Nearly 2,000 Injured

112 Die As Record Quake Shakes Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (UPI) — Chile's worst earthquake in 25 years destroyed bridges, houses and churches packed with evening worshippers, killing at least 112 people and injuring more than 1,700, officials said today.

Troops patrolled the capital and Chile's second largest city of Valparaiso to guard against looting in the ruins of Sunday's quake, which registered 7.4 on the Richter scale and rocked a 1,000-mile region.

Thousands of people slept out in the streets and parks, fearing further tremors.

President Augusto Pinochet cut short a visit to southern Chile and flew back to the capital where he held an emergency Cabinet meeting and addressed the nation at 4:30 a.m. to call for calm.

Smaller earth tremors continued to rock Santiago and central Chile at regular intervals throughout the night.

Police said 112 people were killed, three were missing and at least 1,738 others injured in the quake that lasted for a full three minutes.

Pope John Paul II sent a message expressing his "deep sorrow" over the earthquake. The telegram was addressed by Cardinal Agostino Casaroli, Vatican secretary of state, to Archbishop Juan Francisco Fresno Larrain of Santiago.

"In this sad hour for so many families and for the entire nation, his holiness invokes eternal repose for the dead, assures profound closeness in prayer and love to the injured and so many sufferers and breathes fraternal solidarity with those suffering the devastating seismic effects."

Police said 53 of the casualties occurred in the capital alone, where 885 people were seriously injured and more than a thousand families left homeless.

Eight people died when the front of a church collapsed during a mass in a Santiago suburb and four people were crushed by an 18-yard section of wall that fell on them as they ran from a movie theater, they said.

But the quake, which had its epicenter under the Pacific Ocean 25 miles off the Chilean coast, was felt strongest along the central coastline. The majority of the deaths occurred in Valparaiso and nearby resorts.

Radio reports said 30 percent of the houses in the town of Melipilla, located 42 miles west of the capital, had been virtually destroyed by the quake.

It was Chile's worst seismic disaster since May 1960, when two successive earthquakes killed 5,700 people.

The last major earthquake in Chile was in 1971, when a tremor killed 85 people and left more than 25,000 homeless. The wrake in the country killed 30,000 people in 193.

Santiago's international airport was closed briefly and one flight was canceled, officials said.

The mayor of Lima, Alfonso Barrantes, said he was waiting for his plane to take off from

Ex-Games Chairman Dead At 57

From Staff and Wire Reports

Sanford Golden Age Games Honorary Chairman for 1983, John B. Kelly Jr., 57, dropped dead of an apparent heart attack while jogging Saturday in Philadelphia.

Recently named President of the U.S. Olympic Committee, Kelly was an Olympic medalist and brother of the late Princess Grace Kelly.

Coincidentally, Kelly's former brother-in-law, Eugene Conlan, 57, also died of an apparent heart attack Saturday and his body was found several blocks from where Kelly collapsed the same day.

Conlan, the former husband of Kelly's sister Margaret, was carrying Kelly's name as an emergency contact. Police said they searched for Kelly, unaware that his body was in the city morgue.

"We on the Olympic Committee are just in shock," said Gene Keltner, executive director of the Central Florida Chapter of the American Red Cross and a member of the U.S. Olympic Committee. "We're not sure what were going to do."

Keltner, who has known Kelly for 30 years, said Kelly was in great physical condition and at the Olympic Games meeting recently.

"He said to me 'I am so proud to be president of Olympic committee and my Dad would be so proud he believed so much in the Olympic movement," Keltner said.

Bob Helmick, vice president of the U.S. Olympic Committee, is in line to step into position, but, Keltner said, he is also president of FINA (Federation Internationale de Nations Amateur for Aquatics), the world aquatic organization, and he will not be able to do both. "He has to make the choice whether he wants to continue as president of the U.S. Olympic Committee or FINA."

"Jack Kelly's untimely death is going to leave a tremendous hole in the organization as we were really looking forward to his leadership in Seoul, Korea, in 1988."

"Some of my last words from Jack and his wife Sandy were that they were looking forward to coming back to Sanford in November for him to compete in canoeing and rowing events in the Golden Age Games."

"I was really upset to hear of his death," said Jim Jernigan, general chairman of the Golden Age Games. "All those who knew him well here were shocked at the news. I saw him two weeks ago at the Justus Aquatic Center and he was in excellent health. He and his wife had a good time in Sanford and wanted to come back when his schedule permitted. With the Olympic trials scheduled for the Justus Aquatic Center, as Olympic Committee president he would have spent a lot of time in this area."

"Jack has been identified with amateur sports all his life and had looked forward with great anticipation to serving as the president of the U.S. Olympic Committee," said U.S. Olympic Foundation president F. Don Miller.

"It's a great tragedy that this should happen before he could fulfill his

County Looks At Pay Plan

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

A job classification and pay plan prepared by consultants will get Seminole County Commissioner's scrutiny at a work session 3:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Commissioners may decide how to implement the plan or modify or reject it.

The plan would give many employees and department heads pay raises.

The work session will be held in the county commission conference room, third floor at the County Services Building, First Street and Mellonville Avenue, Sanford.

The plan, prepared by consultant Long & Associates Inc. of Fort Lauderdale, calls for pay raises for department heads who have reached the maximum in the salary range for their offices.

But in the future, the study said, those department heads who reach the maximum in the salary range should receive lump sum merit pay raises, but these increases would not be added to their base salaries to be compounded with merit increases the next year.

The Long report also recommends county employees be given more vacation time and three days "bereavement leave" when members of their immediate family die rather than be given sick leave for those times.

County employees now are given 12 days sick leave a year and 15 days after 10 years on the job. The consultant would change the county's policy for those with more than 6 years seniority from 13 days after seven years; 14 days after 9 years and 15 days after 10 years to 15 days after six years; 18 days from 11 to 15 years and 20 days for 16 years and up seniority. Twelve days vacation would remain for those with up to six years seniority. The consultant's report says the county must do this to remain competitive.

The job classification and pay plan is part of an overall reorganization study of county government done by two firms of consultants over the past six months. The management study done by Public Administration Service of McLean, Va., was submitted in November. The Long study was submitted in early February. The studies together cost $50,000.

The reorganization study called on county commissioners to give the county administrator the right to hire and fire department heads, the responsibility for determining which department heads will get merit pay raises each year and recommended the hiring of two deputy county administrators, one for administration and the other for development.

The commission after receiving the report adopted a resolution granted County Administrator Kenneth Hooper the power to hire and fire with concurrence of the county commission and also the authority to grant or withhold merit pay raises.

Longwood Man Loses Limbs In Daytona Cycle Wreck

A Longwood man was in critical condition today after losing a left arm and a leg during a motorcycle accident in Daytona Beach.

Kenneth Sumar, 39, of 231 Ruth Blvd., was in critical condition following surgery at Halifax Hospital. He was in the intensive surgical care unit, a spokesman said.

According to a Florida Highway Patrol report, Sumar was injured when he pulled his eastbound 1984 Harley-Davidson into the westbound path of an oncoming car on state Road 421, three-tenths of a mile west of Port Orange, south of Daytona Beach. The accident occurred at 6:45 p.m. After impact with the left front of the car, a 1975 Chevy, Sumar and the motorcycle flew 38 feet together, hit the ground, then Sumar traveled another 46 feet before stopping in the roadway, the report shows.

The driver of the car, Patricia M. Pollace, 20, of Calarsberg, W.Va., received minor injuries. A passenger in her car was not injured, according to the report.

Charges are pending an investigation per routine procedures, a spokesman said.

At 4 p.m. the commissioners will conduct their second interview with a prospective new city manager, William R. Cook, 54, city manager of Kingsport, Tenn.

The commission also has interviews with potential city managers, Alan Tandy, city manager of Gillette, Wyo. at 4 p.m. Tuesday; William McGill, city manager of N. Miami Beach at 4 p.m. Thursday, and Frank A. Falson, former county manager of Henrico County, Va. at 4 p.m. Friday.

City Commissioners are hoping to have a new city manager by April 1.

'We've Still Got A Long Way To Go'

Blacks March To Remember

SELMA, Ala. (UPI) — A solemn procession of about 5,000 blacks, many locking arms and chanting "We Shall Overcome" peacefully crossed a steel-and-concrete bridge over a muddy Alabama River, where two decades ago angry state troopers attacked them in a bloody clash that prompted passage of the Voting Rights Act.

Led by the Rev. Jesse Jackson and Coretta Scott King, the marchers Sunday began a somber 50-mile trek from Selma to Montgomery, where they hope to rekindle a civil rights flame they fear is flickering out.

They covered 8 miles the first day. The march is to resume today and will end at the state capitol on Thursday, March 7 — the 20-year anniversary of the notorious "Bloody Sunday" assault at Selma's Edmund Pettus Bridge.

Mozelle Thomas of Selma was there in 1965 when state troopers charged the protesters, swinging clubs and heaving canisters of tear gas. She escaped the clubbing, but not the gas.

"That's why I have these glasses on now," she said. "Because of the gas."

Thomas would not say how old she is, but declared she was not too feeble to finish the march.

"There's no trying to it," she proudly proclaimed. "I am going all the way. I feel that we've come a long way, but we've got a long ways to go."

"I want to be a part of the finished job."

The violence aborted the original march, but by March 21, 1965, when Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. led the civil rights demonstrators triumphantly into Montgomery, the 1965 Voting Rights Act — forbidding efforts to keep blacks from voting — was on its way to becoming law.

Throughout the day, speakers reminded blacks their struggle for equal rights is not over.

"We want the Justice Department to enforce the Voting Rights Act and stop persecuting blacks," shouted the Rev. Joseph Lowery, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

Hosea Williams, a leader of the 1965 march, warned blacks against the promises of some white politicians.

"White oppressors have only moved over and put blacks in their places to do the dirty work," she said. "Twenty years ago, they called us niggers. Today, they treat us like niggers. We're not nearly as free today as we were after the Civil War."

Jackson and King halted the journey briefly on the bridge and knelt in prayer.

Troopers waited across the bridge as they had 20 years ago — this time to lead the marchers safely along the dusty highway.

Prayers, Cookies Save Men Adrift

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (UPI) — Four fishermen adrift at sea on a rubber raft for nearly two days say prayers and five bags of "Chips Ahoy" brand chocolate chip cookies saved their lives.

"Everyone did plenty of praying and eating Chips Ahoy chocolate chip cookies," said fisherman Joao Medeiros, 36, captain of a fishing trawler whose crew was saved Saturday after a 42-hour ordeal at sea off Nantucket Island.

"Without God, and the supply of cookies, I don't think we would have made it," Medeiros told the Boston Herald. "The cookies saved us. They're good and we had to watch out that we didn't eat them all because we didn't know how long it would be before somebody spotted us."

Medeiros and his crew abandoned their 67-foot fishing trawler, the Christina J., about 20 miles off Nantucket at about 10 p.m. Thursday when high seas flooded the vessel's engine room. They were saved by a passing tug.

Government Quietly Shelves Nuclear Evacuation Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government has quietly shelved a controversial plan to evacuate whole cities to rural areas in the event of nuclear war, officials of the nation's civil defense agency say.

The proposal, dubbed CRP for crisis relocation plan, caused massive resistance across the nation, with several states and cities rejecting the notion that such large-scale evacuations were feasible. Officials had derided it as unworkable and unrealistic.

Officials of the Federal Emergency Management Agency conceded for the first time last week that the plan had been largely eliminated after an ex-CIA official said in an interview that budget cuts had killed CRP anyway.

Teachers' Strike May Spread

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — A strike by Mississippi public school teachers — the lowest paid in the nation — entered its second week today with more walkouts threatened and time running out on a court restraining order.

A hearing was scheduled today in Jackson on a 10-day strike ban issued Feb. 23 by Hinds County Chancellor Paul Alexander, which is due to expire. Jackson school attorneys also plan to seek a temporary injunction banning strikes.

The Jackson Association of Educators scheduled a meeting today, although a spokeswoman declined to disclose whether a strike vote would be taken.

The walkouts that began in southern Mississippi last Monday have affected 87,625 students and more than 4,800 teachers in 28 districts. Teachers, asking a $7,000 increase over two years in their average $15,971 salaries, predicted dire consequences if the demands are not met.

"As a friend of mine said, we might as well just put up a picket fence around Mississippi and hang a sign on it that says, 'Closed due to ignorance,'" said Jerry Martin, a representative of the Hattiesburg Association of Educators.

