Democrats Demand

(Continued From Page One) Miller has tentatively approved legislation which would require the Army to accept physically fit draft age men whether or not they can read or write.

The proposal was included in a compromise military manpower bill Committee Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) introduced yesterday. The committee spent nearly three weeks in closed session rewriting a bill urged by the Defense Department.

The Pentagon wanted 16-year-olds brought into the military manpower program. The committee's compromise calls for induction at 18 and requires four months basic training.

It also proposes return to the January, 1945, minimum physical and mental acceptance standards—standards that were in effect when the United States was fighting a global war.

Back of the proposal to lower standards is substance of Congressmen to approve induction of men under 19 years of age until other manpower sources are exhausted. Their goal indicates the idea is not popular with voters.

There has long been an expressed feeling in the committee that the rejection rate under present Army standards is too high. But final acceptance of the lowered standards provision by the committee is not a certainty.

There is some feeling that not only would load the Army with recruits but that some of them would become veterans, mental cases and a future burden on the taxpayers.

The Defense Department is known to oppose such a move. And the Army, which draws upon the draft, can be counted on to put up stiff opposition.

The Army point is that the other services already are getting the cream of the manpower through voluntary enlistments and if draft standards are lowered it will wind up with a lot of men who, as one witness said, either "have to carry a stone in their right hands to know which way to turn in squads right."

Chinese Reds

(Continued From Page One) as "opposition" to government authority. Observers said that by giving the penalties highest government sanction, Peiping also apparently was trying to take some of the heat off regional and local governments. Dissatisfaction with local government was reported widespread.

The Chinese Communists in the Peiping announcement admitted that peasant opposition to land reform is spreading rapidly, "armed defiance" to the Communist regime is getting out of control, and that thousands of Red militia and government officials have been killed by "counter-revolutionary" agents.

The Communist said the situation had grown worse since the launching of the American imperialist aggression against Korea. It conceded that roving guerrilla bands are destroying railroads and bridges.

Submitting the stern new program to the Central People's government council, highest administrative body in Red China, deputy chairman Peng Cheng of the political and law committee declared "the government must no longer be magnanimous and lenient."

"If we do not thoroughly destroy the people's enemy there cannot be a people's victory," he said. "If we do not suppress the wiles of America and Chiang Kai-Shek (Nationalist) bandit groups, security and the victory of the people cannot be consolidated."

Peng asserted open defiance to the regime is rife throughout the country, particularly on the part of "repugnant" persons who had been taken back into the party's good graces.

The regulations, submitted and approved Tuesday but announced only last night, provided death or life imprisonment penalties for any persons who: 1. Rebel against the fatherland by working with "imperialism."

2. "Incite, tempt and/or buy over and servants, armed forces or people's militia to take part in rebellion." 3. Lead or direct armed rebellion.

4. Conduct espionage by directing enemy planes or warships to targets, or supplying military equipment and material to enemies either in or outside the country.

5. Work as underground agents for enemies; participate in anti-Communist organizations; organize or direct anti-Communist secret services; or who, having surbeen re-educated, fail to prove reformed themselves, repented and their reformation by meritorious service in the government's behalf. 6. Utilize "feudalistic" secret societies to engage in anti-Communist activities.

Taft-Hartley Act Ruled On By High Court

Refusal Of Circuit Court To Enforce NLRB Ruling Is Upheld In Decision

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—(AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that the Taft-Hartley act gives federal courts vast power over National Labor Relations Board orders.

The decision unanimously upheld a ruling by the U. S. Circuit Court in Cincinnati refusing to enforce a 1946 board order which called on the Pittsburgh steamship company to cease discouraging membership in the seamen's union. The company operates about 70 freighters on the Great Lakes.

Justice Frankfurter delivered today's decision supporting the circuit court's ruling that the Taft-Hartley Act, as well as the Administrative Procedure Act, applied to the case. Both laws were passed after the labor board issued the 1946 order.

The circuit court, undertaking its study of the order, ruled that the board's findings in the case were not supported by "reliable, substantial and probative evidence."

Justice Department appealed to the Supreme Court to overturn the circuit court's ruling. (Continued on Page Six)

Rotarians Have Free State X-Ray, Blood Tests Made

Ratigan And Quillman Stress Importance Of Check-Ups

Members of the Rotary Club went to a body today to the clinic sponsored by the Seminole County Health Unit, the Seminole County Tuberculosis and Health Association and the Seminole County Medical Association in Welaka Building on First Street to have X-ray and blood tests made.

This action on the part of the Rotary Club followed talks at the regular weekly luncheon in which the importance of the tests both from the standpoint of the employer and employee were made by Jack Ratigan, program chairman, and Dr. Frank Quillman.

Both emphasized the fact that undetected diseases can be as dangerous to the person across the work bench as to those who actually have them, and urged employers of all kinds of labor in the community to see to it that their employees take advantage of this opportunity to have free checks made on their health.

Before going to the clinic members of the club gathered in front of the Yacht Club where pictures were made of the club and its guests by L. R. Cox and Henry Jameson of Essex Studios.

Visitors introduced at today's luncheon by B. L. Perkins, Jr., included the Very Rev. Stanley Brown-Sermon of Virginia Theological Seminary at Alexandria, Va.; Henry Penn of Boston, Mass.; Clyde Woody of Madison, Wis.; Charles Marlan of Lakewood, N. J.; E. M. Dunlap of Lewiston, Me. ## Taft Terms Plan To Send Troops To Europe Foolhardy

Senator Claims Move Might Involve Up To 18 U. S. Divisions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today that as many as 18 U. S. land divisions may be sent to Europe unless Congress limits the power of President Truman.

The Senate Republican policy leader said in a statement prepared for the Tempo-Europe hearings that it would be "foolhardy" to commit even six divisions to Western Europe's defense until the United States gets definite commitments on contributions by European nations.

North Koreans Escape Giant U. N. Pincers By Retreating Into Virgin Wilderness

TOKYO, Feb. 26—(AP)—Doughboys of the U. S. Seventh Division knifed ahead today on the right flank of the 8th Army offensive in central Korea to a point six miles north of Panmun.

A patrol of the crack division met rifle and anti-tank fire, but air observers reported the Reds were withdrawing.

Today's action was the first time the Seventh Division, only American unit to reach the Manchurian border, has been identified in combat since it withdrew from the Changun reservoir to the Hungnam beachhead last December.

The American Second Division, plugging north through the mud-blogged mountains on the left flank of the Seventh, reached a point 18 miles north of Chechon, its jumping off place when "Operation Killer" began last Wednesday.

The Second and Seventh were spearheading the cautious Tenth Corps advance along the mountain spines of central Korea.

Retreating Reds fought only rearguard actions. Nevertheless they lost another estimated 1,861 killed and wounded Sunday as United Nations forces advanced as much as 3½ miles.

The Red pullback from a threatened U. N. trap was so rapid that Lt. General Edward M. Almond, Tenth Corps commander, called it "a virtual rout."

Strawberry Deal Reaches Peak In 16,321 Crate Week

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 26 (Special)—The peak of the winter strawberry deal was reached on the First City State Farmers Market during the past week ending Feb. 21, when 16,321 crates of 36-pints each brought growers $177,523.17. This quantity exceeded the previous week's output of 15,700 crates by better than 12,000 crates. Price per pint averaged 22-27¢. Continued heavy volume is anticipated during current week according to William L. Wilson, Director of State Markets in reviewing the week's activities on the state market.

"A total of 25,000 field crates and a similar volume in current week amounting to $204,000.00 to growers on the Florida State Market. Prices per crate ranged from $1.00 to $1.10 averaging $1.04. A second increase in prices is expected. A light movement of beans and squash at fair prices continues on the market.

"Volume on the Pompano State Farmers Market has taken an upward swing with a heavy moving out for the week ending February 21, an increase of 100 cars over the previous week. Weather and growing conditions are reported to be good. Increase in reported supply of produce though prices are lower. Price range on leading commodities show beans sold at $1.25 to $1.50; pepper at $1.00 to $1.07.75 and squash at $1.50 to $1.75. These items with lima, cantaloupe, okra, field and English peas, corn, tomatoes and butternuts brought a gross revenue to growers of $811,715.00.

"Hauling has been diverted from livestock ranches to the cabbage patch in the Sanford State Farmers Market area. One grower reported theft of approximately 50 bushels of cabbage from his field sometime Sunday night. Prices on that commodity are still way above the average bringing $1.50 per 50 pound bag. Good deals to come later in the week on fairly high level with celery at $2.75 to $3.25 and iceberg lettuce at $2.50 to $2.75 per crate, turnips brought $2.50 to $2.75 (Continued on Page Six)

Bradley Reveals 250 Thousand GIs Are Now In Korea

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—(AP)—General Omar N. Bradley disclosed today that about 250,000 Americans in all branches of the armed services, now are fighting in the Korean campaign.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, testifying before the House Armed Services Committee, did not give a breakdown of figures for the Army, Navy, Marines and Air Force.

"Over in Korea," Bradley said, "there are approximately a quarter of a million Americans who are fighting for this nation and our position in world affairs.

The committee is considering a compromise military manpower bill which would lower the draft age to 18½ years set up machinery for Universal Military Service as part of a long range program.

Secretary of Defense Marshall also was due to testify, but he has been ill with a cold and was unable to appear. Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg also was sick and unable to testify.

