Old Hospital

All Bids Received For Former Medical Facility May Be Refused

Herald Staff Writer

It's looking more like the old Sendole Memorial Hospital building will be converted into county offices.

Only one bid on the facility was received by the Wednesday 2 p.m. deadline and Purchasing Director Joann Blackmon said she isn't sure if it can be considered.

George M. Kline of Bethesda, Md., submitted a bid on the building but because he did not include a 10 percent bid bond the amount of the bid was not revealed.

Kline has agreed to submit a bid bond within H days of the acceptance of his bid but county officials aren't sure if that is

Two bids were received on parcels of the property. Walter N. King of Sanford bid $67,000 for a 1.6-acre site with a 90,000square-foot building adjacent to the hospital. King said he will build a 26-unit apartment building on the site if his bid is ac-

Commissioners rejected the same bid from the blood bank and another bid for the 1.6-acre parcel at the July bid opening. Commissioners have said they will convert the hospital building into office space if no blds for the facility are acceptable.

A decision on the hospital has been labeled the keystone for the county's efforts to find space for its offices.

Current plans call for construction of at least one five-story office building to be built adjacent to the existing courthouse. Another building is proposed for the county's complex at Five Points.

But no decisions can be made until a decision is made on the

Under the present plan, the health department would move into the first two floors of the hospital. But commissioners also are examining several parcels in the Sanford area for construction of a new facility.

Commissioners would occupy the third floor of the building with the second floor being used for other offices while the new tower is built beside the courthouse.

The existing courthouse would be used to house the courts and supporting agencies, which are projected to greatly expand services by the year 2000.

A decision on the former hospital building is expected by

2 Firms Cited In Collapse Of Wall Will Not Appeal

Two Sanford firms that were involved in the demolition of a building when a wall collapsed and killed three men have not appealed federal findings against them.

Howard Stevens of the federal Occupational Safety and Health Administration office in Tampa sald Thomas Gracey Construction Co and Robert Rarbour Construction, Inc., 'have acknowledged the findings.'

The companies were cited for serious violations after the collapse of a wall of the old W. Atlee Burpee building at 206 W. First St. in Sanford.

Serious violations according to Stevens, are hazards that are or should be recognized as posing the danger of injury or death to a worker. OSHA said the firms failed to have adequate engineering studies of the building to ensure workers' safety. Gracey was fined a total of $900 for that and four other violations of federal safety standards. Barbour was not fined. In addition to not having adequate engineering studies,

Gracey was cited for not forcing workers to wear hard hats, employee entrances were not protected by shields or canopies, materials were dropped to the outside of the building without appropriate protection and the demolition was done out of sequence, leaving free standing unsupported exterior wails. Gracey was the subcontractor for Barbour on the demolition of the building for Flagship Bank.

Gracey's father, William Gracey, 58, was one of three Sanford men who were killed when a portion of the second floor west wall was toppled by a gust of wind shortly before 5 p.m.

on Aug. 13. Nathaniel Balley, 31, of 6121/2 Cypress Ave., and Vincent Foster, 29, of 1120 W. 14th St., also were killed in the collapse. Three other men who were caught by the falling debris were injured.

Robert Walton, 34, 1840 Jerry Ave., Sanford; Darrell Jackson, 29, 102 Scott Drive, Sanford; and Charley Jones, 26, 1726 W. 14th., Sanford were hospitalized for about a week following the collapse.

A Sanford police investigation of the incident ruled that the collapse was caused by a strong gust of wind.

Three Housing Projects OK'd

By MICHEAL BEHA Herald Staff Writer

Rejection was no easier to take the second time around for a group of Forest City residents who oppose changes in the zoning of a portion of the Foxwood Planned Unit Development.

Seminole County commissioners Tuesday voted for the second time to grant a zoning change on two parcels within the PUD. They voted on Aug. 17 to allow 38 condominiums to be built on a 5.37-acre site at a density of nine per acre. The following week they rescinded that motion to give residents of the development an opportunity to protest.

And protest they did. More than 40 residents showed up at a hearing this week to object to the planned changes. They said the original PUD agreement, which called for using the 5.37-acre tract for church or educational use and another 5.6acre parcel for general office use cannot be changed.

Commission action on the Forwood case and three others clears the way for construction of 348 residential units in the county.

Attorney Jim Willard, representing American Pioneer Insurance Co., said PUD agreements are altered all the time. He said the Foxwood PUD agreement was changed previously to include a day care center.

But that change did not affect the density of the development, Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff said. He said county policy has never been to allow developers to increase the density within a PUD

Willard argued that American Pioneer should be allowed to change the designation because it was not the original development firm in the PUD.

"Times change and markets change as the needs of the people who buy and sell real estate change," Willard said.

Commissioners voted 3-2 to allow the zoning

Robert G. "Bud" Feather, Robert Sturm and Barbara Christensen cast votes in favor of the change with Kirchhoff and Sandra Glenn voting against it.

Feather said he wanted to ensure that the area would not be changed someday to commercial

Commissioners also took action affecting four other developments this week. A zoning change to allow construction of duplex houses in Bear Gully Planned Unit Development

The change creates a Planned Unit Development for Jim Mack Inc., of Orlando on a 35-acre parcel along Bear Gulley and Howell Branch roads in Goldenrod.

Mack plans to build 140 duplexes on the property and hopes to sell them for $55,000 to $65,000 each. County land management officials had recommended the plan be denied because a portion of the property is flood prone.

The site plan for the Aloma Park Planned Unit Development to be built along State Road 426 in Goldenrod also was approved.

The plan calls for construction of 84 duplex houses to be built on 14.84 acres. Another 7.43 acres in the PUD is set aside for office space and the remainder of the 28.75-acre site will be open space: The sale of Tract U in Sabal Point also was approved by commissioners. Sabal Point Properties President Walter Temple said the Magna Corp. of Orlando will develop the property. Temple said 186 condominiums and apartments will be built in the 15-acre tract adjacent to Sabal

Point Golf Course. Commissioners ordered a single-family residential development to remove a sales office from the property. David Meadows of Amberwood, a development along Dike and Dodd roads in Forest city, was told a sales building must be removed from the property. Meadows had approached commissioners seeking a waiver of drainage requirements for the development. But he said that problem had been taken care of and he would like to have a special exception to allow the sales building to stay at the location for the next four months. County ordinances do not allow a separate sales building to be located in a single-family residential development. They may be located in planned unit developments, which have several land uses.

Meadows told commissioners the sales office has operated at the location for some time without the proper zoning because the developer didn't know it was not in compliance.

How Many Will Come Out Election Day? 40 To 53% May Turn Out

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

Seminole Elections Supervisor Camilla Bruce, stung by the poor election turnouts for the primaries in September and October, is predicting a turnout of 40 to 53 percent of the county's 75,799 eligible voters in Tuesday's general election.

"I'm concerned that only 40 percent will turn out to vote," she said today, adding she hopes, however, the turnout will go as high as 53 percent, the average turnout at offpresidential years' elections.

"I thought averaging was as good a way as any to predict the election turnout," she said. "And this year has been a lulu."

About 20 percent of the voters turned out in Seminole County for the Sept. 7 primary and only 11 percent — the worst turnout in the state - at the Oct. 5 primary.

But Mrs. Bruce's office is doing a bustling business with absentee ballots. "About 1,100 absentees have been issued so far," she said. Persons may turn in absentee ballots up to the close of the polls at 7 p.m. on Tuesday. And absentees are available as late as Monday for those who are ill or confined to their homes, Mrs. Bruce said. Some 1,275 absentee ballots were turned in prior to the general election four years ago.

The turnout was 69 percent then, she said. By the Oct. 2 deadline for persons to register to vote in the Nov. 2 general election, 75,799 names were on the voter rolls in Seminole.

Some 38,357 persons designated themselves as Democrats, 31,273 said they are Republicans, 3,379 said they are independent, 2,687 said they are not in any party and 123 gave no indication of any kind.

Logic and accuracy tests of the ballot tabulating equipment for Tuesday's general election and city elections in Altarnonte Springs and Winter Springs will be conducted at Mrs. Bruce's courthouse annex office in Sanford at 3:30 p.m. Friday.

Representatives of the political parties, the press and public may view the testing, said Sandy Goard, Mrs. Bruce's office manager.

A lengthy ballot awaits the voters Tuesday. They will choose between Lawton Chiles, D-Lakeland, the incumbent, and Van B. Poole, Republican, for the U.S. Senate; state Rep. Dick Batchelor, D-Orlando, and U.S. Rep. Bill McCollum, R-Altamonte Springs, the incumbert for the U.S. Course of Represent tatives; Gov. Bob Graham and Lt. Gov. Wayne Mixson, Democrats and incumbents, and U.S. Rep. L.A. "Skip" Bafalis and Leo Callahan, Republicans, for governor and lieutenant governor; Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner, Democrat and incumbent, and Barbara Lindsey, Republican, for commissioner of agriculture. Candidates in six legislative races will be considered by various county voters, including: John Vogt, Democrat incumbent, and state Rep. Jason Steele, state Senate, District 17; Florence Hunter, Democrat, and state Sen. Richard Langley, incumbent, state Senate, District II: State Rep. Robert Hattaway, Democrat, and Sen. Toni Jennings, Republican Incumbent, state Senate, District 15; Betty D. Smith, Democrat, and Art Grindle, Republican, state House of Representatives, District 35; Winter Springs Mayor Troy Piland, Democrat, and Carl Selph, Republican, state House of Representatives, District 34; Glenn Turner, Democrat, and state Rep. Tom Drage, Republican incumbent, state House of Representatives, District 36.

All voters in the county will choose between Edward M. Jackson and Jere E. Lober for circuit judge of the 18th Judicial Circuit, Group 3, non-partisan; Jean Bryant and Kenneth Patrick, the Board of Education, District 5, non partisan; and Bob Sturm, Republican incumbent, and Bob French, Democrat, County Commission, District 2.

In addition, the voters will decide whether Appeal Court Judges Joe A. Cowart Jr. and James C. Dauksch, should be retained in of-

Two proposed state constitutional amendments are also on the ballot; one to construe the state search and seizure law in conformity with decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court and the second to permit judges to deny bond to persons charged with crimes if the judge believes the person will commit another crime while out on bond or not show up for trial if he is allowed to post bond.

Smith, Grindle Vie For House District 35 Job

The only wholly contained legislative district within Seminole County since reapportionment is District 35 in the Florida House of Representatives.

Some 36 Seminole precincts are included within this district, represented by State Rep. Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, for the past eight years.

