

Learning To Lead Through Organized Activity

Camp Weekend Fondly Recalled

The Camp Kuluqua weekend was one of the highlights of the recent memory-bound days for the Class of '68. The Junior Class did the honors for the happy February festivities and the Seniors agree that the lovely camp days were groovy indeed.

But this High Springs camp, owned and operated by the Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventists is often the scene of youthful activity. It is used as a youth camp during the summer and for special occasions, from camping to a fly-in, throughout the year.

Underprivileged and blind children remember fondly the Friendship Camp, a special feature of Camp Kuluqua. The Welfare Department recommends the underprivileged children. The blind children are drawn from throughout Florida and other Southern States. Last year about 15 per cent were non-staters.

The vast variety of facilities available at Camp Kuluqua includes horseback riding, water activities such as canoeing, swimming and scuba diving, hiking, nature study and crafts. The family campsite is a favorite feature at Kuluqua. Water, electricity and septic tank hook-ups are available for campers.

The Fly-in Camp held once a year at the camp's airport for those interested in aviation is another unique feature of Kuluqua.

Norman Middag of Orlando is in charge of the camp and all arrangements for attending or for sponsoring a child at camp are made through him. He is assisted by students from Forest Lake Academy, Greater Miami Academy in Miami, and college students from Southern Missionary College, Collegeville, Tenn.

Listed is a camping schedule for the summer. Application blanks are available and those interested should address any correspondence to Camp Kuluqua, P. O. Box 1513, Orlando, Florida, 32802.

S. A. Sponsors Clubs, Activities

The Student Association at Forest Lake Academy is the mother organization for campus clubs and activities. The annual Christmas Orphan's Party (above), the Christmas banquet, new suits for the basketball team, a new score board for the gym and plans for a new student lounge have been tributes of the S.A. Orville Fillman (Class of '69) has served as president of S.A. this year.

A new activity on Forest Lake campus this year has been the organization of Maranatha. The group took their name from the Greek word "maranatha" which means "Christ is coming." Believing that this is true, these young people have dedicated much of their time during this school year to telling their friends and neighbors this message. Members of Maranatha have been so enthusiastic about their program that they have personally contacted many churches and hundreds of homes in the cities of Miami, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Melbourne, Orlando, Sanford, Longwood, Altamonte Springs and Apopka. This summer they plan to talk with young people on the beaches. They don't plan to do any preaching — they only want to stimulate realistic thinking.

FLA Temperance Society Active, Wins Award

A plaque awarded to the Forest Lake Academy Temperance Society acknowledges the superior achievements of the group by the American Temperance Society. Headed by Doug Remington (junior) and sponsored by Mr. Richard Terrell, the chapter has organized several teams which have visited a number of the local schools and churches.

In April Mr. Milo Sawvel, secretary of the Temperance Department of Seventh-day Adventists in Washington, D.C., addressed the student body and vividly pointed out the hazards involved in smoking. His display included "Smoking Sam" a life-sized manikin that actually smokes several cigarettes. His lungs were then examined and the amount of tar collected there. He also showed several of the deadly poisons found in cigarettes.

Another dramatic presentation, "The Prisoner at the Bar" was given in the Academy chapel during April. A court scene in which the prisoner is being tried for the brutal killing of his wife while under the influence of liquor. The sorrow and unhappiness caused by drinking is clearly demonstrated.

The F.L.A. Temperance group also manned a booth at the Orange County Fair. A plaque was received from the American Temperance Society for the good work done by the Forest Lake chapter.

Airport Title Is Tied Up In Red Tape

By BILL SCOTT
City of Sanford is having difficulty obtaining title to the former Sanford Naval Air Station, now retained Sanford Airport, according to information from Ben Spessard Holland.

The Senator, responding to a request from The Sanford Herald this morning for information about the delay in the city receiving deed to the 1,650-acre phased-out military base, said that the Attorney General's office is holding up the transfer of title pending a clarification from the General Services Administration (GSA) of 150 acres of the base, which is being used for industrial use by the city.

The original GSA proposal to the city would have placed a $700,000 price tag on the industrial property while giving title to the remaining 1,500 acres which is mostly empty space.

Before the city reached an agreement with the GSA over the price of the industrial site, which contains all the buildings now being leased to industry, the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA), under the Federal Airport Act, sought and reportedly received the entire acreage for the establishment of an airport to be operated by the city with a provision that all money received from the use of industrial sites be put back into the property in the form of improvements.

Only benefits the city would derive would be from taxes and jobs for local people.

According to Senator Holland's information, GSA now has gone to FAA for a clarification of that agency's position about the clarification," he said. The city manager said Mayor Lee P. Moore already had placed calls to Washington today in an effort to resolve the situation.

Knowles said it was still too early to speculate whether the city will have to ante up the entire industrial airport operation which would allow the city to keep the property by the city, including possible holding which is where the legal problem is centered as this is the first airport under the federal act that has been returned to a municipality to operate whereby the FAA acquired the property for transfer to the city.

Motor Inspection Plant Removal Under Study

By DONNA ESTES
Study of feasibility of moving the South Seminole county motor vehicle inspection station from its Triplett Drive location in Casselberry has been ordered by the Board of County Commissioners.

Termed a "constant source of worry and aggravation to the citizens" of the city, Mayor Curtis Blow and City Council requested the county to take the facility's relocation under consideration.

The city and numerous citizens at a recent public hearing in Casselberry made no secret of their disenchantment with the station. It was reported that due to the large volume of cars from Orange County using the facility, in addition to the regular patrons from the south end cities, it had become necessary to station a city police officer on the access road to the inspection plant to maintain traffic control.

County Commissioner Robert Parker received the brunt of the criticism from Casselberry residents. Describing himself as "already on the hot spot," Parker volunteered to serve on the committee named by the Commission chairman to conduct the study. In addition to Parker, Commissioner Greg Drummond, MVI Supt. Virgil Nierder and County Engineer William Bush also were appointed to the committee.

Commission Chairman John Alexander stated the committee would consider costs and other factors in moving the facility as well as the selling of the property on which the station is located.

"Full report was requested of the committee as soon as possible in order than an evaluation be made," he said.

May seem recent, but we've thrown away 35 calendars since that time.

$1 Million Pact

Contract approximating $1 million has been negotiated and agreed upon between TRW Systems of the General Dynamics electronics division of Seminole County.

Authorization to proceed on the first $450,000 phase of the operation was received by Dynatronics this week, with subsequent funding forthcoming shortly.

Dynatronics will design and manufacture PCM (telemetry) and communications signal processing equipment for TRW, the equipment to be used for up-link and down-link communications between groundstations and spaceborne vehicles.

2 Port Appointments Pondered By County

Seminole Board of County Commissioners is scheduled to participate in another round of the continuing battle with Gov. Claude Kirk over appointments to the Seminole Port Authority.

"But, gentlemen, we must follow the law," Commission Chairman John Alexander declared to the county body yesterday.

The county was put on notice by the Port Authority that the terms of office of two of the members of the authority—Lee Moore and Frank Wheeler—will expire on July 1 and the law requires the Commission to submit recommendations of two names each for appointment to the seats and further requires the governor to select appointees from the names submitted by the Commission.

The Commission has continued to submit the names as required over the past two years only to have the governor select a third party.

Alexander stated yesterday, "We will be embarrassed again by selecting four names to submit when the possibility of any of the ones we recommended being appointed is dubious. But we must follow the law."

LAST BARGE to dock at the Standard Oil Terminal on Lake Monroe before its scheduled closing this Saturday was seen today. The terminal located on the lakefront since 1931 is being closed for "economic reasons," according to company spokesman and the operation will be moved to Port Tampa. The barges visiting the Sanford Terminal have numbered in the thousands over the past 38 years. Lately, an average of 11 barges per month have docked at the facility. Last year saw 133 of the craft from Jacksonville bringing gasoline and fuel oil into the area. These products will hereafter be trucked in. (Staff Photo)

On Local Legislative Measures

Telegram to the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation seeking information on the status of legislation requested by the Board of Commissioners.

