

Ritz Presents 'Folies Caprice' On Stage Monday

Stupendous Production To Be Presented Three Times

Hollywood Starlets, Glorified Girls To Top Cast Of Show

Litesome, languorous, seductive, glamorous, exotic, svelte, in fact, every known type of beauty will be on display at the Ritz Theater in three showings Monday afternoon and evening when the Hollywood revue, "Folies Caprice" is presented on the stage.

Spectacular in its scope "Folies Caprice" features such outstanding production numbers as "Temptation," best described as a poem of motions and emotions. It is a number that takes for its theme, the toast of yesterday, "The Gibson Girls of Yore," "Hollywood on Parade," and many others.

Direct from a thirty-nine weeks' tour, "Folies Caprice" has been acclaimed by both press and public as one of the finest intact shows ever sent on tour. Its cast of youth and beauty, girls glorified beyond expectation, has been acclaimed by both press and public as one of the finest intact shows ever sent on tour. Its cast of youth and beauty, girls glorified beyond expectation, has been the subject of favorable comment at every showing.

Hollywood salutes its fans with youth, speed, talent and beauty in the cast of the "Folies Caprice" including such performers as Emily Darrel, the five and ten chandler; Billy Farrell and company, comedians of different; Rita del Gudi and her troupe, truly the finest girl illusionists in the world; Foley and Mason, gymnasts; the dancing dancing an natural of Margo; the lovely Strand sisters; Miss Ruth Foster, understudy of the great Eleanor Powell and a great taster in her own right; Sandra Miller, shoe-peg beauty; leading the blues featuring the torrid rhythm of the south; the greatest American beauty, fourteen of the loveliest girls that one could derire, and Frankie Whelan and his N. B. C. orchestra, playing music in the manner moderne. Joseph L. Marentette, manager of the Ritz Theater, feels fortunate indeed in obtaining such a show for presentation here. In keeping the public in mind, Marentette has scheduled a bargain hour matinee from 2 to 3 o'clock following which another matinee will be presented from 3 to 5 o'clock. The evening showings are scheduled to begin after 5 o'clock.

The screen feature for the afternoon and night will be "Polo Joe," a rollicking comedy concerning the sport of the elite, featuring the amiable Joe Brown and alluring Carol Hughes. Shorts and news will complete the program.

Irene Dunne Stars In 'Theodora' Here Wed., Thursday

"Theodora Goes Wild" starring Irene Dunne in her first major role as a comedienne, will be part of a double feature program at the Ritz Wednesday and Thursday.

For the first time in a career, studded with such dramatic gems as "Cimarron," "Dark Streets," "Magnificent Obsession," and "Showboat," Miss Dunne turns to the gay, light side of life, with gratifying results.

Playing opposite the titian haired star in the role of a happy-go-lucky illustrator is Melvyn Douglas, one of Hollywood's most popular actors.

In "Theodora Goes Wild," Miss Dunne is seen as a small town nobody who becomes famous as the author of sophisticated novels. When she falls in love with Douglas, whose estranged wife refuses to give him a divorce, she takes a page from her own book and launches a campaign of wit and wiles to gain her objective.

NOW SHOWING AT RITZ

"Soak" entertainment is "College Holiday," the gay comedy at the Ritz Theater today and Sunday, as Marsha Raye and Jack Benny demonstrate for you here. Also in the cast are George Burns and Gracie Allen, Mary Boland, Marsha Hunt, Eleanor Whitney, Louis DuPre, Leif Erikson and a host of others.

Dual Roles For Laurel And Hardy At Ritz Tuesday

"Our relations," suggested by W. W. Jacobs' internationally-known story, "The Money Box," gives Laurel and Hardy their greatest opportunity to exploit their specialized screen genius which has so highly entertained the world for the past ten years. The new picture, a Stan Laurel production, is showing at the Ritz Theater Tuesday only.

