Students, seniors bridge 80 years in special project

By MARVA HAWKINS

SANFORD — Fifth grade teacher Dorothea Fogle hoped her students and residents of Good Samaritan Home could learn a lot from each other although over 80 years separated the youngest child from the oldest adult.

goal set for Dorothea Fogle's fifth graders at Goldsboro Elementary School. The mission: to enhance the quality of life for senior citizens and enhance the academic and social skills of these targeted students who are below their grade level academically, and who are not able to respond in every day methods of teaching. Fogle, at the beginning of the year, said they were potential dropouts.

The desire for learning inspired the fifth graders to work hard. Each student was paired with a senior citizen at the Good Samaritan Home. "The project, 'Learn and Serve, Reaching out to Others,' was one of the most exciting times in my class" says Anthony Dixon. "The S.T.A.R. 5 class traveled to the Good Samaritan Home

Mom finds closure 5 years after daughter killed by drunk driver

By VICKI DeBORNER

SANFORD — Nothing will bring Jill Gongwer's daughter Amy back. Her mother thinks some measure of justice has been served as her killer returned to jail this past week.

According to John Priester of the Department of Motor Vehicles, the Gongwers contacted him to explain the situation. If their information was correct, he said, Axonovitz had clearly violated her probation in addition to obtaining a driver's license by fraudulent means. "Her license should have been revoked for life," he said, "regardless of names."

The 18-year-old was killed five years ago on Memorial Day by a drunk driver whose car smashed into Amy's.

Priester and the Gongwers contacted both the Orange County (where Axonovitz was living) Sheriff's Department and the probation department. They watched her and found that she was driving illegally and sometimes under the influence.

Claudia Axonovitz was legally drunk when she was behind the wheel, Seminole County sheriff's deputies said.

She was also being sought by probation officials for having moved to a new location without informing them and for failing to report to her probation officer for several months.

She was sentenced to one year in the county jail, two years of community control and 15 years probation. She served 241 days of the time in jail and was then released.

As a condition of her probation she was told she was not permitted to drink alcohol or to apply for a driver's license.

She was arrested and brought to trial with the help of assistant Seminole County state attorney Bart Schneider.

Gongwer said she has been "keeping up with" Axonovitz as best she could, but that a jilted boyfriend (of Axonovitz) had called to tell Gongwer that she had violated her probation.

On Thursday, Axonovitz was sentenced to 10 years at the state prison.

"He told me she had managed to get a driver's license with a safe driver designation by using her maiden name," Gongwer said. "And he said she had been drinking...and drinking and driving."

It is not clear if she will be required to serve 85 percent of her sentence as required under the 1995 law. If the sentencing is a continuation of the 1991 sentencing then she may not have to serve as much jail time.

The Gongwers contacted the driver's license office and informed them of how she had received a license.

"We don't know yet," Gongwer said. "We'll just have to see."

Gongwer said she has "real mixed emotions"

Prisoners' gain time

State attorney ready for violent offenders to challenge his fight against early release

By JEFF BERLINCKE

SANFORD — Norman Wolfinger knew he'd get the call eventually. The state's attorney had been working for years battling the state's policy of allowing incentive gain time for prisoners working toward their early release in cases of violent crimes.

"I hear their cries but I also hear from the good people who don't want them (violent offenders) to get 37 days per month."

