Watergate 'Stars' Preparing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newest White House stand against yielding subpoenaed tape recordings looks like a replay of last year's battle in the courts. But this time it may end up in the Supreme Court.

Nixon Says No To More Tapes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Saying "the story is out," the White House has said it will turn over no more Watergate tapes to Congress or the courts even if it means a constitutional confrontation.

Altamonte Man Pleads Guilty To Manslaughter

A 29-year-old Altamonte Springs man interrupted his trial for second degree murder in the shotgun slaying of a neighbor to plead guilty Tuesday to reduced charges of manslaughter.

The switch by Charles Frank Thornton, 612 Pine St., was accepted by prosecutor Chuck Gordon, who later commented, "I felt justice was served in the case."

Gordon agreed with defense attorney Newman Brock that evidence existed to support Thornton's claim the shooting was accidental.

Thornton was indicted April 1 by the grand jury for shooting Henry Clay, 56, on March 19 after chasing him down the street.

Thornton, a convicted felon who received endorsements from his church and his neighbors prior to the trial, said he

Kidnap Cash Trial Opens In Seminole County
Trial of one of two men accused of finding part of the $30,000 ransom paid to free Southern Shortening owner George Jackson Jr., after his Feb. 15 kidnaping started today in Seminole County Circuit Court.

Raymond Gaines was charged with Horace Gathers after police allegedly found the remainder of $30,000 Gaines said he stumbled on while hunting rabbits. Gathers is scheduled for trial this week.

Charges against a brother of one of three men accused in the actual kidnaping, and his girlfriend—accused last week of possessing part of the ransom—were dropped for lack of evidence.

Sanford
Monday, former Southern Shortening employe, Ernest Jerome Davis, pleaded guilty to kidnaping Jackson and agreed to testify against co-defendants Jesse James Jones Jr., and Franklin Lee Wheeler Jr.

Davis, 19, and the father of two, had been scheduled for trial this week. Trial of Wheeler and Jones was moved to Tampa (on May 15) because of publicity in the case.

Utility Firm Hearings Scheduled For June

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

The much threatened "one time only" hearings to seek the possible ouster of subsidiary utility companies from Seminole County have been set for June.

The board unanimously approved a June 11 hearing for First Florida Utility Co., of Lynwood, plant, hit by overexpanded customer loads, and a June 18 hearing on all of Southern Gulf Utility plants, the subject of complaints for the past year.

Southern Gulf faces similar action by Orange County after plant problems led to massive customer complaints.

Tuesday, Seminole Commissioner Dick Williams, endorsing the recommendation of utilities chief Bob Parmelee, said "It appears with the renewed problems the plants are having and a lack of action a public hearing would be in order."

While taking a tough public stand, commissioners have privately indicated reluctance to force a take-over of Southern Gulf plants at Little Wekiva, the Citidel and Ravenna Park because of the expense.

Parmelee called a First Florida's problems a "prime example of how expansion has outstripped the plant's ability to serve."

The plant has expanded from 20 customers in 1963 to 202 currently, Parmelee said, adding he received 78 written complaints last week because water pressure disappeared.

The company claimed customer's watering their lawns during the dinner hour caused the pressure shortage.

AMUR
Commissioner Mike Hat-taway was told by Adair that Seminole County does not have any lake suitable for fish.

HYACINTHS
The pilot water hyacinth harvester project being pushed by Commissioner Greg Drummond is nearing possible approval as the state has agreed to station a machine by Osteen Bridge.

The key to the plan is approval by the Army Corps of Engineers and its agreement to dredge the 11-foot, seven-foot channel presently clogged by the troublesome water weed.

Also needed, Drummond said, is state Department of Natural Resources cooperation in contracting with area landowners to allow dumping of hyacinth waste, useful for mulch.

The project, endorsed as an "interesting experiment" by Chairman John Kimbrough,

Hammond Qualifies Longwood Suit Time

Circuit Court Judge Thomas Waddell Tuesday continued until 9:45 a.m. Thursday a hearing on motions to dismiss Longwood Mayor Eugene Jones' lawsuit against the Longwood City Council.

Jones' attorney, Michael Jones of Alamonte Springs, asked for the continuance to give him time to prepare arguments in the case.