Commissioner Greg Drummond suggested the telegram be sent to the delegation secretary, E. Pope Bassett asking not only the status of the legislation but the identity of those opposing the various proposed bills and their reasons for opposition.

"We need a clear, precise report from the delegation," Commission Chairman John Alexander declared.

According to the chairman, no report has been given to the

Sailor Held In Bank Robbery

By TOM ALEXANDER
A Casselberry resident was arrested and charged yesterday, less than 45 minutes after he had reportedly held up a branch bank at the Orlando Naval Training Center and fled with an estimated $12,000 in cash.

Casselberry Police Chief Don Brunley, accompanied by Officer Tom Jones, arrested First Class Petty Officer William McCloskey, 41, at his home at 138 Mark David Boulevard in the Summeret subdivision at 2:30 p. m. The robbery occurred at 1:45 p. m.

Acting manager of the First National branch bank Eugene Kirk reported that the bandit brandished a .45 caliber automatic pistol in his face, handed him a brief case and said, "fill it up." After that the cool and calm robber yelled, "If anybody rings a bell, there are going to be seven dead people here." The silent alarm already had been sounded without the bandit's knowledge. When four more patrolmen responded, the robber hid behind a door and then disarmed them as they walked in to the bank.

As the robber fled, the alarm county privately-owned utility by the Florida Public Service Commission and amendment to the Seminole Port Authority law to give appointment powers to members of the authority of the County Commission.

Fishing Boat For Sale

Johnson interpreted the law to be doubtful concerning the county's authority to initiate future proceedings calling for sale of the craft.

The law was not clear on the proper definition of a boat as being a fishing device, Johnson thought. So, the boat was placed in storage.

The Florida Supreme Court laid the issue to rest recently with the determination that a boat is indeed a fishing device. And Johnson appears to be the possession of the county and one "holding the boat."

Young Business Lands Big Navy Contract

By TOM ALEXANDER
A young Sanford business is on its way to a bonanza after signing an open-end maintenance and modifications contract with the U. S. Navy.

Industrial Associates, located at 1021 Sanford Avenue, started in business in early March and already the young company is reaping orders. The latest is a contract with the Navy to keep ground support equipment in top order.

Just last week, the company, under the direction of former Navy Cdr. L. J. Perkins finished its first major project of rebuilding a van type trailer to a weapons carrier for the Navy. The company is expected to continue servicing and converting Navy equipment for special uses until July 1 when its contract is expected to be renewed.

Perkins was stationed at Sanford Naval Air Station for many years before the base was moved to Albany, Ga. Perkins retired a few months ago and decided to set up a business in the Sanford area.

Presently the company employs six people but is expected to expand shortly as its operations grow. The new plant was just awarded a contract by the Orlando Naval Training Center to convert four boilers from coal to oil. The company also installs commercial fences and does radio communications repair work.

ONE OF SANFORD'S newest business concerns, Industrial Associates prepares to turn over a converted weapons carrier to the U.S. Navy. The local business converted the carrier from a van truck. This was the completion of the first phase of a Navy contract with the Sanford company to repair and modify ground support equipment.

Dollar Waste Laid To Military Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP)—The military is pouring untold billions of dollars into defense contractors' pockets for weapons that often don't work, a bipartisan group of senators and representatives said today.

"It also makes it difficult to pinpoint the areas of excess and care with which the defense budget is scrutinized by permanent agencies outside of the Pentagon," the report said.

"The federal government has not been adequately controlling military spending," a joint economic submission concluded. "As a result, substantial unnecessary funds have been spent for the acquisition of weapons systems and other military hardware."

The submission's report followed hearings last November and January into the defense procurement program that totaled $44 billion in fiscal 1962-63, the report said.

Pentagon officials agree with much of the report. But they pointed out the new administration under Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has started to overhaul procedures for buying military weapons systems.

Your Personal Finance Open Door To Job With 'Autobiography'

By CARLTON SMITH and RICHARD PUTNAM PERATT

A popular cartoon of a few years ago depicted a man waiting to be interviewed for a secretarial job. One more realistic than the rest, said "I'll hire Miss 36-34-36 is here."

Whatever her other talents, Miss Carvacava had obviously learned the first lesson in job hunting: To get hired, you have to first get inside the door. For most jobs today, the key to that door is the written resume.

A resume is nothing but a clear and in the best perspective in terms of the job being applied for.

"Unfortunately, most resumes do no such thing. They are confused. Many are too long, usually badly organized and special courses taken at night or during military service.

• Personal Data — With your age, marital status and ages of children. Of particular importance now for younger men is a statement of draft classification or military service.

• Education — List only your most advanced schooling unless something earlier has particular pertinence. Give degrees earned, major and minor courses of study, plus any honors or awards. Don't forget special courses taken at night or during military service.

• Miscellaneous — This is the place for anything you think might be helpful that doesn't fit into categories above. Awards, organizations, civic activities and travel are examples.

If your resume succeeds in getting you an interview, it has done its job. Probably no one was ever hired on the thousands have been scratched as job prospects because a resume failed to do its job.

Outer Space Achievements Spur Inner Acts

'Man-On-The-Moon' during the month of July, 1969 is now more than a possibility. It is a probability. For this we can thank three truly heroic men — Thomas P. Stafford, Eugene A. Cernan and John W. Young.

These are the astronauts who put the names "Charlie Brown" and "Snoopy" forever in the annals of man's exploration of space with the skills, ability and down-to-earth (pardon the expression) humor so characteristic of the bold ones in American history.

United States as a moon landing during the 1960s. It was a classic example of what can be done when all the forces of science are mustered, directed with a single-minded purpose towards a goal, and then the essential ingredient — the men who would operate the instruments on land and in space — is given full support.

Now there is an opportunity for the magnificent achievements in space to be allowed time for review and a balanced determination made of just where such efforts can best be used.

Promotion-Minded

Every once-in-a-while there pops up a bill in the Florida State Legislature which is much more thought-provoking than it is action provoking.

One of these was proposed by Rep. Earl Dixon, a Republican from Jacksonville, who evidently has been doing some thinking himself. His subject, it is obvious, is that of the proper protection of the state of Florida as a place to live, locate industries, and not incidentally, have some fun.

Florida has been a place where its natural advantages have attracted boosters of all kinds and conditions. Ever since Ponce de Leon sent his army-enslaved followers into the Floridian jungles to find the "Fountain Of Youth", the balmy climate, the brilliant sun and the beauties of nature have encouraged such publicity.

There have been boom and bust times. There are those who have some rather hard memories of the boom in the 20s and the consequent bust. Yet throughout the years the state has not engendered an appeal which is constant and growing.

Mr. Dixon has now proposed that three agencies which have the stated common purpose of promoting Florida be consolidated into one massive publicity organization.

One of these is the controversial State Development Commission. Another is the more easily defined political group known as the Florida Council of 100. The third is the State Chamber of Commerce which has had the machinery to render more service than it has done.

We believe that such consolidation is quite in step with wishes of the vast majority of Floridians who would like to see such operations streamlined and made more effective.

We are also enormously intrigued by the fact of the Walt Disney World and its fantastic operation near Orlando and not far from where this newspaper is published in Sanford.

Here is a promotion that has all the factors which promoters seek for success. It has vision, management, experience and money. It will bestow its largess all over Florida.

The millions of tourists who head for Walt Disney World will come into our peninsular state, travel and stop long before the World itself is reached and undoubtedly send its visitors south, east and west.

What an example! What a prospect. What welcome promotion!