First as respectable residents of a quiet seaport town, living a sedate life with their wives, then as their twin sailor brothers, reported to have been hanged for joining in a mutiny, and finally doubly being flashed on the screen, Laurel and Hardy in "Our Relations" keeps its audience in constant expectation of the stirring and funny adventures that beset them.

The current production is the most elaborate ever furnished the renowned comedy team. Under the experienced direction of Harry Lachman and skillful photography by Rudolph Mace, the background for the inimitable antics and laughter—getting proclivities of Laurel and Hardy is so realistic and artistic that it could appropriately serve for a dramatic spectacle. A humorous musical score by Leroy Shield supplies a merry tune to the comedy.

Jane Withers Tops Cast Of 'Can This Be Dixie' Friday

Laughs from the land of cotton, songs with Southern charm and Harlem pep and romance under the moonlight and magnolias highlight Jane Withers' hilarious and tuneful new Twentieth Century-Fox triumph, "Can This Be Dixie?" playing next Friday at the Ritz Theater.

With the irrepressible, peppery and ever dynamic Jane demonstrating her versatility and winning popularity, it is obvious that surpassing even the best of her past hits, the film is a combination of hilarious fun, lilting music, fast-moving dances and rollicking comedy and the fun really shines all the time.

ON RITZ STAGE MONDAY

The Hollywood Starlets, pictured above, are one of the many features of the famous "Folies Caprice" which will be presented on the stage of the Ritz Theater Monday afternoon and night. Other headline acts also included in the show, helping the future screen actresses to give Sanford's citizens the year's best entertainment.

Slim Summerville heads the outstanding cast which supports "Ginger" Jane including Helen Wood, Thomas Beck, Sara Haden, Claude Gillingwater and Donald Cook.

The picture opens with Slim and his niece, Jane putting on a medicine show for the darkies on Claude Gillingwater's run-down plantation. They are selling a hair-straightener which goes over big,

Jack Benny, Marsha Raye Head Cast Of 'College Holiday'

Stars Of Radio Themes In Feature At Ritz Today And Sunday.

The laugh hit of the year, headed by an all-star cast of radio performers is promised in "College Holiday," which shows today and Sunday at the Ritz theater.

Jack Benny, George Burns and Gracie Allen, and Marsha Raye constitute the radio contingent, and Mary Boland, Marsha Hunt, Eleanor Whitney, Leif Erikson, Johnny Downs, Olympe Bradua, Lewis DuPre, Etienne Girardot, Richard Carle, Ben Blue and others, including a chorus of beautiful girls, will represent screenland's contribution to the general merriment.

"College Holiday" in the main by a pair of loony culties who turn a fashionable coast hotel topsy-turvy trying to find out if it is possible to select match scientifically. Gracie Allen is in charge of the experiment. It is Benny's task to rescue the hotel from bankruptcy and keep the culties as happy as possible. Miss Boland and Girardot are the heads of the cult and Miss Hunt and Erikson supply the principal interest.

The new film lavishly produced and staged and boasts of five new tunes of hit proportions from the pens of Ralph Rainger and Len Robin, and Bert Lane and Ralph Freed. These include "Sweetheart Waltz," "A Rhyme for Love," "I Adore You," "So What?" and "Who's That Knocking at My Heart?"

In the nick of time Beck arrives with a Northern millionaire who wants to sell the juleps in cans. He pays Gillingwater an advance of $10,000. Just how this arrangement works out provides a tuneful and hilarious finale.

Zsuzu Pitts has found a hobby that interests her—raising lettuce.

