

Jailed Lothario Spurned By Last Admiring Widow

Sam Engel Considers 10 Year Sentence In Lonely Prison Cell

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Sigmund (Sam) Engel, the 74-year-old widow's Lothario who ran out on scores of lonely women after taking their money, was a sad and lonesome figure himself today.

Left alone now even by the one woman who had stuck to him throughout his trial, the international confidence man sat dejectedly in a cell at the county jail pondering his two to 10 year sentence for a love swindle.

Judge George M. Fisher imposed the sentence Wednesday after denying a defense motion for a new trial. Engel was convicted by a jury of swindling Mrs. Roseda Corrigan, 39, a red haired Chicago widow, of $8,700 after a whirlwind courtship. Engel disappeared on the eve of their scheduled marriage.

Engel's delinquent shrewd staid taint Except for his attorneys, Engel was alone when he was brought to court for sentence. Mrs. Pauline Langton, the 39-year-old New York widow whom Engel called his "only true love" was not present.

Outside of court, the weary old lover told newsmen he hadn't seen or heard from Mrs. Langton since Saturday. The hotel where she had been staying reported Mrs. Langton checked out Saturday without leaving a forwarding address. She is believed to have returned to New York.

Mrs. Langton is the last of several brides reported in the life of the self-styled lover of 1,001 women.

Engel's attorney, Allan H. Bloch, called his client's punishment "a virtual death sentence."

"This man is old," he said, "his days are over. Why do you bother to do him any more? Anytime a year for him is like 10 for a younger man."

But James A. Brown, assistant state's attorney, pressed for a sentence of nine to 10 years, terming Engel "the master con man of his time."

Judge Fisher granted Engel a 90 day stay for an appeal to the Illinois Supreme Court. Engel was taken back to jail.

At his trial, four other women, including Mrs. Langton, testified the aged Lothario ran off with their money or jewels after marrying them. Mrs. Langton became reconciled with Engel after his capture by Chicago authorities.

Engel is scheduled to appear in court again on Jan. 8 on four other swindling complaints.

The donations are being used for book's and equipment and the library is now in use. Of concrete block construction it is located near the Academy. Its 26 by 62 foot main room is designed to hold 7,000 books.

Oswald Jacoby Voices Challenge To Canasta Fans

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Oswald Jacoby is a big, bear-like man who has won fame by bold hands. Not lady hands—card hands. Right now Jacoby is looking for somebody to give $5,000 to. Anybody. That is, anybody who can beat him at the new pastime called canasta.

Some three months ago he spent a dozen hours playing this new game and decided he knew enough about it to write a book. He did. And his "How To Win At Canasta" has sold over 300,000 copies.

But a number of other people also wrote books on canasta after reading their books and a reading his book Jacoby decided he was the best canasta player in the world.

"I will pay $5,000 to anybody who can beat me," he announced. "There may be a couple of unknown guys in Oklahoma who can do it but I doubt it. And I'm sure there is no other canasta author able to not if they play the way they write."

He has reason for self-confidence. This 46-year-old, grizzled, grey, 6-foot-two-inch Texan is a fine mathematician. He began playing bridge at the age of 7. Since 1916 he has won the Vanderbilt cup, the Kentucky Derby of tournament bridge, six times.

Presently runs in his tribe. "My father entered college at 14. Since 1916 he has won the Vanderbilt cup, the Kentucky Derby of tournament bridge, six times."

"I quit Columbia University at 15 to become the nation's youngest life insurance actuary."

"And I'm still a consulting actuary," he said. "I'm not in cards for a business."

Jacoby says there is no card game that can be played perfectly, and that if someone invented a machine that could play a card game better than he, he would buy it.

His tin to amateurs; to play any card game well you have to avoid patterns.

"As you grow older you tend to fall into patterns," he said. "But once a great player gets read by the others, he falls into the second rank. I put the late P. Harold Sims, a fine player, out of championship bridge by figuring out that he invariably made certain plays on certain card holdings. I was the first to figure him out. You have to vary your game."

Why is he so good?

"There are card players with better memories than mine, but none is as good a mathematician. I also have a fast mind. I'm un-readable—so far at least—and I can outguess other people."

Industry Rapidly Returns To Normal As Nation's Strikes End

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Peace in the coal fields and steel towns should by the spectre of a sorry Christmas for countless citizens. But how far into the New Year the happy days will last is another question.

