GOVERNORS OF STATES ATTEMPT A SOLUTION OF FARMERS TROUBLES

Financial Situation the Cause For Gravest Concern

LIBERAL INDULGENCE

AND RENEWALS SHOULD BE GRANTED BY MANUFACTURERS.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 4.—Governors of the United States, assembled in annual conference Thursday adopted the following report urging the Federal government to create a financial corporation to relieve the critical situation confronting the nation's farmers and advising a liberal credit policy in all lines of business.

"The financial situation in the whole country is cause for the gravest concern but not for despair. All lines of business are realizing heavy losses but the swift decline of prices of farm commodities to far below the cost of production threatens a national disaster. The situation demands infinite patience and forbearance and supreme wisdom and courage. Nothing but evil can result from anger or fear.

"We believe that the tenseness of the situation can be relieved in several ways:

"1.—Let every individual do all he can to help and encourage his neighbor. Let there be a complete mobilization of the financial and spiritual assets of every community. Neither God nor the government ought to be asked to help those who do not first make every effort possible to help themselves. There ought to be a united effort in every community to keep any good man from being destroyed because he cannot immediately meet his obligations. Under existing conditions it would be the acme of inhumanity and of unwisdom to force any debtor into bankruptcy if by the most liberal indulgence he would be ultimately able to pay. Business failures do more than wreck business; they oft-times destroy man.

"Liberal indulgences and renewals should be granted by the manufacturers to the jobbers, by the jobbers to the merchants, by the merchants to the individuals. It is no time for a creditor to seize his debtor by the throat and savagely say: 'pay me what thou owest.'

"2.—Let the Federal government create a finance corporation of some sort that will enable the people of other lands to obtain from us the commodities they so greatly need but for which they are not able to make immediate payment. We believe such a corporation to be entirely feasible and that its mere creation would substantially help the situation.

"3.—The Federal Reserve Board should be urged and authorized to advise all banks to adopt a liberal policy of renewals. The law authorizing six months' credit on foreign paper should be liberally construed and renewals for a like period should be freely granted wherever consistent with other solvency. The real wealth of the country is unimpaired. It would be a suicidal policy to destroy this wealth by a pre-emptory call of loans.

"If necessary the congress should act at once to amend the Federal Reserve law so as to temporarily supply additional currency and afford more time to debtors in distress.

"We believe that the general adoption by individuals and by the government of the policies herein suggested would not only afford material aid but would at once supplant the gloom and the fear of the present with that confidence so vital to wholesome and successful business."

WANT TRUCE IN IRELAND REPORTS SAY

ENGLAND AND IRELAND WOULD WELCOME CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES

LONDON, Dec. 4.—Recent rumors of important influence working for the conclusion of a truce in Ireland preliminary to permanent peace in that island are revived by some newspapers here today. Suggestion is made that definite measures for conciliation are being initiated but reports are very vague and seem to be mainly based on remarks made by Premier Lloyd George in the house of commons yesterday.

A member of the house had asked the premier whether in view of the approach of Christmas, he should not try to bring about a truce and the premier answered that he "was quite as anxious as the questioner to see murder in Ireland ended and would not have waited for the approach of Christmas to make efforts in that direction."

"I have repeatedly said," Mr. Lloyd George continued, "that I am prepared to take any steps that will lead to peace in Ireland."

The supposed movement is linked by newspaper writers with the visit to Ireland of the labor commission which is at present in Dublin and pressure which is said to be brought to bear upon the Irish hierarchy to intervene actively for the cause of peace.

It is stated that sentiment against anarchy is growing daily in Ireland. Newspapers are also discussing the possibilities of peace although without contributing any more definite facts than appear in journals here.

Disorders in Formoy, County Cork, Ireland, yesterday, are said in dispatches to the Daily Mail to have been in reprisal for the kidnaping of former Capt. Penegradst and two other men in the village of Rormoy on Wednesday night.

A drapery shop was set on fire and the proprietor was thrown into the river Blackwater.

