County worried about Lynx changes

By Dan Ping Editor

SANFORD - Fallout from a Las Vegas junket by board members and employees of Lynx may lead to a reorganization of the regional transportation agency, and that has Seminole County commissioners worried.

An undercover investigation by WKMG Channel 6 caught Lynx board members gambling and drinking in Las Vegas when they should have been in seminary for a national transit convention. national transit convention, the stated purpose of the trip.

Push by Crotty could stack the board in favor of Orange County

Lynx is funded by Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties and the municipalities in those counties. Public officials from each of those entities have expressed outrage about the trip, but none have been more vocal than Orange County Chairman Rich Crotty.
Crotty ordered a investigation of Lynx and is

That concerns Seminole County leaders because they are afraid any changes will be stacked in Orange County's favor.

"There's no doubt Lynx has tripped with the trip to Las Vegas," said Seminole County Commissioner Randy Morris. "But they are definitely getting shoved from behind from some invisible hands."

Commissioner Grant Maloy, who has See Lynx, l'age 9A

"It's ironic that Orange County is complaining about the make up of the board because it's the model they requested,"

Morris noted that Crotty and the Orlando media have repeatedly stated that Orange County provides 80 percent of the funding for Lynx. Morris said that percentage

City calls meeting to discuss mediation

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

A special called meeting of the Lake Mary City Commission has been scheduled for Monday to discuss how the city should move forward with mediation between the city and Seminole County School Board.

School Board.

In a letter dated Monday, Nov. 25, from Superintendent Paul Hagerty, Lake Mary Mayor Thom Greene and City Manager John Litton were informed that the School Board Invoked the provisions of the Interlocal Agreement on Mediation and Intergovernmental Coordination. As part of the agreement, which was established in 1995, the School Board and the municipalities in and the municipalities in Seminole County are asked to try to resolve disputes through agreement and mediation before turning to the court system.

The disagreement between the School Board and City Commission is over the relocation of Event Alternations. of Excel Alternatives Inc., a learning facility for expelled students. The school is currently located in Sanford's Reflections shopping plaza on Lake Mary Boulevard.

Last month, City Commission denied the Board's request to amend the city's land use designation for property in Technology Park, located off Lake Emma Road. Santa has arrived Banta Claus left his sleigh at home and gets a ride to Files World on four wheels Friday, Santa's arrival at the business has become a day-after-Thanksgiving tradition in Gerninole.

St. Nick makes annual visit to Flea World

By Dan Ping

SANFORD - Santa's operations may be based at the North Pole, but like any good businessman the jolly one has a branch office

oid St. Nick made a grand entrance Friday at his Central Florida headquarters, Flee World, delighting kids of all ages. It's become a tradition for Santa to visit Flee World, and the man behind the festivities likes it that way. No, not Santa, but Syd Levy, the owner and founder of what he calls "America's Largest Flea Market."

Levy's a promoter at heart, always dreaming up ways to attract people to Fles World and it's cousin, Fun World. Whether it's Santa Claus for the kids or live entertainment of the adults, Levy is constantly looking for ways to improve his business.

He's been successful. After 20 years in operation – Flea World opened it's doors to the public on May 20, 1982 – the establishment attracts nearly 3 million people annually. "You get every kind of person coming to Flea World," Levy said. "From doctors and lawyers to working man and women. You

Why do they come?

From Staff Reports

Jeno Paulucci was was named the United States Entrepreneur of the Year by Ernst & Young during a ceremony Nov. 23 in Palm Springs, Calif.

Paulucci will travel to Monte Carlo in June 2003 to represent the United States in world competition against winners from 115 locations in 25 countries will be judged for the World Enterprise judged for the World Enterprise

Paulucci, 84, has been nick-named the "Incurable Entrepreneur" and the "Frozen Food King." He is the founder and chairman of Luigino's Inc. The Sanford-based company pro-duces the Michelina's and Budget Gourmet brands of frozen entrees and spacks. and snacks.

A panel of judges evaluated more than 4,400 nominees from across the country and unanimously selected Paulucci, who qualified for the award after being named a Master Entrepreneur at the state and national levels.

The award by Frest & Young

The award by Ernst & Young recognizes Paulucci's creation and development of more than 50 companies, including Chun King Corporation and Jeno's Pizza Rolls. After selling Chun King to R.J. Reynolds in the mid-1960s, Paulucci created the Tabasco giant's food division. Paulucci and his family also established the Heathrow community.

The award also recognizes Paulucci's civic contributions which include funding and leading the National Italian American Foundation in Washington, D.C. He has also advised seven presidents.

"Through his ideas, vision, ethics and dedication to achieving results, for his generosity to those with whom he works and for his community leadership and involvement, Jeno Paulucci sets the standard for what entrepreneurs can accomplish," said Gregory K. Ericksen, global director of Entrepreneur of the Year for Ernst & Young.

Sanford K-9 safer as a result of 12-year-old girl

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

SANFORD - The next time one of the city's four-legged police officers goes on duty, he'll be a little more protected thanks to a 12-year-old from Deltona.

On Wednesday, Stacey Hillman presented Aeros — one of four dogs in the Sanford police force — with a bulletproof vest. As a result of Hillman's organization, Pennies to Protect Police Dogs, every canine in the city's department now has the additional protection.

"Stacey has made a career of raising money for vests," Sanford Police Chief Brian Tooley said. "She's amazing."

Tooley presented Hillman with a certificate recognizing her efforts. The police chief also made her an honorary member of the department a canine team.

Hillman began her non-profit organization in March 2000 after she attended a memorial for K-9 Erny, a canine from the Escambia Sheriff's Office who was killed in the line of duty.

"It was one of the saddest things that I have ever done," she said. "I never want another police dog to be killed again."

Two years later, Hillman has raised more than $175,000 for 225 canine bulletproof and stab resistant vests. She has provided vests for police dogs throughout Fiorida and is now working on raising money for police departments in the Washington, D.C., area. Each vest costs about $600.

"I'm doing this because police dogs face the same dangers as police officers," Hillman said. "Often, police dogs are the first to go in. Since the police officers have

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Poor performance: A strong mayor form of government may or may not be what Sanford needs, but until city commissioners get a sense of urgency about upholding their re-ponsibili-ties, it's not going to matter what form of govcriment the citizens adopt.

