

Shop and Save
In Sanford

The Sanford Herald

AN INDEPENDENT DAILY NEWSPAPER

Weather
Partly cloudy to occasionally
cloudy and mild through Friday;
high today 74-75, low tonight
near 60.

VOLUME XLVIII

Established 1883

SANFORD, FLORIDA

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1956

Associated Press Licensed Wire

NO. 14

Florida Cities Represented In Tourney

Christian Church Sanford Delegates Will Present Skit

The Shuffleboard Tournament, bringing more than 300 people to Sanford from a number of Florida cities, got underway this morning at the Fort Mellon Park Tourist Club courts.

The tournament the first of its kind to be held here, is the Northern District Amateur Shuffleboard contest.

Brief ceremonies were held prior to the matches scheduled to be played today.

The Rev. Milton H. Wyatt, president of the Seminole County Ministerial Association, offered the invocation prior to a welcome extended to all the visitors by Forrest Breckenridge, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Breckenridge also presented Joseph Murray a certificate from the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, signed by President George Touhy, in recognition of the work he has contributed to the shuffleboard courts and the Sanford Tourist Club.

Those taking part in the tournament are representing shuffleboard courts from 29 towns and cities in the Northern District.

The two-day tournament is presided over by J. M. Heise, of Orlando, president of the Northern District Shuffleboard Association. He is also editor and publisher of "The Shuffler", a magazine devoted to shuffleboard throughout Florida.

Sanford delegates from the First Christian Church here will present a skit at the annual World Fellowship Youth Meet for Christian Church young people of this district to be held Friday and Saturday at the Central Christian Church, Orlando.

The young people will arrive as soon after school as possible Friday, register and be assigned to homes of members of the host church. Supper is to be served at the church and the program, following the theme "The Christian Mission in a Revolutionary World," will begin. The social hour is to be in the nature of a "sunt night." Interest groups and business sessions are slated for Saturday morning, and a skating party for the afternoon. Following a banquet, Saturday, 6 p.m., the Sanford delegates will present a skit entitled "Who, Me?" and the meet will close with an address by Dr. Paul C. Carpenter, host pastor.

Those from here who plan to attend include Miss Nancy Hicks, C. V. F. sponsor, and the following people: Diane Baly, Brenda Ellett, Sylvia Pearson, Beverly Evans, Wayne Evans, Barton Stone and Jim Dylke.

In observance of Youth Week young people will have charge of the evening service on Sunday, and Rev. Lester C. Dover, guest minister, will bring a special message for young people on "God's Plan for My Life." The C. V. F. and Chi Rho will present special music. Barton Stone will conduct the song service. Others assigned parts include: Sylvia Pearson, Scripture reader; Brenda Ellett, prayer; Diane Baly, announcements; and Wayne Evans and Ivan Ellet, ushering.

Florida Acreage Prices Pushed Up

MIAMI (AP)—Florida acreage prices are being pushed far beyond their real or foreseeable future value by professional land speculators, a research firm said today.

"Syndicates and individual speculators are buying and selling raw and often unusable land in 10 percent down payment deals," said the First Research Corp. of Miami in its Florida business letter.

The firm said a statewide survey showed the present land boom is reminiscent of the land boom in the 1920s.

"The musical chair-land estate game has become so popular that courts are riving the state to 'locate' 'poor land' to use as legal tender in this new Florida land boom," it added.

Speculation fever has spread to the east coast's undeveloped beaches between Melbourne and Stuart, the firm reported.

Elks Start Series Of Important Meets

The Sanford Elks Club begins a series of important meetings and events with the schedule starting tonight with an initiation and feed at the Elks Club building and lodge on East Second St.

On Saturday, Feb. 4, there will be a dance at the Lodge Building on East First St. An orchestra will be provided with dancing from 9 to 11.

Thursday, Feb. 9, no meeting has been scheduled but all members and their ladies are requested to attend the races at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club when funds from the night's proceeds will be given to Elks, American Legion and other charity funds.

Saturday, Feb. 11 has been set aside for the Anna Miller Circle Valentine Dance. Dinner will be served from 6:30 to 8:30.

Wednesday, Feb. 15 will feature a steak dinner at New Smyrna where all Sanford members will attend free.

Pentagon Is Giving Guided Missile Plan Special Attention

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon is putting its guided missile program under an overseas charged with giving particular attention to ballistic weapons development—a field where the race with Russia is critical.

Secretary of Defense Wilson announced yesterday his plan to name a "special assistant to the secretary of defense for guided missiles."

And he disclosed a new conference that he intends leaving tonight on a personal checkup of Army progress in the ballistic missile effort.

Wilson and several advisers arranged to fly to the Army's Huntsville, Ala., Arsenal, where the Redstone rocket is under development. The Redstone is intended to be a mid-range, 1,300-mile ballistic missile.

Lake Mary CofC Officers Elected

Officers for 1956 were elected at a meeting of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce last night.

Selected to head the organization for the next year were Earl Toney, president; I. V. Williams, vice president; Mrs. Lorena Dingman, secretary; and Mrs. Letha Fowler, treasurer.

Addressing the meeting last night were Senator Douglas Sienstrom, County Commissioner, John Meisch, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Manager Forrest Breckenridge, and Gordon Sweeney of the Sanford Merchants Association.

Over 40 members attended the meeting.

TAX ON LOVE

BOSTON (AP)—The Massachusetts House killed a proposal to raise the marriage license fee from $2 to $3.

Rep. Louis Glaser (D-Malden) said "it would be a tax on love."

SAM SEWELL, 47-year-old Sanford negro is turned over to Constable J. Q. Galloway to be lodged in the Seminole County Jail. Shown at left in Sanford Police Department. Patrolman C. C. Dodson who lives in the shackling of Johnny Wade, 30-year-old negro who died from the slash wounds. (Staff Photo)

Mayor Scott Urges Parents To Preserve Teeth Of Children

Mayor F. D. Scott today signed a proclamation designating the week of Feb. 3-11 as "Children's Dental Health Week."

Mayor Scott pointed out in the proclamation that surveys show that dental decay affects nine out of 10 of our children and, if neglected, will lead to serious consequences.

He said that preventative dental care for children is the most effective way to attack dental decay.

It was stressed that the dentists and the Florida State Dental Society seeks to bring to the attention of all parents the need for helping to prevent children's dental decay by keeping their diet low in sugar or candy and training them to brush or rinse the teeth after every meal.

Mayor Scott, in his proclamation, urges that all citizens, schools and community organizations join in this special observance of the rules of dental care to improve the dental and general health of our community.

Mebane Takes Step At Crowded Course

There are as many guests at the Mayfair Inn, says Manager Frank Mebane Jr., that it has become necessary to close the Mayfair Inn Country Club Golf Course for three weekends in all except guests and members.

Mebane said that the golf course would be closed to golfers other than guests of the Mayfair Inn and members on Feb. 11-12, 18-19, 25-26.

The Mayfair Inn Country Club Golf Course has been attracting golfers from the entire Central Florida area since the Mayfair Inn Open in early December. It has become a mecca for golfers because of the excellent condition of the greens and fairways and because of the attractive layout of the 18-hole course.

Optimism Is Seen At Farmers Market

Sandy Anderson, Market Manager at the Sanford State Farmers Market, said yesterday that Tuesday business at the market reflected optimism in the movement of fruits and vegetables from Sanford's one-stop loading center.

He said, "Tuesday we had an unusually good movement of fruits and vegetables."

"The dealers on the Sanford State Farmers Market said equivalent to 55 carloads in the one day experience."

"The market was fairly well stable," Anderson reported, "on all varieties with the exception of cabbage, iceberg lettuce and celery. Prices on these two commodities were unsatisfactory for the producers."

Ordination Service Is Set For Sunday

Ordination services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 for William L. Stephens, associate pastor of Southside-Baptist Church.

Out-of-town speakers will take part in the program which is to be held at the church.

Rezoning Of Area Comes Up Tonight At Special Meet

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield warned today said Sanford Postmaster Joel Field that there has been an increase recently in the racket in which swindlers send unneeded "C.O.D." parcels addressed to recently deceased persons.

The C.O.D. articles—often expensive Bibles, religious articles and the like—are sent at exorbitant prices, because the operators of this racket know the bereaved family usually will accept them, believing they were ordered by the deceased.

"The operators of this ghastly racket scan obituary notices, publications containing death notices and the like to find the names and addresses of deceased persons," Summerfield explained. "They then mail the item C. O. D. for a big price."

In some recent operations, some of the unneeded merchandise is being sent by Railway Express, rather than through the mails. However, the C. O. D. payments to senders are sent through the mails, and this places the matter under the jurisdiction of the Post Office Department, Summerfield related.

The operators in the operation of this particular racket has been located in recent reports by postal inspectors, Summerfield said. He urged citizens to report any information on the racket that may come to their attention.

All instances in which the U. S. Mail is in any way involved will be promptly investigated by postal inspectors, he added.

46 Jurymen Drawn To Serve For Fall Circuit Court Term

A venire of 46 jurymen has been drawn to serve as jurors for the Fall Term of Court to hear civil cases of the Circuit Court.

The jurors are to appear before the Judge of the Circuit Court Monday morning, Feb. 6 at 10 a.m.

Names drawn from the jury box containing the names of those lawfully selected to serve as jurors of Seminole County are:

Philip Bauer, Raleigh A. King, Charles D. Brown, Nash B. Kennedy, Franklin E. Donaldson, Donald Stafford, George N. Lawson, Shuck J. Boston, Gracer C. Ledda, Louis A. Berry Jr., John J. Barry, Alvin H. Helms, Robert H. Pitts, Alvin H. Haswell, Frank P. Gatin, Edwin B. Randall Jr., Ralph O. Hoover, James E. Jones, P. W. Whittard, George R. Knight, Charles T. Roberts, Robert F. Hall, Hamilton D. Owen, and Walter G. Oliver.

Also, Louis B. Rowan, Newton Merrill, R. L. Hunter, Edwin N. Sutton, Lewis Brademeyer, Paul L. Hitchcock, Harp Majestic, Thomas W. Stuckey, Lester N. Hitchcock, William J. Patrick, Robert O. Morris, Harry T. Hallman, Francis E. Roumillat Jr., Raymond D. Bass, James A. River, Sidney L. Keller, Harry E. Robinson, Anna M. Falkenberg, Gabe Stewart, Michael, Frank Moore, Tom Bush, and Burton D. Oliver.

Central Baptists' Formal Opening Of Mission Set

The Central Baptist Church will have the formal opening of the Pine Crest Mission Sunday Feb. 3 at 2:30 p.m. Rev. J. W. Parham, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, presiding. Rev. Chester Plank will lead the congregation in song and praise services. The guest speakers will be Dr. W. P. Brooks, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, First Church, DeLand, and Rev. B. D. Lock, State Regional Missionary, Orlando.

Rev. Chester Plank has accepted the call to serve as mission pastor. He lives in Sanford and is a student at Reison University. He resigned Hillcrest Baptist Church, Geneva to serve the Pine Crest Mission. Rev. Plank will serve under the supervision of the Central Church until the Mission is organized into a Baptist Church. The work will be organized to cooperate with the Southern Baptist Mission Program.

From the religious census recently taken, there are approximately 300 Baptists and Baptist possibilities in the Pine Crest area. Sunday, Feb. 12 at 9:45 a.m. a full program will be set up for the benefit of all those concerned in that area. Provision will be made for the entire family. It will be for the benefit of the community, Sanford, and to help propagate the gospel into all parts of the world.

The Central Baptist Church and all concerned wish to thank R. T. Milwee, Superintendent of Schools, and the Board of Trustees for giving us the privilege to use the auditorium until we can secure a place to worship.

Bernhard Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Bernhard of DeBary will be at 11 a. m. Friday at Brison Funeral Home with the Rev. A. G. McInnis officiating. Burial will be at a later date.

Request Referred To Group One-Lot Depth Under Discussion

The rezoning of an area on the east side of Laurel Ave. at 8th St. will come before a special meeting of the Zoning and Planning Commission to be held tonight at 8 o'clock at the Sanford City Hall.

The request for rezoning was referred to the Zoning and Planning Commission by M. R. Strickland and Homer Osborn.

The area under discussion will be the one-lot depth between 8th and 10th Sts. which includes a building originally purchased to house a recreation center.

Action, according to the notice mailed to each member of the Zoning and Planning Commission, is urgent and must be placed on the agenda of the Sanford Board of City Commissioners by February 10.

A commercial establishment has proposed the purchase of the property originally purchased by a recreation council which grew out of P-T-A proposals for a center to be used by young people replacing the presently used Cery Circle in the City Hall.

The area, according to reports, is rapidly growing into a commercial one with the Southern Bell Telephone building to be constructed in the future on property opposite the proposed new commercial area.

The meeting of the Zoning and Planning Commission will replace the regular meeting of the group for Feb. 14.

The "Special Meeting" tonight is expected to bring to a climax and a final decision on the disposition of the area as a commercial zone.

Punxsutawney Pete Dives Underground At Sight Of Shadow

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa.—Punxsutawney Pete, a grizzled groundhog, poked his snout into the air atop Gobbler's Knob this morning, barked a forecast and dived back underground.

The groundhog had seen his shadow, an omen of more winter to come. The time was announced officially as 8:33 a. m. This was specified as Eastern Standard Time for ease of decoding in far-away places.