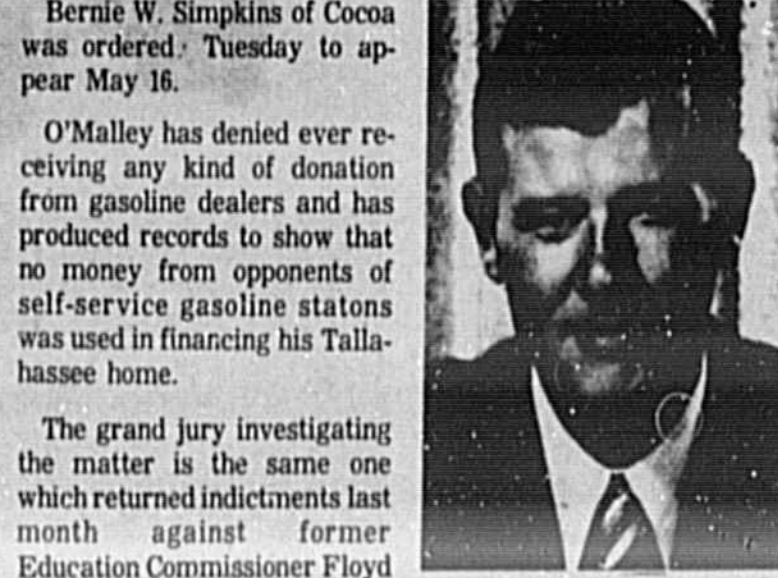

Jones is asking the court to define his powers as mayor, to void sections of the city charter, to nullify the hiring of former Deputy Sheriff Thomas Hennigan as police chief and to stop the city council from repealing Jaques administrative powers and a $10,000 annual salary.

O'Malley Probers Call Cocoa Official

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A former state official linked to an alleged donation from gasoline dealers to Insurance Commissioner Thomas O'Malley has been subpoenaed to appear before a Leon County grand jury next week.

Bernie W. Simpkins of Cocoa was ordered Tuesday to appear May 18.

O'Malley has denied ever receiving any kind of donation from gasoline dealers and has produced records to show that no money from opponents of self-service gasoline stations was used in financing his Tallahassee home.

TOM O'MALLEY

The grand jury investigating the matter is the same one which returned indictments last month against former Education Commissioner Floyd Christian and Sen. Edward Gurney, R-Fla.

The jury has given approval to conduct an expanded probe into state government.

The office of state Atty. Ed-ward Austin of Jacksonville, special prosecutor in the case, earlier subpoenaed Simpkins' bank records from Jan. 1, 1971 to Monday.

The St. Petersburg Times and station WFLA-TV, Miami, have ing such stations but changed his mind. He said Monday a decision on the stations was up to the legislature and courts.

WPLG reported that the grand jury was investigating whether a $40,000 mortgage O'Malley took on his home in August 1972 was used to repay the alleged donation after state Atty. Stephen Boyle of Daytona

Gurney Indictment Ruling In 10 Days

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Citizens who think certain politicians are crooks have seized upon Rep. Marshall Harris, D-Miami as the man who can do something for them.

It was Harris who produced the recent indictment of Sen. Edward Gurney, R-Fla., on a charge of violating a state campaign contribution law.

Saying he was incensed that Gurney had admitted receiving contributions in what Harris felt was a violation of the law, the lawmaker exercised his right as a citizen to appear before the Leon County grand jury. An indictment of Gurney wasn't long in coming.

Gurney, pointing out Harris' ties to Sen. Richard Pettigrew, D-Miami, a Democratic candidate for Gurney's job, charged a political vendetta. Harris denied it.

Ordinary citizens, meanwhile, have been calling on Harris to investigate a number of politicians.

Dickinson Probe Spreads

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Federal investigators are probing the personal financial records of a prominent Fort Lauderdale attorney in a search for checks to state Comptroller Fred O. "Bud" Dickinson, the Tampa Tribune reported today.

J. Edward Houston, the chairman of two Broward County banks and a director of two others chartered by Dickinson, declined Tuesday to say whether he had ever written checks to the comptroller, but acknowledged that federal investigators were interested in his cancelled checks.

Houston was scheduled to appear before the federal grand jury here today along with 100 pounds of his personal records, including cancelled checks dating back to 1969.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Anthony Laspada and Houston were overheard talking in the federal courtroom Tuesday about a particular cancelled check, but the details of their discussion was not known. Both refused to comment.

Dickinson Denies Conflict In Owning Three Motels

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Comptroller Fred O. "Bud" Dickinson says he saw no need to file a conflict of interest statement on his part ownership in three Panama City motels.

"It's a business investment which doesn't have anything to do with my official duties," Dickinson said Tuesday.

Senate President Mallory Horne, Dickinson, said he has been questioned by federal investigators about his business dealings with Dickinson, who is under investigation by a federal grand jury in Tampa.