Hattaway is giving up the seat in a quest for a State Senate And Bettye Smith of Sanford, a Democrat, and Art Grindle,

R-Altamonte Springs, are running for the seat. Mrs. Smith, 50, a resident of Sanford for the past 24 years, is the mother of three sons, and founder of the Seminole County Task Force on Sexual Abuse of Children. Married to Dr. Robert Smith, a Sanford physician, she went back to school after her sons were grown up, acquiring an associate degree from Seminole Community College, a bachelor's degree from the University of Central Florida and a master's degree from the University of Florida at Gainesville.

After receiving her master's degree, she also completed the Seminole Community College police minimum standards course and is a certified police officer.

Grindle, 59, is a native of Chicago. He served in the quartermaster corps during World War II. He holds a PhD from Sussex College of Technology in Sussex, England, a master's degree in management from Rollins College and a law degree from LaSaile Law School.

Fingerprint Discovered

On Tainted Tylenol Bottle

CHICAGO (UPI) — The FBI found a full fingerprint on the box of the eighth known bottle of cyanide-laced Tylenol, but the woman who turned it in to authorities said she had opened the package out of curiosity. "I opened the capsule," said Linda Morgan, the socalled mystery woman who gave the latest bottle of tainted Extra-Strength Tylenol capsules to police. Seven people died when they took pills from five poisoned bottles. Three other tainted bottles were discovered in laboratory testing.

Elsewhere, copycat poisonings of items ranging from fruit juices, soft drinks and miniature candy bars to capsules of Extra Strength Excedrin and Anacin and eyedrops swept the nation.

In Philadelphia, police ruled University of Pennsylvania graduate student William Pascual, 26, committed suicide in April by swallowing a Tylenol capsule containing cyanide.

Voluntary Social Security?

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A Republican campaign fund-raising letter, blaming Democrats for burdening Social Security with "pet social welfare programs," raises the possible option of making the system voluntary to keep it affoat.

Unless Social Security is overhauled soon, the "thousands of dollars you have been forced to contribute to the system over the years will be lost forever," says the letter signed by Rep. Guy Yander Jagt of Michigan, chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee.

The letter enclosed ballots to be sent to President Reagan's National Commission on Social Security Reform, which expects to write its report next month on recommendations to keep the cash-short system solvent. Donors were asked to mark one of three op-

Casselberry Businessman Charged With Arson

By TENLYARBOROUGH Herald Staff Writer

A Casselberry bedding company owner was being held in the Seminole County jail today on charges that he paid another man to set fire to a competitor's store, causing about $250,000

Leroy Carr Best, 53, of 3 Quail Pond Road, Casselberry, was being held on $8,000 bond following his arrest at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday on a charge of second-degree arson, jail officials

According to Longwood police, a man whom they identified as Best, owner of Best Bedding Company in the Seminole Plaza Shopping Center, U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry, conspired with an unidentified man and paid him $700 to set fire to the Mr. Mattress company, 160 N. U.S. 17-92, Longwood, at about 1:03 a.m., April 2.

The fire, fueled by gasoline and diesel fuel, caused about $250,000 damage to the mattress company and resulted in minor injuries to Longwood firefighter Jim Kozan as he battled the blaze, fire officials said.

Detective Jack Bisland, who is handling the police investigation of the case, could not be reached for comment today concerning the involvement of Best's alleged conspirator in the fire.

Meanwhile, Sanford fire investigators are continuing their investigation of an early morning fire which broke out at a Sanford grocery store today and is believed to be arson.

Police said the fire broke out at about 3 a.m. at Ritchey's Grocery Store, 620 Cypress Ave., causing fire and smoke damage to the store and smoke damage to two apartments above the store.

Investigators said they believe the fire, which started in the southeast corner of the store, was deliberately set.

The store is operated by James Ritchey, 56, of Sanford, who leases the building from Neville Harden, 62, of Sanford. The two upstairs apartments are rented from Harden by George Dye, 48, and Claude Hudson, police said. No injuries were reported in the incident.

FERN PARK MAN HELD

A 22-year-old Fern Park man was being held in the Seminole County jail today on $5,000 bond following his arrest at 12:50 a.m. Thursday after two mentold deputies he pointed a sawedoff shotgun at them in a Fern Park bar.

Steven Scott Travaglini, of 2013 Fern Park Boulevard, has been charged with assault with a deadly weapon and possession of a short-barreled shotgun, jail officials said.

Deputies arrested Travaglini after Jessie Wheeler, 31, of 86 William Clark Court, Sanford, and David John Longstaff, 19, of 896 Clayton Way, Altamonte Springs, told them that a man, whom they identified as Travaglini, entered the Fern Park Station bar along Fernwood Boulevard in Fern Park and pointed a loaded sawed-off shotgun at them while they were watching the World Series.

The men told the deputies that the armed man then left the bar and was last seen riding as a passenger in a van. Deputies arrested Travaglini and after being given permission to search the van belonging to Thomas Petynia, deputies said they discovered the sawed-off shotgun under a bed in the vehicle. Petynia told deputies he picked Travaglini up as a hitchhiker near the bar.

CABBIE STABBED, ROBBED

A Casselberry man was stabbed and robbed Saturday by two men he had driven in his cab to a Union Park address.

Andre Poliakoff, 25, of Howell Branch Road, was listed in critical but stable condition this morning at Orlando General Hospital with stab wounds in the neck and back.

Poliakoff told Orange County sheriff's deputies that he picked up two fares on South Orange Blossom Trail about 4:30 a.m. and took them to Grayson Street. Upon arrival, one of the men stabbed Poliakoff in the right side of the neck and demanded his wallet, deputies said.

Poliakoff complied, then tried to get out of the cab, but was stabbed in the back.

Unemployment Payments Set Record

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A record 4,662,000 American workers received unemployment checks during the week ended Oct. 9, the government reported today, with increased new claims indicating continued double-digit unemployment.

The figure surpassed a record government pay out to unemployed workers that has stood for more than seven years.

The Labor Department's Employment and Training Administration also said initial claims for jobless benefits rose by 3,000 in the 1975.

week ended Oct. 16 to 687,000 in seasonally adjusted figures.

The data was the last regarding the unemployment picture before next Tuesday's congressional elections. The September overall unemployment rate was a post-Depression high of 10.1 percent. October figures will be released Nov. 5.

Department spokesman Steve McManus said the 4,662,000 total recipients of unemployment checks eclipsed by 1,000 the old record of 4,661,000 set during the week ended May 31, damage was incurred by Perkins vehicle, police said. Both men were treated at the scene for minor injuries suffered in the crash, police added.

Attorney Joseph Ball told reporters outside the Terminal Island federal prison Wednesday that paperwork has delayed DeLorean's release the past 10 days but that securing the $5 million bail would be completed Friday.

Asked why a man of DeLorean's immense wealth, estimated at $28 million, would have trouble posting bail, Ball sald. "Even if you are president of General Motors, you'd have a hard time raising $5 million."

Federal grand jury indictments against DeLorean, the former General Motors boy wonder who quit his post as vice president to build his gleaming, stainless steel, gull-wing sports car, were expected this Friday, when two codefendants are due in court. Delorean is due in court Monday.

The silver-haired DeLorean was arrested Oct. 19 by FBI agents who said he was attempting to raise millions of dollars through an illegal drug operation to save his failing sports car company in Northern Ireland, which the British government ordered closed hours before DeLorean's arrest.

Floridians for Reconsidering the Line (FRL), under the leadership of Lou Childers, has set an organizational meeting at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the Geneva Community Center.

Mrs. Childers said the alm of the group will be to research legal avenues and trying to stop FP&L from building the seek funds for a legal battle over the location of the corridor.

Meanwhile, a meeting has been scheduled between FP&L officials and any concerned citizen for 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Seminole County Agricultural Center to try to choose the best route through Geneva.

The state Cabinet is expected to consider the powerline route at a Nov. 16 meeting in Tallahassee.

Seminole County commissioners are also considering an appeal of the Cabinet's Oct. 6 decision which ordered PAPI to choose a western route around Geneva. Commissioners and the citizens had sought an eastern alternative through Volusia or Brevard counties.

Day Treatment Centers Recommended

The Seminole County Mental Health Center Inc. needs to aggressively seek community alternative treatment centers for the chronically mentally ill, a review team said.

A review team from state and district offices of the state Health and Rehabilitative Services department, the Community Mental Health Board of Central Florida, and the Metropolitan Alcoholism Council toured the center's facilities Tuesday and Wednesday.

Instead of sending chronically ill patients to hospitals, day treatment centers and crisis centers should be established, the review team said.

Dr. George Lindenfeld, executive director of the health center, said the local group is negotiating with mental health officials in Orange County to share such facilities there.

The review also recommended increased efforts in the area of public relations with other county agencies and within the

Orlando Police Looking For 2 Of Stano's Victims

ORLANDO UPI - Confessed murderer Gerald Eugene Stano, who has admitted killing 33 women between 1973 and 1980, was escorted to Orange County Wednesday where he claims to have dumped the bodies of two of his victims.

Detectives said no evidence of a body was found at either location during brief searches. Investigators were to return to the areas today to search for clues that would prove a body had been dumped there, said Orange County Sheriff's Capt. John Guemple.

Stano told detectives he picked up a young woman in downtown Orlando, killed her and dumped her body near State Road 436 and East Colonial Drive.

In the second case, Stano said he picked up a woman on South Orange Blossom Trail, killed her and left her body near Orlando International Airport.

Court Reviews Amendment

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)-For the second time in a week, Florida Supreme Court justices are considering whether a proposed constitutional amendment on next Tuesday's ballot is summarized accurately.

The 1st District Court of Appeal late Wednesday certified for immediate consideration by the state's highest court an appeal challenging Amendment Two. which would change the state's policy on the admission of improperly obtained evidence by tying it to the federal government's.

The state Constitution now bars the use of tainted evidence but there is a growing trend in the federal courts to allow its use if it was obtained in "good faith." Passage of the amendment would adopt the federal position.

Last week, the Supreme Court struck Amendment One from the ballot on the grounds that its summary was misleading. That amendment would have cleared the way for statewide elected officials and legislators to become lobbyists immediately upon leaving office ir..tead of waiting two years as now required.

The suit challenging Amendment Two contends that the ballot language describing its effects also is misleading in that it does not make clear that the rights of criminal defendants could be radically changed. In addition, the suit claims, the tying of the state's policy to that of the federal government would be an improper delegation of state authority.

DER: No More Money For Clean Up

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

The State Department of Environmental Regulation (DER) has turned down requests from a chemical waste company for more time to repay a $184,000 loan to clean up its former chemical waste storage site in Sanford.

Douglas MacLaughlin, DER attorney, today said Arthur Grier of Resource Conservation and Recovery Inc., formerly City Chemicals Co., Forsythe Road, Orlando, was notified of the decision Tuesday.