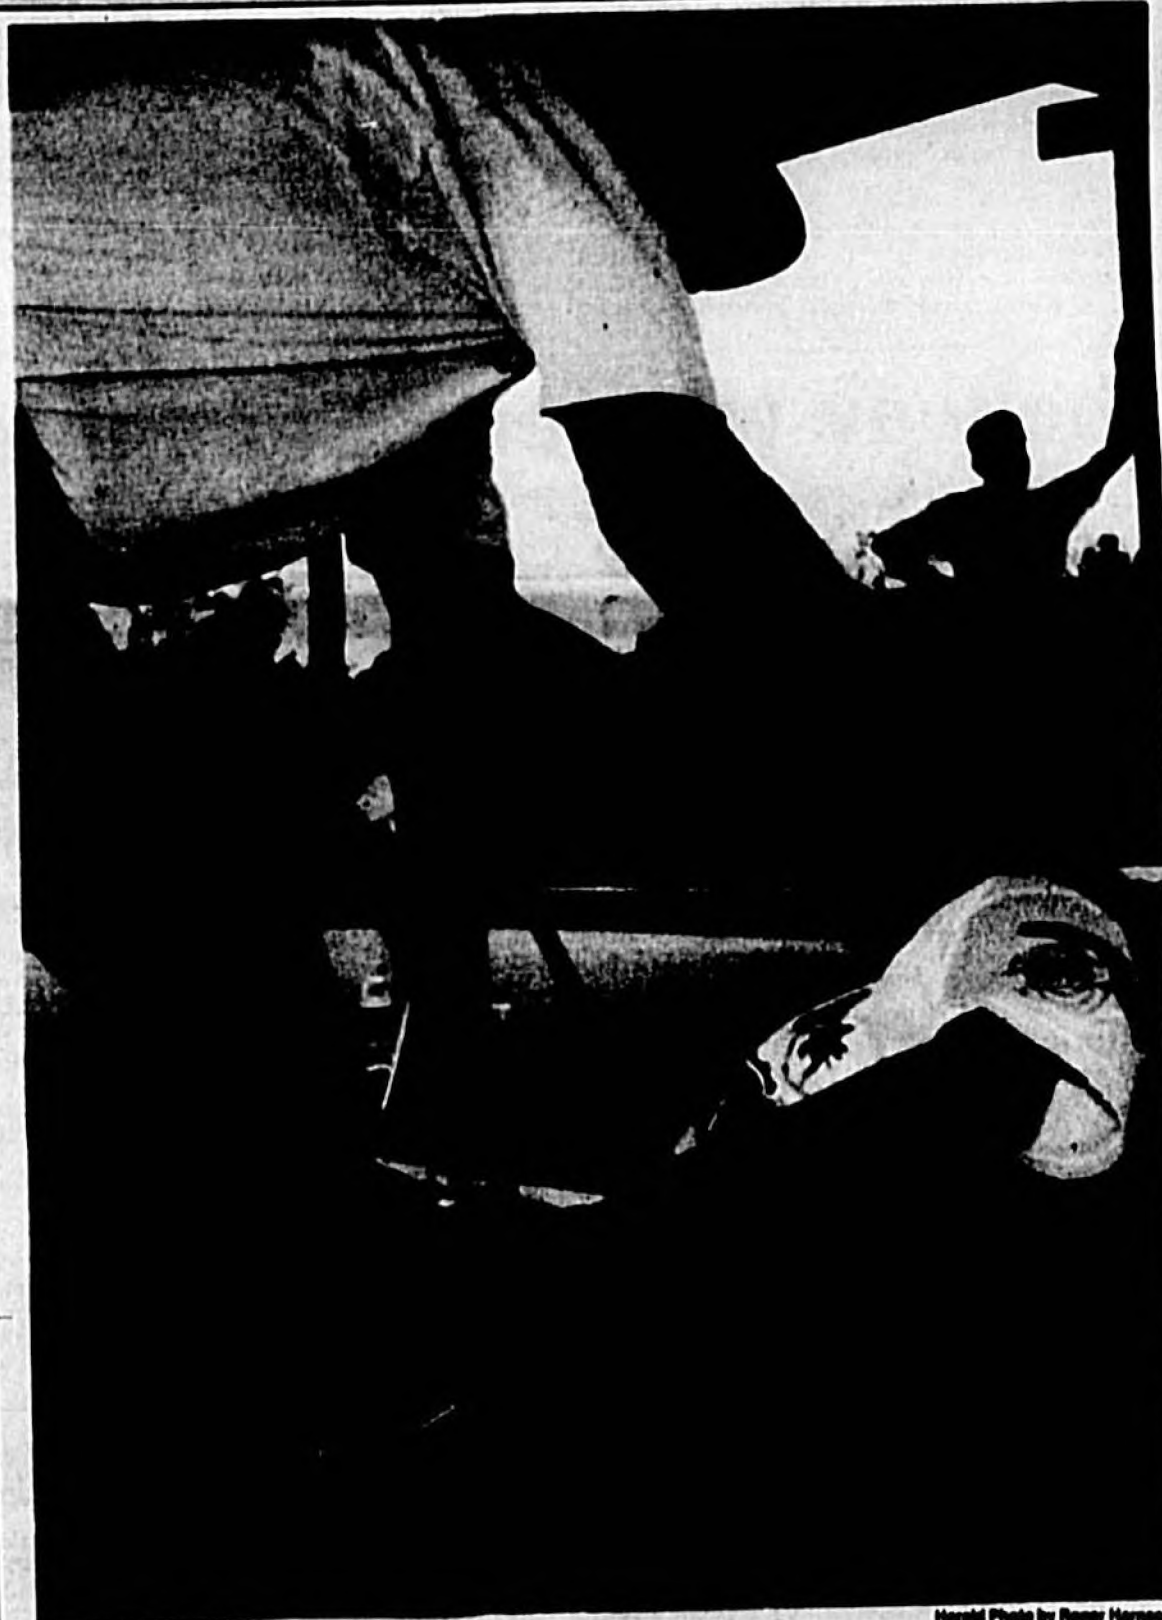

—State Attorney Norm Wolfinger

Wolfinger, the state's attorney representing Seminole and Brevard counties, saw his mission accomplished when Harry Singletary, Secretary of the Florida House of Corrections, agreed to deny additional gain time for prisoners convicted of violent and dangerous crimes committed before Oct. 1, 1995 until 85 percent of their sentenced time had been served. Wolfinger was elated at the decision. He also knew it would be challenged. It finally happened Friday when he learned that a St. Petersburg prisoner, Richard Gwong and his

Protesters target televangelist Hinn

By ROGER HARNACK

LONGWOOD — Protesters lined the entrance to Alaqua Saturday picketing Reverend Benny Hinn and his television ministry.

Alaqua, the upscale subdivision where Hinn resides.

Armed with signs denouncing Hinn, the protesters waved to passing motorists and residents of the subdivision.

While the protest stayed peaceful, tension was heightened by the presence of a security guard and a nearby film crew, both of which protesters alleged were hired by Hinn to monitor their activities.

"He takes miracles and sells them to the public to the tune of $100 million," protester Rick Johnston said. "He preaches heresy."

Gus Benitez, attorney for Hinn, called the protesters a "nuisance."

Johnston was just one of a half-dozen protesters in front of

"I am totally at a loss as to what they are protesting," Benitez said. "Everytime we have asked them what they are protesting, they are at a loss for an answer."

Camp
The annual camp for the Southern District of Sanford County, Florida, is being held at the home of Mrs. Hoge from June 15 to June 17, 1966. The camp is open to all senior citizens who are members of the Southern District. The camp includes a variety of activities, including games, singing, and a picnic. The cost of the camp is very low, and it is a great opportunity for seniors to enjoy the outdoors and get to know their neighbors better.

Protest
A group of senior citizens is protesting against the proposed construction of a new highway through the area. ## Responsible parents and citizens

When is the parent responsible for the care of the child? Parental responsibility is a subject of growing concern these days, as the line between childhood and adult activity, diminishes. It is argued that our children are being very hard on parents, only to be excused by their parents due to their childish, naive thinking. The assumption of responsibility by children, who are being excused, have troubling them.

With being an adult, as the burden is shifted to the child, the parent is excused. The child is responsible for their behavior. They are not addressing the criminal act, but rather, the parent's responsibility in the act. I am not addressing the criminal act, but rather, the parent's responsibility in the act. I am not addressing the criminal act, but rather, the parent's responsibility in the act.

The article is not about those who are responsible for the care of the child, but rather, the parent's responsibility in the act. I am not addressing the criminal act, but rather, the parent's responsibility in the act. I am not addressing the criminal act, but rather, the parent's responsibility in the act.

activity of the child, not the responsibility in the act. I am not addressing the criminal act, but rather, the parent's responsibility in the act. I am not addressing the criminal act, but rather, the parent's responsibility in the act.

What can we do to affect the situation? The answer is to be aware of the situation, assume responsibility for the children in your house, on your own, in your own way. Do not treat them as a child, or young adult when they are correcting a child, or young adult when they are correcting a child, or young adult when they are correcting a child.

We don't need more legislation, governmental agencies, studies or experts, to tell us what to do and how to do it. A viable argument can be made that these experts, studies, legislation and agencies have done more harm, more to create the air of irresponsibility both among parents and children than any other factor.

Kings of the road?

Editorial is out. Youngsters are everywhere, where we hope they will be, where they want to be, and where they should be.

The number of young people who are driving is increasing. One of the biggest areas of complaint is on highways and the danger to motorists riding their bikes. One of the biggest areas of complaint is on highways and the danger to motorists riding their bikes.

While the city has established a relatively low speed limit for the highway area, it is not always enforced. It may be difficult to avoid hitting a bicyclist.

Youngsters aren't dumb. They know passing motorists will do anything, including driving off into the lake, to avoid hitting them. They know passing motorists will do anything, including driving off into the lake, to avoid hitting them.

It's relatively rare, unless there are youngsters who will avoid the lake, to avoid hitting them. They know passing motorists will do anything, including driving off into the lake, to avoid hitting them.

