

Capital Reformers See Signs Of Liberal Shift In U. S. House

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Outside the massive stone walls of the U.S. House of Representatives, forsythia blooms yellow in the chill March sun. Inside young reformers see signs of another kind of spring. They believe the House, for years the least democratic and most conservative branch of Congress, may be shifting to more democracy, more activism and a more liberal line.

Reformers see the signs of spring everywhere: —An astounding turnaround vote against the Supreme Court plan that one young, liberal staff aide called "a damned revolution." —A new speaker, Carl Albert of Oklahoma, slowly regaining power from entrenched conservatives, chairman, and willing to listen, at least, to reformers, liberals and blacks. —New members who are increasingly irreverent toward old ways of doing things and the old men who control most of the doing. —Quick returns from last year's reforms going away with secret votes on amendments and spreading some subcommittee chairmanships around to younger members.

The crash of the SST especially cheered young reformers. "Can you believe it?" a young aide said afterward. "Things are really changing around here."

Last year, the SST breezed through the House, and its supporters had counted on winning again. A new procedure requiring a public roll call on amendments has encouraged the reformers. Most of them rank-and-file members lacking seniority and the benefits thereof, to hope for a rougher go in the future for special interest legislation.

Perhaps even more encouraging to reformers are some other fundamental but less obvious changes in the seniority-enriched House. For years the House has been run like a collection of medieval dukedoms. The speaker has been a weak king and the committee chairman a strong duke.

With their own autonomous fields, leaving rank-and-file members to beg their betters for favors.

Furthermore the rulers have been selected, not by election, but by a strictly observed seniority system. Because of that, the committee chairmen have been able to use, without fear of retribution, their power to kill legislation by not allowing their committees to consider it.

Now there are signs Albert's power is increasing with rank-and-file dissent. The caucus of the majority Democrats nearly ousted a reelected Rep. John L. McMillan, D-S.C., chairman of the House District Committee who had been feuding with the reform bloc in his committee. The 96 to 121 vote would have been much closer, many feel, if word had not gotten out that the 72-year-old McMillan intends to retire next year.

More important, reformers believe Albert probably could have swung enough votes to be McMillan out if he had asked for that.

Thus other chairmen may get the message that the caucus is ready to back the king against an unpopular duke. "They will know that from now on they can be challenged," said Rep. Jonathan Bingham, D.N.Y., "and if the caucus feels strongly by that they have done a bad job they can be replaced."

From the outset, Albert has shown less deference to the House than did Speaker John McCormack, who retired last year.

Twice Albert has stopped short of pushing for something the chairmen wanted. He took a neutral stance on the race for majority leader, which was won by the chairmen's candidate, former party Whip Hale Boggs of Louisiana. And although Albert voted for the SST he did not voice any arms in its behalf.

Albert's unseen hand probably was at work, too, when committees were expanded to make room for younger members and when some assignments were made over objections of chairmen.

Six liberal Democrats were placed on the powerful Appropriations Committee, including conservative chairman George Mahon of Texas. Two doves, Michael Harrington of Massachusetts and Les Aspin of Wisconsin, were placed on the hawk-laden Armed Services Committee even though chairman F. Edward Hebert of Louisiana objected to Harrington.

Through the only farm in his district is in the Bronx Zoo, Rep. Herman Radloff was assigned tentatively to the Agriculture Committee. Radloff met with Albert and the assignment was switched to Education and Labor, his first choice.

"No doubt if I had come along in the days of McCormack and tried to go from Agriculture to Education and Labor they would just have said 'no' and forgotten about it," said the New York City freshman. "But Albert is still sensitive to the press, and he is particularly sensitive to criticism."

A year ago, Rep. Shirley Chisholm of Brooklyn found herself in the same position. She won a transfer from Agriculture to Education, but only after the leadership turned her down and she made a public issue of it.

By His Own Initiative, President Takes 'One Small Step'

By KATHRYN JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — On Monday Lt. William L. Calley's future was at stake. Tuesday his life was at stake. Wednesday he was spared. Thursday he faced life in prison. Today he was back in his quarters with limited freedom.

Thus ran the drama of the 27-year-old Calley's life during the past five days.

By order of President Nixon, Calley was taken from armed custody behind the barbed wires of the post stockade Thursday and returned to his bachelor quarters.

Only a day after he was sentenced to life imprisonment for murdering 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai, the boyish-looking lieutenant was ordered released by the President pending the completion of a full review of his conviction by an Army court-martial.

The White House directive took most observers by surprise. The President had once said of the massacre at My Lai that "under no circumstances was it justified."

Announcement of the President's intervention was made at San Clemente, Calif., by Ronald L. Ziegler, White House press secretary.

Ziegler said Nixon had telephoned Adm. Thomas H. Moore, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to direct Calley's release.

The presidential order was not a legal step, Ziegler said.

In response to questions, the press secretary said the President was aware of "wide-spread pro-Calley sentiment that has been expressed in thousands of telegrams to Nixon. But Ziegler added that the action "was taken at the President's own initiative."

Do It . . . NOW!

President Nixon
Washington, D.C.

As the leader of this great nation of ours, we dedicated and patriotic citizens implore you to take immediate action on behalf of all American troops, especially Lt. William Calley, Jr. to "undo" the wrongs of Monday's verdict.

This is "the" most perilous time in the history of the United States and requires firm leadership by your personal response to this explosive reaction.

In the name of all we stand for . . . God Bless America.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

The spoils system was practiced by U.S. politicians until Congress passed the Federal Civil Service Act of 1883. The World Almanac notes that in 1832, William Marcy, a U.S. senator, defended Martin Van Buren's appointment as minister to London by saying that he could see nothing wrong in the rule that to the victor belong the spoils of the enemy.

Jobless Rate Is Climbing

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment climbed back up to an annual rate of 6 per cent in March after a two-month decline, the Labor Department announced today.

The figures were not accompanied by an official interpretation by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, under the administration's new policy of handling the monthly announcements, but members of Congress called RLS economists for questioning.

There were 5.2 million unemployed men and women in March, the report disclosed. This was 270,000 fewer than in February, but the decline was less than usual for this season. After allowing for the seasonal adjustment, joblessness rose by 140,000 on the annual basis.