Police And Campus Rioters

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Gen. Wallace, on the sidelines waiting to decide whether to have another go at it in 1970, is picking up philosophical support in some curious places. His latest recruit is Robert M. Hutchins, the celebrated educator.

"If, in spite of the best efforts of all concerned, only a few, the university is disrupted, the police should not be called in."

Fugitive Panther Chief Believed In Cuba

By THEODORE A. EDGHER, Associated Press Writer
MIAMI (AP) — If fugitive Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver is in Havana as reported, he is in revolutionary "soul brother" territory.

The voice of Cleaver himself was heard on Castro's propaganda waves last September, translated immediately into Spanish. "We will respond to counterrevolutionary violence with revolutionary violence."

Legislative Reforms Sent To Governor Kirk

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Senate called a quick halt to quibbling over the legislative reform package Tuesday in order to speed it to Gov. Claude Kirk's desk and give lawmakers time to act in the event of a Kirk veto.

That the Legislature live within its estimated appropriations and confirm to state purchasing regulations. As conference committees continued to labor on compromises aimed at governmental reorganization, appropriations and court reform, the Legislature all too clearly a bill that would put

Havana radio from 1965 to 1964. The program was beamed to the U.S. South and urged black revolution. A typical statement, as monitored in Miami, said: "Cats, the word is go for the forces of the Gattaca."

Similar bills to permit the leasing of state submerged lands for sea farming—which one lawmaker claimed will bring 100 million a year into Florida's economy—were approved in both houses.

New Authority Doled To Governor, Cabinet

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The Cabinet system will be reorganized and the governor will be given considerable new authority under the compromise reorganization plan being hammered out in the House-Senate conference committee.

The full seven-member Cabinet, which includes the governor, would gain control of six of the 17 to be created new departments created under the bill.

The governor would win control of 10 departments and the six other Cabinet members would each be given sole authority over one agency.

There would be 22 new departments, compared to some 200 currently existing state agencies.

Reorganization leaders have said that, because like functions would be grouped together, the government should operate more efficiently.

The full Cabinet would act as the trustees of the Internal Improvement fund in charge of submerged land sales and as the board in charge of purchasing, data processing, motor pool, building maintenance, communications and bonding for all state agencies.

The Cabinet would also have authority over the departments of natural resources, law enforcement, highway safety and motor vehicles and revenue.

The governor would keep control of the functions now performed by his so-called "little cabinet" agencies in the new departments of transportation, commerce, business regulation, professional and vocational regulation, citrus and military affairs.

But he would also pick up power through control of the Department of Administration, Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services, the Community Affairs Department and the Air and Water Pollution Control Department.

Conferees made some relatively minor decisions about the plan Tuesday, but Senate reorganization leader George Holla has said it probably will not be voted out until Thursday because the staff has to have time to draft the final language.

$1.1 Billion Budget Eyed By Lawmakers

By JIM PURRS Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—House-Senate conferees Tuesday might shatter the higher education budget and approved headed toward approval of a compromise 1969-70 state budget that could reach $1.1 billion.

If this figure, estimated by House Appropriations Committee Chairman Ralph Turington, D-Grainville, holds true, then lawmakers are faced with a budget that is $97 million over the estimated income.

Subtract from this the estimated $18 million cash surplus expected to be brought over from the 1967-68 biennium and the state would have a budget that is $18 million to $19 million in the hole.

The House had recommended $7.4 million more for the Board of Regents than had the Senate.

The conferees tentatively agreed on a proposal, worked out by a subcommittee, that was described as a "50-50 split" between the House and Senate budget versions on how much to award the Board of Regents.

The compromise adds $1.1 million more in funds for the Board of Regents over the amount recommended by the Senate.

City, County Cooperation Needed For Rec Program

By VIRGINIA SCRUGGS (Part of a Series)

Cooperation between city and county is the only solution—the only way—is the conclusion of James Jernigan, Sanford's director of recreation, in discussing the problems of the recreation program. "Most cities in the county are too small to provide their own recreation. All General's come in here—they want to bring their kids to playground Little League."

Seminole County's population is about 12,000, one-fourth of which is in Sanford. This means that the remaining 60,000 are distributed throughout the county in one of the eight other towns or in rural areas, with few areas having enough of the population pie to finance a program.

East of Seminole, Brevard County had a similar, but more intense, problem with a spread-out population. The county has the distinction of being the longest in the state: 70 miles from end to end. Along this 70 miles, North Brevard area, the one sandwiched between the St. Johns River and the Atlantic Ocean, are at least 21 communities.

When the boom days of the sudden expansion of the Cape hit the area, town fathers found their small cities jammed with young engineers and their families from metropolitan areas all over the United States, and all of them wanting recreation facilities.

Until 1964 there had been no organized recreation in the North Brevard area, the one which shall be studied here. In that year the city of Titusville employed its first full-time recreation director empowered to operate on a General Fund budget of $17,000 for the first eight months, with no allocations for capital improvements.

But using 1961 state enabling legislation, in 1966 the North Brevard Commission on Parks and Recreation was formed by a joint resolution of the Board of County Commissioners, the Board of Public Instruction, and by a City of Titusville ordinance. The Commission, one of five in the county, is in charge of parks and recreation needs within the city of Titusville and the surrounding North Brevard area.

The city appoints two members of the five-member board, two are appointed by the District One county commissioner. Operating funds, $176,000 for 1966-67, come from the general funds of the county and the city, while the school board provides school facilities and maintenance. Additional funds come from concessions, entry fees and registrations, and the County Commission has the authority to levy up to two mills for capital improvements, subject to approval by referendum.

Recreation specialists have established the standard that a city should have one acre of park playground per 100 population. That amount of land is adequate only if separate tracts are located according to need and each tract is well planned, well developed and well maintained.

In addition to the one acre of park or playground per 100 people, there should be an additional acre of land in a municipal or district park and one acre of reservation or recreational area left in its natural state.

This would mean that in the Sanford-Lake Arbor-Lake Mary area alone, there should be at least 200 acres of city and school playground sites plus many more in a municipal or district park and another 20 in public wilderness area. The City of Sanford currently has 129 acres of playground sites and parks combined.

The advantages of such a system to both city and county are many. The Park Commission obtains its operational budget from city and county general funds ($55,000 and $50,000 respectively) and from user fees.

Underdog Wins Election As LA's 3rd-Term Mayor

By BILL BOVANSKY Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mayor Sam Yorty, an underdog after running second in the primary, bounced back today and captured his third term in a runoff election with Thomas Bradley, a Negro councilman.

Yorty, the nation's third largest city turned out in massive numbers in the climax of a bitterly fought campaign.

Supporters of Bradley said they had lodged a complaint with the state attorney general's office over a "candidates card" widely distributed in areas where the city's 15 to 20 per cent Negro population lives.

They claimed the card said Bradley votes should be made on hole No. 3 of the punchcard computer ballot. If voters did so, they would have voted for Yorty.

Bradley, 31, a former police lieutenant who hoped to become the third Negro mayor of a major U.S. city, refused to concede.

He won 42 per cent of the vote to Yorty's 26 per cent in the April primary, but was forced into a runoff when he failed to gain a majority. Voters right up to election day had him maintaining a margin.

"We've faith in what we've been trying to do," Bradley said.

No Negro ever has been elected mayor of a city of this size.

The completed counting of ballots gave no indication whether the votes came from white or Negro districts.

Yorty moved into the lead when the first ballots—those of absentee voters—were tallied.

He was 42 per cent of the vote to Yorty's 26 per cent in the April primary, but was forced into a runoff when he failed to gain a majority. Voters right up to election day had him maintaining a margin.

FRONT-RUNNERS in the June 1 election for the French presidency are, from the left, Georges Pompidou; Alain Pöher; Gaston Defferre and Jacques Duclos. Premier Pompidou and acting president Pöher are expected to get the most votes and, according to polls, Pöher will then beat Pompidou in a runoff election.