Race for the finish line sends 3 to national Soap Box Derby

By [Name]

SANFORD — Under blue skies, the area's youngest racers took to the track Saturday to compete in the annual Central Florida Soap Box Derby.

This year's race featured nearly 50 soap box derby racers in one of the largest races ever held at Dayby Park.

Soap box derby racers, boys and girls ages nine to 16, competed in three divisions: Stock, Masters and Super-stock.

At speeds upwards of 30 mph, they raced down the 700-foot track seeking a championship title and a trip to Akron, Ohio, to compete in the All American Race, slated for Aug. 10.

Sanford's Gary Olutch secured one slot in the national competition by winning the Stock division. Second place went to Josh Welch of Mims and Nick Brandt of Fort St. John was third.

In the Super-stock division, both Paul of Cape Coral and [Name] of [Location] advanced in the All American Race as well.

Longwood's Melanie Kirby was second followed by Paula Modocott of Winter Park in third.

Ashlee Gravett will also advance to the national race, having won the Masters division. Cocoa Beach racer Rachel Cole was second and Winter Park's Ben Griffin was third.

Only the winners of each division advance to the All American Race.

The event, sponsored by Sanford's Parks and Recreation Department, attracted several hundred spectators.

"It was a great day," Evelyn Bennett, Parks and Recreation Department secretary, said. "But it was a little windy."

The breeze made keeping the soap derby cars on a straight course a little tricky for some of the less experienced drivers, she said. However, there were not any crashes or injuries.

"Everyone just had a great time," she said.

Celebrity racers at the event were professional wrestler "Hacksaw" Jim Duggan, McDonald's Manager Jack Corcoran, parent Keith Gandy, and Radio Ashes stars Jemmin' JuJo and Mighty Matt.

With one hand on his crash helmet and one on the steering wheel, Duggan rolled into first place in the celebrity races.

Sanford's Gary Olutch secured one slot in the national competition by winning the Stock division. Second place went to Josh Welch of Mims and Nick Brandt of Fort St. John was third.

In the Super-stock division, both Paul of Cape Coral and [Name] of [Location] advanced in the All American Race as well.

Only the winners of each division advance to the All American Race.

The event, sponsored by Sanford's Parks and Recreation Department, attracted several hundred spectators.

"It was a great day," Evelyn Bennett, Parks and Recreation Department secretary, said. "But it was a little windy."

The breeze made keeping the soap derby cars on a straight course a little tricky for some of the less experienced drivers, she said. However, there were not any crashes or injuries.

"Everyone just had a great time," she said.

Celebrity racers at the event were professional wrestler "Hacksaw" Jim Duggan, McDonald's Manager Jack Corcoran, parent Keith Gandy,

and Radio Ashes stars Jemmin' JuJo and Mighty Matt.

AROUND THE STATE

Cubs edge Marlins

MIAMI — Jaime Navarro pitched a seven-hitter and Scott Servais drove in the go-ahead run in the seventh inning Friday night as the Orlando Cubs edged the Miami Marlins, 3-2.

The Marlins' offense was stifled as Navarro got Edgar Rivera to line to Brian McRae in center for the final out.

Servais, in a 2-for-31 slump, hit a shallow fly to center that Marlins second baseman Craig Grebeck initially called for before he was waved off by center fielder Devon White. However, White was unable to get to the ball, allowing Ryan Sanberg to score from first.

McRae's solo homer in the sixth, his third, off Marlins starter Pat Rapp (3-5), tied it 1-1.

Florida scored its only run in the second inning, Gary Sheffield singled off the scoreboard in left and advanced to third on Terry Pendleton's double. Sheffield scored on Greg Colbrunn's sacrifice fly to center.

Carr to miss rest of season

MILWAUKEE — An MRI on Brewers center fielder Chuckie Carr revealed a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee, a torn lateral collateral ligament, a torn hamstring tendon and a bone bruise.

He will undergo major reconstructive knee surgery and miss the season. Carr was injured while making a sensational leaping catch on Cleveland's Julio Franco's deep fly ball in the fourth inning Thursday.

Braves acquire Bautista

ATLANTA — The Atlanta Braves, looking to bolster their injury depleted outfield, acquired Danny Bautista from the Detroit Tigers.

The Braves, who already lost David Justice for the season to a shoulder injury, placed Jerome Walton on the 15-day disabled list with a nagging right hip strain, then traded minor-league outfielder Anton French for Bautista. Bautista, 24, hit .360 with two homers and eight RBIs in 26 games with Detroit.

1st Methodist rallies past Central Baptist

From Staff Reports

SANFORD — Mark Blythe went from goat to hero Saturday as his two-out single in the bottom of the seventh inning capped a two-run rally as the Sanford First United Methodist-Flames handed Sanford Central Baptist its first loss of the season 7-6 in Sanford Recreation Department Church Spring Sleeppitch Softball League action at Chase Park.

Central Baptist appeared headed for its fifth straight victory as the Flames had a runner on first (on a leadoff single by Bill Gracey) with two out in the bottom of the seventh inning. But Tony Blaise doubled to left and winning pitcher Tom Gracey (who relieved starting pitcher Robert Jones in the sixth inning) was walked intentionally to load the bases. Mark Whitley followed with a walk to tie the game and Blythe ripped a two-strike single between first and second.

In other games played Saturday, Tom Clark drove in three runs and Phillip Sutherland drove in two as Sanford First Church of the Nazarene moved into a tie for third place with a 7-4 victory over Deltona Trinity Assembly of God-Majesty and Nazarene and Sanford All Souls Catholic claimed forfeit wins from Sanford Church of God and Sanford Spanish Assemblies, respectively.

The Flames are now 4-1, while

Trinity Assembly-Majesty	000 001 1-4 10
First Nazarene	000 000 0-7 10
Sanford Spanish	000 000 0-6 11
First Methodist-Flames	000 000 0-7 10