EX-CONVICT A QUARRY IN HUNT FOR KIDNAPER

Officials of the state prison at Folsom, Calif., report that federal G-men searching for the kidnaper of little Charles Mattson at Tacoma, Wash., have requested their aid in finding Fred Orrin Haynes (left), former inmate of the Folsom and San Quentin penitentiaries. From the description given searchers, an Associated Press staff artist gives his concept of the unidentified man sought for the fiendish murder of the little boy. The kidnaper weighs about 145 pounds, is five feet and seven inches tall and has a swarthy complexion and black hair. At the time of the kidnaping he wore a black beard, dark trousers, a blue blazer and light cap. (Associated Press Photos)

LAWYER ON TRIAL FOR HOLD-UP

W. T. Moyers, Atlanta attorney, is shown entering court to stand trial on charges that he forced T. K. Glenn, Atlanta capitalist, to pay him $13,000 as his price for sparing the life of Ernest Woodruff, another capitalist, who was held at pistol point while Glenn went to the bank for the money. (Associated Press Photo)

MARTIN JOHNSON, DYING, TAKEN FROM WRECKAGE

HUGE GOLD SHIPMENT STORED IN FORT KNOX CACHE

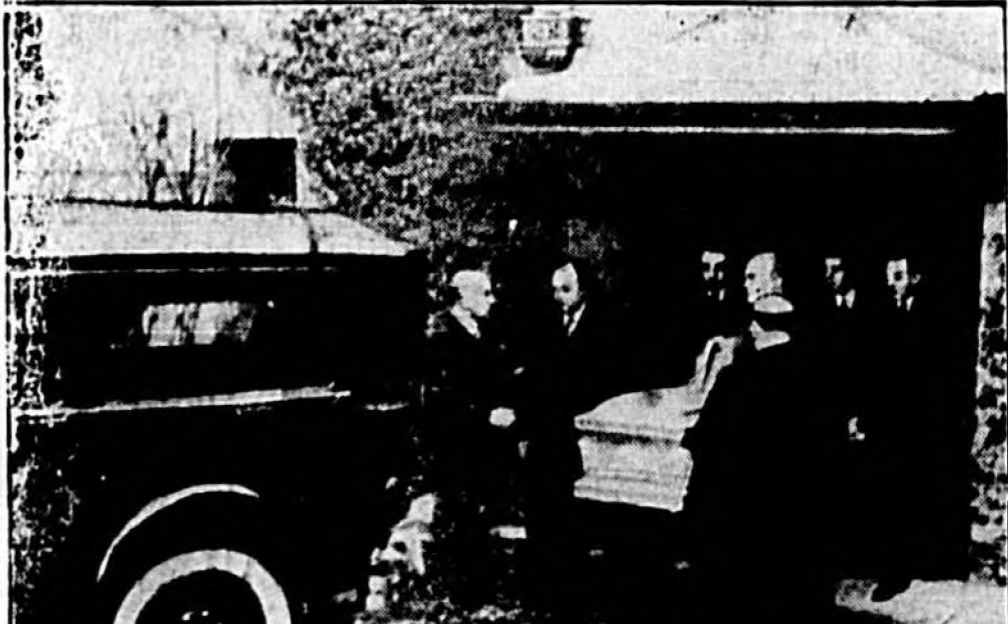

Two big army trucks, among the many employed in the task, are shown unloading a part of the government's $200,000,000 gold shipment at the underground depository at Fort Knox, Kentucky. The gold was moved there by a heavily guarded train from the mint in Philadelphia. Other shipments expected soon will make the Fort Knox depository the largest gold cache in the world. WOMAN GIVES EYE FOR NEGROES

An elderly white woman whose name was not disclosed gave her left eye in an effort to restore the sight of two negro women at Memphis, Tenn. The white woman's eye was diseased and its removal was necessary. However, the cornea was sufficiently healthy to permit transplanting it to replace clouded cornea in the eyes of the negroes. Surgeons are shown performing the operation in a Memphis hospital. (Associated Press Photo)

GRIEF-STRIKEN MATTSONS BURY MURDERED BOY

Grieving friends and relatives are shown placing the casket bearing the body of 10-year-old Charles Mattson into a hearse after a private funeral service at Tacoma, Wash., for the boy a kidnaper killed in barbarous manner. The family and 200 friends attended the services in a mortuary, and then the body was placed in a mausoleum. (Associated Press Photo)

According to Walter Lippmann, the editor of the weekly able and informative Digest, the scores of reports published throughout the United States, the Federal reorganization program recently introduced to Congress by the President will if carried out substantially as presented remove much of the patronage, log rolling and pork barrel which for many years have been one of the unfortunate characteristics of both the legislative and executive branches of our government.

