Support Urged For Little Red Schoolhouse

"There are approximately 140 children in the Seminole County area who are the victims of mental retardation," said Kenneth McIntosh, speaking to the Civitan Club Thursday, "and of that number 117 will, through education and assistance, be able to assume a place in society as educable individuals to produce for themselves and their families."

"The record of assistance these children has only received an appreciable boost in the last few years," McIntosh said. "In 1952 there were 750,000 mentally retarded children in the U. S. and only 11 percent of them were receiving any help at all.

"Today there are 1,000,000 but 76 percent of them are now receiving special attention and special training."

"Civitan has been the backbone and stimulus of the Little Red Schoolhouse here," he said, "and you are to be commended for your great sacrifice, your work, and your interest in giving your wholehearted support to this worthy project."

"The Little Red Schoolhouse,"

McIntosh told the Civitan "is a full time school, an educational and rehabilitational non-profit organization, not a professional baby sitter nursery."

"But we are not ready to fly alone, we have many needs and we need your help and support and that of other organizations in the community!"

McIntosh praised Dr. Bernard Blain, formerly stationed at the Sanford Naval Air Station, for his tremendous effort and accomplishments in behalf of the Little Red Schoolhouse, in his capacity as Civitan representative.

"He had his heart and soul in the job of helping us, and help us he did, with extensive researching for more and more information, setting up our faculty, coordinating our efforts and setting up our record system. His aid and service was invaluable to us."

The Seminole Association for Retarded Children is anticipating becoming a member of the Florida Council and of the National Council in order to receive the benefit of the research carried on by these organizations.

Before adjournment the Civitan Club voted unanimously to continue to underwrite a major part of the expenses of the Little Red Schoolhouse with their yearly sale of Claxton Fruit Cakes.

By LARRY VERSHEL
 DEAR ABBY: I'm in real trouble. I work on a newspaper writing a daily column and all these public officials think I'm "gunning" for them. They think I'm a hired, high priced, hatchet man in the pay of some sinister political machine. I'm telling you it's rough. Even my friends look both ways on the street before they wave to me . . . and when they wave it's with their "two" finger and are afraid to use their entire arm. What do I do now?

LV
 DEAR LV: Stay off the streets and purchase Norman Vincent Peale's "The Power of Positive Thinking;" "How To Win Friends and Influence People" by Dale Carnegie and get a permik to carry a concealed weapon.

ABBY
 Nobody asked me but, what political machine was Mr. Avery talking about?

Friday night shoppers will have an extra treat this week. The Christmas lights will be turned on.

Speaking of lights, City Commissioner Earl Higginbotham called Sanford a "ghost town" at night. "It's 25 to 30 percent darker at night than any other city in these parts," Higginbotham said.

If Casseberry Aldermen okay a land lease agreement so that the mayor can have a street light in front of his house, wonder if they'd do the same for a fellow board member who wants one on the lakefront in back of her house so she can fish at night?

A little birdie that flies all over the county sang to us that news from South Seminole women that they were going to organize their own club of a certain political party has the other club of the same party "singing the blues."

Hard to see why when they'd all be working towards the same goal.

Glad to hear that traffic conditions are improving down in Longdale but drivers are still being watched. Longwood Police Chief Claude Lajo warns, especially around the school where he's really enforcing the 15 mph speed limit.

The circulation manager of the Herald, Frank Voltoline, was in the pink this morning—his wife presented him with an eight pound, 12 ounce girl last night.

Capt. Slye To Be Coffee Club Host
 Members of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Coffee Club are scheduled to participate in an unusual meeting Thursday at 10 a.m. when they will be the guests of Capt. R. W. Slye, commanding officer of Sanford Naval Air Station, at the open air pavilion at Lake Golden.

Many of the feminine coffee clubbers are planning to attend the affair which will be highlighted by a rescue demonstration of a live pick-up by a helicopter from the lake. Cmdr. J. E. Andrews will narrate the rescue. New members of the station staff will be introduced to the group by Capt. Slye, who has provided a Marine detail to direct traffic upon entering the gates.

It is expected that a large number of coffee drinkers and donut dunkers will avail themselves of the captain's invitation to "be my guest."

Board Votes To Limit Talk From Citizens

The County Commission today voted to limit the discussions of citizens from the floor at future meetings, to 20 minutes. Commissioner James P. Avery opposed the plan. Commissioner Ted Williams, who made the motion, said that on many occasions, citizens had to wait too long to be heard at the meeting and "it just wasn't fair."

Avery said that the chair had the authority to halt any discussion if it desired. However, the board voted to limit the discussion by a 4-1 majority.

Earlier in the morning, Mrs. Eleanor Ravenel spoke for almost an hour and a half on the deplorable conditions involving state welfare in Sanford. She also complimented the commission for bringing some of the condition into the open.

In other business, the commission agreed to re-roof the infirmary at the county home at a cost not to exceed $500.

Accepted the resignation of S. G. Hartman as chairman of the board of adjustment; Adopted a resolution approving extending Bear Lake Rd. Ted Williams opposed the move.

Major Skirmish Over China Seen

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — The Security Council was summoned into session today for a major skirmish on the diplomatic battle over Red China's demands for a seat in the United Nations.

The issue was disguised by the applications of two other nations for UN membership. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko was listed to speak in the assembly's general debate this afternoon, providing an opportunity for a quick formal Russian answer to Kennedy.

The Red China issue was behind the applications of Outer Mongolia and Mauritania for General Assembly membership. A third application, from Sierra Leone, appeared certain to be recommended favorably to the assembly.

Paving Started
 Work started this morning on the paving of Orange Ave. from Hwy. 17-92 to the Longwood city limits, County Engineer Carlton Bliss reported today. He said the job should take 30 days.

Last Chance For Old Hotel?

The City Commission is moving slowly and surely toward demolition of the Palms Hotel on W. First St.
 City Manager W. E. Knowles asked the commission Monday night to get the hotel, torned a safety and fire hazard, on the condemnation list with 322 other structures for consideration as action and possible demolition.

 The commission agreed to place condemnation signs around the hotel, order the caretaker out of the hotel, and warn the owner or on positive city action unless renovations are made on the ancient structure.
 Munny Knowles made public a letter he wrote to the owner of the hotel, Mrs. C. H. OSMY of Tampa.