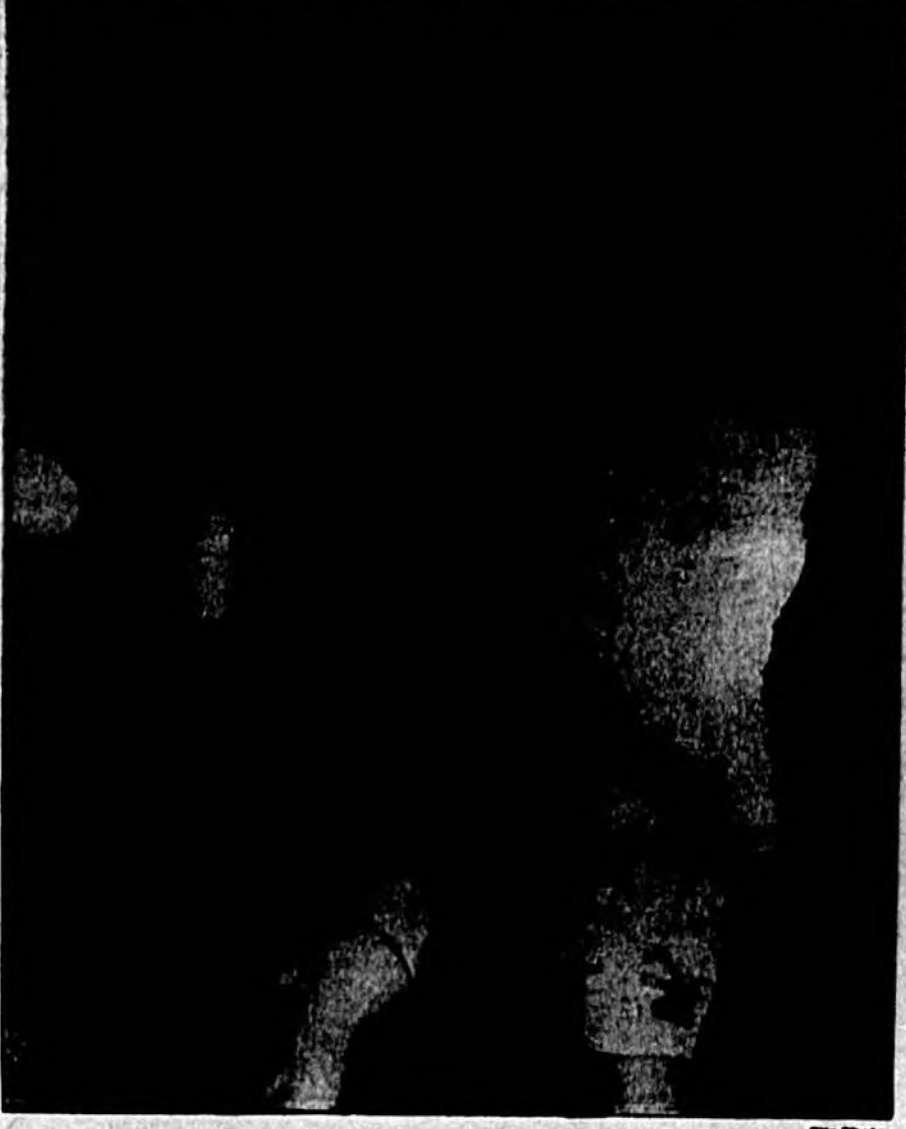

Central Baptist is now 3-1. Majesty and Nazarene are right behind, with both clubs showing 3-2 records. All Souls is next with a 2-3 league mark, while Spanish Assemblies is 1-3 and Church of God in 0-4.

Next week, Spanish Assemblies plays the doubleheader against Nazarene at 9 a.m. and Majesty at 10 a.m. At 11 a.m., Central Baptist takes on All Souls and at noon, Church of God challenges the Flames.

Majesty led 2-0 in the second inning, but Nazarene rallied with a run in the bottom of the second inning and three runs in the bottom of the third inning. Nazarene then tacked on three insurance runs in the fifth inning before Majesty got single runs in the sixth and seventh innings.

Contributing for Nazarene were Sutherland (two singles, run, two RBI), Donnie McCoy (two singles, run, RBI), Clark (two singles, three RBI), Brian Howard, Scott Wade and winning pitcher Sonny Eubanks (two singles and one run each), Doug Lutz (single, two runs), Frank Turner and Todd Morgan (one single each) and Perry Heester (RBI).

Mark Blythe jumped on his opportunity to make up for an earlier error as he lined a single to right field to plate the winning run in the 1st United Methodist-Flames' 7-6 victory over Central Baptist Saturday at Chase Park.

Oviedo wins American Legion opener

By TONY BOGGS

ORLANDO — After the first two Winter Haven batters in the fourth inning reached on a single and an error, Malychuk recorded nine consecutive outs before giving way to Bush.

In his three innings of work, Bush walked five, walked two, gave up a double, and pitched two runners off base.

Andy Nowfeld was 2-for-3 with a pair of doubles, a run scored, and two RBIs for Goldenrod 112 while Jorge Hernandez hit a pair of singles in six trips to the plate.

Also contributing to the attack were Dave Devito (double, RBI), Carson Gore (single, RBI), Jay McFarlane, Knapp, Guy Erwin, and Dan Weber (each with a single and a run); Scott Ferrell (run, RBI); and Rich Rodriguez (RBI).

Goldenrod Post 112 will host the Altamonte Springs Dodgers (Lake Brantley High School's summer team) in a doubleheader Monday night at Oviedo High School's Miller Field. The first game is scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

COLONNED 12 WINTER HAVEN 1

Goldenrod Post 112, with Malychuk, Devin (1), Manning, and Bush, won 7-4 over Goldenrod 112, LP 1-0. Bush (3-1) pitched 3 1/3 innings, 100 pitches, 67 strikes, 33 balls, 10 hits, 5 runs, 2 earned runs, 2 walks, 2 strikeouts, 1 error, 10 outs.

Jeremy Frost, who has moved from center field to center, was 4-for-4 with three singles, a double, two runs scored, and two RBIs. Frost scored both of his runs when Winter Haven outfielders made three-base errors trying to caught off singles on one hop.

Leading 2-1 after three innings, Goldenrod 112 struck for two runs in the top of the fourth, then added four runs in the fifth.

Malychuk retired the first seven batters he faced before Dan Morrison singled with one out in the third to break up the no-hitter. Morrison later scored to ruin the shutout.

Castle Inducted In Hall of Fame

By GARY BOATMAN

SANFORD — Larry Castle, who coached the Seminole Community College men's tennis team to two national titles between 1975 and 1983, was recently inducted into the National Junior College Athletic Association Tennis Coaches Hall of Fame.

"I was surprised because they have only been selecting people for the last two or three years," Castle said. "Junior College tennis has been around since 1928, and that involves a lot of talented people. I am pleased, and a peer award like this is very meaningful."

In eight seasons as SCC men's tennis coach, Castle guided the Raiders to eight top-eight national rankings, eight division championships, and four state titles. The Raiders had an overall record on 368-22 during Castle's coaching tenure, which included a 180-8 mark against Junior College teams. Castle's SCC tennis teams had 48 all-state selections and 18 All-Americans.

"The fact that we won two national championships and had four players on the professional level probably had a lot to do with my selection," Castle said. "Winning the national championships and being elected to the coaches hall of fame are probably my greatest accomplishments. It's awesome to win a national college championship in anything because it so hard to do."

Michael Fernero, Tobias Svantesson, Andrew Castle and Nequet Demit played for Castle at SCC, then went on to play in professional tennis events at Wimbledon, the French Open, the U.S. Open and the Australian Open. Fernero later climbed into the top 10 in the Association of Tennis Professionals world rankings, while Svantesson is the head tennis pro at Alequn Country Club in Lake Mary.