METHODIST FINISH RE-MODELLING THEIR PARSONAGE

MADE INTO ONE OF THE MOST COMFORTABLE HOMES IN THE CITY

Preachers, as a rule, do not have real houses in which to live especially if they are Methodist preachers and have to move into a new home every one, two, three or four years. Constant moving into and out of a home soon tears the home to pieces and this was true of the Methodist parsonage of this city. When Dr. Walker came here to live he decided that it was time to have a better home for the preacher and in this laudable enterprise he had the cooperation and support of his entire congregation. The stewards of the church told Dr. Walker to go as far as he liked in improving the place and they also added that it would be up to the ladies of the church to pay for it which is the general and accepted rule of all churches—the ladies are supposed to rustle for the money to fix up the church and parsonage, hence the abundance of bazaars and church socials, etc.

But nevertheless the Methodists, men and women, went to work with a vim and Dr. Walker knowing just what he wanted proceeded to get it and the finished result was shown to the public last night when an informal reception was held at the parsonage to let the public see what a nice home a preacher really can have when his congregation get wakened up to the fact that preachers are human and do not eat hay. From the living room with its new and comfortable furniture to the sleeping porch in the rear the new parsonage is all that could be desired and is not only comfortable but is right up to the minute in every detail. If anything has been overlooked in the reconstruction of the old parsonage it is unnoticeable to the casual observer and even a new garage has been erected to add to the comfort and convenience of the pastor. The home is now one of the most commodious and convenient in the city and has been re-furnished throughout with everything needed to make it a real home.

The guests were met at the door by Dr. and Mrs. Walker, Miss Annette Walker and sister, Mrs. Blount, and escorted over the house and then met in the parlor to sip delightful punch and congratulate Dr. Walker and his family and the stewards and the ladies of the church upon their beautiful parsonage.

Some one last night was congratulating Dr. Walker upon his good fortune in having the new home and upon being able to stay three years longer and he immediately replied that the rule of the church had been changed and he expected to live in Sanford the rest of his life and he can rest assured that his congregation and those of his many friends in other churches and those who do not belong to any church would be delighted if he and his family could remain here for the balance of their lives.

A fine church, a beautiful parsonage and a good minister have happily met with a large and active congregation in Sanford. May they all live long and prosper exceedingly in the wish of The Herald.

M. F. Robinson of This City Receives Telegram

STATING THE FACTS

PROBABLY NO REAL EVIDENCE TO HOLD THEM ON MURDER CHARGE

Despite all that has been written and the testimony that come out in the preliminary hearing in the Check case, Victor Check and his wife, Belle Check, have been exonerated by the coroner's jury in the preliminary hearing in Phoenix, Arizona. They were on trial for the alleged charge of killing the father, T. J. Check, and according to the telegram received here they have been cleared of the charge and discharged from custody and it remains to be seen whether the case will be dropped and the estate settled out of court or just what will happen.

It was alleged that Victor Check and his wife Belle Check had used the father badly, witnesses testifying that they had heard them berating him and even hitting him and the old man told them he was being abused and all of these charges caused the arrest of the younger Check and his wife after the death of the elder Check but it seems there was insufficient evidence to hold them and they are now free as far as the coroner's jury is concerned.

After they had gone Sellers phoned to Sheriff Cobb, who, accompanied by Deputies Smith and Crum, started toward Spring Lake. They were met half way by the hold-up men in a Ford roadster, who ran their roadster into Sheriff Cobb's car and tore off one wheel of the sheriff's car. The hold-up men then left the roadster and fled into the woods about three miles southeast of town. Chase was given and continued through the night, but as yet they have not been apprehended. The roadster, which was brought into Brooksville, bears no license tag.

NEED RADIUM IN FIGHT ON CANCER

Movement on Foot to Substitute
Meso-Thorium in Making
Luminous Materials.

MEDICAL DEMAND IS GREAT

Physicians and Chemists Feel That Everything Possible Should Be Done to Conserve Radium for Therapeutic Purposes.

Schenectady, N. Y.—So great is the demand for radium in the treatment of cancer and various malignant diseases, that a movement is now on foot for withdrawing it as much as possible from the manufacture of luminous dials and other industrial purposes, so that it may be employed entirely for the treatment of human ills.

How this is being effected was told by Dr. Harlan S. Miner, a Philadelphia chemist, who addressed the eastern section of the American Chemical society at Union college in this city.