Pastor Vows To Preach Again

KITTANNING, Pa. (UPI) — The rebel pastor D. Douglas Roth, who has spent 112 days in jail for what he says is "obeying the laws of God and not man," was to be released today, but apparently the jail stay has not softened his views.

Roth, arrested Nov. 13, is scheduled to be released from the Armstrong County Jail, north of Pittsburgh. His wife, Nadine, also is in prison and was to be released today from another county jail in western Pennsylvania.

Roth, 34, said he will return to the Trinity Lutheran Church in Clairton, 15 miles southwest of Pittsburgh, and hold services on the lawn in front of the church, which is locked and protected by an electronic security system installed by the local synod of the Lutheran Church.

Roth was fired from the church Oct. 17 and arrested Nov. 13 for contempt of court after he refused to leave the church, despite synod and court orders. The congregation was disbanded shortly after his arrest.

Police Subdue Nude Man Carrying Woman's Head

MIAMI (UPI) — Police Sunday were searching for relatives of a woman who was decapitated by a man who walked nude for several blocks carrying her head, shouting "I killed her. She's the devil."

Alberto Mesa, 23, twice threw the woman's head at police who were trying to subdue him. He was charged with first-degree murder in the death of the 21-year-old Coral Gables woman, whose name was being withheld pending notification of relatives.

The torso of the woman, whom Mesa had been dating, was found early Saturday in the suspect's apartment, several blocks from where he was arrested on a southwest Miami street corner off U.S. 1. Police said she had been stabbed many times with a large knife that was used to sever her head.

Authorities took Mesa, who was hysterical, to Jackson Memorial Hospital's prison ward, where he was heavily sedated.

Spring Break Migration Begins

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — As sure as the waves that roll toward the beach, thousands of college students are streaming from points north into Fort Lauderdale for sun, drink and fun.

Thousands of the sun-worshipping students poured onto the beaches and into the bars Sunday for their annual spring rites. Officials, however, said they are simply the tip of the iceberg. The real crowds are yet to come.

For many students, it's Fort Lauderdale or bust when colleges and universities in the North close the classrooms for spring break. By Easter Sunday, millions of young men and women will have walked city streets and beaches.

Fort Lauderdale police said this year's early crowds were orderly, "even quiet and well-behaved."

Millions of other students will flock to Miami, Palm Beach, Boca Raton, Daytona Beach, and other places. Crowds will peak March 16-23, when most of the North's college students will be vacationing.

Keeping Criminals Locked Up

Justice Department Says Study Justifies Longer Prison Sentences

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A top Justice Department official says a new study of more than 5,000 prison inmates points the way to a new rationale for imprisoning criminals for longer periods of time.

The study found that 28 percent of the inmates committed their most recent crimes while they were out on parole or probation. If they had been forced to serve out their previous sentences, their latest crimes never would have been committed.

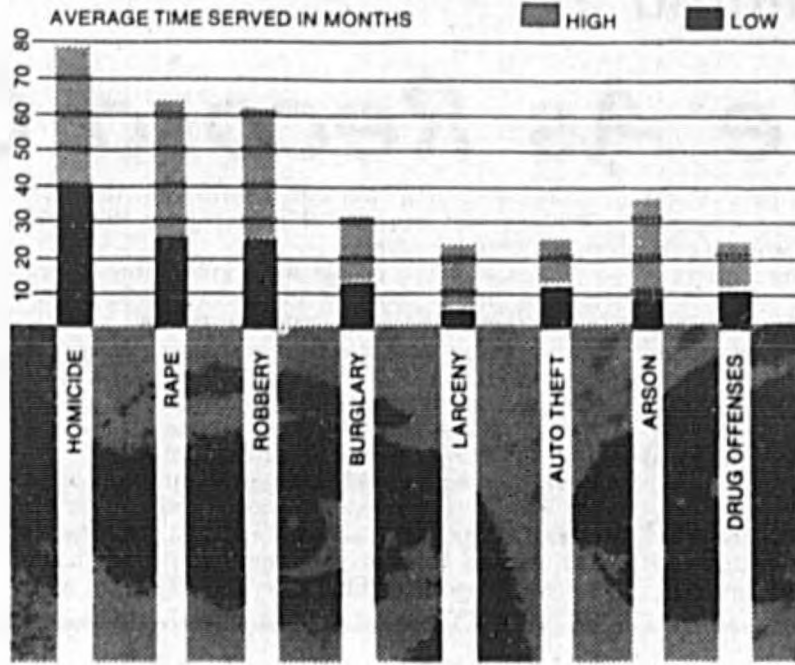

However, another 33 percent, also repeat offenders, had completed their latest crimes after finishing a previous full sentence, which may have included parole or probation. The remaining 39 percent were first-time criminals.

"Findings of this type are directly relevant to issues of sentencing policy, parole decisions and the incapacitative effects of imprisonment," concluded the study.

The head of the Justice Department's criminal division, Stephen Trott, hailed the study as "dramatic evidence of this administration's efforts to lead and assist state and local law enforcement."

"The statistics also give us some sense of how much additional crime could be reduced if criminals actually served the increased sentences which could be imposed under present law," Trott said in a statement.

Prison terms vary widely

Two felons can serve vastly different prison terms for the same crime. The average time served for homicide, for example, ranges from a minimum of 39.3 months to a maximum of 78.6 months.

Trott's statement seemed to show a move away from past rationales for imprisonment. Criminologists say the four reasons to imprison criminals are to deter crime, to punish criminals, to rehabilitate criminals and to keep them off the streets where they cannot commit crimes.

These goals, criminologists say, are sometimes contradictory and the reasons for locking people up seem to change with the times.

In the late 1960s, for example, liberals and conservatives began abandoning the idea that prisons were a place where people could be rehabilitated and substituted the rationale of punishment.

That led to a trend in the 1970s to abandon indeterminate sentences, under which people were supposed to be released when they were rehabilitated, and to determinate sentences, under which people were to be punished.

The new study emphasizes the importance of prisons for keeping criminals out of circulation.

Lawrence Greenfield, who did the study for the Bureau of Justice Statistics, said he was unable to address what the cost would be for additional prison cells if there was a surge in prison population because parole and probation were curtailed or abandoned.

Greenfield noted that his study found half of those who get out of prison don't commit more crimes.

"What about the one-half who don't return?" he said. "I couldn't interview them because they're not in prison. Why do people drop out of crime? There's not much research on that."

Man Attacked, Robbed On Southwest Road

A Lake Mary man reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies he was hit in the head and robbed of $23 as he walked along Southwest Road in Sanford around 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Charles Edwin Willis, 27, of 230 Seminole Ave., told deputies he was walking east approaching Bungalow Boulevard when the robber jumped from behind a bush and hit him in the forehead with a stick.

Willis fell to the ground and the assailant took the cash from his wallet and fled, a sheriff's report said.

Willis was treated for a gash on his forehead and released from Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford, the report said.

BUYING BEER FOR MINORS

A Sanford man was arrested by Florida Alcohol and Tobacco agents for giving alcohol to youths under 19. The drinking age in Florida is 19.

The agents reported that at 7:15 p.m. Friday they watched a man buy a six-pack of beer then give it to three youths ages 16 and 17. The incident occurred outside of a Phillips 66 food store at 625 N. county Road 427, Casselberry.

Arrested and released on $100 bond was Ronald Leonard Wells, 27, of 1306 W. Seventh St.

SPEEDING STARTED IT

A Brooksville man who was stopped because his car was travelling 68 mph on Rinehart Road in Lake Mary was subsequently charged with possession of marijuana, amphetamines and driving with a suspended or revoked driver's license. He was also charged with unlawful speed and having the wrong license plate on his vehicle.

According to an arrest report, a Lake Mary officer arrested the driver after a computer check showed his license had been suspended. A search of his truck revealed a gun behind the seat, brass knuckles in the glove compartment, a marijuana cigarette in the ash tray and white pills with green spots in a jacket in the cab.

Being held in lieu of $5,000 bond Saturday was Bobby Allen Latulip, 31. He was arrested Friday at 10:28 p.m.

CITATION ARREST
A Sanford woman was arrested in the parking lot of a Sanford night club after she refused to sign a traffic citation.

A Sanford officer reported that he saw a 1980 corvette make an improper start from a parking spot at 12:22 a.m. Saturday. The incident occurred in the parking lot of The Barn, 1200 S. French Ave., Sanford. The report did not state what was an improper start.

The driver of the car refused to sign the citation and five minutes after being issued the citation, she was arrested for refusing to sign the citation. The car was left in the possession of her husband.

Released on bond Saturday was Debra Lynn Mahnker, 23, of 2411 Adams Court.

POT DOWN PANTS LEG

An Altamonte Springs man was arrested for possession of marijuana after some pot fell out of his pants leg while in the presence of an officer.

According to a Longwood officer's report, he was making an arrest when the friend of the person being arrested reached into his pants as if to get a weapon.

The officer ordered the second man against the patrol car and during a subsequent pat down a small amount of marijuana fell out of the man's pants leg. No weapon was found. The incident occurred Saturday at 2:25 a.m., in the parking lot of Winn Dixie Plaza, Longwood.

Released on a $5,000 bond Saturday was Bobby Joe Parrish, 28, of #7 Hathaway Drive. There was no report regarding the arrest of the first man.

BURGLARIES AND THEFTS

Gary Brink, 32, construction supervisor for Oxford Construction Company, Maitland, reported Friday someone took two refrigerators and a range from a house under construction in Forest City. The appliances, valued together at $1,366, were removed from 3040 Foxhill Circle.

Musical instruments belonging to students have been reportedly taken from the band rooms of two middle schools in separate incidents.

A $750 saxophone was reported missing from Milwee Middle School, Longwood, and a $300 flute was reported missing from Teague Middle School, Forest City. The sax was reported missing Wednesday, the flute Friday.

Richard Watkins, 36, of 101 Crown Point Circle, Longwood, told police someone pried into his home and took $2,525 worth of items. Missing are a gold pendant worth $600, a gold bracelet valued at $500, assorted jewelry valued together at $200, five silver dollars worth $25 and a video recorder valued at $1,200.

Rudy Buzlea, 54, of 352 Kiwanis Cir., Chula Vista, told a sheriff's deputy that at least $6,690 worth of items were taken from his home. Some guns may also have been taken.

Buzlea said the thief entered through a bathroom window. Missing are four gold watches valued at together $2,150, and other assorted jewelry, some antiques, valued together at $4,540.

Shultz Urges More Trips To Nicaragua

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State George Shultz said today he hopes a bipartisan delegation will travel to Nicaragua and take a "good, hard look" at the leftist Sandinista government.

"Congressmen travel all over the place and I hope they go and take a good, hard look," Shultz said in an interview on ABC's "Good Morning America."

He was asked about the invitation of the Nicaraguan government to send a bipartisan group of congressmen at a time when the administration is trying to persuade a balky Congress to appropriate $14 million for the Nicaraguan rebels.

"Whenever people have gone down there and taken a hard look — of course they have to be careful that they don't get taken in by the propaganda — but a good, strong, hard look has changed peoples' minds," he said.

"I'll give you a couple of examples. The Kissinger commission went down there and came back with a very strong view. A congressional delegation all opposed to what the president did in Grenada went down there and they came back with a difference view."

Shultz returned Sunday from a trip to Montevideo, Uruguay, where he had an inconclusive, hourlong meeting Saturday with Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega.

"I don't think anything much has changed," Shultz said afterwards.

White House spokesman Robert Sims indicated today the clear differences that existed before the Shultz-Ortega meeting remained. He said of the session: "Whether it leads anywhere depends on the Nicaraguans."

In his interview, Shultz reiterated that the problem in Central America is with the Sandinista government, not the guerrillas.

"We want them to change their behavior, to stop supporting insurgency in other countries, particular El Salvador, to scale down their arament to the level consistent with the needs in Central America," Shultz said, and also to remove the large numbers of Soviet and Cuban advisers.

In answer to another question, Shultz said, "I think apartheid is totally repugnant" and South Africa should change its system. He said change takes time and pointed to the current re-enactment of the Selma, Ala., march that took place 20 years ago as an example.

Mother Who Didn't Report Daughters' Rapes Jailed

MIAMI (UPI) — A woman who failed to tell police her three daughters were raped by their stepfather and did nothing to help them has been jailed on child abuse charges.

