Night-Life for Your Camera

Light is a must in picture taking, but that doesn't necessarily mean sunlight. Moonlight, candlelight, street light—all of these will do nicely not only as a source of inspiration for your camera, but as an effective source of light as well. Indoors, either flash or flood can be used to throw light on your subject after the sun has gone down.

Essential to any camera on the night shift is a tripod or some other solid support. Without it, you may spend your picture—only to find it is a blur. A camera movement during a time exposure can be fatal to the result. As for the length of exposure to be used for night shots, there's really no hard-and-fast rule to follow. You'll need a little patience and a bit of trial-and-error at first. Since there'll be widely differing light conditions and subjects, your best bet will be to try several exposures—noting the length of time and the lens opening used for each shot. Some picture-takers like to stick to the "rule of three"—one exposure based on checking prevailing con-provements are to be made. If we build schools we're going to have to have money," explained Swofford.

"I don't think there has ever been a road building program in Seminole County and we need it," said the new commissioner.

Swofford emphatically stated, in his suggestion for a three point program, that "I'm not willing to sit here on this board and not do something about it."

Commissioner Swofford also stated that "I am in favor of zoning" and added "I am going on record as being for it."

In another effort to reduce the cost of county operating expenses, Commissioner John Krider requested that an investigation be made of the Seminole County Home on the basis of cost. "Whether it would be cheaper to keep the County Home or to contract the care of its inmates,"

Reports previously read before the commissioners revealed that the cost of operating the home for the month of December, 1956 was $36 per day for 16 inmates. "Each person there is eligible for some state and federal aid," said Krider, "and by being in a private home they can receive it."

The Rose Circle of the Sanford Garden Club will meet tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Charles Cole in Geneva. A covered dish luncheon will be served.

Add nutmeats to extra rich pan cake batter and serve with preserves for dessert.

2 Elders, Trustee Named At Church Consecration Meet

LAKE MARY—The Lake Mary Community Presbyterian Church held its annual congregational meeting Tuesday evening. It was convened with prayer by the pastor, the Rev. L. W. Scott.

The chief business was the election of two elders to fill the expired terms of P. D. Anderson and H. M. Cochran and the expired term of trustee P. D. Anderson.

The nominating committee presented its choice and elected two elders, M. C. Smith and David Newbury and Trustee Morris Steiner.

Following election of officers reports from the various groups of the church were heard. Treasurer Anderson gave a detailed account of the financial income and output for 1956. H. M. Gleason, chairman of Benevolences reported on the amounts given by the church to the various Boards of Missions, Synod and to Special Offerings. R. W. Keogh, in the absence of M. C. Smith, treasurer of the building fund reported the progress made on the Educational Building and outlined the future needs.

Mr. Keogh, as superintendent of the Sunday School told of the work of that group and personally thanked each teacher, individually and the assistant superintendent. Mrs. Walter I. Piper, president of the Business Women's Circle recounted the various projects of this, the only organized women's group, which concerns itself not only with the local church activities but with the outreach of the church.

Mrs. R. W. Keogh, corresponding secretary of the Friends of the Sunday School Class composed of the young married couples gave the report of its activities, chief among them being raising money for the building fund through church supper.

The Pastor's report completed the meeting. He mentioned the net gain of 18 in membership, during 1956 and voiced the appreciation of all when he commended Mr. Piper for his fine work, not only as a Sunday School class teacher but for his outstanding work as director of the choir.

In the same category was his praise of the service Mrs. J. M. Thompson gives as organist and that of the pastor's wife who has put so much time into the weekly printing of the church bulletin.

Pastor Scott enters upon his retirement the last of January and so his final remarks were a "looking back" at his more than 44 years of ministry in the Presbyterian Church and a "looking forward" to the continuing growth of this church. The community will be glad to know that the Scots will be going no farther away than Winter Park and so can continue the friendships they have made in their five years in Lake Mary.

The well attended congregational meeting was closed with a prayer. Afterwards it was learned that the two juniors, Miss Jo Ann Newbury and Miss Nancy Joe Tomblin, who had taken such excellent care of the little folks in the nursery during the meeting, were donating to the Building Fund the money they received as "Baby Sitters" on this occasion.

Police, Militia Open Fire On Demonstrators

Better Wages Sought

BUDAPEST — Police and Hungarian militia opened fire today on thousands of workers shouting anti-Communist slogans in Budapest.

The main clash took place outside the sprawling iron and steel mills on suburban Döspöl Island in the Danube River south of the city. Less serious incidents occurred near other major factories.

Police fired with submachine guns and carbines on the demonstrators, but the shots were directed over the heads of the crowd. It was not reported immediately if there were any serious casualties.

The demonstrators said they were clamoring for better wages. They carried placards denouncing government concessions as inadequate.