The substance advocated as a substitute is meso-thorium, a by-product obtained in the manufacture of thorium, a mineral which is extensively employed in the manufacture of gas mantles.

Comes From Brazil and India.

The ores from which thorium is made are imported largely from Brazil and India, although there is a limited supply available in the United States. Meso-thorium can be seen at night and therefore is an ingredient of the paint which is used in the marking of clock faces, watch dials and range finders which can be read in the dark. The demand for such appliances in the trenches during the European war greatly stimulated their manufacture both here and abroad, and although they are no longer military necessities they have an extensive vogue in these days of peace.

Thorium is itself radio-active, but is chiefly valuable because when mixed with one or two per cent of cerium oxide and heated it gives out a powerful radiance. Its use is increasing because municipalities are accepting a heat unit rather than a candlepower standard for illuminating gas, and the demand for mantles is likely to extend. Consequently the facilities for making the by-product meso-thorium, which would not be commercially practical of itself, are being augmented.

"Companies which are now manufacturing thorium," said Dr. Miner, "have ever since 1914 been developing their outputs of meso-thorium, and there has been special activity along those lines in the last few months. The demand for radium in the treatment of cancer and for other medical purposes is now so great that both physicians and chemists feel that everything possible should be done to conserve it exclusively for therapeutic purposes. If radium is kept in the large hospitals and sanitariums for the relief of malignant diseases, it naturally will be held intact. The losses from its emanations are so slight that it can be used for centuries without any appreciable diminution in its properties. As everything is being done by the medical profession to concentrate the supply in this way, the consensus is that it should be held where it will do the most service to humanity.

Causes Heavy Loss.

"If various forms of radium are employed in the manufacture of luminous dials and for other mechanical purposes, there will naturally be a heavy loss of the element. Watches, clocks or pens which on which radium is used are likely to be lost, mislaid or destroyed, when the supply of the element becomes so widely distributed that the chances for recovering it would be slight.

"It happens, however, that there are also manufacturers of luminous materials who are in a position to derive both radium and meso-thorium from certain minerals, and they are inclined to set aside their radium for medical purposes and to use the meso-thorium, which is chemically identified with radium, as a luminous material. Although there has been some difference of opinion in the medical profession as to the value of radium in the treatment of malignancies, there is much to indicate that it and radio-active substances generally have an important part in the practice of the healing art."

Dr. Miner also described at length the uses of other rare earths such as cerium and zirconium in the arts and sciences. He held out the prospect that some of them, which hitherto had been imported from Austria and Germany, could be obtained on a limited scale from sources on the American continent.

An Old Turtle.

Philadelphia.—A land turtle, known to exceed easily fifty years in age, lives on the Ritchie farms, just north of Hantoro, in the Old York Road section. John Ritchie occupies a large farm on the Jacksonville road. The other day he picked up the turtle in his garden. Initialed on the shell were these words: "William Kline, 1870." Inquiry developed that William Kline was a farmer near Johnsville, Pa., in 1870, that he found the turtle, initialed it and later released it in a piece of woodland, an acreage which is now part of the Ritchie farms.

RECOGNIZED AN OLD FRIEND

Countryman Visiting in City Had No Fear of Being Harmed by
"Thrashing Machine."

An elderly countryman stood on a Broadway curb with more fear in his heart than he had ever experienced in his home county and more than his son had experienced in Argonne forest. To him the crossing of that crowded street was truly the "great adventure."

In the middle of it were two lines of tracks, up and down which hurried great "tanks" of street cars—juggernauts, seemingly intended for the sole purpose of crushing his aged limbs should he venture into their path.

On either side of them were endless lines of chugging trucks, with an occasional horse-drawn vehicle, and dodging in and about were touring cars and autos of all kinds.

Now and then the sharp whistle of a traffic policeman would spell safety to the acrobatic and initiated, who dashed across the street, skillfully dodging traffic, which turned the corner in a way no one but an old New Yorker can understand, and even he cannot explain.

Finally they rumbled down the street a steam roller used in asphalt pavement work, belching clouds of smoke but attracting no attention. The old countryman was electrified. Resolutely he deserted his shore of safety and plunged across the street in its very path.