 The city manager said in his letter that the hotel's attorney, Ambrose Olliff "committed himself to notifying the city in writing of obtaining the necessary plans and specifications for work on the structure."
 Thus far, according to Knowles the city has not been notified on any plan or intention for cleaning up the facility.

 Knowles also said that the property to the east of the hotel has continued to be used as a brick and concrete products storage yard in violation of city ordinance.
 "Nothing has been done about that," the city manager said

Florida Canal 'Now A Must' Flood Fund Approved

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The proposed Atlantic-to-Gulf waterway across Florida has become a "must" because of the location of a federal space laboratory in Texas, a moon rocket fabrication plant in Louisiana and the U. S. "moonport" in Florida, said Randolph Hodges, Florida conservation director in Tallahassee today.

His pronouncement followed the approval by a Congressional conference committee yesterday of $195,000 for pre-construction planning of the Florida canal.

The project's backers, however, emphasized this was no guarantee the canal will be built.

"It may or may not be constructed. It is not a commitment," said Sen. Bessie Holland, (D-Fla.).

The conference committee also earmarked $13.750 million for the long-awaited canal. By incorporating both House and Senate views in the appropriation bill, however, the conference committee assured passage in both houses.

U. S. Disarmament Agency Set Up

NEW YORK (UPI) — President Kennedy today takes a step in his "race for peace" today by formally setting up the new U. S. disarmament commission.

After signing the recently enacted bill establishing the new agency to coordinate American disarmament planning, the Chief Executive and his wife planned to fly this afternoon to Newport, R. I., for a week's holiday.

Driver Injured, Held In Accident

A Sanford man was hospitalized and charged with reckless driving after he drove into a telephone pole on South Sanford Ave. late Monday night, the Sheriff's office reported.

Floyd Sparkman of Russell Ave., received lacerations of the face and body in the mishap. Deputies said he lost control of his vehicle hitting the pole. Damage to his car was estimated at $400.

The money will pay for an up-to-date cost and value estimate of the proposed canal, but will go beyond the limited survey proposed by the House. An additional $205,000 would be needed to complete pre-construction planning of the project, estimated to cost about

$173 million altogether. Holland explained the bill approved by the conference committee specifically prohibits the appropriation from becoming any automatic assurance for eventual construction of the canal. The canal would stretch 155 miles from near Jacksonville on the Atlantic coast to Yankeetown on the Gulf coast. Hodges, who addressed the State Capital chapter of the American Society for Public Administration in Tallahassee Monday, hailed the conference committee action as a major step toward actual construction of the canal.

Moscow Reaction Unusual

By EUGENE McLOUGHLIN United Press International President Kennedy's "race for peace" speech to the United Nations carried the West a step closer to negotiations on Berlin and disarmament today but there was no immediate answering move by the East.

The Soviet Communist Party newspaper Pravda surprisingly reprinted an American newspaper story praising Kennedy as a man of peace and depicting Soviet Premier Khrushchev as a "madman" if he believes Communist propaganda picturing the U. S. President as a rich imperialist.

UPI Correspondent Henry Shapiro reported from Moscow that unofficial Soviet sources found the speech relatively moderate and conciliatory but official Kremlin reaction had not jelled.

The first real indication of how the Kennedy peace move will be received in the Communist world was looked for in Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's speech to the UN General Assembly this afternoon.

The reprint of the American newspaper story — by James Wechsler of the New York Post — was preceded by a note saying Pravda's editors did not agree with everything in it. But the fact that it was printed at all caused amazement in Moscow.

The story said Kennedy was ready to negotiate but not to capitulate to dictation by Khrushchev.

And it contained this surprising quote: "Kennedy is the son of a very rich man and therefore an excellent caricature for Communist propaganda which tries to equate imperialist intrigues with Wall Street imperialism." If Khrushchev believes this doctrine, nonsense then he is a madman and we are all doomed.

The aim appeared to be to give

City Protests Clearances For Osteen Bridge

The City Commission Monday filed with the Corps of Engineers at Jacksonville a protest on the proposed clearances for the Osteen bridge across the St. Johns river above Sanford.

Pointing out that the clearances are inadequate for the proposed Sanford-Canaveral canal the letter said:

"We wish to go on record as protesting the 25-foot vertical clearance and the 50-foot width of the channel clearance. Whereby this is the planned waterway of the Sanford-Titusville Canal, we consider it imperative that plans be made to provide the clearances necessary for the intracoastal waterway."

Since the bridge at the west end of Lake Monroe maintains a vertical clearance of 45 feet and a 100-foot channel clearance, we request that you urge the plans of the proposed bridge be equal to the criteria of the bridge now being completed."

The letter was signed by Sanford Mayor Joe B. Baker and copies were forwarded to Sen. W. Randolph Hodges of the Conservation Commission, Max Brewer and Richey Green, both of the State Road Dept.

Sewage Facility Rises 3 Points On Priority List

The City Commission was held Monday night that Sanford's priority rating for a sewage treatment plant went up three points and is now ninth in the state to receive a federal grant of $139,440 to help pay the cost of the near half-million dollar plant.

Engineers Lettier and Bush are currently working on plans and specifications for the plant and were told Monday night that it would be feasible to design the control room or the plant into a fallout shelter to be used in case of any emergency.

In other business, the commission, authorized the city manager to advertise for two police cars, one compact car, a TD-9 replacement, tractor replacement, a refuse packer, aerial ladder, sweeper and five pickup replacements and water line materials; Agreed to install street lights on Court St., Academy Manor and Prayer Homes areas.

Denied a request by George Steele for a license to sell beer and soft drinks from a vehicle; Agreed to have city crews mow the grounds around the Armory.

SIGNING OF FINAL PAPERS preparatory to the acquisition of the land on Hwy. 17-92 for the establishment of another new industry in Sanford, brought these officials of Alix of Miami, Inc. swimmers and sportswear manufacturers to Sanford for conferences with officials of the Sanford Development Co. From left seated are Abraham Gussow, manager of Brookfield Mills, Barnet Levitt, auditor, Alix Schneidman, president of Alix of Miami and David Misonznick, controller. Standing are W. H. Stempeter, realtor, T. E. Tucker, Florida State Bank president and SDC director and John Kridler, executive director of the Sanford-Seminole Development Co. (Herald Photo)

Major Swim-Wear Firm To Build Plant Here

The first factory for the mass production of swim suits in Florida will be built in Sanford with construction to start in the late fall by the firm of Alix of Miami, Inc., internationally known swimwear manufacturer.