"It would be difficult to exaggerate the importance of this reform," writes Mr. Lippmann. "For without it Congress is not a truly deliberative body; a large part of the time and energy of almost every member is now devoted to patronage, pork and favors. Few can be re-elected who do not attend to these matters every day, and so the kind of men who tend to be elected in the first place are those who are expert in such trifles, not in what it has to do with the promotion of the civil service, about coherent planning of the budget and public works, about dealing with the needs of the people."

"For in a Congress that had little or nothing to do with pork, patronage, and favors, the men who would survive and would rise to eminence would tend to be those who were concerned with larger matters of public policy. Under no congressman can be wholly concerned with public policy, and most congressmen are really not concerned with it at all. For as long as Congress is a national bazaar in which jobs, contracts, and other perquisites are distributed and exchanged, Congress does not attract, nor does it retain, nor does it encourage, statesmen able to participate in a deliberative assembly."

"And primarily, because they are part of this bazaar, having first to get the money and jobs from congressmen and then to give them back to congressmen, the President and his cabinet spend an inordinate part of their time on trifles, have to do an enormous amount of worrying about trifles, have to exhaust themselves trying to be polite, just, prudent, and shrewd in negotiating about trifles with insistent congressmen and pleading delegations. By the time they have finished with that, and have a little leisure to think about great matters of public policy, they are often too tired and too harassed to think clearly and calmly about anything. This program points out the way, and as a matter of fundamental principle, the only way to enable the President and his cabinet to give their main attention, their greatest time, their freshest energies to the great questions of public policy."

One hesitates to think of what this country would be like if log rolling and pork were eliminated from our federal government for such a condition in this country seems almost too Utopian to be possible of achievement, and yet if one ventures into this realm of fancy it can hardly be denied that the election of men to Congress on the basis of their statesmanship and their grasp of the needs of the country rather than on their promise to give a certain man a job, or to reward a particular locality with a postoffice, would have an extremely salutary effect upon the nation.

If all such jobs were placed under the civil service, no doubt Congress could better devote its attention to law making, and congressmen would seek re-election on the basis of what they had done for the country and not for any particular individual.

Revise Plans For Kings Coronation

Activity Intense As A Dozen More New Thrusts Need

By GOSFREY ANDERSON
LONDON, Jan. 12.—After 30 months' preparation for the coronation of a huckster king, doctored coronation officials have had hurriedly to revise their plans as a result of Edward's abdication.

One set of regalia, one throne, six crowns, are no longer enough. There is a queue to be crowned.

The queen's coronation with its famous Elizabethan elements, the queen's throne, the queen's regalia must be prepared for Queen Elizabeth.

Architects who designed a huckster king's robing room—already partly erected at the west door of Westminster Abbey—are bawling over their plans again. Somewhere a queen's robing room must be fitted in.

The Duke of Norfolk, Earl Marshal, has a host of fresh problems. Somehow he has to adjust seats in the already crowded Abbey to Queen Elizabeth's family, the Strathmore, and to her friends.

Crowning of the queen is expected to follow historic precedent.

On the same altar steps where Queen Mary knelt at the side of King George the Fifth a quarter of a century ago, a commoner queen will kneel at her husband's side to be crowned and anointed.

The dean of Westminster will hand the archbishop of Canterbury the holy oil in the anointing spoon and the archbishop will anoint the queen upon the head. A queen is anointed upon the head only, but the king is anointed on the head, breast and the palms of each hand.

While the queen is anointed she is supported by her two bishops and a magnificent golden pall is held over her head by four ladies-in-waiting.