People See Harris As An Ombudsman

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Referring to the lawmaker's "tigerish antics" in the Gurney affair, D.H. Brown of Vero Beach called for an investigation of Sen. Joseph Montoya, D-N.M.

Brown charged that Montoya "used a string of Washington, D.C. campaign committees in 1970 to launder $100,000 of labor and special interest contributions never reported or acknowledged in his home state. To keep these hidden, Sen. Montoya filed a false affidavit," Brown charged.

Jasper Davis of Laurel Hill urged Harris to investigate Secretary of State Richard Stone, another Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate.

Davis was offended that Stone accused Armand Hammer, Occidental Petroleum Co. board chairman, of helping to negotiate the giant Russian wheat deal in 1972. Stone later apologized.

Another correspondent said Harris should investigate Rep. Lon Fry, R-Fla., because the congressman always gets the endorsement of the Orlando Sentinel.

Harris, however, has informed his correspondents that he won't be able to prosecute their charges of misconduct. He suggested they take whatever information they might have to claim to be the universal ombudsman of political conduct in the state," Harris said.

Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington has directed his agency to use all old stationery and papers that bear the name of former commissioner Floyd Christian.

Askew recently appointed Turlington to the position vacated when Christian resigned. Christian faces trial on 19 counts of bribery, perjury, and conspiracy.

Improved Alarms Seen For Twisters

By FRANK MACCOMBER
The Herald Services

Scientists who can't "manage" the unpredictable and destructive tornado, as the rainmaker can see the clouds. So they are attempting to achieve the next best thing — a tornado detection system aimed at giving people an earlier and more accurate advance warning of an approaching twister.

The Twpervisor-site instrument with its four-antenna array is the latest model of a device evolving since 1971 in NOAA's Environmental Research Laboratories at Boulder, Colo.

Cost of the new hand-built units is about $2,000 each. Installations are to be completed by early May.

William L. Taylor, who heads the NOAA project, says the new design provides a directional indication — which way the twister is heading — as it detects the existence of the electrical "bursts" which occur in tornado-bearing thunderstorms.

The project, he added, takes on new urgency in the wake of the death and injury toll and property damage left in the wake of more than 300 tornadoes which swept through the nation's South and Midwest recently.

Your Vacation May Cost 20 Per Cent More

By CRAIG AMBERMAN
Associated Press Writer

Americans planning a vacation trip this summer should be prepared to pay more, start planning sooner and keep a careful eye on the gas gauge. A nationwide Associated Press survey shows that families are not being scared away from planning summer vacations by high gasoline prices and the memory of winter shortages. But tourism officials say the summer vacationer plans to travel a shorter distance to find his spot in the sun and to stay put longer once he gets there.

A sharp increase in the price of food and energy will hit the vacation traveler hard. Some vacation areas report food and beverage prices up 20 per cent over last year, and federal officials foresee an average nationwide price for gasoline of 60 cents a gallon this summer, up from the current average of 54 cents for regular and 58 cents for premium. Some tourist areas predict it could go as high as 70 cents. Motel and hotel prices are also up in most tourist areas, but not significantly.

The overall effect means you'll pay up to 20 per cent more for the same vacation you took last year.

Many tourist areas suffered declines in business during the winter. But by April most reported business nearly normal again, and some expect a record summer.

The AP survey showed that traveling on Sundays could mean risking running out of gasoline this summer. There will be fewer gasoline stations running ahead of or even with local points of interest. Tourists seeking these deals should check with chambers of commerce, travel agents and tourist bureaus.

Some tourist areas such as Cape Cod, the Poconos, Southern California and the lake areas of Michigan and Wisconsin are running ahead of or even with local points of interest. Tourists seeking these deals should check with chambers of commerce, travel agents and tourist bureaus.

The major concern is the availability of gasoline. Most of these areas said some persons who stayed only three or four days in the past are now making reservations for two weeks. The economic traveler can't be too picky. The AP survey found that in some areas the smaller motels and hotels had the hardest hit by the energy crisis and are less likely to be booked for the summer.

And special deals are available in most areas to tourists seeking them. Some of these offer extra nights in motels free of charge if tourists stay a certain length of time. Others include free rooms for children under 12 and free tickets to local points of interest. Tourists seeking these deals should check with chambers of commerce, travel agents and tourist bureaus.

Some tourist areas—the Berkshires and Finger Lakes in New York are two—are setting up hotlines to dispense gasoline information. The Berkshires Hills Conference is offering to buy dinner on Monday nights for any service station owner who stays open on Sundays.