Bradley said world conditions, which caused the Joint Chiefs of Staff to recommend a "partial mobilization" of 3,500,000 men, "may persist for 15, 18 or 20 years." He said such a size force has been recommended "may have to be maintained for some time to come."

Togliatti Returns To End Rebellion In Italian Party

ROME, Feb. 26—(AP)—Italy's Communist boss, Palmiro Togliatti, who has been in the Soviet Union for treatment since before Christmas, returned home suddenly today, presumably to deal with a split in the party which broke in the Red party ranks.

The leader of 2,500,000 Italian Communists crossed the Italian-Austrian border by train and is expected to reach home tonight. As the train reached Venice, his two top lieutenants, Luigi Longo and Pietro Secchia, joined him for the trip to Rome.

Togliatti's return is expected to signal a sharp increase in Communist Party activities, with the annual National Party Congress as the first big event in March. It has been reported that his quick return was spurred by the recent resignation of two top Communist Party officials, followed by a wave of resignations by other important local leaders who opposed the party's policy of putting Moscow's interests before those of Italy.

Togliatti went to Moscow to reorganize after undergoing an operation in Rome for the removal of a blood clot on the brain. There was some speculation he may also have been called on the Kremlin carpet to answer for the growing signs of weakness in his party—the biggest Communist force in Western Europe.

The Italian news agency said Togliatti was accompanied on his trip from Moscow by Italian Communist senator Vincenzo Mosca, and Signorina Leonide Iotti, Communist woman deputy in the Italian parliament. These two were reported to have gone to Moscow to urge him to come back when the split in the Italian Red front widened.

R.F.C. Corruption Hearing Leads To Presidential Aide

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—(AP)—The Senate Banking Committee today approved a stopgap 90-day extension of federal rent controls until June 30. Chairman W. Frank (D-Mo.) told reporters the committee had authorized him to introduce an extension resolution with the understanding that hearings would be started next month on adding a federal rent control section to the Defense Production Act. The hearing, he said, will be designed to determine what federal rent control will be required after June to meet defense needs.

G.O.P Counting On Eisenhower To Run In 1952 Elections

By JACK BELL. WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—(AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey and other supporters apparently are counting on General Dwight D. Eisenhower to wind up this year his job as commander of the North Atlantic Defense force.

Dewey told friends on a week-end visit here he thinks the five-star general will be available for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952.

This would give Eisenhower less than a year to organize and get into effective operation a defense force that is little more than a paper army now.

Note of his friends thinks Eisenhower would step out of his supreme commander role until he is certain the defense effort is successfully launched and can be carried on by another—possibly his top assistant, Lt. General Alfred Gruenther.

But Republican partisans wooing Eisenhower as their 1952 standard bearer think that if the defense force isn't in such shape by the end of this year that " Ike " feels he can step out, a lot of public confidence in the defense effort will have been dissipated.

Of course, President Truman could ask Eisenhower to stay in his post and the General, who is subject to the commander in chief's orders as a soldier, could hardly refuse.

But the Eisenhower enthusiasts (Continued on Page Six)

Three Are Injured By Gas Explosion At Naval Station

Three persons were burned and injured by exploding gas in a building at the Municipal Airport Saturday night at 7:20 o'clock, and today were reported recovering in Fernand Loughlin Memorial Hospital.

E. W. Davis, in labor room the exploding tank pliers, received severe hand burns, and Dr. Duane Heninger Baker had first and second degree burns on his arms and legs. Dr. W. W. Harrington, a general and face burns, and Dr. W. C. Harkins, attending physician.

Fire Chief M. N. Cleveland said today that the fire was of small size when the department arrived. Doors in several rooms were blown off their hinges.

The blast occurred in the room of Mr. Davis, out of a sewage of gas from a room across the hall where a gas heater is located. The heater exploded at the time, Dr. Baker and Mr. Davis were seeking the source of the escaping gas and when Mr. Davis turned on the electric light, a spark must have occurred that exploded the gas, and Chief Cleveland said.

Mr. Harrington received his burns when he entered the room to aid the others.

The incident occurred in the building used by the George Barr training school.

Atomic Age Planes Are Coming

ATOM-POWERED AIRCRAFT with theoretical ability to fly indefinitely without refueling, and at a speed limited only by the airplane, are shown in artist sketches. One American industrial laboratory has been commissioned to design an atomic engine for such planes. Radical designs include (1) a crew's compartment (arrow) on wing tip, and (2) remote control guns resting on wing. The crew in case of the piston-engine bomber (2) is relatively close to the power plant, but in the crew compartment in the tail (4) is as far as possible from the radioactive power source. These concepts came from interviews with scientists working on atom-powered aircraft plans. (International)

World Federalists will be interested in learning that Dr. Robert M.
Hutchins, director of the Ford Foundation, recently president of the University of Chicago, has been nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize for his work in behalf of World Government.

Those who have faith in God and the hereafter possess a staff on which to lean in life which others miss. "I don't want to die," said a ten year old Illinois boy suffering with cancer, "but when I think of dying and going to Heaven to see God, I can hardly wait!"

Winston Churchill resents the naming of an American as supreme naval commander of Atlantic Pact fleets on top of the selection of Eisenhower to head the land armies.
Churchill, in spite of his American mother, is not too proud to remember that Britain was once Mistress of the Seas.

Sanford was a pretty good lesson in the hazards of excessive drinking when three local men, possibly two, two of them World War II victims, died from the after-effects. Such tragedies often start with a can of beer, and then another, until beer no longer satisfies, and something stronger is tried. It works at first but finally it too loses its kick, until at last, possibly because of its availability, anything that is liquid and deadening to the nervous system, is swallowed in killing quantities.
"O, that could never happen to me," we all like to say, but as the Bishop of London remarked, as the prisoner was led to gallows,
"Here, but for the grace of God, go I!"

Wondering how well posted American citizens are on what goes on in the world, Time magazine publishes its annual news quiz, asking such questions as "After being trapped by hordes of Chinese troops, the U. S. 7th
Division and the 1st Marine Division fought their way out of an encirclement around... (where)?"
"When the 8th Army's Walton Walker was killed in a jeep accident, he was succeeded by whom?" "What European king died recently?" "What is former President Hoover's stand in the Great Debate?" "What expert in labor relations was recently confirmed by the Senate as Assistant Secretary of Defense after being falsely accused as being a Communist?" and so forth.

The attitude of the RFC seems to be that it is perfectly legal and proper for its loans to be made on the basis of friendship, that those who are "right," politically, should have access to millions in government credit, that those who oppose the Administration should naturally be denied this credit. And if the theory of government were to be carried to other Federal agencies, it must logically follow that old age pensions, aid-to-dependent children, veteran's benefits and so forth would be restricted to members of the Democratic Party. And if this were so, what would happen to the Republican Party, or any other political party, and would we not be in a state of anarchy?

The House On Tariffs

It might appear on the surface that there is a good omen for the reciprocal trade agreements program in the fact that the House passed the three-year renewal bill without a rollcall vote, and that the bill has been sent on to the Senate four months before the deadline created by expiration of the present law. The "peril point" limitation added by the House is a restriction on the scope of the program, but was to be expected of the conservative coalition which controls the House.

The "escape" clause is another matter. This provision, added by the House, would put into every trade agreement negotiated under the act a stipulation permitting the United States to back out of the agreement if it should decide that American industry was being injured by the import rates set by the agreement. In short, every agreement would be made with the understanding that it would be torn up if we did not like the way it worked out. We wonder how many members of the House would approve United States entry, on good faith, into agreements containing such an escape provision for the other nation?

This clause would probably kill the reciprocal trade agreements program, for what nation in its senses would enter into any agreement with the United States, of worth to us, on such terms? No business man would risk any of his private investment on the strength of a contract with that limitation. The House, while giving the appearance of speedy advancement of the trade agreements program, may have given to it the kiss of death.

For More Shakespear

A new Shakespearian theater is to be established in this country. A bill to grant the incorporation of the American Shakespeare Theatre and Academy of Connecticut has been introduced in the legislature. Westport, already the home of a summer stock company, has been chosen as the site. The plans provide for a building in imitation of the Globe theater in London, built by Shakespeare himself with some of his associates and the scene of many of his plays.
The proposed new building will cost at least $600,000.

While other dramas than those of Shakespeare will be produced, the emphasis will be on the works of the master.
This should provide theater-goers who visit New England
a chance to see some of the plays less often produced.
Shakespearian production has usually been confined to "Hamlet," "Macbeth," "Julius Caesar," "An You Like It" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Occasionally "Othello" and "King Lear" are given, and Laurence Olivier won acclaim for his film rendering of "Henry V." The other Shakespearian plays are seldom given, and will, it is hoped,
receive special attention from the new group.

The United States could use more of the Shakespearian entertainment and wisdom. It is to be hoped that the clouded international outlook will not prevent the new undertaking from coming into being.

Aim Of Communism

That all goods and services will be furnished to the individual free of charge is the goal which Communism is supposed to be seeking, according to the proceedings of a Russian gathering of economists, just made known in the West.

Just how the state would get any work done when all necessities come free would be a mystery to anyone but a Communist. Out of his own experience he knows that the Communist state ultimately knows no other persuasion than force. If terror does not get the desired results, more terrorism will be applied.

An for the way life held out as the ultimate goal, the average man or woman will no more attain it than the donkey does the proverbial carrot held just out of reach of his nose. Whatever inducements are held out to non-Communists are so much cajolery, not to be taken seriously.