The unusually attractive building for a manufacturing plant will initially enclose 14,000 square feet of floor space and will be built on Hwy. 17-92 at the South entrance of Sanford, near the Harcar Aluminum Co. and York Manufacturing.

The plant will be scientifically equipped to introduce swimwear in straight line production. A new industrial engineering system will enable Alix of Miami, Inc., locally through Alix of Sanford to be competitive with other national producers of custom swimwear, mostly concentrated in California.

The firm expects to complete its building in six months and provide steady year-round employment for from 150 to 200 persons.

Burton and Chapman, local architects, are currently firming up plans and specifications for the new facility and will announce the advertisement of bids for the building in the near future. The plant will be 100 percent air-conditioned and have its own cafeteria and all modern facilities. William Stempeter of Stempeter Agency, real estate consultant for Alix of Miami, Inc. today thanked the City and County officials that were successful in helping retain this growing industry in our area. Through their constructive cooperation this is all possible, Stempeter said.

Stempeter singled out John Kridler, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, for his untiring efforts throughout the long negotiations and for his inspiration contributing to the newly formed Sanford-Seminole Development Company, which was formed from the Committee of "100" to concretely procure industry.

Florida Employment Service—Mr. Gussow will continue as manager of the enlarged operation.

Stempeter pointed out that Brookfield Mills, Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary of Alix of Miami, Inc. will operate as Alix of Sanford in the new modern plant.

The plant will continue to manufacture the internationally famous Alix "contoured" swim suits and will add fashionable sportswear in Sanford.

Congress Nears Aid Agreement

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate-House negotiators today were reported fairly close to a foreign aid compromise that would allow the 87th Congress toward a mid-week adjournment.

Sources said the negotiators might reach agreement on an aid money bill of about $4 billion. The House originally voted $3.6 billion, but the Senate raised the amount to nearly $4.2 billion.

Westgate Named To Lead Group To Aid Handicapped

Dr. Philip J. Westgate has been appointed chairman of a committee to work through civic organizations to expedite the hiring of handicapped persons in Sanford, through the facilities of the Florida State Employment Service.

Each civic club or fraternal organization will be given the qualifications of three handicapped persons and will through their club contacts attempt to discover suitable jobs for these persons so that they may qualify for training under the state and Federal Vocational Rehabilitation program, according to Joe Toy, manager of the local office of the Florida State Employment Service.

Some interesting national statistics show that 28,500 persons with disabilities were rehabilitated in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1960.

Fresh year earnings of the 28,500 persons is estimated to be $170,000,000 of which $14,000,000 will revert to the government in income taxes.

During the time of their disability and before vocational rehabilitation these persons received public assistance and welfare monies in the amount of $17,000,000 per year. This amount is now saved.

Within three and a half years they will have paid back the total Federal funds invested in Vocational Rehabilitation in 1961.

"Such statistics prove beyond a doubt that it is good business to hire the handicapped," said Toy.

Casselberry To Observe Communion Day

The Casselberry Community Methodist Church will join other churches in all parts of the world in observing World Wide Communion Sunday, Oct. 1, at the 8:30 a. m. and 11 a. m. services. Rev. Oscar Poole, pastor of the church, announced today.

He also reported that the church will hold its first quarterly conference of the new year at 7:30 p. m. Oct. 3 with Dr. Bruce F. Gannaway, district superintendent, in charge.

Reports from all department heads will be heard at this meeting as the church takes inventory of the progress made thus far in the year, the pastor said.

Patriotic Meet Set

The Sanford-DeBary Patriotic Society will meet at 7:30 p. m. today in the DeBary Fire House. Presiding will be James Tamadge, president of the organization.

Failure of the conferees to agree Monday dimmed hopes for Congress to quit tonight. But congressional leaders expected to get away by Wednesday night, barring any late developments.

Both houses scheduled early sessions with the Senate committee to take up the $1 billion final supplemental appropriations bill, another key to adjournment.

There was at least a minor controversy on this measure, too. E. C. Hubert H. Humphrey, (D-Minn.), pushed an amendment to add $6 million for District of Columbia schools as aid to a federally impacted area.

The House was expected to act on the $3.9 billion public works appropriations measure. Senate-House negotiators agreed on the compromise public works bill Monday.

The foreign aid negotiators met for two and a half hours Monday but broke up Monday night with a final settlement still "up in the air" in the words of several members.

The issue holding the House and Senate members apart, it was understood, was whether about $30 million for the Peace Corps and about $105 million in unobligated balances should be counted as part of the foreign aid package.

Senate members were said to be holding out for an aid figure of about $4 billion, exclusive of these two items.

There was some talk that the deadlock might force Congress to authorize aid spending at current levels until a decision could be reached next year. However, most members felt an agreement would be reached.