But observers said the main reason for the new outbreak of violence were:

1. The unrelenting tone of Premier János Kadar's policy statement last Sunday which said flatly the government was returning to rigorous Communist dictatorship.

2. Government attempts to infiltrate the factory workers' councils with Kadar Communists.

3. Mass layoffs in factories all over Hungary which Kadar ordered for the new year.

The clashes followed resignations of workers councils at Csepel, the Belpolona electrical works and at least 21 other factories in Budapest. Kadar's tough new militia took over factories where the mood of workers was particularly ugly.

The government's flat rejection Thursday of a U.-N. proposal to send a five-nation investigation commission to Hungary spurred the workers to their reaction, observers said.

President Invites Queen To Visit U.S.

LONDON — President Eisenhower has invited Queen Elizabeth to make a "non-political" visit to the United States in October, it was reported today.

The London Daily Mirror said the official invitation will be extended by retiring U. S. Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich before he leaves his post later this month, although discussions of the proposed visit have been held for the past several weeks between the White House and Buckingham Palace.

The visit would be Elizabeth's first as sovereign of the British Empire and her second to the United States. She and her husband made a tour of the United States and Canada in 1951.

President Harry S. Truman remarked as that time that "never before have we had such a wonderful young couple that so completely captured the hearts of all of us."

1 Word Can Mean Lot In News Story

One word can mean a lot in a news story.

As a matter of fact, one word created widespread concern when it was left off of a front page news item in yesterday's Sanford Herald and caused numerous telephone calls to The Sanford Herald Office.

The story, concerning a man who had regained his sight will be carried again today on one of the inside pages with the one word "blat" deleted.

However, reader, did not know whether there was one word left off, a paragraph omitted, or half the story.

Bandits Torture Spinster Sisters In Robbery Attempt

CHICAGO — Five masked bandits tortured two spinsters by burning them with cigarettes and a gas jet in a futile attempt to force them to disclose where their money was hidden.

The victims, Miss Martha Goldfein, 58, and her sister Betty, 50 were hospitalized for treatment of second degree burns, shock and wrenched arms.

They said the men entered their second story apartment over a vacant store by using a ladder and breaking a window.

"O. K., now you're going to tell us where the money is hid," they quoted one of the bandits as saying while the others threatened them with guns and knives.

When the women insisted they had none, the bandits ransacked the eight-room apartment and then began torturing the sisters.

They held the women's hands against an ignited gas jet on a stove and pressed lighted cigarettes against their bodies. When that failed, they removed the women's shoes and found $60 hidden in them. Martha said one of the bandits threatened to pull off her toes with pliers.

En-Lai Glad Poland, Russia's Friendly Relations Stronger

WARSAW — Communist China Premier Chou En-Lai arrived here today fresh from talks with Kremlin leaders and said he is glad Poland and Russia recently strengthened "friendly relations."

It was a broad hint that the time has come for Communist China to take a more active role in the world.

Chou tipped around Poland's recent moves for independence from Moscow and emphasized that ties with Russia and other Communist countries are all-important.

"Your country has had many new, great achievements but also many difficulties which with great effort are now being overcome," he said on arrival at Warsaw airport.

"But to this end the unification of all forces is needed in the struggle against the anti-socialist anti-Communist forces," he added.

The Poles, fearing Chou has become a "Moscow" man, regarded his visit with some apprehension. After at first seeming to support Poland's move for independence from Moscow the Chinese have launched bitter attacks on Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia and his cult of "other roads to socialism communism."

Graham Enters Gas Chamber Tonight

CANON CITY, Colo. — John Gilbert Graham, still calm and cooperative in his death cell, will pay with his life tonight for the bomb deaths of 44 persons aboard a liner near Longmont, Colo., Nov. 1, 1955.

The confessed timebomber will enter the state's lethal gas chamber at Colorado State Prison here at an hour yet to be disclosed. He has requested no special consideration.

The 24-year-old saboteur saw his wife, Gloria, for the last time Sunday. She isn't returning, she said, "because it's too hard on both of us."

Graham, who the state has contended blasted the plane out of the sky to collect trip insurance on his mother, one of the victims, never sought clemency, or even an appeal of his conviction. And none is indicated.

Mrs. Graham said she probably does not love her husband now. "I guess pity's the only thing I have left," she said.

STANDS CORRECTED... Marion Brande, as Sky Masterson, points out to Sara-a-Soul mission worker Sarah Brown (Jean Simmons) that she has misquated the bible in this scene from Samuel Goldwyn's "Guys and Dolls." Frank Sinatra and Vivian Blaine also star in the multi-million dollar production of Broadway's great musical hit, filmed in CinemaScope and color.

