Manpower Office: Money, Money, Everywhere, But...

Most people who run government programs find themselves with too little money to run their programs. But Seminole County Manpower Administrator Lois Martin has a different problem a glut of federal manpower dollars and federally mandated deadlines for hiring unemployed county residents that she says are unrealistic.

"They're downright unreal. I doubt that we can meet the deadline to have 374 people hired under certain programs by the end of July and 557 by the end of August," said Miss Martin. If the deadlines aren't met, some of the money will be taken from Seminole and reallocated to other counties.

The programs she referred to are those in which government agencies and non-profit organizations get federal money to hire the unemployed. All projects must be approved by the Seminole County Commissioners, who had as of Wednesday approved 63 of 109 projects submitted for their approval. Projects come to the commissioners after approval by the 19-member prime sponsor advisory council. On July 19, commissioners will vote on another 50 projects.

"We knew more federal money was coming (for the fiscal year and training the unemployed and also for county personnel to run beginning in October), and we did our best to prepare for it," Miss the programs. Martin said. "We expected project money to double. Instead, it quadrupled." In the current fiscal year, the county received $1,122,974 for the projects which provided 224 jobs, and will receive for the coming fiscal year $4,689,073 to provide 474 jobs.

The commissioners voted June 15 to increase the manpower staff from 17 to 35 employes, including the hiring of a comptroller for the manpower programs. But Miss Martin, whose manpower division office is located in Seminole Plaza, has no place to put the new employes.

"Until the county commissioners find some more office space, I'm not going to hire any more employes," she said. Miss Martin's supervisor, administrative services director Bob Ellis, delivered a report on office space available in Sanford to the commissioners Tuesday

Glisson and County Administrator Roger Neiswender are preparing a report to the commissioners due July 15 detailing budget recommendations for the current fiscal year which will include a recommendation for a property tax hike.

The Office of Management, Analysis and Evaluation (OMAE), which Glisson heads, has completed its review of budget requests by county department heads. "Over the last weekand-a-half we have attempted to arrive at our recommendations to the commissioners," Glisson said: "We've trimmed down the base budget level," which is the amount necessary to continue the departments' programs. "We established three priorities for program changes: recommended by the county administrator, not recommended and an inbetween category, which is a lower priority or a new policy area calling for a decision by the commissioners."

Glisson outlined two major areas which would affect the countywide general fund mill rate. The first category includes the general fund, road and bridge fund and debt service on general obligation bonds approved in previous years for construction of the county courthouse and county jail.

Manpower training programs are funded under CETA Title I. Miss Martin's office has an agreement with Seminole Community College, which provides classroom training to 275 participants in the program. Young To Get Own TV Show?

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - U.S. Ambassador Andrew Young, noted for his controversial statements, may appear on a weekly half-hour talk show dealing with the

The last step would be clearance from the White House for Young's involvement.

One of Young's associates said Young would be "willing to go along with it if they (the producers) can work it out."

Knife Found In Canal

May Be Murder Weapon

BOCA RATON (AP) - Divers in an alligator-and snake-infested canal have discovered what police say could be the weapon used to murder 19-year-old Patricia Ann Greenfield after she was kidnaped from a convenience store.

A guard, armed with a shotgun in case alligators came too close, stood watch Thursday as a diver brought up a 10-inch knife only a few feet from the spot where Gary Forbes told police the knife had been thrown. Forbes is one of two men charged in Miss Greenfield's death.

"It was a type of knife described by Forbes," said Palm Beach County Sheriff Richard Wille.

Earlier Thursday, Palm Beach County Judge James Carlisle ruled that there was enough evidence to try Forbes and James Martin on charges of murder, kidnaping and

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) - Undercover police working as a fencing unit say they have arrested more than 35 customers and recovered some $120,000 worth of stolen property.

Police said Thursday that the haul includes recreational van, sports cars, drugs, guns, stereos, antiques and tools. Among those picked up in the two-day crackdown were eight juveniles, police said. They said more arrests are expected as a result of the six-month operation.

Askew: Extend disaster Area

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - Gov. Reubin Askew is asking that five more droughtstricken Florida counties be declared disaster areas by the federal government.

Askew made the request Thursday to U.S. Agriculture Secretary Robert Bergland, who last week declared 30 North Florida counties disaster areas because of lack of rain. The five additional counties were Bradford, Flagler, Putnam, St. Johns and Union.