And MacLaughlin said if the state agency hasn't received the first weekly payment of $1,000 from the Orlando firm by Nov. 5 on its state loan, DER will go to court to force

As far as the Orlando firm's request to borrow another $50,000 from the state's Hazardous Waste Trust Fund, a letter to Grier from Robert McVety, head of DER's hazardous waste section, said the state is not required to loan that money. Seminole Circuit Court Judge Kenneth Leffler ordered the state to loan $170,000 to Grier's firm to speed up removal of 3,264 leaking and rusting drums of waste chemicals which had been stored at the two-acre site off Airport Boulevard and Jewett Lane in Sanford for more than a year.

The $170,000 loan has grown to $184,000 with the inclusion of interest at the rate of 18 percent annually, DER attorney John Bottcher said last week.

The Orlando chemical company is still working to close the site, conducting soil and water tests to make sure the area was not damaged by chemicals from the leaking drums.

The firm has estimated the costs of finishing the clean-up at $50,000, the amount it has requested in state funds.

Repayment of the old loan was supposed to have begun at the rate of $1,000 per week for 12 weeks beginning Aug. 17; $1,500 per week for the next four weeks; $2,000 per week for the next seven weeks and $4,000 per week thereafter until the loan was

MacLaughlin said no repayments have been made and DER saw no reason to believe that an extension on payment until March, 1983 would help the situation at all.

Bottcher said that the Sanford site was no longer considered an immiment hazard when the drums of waste chemicals were removed adding that there's no indication any permanent damage has been done to the environment there.

"Our big concern was the drums sitting there rusting away What is left at the site now are the chemicals that leaked from the drums or were spilled on the ground and leached into the soil," he said.

Bottcher added, however, there's no way of knowing if the soil or water supply have been contaminated until chemical analyses are done. That work is the company's responsibility,

The chemical storage facility was found by Sanford officials in Nov., 1980. After court action in a combined suit filed by the city of Sanford and DER, removal of the chemicals was ordered by Leffler one year later.

Grindle has his own firm dealing in real estate properties and commercial investments, an advertising agency and an auctioneering and liquidating firm.

He also was an adjunct professor at Rollins, the Florida Institute of Technology and Nova University.

He and his wife, Phyllis, have three daughters and one son. Mrs. Smith sees the greatest problem facing the 1983 Legislature as "finding the money to implement legislation already in place without breaking the backs of the taxpayers.

"It's crucial," she said, "that when legislation is passed that the state also provide the funding necessary for its implementation so that this burden is not passed on to local government and thus local taxpayers.

"Anytime the state government mandates a program, it should also provide the funding," Mrs. Smith said.

Grindle said he believes the greatest problem the Legislature will have to contend with next year is growth although many other problems must be addressed too.

Looking toward the 1983 session, Mrs. Smith said she is studying the issue of toxic waste disposal. "Rather than being puntive toward the collectors of chemical waste, something should be done to give incentives for cleanups," she said. Mrs. Smith said it is critical to the environment and quality

Violence Hits Nation's Young People Hardest

NEW YORK (UPI) - Violence is the nation's No. 1 health problem with people between the ages of 15 and 24 the most affected, the U.S. surgeon general says.

Dr. C. Everett Koop, speaking Tuesday at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics, said family financial problems, isolation and television often lead to violence.

Violence in all its forms - from murder to child and wife beating - must be fought, he said, zeroing in on the age group most decimated by violent acts, the 15-to 24-year-old age group.

In that age group, murders, suicides and motor vehicle deaths cause a loss of "inillions of years of life," Koop said. More than 15,000 are killed in car crashes each year. Suicide is the third leading cause of death among young males and the fourth among young females.

Koop said no one knows why violence has grown into the nation's biggest health problem but he tied some of it to the recession. He alerted the pediatricians to a possible rise in violence in families suffering financial stress. Joblessness, studies show, often cause an increase in child or spouse abuse.

Families at high risk for violence were said also to lack strong friendships with other families. The isolated families also have trouble outside the home.

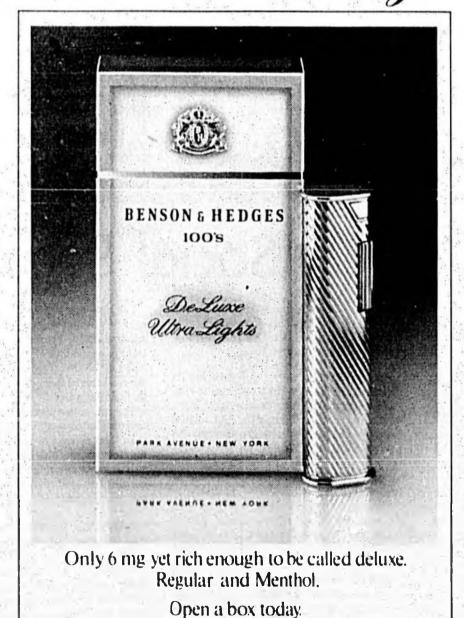

When they identify patients predisposed to violence, Koop said the pediatricians should treat and refer them to

He said pediatricians should advise families to "selfcensor" the violence on television and in the movies.

Children's excessive viewing of violence on television -18,000 murders by the time they are 18 — "desensitizes" them to violence. Some won't even step in to protect the victim when an attack occurs in real life, Koop said.

Remembering The Missile Crisis Myth

Myths are made by men but magnified by time. That is worth remembering in October, the 20th anniversary of the Cuban missile crisis.

What is even more important to remember is that historical "lessons" spun from political mythology are inherently misleading and unworthy guides to future conduct.

The popular version of the Cold War epic known as the Cuban missile crisis has Nikita Khrushchev blinking after a long, sobering stare down the barrel of the Kennedy cannon.

Yes, the Soviets agreed to remove the medium and intermediate range nuclear missiles they had placed in Cuba. But the still secret agreement that ended the missile crisis almost surely included at least a tacit U.S. promise to dismantle the Jupiter missiles then deployed in Turkey.

Far worse, from the American standpoint, Khrushchev extracted a U.S. promise to leave Fidel Castro inviolate and, in effect, to guarantee a Soviet base in the Western Hemisphere.

What price has been paid, and is yet to be paid, for that tragically ill-advised pledge? Cuban troops prop up pro-Soviet dictatorships at strategic points on the African continent. Cuban arms and training fuel the Marxist insurgencies now battering Central America.

And Cuba itself has long since become host to Soviet combat troops, and the recipient of a treasure trove of Soviet weaponry.

How will the Kennedy-Khrushchev deal look a few years hence if, say, the Soviets exploit their Cuban base to subvert vulnerable Mexico? Would the Marxist Sandinistas in Nicaragua be busy today forging a pro-Soviet, totalitarian state if Kennedy had not effectively guaranteed the Havana-Moscow link?

Myth has it that the Cuban missile crisis brought the super-powers to the brink of nuclear war. In fact, the Soviets would have been insane to push the nuclear button, outgunned as they were by 6-1 in ballistic missiles and 3-1 in long-range

As for the American side, Gen. Maxwell Taylor--a former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and President Kennedy's principal military adviser during the Cuban missile crisis-wrote recently, "During the (crisis) discussions I never heard an expression of fear of nuclear escalation on the part of my colleagues.

"If at any time we were sitting on the edge of Armageddon, as non-participants have sometimes alleged, we were too unobservant to

The Cuban missile crisis may still look like a victory compared to the disgraceful debacles in Vietnam and Iran. But it was never more than a

The development and proliferation of nuclear armed ballistic missile submarines has long since diluted the strategic value of placing land-based missiles on an adversary's doorstep.

Meanwhile, the malignant growth of Cuba as a Soviet surrogate and arms depot has continued uninterrupted and unchallengeable thanks to the Kennedy-Khrushchev "understandings."

Viewing the Cuban missile crisis as a triumph of American resolve and diplomacy helped breed the complacency that permitted the Soviets to move from inferiority to parity to absolute superiority in intercontinental ballistic missiles, still the most decisive weapons in the nuclear

If the Soviets could extract the concessions they obtained in 1962 despite overwhelming U.S. nuclear superiority and total American domination of the Caribbean, what might some future confrontation yield?

Job Revolution Predicted

The complexity of forces bearing on the nation's economy is such that a comprehensive understanding is very difficult to attain. Nevertheless, certain underlying forces can be identified.

One of these is technological change. An editorial in Challenge, a magazine of economic affairs, recently commented that: "We are facing an ongoing technological revolution as significant as the Industrial Revolution of the 18th century."

Thirty years ago, a third of the nation's employees were in services, finance and wholesale and retail trade. Now, roughly half are in the services sector. The American people continue to use the goods that come from manufacturing, but an ever higher percentage of these goods are purchased from foreign producers. The jobs that made possible the American-produced items have

The situation is complicated by the fact that American manufacturers, in an effort to preserve a share of the world's industrial production, are being driven to introduce more and more automatic machinery. In the years ahead, completely automated factories will replace many of the plants now crowded with workers.

Challenge speculates that "It may well be that labor will be turned out of the factories in the 1980s and 1990s, much as farmers fled the land in the decades following the Second

If this speculation is borne out by events, how will the displaced industrial workers be employed? One truth is central: the United States cannot afford to have a large pool of permanently unemployed workers. The system has to work for everyone. That's been the great success of the free enterprise

The situation is further complicated by the fact that foreign companies have a huge share of the so-called brain industries. If this trend continues, it could spell disaster for the American worker now being displaced from

At the moment, the United States lacks a national policy with respect to these basic problems. The talk in Congress and the media is largely of restarting old production lines and rehiring of workers who have lost their jobs in the recession. This may be wishful thinking. Certainly, it ignores the transformation in manufacturing that is taking place in this country.

These problems constitute a crisis that is much more significant than most of the crises that are occurring on the international political scene. The loss of industrial strength in the United States undermines the overall strength of our society and nation.

Nation's Farms Falling

WYMORE, Neb. (NEA) - In theory, Laverne Meints is a millionaire. In fact, the land, livestock, equipment and personal property on his cattle and grain farm probably would be valued at about $2 millisn on a financial statement.

But the 1,500 acres of land which Meints farins accounts for most of that supposed wealth, and he has no interest in selling the farm because that drastic action would deprive him of his vocation, his career and his

Moreover, the value of Meints' land has plummeted in recent months, He estimates that his outstanding loans equal a perilously high 50 percent of his net worth and this year - as in recent years - he probably will be forced to sell his crops for less money than it cost to produce them.