Guys, Dolls' Starts Sunday At Moveland

Samuel Goldwyn's multi-million dollar film version of the smash Broadway musical "Guys and Dolls," starts Sunday at the Moveland Ride-In Theatre as the cinematic event of the year. Filmed in CinemaScope and color, the picture stars Marion Brande, Jean Simmons, Frank Sinatra and Vivian Blaine, with a large group of supporting players headed by Robert Keith, Stubby Kaye, B. S. Pully and Johnny Silver, plus the famed Goldwyn Girls. "Guys and Dolls" was written for the screen and directed by four-time Academy Award-winner Joseph L. Mankiewicz. Its plot is based upon a story by Damon Runyon, with a liberal sprinkling of the hard-boiled, soft-hearted characters that made up Runyon's fabulous universe. Like the stage play, which ran on Broadway four days over three years, the picture's story boils down to two romances, one between the high-rolling gambler, Sky Masterson (Marion Brande) and Sarah Brown (Jean Simmons), the young lady in charge of the Broadway branch of the Save-a-Soul mission; and the other between Nathan Detroit (Frank Sinatra), proprietor of the oldest established floating crap game, and the brassy blonde, Miss Adelaide (Vivian Blaine), who heads the floor show in a joint called the Hot Box. Nathan, who needs $1,000 to rent a suitable site for his floating crap game (so called because the police can't stop it), makes a bet for that amount with Sky, who gambles on his ability to per-

Gable Stars In 'King 4 Queens'

The lusty and provocative yarn of a gay scoundrel's adventures in a western ghost town inhabited by four trigger-happy, man-hungry women, "The King and Four Queens," filmed in CinemaScope and De Luxe color opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre.

Clark Gable is co-starred as the King of the title, and his co-stars consist of a beauteous foursome of Queens including Eleanor Parker, Jean Willes, Barbara Nichols and Sara Shane. The string supporting cast is headed by Roy Roberts, Arthur Shields and Jay C. Flippen. Jo Van Fleet is also starred.

David Hempstead produced "The King and Four Queens" from a screenplay by Margaret Fitts and Richard Alan Simmons and Raoul Walsh directed. Lucien Ballard was chief photographer, and the musical score was composed by Alex North. It was filmed on location in the rugged mountain country near St. George, Utah. Number One Queen of Gable's harem in "The King and Four Queens" is Eleanor Parker, one of Hollywood's best and most versatile actresses, and two-time Academy Award nominee. Lovely Sara Shane is another of the Queens and a dainty soft-spoken vixen she is. Her most recent films were "The Magnificent Obsession" and "Three Bad Sissies." The King and Four Queens" as the remaining two-fourths of Two of Hollywood's fastest-rising Gable's female retinue Jo Van and Barbara Nichols, are seen in:

Agriculture News

CECIL A. TUCKER, II
SEMINOLE COUNTY
AGRICULTURAL AGENT
A look back over the past year's agricultural picture in Seminole County leaves one with mixed emotions. Some agricultural commodities have brought steady or slightly higher returns during the past year. Other fields have been less fortunate. In spite of cold weather and generally low prices, the value of vegetables produced in Seminole County exceeded 4 million dollars last year. This amounted to almost 8,000 loads of vegetables. Total acreage in production, while down some from previous years was still close to 8,000 acres.

Celery led, with a production of about two million crates. This acreage in Seminole County amounted to less than 20 per cent of the total celery acreage in the state, yet the volume produced from this acreage was almost one-fourth of Florida's total production.

SILK GOES DOWN TO THE SHORE in this play costume by Claire McCordell. Red checks on navy on the pure silk broadcloth. All-round shirring falls from an Empire yoke that is string-tied from a small collar. Beneath are brief shorts and bra, with strings also to tie as you will in typical McCordell style.

The county shipped about 1,700,000 boxes of oranges. Grapefruit and tangerines in South Florida is found an Experimental Station and a major marketing center within the boundaries of Seminole County. This coupled with the unique drainage and irrigation system is a decided advantage to our farmers.

Sanford is ideally situated, as an assembling point for tender vegetables grown in South Florida to mix with citrus and hardier Central Florida vegetables. Vegetables are also brought in from Leesburg and Webster growers for sale at the Sanford State Farmers Market. Consequently the market business itself has increased. During the 1955-56 season, this market handled $5,180,402.03 worth of farm commodities.

As we approach a new year, the question always comes to mind, "What will next year bring to the farmers?" Most answers are slightly pessimistic. No doubt the situation will probably be equally "rough" for the farmer this year as it was last year. However, the average farmer is faced with steady or lower return for his products, on one hand, with rising cost of farm and equipment and materials. On the other hand, this will probably continue to intensify the trend toward larger, more mechanized operations. The results will probably be slightly less acreage and a decrease in the number of farms.

Nevertheless, Seminole County will maintain its strong agricultural economic status and will still be a multi-million dollar business.

Language Barrier Between Countries Troublesome, Unnecessary Problem

One of the outstanding features of the ancient Roman Empire was that a man had to know only two languages to make himself understood wherever he went, Greek was his passport to understanding in the eastern reaches of the empire, and in the west he could always find someone who knew Latin.