Fight Not Justified: Kennedy

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer

SANIGON (AP) — American paratroopers pulled out of the crest of Dong Ap this today and began sweeping west and south along the slopes and approaches to the mountain. The U.S. Command said North Vietnamese forces on the mountain had been beaten and there was no tactical reason to stay there.

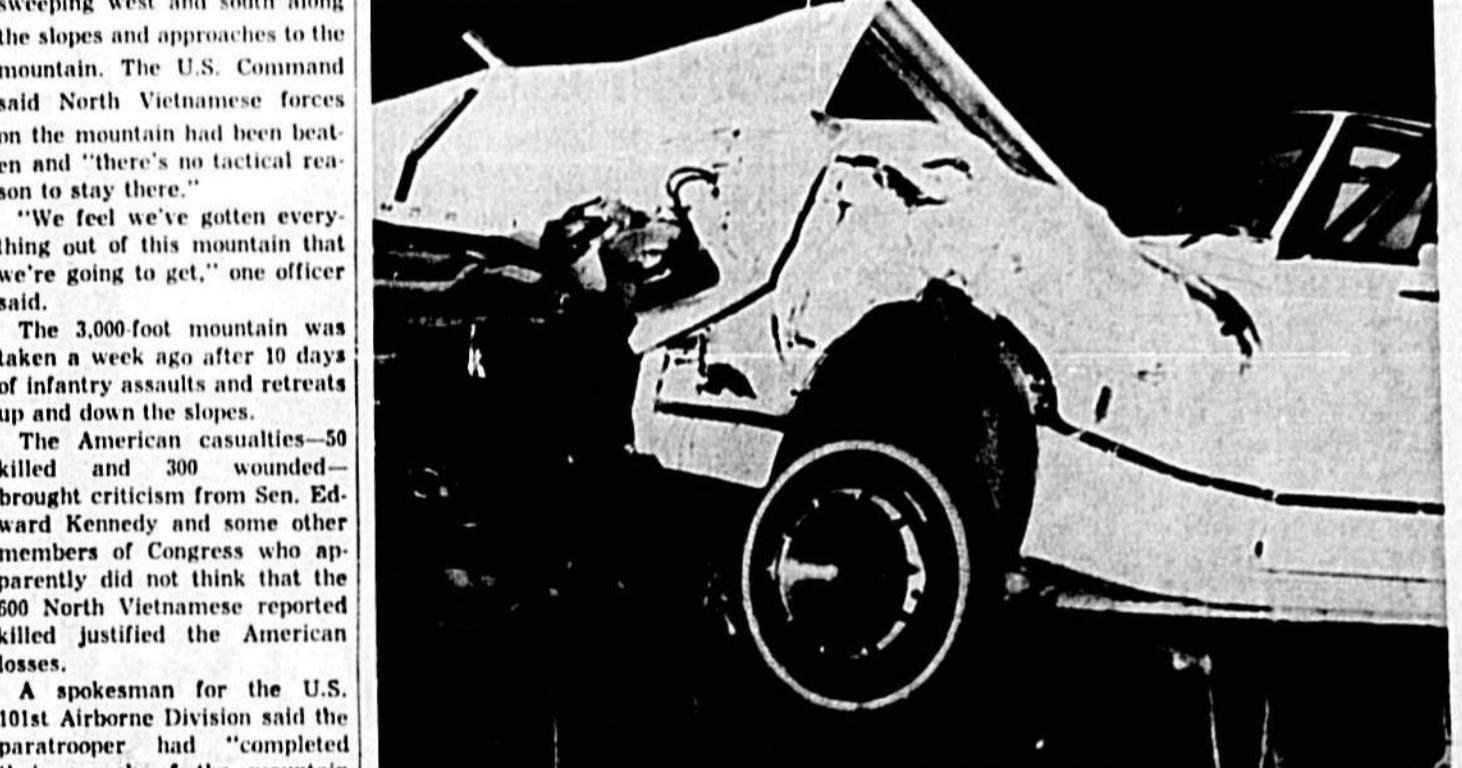

"We feel we've gotten everything out of this mountain that we're going to get," one officer said.

The 3,000 foot mountain was taken a week ago after 10 days of infantry assaults and retreats up and down the slopes.

The American casualties—59 killed and 200 wounded—brought criticism from Sen. Edward Kennedy and some other members of Congress who apparently did not think that the 600 North Vietnamese reported killed justified the American losses.

A spokesman for the U.S. 101st Airborne Division said the paratrooper had "completed their search of the mountain and now are continuing their reconnaissance in force mission."

Two battalions—about 800 American troops—were sent to sweep southward and westward. One battalion was maneuvering down a draw leading off Dong Ap this within 1,000 yards of the Laotian border.

TWO WERE TREATED at Seminole Memorial Hospital yesterday and dismissed after a car-tractor accident at intersection of Highway 17-52 and Lake Mary Boulevard. Clarence Leo Hillitt and his son, Dale, both of Longwood, were treated for bruises, cuts and scratches when their car collided with a tractor driven by Bruce Wallsteadt of Lake Mary. Estimated damages were placed at $400 to tractor and $1,500 to Hillitt's car. Wallsteadt was charged with failure to yield and entering a through highway from a stop sign. (Staff Photo)

9 Troopers Freed In Murders

By AL LANIER Associated Press Writer

FLORENCE, S.C. (AP) — Nine state highway troopers have been cleared of federal criminal charges in the fatal shooting of three young Negroes and the wounding of 27 in the so-called "Orangeburg massacre."

A U.S. District Court jury took one hour and 29 minutes Tuesday to find the defendants innocent of violating the civil rights of the Negroes involved. Two of the 12 jurors were Negroes.

The shooting Feb. 8, 1968, climaxed four nights of racial violence touched off by attempts of college students to integrate a bowling alley. The troopers fired into a crowd of about 200 near the South Carolina State College campus at Orangeburg.

The civil rights violation charges were brought by the U.S. Department of Justice after a federal grand jury in Columbia, S.C., refused to indict the troopers, who claimed self-defense.

Charles Quintance, a Justice Department attorney told the jury that the patrolmen opened fire because they thought the students should "be taught a lesson by the fastest and most effective means."

Defense counsel, state Atty. Gen. J.C. Coleman, argued that the troopers had shown restraint in dealing with the student violence until they came under sniper attack and were confronted by a mob hurling missiles.

Still pending are 100,000 civil suits filed by parents of the slain youths against Silas N. Pearson, the chief state highway commissioner. The commission has jurisdiction over the troopers.

Yet to be tried also is an action filed on behalf of all Orangeburg Negroes asking the federal court to supervise police and other city operations to guarantee that members of their race will be treated in a nondiscriminatory manner.

Nixon Seeks Support On Foreign Aid Bid

By LEWIS GULICK Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, after taking steps to seek bipartisan support, had a $2.5 billion foreign aid request to present to Congress today.

Nixon's program calls for partial revamping of the U.S. overseas assistance effort, but a more far-reaching overhaul of the program is being studied by a blue-ribbon review group the president plans to appoint, administration sources said.

Technical assistance and private investment in developing countries abroad were items marked for special emphasis in the new administration's first message on the controversial foreign aid issue.

The $2.28 billion in economic and $75 million in military aid in Nixon's budget is $2 million below former President Lyndon B. Johnson's aid proposal for the coming fiscal year.

But it also totals some $100 million more than what the legislators voted last year—and some economy minded congressmen, including Republicans, have served notice they intend to slice into the new President's program.

Nixon called in both Democratic and Republican congressional leaders Tuesday for a White House meeting on his program. Last year the lawmakers dismissed the executive branch by slashing nearly $12 billion from President Johnson's request.

Administration officials said Nixon has decided on only moderate changes in the Agency for International Development—AID—the organization set up by the Kennedy administration at the start of the decade to run the aid program.