"I consider myself bankrupt," says

Dan Hawkins, a fifth-generation farmer who raises hogs, cattle, wheat and mile on a 680-acre farm near this southeastern Nebraska community, faces similar difficulties: "Two years ago, I was worth about $500,000. If they sold me out today, they'd be lucky to get $100,000."

Referring to the growing discontent among farmers here and elsewhere in the country, Hawkins warns that "there's a lot of pressure building in the pot and it's getting ready to Meints and Hawkins are viewed by some local residents as malcontents intent upon formenting discord. Indeed, they are members of a farmers' group generally believed to have been responsible for painting "Foreclosure Stinks" on a vacant storefront here, then dumping a foul-smelling liquid into the night deposit vaults of local banks to emphasize their points.

But that vandalism is symptomatic of the frustration mounting among the nation's farmers, whose 1982 net income is projected by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to be lower (after adjustment for inflation) than at any time since the Depression year of 1933.

Even that estimate may be optimistic because it assumes that corn prices will range from $2.35 to $2.55 per bushel by the end of the year, a level requiring an improbable increase from current prices averaging less than $2.25 per bushel.

Earnings for the typical farmer in 1980 and 1981 were 40 percent lower than average farm income during the 1970s and the lowest for any two consecutive years since 1959 and 1960. The USDA projections suggest that earnings undoubtedly will plunge in 1982 for the third consecutive year.

Farmland values have started to drop for the first time in three decades, with declines averaging 15 percent in Ohio, 13 percent in Indiana and 9 percent in Illinois.

Land valuation is crucial because it is the credit base on which farmers borrow to continue operating. In many cases, farmers already heavily in debt find that those proceeds from one year's production provide only collateral for the following year's crop with net losses registered in both years.

Export sales have been crucial to the country's agricultural economy, but the USDA predicts that the value of farm exports will total only about $40.5 billion this year, a decline of $3.3 billion compared with last

Even those who decide not to sell their crops immediately at a loss and elect instead to store them in the hope of receiving a higher price in the future face a money-losing

Reports From The Front

Remember the election in El Salvador? Come on now, don't give up so easily. Give it a little more thought. After all, it was only last March.

March 28, to be precise—the election of a constituent assembly that was to be the watershed of the Salvadoran civil war.

This was the election in which the tortured Salvadoran people were at long lest going to be able to take their stand-behind the U.S.backed government of military leaders and their civilian political allies or with the moderate-to-very-far-left rebel coalition conducting a guerrilla war in the countryside. This was the election that brought an amazing outpouring of voters, that denied a majority to the American-favored Christian Democrats, that put into power a right-wing coalition led by a murderously fanatic former officer ousted by Salvadoran colonels who found his excesses too much over for their. tough stomachs, that the U.S. State Department nevertheless trumpeted as a triumph for democracy and a shattering defeat for the rebels making negotiation of a settlement unnecessary.

And this was the election that prompted Ronalds Reagan a few weeks later to exult to the British parliament that, given the chance to choose the kind of government they wanted, Salvadorans in unprecedented numbers had "braved ambush and gunfire, trudging miles to vote for freedom." More, they had exposed the opposition for what it was-not Salvadoran freedom fighters, but Cuban-backed guerrillas. Remember now?

There will be more on that election in a later column, but right now let's catch up on developments since the ballots were counted. All hasn't been dead quiet on the Salvadoran front. To bring you up to date:

"Clear-cut" evidence that Salvadoran police have been torturing civilians brought a warning from a disturbed Washington that continuing the practice could have "major repercussions" in the United States (Washington Post, July 26.)

According to the U.S. Embassy in San Salvador, political slayings increased sharply after the Reagan administration certified to Congress that the Salvadoran regime was making progress in protecting human rights (New York Times, Aug. 29).

The head of the Salvadoran Roman Catholic Church blamed government security forces and civilian militia for most of the recent political killings (Washington Post, Aug. 23).

Nearly 50 percent of El Salvador, including major provincial cities, was blacked out by sabotage of power installations (UPI, Sept.

With the situation for the U.S.-backed regime continuing to deteriorate, the administration "adroitly backtracked on previous positions."

Good, Bad News On Social Security

WASHINGTON - Everyone agrees that the Social Security System is in trouble, and that sooner or later Congress must make the harddecisions on how best to keep it affoat. With its customary political timidity, Congress decided on "later" - meaning after next week's elections.

Lame duck sessions have a way of infusing courage and decisiveness into our congressional Hamlets. So If the subject of Social Security comes up, maybe the debate will be less fogged in political and emotional rhetoric than it was when re-election was the chief concern.

Congress will have plenty of ammunition for its debates on the touchy subject. The long-awaited recommendations of the National Commission on Social Security Reform might be in hand when the lame duck session convenes.

There will also be another nonpartisan study available to the lawmakers, prepared by the Congressional Budget Office. My associate Vicki Warren has seen a draft of the CBO report, and it contains both good and bad

The good news is that, despite the often hysterical prophesies of Henny Pennys in and out of Congress, the Social Security sky is not in imminent danger of falling. The bad news is that the system does need fixing, and no matter what curative action Congress and the administration decide on, a lot of people are going to be unhappy.

CBO draft report: -CBO estimates that the Social Security

Trust Fund will need $15 billion in additional revenue for fiscal 1984, which begins next Oct. 1. It will need an additional $3 billion in 1985. These are the sums necessary to keep the trust fund's reserves equal to 12 percent of its outlays, which is the minimim that will ensure timely payment of beneftis.

-Temporarily, the pension fund can borrow money from the medical and disability funds, which are currently in the black. This stopgap measure will start next month, but cannot be continued beyond Jan. 1 without congressional approval. CBO reckons that the pension fund deficits will decline when the 1985 and 1986 payroll tax increases take effect, and disappear entirely when the 1990 increase begins.

-Rising health care costs will put the Medicare-hospital trust fund in the red at about the time the pension fund is breaking even. The medical fund "faces a substantial and growing deficit, beginning in the relatively near future," CBO warns. And the pension and disability funds will still be "vulnerable to poor economic performance"

- that is, a recession - in the 1990s. -One option would be to transfer the entire Medicare program to the Treasury for financing out of general revenues. This would allow the payroll deductions that now go into

Here are the most important findings in the the hospital fund to be pumped into the pension and disability funds, keeping them in the black without either reducing benefits or further increasing payroll taxes.

> But this would add to overall federal budget deficits as health care costs continue to rise. -Aside from dumping its long-term loser. Medicare, in the Treasury's lap, Social Security's options for now are to raise the payroll taxes, cut benefits, or force every working American to join the system.

Congress will have to decide whether to trim the old folks' benefits - probably by cutting back on cost-of-living increases - or increase the younger generations' payroll taxes. The CBO report noted that the burden of reduced cost-of-lying increases would fall most heavily on the oldest Social Security recipients, whose benefits were calculated on lower, pre-inflation earnings.

The CBO report suggests a combination of the two options, "minimizing the impact as much as possible for particular groups." One relatively painless possibility would be to make a portion of Social Security pensions taxable above a certain income level. This would spare the lowest-income beneficiaries.

WATCH ON WASTE - The Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission recently bought a fancy minicomputer to keep track of its caseload. It already had a computer, but officials, described it as a

The new one is more of a Cadillac. It can schedule hearings, generate forms automatically, even analyze how staff attorneys spend their time. It cost $557,160, not counting $73,700 in rental fees while properly air-conditioned space was being prepared for its installation.

The rub is that there has been a dramatic decrease in occupational safety enforcement (and thus appeals to the commission) under the Reagan administration. There were 7,515 new cases in 1980, and only 988 this year. The current caseload could easily be handled by the old computer - or even by hand.

WARNING IGNORED?: On Thursday, Sept. 16 - only hours before the Israeli army allowed Christian Phalangists into the Palestinian refugee camps in West Beirut - a group of Arab ambassadors warned Assistant Secretary of State Nicholas Veliotis that a massacre of civilians was possible. The ambassadors were acting at the request of the Palestine Liberation Organization, which was depending on U.S. assurances that the refugees would be protected.

A State Department spokesman acknowledged that the meeting took place, but said, "We were monitoring the situation closely, and the first indication that something was wrong came on Friday morning." Evidently, the situation was not being monitored closely enough.

Three U.N. Soldiers Killed In Lebanon

United Press International

U.N. forces searched today for gunmen who ambushed a U.N. checkpoint in south Lebanon, killing three Irish soldiers, and U.S. envoy Morris Draper worked toward the withdrawal of all foreign troops from the country by year's end.

Sources sald Draper would first establish a Lebanese-Israeli committee to discuss military withdrawals and also discuss Gemayel's request for more U.S. Marines to join the tri-national peace-keeping force already in Beirut. Beirut news reports described a possible phased withdrawal of some 70,000 Israeli troops simultaneously with a complete pullout of 25,000 Syrian and another 10,000 Palestinian soldiers from central and northern Lebanon.

In southern Lebanon, unidentified gunmen shot to death three Irish soldiers in an ambush near Tibnine, in the border enclave controlled by the Israeli-backed militia of renegade Lebanese Maj. Saad Haddad.

Socialists Predict Victory

MADRID, Spain (UPI) — Spain stood on the brink of a possible historic switch to socialism today in the country's third general election since the death of dictator Francisco Franco seven years ago.

More than 8,000 candidates representing 63 parties, most of them miniscule, sought the votes of 26.6 million Spaniards for the 350 seats in congress and 208 in the senate.

Poils indicated the election could result in a landslide victory for the Spanish Socialist Workers' Party PSOE) in the first win for the left since before the 1936-39 Spanish civil war.

Armed forces and police were on maximum alert at military facilities, radio stations and other key installations to forestall any attempt to thwart the democratic process.

Richard M. Souza, 47, of 713 Laurel Way, Casselberry, died Monday at Orlando Naval Regional Hospital. Born Feb. 14, 1935, in Fall River, Mass., he moved to Casselberry from Portsmouth, R.I., in July 1982. He was a clerk and a member of St. Augustine's Catholic Church. He was a past

Interest Growing In Seminole City Elections

Three candidates have qualified to run in the Dec. 7 Casselberry city election and other prospective candidates have picked up qualifying papers, according to City Clerk Mary Hawthorne.

Mrs. Hawthorne said incumbent Councilmen Frank Schutte and Bill Grier and Democratic Party worker Richard Russo have qualified. Schutterls seeking a fourth term in office while Grier has served on the Council and in the mayor's office for a decade. Russo is making his first bid for elective office.