Case in point are the job performance evaluations for the three employees the commission directly supervises: the city manager, city clerk and commission liaison. The evaluations were due Oct. 1, which is the beginning of the fiscal year. To date only

Mayor Brady Lessard and District 1

by Dan Ping

Commissioner Art Woodruff have completed the task. Despite repeated reminders from Lessard, commissioners Whitey Eckstein, Velma Williams and Randy Jones have yet to turn in the evalua-tions. This is not a first for commissioners. Last year's evaluations were just as tardy.

Why is this important? First, these employ-ees are due annual evaluations and any raises they might receive have been delayed because of commissioners' tardiness. If city supervisors or department heads were guilty of similar malfeasance of duty, their subordinates would have a right to file grievances. Second, and more importantly, criticism or shortcomings in more importantly, criticism or shortcomings in the job performance of the manager, clerk or llaison must now be tempered. City Manager Tony VanDerworp's performance over the last year — in particular the handling of personnel issues and the bid process surrounding the Riverwalk — is open to some critical evaluation. At this point, however, Eckstein, Williams and Jones lack the credibility to comment on how others perform job tasks because they have so flagrantly ignored this simple but important duty.

Commissioners repeatedly remind the public — particularly when the public is demanding accountability — that they have no direct supervision over department heads and employees. I guess that's good because it appears the commission can't properly super-appears the commission can't properly supervise three employees, much less the 460-plus that draw a check from the city.

Come on, commissioners, it's almost Christmas. Think you can get those evaluations done there some prints out his first in aughty-or-size list?

Thanksgiving: I can be a bit of a crank, as anyone who regularly reads this column can attest, but I've got plenty to be thankful for, not the least of which is a wide circle of friends, coworkers and associates who are a boast about my popularity. On the contrary, it's a testament to the good folks in Seminole County who take pity on a cantankerous newspaper man (yeah, I know, cantankerous newspaper man is redundant).

I must have had a dozen different people Invite me to Thanksgiving dinner. Even Commissioner Williams offered an invitation, though after reading the little outburst above

I'm betting my name is on her naughty list.
Since moving to Central Florida a little more than three years ago, I have not been able to spend Thanksgiving with my family in East Tennessee. The news doesn't stop for holidays and one day off doesn't offer enough time to drive or fly home (flight service from Orlando to Knoxville must first go through Baghdad).

Thanks to all of you who were willing share your Thanksgiving with me. I am truly honored by your generosity. Special thanks to Christy and Mark "The Spark" Bolten, who were nice enough to invite me and probably hoped I would have been nice enough not to accept. Miss Manners I'm not. My idea of good table etiquette is eating over the kitchen sink so any crumbs can be quickly rinsed down the drawn without having to wash dishes. I managed not to spill the gravy and used the prop-er utensils — most of the time.

Better luck next year Mark and Christy.

On the spot: Fans of the Big Red Dot also known as Target - may soon have their wishes granted. Seems the national retailer is quickly finalizing plans for a Super Target store on Rinehart Road. Word Around The Clock is the store is to be part of a 500,000square-foot shopping center.
Stay tuned for more.

Remember the Golden Rule during the holiday season

This is it! We've run out of the month of November and are about to collide head-on with December -- the month of holidays, home and city decorations, shopping, and possibly cold weather. Each one of these happenings will require a great deal of consideration, patience and fortitude from each of us.

Practically every year, we receive requests from fire departments to publish warnings about holiday lighting and the use of fireplaces. They warn against using too many extension cords in lighting, and the need to double check those cords to insure their safety. Banks of lights can be dangerous if improperly installed or if there are loose wires. Don't use indoor lighting outdoors.

The use of fireplaces can also be dangerous, especially if you haven't cleaned it out from last year, or put wood in the fireplaces that goes snap, crackle and pop, causing sparks to fly out into your home where they could easily ignite fires in furniture and rugs. Of course the cold weather also leads to people using space heaters and furnaces which may not be in the best of condition. Sure, it may cost a few bucks to have your heaters checked out by a professional, but it's fewer dollars than it would cost if your home

Anyone with any amount of common sense should think of these possible hazards.

Then there is holiday shopping. Again, much care must be taken. It's time to be more-than-usually patient with store clerks, other shoppers, and each other. Store owners and clerks would also appreciate it if you exercised good manners in their store. Don't, for example, pull a dress off the rack, look at it, then toss it on the floor if you don't want it. It doesn't take much time to hang it back up and the clerks have more to do than clean up after you.

Of course we can expect more than the normal cases of shop-lifting. If you spot this going on, report it. Store people will be grateful for your assistance. And naturally, don't do it yourself, or you may end up in a situation which won't promote a merry Christmas.

The parking lots around stores will be packed more than usual. It's again time to be cautious in walking from and to your vehicle, backing or pulling out of a parking e, or driving most anywhere

The first week in December, among other things, is "Tolerance Week" and the organizers recommend following the Golden Rule. As far as I am concerned, it should be an entire month of tolerance. Cooler weather, the hustle and bustle (that's a common phrase, isn't it?) of holiday shopping, decorating and family gatherings is bound to take a toll on the way people react.

Let's vow to follow that Golden Rule, and treat others the way we would like to be treated. It's the only way we are going to survive December of 2002.

The bad numbers could revive the democrats

"Something is going on out there," said Karl Rove, the White House's political strategist. "We'll know what it is in two years or four years."

The Republican pro,
the hottest talent in politics right now, was speak-ing to students at the University of Utah. His tone was as measured as that state is, but he said he thought younger peo-ple were turning to his party, and, for the first time in 52 years, polls were showing that voters who cared most about educational issues favored Republicans over

Richard

Reeves

That's a big deal, no doubt.

There was only one bad moment. A woman in the audience politely asked Rove whether he was concerned that a war in Iraq might kill 200,000 impoent Iraqis, women and children among them. "I'm more concerned," he answered, "about the 3,000 people who died on Sept. 11."

Dreadful numbers, but they are at the core of Republican dominance these tense days. They may also be the trigger for command hubris of the kind that persuades presidents and their men to go too far, too fast, in too many places near and far. In far places, the Republicans, and all Americans, seem dominant, ready for "just war" against evil men.