Lizzie Anna Wilson Celebrates 100th Birthday Favorite Daughter, Early Settler Crosses Century Mark

By DORIS WILLIAMS
"Happy birthday!" a merry voice heralded.
"Oh, it isn't my birthday yet, but still eleven o'clock," the excited honoree answered.
So began the day, March 31, 1971, for Lizzie Anna Wilson, who passed the century mark on that date.
A guest was never more regal nor a bride more radiant than Lizzie as she received her guests on her 100th birthday, at a festive luncheon at DeLary Manor, where she has been a healthy resident since a fall injury a year ago.
All smiles, the "birthday girl" was groomed to the nines. She wore a fashionable print silk dress of muted blues and orchid tones enhanced with a delicate white sweetheart rose corsage. Her short, shining hair was stylishly coiffed to frame a beautiful face that still bears a smooth, glowing peach and cream complexion.
This is off the record but the lovely honoree confided she contributes her health and well-being to good, wholesome food, clean living, exercise and rest.
Born in Middletown, N. Y., March 31, 1871, Lizzie came to an area six miles west of Sanford, later known as Sylvan Lake, with her parents Charles A. Fox and Mary Harrington Fox, when she was three years old and for 27 years has lived in that area.
The family arrived in Jacksonville via steamer and took a riverboat to the port of Melbourne, now Sanford. Her father homesteaded at Sylvan Lake where he soon began construction of a log cabin for his family which later included six children, Lizzie the eldest.
Following the big freeze in 1876, the early settlers were almost wiped out but continued on in the meritorious struggle for survival.
"Lizzie began her career as a

QUEEN FOR A DAY, Lizzie Anna Wilson, still holds her own on her 100th birthday with the "whisper snapper" nephews she helped raise and who are also her next of kin, Byron Fox, left, and John Fox, right, both of Sanford.

If those high walls could only speak, a wealth of history would probably emerge to include records of good times in the "good old days."
About 1915 the Wilsons took into their home two young nephews, Byron and Emma Fox, whom they raised, from Charlotte, N. C. Joining the family scene in 1920 were another nep-her piano, which she had as a girl, is still in a condition in the music room of the old home. Among Mrs. Wilson's accomplishments is that she is a charter member of Sanford Women's Club where she has been honored through the years.

A long time member of All Souls Catholic Church, Lizzie presented a pair of peacocks to the Sanford Zoo when it originated. Another civic project was her contribution of a tract of land to Seminole County School Board where Wilson School stands. Several years ago the school PTA paid tribute to her for this generous donation.
"The fashionable suburban area, Wilson Place, West of Sanford, was originally a part of her estate. Today, elegant homes have been erected in the exclusive section.
Lizzie Anna Wilson was truly queen for a day on her 100th anniversary!
Family members gathered at DeLary Manor where the red carpet was literally rolled out.
Lizzie's birthday cake was a three-tiered object of beauty, all embellished in fluffy pink and white, with columns supporting the white and chocolate tiers. Miniature doves and a large

The Case History of Billy Fry Easter Message: Faith Restored Accident Victim

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI
The young man was involved in a motorcycle accident in 1964. There were multiple injuries and he was unconscious for 10 to 15 weeks.
"Two years after the accident and following other operations, both his joints were removed. There is inferior dislocation of both shoulders.
"The mental deficiency of this boy is really quite marked. He has very poor understanding and reasoning ability. With the central nervous system involvement, I cannot be very enthusiastic about the future of this individual."
So read the medical record on Billy Fry, dated April 1967.
But this is April of 1971 and the current record on Billy Fry is astonishingly different.
His recovery has been almost miraculous. For Billy is a busy man today. His motorized chair comes over to visit Billy because he is really quite a story teller. Some of them became interested in learning Chess and of course.

BILLY FRY, one of the busiest men around, poses with his ceramic works which won the following awards in area shows: Bear won third place, Jacksonville; lighted frog, second place, Orlando; George the alligator and a statue, both first place, Orlando; and a lighted Christmas tree with Nativity characters, third place, Orlando. (Ann Sieczkowski Photo)

RUTH WIEBOLDT shows two first place blue ribbons won at Jacksonville Ceramic Show, in the professional division, a vari-shaped object usable as pen, pencil or brush holder, finished with multi colored stains and glazes, and also an incised gold leaf vase. A textured frog done in stain and glazes won second place. Bonnie Wieboldt, left, was third place winner with a bronze Revolutionary War soldier. Bonnie is a senior at Seminole High School. Liz Harris, right, a nine-year-old Southside student, received honorable mention for her underglazed and antiqued candy dish.

His mind is constantly active — searching new information about hobbies and activities to fill his time. He has a Citizens Band radio equipment and wants to belong to a group which meets to delve into amateur radio work. He would like to serve as part of the Civil Defense effort, using his radio.
Billy became involved with ceramics as part of the occupational therapy at the hospital. He continued this work at home with help from the Jackson and K-B Ceramics studios. The women at the shops have been more than generous with time and supplies to help him improve his skill and their efforts have borne fruit.
"For Bill has recently won two first place prizes at the central Florida Ceramic Show in Orlando and a second prize at a show in Jacksonville.
He has learned to play Chess and enjoys it so much that he has made a Ceramic Chess set to use. The neighborhood children come over to visit Billy because he is really quite a story teller. Some of them became interested in learning Chess and of course.
In his quieter moments, he becomes a super sleuth through the adventures of Perry Mason and James Bond and other fictional detective heroes. Books have been a great joy for Billy he says he reads every one he can get his hands on.
"Man, I used to really enjoy myself before that accident. I was always on the move," Billy reminisced.
"I hate this chair. My dad, trying to help me, had a motor control put on the handle bars for me. The first thing I knew, the only muscle I could move was the one operating my thumb. So I took the thing off and moved it down to the side of the chair. This forced me to use a lot of muscles and now I have good use of both arms and for Billy to learn to walk. Today, "hips or not", he can move in a very limited way with the aid of a walker. He is almost three inches shorter than before the operations and he is unsteady, but he walks.

"Telling me that I cannot do something is like waving a red flag in front of a bull," he quipped. "With a little help and some training, I can do almost anything almost that I want to do."
Enthusiasm for life and determination to learn and accomplish his goals sparkle in his blue eyes.
Loneliness is a major problem in his life before the accident was so full of people and activity. He is interested in joining with other handicapped persons and enjoying group activities designed to meet their needs. He loves to talk with people and can be reached by calling 322-8616.
Faith in God and perseverance have brought this inspiring young man to this point in his life. And in this Easter season of 1971, the recovery of Billy Fry must surely be adequate testimony to the powerful grace of a loving God.