Police arrested Veronica Hinds, 38, on three counts of child abuse Saturday. Her husband, Alexander Crawford, was held without bond on three counts of sexual battery.

Police said Crawford had raped Hinds' three daughters — now ages 20, 18 and 9 — over a six-year period. Hinds was never present when the attacks occurred, police said, but her daughters told her they had been raped and she did nothing about it.

"We arrested her for not coming forward," rape squad detective Charles Wellons said.

"I don't think I've seen another case in which the mother has been arrested," assistant State Attorney Teresa Pooler said. She said state law provides for abuse charges against "someone who leaves a child in a situation where they know the child could be harmed."

Police said the 18-year-old, a high school dropout who has left home, sought outside help when she discovered the 9-year-old also had been raped.

"I was so angry at myself for not doing something about it," the 18-year-old told The Miami Herald. "My little sister is the shy type, like me. She's really like my own daughter. I'm obligated to show her the right way."

"She left home to get away from her stepfather," Wellons said. "She knew what she went through and she feels guilt because she could have spared her younger sister the agony."

The 18-year-old, who now has a 2-year-old child of her own, said she did not know where to turn, but dialed information and asked for help. The operator gave her the phone number for police, who took her to Jackson Memorial Hospital's Rape Center.

Undercover Bust Burglary Suspect Tried To Keep It Under Wraps

A suspected car burglar went 'undercover' to avoid detection but police wrapped up the case when they uncovered a suspect with the goods.

According to an arrest report, a Sanford officer was investigating four burglaries at Mariners Village Apartments, 3203 Orlando Drive, Friday morning when one of the victims told the officer one of his missing items was in a nearby truck.

The man had reported the theft of a trolling motor, five quarts of boat motor oil and a green tarpaulin from his boat. He told the officer the tarp was in the back of a truck with a camper top. Meanwhile, the officer had found a set of keys in the second of four vehicles burglarized at the apartments.

The officer looked in the back of the truck and saw a green tarp plus several car stereos. The keys also fit the truck, the report shows.

The truck was impounded and towed to the Sanford Police Department where it was unlocked.

When police lifted the green tarp, they found the suspect under it with the missing items.

Charged with burglary and grand theft and released from the Seminole County jail on a $5,000 bond was Douglas Gray Vickers Jr., 24, of P.O. Box 324, Lake Mary.

The following persons have either pleaded or been found guilty of driving under the influence, or having an unlawful blood alcohol level.

As first-time offenders, most have had their driver's license suspended for 6 months, ordered to pay a $250 fine, pay court costs of $27.50 and complete 50 hours of community service. When a guilty or no contest plea is entered or if the defendant is found guilty of an alcohol-related charge, other charges are usually either not prosecuted or dismissed. Most of the first-time offenders are allowed to apply for business-only driving permits. In cases where the sentence differs, the actual sentence is reported.

Officials Expect More AIDS Cases From Tainted Blood

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Recent AIDS-related deaths of a great-grandmother and a Roman Catholic nun following transfusions of tainted blood reflect a growing problem that will "explode" in the next year, officials say.

"By the end of the year, we anticipate there may be 30 cases of AIDS from blood from this bank and twice that many from other banks in the area," Brian McDonough, executive director of Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, said.

"We are just beginning to see the top of the balloon that will explode in 1985-86 as the number of cases of AIDS being contracted from tainted blood transfusions increases."

Anne Asaro, 80, and Sister Romana Marie Ryan, 66, were the latest of 17 San Francisco residents stricken since 1979 with acquired immune deficiency syndrome after undergoing transfusions. In nine cases, including the latest two, the blood came from Irwin.

Nationwide, 117 of more than 8,000 AIDS victims have become afflicted through blood transfusion in the past five years.

Asaro was one of 162 people to receive blood from 38 Irwin bank donors who later came down with the disease that strikes mostly promiscuous homosexual men. Half of the 162 died of their original illnesses. Two of the remaining 80, including Asaro, died of AIDS.

Asaro's son, Joe, 56, said he was considering a lawsuit since he did not know his mother had AIDS until the undertaker explained why he would not prepare her body for a traditional open-casket Roman Catholic funeral.

Mrs. Asaro, who died last week, was given the bad blood last April during hip replacement surgery. In August, McDonough said, the donor was diagnosed as having AIDS, which cripples the immune system, leaving victims helpless against cancer and infection.

McDonough said the woman and two relatives were informed she had received AIDS-tainted blood, but further tests last September failed to show she was actually suffering from the disease.

The death came two weeks after Ryan, of St. Phillip's Church, was buried.

Dr. Herbert Perkins, scientific director at Irwin, said there was no definitive test for diagnosing AIDS.

"No one except the people who performed the autopsy knew Mrs. Asaro had AIDS," McDonough said. "We didn't recognize the cause of death as being AIDS until the autopsy."

He and Perkins said the public was reacting with "utter panic," refusing to donate blood.

Familiar Challenges

The last prime minister of Britain to address a joint session of Congress was Winston Churchill in 1952. What he said then — reaffirming the need for the Atlantic alliance and warning against unilateral disarmament — has stood the test of time. And so too, we think, will Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's wise and resolute words offered to the assembled members of the Senate, House, and the Reagan Cabinet.

Indeed, much that Mrs. Thatcher said had a distinctly Churchillian ring. And why not? Margaret Thatcher is as close to being Winston Churchill's political heir as any British politician in a generation. And, for all the transformation wrought by nearly a half century of history since the rise of Hitler, the Western democracies find themselves facing some eerily familiar challenges these days.

Once again, the democracies are called upon to arm and unite against the threat posed by a totalitarian power. Once again, misguided critics are equating preparedness with provocation. And once again, a British leader of proven mettle is saying what needs to be said.

"The Soviet Union has never concealed its true aim," noted Mrs. Thatcher. "In the words of Mr. Brezhnev: 'The total triumph of socialism all over the world is inevitable, for this triumph we shall struggle with no lack of effort.'"

Then this from Mrs. Thatcher: "... wars are not caused by the buildup of weapons. They are caused when an aggressor believes he can achieve his objectives at an acceptable price. The war of 1939 was not caused by an arms race. It sprang from a tyrant's belief that other countries lacked the means and the will to resist him."

And, finally, this: "We shall have to resist the muddled arguments of those who have been induced to believe that Russia's intentions are benign and that ours are suspect, or who would have us simply give up our defenses in the hope that where we led, others would follow. As we learned cruelly in the late 1930s, from good intentions can come tragic results."

These are simple but profound truths. Were they less apparent to voters on both sides of the Atlantic, Margaret Thatcher and Ronald Reagan might not be in office. And yet, there remain those in Britain's Parliament, America's Congress, and the citizenry of both countries, who turn away from unpleasant realities. Thus the value of reaffirming basic truths and shorting up the consensus every democracy needs to defend itself.

The Thatcher government and the Reagan administration have their differences, to be sure. At present, these are mostly matters of nuance on such items as trade and economic policy. More serious, if less immediate, are British and European worries about how a future missile-defense system for America might affect an unprotected Western Europe.

This is one reason why Mrs. Thatcher endorses the Reagan administration's research and development on missile defenses but holds back on the matter of actual deployment. And no doubt it is also a reason why she pointedly suggested that British scientists should share in the research.

But nothing that separates Mrs. Thatcher's government from Mr. Reagan's these days compares with what unites them. As Mrs. Thatcher's address made clear anew, the prime minister and the president share fundamental values and a world view that give each of these remarkable leaders a strikingly similar sense of mission.

Winston Churchill, whose memory Margaret Thatcher could not help but evoke, would have applauded longest of all at this evidence of a common endeavor for the English-speaking peoples.

Nancy May Need A New Social Secretary

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Nancy Reagan may soon be looking for another social secretary.

Gahl Hodges, the White House social secretary, is expected to leave the White House when her husband, Assistant Secretary of State Richard Burt, is appointed as ambassador to West Germany this summer.

James Rosebush, the first lady's chief of staff, said that the White House has not yet been deluged with applications from potential replacements. But it is expected that many will seek one of the premier jobs in the East Wing.

Hodges formerly worked in the State Department's Office of Protocol.

Burt's appointment has not yet been formally announced, but administration officials have confirmed it.

He will replace Ambassador Arthur Burns who is expected to stay on in Bonn until President Reagan takes a trip there to attend the Economic Summit in early May and also ties in a state visit to West Germany following the summit.

Nancy Reagan's aides hint that she has a very dramatic side trip planned when she travels to Europe with her husband in May, but it's still a secret. It is expected to deal with the first lady's expanding international campaign against drug abuse among youth.

Some 17 first ladies have accepted Mrs. Reagan's invitation to attend a two-day meeting in Washington and Atlanta on April 24 and 25 and aides are calling the response "overwhelming."

The first day session will be held at the White House with translators on hand for simultaneous translations of the speeches for the foreign visitors.

In addition, Mrs. Reagan has a number of other events on her travel schedule up to July to keep up the momentum in her battle against narcotic abuse among teenagers.

"There's a lot cooking," an aide said.

A possible trip to Mexico also is in the works for Mrs. Reagan, although that may be put on the back burner in view of the strained relations between the United States and Mexico over American authorities' belief that local Mexican law enforcement officials are not doing their share to apprehend drug traffickers or to protect U.S. drug enforcement agents.

An aide said that Mrs. Reagan is "very upbeat" about her four more years in the White House. "She feels good that she is high in the polls and she wants her popularity solidified," the aide said.

She feels good about her increasing stature and realizes that she cannot rest on her laurels.

"She's much more comfortable in her role now," the aide added.

"In the early days, she did not want to travel without him (the president), the aide said. "Now she's willing to travel around the world."

In an address to the National Medals of Science winners, President Reagan said, "Einstein once remarked that the science of science is nothing more than a refinement of everyday thinking. Well, that was easy for him to say. As for me, I'm still trying to decide — or decode energy equals mass times the speed of light squared."

"And I must tell you that when we looked over the briefing materials for this event and saw phrases like 'discovery of the free neutrino,' and 'the central role of neuropeptides,' and 'spectroscopic investigations,' I thought they were mentioning some of the questions left over from Meese's confirmation hearings."

IN TALLAHASSEE

Lottery Longshot Gamble

By William Cotterell
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington is taking on some powerful political forces and betting against longshot odds in his effort to force a state lottery on Florida government.

Gov. Bob Graham and his two most likely successors, Attorney General Jim Smith and Insurance Commissioner Bill Gunter, are on record in opposition to a lottery. The Florida Legislature has shot down the idea under intense lobbying by the pari-mutuel wagering industries.

Turlington himself opposed it in the past, but said last week he sees no other way of raising needed money for teacher salary increases, school construction and other education needs in a fast-growing state.

In announcing his decision not to seek a fourth term on the State Cabinet, the state schools chief said he will form a non-profit corporation to put a constitutional amendment on the 1986 ballot for a state lottery. Proceeds of a lottery, estimated as high as a half-billion dollars annually by optimistic proponents, would be intended for education — but with no guarantees.

Theoretically, if Turlington succeeds in rounding up enough petition signatures to put his amendment on the ballot and it passes next year, the 1987 Legislature could use the new revenues for roads, prisons, reducing taxes or anything else it wanted. In view of two Supreme Court cases that knocked initiative petitions off the ballot last year, Turlington said he could not write into his amendment any earmarking of lottery profits for education.

Still, he said, legislators would know why Floridians wanted the lottery and would feel honor bound to put the money into schools.

A separate constitutional amendment, written by Sen. Jack Gordon of Miami Beach, is pending before the Senate Commerce Committee for hearings this week. Gordon said he welcomed Turlington's petition initiative, which could provide tangible proof of public support of the lottery alternative for funding schools.

Reagan's SALT II Memory Lapse

WASHINGTON — With a columnist's presumption, I have for 38 years been straightening out presidents and reminding them of facts they would rather forget. I'm happy to provide this unwanted service to President Reagan, whose memory failed him at his last press conference.

He was asked by UPI's veteran White House correspondent, Helen Thomas, about the unratified SALT II arms control agreement.

"Jack Anderson said in his column today that in 1981 you passed the word to Moscow that, even if the Senate ratified SALT II, you would not sign it," she explained. "Then in 1982, Moscow told you that they are no longer bound by the SALT II treaty, and they began to build up their arsenal over the limit."