But here at home there are other numbers that could mean the war-making, tax-cutting, election-winning trajectory of the Republicans has reached its peak, that the "something Rove senses happening is not Republican command but the beginning of Democratic regroup-Here are other numbers from many sources:

— The average participation in 401(k) plans dropped 2.5 percent in the past year, as workers learned stock prices go down as well as up. - The number of unemployed Americans has increased by 2.5 million in the past two years, rais-

3.9 percent under President Clinton to 5.7 percent under President Bush.

-- The poverty rate, which had dropped for eight straight years, is rising again, from 11.3 percent to 11.7 percent.

- The number of Americans without health insurance increased by 1.4 million in a year as health-care costs increased by

The Social Security Trust Fund, invested in government bonds, is now worth more than $1.3 trillion. If that money had been invested in the stock market, as Republicans from Bush on down have advocated - in a Standard and Poor's 500 index fund, for example — the Social Security fund would be worth $776 billion, a loss of 41 percent.

- The lowest estimate I have seen of the cost of war in Iraq is $200 billion, which would be added to the current defense budget of $400 billion

— The national debt, in sur-lus under President Clinton, ooks as if it will be $159 billion in Bush — and the deficit over 10 years is pegged at $1.49 trillion.

The president himself responded to this in the past week by saying that even deeper tax cuts will increase government revenues and therefore reduce the deficit. and therefore reduce the dericit.
That was what President Reagan said as he rolled up more debt than the country had had in its entire history, all the while preaching the magic of the supply-side economics that Bush's father called "voodoo economics."

Bush the younger is about the only voice preaching supply-side now. "I don't know anyone who believes Bush is right," said Eric Engen, a former official of the Office of Management and Budget, who now tolls at the conservative American Enterprise

Even Jude Wanniski, the popularizer of supply-side theory, now says of the Bush tax cut. It's decreasing revenues."

So, Rove is right, something is happening, but it may not be what he wants to happen.

U.S. Funds to curb AIDS abroad will create more stable world

Though this is the season of good will and generality, the Bush administration continues to shortchange poor nations struggling with AIDS. Prepared to spend $100 billion to wage war on Iraq, the administration has so far spent less than $2 billion on programs to curb AIDS abroad. Even as international aid experts and physicians document a plague that is destabilizing countries across the globe, the United States has resisted offering substantial funds to help.

Last summer, when retiring Sen. Jesse Heims, R-N.C., was belatedly stricken with a bout of conscience over his years of opposing funding for AIDS research, he proposed a dramatic increase in U.S. donations to curb the spread of AIDS worldwide. But President Bush fought the proposal.

It was a remarkable moment. As he neared retirement, the jingoistic troglodyte from North Carolina realized he'd been mistaken about anti-AIDS efforts.

Ms. Lindamood that before she

Believing that his Christian faith required more of him, he rounded up bipartisan support for a bill to pour billions into programs to fight the epi-demic. But Bush, who marketed himself to the American people as a "compassionate conservative," deep-sixed the plan.

If simple compassion is not enough to persuade the president to do more, perhaps national interest will. AIDS — the Great Plague of the 21st century

- is creating chaos and instability throughout Africa and parts of Asia. Those conditions give free rein to terrorist groups such as al-Qaida. While there is no clear link between poverty and terrorism (the hijackers who committed the terrorist atrocities of Sept. 11 were mostly middle-class and educated), it is no accident that al-Qaida could make itself at home in countries such as Afghanistan and

In both places, years of civil war had created desperate pover-ty and undermined central government authority. It was easy move in, buying loyalty with his millions. enough for Osama bin Laden to AIDS is creating similar condi-tions in countries from Angola to Zimbabwe to Rwanda. As just one example of the consequences, the Pentagon has started to notice that AIDS is decimating African armies. That does not portend well as the U.S. starts to look toward African nations as sources of petroleum; multinational oil companies depend on local / armies to provide security for oil

The AIDS pandemic has also begun cutting a broad swath across Eastern Europe and Central Asia; the region now has the unfortunate distinction of having the highest rate of new infec-tions. Uzbekistan, for example, has had nearly as many new cases of HIV infection in the first six months of this year as it had in the previous decade, according to UNAIDS, a U.N.-affiliated health organization. Uzbekistan, a former Soviet republic, has a heavily Muslim population and shares a border with Afghanistan. If Uzbekistan's government grows more unstable because of a high rate of AIDS, American efforts to halt terrorism, drug trafficking and gun running in the region will be crippled.

Americans are not easily persuaded to support efforts that wage peace. Despite our self-image as a generous and charitable nation, we donate about 0.01 percent of our gross national product in development aid to poor countries, the lowest percentage of any wealthy nation.

Given his personal popularity,
President Bush could help Americans see the connection between increased foreign aid and a more stable world. As we settle in to fight terrorism for the next several decades, we ought to help ourselves by curbing the condi-tions that allow it to fester and President Bush could easily persuade Americans of the connection. But first, someone will have to persuade him.

Livingston responds to car seat toting grandmother

To the editor:

I would like to respond to the letter printed from Paula Lindamood, who chose to attack members of the local fire departments in your newspaper (pointing out Sanford and Lake Mary), for not helping her install her grandchild's car seat so she could take a weekend trip to South Carolina. Ms. Lindamood wanted everyone who reads the Seminole Herald to know that she went to three fire stations in Sanford and a "lady" at one told her that no one was on duty who was certified to install car seats for citizens. She failed to write what happened at thee other two stations. Did they also refuse to help her or did she forget to write that no one was at the other two stations because they were out providing December care or a public ser-

I would like to explain to feels the need to attack again, as firefighters - just like any other business or corporation — we are given rules and are expected to follow those rules. Is it so hard for her to understand that, as the "lady" told her, we are not allowed to install a car seat unless we are trained and certified to do so? She stated that she was given a handout with dates and times that this service was provided by our employees who have been trained and certified. This should show you that we, along with many other fire departments in the area, have put forth the effort to try to keep children properly restrained and safe. Ms. Lindamood stated that the dates and times provided were not good for her and she needed her grandchild's seat Installed right then. Sounds a bit selfish, doesn't it? And how dare you imply that the firefighters in this area "have little concern for the safety of children unless it is on a designated date and time." May I remind her that we repsond to any call for help 365 days a year, 24 hours a day. When she is home with her loved ones, carving a turkey or opening Christmas presents, we are away from our families manning the fire station ready to respond to an emergency. We care for all of our citizens, especially the chil-dren. The people you have accused of not caring are the same men and women who hold a child who is scared, put band-aids on their cuts, race into their burning bedrooms to find them hiding under their bed and work as fast and as hard as we can to stop the bleeding and keep them alive when they are hit by a car. We are the same firefighters who go back to the station and find a corner to cry when all of our skills and training were not enough to save a child. And while Ms. Lindamood took the time to emphasize that the sheriff's department was more than willing to put in her car seat without asking if he/she was certified, I have one question: If she would have got into a vehicle accident and her grandchild would have been ejected because of an improperly installed car seat, would she have written a letter to the editor blaming the deputy for her grandchild's injuries?