In addition to the Council seats, the mayor's office is also on the Dec. 7 ballot. Candidates for the mayor's office will seek the remaining year in the term of Mayor Owen Sheppard who has resigned effective Jan. 10. Former Councilman Charles Glascock announced his candidacy for mayor and said he will qualify for the office The others who have picked up papers have not said for which offices they are running in Casselberry. Those include: former mayor Gerald Christensen, former councilman Nathan Van Meter, Bertha Rines, Frank Stone, George Smith, Bill Clark, Valentino Zeek, Frank Turner, Jim Hill and Michael Bratman.

The candidate qualifying deadline is Nov. 5. Elections also are scheduled in Sanford, Lake Mary and Longwood on Dec. 7.

In Sanford where the candidate qualifying period is slated to close at noon Nov. 2, Patricia "Pat" Baxley, 36, co-owner of the Snack Shack restaurant and account executive with Southern Bell qualified today to oppose Commissioner Milton Smith. Smith has been serving the two years remaining in the term of John Morris who resigned.

Commissioner David Farr, the first candidate to qualify in Sanford, is unopposed for a second term.

In Lake Mary where the candidate qualifying period closes at noon Friday, the following candidates have qualified: Walter Sorenson challenged by Vic Olvera; Burt Perinchief and Josef C. Stern for the one year remaining in the term of Gene McDonald who resigned; Kenneth King for re-election to a second term; Charles Lytle for the one year remaining in the term of Olvera who resigned to run for mayor; Colin Keogh, James D. Stern and E. Russell Megonegal for the Council seat held by Dick Fess. Fess hasn't said whether he will run for re-

In Longwood where the candidate qualifying period closed Friday, Robert Daves is challenging four-term city commissioner J.R. Grant and former councilmen Larry Goldberg and Bill Mitchell are vying for the commission seat being vacated by Timothy O'Leary.

Red Is Violet, Blue Is Rose... And If You Don't Believe Me , I'll Break Your Nose

For the Seminole High football team in 1982, violets are red and roses are blue. Seminole's "Rose," Booster Club Membership and Publicity Chairperson Rose Futrell, is a little blue after watching the Tribe suffer through a dismal 0-6 season.

This week Rose should have reason to celebrate as the 'Noles have a chance at win number one in the "Basement Bowl" Friday night at Lake Brantley.

If the Seminoles don't win, maybe Hose can celebrate picking football games better than Fearless Fister and Sam "Crystal Ball" Cook.

Last week both Cook and myself picked nine of 12 games correctly and Cook still holds a four game lead with a record of 59-22-1 while my record is 55-

Futrell is looking to top the previous best week for a guest picker, which is held by Lake Mary's injured quarterback Kyle Frakes at 10-2. SEMINOLE AT LAKE BRANTLEY

If you don't think violets are red and roses are blue for these two teams just ask my good buddy Deacon Jones, who says, "Red is a violet and blue is a rose, and if you don't believe me, I'm going to break your nose." Call it the "Basement Bowl" or the "Blunder Bowl" but Seminole should come out on top, or bottom, whichever end is us -

Girls, Lyman Boys In 5 Star

By SAM COOK Herald Sports Editor

On paper.

Two of the most overused and overrated words in sports. On paper is a statistical breakdown of the strengths and weaknesses of a team. A forewarning of what is supposed to happen.

On paper, however, can't measure heart and it can't measure luck. Two qualities which sometimes turn losers

On paper Friday, the Lyman varsity boys and the Lake Brantley varsity girls should win the Five Star Conference Cross Country Meet at Seminole Community College.

Lyman's boys have a cumulative time of 80:56 for their top five runners led by junior Doug McBroom's 15:36 three mile. They have beaten their nearest competition - Daytona Beach Mainland - four times this year. "That doesn't mean we'll do it again Cross Country though," points out Lyman coach David Huggins. "They have four guys that run around our number two man (Brian Hunter, 15:56) and I'm sure their coach will have their fifth guy fired up Friday."

He may be fired up, but so are the Greyhounds, Once again, Lake Howell's Ken Cheeseman will be the rabbit for Lyman, Cheeseman's 15:65 generally sets the pace for the 'Hounds who put five runners in the top 10 while winning the county meet several weeks ago.

"Hunter has an injured thigh, but he's gutty so he'll be in there," said Huggins. "Carl Schmalmaack, Line Anthony and Marc Overbay have all been coming on."

And so have freshman Steve Howe and sophomore Wayne Straw. Howe has the fifth best time while Straw is just three seconds in arrears of Howe. Howe was the county middle school mile champion last spring. Lyman's junior varsity boys should romp. Jon Natalle, Jon Golnik, Pat Bell, Steve Grunsdorf and Todd Kehrer all run under 18 minutes which is too much for any of the Five Star teams.

On paper and on the course, the Lyman boys are just too tough.

The girls' paper prophecy is a paradox. Lake Brantley's girls have a cumulative time of 63:22, which is 1:21 better than Lyman and 1:59 better than Lake Howell.

Lyman, nevertheless, is ranked the number one team in the county while Lake Brantley is second and Howell

"I got a good laugh out of the newspaper," said Lyman coach Joe Laughlin about Tuesday's Seminole Prep. Poll. "I tell my girls that 'Lake Brantley

Negotiators Huddle For Final Rescue Attempt

NEW YORK (UPI) - NFL players and owners, facing the deepest valley in the league's 63-year history, look toward The Summit for rescue Saturday.

Wednesday the Players Association and the Management Council will resume Summit Hotel in perhaps one last effort to end the 38-day players' strike.

Kagel, a 73-year-old San Francisco attorney, presided over 12 days of stormy negotiations in Maryland before returning to the West Coast last Saturday. in a development Wednesday that may affect the tone of Saturday's session, the National Labor Relations Board charged the NFL strike was "caused and has been prolonged by the unfair labor practices" of league owners.

NLRB general counsel William Lubbers, in a complaint issued through the the owners proposing a new plan board's New York regional office against all 28 teams, said the Management Council "has failed and refused to bargain in good faith" with the Players Association.

A hearing has been set for Nov. 15 in New York. If the complaint is upheld in court, the striking players may be entitled to full back pay.

Lubbers listed 10 areas in which NFL owners and their Management Council bargaining team refused to bargain in good faith.

Among the areas cited were: -Refusal to bargain collectively on all compensation for players.

-Refusal to make any monetary proposals from mid-February to mid-

-Refusal to make significant counterproposals to union demands through early October.

-Disparaging the Players Association and its leadership.

Although progress was reported on non-economic issues during the apart on the major issue - the means of formal announcement.

Labor mediator Sam Kagel announced distributing the league's $1.6 billion offer to the union spread over five years.

The NFLPA has been calling for a negotiations Saturday at New York's wage scale tied to a central fund while the Management Council is adamant about maintaining the policy of individual player negotiations.

The talks resume amid reports the entire season may soon be canceled. On Tuesday, Garvey said he believed NFL owners were set to deliver an ultimatum to the players Friday to accept a new wage proposal or face cancellation of the

A spokesman for the Management Council discounted Garvey's comments but would not rule out the possibility of Saturday.

"As far as the alleged take it or leave it offer, that's totally untrue," said Jim Miller, director of information for the Management Council. "We're not in the practice of speculating on what we might or might not give."

As it stands now, each of the 28 teams has missed six games. The league said if there is a weekend settlement, the season may resume with a 12-game schedule instead of 16, as two of the lost dates can be made up.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle initially said a 12-game schedule was the cutoff point for a "credible" season. He has since taken a more open stance.

"But at that point it becomes important as to who you're playing," Rozelle said. "You've got to have a reasonable number of divisional games. If you go below that, it could be pretty chaotic. The fans will say you haven't got true divisional champions."

In New Orleans, several members of the Saints have applied for $500 loans from the Professional Athletes Federal Credit Union, an organization created to help players through the strike. Team player representative Russell Erxleben said 20 players attended a meeting at a sheetmetal workers assembly hall and several filled out loan applications. He did not identify the players.

Erxleben said the loans are not payable until the season renews and would be payable next year if the season

Klein left late Tuesday for a general managers' meeting in Tampa, Fla., and Chiles has been in and out of the city campaigning for political candidates.

Klein, who has refused comment on speculation about his choice, said he did not expect to name a manager until he returned from Tampa.

Cardinal broke loose for four runs in the top of the first by taking advantage of three Pookie Bears errors in the Inning. Randy "Bulldog" Merthie knocked in one run with a single and Lonnie Tucker chased home a run with a sacrifice fly. The other two runs were unearned.

John Westbrook's triple, a single by Grant and Bryce Baker's double quickly increased Cardinal's lead to 9-2 in the fourth. Cardinal put the game out of reach with three runs in the sixth and four in the seventh.

Merthie added three hits to the Cardinal attack while Bill Marion led the Pookie Bears with two hits. In other action Wednesday night, a three-run sixth inning boosted Session Time to a 74 victory over Express. Robbie Hanrahan had four hits and four RBI to lead Session Time while Brian Hanahan added three hits. Julius Griffin and Thand Brooks had three hits each for Express. Keith Gover and David Lively each pounded out four hits to lead The Barn to a 17-3 rout over Jaycees.

The Barn put the game on ice early with three runs in the first and four more in the second. Gover and Ted Miller each knocked in a run in both innings. Gover knocked in four runs for the night as The Barn collected 20 hits. Rob Simpson led Jaycees with three hits.

LAKE BUENA VISTA (UPI) - Calvin Peete, Bob Gilder and Wayne Levi lead the field for today's opening round of the $400,000 Walt Disney Classic, the last official stop on the 1982 PGA Tour.

The tournament, which is being played on Disney's Magnolia, Palm and Lake Buena Vista courses, will follow a format similar to the Bing Crosby Pro-Am. More than 320 amateurs will team with 132 professionals for the first three days, with the final 18 hotes Sunday for pros only.

In the past, the Disney Classic was a team tournament but it was changed this week to become the tour's final official-money contest.

Another change is that the 1983 tour will be an allexempt affair with the top 125 players on this season's earnings list eligible for all events in the next 12

Other top golfers entered are Jay Haas (No. 12), Andy Bean (No. 14), Scott Hoch (No. 15), Bobby Clampett (No. 16), and George Burns (No. 17), Larry Nelson (No. 21) and Ed Sneed (No. 25),

Hal Sutton, who became the biggest money-winning rookie ever after finishing in a tie for second at the Pensacola Open last week, is also entered. Curtis Strange, 10th on the money list and previously committed to the tournament, withdrew Monday because of medical reasons. In ail, 19 of the PGA tour's 43 tournament winners are entered. Peete is the only top-five money winner playing this week, but 20 of the top 33 money winners are entered in the Disney Classic.

Peete, winner of last week's Pensacola Open and fourth on the money-winning list, has already won $317,361 on the tour this year. Should be capture the $72,000 winner's purse, he would finish the year in second place behind Craig Stadler and in front of Raymond Floyd.