After the empire broke up, the languages that helped knit it together broke up also. Portuguese, Spanish, French, Roumanian—these and other modern languages developed from Latin roots, whereas Latin itself became a sort of embalmed tongue now used mainly by the clergy of the Roman Catholic Church.

Today there is no language, or even combination of two or three languages, with which one can speak to men in all parts of the world. A person who knows French, English, German, Spanish and Russian, say, might find himself tongue-tied in China. And knowing Chinese would do him little good in the Hungarian countryside. There are broad and populous regions where none of the languages mentioned would make the slightest sense to any but a handful of the inhabitants.

All this takes on significance in the face of an inescapable fact: The world is growing smaller, in effect, as we learn to travel and communicate more rapidly. The world's swiftly growing population also is becoming more interdependent than ever before. As this trend continues, it will become even more necessary for people to speak with other people of different cultural backgrounds.

The obvious answer is an international language of some sort—either an existing or an artificially made-up language that will be spoken and written the world over. How to bring this about is not obvious. But it is a goal worth serious thought and effort. The language barrier is troublesome and unnecessary.

Bicycle Safety

There is nothing more satisfying than to see a boy or girl enjoying the bicycle Santa brought down the chimney or edged in the front door.

It seems as if there is a special glint for those youngsters when they're pedaling their way along.

But there's another side to the story. Suddenly one of the youngsters on a fast moving bike darts out from a side street right into the path of an auto.

Or he's merrily pedaling his way to school weaving his way back and forth across the street or road hindering a motorist from passing or endangering his young life in fast moving early morning traffic.

A quartet of youngsters ride along—side by side—discussing the game they're going to play or the specially hard lessons they've studied. Automobile traffic comes to a standstill.

There's a definite place for bicycles—they're important to the happiness of our boys and girls—but they must be handled right and in a safe and sane manner.

With the gift of a bicycle comes the necessity for very important safety regulations on how, where and when to ride.

Rhee Threatening To March Again

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
President Syngman Rhee is threatening again to march his army into Communist North Korea.

The tough old chief executive of the Republic of Korea has made the "unification of his divided country his major goal for 1957.

He would like the Western Allies who fought in the Korean War to denounce the armistice which was signed on July 24, 1953 if that does not happen, he says, he may take on the North Koreans and the Chinese Communists himself.

Despite the odds he would face, the possibility that he may do so sooner or later cannot be ruled out.

Rhee feels that his allies, involved in a cold war with Soviet Russia in Europe and the Middle East, have too long neglected the area in which the free world went into a hot war against Red aggression.

U. N. Resolution Adopted
The United Nations adopted on Tuesday a United States resolution calling for the reunification of Korea through free elections, to be held under UN auspices. But resolutions to the same effect have been passed before, and Rhee knows—as do the countries which belong to the UN—that the Communists will not agree to any such elections.

Rhee takes the view that the Korean armistice has become just another scrap of paper and that his country is no nearer unification than it was 3 1/2 years ago when the war ended.

His attitude is not unreasonable. South Korea, a country of 23 million people is supporting an army of 1.5 million men.

South Korea gets United States aid. But its economic situation is desperate. And Rhee himself, approaching his 82nd birthday on March 26, is as determined as ever to get the Communists out of North Korea one way or another, if he can, so that the promise of Korean freedom which came with the end of World War II may be fulfilled.

Only The North
Rhee also insists that if there is any election in Korea, it shall cover only the Communist-ruled northern part of the country.

Rhee's argument is that South Korea is a legally constituted country and already has a parliament elected by free vote. His idea is that North Korea should join South Korea.

North Korea, with a population now estimated to total between 3 million and 5 million, is merely a puppet state under Chinese Communist occupation.

South Koreans charge that the Communists are deporting North Koreans to Manchuria and replacing them by Chinese with the idea of occupying the northern part of the country permanently. The number of Chinese immigrants is estimated to total as high as 1 million.

Rhee knows that his years are numbered, and his own ambition is to unify Korea by peaceful means or by war before he dies.

Too Late To Classify

When Miami sets out to kick sand for those who take advantage of it.

I've seen a lot of exciting football games in my time but this year's Orange Bowl game topped them all. Colorado took over in the first half and ran up a score of 20 before Clemson even began to start. Then Clemson came back in the second half and made Colorado look like a total loss running up a score of 21. The jam-packed stadium went wild. It was anybody's game and with a lot of luck, Colorado won by one touchdown.

The half time program was the most brilliant and colorful I have ever witnessed. Both Colorado and Clemson staged magnificent shows with their bands and drill teams while the Orange Bowl presentation of the 1957 queen and her maids was spectacular. I was proud of Tampa's Adelaide Gonzalez, as beautiful and charming a queen as had ever ruled over the Orange Bowl.