Weir To Receive College Honor

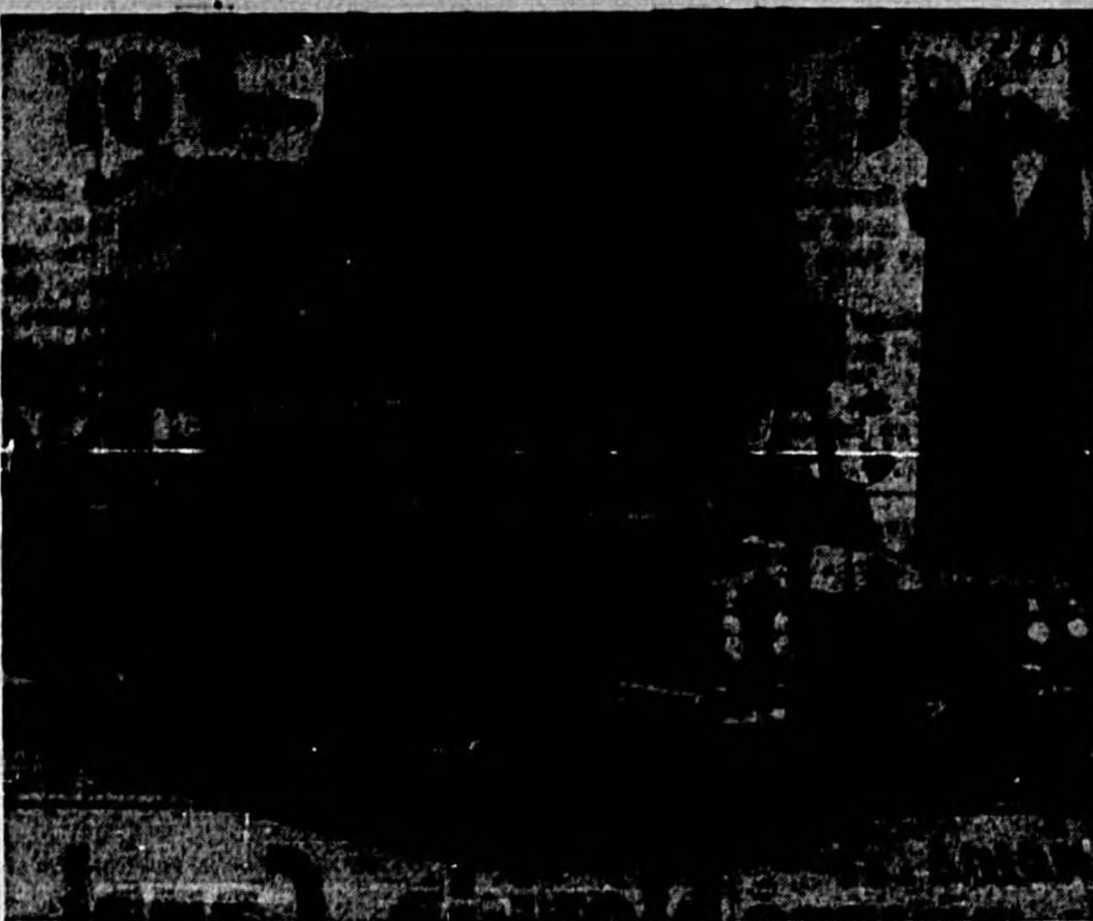

Harry Weir, Administrator of Seminole Memorial Hospital, left Sunday for Atlantic City to attend Convocation Ceremonies in which he will be advanced to Fellowship in the American College of Hospital Administrators.

This degree of membership in the College is considered a high-ranking honor since it is conferred only after a great deal of work on the part of a member.

Affiliation with the College signifies that the person has attained specific stature in his administrative field to warrant recognition through membership in this professional society and, by actively participating in the College program, a member directly and indirectly contributes to the advancement of the field of hospital administration in general.

P-TA Board To Meet

The Executive Board of the Altamonte Springs Elementary P-TA will meet at 8 p. m. today in the Teacher's Lounge at the school.

BUICK FOR 1962 is proudly displayed by Bill Hemphill, owner of Hemphill Motors. This is the Envicta, a four door hardtop. In addition to new roofline, Buick has new styling both front and rear and a new grille, with strong horizontal bars which give the car a look of great width and stability. The engine in the new Buicks has been moved forward four inches, reducing the transmission hump and improving the stability. (Herald Photo)

Is Freedom Without Knowledge Possible In Today's World? Negro Enters Moscow School

The headline of this news article is the question now under consideration by church women the world over as they prepare for the annual observance of World Community Day on Nov. 8.

Sponsored by the United Church Women, a department of the National Council of the Churches of Christ, the day has been set aside since the early war years on the first Friday in November for study, action and worship. In this way, the women give expression to their belief that the mission of the church and world affairs are interdependent and interlocking in their concern for people of other lands.

The World Community Day book, "Education, Women and the Church," presents problems being faced in the Latin American countries, especially in the fields of adult education. In addition to study of this book, members of United Church Women are contributing towards funds to provide training for women in Brazil, Chile and Peru where Church World Service programs are underway. They also are sewing school bags and clothing to help mothers of these lands start their children in school and are collecting children's coats and sweaters and packing school materials for areas lacking basic educational tools.

Crooms Academy Sets CD Course

E. S. Douglass, Vocational Education director of Seminole County, announced this week that John Moore of Ovidio has become qualified as a Personal Survival Course instructor for the local civil defense organization and will open his first class at Crooms Academy on Oct. 8.

Enrollment for the class, which is to begin each week promptly at 7 p. m., may be made by calling Professor Jackson at Crooms or the local CD office. Due to the recent cut back on classes, Douglass said, only two courses will be available at Crooms, the number requested prior to the orders.

Reservations for an afternoon class, which Moore will be able to teach during the month of October if sufficient interest is shown, also may be made by calling either of the above mentioned offices.

A. B. Peterson Sr., director of CD, has ordered a second set of films for use by the three qualified instructors in this area. Classes, jointly sponsored by the local CD council and the adult educational program, run for three hours once each week for four consecutive weeks, are free of charge and have materials furnished.

Negro Enters Moscow School

MOSCOW (UPI) — A 14-year-old Negro girl from New Jersey began classes in the Soviet Union today to "help fight segregation" in the United States.

The girl, Huldah Clark of Newark, flew in Sunday night to begin an all-expenses-paid education promised her by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev when he attended the United Nations last year. She met him there.

Her father, William Clark, had told U.S. reporters it was better for his daughter to go to school in Russia than face "Jim Crow schools" back home.

Huldah schooled her sentiments when she stepped off the plane at Sheremetyovo Airport here and a Soviet education official whisked her off to one of Moscow's "international schools."

New Attempt To Jail Hoffa Seen

ORLANDO (UPI) — Federal prosecutors were believed ready today to take another crack at sending Teamsters President James R. Hoffa to jail for allegedly misusing $500,000 in union funds.

Justice Department Prosecutor James T. Dowd and three assistants from Washington were on hand Monday for the empancing of a new federal grand jury. Dowd, whose first case was dismissed on a technicality, wasn't talking about his plans.

Hoffa and two of his colleagues were indicted by a grand jury here last Dec. 7 on mail fraud charges. They were charged with promoting Sun Valley Inc., a housing development near Cape Canaveral, as a Teamsters-sponsored project, through interstate communications.

Fall's First Fashion Show Is Bright, Bold, Beautiful

The dining rooms of the Capri Restaurant were filled to capacity Thursday as spectators and dinner guests were treated to the first formal fashion showing of the year, presented by Cowan's Department Store and Lellani House of Beauty.