Fashions For Youth Center

By ELLA MAY FRAZER
DELTONA — Deltona Youth, Inc. sponsored "A Spring Fantasy" style show for the entire family on March 26 in the Deltona Community Center.
Proceeds from the show went to help the young people build that Youth Center everyone is concentrating on just now.
About 200 attended the show which was arranged by Mrs. Duke (Ruth) Robb; she also read the commentary and trained the "cast," comprised of prominent Deltonans, from youngsters everyone loves to youngsters — everyone loves.
Models were Royceann Benn, Dole Geaton, Kris Jarmen, Karen Atkins, Vicki Henry, Bonnie Lewis, John Moore, Mike MacLeay, Calvin Brown, representing the youth of Deltona.
Children were Francine Rita, Liza Robinson, and Shehan Jackson.
Adults were Mrs. Henry Knigsmark, Mrs. William Schumann, Mrs. Angela Mercurelli, Roy Murray, Charles Lewis, F. William Bookmeyer and Allen Taylor. "Billy" the poodle, carried by Francine down the walkway, is owned and prized by Georgia Selby.
Others assisting in this gala showing of fine clothes by the Turtle Dove in Deland and men's wear from Camp's Clothier in Sanford, were Laverne Schoenlaub, Toni Bacon, Pat McDonald, Kenny Geason. This was the "crew" that arranged the sets and took care of props.
Mrs. Andrew Stravacou spearheaded the ticket sales. Mrs. William Bookmeyer, Mrs. Guy Jackson, Kathy Frye, Mrs. Frederick Weigand, Mrs. Earl Hartwell, Richard Bailey, Mrs. Henry St. Rock, David Hayes, John St. Rock, and Dale Miller assisted in final production. Background music was furnished by Mrs. J. O'Brien.
Cameras were "clicking" and flashing throughout the show as parents, proud grandparents and friends in "stylish friends" made the most of the moment.
Fashion shows don't "just happen." They take a tremendous lot of work and patience and practice to make them what this show was — TOPS!

Spring Fantasy TOPS

MISS BONNIE Lewis, "Miss Deltona" of 1970-71, is sporting a jump-suit, an easy, breezy polyester knit. Pantsuits and jumpsuits are the most lived-in styles ever. This blue belted model was seen at the Youth, Inc. "Spring Fantasy" Fashion Show last week.

MEN'S FASHIONS have never been more exciting or revolutionary. Rummblings of new fashion freedom for men were heard in 1957 but just came to the fore. New wash and wear doubleknits never need an iron. Belts and buckles are very important. Wide ties, bold colors. Here Mike MacLeay models a striped sport coat of lightweight seerucker by Deansgate, with white doubleknit Farah slacks with flared bottoms. Completely comfortable in any weather. Fashions for men by Capp's Clothier in Sanford. (Photos by Ella May Frazer)

LISA ROBINSON on the walkway during Deltona's Youth, Inc. Fashion Show, coordinated by Mrs. Ruth Robb. Lisa is wearing an acrylic dress in red, white and blue that makes school all play and less homework for mother. Notice neevet knee socks with tassels and the shoulder bag with its flit-flutter. Lisa enjoyed the show and everyone enjoyed Lisa.

Former Chaperone Speaks Out Pageant Needs Women Aides

By MARILYN GORDON
It is that time of the year again when all over Florida cities and counties are holding pageants and making plans for the Miss Florida Pageant which will be held July 4 to 11.
Breathes there a woman with spirit so dead she does not in some small way yearn to be a part of this.
I was, and you can be. Of course I am speaking not as a contestant but as a chaperone.
The Chaperone Committee of the Miss Florida Pageant has complete charge of contestants and is responsible for their good care and for the maintenance of adequate safe guards for their health, welfare and comfort.
They provide friendly assistance and advice to contestants in all matters of particular interest and concern during the Pageant competition.
They supervise all contacts with contestants in all competitive and noncompetitive activities.
They also assist Pageant officials in the regularly scheduled Pageant events.
"Did you know that each contestant must be chaperoned at all times? Contestants may not appear in public or leave their rooms for shopping, relaxation or sightseeing without their chaperone.
A resident chaperone is provided as well as three substitute chaperones for each contestant. Contestants and chaperones are assigned a car and driver for official use during the pa-

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY. My husband and I are having a loveless marriage and want to split up. I'm not sure why all this came up, but I still love him and don't want to split up. We have no children. He is a graduate student and I helped him find a job. He claims there is nobody else. He just wants a divorce. He also says that if we split up he wants to know where I am so he can come over and get his beard trimmed. What should I do? Hang on to a guy who doesn't want to split up? Of all this and let him go?

DEAR ABBY: My sister took up karate lessons on my request for her own protection. My problem is that every time one of my friends comes over, my sister practices some of her karate on them, and they go home black and blue.

DEAR ABBY: I try to tell my sister to leave my friend alone she bounces me around the room and tells me to shut up as she is a year older than me. Can you help me?

DEAR ABBY: Tell her you may have a "brown belt" but she continues to "karate her" friends or herself, you'll help away from home, and have their position intact and sided in such a pretty rough going. Keep going.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for telling the father who was up set over his 18-year-old daughter's refusal to have her legs to shave her legs. My family is in Cuernavaca, near Mexico City. She would be in high style with her hairy legs. Several years ago I spent 12 months in Germany with the United States Army, and it changed my outlook considerably. I now feel that unshaved legs and under-arms make a woman highly attractive. DEAR ABBY: Times have changed since you were there. The well-groomed Frau-lets are now defuncted. Let's hear it from Italy! What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to Abby, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclosed stamped, addressed envelope. For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Jacoby and Son

South had no trouble finding a way to go down. He drew trumps and went after hearts. If hearts had broken 5-2 he would have had his slam. The actual 4-1 break meant that he had to lose two diamond tricks.

North suggested a more complicated line of play. His idea was that South should have led a diamond at trick two. This would make it possible to discard one diamond on the king of clubs and ruff another one with dummy's nine of trumps.

It looks fine but see what would have happened. East would take his ace of diamonds and just might return a trump. South would win in his hand; lead a second diamond to dummy.

Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph. D., M.D.