"Huh," he grunted as he reached the other side. "That's one thing I ain't afraid of. They used to scare horses when I was a kid; used to make a man out of the thrashing crew walk ahead of them. I know they won't hurt you, but I don't know what these other things will do. Never expected to see a thrashing engine here, but you never can tell. New York's a great city, all right."—New York Evening Sun

DEALT LENIENTLY WITH HIM

Consumer's Action, of Course, Was Treasonable, But Caliph Proved a Kindly Man.

"What is the charge against this man?" asked the caliph, with a sympathetic gleam in his benevolent eye.

"Your honor," said the attendant, "it appears that he attempted to start a private drive of his own for his family."

"A private drive! Why, this is treasonable. Who is he?"

"He is just a consumer, your honor; just a private citizen, a man who apparently belongs to the middle class, at the head of a large family. Upon being questioned, he told the inspector, with a loud and unseemly laugh, that for many moons he had been asked to contribute to everything—all kinds of relief, governments, etc., and with all this burden he was forced to pay 25 cents a pound for sugar, $30 a month for a cook, $100 for a suit, and other things in proportion. And so, your honor, with a mad laugh, he started a private drive of his own, announcing that if anybody in America needed relief, it was he."

The caliph shook his head sadly, for he was not an unkind man.

"Poor wretch," he said. "Do not confine him too rigorously. Feed him on nourishing things, keep his feet warm, and try to nurse his reason back. It is evident that the situation in which he has found his beloved country has unhinged his mind."—Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

Retired to Private Life.

"How was that?"

"A lot of his constituents got together and decided his hour was up."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

WANT LANGUAGE UP TO DATE

Common Sense Behind "Literary Revolution" That Is Now Prevailing in China.

What is termed the literary revolution in China aims at a reform of the language used in books, magazines, newspapers and public discussion. The outsider will jump to the conclusion that this means an attempt to encourage a phonetic substitute for ideographic characters. Not at all. There is a movement to supplement ideographs with phonetic signs to show their pronunciation, the aim being quite as much to standardize pronunciation as make it easier to learn to read. But this movement arouses no such interest and excitement as the literary revolution.

The latter is an attempt to make the spoken language the standard language for print. Literary Chinese is as far away from the vernacular as Latin is from English, perhaps further. It is a speech of 2,000 years ago, adorned and frozen. To learn it is to learn another language. The reformers were actuated by the practical impossibility of making education really universal when in addition to the difficulties of mastering the ideographs, children in the elementary schools are compelled to get their education in terms of a foreign language.

They are actuated even more by the belief that it was not possible to develop a literature which shall express the life of today unless the spoken language, the language of the people, is used. Apart from the employing and enriching of the vulgar tongue, it is not possible to develop general discussion of the issues of today, social, moral, economic.—New Republic.

To Develop Wild Pears.

The world's largest stock of pear seedlings of a wild, blight-resisting variety found in Manchuria, is located on the Loma Alta ranch near Grass Valley, Cal. The young trees are from seeds brought directly from China and number about 100,000.

Three pomological experts from the United States Department of Agriculture, Professors Allison, Wright and Kingsman, recently inspected the stock and approved the experimental work.

The original trees, known as the Pyrus usuriensis, are found growing in the ancient burying ground of the Kings of the Manchurian dynasty, and it is only since the overthrow of the dynasty that the seeds became available. The tract is said to be vast and to be grown to trees of immense size.

By grafting the commercial varieties of pears upon this stock good results are expected to be obtained.

The Philathea Class of the Sunday School held a business and social meeting at the Manse Monday night. A crowd of young ladies were present. The following new officers were elected: President, Miss Lottie Caldwell; secretary-treasurer, Miss Fern Ward; membership committee, Miss Zeta Davison, chair and Misses Lucy Byrd Smythe and Allie Hall Gillen additional members of the committee. This class hopes to rival the large Baraca class under Mrs. Whitcomb. Mrs. E. D. Brownlee is teacher of the Philathea. The next social meeting will be held the last Monday night in December at Miss Fern Ward's.

The Women's Bazaar was a great success. Mrs. Fred T. Williams and the various circle chairs are being congratulated on the best Bazaar ever held by the Presbyterians in Sanford.