Pete wasted no time getting back into his hole. The day started with four inches of snow, turned into rain and finally into sleet. Pete skidded a couple of times in the slush and decided "That's enough for me." Just how Pete managed to see his shadow under overcast skies was only known to himself and his brethren.

Business Barometer Continues To Rise In Seminole County

The barometer of increasing trade and business in Florida and Seminole County area continues to climb.

Ray M. Green, State Comptroller, reports that gasoline sales in Florida for the month of December (sales reported and tax collected during January) hit a new high for this fiscal year of 110, with sales of 107,054,300 gallons during the previous month of November, an increase of 13,400,000 gallons; and sales of 105,845,300 for the month of December last year, an increase of 11,813,400 gallons.

Tax collections of gasoline sales showed a similar increase. Collected on December sales this year was $6,186,036, an increase of $230,944 over the $7,339,098 collected for the same month last year, and an increase of $672,003 over the $7,213,855 collected for the previous month of November. Gasoline sales for this fiscal year continue to run in excess of 11,000,000 gallons a month over the same month for the previous year.

Mr. Green reports that gasoline dealers paid $43,611.34 in his office in January for the 7 cent per gallon surtax on their December sales of gasoline in Seminole County. He distributed $2,411.00 of this tax for road bonds or road building purposes in this county.

Navy Jet Aircraft Crashes In Marsh District At Noon

An AJ Savage aircraft belonging to Heavy Attack Squadron 7, based at NASAS, Sanford, crashed and exploded upon impact in a swampy area about seven miles northeast of Sanford at noon today.

All the crewmembers: Commander J. W. Guy, USN, pilot; E. E. Austin, Chief ordnance; the bombardier-navigator; and R. M. Hira Jr., ordnance man first class, third crewman bailed out in safety and were uninjured.

Commander Guy first experienced difficulty over NASAS, Sanford as he was preparing to land when his right landing mechanism would not go down. Soon thereafter he experienced structural failure in the tail section of his aircraft and as a result was unable to keep the aircraft under control.

Commander Guy selected to abandon his disabled aircraft and ordered his crew to bail out immediately.

Austin and Hira left the aircraft at about 3-thousand feet and landed safely a few miles west of NASAS, Sanford.

Commander Guy stayed with his aircraft until well clear of all populated areas and then bailed out at about 3-thousand feet. He landed about 8 miles northeast of NASAS Sanford and the airplane about one mile north of his position.

All crew members recently returned from a six month tour of duty in the Mediterranean area and are now living with their families in the City of Sanford.

Prince Rainier Has Collision

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Prince Rainier III of Monaco said his car "lightly tapped" the car in front while he was driving to see his fiancée, actress Grace Kelly. After exchanging addresses, he drove off, he said.

Mrs. Nancy Kaufman of Malibu, a passenger in the other car, said she suffered neck injuries. She said the car of her husband Albert was struck by the prince's white it was stopped for a boulevard stop sign.

Mrs. Paul E. Mohr Was First Patient To Arrive Yesterday At Seminole Memorial Hospital

Mrs. Paul E. Mohr was the first patient to arrive yesterday at Seminole Memorial Hospital. She said, "I am happy to be here." With Mrs. Morris are Jack Ludwig with Briston's ambulance and Mrs. Carl England of the hospital's nursing staff. (Staff Photo)

Postmaster General Warns Of Swindlers Operating Rackets

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield warned today said Sanford Postmaster Joel Field that there has been an increase recently in the racket in which swindlers send unneeded "C.O.D." parcels addressed to recently deceased persons.

The C.O.D. articles—often expensive Bibles, religious articles and the like—are sent at exorbitant prices, because the operators of this racket know the bereaved family usually will accept them, believing they were ordered by the deceased.

"The operators of this ghastly racket scan obituary notices, publications containing death notices and the like to find the names and addresses of deceased persons," Summerfield explained. "They then mail the item C. O. D. for a big price."

In some recent operations, some of the unneeded merchandise is being sent by Railway Express, rather than through the mails. However, the C. O. D. payments to senders are sent through the mails, and this places the matter under the jurisdiction of the Post Office Department, Summerfield related.

The operators in the operation of this particular racket has been located in recent reports by postal inspectors, Summerfield said. He urged citizens to report any information on the racket that may come to their attention.

All instances in which the U. S. Mail is in any way involved will be promptly investigated by postal inspectors, he added.

Mayor Scott Urges Parents To Preserve Teeth Of Children

Mayor F. D. Scott today signed a proclamation designating the week of Feb. 3-11 as "Children's Dental Health Week."

Mayor Scott pointed out in the proclamation that surveys show that dental decay affects nine out of 10 of our children and, if neglected, will lead to serious consequences.

He said that preventative dental care for children is the most effective way to attack dental decay.

It was stressed that the dentists and the Florida State Dental Society seeks to bring to the attention of all parents the need for helping to prevent children's dental decay by keeping their diet low in sugar or candy and training them to brush or rinse the teeth after every meal.

Mayor Scott, in his proclamation, urges that all citizens, schools and community organizations join in this special observance of the rules of dental care to improve the dental and general health of our community.

Nehru Puts Support Behind Campaign To Merge States

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Jawahar Lal Nehru today threw his support behind a campaign to get India's 27 state governments to merge voluntarily. The idea is to make unnecessary the government's plan to redraw state boundaries along language lines.

Nehru told a mass meeting in Bombay "language riots," in which between 300 and 400 persons died earlier this month, could not force the government to abandon its program for new linguistic state boundaries.

But the riots, he said, showed the "dangers inherent in the creating of linguistic states and reminding us of the cause of India's fall through the ages—mutual rivalry, petty-mindedness, violence and provincialism."

DR. EARL PAULK SR.

Dr. Earl Paulk Sr. Will Be Speaker At Church Of God

Dr. Earl P. Paulk Sr. of Tampa will be guest speaker at a tri-district convention here Feb. 3 and 4 at the Church of God.

The Rev. H. W. Henderson, pastor of the local church, said the emphasis of the convention will be on missions. However, Friday evening's service will be of an evangelistic nature.

Saturday evening Dr. Paulk, who is overseer of Churches of God in Florida and chairman of the church's foreign mission board, will speak on missions and show a film on the Church of God in India.

Representatives of the Ladies Willing Worker Bands for the three districts will report on Saturday evening.

The Rev. Henderson said the public is cordially invited to attend these special services.

WARRANTS ISSUED

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Death warrants will be issued soon for three convicted murderers who yesterday lost their last chance for life when the Cabinet Pardon Board turned down appeals for clemency.

The three are Percy Ambriester and George Anderson, Dade County Negroes convicted of killing Wood Patrolman Edward E. Fritz who sought to arrest them after they held up a box factory in 1953; and Herman Barwick, Negro sentenced to death for killing his common law wife in Polk County.

REGULATIONS CONTINUE

VERO BEACH (AP)—Present shipping regulations for Florida citrus are expected to continue in effect for the two weeks beginning Feb. 6.

The federal control committees made that recommendation yesterday. The U. S. secretary of agriculture usually follows their recommendations.

NOT MUCH MONEY

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Bookies and numbers operators did only $1,587.50 worth of business in Florida during January, according to their gambling tax returns.

Laurie W. Tomlinson, district director of the Internal Revenue Service, said $1,587.50 was paid in gambling taxes which is 10 per cent on bets handled.

Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to three questions of interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I plan to take an accredited four-year law school course at night under the Korean GI Bill. Will I get the full rate of GI allowance for this course?

A. No. Accredited night law courses may be measured as not more than three-quarters time training. Our allowance may not exceed the three-quarters time rate.

Q. I understand that if I apply for disability compensation within one year from my discharge, the payments may be backdated to the day following my discharge. The one-year period is almost up, but I have no way of getting to a VA office to pick up an official application blank. What can I do?

A. You can apply by letter. Be sure to give full information about yourself, and specify the benefit you are applying for. VA, then, will send you an official application to fill out, and as long as you return it within one year, the date of your original letter will be considered the date of your application.

Q. I am planning to buy a house with a GI loan. Why is it necessary to have the property appraised?

A. The law requires that the purchase price of the house be no more than the reasonable value as determined by an appraisal made by a VA-designated appraiser.

Veterans living in Central Florida who wish further information about their benefits should write the VA office at 42 E. Central Ave., Orlando.

POLICE SGT. Henry O. Hartman, 48, shot and killed two gunmen who attempted to rob his brother's building material company in Chicago. Hartman, assigned to the police training school as an instructor on the pistol range, was wounded in the hand during the brief gun-battle. Sgt. Hartman, off duty and in plain clothes, was visiting his brother, Louis.

Carmelo Costa fought his first 34 professional battles in Brooklyn and Manhattan rings because his manager, Jerry Salica, refuses to travel.

LOS ANGELES POLICE and officials of the Santa Fe Railroad examine the point (top) where the first wheel of the doomed two-car commuter train left the tracks. At bottom, District Attorney Ernest Holl looks through the window of the wrecked cab from which engineer Frank B. Parrish, 61, ejected the train into the "fallow" curve at 70 miles per hour. Parrish blamed a black-out as he pulled out of Los Angeles for the disaster that claimed 29 lives. (International)

The Modern Basement's A Hazardous Place

By HERMAN H. RUBINSON, M.D.

WITH the installation of more and more electrical equipment and appliances in the basement of the average home, the chances of accidents there are increasing. Not only might the equipment itself present certain hazards, but the fact that you use the basement more often also creates new problems.

Insulation Details
Basement stairs can be very dangerous, especially if the light is dim. A couple of precautions are in order.

Paint the bottom step or the concrete floor at the base of the stairway a shiny white. This will prevent you from thinking the last step is floor level. And when you paint the stairs themselves, mix some sand in with the paint. This will form a gritty surface and help prevent slipping.

Shock Hazards
All power tools and appliances should be grounded to avoid shock hazards. With certain tools, this sometimes is a difficult procedure. But so far as the family washing machine is concerned, it's an easy process.

Simply connect the frame of the washer to a water pipe with a wire. You can use a battery clamp to attach the wire to the washing machine. With such an arrangement, any break in the insulation will blow a fuse and not send the electricity coursing through your body.

A floor board alongside the washer might be a good idea. It will keep you off the wet floor while laundering.

For dad's workshop, back-ground colors of soft gray, green, blue and blue-green are easy on the eyes. They also reflect light well without being too bright.

Bare light fixtures might cause glare and temporary blindness, so it is better to have an effective shading device. You can highlight the cutting edges of gray machinery with a bright orange paint. Whenever possible, ground all machinery.

Extension Cords
Do not hang extension cords over nails or other sharp edges or permit them to become kinked. Protect the cords from oil or hot surfaces.

Dripping pipes may make the floor slippery. Eliminate condensation by covering cold water pipes with felt or any insulating material.

As for the furnace, paint any low hanging ducts a bright color. And remember, the trick in banking a coal fire for the night is to leave some red coals exposed to ignite the gases. Open the flue damper slightly, too, to prevent gas accumulation.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
A. J. L.: I have frequent recurrences of boils on my hands. How can I stop them?
Answer: It would be advisable for you to have a thorough examination by your physician in order to determine if there is any disease, such as tuberculosis or diabetes, weakening your resistance.

© 1954, The Modern Spectacle, Inc.

FABULOUS NEW SPECTACLE!

ICE VOGUES of 1956

MAIL ORDERS NOW

24 SUPER ACTS

Business stamped self-addressed envelopes for prompt return of tickets.

Enclosed in check or money order in the amount of $

Please send me _____ choice reserved seat tickets for

ICE VOGUES of 1956 at $ _____

ORLANDO AUDITORIUM, Feb. 28 thru 29
Night of 8 — Mat. Sat. of 3:00

NOTE: Add $5.00 for adult admission to Central Florida Fair for each ICE VOGUES ticket ordered.

Date of performance desired _____
If Saturday, matinee or evening _____

Second choice of date _____

Name _____
Address _____ Phone No. _____
City _____ Zone No. _____ State _____

Make remittance payable to CENTRAL FLORIDA FAIR

PRICES
EVENING PERFORMANCES - INCLUDING TAX
Reserved Seats: $2.75-$2.50-$2.00-$1.50 - Unreserved $1
Saturday Matinee - All Seats Reserved - $2.00-$1.00

Feature-Attraction of the
CENTRAL FLORIDA FAIR
Feb. 28 thru Feb. 29 - ORLANDO

Proposal Calls For Many Shifts

By DION HENDERSON
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What kind of a trust fund might be set up for American wildlife?

Well, the wildlife management professionals don't really know, of course. But after years of trying to raise an ever-increasing game crop on agriculture's ever decreasing leftover acres, they're a little dazzled by the possibilities.

The President's soil bank proposal calls for shifting some 25 million acres from agricultural production to grass, trees, forage and water storage. The program would reimburse participating landowners in surplus commodities or cash.

The government would, in effect, rent parcels of land all over the country and turn them from farm crops to soil-building.

While the immediate aim of the Eisenhower proposal is to stabilize farm prices by reducing production and the major long range benefit may be the rehabilitation of unutilized acres, wildlife will gain 25 million acres of production space as a bonus.

And production space is a vital matter to wildlife, which after all is as much a crop of the land as corn or cotton.

Conservation officials in many states already have their research men working out land-use plans that would fit into a national soil bank program.