"I'm also proud of the fact that all of our tennis players graduated, and most of them went on to four year schools," Castle added. "Most of them didn't play professional tennis, but they became successful doctors, lawyers and other things."

Castle graduated from Ashland (Ky.) High School, where he was a third team All-State basketball selection who averaged 22.4 points per game during his senior year in 1966. Castle went on to play on two NCAA tournament basketball teams at Western Kentucky University.

Larry Castle

Castle coached basketball at Thomas Jefferson High School in Louisville, Ky. for three years after earning a Bachelor of Science degree in 1963. He went on to coach baseball and tennis at East Tennessee State University from 1966 to 1971, and earned his Master of Arts Degree from ETSU in 1967.

"I was originally hired to coach baseball and basketball at East Tennessee State, but they thought it might be too much for me," Castle said. "I started coaching tennis by accident. When I got to East Tennessee State, they told me they needed a tennis coach. I told them I didn't know much about tennis, but they told me that it didn't matter."

"Up to that point, I had played tennis four or five times at the most," Castle added. "I became a tennis nut, and I loved to play and coach the game. The footwork and hand-eye coordination are very similar between basketball and tennis."

Castle arrived at SCC in 1975, and has taught physical education at the school ever since. He has served as the Raiders Athletic Director since 1987, and is also the current Physical Education Department Chair. When Castle retires from SCC, he plans to compete in tennis tournaments for his age-level. He was inducted into the Seminole County Sports Hall of Fame in 1984.

Gators win in "grand" style

By TOM WYATT
AP Sports Writer
OMAHA, Neb. — Brad Wilkerson gave himself a birthday present on Saturday. Wilkerson celebrated his 19th birthday by hitting a seventh-inning grand slam, then took to the pitcher's mound to save Florida's 5-2 victory over Florida State in the College World Series. "I think pitching is more comfortable," he said when asked if it was better to hit with the bases loaded or pitch in the same situation. "Pitching is harder. I feel more comfortable as a pitcher."

Seminole starter Randy Choate (15-4) held Florida to four hits in 6 2/3 innings but made his own trouble with two two-out walks in the seventh with Florida State leading 5-1. "I couldn't place it," Choate said. "When I went out there I didn't look like Randy Choate, and to be honest, I didn't feel like Randy Choate."

Reliever Chuck Howell walked Mark Ellis to load the bases and was lifted for freshman Zach Dias, who surrendered Wilkerson's homer over the right field fence. "We were very, very blessed to get a big hit at the right time," said Florida coach Andy Lopez, who led Pepperdine to the CWS title in 1980. Lopez said it was great to have Wilkerson come through on the mound and at the plate because he is such a good person off the field.

"I think the greatest attribute Brad gives us is him humility and his down-homeness," Lopez said. Florida advanced to a second-round game Monday against the winner of Saturday night's Louisiana State-Wichita State game. Florida State, still looking for a first CWS title in its 15th trip to Omaha, will have to come back in an elimination game against the LSU-Wichita loser. Florida State (51-16) spotted Choate a two-run lead in the second when Scooby Morgan singled in one run and Matt Woodward's sacrifice fly scored another off Gators starter John Kaufman (11-4). But Kaufman scattered just two hits and benefited from three double plays to face the minimum number of batters until he walked Brock Bedaux with two down in the eighth. "John just made good pitches," Florida State coach Mike Martin said. "He painted the outside of the plate, and when you can do that consistently, you make it tough to hit. They made the pitches and got the big hit, and there's a going to be a lot of those plays tonight in the major leagues."

Hurricanes get better of Benson

By TOM WYATT
AP Sports Writer
OMAHA, Neb. — Miami scored three runs in the first inning against Kris Benson, college baseball's top player, and failed the deciding run on a Clemson outfielder's mental lapse as the Hurricanes bested Clemson 7-3 Friday night in the College World Series. Benson (14-1), Baseball America's player of the year, struck out 15 in 7 1/3 innings, but allowed five runs on eight hits in sustaining his first loss in over a year. The win moves No. 5 seed Miami (48-13) to the second round at 8:55 p.m. CDT Sunday to meet top-seeded Alabama (50-17), a 7-5 winner over Oklahoma State earlier. Fourth-seeded Clemson (49-16) meets OSU (45-30) in an elimination game at 6:55 p.m. Sunday. Benson, the nation's ERA leader at 1.40 entering the game, struggled in the first. The junior right-hander, considered the consensus No. 1 choice in next week's major-league baseball draft, allowed a single to Ryan Grimmett and two walks to load the bases with no outs. T.R. Marcotony's singled home two runs one out later and Michael DeCelle singled in another before Benson struck out the side. The Hurricanes were the last team to beat Benson in May 1980. Three Clemson pitchers ended with 19 strikeouts to break the CWS record of 17 in a nine-inning game held by Ed Bane and Arizona State against Oklahoma State in 1973. A bizarre play led to another Miami run in the second when Rudy Gomez doubled down the third-base line, and Tigers left fielder Gary Burnham, thinking the ball was foul, tossed it to him in the bleachers. Gomez was allowed to score on the two-base throwing error, making the score 4-3. That took some of the gloss off Burnham's two-run double in the Clemson first. The Tigers added another run with back-to-back doubles by Kurt Bultmann and Matthew LeCroy leading off the third. Benson settled down to hold Miami scoreless the next five innings and had 14 strikeouts by the end of six. He went to the bench after DeCelle's RBI single in the eighth. Ken Vining came on in relief and struck out two more to tie the CWS record. David Shepard added two strikeouts in the ninth to get the record for Clemson at 19. The Hurricanes added two insurance runs in the ninth for relief ace Robbie Morrison, who poked up his 14th ave. Miami senior Clint Walsh (15-8) moved into a clean hit (the second) and was allowed to score on the two-base throwing error, making the score 4-3. That took some of the gloss off Burnham's two-run double in the Clemson first. ## Horne, Lash honored at festive luncheons

Mona Horne was in the limelight on Wednesday, May 29, when she was the surprised and excited guest of honor at a retirement luncheon at the Sanford Landings Restaurant of the Marina Hotel on Sanford's picturesque harbor.

The festive event celebrated Mona's retirement from Semole High School. Over 20 teachers, staff administrators and retired surprised Mona with a delicious buffet, decorated cake, songs, gifts and cards to show their appreciation for her long and faithful service as an outstanding teacher.

Coordinating the plans for the festivity were Pam Sawyer, Jane Cooper and Denise Swain.

According to Denise, Mona taught history, speech and English in Oklawaha and Ocala before moving to Florida where she first taught at Lake Brantley High School. Later, she helped start a private school at Westlake Hospital. Nine years ago she transferred to Semole High where she "distinguished herself as a caring, dedicated and dedicated teacher," Swain said. She was chosen to be an instructor for TEARN, an intensive reading program for average and above average students.