Mother Slayer Gets Life

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) - A 47-year old man who said he flew into a rage and killed his mother when he found out he was illegitimate has been sentenced to three life terms for murder and two armed robberies. Richard M. Laury stood expressionless Thursday as Pinellas County Judge Mark McGarry sentenced him to the consecutive life terms and an additional five years for carrying a concealed weapon.

A state parole commission spokesman in Tallahassee said Laury would have to spend a minimum of 12 years in jail.

Denies Pocketing Money

TALLAHASSEE (AP) - House Speaker Donald Tucker says he was unjustly accused in a newspaper report of pocketing $70,114 in proceeds from a 1976 testimonial.

"The statement that I pocketed the $70,000 is not true." the Tallahassee Democrat said Thursday. "It's still in trust, and it's still under the control of Nat Polak, treasurer." Polak was treasurer of the Tucker testimonial. The funds are being held in trust accounts at two Tallahassee banks, Tucker said.

The St. Petersburg Times reported that Tucker listed the testimonial funds as income on financial disclosure reports filed with the U.S. Senate Commerce Committee in Washington.

No Need For Panic In Food Pantries

Earlier this spring some Americans observed what was called Food Day, which was sponsored primarily by a Naderite Washington group called the Center for Science in the Public Interest. Food Day came on the heels of a McGovern Senate Committee report which was replete with alar-mism and false assumptions which would lead the impressionable to stop eating breakfast lest it give them cancer.

Thankfully, there are saner voices, such as Dr. Frederick J. Stare, a medical doctor and former chairman of nutrition at Harvard University School of Public Health. Speaking at the University of Kentucky recently, Dr. Stare scored both the McGovern Committee's weaknesses and the Food Day propaganda.

"There is no reason for panic in the pantry," Dr. Stare said. "Our foods are perfectly safe, and that includes foods and beverages with saccharin, reserves and depletion of valuable natural also with cyclamates - in the cyclamate days with resources, there finally is some good news to BHA, BHT, propionates and the various colors and report. flavoring agents used with foods including sugar."

On the McGovern report: "The report is weak has established a little noticed but highly sucin dealing with the most important nutritional problem" in our country. Eating and drinking (alcoholic beverages) too much and not using up enough of these extra calories in muscular activity - result, obesity. There is no mention in the report of calories from alcoholic beverages."

On Food Day: Dr. Stare noted that the CSPI promoted it, calling it "a day to remember that much of what we eat has been treated with dyes, during the 10 years indicates that the industry flavorings, preservatives and other suspect may soon be able to recover and recycle 50 to 60 chemicals, which may be bad news for those who per cent of its annual can production. "Mentioning 'cancer' is a good way to get publicity," Dr. Stare commented," but the claim. Anything is sense, but the aluminum people have made more toxic if too much is consumed.'

Actually the modern incidence of cancer is mainly a byproduct of increasing longevity: more people are getting cancer because more people are living to longer and more suceptible ages. Also we now can diagnose cancer accurately, whereas in siding, pots and pans, ple plates and other the past cancer victims' troubles went undiagnosed.

It is important to hear a reasoned voice such as Dr. Stare, what with mounting hysteria and paranoia. It is terribly important to understand, moreover, that most of the emotionalism is politically motivated.

The Right Reaction

On Feb. 5, the Soviet Union expelled an American newsman. On Feb. 6, the United States retaliated by expelling a soviet correspondent. A White House aide commented that the "Russians will have to learn" that President Carter means 'business'' on human rights.

Had Mr. Carter meant business on human rights, however, he would not have booted out the Soviet newsman. There is the "law" of retaliation and there are human rights, and Mr. Carter's retaliatory act satisfied the former, not the latter.

So it is refreshing to note that when Soviet Union harassed Robert Toth, then the Los Angeles Times Moscow correspondent, Mr. Carter did not respond in kind. Because he didn't Mr. Carter abided by the Helsinki accords Winter Springs Baptist minister Bobby Clark is going to press with his crusade against pornography and public nudity.

Clark, who called to express his displeasure over the recent ruling by the county commission to permit Sunday liquor sales, said he had been wrapped up in his anti-pornography fight and sick, thus preventing him from becoming involved.