CASE Q-617: Diana B., aged 38, has a sex problem. "Dr. Crane," she began, "we have been happily married for 18 years and have 5 children in high school. "But my husband wants variation in our bedroom department. "He keeps urging me to submit to sodomy! "That seems horrid to me but for the past several years he has recurrently wanted this form of abnormal sexual intercourse. "He is a college graduate and a successful school principal, so what could make a husband want such a perversion of marital indulgence? "As they enter the teens, they grow romantically. As an idealistic manner but don't contemplate the cross sexual relations depicted in Danish pornographic pictures or Danish movies. But the return becomes subconsciously linked with physical expression of marital love. Even after they have reached adulthood and are married, with several children, their new knowledge of feminine anatomy doesn't erase those many years of adolescence wherein they attached erotic notions to the rectum. When the rectum and its opening (anus) becomes a subconscious sex symbol. It is a fetish of conjugal eroticism. That's why many educated men, like Diana's husband, are still fixated at the adolescent level of sexual symbolism. At the age of 40, he has also lost some of his original fervor as he vaguely hopes his childhood sexual fetish may revive his ardor. Sodomy is thus an evidence of juvenile emotional thinking in the realm of sex, coupled with immature, anatomical knowledge of the female body. But millions of young wives also retain this same fetish and thus cannot reach complete fruition of their erotic dream with some digital anal stimulation. For a sex fetish often is the trigger that releases the final flood of emotional excitement. I have discussed today were regarded as "too frank" 30 years ago. But with the advent of purely salacious pornography by mass merchants, it is high time married folks learned how to avoid divorce and stay happily married through their Golden Wedding Day! So send for my medical booklet "Problems in Marriage," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents and learn the proper laudatory technique. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosed a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

We The Women: By Betty Canary

Some California women have decided to really do something about the image problem. Announcing that they will no longer answer to names picked by parents or names bestowed by a marriage ceremony, they have chosen distinctive single names.

"I didn't know that," I said. "I thought you were Shirley, whose son won the swim meet."

"That's my neighbor introduced me as Shirley, Betty's friend!"

"I'm sorry," I conceded here. "I can't help being pleased! It has been ages since I've been known as anything but Shirley, whose father owns the drugstore," and Shirley, who goes steady with the football captain, and then I became Shirley, whose husband teaches math."

"I thought you were Shirley, whose son won the swim meet."

"That's my neighbor introduced me as Shirley, Betty's friend!"

DEAR POLLY — Jean, the neighbor to Texas, wanted to know what she could do about mildew walls. My husband and I were advised to wash our walls with a solution of one part of liquid bleach to one gallon of water and allow this to dry on the walls after the mildew is washed off. We had good results — PEARL.

DEAR POLLY — How does your hair ever live in a place where solid walls are placed from top to bottom with every kind and color of mildew or if you know a friend who wants to sleep at night and would awaken in the morning to find mildew had grown all around his head and covered the pillowcase as he slept. The rest is the scrubbing, the rest is a breeze — DIAN.

Sex Films On TV; China Is On Mars

By GORDON F. JOSELOFF

LONDON (UPI)—The British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) paid a 30-minute tribute to a woman who does not exist for 40 minutes of trial and error to find a solution and a cure. Scrub down the infected areas with a solution of bleach and water. Start with a weak solution and increase if necessary to kill the mildew. Mildew often leaves a stain even after the bleach scrub-down and the bleach solution may discolor painted or even unpainted surfaces. It is important that the scrubbed areas dry quickly. The bleach kills the mildew; but a damp or wet wall is an invitation for new mildew to grow. A sun or heat lamp might be used to speed along the drying. A touch-up paint job will cover any discolored areas. Of course drying in the sun is always the best for any movable things. To prevent its return, keep thresholds, drawers, etc. through-

Police Find Drugs Inside Flour Sack

By CHARLES W. BELL

PRAIANO, Italy (UPI)—One policeman took away a chocolate box bon. Another a plastic sack filled with flour. Another a silver cigarette case and another yellowish twigs and dust inside. The third policeman's find was one that was analyzed as 200 milligrams of marijuana, enough to bring the world of William Berger crashing down.

How Troubles Begin

Berger spoke quietly, chain smoking as he remembered the night. "I was in the den," he said. "Listening to music. Some rock record. Carol was in the kitchen making coffee. We had nine other people in the house as guests." The maid came in to say there were men outside the villa, located 282 steps up the steep Lattini mountain peak overlooking this Amalfi coast town of 1,375. There were 30 men, one of them carrying a search warrant. Berger did not work at the time, but they were part of a police force sponsored into action by a nationwide drug scare.

Tony Randall, Claudine Longet and the Three Degrees are with Don Knotts on his NBC Hour at 8 (rescheduled from March 2).

ABC's movie at 8:30 is "Escape," starring Christopher George as an escape artist who battles a criminal mastermind to rescue a kidnapped scientist.

The monthly "First Tuesday" preempts the movie time on NBC at 9 with several news features, including a progress report on New Jersey's Kienast quintuplets shortly after their first birthday.

"CBS News Special, 10:30-11, has "What Happened to Earth Day," examining progress in the ecology field.

WEDNESDAY

"Royal Gala" preempts "Kraft Music Hall" on NBC at 9. Taped version of a benefit performance in London last November at which such stars as Bob Hope, Petula Clark, Glen Campbell, Tom Jones, Engelbert Humperdinck, George Kirby and Rudolf Nureyev appeared. Rex Harrison is host.

NBC's "Four - In - One: Rod Serling's Night Gallery" at 10 repeats two bizarre plays, "The Dead Man" and "The Housekeeper."

THURSDAY

"Alias Smith and Jones" on ABC at 7:30 p.m. has "Journey From San Juan." The two heroes pose as cowboys rounding up mavericks in Mexico.

NBC preempts "Ironside" and "Adam-12" 8:30-10, to repeat "Swing Out, Sweet Land," the patriotic special headed by John Wayne first shown on Nov. 29.

"Dan August" on ABC at 9:30 has "The Assassin," investigation of the slaying of a dowager.

TURNED-ON WORLD of fashion knows no boundaries, with mod models labeled made in London, New York, Paris, Copenhagen and many other style centers. The only unusual thing about these moderately far-out fringes is that they come from farther east—a Communist bloc fashion showing in Moscow. Man's touring suit, left, is a Hungarian design. Pantsuit, right, is a Soviet inspiration.

"THE MIND of Mr. Soames" opens Sunday at the Movieland and will show four days.

Robert Vaughn Stars In Movieland Showing

Terrence Stamp knows the kind of roles he wants to play, and the kind of pictures he wants to play them in, which is why he picks and chooses from the scripts submitted to him by producers from all over the world.

Opening Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre, showing 4 days in Columbia Pictures' "The Mind of Mr. Soames," in color, Stamp tops a cast which includes Robert Vaughn, Nigel Davenport and Christian Roberts. He plays Mr. Soames, a 30-year-old baby.

Stamp was enthralled by the dramatic opportunities inherent in the role, that of a man who has been in a coma since birth and now has been awakened by a break-through brain operation. Possessing all the desires of an adult male, he still must be brought from his "new-born" state through all the phases of human growth and experience.