The administration sources look for more changes in Nixon's next aid program next year after the special committee has completed its study.

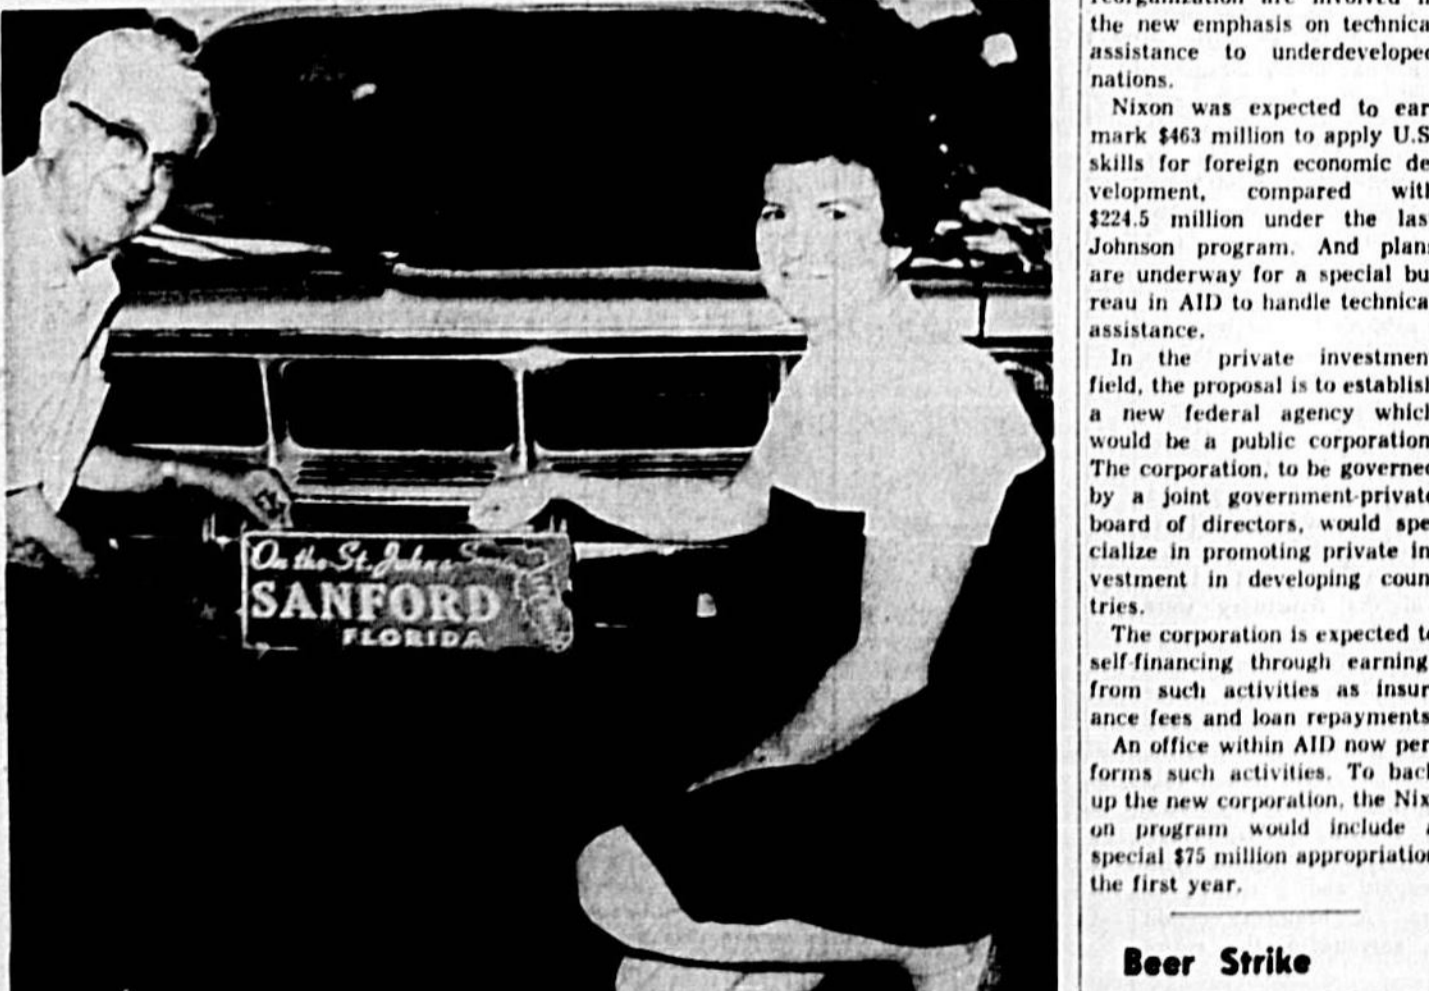

Both money and bureaucratic reorganization are involved in the new emphasis on technical assistance to underdeveloped nations.

Nixon was expected to earmark $40 million to apply U.S. skills for foreign economic development, compared with $24.5 million under the last Johnson program. And plans are underway for a special bureau in AID to handle technical assistance.

In the private investment field, the proposal is to establish a new federal agency which would be a public corporation. The corporation, to be governed by a joint government-private board of directors, would specialize in promoting private investment in developing countries.

The corporation is expected to self-finance through earnings from such activities as insurance fees and loan repayments.

An office within AID now performs such activities. To back up the new corporation, the Nixon program would include a special $15 million appropriation the first year.

U.S. Cutting Alliances ... 'No More Vietnams'

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER AP Special Correspondent

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers is spreading the word across Asia that the U.S. government is cutting its involvement abroad and intends to have no more Vietnams.

While he has also given assurance that treaty commitments will be kept, Rogers has been detaching the United States from the conflicts of Asia and promoting a substitute policy of regional self-reliance.

It is a big swing away from the policies which led the Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson administrations step by step into the Vietnam war.

Rogers, winding up his first foreign venture in personal diplomacy, will report to President Nixon this week that the initial steps in disinvolution have, on the whole, been met with enthusiastic approval by the leaders he has talked with.

Associates credit much of his success to Rogers' style of personal diplomacy—easy, relaxed, and low-keyed, the manner of the highly successful corporation lawyer confidently working over friends with his clients.

The chief danger in Rogers' friendly deskside manner, the secretary may have given the impression of more support than he intended to foreign leaders seeking sympathy for their special causes.

President Yahya Khan of Pakistan said Rogers was sympathetic to his request that the United States resume the sale of tanks, artillery, planes and other arms to his country. Rogers thought he was being diplomatically noncommittal.

Retirement Luncheon Fetes Mrs. Fort

Mrs. W. R. Fort was honored with a retirement luncheon, May 24, at the home of Miss Edna Chittenden, 1804 Palmista Ave. Co-hostess was Miss Ethel Riser. Guests were greeted at the door by Miss Rebecca Stevens.

The hostesses presented Mrs. Fort with a carnation corsage to complement her pale green linen dress with matching lace and the hostess gift was an antique china cake plate. Miss Chittenden chose for the occasion, a pink double knit dress and Miss Riser wore a green linen similar to that of the honor guest.

Beautiful arrangements of Tropiana roses glads, daisies, day lilies, geraniums and other Spring flowers were placed throughout the attractive Chittenden home. The dining table which was covered with an imported linen and lace cloth was centered with an arrangement of Pom Poms in pastel colors in a silver bowl on a mirror. Flanking the centerpiece were tall pink taper in silver holders.

Small individual tables, covered with white linen cloths and centered with small arrangements of Spring flowers in silver bowls were placed in the Florida room. The luncheon consisted of fruit cup, chicken salad, creamed peas and mushroom, then, folded in whipped cream.