Big and large, the conservation plans-within-a-plan will go something like this:

Wetland restoration. In recent years the onions and the tomatoes, and wheat too, have sprouted—with varying success—where ducks once raised their broods. Many other creatures, which along with wild ducks found food and shelter in the marshlands, have suffered too. So has the water table in areas of block drainage. A plan to bring back some of the vanished wildlife factories of the wetlands would be a particular benefit, conservation-wise, in such states as California, the Dakotas and Wisconsin.

Reforestation. Since the bulk of the great Yankee conifer forests was logged away decades ago, the nation has never had enough wood: pulpwood for paper, cabinet wood, lumber. And many a creek, many a creek and eventually many a river and a whole watershed died with the death of the forest, since the roots and floor of the forest formed a natural bank of their own—to hold the reserves of ground water.

Cover manipulation. Both wetland restoration and reforestation—even in terms of farm woodlots planted and protected from fire and livestock—have a part in this. Game managers don't determine the kind and number of birds or animals an area will hold by the number they release in it. Nature determines that. A fallow field grows one year to weeds, in another year to brush, then to young trees, then through the periods of tree growth to climax forest. Each stage supports a separate company of birds and animals. Managers do their work by manipulating the vegetative cycle which favors their most desired species.

In this way, for instance, soil bank acres returned to grassland would give a boost to the prairie grouse, which require considerable stretches of unbroken sod in the case of the "real" prairie chicken, and substantial openings of sod amidst the brush for their sharp-tail cousins.

Whether any uses the conservationists could make of soil-banked acres would have a permanent effect in saving or reviving threatened big game or migratory species is, however, another matter. Extinction factors are complicated and obscure.

But there seems to be general agreement on one thing: If the game managers could get 25 million acres more land they're pretty sure they could produce immediate dividends for the stockholders with the rods and guns.

BOND EXCELLENT
TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Florida's first school bond issue of the year has attracted a 2.77 per cent interest rate termed "excellent" by State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey.

The $3,950,000 issue will finance school improvement in Charlotte, Clay, De Soto, Hernando, Volusia and Pinellas counties. Low bidder was the Ira Haupt Co. of New York.

HOME IN A HURRY!
HARLAN, Ky. (AP)—Grant Jones sometimes has to be called twice to come home. But when his wife called the fire department yesterday to report a fire he soon arrived with other members of the department and extinguished the blaze.

IF MISSING THE Florida Times-Union DAILY DELIVERY PHONE 1737-W FOR PROMPT SERVICE

SWIFT'S PREMIUM Boned & Rolled

Veal Roast lb. 39c

WADE'S SUPREX MARKET

286 PARK AVE. • QUANTITY DISCOUNTS • WE SPECIALIZE IN QUALITY MEATS

Prescription for Family Harmony . . . .

dine out

— AT LEAST ONE NIGHT A WEEK! —

St. Mary's Inn
1000 E. First — On the Lake
You'll Like It Here!

Cocktail Hour 6 to 7:30	Dance in the Bamboo Room	Dine to Dinner Music
-------------------------	--------------------------	----------------------

Phone Sanford 1200 for Dinner Reservations
Main Dining Room Frank Mabane Jr., Mgr.

Calories and Vitamins to the Contrary Sanford Has Many Fine Restaurants

"Food" is a word of universal interest. For reasons as diverse as those, people consume either too much or too little of it. Few people question the fact that education and culture have lifted mankind to great heights. Yet a curious paradox prevails, that the more education and culture a person has, the greater is his problem of just what he should eat, how it should be prepared and what quantities he should consume how often in a 24-hour period.

Ham-and-eggs aren't just "ham-and-eggs" any more, but a veritable three-ring circus of calories, and vitamins, with a whole trove of clownish allergies cutting caper all through the act.

Even before the day that science invented the reasons behind (or before) the overweight inator, we had gourmets, connoisseurs, and epicures. This fraternity of the pampered palate composed a fearsome Supreme Court of the Knife and Fork.

They felt it their bounden duty to place their official seal of approval or disapproval on this or that food, and the places where it can be gotten. The leader of this cult, actually has the colossal egotism to place a large sign board in his front yard, which reads: "Home of Duncan Hines" and many foolish followers of this stomach cult actually fear to step into a restaurant that does not carry his obtrusive designation of one man's opinion.

Perhaps there are restaurants advertised on this page that have been visited (even approved) by the "great man." No survey has been made in that regard. But for anyone wanting something "good to eat," all of them can fill the bill. There are nine places listed on this page. Here's to good eating!

COMBINE EATING & PLEASURE DINE HERE

Charcoal Broiled AND Barbecued STEAKS

Evening Dinners From 6 to 10:00
Noon Lunches Daily 11:30 to 2:30
Closed Sundays

Dew Drop Inn

Rt. 17-92 North of Sanford
F. A. WOLFER, Prop.
Complete Cocktail Bar — Carry Out

... at the ROUND TABLE

See What You Eat — Eat All You Want! 90¢

Served: 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. 5:00 p. m. to 7:00 p. m.
Celery City Grill
218 Magnolia Near the Ritz

Bill Niland
New Owner and Manager

STILL STACKS IT HIGH

With a Quarter Pound of HAM ON RYE at READ'S COCKTAIL BAR and Package Store

Hwy 17-92 at Longwood Rd. Midway Sanford-Orlando

Breakfast Deliciously on Waffles or Hot Cakes With Ham, Sausage or Bacon

Our 85c Lunch Menu Changes Daily

Full Course Sunday Dinners $1.25

Try Our N. Y. Cut Deluxe Steaks

Glass Fountain

Rt. 17-92 at Rt. 486 (Apopka Rd.)

Cassellberry Lions meet in our Private Dining Room each 1st and 3rd Thursday. Open 7 a. m. to Midnight

Super Burgers and Sloppy Joe's

at Don & Geri's Restaurant and Cafe Longwood

Open Evenings - Closed Sundays
Bar and Carry - Out.
Favorite Premium Beer 25c

Official Dog Race Programs

Come-On-Down To The

Pig's Whistle SANDWICH SHOP

QUICK SERVICE - GOOD FOOD

CURB or DINING ROOM
25th at Par' Open 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

the food is not just GOOD . . . . but Good and PLENTY at

MOTORS INN

Rt. 17-92 1/2 miles North of the Zoo

OPEN 24 HOURS

Including Sunday and Holidays
Complete Change of Menu Daily

Dinners from 85c We Bake Our Own PIE and CAKE

TURKEY on SUNDAY $1.00 bring the Family

Touchon's Luncheonette

First St. at Magnolia

Open Daily 6 a. m. to 10 p. m. Sun 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

BREAKFAST with us from 6:00 a. m.

DINNER — Full Course Meals 11 a. m. to 8 p. m.

70c to $1.00

SHOPPERS' SPECIAL 70c

Complete Menu Change Daily

RITZ

LAST TIME TODAY

KISMIT

KEEL - BLYTH - GRAY - DAWSON

STARTS TOMORROW

NIGHT HUNTER

ALSO

FORT YUMA

Released thru United Artists

SANFORD Novelty

STARTS TONIGHT 8:15

HOWARD HAWKS LAB & PHOT

Produced by WARREN BRUCE in CINEMASCOPE and WIDESCREEN

JACK HAWKINS - JOAN COLLINS - DEWEY MARTIN - ALEXIS MONTY

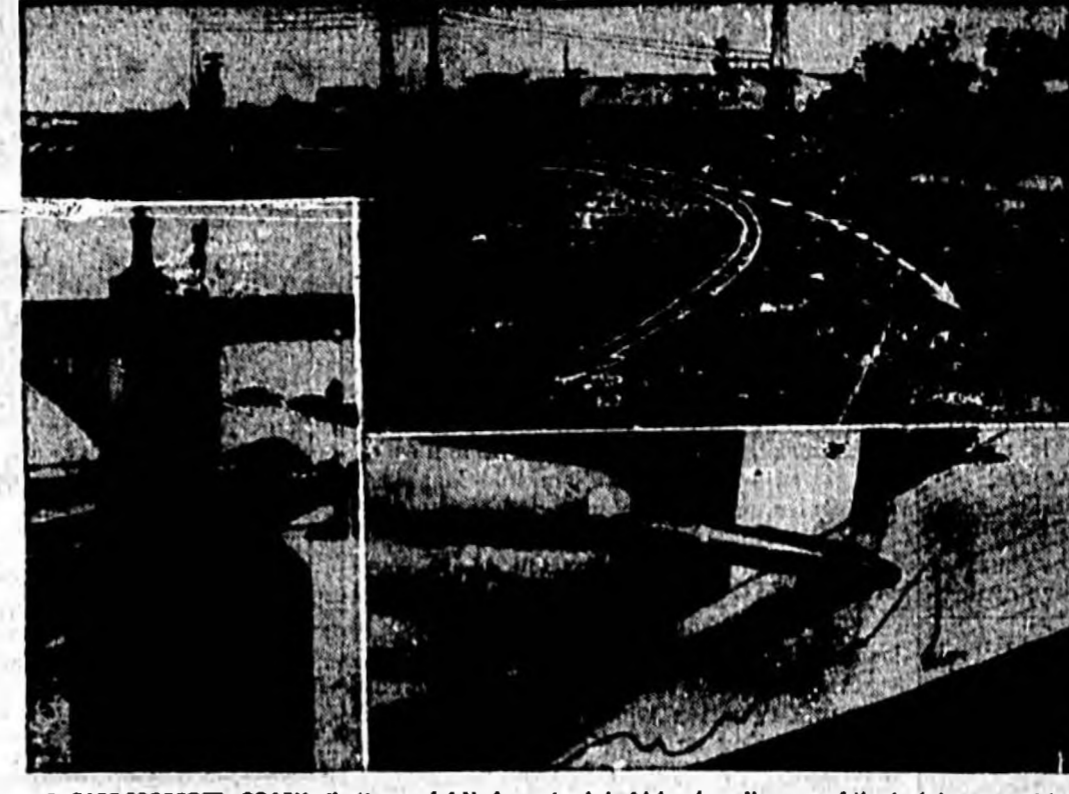

LAST COMPLETE SHOW 8:45

Real-Life Episode Related By Mother
 By DOROTHY ROE
 Associated Press Women's Editor
 Mother to 14-year-old son: "I hope you're not going to start smoking at least until you are 21."
 Son: "Don't worry, Mom. I quit smoking two years ago."
 This is purportedly a real-life episode related by one La Homa Pringle, of Dallas and New York, mother of two sons, wife of a Texas salesman and editor of a brand new magazine called Young Set.
 "Most parents today are about four to six years behind in evaluating their children," says La Homa, who is having the time of her life as a career woman, a state she achieved after some 30 years as a housewife and mother.
 "Our kids are growing up faster than most of us realize these days. A 14-year-old today is as mature in outlook and activities as the 18- to 18-year-olds of a decade ago. The pace of life has stepped up."
 "Such a misunderstanding and conflict in today's younger generation is caused by parents who still treat their adolescent sons and daughters as children, when the boys and girls feel they are grown up."

 La Homa has a lively and honest respect for today's youngsters. "There never has been another generation like this one," she says. "They are more self-reliant than their parents were at that age. They have more freedom, of course, and they have to learn how to handle it. Most of them are far more capable and mature than parents realize. And the things they want most are respect, friendliness and trust from the older generation—not suspicion and nagging."
MOST LEFT IN CHURCH
 CLEVELAND — It was only money, but whoever put it there must have had a reason.
 Mostly in hills of small denomination, it counted up to $8,437. It was rapped in an old newspaper, dated last Veterans' Day.
 The Rev. Anthony V. Stechler found it on the bench of the confessional booth at St. Boniface's Roman Catholic church. He took it to the police.
 If no one puts in a claim, the money eventually will go to the church.