Volunteers decorate downtown

While most folks were getting ready for Tom Turkey, Downtown Sanford was prepari-ing for Kris Kringle. The street is alive as volunteers work from one end of downtown to the other getting it ready to shine, sparkle and twinkle -for Christmas.

Volunteers have been working for two weeks already getting the numerous displays ready. You will see lighted displays from Sanford Avenue to Myrtle on 1st Street. Look up onto the guilding facades, on the building canopies and all around you on the street.

There will be thousands of lights twinkling a 'Merry Christmas to you' in animated displays as well as still dis-plays. Look for deer grazing, elves running up a ladder to drop presents in a surprise stocking, revolving carousels with horses, and more.

The wonderful volunteer group that is bringing such delight (pun intended) to you includes an especially motivated group of residents from Teen Challenge in Sanford, your Downtown Business Association, Mr. Mike Loader, with Sanford

Sanford Express Lube

A Nice Place...For A Change!

Sanford Express Lube started out in a small location on 25th Street moving to the current location on Highway 17-92 (two blocks north of 25th Street in 1998). This family owned and operated business has built its name on quality service while depending mostly on word-of-mouth advertising.

"Our way of dealing with our customers has worked great for the last 8 years our doors have been open and we shall continue that policy," says Owner and Manager, Rudy Arnold, while continuing to work on the front brakes of a vehicle. "Service has always been our #1 concern and that's why we stand behind our work!"

"Knowledge is the key to good service, " says Assistant Manager and ASE Certified Mechanic, Bob Trombley. "We must all (mechanics) keep up with technology through schooling and the help from our automotive information system, ALLDATA. ALLDATA provides the necessary engineering specifications and technical language to help us keep up with brand new vehicles, as well as older ones. With the help from this system and the right computer diagnostic equipment and tools we can keep a leg up with the manufacturers and new car dealerships." Bob continued to explain.

Rudy sums it up for the customer, "Customers want to be able to trust their mechanic to do a job right the first time! We strive for that for every vehicle that passes through our door."

The name of the shop denotes oil changes for which they proudly provide Pennzoil, the #1 oil in the nation today, but, in fact, this organization has made a nation today, but, in fact, this organization has made a name for itself as a complete automotive shop. Many services and repairs are done here on the premises, diagnosing GOD BLESS AMERICA!"

any problem and fixing it, as well as selling quality name tires. They now have engine rebuiding on the premises and as Rudy smilingly puts it, "We install it and make it purr for you."

Of course, we must mention Rudy's and Bob's passion for stock car racing. They have only been in the racing world for two years, but have boasted many wins at New Smyrna Speedway last season in the 'Strictly Stock' Class. This year has brought a bit of bad luck to their newest race car in the 'Super Stock' Class. Last weekend they were running 5th when they got into the middle of a wreck that demolished the front and back of the race car. Luckily, all came out ok except the cars. Bob, the driver, is confident they will have the car up and running strong again to win in the new season beginning in February, 2003. They invite everyone to come to the races on Saturday nights in the new season to watch Bob bring the car to victory lane.

"Miami already had 12 goodsize trophy companies," Levy said. "That's a tough way to start a business with that many competitors from the moment you open your doors."

He considered Tampa and knew a man by the name of George Levy (no relation) in the business who gave him a good piece of advice.

"He said, 'If I was starting out, I'd go to Orlando,' " Syd Levy said.

Levy admits the advice was given in part to convince him not to locate in Tampa, but it turned out to be good guidance for Levy and his United Trophy

Mig. Inc.

He began on Orange Avenue across from the Orlando Sentinel in a tiny 12-foot-wide shop. It wasn't the grandest of beginnings, but Levy has never been concerned about where you start. It's how you finish that matters.
"There's only one way to achieve success and that's through hard work," Levy said. It doesn't matter whether ou're selling trophies or making newspapers. The only way to be the best is to work at it."

That work has paid off. United Trophy still has an Orange Avenue address. Today, though Levy's operation takes up the entire block.

That same determination

That same determination helped make Flea World a suc-cess. What started out as an 11-acre market has become a 104acre bustling bazaar of shopping and entertainment. It wasn't easy. Levy butted heads with city and county officials who didn't like his business. Former Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith called Flea World "a blight" and spurned Levy's attempts to have the business annexed into the city. Though he may have lost a few battles, Levy has won the war. Customers from all over Central Florida flock to Flea World every weekend to find the best deals on everything from tomatoes to tattoos to

And while all the seasons are meaningful, Christmas brings a little something special for the folks at Flea World. There's Santa Claus, of course, but the highlight may be the big Christmas dinner of the vendors and employees. There are 1,700 booths at Flea World ("It's like running a small city," Levy notes, "you have to maintain all the booths and infrastructure that goes with them."), and most of those who run the booths will be on hand when George Schnippel, who's man-aged the operations since 1984, hauls at the turkey and dressing for the dealers and their fami-

"Really it's like a family," Levy said. "A lot of the dealers have been with us for a number of years. You develop more than just a business relationship with these people."

"Let's make one thing very clear: Orlando and Orange County receive 80 percent of the service, so it's not like they're funding the lion's share for which someone else receives the benefit."

Morris said it is important for Seminole County to be vigilant about any changes that might be a detriment to county residents. He also suggested the commission be

"We might have a formula for the composition of the board,"

Chairman Daryl McLain agreed, noting that Lynx should not just be concerned with Orange

"This is a regional board and we have to make a regional decision," McLain said.