Scheduled to go off the press on Aug. 1, the tabloid to be known as "The Searchlight," is supposed to keep residents of Seminole County informed on the type of hard core pornography being dispensed here and displays of public nakedness in area night spots.

With Clark as editor, the publication will not contain advertisements, and will be financed by donations. Behind the effort at influencing public opinion are the loosely formed organization 'Citizens for Decency" and Clark's church, First

Clark said copies will be sent to a mailing list of 4.000 which he says are on petitions circulated by his group. The petitions state opposition to nudity in the county and urge elected representatives to take a stand against topless-bottomless dancing and other public nudity and pornographic book stores through legislation and enforcement.

The petition further states "These same perversions have destroyed thousands of families, children and neighborhoods across the United States, forcing legitimate businesses to move out and turning once good neighborhoods into red light districts as these perverts are allowed to penetrate the area. We feel Florida must learn by the mistakes of other cities.

"There is a lot of stuff going on people do not know about. They think pornography is just some picture of a girl prancing around in a bikini," Clark said. He said he is working closely with the sheriff's department and knows things that are going on that the average citizen is unaware of. Clark said he had been in touch with the state attorney's office to inquire what is being done about the arrest of two dancers at the Circus in Fern Park for lewd and

And, he's just back from his 26th trip in two years to Castro's island paradise, this time with a band of 66 appreciative U.S. businessmen and their wives in tow.

Apparently, it was the most successful of all Jones' trips. And, with success goes a higher price. The 68 travelers on this trip paid $2,000 (* each, up from $1,500 for a group of Minnesota businessmen who went just two months ago.

But that's peanuts compared to the stakes Jones is shooting for. He and his firm, Alamar, of be the resident experts on Cuban trade. They hope to become the trading go-between for some of these big American businesses which would do several millions dollars worth of sales to Cuba, if and when President Carter lifts the 15-year-old trade embargo.

Jones and his associates are getting a good press. Senator McGovern has lent a hand, with two trips to Cuba to chat with Castro. McGovern, a sharp critic of Chile for its alleged human rights violations, was tongue-tied when it came to bringing up the subject of Castro's violations. He was silent. May Face Another Setback TOKYO (AP) - Prime Minister Takeo Fukuda's Liberal Democratic party, which has governed Japan for 29 years, is facing the possibility of its second election setback in seven months. Polls show that Sunday's election, which involves half the seats in the upper house of the Diet, the Japanese parliament, may leave the party five seats short of a majority. Shaken by the Lockheed scandal, the Liberal-Democrats lost their majority in the lower house in last December's election but kept control of the government by persuading eight independents to join them.

Funding for the program, held in conjunction with the state Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services (HRS) was

The program, in existence since 1974, provides for the finding, testing and vocational education of students who are physically, mentally or emotionally handicapped.

According to information provided the board by Seminole School Superintendent William Layer there are potentially 918 handicapped students in grades 10-12 in the county. Funding for the program will total $72,071.63.

All-Star Picks Stir Discussion It's Mustang All-Star time again, and if the weatherman cooperates, the nine and 10-year-olds swing into action saturday morning at the Five Points complex. A new wrinkle has been added to the 1977 version as the Seminole Pony Baseball League has decided to send two teams onto post-season tournament. Sending two squads is not different. It has been done before. How the boys are broken up into respective units is the thing that has caused all the discussion. One team comprised mainly of 10-year-olds will be joined by a second squad of mostly nine years.

According to league officials, the thinking follows this line: Only one team will get out of the county and go to Tampa for the regionals. So, why not make that one team as strong as possible, instead of having two watered down versions, with one team being eliminated right away? Also, there is always next year. And all-star experience is invaluable to a boy. For that reason, the nine-year-old team was formed with the idea that when they are 10, they will be even stronger.

So, when play starts at 11 a.m. it will find the 10-yearolds squaring off against a team from Semoran with theloser to meet South Seminole's nine's Tuesday night at the loser's field.

Everyone agrees that the 10-year-old team is much superior to the nine's but the latter's coach, David Geier has this to say about his charges: "Of course don't have a chance against the older boys. The only 10-yearolds that we have were cut from the the and we only have three of them.