Feminine Florida

By DORIS DANIEL

From all appearances it seems that spring has come to Florida.
Spring seems ever closer when you realize that Easter is only a month away. This year, Easter, which falls on March 25, will be the earliest observance of the holiday in the second half of the 20th century. It is interesting to note that the method of fixing the time of Easter dates back to 325
A. D. In that year the Council of the Christian Church met at Nicaea (Nica) in Asia Minor.
Besides settling forth the Nicene Creed, a summary of the belief in the divinity of Christ, the council decided that Easter should be the first Sunday after the Paschal full moon which occurs upon, or next after, March 21, the vernal equinox.

Although we shouldn't forget that Easter is a deeply religious feast, it does bring in the spring season with a flourish. It has always seemed that Easter denoted a time of rebirth and an awakening of Nature.

A great many of us select our spring clothes at Easter time and these gay "springish" clothes add that much more to the flowers and shrubs that are in full bloom.

If you're contemplating buying a new spring outfit, now is the time to begin thinking about what you want.

ATHLETE'S FOOT

No Longer Scared

Public indignation over Florida's growing paper list during a time of plenty is breaking down the high wall of political sanctity which long has surrounded the state's welfare program.

These recent developments offer hope of action by the 1951 legislature to correct flagrant abuses of the taxpayers' charity:

1. The State Welfare Board has acknowledged the present system is too loose and has recommended laws to tighten it up.

2. A joint welfare committee of the legislature has endorsed needed restrictions.

3. A State Comptroller, Guy B.
Crittenden, has criticized the tremendous increase in welfare spending, although he said
friends told him the subject was "political suicide."

There are four main faults with Florida's welfare program—faults which have cost taxpayers millions of dollars in unjustified payments and pushed welfare spending up to the indefensible total of $60, 000,000 a year.

These faults are: (1) no requirement that children who are able to do so must support their parents; (2) no effort to recover money from the estates of those drawing old age pensions;

(3) no effort to make fathers support their dependent children;
and (4) the secrecy of the relief rolls.

Critters are responsible for the corruption of the rolls and the relief rolls. There is no support for any legislator who regards the welfare program as politically sacred. By this time it must be apparent to the most self-righted citizen that our welfare spending has been foolishly over-hyped. As a result, an untold amount of money intended for the destitute has been snatched by chiselers.

Legislative reform is needed urgently. The legislature will be honestly needed as well as the taxpayers.

gross sales the past week

addition to a variety of citrus, valued at $821,042.00. A large variety of citrus and vegetables is expected to move during the current week.

Future Farmers
Week Is Observed
At Seminole High

The Seminole Chapter, Future
Farmers of America, observed
National Future Farmers of America Week along with 230,000 other members in the FFA last week with special activities at the chapter house in the rear of Seminole High School.

Leonard Jones, president of the local chapter, gave some interesting highlights of the organization as follows:

The organization was formed 22
years ago in Kansas City, Mo., by a group of high school agricultural students and their leaders who chose as their slogan, "I believe in the future of farming."

In addition to chapters in all of the 48 states there are territorial associations in Hawaii and Puerto Rico, with about 8,000 local FFA chapters in rural high schools. Among the best known activities, Leonard explained is the national convention which is held in Kansas City each year.

More than 5,000 FFA members attended the convention held last October. There are national judging contests at Waterloo, La., and Kansas City and several national awards that can be won by members, such as those for work in farm and home mechanics; public speaking;
conservation; dairy farming and farm safety.

Besides the national awards, there are 8100 state awards in the same fields. The Seminole Chapter won third and fifth placings in the State Livestock show with a Herford Bull, he placed out.

He also explained that the national dues are only 10c per member and that most awards come from the Future Farmers of America Foundation which is made possible by donations from business concerns and individuals.

The Foundation now has a budget of $100,000 with more than a hundred businesses contributing to the fund.

National advisor is Dr. W. T.
Spanton, Chief of the Agricultural

Service of the Office of Education in Washington; and A. W. Tenny, member of the Agriculture Service staff, is executive secretary of FFA. National officers are FFA members who are elected each year at the time of the national convention.

Awards are based on achievement in farming, leadership, cooperation and scholarship. The best state farmer each year is named Star State Farmer and gets a check for $100. The best American Farmer is named Star
Farmer of America and receives $1,000 from the Foundation. There are also three Regional Star Farmer awards of $500 each.

One of the primary requirements for membership in the FFA is that the boy must be a student of vocational agriculture and he must also have a farming program at home if he expects to pass the course.

Can Diabetes
Be Cured?
By
W. V. Hittig
Touchton Drug Co.

When diabetes is detected in the earliest stages, it is often successfully cleared up through proper diet. And as long as the patient adheres to the diet and receives regular attention from his physician the condition can usually be controlled.

But it is not to be regarded as cured unless the doctor is satisfied the danger of return is a mere serious stage if medical attention is neglected.

district have cooperated with us in taking a poll of opinions by publishing a questionnaire. You have responded splendidly, and your answers have been helpful to me in my service as your Representative.
For that reason, I am again submitting a questionnaire.

Most of the questions deal with legislation the President has recommended in his messages to Congress. Some of the decisions, such as those re-not be made by a direct vote in Congress. Those decisions are placed in the hands of the President by the Constitution. However, because of their importance to the Nation, they are included.

I will appreciate knowing how you feel on the following questions:

- 1. A. Do you believe economic aid to Western Europe is necessary to our own defense?
Yes - No -
B. Should it be (a) increased?— (b) reduced?—

Hints To Housewives

By Annas Mae Sikora

The I-R club members in our country are engaged in a nationwide thrift program to earn, save, and serve. Our young people need help with money management. Not only is this true for future financial independence, but to meet their needs of the present. By practicing thrift and learning to earn and save they are able to have some of their dreams come true, such as a week of a summer I-R camp or a trip to the State I-R Short Course.

Thrift involves earning, saving, and proper management of earnings. It also involves wise use of time, energy, money, clothing and food.

Florida I-R club girls have at ways practiced thrift in their homes and I-R work in war-time and in peace-time they have learned that it pays to start early to learn to select, make, and take care of their clothing. The 16-year-old girl taken clothing as one of her I-R demonstrations, and right away she gets started in making things for herself and her home. She is made to realize that she has saved and has been thrifty by making these articles at home rather than buying them ready-made. As club girls learn to plan, construct they learn to patch, clean, wash, trim, and take proper care of their clothes. They soon realize that "better care means longer wear."

They also realize that it is important to take stock of clothes on hand. This inventory will start one thinking of things needed to build up a wardrobe. One also is reminded that everything cannot be purchased at once because there are other family members to be considered. So there must be a plan for the individual and family wardrobe. A three-year plan is economical.

A limited wardrobe can be a good adequate wardrobe if built around a single color or combination of colors.

Before planning new clothes, the old clothes that are usable and worth the time, effort, and expense can be considered to bring them up-to-date in line, design and color.

Knowing how to sew not only gives more for the money but helps to keep clothes in good repair.

Mary Bartley and Mrs. Mary Crawford spoke on the Founder's Day of the P. T. A. and that time will be presented "A Conducted Tour of Europe, with Mr. R. F. Leedy and His Camera."

A special Founder's Day program was presented to the P. T. A. meeting held at Lyman School on Tuesday evening. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. H. Morrison. Devotional was led by Mrs. R. H. Gray. A short business session was held, and following this the Founder's Day program was presented. Mrs. Morrison gave the President's Founder's Day message and Mrs.

The Lamplighter

By TOM DOYLE

A bright Florida sun shone down on the Rollins College campus yesterday afternoon as the twenty-fifth annual "Animated Magazine" got underway promptly at 2:30 o'clock, its contributors drawn from diversified fields of human activity. Personable Dr. Paul A. Wagner, president of the college, served as the editor and introduced to the audience of 10,000 the distinguished personages.

For me, as well as for a good many more, the highlight of the afternoon was Basil Rathbone's appearance as he edited the drama and entertainment page. Speaking beautifully in a well-modulated, even-tempered voice so well known by most of us, Rathbone pointed out a very pertinent idea. That what we do in our leisure time is important. While he grants that TV is here to stay, he asserted that it is strictly recreational entertainment. While he is thoroughly liked and endorsed, Rathbone's portrayal in "Hamlet" is still insisted that we go to the real thing, i. e., Shakespeare himself for the sake of meaning. In a similar vein, he criticized watching baseball games on TV but surely, he said "There is no substitute for the game itself. Rathbone made his point well and at the request of Dr. Wagner appropriately concluded his address with the famous soliloquy from "Hamlet" during which hardly a sound could be heard from the crowd.

America's place in the world was the topic of several of the guests. Charles Percy, president of Bell & Howell Co. spoke on "Human Understanding in American Industry." Dr. Wagner pointed out the better labor and management get along, the less fuel will Soviet propagandists have to further their campaign of lies. While the better American life are obviously better, he pointed out that we have done a better job in out-selling us.

Leo Buscaglia, famous figure of the baseball world, was unable to attend the magazine owing to illness. Senator Paul Douglas, who was also to speak, was absent because of a Washington conference.

An interesting feature of the afternoon was Dr. Wagner's telephone conversation with former Rollins president, Dr. Hamilton Holt, who spoke from Woodstock, Conn. Holt was obviously in good humor as he kidded Floridians on their red bugs and hurricanes, contrasting these features of the state with Connecticut which, while it doesn't have oranges, does have apples. Wagner also spoke with a former Rollins student who graduated in 1936 and returned to his native Germany. Asked whether he would favor a German alliance against the Communist forces, the former student did not directly comment.

