

Superintendent William P. "Bud" Layer said the base cost for the narrow, half mile access road off Eagle Circle "went down last Friday after our attorney threatened suit (against the developer)."

Mrs. Maxine Derrington, representing Sterling Park, cited a "misapplication of funds and breach of contract between Florida International and Orange Paving has left us without a paved road."

Mrs. Derrington said 72 pupils from the planned unit development (PUD) have had difficulty getting to their "walk-

SANFORD CRASH INJURES TWO

Sanford police reported William A. Horn 25, Altamonte Springs, and James Wagner, 27, 114 Mayfair Circle, Sanford were injured Wednesday when a four-wheel drive vehicle passed a car on the right and struck a mailbox and two palm trees on Persimmon Ave. near McCrackin Road. A Seminole Memorial Hospital spokesman said today that Horn was in "good" condition and that Wagner was treated and released. Investigating officer H. J. Shea Jr., above, said no charges were made in the accident. (Herald Photo by Joe Askren)

Fields, Crowder Set To Go On Trial Today

Selection of a jury was to begin this afternoon in the trial of two other persons arrested in connection with a $1 million per year "steal-to-order" theft ring.

Herman E. Fields, 38, 125 Grace Boulevard, and Donald R. Crowder, 44, 551 Karen St., both of Altamonte Springs, are accused of buying, receiving and concealing a 150-horsepower outboard motor stolen at Orlando in January.

On Monday Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor denied a motion by defense attorneys Tom Freeman and Ned Woolfolk for a change of venue because of news media pre-trial publicity in the theft ring cases.

McGregor indicated a venue change might be considered if there are difficulties in selecting a jury today for the Fields-Crowder trial.

Crowder is identified by police as the operator of the Rendezvous Bar and Lounge next door to the Altamonte Springs Police and Fire Departments.

Confessed professional burglar Calvin Yates has arrested on multiple charges in connection with the theft ring Aug. 15 when sheriff's agents raided the bar and their residence, hauling away allegedly stolen merchandise in two trucks.

Assistant State Atty. Charles Gordon, prosecutor in the Fields-Crowder trial, is expected to present testimony by Yates and other members of the alleged theft ring that police said operated for 18 months with a $1 million a year business.

Development Company Announces Dividend

The Sanford-Seminole Development Co. Inc. has set a 50 cents a share dividend of investment in the company.

Formed by the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce several years ago to provide capital for prospective industries and businesses, the company agreed recently to place the question of staggered terms of office for directors to the stockholders.

Since it is too late to formally advise stockholders of the recommendation before the Oct. 14 annual meeting, the company may call a special meeting or wait until the 1976 annual meeting to consider staggering the terms.

National Recognition Sought For County

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

The county's management consultant, E. H. "Woody" Underwood, has applied to the National Association of Counties (NAC) for recognition for Seminole County's "outstanding achievements" in streamlining county government.

In a letter to NAC President, Bernard F. Hillenbrand, Underwood cites county commissioners with "outstanding achievements" during the last 12-18 months which have "improved the county's capacity to manage and administer its governmental affairs... as well as provide an improved living environment for Seminole Countyans."

From 1970 to 1974, Seminole County's population grew at an annual rate of 16 per cent. And now, officials estimate the county has 140,000 residents.

"I can find no other county in the United States which has grown consistently at a higher rate," Underwood says.

Underwood outlined what he termed "government modernization" which was adopted by the Florida Legislature.

—Countywide fire protection.

A fire protection program was started in Oct. 1974. Underwood says the system will "no doubt have a dramatic positive long-range effect on the county fire defense system."

—Complete reorganization of county government. Twenty-two department heads were reporting directly to the commission. Now, through reorganization, only six directors report weekly to the commission.

—New management staff. Here, Underwood mentions the Office of Management Analysis and Evaluation (OMAE), which is responsible for a new budgeting system, a new performance reporting system.

Parents Demand Courtesy Busing

By JOE ASKREN
Herald Staff Writer

Three parents of children attending the new Sterling Park Elementary School demanded Wednesday night the Seminole County School Board either provide courtesy busing or force the subdivision developer to provide better access to the school.

The board agreed to investigate the problem, determine responsibility for providing a bike path and curbing and estimate costs by the next meeting, 7:30 p.m., Oct. 22, at the Altamonte Springs City Hall.

The motion was made by Davis Sims and seconded by E.C. Harper Jr.

Superintendent William P. "Bud" Layer said the base cost for the narrow, half mile access road off Eagle Circle "went down last Friday after our attorney threatened suit (against the developer)."

Mrs. Maxine Derrington, representing Sterling Park, cited a "misapplication of funds and breach of contract between Florida International and Orange Paving has left us without a paved road."

Mrs. Derrington said 72 pupils from the planned unit development (PUD) have had difficulty getting to their "walk-in school" since it opened last month. She said it is about a mile from most of the homes.

"It is potentially, highly dangerous and there is no provision for walk-in students," said Mrs. Beverly Myton, an Indian Hills resident who said her children attend the Sterling Park school. She estimated the bike path would cost $8,000.

Layer said the bike path is the responsibility of the developer. He said he would check school bike path funds available.

Hugh Carlson, director of auxiliary services, said the new "We know very little of this is taking place," Harris said, but it is grounds for immediate suspension.

He said principals have taken a "get tough attitude" with "extortionists" but "very little of it is reported for fear of being beaten up."

Regar "the ban on checks in the school lunchrooms at the recommendation of Superintendent W. P. "Bud" Layer, Harris said, "We'll have to wait and see how it comes out."

Current lunch prices are $2.50 a week for kindergarten through fifth grade, $3 per week for grades 6-12 and $4.25 for adult lunches.

Lunch tickets are purchased on the first school day of the week or on Friday for the entire week, depending on the school, according to the director of food services.

NEW BUSINESS IN SANFORD

Another new business opened in Sanford today with the official ribbon cutting at Head Hunters, a hair styling shop at 307 E. 25th Street. According to owner Darlene Brock, both men and women customers will be accommodated. On hand for the opening were (from left): Mary Douglas of U.S. Bank, City Commissioner A.B. McLanahan, Chamber of Commerce President Wayne Albert, Chamber of Commerce Executive Manager Jack Horner, Ms. Brock, Jack Wieble and City Commissioner Gordon Meyer. ## Personal Checks 'Out' For Buying Lunch Tickets

An additional employe just to check on the bad checks.

Harris also acknowledged what he termed a small amount of "extortion" where some of the "little fellas get talked out of their lunch money" by some bullies intimidating the smaller youngsters.

"We know very little of this is taking place," Harris said, but it is grounds for immediate suspension.