Tampa with its Florida State Fair and Gasparilla Carnival and St. Petersburg with its Festival of States will have their hands full competing with Miami and her Orange Bowl. I predict they will all be bigger and better in 1957.

JOIN THE MARCH OF DIMES

So far, so good. But the dark shadow of polio hasn't vanished entirely. Before that happens, two jobs must be done: Job No. 1: Get vaccinated. Everybody under 35 should be inoculated. About 45 million of us have been. About as many haven't. Polio can still blight your world. YOU alone can prevent this.

Job No. 2: Give to the March of Dimes. No vaccine can help the 80,000 American lumps crippled by polio. They need iron lungs, wheelchairs, braces, crutches, doctors, nurses and special care for years to come. That's the second big job for 1957. This one is up to YOU too.

Two big jobs to be accomplished by a two-way action—giving and GETTING. You give to the March of Dimes; you get your inoculation—and security against a mercilesscrippler.
Do both jobs NOW.

Demos Confident Senate Will Pass Civil Rights Plan

WASHINGTON 10.—The Southern Democratic leadership of the Senate is convinced that the Senate will pass a civil rights program this year.

It also is reported to be convinced the Senate probably will curb the power of the filibuster that Southerners have used so effectively to kill civil rights legislation in the past.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson himself has joined in sponsoring a new attempt to curb the filibuster.

A group of top Democrats expect passage of a moderate civil rights program will come first.

Other Congressional News
Eisenhower: President Eisenhower prepared to deliver his State of the Union message to a joint session of Congress this afternoon.

Doctrines: The House Foreign Affairs Committee called former Secretary of State Dean Acheson to testify on the Eisenhower Doctrine. Democratic members of the committee in effect have already buried a proposed mild substitute for the doctrine advanced by "every prominent member" of their own party. They did so after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles denounced it Wednesday.

Eastland: Sen James O. Eastland was reappointed chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee which passes on civil rights legislation. The Senate confirmed the appointment of Eastland, an ardent advocate of segregation, over the protest of Sen Paul H. Douglas D-III.

Building: Contractors are building construction by reason of the problem created by the impact of Federal installations will also be introduced shortly. This plan is being enthusiastically received.

The President's firm message to Congress while as usual was stimulating on the part of the members, which leads me to believe that the issues he proposed will be decided on their merits and that policies will take a back seat. That is certainly the way I intend to act on them. He asked for an additional $200 million a year in economic aid for the Middle East and for somewhat unlimited power with reference to the use of American troops to put down international Communist aggression against free nations. I don't see how we can do other than grant him the authority he asks. The

Herlong Report

The opening of a new Congress is always an exciting time. Getting sworn in as a member of the 85th Congress was every bit as big a thrill as the first such experience I had as a member of the 81st Congress. In addition to this thrill was the real pleasure of seeing old friends again. Friendships made here certainly transcended party lines. It was really gratifying to have Republicans as well as Democratic members say in speaking of my close election: "You certainly gave us a scare; don't ever let anything like that happen again."

On opening day I introduced ten bills and since then one after another of these bills had to do with changes in the Revenue Code—to reduce and eliminate certain taxes and to correct inequities found to be in the old law. I believe most of these provisions will become law, but they will probably be a part of a comprehensive tax revision bill and will not be passed as individual bills. My purpose in introducing them is to make sure the Committee will have the opportunity to act on them. The Herlong bill for double exemptions for college students in the process of being drafted now. Already it is receiving widespread support. Our bill to broaden the base upon which coun-

'Do-It-Yourself' Test For Diabetes Revealed By Firm

CHICAGO 10.—A "do-it-yourself" test for diabetes, packaged for sale in vending machines and drug stores, has been announced by a medical research firm.

The test is not designed for known diabetics but for "the general public," said Paul Becker, president of the Clinical Development Laboratories of Springfield, Ill., the firm which developed the test.

Becker estimated there are a million unknown diabetics in the United States and medical authorities estimated an additional 3 million persons will contract the disease during their lifetime.

The test is designed to disclose the presence of sugar in the urine. It consists of a piece of tape treated like litmus paper which is hermetically sealed and contains live enzymes.

Doctors advised taking the test in the morning before eating since varying body conditions after meals might affect the tape. "If the tape turns blue on two successive tests, see your doctor," said Becker.

The test will be labeled "Sugar-Check" and will sell for 25 cents.