"But, the kids have really worked hard and if they take us too lightly, we just might make them sorry they did "I figure my kids should be able to go into the tournament pretty loose, because no one really expects that much out of them, and if we can even make the games interesting, it will be a moral victory for us." The three 10-year-olds who are out to prove they should never have been cut are Jay Clatting, Tim Heffernan and

Ron Parris. "These three boys will be the heart of our team," Geiger explained, "as they will handle the pitching and some of the key defensive spots in the infield." As of now, Parris is expected to start on the mound with Mike Damico as his battery mate. Holding down first base will be Byron Overstreet, with Hefferman at short and Clatting at third. Chris Depore is expected to round out the infield at second.

Dying To Ride In A Big Car

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) -Ray Higgenbottom said he "wanted to ride in a big car just like the president." So he stole a earse - twice.

Higgenbottom, 19, tried to steal a hearse Thursday, but police released him after the funeral home declined to press charges.

From police headquarters he went back to the Muehlig Funeral home, grabbed a funeral flag, jumped into the same hearse - by now in a garage drove it through a wooden wall and up the street.

Chased by police again, he was caught when the hearse ran into an embankment at naturally - Fairview Cemetery after hitting another car and injuring its driver.

He was held for arraignment today on a variety of charges.

There are no negative forces in white magic, our witch insists. White witchcraft is totally positive and if you have bad thoughts you knock them out with good ones. "You are what you think," she uttered with a rather ominous ring.

pushing us, and so many people directing us, that we haven't much time to think about the things that matter most. You know it is sad how seldom people even look up and see the sky and the clouds, or look at the stars at night. We all need a time to be quiet and collect our thoughts and to find the secret of continuous strength.

Isaiah said this centuries ago: "They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength." The kind of expectant waiting of which the Bible speaks is not idleness, it is not living in a world of day-dreams. Rather, it means that while we are toiling and working God will strengthen us so we shall not be weary.

"They shall mount up with wings as eagles." Have you seen an Gagle rise? Have you seen an eagle take off from a crooked, windsown mountain tree, with wings outstretched? It is no wonder that the eagle is the symbol for the United States of America. He is greatness personified in the soaring skyward by his strong wings. That is the way people of God rise up for they feel a power given by God's presence. Isaiah further said: "" -- And you shall run, and not be weary, and you shall walk, and not faint." When you wait on the Lord, you discover that you have this added asset of inspiration. You have His Spirit of eagerness and aliveness.

It is possible to question the events of these words. It begins by nounting up with wings as eagles, and then run without being weary, and then walk and not faint. Would not the next thing be to stand still without being tired?

No, the order is right. In the time of youth is the great upsurge of idealism and the desire of drawing close to God, so much so that of idealism and the desire of drawing close to God, so much so that they mount up with wings. The youth believe so sincerely that they wonder why everyone doesn't. When maturity comes, we get involved in busy activities and God's peace and presence in our lives. You may be weary at times and then you can find the real secret for continuous strength that Jesus Christ can strengthen you in all things.

"Wait on the Lord and He shall renew your strength."

Question: Whenever my mother comes to visit us. I find myseli celling uncomfortable and defensive. even resentful, over quite simple situations. I love my bossy mother, but I feel threatened by her. She has no real control over me or my family so why do I still react to her this way?

Answer: Probably because she controlled you as a child, and you are still reacting to her with the same childish fear. My guess is that she is a manipulative person who makes you feel or say or do what she wants you to feel or say or do. This kind of emotional pressure is almost impossible for a child to resist, and as in your case, you have to grow up before you can handle it.

I believe you are free to be your own person. I believe God made you a free person, free to choose to love and serve Him, free to be subject to Him. God put this freedom inside you and me, and that's why we resist slavery of any kind, emotional as well as physical.

Now domineering people don't really allow you to be your own person. They want to make you the way they know how you can be happy, how you can avoid mistakes, how you can best organize your time or spend your time or raise your children. They think they know best, and they presure you to follow their advice and plans.

You are under this kind of pressure, which isn't good for you or your mother. What can you do? Well, you recognize it by the uncomfortable feeling you get. Stay calm and don't react. Ask yourself whether you're being maneuvered into saying or doing something your mother wants you to say or do. Then remind yourself that as an adult you are free to say no without feeling guilty, free to express yourself without fear of her disapproval or criticism, free to love your mother and still differ with her.

This is easier for me to say than for you to do. But it will be easier for you to do if you call upon the Lord who frees His children from all fear and emotional bondage to anyone. In Luke 4:18 Jesus said He had come to release the captives and deliver the opporessed.