Men who feared they would be laid off before Thanksgiving, now rest easier. Many now out of work expect soon to be drawing pay again already the trek back to the railroad shops and yards has started.

Pay rates edge a little higher in many industries. In others labor seems to be winning its fight for pensions. In some, workers will be taking home a little less money, as they contribute toward their future security. In general, however, total purchasing power should be high.

Industrial production should snap back from the low to which the strikes brought it—the Federal Reserve Board says its bit industrial production index hit around 100 percent of the 1935-36 average in October, down from 172 in September. Weekly earnings (as distinguished from more high hourly wage rates) will rise again, therefore, in time for the Christmas shopping.

Prices will be under pressure from increasing production costs in some industries. Steel men are predicting higher prices "unless demand goes to pieces," although labor insists that pension costs could be met out of profits without having to hike prices.

But there is great drag on prices, too—all but a few products are in plentiful supply. Only the outbreak early this year in manufacturing and in purchasing by retailers has held supply and demand in balance.

Profits for business and industry as a whole will be lower this year than last, and most companies seem reasonable to the prospect of slightly lower earnings next year. (That whopping General Motors profit was not typical.) But most companies are well over the line into the black. They aren't having it so good as in record-setting 1948, perhaps, but they aren't exactly in the soup line either.

Stockholders at least seem to be coming into their own, too, as well as labor. The GM year-end dividend captures the headlines because of its staggering total, but it merely overshadows a host of other dividend statements—increased payments, year-end extras. And the Federal Reserve Board estimates six million Americans own some corporate stock.

Companies, with their postwar expansion nearly over, are now in a position to pass along a greater portion of their annual earnings to the owners. And this is likely to continue next year.

The stockholder's gain, however, may be the construction and tool industries' loss. A drop of 6 percent in building and heavy engineering volume is predicted next year by the building statistics agency, F. W. Dodge Co.

'The Question Of War Has Become The Main Preoccupation Of Man'

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Thirty-one years ago today bloodshed ceased in the most stupendous war mankind had known. This Armistice after four years of conflict turned out to be only a pause that refreshed the world for an even deadlier war, the issue of which are still unsettled. I can't think of anything better to present on this anniversary than the thoughts celebrated men of the past have held on war and peace. Here are a few:

"Love thy neighbor as thyself."—Jesus Christ.

"All battle is well said to be misunderstanding."—Carlyle.

"The art of war... I take to be the highest perfection of human knowledge."—Daniel Defoe.

"In war events of importance are the result of trivial causes."—Julius Caesar.

"War is the trade of kings."—John Dryden.

"Military glory—that attractive rainbow that rises in showers of blood, that serpent's eye that charms to destroy."—Rep. Abraham Lincoln of Illinois in 1848.

"War should be the only study of a prince. He should consider peace only as a breathing time, which gives him leisure to conceive, and furnishes ability to execute, war plans."—Machiavelli.

"War, the greedy bankrupt's last resort."—Nicholas Rowe.

"An army is of little value in the field unless there are wise counsels at home."—Cicero.

"War should be the only study of a prince. He should consider peace only as a breathing time, which gives him leisure to conceive, and furnishes ability to execute, war plans."—Machiavelli.

"I hate war for its soils conversation."—Fontanelle.

"There is no such thing as an inevitable war. If war comes it will be from failure of human wisdom."—Ronal Law, 1914.

"For what can war out end war still breed?"—Milton.

"The bird of war is not the eagle but the stork."—Charles Francis Potter, birth control advocate.

"Worse than war is the fear of war."—Seneca.

"Peace shall not prevail save with a sword in her hand."—Bernard Shaw.

"There is many a boy here today who looks on war as all glory, but, boys, it is all hell. You can hear this warning voice to generations yet to come. I look upon war with horror."—General Sherman.

"Little reason is there in arms."—Vergil.

"The question of war has become the main preoccupation of humanity."—William Bolitho.

"A great country cannot wage a little war."—Wellington.

"Two armies are two bodies of men which meet and try to frighten each other."—Napoleon.

"Every bullet has its billet."—William III.

"It is not an army that we must train for war; it is a nation."—Woodrow Wilson.