Conring The News
BY VIRGINIA CONN
The Executive Board of the Officers Wives Club met at the home of Dornell Killeine Wednesday night. Dornell of course, is the new president. The old board (for part of it), attended also to help with any problems and turn over the books. It was decided to have a free coffee at the B.O.Q. January 25th. The members will each try to bring a new girl, since so many are reporting in this month. The Club has a project for this month in providing a basketette for the doctor's office at the dispensary in which new mothers may place their babies while being examined. Dornell served tea, coffee, and a delicious strawberry whipped cream cake, and the table was colorful with candles and yellow and white flowers. Attending were Pat Todd, Mollie Farlow, Kay Dwyer, Pat Hansen, Marge Martin, Jane Potts, Ruth Tully, Evie Williams, Betty Guy, Betty McBrainie and Mary Muntz. Betty Hazlett entertained the wives of V.A.H-9 Thursday morning at coffee. Under discussion were squadron plans for luncheons and other activities. Gleaned a little news from this gathering about various people in Sanford. Millie Thomas was at the Seminole Memorial Hospital with her son Billy, who had an emergency appendectomy Wednesday night. We have several new girls in the outfit, Betty Day, the wife of the Douglas rep., Marge Cousins, Mary Casman, Lola Nebel, and Mary Nelson, Ruth Barron is better after surgery in the O.A.F.B. hospital. Enjoying Betty's hospitality were Jane Miller, Betty Ray, Lola Nebel, Mary Carman, Nita White, Dornell Killeine, Skip Howell, Betty McBrainie, Lita Peterson, Julie Anderson, Betty Hillner, Flora Winton, Pauline Byus, Fran Murray, Margaret Fennell and myself. Didn't mean to bury the Driftwood circle in last night's column. Will repeat—the monthly meeting will be at Jean Tegfeld's.

Seminoles, JVs Face Apopka Tonight In Conference Tilt

The Sanford Seminoles, both the JV's and the varsity, hope to extend their good fortune into a winning streak tonight when both teams face Apopka, in Apopka, in Orange Belt Conference tilt.

The Seminoles cage quintet, in their first year in the OBC, hope to break into the conference win columns by upset wins over the Blue Darters from Apopka.

The two teams put reverse records on the line for the court battle tonight. Apopka, flying high with a 7-2 record, will start the jump full of confidence to breeze by the 2-7 Seminoles. But the Seminoles will have a different idea.

Since the resumption of school after the Christmas vacations the Seminoles have thrown everything to the winds but the fast break and the fundamentals. They sacrificed the first game to Leesburg in order to carry out a program of extensive endocrinology of basic basketball to the young and inexperienced Seminoles. The lessons paid off as they topped Pierson in a rough and tumble game that was somewhat shabby. But the steady improvement has continued and the Seminoles have been smoothing off the edges with extensive defensive drills and extended scrimmages.

"We'll handle the ball a lot better tonight and we won't make the ridiculous floor mistakes that we made against Pierson," Cage mentor Bud Layer promised this morning.

Layer said that he was generally "pleased" with the progress of the team, but that the team would particularly in defense, if they wanted to upset Apopka.

"If we aren't sharp on defense Apopka will kill us with their fast break," assistant coach Dick Silvers warned. "We're facing a team that is tough, but we hope that we could beat it if we played heads-up ball all the way through the game."

"One thing that the boys learned this week is that the starting line-up is wide open for the boys that have the heart, the attitude, and the desire to play," Layer said. "We experimented a lot in the Pierson game and discovered a new starter in the person of Rod Phillips."

The Seminoles are waging a personal battle inside themselves. Fighting the tendency to be pessimistic about a coming game, the Seminole cagers are fully aware that they can possibly upset

A new tournament has been set up by the Sanford Shuffleboard Club. Called the Celery City Mixed Doubles, the tournament will draw visitors and contestants from various parts of the state. To be played Jan. 22 and 23.

Newcombe: Series' Wounds Healed

By OSCAR FREALY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The scars still may be deep inside, but Dan Newcombe insisted with serene calm that his hurting World Series wounds had healed.

Big Newk was the hero of the National League season as he won 27 games and the most valuable player honors. But two crucial failures made him the unquestioned "bum" of the World Series.

And the resultant charges that he didn't have the heart to win the "big ones for a while turned the ponderous pitcher into a scowling, sulking recluse.

"I just had to clear my mind of a lot of stuff," he explained with easy conviction. "It was a lot of stuff which shouldn't have been there anyhow. You do the best you can, and that's that. I know I did my best and I shouldn't have let anybody get under my skin."

Jibes at Random
Most people he meets, Newcombe mused, are more sympathetic than critical. But the jibes still come at random moments and they have to be like the twisting of a knife. Which is one of the reasons, apparently why he'll go south Feb. 1 to start training a month early—and pass up the New York Baseball Writers' dinner at which he is certain to be the main target of a show noted for its biting humor.

Newcombe, if doing some acting of his own carries it off well as he speaks philosophically of his two series beatings.

"I hurt my elbow in the last game I pitched in the regular season," the 6-foot, 4-inch Newcombe said softly. "That's not an alibi. It's just so. Then, in Japan, I pitched only once and it was as sore as a toothache. But I've had it before, it feels all right now, and I'm sure I'll be all right."