Commissioner Carlton Henley suggested Seminole officials work with Osceola County which also has a vested interest in any changes in the Lynx board.
"We may have an ally with Osceola," Henley said.

Along with her honorary status at the Sanford Police Department, Hillman has received numerous awards and honors for her efforts in keeping the state's canine dogs safe. Hillman's contribution to the Sanford Police Department also means Smith's partner is now safer when he is on patrol.

"Paulucci has a rule by which he has built his companies: 'Quality first, cost second. The quality has absolutely got to be there, and that's why we sample our products every morning," said Kathy Bull of Ernst & Young in describing Paulucci's most recent success. "Quite possibly the crown jewel among his cre-ations is Using's, the frozen food company that he started in 1990 at the age of 72. Based upon his mother's authentic recipes, and named Michelina's in her honor, Paulucci developed a line of high-quality. high-value entire that features more than 200 products."

Bull noted that in just 12 years, Luigino's has become one of the world's leading producers of frozen prepared foods. With it's Michelin and snacks, Michelina's Yu Sing Oriental entrees and Budget Gourmet brands, Luigino's ranks second in the United States, accounting for one out of every four frozen entree sales. The company has a 42 per-cent market share in Canada, making it that country's leading

If an agreement is still not met, the parties then meet in an elected officials settlement conference, which will include all Board mem-

"In light of the City Commission's denial of the

The Way We Were: A glance at the old City Hall and Fire Station

the Jan. 3, 1946 edition of the Sanford Herald, a copy of which was found in the Sallie Harrison Chapter DAR minutes and a copy later filed in the Sanford Museum.

The ancient two-story frame structure at 3rd Street and Sanford Avenue had recently been demolished. According to the article, it sagged in the middle, leaned perilously at all angles and seemed to require just a push to bring it tumbling down on patrons of the "juke parlor" below.

Few residents could recall that it had once been known as the Sanford City Hall and Fire Station.

Grace Marie

Owner Joe Moss had had it torn down about four months previously and a neat white one story structure had been built in its place which housed a jewelry store.

In the ruins of the old building,
Mr. Moss had found an ancient billfold which contained a brass Spanish coin and a ten-cent paper

Upon learning that the building residents went back in time on Nov. 19 when we were invited to "walk through" at the former Southside

Sanford's first city hall and fire sta-tion, dedicated on Jan. 1, 1884. There was a street parade that afternoon with a banquet and ball that night. The parade became a yearly event on New Year's Day.

A volunteer fire department had been organized; it consisted of one horsedrawn hook-and-ladder truck and one hand-drawn horse cart.

Stinecipher The fire department occupied the first floor of the building, while the second floor held the mayor's office and a courtroom. Col. A.M. Thrasher was mayor at the time.

Later the city bought the Hester Building on Palmetto Avenue and moved their offices and the fire sta-

Walking into our former school brought back a flood of memories which we each voiced as we toured the building. We remembered teachers, auditorium programs, lunch-room incidents and classmates. And, of course, we each had to find our former classrooms in each of the wings. There were people there who had attended Southside during the 1920s through the 1950s and those years each grade had a wing - first through fourth grades. We could still find our classrooms, or at least the general vicinity, but my how they have changed! They had been changed before when the building was used as School board offices, but this is dramatic.

A microwave and mini refrigerator will be furnished along with cabinets. There are a few larger units, mostly in the corners, which have three or four rooms.

A few of the apartments were beautifully furnished as they will be if you chouse that option.

The original oak floors which we remembered have been restored and highly polished. They are beautiful! And the wise old owis over the front entrance remain.

The upstairs auditorium has been converted into a dining room, complete with a stage where residents can enjoy entertainment and various activities. Three meals a day will be served briffet style. We visitors were treated to a delicious buffet lunch which we enjoyed while reminiscing about old times.

In 1922, the Seminole County School Board purchased 10 empty lots bordered by magnolia Avenue, 13th Street, Palmetto Avenue and 14th Street for $4,000. Another $24,000 was spent to build Southside Primary School. There was a large playground in front of the school which the children enjoyed

The first class entered in 1922;

Mary Nickel Simpson was a mem-ber of that class and she told us of some of her memories during lunch. She entered first grade at Eastside Primary and later that year transferred to Southside when it was completed. Dorothy Marshall courier and Virginia Gillon were in her class and teachers she remembered were Miss Zillah Welsh, Mrs. Chapman and Miss Gillon, Mrs. Stella Arrington was principal. She remained principal until her death in

Marry recalled that she Virginia Gillon had helped raise money for the playground and a favorite memory was of the Halloween carnivals. It is interesting to learn that this annual event had its beginning during the school's infancy. The annual Southside carnival continued at least through the 1960s and was a huge success with former students continuously coming back to enjoy the event

The building was last used as a school in 1984. It was then converted into administrative offices for county school personnel. It had been vacant since the new building was built on Lake Mary Boules ard.

When the school board decided to sell the building, there was concern among neighbors and former students as to its use by a new owner.

Rami Yoseflan purchased the for-mer school for $250,000 in 2000 and was able to calm their fears by promising to renovate it as a retirement facility, keeping the flavor of And he has done that. I understand that there will be a grand opening in the near future for Gracious Age. When you hear of this, do attend. You will be favorably improved with the new facility. impressed with the new facility.

Those attending the event who were students during the 1920s were Mary Nickel Simpson and Fred Garas while the 1930s ear pupils included Kenny Echols, Don and Margaret (Myers) Knight, and Mona Mills Walker. Sara Jacobson and I were from the 1940s (we recalled World War II memories there) and Dede Daly and Gerri Dietrichs, attended there during the 1950s.

Ann French Echols began her teaching career there in the late 1940s under principal Velma Mitchell and she thoroughly enjoyed the experi-ence of being back. Among the neighbors and friends attending were Eve and B.E. Rogero, Willie Simpson and Janet Martin. Police officer Claudia Webber was there, as was school board member Jeanne Morris. Attending from the Sanford Museum was Alicia Clarke and from the Museum of Serninole County, History, Karen Jacobs.

A Big Thank You To All!!

A BIG THANK YOU to all of the businesses in the Central Florida area that helped The Orace Fellowship church of Sanford with their Bar-B-O Fund Raiser on October 19th. All proceeds went toward installing a new tile roof on the Church Sanctuary.