Bridal Tea Honors Patty Johnson

The lovely Mayfair home of Mrs. Richard Packard was the setting for a bridal tea, Saturday afternoon, honoring Miss Patty Glenn Johnson. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Packard, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Ross Robert and Mrs. David P. Lanier.

Beautiful floral arrangements were placed at points of interest throughout the party area. Tropiana and white roses in a crystal vase graced the piano and the coffee table held a low arrangement of white mums and blue baby's breath. Centering the stereo was a silver and crystal vase with white roses and fern with the guest book of vows, and two blue candles in silver holders on the other. Blue candles in silver and crystal holders were placed at various other places.

The refreshment table was overlaid with a white linen cloth and the centerpiece was an arrangement of white mums, baby's breath, light blue and greenery in a silver container, flanked by two tall blue taper in silver holders. An identical arrangement, flanked by two crystal hurricane lamps was on the buffet.

A silver tea service graced one end of the table and silver coffee service was on the other. Delicious refreshments of open face sandwiches, sliced meats and soft foods, all decorated in blue and white, were served from silver trays and containers.

Pouring were Mrs. Hazel Flynt, Mrs. Marion Raborn, Mrs. Nancy Brock, Mrs. Richard Tangeman, Mrs. Herold Heckenbach, Mrs. Amos Jones, Mrs. Walter Morgan, Miss Ollie Reese, Whittle. Floating hostesses were Mrs. Harry Lee Sr., Mrs. S. L. Davis and Miss Helen McCullum.

The hostesses presented Miss Johnson and her mother, Mrs. C. W. Johnson with beautiful white orchid corsages. Approximately 140 guests were invited to call during the appointed hours of 3 to 5 p. m.

DCT Banquet An Elaborate Affair

President Cynthia Cassanova presided over the first annual DCT banquet last Thursday evening at the Sanford Civic Center. The banquet was the 13th annual event of the Sanford Chapter of the District of Columbia Teachers' Association (DCT). The banquet was a grand affair, with a dinner and entertainment. The dinner was served at the Sanford Civic Center, and the entertainment was provided by the Sanford High School band. The DCT members were honored for their contributions to the community. The banquet was a success, and the members of the DCT were proud to be recognized for their hard work.

The banquet was held in honor of the DCT members who have worked hard to improve the education of our students. The members of the DCT are proud of the progress that has been made in the past year, and they look forward to continuing their efforts in the future. The banquet was a great opportunity for the members of the DCT to come together and celebrate their achievements. The members of the DCT are proud to be a part of this organization, and they are committed to making a difference in the lives of our students.

Discoveries In Space Will Benefit Mankind

By JIM STROTHMAN
AP Aeronautics Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Even as the United States stands at the threshold of man's greatest technological feat—a moon landing—space agency officials continue to find themselves having to defend the program's existence.

Critics say the billions of dollars that are paying the route from earth to moon are more urgently needed on earth to combat a host of domestic problems.

But defenders point to a long list of material benefits from space research including:

- A sensor that counts meteorite hits on a spacecraft is the basis of an instrument that, by measuring minute tremors, may help detect early signs of neurological ailments such as Parkinson's disease.
- A technique used to clarify spacecraft photos of Mars and the moon by putting TV signals through a computer is being re-

Astronauts Eat At Home. Then Report At Work

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Less than two hours after they got home it was back to work for the Apollo 16 astronauts, helping the space agency prepare for the moon-landing mission in July.

Air Force Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Capt. John W. Young and Eugene A. Cernan spent only a long lunch hour with their families Tuesday. Then all three reported for extensive medical examinations by National Aeronautics and Space Administration physicians.

The medical examinations were the first phase of an 11-day debriefing which will provide a detailed account of what they saw, what happened and how they stood up physically on their round trip to the moon.

Today's program called for technical debriefing with Donald K. Slayton, chief of the astronaut office. Further sessions, eight hours daily, are scheduled until June 6.

The space trio will pour out information, while tape records are taken in every word and saved for later study by experts.

Space officials regard the data and observations of the Apollo 16 crew as vital to the success of the moon-landing attempt by Apollo 17 spacemen.

The Apollo 16 crew arrived Monday, rested and started to start helping to tutor the Apollo 17 astronauts, even though they had had only six hours sleep since returning from space Monday.

Sitar's Setback

POONA, India (AP) — United Vlayat Khan, described as one of the best star players of all times, believes the modern trend toward a synthesis of Indian classical music and western music would be ruinous for both.

He said the recent release of an LP album by Yehudi Menuhin and Ravi Shankar was "a faulty experiment."

Asked to comment on Beethoven's interest in the sitar, Vlayat Khan said: "A sitar recital by the Beethoven is like a satire on Indian music."

The Hon. a chiefly Christian tribe from what used to be Nigeria's Eastern Region, supplied many of the country's leading merchants, technicians, teachers and civil servants.

EMPHASIS was on the arts at the final meeting of the year of South Seminole Junior High School Parent Teacher Association as the program and open house were presented by the fine arts, industrial arts, and home economics departments. Tobacco Industry Lobby Chided By Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — In closed session, approved re-Strong health warnings in cigarette advertising and packaging labeling have spurred an early reverse in preliminary House committee action.

The votes Tuesday approving only a slightly stronger health warning on packages and defining a warning requirement in advertising prompted Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., to comment, "I'd say the tobacco industry has done its work well."

By a 15-14 vote the House Commerce Committee, meeting in closed session, approved re- quiring a package warning stating that the Surgeon general has found that smoking cigarettes may cause lung cancer.

The present warning on packages is that "Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health." A much stronger warning, proposed by the Federal Trade Commission, is "Cigarette smoking is dangerous to health and may cause death resulting from cancer, coronary heart disease, chronic bronchitis and other diseases."

The committee defeated by a substantial majority. Committee sources said, a proposed requirement for warning in radio, television and newspaper cigarette advertising. The FTC favors such warnings.

However, the committee has yet to take up the crucial provision in the smoking measure which deals with the extension of the 1965 Cigarette Labeling Act.

The 1965 act provided for the initial package warning but kept the FTC. Federal Communications Commission and other state and federal agencies from taking further action. The FCC, for instance, now says that it would like to sharply limit or ban cigarette commercials on radio and television.

Only if Congress allows the 1965 act to expire June 30 can the FTC or FCC bring their stronger measures into play. Committee sources indicated the members could still reconsider and reverse their votes. There was no indication on committee prospects for the extension question. The tobacco industry generally favors the status quo, keeping the commissions out of the act.

According to the Pentagon, the average Army recruit today is 1 1/2 inches taller and 18 pounds heavier than those of World War I and one-half inch taller and seven pounds heavier than those of World War II.

Spicy Meat Tacos Draw Plenty Raves

Spicy tocos bring "Ole!"

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

There is a wave of Mexican food being served at the drop of a hat. In fact, the spicy South-of-the-Border foods jockey with Chinese and Italian-inspired items for top spots of nationality products.

Some persons got unusual introductions to the food. And they weren't in Tijuana or Juarez. Before World War II there was a tame man who pushed his steamers along the streets of a small Indiana town. He was as popular as the fresh strawberry of the season. How he got there with this particular nibby no one alive can figure out. The point is he was hauling real "wrapped in cornhusks" tamales. So the current interest in foods from other countries often stems from unexpected encounters.

Here is a variation on a filling family or guest fare that is fairly inexpensive but memorable. Serve with a cooling beverage.

SPICY MEAT TACOS
8 slices bacon
3 large tomatoes
8 eggs
2 tablespoons milk
Sauté bacon until crisp in large skillet. Drain on absorbent paper. Reserve 3 tablespoons bacon drippings. Cut stem end from tomatoes. Cut each tomato into slices crosswise. Sauté tomato slices on both sides in reserved bacon drippings until heated. Place on serving platter. Keep warm.