FUN AFTER FIVE fashion, worn by Judy Asensio has a black silk jersey bodice, and a black and white plaid taffeta shirt, accented by white gloves, glittery evening purse and three strands of pearls. (Herald Photo)

STRIKINGLY handsome is this sleek red wool sheath on Spook Hook, accented only with gold costume jewelry, long necklace, matching motif earrings and bracelet; a highlight of the show. (Herald Photo)

Mrs. June Linginfelter, buyer, and department manager for Cowan's was coordinator and commentator for the show, which was carried out in grand style by lovely models, Mrs. Lou McDonald, Mrs. Duane Baggerly, Mrs. Carol Dennison, Mrs. Spook Hook, Miss Judy Asensio, Miss Caroline Baggerly and Miss Dee Hargreaves.

The coiffures of all the models were designed and set by Phillip Boyd of the Lellani House of Beauty.

Styles featured in the fashion show ranged from the casual sports outfits of capri pants, sweaters and jackets to sweaters and shirts, through daytime dresses and street and office wear, the glamorous and sophisticated after five, cocktail and evening dress-ups.

The pretty models posed and pirouetted on the stage at the Capri, accompanied by mood music on the piano, and then strolled through the dinner audience, to give a closer look at fabrics, colors, styles and accents.

All shoes, jewelry, purses and accessories were also from Cowan's Department Stores and styles shown were the latest from the world of fashion, now getting into full swing with the busy fall social season.

Knitwear was very much in evidence, proof of the continuing popularity of the fabric, Jerseys too, in matte, silk, wool and rayon, with their graceful lines and sleek fit were standbys of the style show.

Bold plaids and bright, vivid colors in both prints and solids predict a gay season with the accent on color, color and more color.

During the intermissions, Phillip Boyd sang the two new songs he has recently composed and published.

CHARMING AND casual is this sports outfit worn by Carol Dennison, with the very different styling of the one button vest, both pants and vest in autumn rust corduroy, worn with a white sweater. (Herald Photo)

LOVELY ENOUGH to go anywhere for evening activities is this silk print in dark shades of blue and green, worn by Caroline Baggerly and accented with pearls and white gloves. (Herald Photo)

BLACK LACE for evening wear looks lovely on Duane Baggerly and the back is scooped very low. The up-swept coiffure is by Phillip Boyd of Lellani's House of Beauty. (Herald Photo)

Anna Miller Circle Plans Fall Dance

An important business meeting was held by members of the Anna Miller Circle, recently. The circle has been in charge of the March of Dimes for the past three years. At this meeting a lengthy discussion was conducted and members had to decide whether they would continue this project.

The vote was unanimous that the project be continued, since the circle is dedicated to helping crippled children. Mrs. William Klinefelter, circle president, and Mrs.

Harry Adair represented the group at the southeastern area pre-campaign meeting of the National Foundation of the March of Dimes this past weekend in Atlanta, Ga.

It was decided to sell fruit cakes again this year with the proceeds being used for the Harry Anna Crippled Children's Home in Umatilla.

Mrs. Klinefelter told members that the Anna Miller Circle received a nice write up in the Florida State Elks Magazine. It told about their many civic activities and spoke of their devotion to the Harry Anna Home.

Plans were made to hold a "Roaring Twenties" dance, at the newly air conditioned Elks Club and the date scheduled for Oct. 14. The regular social will be held this week.

None Perfect

"Of all the skills practiced by mankind, there is none that is used more—and improved less—than that of driving an automobile."

That's a provocative idea to have thrown at us as we enter the fall and winter driving season, most hazardous of all because of diminished daylight driving hours.

It comes from Paul C. Ackerman, engineering vice president for Chrysler corporation, writing in the magazine Highway Highlights. He seems chiefly interested, and wisely so, in puncturing the complacency and self-satisfaction which grip most motorists.

Repeatedly, surveys show that most of us think safe driving warnings are for the other fellow, and that many believe driver education is something only teenagers need. These attitudes are reinforced by safety studies which stress the menace of the extremist—the drunk and the reckless speeder especially.

But listen to Ackerman: "The plain, hard facts are that the majority of injury-producing accidents are caused by self-acknowledged good drivers who are traveling at speeds under 50 miles an hour."

"Actually, these average drivers who become involved in an accident because of... unsafe maneuver, like changing lanes without looking, probably have done the same thing so many times without having an accident that they have developed a false sense of security."

Many of us have or develop bad driving habits. Only luck gets us by without trouble. All of us can learn new things about driving—not generalities such as "stay alert," but specific things like how to use the brake for best effect, how to grip the wheel for full control of the car, what to do when pavements are icy.

Ackerman offers his own list:

Check your car at the outset to see that tires are firm and all equipment is working.

Behind the wheel, watch the road well ahead, not just the car immediately in front, so you can cope with developing danger.

Look into rear and side mirrors every few seconds to keep track of side and following traffic.

Glance at the left front wheel of oncoming cars for first sign of maneuvers that could spell peril. Many head-on clashes might be averted if such action were begun in time.

Stay far enough behind the car ahead—particularly on expressways—so you can stop safely.

One more thing, Ackerman was photographed in a car with his seat belt securely fastened. And that is a picture worth countless written comments on how to save lives on the highways.

Q—Will a food freezer plan save money?—A. M.

A—Dear A. M.: On the basis of personal experience I can assure you that having a freezer can cut food bills if you use it intelligently. For a small family a good-sized freezer compartment in a refrigerator suffices.

Savings come in keeping that freezer stocked with items bought on sale or in quantity.

A freezer can save you time, too. Cook a large batch of something and freeze half or two-thirds for other meals.

Whether a food freezer plan will save you money depends on the plan. Some, of course, do. But sadly enough I hear there are such promotions making the rounds that actually cost you money! Some plans fall to explain all the costs, and you end up paying more than you had anticipated.

Watch hidden finance charges. Look for weights on the foods sold.

Q—Can I have an air travel accident policy written into my life insurance policy? What would this cost?—E. S.

A—Dear E. S.: You cannot have an air accident policy written into your policy, but you could add to it an accidental death provision covering air accidents and all other kinds of accidents.

If you have a $25,000 life policy, for instance, you could add a $25,000 accidental death benefit provision, paying an extra $25,000 in case of death by accident. The annual cost would run around $25.

If you do quite a bit of air travel, say 12 round trips a year, this would cost but about $1 per trip. You would get full coverage all year for all other types of accidents at no added cost.

Since World War I, almost 900 million of radios have entered the American field. More than 740 "died" in search for markets.