Noted CBS correspondent Lary Lebusen, the Rev. John Haynes Holmes and Thomas Matthews, editor of Time, were especially good, speaking on topics of world wide significance. Other distinguished contributors were Justice Newman Merrill Meigs, executive vice-president of the Hearst publication; Donald Elyon, administrator of the Civil Aeronautics Authority; Begim Aga Khan Bazo, Pakistan political leader, and Joseph R. Farrington, delegate to Congress from Hawaii, and editor of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin.

Hurlers Shine In New York Giants First Exhibition Game Of Season

By ED HARPER
The New York Giant's pitching staff put on an impressive exhibition yesterday allowing only 11 hits in seven full innings as the Herman Franks team, led by Bob and Hank Thompson, evened the score in the bottom half of the sixth and went on to win 2 to 1 in the last of the 7th.

Lanky Clint Hartung led off the scoring in the 4th with a towering 400 foot home run over the left center field fence with two men out. In the last half of the 6th Frank Fanovich, a pitcher playing in the outfield, dropped a fly ball hit by Cuban catcher Ray Noble and the third baseman made second on the error. Hank Thompson hit a stizzling line drive past first baseman Whitley Lockman to score Noble.

With the score tied at 1-1 Monte Irvin, playing left field for the Franks team, doubled down the third base line and stumpy Dick Geyevase singled him home for the ball game.

Manager Leo Durocher had pitcher Cal Hight throw another half inning to the Fred Fitzmons group during which Frank Fanovich hit a slashing double to center and another pitcher, Al Gettel, landed a home run over the center field wall before the two teams called a day.

Whitley Lockman, playing first base with aplomb if no special skill, turned in one of the best fielding plays of the afternoon in catching a high foul over his shoulder while running full tilt. The blonde outfielder is quick and handles himself well around the bag but his handling of ground balls is weak and his throwing is none too accurate.

Pitchers Larry Jansen and Jim Hearn looked in early season form in the one inning they pitched. Hearn, whose left leg goes over his head during his windup, was throwing very hard.

Bob Thompson, ransy left fielder, hit a streaming triple in the first inning which bounced off the left field fence. Looking a little like Joe DiMaggio from a distance, the big outfielder is the ideal ball player—quick, fast and big.

Umpires from the George Barr school called the game and on two plays took unmerciful, if playful, ragging from coaches Herman Franks and Fred Fitzmons. The Giants will take a day off from training today and work out tomorrow and Wednesday before leaving for their spring training headquarters in St. Petersburg.

Bill Talbert Wins 26th Tennis Title In Five Tough Sets

By ED CORRIAN
NEW YORK, Feb. 26—(AP)—Thirty-two-year-old Bill Talbert, a full-time newspaper editor and part time tennis player, today held the National Indoor Championship for the second time with a 3-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3 victory over young Sidney Schwartz for the title. Yesterday, he took on Straight Clark, a 26-year-old comer from Pasadena, Calif. in the final.

Talbert, who now has won exactly 26 asserted national titles, had a fight on his hands, but he came through at 6-4, 6-8, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3.

He said he's going to take a rest until the Good Neighbor tourney in Florida next month. At that time, he'll begin serious work to gain a doubles spot on the Davis Cup team.

"I think I'll team with Tony Trabert, and I don't think we'll have too much trouble making it," he said.

Talbert is largely responsible for Trabert's success as a doubles player. Longpoints Bill took the University of Cincinnati ago under his wing last year and brought him along so fast that he's regarded as one of the best doubles players in the country.

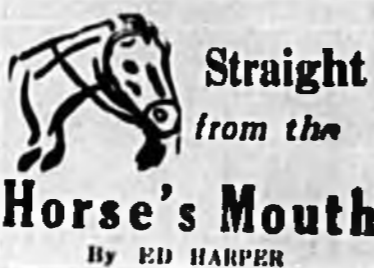

Nancy Chaffee of Ventura, Santa Monica, Calif. in the final of the women's doubles, 6-4, 6-4. Miss Baker then teamed with Clark to gain some measure of consolation by whipping Miss Chaffee and Talbert in the mixed doubles final, 6-8, 6-3, 9-7.

In the men's doubles, Talbert and Don McNeill polished off Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N. J., 2-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4, in one of those endless age-young battles.

Talbert had an opponent who was not disposed to give up. But Clark was unfortunate in that he elected to play to Talbert's forte—his backhand, time and again Talbert left the right side of the court completely unprotected, so confident was he that the ball would come to his backhand.

He rarely was disappointed. This, combined with his superior service, enabled him to win the last two sets with ease. Still Clark, for one who is rated no better than 23rd nationally, showed some fine strokes, especially in his volleying. However, his service must improve if he is to be a real threat.

Umpires in the National League in 1943 were paid five dollars a game.

Buddy Lake leaned against a pump in his gas station and began to reminisce about a baseball career which has extended over the last 18 years.

Like most stories it has its share of success and defeat, but Buddy, lean and in good condition, spoke of the game with an affection unmitigated with bitterness.

Many people in Sanford can recall when Buddy left for the Boston Braves spring training camp in 1933 and stuck with the big league club for its first month that year. He was still a little green for the majors and the Braves farmed him out to Harrisburg in what was then the New York-Pennsylvania league.

Buddy played with Harrisburg for three years winning 15 games in 1935 before he was sold to League. He had just begun to realize his potentialities. Young, strong, and possessing the swift needed to make the majors, it looked as if Buddy was on his way.

Then it happened. In spring training with Albany in 1936 Buddy was thrown one day without any special motion or any different stance—but maybe just a little too hard for that early in the year when a sharp twinge of pain hit his arm. For no reason and without warning his most valuable baseball asset was rendered useless.

Buddy played for about six weeks with Albany and then his arm would come around, but the stabbing pain was always there.

For the next two years he laid off and gradually the pain lessened when he threw. Developing his control, always his best point, Buddy felt ready for another try at a professional ball in 1939. And he was right.

He won 16 games pitching and played the outfield regularly with St. Augustine that year. It was during this season that Buddy resumed an experiment with switch hitting begun in 1934. He gradually worked out of the awkwardness and learned to hit the curve ball which had so baffled him when it broke away.

In 1940 Buddy put in a full season in the Saint's outfield leading the league in hitting with a .367 average. He had been called the "place ever-taker" but he did not even bat in 1940 in runs batted in leading home 110—a league record which still stands.

The Florida League, which disbanded during the war years, was reorganized in 1946. After winning the 1946 title that year Buddy became an all star in a feature with the Sanford club. Buddy signed when he talked about his two months as manager in 1947—a job he took with reluctance. He remembers playing everything but catcher that year to get the team out of the second division but nothing seemed to work.

The following year—when the Giants took over the club—Buddy had his best year on the mound winning 20 games and playing third base a lot of the year.

But Buddy's most astounding pitching feat had occurred the previous year when he won nine and lost eight. He pitched 19 innings of scoreless relief and infield he might be needed.

Since his arm went bad he has developed control pitching to a fine art. In 1948—his 20 game year—he walked only 12 men, probably a 10-0 record, although no walk statistics are kept for pitchers.

Buddy says his arm still feels good and he has already signed his 1951 contract. With the veteran limit raised to four and many of the youngsters going into the Army, Buddy may be due for his best year yet.

Ransom Jackson, who will get another trial with the Chicago Cubs this spring, was the top right handed hitter in the International League in 1950. He batted .318 for Springfield and hit 20 homers.

Furgol Breaks In On Top Money With Houston Victory

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 26—(AP)—Golf's winter tournament troupe was enroute to St. Petersburg, today with Marty Furgol a new addition among the top money winners.

Furgol picked up a $2,000 first place check yesterday in the Houston open to win his season's take to a fifth ranking $2,850. Just two weeks ago the 33-year-old Long Beach, Calif. pro was in a three-way tie for thirty-first place with $480.

He began fattening his pocket-book a week ago with a second place of $1,400 from the 33-year-old Long Beach, Calif. pro was in a three-way tie for thirty-first place with $480.

That was 11 strokes under par for the 6,997-yard Memorial Park course and matched the total that Great Britain's Bobby Locke needed in winning the 1947 Houston Open, also at Memorial.

A strong finish by Jack Burke, a Houston native, almost overtook the California lad but he was forced Burke to settle for a 278 and second place money $1,400.

This jumped Burke into second place among the money winners, his $4,116 being topped only by Lloyd Mangrum, Chicago. Mangrum's $6,338 includes the $600.66 he picked-up yesterday for fifth place tie with Lew Worsham, Oklahoma, Pa., and Glenn Teal, Jacksonville.

Worsham, the 54-hole leader, slipped to a two-over 74 yesterday for a 281 total. Worsham now is the fourth leading money winner with $2,850.

Ed (Parkey) Oliver, Seattle, Wash., who saw his 36-hole lead wiped out by a 77 Saturday, came back for a new contender to collect $1,000 in third place money at 279. A stroke behind him was Shelley Mayfield, Cedarhurst, N. Y., who won $800.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial membranes. Don't Go Through Life... Not Sick Enough To Stop Working; Not Well Enough To Work Well

Many people go through life not sick enough to stop working, but not well enough to work well. Some folks do something about it, others just talk about it. Mrs. J. H. Digby, Cedar Glades, Fla., Hot Springs, Ark., could offer a word of advice to those folks who put a pause during something to help themselves. Her advice would be to take HADACOL. Mrs. J. H. Digby, Cedar Glades, Fla., Hot Springs, Ark., found that by taking HADACOL, she was giving her system Vitamins B1, B2, Nicotin and Iron which it lacked. And taking HADACOL helped her overcome those deficiency-caused ailments; she keeps right on taking it now that she is feeling good, to keep those troubles away.