The son of a Thames tugboat pilot, Stamp studied at the St. Martin's School of Art, before taking a job with a London Advertising agency and, later, studying to be an actor.

After work with stock companies at Colchester, Windsor and Canterbury, he got a touring role in "The Long and The Short and The Tall." His London West End debut came in "A Trip To The Castle." Peter Ustinov realized his potential and cast him in the title role of "Billy Budd" for which Stamp won an Academy Award nomination, the Blue Ribbon of Spain, and the French equivalent of the Oscar.

"Term of Trial" with Sir Laurence Olivier followed and, in 1965, his playing in "The Collector" won Stamp the award as the Best Actor of the

'MASH' Showing At Plaza Theatre

Hailed as "the best American war comedy since sound came in," "M*A*S*H," 20th Century-Fox's irreverent look at war, is now showing at the Plaza Rocking Chair Theatre. Donald Sutherland, Elliott Gould and Tom Skerritt star in the Panavision, DeLuxe Color production.

The three stars are army surgeons who develop a lunatic life-style in order to function and keep their sanity amid the everyday horrors encountered in a mobile army surgical hospital (M*A*S*H) during the Korean War. They are skilled and dedicated in their profession, but they are equally skilled in making a shambles of army bureaucracy.

Among the other players who share or are victims of their antics at the Army base are Sally Kellerman, the rigidly strict head nurse whom they transform into a warm human being; Robert Duvall, the overly pious major; Jo Ann Pflug, another nurse, succinctly described as "the sexiest in military history"; and Rene Auberjonois, the compassionate chaplain.

Nine professional football stars turn actors for the first time in a wild football sequence which figures prominently in "M*A*S*H." The pro-gridders were assembled by former Kansas City Chiefs all pro defensive halfback Fred Williamson. Involved in the "game," in addition to the stars, are Howard Williams and Ben Davidson of the Oakland Raiders; Jack Concannon, John Myers and Tom Woodeschick of the Philadelphia Eagles; Timmy Brown of the Baltimore Colts; and Buck Buchanan and "Superpat" Nolan Smith of the Kansas City Chiefs.

Robert Altman directed for Ingo Preminger who is making his debut as a producer with "M*A*S*H." Ring Lardner, Jr., wrote the screenplay, adapting it from the best-seller by Richard Hooker, a pseudonym. The author is one of the nation's leading surgeons, which explains his lucid handling of his characters' vocation and, due to the rigid proprieties of his profession, may well account for his reticence to be identified with his daring, far-out-theme.

"M*A*S*H" received five nominations as best picture, in addition to nominations on best supporting actress and best direction.

SUSAN Sarandon is Melissa, a runaway teenager, in "JOE," opening Sunday at the Plaza Rocking Chair Theatre.

'Musical Hall' Came With Kidding Of Oscar

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Producers of NBC's weekly "Music Hall" Wednesday night started with the idea of kidding the annual presentation of the movies' Oscar awards, a subject which invites satire.

Something, obviously, happened between the idea and the execution—probably something like the fact that NBC will be broadcasting the awards show in about two weeks.

At any rate, Oscar survived without a bruise and the program was a long series of sight gags, mostly about actors and the Hollywood life style. For instance, an actor was declaiming about hating phoniness, all the while chewing an apple. A colleague interrupted to inform him he was chewing a wax apple. A leading lady ran up to accept the star's Oscar for his performance in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," and suddenly turned into a Mrs. Hyde—fangs, fright wig and all. Bette Davis, rarely seen on television except in old movies or a late evening talk show, acted as hostess but beyond introducing the sketches and musical interludes contributed little to the hour.

Frank Gorshin, best known as an impressionist, turned song and dance man for the evening. One of the best spots in the show was a medley of Oscar-winning songs.

Questions And Answers

By PENNY PENCE

Q: Bruce Geller, the man who produces "Mission: Impossible" and "Mannix," seems to be a brilliant man. Can you tell us if he is planning another series for TV soon? — J. O., Pensacola, Fla.

A: Geller is working on a number of projects, TV movies and a series. What the fate of each will be, we will have to wait to learn, but judging from his past record, I suspect there are already studio bids being extended to him.

Q: Will Carol Burnett ever appear in a movie? — H. L., Rockford, Ill.

A: She might, if it's the type of film she approves. There's a rumor about town that her two top writers are currently working on a movie script for the very funny lady.

Q: What has happened to Robert Lipton, the young man who was so very good on "The Survivors" sometime back? I believe he is the brother of Peggy Lipton of "Mod Squad." — Y. L., Elmira.

A: He is indeed PEGGY's brother, and he recently journeyed to Tel Aviv to confer with producers about a film, "The Chauffeur."

Q: Has Jose Ferrer retired? — G. L., Hartford.

A: No, Ferrer has just completed a guest starring role in Warner Brothers' pilot for NBC, "Crosscurrent."

Q: Does David Cassidy of "The Partridge Family" really write songs for the show? — J. S., Lititz, Pa.

A: No. David composes songs, but so far none of them has been intended for the program. He explains that the music he composes is too sophisticated for the bubblegum brigade to whom he most appeals.

Q: Did June Carter write one of Johnny Cash's big hits? Which one? — E.B., St. John, N.B.

A: June did write a Cash hit, "Ring of Fire." She also penned other well-known country tunes, "The Matador," and "Wall to Wall Love."

Q: Please tell us the name of the actor who played on TV as "The Saint." My husband says it was Richard Long, and I say it was not. — B.S., Virginia Beach.

A: "The Saint" was Roger Moore. Richard Long is currently in "The Nanny and the Professor," was in "Big Valley," "77 Sunset Strip," and "Maverick."

Q: Pete Duel of "Alias Smith and Jones" was in what other series? What is his marital status? — M.B., Campbell, N.C.

A: Pete Duel (formerly Peter Duell) was a co-star in "Love on a Rooftop" and while his romantic escapades with various filmtown ladies like his co-star from Rooftop Judy Carne and Kim Darby are well known, he has never married.

Q: Bill Bixby was directing the "Courtship of Eddie's Father" last year. Will he be doing that again next season? — R.L., Binghamton, N.Y.

A: Perhaps, but since Bixby only directed one episode of the series last season, it's doubtful he'll be leaning too heavily in that direction this season. He is taking advantage of his vacation time, however, by writing scripts which might be used for the series.

Q: I heard that Dick Cavett's show will be moved to London. Is this true? — G.T., Ithaca, N.Y.

A: Yes, but only temporarily. The show will locate in Blighty for two weeks in April, then heads back to New York.