The archbishop then places on the fourth finger of her right hand, the queen's ring, encrusted with jewels, saying as he does so:

"Receive, this ring, the seal of a sincere faith; and God to whom becometh all power and dignity, prosper you in this your honor, and grant you therein long to rejoice, fearing Him always and always doing such things as shall please Him, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen."

At the concluding words of this prayer all the prelates in the Abbey will raise their arms and place their coronets upon their heads.

The archbishop will then hand the queen her sceptre in the right hand and the ivory rod—surmounted by a dove—in the left.

As the queen returns to her place on the throne, supported by the bishops and her ladies-in-waiting and trainbearers, she makes deep obeisance to the king as she passes him.

Later they kneel side by side again as the communion service marks the closing stages of the ceremony.

were pleased with first results of the experiment.

Food Combinations

Drink plenty of citrus juice, advises a Forum writer in the Orlando Sentinel, but be careful of what you eat with it.

"When I drink grapefruit juice in this amount (two or three quarts a day)," he writes, "I have all stomach and bowel troubles, for grapefruit will ferment with certain meats and starches."

What is safe here with respect to citrus juices is also true of many other food combinations. So many things people who think they cannot eat certain foods would find if they investigated the matter more thoroughly that they could eat those foods if they did not combine them with certain other foods.

We once knew a man who said that he could not eat ice cream. Now ice cream is a perfectly harmless food for almost anyone from the cradle to the grave, but he insisted that every time he ate it, he became sick. Upon further investigation we found that he was a great lover of dill pickles, ate them practically every day, and probably had been eating one just before he ate the ice cream.

We suggested to him for the sake of an experiment that he quit eating the dill pickles for two or three days and then try the ice cream. He demurred, hating to give up his favorite appetizer even for a day or two, but finally agreed. He then discovered that it wasn't the ice cream that had been making him sick, but the combination of ice cream and dill pickles.

A good many people have the same notion about milk. For some reason or other, they insist, milk does not agree with them. In most cases you will find that such a person is a great oyster eater, or downs great gobs of ham sausage, or wiener snitzles at every meal. Or perhaps he too is a dill pickle fan. Of course milk is not likely to go well when drunk in combination with such other foods.

Many a robust lumberjack or hardy longshoreman can eat ice cream and dill pickles, or mix his sausages with raw milk. No doubt some of them could get away with three quarts of grapefruit juice and a plate full of starches and sweets which the Orlando Forum writer warned against, but for the average eater with only ordinary digestive tracts such combinations are apt to be unpleasant.

Usually it is the combination, and not the food itself which disagrees with you.

Florida High School Inaugurates New Idea In 'Timeless Schedules'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 12.—(AP)—A departure from the conventional school schedule was adopted here with an inauguration of a "timeless day" at Florida High School, part of the demonstration school of Florida State College for Women.

Trials out with success, school officials now have designated one day a week—Wednesday—as a "timeless day" when pupils are free to plan their work schedules for the day in accordance with their needs and wishes.

Regular classes are suspended in all departments except music and physical education. There are NO class held. Teachers remain in their classrooms, and pupils may go from teacher to teacher as they see fit but they must keep a card showing exactly how they spent their time. Teachers are at liberty to request pupils to come to them for special instructions.

"One most gratifying outcome which has been noted is that an atmosphere conducive to study seems to be coming," said Dr. R. E. Purness, superintendent of the school. "Work in the order of the day and with or so time is wasted on classroom matters which consume too much time in regular school procedure." He said faculty, pupils and parents

THESE FEET CAN BE PROPERLY FITTED

Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, world famous authority on feet and shoes, says that no type of foot is too hard to fit properly, if the right type of shoe for the individual is supplied and is scientifically fitted. He proves his point in our store during the biggest exposition of its kind ever held in this city at any time. Dr. Scholl's shoe fitting expert, direct from the factory in Chicago, will conduct this unusual public

DISPLAY and DEMONSTRATION of Dr. SCHOLL'S SCIENTIFIC SHOES

to be held in our store
Thursday, January 21
9 A. M. 'till 6 P. M.