"Is that true?" she asked. "I read that myself this morning," Reagan responded, "and I went into the office and I said, 'Where is all of this coming from?' I do not remember any statement from the

OUR READERS WRITE

911 System Explained

The recent open letter (Feb. 17) from Antonio Gonzalez (to the Seminole County Board of County Commissioners) contains some inaccuracies which are probably attributable to a lack of understanding of 911.

911 is the emergency telephone number being implemented throughout the United States and Canada. The mobile society in which we live requires a way for people to easily access police, fire or emergency medical services. 911 means that it is not necessary to memorize separate seven-digit numbers for each emergency agency in every community, nor is it necessary to have a coin ready to dial 911 from a pay phone. And young children can remember to use 911 to get help in an emergency.

The 911 system planned for Seminole County will not make substantial changes in the way calls are handled in the county. 911 is primarily a telephone number. When a caller dials 911, the telephone company's equipment "reads" the number of the telephone being used and, based on the area from which the call is coming, routes the 911 call to the appropriate public safety answering point. Even when the telephone service is moved or newly installed, the location information is updated by the telephone company within 24 hours.

In addition, the computers used for 911 are fully redundant. That means that if a computer should be down for any reason, a backup computer is activated. And, even if both computers were down at the same time, the 911 telephone number would still work. Safeguards have been established and tested so that the 911 emergency telephone system will operate efficiently and effectively.

Mr. Gonzalez's fears of cost overruns are also unfounded. As with any basic telephone service, 911 is tariffed and priced at the tariffed rates when the contract is signed. There are no estimates involved except for the annual recurring costs which are based on the estimated numbers of telephones being served by the system. As telephones increase with population growth in the County, the annual maintenance costs will increase proportionately.

There are many streets in the county with the same name. For example, 32 streets with the name Magnolia and 24 First streets. The confusion caused by duplicate street names are eliminated with the Enhanced 911 System.

Many people, when they are under the stress of an emergency, cannot recall their own address and phone number, much less the correct emergency numbers for the community they are in. All people living or visiting in Seminole County will benefit from having an easily remembered emergency number.

GOP Aims For Long Term Win

By Clay F. Richards
UPI Political Writer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Republican Party's effort to become the majority party in the nation hinges on its ability to make permanent Republicans out of millions of women, young people and blue collar workers who voted for President Reagan.

There's no question Reagan busted the New Deal coalition that kept Democrats in the majority for half a century. The more difficult job for the GOP is to transfer that vote to whichever of the growing field wins the right to run as a Republican in 1988.

To that end Republican National Chairman Frankahrenkopf has started a major effort to identify the women, young people and union members who voted for Reagan, and then he will try to sell them on Republicanism.

While efforts to recruit blacks and Jews into the Republican effort have pretty much failed, some exit polls showed that about 45 percent of the Hispanic vote went for Reagan, and this is another key target of the GOP.

Republicans note that they don't need to win a majority from all these groups to win at the polls. Just denying Democrats a monolithic labor and Hispanic vote is enough.

The Republican approach is also regional. The party's biggest target is now the South, once solidly Democratic but more and more seen electing Republicans to Congress.

The South is also the fastest growing area of the nation and one of the GOP's methods is to register new voters as they move into the state. Republican registration in the Southeast and Southwest jumped 5 percent between 1980 and 1984, the highest of any region of the country.

State legislative races will also be a key target of Republicans. The party is now within 10 seats of control of 20 legislative chambers across the nation — and much party money will flow into those key races.

The legislatures will handle reapportionment in 1991 after the next census, drawing the lines that will determine party control of Congress for the rest of the century. The GOP was burned bad in the 1981 reapportionment and will make a strong bid to get its share of the pie next time around.

'Super' Seminoles Run Nation's Best 880 Relay

Campbell Pushes Speedy Quartet To 1:27.8

By Chris Flater
Herald Sports Writer

WINTER PARK — Sanford's Fighting Seminoles rewrote the record book Saturday and also turned the best time in the nation in the 880 relay as they dominated the Edgewater Eagle Relays at Showalter Field.

Seminole, which outdistanced Orlando Oak Ridge, 107-64, for first place, established five new meet records and won nine of the 17 events while finishing second in three.

"All our athletes ran super," Seminole coach Ken Brauman said. "It was one of the best performances ever by a team I've coached."

The Seminoles return to action Tuesday when they host a tri-meet with Oak Ridge and Edgewater. Field events start at 4:30 while running events begin at 5.

"Oak Ridge should be closer to us in a tri-meet," Brauman said. "They've got a little more depth but we have a little more quality."

Seminole blazed to a 1:27.8 in the 880 relay

Track/Field

Saturday, the fastest time in the U.S. this year. That team included Deron Thompson, Eric Martin, Louis Brown and Cliff Campbell. "Cliff Campbell is the man who makes those relays go," Brauman said.

The Tribe totally outclassed the field in the mile relay with a time of 3:21.6 compared to 3:26.4 for Orlando Evans. The mile relay team consisted of Brown, Martin, Thompson and anchor Campbell.

"The mile relay is on the verge of breaking loose," Brauman said. "There's no telling how fast it can go. No one's really pushing yet. But it's pretty tough when you take the lead right from the start and don't have anyone to push you."

Seminole set a meet record in winning the sprint medley with a time of 1:35.2. That relay team included Ken Temple, James Myers, Dexter

The Noles also took first places in the 440 yard relay and, in what Brauman said was a bit of a surprise, the distance medley. "The sprint medley surprised everyone by winning and setting a new meet record," said Braumann.

The 440 relay team of Brown, Campbell, Thompson and Frank Barnett churned to a time of 42.5. "The 440 yard relay came close to a super time," Braumann said. "It was the first time this season we've really put the 440 relay together. Had it not been for a bad handoff, it could have went 42.0."

Turners: Troy No. 2, Tracy No. 5

Waresak, Buckley Capture 3rds

By Sam Cook

TAMPA — One thing about the Troy and Tracy Turner, no one has to tell them to try harder. It just comes naturally. They both say that quality was inherited from mom and dad — Carl and Eileen Turner.

Troy doesn't have to try too much harder. Just one more. The 159 pound sophomore finished second in the State 4A Wrestling Championships at Leto High School Saturday, losing a 19-8 decision to Mark Surette of St. Petersburg Seminole in the title match.

"He was fast. He just moved too quick for me," said Troy about the Oklahoma University-bound senior. "He didn't hesitate when he did anything. He just did it."

Surette jumped ahead early with several duck unders. The St. Petersburg senior held a 9-3 lead after one period. "I had to go for everything then," said Troy. "Once I got that far behind, that was all I could do."

Troy said he had one chance to turn the match in his favor. "I finally got a hip toss at the beginning of the third period," he said about one of his favorite maneuvers. "But I threw him too close to the out of bounds and we rolled out."

Turner, who qualified for the state meet last year but didn't get to compete because of an injury, advanced to the championship round with an easy win in the semifinals as he trounced Riverview East Bay's John Kleintop, 16-4. Troy was just killing everybody until the finals," said Tracy. "But that last guy was just too quick for him."

Troy Turner, left, took care of Choctawatchee's Trent Barnes en route to qualifying for the state wrestling meet last year but the Seminole sophomore had to sit out because of an injury. This year, he made up for it with a second place finish. Brother Tracy, right, made the Turners the state's No. 1 wrestling family with a fifth place finish. Tracy is a freshman.

Miami's Super Duper Excels As Cager, Too

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Mark Duper is pretty super in basketball, too. The Miami Dolphins' all-pro wide receiver dropped in two free throws with no time remaining Sunday night to lift the Dolphins to an 81-80 victory over the Seminole faculty before 600 fans at Seminole High's Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium.

"It's just like scoring the winning touchdown," said Duper while signing autographs after the game. "It was a funny game. Those guys really played well."

The faculty, with "ringers" Greg "Skywalker" Bates and Artis Johnson from SCC, erased an 80-73 Miami bulge in the last two minutes. After veteran Nat Moore dropped in a 15-footer for the seven-point edge, Bates and Seminole Assistant Principal La Marr Richardson went to work. Richardson, who vowed to shave his beard if the faculty lost, banked in a jumper and Bates slung dunked with 1:17 to play for an 80-77 game.

Moore missed a free throw with 42 seconds left and the Dolphins got the rebound. They proceeded to throw it away, though, and Bates took it the length of the court for a layin to pull the faculty within 80-79 with 35 seconds left.

The faculty called a timeout with 25 seconds left. It ran the clock down to 12 seconds before Johnson took the ball inside the paint and hit a short jumper with nine seconds to play.

Basketball

Miami called a timeout and set up a play for Moore. He got a shot from the left wing with three seconds left but it was short. Duper grabbed the rebound and was fouled before he went up for the shot as time ran out.

Shooting a one-plus-one with no time left, he was up to the task. His first shot hit the front of the rim, rolled to the back and went in. His second effort rammed home to give the Dolphins the win.

Although Duper was the hero at the finish, Miami received excellent play from its offensive and defensive linemen to carry it throughout the 40-minute exhibition. "I've been playing basketball a lot longer than I've been playing football," said hulking 6-3, 285-pound defensive end Mike Charles. "Basketball was always my first love."

Charles said he was a three-year varsity starter at North Central High School in New Jersey. "I'm used to playing team ball but it's kind of hard when you only take seven guys along each time," said Charles, who flashed some quick inside moves along with a nice jumper. "Even though we have good athletes, sometimes it's tough to coordinate things when you don't have the same guys."

adjustment to different players isn't a problem for him, but the conditioning is. "Yeah, I'm out of shape for this game," he said while taking a breather in the first half. "It's for fun and to show the people what we can do on the basketball court, which isn't much for some of us."

Foster said he doesn't always know what to expect from town to town but it only takes a few minutes to realize the opposition's ability. "There's just a little feeling out period at the beginning," he said. "It's kind of instinctive. I guess you'd call it the winning edge. The Dolphins have it."

Patriots' Dreams Slip Away

Leto Pulls Out 1-0 Victory In State Championship Game

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Lake Brantley's Patriots outscored their opponents, 96-12, this year. Ironically, a single goal decided the Boys 4A State Soccer Tournament Saturday night as the Tampa Leto Falcons shut out the Patriots, 1-0, before 4,500 fans at Lake Brantley High School.

Mike Earl's second half goal, which caught Brantley keeper Aaron Kindel away from the net, was the margin of difference. "It looked like an easy ball," said Kindel. "It just slipped away. It was a tough break because it could have gone either way."

The play was as expected for the two top teams on the state — tough and close. "We have nothing to be ashamed of," said Brantley coach Jim Brody. "The kids played great."

In the early going, it was a contest in midfield with neither team coming close to the net. However, with seven minutes run off, Brantley took the first offensive threat when defender Joe Pledger took a header on a cross that went straight to keeper Brett Phillips.

Leto's kick-and-run offense went head-to-head with Brantley's defensive standouts to deadlock in the first half. The Patriots played their bread and butter offense of the forwards running the ball down the sideline, then crossing.

Throughout the early part of the half, Lake Brantley's game seemed futile as its speed from forwards Mo Maghaddam and Steve DeLong was equaled by the Falcons' defense. "We just couldn't get that last pass," said Brody.

Meanwhile, the Patriot defense did the same to the Tampa Leto offense. Leto coach Ray DiPompo substituted many times throughout the game, especially on defense. "I went to the bench as much as I had all season," said DiPompo. "We didn't want to get into that two-on-one match-up (against Maghaddam and DeLong)."

With 11 minutes remaining in the half, the tide turned in favor of the Falcons. More tackles were won at midfield giving Leto the edge. The pressure gave way to two free kicks and two long shots, both clearing the bars.

The first half statistics told the story of the scoreless 40 minutes. Tampa Leto had the advantage most of the half, taking six shots while Phillips saved one. Lake Brantley only got off three shots and a corner kick, but goalie Aaron Kindel didn't have any saves.

The Falcons came out fast in the second half, applying pressure against the Brantley defense. The first few moments were completely dominated by the Leto midfielders keeping the Patriots' ball.

Offside became a factor in the Falcon offense as the Patriot defenders moved out quickly, leaving the players to be whistled on the breakaway passes. "We're just not getting back," said DiPompo. "Some of it was being tired."

The first real threat came on a corner kick with 37:35 left as midfielder Joey Valenti crossed in a low pass bringing Kindel out. A misjudged bounce sent the ball toward the goal but defender Mike Shanahan saved the threat.

Lake Brantley rebounded, nevertheless, by getting the ball in the goal area and forward Steve Earl shot a line drive but Valenti cleared the ball. Once again, the midfield game started where the team who won the header went up the field.