Beat eggs with milk. Season with herbs if desired. Scramble eggs in skillet. Turn out on platter. Garnish with bacon strips. Makes 4 servings.

Defrost tortillas as directed. Separate. Fry tortillas in shallow oil. When they are fried in half, holding them as they fry until they are crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Melt butter and saute onion, green pepper and garlic until golden and tender. Add beef and cook until meat is brown. Drain ex-

Molded Desserts Popular
By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Staff Editor

Molded desserts are popular because they're de-ahead dishes. Made in the morning and allowed to set all day in the refrigerator, they can be brought out and unmolded at dinnertime.

Here's a new recipe for you to try. It features chocolate and coconut flavors. You might like to try this dessert on a menu that features fruit in the opening or main course. The menu of that sort. It's not a good idea to repeat the fruit flavor in the dessert. That would be too much of a good thing.

CHOCOLATE COCONUT SPRINGE

1 cup cold water
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup cocoa
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
2 eggs, separated
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1 can (3 1/2 ounces) flaked coconut, toasted
Sweetened whipped cream

Sprinkle gelatin over water to soften.

In a one-quart saucepan stir together 1/2 cup sugar, the cocoa and salt. Gradually stir in one cup of the milk. Bring to simmering temperature.

Beat egg yolks slightly; stir in a little of the hot cocoa mixture, return all to the saucepan. Cook one minute and remove from heat; stir in softened gelatin until dissolved. Add remaining extract. Chill until partially set. Fold in one cup of the coconut.

In a small mixing bowl, beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Beat in two tablespoons sugar until stiff peaks form. Gradually fold egg whites into cocoa mixture, turn in a four and a half cup mold. Chill until set. Unmold, garnish with whipped cream and remaining coconut. Makes eight servings.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"KISSING COUSINS"

May relatives marry each other? A quaint clue to the law's attitude may be found in an old Latin phrase, "jus occultum," which means "the right to kiss." If the two relatives do have a right to kiss, like "kissing cousins," then they do not have a right to marry.

In more specific terms, marriage is usually forbidden between relatives closer than first cousins — and usually allowed between relatives more distant than first cousins. As for marriage between first cousins, the state split fairly evenly on that question.

Occasionally, as in the famous story of Oedipus, the two parties marry without realizing their close relationship. But in the typical case, they go ahead in full awareness of the fact—accordingly, neither of them is likely to make any complaint to the authorities.

Nonetheless, there may still be serious legal consequences. Take this case:

Two first cousins were wed, in a state where that was forbidden, and lived together for several years. When the husband was killed in a job accident, the wife applied for workmen's compensation as his widow.

But in a court test, her claim was denied because they had never really been married in the eyes of the law. The court said the parties could not make valid what the law made invalid.

In another case, an uncle married his niece. Later, the uncle decided to seek an annulment on grounds of their kinship. Even though the niece pointed out that he himself had agreed to the marriage, the court granted him the annulment he wanted. Again, the court said such a marriage is simply null and void.

In most states and in most situations, courts continue to take this strict view of the matter. In part this reflects ancient religious restrictions, going back to the biblical book of Leviticus. And in part it reflects the fear that the offspring of closely-related parents are more likely to be defective.

At the post-Byron once put it: "Marrying their cousins—may their aunts and pieces, which always spoils the breed. If it increases."

Pineapple Rice Mold Dessert
By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

If you're interested in creating a cool and refreshing but substantial dessert, you will want to try this new Pineapple Rice Mold.

It's substantial because, following the fashion of a famous French dessert, it has cooked rice added to its creamy base.

It has a pleasant tang because the amount of sugar called for is low and because buttermilk is used.

And it has refreshing flavor because crushed pineapple stars are in it.

A few tips about its making: Use rice that has been cooked until it is very soft. The mold has to be refrigerated for several hours in order to have the dessert set. If you use rice that isn't soft enough, the kernels are likely to be on the hard grainy side after chilling.

Make this dessert in the morning or early afternoon and serve for supper. This way the flavor will be at its best. Although the mold stores well overnight, its flavors will become tangier on overnight storage than when freshly served.

PINEAPPLE RICE MOLD
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 can 8 1/2 ounces crushed pineapple
1 1/2 cups soft-cooked rice
1 cup buttermilk
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup heavy cream

In a medium saucepan, thoroughly stir together the gelatin, sugar and salt; add undrained pineapple. Place over low heat, stirring constantly until gelatin dissolves. Remove from heat. Stir in rice. Cool to room temperature. Stir in buttermilk, lemon juice and vanilla. Chill until mixture begins to thicken — this may take only a few minutes.

Whip cream until stiff and fold into pineapple mixture. Turn into a one-quart mold; chill until firm — usually several hours.

Unmold at serving time. To do so, with the point of a paring knife, loosen sides of mold. Dip mold, almost to the top, in warm tap water; remove from water and shake from side to side. Invert a serving plate over top of mold; holding plate and mold together securely, turn over; remove mold from top; cannot be lifted off, repeat dipping and unmolding process.

If you like, you may garnish the dessert with pineapple slices and mint sprigs.

Makes six ample servings.

A Champion Of Lost Causes
DOVER, Del. (AP) — Republican State Sen. Andy Foltz of Dover took the floor of the Delaware Senate to complain that the Senate of tape recording Senate sessions was a working disability to find a time from a session last year. Foltz said: "There is something seriously wrong when you can't go back one year and find out what happened."

At this point, Foltz was interrupted by Reynolds du Pont, Senate president pro tem, who said: "Senator, would you care to repeat what you just said so we could make a record of your comments? The tape just ran out."

As Foltz took his seat, he said: "I'm just a champion of lost causes."

Girl Born In A Flood
HONOLULU (AP) — Freda Akina will have an unusual story to tell when she grows up. She was born in a flood.

The 8-pound, 8-ounce Freda Akina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Akina was born Feb. 1 while her family was stranded in their home by flood waters without a car, telephone or electricity.

Mrs. Joseph Akina, her aunt, said: "It was a wonderful experience, but I wouldn't want to go through it again." Freda Akina was delivered by candlelight.

"Thank God there were no complications. Everything went fine," said the aunt.

Both mother and baby were carried out of the flood-surrounded home by firemen.

The more than 1,000 data-processing service bureaus in the United States grossed about $100 million last year.

Peanut Popcorn Crunch
Assorted Beverages
PEANUT POPCORN CRUNCH
1 package (5 ounces) popcorn in foil pan
1 jar (11 ounces) dry-toasted peanuts
1 cup dark corn syrup
1 pound confectioner's sugar, sifted
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 large marshmallow, quartered
Pop corn according to package directions; turn into large bowl. In a saucepan combine corn syrup and two cups of the sugar; cook over medium heat stirring constantly until sugar is dissolved. Gradually add remaining sugar, stirring constantly, and bring to a full boil. Boil one minute. Remove from heat. Add vanilla and marshmallows; stir until marshmallows melt. Pour hot mixture over corn and nuts; toss until evenly coated. Spread on wax paper. Cool and break into pieces. Makes two and a half pounds.

LEAH DEMBO'S ORANGE BARBECUE SAUCE
1 can (6 ounces) frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed and undiluted
1 bottle (12 ounces) chili sauce
1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
1 tablespoon mustard
In a small bowl with a fork thoroughly beat together orange juice, chili sauce, sugar and onion. Makes about two cups. Generously brush sauce over broiler-fryers as they cook on outdoor grill; turn chicken as necessary.

SWISS EGGS
2 large eggs
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup milk
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 cup finely grated Swiss cheese, loosely packed
Beat eggs and salt just until yolk and whites are combined; add milk and beat to combine. In a 10-inch skillet heat the butter; add eggs. Cook gently, scraping up mixture as it sets; do not stir constantly. When whole mixture is just about set, remove from heat and fold in cheese. Serve at once. Makes two large servings.