On Strict Diet
Big Newk, who weighs a heavy 225 pounds when he is in top condition, disclosed that he had picked up "about 15 pounds" during the off season and had gone on a strict diet to pare his weight before showing off for spring training.

"I lost nine pounds in the last week," he said. "So I'll be okay when the season starts."
Outside, that is. Because, despite his apparent calm, those two whippings at the hands of the Yankees undoubtedly will be difficult to shake from a mental standpoint. Newk thinks he has it licked.

But he won't really know 'til the whistle blows the next time he goes to the post in one of those so far frustrating "big ones."

Jr. High Squad Beats Day School

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — Remmie Slack, rugged 280-pound center from West Palm Beach High School, has been named to the second team of the high school All-America squad selected annually by the Wigwam Wisemen of America.

Slack's aggressive blocking and stonewall defense tactics played a big role in West Palm's 7-2 record this season. Harrison, Florida's first choice in the All-American squad, gained 1,810 yards for an average of 95.2 yards per game in his last two years with the state champion Cavaliers.

Jim Manes, a Jacksonville youth who played his senior year with Baylor School for Boys in Chatsanooga, Tenn., was named to the seventh team quarterback slot. The 18 year old passing whiz who played Botes School in 1934, scored 13 touchdowns passes and scored 75 points as Baylor compiled an 8-1 record.

Scholarship Corp. Reveals Finalists In Competition

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — The National Merit Scholarship Corp. has announced 7,500 finalists in its competition for more than 700 four-year college scholarships.

The 7,500 outperformed 162,000 other bright high school seniors in a college aptitude examination given in 12,500 high schools on Oct. 24.

The finalists now face a stiff three-hour college board examination Saturday, John M. Stalaker, president of the organization, said at least 7,000 are expected to survive this hurdle.

The survivors will undergo intensive screening of their leadership and extra-curricular records by a selection board, and 700 will be named about April 25 as the merit scholars of 1957.

He makes frequent trips around the country and abroad in quest of fresh news slants, his most recent being a three-week trip behind the Iron Curtain last summer.

Known for his uncanny forecasts, he correctly predicted the fall of France, Russia's entry into the war, Rommel's defeat in North Africa, the 1948 and 1952 presidential elections. Last he predicted that President Eisenhower would carry the country with a larger majority than before.

Man Blind Since '44 Suddenly Regains Sight

MANSFIELD, Tex. (AP) - Novelist John Howard Griffin, who has been blind since he was bombed in the South Pacific in 1944, disclosed today that he suddenly regained his sight Wednesday.

"There was no bump, no jar," he said. "Nothing had happened. I started walking from my workshop toward my parents' house. Suddenly everything looked like red sand in front of my eyes. It was a terrible shock."

Griffin wrote, "The Devil Rides Out," an account of the temptations to which Satan subjected him while he was in a monastery. It became a best-seller in 1932. He has written a second book, "Nani," about a pilot cracking up in Africa, which has been well received by critics, and is working on a third on his farm near Mansfield.

Griffin, now 36, said that after he began to perceive the "red sand" in front of his eyes, he suddenly could see the outline of the door of his parents' home.

Beginning to feel sick, he telephoned his mother and his wife, who were in Fort Worth, about 20 miles away. They hurried to him, and when his mother walked in, he said, "Mother, you have on a green coat."

It was the first time he had ever seen his two children, and of that he said: "They are beautiful, more beautiful than I ever suspected."

But he said his wife, who he married in 1933, looked different than he had imagined: her hair is blacker.

Realtor

Describing the organization as a "home" for the real estate people, he said: "A home is only as good as its roof - it has to have a sound roof, solid walls and a good foundation. The roof is your national federation - the walls is your state organization - and the foundation is you."

Eggers then emphasized the make up of a realtor. He listed them as "pride of profession," "service," "civic action" and "growth and leadership."

"We serve ourselves only as we serve our clients," Eggers said as he pounded away at pride of profession and added "and you serve your clients as you learn more about your business."

In service, Eggers described the public on the move transporting ideas with them from other sections of the country. "We have the service to offer," he said.

The representative of the National Association of Real Estate Boards said "Florida is the last frontier in the United States and it has one of the richest potentials that should be more interested in the life and action of the community than your organization here. The realtor is the first person to see the new citizen and the last person to see him go. More than any other industry or business, the real estate business is interested in the planning of their community. It is orderly growth," said Eggers.

"Your voice should be heard - call it publications, civic affairs, or what you may," he said.

Juvenile Judge Gives 2-Year Activity Report

A general summary of the activities of the Juvenile Judge during his past term of two years and four months was made today by Juvenile Judge Ernest Housholder.

"This is a court without a jury or prosecuting attorney," said Judge Housholder, "and all matters must be handled by the Judge personally."