Here is what Mrs. Digby says: "I am 51 years old and I have suffered from stomach distress for some time with bloating and gas. I was weak and nervous and I couldn't sleep at night. I read in the paper about HADACOL. I started taking it and I have taken five large bottles. It helped me from the start and now I feel fine. I wish everybody that had stomach distress would try HADACOL. I can truthfully say HADACOL is 100%. The Lorraine Corporation."

Briton To Receive Deputy Command In Atlantic Fleet

Churchill Emphasizes British Lifeline's Naval Dependence

LONDON, Feb. 26 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee announced today it has been agreed that the deputy supreme commander of Atlantic Pact naval forces in the Atlantic Ocean will be British.

Accordingly, Attlee told the House of Commons, he is "entirely satisfied" with the nomination of U. S. Vice Admiral William N. Fletcher to be supreme commander for the area.

Attlee made his statement in response to a loud outcry in Commons and the press which greeted word last week of Fletcher's forthcoming appointment.

Conservative leader Winston Churchill asserted then that Britain, with its long and honorable Navy tradition, had been "brushed out of the way."

Attlee said actual direction of Atlantic Pact forces in the eastern Atlantic—including the vital western approaches to the British Isles—would be in the hands of the commander in chief of Britain's home fleet.

He would command not only available British forces in the area, but also those of the United States and other North Atlantic treaty nations, Attlee said.

At the same time all such forces in the western Atlantic would be commanded by an American.

Both of these regional commanders would take orders from Fletcher.

"All our experience in the last war," Attlee said, "proves that there is a need for single command in the Atlantic which can allocate and re-allocate forces to meet the shifting threat as it develops." He added.

"Despite our great Naval traditions the defense of the North Atlantic Ocean cannot possibly in a future war be undertaken by this country alone."

He said the set-up as now recommended to the Atlantic Pact deputies "will ensure that responsibility for the home defense of these islands, including British coastal waters, will remain firmly in British hands."

Attlee said the arrangement will apply in time of war.

In peacetime, there is no question of our placing any of our naval or air forces in the Atlantic under the command of the proposed supreme commander, he said.

He said the supreme commander will, however, take command "for the period of exercises needed to carry out combined training" of the multi-national fleet in peacetime.

Churchill described Attlee's statement as "very complicated."

He said it "will require study and consideration, and it may well be that we shall find it necessary to raise the matter in debate."

In a sarcastic reference to Attlee's obvious unpreparedness to discuss details when the question came up last week, Churchill commented:

"I may be allowed to congratulate the Prime Minister on how much more he knows about the subject today than he did the last time it was raised."

In reply to questions, Attlee insisted the set-up under the arrangement Britain retains "operational control" of its home fleet.

"It is general coordination which will be taken by the supreme com-

(Continued From Page One) argue that it would be unfair to ask the General to take a longer leave from his civilian job as President of Columbia University.

Unless Eisenhower is freed of military duties by next spring, almost no politicians believe the General would let his name be considered by either party convention as a presidential nominee.

Some Democrats who believe Mr. Truman might not run again also are plugging for Eisenhower as their nominee.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who is willing to accept the GOP presidential nomination if it comes his way, obviously thinks Eisenhower is likely to be pretty busy in his military job next spring.

If the General is tied up, Taft hopes to cash in on one of the delegates—like those from Pennsylvania—who might otherwise go to Eisenhower.

Dewey himself isn't being counted out of the running if Eisenhower isn't available. Although the New York governor has said he isn't a candidate, he still figures to control New York's hefty vote and he has friends in other states.

Boy Kills Parents As They Watch TV

OAKLAND, Calif., Feb. 26 (AP)—A 14-year-old boy walked into a police station last night and, of nervous report, blurted:

"I killed my father and mother. . . I don't know why I did it. . . Do you know why?"

Donald Arce, an only child, was picked on suspicion of murdering his parents, William M. Boyle, 37, auxiliary policeman, and his wife, Dorothy, 31.

Police inspector Merle Longmeyer said the youth related:

Sunday afternoon, Donald stole a .22 rifle from a friend.

Last night, as his parents watched television, he fired three times through a small opening in his bedroom door. One bullet instantly killed his father, another fatally injured his mother as she rose, screaming: "Donald! . . . Donald!"

"I could hear mommie (her dying gasps) and see them lying on the floor and I would shrivel up inside," the boy continued.

He took his father's wallet and a wedding ring and fled in the family automobile. He talked with a priest, who advised that he surrender.

Motive? Donald had none. "I don't know why. It's crazy. . . My parents were very good to me. I love them very much."

Bradley Claims

"We cannot maintain such forces by voluntary enlistments," he added.

Besides providing huge numbers of men through the draft, Bradley said, there is an urgent need for a system that will provide training of others through reserve components.

The House committee has tentatively approved a compromise which Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) said would authorize induction of youths at 18½ with the understanding they would not be sent overseas until they turn 19.

On the other side of the Capitol, the Senate begins debate tomorrow on a measure which would permit the induction of 18-year olds but only after their local draft boards have exhausted all available men in the 19-to-26 age bracket.

MacCall had proposed lowering the draft age to 18 with the understanding that draftees would get at least four months basic training in this country. The proposal was contained in suggested legislation for setting up a Universal Military Training program.

Although the House committee worked nearly three weeks on its compromise, some members said they are not altogether satisfied with it.

Vinson said "in general" it represents the committee's thinking but conceded there may be some changes. He is hoping to get it to a house vote by mid-March.

Senator Millikin (R-Colo.) called off today for a conference of all GOP Senators tomorrow to discuss Senate policy to be followed during Senate discussion of the proposed legislation.

"We will ask the Republican members of the Armed Services Committee to give us a full explanation of the bill and issues," Millikin, chairman of the Republican conference, told a reporter.

Five of the six Republicans on the committee voted for approving the measure sent to the Senate.

Senator Morse (R-Ore.) wants to limit the draft to boys 18½ and also opposes extending required service from 21 to 26 months. He was expected to raise these and other issues at the G. O. P. conference and later on the senate floor.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chair committee, indicated he also favors limiting the draft to those 18½ or older.

"I think," he said, "Admiral of the Atlantic can transfer forces from one of these areas to another?" Churchill asked.

"Yes, I think that is quite essential," Attlee replied.

"The Prime Minister," he said, "is now supporting a policy which would give an American supreme commander the power to transfer powerful forces from these coasts to the other side of the Atlantic or make other dispositions of that character."

"Nothing like that ever existed in the late war and never could have been accepted in view of the fact that our life depends upon the maintenance of our sea approaches, whereas though the United States may suffer a great deal her life is, in fact, not affected."

Attlee said such questions are under the "general direction" of the standing group of Atlantic Pact military leaders.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service reports domesticated European geese and swans have lived 70 or 80 years.

R. F. C.

The Senators are digging for the truth back of conflicting stories they received last week from Bohannon, a Dallas lawyer, and E. Merle Young, Washington insurance man, Bohannon said.

Young proposed to help pay through the loan to the Texmass Corp. for a $85,000 fee. Young denied it. He said Bohannon had approached him.

Today, the Senators heard Skiles testify Bohannon, mentioning a possible fat fee, talked to him about the possibility of getting Young or William M. Boyle, Jr., now Democratic National Chairman, to influence granting of the loan.

Next they called to their witness Theron M. Lindsey, a former employee in the RFG Dallas office. Lindsey said he believes it was Skiles who suggested to Bohannon that Texmass ought to hire "outside help" on the loan.

He said it is his understanding that Skiles mentioned Young as "the man to handle the loan." The understanding, he said, resulted from his conversations with Skiles.

"The inference I got," he said, "was that Young was a man of influence through his connections with Donald Dawson." But that Young was "not to do anything out of the way, but see that certain small details were taken care of" in connection with the loan.

Dawson is an aide to President Truman.

Asked whether Young actually was influential through his friendship with Dawson, Lindsey said: "I have no reason to doubt it."

He said the "general opinion" in the Dallas office had been that Skiles had so much influence he could not be fired from his job. Skiles formerly was personnel director of the Dallas office but said he left the RFG payroll a month ago.

A Senate Banking Subcommittee ran into the Bohannon-Young conflict of testimony in a general investigation of whether there has been influential through his friendship with Dawson, Lindsey said.

RFC lending. Their stories were so at variance that Senator Taft (R-Ind.) declared one of the two had perjured himself.

Skiles said Bohannon, talking to him over drinks at a Christmas party in a Dallas insurance office, mentioned "a nice fat fee" that would be involved if he could get Young or William M. Boyle, Jr., Democratic National Chairman, to use some influence.

He quoted Bohannon as declaring: "That ain't whiskey talking."

Skiles said Young, in a long distance telephone call from Washington, "gave me a rough time," later and blamed him for having sent Bohannon to see Young.

Supreme Court

"The Administrative procedure act and the Taft-Hartley act differ in that courts must now assume some more responsibility for the reasonableness and fairness of labor board decisions than some courts have shown in the past."

Frankfurter said "reviewing courts (such as the circuit courts) must be influenced by a feeling that they are not to abdicate the conventional judicial function. Congress has imposed on them responsibility for assuring that the board keeps within reasonable grounds."