Mona and her husband of 48 years, William, who attended the luncheon, plan to retire to Oklawaha where they are building a new home. They look forward to seeing more of their son, John, their daughter-in-law, Peggy, and their three grandchildren, John, David and Anna who live in Kentucky.

Luncheon honors retiring president

Members of the Board of Managers of the Sanford Woman's Club for the past two years were invited to the home of Viola Frank to a luncheon honoring DeLoree Lash, outgoing president of the club. The club season ends June 8 when DeLoree will relinquish the gavel to Ruth Gaines, incoming president.

Viola was the hostess with the mostest who provided and prepared the delicious feast that was enjoyed in a beautiful atmosphere.

The board presented DeLoree with an antique ceramic rooster which came as a surprise since she said she has searched all over for this treasure.

DeLoree plans to rest up a bit and do a lot of things she has postponed during her 8-year tenure as club president. She is already planning to go skiing this winter with her husband, Jim.

Invited to attend the delightful event were: Joan Metta, immediate past president; Ruth Gaines, Ruth Abruzzese, Eve Rogers, Rose Jacobson, Isabel Wilson, Marty Colegrove, past president; Betty Haddock, Martha Yancy, Pat Brooks, Pat Foster, Vivian Buch, Polly Peadar, Patsy Eder, Doris Cornely, Libby Prevatt, Ruth Blankenship, Fran Morton and Phyllis Condit.

Up, up and away

Two summers ago, Derry Harris was visiting her husband's daughter and family in Panama City when she spotted colorful parachutes soaring over the Gulf of Mexico. She had a growing desire to parasail, but couldn't find out any information on the location of the flights.

Later, she was out walking on Lake Monroe and spotted a chaise out over the lake and then she read an article in the Sanford Herald about parasailing. That did it for Derry, a feisty 78, she mentioned her desire to her daughter from Tampa who told her mother, "Go for it!"

On Mother's Day, Derry's son and wife and daughter and friend, all from Tampa, visited her in Sanford and they stopped by Shyline Watersports at Monroe Harbour Marina to inquire about parasailing. To Derry's surprise, there seemed to be a chaise with her name on it. In just minutes, she was rigged with a harness and life jacket for parasailing over Lake

Monroe for the flight of a lifetime. "I was not the least bit frightened," Derry said. "It's an experience and is so peaceful and beautiful up there. When your time is up, they reel you in like they are reeling in a fish."

According to John Sternberg of Shyline Watersports, the parasailers are controlled from a specially-built diesel-operated boat by 800 feet of line which carries them about 800 feet into the air. Sailors pay for about 12 minutes for $45.00, weather permitting. Donna Sternberg said her husband would not go out on the boat in any unfavorable weather activity. So far, the parasailers have been between the ages 4 to 84.

Derry is still up there on Cloud Nine. "I want to go back," she chuckled.

Network telethon

Sanford's celebrity aunt, Lourine Moninger, is excited that her famous nephew, movie star John Schneider, will be at Walt Disney World over the weekend celebrating the 13th annual Children's Miracle Network telethon. The 20-hour event also stars Mary Hart and Merle Olsen, among others, begins Saturday, June 1, at 6 p.m. on Channel 6 and ends Sunday at 6 p.m.

Church honors Stephens for 70 years service; Love Feast set

On May 1968, at the age of 15, Mother Eva Williams Stephens joined Progressive Missionary Baptist Church. She has worked in her church and community for the last 70 years and has touched many lives. She is still a devoted and active member.

Mother Stephens has served as Sunday School teacher and superintendent, secretary of the Baptist Young People's Union, president of the Ladies Board, president of the Deacons and Home Mission; she now serves as Mother of the church.

She is also a leader in the world of fraternal order. In 1959 she received her 22nd degree in the masonic; she has served as worthy matron of Rose of Sharon No. 194 Order of Eastern Star; finance secretary of District Council No. 50, Order of Eastern Star; chaplain of Seagraves Grand Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, United States of America; member of Ancient Accepted Daughter of Minerva, Scottish Rite Mason Sister, Mother Stephens, as she is called by many, says her life is filled with many loving memories and dreams that have come true in her life and the lives of those she has touched.

On Sunday, May 30, the church honored her for her 70 years of service. The "Stephens girls," her grandchildren, sang praises to her. The message for the occasion was delivered by Sister Rose Roundtree, from Psalm 91. Tributes of appreciation and love were given in the form of plaques, speeches, telegrams, flowers and financial gifts.

Sharing in this momentous occasion were members from the masonic lodges of Orlando, Apopka, and Winter Park. Mother Stephens is the daughter of the late Gus Stephens. She is the mother of four sons: 28 grand, 26 great grand, two great great grand.

Her sons, James and George, say they are filled with memories that they can cherish forever; they often look back and smile.

Pastor Emory Blake, deacon, trustees and members of Progressive Missionary Baptist Church salute Mother Eva Stephens for her 70 years of outstanding Christian service.

Mother Eva Stephens

Special tribute was given to renowned artist Panama Francis whose career spans from the very inception of jazz through the big band, bebop and rock 'n' roll eras. A successful studio drummer, he has played with Cab Calloway, Duke Ellington and Benny Goodman.

Honors also went to Fizee Wales, who has been an entertainer for more than 40 years. Fizee has a flair for dance; she is more than a singer; she is a complete entertainer. Fizee stars with her husband, Dennis, in Wright's Freedom commercial. She's Cross commercial, and she performs as a singer in the movie "Rosewood". Fizee has an ongoing love affair with her audience.

Musicologist Sidney Weinberg is a career musician. He has taught at various conservatories and Temple University; performed on Broadway; recorded albums, film scores, and television programs. He is president of the Central Florida Jazz Society.

The master of ceremonies was James "Bobby" (Chief) Wilson, retired band director from James High School, Orlando. The Jazz Orchestra, under the direction of James Patterson, founder,

Woman's club installs officers

Wednesday, May 29 was a big day for the members of the Lake Mary Women's Club. It was the first business meeting since the club's reorganization of 1985.

Linda Moughton of the Orlando Chapter of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs, was one of the special guests at the meeting. Linda attended the meeting to install the new officers.

Linda installed all of the officers by giving each a new pin. She talked about the many joys of the club. She then presented each new officer with a miniature hat. Each ribbon symbolized the officer the women were taking. The ribbon for the hat of Rosemary Trager, the new woman's club president, was purple, the color of leadership.

The other officers inducted were Edie Krut, first vice president; Lois Jackson, second vice president; Maryann Huff, third vice president; Margaret Schwab, recording secretary; Sandra Meade, corresponding secretary; Jeanette Schwab, treasurer; Audrey Buchanan, chair of public affairs; Patsy Smith, chair of the education committee; and Nancy Stanley, secretary.