"It's going to cost money," said John Geary, director of the group. "But hell, that's better than being out of business."

Nearly every state is pushing its own version of the "See Kentucky First" campaign. Registration at the 16 resort state parks in Kentucky is up 15 per cent this year. Officials expect the percentage of their business from state residents to increase from 42 to 56 per cent.

One attempt to capitalize on an expected decline in the number of Americans going to Europe is being made in Chicago by Sun Line Agencies. It is promoting a series of week-long cruises on the Great Lakes to and from Montreal. The cruises, which begin from Montreal May 11, are more than 40 per cent booked through October.

"We definitely think the energy crisis is working to our advantage," said Robert Ugojic, a vacation official in Pennsylvania's Poconos. That advantage is the area's proximity to the New York and Philadelphia metropolitan areas.

Slow Down Inflation Simon's Next Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — Like a busy surgeon rushing from one operation to another, William E. Simon moved today from the energy crisis to the nation's inflation crisis.

Simon was scheduled to be sworn into office as the administration's new secretary of the Treasury, succeeding George P. Shultz, one of the most powerful Treasury secretaries in recent history.

President Nixon planned to attend the ceremony, scheduled for 11:30 a.m. EDT at the East Room in the White House.

Simon, 46, will be his fourth Treasury secretary, after David Kennedy, John B. Connally and George P. Shultz. Simon has been the nation's energy chief since December and will be succeeded in that position by John Sawhill.

A millionaire and former Wall Street bond trader, Simon has made no secret that he considers the nation's 10.8 per cent inflation rate to be his major challenge.

But he has not promised any spectacular new initiatives to deal with rising prices and told senators at his confirmation hearings he opposes a tax cut and wage and price controls as remedies.

He urged a return to economic fundamentals to control inflation, which implies policies that are a little removed from those favored by Shultz and other Nixon economic advisers.

If Simon sticks to his fundamentals plan, Americans can expect him to give major attention to restraining government expenditures and possibly even trying to balance the federal budget.

WILLIAM SIMON

Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn., said after listening to Simon at the confirmation hearings that his policies from the energy crisis to the nation's inflation crisis are "typical old-fashioned, big-banker's approach to the economy."

But Mondale did not oppose Simon and he was confirmed by the Senate without significant opposition.

One potential handicap for Simon is that while the problem of inflation is worse than when Shultz became secretary, he will not have all the economic authority that Shultz had.

Canada Faces Prospect Of July General Election

OTTAWA, Canada (AP) — Canada today faced the prospect of a general election in July as the House of Commons prepared to vote on a motion of no confidence in Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau's minority government.

The motion was introduced by the two main opposition parties.

A crushing blow for Trudeau's Liberal government came during debate Tuesday on the 1974-75 budget when the New Democratic party introduced an amendment strengthening the no-confidence motion introduced by the biggest opposition party, the Conservatives.

It was the New Democrats' first major break with Trudeau, who has retained a tenuous hold on the government for 16 months by using their 31 votes to give him a majority in the 305-seat Commons. Trudeau's Liberals have 182 seats; the Conservatives hold 107.

The vote was expected tonight.

The 54-year-old prime minister expressed doubt that the socialist New Democrats and

Tax Cuts Helping All But The Poor

These days, the question of how high taxes should be is secondary to questions of fairness about the system.

By JAMES S. BYRNE
Tax Analysts and Advocates

Now that you have (hopefully) paid your taxes — and most of your fellow citizens, from the highest to the lowest (hopefully) have paid theirs, you might be wondering what you are really getting for your money? Or what someone else is getting for your money? Or how fair our tax system is? Or how high should taxes really be?

Taxes in the United States — state, local, federal, corporate and personal — totaled $361 billion in 1972. This sounds like a lot, but it is really not a very high rate compared with other industrialized countries. The total tax burden here was 27.8 per cent of our total output. In Sweden, the total was 41 per cent; in West Germany, 34.5 per cent; in France, 35.6 per cent, and in the United Kingdom 35.6 per cent.

Since the U.S. spends by far the most on defense, the national outlay for welfare services is even lower than the percentages would indicate.

The lesson seems clear: Higher taxes are something that a country can have if it wants more of the public goods that taxes buy. Higher taxes in countries like Sweden and West Germany haven't killed economic growth.

But these days, the question of how high taxes should be is secondary to questions of fairness about the system. The emphasis in many minds is on tax reform, rather than revenue increase. And, in order for the Congress to take on reforms, it must first cut taxes to appease (or neutralize) the opposition from those who would suffer from the effects of real reform.