The figures given in the report are as follows: official hearings in Juvenile Court, 409; hearings preparatory to official hearings, 328; unofficial hearings and probation visits, 774; children confined to jail temporarily, 79; children sent to reform school, four girls and 18 boys.

Judge Housholder also explained that there have also been hundreds of phone calls day and night and out of office contacts, touching the youth of the country.

In a brief analysis of these activities, said the Judge, "it is that all wrongful acts or indiscretions of our children have been handled without the stigma of crime and criminal atmosphere."

Filling Station Robbed Last Night By 3 Armed Men

Sanford police are investigating an armed robbery reported last night at 10:35 p. m. by LeRoy Hickson, operator of the Imperial Service Station at the corner of South Park Ave. and 13th St.

Hickson told Sanford police, according to Chief Roy G. Williams, that three men held him at the point of a pistol while he opened the safe from which $1,147.50 was taken.

The robbery took place prior to 10:35 p. m., said Chief Williams. The three men, after ordering Hickson at the point of a gun to open the safe, then took the filling station operator with them and left him on Grapeville Ave.

According to Hickson's description, the men were driving a green 1955 or 1956 Chevrolet sedan with the license plate covered up.

One man, he said, had a white scar on the side of his face, was about 30 years old, 5' 9" or 5' 10" tall, and was wearing a brown long-waisted sports jacket and hat.

Chief Williams said that the Florida Highway Patrol and the Seminole County Sheriff's office were notified.

"The investigation is being continued," said Chief Williams.

Jaycees Are Looking For Past Presidents

The Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce is looking for past presidents of its organization prior to 1945.

President George Andrew Spear said today "records of the Jaycee past president prior to 1945 have been lost."

"There are a number of businessmen in Sanford, no doubt, who took an active part in the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce in its earlier years and we would like to know who they are," he said.

A Past Presidents luncheon has been planned for Thursday, Jan. 24 which will be a part of the National Jaycee Week celebration during the week of Jan. 21-28.

"However," said Spear, "we don't know who to invite to our past presidents luncheon if we don't know who they are."

"We have complete records of the organization since 1945 and the time of the Jaycee reorganization here in Seminole County but no records of the earlier group," said the president.

Jaycee Week will be celebrated with an event staged on each day according to plans released today by the local Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce organization.

On Monday, Jan. 21, there will be a proclamation issued by the Mayor of Sanford setting aside the entire week for the celebration.

On Tuesday the Jaycees will salute the entire community and stage an open Board of Directors meeting. Wednesday, Jan. 23, is the day of the Jaycee Week.

2 Navy Planes Head For Jacksonville Base Aboard Barge

Two Navy planes, minus wings and landing gear, headed for Jacksonville Friday evening aboard a huge barge and the St. Johns River.

The planes, both involved in crash landings, were brought through Sanford from the Sanford Naval Air Station loaded on lowboys. A heavy crane capable of lifting more than 17,000 pounds reloaded the planes onto the barge which was floated up to the bandshell seawall on the west side.

A Navy Douglas Skyraider weighing 17,000 pounds moved through Sanford streets shortly after 9 o'clock Friday morning.

However, in order to place the heavy plane onto the barge, the lowboy was maneuvered into position from which the crane could operate.

The smaller plane was moved onto the barge during Friday afternoon.

Both planes were heavily damaged after the Douglas Skyraider in a crash landing near Kissimmee recently and the smaller plane near enterprise several months ago. They were taken to the Jacksonville Naval Air Station where the planes will be completely rebuilt.

More than a score of Navy men and officers were in the salvage crew which moved the planes from the local base onto the barge.

Mayfair Inn Playing Pro Jay Hebert Wins Bing Crosby Tourney

LOS ANGELES—Jay Hebert, the Mayfair Inn Country Club's playing pro, is top man today among the professionals.

The Louisianan Frenchman who licked the Japs at Iowa Jima but never before could conquer the touring golf professionals, headed south of the border today with the first golfing victory of his career behind him and the position as the leading money winner of the young 1957 tour.

Hebert, 33, won the pro division of the $15,000 Bing Crosby pro-amateur tournament here Sunday and collected $2,500 for that. He and his partner, amateur Roger Kelly of Los Angeles, finished second in the pro-amateur division and he picked up $875 extra there. That gave him $3,375 for the week-end's work.

So that he headed for the Caliente Open at Tijuana with winnings of $7,125.

Hebert shot a two under par 70.

That gave him a 213 total for the 54-hole tournament.

That was two strokes better than the 215 posted by defending champion Dr. Cary Middlecott, who posted an even par 72.

Hebert shot a 271 at the Mayfair Inn's $15,000 PGA Open in December to collect $300. Hebert finished second in the Los Angeles Tournament last week.

During the three-day pro contest warmups, Hebert was in excellent spirits in Sanford. He said "I'm feeling fine and playing just as good." His optimism undoubtedly paid off.