The complete line of the famous Dr. Scholl's Shoes will be shown in our store on the above date. Every type, every size (men's sizes 6 to 14 and women's sizes 3 to 13) widths AAAA to EEE, including children's shoes in proper sizes and all the advance style numbers for Fall and Winter, 1936-7.

SEE YOUR FEET in the X-RAY
Illustration "A" shows the foot as it is in an ordinary shoe. In "B" you see how naturally the foot and toe fit in a properly fitted Dr. Scholl shoe.

By stepping on Dr. Scholl's Fluoroscopic X-ray you look down at your feet and see through your shoes clearly, in a gelatin-like outline, the bones, sinews, shoe construction, and the actual padding of your feet and toes in the shoe. Come in—see your feet on the X-ray.

Griffith Names Joe Engle Chief Scout Of Washington Club

Chattanooga Megal Also As Supervisor OF ANOTHER Farm Club

Chain Is To Be Built Up

Calvin Griffith, 25-year-old son of Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Nationals, has named Joe Engle as chief scout of the Washington Club.

Griffith announced that he is building up a chain of farm clubs, with the Washington Club as the main one, and that he is preparing to build up a more extensive "farm" system for the Washington Club.

Engle, who is well known here in his connection with the Chattanooga Club and his affiliation with the Southern team, will manage the now position will be in close contact with Griffith as well as the other farm clubs owned by Washington and Chattanooga clubs. He is expected to be in charge of the club's operations.

Griffith announced that he is building up a more extensive "farm" system for the Washington Club, and that he is preparing to build up a more extensive "farm" system for the Washington Club.

CITY LOOP TEAMS PREPARE FOR HOME IN FEATURE RACE STRETCH OF HALF SATURDAY EVENING

Eckerson Cannons Are Leaders With Three Wins, No Defeats

With practically one-half of the first half of the schedule out of the way, City League teams are preparing for the home stretch of the season with a chance to cop first place, strive to top the others in the fight for the loop.

The Eckerson Cannons, rated as one of the pre-season favorites, have upheld their backers' belief, boasting three victories and no defeats to date to hold undisputed possession of first place. They held a 1-0 win through forfeit over the National Guards, a 22-13 victory over the formidable Lake-Riser Cleaners and also a 22-13 victory over the Lake Mary team.

Right behind them in the race is the St. Johns River Line with a record of two wins and one loss, chalking up the wins over Lake Mary, 32 to 11, and the National Guards 19-8, after having lost a 31-28 decision to the High School B squad.

The B squad with one victory, that over the St. Johns, and one defeat handed them by the Lake-Riser outfit, 22-21, are in third place while the Lake-Riser team and Lake Mary are tied for fourth and fifth respectively, with one victory and two defeats each.

The National Guards, handily topped by a late start, have two defeats chalked against them for their first two starts, but still have a chance to come through with first half honors.

The St. Johns have an excellent opportunity to gain a lift for the league leadership Wednesday evening when they meet the leading Eckerson Cannons in the first game of the high school loop. The B squad, with a victory over the National Guards when they meet in the second contest, can move themselves to within a notch of the top post while a victory for the Guardians will give the latter a tie with the Lake-Riser and Lake Mary combinations.

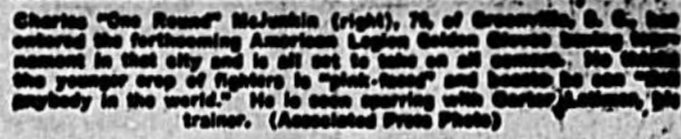

And the new sod has had an opportunity to take a firm hold.

BERT JONES WINS WITNESSES VICTORY OF FORMER FAVORITE

Crowd Breaks Record, Witnesses Victory Of Former Favorite

Bert Jones, who proved to be the outstanding favorite a year ago, finally found himself as he topped first place in the featured Saturday night, the tenth, Saturday night of the Longwood track of the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, racing out Speedy Karl and Truthful Lad who finished in place and show money.