"War is a biological necessity... a moral obligation... an indispensable factor in civilization."—Bernhard.

"War is delightful to those who have had no experience of it."—Erasmus.

"A good war halloweth every cause. War and courage have done more great things than charity."—War is elevating, because the individual disappears before the great conception of the state."—Neitzsche.

"He that preaches war is the devil's chaplain."—Ray.

"Mortals... do not weep... war is kind."—Stephen Crane.

"The first casualty when war comes is truth."—Hiram Johnson.

"The gods are on the side of the stronger."—Tacitus.

"There never was a good war or a bad peace."—Benjamin Franklin.

"Ye shall love peace as a means to new wars, and the short peace better than the long one."—Neitzsche.

"Love thy neighbor as thyself."—Jesus Christ.

Lumber Dealers Assail Truman's Administration

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 11.—(AP)—President Truman's domestic and foreign policies were assailed bitterly before the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association today by Senator Wherry (R-Neb.).

"President Truman's technical leads down the road to Communism because it attempts to buy freedom with material things," Wherry said in a prepared address.

The Senate Minority leader in the 81st Congress criticized the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, tariff cutting, foreign aid and administration spending.

Wherry likened the "promoters of 'medicine man' of the promises of their day a 'gold brick,' but today 'it is the Welfare State.'"

"All the gold dug by the 'sherpas,' he continued, 'would not pay the first installment on the Welfare State. And the direction America is being led, points to bankruptcy more devastating than the atomic bomb."

Ted Baldwin, public relations counsel of New York City, 22-planned a nationwide program to construct better quality homes at lower cost. He said more than 500 dealers and builders have pledged themselves to the program.

Going Democratic

PARIS—You no longer need to Barbara Hutton or the Duchess of Windsor to wear a dress with one of the best-known labels of Paris.

French fashion houses are going democratic and, at the same time, providing their own individual answer to American ready-to-wear styles. The discovery they have made is that a simpler garment takes only half the work hours involved by a haute couture model, then it can be sold for only half as much.

The cheaper models—called "boutique" or "shop" collections—are described by one house as "little sisters of the signed for public sale in the haute couture." They are designed for people of more limited means than those who buy the famous ready-to-wear styles of Paris models.

Even the masters, Christian Dior and Schiaparelli, have fallen into line, although each has a different interpretation of the newest trend.

Jacques Heim, who has one of the season's top collections in this cheaper range, offers nearly everything, except tailored suits, at between $85 and $100. He shows them in special sales set apart from the elegant surroundings in which his more exclusive—and for more expensive—haute couture is sold.

If a customer finds some thing which both suits and fits she can buy it on the spot to wear away, or she may select one of the models daily shown by mail-order and have it with a single fitting.

Many foreign clients spend very little time in Paris and cannot wait the eight to 10 days necessary to have a haute couture dress made. Jacques Heim himself has said:

24 Year Old Blonde Enjoys 3 Year Trip

AP Newsfeatures
NEW YORK—It's a long way from New Richmond, Minn., around the world to Calcutta, but Elaine Zwerner made it.

It took the pretty 24-year-old blonde three years and 600,000 miles to work her way around the world. She claims it must be a record of some kind—the slowest global circumnavigation in the annals of air travel. But she has enjoyed every minute of it.

While she was still in high school back in New Richmond, Elaine decided that she was going to see every country in the world—or bust. She didn't. As a passenger on a Pan American clipper, Elaine recently completed the last leg of her planned circuit, flying into Calcutta from the west. Says she: "It was just what I needed."

In the last three years Elaine has flown with all three of Pan American's divisions — from Miami south to Buenos Aires; from the British Isles to Australia and India; from New York east to Europe, Asia and Africa. She has entered each of the six continents in her travels.

It all began when Elaine took a four year course in foreign service at the University of Minnesota, and concentrated on the study of Spanish. Completing her four-year course in three years, she enrolled at the University of Mexico in Mexico City and set her sights on a diplomatic job in Latin America.

Back in Minnesota she enrolled in the Army's course in Japanese, took the State Department's examination for foreign service, and then on an impulse took off for Miami to apply for a job as stewardess with the Latin American Division of Pan American.

For the next 18 months she perfected her command of Spanish and flew to Brazil, Argentina, Colombia, Venezuela, the Canal Zone, Guantánamo, Mexico and all the island stops in the Caribbean.