The administrative procedure and Taft-Hartley acts both provide that Administrative findings are to be considered conclusive "if supported by substantial evidence on the record considered as a whole."

The word "substantial" and the phrase "on the record considered as a whole" were not contained in a similar provision in the earlier, 1935 National Labor Relations Act, which gave U. S. Circuit Court power to enforce NLRB orders.

Frankfurter said the court's new responsibility "is not less real" because it is limited to enforcing the requirement that evidence appear substantial when viewed, on the record as a whole, by courts invested with the authority and enjoying the prestige of the U. S. circuit courts."

He added:

"The board's findings are entitled to respect; but they must nonetheless be set aside when the record before a circuit court clearly precludes the board's decision from being justified by a fair estimate of the worth of the testimony of witnesses or its informed judgment on matters within its special competence or both."

Navy Launches 1st Experimental Type Killer Submarine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—The Navy will launch the first modern anti-submarine submarine—a small and deadly killer of its own kind—on Friday.

The K-1 (K for killer) will go down the ways at the Electric Boat Company, Groton, Conn.

Packed with the latest in electronic and sound detection gear and underwater weapons, the K-1 is only 195 feet long and displaces only 750 tons. This is small compared with the big fleet type submarines—311 feet and 1,500 tons.

However, the mission of the killer sub is not to roam far out in search of Naval and merchant ships but to hunt down any sunk enemy submarines. Just about everything concerning the K-1, except her dimensions, is rated secret by the Navy.

The former chief of undersea warfare, Rear Admiral C. E. B. Bowers, says of the killer submarine:

"I can say that from my own experience there is no foe that strikes more terror in the heart of a submarine than an enemy submarine operating in the same waters. It is somewhat analogous to two blindfolded antagonists armed with baseball bats, each waiting for the other to break silence."

Actually the K-1 is the second killer submarine the Navy has had. An early model, of somewhat primitive type, was launched in 1914 and decommissioned in 1922 at Hampton Roads, Va.

The K-1 will be sponsored by Mrs. Willis Manning Thomas of Arlington, Va., widow of a World War II submarine skipper.

Commander Thomas was captain of the Pompano when she was lost during her seventh war patrol in six previous patrols. The Pompano sank ten enemy ships totaling 42,000 tons and damaged four others. Thomas was a native of Richmond, Calif.

Taft Terms

(Continued From Page One) Sherman Cooper, Republican aide to the State Department, said failure by this country to provide solid support for the North Atlantic defense force might invite the greatest surrender in history.

Asserting that Administration witnesses had deliberately befogged the whole project, Taft said in his mind that the six American divisions Secretary of Defense Marshall said will be assigned to the Allied force under general Dwight D. Eisenhower are "a definite plan for Europe in addition to the two already there."

Noting Marshall's statement that Europe will contribute "the major portion" of ground troops, Taft declared:

"This might mean an American contribution of anywhere from 10 percent to 30 percent, from perhaps six divisions to 18 divisions."

He said that unless the United States gets definite assurances from other nations they will fill their quotas, "we should certainly not risk American divisions to provide a hopeless defense."

"We would certainly be condemning our army to defeat and Europe to destruction if Russia attacks," he declared.

Taft said that "as far as anybody can judge" only 37 divisions—"an inadequate army"—are in sight for Western Europe's defense, including six American.

He told the committee that so far a she is concerned the issue is not merely the sending of additional U. S. troops to Europe but the establishment of an international army there.

He insisted Congress must pass on this question and must have definite commitments that the European nations will bear the greatest share of the troop burden.

Contending that the President has no power to enter into agreements with other nations to establish an international army without the approval of Congress, the Ohioan said Administration plans are being kept deliberately "in a fog of uncertainty."

He said that Administration witnesses before the committee had "tried to obscure" admitting that there is a definite plan for the setup of an international force.

"The American people are being 'liberally misled into the idea' that we are only considering the shipment of a few divisions of land soldiers to Europe," he declared.

Cooper had contended in his testimony that if Congress bars or limits commitments that the United States will "kill the effort and the confidence" of Europeans to defend themselves against Soviet aggression.

Bethune-Cookman College Glee Club to appear at First Methodist Church on Tuesday at 7:30 P. M. The group will be heard in Negro Spirituals, Folk Songs, Classical Numbers, and hymns. The public is invited to hear them.

Brewer Services Were Held Feb. 9 At Atlanta Church

Funeral services for Charles Brewer, veteran mail clerk, were held on Feb. 9 at the West Mitchell C.M.E. Church, Atlanta, Ga., with the Rev. L. R. Jones officiating.

Charles was one of the four children of the late Rev. and Mrs. Castle Brewer of Sanford, in whose honor the Castle Brewer housing project was named.

A graduate of the Florida Normal and Industrial Institute of St. Augustine, Charles Brewer was active service in France during World War I. He served for more than 30 years as a railway postal clerk in Atlanta and was promoted to the post of chief railway mail clerk.

He was an active member of the C.M.E. Church which he served as a deacon and as president of the Fortson Club.

Survivors include the widow, two daughters, Nell Brewer Robbins of Hampton, Ga., and June Brewer; three sons, Casselle, Harold and Alonzo; two sisters, Rosa Jordan of Detroit, Mich., and Lela Gray of Sanford, and one brother, Chaplain David I. Brewer now serving in Japan.

Korean War

Communists were also pressed by U. N. infantrymen, sometimes so far in advance of truck supply lines they had to get food and ammunition from air drops or Korean peasants with pack harnesses.

But Red buildups, truck convoys slipping down from the north at night, and new entrenchments indicated the Communists were preparing to make a stand in the mountains ahead to halt the creeping advance of the 100,000 man U. N. Army.

Similar defense preparations were observed around Seoul, Red-held former South Korean capital. Three small, but day-long fights were reported on the eastern flank near Pangnim, Pangnim, now in Allied hands, is a road junction five miles north of P'yongchong. Associated Press correspondent Nate Polowsky reported a new Red concentration appeared to be slipping up 12 miles to the north.

Ray Robinson To Fight In France For Cancer Fund

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (AP)—Middleweight champion Ray Robinson, who made such a hit in Europe in his recent tour, has agreed to defend his title in Paris for one franc. Manager George Gainford said today.

The Harlem dandy will meet kid Marcel, 34-year old French middleweight champion, between May 14 and 20 at the Palais De Sport.

Robinson's purse will go to the Cancer Society of France, said Gainford.

Last August, Robinson, then the welterweight king, received only $1 for successfully defending his title against Charlie Fusari of Irvington, N. J. He donated his purse of over $25,000 for that Jersey City bout to the Damon Runyon Cancer fund.

Robinson won the middleweight crown by stopping Jake LaMotta in Chicago in 13 rounds on Feb. 14. He is committed to giving LaMotta a return bout within 90 days.

"Sure we'll give LaMotta the return bout," said Gainford. "Any time he wants it. We told Mr. Norris (Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club) we'll fight for him but not if Al Weill (matchmaker for the I.B.C.) is still connected with the I.B.C."

"We'll was loudly rooting for LaMotta all through the Chicago fight and that's only one of his unethical practices we object to," said Gainford.

The I.B.C., through Harry Markson, managing director, said Robinson has signed a contract for a return bout with LaMotta. We expect him to go through with it."

Chinese Defense Line Cracked By UN Attack

Routed Communists Are Chased Into Uncharted Region Near Parallel 38

TOKYO, Feb. 27.—(AP)—An American regiment cracked the main Korean Red defense on the east-central front today after Doughboys in the same sector smashed five fierce Communist counter-attacks.

The Reds were being chased into an uncharted mountain wilderness.

"We have broken their main line of resistance," said Col. William R. Quinn, commander of the U. S. Seventh Division regiment that broke through the Reds on the east-west highway from Pangnim to Wonju.

"But we're not letting them rest," he told A. P. correspondent Tom Stone. "We're going in after them, and we're going to sweep them out of the hills and the valleys and caves."

Quinn said his riflemen and artillerymen were taking "a terrific toll" of the enemy.

"Our casualties have been amazingly light," he added.

He described the terrain into which his troops were chasing the Reds as "wild and unmappped."

Supplies were being carried "on sacks across ridges so steep that men literally are having to crawl up them."

"On one pinnacle the Reds knuckled us off the rocks," he said.

All along the central front United Nations forces moved ahead steadily but cautiously.

The five Korean Red counter-attacks were hurled back by the U. S. Second Division on the left flank of the Seventh Division, in green darkness some 16 miles southeast of Hoengson. The fighting, in a swirling wind, lasted more than three hours.

Field dispatches reported it was one of the sharpest actions in the week-old renewal of the United Nations drive to kill, maim or capture Chinese and Korean Reds south of Parallel 38.

The drive— spearheaded by the

22nd Amendment Limits President To Only 2 Terms

Law Specifically Expects Truman From Tenure Limitation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—From now on, no President of the United States—except for Harry Truman—may be elected to more than two terms.

And under the 22nd amendment to the Constitution, which for all practical purposes became law last night, no man or woman may serve more than ten years in the White House.

The amendment while limiting future presidents to two elective terms, allows a person who has served two years or less of an unexpired term to be elected twice on his own.

As President at the time the amendment was approved by the Republican controlled 80th Congress, Mr. Truman was specifically exempted.

Thus he would be permitted to run for a second full term in 1952 even though his White House tenure would then fall within the ban set out in the new amendment. He has not said whether he will run.