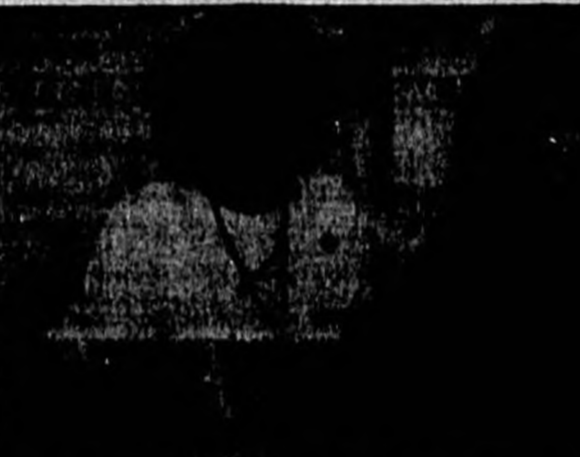

After the officers were installed, past president Alice Moughton presented new president Rosemary Trager with the president's pin. Rosemary then presented Alice with a past president's pin.

Each year, the president selects a worthwhile cause to support. For Alice Moughton, that was the Safehouse of Seminole County. Radonda Robbins, an advocate for the Safehouse, was on hand to receive a $500 check from the club. Member Gwenna Butler also presented Radonda with a framed cross stitch for the safehouse. Incoming President Rosemary Trager has pledged continued support for the safehouse.

Reminds! Don't miss the "once in a lifetime deal" you'll find at the AARP Rummage Sale scheduled Saturday, June 8, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Frank Evans Center. The sale is being sponsored by the Lake Mary Chapter of the AARP as a fundraiser for upcoming civic projects. There will be clothes, furniture, telephones, kitchenware, bric-a-brac, and a lot of collectibles.

There's absolutely something here for everyone. There's even an electric power butter maker and a couple of mystery items. Hopefully, someone in the public will be able to identify them. It's good deals for a good cause.

Huaman-Lulley

SANFORD — Dr. and Mrs. Gonzalo Huaman, Sanford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Alicia Garret, to Patrick Ryan Lulley, New York, N.Y., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lulley, Deer Park, N.Y.

Born in Sanford, the bride-elect is the maternal granddaughter of Mrs. Lorena Garret, LaGrange, Ga., and the late Mr. J.C. Garret of LaGrange. She is the paternal granddaughter of Mrs. Susan Huaman, Lima, Peru, and the late Antonio Huaman of Lima.

Miss Huaman is a 1986 graduate of Seminole High School where she lettered in variety swimming and soccer. She is a 1991 graduate of the Fashion Institute of Technology, New York, where she received her bachelor of arts degree in advertising and communications with a minor in textile engineering.

The groom-elect, born in Islip, N.Y. is the maternal grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Martin, Queens, N.Y., and the paternal grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lulley, Roseton, N.Y.

Lulley is a 1986 graduate of Half Hollow Hill High School, Dix Hills, N.Y., where he was a member of the National Honor Society, and lettered in variety swimming and lacrosse.

He is a 1988 graduate of the University of Scranton, Scranton, P.A., where he received his bachelor of science degree in electronic engineering with a minor in mathematics. While in college he was active in lacrosse. Lulley received his MBA from Fordham University, New York, N.Y. in 1988.

Miss Huaman is currently employed as a manager of events marketing for Phillip Morris USA, New York, N.Y. Lulley is employed as a manager of systems and projects for TIAA-CREF, New York, N.Y.

The wedding will be an event of Oct. 12, 1986, at the Church of our Saviour, New York, N.Y.

Ghurrum Sarraf was named to the dean's list at Duke University, Durham, N.C., for the 1985-86 academic year.

Richard Huff, a student at the Health-Related Professions at the University of Alabama at Birmingham, was named to the dean's list for the winter 1986 term.

Allison Lynn McCarthy received a bachelor of science degree in marine biology May 18 from the College of Charleston University of Charleston, S.C.

Stieh family reunion

Two brothers and a sister recalled their long years in Sanford at the homecoming of August F. Stieh and Sarah Melikian gathered recently for a family reunion.

Plans for the reunion were shared with William, Wallace C. Stieh, and Edna Stieh Priest.

Wallace C. Stieh of Clearwater, and twin sisters, Edna S. Priest of Sanford, and Eda S. Green of Pompano Beach, who was unable to attend because of illness.

Family members met at the American Legion where they were served a delicious meal. A delightful program of entertainment was provided by a "cousin" combo of piano, saxophones, trombone, and drums. Four generations enjoyed perusing the two long tables of memorabilia, photos and genealogical charts.

According to Edna Priest, A.F. Stieh came to America when he was six years old. His family moved from East Prussia, Germany, to New York City. Later, the family moved to Clearwater, where he met and married his wife. Their first son, Fred, now deceased, was well-known in Sanford where he delivered baked goods from the family bakery to the large number of German-related families in the community.

The twin girls, Edna and Eda, graduated from Seminole High School and enjoyed sports and church activities. The twin boys, William and Wallace, continued their schooling in Orlando.

Thirty six members of the clan were present, with the oldest being 76 and the youngest, 10 months. There are 16 first cousins, 27 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren. The family came from Milwaukee, Conn., Jacksonville, LaGrange, Clearwater, Pompano Beach, Tallahassee and Sanford.

Charles Bailey displays his walking sticks, bird houses and bottle holders at a craft show.

Wood-working for fun ends up earning funds

By Susan Weisman
Herald Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Charles "Charlie" Bailey began his hobby of wood-working some two years ago after his retirement as a "traveling salesman," selling public safety uniforms in the Georgia and Florida regions. Although he carried over much of his knowledge from high school woodshop classes he launched out into new territory by creating many of his own designs and patterns.

Both are made to resemble a log cabin. "I mostly make the log cabin style bird houses and feeders," he said. "They aren't hot-glued. I use 5/8 inch, eight of each of four different sizes. Nails and screws are what holds them together. The only difference in the bird houses and feeders is that the bird feeders have an opening where you can put the bird seed in. The top opens."

His hobby began as "just something to do." Family and friends loved the many wood gifts he had made but as the desire for his wood creations increased, he decided to try his hand at selling a few at craft shows and such. He still hand-crafts many gifts for loved ones and acquaintances but a few have come with a price tag to others.

His idea for wooden bottle holders came after viewing a napkin holder from his son. "My son had just bought a fish napkin holder after a trip to Key West," said Bailey. "I wanted to make a bottle holder to match it. I experimented a little with them. My wife made a pattern for me and I cut it. Then she painted some and I painted some."