Her next hitch was with the Pacific-Alaska division, based in San Francisco. By now she had been promoted from stewardess to purser, and was in charge of official documents carried by the Clipper as well as being responsible for ordering food to be served aloft.

Her biggest thrill to date came when she flew into Tokyo, and found the Japanese phrases she had learned really worked. Soon she was at home in Honolulu, Wake, Guam, Tokyo, Shanghai, Manila, Bangkok, Calcutta, New Caledonia, Australia and New Zealand.

Elaine had learned water skiing at Miami Beach boys taught her to ride a surfboard at Waikiki. She took up golf course from Guam to South Africa. In between trips she tried out Mexican recipes at a ranch house she leased with five other airline stewardesses, studying French in her spare moments.

Elaine's next transfer was to the Atlantic division because, as she explains, "I still had Europe and Africa to see." She shipped in London, Paris and South Africa, then completed the last link of her round-the-world trek with the flight to Calcutta.

This fall she's making home base New York, plans to complete her flying hours for a private pilot's license. On vacations she goes back to New Richmond, where her father runs a restaurant and manufactures ice cream. Says Elaine: "I can't promise everything I go home because from London to Calcutta and from Bangkok to Johannesburg, I've never found anything to beat Dad's ice cream."

The street length evening dress is a fashion hit for winter, 1938. Women like it because it is appropriate to wear when an evening dress is not wanted. All some variations come with cover-up jackets which convert it to a street outfit.

U.S. Brands Soviet Danube Rule Invalid

Yugoslavia Attacks Russia For Double Role Played On In- ternational Front

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—(AP)—The United States served notice on Russia and five Soviet bloc states today that it considers invalid their new commission to control shipping on the Danube River. The commission was set up Nov. 11 at Galatz, Romania. It replaced a control commission dating back to 1921 on which five western nations were represented.

An American note today said that the new arrangement, coupled with the device of Soviet-controlled joint shipping companies on the river, is "clearly designed to enable the Soviet Union to maintain a monopoly on Danubian commerce."

The Soviet bloc commission, it was charged, violates the peace treaties signed with Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania and "violates the concept of international waterways which has been recognized in Europe for more than 130 years."

Meanwhile at Lake Success, Yugoslavia blasted at Russia for appearing before the United Nations as a champion of peace while exerting "aggressive pressure" in efforts to oust Premier Marshal Tito.

Yugoslav Delegate Milovan Djilas gave his country's views to the General Assembly's 49-nation political committee. He devoted most of his long speech to an attack on Russia but he also assailed the western powers for what he called war propaganda.

Civil Rights Favored
By Secretary Tobin

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—(AP)—Secretary of Labor Tobin today said that the fight will be kept up for passage of a law ending job discrimination.

"The peoples of the world," he said, "are looking to America and Americans for help in building a world where all races, colors, and creeds can live and work together harmoniously and constructively."

Tobin addressed the convention of the National Council of Negro Women. President Truman is scheduled to address the group tonight (about 8:30, EST). He was expected to make it the occasion for a new plea for enactment of his Civil Rights program.

Tobin listed recent instances in which colleges have permitted the entry of Negro students, and added that there also have been gains for the Negro "on the job front."

"You know," he said, "that I have fought for a federal law to end job discrimination. This goal has not yet been achieved, but I can assure you that the fight will be kept up."

Gay Says Sales Tax May Not Be Enough To Run State This Year

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 15—(AP)—Even sales tax revenue may not be enough to run the State government this fiscal year, Comptroller C. M. Gay told delegates to the state chamber of commerce convention today.

It is too early to tell how much the new tax will provide, Gay said in a speech prepared for delivery at this morning's convention session.

But if advance estimates of $40,000,000 are right, he continued, the State will have to dip into the general fund for $7,000,000 to keep operating through June, 1950.

"And this is based on continuation of the 10 percent budget reduction now in effect," Gay said.

If this happens, he added, the State probably will not have a safe working balance. It will be about $7,000,000 on July 1 when it should be at least $12,000,000 at that time of year—usually a slack period in tax collections.

Although sales tax revenue is expected to add $40,000,000 to the State income, about $19,250,000 of this is offset by 1949 laws giving cigarette tax money to cities and gasoline tax money to counties, Gay said.