CHANGING WORLD

From Rome

Henry McLemore

Roger Maris has incorporated Roger Maris in Missouri. In the future the baseball fan will have to look at the Wall Street Journal as well as the sports page of his local paper to see how the New York Yankee's slugger is getting along.

The corporation papers were taken out in preparation for the deluge of business offers certain to roll Roger's way after his extraordinary season with his Louisville slugger bat. Makers of everything from non-slip barriers to Celluloid collars will be after Maris to endorse their products.

We will see (I am sure) Maris drinking Hoopla cola, munching Krumpy Kruniks, bunding a wall with Never Crack bricks, playing golf in Toe Delight shoes, shaving with a Man's Best Friend razor, saying "Yum, Yum" after a bite of cake baked with Split-Second Mix, grinning from ear to ear after a sip of All Ready coffee, and inhaling blissfully after a puff of a Himalaya cigarette ("cool as snow and mountain tall").

He will also (I am also sure) show us what shirts wear the long-

West Berlin's Morale Back To Normal, Thanks To Gen. Clay

Foreign News Commentary By PHIL NEWSON

UPI Foreign News Analyst BERLIN (UPI)—West Berliners have regained their old fervor and are ready for the Russians' next move.

Morale, shaken by the Communist closing of the East-West Berlin border on Aug. 13, is high again.

The biggest boost came with the arrival of Gen. Lucius B. Clay, hero of the 1948-1949 blockade, as President Kennedy's personal representative.

Clay won the respect and affection of Berliners as no other American military governor from 1945 to 1949. When he left Berlin, grateful Berliners named a street for him. It is Clay Alley leading into the American sector in an area of parks, boulevards and stately homes. The American consulate is on Clay Alley.

One unfortunate event marked Clay's return.

Some news reports quoted him as saying at a press reception that East Germany would have a part in control of West Berlin's air corridors to the West and that the two German governments should conduct their own negotiations.

Clay said neither. This correspondent stood at his elbow through the entire conversation, and heard him say flatly that the East Germans would "absolutely not" have a hand in the air ways and at no time did he suggest the two governments should negotiate.

The reports shocked Clay. He came to Berlin as a symbol of U. S. determination. He remarked he did not come to sell it out.

When West Berliners awakened on Sunday Aug. 13 to find the city border closed they almost panicked. The very basis of the city's existence seemed threatened. Hopes for the future appeared to vanish.

West Berlin had taken pride in the fact that it was the West's "show-window" deep in Communist territory, a haven for East German refugees, a last meeting place for Germans from both sides of the split nation.

The wall the Communists erect impressed anew on every Berliner the fact that his city and country were split and might never be reunited in his lifetime.

It emphasized the Russians' determination to isolate West Berlin and make it a so-called free, demilitarized city.

The unpleasant fact still must be faced. But they are being faced without panic and without despair. There is sadness but no gloom.

A few days ago, West Berlin opened a new opera house.

The West German federal government has granted the city an additional $125 million to meet special economic needs arising out of the expanded cultural and economic program.

Mayor Willy Brandt has announced that $27.5 million will be spent on construction of 4,000 new apartments for workers coming in from West Germany. Work on the first 1,000 will start in the next few weeks.

Thank goodness, I don't feel that way. I am a man who likes to have an arbiter in such matters, and what's good enough for Roger Maris is good enough for me. If he recommends square vitamin pills, I'll take them, and if he says Dr. Edwards' Turkey Oil shampoo will grow hair, I'll lather up.

Any man who has hit as many home runs as Maris has must have something on the ball. Besides, he is a fine athlete and athlete's are well known for having clear heads.

I, for use, welcome Maris as the new arbiter on style and good and general all-round good living. It is time we had a change.

Ben Hogan was fine in his day and so was DiMaggio, and all the others, but sports is ready for a new general authority.

I dressed like Yogi Berra for many years, and always looked mighty good, but I will be glad to switch to the new things Roger advises. I ate along with DiMaggio, and even with Babe Ruth, but I have a notion that Maris will be the best adviser in a long, long time.

Even if he endorses night shirts, I am ready to get in one for the winter. In short, I have faith in Roger.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Biggest man in the United Nations today is 5 feet 2 Mongi Slim of Tunisia. He is a dapper, French-speaking Moslem of ancient Greek lineage, who celebrated his 53rd birthday Sept. 15.

He is now president of the United Nations General Assembly.

And if Russian objections can be overcome, he could take over at least temporarily some of the responsibilities of former UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, killed in a Congo plane crash.

If this little giant from North Africa can steer the United Nations ship of state safely through the international hurricanes of the coming months he can become a world hero, a champion of peace and possibly influential in preventing a new war.

Even before Hammarskjold's death, Mongi Slim was considered an ace-in-the-hole candidate to succeed the Swedish secretary-general if he could not be re-elected for a third term to begin in April 1963, because of Russian opposition.

There is no provision in the UN charter for naming a successor to the secretary-general in case of death.

Article 96 of the charter says that, "the secretary-general shall be appointed by the general assembly on recommendation of the security council."

There is no provision in the charter making the choice of secretary-general a unanimous recommendation of the security council, or giving any of the permanent members a veto. It can be determined by majority vote, 6 to 5 or better.

This condition operates as a kind of brake on Soviet efforts to block the election of any candidate for secretary-general.

In the case of Mongi Slim, if the Russians were to hold up his appointment too long, it might turn the Afro-Asian nations who would back him solidly against the Communists.

As a matter of fact, the Communists have not been too hostile to Tunisia.

During the dispute with France over the port of Bizerte, Tunisia accepted a loan from Russia. This was negotiated by Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba.

He also attended the recent Belgrade Conference of 25 "unaligned" nations, making his government acceptable to them.

The other possible source of opposition to Mongi Slim might come from the French, against whom he has been waging political war for 25 years.

After completing his formal education in mathematics and law at University of Paris, the then young Mongi Slim returned home to join the Neo-Destour, or Constitutional Liberal party. Its aim was to work for gradual Tunisian independence, in co-operation with the French.

Slim became permanent secretary of the party council. He traveled throughout the country organizing party cells. Making little headway with the French, the party adopted a program of passive resistance in 1937. The party was illegal, and all its leaders were arrested.

Mongi Slim was in French prisons from 1938 to 1942. He was in Tunis when the Axis powers went through Africa and he was released only when Allied armies liberated his country.

Slim then became a director of Neo-Destour and a member of its policy committee. They began a campaign of civil disobedience to the French rule. Slim was imprisoned again with 80 other leaders of his party. They were released after Premier Mendes-France agreed to Tunisian independence in 1954.