Bruins Praying For Park

With a teammate fighting for his life, the Boston Bruins must remember something as comparatively unimportant as a hockey game.

"Our biggest problem we have right now is Normand (Leveille) - he's on our minds constantly," veteran defenseman Brad Park said Wednesday night after the Bruins dropped a 4-1 decision to the Toronto Maple Leafs

The 19-year-old star forward remains in a coma at Vancouver General Hospital. The Bruins have lost three straight games since he collapsed with a brain hemorrhage between periods in a game against the Canucks.

"It's going to be hard to overcome what has happened but we have to learn to live with it," said Park. "Our team has character and despite the emotional strain on this club, the world is going to keep going around and we're going to have to start doing our job and join in."

Wayne Cashman agreed the Bruins must concentrate more on the ice.

"We've got to get over it, there's no doubt about that," said the team captain. "We have to realize that we're professional hockey players and have to get on with our jobs."

Boston coach Gerry Cheevers sald the absence of Leveille, the team's leading scorer, has deflated the

"The team has lost its intensity since the Vancouver game," he said. "We were further frustrated tonight by (Toronto netminder Mike) Palmateer. What do you expect? All we can do is ask the doctors to find out what Normand's condition is."

Peter Ihnacak scored twice and Palmateer was brilliant in turning back 37 shots to spark Toronto its first home victory over the Bruins since Nov. 27, 1976.

In other games, the New York Rangers hammered Calgary 7-4, Detroit defeated St. Louis 5-4, Winnipeg beat Los Angeles 7-3, Pittsburgh outshot Washington 7-5 and Edmonton tied Chicago 44.

Chandler Marks Panamanian

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UPI) - Jeff Chandler doesn't think anybody can seize his World Boxing Association bantamweight title - and he's got a brutal way of proving it.

After a five-month layoff, Chandler defended his title for the seventh time Wednesday night by stopping Miguel Iriarte in the ninth round. The scheduled 15rounder was halted following a punishing series of punches that bloodled the face of the Panamanian.

Chandler has been devastating in his weight class since winning the title from Julian Solis in 1980. He now says he's ready to take on anyone.

"I'm going to just keep knocking them out," he said. "And you know what? I am really starting to love it. "None of them belong in the same ring with me. I figure that I'm the best bantamweight in the world. The whole bantam weight division is just a bunch of clowns. I'm on top of the world all by myself." The Iriarte fight appeared to support his boast. After a sluggish start - which Chandler attributed to the long layoff - he took control. He kept Iriarte at bay with stinging labs, slowing the Panamanian with solid combinations to the body.

A valiant Iriarte, bloodled by a cut on the bridge of his nose in the sixth round, could do little but clinch. throwing only occassional punches.

In the ninth, Chandler stunned the WBA's top-ranked contender with a left-right combination. He then backed the challenger into his corner with a flurry of jabs and uppercuts before referee Joe Cortez stopped the fight at 2:20.

The victory raised the record of the Philadelphia fighter to 29-0-2 with 16 knockouts.

Overweight Johnson Is Key To Hawk NBA Hopes

ATLANTA (UPI) - Dominique Wilkins is billed as "the savior" who will carry Atlanta to an NBA division title, but the real key to the Hawks' early success may lie with oft-troubled guard Eddie Johnson.

Johnson, a two-time NBA all-star reported to training camp 35 pounds overweight, partly caused by the daily dosage of lithium he must take to combat a manic-depressive condition that resulted in serious emotional problems the last two years.

He's had trouble losing the weight while maintaining the lithium dosage and is still 10 pounds overweight with the Hawks opening the season Friday night at Detroit.

That has cost him some of the speed and quickness that earned him the nickname "Fast Eddle" and enabled him to average over 16 points a game in five this year. He needs an awful lot of work

NBA seasons. "I have been very much concerned," admitted Coach Kevin Laughery. "I think Eddie is the key to this whole ballclub. He has progressed over the last week but he's still carrying close to 10 extra pounds, which is a lot of weight.

"He hasn't been in the best shape and Loughery's system. he's our best guard. He's one of the be a good ballclub, he has to play like

After losing three straight to Philadelphia in the opening round of the NBA playoffs last season, the Hawks opened owner Ted Turner's purse strings and sent forward John Drew, who had fallen in disfavor with some Atlanta fans, and reserve guard Freeman Williams along with $1 million — to Utah for local hero Dominique Wilkins.

Pro Basketball

Wilkins, a 6-7 feaper who gave up his senior year at Georgia and became the third player taken in the NBA draft, will be immediately thrust into the starting lineup and counted on to replace Drew's 18.5 scoring average

There is little doubt Wilkins will get the points. But until he adapts to the defense required in the NBA, he may give up almost as many as he scores.

Loughery says Wilkins can handle the pressure placed on him with "the savior"

"He's not a prima donna-type kid," said Loughery. "That's a big plus, Butthere is an awful lot of pressure on him and he's actually only a senior in college. on his defense, but he's willing to learn."

The Hawks have two of the top 10 players chosen in the draft with 6-5 guard Keith Edmonson of Purdue their other first-round choice. But Edmonson missed three weeks of training camp as a holdout and is way behind learning

"The ideal thing with rookies is to premier guards in the league. For us to bring them along slowly," said Loughery. "But Dominique obviously has been thrown into the fire very quickly. Edmonson has really been hurt by the time he's missed. He's catching up, but we do things so much differently from the way he did in college."

> If Johnson doesn't get in shape quickly, however, Edmonson may be playing more than anticipated early in the

The other big off-season acquisition was veteran center George Johnson, who will team with 7-1 Tree Rollins and give the Hawks the two leading shotblockers in the league.

With 6-8 Dan Roundfield, one of the league's premier strong forwards, that gives the Hawks an imposing defensive front line.

"The intimidation factor causing people not to take the shots in the middle they normally take may be more important than the blocked shots themselves," said Loughery. "But we can't get satisfied and have breakdowns and depend on the shot-blocker to take care of them."

With the addition of Wilkins and Edmonson and Rollins' chronic knees in better shape than in years, Loughery plans to run more, but the team had problems executing the fastbreak during a 3-5 exhibition season. Wilkins wasn't much help on the defensive boards and the guard play broke down with Johnson slowed, Wes Matthews erratic, and Rory Sparrow more familiar with a set-up type

"I am more concerned about rebounding the ball to get the offense going than the guard play," said Loughery

Loughery said he thinks the Hawks, 42-40 last season despite being crippled by injuries, can challenge Milwaukee for the Central Division title "but I don't think it's going to happen right away."

"I think this team is going to be much stronger as the year goes on," he said. "The young players are a significant part of our game plan and Eddie Johnson is not at 100 percent yet.

"But if we can put it all together, we will beat a lot of teams."

OPTIMISTS HONOR SEMINOLES

Tom Deppen, Sanford Optimist Club member, presents Dion Jackson (left) and Ed Rinkavage with their player of the week awards. Jackson and Rinkavage play for Seminole which looks for its first win after six losses against winless Lake Brantley Friday at Brantiev's field. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

Bear Approaches Another Record

ATLANTA (UPI) - Bear Bryant is closing in on another record.

The Alabama mentor became the "winningest college football coach" last November when he won his 315th victory and surpassed Amos Alonzo Stagg. But that did not make him the "winningest football coach" since George Halas chalked up 326 victories during the years he directed the Chicago Bears.

With Alabama 6-1 so far this season, Bryant's total now stands at 321. If the Crimson Tide wins its last four regularseason games and whichever bowl it attends, Bryant and Halas would be tied.

But Bryant is fearful he may have to wait until next season, expected to be his last since he turns 70 next September, to reach that goal unless the Crimson Tide pulls itself out of its current doldrums.

Bryant came into this season believing he had one of his best teams, one that was a bonafide candidate for the national championship. But after being upset at

College Football

Tennessee and then beating Cincinnati only 21-3, he noted:

"I don't think we're a very welladjusted football team right now. We've got to be a better disciplined, tougher team if we want to win any more games."

The ninth-ranked Tide's four remaining games are with Mississippi State, 19th-ranked Florida, Southern Mississippi and 18th-ranked Auburn. In its last two games with Mississippi State, Alabama lost 6-3 at Jackson (site of this year's game) and won 13-10 at home and Southern Mississippi battled the Tide to a 13-13 tie last year.

"In looking at the remainder of our schedule, we had better get our helmets strapped on tightly," said Bryant. "There's no looking ahead to anyone from now on."...

Herschel Walker isn't the only current college player robbing Charles Alexander of the records he set when he played for Louisiana State.

In addition to Walker, who crased Alexander's Southeastern Conference career rushing and touchdown records. LSU quarterback Allen Risher has topped Alexander as the school's all-time total offense leader.

Alexander, in the four-year period from 1975-78, gained a total of 4,052 yards - all but 17 of those by rushing. Risher, a senior playing only his third season of college football, surpassed that figure by 95 yards last Saturday when he passed for 127 yards against South Carolina.

Risher, with five games to go, has thrown for 3,685 yards and run for 462 for a 4,147-yard total in two and a half is number one and we have to go after them!"

Lake Howell coach Tom Hammontree, nevertheless, defends his ranking system. "Last week Lyman and Lake Brantley didn't go head-to-head." he said. "So you have to base it on the last two times they met (DeLand Invitational and the Postal Run). Lyman won both of those."

In those meets, though, Lake Brantley missed Ellen Stern (number 2 runner) at DeLand and Kathryn Hayward (number 1) at the Postal.

"That doesn't matter," countered Hammontree. "You have to base the poll on what's there. Anyway, we'll find out Friday."

There shouldn't be too much out-ofcounty competition Friday eighter, although Laughlin feels DeLand will surprise some people. "They always gear for the Five Star," he said.

The county is very strong statewide too. Lyman ranks sixth in the 4A poll while Lake Brantley is seventh and Lake Howell ninth. The Patriots were as high as fourth before Stern and K. Hayward missed meets.

Hammontree's Silver Hawks have been on the heels of Brantley and Lyman most of the year. He hopes a little more hear, and luck will erase the on-paper

The Hawks' hopes may rest on a rejuvenated Kathy Compton. The blondehaired senior quit the team earlier this season, but reconsidered, was readmitted and has worked herself back to a 13:18 two mile. She ran over a minute better than that last year and Hammontree feels she's ready to retain her old form.

"If she does, it will be interesting," Hammontree said. "If she doesn't, we'll finish third again."

If Brantley has everyone in attendance, however, it might not matter. Stern, a victim of injuries and "senioritis" most of the year, seems to have finally put it together.