Another factor to be considered, he told the trade body, is that the new sales tax didn't start until November, four months after the start of the state's fiscal year.

Judith Coplon Is
Federal Employee

NEW YORK, Nov. 15—(AP)—Judith Coplon, convicted of spying for Russia, was pictured in a federal court today as a conscientious government worker who "did out various subversive organizations" for the U. S. Attorney General's office.

Her lawyer, Archibald Palmer, gave this picture at a hearing preliminary to the spy conspiracy trial of the former government agent and her ex-friend Valentin Gubichev, suspended Russian employe of the United Nations.

FBI Agent Robert R. Granville, on the witness stand, agreed with Palmer that Miss Coplon had received promotions in the Department of Justice and that her work had been praised by her superiors.

"Did you know," the lawyer asked, "that she dug out various subversive organizations put on Tom Clark's list?"

"I did not," Granville replied. The reference was to former Attorney General Tom C. Clark, now a Supreme Court Justice.

6-Year Old Girl Found Murdered By Sex Pervert

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 15—(AP)—The head crushed by an axe, six-year-old Linda Joyce Glueck was found slain today a few blocks from her home. Police broadcast a pickup order for a 67-year-old man. He had been missing from the home of her parents, Jules and Lillian Glueck, since yesterday afternoon.

Officers identified the man they sought as a known pervert, questioned only last April in a child molestation case, but released.

The cloudy body was found by the case when a night-long search by neighborhood officers failed to produce a box covered with rubbish, debris and old boxes. It was in the backyard of a modest dwelling near her own home.

It is understood that the mother, told of the discovery, had her body was found more than a year later in the hills, and in a case that led to the conviction of "Sam" C. Stone, a nightwatchman.

The case was the city's most notorious child murder since 1946, when six-year-old Rochelle Glueck, daughter of butcher Al Glueck, was kidnapped at play.

A first grade student at Cross Street Heights school, Linda was last seen about 3:30 P. M. yesterday. Mrs. Glueck told police she saw her daughter ready and called for her at 5 P. M. I got no answer, so I went out and asked the other children in the neighborhood, but nobody had seen her."

Police said a six-foot high fence bordering on an alley is the rear of the home where the body was found. Officers theorized it might have been tossed over the fence and into the pile of boxes where it was discovered.

Of the man police are seeking, Mrs. Glueck told police: "He had played with her, but he was so sweet and kind to her he liked to give her candy."

Linda, four feet, two inches tall and weighing 65 pounds, was still wearing the blue plaid dress, red shoes and yellow socks in which she disappeared.

Police said a later examination would be required to determine if she had been molested.

2 White Men Held In Negro's Death

WALHALLA, S. C., Nov. 15—(AP)—Two young white men were arrested near Charleston today on charges of slaying an elderly negro farmer near here Saturday night.

Police in the seaside city, 200 miles from here, identified the prisoners as Leroy Parker, 23, of Walhalla and James D. Lawrence, 25, of Berkeley county.

The men offered no resistance as Sgt. A. Roth and four other officers arrested them in a roadside car. Roth said the men were in a "drunken" mood when they were arrested.

City Is Asked To Ban Lurid Comics By County Judge

County Judge Douglas Stenstrom last night requested that the City Commission take action to curb the sale of lurid comic books which emphasize crime and sex.

The Commission took immediate action on the matter by requesting City Attorney Edson Shindler to check into ordinances adopted against sale of such publications in Coral Gables and other Florida cities with the possibility of Sanford adopting such an ordinance.

Judge Stenstrom told the commissioners that he attributed two recent cases of delinquent minors here directly to the reading of this type of "so-called comic literature."

The Commission said City Manager Clifford McKibbin authorized completion of the sale for $7,000 of the former shuffleboard court site at Palmiste Avenue and Second Street in the Thelma Hill Court, of which Jesse Jarrell is local representative, for erection of a building.

Action was deferred on the request of the Zoning Board to change the text of the Zoning Ordinance to permit more leniency in determination of the minimum first floor area requirements for houses. A special meeting with members of the Adjustment Board will be held soon to consider this.

A lease to Florida Fashions Co. was amended to put the responsibility on company maintenance of the A and R building at the principal Airport. The company and headquarters to the company, and setting rental at $250 a month for the balance of the five year lease which ends in October, 1952.