WHY PAY MORE?
BOTTLED GAS
 $6.00 PER 100-LB. CYLINDER
 NO INSTALLATION CHARGE
SANFORD GAS CO.
 310 E. FIRST ST. PHONE 1340

A TAPE-RECORDED GRAPH (bottom, right) bears witness to the gathering speed of the doomed Santa Fe commuter train that overturned on a "slow" curve in Los Angeles, killing 29 persons and injuring 180. The sudden drop on the graph approach to the curve. Engineer Frank Parrish, 61, from 70 miles an hour to zero indicates the crash point. At top is a diagram of the train's path, with the white arrow showing the direction of the skidding cars. At left, a trainman's glove is perched over the 18-mile-an-hour warning sign at the approach to the curve. Engineer Frank Parrish, 61, claims that he "blacked out." (International)

Grace, Prince Share Many Views

By RELMAN MORIN
 Associated Press Staff Writer
 "We have so much in common."
 Grace Kelly is supremely American, an actress, the daughter of a brick layer, her fiancé, Prince Rainier Louis Maxence Bertrand Grimaldi, is a Latin, the absolute monarch of Monaco, the descendant of princes.
 He was reared in a 120-room palace, overlooking the Mediterranean, she in a 13-room house in a suburb of Philadelphia. She came from a closely knit family. He had little or no family life.
 At first sight, no two backgrounds could seem less alike.
 But Miss Kelly has been quoted as saying she fell in love with Rainier III because "We have so much in common. We like the same things." And if you take a closer look at their lives, you begin to find more similarities than contrasts between the blonde film beauty and her dark-haired prince.
 The prince has been pictured by his intimates as a shy, sober little boy. His parents were divorced when he was 10 years old and he was brought up by tutors and advisers. He seems to have slipped away, as often as possible, to play alone with his pets.
 He has been quoted as saying—obviously before he met Miss Kelly—"actresses scare me." His subjects in Monaco told an Associated Press correspondent recently:
 "The reason he is a bachelor is that he is very shy."
 So is Miss Kelly, according to her father and closest friends. "She is easily frightened," he said. "As a child, she always held her mother's hand. I believe she's scared of newspapermen and others who want to look into her private life."
 In Hollywood, she is considered cool, poised, sometimes laconic, a little remote. But a friend said: "She holds people off to avoid being hurt. She's a very sensitive person."
 This contrasts sharply with a remark about her that has often been repeated—"She has stammered inside." Miss Kelly was hurt by the remark. "I'm stammer," she said, "but I don't think I'm cold or hard."
 Shy or not, both the prince and actress have demonstrated single-mindedness, devotion to their respective careers.
 The prince applied himself to the job of administering his principality. He has been credited with expanding his schools, encouraging low cost housing and taking considerable interest in his financial affairs. At Christmas, every child in Monaco is invited to his palace to receive gifts from the prince himself.
 He was educated for government in the state-sponsored School of Political Science in Paris.
 While Monaco is independent, it has close ties with France and the prince donned a French uniform during World War II. He served on the staff of the French 2nd Army Corps.
 He inherited his profession—Grace Kelly had to struggle for hers.
 Very early, she showed an interest in the theater and was appearing in school theatricals when she was 11.
 Two of her uncles were distinguished figures in the theater. George Kelly, a playwright, won a Pulitzer Prize for his play the famous "Virginia Judge" of vaudeville.
 Yet, she got no encouragement for her ambition. Uncle George, for example, said he didn't want to see her go on the stage, said he wouldn't help her—and didn't. Her mother says "We hoped she would give it up." And her father added "Those movie people lead pretty shallow lives."
 Nevertheless, she persisted. She enrolled in the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York, was a model and did radio and television commercials. "I was terrific," she says.
 Today, she is at the pinnacle of acting success.
 She and the prince like sports. Her father, Jack Kelly, was an Olympic champion oarsman. Her mother had been an instructor in physical education at the University of Pennsylvania. They brought up their children as swimmers and tennis players. Mrs. Kelly regularly took the whole brand in the Pennsylvania Athletic Club for a routine of gymnastics, squash and swimming.
 The prince also makes a regular routine of his sports.
 Each morning, he rises at 7:30 in his palace on the rock—just about the time when the sleepy eye-crowpers are leaving the white-and-gold gambling casino which produces about 10 per cent of Monaco's revenue.
 He takes strolling up exercises and a brisk walk. Then he may ride, play tennis or golf, or do some boxing. Best of all, he likes deep-sea fishing and swimming. He's a skin diver and a spear fisherman.
 One of his worrisome-to-his subjects—hobbies is automobiles. He has nine of them, including a jeep, likes to tinker with them and is a good mechanic. He is considered a good driver, too, but he has had several accidents.
 So when he decided to marry Miss Kelly, people in Monaco said you could hear the sigh of relief that went up from the principality's 4,400 native born residents and 20,000 Frenchmen and other foreigners who live there. For if Monaco has no heir, it reverts to France and that means being saddled with two things—taxes and military service—which the Monacans do not now have.
 The 120-room palace represents wealth, of course. The Grimaldi personal fortune is believed to be considerable. In addition, the prince has an annual income of about $350,000. He is rich, but he never gambles at the casino because "it doesn't amuse me."
 Miss Kelly also comes from a wealthy family.
 Her father, John R. Kelly, was a farm boy in County Mayo, Ireland. He came to the United States, was a bricklayer, borrowed $7,000 to go into business for himself. By the time Grace was born, he was more than "well-to-do." Today he is considered a millionaire several times over.

Tax Facts

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants.)
 The end of April 1956 will see a mad scramble in many households to put together the necessary facts and figures for the federal income tax returns due on that date. (April 15 falls on a Sunday this year, making April 16 the deadline.)
 The last minute rush produces not only long lines at Internal Revenue Service offices, but also many careless mistakes by taxpayers.
 Most of the errors are very simple. For example, about one million returns are filed every year with signatures missing. (This includes joint returns with only one signature and individual returns with no signatures at all.)
 Little slips in arithmetic last year resulted in over-payments by taxpayers of $18,000,000. Taxpayers got back these overpayments eventually, after the government discovered the mistake, but the taxpayer cannot rely on the government to save him from all his errors.
 The mistakes of arithmetic favoring the taxpayer were even larger—perhaps not entirely by coincidence. When returns are checked, and when an underpayment is discovered, the government not only collects the difference, but also charges interest.
 Apart from obvious mistakes, many taxpayers overlook opportunities to claim exemptions and deductions, and other ways to reduce their tax.
 In order to help you avoid such pitfalls, this newspaper is publishing a series of articles prepared with the help of the national and state organizations of certified public accountants. These articles— if you save them, and use them along with the official instructions that come with your tax forms— may save you money.
 Your first step is to consider whether you should file at all, and then what kind of a return to file.
 For income tax purposes you are not required to file a return if your gross income in 1955 was under $600, or if you are 65 or older and had less than $1,000 gross income. But if you had income from self-employment of $100 or more, the return must be filed for social security tax purposes.
 Don't forget that tax on salary or wages may have been withheld during the year by your employer, even if your income was less than $600, and the only way to get it back is to file a tax return.
 This direct collection option is also open to former Army men who have "been out" less than one year. In addition, those former men who meet the qualifications may take their families with them, both in Fort Carson and Europe. Sgt. Jacobson said he would be happy to discuss complete details with any young men who are interested. His office is at Sanford Post Office every Monday and Wednesday, 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Division Added To Expanding Army Gyroscope Program

A new division has been added to the Regular Army's rapidly expanding Gyroscope program, it was announced by Maj. Henry P. Jacobson, the local regular Army recruiter, today.
 The famous 8th Infantry Division, now at Fort Carson, Colo., has been added to the Army's unit rotation program.
 Direct enlistment for this unit may be accepted by Sergeant Jacobson for a limited time.
 "Young men who are interested in visiting Paris, Rome, London and other 'old world' places can now do so while serving their military obligation," Sgt. Jacobson said.
 This direct enlistment option is also open to former Army men who have "been out" less than one year. In addition, those former men who meet the qualifications may take their families with them, both in Fort Carson and Europe. Sgt. Jacobson said he would be happy to discuss complete details with any young men who are interested. His office is at Sanford Post Office every Monday and Wednesday, 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Stamp Machine Is Being Taught To Say 'Thank You'

WASHINGTON — The Post Office Department has developed a device to say "thank you" when a customer puts coins into a stamp vending machine.
 The device works by tape recording and says, "Thank you for buying stamps."
 Postal officials have told a House Appropriations subcommittee the first seven of these devices cost about $4,000 each. They estimated future cost at less than $1,000 apiece.
 In a less advanced state of development, they said, is another machine which the department hopes will be able to read addresses on letter mail and automatically segregate letters by cities. This machine already has

Stamp Machine Is Being Taught To Say 'Thank You'

WASHINGTON — The Post Office Department has developed a device to say "thank you" when a customer puts coins into a stamp vending machine.
 The device works by tape recording and says, "Thank you for buying stamps."
 Postal officials have told a House Appropriations subcommittee the first seven of these devices cost about $4,000 each. They estimated future cost at less than $1,000 apiece.
 In a less advanced state of development, they said, is another machine which the department hopes will be able to read addresses on letter mail and automatically segregate letters by cities. This machine already has

Stamp Machine Is Being Taught To Say 'Thank You'

WASHINGTON — The Post Office Department has developed a device to say "thank you" when a customer puts coins into a stamp vending machine.
 The device works by tape recording and says, "Thank you for buying stamps."
 Postal officials have told a House Appropriations subcommittee the first seven of these devices cost about $4,000 each. They estimated future cost at less than $1,000 apiece.
 In a less advanced state of development, they said, is another machine which the department hopes will be able to read addresses on letter mail and automatically segregate letters by cities. This machine already has

If Missing The FLORIDA TIMES-UNION
 Daily Delivery
 Phone 1737-W for Prompt Service

Hearty fare for HAPPY families

Delmonico ELBOW MACARONI

Richly nutritious... simply delicious.

There's hearty appetite satisfaction in thrifty lunches and dinners of Delmonico Elbow Macaroni. See what an improvement its rich, creamy tenderness is—how the whole family loves it!

You know it's fresh because it's made in Florida

Something New

IN DINING ADVENTURE
SEMINOLE PARK RACEWAY
 "The Country Club of Trotting Tracks" PRESENTS
The SULKY ROOM & PADDOCK ROOM
 —COCKTAIL LOUNGE—
EVERY EVENING FROM NOW ON—
 INCLUDING SUNDAYS
COMPLETE DINNERS FROM $1.85
 —DIRECTIONS—
 Turn East on 17-93 at Cassberry At Our Big Red Arrow (2 Miles East Of The Sanford Orlando Dog Track To Our Club House)

Social Events Calendar

THURSDAY

The regular meeting of the Seminole Chapter No. 2 O.E.S. will be held in the Masonic Temple at 8 p. m.

The Winter Park Garden Club's annual Garden Tour will be held on leaving at 1 p. m. from the Women's Club on Interlachen Avenue, where tickets and transportation will be available. The tour includes seven gardens, ending at the new Garden Center at Mead Botanical Garden, where tea will be served.

The Service Committee, Seminole County Unit American Cancer Society will meet at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Donald Sales, 1423 Forest Drive.

The Intermediate Choir of the First Baptist Church will rehearse at 7:00 p. m.

The Adult Choir of the First Baptist Church will rehearse at 8 p. m.

FRIDAY

The Fellowship Union of the Training Union will hold a supper at the barbecue pit of the First Baptist Church at 7:00 p. m.

The Sanford Junior High school will have a dance at the Celery Crate starting at 7:30 p. m.

The American Legion Auxiliary will meet at 7:30 p. m.

SATURDAY

The E. A.'s of the First Baptist Church will meet under the leadership of Vance Duke, Dave Dodgins, and Don Van Deusen.

SUNDAY

The Training Union of the First Baptist Church will meet at 8:15 p. m.

Everyone is invited to the Evening Worship at the Baptist Church at 7:30 p. m.

The Fellowship Hour at the First Baptist Church will be conducted by the Audio-Visual Aids Committee at 8:30 p. m.

MONDAY

The Sunbeams and the G. A.'s of the First Baptist Church will meet at 3:30 p. m.

TUESDAY

The Daughters of Wesley Sunday School Class of the First Methodist Church will meet in McKinley Hall for a business and social meeting with Mrs. Ruth Lundquist's group as hostesses. A market basket sale will be held.

WEDNESDAY

The Catholic Women's Club will hold a benefit card party at 8 p. m. in the Mayfair Inn. Everyone is asked to bring their own cards. Refreshments will be served and attendance prizes given. Tickets are on sale at the Mayfair Inn, Room 111, or from club members.

Happy Birthday
Grace Stroth
F. E. Breckenridge

Pick an ELGIN at Wm. E. KADER for your Valentine!

Wm. E. KADER Jeweler

112 So. Park Ave. Phone 357-W

Cruel Taunts Can Be Helped Girls Report

"How cruel young mortals be," exclaims an awakened father, describing the anguish of his daughter to cruel jibes by her classmates.

And how right he is.

It seems his 14-year-old sub-deb went to gym class wearing regulation clothes which are pretty revealing. What happened? Poor girl has a spat with her best friend by a retort of "flat-chested."

Ever since, the girl has been moody and depressed and the entire family is worrying for fear she will develop a complex.

Could be. But how do you cope with the situation inquires the father?

Name calling is not a new idea as any Bible reader knows.

Girls who've had the experience of being on the Catherine Wheel or thrown to the lions den in their imaginations know it can be a horrible experience—at the time.

But now older and wiser they say "if only we'd laughed at the whole thing—what does? What difference does it make if the tongue lashers call you chubby?"

One girl tabbed "skinny" says "I thought I'd die at first and did everything to gain weight, and then one day a friend of my mother's said 'I wish I had your figure' and after that I sized the whole thing up—it was only the plump girls who were jealous."

A silver lining is almost always present when you are a target for a sure remark.

"Take the girl who was labeled 'buck teeth' by her friends. She did something about it. A few visits to an orthodontist, braces and in later years she turned out to be a knockout."

Or take another girl who was called "howlers" by rude students. She won a beauty contest in later years, because she spent so much time massaging and primping legs that they looked like prize-winning limbs in any judge's book.

Other girls rectify their high school and college-day tremors when such remarks as "pigeon toes," "knock-knees" sent shivers down their spines. But all of them profited by the experience, they say. After all, if it hadn't been for the name calling they might have been spared the knowledge that they were on the verge of a small defect. But being able to concentrate on it, they managed to improve it above the norm.

If a small-bosomed girl feels embarrassed about it, she can exercise to help matters along, and being conscious of it, can find built-up bras to round out her gym suit or evening dress.

Local sewing center experts have the answer. Go ahead and follow the current fashion, they say, but earn how to adapt the styles to suit your own figure. Remember that good fit is the single most important thing about the outfit you sew, and don't forget the power of optical illusion.