Q: News of the old "Avenegers" series continues to leak out. Is it still being produced in Europe, but not being shown in this country? — H.L., Elmira, N.Y.

A: Nope. Those old Avengers are still being shown in Europe and in the U.S., but through reruns only. No new shows have been filmed in several seasons.

Q: Is it true that Lee Majors broke his leg and cannot act in "Men from Shiloh" any more? — P.S., San Antonio.

A: No, Majors had minor knee surgery performed, but it hampered none of his "Shiloh" work.

Q: On a recent show Johnny Cash was shown talking to students on a college campus. Do you know which campus? — H.T., Baton Rouge, La.

A: It was Vanderbilt University.

Q: Does Princess Grace of Monaco ever visit Hollywood anymore? — O.L., Savannah.

A: Occasionally. Her last visit was in 1967, and she has scheduled a trip to California's shores to appear at a benefit in June on behalf of the Motion Picture and Television Relief fund

Q: After seeing Chuck Connors on "Laugh-In" recently, my mother and I were discussing who played his son Johnnie. — "The Remedy" reader. She says it was Wayne Newton before he became a singer and I disagree. — D.H., Gainesville, Fla.

A: Wayne Newton became an actor, in one movie only, after he was a singer for many years. You are thinking of Johnnie Crawford.

Tablehopping Area Spots Are Tops

For truly gracious living make a date for you and friends at the dinner theater, where elegant foods and smash Broadway hits steal the scene nightly. The area "in" spots are ORANGE BLOSSOM DINNER THEATER, where "South Pacific" is cast nightly and SEBASTIAN'S DINNER THEATER, which is currently featuring "Black Comedy." Both are in Orlando and reservations a must.

If your mood demands something completely different, it's there, all right, at Sanford's newest and most unique night spot, THE FACTORY. Hold it! Action doesn't begin until 11 p. m. nightly (9 p. m. Sundays) at which time it's all there. . . go go girls and the entire works . . . real lively, B.Y.O.B. and B.Y.O.S. (that's buy your own set-ups). Yeah . . . it's real different!

Continue to keep your eyes open for the happening at THE FOUNTAIN. In the meantime join the merry-makers who always have a barrel of fun here. Take advantage of reduced prices during the daily cocktail hour and keep happy with "The Country Strings," a four-piece combo specializing in country and Western music, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Happiness is daily dining at THE REMLEY Family Restaurant, the popular spot where throngs of satisfied diners keep retreating. In a relaxed atmosphere, fine foods are served at budget prices. Open Monday through Friday, from 11 a. m. to 8 p. m., The Remley is closed Saturdays and Sundays.

There is little more to be said about LAKE MONROE INN. The long-lived reputation as Sanford's oldest dining facility speaks for itself. Food and drink are the greatest and action-packed entertainment nightly keeps packin' 'em in. During the happy hour daily, drinks are blended at reduced rates.

If you have a fancy for strictly "uptown" treatment, then head for FREDDIE'S, Central Florida's oldest and finest steak house. Atmosphere is real "posh", food is delectable and entertainment is featured nightly in the luxurious Lamplighter Lounge.

Home-cooked foods, with an old-fashioned flair, is the hallmark of Sanford's PINECREST INN. Here, pastries are heavenly and are also prepared to go by baker RAY GROOME. Gather up the clan on Monday (chicken night) and Friday (fish night) when the specialties are featured at below popular prices.

HOUSE OF STEAK, at Sanford's beautiful Holiday Inn is the last word in good food, exceptional atmosphere and efficient service. Both the cozy lounge and restaurant are open seven days a week for your complete enjoyment. During the daily cocktail hour, hors d'oeuvres are served free.

HOW DOES Bob Hope make people laugh? What is it like to meet Milton Berle? Is Phyllis Diller as crazy as she seems on the screen? George Plimpton finds out in the TV special, "Plimpton! Did You Hear the One About . . . ?" Hope, Berle and Diller are all in it. So are Buddy Hackett, Jonathan Winters, Phil Silvers, Jack Carter, Steve Allen, Woody Allen, David Frye and Dick Cavett. The show, sponsored by DuPont, will air tonight 9-10 p.m., on the ABC Television Network.

OUR SIDE OF THE GAP

By KATHY NIBLACK
I hope you don't mind if I take some room this week to do a little editorializing. Everyone else seems to be talking about the conviction of William Calley, but I'd like to talk about it too, because it involves "Our Side of the Gap."

You know, the situation is pretty horrible any way you look at it. The loss of those people's lives is horrible and tragic and sad. But it's also sad that our country has sentenced a man to a life of hard labor just because he did what he thought was his duty to that country. His own country, as Calley himself has said, has "stripped him of all his honor." Take note of a quote by Shakespeare: "Mine honor is my life; both grow in one; Take honor from me, and my life is done."

Not only has this country and its representatives destroyed William Calley, but it has probably destroyed the faith that many of its soldiers had in it. Which one of us as future adults wants to fight in a war for this country is there's a chance that something like this will happen to us? And can you imagine how the anti-war people and the Communists are going to use this? Yes, it's pretty horrible.

This newspaper is currently running printed petitions that you can fill out and send on Calley's behalf. If you're concerned about the situation, why don't you fill one out and send one in?

A big congratulations goes out today to Dee Bibeau of Casselberry, who recently beat out 30 other girls to win the Miss Teenage Orlando title at the Florida Boat Show. Dee, who was sponsored by the Model's Guild, is currently doing some modeling, and plans to make modeling her career. She is a freshman at LYMAN HIGH SCHOOL and attends Community United Methodist Church, where she is a member of "The Youthful Sound," the church youth choir.

The LYMAN gym was the scene Wednesday night of an exhibition of weight lifting put on by the American Athletes in Action. This team is a part of Campus Crusades for Christ, and is currently on a tour of campuses across the nation.

In preparation for this year's Interdisciplinary Weeks, when students and faculty of each of FTU's six colleges will focus their attention on those from the other five. They key to the two-week endeavor that begins April 12 is student involvement, declared Jimmie A. Ferrell, who is acting director of the FTU Village center, and the man coordinating the operation. The emphasis will be on campus-created projects, generated by students who have promised some "fantastic" displays, Ferrell added. This year's theme will be "Creativity," and its effect upon the individual and society in general. The effort will run through April 25.

Application are available at Florida State Bank of Sanford, Don's Shoe Store, Sanford Plaza; Dr. Luis Perez' office, county Mental Health Center, Longwood Plaza; and First Presbyterian Church office. Volunteers must be 19 years or over.