Finally, with 18:04 to go, Tampa Leto's midfielder Todd McCotter won a tackle at the center line then, headed for the attack. McCotter passed to the left sideline to teammate Mike Bauer who moved up a bit then crossed.

The pass came bouncing low toward the goal. Kindel stretched to grab the ball and seemed to have a hold but it slipped out of his hands. Defender Priver Sharma backed up Kindel but not close enough as Leto's forward Mike Earl shoveled the ball to the back of the net.

"In a game like this it's going to happen," said Brody. "Somebody had to make it."

The Falcons ended the season 21-1. "We had our ups and downs," said Earl. "We just peaked at the right time."

Lake Brantley finished 23-3-1.

Raiders Rely On Sawyer, Brown, Thayer

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
The Seminole Community College Raiders open their Mid-Florida Conference baseball season Tuesday at Fort Pierce against Indian River and three local products figure to play key roles in the team's success.

Mike Sawyer and Kenny Brown, both Lyman High products, and Brett Thayer, an Oviedo import, have all been in or around the starting lineup during the Raiders pre-conference schedule in which they have compiled an 8-5-1 record.

Sawyer, a sophomore catcher, has established himself behind the mask. Last year, the scholar-athlete pounded the ball at a .300 with two homers and 21 runs batted in as a catcher-designated hitter-first baseman.

This year, coach Jack Pantelias said he will concentrate on catching, which is fine with the personable backstop, who has penciled in these goals. "I'd like to hit .370 with six homers and 35 RBIs," said Sawyer. "I figure if I play my game like I'm capable of, I'll be pretty well off by the end of the year."

Sawyer is already off to a pretty good start as his batting average is hovering just a shade below .400 at .395. He has one homer toward his goal of six and several ribbies, too.

"Sawyer is one of our leaders," said Pantelias. "We're expecting big things from him this year."

Sawyer would like them to be big enough to warrant a major-college scholarship. "Any of the SEC schools would be great," he said. "I'd like to play Division I. (Former SCC and Mississippi State standout) Bobby Parker said I could play that caliber of competition. SEC coaches begin coming down here in March and April to do their scouting. If I play like I can play, I should catch some eyes."

The 6-0, 175-pounder said he thinks the Raiders may start slowly this spring but they will come on strong. "Valencia is always the team to beat and Florida Junior College is always tough," said Sawyer. "St. John's could be surprising with (former Oviedo star) Chris Kessinger. We'll improve as the season goes along. We'll probably be battling it out with Valencia at the end like every other year."

Sophomore Brown, meanwhile, is one of the Raiders' top base stealing threats. While a weak stick hampered his playing time early in the season, he made the best of his opportunity by pinch running and picking up several stolen bases.

Lately, his bat has come around and he should move into the lineup either at second base or the outfield.

Thayer, also a sophomore, was the best hitter in the county two years ago at Oviedo. He played sparingly last year for SCC but immediately moved into a starting job this year for the Raiders. The right-handed slugger has a homer and a .300 batting average to date.

Like most teams, pitching will probably decide the SCC fate. Chuck Brant is the Raiders ace. "Brant has good control of his pitches," said Sawyer. "He's not overpowering but he can spot the ball and gets people out with his good control of his curve and change-up."

The No. 2 man is Max Cornell, a 6-5 right-hander. "Max just gets the job done," said Sawyer. "He's not overpowering but by the end of the game, he's beat you."

"The other dugout talks about how it'll rip him next time, but by the ninth inning they've scored one or two runs at the most and he's got a win."

And No. 3 is another right-hander Mike Walker. "Walker has a good fastball and is beginning to master a hard-breaking slider thanks to coach Pantelias," said Sawyer. "He's probably got the most raw talent of all our pitchers."

Two other county products — Lyman's Jeff Barefoot and Lake Howell's Billy Stripp — bolster the SCC relief corps while ex-Silver Hawk Robert Tucker is a fine backup as catcher.

Lusk, A. Dunn Lead Patriots By Apopka 5-3

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Sophomore Andy Dunn cracked a two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth inning and Pat Lusk turned in a strong performance on the mound as Lake Brantley's Patriots broke a four-year losing streak to Apopka's Blue Darters with a 5-3 victory Saturday afternoon at Lake Brantley High.

Brantley, which hadn't beaten Apopka since 1979, improved to 8-3 overall and 3-0 in the Five Star Conference. That leaves Lake Brantley and Lake Mary the only two remaining unbeaten teams in the conference. The Patriots host Seminole tonight at 7 as Brantley will dedicate its newly renovated and lighted field. The dedication will be at 6:45 p.m.

Apopka took advantage of three errors on third baseman Mark Coffey to build a 3-0 lead after three innings but Brantley battled back with two in the fifth and three more in the sixth.

"I call the guys the 'Cardiac Kids,'" Lake Brantley coach Gary Smith said. "The kids have confidence in themselves. They believe they can come back anytime."

After a scoreless first inning, Apopka picked up two unearned runs in the top of the second. Keith Usrey and Cecil Millikan both reached on errors by Coffey. Usrey scored on a single off the bat of Mike Brown while Millikan came around to score on Bob Jones' single to right.

Apopka added another unearned run in the top of the third when Mike Hinde reached on an error and scored when Millikan reached on Coffey's third error of the game.

While Lusk didn't receive great fielding support in those two innings, Apopka starter Tim Oxley shutout the Patriots through four frames.

Lake Brantley finally got to Oxley for two runs in the fifth and, ironically, both were unearned. Dunn reached on an error to lead off the inning and Tim Smith reached when the right fielder dropped his fly ball. Coffey then made up for his fielding mistakes for his bat when he drilled a double to left to drive in Dunn and send Smith to third. Mike Beams then smacked a single to right to chase home Smith and cut Apopka's lead to 3-2.

Lusk shut Apopka down in the top of the sixth and Brantley came back to take a 5-3 lead with three runs in the bottom of the inning. Kevin Baas reached on an error to lead off and Smith then installed speedy Lee Bernbaum as a pinch runner.

Bernbaum set the basepaths on fire by stealing both second and third. "It's good to have a kid with speed like that," Smith said of Bernbaum. "He makes things happen when he gets in there."

Bernbaum scored the tying run when Lusk's grounder turned into a bad-hop single over the third baseman's head. Dunn broke the tie with one swing of the bat as he crunched an Oxley fastball over the fence in right center for a 5-3 lead.

In the top of the seventh, Lusk got the first hitter out but Oxley and Hinde both singled. Lusk then reached back and struck out Usrey for the second out and got Mark Andrews to pop out to second for the final out.

Lusk ended up with a five-hitter, gave up no earned runs, struck out seven and walked three. "Pat (Lusk) did a super job on the mound," Smith said.

Metz Blast Secures Hagen's 2-Hit Gem

Rod Metz crashed the game-winning homer with one out in the bottom of the seventh and Eric "The Whip" Hagen hurled a two-hitter as the Lake Mary Rams nipped Mainland, 2-1, in prep baseball Saturday at Lake Mary High School.

Lake Mary's victory, its sixth in seven games, keeps the Rams tied with Lake Brantley in the Five Star Conference race. Both are 3-0. Lake Mary hosts Seabreeze today at 3:30. Coach Allen Tuttle said junior right-hander Neal Harris will be on the mound.

Saturday's game boiled down to a pitching duel between Hagen and Mainland's Mike Ader. Hagen got the better of him by allowing just two hits, striking out eight, walking two and hitting one. The senior's right-hander's record improved to 2-0. Ader allowed five hits while absorbing the loss.

"Hagen pitched a good ballgame," said Tuttle. "We made two errors but we had two big double plays that helped, too."

Lake Mary took a 1-0 lead in the third when Brett Mollie socked a two-out double to left center and Shane Letterio drilled a single to chase him home.

Mainland tied the game in the fifth when Jim Bolles singled and moved to second on a sacrifice. Steve Skilleren followed with a base hit up the middle which Scott Underwood charged quickly and held the runner at third. Underwood's throw to the plate, however, was over catcher Metz' head, allowing the run to score.

Metz won the game in the seventh. After Mike Schmit grounded out to first base, Metz picked on a fastball and smashed it over the right-center field fence for his second homer of the year.

In other games Monday, Lyman hosts DeLand (7 p.m.). Lake Howell travels to Mainland (4 p.m.) and Seminole journeys to Lake Brantley (7 p.m.). Oviedo goes to Bishop Moore Tuesday.

BRANTLEY DEDICATES FIELD TONIGHT

Lake Brantley will officially unveil its newly lighted and renovated field tonight at 6:45 prior to the start of its Five Star Conference battle with Seminole.

Smith said The Brantley Booster Club, headed by President John Neville, worked hard over the past two years to make the Patriots home field one of the best in Central Florida, if not the state.

"The field's looking real good," coach Smith said. "It wasn't leveled when they built it but the boosters dug down and got it leveled out. We got lights this year and got the high fence (12 foot) in left field."

"Our field and Apopka's are second to none," added Smith.

Georgetown's 'Hoya Destroya' Squeezes Orangemen

United Press International

For many seniors, this weekend marked an end to their collegiate playing careers. Patrick Ewing, though, is planning to keep his sneakers on.

"I'm not ready to kiss him goodbye. We've got a long way to go," said Georgetown coach John Thompson of his All-America center.

Ewing, the 7-foot Hoya Destroya, scored 15 points and hauled in 12 rebounds Sunday to power No. 2 Georgetown to a 90-63 demolition of No. 12 Syracuse in the Hoyas' regular-season home finale before 19,035 at the Capital Centre.

Basketball

"Us seniors felt we wanted to go out in style," said Ewing, who has led Georgetown to the NCAA championship game twice in his four years, including last season when the Hoyas defeated Houston for the national title. "I think we accomplished that. The momentum is going our way. We're all psyched up going into the tournament."

The Hoyas now move onto the Big East Conference tournament Thursday and then the NCAA playoffs where they should be favored to become the first school since UCLA to repeat as national champs.

The Hoyas, 27-2 overall and 14-2 in the Big East, scored 10 straight points in the first half and built up a 19-point margin early in the second half to dispose of the Orangemen, who fell to 20-7 and 9-7.

The victory avenged a 65-63 loss

Jan. 28 in Syracuse. The Hoyas haven't lost since and are practically assured of taking over the No. 1 ranking after beating St. John's Wednesday night.

Meanwhile, Oklahoma forward Wayman Tisdale may have made his final regular season home appearance Sunday and he put on a show for the Sooner fans. The All-America forward scored 28 points — 21 in the second half — to lead sixth-ranked Oklahoma back from a 12-point second half deficit for an 87-80 victory over No. 13 Georgia Tech.

he almost came from behind to win the 2 mile relay. Joining Penick on the distance medley team, which finished at 11:05, were Kelly Faint, Kin Temple and Larry Cosby.

"Billy (Penick) came from 90 yards back to win the distance medley," Braumann said. "He ran an excellent 1:59.9 (880 yards) split."

The 2 mile relay team, 8:22.5, came in a close second to Oak Ridge which finished in 8:22.0. That team included Cosby, Alan Seward, Faint and Penick. Penick ran a 4:30.6 mile to bring Seminole close.

Barnett, a senior, shattered both meet records in the hurdles. In the 120 highs, he raced to a time of 13.6 while Oak Ridge's Reese was second at 14.2. Barnett also blazed to victory in the 330 intermediate's with an impressive 38.5 compared to 39.8 for Lake Howell's Brian King. King's second was the highest Seminole County finish outside of Seminole.

"Frank (Barnett) worked hard in the fall on his technique," Braumann said. "And he's improved a lot. His intermediates are faster than ever for this time of the season."

Leo Peterson broke the meet record in the triple jump to lead a 1-2-3 Seminole sweep. Peterson's leap of 46-7 took first while Alvin Jones was second at 45-¾ and Dexter Jones third at 42-4¼.

"Leo (Peterson) has worked hard since September," Braumann said. "No one around here can top him in the triple jump. And Alvin Jones will be one to watch in the triple jump. Saturday was a first meet. He jumped 45-0 but fouled on two jumps of 47-0."

Peterson also took first place in the long jump at 21-8½ and Alvin Jones was second at 20-8¾.

Seminole came away with a third place finish in the mile medley relay as the team of Temple, Dexter Jones, Herbert Hillery and James Partlow turned in a time of 3:54.

Also placing for the Tribe was Anthony Hall who took sixth in the shot put at 47-6¼.