The versatile felt skirt, for example, is now almost an entrance requirement for a high school girl. But the circular felt skirt can make a generous hipline look even wider, if it is not carefully handled.

More flattering is a skirt that fits smoothly over the hips but retains the circle effect at the hemline.

Another hazard for the short girl is the sawed-in-half look, which can result from the combination of a bulky skirt and contrasting skirt or sweater. The answer to that is an overblouse. In matching felt.

The jumper effect carries the eye in an up-and-down line, without losing the fashion importance of the felt skirt. You still get color contrast from the sweater or blouse beneath the overblouse, but you look taller.

Many felt skirts, too, have a horizontal decorative treatment, running around the skirt. Choosing the trim is the best part of making your own skirt, because you can choose a motif that will be flattering.

Diamond-shaped appliques, placed vertically, give an optical illusion, especially when lines of rickrack trim run from the tops of the diamonds to the waistline, accentuating the lipped-waist look.

This kind of felt skirt can be made with a standard pattern. Its secret is that underneath the decorative diamond appliques is a hidden seam. The top half of the skirt is cut to eliminate unnecessary bulk. The bottom half of the skirt is cut in a full circle, so that fullness begins below the hipline. The final effect is an easy flare, with well-disciplined fullness.

It's a good trick to use the automatic zigzag on your sewing machine to stitch down the rickrack trim. Experiment on a scrap of fabric until you get the zigzag stitch to match the size of the rickrack. This makes the rickrack lie flat and holds it more securely.

Tyre, Maddox Wedding Plans Told Today

Final plans for the wedding of Miss Shirley Louise Tyre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Tyre to John Wallace Maddox, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Maddox are being announced today.

The marriage will be an event of Saturday Feb. 4 at p. m. at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Milton H. Wyatt officiating. Roger Harris will be organist and Davis Long, uncle of the bride-elect is soloist.

Miss Shirley Wall, cousin of the groom-elect will be maid-of-honor with Mrs. Dean Maddox, sister-in-law of Mr. Maddox, and Miss Caye Stubbing as bridesmaid and bridesmaid.

Dean Maddox will act as his brother's best man while groomsmen are Jimmy DeBrine and Zedock Baxter. Billy Tyre, brother of the bride-elect, and Randal Lavender will be ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception will be held in McKinley Hall. No invitations are being sent, but all friends and relatives of the couple are invited to attend.

Afternoon and cocktail hats for Spring have a seductive "come hither" look. At the New York fashion showings, enormous picture hats of sheer black horse-hair, tulle, and veiling were shown.

Good Fit Is Most Important Thing With Self Sewing

By DOROTHY ROSE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Most girls who sew some figure problems. And if the rest of the gang is wearing bulky fabrics, strong colors, contrast and horizontal stripes, what is the short, stock girl to do?

Local sewing center experts have the answer. Go ahead and follow the current fashion, they say, but earn how to adapt the styles to suit your own figure. Remember that good fit is the single most important thing about the outfit you sew, and don't forget the power of optical illusion.

The versatile felt skirt, for example, is now almost an entrance requirement for a high school girl. But the circular felt skirt can make a generous hipline look even wider, if it is not carefully handled.

More flattering is a skirt that fits smoothly over the hips but retains the circle effect at the hemline.

Another hazard for the short girl is the sawed-in-half look, which can result from the combination of a bulky skirt and contrasting skirt or sweater. The answer to that is an overblouse. In matching felt.

The jumper effect carries the eye in an up-and-down line, without losing the fashion importance of the felt skirt. You still get color contrast from the sweater or blouse beneath the overblouse, but you look taller.

Many felt skirts, too, have a horizontal decorative treatment, running around the skirt. Choosing the trim is the best part of making your own skirt, because you can choose a motif that will be flattering.

Diamond-shaped appliques, placed vertically, give an optical illusion, especially when lines of rickrack trim run from the tops of the diamonds to the waistline, accentuating the lipped-waist look.

This kind of felt skirt can be made with a standard pattern. Its secret is that underneath the decorative diamond appliques is a hidden seam. The top half of the skirt is cut to eliminate unnecessary bulk. The bottom half of the skirt is cut in a full circle, so that fullness begins below the hipline. The final effect is an easy flare, with well-disciplined fullness.

It's a good trick to use the automatic zigzag on your sewing machine to stitch down the rickrack trim. Experiment on a scrap of fabric until you get the zigzag stitch to match the size of the rickrack. This makes the rickrack lie flat and holds it more securely.

Local sewing center experts have the answer. Go ahead and follow the current fashion, they say, but earn how to adapt the styles to suit your own figure. Remember that good fit is the single most important thing about the outfit you sew, and don't forget the power of optical illusion.

The versatile felt skirt, for example, is now almost an entrance requirement for a high school girl. But the circular felt skirt can make a generous hipline look even wider, if it is not carefully handled.

More flattering is a skirt that fits smoothly over the hips but retains the circle effect at the hemline.

Another hazard for the short girl is the sawed-in-half look, which can result from the combination of a bulky skirt and contrasting skirt or sweater. The answer to that is an overblouse. In matching felt.

The jumper effect carries the eye in an up-and-down line, without losing the fashion importance of the felt skirt. You still get color contrast from the sweater or blouse beneath the overblouse, but you look taller.

Many felt skirts, too, have a horizontal decorative treatment, running around the skirt. Choosing the trim is the best part of making your own skirt, because you can choose a motif that will be flattering.

Diamond-shaped appliques, placed vertically, give an optical illusion, especially when lines of rickrack trim run from the tops of the diamonds to the waistline, accentuating the lipped-waist look.

This kind of felt skirt can be made with a standard pattern. Its secret is that underneath the decorative diamond appliques is a hidden seam. The top half of the skirt is cut to eliminate unnecessary bulk. The bottom half of the skirt is cut in a full circle, so that fullness begins below the hipline. The final effect is an easy flare, with well-disciplined fullness.

It's a good trick to use the automatic zigzag on your sewing machine to stitch down the rickrack trim. Experiment on a scrap of fabric until you get the zigzag stitch to match the size of the rickrack. This makes the rickrack lie flat and holds it more securely.

Local sewing center experts have the answer. Go ahead and follow the current fashion, they say, but earn how to adapt the styles to suit your own figure. Remember that good fit is the single most important thing about the outfit you sew, and don't forget the power of optical illusion.

The versatile felt skirt, for example, is now almost an entrance requirement for a high school girl. But the circular felt skirt can make a generous hipline look even wider, if it is not carefully handled.

More flattering is a skirt that fits smoothly over the hips but retains the circle effect at the hemline.

Another hazard for the short girl is the sawed-in-half look, which can result from the combination of a bulky skirt and contrasting skirt or sweater. The answer to that is an overblouse. In matching felt.

The jumper effect carries the eye in an up-and-down line, without losing the fashion importance of the felt skirt. You still get color contrast from the sweater or blouse beneath the overblouse, but you look taller.

Many felt skirts, too, have a horizontal decorative treatment, running around the skirt. Choosing the trim is the best part of making your own skirt, because you can choose a motif that will be flattering.

Diamond-shaped appliques, placed vertically, give an optical illusion, especially when lines of rickrack trim run from the tops of the diamonds to the waistline, accentuating the lipped-waist look.

This kind of felt skirt can be made with a standard pattern. Its secret is that underneath the decorative diamond appliques is a hidden seam. The top half of the skirt is cut to eliminate unnecessary bulk. The bottom half of the skirt is cut in a full circle, so that fullness begins below the hipline. The final effect is an easy flare, with well-disciplined fullness.

It's a good trick to use the automatic zigzag on your sewing machine to stitch down the rickrack trim. Experiment on a scrap of fabric until you get the zigzag stitch to match the size of the rickrack. This makes the rickrack lie flat and holds it more securely.

Local sewing center experts have the answer. Go ahead and follow the current fashion, they say, but earn how to adapt the styles to suit your own figure. Remember that good fit is the single most important thing about the outfit you sew, and don't forget the power of optical illusion.

The versatile felt skirt, for example, is now almost an entrance requirement for a high school girl. But the circular felt skirt can make a generous hipline look even wider, if it is not carefully handled.

More flattering is a skirt that fits smoothly over the hips but retains the circle effect at the hemline.

Another hazard for the short girl is the sawed-in-half look, which can result from the combination of a bulky skirt and contrasting skirt or sweater. The answer to that is an overblouse. In matching felt.

The jumper effect carries the eye in an up-and-down line, without losing the fashion importance of the felt skirt. You still get color contrast from the sweater or blouse beneath the overblouse, but you look taller.

Many felt skirts, too, have a horizontal decorative treatment, running around the skirt. Choosing the trim is the best part of making your own skirt, because you can choose a motif that will be flattering.

Diamond-shaped appliques, placed vertically, give an optical illusion, especially when lines of rickrack trim run from the tops of the diamonds to the waistline, accentuating the lipped-waist look.

This kind of felt skirt can be made with a standard pattern. Its secret is that underneath the decorative diamond appliques is a hidden seam. The top half of the skirt is cut to eliminate unnecessary bulk. The bottom half of the skirt is cut in a full circle, so that fullness begins below the hipline. The final effect is an easy flare, with well-disciplined fullness.

It's a good trick to use the automatic zigzag on your sewing machine to stitch down the rickrack trim. Experiment on a scrap of fabric until you get the zigzag stitch to match the size of the rickrack. This makes the rickrack lie flat and holds it more securely.

Local sewing center experts have the answer. Go ahead and follow the current fashion, they say, but earn how to adapt the styles to suit your own figure. Remember that good fit is the single most important thing about the outfit you sew, and don't forget the power of optical illusion.

The versatile felt skirt, for example, is now almost an entrance requirement for a high school girl. But the circular felt skirt can make a generous hipline look even wider, if it is not carefully handled.

More flattering is a skirt that fits smoothly over the hips but retains the circle effect at the hemline.

Another hazard for the short girl is the sawed-in-half look, which can result from the combination of a bulky skirt and contrasting skirt or sweater. The answer to that is an overblouse. In matching felt.

The jumper effect carries the eye in an up-and-down line, without losing the fashion importance of the felt skirt. You still get color contrast from the sweater or blouse beneath the overblouse, but you look taller.

Many felt skirts, too, have a horizontal decorative treatment, running around the skirt. Choosing the trim is the best part of making your own skirt, because you can choose a motif that will be flattering.

Diamond-shaped appliques, placed vertically, give an optical illusion, especially when lines of rickrack trim run from the tops of the diamonds to the waistline, accentuating the lipped-waist look.

This kind of felt skirt can be made with a standard pattern. Its secret is that underneath the decorative diamond appliques is a hidden seam. The top half of the skirt is cut to eliminate unnecessary bulk. The bottom half of the skirt is cut in a full circle, so that fullness begins below the hipline. The final effect is an easy flare, with well-disciplined fullness.

It's a good trick to use the automatic zigzag on your sewing machine to stitch down the rickrack trim. Experiment on a scrap of fabric until you get the zigzag stitch to match the size of the rickrack. This makes the rickrack lie flat and holds it more securely.

Local sewing center experts have the answer. Go ahead and follow the current fashion, they say, but earn how to adapt the styles to suit your own figure. Remember that good fit is the single most important thing about the outfit you sew, and don't forget the power of optical illusion.

The versatile felt skirt, for example, is now almost an entrance requirement for a high school girl. But the circular felt skirt can make a generous hipline look even wider, if it is not carefully handled.

SPARKING CARDS

NATIONAL GAMES

Although most card games belong to families—for example Canada's family tree is Rummy—some have become known as distinctly national in character and do not belong in any particular card family. These card games have been played for generations by the great masses of a nation while the so-called upper classes have moved from one card game led to another.

Here are ten such games still enjoying popularity in the countries where they originated many years ago. Note that the United States, England and France each have two national games.

Casino and Euchre—America. The former is an ancient game that due to an early printer's error is frequently spelled with two 's'. Often considered strictly a child's game, Casino is good for the entire family and actually one of the best of all two-handed games.

Euchre, like Poker, is supposed to have been introduced to America by the Louisiana French. One authority believes it started with an attempt to play Spoil Five with a Piquet deck (52-card deck with all cards below 7 left out). Two to seven may play the game.

Cribbage and Napoleon—England. One of the oldest and most unique of all card games, Cribbage is one of the few games wherein memory does not play an important role. It is best for two persons.

What skill is to Cribbage, luck is to Napoleon. Also called Nap, it is one of the easiest of all card games to learn and can be played by any number. Four makes the best game.

Ecarte and Piquet—France. Many experts say that Ecarte, another good game for two persons, is the French cousin of the American game of Euchre. Piquet is one of the fastest moving two-handed games known and was a special favorite of the Emperor Napoleon.

Skat—Germany. Believed to have originated among the farmers of Thuringia, a province of Saxony, Skat is preferred by many card players to the more blue-blooded Whist. It is still a popular game for three players all over Germany and has many adherents in the United States.

Spiel Five—Ireland. One of the oldest of all card games, it is characterized by wide-open play. Derived from the ancient game of Maw, the favorite recreation of James the I, it is played by five or six participants.

Conquist—Mexico. Sometimes corrupted to "Con-san," it is the granddaddy of the modern game of Rummy. A two-player game, it is also very popular in those states bordering Mexico, particularly Texas.