The rebel leader became minister of state and later minister of interior in Tunisia's new government until 1956, when he was named ambassador to Washington.

He was here for five years, serving concurrently as ambassador to Canada, consul general to both countries and Tunisia's chief representative in the UN.

He likes to work. He has it now.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE K-602: Edward G., aged 27, has had 3 years of college. "Dr. Crane," he began slyly, "nobody will give me a job, for our area is still in a recession."

"The lousy employers around here just refuse to offer us work, yet they belong to swanky Country Clubs and drive around in ritzy cars."

"They are letting us starve, so why doesn't the government take 'em over and kick those fat slobbs out of their fancy offices?"

FACE FACTS
Perhaps Edward's 3 years of college have caused him to spout this usual Communist "line," for many profs are still pink to red.

And most workers have a juvenile view regarding business. They think a boss always "gives" them a job or willfully withholds it.

We college professors also never "give" a student an "A" or "B" grade. No siree! The student earns that grade.

In like manner, no private employer can offer ANYBODY a job unless that person can bring back to the company far more than the wages he is paid.

For example, if you draw $100 per week, there is at least another $100 and often far more of additional expenses of your firm that are classed as overhead.

So you workers must produce enough manufactured shoes or tires or coffee or other products not only to offset your $100 weekly wage, plus another $100 in overhead, and enough extra to permit a fair profit.

High schools should puncture this silly notion in America that jobs are "given" at the whim of an employer.

COMMUNIST PROPAGANDA
Furthermore, people are NOT starving in America nor did they starve in the depths of the 1932 depression.

And those who squawk the loudest against the big bosses are usually sucking on cigars and meawholes (which costs the average worker $115 per year) and still swilling their liquor (another average cost of $190 per annum).

ROGER MARIS

This Could Be The Big Day For Cinci, Maris

United Press International
This could be a day to remember for the Cincinnati Reds and New York Yankee slugger Roger Maris.

Tech, Rebels Boost SEC Prestige

United Press International
Georgia Tech and Mississippi, Southeastern Conference prestige boosters last weekend, returned to the practice fields Monday in search of another winning formula Saturday.

down to the serious business of preparing for Rice—an easy 16-3 victor LSU Saturday.

a tough time last Saturday with a 32-6 loss to Alabama and a week's loss of Coach Johnny Griffith because of an appendectomy operation, worked hard Monday to correct Saturday's mistakes.

with Florida State. Coach Ray Graves said tackle Floyd Dean would be out of action because of a torn ligament.

Pryor's Holds Lead In Mixed Play

United Press International
After three weeks of league play, Pryor's State Farm Insurance continues to lead the Thursday Night Mixed League with a ten and a half, one and a half won-lost record.

Another clue to this season's SEC powerhouses will be provided Saturday in the season debut for Auburn and Tennessee at Knoxville, Tenn.

Robinson Wins Split Decision Over Greaves

DETROIT (UPI)—Time casts its shadow in Sugar Ray Robinson's corner but, at 41, the five-time middleweight king insinuates enough remains of his one-mighty ring skills to warrant another title shot.

Adams Paces Bowlerettes

Jet Bowlerettes team standings find Adams' team in first place, with Ivey's second, Harriott's third and Dawn's fourth.

Checking over the Navy Intramural action on the early Tuesday evening shift we find a number of the keglers pounding the pins for high games. As an example: Smith of VAH-3 Maintenance with a 206; Richard Downs had a respectable 330 series; Hal Mello continues on his merry way with a 241/569 series; also well above the 180 average category is Guy Hobbs' 547 with a 201 thrown in; GCA's Cook had a 218/530; with another 18 pins Frank Bernberg of NAS Maintenance would have had a 600 series.

Dan Rittie had a 610; Hal Mello bowling for Roullet's had a 600; Garry Fox of Garvin Kennels bowled a 608 and Dick Richards made it with a 606.

Smith's Amoco two big guns were Joe Carlsley's 204, 210/522 series and Don Dorman's 215.

Other 200 or higher games were as follows: Heart Council's Ed Simon, 205; Gene's Cleaners' Bob Steele, 233; Harry's Liquor's Tom Best, 232 as was Howie Harrison's 227; Lake Monroe Inn's Claude Foster had games of 203 and 229; Garry Fox 236; Harry Pentecost 222 and Ed Callan's 268 was high for the league.

Both the Reds and Maris are fighting mild late-season slumps. Cincinnati could have wrapped up its first NL pennant in 21 years in its series against the San Francisco Giants last weekend.

"I thought the pressure would be off me after the 15th game," the blonde outfielder revealed, "but I was wrong. It's worse than ever now. I suppose I should have a better chance at the stadium if they pitch to me. But the same thing will happen. They'll pitch me outside."

Junior High Midgets Play Ormond Tonight

With one victory tucked neatly away in their pockets, the Sanford Junior High Midgets will be gunning for their second one tonight when they meet the Ormond Beach Midgets at 7:30 in Memorial Stadium.

Last week the Midgets beat Daytona Beach for the first time in five years by a score of 20-0. Tasting the sweetness of victory and remembering last year's defeat by one touchdown at the hands of Ormond Beach the Midgets will be pitching for revenge tonight.

Gold Bonds Still Leading League

The Gold Bonds are still leading in the Food Mart-Country Club Manor League. Their record is 11 wins against one loss.

Coach Ralph Mays has his chargers ready to go and has announced his probable starting lineup as follows:

All-Star Selection

NEW YORK (UPI)—Coach Bones McKinley has selected York Larese of North Carolina as the fourth player on the college all-star team that meets the New York Knickerbockers in an exhibition game at Madison Square Garden, Oct. 13. Larese is the property of the Chicago Packers of the National Basketball Association.

Football Contest Sign-Up Deadline Is Extended

Registration for the local entries in the National Fun, Pass and Kick Contest, being sponsored jointly by Strickland - Morrison Motors and the Jaycees has been extended through Saturday, a spokesman announced today.

Both the Reds and Maris are fighting mild late-season slumps. Cincinnati could have wrapped up its first NL pennant in 21 years in its series against the San Francisco Giants last weekend.

Giants Sign Rookie

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Third baseman Neil Austinson, 19, of Santa Rosa, Calif., has been signed to a "modest" bonus contract with the San Francisco Giants. Farm director Carl Hubbell said Austinson would be assigned to Fresno of the class C California League.