LAKE BRANTLEY RUNS 2ND AT DELAND
DELAND — Lake Brantley's Patriots turned in the top Seminole-Orange County area finish Saturday as they came in second in the Bid D Invitational at Spec Martin Stadium.

Ocala Forest came away with first place with 119 points while Brantley was second at 93½. Lyman's Greyhounds finished fifth at 29.

Leading the way for the Patriots were first place finishes by Steve Emmons, Christian Sears, John Mondo and the mile relay team.

Emmons took first in the 440 dash with a time of 50.34 compared to 50.95 for Forest's Dale Carnegie. Sears won the 330 hurdles at 40.7 and Mondo continued his dominance in the 880 run with a first place time of 2:00.27.

The mile relay team, which won with a time of 3:30.33, included Jim McDaniel, Cornelius Friendly, Mondo and Emmons.

Second places for Lake Brantley included Chris Derden in the pole vault (10-6), Friendly in the 220 (22.98) and Jose Calvino in the two mile (10:33.63). The Patriots also came in second in the mile medley relay (3:56.05).

For Lyman, Ricky Sheets took first place in the pole vault at 11-0.

Mile Relay Lifts Tribe Past Lady Hawks

Sanford's Lady Seminole and Lake Howell's Lady Hawks battled down the final event Saturday and, when the going got tough, the Lady Seminole got going. Seminole blazed to a new meet record in the mile relay and came away with a one-point victory, 68-67, over the host Lady Hawks in the Lake Howell Invitational.

Behind the two frontrunners were Oak Ridge at 62, Evans at 31, Lake Brantley at 22 and Lake Mary at 21.

Leading off the mile relay for coach Emory Blake's Lady Tribe was freshman Shownda Martin who handed off to freshman Dorchelle Webster who gave the baton to senior Katrina Walker who passed off to senior Glenda Baas for the anchor leg. Baas came across at 3:59.7 while Oak Ridge finished a distant second at 4:11.4.

Martin, who won the outstanding performance award at the Lake Brantley Open, turned in another impressive meet. Along with running a leg on the mile relay team, Martin won the 880 and was second in both the mile and long jump.

In the 880, Martin ran to a

meet record time of 2:21.5 and broke the old school record, 2:26, which was set last week by Webster. Martin also outdistanced Trinity Prep's Katie Sams, 2:29.0, by nearly eight seconds.

Lake Howell's Lisa Samocki devastated the rest of the field in the mile with an excellent time of 5:13.1 compared to 5:20.4 for Martin and 5:26.7 for Webster.

Martin's leap of 16-5 was good for second place in the long jump. Evans' Angela Hawkins nailed a 17-6¼ for first place.

Seminole also got fine performances in the sprints from Walker and Baas. Walker took first in the 220 at 26.6 while Baas was second at 27.3. Baas came in second in the 440 with a time of 59.4 and Walker was third at 60.0.

Lake Mary senior Fran "Flash" Gordon sailed to a new meet record in the 440 with a first place time of 58.7 for coach Mike Gibson's girls. Besides Gordon's victory, Lake Mary's highest finish was third in the mile medley relay (4:38.6).

Coach Tom Hammontree's Lake Howell squad came away with four first places Saturday.

In the 100 hurdles, Rochelle Spearman just nudged out Seabreeze's Diane Burton at the tape. Both finished at 15.4. In the two mile, Martha Fonseca outdistanced her closest competitor by eight seconds.

Lake Howell mile medley relay team established a new meet record with a time of 4:22.8 compared to 4:25.4 for Seminole. The Lady Hawks' team included Michelle Spearman (220 yards), Kim Hammontree (220), Angie Smith (440) and Samocki anchoring with the 880.

Second place finishes for Lake Howell included Hammontree in the high jump (5-0) and the 440 relay team (51.1). Third places were turned in by Cheryl Brinkley in the high jump (5-0) and Nancy Nystrom in the 880 (2:30).

Coach Jim Marshall's Lady Patriots came away with a pair of first places in the field events as Taleena Smith won the high jump and Debbie Lovelace took first in the discus.

Pensacola Earns Women's Title; Mainland Plays Evans In Region

Pensacola erased a two-point halftime deficit with a strong second half to take the Women's Junior College State Basketball title with a 64-61 victory over Indian River Saturday night at the SCC Health Center.

"Pensacola had the better team," said SCC coach Ileana Gallagher, whose Lady Raiders had dropped a tough, two-overtime loss to Indian River Friday. "They used their bench real well and had a good man-to-man defense."

Charlene Dinish led Pensacola with 15 points while Natalie Cox added 12 and Cheryl Glover chipped in 10 points and eight assists. All three were named to the all-tournament team.

Diane Bussie tossed in a game-high 20 points for the Lady Pioneers and Sharon Roberts added eight. Both were all-tournament choices. SCC's Tammy Johnson and Pam Lee also made the 10-member squad. Santa Fe's Sheila Archer, Chipola's Triska Reed and Miami Dade North's Artha Sparks completed the squad.

Pensacola will now go to Mississippi to play in the Southern Region in an attempt to win a berth in the national tournament.

In other championship basketball Saturday night, Manatee won the Men's State Junior College Basketball crown with a 71-65 victory over defending champion Miami Dade North at DeLand's Stetson University. Tournament MVP Hubert Thomas and Jeff Fullwood each had 19 points to lead the Lancers.

At Orlando, Evans used an 18-foot desperation bank shot by Jimmy Kuhl to send the game into overtime against Oak Ridge, then pulled out a 41-39 victory over Eddie Gay's tip-in at the first overtime buzzer to win the District 4A-10 Boys Basketball Tournament.

Mainland will host Evans Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the region.

Hughes Ups Victories To 51

LONGWOOD — Hughes Kennels, Inc., maintained its lead atop the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club's kennel standings leaderboard during the past week as SOKC neared the halfway mark of its 50th anniversary celebration.

For the nine performances last week, which brings SOKC through 76 performances at Jerry Collins' winter home, greyhounds trained by Tony Hughes upped their victory total for the meet to 51, while upping their purse earnings to a kennel-leading $44,149.75.

Meanwhile, Paul Paulk's kennel has moved into the second position among the 28 kennels which are competing as Paulk has blanketed 53 winners and run out a total of $43,700.45.

In third place in the standings is the James Robinson Kennel, which continues to lead the trip to the winner's circle parade with 57. Robinson, thus far, has earned $43,164.30 through this past Wednesday's matinee performance.

The top winning kennel last week belonged to John McClay as he continued his rise to the top of the leaderboard with nine winners, which put McClay currently into 12th position.

Uplight Strange Captures Honda

CORAL SPRINGS (UPI) — A pair of friends with opposite personalities hooked up in a sudden death playoff at the $500,000 Honda Classic golf tournament Sunday. Uplight won and looney goosey lost.

Freewheeling Peter Jacobsen missed a 4-foot putt on the first playoff hole to give Curtis Strange a chance to win with a 3-footer. Strange, who admits he takes his golf quite seriously, rolled it in and the tournament was his.

"I just took a check for $90,000 and that's serious business," Strange said. "I was nervous as hell coming down the last couple of holes. Anybody who tells you he isn't, is lying to you."

The last two holes were nerve-racking for Strange. He missed a 5-foot putt to bogey the par 3 17th hole and drop into a tie with Jacobsen and then had to hole a 5-footer to force the playoff with a par on 18.

King's Eagle Wins Turquoise

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — For Betsy King, the final round of the $150,000 Turquoise Classic was a lot like the previous week's Tucson Open — with the outcome reversed.

One week after King was defeated by one stroke when Amy Alcott eagled the final hole, King Sunday scored the eagle, defeating Patty Sheehan on the first playoff hole for the victory, worth $22,500.

"Things even out. I'm sure," King said. "but it's evened out in one week."

The victory was King's first of the year, and moved her to the front of the LPGA money list this season with $54,737.

McEnroe Pulls Out Triumph

HOUSTON (UPI) — John McEnroe was satisfied with his improvement over the week in the $375,000 WCT Houston Shootout, but the world's top-ranked tennis player knows he can't always count on pulling out a triumph.

McEnroe, who during the tournament felt uncomfortable with his play, came up with a 7-5, 6-1, 7-6 victory over No. 2 seed Kevin Curren Sunday in the final.

"It's good to see yourself get better later in the week, but you can't depend on that every tournament. I've always said it's tougher to stay at the top than it is to get there."

McEnroe picked up $60,000 for the victory while Curren earned $30,000.

McEnroe and partner Peter Fleming won the doubles competition, beating Hank Pfister and Ben Testerman 6-3, 6-2. The winning team earned $18,000 while the losers picked up $9,000.

Retton Takes 3rd Straight Cup

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Mary Lou Retton has returned to international competition a better gymnast than when she left it seven months ago to celebrate her gold-medal triumph in the Los Angeles Olympics.

She proved that to herself and a national television audience Sunday with the way she won an unprecedented third-straight American Cup championship — by turning in her strongest performance of the meet in the event long acknowledged as her worst, balance beam.

"I'm not a beamer; it's not natural Mary Lou," Retton said after the meet during a joint news conference with fellow Olympic medalist Tim Daggett, who won the men's American Cup over China's Yang Yueshan in what also was his first international competition since the Summer Games.

Kelly Blitzes Bandits, 50-28

By United Press International
TAMPA (UPI) — With every passing week, the Buffalo Bills kick themselves a little harder.

In 1983, the Bills made Miami quarterback Jim Kelly the No. 12 pick in the opening round of the NFL draft. They never signed him and for that, the Houston Gamblers will be eternally grateful. USFL defensive backs will be eternally hateful.

"We know how special Jim is," said Houston Coach Jack Pardee after Sunday's 50-28 triumph over Tampa Bay. "I wouldn't trade him for Dan Marino."

Kelly threw four scoring passes against the Bandits and remained on course to shatter Marino's record of 48 TD passes set just 10 weeks ago in the NFL.

Pro Football

The USFL's Most Valuable Player in 1984, Kelly threw for a league-record 574 yards and five TDs last week in a season-opening 34-33 triumph at Los Angeles. Slotback Clarence Verdin, who returned a kickoff 94 yards for one score and caught a 20-yard pass from Kelly for another, knows the value of No. 12.

"Kelly's a better ballplayer than Marino and I think he's gonna get the record this year," Verdin said after Kelly completed 19-of-31 passes for 261 yards in three quarters.

"Anything the defense does to stop us, we can find something to attack them with. There's enough speed in this offense to move the ball against anyone, including the NFL. Heck, we could have scored 80 points today... we dropped a lot of Jim's passes."

Kelly also had scoring passes of 4 yards to Richard Johnson, 13 yards to Vince Courville and a 58-yard strike to Gerald McNeil, who also uncorked a 79-yard punt return for a touchdown.

Elsewhere in the USFL Sunday, Baltimore and Oakland battled to a 17-17 tie. San Antonio edged Arizona 16-14. The Memphis Showboats are scheduled tonight to take on the Jacksonville Bulls.

Bonnett Nips Gant By Foot

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (UPI) — After a winless 1984 season Neil Bonnett talked with car owner Junior Johnson and offered to leave.

Things just hadn't gone the way they were supposed to. The Hueytown, Ala., driver had no wins, was still nursing a wrist broken early in the season, and a crew chief recovering from a broken leg suffered at Daytona Beach.

But Johnson told Bonnett to stay, that a win would come.

Bonnett agreed, and Sunday at North Carolina Motor Speedway he broke a 33-race winless streak with a one-foot victory over Harry Gant.

"I didn't want to be there (at Johnson's) if I was holding them back," said Bonnett, who earned $35,505.

"He (Johnson) said I had two more years on my contract and we were going to win some races. He got me fired back up to go again."

"I have torn up his cars and blown up his engines and he always talks about the next week. I admire him a lot."

Tracy had a chance to finish third but he lost a 3-2 decision to county nemesis Greg Buckley. Three of Tracy's losses this year have been the talented Silver Hawk senior, who went on to win the consolation round for a third place finish.

Although the Turner brothers will have future state meets to enhance their standings, it was the last go-around for Buckley and Lake Brantley senior Joe Waresak. Both went out in style with third place finishes.

For Waresak, a 159-pounder like Troy, it marked the end to a stellar career. The hard-working Patriot finished fifth in last year's state meet and his improvement to third this year was built on hard work and determination.