Hat Contest enlivens Wildflower Circle meeting

. Members of Wildflower Circle of the Sanford Garden Club added some pre-holiday festivity to their November meeting with the presentation of a Hat Contest. Nearly all of the circle members attended and participated in the fun event.

According to June Lucas, public relations coordinator, "The meeting was enlivened by the members creating and wearing hats." The women fashioned an array of hats from various objects of their choice.

Prizes were awarded to:Eula Palmer, silliest hat; Ann Lyons, prettiest hat; and Paulette White, most unusual hat.

Mitchell presented that Frances or cutting to the meeting to be identified. Included were Barbara Bradshaw's interesting Mexican sunflower vine and Sheila Richard's airplant The December circle meeting will be held on the 12th at 9:30 a.m., at the clubhouse, located at US 17-92 and the entrance to Sunland Estates. Lunch will be served and interested males and females are always welcome, June said. The meeting's project will be preparing Christmas gift packages for the Good Samaritan Home. For information, call 407-322-9624.

Delicious refreshments, served by Mildred McKenzie and Jackie Partain, included Mildred's famous Pumpkin Cake which June described as "scrumptious and so moist." For those who may like to try this tempting treat, here it is.

Dietrich Pumpkin Cake 1-1/4 cups vegetable oil 2 cups sugar 2 cps flour 2 teaspoons baking powder 2 teaspoons baking soda 3 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 teaspoon allspice 1/2 teaspoon salt 1 15-ounce can of pumpkin 2 teaspoons vanilla 4 eggs 1 small box chopped dates 1 cup chopped nuts

Mix and sift together all dry ingredients. Combine 1/4 of dry mix, π of the pumpkin and 1 egg. Repeat until all dry ingredients, pumpkin and eggs are mixed. Add vanilla, stir in nuts and dates. Bake at 300 degrees F for 1-1/2 hours. Enjoyd 1/2 hours. Enjoy!

Harvest has been a season of rejoicing from the most remote ages. People have in many ways shown their gratitude to God for sparing them to witness another season of ingathering. It is a time give all the many blessing God has bestowed upon us — not only in the Thanksgiving season, but also throughout the year. Hawkins

UCF football to close season at home

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - Looking to close their first season as a member of the Mid-American Conference with a five-game win streak, the Golden Knights return to the Florida Citrus Bowl today (Salurday) to face Ohio University.

The season finale for both teams is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m.

Last week, UCF (6-5) downed Miami (Ohio), 48-31 on the road. The Bobcats (4-7) lost a heartbreaker to Marshall, 24-21. Saturday's game will feature an unusual display of contrast offensively as the Golden Knights hope to make Ohio season's seventh victim

Golden Knights, fifth in the nation in Golden Knights, fifth in the nation in passing, play against an option-oriented team that averages a mere 76 yards passing per outing. Ohio, currently ranked 117th in the country in passing offense, did not complete a single pass earlier in the year in a win over Kent State.

Coach Brian Knorr's squad keeps the ball on the ground and is effective at what they do. The Bobcats methodically move the ball downfield, confusing opponents with their pitches and runs. "They try to chew the clock up, convert, and move the chains," said UCP head coach Mike Kruczek. "When you don't see It [the option] week out, it can cause you problems." Tickets for the game can be purchased at the UCF Ticket Office and at the Citrus Bowl. For more information, contact the ticket office at (407) UCF-GOLD

Locally, the game can be heard on 740-The Team with Marc Daniels and Gary Parris calling the action and Jerry O'Neill reporting from the sidelines. Pregame coverage begins at 11 a.m.

WINTER SPRINGS - For win tex springs — For some people when things don't go the way they may have planned, it's easy to give up. Not for John Michael Howell, he takes everything head on and challenges it. He wings for the fences in life and on the field.

"After all that has hap-pened, I feel this is god's plan," said Howell. "Every time I get knocked down, he (god) picks me up. Every time

(god) picks me up. Every time something is taken away, god gives me something back."

These are words spoken like a true man, and when John Michael said them it was like the meaning of life had just become so simple.

During his junior year at Winter Springs, Howell hit .490 and was named All-Seminole Athletic Conference and All-District. But it was not and All-District. But it was not all smiles and sunny days at the ballpark.

On November 1st, 2000, Howell's mother passed away and suddenly baseball was something in the back of his mind. Although, he did play his senior year, Howell just wasn't himself on the

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - When the wake up call came, the All Souls Catholic School girls responded. After struggling to a 2-4 start in the Catholic Middle School Athletic Conference (CMAC) league, the Bears came to life, winning their final two regular season games and then going 4-0 in the tournament to become the 2002 JJV Girls Basketbail

By winning the last two regular season games to get to 4-4, the All Souls squad, made up of fifth and sixth graders, finished in sixth place in the CMAC league, which is comprised of all 12 Catholic schools in the Diocese of Orlando.

The Bears advanced to the Championship Game by knocking off St. Andrews, Holy Family and Annunciation.

That set up a matchup between Ali Souls and St. John Vianney of Orlando, the tourna-ment's top seed and a squad that had beaten the Bears by two points in the opening game of the season.

The game was a low-scoring affair with tenacious defense and strong rebounding by All Souls' Monica Vergara and Elisa Bucholz helping to shut down the potent St. John's offense.

The Vianney five were able to keep the game close because of tremendous shooting at the free throw line.

Jaime Seda, Anne Russi, Jessica Russi and Sara Russi led Coach Cheryl Russi's Bears of offense as their precise, quick passing and excellent decision making under pressure allowed the local quintet to score just

Saturday

After UCF (6-5, 5-3) went down 10-0 early in the first quarter, the offense put things into high gear as they scored 35 unanswered points. A pair of first half touchdowns from Fryzel, which included a career-long 76-yard scoring play, sparked the Golden Knights. UCP featured a balanced attack as they scored twice through the air, twice on the ground and once on special teams en route to the 35-point outburst. The five unanswered scores was capped off by Haynes who scampered seven yards for the first of his two touchdowns, to complete an 11 play, 80-yard drive to start the second half and put the Knights up 35-10.