Utah and Nevada legislatures acted in quick succession last night to approve the amendment. Nevada completed action at 7:30 P. M. (EST), becoming the 30th state to ratify the amendment.

The Constitution requires that amendments to it be ratified by three-fourths of the states—or 36 at present—to become law. A two-thirds majority in Congress is required to submit amendments to the states.

The new amendment could be repealed by the same procedure, holding to its original purpose of prohibition—amendment was ratified by the 21st. It was ratified on Dec. 5, 1933.

Nevada legislators had stood by in great for their state the honor of being the 30th state to ratify the amendment.

Minutes after learning the amendment had approved, Nevada senators voted 16 to 1 for ratification. The Assembly had approved earlier, 29 to 12.

At least two other states were also near ratification—Minnesota and Maryland. The Minnesota legislature had suspended the rules to schedule a vote this afternoon in the hope of becoming the 30th and deciding state to act.

The amendment has been before the states since March, 1947.

After an initial spurt of ratification votes, interest in the proposal apparently lagged and only 24 states had acted favorably by the start of this year.

Then came another rush, bringing approval by legislatures of a dozen states within the past few weeks.

When it submitted the amendment to the states, Congress provided that to be effective it had to be ratified by the required number within seven years, or before Mar. 26, 1954.

The amendment when proposed was generally regarded as a rebuke to the late President Franklin Roosevelt, who won four terms in the White House. He thus broke a two-term precedent set by George Washington, who declined to run for a third term.

Mr. Roosevelt over the third term, said he was gratified that the amendment had been ratified.

In a statement issued in New York, Farley recalled he had been the subject of "rather harsh criticisms" when he opposed the third term.

"I held this view because it was my inner conviction that the presidency should be limited to two terms and that it was so intended by the founding fathers" (Continued on Page Six)

Czech Communist Is Charged With Assassination Plot

Clementis Arrested As Agent Of West; Four Are Indicted

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Former foreign minister Vlado Clementis and four other top Communist leaders are under arrest today in an alleged plot to assassinate Czechoslovakia's Communist President and turn the country over to the west "like Yugoslavia."

This disclosure today by the Czechoslovak Communist Central Committee coincided with its announcement that since September it has thrown almost 150,000 members out of the Party in the biggest housecleaning since the Communists took the power three years ago. The housecleaning is continuing.

"We shall prove," said one of the reports to the committee on the arrests, "that there is a place in the party only for those who in the most holy manner love the Soviet Union, the Communist Party of Bolsheviks and Comrade Stalin."

Five lesser alleged conspirators also are reported in prison. The former leaders now facing trial, besides Clementis, are:

Dr. Gustav Husak, former chairman of the Council of Ministers (cabinet) of Slovakia.

Laco Novomesky, former Slovak Commissioner for Education.

Mrs. Marie Sveranova, widow of the Communist resistance hero in Bernau and former Party deputy secretary general.

Otto Siling, former party political secretary for the Brno region.

Siling and Mrs. Sveranova are accused of being illicit lovers.

These persons are accused of holding to "socialist" President Klement Gottwald, to replace party Secretary General Rudolf Slansky and Prime Minister Antonin Zapotocky, and to seize the party and the government.

All five have been ousted from the Party Central Committee and from parliament. Clementis, who vanished from sight Jan. 27, has been a Communist Party member since 1921.

The arrests were disclosed in publication today of reports to the Central Committee last (Continued on Page Six)

Mink Coat Is Described As Bribe For Loan

RFC Investigation Brings Out Gift Of Coat To Wife Of Influential Lawyer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Senate investigators received testimony today that an $8,540 mink coat, delivery to Mrs. E. Merl Young last fall, was charged to the account of a Washington lawyer who has handled RFC loan applications.

Louis O. Wheeler, New York furrier who told the coat, said it was first charged to Young about Sept. 15, 1950, but later the charge was switched to the account of Joseph J. Rosenbaum. Rosenbaum has been described by the investigators as a man with power to influence the granting of RFC loans.

Wheeler testified before a Senate Banking Subcommittee which is looking into the question whether influence and favoritism has figured in loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Rep. Slaton (D-Tenn.) charged in a House speech recently that the coat was a payment for influence on RFC loans. He said that at least he had heard rumors to that effect.

Young, whose wife is a White House stenographer, swore to the Senate subcommittee last week that it was he who bought the coat.

Wheeler related that Rosenbaum had represented his firm—Gundlach Jencks New York lawyers—when it obtained approval of its application for a $175,000 RFC loan Apr. 3, 1950.

He added that New York lawyers for the RFC later blocked the loan and that the money would not be loaned.

Wheeler described the coat as "natural royal pastel mink."

Wheeler said the coat was paid for in two installments by Rosenbaum, who paid a 10 percent down payment because he was the firm's lawyer.

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate subcommittee, called a public hearing to receive Wheeler's testimony.

The group explored the story first at a closed-door session with Rosenbaum and Young, a Washington insurance man who also has been described by the group as a man of reputed influence in RFC affairs.

Fulbright, in throwing the hearing open to the press and public, declared the fur coat transaction appeared to be "part of a wide-spread pattern of activities in which the subcommittee has found" (Continued on Page Two)

Hoover Asserts 100 Divisions Are Needed To Defend Europe

Revision Of Sales Tax Proposed By Senator Shands

MIAMI, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Senator W. A. Shands of Gainesville, chairman of the important Senate Finance and Taxation Committee, outlined his legislative proposals today which include revision of the 3 per cent sales tax and a halt in the rising cost of state government.

Interviewed here by Charles E. Hoover, political writer for the Miami Daily News, Shands proposed:

1. Revision of the present sales tax, leaving foods exempt but placing a tax on clothing which now is tax-exempt up to $10. He would retain the $10 tax limit on individual items under the sales tax law because increasing it might cost the state less revenue.
2. A virtual moratorium on increased state spending for at least two years.
3. Creation of a single revenue department in the state government for the collection of all taxes.

Shands replied to reports that he would propose a huge new state building program by saying:

Johnston Rumored Ready To Approve 10% Wage Increase

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Stabilization officials said today Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston will approve the 10 percent "catch up" wage increase formula as it stands, but will invite the shatterproof wage board to assemble at once to consider modifications.

The officials, who may not be quoted by name, said the changes on which Johnston will suggest study might persuade the three labor members of the nine-man board to return. They quit in protest against the 10 percent pattern.

This pattern would authorize wage increases totaling 10 percent between Jan. 15, 1950 and next July.

Johnston, it was reported, will ask the board to convene at once and consider liberalizing the policy in these three respects:

1. Permitting "wage escalator" clauses signed before the wage freeze to go into effect during the life of the new order, which expires June 30.
2. Relaxing the present restrictions against "fringe" benefits such as pensions, holidays, and other non-wage matters.
3. Providing machinery to take care of wage "inequities" and "hardship situations" under the wage ceiling.

Meanwhile, the government issued an order aimed at assuring that every business enterprise, public and private institution, will be limited quantities of materials needed to keep their plants and facilities in operating condition.

The order from the National Production Authority (NPA) establishes a special priority rating for supplies for maintenance, repair and operations—excluding materials going into end products.

Financing Of Polk Election Laid To Gambling Element

BARTOW, Feb. 27.—(AP)—An admitted gambler today testified he put lots of money into the campaign in return for protection and freedom from competition.

Ernest Craker of Mulberry also told a criminal court jury today that he had given money to collect graft from gamblers that Williams went back on his word to give him full term in gambling operations.

BARTOW, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The State announced today it would produce evidence designed to show that ousted Sheriff Frank Williams was financed in his campaign by gamblers in return for exclusive operating rights in Polk County.

Walter W. Woodfolk, state attorney for the 10th judicial circuit, gave that testimony in court today after he was sworn in as assistant county solicitor.

Williams' personal attorney, Manuel Greer and Fern Boone, were also in court in Polk County criminal court on charges they conspired to take payoffs from both Williams operations to allow that Governor Warren removed Williams last August after he was indicted by a grand jury.

In his detailed opening statement to the jury, Woodfolk said the prosecution would bring out testimony intended to show that the Sheriff's office directed collections from lottery operators, drove out of business those who had opposed Williams, and later Williams' operations, also he said, were financed by gamblers in favor of a percentage take from the operators.

In 1947 Ernest Craker, whom the State accused of being a gambler, was indicted by a grand jury for his part in the operation. Governor Warren removed Williams last August after he was indicted by a grand jury.

Former President Advocates Build Up Of Air And Naval Strength In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover today advocated building up the United States' air and naval strength in the event of a European crisis.

"It seems to me that there is only one real salvation for Europe at the present moment, and that is to build up the air and naval power of the United States and Britain so as to overwhelm Russia in case of attack."

Hoover was one of several Republican leaders called by the committee to give their views on the Administration plan for building more troops to be able to hold defense against Soviet aggression.

The former President appeared after Senate Republican leader Wherry of Nebraska had earlier assailed Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Harold E. Stassen for their opposition to his troops-for-Europe resolution.

Wherry also struck at military advocates of ground warfare saying Congress must "break the nose that now hangs over our Air Force."

The Nebraska lawmaker accused Dewey of resorting "to the tactic of meaning" the resolution in his appearance before the Senate committee last Saturday.

The committee are considering a Wherry resolution which would record the Senate as opposed to President Truman's sending additional troops to Europe until Congress has passed on the policy.