In the consolation match, Waresak pulled out a 4-3 victory over Kleintop, the same wrestler Troy Turner had taken care off in the semifinal round. Waresak finished his senior year with a 26-4 record.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Britain's Coal Strike Ends; Miners Fail To Reach Deal

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's coal miners have agreed to end their yearlong strike — the longest, most expensive and most violent labor dispute in the nation's history — without settling differences with the state-run National Coal Board.

Miners' delegates Sunday voted 98 to 91 in favor of returning to their jobs Tuesday after about 10,000 miners abandoned the walkout last week and less than half the men were left on strike, which began last March 12.

The miners agreed to end the strike despite having failed to reach a settlement with the Coal Board about the closure of unprofitable pits — the cause of the walkout — or an amnesty for more than 700 men fired during the dispute.

The strike cost nearly $3.3 billion, according to the Henley Center for Forecasting. The government spent half that total on imported oil to keep the power stations operating and it cost the police $166 million to keep order. The miners had their union funds of $8.8 million seized by the High Court. The union paid no strike money and miners and families lost a year's wages.

Cuba Fears Refugees Have AIDS

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI) — Cuba has quarantined the first 23 of the 2,746 refugees it agreed to take back from the United States as part of health measures designed to prevent AIDS from entering the country.

Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, a disease found most often among male homosexuals, has not been detected in the Caribbean island nation and health authorities are determined to keep it out, Cuban officials said last week.

All 2,746 of the refugees are to be quarantined indefinitely as they return — in groups of about 100 per month — during the next two years. The action apparently is based on the belief that homosexuality is rampant in U.S. prisons, where some of the returning Cubans have spent almost five years.

Western diplomatic observers in Havana said the Cubans' fear of AIDS seems genuine — not a propaganda ploy.

Officer Shot In Front Of Family

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI) — A Northern Ireland police officer who varied the times he attended church to avoid ambush was gunned down Sunday as he was about to enter the sanctuary.

The Irish Republican Army claimed responsibility for killing 40-year-old Sgt. Hugh McCormac outside St. Gabriel's retreat, a Franciscan monastery in Enniskillen, County Fermanagh. It was the 19th slaying in the past two weeks in Northern Ireland.

Witnesses said McCormac was locking his car in the parking lot when a man jumped from behind a nearby vehicle and opened fire with an automatic weapon. McCormac slumped to the ground clutching a prayer book.

A second gunman raced up and shot him again in front of his wife, Carol, and their three children, Elaine, 16, David, 15, and Darren 9.

Funeral Explosion Kills 7; Israelis Continue Pullout

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — An explosion devastated a Shiite Moslem mosque in southern Lebanon during a funeral today, killing at least seven people, injuring at least 15 and trapping several people under rubble, officials said.

The blast ripped through the mosque and religious center at Maarakeh, a Shiite village 8 miles east of the Israeli-occupied port of Tyre.

A U.N. spokesman in Maarakeh said at least seven people were killed and 15 injured in the blast. Seven of the wounded were in serious condition and other victims were believed trapped under the rubble, he said.

Reports of what caused the blast varied from a car packed with explosives to a large sack of dynamite buried next to the building and detonated by a remote control device.

Timor Gokael, spokesman for the United Nations Interim Force in Lebanon, said U.N. medical and engineering crews were on the scene.

Gokael said it was "difficult to say" what caused the explosion because rubble covered the spent explosives. He said no Israeli troops were in the village at the time.

State-owned Beirut radio said "200 people were killed or wounded" in the explosion, and it blamed Israeli forces, who during the weekend stormed Maarakeh in search of guerrillas.

The radio station said, "The Israelis blew up the building during the funeral of a south Lebanon martyr."

The "martyr" was 23-year-old Ali Fadl al Akhdar, who was killed in the Israeli action against Maarakeh Saturday.

The Israeli government Sunday agreed to immediately proceed with a pullback of its troops from positions opposite Syrian forces in eastern Lebanon's Bekaa Valley.

State-run Beirut television said the Cabinet session was called mainly to discuss the Israeli pullback, along with Lebanon's complaint to the United Nations against Israel's "harsh measures against civilians" in the south.

Supreme Court Refuses Gacy's Appeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today refused to hear the appeal of condemned sex slayer John Wayne Gacy, the once successful Illinois businessman who was convicted of more murders than anyone else in U.S. history.

Gacy was sentenced to die in 1980 in Cook County, Ill. Circuit Court for the murders of 33 young men and boys over a seven-year period.

The court, over two dissents, let stand Gacy's death sentence for 12 of the murders that were committed after the effective date of the Illinois death penalty statute.

Justices William Brennan and Thurgood Marshall, who traditionally object to imposition of the death penalty, dissented.

Marshall said Gacy was challenging "two aspects of the Illinois capital sentencing scheme, each of which poses a serious constitutional question." The statute makes the defendant prove that death is not the appropriate punishment. Marshall said earlier Supreme Court rulings do not permit "a defendant to bear the risk of persuading a jury that his life should be spared."

Also, Marshall said the Illinois statute gives individual Illinois prosecutors "unlimited and unguided discretion to select among potential capital defendants, those who may be subject to the death penalty."

The skeletal remains of 28 of Gacy's victims were found buried in a fetid, worm-infested crawl space underneath his suburban Chicago home. Three other bodies were found elsewhere on his property and four others had been dumped in nearby rivers.

Testimony showed Gacy, now 42, began his string of murders on Jan. 3, 1972, and ended it Dec. 11, 1978, when he strangled 15-year-old Robert Piest of Des Plaines. Police arrested him shortly after that murder.

Gacy had a reputation as a successful businessman and civic leader — a construction contractor, a part-time clown and a Democratic precinct captain who once posed with then-first lady Rosalynn Carter.

His death sentence and convictions were upheld by the Illinois Supreme Court in June 1984. Illinois law requires all death penalty cases to be automatically appealed to that court.

Gacy's attorneys, in their appeal to the nation's highest court, argued the Illinois death penalty is unconstitutional because it can only be sought by prosecutors and there are no guidelines to ensure it is applied consistently.

"No other jurisdiction grants such authority on what is basically a judicial issue to the executive branch of government," Gacy's attorneys said in legal papers filed with the court.

"The application of the death penalty in Illinois has depended upon, and will always depend upon, the unguided, personal predilection of each Illinois prosecutor," they said.

Attorneys for the state opposed Gacy's appeal. They said giving prosecutors discretion in criminal cases is "a traditional and constitutional part of this country's system of justice."

Even if the court were to decide Illinois needs better guidelines, the state said, "any conceivable standards would have allowed the prosecutors to seek a death sentence against Gacy."

Gacy's execution, first set for June 2, 1980, has been postponed indefinitely pending appeals. Illinois' method of execution is an injection of a lethal dose of drugs.

Gacy has maintained that he has no memory of the slayings and that he has slept well since being sent to Death Row in the Menard Correctional Center.

Sun Belt To Lead Job Market Into Year 2,000

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Five metropolitan cities in Florida are among the 30 a planning group says will have half of the nation's jobs by the year 2000.

The five Florida cities are Tampa-St. Petersburg, 457,200; Fort Lauderdale-Hollywood, 427,000; Miami-Hialeah, 332,800; Orlando, 319,100 and West Palm Beach-Boca Raton, 237,300.

The National Planning Association list ranged from large metropolitan areas such as Houston, Denver and Los Angeles to rapidly growing smaller areas such as Austin, Texas, Tucson, Ariz., and Raleigh-Durham, N.C.

"Although the majority of these areas and of new jobs in the 1980s and 1990s appear to be following the trend south and west of the past decade, several Northern and mid-Atlantic metropolitan areas also are among the top 30 growth centers," said planning researcher Nestor Terleky.

"The areas have a favorable industrial mix and you will see most of the spinoffs from science and research activities," he said. "There definitely will be more white-collar jobs and industrial jobs."

"They are all kinds of service jobs — technical and office fields services and health and personal services," he said.

The non-profit economic research group said Houston is expected to see the largest increase in jobs — nearly 1.3 million — for a total projected work force of 2.9 million people by the year 2000.

Four other Texas cities also are among the 30 metropolises — Dallas with 639,000 new jobs, Austin with 333,600, San Antonio adding 238,7000 and the Fort Worth-Arlington area experiencing an increase of 218,300 jobs.

Austin will experience the largest percentage annual change — 4.13 percent — the group said.

The planning group, which based its projections on an economic growth model reflecting historical and ongoing trends as well as the projected state of the national economy, said seven California cities and five in Florida will experience particularly large work force increases.

The figures are applicable between 1982 and the year 2000.

The seven cities in California, the largest number for one state, included Anaheim-Santa Ana with a little more than 1 million new jobs; Los Angeles-Long Beach, 841,300; San Jose, 643,900; San Diego, 533,900; San Francisco, 373,400; Oakland, 297,200 and Riverside-San Bernardino, 217,500.

Oklahoma City ranked 30th with 206,600 new jobs projected for a total of 710,000 by the year 2000.

The Washington, D.C., area also is expected to see an increase of 546,600 new jobs.

Also among the top 30 growth centers are Minneapolis-St. Paul, Nassau-Suffolk Counties in New York and Baltimore.

"I'm shocked," said Jack Horner, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, co-sponsor of the Golden Age Games. "The man was in perfect shape and really into sports and physical fitness. The last time I saw him was about a month ago at the opening of the Justus Aquatic Center in Orlando.

"He wasn't able to stay the whole week when he was here as honorary chairman and was planning to come back to Sanford and take part in the Games either as honorary chairman or participant. He was very personable and not big-headed."

Police said they did not suspect foul play in either Kelly's death or that of Conlan. The medical examiner's office said results of autopsies on both men would be released Monday.

Kelly's sister Grace, actress and wife of Prince Rainier 3rd of Monaco, died in a 1982 car accident after suffering a stroke while driving. Kelly suffered a gunshot wound the same year in Fort Lauderdale, while fighting off a man who had demanded his money.

NICOLE MYERS
Infant Nicole Robin Myers, of B Lane, Geneva, died Saturday at Orlando Regional Medical Center. She was born Dec. 30, 1984 in Orlando.

She is survived by her parents, Robin Paul and Donna Lynn Myers, Geneva; sister, Chelate Lynn, Geneva; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Myers, White Springs; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Arnold, maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Mary Williams, all of Delta, Pa.

Kelly married banker Sandra Worley in May 1981. He is survived by his wife and six children.

Kelly was president of John B. Kelly Inc., the Philadelphia bricklaying firm started by his father, John Sr., in the early 1920s. His father won gold Olympic medals in two Olympics for sculling.

Kelly, better known as "Jack," was a four-time Olympian who won a bronze medal for sculling in 1956 and won the Sullivan Award as the country's premier amateur athlete in 1947.

Kelly also served as president of the International Swimming Hall of Fame in Fort Lauderdale, and was chairman of the Philadelphia Athletic Committee.

A Democratic city councilman from 1968 to 1970, Kelly remained active in local politics.

Former Mayor Frank Rizzo expressed shock at Kelly's death.

"I just can't believe it. He was such a physical guy," said Rizzo.

"He and I were colleagues who worked together. He was always a gentleman. He was concerned with the city, with the people. He wanted to do his best for the city. He was a class guy."

"He was a fine, fine man. A beautiful fellow. Just a very nice man," said Councilwoman Joan Karjewski. "He was always there when you needed him. It's so hard to believe."

Gen. George Miller, the new USOC executive director, said: "I'm deeply shocked and saddened. I have not known Jack very long, but we had become close in the last month. I was very respectful of Jack and his attitude towards sports."

"It is an absolute tragedy that this occurred, he was a tremendous guy and the USOC would have made tremendous progress the next four years under him."

Miller said the executive board of the USOC will meet in a special session to elect a new president.

Santiago's airport when the quake struck.

"We saw the roofs of the terminal shaking and the people were very nervous and upset. As passengers began boarding the plane to Lima, we began to realize exactly how serious it was," Barrantes said.

The quake cut off electrical power twice, trapping people in elevators and causing traffic jams and accidents as traffic lights and street lamps went dark.

The National Emergency Office said the earthquake's epicenter was beneath the Pacific Ocean, about 25 miles off the central Chilean coast. The Pacific Tsunami Warning Center in Honolulu said it recorded the earthquake at 7.4 degrees on the Richter scale.

The Richter scale is a measure of the magnitude, or inherent strength, of an earthquake. Every increase of 1 on the scale represents a tenfold increase in ground motion.