After heart surgery and angioplasty Bailey slowed down a bit but has found that his hobby provides just the relaxation the doctor ordered. He commented, "Someone asked me once if I did this for a living or is it just a hobby and I said, 'well it keeps me off welfare.'"

A banana holder was another creation that Bailey made from an idea of a neighbor. "The lady that lives next door had bought a banana holder one day and told me someone she knew was making them and I needed to make them too, so I did. When I had one for sale at a craft show someone mentioned to me that the grocery was selling them for 89¢. She said since I was selling them for only 69¢, she was going to buy one from me."

Bailey first started his wood trade over four years ago with "walking sticks," as he calls them. Others may see the same as a cane. "I've been making them for years," he said. "I just make the natural ones that I cut from the woods. I take the bark off and dress them down. Then I sand them a little and put on some polyurethane and make it smooth and then sand it again."

He chuckled as he said, "I don't have an elaborate shop. I just use a table saw and a ban saw."

Bailey and his wife, Anne, have been Lake Mary residents for 10 years. They have been married for 42 years.

The couple has two sons, Church and Chris and one grandson. They are members of Central Baptist Church in Sanford.

Man will knock himself out to please his woman

DEAR ABBY: This letter is in regard to "David's Wife in Tennessee," who really appreciates her thoughtful husband. That woman is just as valuable as her husband. She recognized a "nice guy" when she saw one.

Abby, you really hit the nail on the head when you said that many men who treat women with respect end up with nothing but rejection. It's mind-boggling how many women will disregard me because I'm not drop-dead handsome and don't drive a Jaguar. (I'm a single professional in my mid-30s with a master's degree.)

- 1. If your car dies 100 miles away at 1:00 a.m., I'll be there at the drop of a hat.
  - 2. I'll work with you to create the best possible relationship, including a great sex life.
  - 3. I'll take the kids away once in a while so you can have a "sanity day" by yourself.
  - 4. I'll listen to you talk about your lousy day at work while I'm massaging your back.
  - 5. I'll say things like, "Is it lovely outside or is it just you?"
  - 6. I'll help with the cooking, cleaning and ironing.
  - 7. I'll treat you like you're No. 1 because you are the one I cherish the most.
  - 8. I'll always be there for you when times get rough.
  - 9. I'll hide cute little gifts so I can put a smile on your beautiful face.
- Why go out with a good-looking guy who is boring when you can go out with a guy who will knock himself out to please you? (That's me!)

- and address, you'd need police protection. Your letter is sure to lift the hearts of countless women who are wondering if there are any "nice guys" left out there.
  - Since spring is here — and the birds are chirping and the trees are budding — perhaps I should mention my Top 10 List of Great Places to Meet a Man ... or Woman:
  - 1. Parents Without Partners.
  - 2. Evening classes at a local college or university.
  - 3. Clubs or organizations.
  - 4. Square dance, ballroom, line dance or folk dancing lessons.
  - 5. Through friends — let your friends know you're available.
  - 6. Through co-workers — let your co-workers know you're available.
  - 7. Professional organizations (e.g. Chamber of Commerce or any organization having to do with your field of employment).
  - 8. Gym or health club.
  - 9. Volunteer work for any cause where you are passionate, including politics.
  - 10. Church.
- P.S. If you don't meet someone eligible at any of the above places, you may make a friend who can introduce you to one.

DEAR AVAILABLE: If the recipient of the above message on my mail will see your letter in this column, I'd certainly like to meet you. Please contact me by writing to the address below.

DEAR ABBY: I need your advice. I love my job and it pays well, but I have a problem I really need to resolve.

My boss — a male — opens all my mail. It is clearly addressed to me and marked "personal." I think this is rude and unacceptable. Please print this, as he reads your column every day.

DEAR ANNOYED: You should have your personal mail addressed to your home.

DEAR ABBY: Every so often you suggest appropriate gifts for senior citizens who don't need more bracelets or perfumes.

My granddaughter, who lives in California, gave me the perfect gift. She arranged for me to get unlimited taxi service. I bless her daily for her thoughtfulness.

Sunday, June 2, 1980

Partnership arrangements could play an important role in your affairs in the year ahead. However, you might have one set of allies for business and a second set for social engagements.

SCORPIO (May 21-June 20) You will be more successful in business than usual today. An associate who recognizes the business might use his or her wiles to manipulate you. Beware, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph predictors for the year ahead by mailing $2 and $495 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1728, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10155. Make sure to cite your astro sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) You are an independent and productive individual who uses time constructively, but today you may be overwhelmed by everything on your agenda.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) You might be too flirtatious today and unwittingly flash provocative glances at the wrong person. You must use caution.

CANCER (Jun. 21-Jul. 20) It will not be necessary to spend lavishly in order to impress others today. Pay your fair share, but don't feel you have to pick up the entire check.

SARITARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Associates will have a strong influence on your memoriam today. If your companions are sluggish, you will start to drag your feet as well.

SARITARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Do not postpone until tomorrow tasks which should be done today. Work that is relatively easy now will become harder if left until later.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Your motives will be transparent today if you are nice to people only because you think they can do something for you. Sincerely will not be productive.

PICES (Feb. 20-March 20) Grit and determination might not be enough to ensure that you will achieve your objectives today. Instead of victories, you might fall just short of your goals.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Try to be enthusiastic and optimistic today, but don't be unrealistic and lead yourself to believe that your problems are signs of your inspiration.

TARAS (April 20-May 20) Unfortunately, the world does not owe you a free ride, so don't expect something for nothing today, even though you might find this a little hard to swallow.

On to the lighthouse

By PHILIP ALDER

My second class in northern New South Wales was at the Byron Bay Bridge Club. If you are ever in that area, visit the Lighthouse and Whale Information Center, which are at the most easterly point of Australia. The best time to go is in April or September, when the whales are migrating north or south. While there, I saw several pods of dolphins "body surfing" on the breakers.

It was a pleasant surprise to see several people from my class in Brunswick Valley reappearing for more punishment. This time, we were having to keep our eyes peeled for spot-card or entry problems. Those who weren't watching for the latter were caught off guard by this deal.

In North right to respond three no-trump or should be bid three diamonds (assuming transfers are not being used).
 Against three no-trump, West leads the club five. How should South plan the play?

 With so few points, North should ignore the diamonds and just bid game in no-trump, admittedly with fingers crossed! Five of a minor is several light years away and, with this layout, unmakeable.

There are nine tricks by way of ace spade, six diamonds and two clubs, but the blockage in the diamond suit means that declarer requires a dummy entry. And this can come only from the clubs. The entry is guaranteed by winning the first trick with the club ace, not the 10. After playing off the three top diamonds from hand, South leads a low club. West cannot stop declarer from getting into the dummy and then gaining access to those other three diamond tricks.