The largest crowd to ever witness a race at the track was on hand as 2,400 fans took advantage of the crisp weather to see the eleven races run off.

Charles "One Round" McJannet (right), 74, of Greenwood, S. C., has entered the forthcoming American League Game Stakes Training Program in that city and is set to take an all-around dog course. He is the younger brother of "Pop" McJannet and boasts he can "win" any dog in the world. He is seen snuggling with "One Round," the dog which he has trained. (Associated Press Photo)

Spotlights of Sport

HERE AND THERE... With the announcement that Joe Engle has been elevated from his post as president of the Chattanooga Lokouts to the position of chief scout and farm supervisor, we can expect baseball to go a long way in Sanford as it is our opinion that Engle will spend more time here in building up the local club. . . Daytona Beach High School seniors, who meet the Seminole High team here tomorrow evening, look 22-19 decision to Orlando Saturday night at Daytona. . . Leeburg's cagers ran into tough luck on their trip to Jacksonville, losing three straight to schools there. . . They were the victim of St. Paul's Saturday night by a 20-17 count.

The State championship amateur tennis tourney gets under way in Orlando today. . . The entry list reveals that no Sanforders are entered. . . Have we no netters here considered good enough to compete in the fight for the State honors? . . . Bob Feller, who capped sport headlines in the city on the 1936 season and during the dispute concerning his future which ended with Judge Kneasaw Landis' decision that he fulfill his contract with the Cleveland Indians, is completing his high school course at Van Meter, Iowa. . . The sensational 17-year-old rookie has a record of seven no-hit games starting his diamond career at the age of 15. . . Fans still talk of his feat of fanning 23 batters in winning his first complete nine-inning game. . . A golfer was defeated by a "thrower" the other day when E. E. Jackson of Tampa, took a licking at the hands of "Pop" Quinley, the former playing the game according to Hoyle and the latter throwing the ball instead of hitting it. . . "Pop" threw the ball 150 times while Jackson needed 161 strokes to cover the course. . . Harry G. Kipke has been reappointed head coach of the University of Michigan grid team. . . After all the goosewick that bawled up there, too, when possibilities of the election of a new mentor had been mentioned.

After having lost a 23-20 decision to the University of Georgia the previous night, the University of Florida cagers came through Saturday night against the Bulldogs with a 32-18 win. . . Twenty-six major league diamond luminaries are entered in the gold tourney at Sarasota. . . The Hotel Ormond, at Ormond Beach, is featuring no tournaments this winter. . . DeLand is preparing to stage two races Sunday, Jan. 21. . . Ed Egan, rookie first baseman of the Fortoria team in the Ohio State League, is the first player to win both the silver bat and up awarded leading pitcher - League business. . . Egan, with an average of .419, topped batting championships to win the bat and was awarded the trophy for being the best batter among the five-year men. . . Jim Averette was 100 below the record of the previous year.

The old theory of some of champions failing to follow in the footsteps of their parents may be blasted when the son of Jack Britton, former welterweight champ, takes to the ring serious champion. . . The 18-year-old youngster put up a good fight Saturday night against an older and more experienced ring campaigner, losing the fight by a close decision. . . Chances are 100-to-1 against him challenging up a brilliant record. . . The Southeastern Baseball League is all ready to go, all six clubs having posted their $1,000 bond payments. . . The Florida clubs have until Feb. 15 to post theirs. . . Which brings us up to date for today.

Wild Bill Cummings Enters Daytona Race

DAYTONA BEACH, Jan. 18.—Indicating that both distance and sprint records will fall in the 200-mile international championship motorcycle race to be held on the world-famed racing beach and a paralleling highway Sunday, Jan. 24, "Wild Bill" Cummings, one-time winner of the 500-mile Memorial Day race on the Indianapolis Speedway, is among the late entrants. This will mark the last appearance in a motorcycle event and he promises to set a hot pace for both American and European entrants.

Phil Huston, film leading man, once was a newspaper reporter.