Whist and Whist. This national game of Russia has been called at times "Bridg without a dummy" and "Auction Whist." It is played by four people as partners, just as in Bridge.

Cribbage and Napoleon—England. One of the oldest and most unique of all card games, Cribbage is one of the few games wherein memory does not play an important role. It is best for two persons.

What skill is to Cribbage, luck is to Napoleon. Also called Nap, it is one of the easiest of all card games to learn and can be played by any number. Four makes the best game.

Ecarte and Piquet—France. Many experts say that Ecarte, another good game for two persons, is the French cousin of the American game of Euchre. Piquet is one of the fastest moving two-handed games known and was a special favorite of the Emperor Napoleon.

Skat—Germany. Believed to have originated among the farmers of Thuringia, a province of Saxony, Skat is preferred by many card players to the more blue-blooded Whist. It is still a popular game for three players all over Germany and has many adherents in the United States.

Spiel Five—Ireland. One of the oldest of all card games, it is characterized by wide-open play. Derived from the ancient game of Maw, the favorite recreation of James the I, it is played by five or six participants.

Conquist—Mexico. Sometimes corrupted to "Con-san," it is the granddaddy of the modern game of Rummy. A two-player game, it is also very popular in those states bordering Mexico, particularly Texas.

Whist and Whist. This national game of Russia has been called at times "Bridg without a dummy" and "Auction Whist." It is played by four people as partners, just as in Bridge.

Cribbage and Napoleon—England. One of the oldest and most unique of all card games, Cribbage is one of the few games wherein memory does not play an important role. It is best for two persons.

What skill is to Cribbage, luck is to Napoleon. Also called Nap, it is one of the easiest of all card games to learn and can be played by any number. Four makes the best game.

Ecarte and Piquet—France. Many experts say that Ecarte, another good game for two persons, is the French cousin of the American game of Euchre. Piquet is one of the fastest moving two-handed games known and was a special favorite of the Emperor Napoleon.

Skat—Germany. Believed to have originated among the farmers of Thuringia, a province of Saxony, Skat is preferred by many card players to the more blue-blooded Whist. It is still a popular game for three players all over Germany and has many adherents in the United States.

Spiel Five—Ireland. One of the oldest of all card games, it is characterized by wide-open play. Derived from the ancient game of Maw, the favorite recreation of James the I, it is played by five or six participants.

Conquist—Mexico. Sometimes corrupted to "Con-san," it is the granddaddy of the modern game of Rummy. A two-player game, it is also very popular in those states bordering Mexico, particularly Texas.

Whist and Whist. This national game of Russia has been called at times "Bridg without a dummy" and "Auction Whist." It is played by four people as partners, just as in Bridge.

Cribbage and Napoleon—England. One of the oldest and most unique of all card games, Cribbage is one of the few games wherein memory does not play an important role. It is best for two persons.

What skill is to Cribbage, luck is to Napoleon. Also called Nap, it is one of the easiest of all card games to learn and can be played by any number. Four makes the best game.

Ecarte and Piquet—France. Many experts say that Ecarte, another good game for two persons, is the French cousin of the American game of Euchre. Piquet is one of the fastest moving two-handed games known and was a special favorite of the Emperor Napoleon.

Skat—Germany. Believed to have originated among the farmers of Thuringia, a province of Saxony, Skat is preferred by many card players to the more blue-blooded Whist. It is still a popular game for three players all over Germany and has many adherents in the United States.

Spiel Five—Ireland. One of the oldest of all card games, it is characterized by wide-open play. Derived from the ancient game of Maw, the favorite recreation of James the I, it is played by five or six participants.

Conquist—Mexico. Sometimes corrupted to "Con-san," it is the granddaddy of the modern game of Rummy. A two-player game, it is also very popular in those states bordering Mexico, particularly Texas.

Whist and Whist. This national game of Russia has been called at times "Bridg without a dummy" and "Auction Whist." It is played by four people as partners, just as in Bridge.

Cribbage and Napoleon—England. One of the oldest and most unique of all card games, Cribbage is one of the few games wherein memory does not play an important role. It is best for two persons.

What skill is to Cribbage, luck is to Napoleon. Also called Nap, it is one of the easiest of all card games to learn and can be played by any number. Four makes the best game.

Ecarte and Piquet—France. Many experts say that Ecarte, another good game for two persons, is the French cousin of the American game of Euchre. Piquet is one of the fastest moving two-handed games known and was a special favorite of the Emperor Napoleon.

Skat—Germany. Believed to have originated among the farmers of Thuringia, a province of Saxony, Skat is preferred by many card players to the more blue-blooded Whist. It is still a popular game for three players all over Germany and has many adherents in the United States.

Spiel Five—Ireland. One of the oldest of all card games, it is characterized by wide-open play. Derived from the ancient game of Maw, the favorite recreation of James the I, it is played by five or six participants.

Conquist—Mexico. Sometimes corrupted to "Con-san," it is the granddaddy of the modern game of Rummy. A two-player game, it is also very popular in those states bordering Mexico, particularly Texas.

Whist and Whist. This national game of Russia has been called at times "Bridg without a dummy" and "Auction Whist." It is played by four people as partners, just as in Bridge.

Cribbage and Napoleon—England. One of the oldest and most unique of all card games, Cribbage is one of the few games wherein memory does not play an important role. It is best for two persons.

What skill is to Cribbage, luck is to Napoleon. Also called Nap, it is one of the easiest of all card games to learn and can be played by any number. Four makes the best game.

Ecarte and Piquet—France. Many experts say that Ecarte, another good game for two persons, is the French cousin of the American game of Euchre. Piquet is one of the fastest moving two-handed games known and was a special favorite of the Emperor Napoleon.

Skat—Germany. Believed to have originated among the farmers of Thuringia, a province of Saxony, Skat is preferred by many card players to the more blue-blooded Whist. It is still a popular game for three players all over Germany and has many adherents in the United States.

Spiel Five—Ireland. One of the oldest of all card games, it is characterized by wide-open play. Derived from the ancient game of Maw, the favorite recreation of James the I, it is played by five or six participants.

Conquist—Mexico. Sometimes corrupted to "Con-san," it is the granddaddy of the modern game of Rummy. A two-player game, it is also very popular in those states bordering Mexico, particularly Texas.

Whist and Whist. This national game of Russia has been called at times "Bridg without a dummy" and "Auction Whist." It is played by four people as partners, just as in Bridge.

Cribbage and Napoleon—England. One of the oldest and most unique of all card games, Cribbage is one of the few games wherein memory does not play an important role. It is best for two persons.

What skill is to Cribbage, luck is to Napoleon

MARRIAGE FOR THREE

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

"THE NEXT time Ann called Finky—it was to invite her to share with you what she and Adam had brought in. After a moment when they went down to the Cathedral for the service—Finky refused to share, rudely, and then told Adam about it, the next time she saw him.

"Her eyes were glistening, her mouth drawn thin and unsmiling. Adam put on his hat, took it off, and she said, 'Great dog, Finky!' he said quickly.

"Ann was standing in the courtyard of the Governor's Palace, anxiously awaiting the arrival of the young couple; only today she had a second look; only today she saw that the only real eyes in the room were those of the woman who had just come in. It was not a 'look' at Ann, coming from her own eyes, and she had pulled up beside her. 'Let's go to bed,' she suggested. 'I want to tell you something.' And she had said that.

"I don't want you and Ann quarreling," Adam protested.

"You surely don't expect us to go on being friends?" Her tone was sharp.

"Oh, I see," said Finky. "You want to eat your cake and have it."

"It's a nice arrangement," he said.

"Not for this couple," she said. "Ann's return to her usual manner of play and challenging temperament."

Adam grinned. "You'll have Ann wondering about us."

"I don't doubt it," said Finky. "She'll have the reason a plain. With her own dumb and stay stupid. They don't even love-making like they do to their husbands, or drinks on a Saturday night." Her voice was raised.

"You drank a bottle of beer before supper?" she asked.

"I mean a highball now."

"When she whirled about, her green dress skirt flapping up around her bare knees. "It makes me wonder, why you girls—women—can't give the men a push. With you men expect to be treated like something other than a cash register. Any normal guy wants to get into fun out of life. He wants to have a wife who is something more than a good and dutiful mother."

Adam stood studying the girl. "You're right, Finky, you're right. That's why I call women like Ann stupid, Adam."

"That makes them so dumb?"

"Women like Ann take their marriages seriously," he said unhappily. "And," he said roughly,

Carter Remains Unruffled

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (U)—It was a pleasure to walk into Jimmy Carter's dressing room at Chicago Stadium last night.

He had just lost a close official decision to Cisco Andrade, 26, a nifty little fighter from Compton, Calif., who has been beaten only twice in 35 bouts.

Most of the ringside sports writers at the nationally televised 10-rounder gave Carter the edge. The Associated Press card favored him 97-98.

Carter, sitting relaxed on a bench in his quarters, spoke like the champion he once was. Three times he has won the lightweight crown and three times he has lost it.

"There's no sense getting mad—you can't change a decision," he said quietly. "Andrade is a good fast boy. I've always been known as a slow starter. I thought I had him from the sixth on. I worked him over well in the fourth. When I went down in that round it was definitely a slip."

In most cases, a fighter who has dropped such a decision would be harping about it plenty. Carter took it like a gentleman.

Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, told Carter his 100th bout was one of the best he ever fought and indicated he was entitled to a rematch.

Despite his years in the ring and age (he's going on 33), Carter still showed sharp reflexes in his first scrap since failing to regain his title from Wallace (Bud) Smith last Oct. 28.

But Andrade was the official winner as Judge E. A. Frankel and Referee Joe White scored in his favor 95-94 and 96-93 respectively. Judge Lou Capparelli favored Carter 97-95.

Andrade was outweighted 140-136.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

MIAMI, Fla. (U)—As his elderly trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons says, Nashua probably is the most popular horse that ever lived. The great bay speedster, sharpening up for his 4-year-old season, receives scores of letters and greeting cards from his admirers, though no claim is made that he can read them.

"I try to answer all of them," said Fitz, who truly loves the colt. "I think maybe his great popularity comes from that match race with Swaps. Millions must have seen him win that one on television."

An early morning visitor to Nashua's living quarters—a young Presbyterian minister, as a matter of fact—agreed that the victory over the Kentucky Derby winner had indeed been an inspiring spectacle, he asked Nashua's trainer, what in the world happened to Swaps in that race?

"What happened to him?" ejaculated Fitz. "All that happened to him was that he got beat by my horse. I know they said later that something was wrong with one of his hoofs, but if that was it it must have happened after the first mile. There must not have been much wrong with Swaps for a mile, because they don't run a much faster mile than they did that day."

It is evident that Fitz and all the others around Nashua set great store by the result of the two-horse test at Chicago last summer, feeling that their animal's decisive six and one-half length triumph in that one settled all arguments.

"None of us had any doubt that Mick (Nashua's nickname) would run away from that Coast horse if they met again," said a stable hand. "Did you know that Swaps' rider (Willie Shoemaker) wanted to split the Jockey's purse

REVIEW OF THE YEAR—By Alan Maver

Dons, St. Francis Only Two Unbeaten

By ED WILKS

The Associated Press

And now there are two. Only St. Francis of Brooklyn remain unbeaten in major college basketball today.

Muhlenberg, an 11-4 giant killer this season, beat seventh-ranked Temple 67-66 last night, snapping the Owls' 12-game winning streak. The unranked Husies opened their schedule by upsetting La Salle.

Last night it was 6-1 Bobby Gall who dumped in 20 points to pace the predominantly junior squad.

Gall had great help, however, from Cardy Gemma, who bagged 13 points and superbly defended Guy Rodgers. The Owls' backcourt scoring act didn't get a field goal in 20 minutes and wound up with a scant 10 points. That left the big job to Hal Lear, who hit for 28.

The lead changed hands 11 times in the last 7 minutes.

Duke, ranked 10th, was another major victim last night, although not unexpectedly. The Blue Devils were leveled by eighth-ranked Kentucky 81-76 as Jerry Bird fired at late first-half Wildcat surge.

Second-ranked Dayton, prodded by Coach Tommy Blackburn's observation that "the test of a good team is whether it can come back after defeat," righted itself by walling Loyola of Chicago 75-37. The Flyers were drummed out of the unbeaten ranks by Louisville Saturday.

Three other upsets last night saw Northhampton defeat Connecticut 62-72, while Georgetown clipped St. Joseph's (Pa.) 64-72 and Adrian (Mich.) ended an 18-game winning string by defeating Ohio 62-77.

Elsewhere among the ranked teams, Holy Cross (No. 14) whipped Creighton 97-60 as Tom

Sugar Ray, Bobo Signed For Rematch In Movie Capital

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Promoter Jackie Leonard of the Hollywood Legion Stadium has announced the signing of middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson and Bobo Olson for a rematch April 27.

He said the fight would be held at Wrigley Field in Los Angeles or Gilmore Field in Hollywood.

Robinson has accepted an estimated $75,000 or 30 per cent of the gate and national TV receipts, Leonard said. He also said the International Boxing Club would not be in the position of copromoter and would figure only in the TV money.

Olson, knocked out in the second round by Robinson last Dec. 9 at Chicago, would be reimbursed by 30 per cent of the gate, but with a guarantee of any sum.