Sunday services at the church are as follows:

Sunday School, 9:45 a. m.
Preaching, 11 a. m.
Intermediate C. E., 2:30 p. m.
Senior C. E., 6:45 p. m.
Preaching, 7:30 p. m.

A session meeting will be held at the close of each preaching service to receive members into the church.

We extend a cordial invitation to all who have no church home in Sanford to worship with us.

AN APPRECIATION

On Monday morning, November 1 1920, was laid to rest in beautiful Forest Hill cemetery, all that was mortal of Mrs. Eva A. Curtiss, who died October 28, in Sanford, Florida, where she had lived during the past 14 years. It seems fitting that something more than the bare announcement of death and burial should be said by some one who knew her well, as it had been my good fortune to have known her for four decades.

Madison had been her home for more than half a century. Born in the state of New York, she came here in the Fifties with her husband, Mr. E. R. Curtiss, who was Madison's chief photographer for many years. Past four score and enfeebled in body she yet took a keen interest in all that made life beautiful. Her mind was alert, and she maintained to the last a fine appreciation of the glorious world in which she lived. She was a true Christian, and always took an active interest in the moral and spiritual welfare of the community. She labored for the building up of the kingdom when laborers were few, she generously gave and sacrificed when there was little to give but love and tears. Thus she nobly helped to lay the foundations of our religious and civic life. We do well to remember and honor her along with others who toiled together in her day to make our city morally and spiritually beautiful. Nor can we let them sail away from our earthly vision without flashing them our loving salute, "Hail and Farewell!"

Kind Nature gave this excellent woman many rare qualities. She was reverent, optimistic, full of faith, courageous, with an unusual talent for doing things. She called herself a Martha in the household of faith. Endowed with fine qualities for leadership, she was ever a power for good in the church to which she belonged and in the community in which she lived. There is much tender pathos in the reflection that when the other day, she returned in old age, with closed eyes and silent lips, to the city she had loved so long so few were left of the old friends with whom she had been associated, in the earlier life of the city—just a few who reverently accompanied her to the "silent city." But there is great joy in the belief that those who knew her best and loved her most will throng the shores and shout her welcome home, when her boat shall cast anchor where the signal lights are swinging, where the waters are still and the storms never beat.

Love for the beautiful was a passion of her soul, and she sought to give it expression in many exquisite works of art. And that delightful occupation held her passionate interest almost to the very hour of her translation. She was ever striving to make the canvas tell you what things she saw in this glorious word. Thus forest and lake, fields and hills, flowers and fruit, sunset and dawn, all charmed her soul, and it is wonderful how they stole so many delightful hours out of her busy life. Though the painter has gone, she has left our city enriched by one of the rarest treasures of her art—the beautiful painting of the city of Madison as seen from the south shore of Lake Monona. This treasure adorns the walls of the Young Women's Christian Association building on State street. And when you look upon it, remember the noble woman and cherish the memory of Mrs. Eva A. Curtiss.—E. L. Eaton, in the Wisconsin State Journal, Madison, Nov. 5.

I trade at home and never roam
Seeking "bargains" elsewhere.
I love the town in which I live,
For all my interests are there.
And then, again, I buy from friends,
We all need one another.
When I run short I can approach
My dealer as a brother.
When buying here with conscience clear,

I put my money down,
I know it stays right here and works
For the welfare of my town.
Another thing, right here I bring
The produce that I raise
And always get an honest deal—
I've found that it pays.
And then, I know when buying here,
It helps things to relax,
And also helps the man who pays
His portion of the tax.
And when I'm sick or in hard luck
The man I buy from's here
With the pocket book, if need be,
And kindly words of cheer.
So that is why I trade at home;
I'm a booster thru and thru
For a town that's good to live in
Is good to buy in, too.

Florida is sleeping while California gets the plums.

This state certainly needs to wake up and get busy with railroad rates and shipping problems.

And the greatest object in life with Sanford people should be the Inland Waterways through Florida.

It will mean better freight rates and hundreds of tourists with their yachts tied up here several weeks in the winter.

Now is the time to arrange for your holiday advertising. Only a few more weeks till Christmas and your advertising will cause them to shop early and help everybody all around.