Committees Named
By Tourist Club
To Plan Program

Forty-seven members of the Sanford Tourist Club met last night to form committees to carry out their program of tourist activities. The club, comprising the former membership of the Sanford Shuffleboard Club and the Tourist Club, now numbers about 35 local residents and 12 tourists, and is growing rapidly, according to John Senkark, president.

Edward Higgins, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the group. He stated that repair work is in progress at three shuffleboard courts in Fort Mellon Park and that when this work is completed 10 courts will be available for playing. New equipment has been purchased by the City, including 10 sets of cues.

A committee was appointed to manage shuffleboard tournaments and includes Tom Vernon, Carl Eisenhower, C. L. Madden, Robert Hawthorne and L. C. Hughes. The committee was instructed to meet this morning with City Manager C. F. McKibbin to discuss any improvements that may be made at the courts.

Another group formed last night was a house committee to welcome visitors and plan entertainments. This includes Mrs. W. E. Smith, Mrs. A. C. Starke, Mrs. W. R. Tench, F. A. Esterly and Mrs. F. L. Cawley.

Mrs. Flossie Webb invited members to attend the two hour program of songs, singing to be given by the LaVere Trio of Station WJLT of Atlanta, Ga., Saturday night at 8:00 o'clock at Seminole High School auditorium. Following the business session members enjoyed a social hour and games.

GREEN ELECTION
ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 15—(AP)—Speakers for major parties in the coalition government said today they have agreed that Greek general elections should be held next spring.

A final decision will be taken every body after the return expected within a week of Popular Party leader Constantine Tsaldaris and the Liberal Party head, Konstantinos Vamvakis, from the United Nations General Assembly.

Lewis Warned To Make Peace In Coal Dispute

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—(AP)—John I. Lewis and the United Mine Workers last night paid $1,120,000 in court fines for their penalty for failing to obey a court order to end a 1948 coal strike. Wells Hopkins, general counsel to the union, made the payment to Harry W. Hall, clerk of the U. S. District Court. Hopkins remarked that the fine is "probably the biggest ever paid by a defendant in the Federal courts, certainly the biggest ever paid by a labor union."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—(AP)—John I. Lewis was confronted today with a virtual ultimatum to win a quick coal peace or face fast White House action.

The Alchison Service said Lewis is being given 24 to 48 hours to get something straight to ward a coal contract. It implied that there would be action by President Truman this week if Lewis does not.

Officials seemed to believe Mr. Truman would invoke the Lath-Hartley Act although the President declines that law.

Use of a special fact-finding board outside Lath-Hartley, as was done in the steel dispute, has been considered but that idea appeared to have little support.

The White House evidently was determined to stop a new strike on Dec. 1 the expiration date of a three ordered by Lewis last week to end a 32 day strike.

Under Lath-Hartley, Mr. Truman could order the Lath-Hartley Act to seek a court injunction halting a new strike for 30 days.

Lewis blamed the start of the coal strike on the fact that operators removed coal to be sold abroad. He said he would like to talk about holding on to the coal situation has not been made.

A top White House adviser said the Lath-Hartley Act, still being considered but would not be used unless Lewis would agree to keep his miners at work.

The official summed up President Truman's attitude in these words: "A decision on what to do in the coal situation has not been made."

Mrs. Hortense Wells
To Address Women

Mrs. Hortense Wells, director of District No. 2 of the Florida Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, will address the local FWPC tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Mayfair Inn on the subject, "What Lies Ahead?"

Sally Moore Williams, president of the club, said today that Mrs. Wells is widely known throughout Florida for her activities in legislative affairs, and is a most convincing speaker and has a splendid grasp of State and national matters. The talk will be heard over Station WTRF at 8:00 P. M.

The negro jurymen were Henry Newton, a laborer.

Dismantling Of German Plants Slowed; Merchant Fleet May Also Be Rebuilt

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 15—(AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced today that Britain, France and the United States have agreed to slow down the dismantling of German industry.

The announcement came as he began negotiations with the western high commissioners in the hope of relaxing occupation restrictions on Germany.

In a formal speech to the West German parliament broadcast by the Frankfurt radio, Adenauer made the report on the results of the Paris foreign ministers' conference.

The United States, France and Britain have agreed to invite West Germany to many international organizations.