This will be the fourth meeting between Sugar Ray and Bobo, Robinson winning all the previous, one by a knockout in the 15th round and another by a decision in 15. Nevertheless, Robinson was a 3-1 underdog in their last match. The quick knockout of Bobo was blamed partly on his marital troubles. He said right after the fight that he would not box again until the situation had been cleared up.

Red Sox Prospects Starting Workouts

SARASOTA, Fla. (U)—Thirty-one of the best young prospects of the Boston Red Sox have begun workouts here under the eye of four Sox coaches.

The rookie school has 10 minor leaguers from the Boston chain and 13 players who already are on the Red Sox roster, including some who have turned in good performances during brief stays with the parent club.

Among these are Frank Bauman, a big pitcher who won 2 and lost 1 late last season after getting out of military service, and bonus player Billy Conzolo, an infielder.

Other top prospects include Marty Keough, who hit .303 with Louisville last year, and Hayward Sullivan, a catcher and former University of Florida football and baseball star.

Richards Personally Taking Over Job

BALTIMORE (U)—Manager Paul Richards of the Baltimore Orioles has personally taken over the job of negotiating contracts acceptable to outfielders Dave Philley and Chuck Diering.

The two have each returned two proposed contracts sent them by Jack Dunn, the Orioles' assistant general manager.

Philley reportedly wants $25,000 next year. Obtained last July 2 from the Cleveland Indians, Philley finished the season with a .300 batting average. For Baltimore, he scored 31 runs, had 83 hits in 310 at bats, and drove in 40 runs.

His batting average was tops among the Baltimore regulars.

Diering, a fleet fielder, hit only .256, but he filled in at third base and shortstop when the Orioles found themselves hurting at those positions.

No Plan Revealed For Moving Bosox

BOSTON (U)—Thomas A. Yawkey owner of the Boston Red Sox, says he has no intention of moving the team.

Yawkey made that clear last night at the fifth annual Junior Good Will dinner at Fenway Park. He received a citation at the affair sponsored by the Massachusetts Committee of Catholics, Protestants and Jews.

"The purchase of the San Francisco franchise was simply a smart business move which also protects the valuable West Coast territory for the American League," Yawkey said.

STARS IN SOUTH

LENNIE ROSENBLUTH, TOP SCORER FOR NORTH CAROLINA, ONE OF THE COUNTRY'S BEST.

BROKE SCHOOL SCORING AND REBOUNDING RECORDS IN HIS FIRST VARSITY SEASON.

IF THIS SOUTHERN POWER HAS A NORTHERN ACCENT, COULD BE BECAUSE LENNIE ORIGINALLY CAME FROM THE BRONX, AND BIRTH OF HIS VARSITY TEAMMATES ARE FROM THE NEW YORK AREA.

Austria's Tony Sailer Is Great Standout Star Of Olympic Games

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy (U)—Austria's great Toni Sailer, handsome as a profile on a Greek coin and as daring as the hero in a Western movie, is the individual star of the Winter Olympics with only three days of competition remaining after today.

Sailer already has won the men's giant slalom and slalom, and the downhill is still to come. No one here doubts he's the greatest skier in the world.

Best team performance—Russia's skaters, who broke records in the 500, 1,500 and 5,000 meter races.

Best comeback—Scandinavia's cross-country skiers, who proved the Russians can be beaten in three events in which the Soviets were touted to win. After the world championships two years ago most winter sports experts thought the Scandinavians' traditional domination of cross country was at an end.

Biggest disappointment—U. S. team outside its figure skaters and hockey team. Most of the American and cross-country performers would not even have won a place on a European team, if the United States is to polish its tarnished reputation in winter sports, a whole new crop of athletes must emerge before the next games at Squaw Valley, Calif., in 1960.

Littler Is Central Figure On Tourney

PHOENIX, Ariz. (U)—California's Gene Littler was one of the central figures in the $15,000 Phoenix Open golf tournament today as the country's top professionals set to work again on the winter circuit.

First, Littler is the defending champion, and second, he suddenly looked like the Littler of last year as he recaptured his form in the Thunderbird Invitational at Palm Springs last week.

The pride of San Diego didn't win the Thunderbird, but he boomed up from nowhere, after a dismal round of 7, and finished third to Jimmy Demaret and Cary Middlecoff.

Two nights ago Littler went to bed with a virus condition, and so did Middlecoff, but both hoped to be in fair shape today.

All tournaments, like virtually all tournaments these days since Ben Hogan isn't around to dominate the scene, is wide open.

Demaret was the master of his game and psychology as well at Palm Springs, and he has been a winner in this event over this same course, the par 36-36—71 Phoenix Country Club.

Ed Krynowski of the Hershey Bears became the first American Hockey League defenseman to tally a goal against each of the five opposing teams this season.

United LUMBER COMPANY

TOPS MASONRY LEAKS

Don't let WATER get you down

STANDARD QUALITY

United LUMBER COMPANY

STANDARD QUALITY

WHERE THE TOP DOGS RUN

DOG RACING NIGHTLY (except Sunday) 8:10

MATINEES WED. & SAT. 2 P.M.

All New Track Heated Stands Voted Parking Jerry Collins, Mgr.

Sorry, No Minors

SANFORD-ORLANDO

HWY. 17-66 4 MILES SOUTH OF SANFORD Turn West At Red Arrow

USED CAR

"He's right, dear. They're everything they're advertised to be!"

Whether you bring along your own expert or not, you always know that OK Used Cars are thoroughly inspected and reconditioned because they carry the Chevrolet dealer warranty in writing. Wide selections and extra savings always result from the volume trades received on new Chevrolet!

LOOK FOR THE OK TRADEMARK!

Sold only by an Authorized Chevrolet Dealer

HOLLER MOTOR SALES

Car. 2nd & Palmetto Phone 1324

Shop and Save
In Sanford

The Sanford Herald

AN INDEPENDENT DAILY NEWSPAPER

Weather
Partly cloudy and mild through Saturday; high today 75-80, low tonight 64, moderate southerly
winds today.

VOLUME XLVIII

Established 1908

SANFORD, FLORIDA FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1934

Associated Press Licensed Wire

No. 38

Neighboring Cities Chain Of Missions Programs To Start

Woods Will Attempt Swim Across Lake

The championship swimmers of the South and the holder of third place in the world's championship, will swim Lake Monroe Sunday, according to an announcement made today by Frank Mcbane Jr., manager of the Mayfair Inn.

Jimmy Woods, who beat Tom Parks swimming the English Channel, will start his swim Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, leaving the Mayfair Inn dock. Woods will swim across Lake Monroe and return, a distance estimated at ten miles.

Woods is the only person who has completed the swim at Biscayne Bay Island at Miami, a feat which took 30 hours in the water. He estimates that it will take five or six hours to swim across Lake Monroe and back. He will make the swim across the five mile area without stopping.

Woods will be accompanied by a pilot and boat. The pilot will be "Buck" Bahitt. He will arrive at the Mayfair Inn about 9 o'clock Sunday morning to prepare for his swim across the lake.

The boat, Mayfair Inn officials say, will carry food for the swimmer as it accompanies him on the five or six hour swimming feat.

Woods says, "This is a workout for me in a test and preparation to swim Lake Ontario July 4, a distance of 25 miles, which has never been accomplished."

The long distance swimmer is a native of Asheville, N. C.

Mebane says that the public is invited to watch Woods as he makes his last swim across Lake Monroe. The Mayfair Inn dock is located on Seminole Blvd. immediately to the rear of the hotel.

It is expected that there will be a huge crowd on hand to watch the swimmer when he dives into the water at 11 o'clock and a larger crowd will be on hand to watch him when he emerges from the Lake Monroe waters late Sunday afternoon.

Air Defense Chief Tells Of A-Weapons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The commander of the nation's air defenses said today atomic weapons soon will be stored at Air Force ground stations and carried on defense aircraft.

"The day is not far off when we shall have atomic weapons at the various stations in storage and on the planes in flight," Gen. Earle E. Partridge said in an address prepared for a jet age conference of the Air Force Assn.

"This contributes to our determination to remove military flying from municipal or civil airports as soon as possible," he said, but added that it will come only "over a period of years" and at a cost of more than three billion dollars.

Partridge, commander in chief of the Continental Air Defense Command, said that while defense aircraft are always loaded when on missions, the Air Force has installed "all manner of control sequences" as guards against accidents.

Louis' Tax Trouble Prompts Suggestion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joe Louis' income tax troubles have prompted a Virginia congressman to suggest it might be a good idea if a boxer's purse was made subject to withholding deductions.

A discussion of the situation came up last week during closed door testimony by Internal Revenue Service officials before a House Appropriations subcommittee. The testimony was made public last night.

Rep. Gary (D-Va.), the subcommittee chairman, and other members of the group wanted to know how come the former heavyweight champion of the world had fallen so deeply in arrears to Uncle Sam.

Speech Class Group To Give Rotarians Noon Entertainment

Several members of the "speech class" of the Seminole High School will be featured at the regular weekly meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club to be held Monday noon at the Yacht Club. Miss Marty Cameron will offer a humorous reading entitled "Love vs. Football" while a comedy skit, "Loan Me A Dollar" portraying the trials and tribulations of a young man in love and broke will be presented by three young men, Fred Ball Jr., Fred Bower and Robert Cressy.

Up to this time, very little emphasis has been placed on the training of Seminole High School students in classes for speech, debate, stage training or forensics. The Rotary Club program committee thought it advisable to give a group from the class an opportunity to show the fine progress made in a comparatively short time.

According to Mrs. Boyd Coleman, class sponsor, some members of the class have shown amazing development and the manner in which they read their lines and have developed their stage presence has been a revelation to her.

The program promises to be short and different and full of laughs which should be greeted with enthusiasm by the audience.

USO Group Meets To Plan Birthday Party Tomorrow

A USO committee meeting was held last night at which time Mrs. Selwyn O'Neill, area director, was present.

It was announced that Miss E. Turner, Eastern Regional Supervisor, will be in Sanford Feb. 23. A special meeting will be called for all USO Committee members to be present at that time.

Among the business discussed was the fact that Saturday, Feb. 4 is the 18th Anniversary of the National USO, which was established before America's entrance into World War II and has since won world-wide recognition as a "home away from home" for members of America's armed forces, wherever they may be stationed.

The anniversary will be celebrated in Sanford with a birthday party and dance to be held at the USO from 8 p. m. to 11 p. m.

A special birthday cake is being baked for the occasion by Frank Aills, U. S. Navy, and other cakes will be baked by Miss Peggy Best and Miss Pat Casabe, junior hostesses.

Liquor Store Is Closed By Sheriff

An east side liquor store was closed Sunday night for violation of State laws regulating the sale of whiskey on Sundays.

Sheriff Denver Cordell revealed today that Midway Liquor Store was ordered closed for the day last Sunday night after evidence of Sunday sales of intoxicating beverages was obtained.

"I had been watching the place several Sundays and had warned them three times to discontinue the sale of whiskey in violation of the Sunday sale law," the sheriff said.

The operator of the store was charged with selling whiskey on Sunday and placed under a $300 bond, Cordell stated.

Crowds visiting the place looked like a crowded store on sale days, the sheriff said.

Holy Week Services Announced

The Rev. Milton R. Wyatt, president of the Seminole County Ministerial Association, announced yesterday at the regular monthly meeting of the group that the Rev. Chester W. Plank will be the Seminole High School chapel speaker on Feb. 9, and the Rev. A. G. Melanis on Mar. 8. Holy Week speakers at Seminole High School are listed as follows: Mar. 28, the Rev. Fred B. Fisher; Mar. 29, the Rev. Mr. Plank; Mar. 30, the Rev. Mr. Plank; Mar. 31, the Rev. Raymond Luce; and Mar. 31, the Rev. Robert E. Spear.

The Rev. Fred B. Fisher, now associate member of the First Baptist Church, was elected a member of the association.

It was voted to hold a Good Friday service from 12 till 3 on Mar. 30, at the First Presbyterian Church with the Rev. Melanis, host pastor, in charge.

Plans for the annual Easter sunrise service were adopted. The time decided on was 7:30 minutes before sunrise. The association president, the Rev. Wyatt, will deliver the sermon. The Rev. Melanis reported that the high school glee club had been requested to sing, and that the band would be asked to play. Dr. W. P. Brooks Jr. is to seek the use of the municipal stadium; and Chaplain F. W. Kempton is to see about a public address system.

The association voted to buy a Bible for the family room of the new Seminole Memorial Hospital, and accepted an invitation to have a luncheon meeting at the Southside Grammar School the first Thursday in March.

The programs are being given in Orlando's First Presbyterian Church beginning Monday morning at 10:30 and will continue through Wednesday evening. In addition to the programs presented at the church, there will be a youth rally, young adults' meeting, civic club addressing, and speakers visiting schools of the area.

The Chain of Missions program in DeLand begins Sunday evening with the opening service conducted at Elizabeth Hall at Stetson University at 7:30 p. m.

Programs will be given in DeLand at Trinity Methodist Church beginning with an evening service Monday and continuing through Wednesday afternoon. The final program of the series will be held at Elizabeth Hall of Stetson University.

A young adult dinner, visits to the schools, and a joint civic club luncheon will be added features of the Chain of Missions program in DeLand.