BETTER ENTERTAINMENT

The Woman's Club is to be congratulated upon bringing to Sanford the Million Dollar Band that will give two concerts here next Wednesday. The Woman's Club will sell tags for the concert and may make enough to come out all right or they may not but they do not have to guarantee the band any stipulated amount and the ladies are game to have the band whether they make anything or not. They are actuated with the spirit of giving Sanford a better class of music and a better class of entertainment and they will endeavor to have several high class attractions here this winter. The people should show their appreciation of their efforts by giving the band a most liberal patronage for the band is a good one and the Woman's Club should be assisted in their efforts.

BUSINESS SENSE.

For many weeks people have been declining to buy because they have been waiting for lower prices. The movement has had its effect and demand has fallen off to such an extent that wholesale prices of practically all commodities are down to pre-war levels. Trade reports from day to day report the phrase, "lowest price in five years."

This slackening of demand has been a good thing in many ways. It has, of course, forced the decline in prices, although there have been other contributing factors.

But the cessation of buying can be carried too far. Retail merchants have cut their prices to such an extent that the paper losses which they were forced to take several weeks ago have become real losses and today much merchandise in Pensacola is selling at less than its original cost.

Of course, wise merchants have not been forced to take all of the losses. The far-sighted man saw that there must be a return to normal and a cessation of war-time extravagance. Accordingly last spring many of them unloaded their stocks and kept them as low as possible and still give service and retain their customers. When the wholesalers began price-cutting these merchants bought short supplies and from week to week they have taken advantage of the falling market. This is technically known as "equalizing the costs" and is the same system a stock buyer follows when he buys stocks at a high price

J. P. says: THE SPENT DOLLAR IS CHEAP. IT IS WORTH LESS THAN HALF OF ITS FORMER VALUE, BUT THE SAVED DOLLAR IS JUST AS VALUABLE AS IT EVER WAS AND IN A FEW YEARS TO COME WILL HAVE THE PURCHASING POWER OF DOUBLE OR TRIPLE ITS PRESENT VALUE. IT IS A MIGHTY SICK LOOKING DOLLAR TODAY. PUT IT IN THE HOSPITAL (A GOOD INVESTMENT) WHERE IT WILL RECOVER AND STAY RECOVERED. THE SOUTHERN UTILITIES COMPANY 8 PER CENT PRIOR PREFERRED STOCK IS A MIGHTY GOOD HOSPITAL FOR YOUR DOLLAR WITH A 100 PER CENT VALUE AND 100 PER CENT EARNING CAPACITY. THERE'S NONE BETTER.

and the market falls. Instead of selling at the low price he buys more stocks, thus reducing the average cost of his holdings. If the market advances even slightly he stands a good chance to profit on his transactions.

This situation now faces the merchants and almost as directly, the consumers. Unless there is a resumption of buying the demand will continue to fall off. Production will, naturally, cease, and many men will be thrown out of work. Just as soon as one industry is thus disrupted others become affected and in time the entire economic structure of the nation is in upheaval.

It would, therefore, be the part of wisdom for the buying public to satisfy the needs they now have at current prices in order that they may hold their jobs and maintain their present wage scales.—Pensacola Journal.

NEWSPAPERS NEVER IN NEED OF SPACE-FILLERS

"The statement that newspapers use 'stuff to fill up' their columns is ridiculous. Every newspaper now has enough news each day to fill half a dozen newspapers and the great question is not what to use but what not to use; what is essential to the best interests of the community."

This is the word of David E. Smiley managing editor of the Philadelphia Evening Ledger, made in a recent address at Lancaster, Pa., and newspapermen throughout the country know that it is the truth. However, there is that class of people who really believe that newspapers are kept busy finding copy to fill up their pages. They think that elaboration is necessary to publication, that editors stay up nights trying to "dope out" things to put in their papers.

For instance, if the Metropolis put into type every article that comes into this office daily from the Associated Press, the United Press, the International News, the Newspaper Enterprise Association, to say nothing of the other daily features purchased from syndicates and the enormous amount of copy prepared by the local staff, it would require at least fifty pages to print them, exclusive of the advertising. While no other newspaper has anything like this number of services, all of them are forced to resort to the blue-pencil. An editor is kept busy cutting down and choosing material of interest to the general public. People laboring under the impression that newspapers are "hard up" for written matter might do well by calling at their favorite newspaper office in the afternoon or morning and asking to see the general waste basket as prepared for the janitor!