"She ran great at Lake Mary (last Saturday)," said Laughlin. Stem's time was 12:18, just 13 seconds behind K. Hayward's county best. Payne, Norton Pump Programs

What do basketball coaches Bill Payne and Mickey Norton have in common?

Both are trying to stimulate interest in their programs. Payne, the new Seminole Community College head coach after six years at Seminole High, has organized "The Raider Club." It was developed for fans interested in helping SCC's less than overflow cage attendance.

The Raiders have always fielded good teams with good local talent. Things should be no different this year as Payne has loads of area talent on his roster. Sanford's Keith Whitney leads a flashy guard group. He was a member of Payne's Final Four prep team of a few years

Interested Raider fans can join the club by calling Payne (SCC 323-1450, home 327-0894) or Raider Club President Don Hughes (834-3770).

Norton, meanwhile, is forming a brand-new basketball league for southeast Seminole County called the Inter-County Basketball Association (IBCA). It will have divisions for sixth, seventh and eighth grade boys and

"We're going to bring into focus a program for kids that is financially and competitively sound," said Norton about the venture. A 10-12 game schedule is planned with Christmas and post-season tournaments. Teams will also be sent to various state-wide tournaments. Norton is an incredible worker when it comes to basketball, softball or anything he jumps into it's not uncommon for him to take his groups to Georgia, North Carolina, New Jersey or New York. One year he even presented a clinic by Julius "Dr. J." Erving, a personal friend of his. Teams showing interest thus far have been Bill James' Altamonte Recreation Department squads, Tuskawilla, South Seminole and Oviedo school areas and the Winter Park Recreation Department.

Norton can be reached at 831-6786. An organizational ingeting is planned for Thursday, Nov. 4 at the Altamonte Civic Center at 7:30 p.m.

Speaking of basketball, Ken Patrick, the Central Florida Junior Olympics-AAU representative, has scheduled four top teams for the Lady Sunshine Basketball Classic at Lake Mary High on Nov. 26-27

The Florida Gators and the North Carolina Tar Heels

meet in the first round at 6:30 p.m. Friday. Florida State and Tennessee-Chattanooga go at it in game two at 8 p.m. Additional attractions will include a high school jamboree on Saturday and also a clinic by former Boston Celtic great Sam Jones, the master of the bank shot. His clinic runs from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. and is a must for anyone who has ever bounced a basketball. Patrick, by the way is running for the Seminole County School Board, and if you're concerned about the future of athletics and education in this area - a vote for Patrick Nov. 2 would do a lot to ease that concern.

The Sanford Recreation Department and the Optimist Club of Sanford's Junior Tennis Tournament will take place Nov. 20-21 at SCC.

This is the second year for the tournament which proved to be a big success last season. There will be four singles divisions (ages 12, 14, 16 and 18 and under) for boys and girls. The divisions are limited to 32 entrants.

Call the Sanford Rec. Department at 322-3161 (Ext. 261) for information. The entry fee is just $10, but the entries close after Monday, Nov. 15 at 5 p.m.:

There are still some spots open in the Swallows Open Charities Tournament which tees off Nov. 6 with the Sponsor's Tournament. The Swallows Open, which takes place on Nov. 11-12, is the second stop on the North Florida Winter Tour schedule.

Casselberry's red-hot Bob Erickson is just one of the top golfers who will participate. Also, Mayfair's Gary Wintz and Gene Jones along with 1981 champ Jim Dent will

The proceeds go to the Florida Sheriff's Youth Funds. Call Roland Lachapelle at 668-4209 to register.

Sanford's Issac Williams plays in the biggest game of his career this Saturday when the Florida State Seminoles travel to Miami to play the Hurricanes in the Orange

Williams, a first-team all-state guard at Seminole High last year, is holding down the second-team nose guard position for Bobby Bowden's Seminoles this year. Just converted to defense this year, assistant coach Jim Gladden looks for the 6-2, 235-pound strongman to challenge for a starting position later this season. FSU, 4-1, and Miami, 4-2, will be watched by scouts from the Orange, Tangerine, Gator bowls this Saturday.

Howard, 9, Places In U.S. Open; Academy Schedules Karate Meet

Brian Howard, a nine-year-old Sanford second-degree Brown Belt, placed second in fighting and third in forms in the U.S. Karate Open at the St. Petersburg Bayfront Center Saturday.

Howard is a student at the Sanford International Karate Academy (SIKA) at 501 E. First St. where he has worked out for two years.

"The U.S. Open is considered the most prestigious tournament in the United States," said International Karate instructor Jeff DeSantis. "After showing some excellent technique, he swept through the Black and Brown Belt Pee Wee Division." The tournament drew over 1,500 competitors.

Howard earlier this year placed third in fighting and forms at the Tampa Bay Open and also was first in fighting at the Mokokan Tournament of Champions in Sanford's International Karate Academy has consistently put competitors into state competitions, according to DeSantis.

On Dec. 4, the SIKA will join the East Coast Martial Arts Supply Company to host the First Central Florida Open Karate Championships at Seminole High

"We expect over 300 competitors from all over the state," said DeSantis. "This should prove to be an exciting day of karate competition in Sanford.'

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Friday, October 29, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY October 29, 1982

You could be rather fortunate this coming year in ventures and enterprises which are both unique and progressive. If something comes along which fits this description, it's best to not ignore it. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Financial conditions are likely to be a mixed bag for you today. Your fiscal resources could be drained in one area, then unexpectedly replenished. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the seasons following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Send $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth date. Send an additional $2 for the NEW Astro-Graph Matchmaker wheel and booklet. It reveals romantic combinations and com-patibilities for all signs. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Be assertive and a go-getter today, but don't be pushy to the point where you might offend. You can get what you want without stepping on toes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Beware of tendencies today to anticipate negative results before the action occurs. You could delay good things happening if you let this attitude prevail.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) The types you pal around with today will have a influence over what you spend. Seek companions who are budget-minded like yourself. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

HOUSE TONIGHT

A situation which adversely affects your career and earnings could take a sudden turn for the better today. It may occur in the late af-

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your temper could be on a short fuse today and there's a possibility that it might blow. Fortunately, you'll be equally as quick to forgive and forget. TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

Have all the terms prearranged if you have a financial involvement with pals today. This will avoid possibility of a misunderstanding later. GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

Though you're noted for being a quick thinker, your snap decisions today could cause problems. Take time to assess all the facts. CANCER (June 21-July 22)

Necessity is often the mother of invention. Today, you could be quite resourceful in working out revisions for methods which previously failed.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Try not to be too insistent that everything be done your way today. If you deny input from others, problems may not be resolved which could have been.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't let petty disagreements with your mate get blown out of proportion today. A dash of tolerance and understanding will quickly patch things up.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't be hesitant about discarding unworkable procedures today. This is the time to experiment in order to find new and better ways.

Difference In Fats Worries Reader, 71

DEAR DR. LAMB - I went to a doctor for an examination and he said my blood fat was extremely high, 400, when acceptable readings were between 30 and 150. He gave me a low-fat diet to follow which excluded all fats: I am not overweight and was feeling reasonably good for a weman of 71.

I was not able to understand from the doctor the difference between cholesterol and blood fat or what the high reading I had might cause if not corrected. He said my cholesterol was normal and my blood pressure was 120 over 62.

Could you please clarify for me the difference and give me some idea of what I can expect if I don't stay on the diet? I have lost 13 pounds in two months and now weigh 102. I'm 5 feet 1 with a small frame.

DEAR READER - Blood fats and triglycerides are the same thing. The fat in your blood is generally the same fat you see on meat. It is connected to cholesterol and a you. She named medications blood protein so it will be soluble in your blood.

Cholesterol is really a large molecule of alcohol, in chemical terms. It is a waxy substance usually released in your bile into your intestine. It is commonly found in animal products, but not in plants. The word means bile solids.

We are concerned about cholesterol because the fattycholesterol plaque that builds up in the wall of arteries is column as an excellent mostly cholesterol.

While high cholesterol levels are more often associated with fattycholesterol deposits in the arteries, there is a weak association with triglycerides low or normal and your wise to lower them.

To help you sort out the differences in fats I am sending you The Health Letter number 15-2. Understanding Your Cholesterol. Triglycerides and Other Blood Fats. Others can send 75 cent with a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I decided to write you regarding your column about diagnosing the dizzy patient. I think you did a grievous wrong to the lady who wrote she was on and you advised her to see a neurologist. For what? To get her brain operated on? Those medicines could all cause her dizziness. Or she could have a potassium deficiency from her diuretic. You should have suggested she see her doctor and ask to have her dosage adjusted ortry different medications.

DEAR READER - 1 have included your letter in my example of how people get confused in medicine. Your problem is you don't know as much as you think you do.

A neurologist does not do brain surgery. That would be a neurosurgeon. A neurologist (fats). If your cholesterol is is a dragnostician for problems that affect the triglycerides are high it is not function of the brain - one as important. But if your such problem is dizziness. triglycerides are high it is Then he will prescribe treatment on the basis of his Now that your weight is diagnosis. If the lady does down you may be able to have a problem with her liberalize your diet as long as medications, which you you don't regain weight. I'd certainly do not know, he will

Don't Replace Semi-Metallic Disc Pad With Organic Pad

Whether you use newly manufactured parts or remanufactured parts, a basic working knowledge of the parts that you install on any vehicle has always been necessary. But in today's brake market, such knowledge is more important than ever before to make sure you're choosing the best — and the safest — brake parts for any particular vehicle.

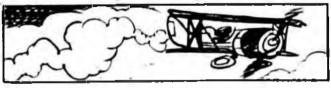

It is important to realize that just as it takes horsepower to accelerate a car, it also takes horsepower to stop a car. In fact, if you double the speed of an automobile, the braking requirement (horsepower) will be increased in the order of four times the stopping force necessary before the speed was doubled. Obviously, then, temperatures at the contact surface between the disc pad and disc rotor are amazing, sometimes approaching levels sufficient to melt several pounds of iron. Today, with the down-sizing of all parts (for example, the large, ventilated rotor being replaced with a small, solid one), these temperatures are increasing.

Generally speaking, disc brakes dissipate this heat much more quickly than drum brakes, for they expose a much larger brake surface to the surrounding air. But because of the downsizing of today's cars, this picture has changed considerably. Whereas larger rotors with air cooling passages used to be used, these are now being replaced with smaller, one-piece rotors with no air cooling passages.

To compensate by assisting in heat dissipation, semimetallic disc pads were incorporated as original equipment on half of the new vehicles produced in 1980 and on many other vehicles produced within the past few years. But although there may be some parts stores or wholesalers in your town that offer an organic replacement disc pad set for these cars that originally came with semi-metallic disc pads, replacing semimetallic disc pads with an organic friction material is not recommended.