Miami cut into the deficit when quarterback Ben Roethlisberger connected with Eddie Illitio in a six-yard pass to narrow the gap to 35-17 with just 17 seconds remaining in the third quarter. The Knights answered back at the 11-minute mark of the fourth quarter, with Schneider throwing his third touchdown pass, this time to Gabriel from Haynes finished off the UCF scoring on the day, giving the Knights their biggest lead after a threeyard touchdown run to make the score 48-17. Miami, (7-5, 5-3)who scored on their first two drives of the game, got on the board first, capping an 82-yard opening drive with a nine-yard Mike Smith run. Fryzel, who now has four consecutive games over 100 yards, finished with a career high 174 yards on six catches.

Gabriel hauled in 95 yards on seven receptions.

He and Fryzel become the first receiving due in UCF history to eclipse 1,000 yards in the same season. Fryzel enters the final game of the season with 1,045 yards, while Gabriel has 1,058.

Roethlisberger finished with 271 yards hitting 23-of-41 with two interceptions and one touchdown. Luke Clemens led the RedHawks on the ground with 67 yards on 17 carries. Tillitz finished with 77 yards on six catches with two touchdowns.

FRYZEL HONORED TWICE BY THE MAC UCF receiver Jimmy Fryzel was honored by the Mid-American Conference this week as its East Division Offensive Player of the Week for football and its male Scholar Athlete of the week for all sports as a result of his performance in UCF's 48-31 win against Miami University in Oxford, Ohio Saturday. He is the first from UCF to be named the Scholar-Athlete of the Week in the MAC and the sixth different player to earn player of the week honors.

Fryzel, UCF's offensive captain, caught six passes for a career-high 174 yards and two touch-downs in the win at Miami. After trailing 10-0 in the first quarter, Fryzel got UCF on the board by breaking a tackle over the middle and outrunning the secondary for a career-long 76-yard touch-down reception. He also caught a 20-yard touch-down pass to extend UCF's lead to 21-10 in the second quarter. He averaged 29 yards per catch on the day and extended his consecutive game streak of at least one reception to 32 games. He now has 56 receptions for 1,045 yards and five touchdowns this year.

The senior accounting major was honored earli-er this season for his combined academic and athletic performance when he was voted to the

Verizon Academic All-Distirct III Team. He is now on the ballot for the national Academic All-

The MAC Scholar Athlete of the Week honor is presented to a MAC male and female student-athete who has a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 or better and performs well during that week's competition. The winners are selected by one of the conference's faculty athletics represen-

The recipient of a Bright Futures Scholarship coming out of Lakeland High School, Fryzel has been named to the Athletics Director's Honor Roll all seven semesters at UCF and also earned spots on the Dean's, and President's Lists during his academic career.

The other players from UCF to be earn East Division Player of the Week honors this year are placekicker Matt Prater, quarterback Ryan Schneider, defensive end Elton Patterson, cornerback Asonte Samuel (twice), and safety Patrick Holland, who earned the honor for special teams with a blocked punt against Miami that resulted in a UCF touchdown.

Howell-

Continued from page 1B move on to Seminol Community College, where he was an All-Mid-Florida Conference and All-State performer as a freshman third base-

Howell batted .370, hit 11 home runs and drove in 55 runs. He also set a school record with 22 doubles and helped lead the Raiders to their first State Tournament appearance in over 10 years.

And it was not only on the field where he was a standout, he also excelled in the classroom being named the SCC Freshman Scholar Athlete of the Year as well as being selected as an All-Mid-Florida Conference Academic Scholar.

November 20th of this year marked another big day for Howell as he signed a National Letter-of-Intent to play baseball at the University of Florida under Coach Pat McMahon. Howell had orally committed to play at the University of South Carolina, but chose to attend Florida to stay close to his fami-

"It was a tough decision, but it was the best possible thing," Howell said. "My Dad has always told me he never wanted his condition to be a part of my decisions." Family is one thing Howell cherishes. He speaks very highly of his older brother Mark, 26, who he says is his best friend. A certain glimmer shines off Howell when speaks of older sister Jill, 23, who he says is like a mother figure to him.

But it is Jill's son Ethan, 2, that brings joy to his life.

"My nephew is my life,"
Howell said.

Howeli looks forward to this season.

"I've gotten through a lot; I can take it all now," Howell said. "I am a smarter ball player. I signed early so now there is no pressure and I look forward to setting more school records."

Howell added that it is his dream to be drafted into the Major Leagues, and that dream may very well come true at the end of this season, but he says it would take a lot to keep him from going to Florida and getting his degree.

"It's like I'm pedaling the bike and god's driving," sald

Howell. Yeah, driving in the fast lane straight towards success. After his career is over Howell . would love to be involved with kids and baseball, retiring and being with his own family. It is sure to be a long and successful career for him.

All Souls-

The upset victory also gave All Souls a certain amount of extra satisfaction as St. John Vianney has been the dominant girls program in recent years, winning numerous championships, including beating the Bears' varsity squad in the championship game the past two seasons.

Jessica Russi, a fifth grader, paced All Souls in scoring for the season with 90 points. She was followed by Seda with 44 points and Vergara with 24

Other members of the team were Bucholz, Sara and Anne Rusel, Gina Scheraldi, Theresa Moore, Brittany Nooney, Meg Frank and Tara Doyle.

All Souls now has two championship trophles as several of the girls were also on the team that won the CYL (Catholic Youth League) Summer League

As a result of their teamwork and dedication, All Souls will raise a banner in the school to honor the squad later this month in recognition of its accomplishments.

Rams wrap up successful season

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

LAKE MARY — While there were will be no State Championship banners raised at Lake Mary High School this December, it has still been a very successful Fall Sports season for the Rams.

Coach Greg Stanton's football team was the cochampion of the Seminole Athletic Conference, going 5-0, and wrapped up a 10-2 season with an appearance in the Class 5A-Region 1 Semifinals.

The Rams' only two setbacks this season were to the Region 1 finalists, Daytona Beach Mainland and Rutherford Springfield, both of whom were ranked in the top three in the state and carried 11-1 records into their matchup.

Running back Reggie Campbell put a cap on his stellar career by rushing for 177 yards and scoring on a 56-yard run against Rutherford. The senior rushed for over 1,000 yards again this season and should make the All-State Team for the fourth straight year.