"See those kids over there?" asked Willie Bolden — an aide to King and a witness to the confrontation 20 years ago. "Most of them don't understand what we're here. They look out and say, 'Oh, look at those people marchin' up and down the road.' They don't understand."

Bolden — now director of employee relations for Atlanta's public schools — said he could still envision the state troopers bearing down on the protestors two decades ago.

"Knowing that it wouldn't happen today makes this march seem less tense," he said. "But what we're doing is still important. There are still many black people who don't have the right to vote. We've still got a long way to go."

Experimental Treatment

9-Year-Old Boy: 'I'm Lucky To Be Alive And That's The Truth'

NEW YORK (UPI) — "If I didn't have luck I would have died," said Frank Alloto Jr., a medical pioneer who will be 9 years old this month.

Dapper in a new navy suit, on a visit from his home in San Diego, Calif., he gazed pensively at his shoes when asked what he meant.

"Well," he said, "my Mom tells me I was too weak and little to be operated on, that's what I mean."

"And something had to be done. I couldn't live the way I was."

The way he was nine years ago: 2 pounds, 7 ounces. Born at 30 weeks gestation. A sick, premature baby with a serious birth defect in the arteries near his heart. Patent ductus arteriosus, as it's called, threatened his circulatory system.

Frank's was a congenital anomaly that shows up in about 70,000 newborns annually. In the medical era of his infancy, doctors tried to fix babies with PDA by giving them oxygen and drugs to improve the function of their hearts.

When that didn't work, surgery was next.

Without surgery, which was "next" for preemie Frank, he couldn't have lived. But doctors said he was too little and weak for an operation.

The luck that the lad talked about was a chance to be one of the first PDA preemies to be given a then-experimental drug shown to correct similar problems in animals. Indocin, the Merck Sharp & Dohme arthritis drug, did the job without surgery, the animal work showed.

Mrs. Alloto said Dr. William F. Friedman, the doctor trying to save Frank, told her about the drug — that its use would be experimental and the parents would have to sign permission forms before it could be tried. He also said there was no time to lose.

The emotional hurricane raging inside the parents at that moment was quelled, Mrs. Alloto said, "when we thought of the alternative for our baby." They turned to Friedman, then professor of pediatrics and director of pediatric cardiology at the University of California at San Diego, and said "yes."

"We signed the paper right away, then," Frank's Mom said.

Parents of preemies and other children in trouble hundreds of times a year are faced with similar difficult decisions when asked to sign permission for non-traditional treatment that might save a very young life.

Mrs. Alloto, her son and Dr. Friedman were in New York on the day it was announced that the Food and Drug Administration had approved the use of Indocin for treating the heart defect in preemies, taking it out of the experimental class.

She was asked what advice she would offer parents faced with decisions about experimental treatments.

"I would say two things you need to do," she answered. "One, you need to have faith in the doctor, faith that he has the ability to advise you right."

"And, two, I would say, stick to your conviction and believe in the doctor."

Indocin is no longer is experimental, thanks to evidence from doctors who used it on tiny patients, Frank being among the first.

How does Frank feel about his celebrity status, of sorts?

"I feel it's fun most of the time," he said.

"But when you get to think about it, you're really lucky to be alive. And then when you think some more it isn't fun anymore. If I was unlucky I would have died."

He has talked about his early problems with other kids.

"I told them in the third grade at Show and Tell," he said. "I told them when I was a little baby I had a lot of trouble and my heart and kidneys weren't working right. And that my feet were black and blue and that this doctor saved my life by using an experimental drug — and I was one of the first to use it for this trouble."

"I told them I am lucky to be alive. And that's the truth."

Golden Anniversary Merits Celebration

DEAR ABBY: My parents will be celebrating their golden wedding anniversary this summer, and we (their children) want to observe the day in some special way. The problem is that Mama has been in a nursing home for the last four years — so senile she doesn't remember who we are half the time. Dad is fine. He has a live-in companion who has been an angel to him.

We discussed the various options with Dad. We considered having a lovely dinner with just close family members at the restaurant near the nursing home, but Mama is terrified of riding in a car, and her table manners are non-existent at this point. We could have a nice catered dinner for just the family right in the nursing home. Many couples give a golden wedding dance, and that's what Dad would like, but we have mixed emotions about it because obviously Mama can't be there, and if Dad hosts a dance without her he says he wants his ladyfriend with him, which would take away from the reason for celebrating.

We decided to ask for your advice.

Kidnapped Relief Workers Released

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Ethiopian rebels today released five crew members they seized from a French military transport plane loaded with food that landed in a famine-plagued Ethiopian town, a French diplomat in Addis Ababa said.

The diplomat, contacted by telephone from Nairobi, said the five French citizens arrived in the Ethiopian capital of Addis Ababa today after their release. They had not been harmed, he said.

The report could not immediately be confirmed.

The diplomat, who asked not to be identified, said it was unclear exactly who kidnapped the men.

"We don't know either why they have done it, but it looks like they are trying to gain some publicity", he said.

In Paris, Defense Ministry officials said the crew members apparently were seized during "an important military action" Sunday at Lalibela airport in Wallo province, 185 miles north of Addis Ababa, in which the rebels had taken over the airport. Defense Ministry sources said two officers and three non-commissioned officers were surrounded by Ethiopian rebels carrying guns after their turboprop Transall landed at the airport hauling 8 1/2 tons of food.

The guerrillas took the crew to an unknown destination, the sources said, but gave no other details.

A volunteer medical group headquartered in Paris, Doctors Without Borders, said two French and two Belgian doctors who were in Lalibela Saturday could not be contacted by radio Sunday.

The incident marked the first serious interference of international relief flights, which carry supplies for famine victims in northern Ethiopia, by rebels fighting the Marxist government in Addis Ababa.

An estimated 7.5 million Ethiopians are threatened with starvation.

A Defense Ministry statement said Sunday the crew was "taken hostage by rebels" near Lalibela while on a "humanitarian mission."

Thieves Steal Heart File

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Authorities today investigated the theft of the entire medical file on the world's first permanent artificial heart implant and other records related to the case of recipient Barney Clark.

The University of Utah Health Sciences Center said that in addition to the 18-inch-thick medical record of Clark's 112 days on the artificial heart, related photographs and other associated papers have been stolen.

Center spokesman John Dwan said Saturday that authorities believe souvenir hunters are responsible.

From a scientific standpoint, he said, the thefts were not critical because much of the record has been published in many scientific articles and journals.

"The record had been used and perused for well over a year by all the principals involved in the case," Dwan said. "If a person really wanted to know some data, they would not have to go to the medical record itself, but could go to the published articles."

The center has been plagued by theft of articles associated with the historic implant of a manmade heart into Clark on Dec. 2, 1982. Dwan said. Photographs, pages from medical records and signatures from documents have been torn off and stolen, he said.

Heart surgeon Dr. William DeVries reported last summer, as he was preparing to move from Utah to Louisville, Ky., that the 1,000-page record of the actual operation was missing. DeVries has since implanted two more of the devices at Humana Hospital Audubon.

Dwan said that report "follows (Clark) hour by hour. The university is taking the loss of the record very seriously and will prosecute to the fullest extent of the law if we find out who took it."

Items have also been stolen from the hospital and the offices of people involved with Clark. "Although we are conscious of security and have a competent 24-hour security force, we are an open place of necessity," Dwan said. "We can't cover every desk and office every hour."

Khadafy: Killing 'Sacred'

LONDON (UPI) — Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy declared he has a "legitimate and sacred" right to kill his opponents around the world, warning countries that stand in his way to face the wrath of terrorist attacks.

Libya's roving "hit squads" have been blamed in the death of a Libyan-born Jew who was shot in his Rome office Friday. The man had reportedly received numerous threats from Libyans claiming to speak on Khadafy's behalf.

"We are a people and before all the world we have the right to take a legitimate and sacred action — an entire people liquidating its opponents inside and abroad in broad daylight," Khadafy said, according to the British Broadcasting Corp. Sunday.

The BBC, monitoring a Libyan radio report, said Khadafy was addressing a Libyan People's Congress in Tripoli Saturday.

The Libyan parliament later passed a resolution condemning "states which protect stray dogs." It called the harboring of Libyan dissidents "an aggressive act against the Arab Libyan people and one which calls for a response."

Your Emotions Can Affect Heart Rate, Blood Pressure

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have tried to enlist in the armed forces, but every time I take their physical exam, I fail because my pulse climbs to 120. I'm 19, weigh 150 and am in good health. I don't smoke or drink, use salt or drink anything with caffeine. My usual resting pulse rate is 70 or lower.

I jog and walk about five miles a day and my maximum pulse rate never exceeds 140 a minute. Since I have been rejected four times by the Army, I think every time I take the exam I mentally increase my pulse. Can the mind play tricks with my pulse? If so, how can I overcome this problem?

DEAR READER — You are probably as healthy as can be, judging from your story. Yes, your mind can increase your heart rate that much and even more. Emotions can raise both the heart rate and blood pressure. You probably are right in believing that your emotions cause you to react this way when you are being examined. It is difficult to overcome such reactions. If you had access to a doctor's office, you could have your pulse taken regularly until you got used to it. You might get some benefit from behavioral modification if you could locate a reliable source for it in your community.

If you can lower your resting heart rate considerably through training, then when you take your exam and your heart rate increases, it may not exceed the limits allowed to enter service. It's worth a try.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Recently you discussed malnutrition among hospital and nursing-home patients. You were so right to point out the problem, but you laid the problem on the wrong doorstep.

Let's put the responsibility for feeding a feeble patient right where it belongs — with the hospital! If a hospital can charge its patients a fortune, it should provide the most basic and vital service.

DEAR READER — Hospitals and nursing homes should see to it that all patients are not only served a balanced diet according to their needs, but also that they eat it. My concern is that many trays of food go uneaten because no one helps the patient.

I wish the problem could be solved by putting the responsibility where it belongs. I don't disagree with you. But I have seen a lot of human nature and I know there will be many times when employees will not exercise their responsibility. Re-

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

"Two-over-one game force" is a bidding method very much in vogue among North American tournament bridge players.

Just as the name implies, when a player using this method bids a lower-ranking suit in response to his partner's opening bid of one of a suit, he commits his side to getting to a game contract. This approach made the bidding of today's hand easy. North was able to show his 6-4 shape without getting beyond three no-trump.

The play was interesting. Declarer played a club to the 10 at trick two. When that held, he cashed the spade queen, noting with pleasure the fall of the jack.

Then he cashed the heart ace.

That seems strange, but look what now happens to East on the run of the spade suit. He must make five discards. Four of them are easy — two diamonds and two hearts. Meanwhile South has got rid of his two worthless hearts and a small club. Now comes the last spade from dummy.

If East parts with the diamond queen, declarer can take a club finesse and lead a diamond to the king, winning the final two tricks with the club ace and the jack of diamonds. If East dumps the club nine, South jettisons a diamond and can run the remaining clubs, losing only a diamond at the finish.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY MARCH 5, 1985

In the year ahead there will be a marked improvement in your material affairs. You will have to work hard for what you hope to get, but this will make your accomplishments more gratifying.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Do not make any abrupt changes today in matters that are presently running smoothly. Everything is on the right course. The Matchmaker wheel reveals your compatibility to all signs, as well as showing you which signs you are best suited to romantically. To get yours mail 82 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today, study those whose methods you admire. You can learn a great deal by observing instead of trying to exhibit what you know.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You're extremely adroit today at sorting out complicated situations for others. The end results will lead to rewards for you in two unrelated ways.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your presence today will serve to inspire confidence and enthusiasm in people with whom you'll be associating. Let others lean on you a bit.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Instead of delaying any longer, this is a good time to implement changes that you think have productive possibilities for your work or career.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) The opening to discuss a serious matter with a friend may present itself today. Use this opportunity you've been hoping for tactfully to clear the air.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Conditions are now stirring that can help better your financial lot in life. Look for ways to increase your earnings through a second source.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be extra friendly to those you've recently met. You may surprisingly discover a potential friend in someone with whom you thought you had little in common.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Treat with compassion and understanding anyone who comes to you for assistance today. What you do for others will be returned to you later in greater measure.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There is no reason something you've been hoping for has to remain a wish. Positive action will bring your dreams into being.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Goings-on you may presently be unaware of will turn out to benefit your worldly interests.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Substantial achievements are possible today, both careerwise and financially. Sweep the obstructions from your path and move toward your objective.