Vehicles originally equipped with semi-metallic pads have had the braking system engineered to use this material. The semi-matallic material will outperform organic material in its heat absorption and dissipation ability. It also will outlast organic friction material. So whether you use new replacement parts or remanufactured replacement parts, always replace semi-metallic disc pads with semi-metallic disc pads.

Theoretically, two moving cars of equal weight will each need to have comparable quantities of kinetic energy dissipated through heat. As disc brakes provide shorter stopping distances than do drum brakes, this indicates that the rate of heat build-up is more rapid with disc brakes than with drum brakes. This quick heat build-up coupled with rapid heat removal (as provided by using semi-metallic disc pads on vehicles that had them as original equipment) is normally going to halt you a few feet short of trouble (all else being equal). Even though most new disc brake systems operate at a higher temperature than their older counterparts, semi-metalic friction material will help the thermal equilibrium condition (where the heat dissipation at the rotor equaling the heat being put in through braking action will tend to prevent temperatures from soaring).

Although it is impossible to dissipate the heat as fast as it is generated, by using semi-metallic disc pads instead of an organic material (where semi-metallic is original equipment) the system should be able to hold the rotor temperature within reason and dissipate enough heat between brake applications—to give good mileage and an all-around safe system.

So remember — when choosing parts for a car brake system, choose them for safety. Vehicles originally equipped with semi-metallic disc pads have had their brake system engineered to operate at peak efficiency using this semi-metallic friction material. So for safe braking conditions, when semi-metallic disc pads need to be replaced they should be replaced only by semi-metallic disc pads.

IT CAN START YOUR CAR WHEN OTHER SPARK PLUGS WON'T.

Today's smaller engines—be they import or domestic—all offer you one significant advantage: improved gas mileage.

But along with this significant advantage may come some significant disadvantages:

Hard starting. No starting. Or lowspeed stumbling caused by fouling deposits on the spark plug.

For the problems you may be experiencing, Champion has developed a solution:

'Copper Plus,' a new design of long-nosed spark plugs that can fight low-speed fouling twice as effectively as older spark plugs.

Every plug in the 'Copper Plus' program has a long insulator nose. Among the design features that make this possible are a wide insulator base, special thermal bonding, exclusive 522 nickel alloy electrodes and, where needed, a nucleus of highly conductive copper.

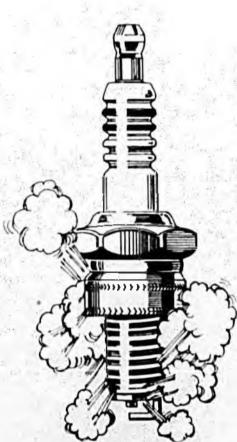

Best of all, because of their long-nose design, new 'Copper Plus' spark plugs can start your car when other plugs won't.

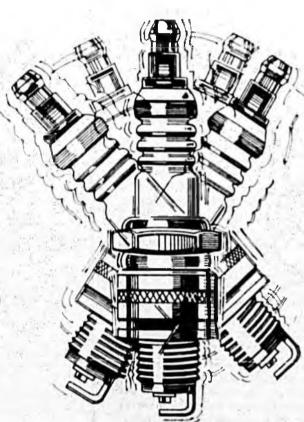

Parts City introduces the new plug that can give over twice the protection against no starts,

missing,

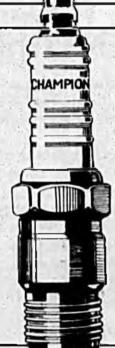

and stalling.

THE NEW CHAMPION COPPER PLUS SPARK PLUGS

can give over twice the fouling protection of other major spark plugs.

We'd like to introduce you to the best performance your car can deliver. With a set of new Champion Copper Plus Spark Plugs you'll say goodbye to no starts, misfiring and stalling. But don't stall about coming in. For a limited time, our special low price will save you money. And the new Champion Copper Plus will start right away giving you the fouling protection that other plugs can't.

Early Darkness Puts Stress On Driver's Eyes

Winter driving often means driving in darkness, especially for millions of commuters, and not everyone's eyes are up to it.

Everyone sees better during the day than at night because more light reaches the eyes. For many people, the diverence is significant enough to hamper their nighttime driving ability.

A driver with 20-20 eyesight will see 20-32 at night. Add a tinted windshield and the acuity drops to 20-46. Drivers with 20-30, 20-40 or less daytime acuity may have inadequate vision for driving in darkness.

Since most states require no better than 20-40 vision acuity for a driver's license, there could be many drivers on the road at night who are not seeing as well as they should to drive safely.

Changes in vision usually occur so gradually that people are not aware they are not seeing as well as they once were. After conducting a thorough eye examination, however, the optometrist can determine whether or not a person's eyes need help to see clearly and effortlessly.

In addition to distance vision, the optometrist will test such driving vision skills as the abilities to see out of the corner of the eye, to judge distances, to perceive colors accurately and to change eye focus rapidly from far to near and back.

The examination also gives the doctor of optometry an opportunity to detect any signs of eye disease or of other health problems that may be affecting the eyes or vision.

Annual eye examinations for drivers in the 16-to-25-year bracket and for those over 35 are recommended. An examination every two years may suffice for 25-to-35year-old drivers.

Some people may need to wear glasses only for night driving. Others may require prescription lenses whenever they get behind the wheel or for all seeing tasks.

Whether or not prescription lenses are worn, drivers can make it easier for their eyes to adapt to night-driving light levels by wearing sunglasses when outdoors on bright cloudy or sunny days. Optometrists say being in the

$200 Wasted On Holes

If the car seems to need front-end alignments almost as frequently as it needs gas, you'll probably find the problem under the car — on the roads you're using.

Following savage winter weather last year, more than half of the paved road network in the U.S. was labeled substandard by a highway research group.

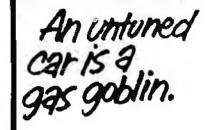

Driving on bad roads has become a very expensive problem to motorists. Bad road driving costs the average motorist more than $200 every year for wasted fuel, added vehicle repairs and excess tire wear.

Bounding over poor road surfaces can boost tire wear by as much as 150 percent and double the need for repairs to brake, steering and suspension systems.

· Traditionally, road repairs have been funded with revenues from taxes on gasoline. But as cars became for fuel-efficient and started burning less fuel, revenues from fuel taxes declining. One result is that road work is being postponed at a record pace.

bright sun for as little as two or three hours can delay the achievement of normal night vision for several hours later than usual. Sunglasses, however, should never be worn at night.

All drivers can aid their night-driving vision by keeping windshields and headlights clean and wipers in proper working order. Such tips will be of limited help, however, if a driver's vision is not up to par.

Are Not Maintained Well Cars Today

Thursday, Oct. 28, 1982

How bad, really, are our ancient, undermaintained cars these days?

Surveys in widely scattered parts of the nation indicate the worst.

A car can only go so long without the benefit of basic routine maintenance. Things like an oil change, new spark plugs, power-steering and brake fluid.

A recent survey of motor vehicles, confirmed just how bad things really are.

For example, 23 percent of the cars surveyed had corroded battery terminals. Seventeen percent were low on transmission fluid. Thirty percent were low on motor oil. Fifteen percent had windshield wiper blades that needed replacement.

Twelve percent were low on powersteering fluid. Thirty-seven percent needed the windshield solvent reservoir filled. Twenty-seven percent required a new air filter. Twenty-eight percent were low on brake fluid.

Thirty-seven percent had improper tire pressure. Twenty-eight percent had weak or low antifreeze. Twenty percent needed belts or hoses replaced.

Only eight percent of the vehicles inspected had no deficiencies.

Statistics like these were one of the reasons that Jacksonville adopted a voluntary vehicle safety inspection program to pick up where the just-ended staterequired vehicle inspections left off. It costs a motorist $3.

It is up to the automobile owners to keep their cars up to standard at all times, to be sure that the autos will not cause any undue traffic hazards on the roads and streets.

As the first program of its kind to be sponsored by a safety council, the Jacksonville program was promoted by the council and eventually implemented by Jacksonville Mayor Jake Godbold for the convenience and safety of local motorists.

Through its efforts, the council encourages motorists to keep their keeping the lights, tires, wipers, exhaust than 1,400.

systems, brakes and other running gear systems in good condition.

Also, as part of the Florida program:

- A new city ordinance requires that the vehicle inspection program be applied to church buses, kindergarten buses, corporate car pool vans, limousines and other motor vehicles for hire (including rental vehicles), ambulances and other entergency equipment, and any owner who has been cited with operating a faulty motor vehicle.

 In October, the first month the safety council operated the vehicle safety inspection system, 1,134 vehicles were inautomobiles in safe operating condition by spected. In November, the total rose to more

Fog Conditions Are Tricky

Capricious fall temperatures that change quickly, creating patchy fog conditions that descend without warning, can make a motorist a sitting duck for a chain-reaction accident, so it's wise to gradually reduce speed as fog looms up ahead.

A good rule of thumb is to slow to 20 to 30 miles an hour if you can see six car lengths ahead; drive only 10 to 15 miles an hour if the visibility is no more than two car lengths.

Turn on your headlights but use only the low beams. Automotive Information Council recommends. Low-beam headlights throw light down onto the road surface rather than focusing the light out and up into the fog, creating glare.

Motorists who often drive in "soup" might decide to have fog lamps installed.

Remember to use windshield wipers. Moisture can coat the windshield, making it even more difficult to see. A thin film of condensation also can build up on the inside of the windows, so run the defroster for a few minutes.

Avoid jamming on brakes because fog can create slick road surfaces. It can easily require twice the distance to stop on wet roads as it does on dry surfaces.

Keep as far right as possible from the center lane. Use the edge of the road or center line as a guide to keep you on the road in really dense fog. Never try to pass in fog.

First, using a spark plug wrench, inspect the business end of the plugs or have the job done by an auto technician. It takes but a few minutes to determine if the plugs are badly carboned or otherwise corroded. If they are, replace them. Since cold the ignition system, many motorists routinely install new plugs at this time of the year. If the car is an older model, installing a new set of points and a new condenser also may be avisable.

If the battery is the refillable type, make sure it is filled with water, and check to see that the connections are tight and corrosion-free. A mild solution of baking soda will quickly eliminate acid buildup where the cables connect with the battery. Make sure the battery is free of cracks and fully charged.

Check all fluid levels, topping up where necessary. Replace any fluid that's dirty or rusty. Filters are an important consideration. If the automatic transmission, fuel or air filters are being have them clogged, replaced.

Pick up some gas-line antifreeze; when the temperature drops critically, have it handy to help starting and prevent fuel-line freeze-