Wherry said Stassen was confused in his interpretation of the North Atlantic Treaty, and that (Continued on Page Two)

Missing Member Of Solox Quartet Is Held For Probe

The arrest of a man for vagrancy late yesterday afternoon in the Gold-boro section ended a search of nearly a week for a fourth companion of the three men, who, according to a recent inquest, died as the result of drinking a solution containing wood alcohol.

The man, said the name of James Gorman, 44, of Johnston, Pa., and said Sheriff P. A. Mero, is being held under investigation pending a check with the FBI concerning him.

Sheriff Mero stated that Gorman had admitted that he had been in the shack in the woods near Loch Arbor with Bill Hill, Lacey Webb and Russell Lundquist, all of whom died Wednesday.

Gorman told the Sheriff that he had gone blind and lost the use of his legs, and it had been two days before he had been able to emerge from the woods.

The man was sighted at about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the palmetto scrub west of the A.C.L. main line and north of Twentieth Street, by Deputy Sheriff Charles Beck who chased and caught him and brought him to the County Jail.

Sgt. Albert Kelley Is Awarded Silver Star For Bravery

Members of the Lions Club to Aid With Health Tests

Sgt. Albert L. Kelley, Jr., now serving with an infantry division in Korea, has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action, according to information recently sent to his parents by the military command.

The report issued by Col. G. G. Epley at the command of General Ruffner states that on Nov. 29, 1950, Sgt. Kelley distinguished himself by heroic achievement in the vicinity of Kumsu, Korea.

On that date, after successfully penetrating an enemy road block, he volunteered to return to the roadblock area in an attempt to recover abandoned vehicles and equipment.

"Sgt. Kelley was proceeding through the hills, accompanied by three comrades, when he observed an enemy machine gun preparing to fire upon the men who were working on the vehicles. He immediately opened fire upon the enemy position, and with the aid of three comrades, killed the entire machine gun crew.

"Due to his quick action, he undoubtedly saved the lives of several men and enabled the recovery of much valuable equipment. The heroism displayed on this occasion by Sgt. Kelley reflects great credit upon himself and the military."

Sgt. Kelley, whose parents, former residents of Sanford, now live in Tampa, was born here and attended local schools. At one time he served as a carrier boy for The Herald and for a time he was employed by the Union Pharmacy and by Touchtons.

During World War II he saw four years of service and was stationed in Germany. At the age of 31, he enlisted in July, 1949 and was sent to Korea in July, 1950, and has served with the signal corps attached to the infantry.

GRAV MANDATED
TAMPA, Feb. 27.—(Special)—LaNecote Gray of Orlando has been named to head the Agricultural Division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce for 1951, according to an announcement today by Davis E. Carlson, president of the State Chamber. Gray was chairman of the division last year.

Sentence Upheld In 'Bowl Of Chile' Case

ALLAHANSEE, Feb. 27.—(AP)—The Florida Supreme Court today upheld the death sentence of a Negro convicted of murder in an argument over $5,000 in loot.

In an unanimous decision, the court held that G. D. Williams shot and killed Willie Wallace, also a Negro, in Sanford Dec. 26, 1949, with premeditated design.

The shooting occurred following an argument between Williams and Wallace over whether Williams paid for a 31 cents bowl of chili with a $5 bill or $1.

DOUBLE ACTION
AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Texas Ranger Doyle Carrington got his man with one shot—in two places.

Several hijackings have taken place recently on lonely Burleson Road near here. Carrington set a trap.

After long, lonely hours of waiting a man with a handkerchief over his face and a drawn pistol approached the ranger's parked car and announced: "This is a holdup."

The ranger's bullet hit the handkerchief over the man's face and drew blood. The man screamed and ran. Carrington said he saw the man's condition was satisfactory.

Press Conference Finds Quadruple Amputee Cheerful

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—It was a day of good hope and cheer for PFC Robert L. Smith, the Middleburg, Pa., soldier who lost both hands and both feet in Korea.

For one thing, he met and got hearty encouragement yesterday from a quadruple amputee of another war, James Wilson, who lost his limbs in a World War II plane crash, was flown from Colorado to chat with Smith and show him how great handicaps can be overcome.

Besides that, Bob Smith held his first news conference since he was brought to Walter Reed hospital for surgery and treatment late in December.

Then, he had welcome news from home—that his brother, Cpl. Howard Smith, two years his senior, was back from Korea with an Army discharge asked by their widowed mother. Howard was wounded in a shoulder.

And in Philadelphia, the Academy of Music was given over last night to an exciting concert, under auspices of the Philadelphia Inquirer. The proceeds of which go into the American Legion's "bowl of Chile" fund.

Already good deal more than $100,000 has been raised to assure Smith's future. The Pennsylvania Department of the American Legion will announce at a dinner here tonight the grand total of contributions.

Around the 20-year-old veteran in hospital were gathered reporters and photographers, asking some of the questions on the minds of millions these many weeks.

All were impressed with his bright spirits, his keen interest in making a fresh start, his glints of humor.

More Than 50 Top Broadcasters To Be In Gainesville

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 27.—(AP)—"Friendliness, enthusiasm and cheerfulness are the most treasured traits in salesmanship," Dr. Frank Goodwin, University of Florida professor in salesmanship, told radio broadcasters last night.

The talk served as a "kickoff" for a three-day radio broadcasters' clinic at the university under the sponsorship of the General Extension Division.

Top radio and television men, along with some leading sports figures, are scheduled to pick up the ball today and tomorrow.

Over 50 sportscasters, representing seven southeastern states and with representatives from as far north as Pennsylvania were on hand for the opening session.

The students will hear such personalities as "Red" Barber, chief of the Columbia Broadcasting Company sports staff; George Walsh, radio and TV center from Philadelphia; Bob Woodruff, Florida grid coach and athletic director; Burt Shotton, former major league manager; Al Helfer, Mutual Broadcasting Company's ace sports reporter and well-known sports columnist; and other sports ball broadcasters; Rosey Rossell, chief announcer for the Pittsburgh Pirates; baseball games; and Jack Cummins, sports director, WTVA-TV, Miami.

Goodwin explained that the radio "salesman" had to combine all qualities of a good salesman in one quality—voice.

But, he said, you still must put the necessary ingredients of salesmanship into that voice which is every station's contact with the listening public.

Punctuating his talk with many humorous stories to bring out a point or a theory, Goodwin's theme throughout was "selling yourself over the mike."

Dr. Baker Escapes Injuries In Crash

No injuries were reported by police following a collision of two automobiles at French Avenue and First Street at 6:30 P.M. yesterday.

Clifford W. Baker, dairy operator, who was involved in the accident in his 1950 Dodge Sedan while driving east on First Street, stated this morning that he was proceeding on the green light when the collision took place.

The other automobile, a 1942 Ford Station Wagon, was being driven south on French Avenue by F. Z. Vogedes of Orlando. Vogedes is charged with careless and negligent driving, and a passenger, D. P. Wine, who was riding with him, faces charges of drunkenness.

The station wagon was tipped over and skidded on its side for more than 100 feet before stopping, said police. Damage to each vehicle was estimated at more than $500.

Beatrice Bisbee Wins Saxophone Rating

Beatrice Bisbee, a junior at Seminole High School, won a superior rating for her saxophone solo at the Fourth District Band Contest in which more than 1,000 high school students competed in Daytona Beach Friday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hamilton Bisbee.

Superior is the highest rating given in the competition under which the bands compete against an accepted standard, it was pointed out today by R. E. Black, director of the Seminole High School Band.

The Band won a superior rating in making Friday night. A rating of excellent was won in sight reading.

Miss Bisbee, said Mr. Black, will compete with other soloists at the state festival at St. Petersburg in May.

Farmers To Meet For Discussion Of Auction Marketing

John Pierson, president of the Seminole County Farm Bureau, today announced that a meeting of farmers and organizations interested in the auction marketing of vegetables at the Sanford State Farmers Market will be held Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at Seminole High School.

The meeting, he said, was called at the request of Nathan Mayo, state commissioner of agriculture; William Wilson, director of Florida State Markets; G. R. Hogan, assistant director, and Market Manager Sandy Anderson.

George O. Swartz, past president of the Seminole County Farm Bureau, will preside at the meeting.

Mr. Pierson stated today that an invitation has been extended to all farmers to attend, and also to representatives of farm-ers organizations, city and county officials and to educational and civic organizations to act as representative speakers for three to five minute talks for or against such a program.

"In view of the fact that the majority of the farmers and farm-ers' organizations one year ago went on record in favor of the auction block system and of representation on the State Market Board, which rights and privileges were granted, I feel that we should give the vegetable auction block a fair trial for at least the two to three years as requested and granted," said Mr. Pierson.

"We are now offered for the second season the services of an experienced, practical vegetable auctioneer," he added.

One of the objectives of the meeting, Mr. Pierson declared, will be to find out if possible, the average and varieties of vegetables available for auction marketing.

Gilda Gray

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Gilda Gray, shaking and rolling her torso as she did 30 years ago, began her comeback last night in a side street cafe.

The former queen of the shimmy and Zigfield star wore the spangled shimmy costume and warbled the songs that earned her international fame and millions of dollars in the roaring '20s.

On the same bill there was a couple of young strip teasers, but the applause in the jammed cafe was for Gilda.

Miss Gray, 43, married and admitted to 48 years of age, is recovering from four marriages in 10 years in Colorado.

"Milwaukee liked me tonight," she said, "proving I got the legs and the movement that the nation still wants to see."