Fellow senior running back Derrick Grayson and senior punter-place kicker Ryan Pascioni also made their final game in a Rams uniform memorable as Grayson scored the game's first touch-down on a 1-yard run and Pascioni kicked two extra points.

Also playing his final game for Lake Mary was outstanding linebacker Keith Rivers, who is surely to make a splash in the future in college.

Lake Mary High School band to host garage sale

By Michelle Jerie Managing Editor

The Lake Mary High School Band is planning an event bargain hunters are sure to love.

For one day only, the group is hosting its annual garage sale in front of the school. Hundreds of items — emough to fill two semi-trucks — will be for sale, including bods, shelves, blcycles, washer and dryer sets, a refrigerator, coercise equipment, patio furniture, televi-sions, computer equipment, lawn movers, dishes, sofas and much much more. All will be found at bermach more. All will be found at ourgain prices.

"People have graciously donated items for the sale, "said Band Booster Board President Leslis Grubl. "We would really like to raise about $3,000 from the sale."

Money raised will help pay band members' costs and future functions.

The garage sale is planned for Saturday, Dec. 7, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. People will want to arrive early to find the perfect item, Ways and Means Co-Chair Diane Watkins said.

"But, the later in the day, the

But, the later in the day, the more likely we will be willing to barter," Watkins said. "We don't want to have any of it after 4 p.m."

Rams

The State Cross Country Championships were held in Tampa last weekend and Lake Mary's Jessica Zabel capped off her outstanding four-year career by running a 19:14 and finishing seventh in the Class AA reco enth in the Class 4A race.

But the story in cross country was Coach Mike Gibson's boys team.

The Rams surprised everyone by being the only Seminole Athletic Conference squad to earn a trip to State during the regionals.

The boys then came home a respectable 15th at the State Meet led by senior William Barnett, Other Ram runners were senior Thomas Adriaansen, juniors Stephen Little, Daniel Selsky and Jonathan Halsey, and Sophomores Joris Claessens and Alejandro Languze.

The Lake Mary swim teams also wrapped up a successful campaign with the girls' team finishing fifth and the boys 11th at the 2002 FHSAA Florida Finals at the Hall of Fame Aquatic Complex.

Individually, junior Diane Gu had a big meet for the Rams girls, finishing second in the 50-Yard Freestyle and third in the 100-Yard Freestyle.

and third in the 100-Yard Freestyle and also swam the anchor leg in the 400-Yard Freestyle and 200-Yard Medley relay teams that finished second and sixth, respectively.

Another member of the runner-up 400-Yard Freestyle team was junior Hilary Goembel, who also finished fourth in the 200-Yard Individual Medley, sixth in the 100-Yard

Backstroke and was a member of the ninth place finishing 200-Yant

Senior Jernifer Berzinis was also in three finals, finishing sixth in the 100-Yard Breaststruke and also being a member of the 200-Yard Freestyle and 400-Yard Freestyle relay teams.

Senior Christina Epperly was a member of the 200-Yard Medley and 400-Yard Freestyle relay teams, and senior Kate Allinson was a member of the 200-Yard Medley and 200-Yard Freestyle relay teams. The final two Rams swimmers in finals were junior Bridget Tyler on the 200-Yard Medley Relay team and senior Kara Allinson on the 200-Yard Freestyle Relay toam.

He was seventh in the 200-Yard Individual Medley and 13th in the 100-Yard Butterfly and was also a member of the 10th place 200-Yard Medley Relay to the 10th place 200-Yard Me Medley Relay team and ninth place 400-Yard Freestyle Relay team.

Junior Eric Finn was in three finals, finishing seventh in the 100-Yard Breaststroke and 15th in the 200-Yard Individual Medley and being a part of the 200-Yard Medley Relay

The team of seniors Patrick Keely, William Harrell, Jeffrey Keely and freshman Kane Ashion finished ninth in the 200-Yard Preestyle Reiay, with Jeffrey Keely also swim-ming on the 200-Yard Medley and 400-Yard Freestyle relay teams and Patrick Keely swimming on the 400-Yard Freestyle Relay team.

Deputy Chief Belfiore honored ...

Since 9-11, we have grown to appreciate our police officers and their work they do. One of Lake Mary's finest, Sam Belfiore, has announced his retirement. He was recognized at our City Commission meeting on Nov. 21, 2002. Prior to the meeting, a reception honoring Sam was held. Law Enforcemen was well represented, as well as the State Attorney's Office, friends and family. All those who attended expressed their admiration and respect for the deputy chief's service to the community.

During the City Commission meeting, I read a proclamation declaring Nov. 22, 2002, Samuel L. Belfiore Day in Lake Mary.

We all appreciate Sam's 23 years of service to the citizens of Lake

One more term in office

Mailing tips to avoid holiday glitches

A "magical" holiday season without many glitches may be easler to achieve than you think

First, make a list. Then, check it twice. Then, follow these sugges-tions from the U.S. Postal Service:

· Write, type, or print the delivery address neatly.

• Always use a return address.

 Always use complete address information, such as Ave., Blvd., and St. Use the apartment or suite number as well as correct directionals such as N, W and SW.

· Don't let an incorrect ZIP code delay delivery of cards and letters. You can get zip onde infor-mation at the post office or on the Postal Service Web site at www.usps.com. You can also find a postage calculator and a post office locator on the site.

 Select a container strong enough to protect the contents. Leave space for cushioning inside · Always use tape that is designed for shipping, such as pressure sensitive tape, nylon-reinforced craft paper tape or glass-reinforced pressure sensitive tape. Never wrap parcels with string or

 The only addresses for mailing should be the delivery and return addresses. Remove all previous labels. Place a return address label inside the package in case the package gets damaged, the con-tents can still be delivered or · Remove batteries from toys. Wrap and place them next to the toys in the mailing box.

pound or more must be taken into the post office for mailing.

Avoid waiting in line to buy holiday stamps by using Stamps by Phone (1-800-STAMP-24). Stamps by Mail, the Postal Store at www.usps.com or at participating · Consider Priority Mail -The price is often similar to Parcel Post and the package will be delivered within two to three days.

 Many post offices are open on Christmas Eve, which means lastminute packages can etili make it by Christmas Day to most major metropolitan areas via Express Mail.

Following these holiday hints can help make your holidays more "magical."