Newspapers, as a rule, can be depended upon to work for the general welfare. More and more they are devoting their news column to a strict narration of news and confining their opinions to the editorial section. This is the proper course to be followed and it meets with the approval of the public.

"A nagging newspaper in a community is as opprobrious as a nagging man or woman," declared Mr. Smiley.

A paper that doesn't hold the confidence of its readers is a failure as a community asset, although it may be a successful business proposition, and this is realized in newspaper fraternity circles. It can accomplish no good if it thinks no good.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

is kept busy by knowing automobilists who send their cars to us to be repainted. The "wise ones" know that their cars will be returned to them looking smarter and better than when bright new from the factory. The reason for this is that all our work is custom work which means that only the best of materials are used by skilled workmen.

FINE LETTUCE IS PRESENTED TO LAKE REGION

Mr. Britt, of the firm of Perkins & Britt, Sanford, was in town Friday of last week advertising a special sale which his firm is putting on. Mr. Britt presented the Lake Region force with several heads of the finest lettuce (the kind that makes Sanford famous) we have ever seen. Mr. Britt said that our mutual friend, Bob Holly, suggested that he drop in and get acquainted with the Lake Region crew while here. Accept our thanks, Mr. Britt and Mr. Holly, and when either of you are in our city don't fail to call and see us.—Eustis Lake Region.

Shipping Point Information, Dec. 3rd. SANFORD, FLA.: Cool, clear. Haulings light. Demand and movement slow, market firm, little change in prices. Carlots f. o. b. usual terms, 1 1-2 bushel hampers, Big Boston, considerable leafy, best, $1.25-$1.50.

DECIDED LULL IN VEGETABLE MOVEMENT, BUT IT WILL RALLY SOON

The recent cold snap about finished the fall vegetable crop. There are practically no cucumbers now. There are scarcely any egg plants in this vicinity fit to ship, although it is understood that egg plants are still moving on the East Coast. Only 33 containers of egg plants were shipped from Plant City this week.

Only two hampers of lettuce have been shipped this week. Lettuce might be said not to have begun to move from Plant City yet, but local buyers have been buying lettuce in some quantities at Palmetto for a week or two. English peas are said to be fairly plentiful in this section, but have not started coming in to Plant City yet. Peas will be marketed here in considerable quantities in a few days.

Carrots will make their appearance on the local market soon. There are still some Irish potatoes and pepper in this locality, but shipments of pepper have ceased during the last three days. Squash continue to be sold here, but there were none to be had yesterday.

Irish potatoes sold for $2 to $2.25 per hamper yesterday. English peas will bring around $4 per hamper today if any come into town. Squash sold for $2 Wednesday. A sprinkling of turnips with tops sold here for $1.25. Turnips are expected to be received here in some quantities within a week or so.—Plant City Courier.

ON THE ROAD

1.—Smatter? Got a puncture? 2.—Maybe you're outa gas. 3.—Tried your spark plugs yet, mister?

4.—Let's all push 'er over the hill an' maybe she'll start on compression. 5.—I had one o' them things once, but I traded it for a wheelbarrow.

6.—Whyn't yuh git a self-starter, huh? 7.—Need any help? 8.—If you're insured, wh'nt yuh leave it in th' road?—St. Augustine Record.

VERY DISTRACTING

Whenever a conscientious editor does go to church on Sunday evening the chances are some girl will come in and sit down in front of him, wearing those large puffs over her ears, and he'll sit there trying to appear interested in the sermon, while thinking how much the back of that girl's head looks like the ace of clubs.—Tarpon Springs Leader.

MANY VARIETIES OF HOGS

We are accumulating a surprising array of hogs in these days. There are the so-called end-seat hogs, the familiar road hog, the expectoation hog, and now comes a new species in an exchange—the rent hog. Presumably this latest is someone who has something to do with the altitude of rents in crowded cities. Same paper suggests that a hog is never cured until it is dead.—Miami Metropolis.