Speakers for the Orlando and DeLand Chain of Missions program will include: Dr. L. K. American Friends of the Middle West Africa, Presbyterian Church; the Rev. E. Russell Carter, Field representative for Indian Work, National Council of Churches; Dr. J. Edgar Fisher, Consultant, American Friend of the Middle East; Dr. Louis H. Evans, Birmingham, Board of National Missions, Presbyterian; Mrs. Howard Hickey McCutcheon, Associate educational secretary, Board of World Missions, Presbyterian; Dr. Robert A. McKibben, Superintendent, Department of City Work, Board of Missions, Methodist Church; Dr. George Earle Owen, Department secretary, United Christian Missionary Society, Disciples of Christ; Dr. A. Page, President, Pikeville College, Pikeville, Ky.; and Dr. Charles C. West, assigned to the World Council of Churches to teach at Rossau, Switzerland.

New Soviet Appeal Is Unable To Melt U. S. Opposition

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new appeal from Premier Bulganin failed today to melt U. S. opposition to a Soviet treaty which this government holds to be needless and perhaps risky.

A 2,800-word message made public by the State Department late last night, Bulganin urged President Eisenhower to reconsider the 20-year pact proposed by the Russian Premier last week and promptly turned down by Eisenhower.

U. S. officials said Bulganin's new message was mainly a rehash of previous arguments for the treaty and that he had not advanced persuasive new ideas.

Eisenhower, in a letter Saturday, had told Bulganin a treaty between Russia and the United States, merely reiterating peaceful behavior pledges already in the United Nations Charter, "might indeed work against the cause of peace."

Sheriff Denver Cordell said the youth apparently was taking care for the mere pleasure of riding around in them.

A car belonging to Johnny Hall was stolen Sunday night and found abandoned at a night spot on Geneva Ave., according to Sheriff Cordell.

The theft of both the Noland car and Hall's car was admitted by the 15-year-old boy.

Youth Is Charged With Car Thefts

A 15-year-old negro youth was charged with the theft of two cars following the disappearance of Wilbur Noland's car.

Sheriff Denver Cordell said the youth apparently was taking care for the mere pleasure of riding around in them.

A car belonging to Johnny Hall was stolen Sunday night and found abandoned at a night spot on Geneva Ave., according to Sheriff Cordell.

The theft of both the Noland car and Hall's car was admitted by the 15-year-old boy.

Rezoning Request Denied By Planning Board Last Night

The Zoning and Planning Commission of the City of Sanford, last night, at a special meeting denied the request to re-zone an area on Laurel 've between 8th and 10th Sts. proposed for a new location of the Therm-O-Tane Gas and Appliance Co.

The area proposed to be re-zoned was defined as "bounded on the south by 10th St., on the north by 8th St. and the West by Laurel Ave., and on the east by an alley between Laurel and Elm Avenues," from an R-1 to a C-1 zone.

A request for the rezoning was made by Rupert M. Strickland and Homer Osborne who represented the Youth Center located at 8th and Laurel.

The group of citizens originally purchased the property and building, formally used as a church building by the Central Baptist Church and proposed to be used as a Youth Center for Sanford and Seminole County children.

Strickland and Osborne were proposing to sell the property and building to Clyde Robertson of the Therm-O-Tane Gas and Appliance Co. who had planned to tear down the wood structure now on the property to construct a modern concrete block showroom and sales office.

Seven members of the Zoning and Planning Commission were present for the important discussions relative to the re-zoning of the area. The vote was 3-2 against the rezoning of the two-block section of Laurel Ave. Those voting for the rezoning were A. E. Wilson and Clifford McKibben. Those voting against the rezoning were Robert Brown, chairman of the Zoning and Planning Commission, A. L. Collins, A. W. Lee Jr., Jimmy Wright and Alfred Stanley.

The reason given by the Zoning and Planning Commission for its stand against the rezoning of the area was that "We do not want to spot some even though it was a two-block area and even though it would possibly be an industrial area within a year or two."

According to the Zoning and Planning Commission plans are to consider the entire area possibly on out to 25th St. with the possibility of taking in a 36 St. area.

Thinking of the Zoning and Planning Commission was that if the area had been rezoned, on a spot some basis, such action would have brought back all of those who had been turned down by the citizens group on the same basis. Chairman Robert Brown said that "The Zoning and Planning Commission felt that such a request could not be granted for one individual when so many had been turned down on similar requests."

According to plans made public last night at the special meeting, the Zoning and Planning Commission will work toward a land use map particularly to bring into consideration the entire area.

Funeral Is Sunday For Mrs. P. Ross

Funeral services for Mrs. Pearl M. Ross, wife of Lambert M. Ross of Grants, N. M., will be held Sunday at 3 p. m. at Wilson Funeral Home with the Rev. Milton H. Wyatt officiating. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mrs. Ross had lived in Grants for the past 20 years where she was an active worker in the Community Church. At the time of her death she was president of the Pilot Club.

She had lived most of her life in Sanford teaching in the schools and served as principal for the Sanford Grammar School for 10 years. She was active in church work as a member of the First Methodist Church here and a loved member of the Daughters of Wesley Sunday School Class. A member of Seminole Chapter No. 2, O.E.S. Mrs. Ross held the title as past matron.

Survivors besides her husband include two sisters, Mrs. W. S. Thorton of Sanford, Mrs. E. E. Hales, Lakeland; three brothers, Freeman J. Hunter, Vero Beach; James D. Hunter, Minneapolis, Minn.; Clarence M. Hunter, Winter Park; and several nieces and nephews.

Active pallbearers will be O. P. Herndon, G. M. Ship, E. K. Jones, Joder Cameron, Ed Reuth, and Joe Assarillo.

Honorary pallbearers are Clau' Herndon, Walter M. Haynes, Dr. T. W. Lawton, R. W. Turner, C. C. Priest, Zeb Ratliff and Herman Morris.

Gravestone services will be conducted by the O.E.S.

Judge Lauds Action Of Juvenile Courts

Householder Addresses Ministerial Meeting

Judge Ernest Householder appraised the Juvenile Court in an address before the Seminole County Ministerial Association yesterday.

"The Juvenile Courts of Florida were created by the approving mandate of the majority of the qualified electors of Florida in the general election of 1930—and in accord with the constitutional amendment the legislature of 1931 passed a law establishing Juvenile Courts and providing the jurisdiction and operation," Judge Householder explained.

"A Juvenile Court is not a court of criminal jurisdiction as we do not have affidavits, informations or indictments and there is no prosecuting attorney or state's Attorney. A proceeding involving a juvenile is not a criminal trial, and all matters in the Juvenile Court are termed "hearings" and not "trials" and all hearings are before the judge—without jury. The strict rules of criminal procedure do not apply in a hearing before the Juvenile Judge, but more the principles of equity—to determine what has happened and if possible the reason for such happening and what might be the best treatment for correction of the particular child," said Judge Householder.

He explained that at a usual hearing before the Judge, there is present the Counselor, the child, the parents and any persons who know anything about the facts of the hearing. At the close of the hearing the Judge usually talks with the parents alone and with the child alone. After all of the information gathered from the hearing, the talks and the preliminary investigation, it then becomes the duty of the Judge to make a decision.

Said Judge Householder, "in the Juvenile Court, in discharging his commission, the Judge is neither a parent nor arbiter; he is the one person who represents his community as 'paterfamilias'—who may act with the parents or, when necessary, even in the place of them to bring about behavior more desirable."

As a Judge in a Juvenile court, he does not administer criminal law or enter a judgment of forfeiture or penal servitude. The child before him is not a defendant. There is to be no conviction, no sentence. There is to be no lifelong stigma of a criminal record. In the Juvenile Court the Judge administers equity; and the child, still immature and unable to take his place before the law as an adult, is the recipient of consideration of guidance, and of correction. The stake is no less than the saving of a human being at a time more favorable than any other in an uncertain future, he explained.

"I am convinced," said Judge Householder, "after my experience as your Juvenile Judge that you as Ministers and Prosechers of the Christian Faith should have a closer relationship with the problems of the erring youth as they are disclosed in Juvenile Court hearings. So I am opening the Juvenile Court to the Ministers of Seminole County. I want to invite you and urge you to attend the sessions as you may become better acquainted with the problems and carry the message to your people."

"I am convinced from my experience with our children in the age group of our Juvenile Court, that a program of prevention of delinquency is the goal to strive for rather than wait for correctional measures in the Juvenile Court. We should have better recreational facilities and programs and constantly strive for, until realized, a fully equipped Youth Center, staffed with well qualified directors and instructors. Until this is accomplished I feel sure a program of love and understanding between our children and our adults will greatly help to eliminate youthful errors that result in delinquency and I am preaching this program everywhere I go and everywhere I have a chance to speak. This program for more love and understanding will not cost any money, only work and effort and I call upon you as Christian leaders to join me in this program," concluded Judge Householder.

Fourteen ministers were present at the meeting to hear Judge Householder.

Rev. Earle Vennum To Be Evangelist At Revival Service

The Rev. Earle W. Vennum of Miami, Florida will be the evangelist at revival services Feb. 3-12 at the First Church of the Nazarene of Sanford. The Rev. Vennum has just completed eleven annually successful years as pastor of Central Church of the Nazarene in Miami, the largest church in Florida of the Nazarene connection.

While there were nine other churches organized from Central Church of the Nazarene it continued to grow under the aggressive leadership of Pastor Vennum. Operating a fleet of seven buses to transport an average attendance of six hundred Sunday School scholars was but one of the many means of being "all things to all men that ye may win some." Rev. Vennum will begin this eight-day revival campaign this Sunday morning by speaking at the 10:45 a. m. worship service.

Services will continue every night at 7:30 p. m. through Sunday Feb. 12. Pastor Spear invites Christians of all faiths to enjoy old fashioned singing, both special and congregational.

A nursery will be provided for all services and courteous waiters will assist every possible convenience.

Sailor's Condition Believed Serious

An automobile, traveling out of control, crashed into the ditch on 17-92 north of Sanford injuring the driver and practically demolishing the car, early yesterday morning.

A 1949 Oldsmobile Coach driven by 19-year-old Thomas J. Kelly, of 1204 East Fourth St. was returning to Sanford about 2:30 a. m. yesterday when it went out of control and skidded 108 feet before crashing into the ditch.

According to a Florida Highway Patrol report, Kelly was attached to the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station.

It is believed that Kelly is in serious condition since he has been transferred from the N.A.A.S. Sanford hospital to the Air Force Hospital at Orlando.

Frances Bolt, another Navy youth, only 17 years old was treated for cuts and bruises at the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station Hospital and released. He was a passenger in the Kelly car.

The investigation of the accident was made by Trooper Thomas C. Hodges out of the DeLand office of the Florida Highway Patrol. The investigation, according to FTP reports, is not complete.

License Division Tells Of Action Taken In County

The driver's license division of the department of public safety released today another report on driver's licensing activities. This one is for November, 1933.

The department said that it revoked 86 licenses in that month, suspended 313 and canceled 37. Added to that activity is the return of 109 licenses by the parent commission with restrictions.

Driver's licenses revoked, canceled, suspended, or returned, in Seminole County include: SANFORD—Joe Brown, Revoked; Isaac Williams, Revoked; Robert Lee Thomas, Suspended; Harry Ann Loicome Schacht, Canceled; Claude Cleveland Loebe, Returned by the Parent Commission with Restrictions.

OVIEDO—Shelly Barkley, Returned; Nolly Hickson, Revoked. LONGWOOD — William O'Byrne Bosch, Revoked. LAKE MONROE—Victor Thomas Pattinger, Revoked. GRNEVA—Milton A. McDebbie, Revoked.

County Is Invited To Attend Hyacinth Control Gathering

Seminole County commissioners have been invited to attend a meeting on hyacinth control in DeLand Tuesday night, Feb. 7.

Together with commissioners from Lake and Volusia Counties the Seminole officials will hear an explanation of the state project in hyacinth destruction. Florida's 1933 legislature voted a sum of $360,000 for the work which is to be carried on as a cooperative plan with the various counties. Personnel and spraying equipment are being furnished by the state with chemicals provided by the individual counties.

New equipment placed in service by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission includes two airplanes and six airboats. Spray boats have been in use for some time. The principal chemical used in hyacinth control is 2,4-D, which causes the plants to destroy themselves through accelerated growth.

Tuesday night's meeting will be concerned with the special problem of the St. Johns River valley. The river's deep water channel is kept open by United States engineers but their activities do not extend to the smaller tributaries and gamelike spawning areas.

Typical of the St. Johns problems is that of the Volusia-Lake County situation in which many of the St. Johns tributaries used by Volusia County sportmen are actually within the limits of Lake County although a long distance from Lake County population centers.

The Tuesday meeting will be sponsored by the Volusia County Wildlife Association, according to Dr. R. R. Wilber, chairman of the association's board of directors.

Careless Driving Charges Are Placed Against A. Smith

An accident, Wednesday night, shortly after 7 o'clock, on South-west Road resulted in charges of careless and negligent driving as well as driving while intoxicated being placed against a 23-year-old negro driver.

According to the accident report of the Sanford Police department, a parked automobile, owned by Alfredo Wallace, 23-year-old negro beauty parlor operator of 604 W. 15 St., was hit by Alfred Albert Smith, driver of a 1937 Chrysler.

The negro sedan, attempting to pass the parked car, crashed into the rear of the 1936 Buick sedan causing property damage estimated to both cars in the amount of $150.

Patrolman Joe Nelson heavily fined.