Here tomorrow—a great new exclusive from Buick

ADVANCED THRUST

Moves power forward for arrow-straight going

It puts the engine ahead like the tip of an arrow • It tames "wind wander" and road sway • It sweeps you forward in a hush of luxury • It turns the floor hump into foot space.

WHAT IT IS—Buick's big new move: it positions the great new Wildcat V-8 and Turbine Drive way up front over Buick's front wheels.

WHAT IT DOES—As the engine went forward, the floor hump went DOWN. And, the forward weight makes wheel response far quicker, cornering far surer, ride far smoother.

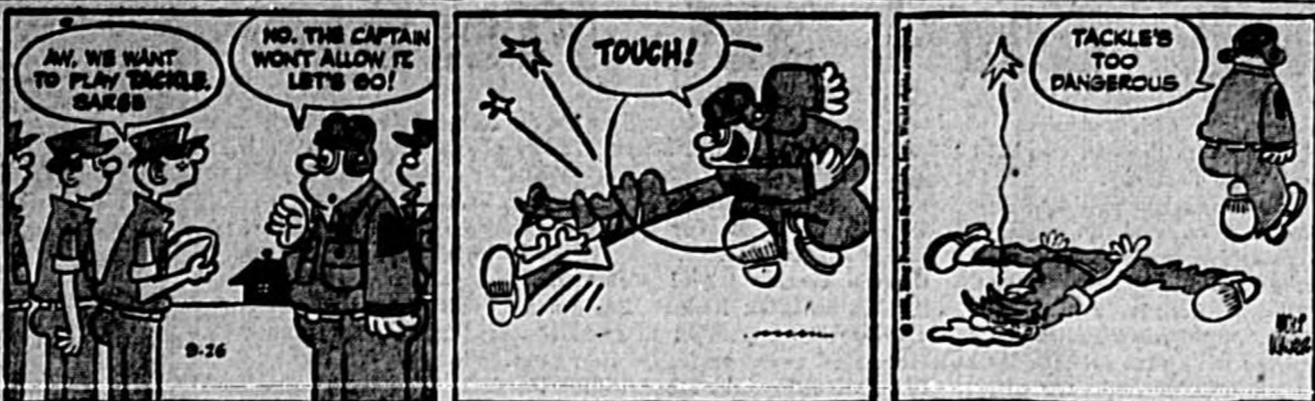

WHY YOU'LL LOVE IT—It's the closest you can come to sports car handling in a passenger car. Distances shrink before its 3½-G thrust. Hills disappear. Lean on curves is gone because the frame's gone wider. Winds don't make you wander.

'62 BUICK

It's going at its Buick best!

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Will you please explain why blondes get so much attention? A blonde can't walk into a room without turning every male head her way. She can be the flooziest looking bleached blonde, but they still look!

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is 22 years old, and has her own automobile. She is going steady with a young man who lives twenty miles from here. He has no car. She dates him on Saturday nights in the city where HE lives, which means she has to take HIM home and then drive herself home (sometimes at two or three in the morning) alone. Her father is having a fit about this. Our daughter says it is better this way than letting the fellow drive himself home in her car and having the car end up with him on Sunday. How would you do it?? Or should we let him sleep over? Is there a solution?

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

"How does it feel to see yourself on the late, late TV show, as you were 20 or 25 years ago?" a reporter asked Dan Dailey.

"I can't believe he was ever that young and handsome," says the lady of the house. "He looked so old in his last movie."

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

West's spade opening was one of those distributional bids that are highly popular in most expert circles. North's two no-trump was the "unusual no-trump," asking partner to bid a minor suit. With eleven minor suit cards North had a perfect hand for this convention.

At the other table West decided to pass. North opened one diamond. East passed. South bid a heart and West jumped to three spades. North passed, East bid four spades, South five diamonds and West five aces.

North 24, South 25, East 10, West 5. No one vulnerable. West North East South 1 4 3 N.T. Double 5 0 Pass Pass Double Pass Pass Pass Opening lead—A K eventually made six when the club finesse worked for him. Of course, this particular pair was lucky. West was flying blind in a fog when he bid five spades, but he sure landed safely.

West European Papers Acclaim Kennedy's Speech

United Press International

West European newspapers acclaimed President Kennedy's United Nations speech today, describing it as "impressive," "majestic" and "bold."

Even unofficial Soviet sources praised what they took to be indications of "increasing U. S. flexibility" in foreign affairs. Despite some differences from Russian policy, these Moscow sources said, the speech appeared "moderate and conciliatory."

No official Soviet reaction was available immediately. The Moscow Communist organ Pravda carried a 28-word dispatch on page 5 reporting that the speech had been made, but did not comment.

The Chinese Communists were harsher.

The Red newspaper Ta Kung, published in Hong Kong, dismissed the speech as "empty propaganda, as usual." The Communist publication made no mention of Kennedy's comments on Communist infiltration of South Viet Nam.

One of the few official comments available Monday came from Cambodia's Prince Sihanouk, who met Kennedy after the speech. He said the address was "a very good speech, with a very wise point of view and logical, too."

London newspapers received the speech warmly.

The Daily Herald, former publication of the Laborite opposition, called it a "bold plan for safer world . . . President Kennedy could at least be confident he carried the neutral countries with him." "This is the clearest, most forward-looking declaration of American foreign policy since the cold war began," said the pro-Labor tabloid Daily Mirror.

The Independent conservative Daily Telegraph said "there was no mistaking his fervent sincerity."

In Paris, the newspaper Combat said the speech was "perfectly adapted . . . to the African and Asian delegations which now constitute a majority of the UN General Assembly."

Newspapers in Germany, currently the principal cockpit of the cold war, focused their comments on specific issues. The newspaper Allgemeine Zeitung praised the "forthrightness" with which President Kenney "struggled off the separate peace treaty threatened between Russia and West Germany . . . as a 'paper part'."

Newspapers in threatened Berlin likewise were concerned by what they regarded as Kennedy's failure to state clearly his policies on some phases of the complex German question.

"What we really need in this hour is an official statement from Washington as to whether the freedom of West Berlin should be bought at the price of reunification of Germany," said the Morgenpost.

This was an evident reference to weekend Washington reports that the United States was preparing to agree to some form of recognition of Communist East Germany.