Weatherbeaten Sin
CHICAGO (AP) - Aging of humans is under study by a team of scientists at Downey Veterans Administration Hospital in an effort to determine what is involved in the process.
Hyman Weinstein, chief of the research-in-aging laboratory, said more than 25 scientists from several midwestern universities are involved in the project.
Their laboratories are seeking scientific information about the complex substances that form human connective tissues.
Scientists believe the "weathering" by constant exposure to sun and wind and resulting permanent changes in the skin may represent chemical alterations related to the aging process.
"The skin's constant exposure to the wind and sun may cause it to 'wear' more quickly than skin or protected parts of the body," Dr. Weinstein said.

Tusk Takers Fined, Jailed
BENIN CITY, Nigeria (AP) - Shooting young elephants without a license costs $140 or six months in jail, a Benin senator has ruled.
He leveled the penalty on Sara Olowu and Lawani Iyanwara, hunters from nearby Iyekorin, accused of killing three young elephants and carrying off their tusks from a forest reserve.
The hunters still had a chance to make a profit because the government valued the elephant remains at $140.
But the court ordered the tusks and elephant hide confiscated.

Old-Fashioned Cucumber Salad Good

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
AP Food Editor
FAMILY DINNER
This fast dressing gives zip to sliced cucumbers salad.
Pan-Fried Fish Steaks
Mashed Potatoes Green Peas
Old-fashioned Cucumber Salad
Cookies
OLD-FASHIONED CUCUMBER SALAD
4 leaspoon salt
4 leaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 tablespoon olive oil
2 medium or large cucumbers
Lettuce
In a small bowl, with a fork, thoroughly beat together the salt, pepper, vinegar and oil. Pare cucumbers, slicing off ends. Draw the sharp lines of a fork lengthwise down each cucumber all around. Slice thin; mix with dressing. Cover and refrigerate. At serving time, spoon cucumbers and their dressing over lettuce. Makes four servings.

COMPANY SUPPER
This sumptuous dessert sets off a simple main course.
Platter of Cold Sliced Meats
Rice Salad With Deviled Eggs
Tomato, Cucumber and Lettuce Baked Alaska Strawberry Roll
BAKED ALASKA STRAWBERRY ROLL
Spongecake roll, baked in a 15-by-18-by-1-inch pan
2 pints slightly softened strawberries
1/2 cup sugar
1 leaspoon vanilla
1 quart fresh strawberries, sliced and sweetened to taste
Bake the cake and roll up in towel; cool. Unroll cake and spread with low cream. Re-roll cake and wrap in foil. Freeze for several hours or until very firm.
At serving time, beat egg whites until they hold soft peaks. Beat in sugar one tablespoon at a time, and vanilla. Continue to beat. If necessary until sugar dissolves and meringue holds stiff straight peaks. Remove cake roll from freezer; remove foil; place roll on a cookie sheet. Cover with meringue, swirling it and spreading to bottom edge. Bake in a preheated 425-degree oven until tips of meringue are tinged with golden brown—about five minutes. Use two wide spatulas to lift cake to serving platter; slice crosswise. Pass strawberries as a sauce. Makes eight simple servings.

FAMILY SUPPER
If you make this chili ahead of time it heat it in a double boiler.
Chili con Carne
Rice
Green Salad with Carrot Curries
Fresh Apples and Cherries
CHILI CON CARNE
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 medium onions, finely chopped
1 pound ground beef round
1 can (8 ounces) Spanish-style tomato sauce
1 large clove garlic, crushed
1 to 1 1/2 tablespoons chili powder
1/4 teaspoon ground cumin
1 can (1 1/2 pound, 4 ounces) red kidney beans, undrained
In a 10-inch skillet in the hot butter gently cook onions until yellowed. Add beef; crumble with a fork until meat changes color. Add remaining ingredients. Cook gently, stirring several times, for about 30 minutes. Makes four servings. This chili's taste is enhanced when served over rice.

Flower Power
NEW YORK (AP) - Proud but irascible of his springtime blossoms, Park Commissioner August Heckscher has published the following decree:
"See the parks where blooms are thick.
"Take a snuff but do no pick."
Heckscher drew inspiration from an old warning in Park Tron Park:
"Let no one say, and say it to your shame,
"That all was beauty here until you came."
Big in Alaska
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) - The federal government represents a greater percentage of employment and income in Alaska than in any other state.
This is understandable in view of the fact that about 97 per cent of the land in Alaska is government-owned.

'Will The City Hall Be Open Monday'

By DONNA ESTES

The big question in Altamonte Springs today is "Will City Hall be open for business Monday morning?"

The Council had fired her on Friday whether she will accept the role of the mayor and City Council to keep her position for another month to give sufficient time to get a replacement. "I do not know what I'll do," she said.

She told The Herald, "I cannot work in there (the city office) and train anyone for a job that I worked so hard for." Pointing to Councilman Albert Sabbarose and Donald Martin (two of the three councilmen who fired her) she remarked, "I know these two do not want me." The clerk then left the council chamber in tears and the job of recording the minutes to the end of the meeting was given to Councilman Keith Nixon.

Sheffield stated the city hall could not be open with no bond collector, no bonded treasurer and no bonded clerk on hand. "There is not a bonded or qualified person to put in charge," he said.

The City Hall along with other governmental offices will be closed during the mourning for the Memorial Day holiday.

It's not so much that the Astronauts as we are annoyed that objection would be directed to them, under circumstances that most of us could not understand, why single them out when there's an entire galaxy of other "problems," much more serious, which could use the energies of the do-gooders.

It's ironic that at same time Sanford City Commission was passing a resolution expressing the city's gratitude to Jim Padgett for his help in getting the Sanford Naval Air Station property for industrial development agencies in Washington were holding up giving a deed on the 1,500-acre site to the city.

Nursing Home Up In Air

Possibility that a 120-bed, $750,000 nursing home will be constructed on the six-acre tract located at the northeast corner of Orienta and Matland Avenues in Altamonte Springs seems dim today.

Richard Ayers, vice president of Hallmark Medical Centers, Inc., appeared during a public hearing before Council last night with the nursing facility, conditional use on the E-3 (multi-family dwelling district) property to permit the construction.

Councilman Keith Nixon and Mayor W. Lawrence Sheffield eight weeks in the past at the meeting to grant the use but the motion failed for lack of a majority when Councilman Albert Sabbarose and Donald Martin voted "against."

Jax Firm Buys Local Site

By BILL SCOTT

The acquisition of 34.5 acres of land at the Lake Mary interchange on Interstate 4 was completed yesterday afternoon by a subsidiary of Lewis Business Forms, Inc., with Jacksonville headquarters, for the immediate construction of a 45,000-square-foot structure to house the firm's printing plant.

The Lewis Business Forms plant is expected to employ 50 persons at start-up and is expected to reach full production by late 1970.

AROUND THE CLOCK

Tell It Like It Is... Hats off to Casselberry's Police Chief Don Brumley and Patrolman Tom Jones for personally capturing that bank robber, not the FBI as it was reported by others. Accurate reporting by our own Tom Alexander. (Starting to sound like Jack Welch, "Just the facts, man!")

Perry Mason Comes To Life

Basic flaw in the law and the wisdom of the Legislature in requiring 200 hours law enforcement training for police officers was dramatically illustrated by attorney Robert G. Petree, in the court to defend Jesse Smith of Oviedo, charged with speeding 25 miles in a 20 mile zone, approached the judge, bench and he would have called the officer identified the man with Petree as the defendant, only to see the red Jesse Smith, some time later, walk in the door, much to the officer's embarrassment.

Reading Series Out

Perhaps half-dozen books of the controversial Sullivan series are on the shelves of the Seminole County High School and they will be removed, John Angel, school superintendent, said today in answer to a query from The Herald.