X-Ray Career Reviewed

By ERNIE HOOD

Laurilee H., Monmouth, Ore., writes: "I recently took a vocational interest test and scored high in radiological technology, but I don't know anything about it. What about training, job outlook and salaries?"

Dear Laurilee: Radiologic technologists as experts in use of X-ray equipment, usually work under the direction of physicians who are radiologists. Training usually involves one- to four-year X-ray technology programs offered by hospitals or medical schools affiliated with hospitals.

Some junior colleges coordinate academic training with work experience in hospitals. In 1968, more than 1,100 schools of X-ray technology were approved by the American Medical Association. All require that applicants be high school graduates, and a few require one or two years of college or graduation from nursing school.

Registration with the American Registry of Radiologic Technologists is an asset in obtaining highly skilled positions which offer better pay. Salaries during 1968 ranged from $105 to $150 a week in hospitals.

The job forecast for both full-time and part-time radiologic technologists is very favorable, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, as medical techniques, equipment and knowledge become more advanced, and more employers, insurance companies and others require that workers and clients receive complete physical examinations which include X-rays.

Gruff Chief Ironside Efficient, As Usual

NEW YORK (AP) — Good, gruff Chief Robert Ironside was being as efficient as usual on NBC Thursday night, catching the muggers who snatched an old lady's purse that contained jewels worth $200,000.

The mugging was, of course, just the beginning. Ironside also caught a killer and saved the old lady from being dragged through competency proceedings.

Somebody once observed that a recipe for a hit is "Raymond Burr in anything." "Perry Mason" lasted nine years and "Ironside" will move into its fourth season with no signs of waning popularity.

It even appears that "Ironside" is starting a new vogue in police action stories. The gimmick of the show is that the detective has a physical handicap—he is paralyzed below the waist and works efficiently from a wheel chair.

Next season, ABC introduces "Longstreet," with James Franciscus playing an investigator who is blind. "Cannon," starring William Conrad on CBS, is tough private eye who is almost as wide as he is tall and chews candy compulsively.

CBS is showing three pilots for upcoming series in succession. Last week it was "Cannon."

Tonight there will be a two-hour preview of "O'Hara: U.S. Treasury." This series will bring David Janssen back to television, his first involvement since "The Fugitive" found the real killer. Next Friday it will be Rod Taylor in "Powderkeg," spun off into a series but not yet titled. Since both Janssen and Taylor are young and handsome, their problems probably will be girls.

Flip Wilson, in his last show before starting reruns, had Tim Conway as one of his guest stars Thursday night. The hour was full of Flip's way-out but gentle humor. There was Paul Revere, confused about what he should do on his ride. There was the world's richest man switching jobs with a plumber to find happiness, and on and on.

Yardner's Corner Daylily Is Popular

By DAVID DeVOLL

The daylily is the most popular herbaceous perennial in Florida — probably because it can be grown in all parts of the state.

Of course, this wide adaptability is not the only reason for popularity. Daylilies are good landscaping plants, survive with a minimum of care, and have no serious insect or disease problems.

These characteristics are very beneficial for the casual gardener, but daylilies also offer many interesting challenges for the more serious and avid hobbyist. In the case of the average homeowner, propagation from seeds is relatively simple. Germination generally requires from 10 days to two weeks. Freshly harvested seed should be planted in flats or pots of sterilized sandy soil and covered with an eighth to quarter-inch of sifted soil.

Seed beds should be kept moist and in a shaded place during germination. Covering the bed with glass will prevent rapid drying out of the soil and also keep rodents away from the seeds.

Plants may be transplanted to another seed bed respaced as soon as they are large enough to be handled, or can be left in the original flats until large enough to plant in nursery beds or rows. This will be when leaves are about four to six inches long. The first method-two transplants—is often used by persons who want to keep the flats in a greenhouse during the winter and set seedlings the following spring.

It generally takes three years to produce flowering plants from seeds. Propagation can also be accomplished by dividing parent clumps, and this is the only certain method for the more serious gardener to maintain a true line of selected clones.

It's A Small World

By FRANK JASA
County Agricultural Agent

If all the land used for farming in the United States were divided equally among U. S. families, what would be your family's share?

The answer is slightly more than 27 1/8 acres. To the city dweller or suburbanite, this would seem like room to roam. But the average farmer, accustomed to more than 383 acres, might feel a bit cramped.

About 22 of your 27 1/2 acres would be actually in your farm. A little less than nine acres of your farm would be cropland, nearly 10 would be pasture, grassland, or range. You also would have about 1 1/2 acres of woodland which you use for grazing, and 1 1/2 acres in farmstead, roads and non-farm uses.

In addition to land in your own farm, you would run livestock on about 5 1/2 acres of land rented or leased from the government. About half would be grassland, pasture and rhizome between each of the fans, and leaves should be cut back to within 4 to 6 inches of the crown. Broken roots should be trimmed off before replanting. The best time for dividing is right after flowering.

While daylilies are relatively easy to propagate and care for, the fact that they may remain in one place for from five to ten years demands careful preparation of the plant bed.

Although your farm contains nearly 9 acres of cropland, you planted less than six acres to crop in 1970. The rest of it was in fallow, held out of production under government programs, or idle for one reason or another. You had nearly 2 1/4 acres in grain, over half of which were corn and wheat. You had over an acre in hay, and a soybean field of eight-tenths of an acre. Most other crops were on garden-sized plots.

Your herds and flocks present some puzzling biological problems. You had only one-fourth of a dairy cow but she managed to produce 2267 pounds of milk in the year. The beef cattle herd of 1.8 head dropped three-fourths of a calf, while your lone hog had a litter of 2 pigs. Only four-tenths of a sheep roamed your pasture.

Big Bicycle Race Is Set For Sunday At Airport

A 30-mile bike race and bike rodeo will be held Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Sanford Airport under the sponsorship of the Sanford Optimist Club.

Optimist boys work chairman Gary Harrington said contestants between the ages of 7-15 will be eligible to compete and trophies will be awarded at various age levels and types of competition.

Harrington also advised that a "pick-up" service would be offered to contestants taking part in the race and rodeo.

These pickup points are Pinecrest Shopping Center, Lake Mary School and Faust Drug at First Street and Sanford Avenue, and contestants are requested to be at one of these places Sunday before race time.

Other information may be obtained by calling Harrington anytime before 4:30 p.m. at 323-0360.

Bicycle inspections have been going on at area schools this week and Harrington said all bikes taking part in the race must first pass Optimist Club inspection.

The Sunday bike activities are a part of the "Bike Safety Week" as proclaimed by Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore and is being stressed by the Optimists as a safety on the streets and highways project.

Funny thing about that special visit to Disney World yesterday . . . both Eastern Airlines and the folks at Disney thought that it would be proper to have some "local" flavor, via a couple of us, to take along with the visiting newsmen and women from Scandinavian countries as they toured the "fantabulous" tourist attraction.

Some of 'em couldn't speak a word of English.

Can't you just see this Mama's Little Ukrainian trying to exchange a thought or two with these good natured individuals. A full picture page of the progress there will be featured in Thursday's Herald.

Two women were having trouble with their auto at the busy and dangerous intersection of No. 17-92 and Onora Road . . . stopped right in the middle of flowing traffic.

Before I could get my car turned around to offer a hand, another auto did stop and with the help of his two sons, Attorney Kenneth McIntosh pushed the distressed car out of the way.

A couple of years ago, six men tried to get a statue of the late Pope Pius X up onto the pedestal in front of All Souls social hall on Oak Avenue in Sanford.

They couldn't lift it . . . finally did get it in place with the assistance of a crane.

Would you believe that vandals knocked it to the ground this past Friday. Fortunately, the local police have a good lead on the suspects, with an arrest imminent.

12 Jailed In Drug Raids

By BILL SCOTT

Sheriff's vice squad agents struck a heavy weekend blow against county drug activities with 12 arrests on 46 total charges on Friday night, Saturday and Sunday raids.

Striking without warning, the force, armed with warrants issued by Judge Roger Dykes and based on undercover information obtained after months of intensive investigative work, moved into all county areas in a roundup of persons suspected of being implicated in the sale or possession of either marijuana, cocaine, heroin and barbiturates.

Bonds ranging from $3,000 to upwards of $15,000 were listed for the suspects, depending upon the number of counts and the seriousness of the charges.

Three juveniles, including a 15-year-old alleged "dealer," were included in the dragnet that spread like a tight web over Seminole County in an effort by Sheriff John Polk to knockout the county drug problem.

Arrested on four counts each of sale and possession of narcotic drugs were Jerry Herndon, 20, of 2307 Yale Avenue, Sanford; Gary Adair, 18, of 1819 Paloma Avenue, Sanford, and Mike Kanady, 23, of 1416 Wayman Avenue, Longwood.

Four persons, including a 16-year-old youth and a 19-year-old female, were charged in three counts sale and possession of narcotic drugs. They included: Ronald Glen Stevens, 18, Sixth Street, Sanford; Pamela F. Sergeant, 114 West First Street, Sanford; Eddie Carl Schweickert, 18 Lake Mary, and the juvenile.

Arrested on two counts each of sale and possession of narcotic drugs were Michael T. Tatum, 21, of 512 West Second Street, Sanford, and a 16-year-old juvenile who was apprehended at an all-night Sanford restaurant used as a teenage hangout and from where Sheriff John Polk said many undercover buys were made from youths by investigators.

A 15-year-old juvenile from Mobile Manor in Longwood was called a "dealer" by one of the arresting officers who apprehended the youth from a sound sleep early Saturday on a single count of possession and sale of narcotics.

Two others, Gabriella J. Jones, 19, of 1830 Hawkins Avenue, Sanford, and Larry Barch-ard Poole, 30, of 3351 Orlando Drive, Sanford, also were booked on single charges of sale and possession of narcotic drugs.

President Silent In Calley Review

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP)—President Nixon has made no move to speed military review of the life sentence given Lt. William L. Calley Jr. for murdering 22 civilians at My Lai, aides said today.

They reported the chief executive, who twice last week intervened in the Calley case, believed the review should proceed through normal channels at its deliberate pace.

At the same time, the sources said, Nixon would have no objection if the Pentagon expedited the process through such mechanical acts as providing additional stenographers to prepare the full court-martial record. It must be completed before the case can reach the first level of review—by legal officers at Ft. Benning, Ga., where Calley was tried.

John D. Ehrlichman, a top Nixon assistant, told newsmen Saturday that completing the trial record was expected to take 30 to 60 days. He declined to speculate on how many months would be involved in completing the full review.

Nixon announced Saturday he would review and act on the Calley case once it was moved through the full military review.

Calley could be declared innocent and his sentence set aside at any point in the multilevel process, which would end the matter before it reached Nixon's desk.

On Thursday, Nixon first intervened on Calley's behalf, ordering that he be released from the stockade at Ft. Benning and kept under guard at his base apartment, retaining freedom to move about the post until his fate is decided.

Light Agenda Slated County Eyes Billboards

By MARION BETHA

The controversial matter of billboards on I-4, in which a meeting was held with representatives of the industry, will receive the attention of County Commission tomorrow when County Attorney Harold Johnson will give a report upon the removal of billboard poles on the interstate highway.

Johnson is also to give a report upon the designation schedule for the third bond fund depository. Last week the commission accepted the low bid of 5.1936 per cent on the general obligation bond for the county parks acquisition, the juvenile detention facility and mental health facility. The bonds will be sold in two separate series in a single issue to pay the costs of the above facilities.

Chairman Greg Drummond will report upon the attendance records of the various county advisory committees. These include the historical committee, agricultural committee, highway safety committee, emergency resources management committee, water control and conservation advisory committee and others. Drummond has given much impetus to attendance at these meetings by his attendance and direction. Drummond also will give a report upon county boat ramp additions. County Engineer William Bush will report relative to the presentation of Wekiva Springs Road right-of-way deed. Zoning Director Robert Brown will give two reports to the commission. One will outline zoning violation inspector costs. The other is a prepared ordinance which will govern residential trash and debris.

New Council Will Sit Tonight At N. Orlando

NORTH ORLANDO—Newly elected Mayor Granville Brown, as well as other officials elected in the March 16 elections, will be sworn in at a 7:30 meeting of Village Council tonight.

Prior to the ceremonies, there will be a reorganizational meeting, at which time reports will be heard from various committees.

A requested change by Councilman Charles Kelley at a trailer park located south of SR 434, from R-T to C-2. The change is being initiated due to the fact that the developers failed to commence construction within the six months allotted time.

The other two changes were requested by Florida Land Company, developers in the area, and include a requested change from R-U to R-T on property located at SR 419 and Tuska-willa Road and from R-1 to R-11 on Ranchlands property. The latter request has received opposition from a resident of the area. John Van Espoo, who bases his objections relative to restrictive covenants.

During the regular session, Mayor Brown will make new committee appointments from among the council, and will also make administrative appointments. These include municipal judge, clerk, and building inspector.