So, the first order of business would seem to be not a tax increase but a tax cut.

The poor — and the very poor — don't pay income taxes at all and the working poor don't pay much income tax.

If the Congress is really concerned about relieving poverty, it would have to look at other things than income tax relief which is, at best, a middle-income benefit.

A serious way to change taxes and relieve the very poor would be to reduce the Social Security tax which falls now on the lowest-income wage earners. A family with only $4,300 of wage income pays no income tax but $250 of Social Security tax.

If we decided to pay for some of the Social Security costs out of the general revenue of government, we could reduce the Social Security tax rate across the board or provide an exemption from Social Security tax for some very low level of wages.

Paying for part of Social Security out of general revenues makes a lot of sense, but my tax Social Security needs to be 100 per cent separately financed will not do it easily.

Without changing the Social Security tax, the only significant way to get more money to the really poor is to forego some tax reduction and use the revenue to improve welfare. It will undoubtedly take an appreciable increase in total welfare money to make possible some type of guaranteed income plan.

The Nixon administration has said it will introduce such a plan this year that would cost $5 billion to $10 billion.

The unanswered question is: How will it be paid?

Other areas expected to get attention from the committee: Single and married persons, estate and gift tax, and the so-called minimum tax.

The committee hopes to produce its general tax reform measure within 60 days. Although some tax measures may have to be dropped as consideration continues, the panel currently hopes to review laws ranging from property tax relief for the elderly to tax treatment of political parties and property contributions to them.

Other items for study include general tax simplification, amortization provisions, various tax shelters, accrued vacation pay, retirement income credit, taxation of single persons and married couples, depletion allowances for minerals, deduction of expenses for resort homes, business use of the home, expenses for attending conventions outside the United States, and cutting Social Security taxes.

The committee plans to get into the minimum tax on preferential income, which is a 10-per-cent levy on such things as special treatment of capital gains, and to the associated problems of tax shelters to reduce tax liability. The panel specifically is expected to examine such areas relating to real estate, natural resources, farm operations, and investment interest.

The minimum tax on tax-preference income, a levy passed in 1969, is a relatively low tax on otherwise sheltered income. Under it, a taxpayer may subtract ordinary taxes paid and $30,000 from this preferential income and then pay a 10-per-cent tax on the rest.

Congress To Change Tax Reform Laws?

WASHINGTON (AP) — After all the talk about tax reform, Congress this year may get around to changing the tax laws.

Although revisions in the tax code are expected to be somewhat limited, some of the dead weight may be trimmed from the tax books and older folks may get a break on April 15.

The House Ways and Means Committee, the panel which originates tax legislation in Congress, is expected to find tough sledding when it comes to rewriting the law on capital gains, estate and gift tax, and the so-called minimum tax.

Citizenry Should Be Wary Of Business Assumptions

NEW YORK (AP) — There are certain automatic phrases and assumptions about which the citizenry should be especially wary and critical, lest they fill their heads with misconceptions and disillusionment.

This has long been so. For two decades Americans referred to "the balance of payments" and took pride in the nation's trading accomplishments, mindless of the fact that it really was an imbalance and the country was bleeding.

Incredibly, you can still be served with the advice that stocks are a hedge against inflation, although it is either a lucky or a brilliant investor who could demonstrate that contention during the past five years.

There are lots more misconceptions. For many months you had the banks encouraging people to chase after daily compounding, suggesting that there was a big advantage over quarterly compounding, when

Producer Of 'Poseidon' Set To Burn A Building

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The man who overturned an ocean liner — and the film industry — now going to set fire to the world's tallest building.

Irwin Allen is the man with the match, and his studio-made disaster begins Wednesday with opening scenes of "The Towering Inferno."

A producer who is prone to hyperbole, he claims these records for the new film: the most expensive cast of all time, the costliest sets in Hollywood history and the first coproduction by two major studios.

Allen is the man who produced "The Poseidon Adventure," which, he reports, has already pulled in $139 million at the world's box offices. Its success prompted film companies to search for other people-in-disaster projects.

That's how "The Towering Inferno" came about.

Allen's home studio, 20th Century-Fox made a bid of $30,000 for an unpublished novel, "The Tower," about a group of celebrities trapped in a burning skyscraper the night before its opening.

Warner Bros. snatched it away with a $40,000 offer.

"Then a miracle happened," Allen related. "Along came another book 'The Glass Inferno,' about the world's tallest building which catches fire during a celebration on the night before its opening. Different writers with different publishers working on different coasts had come up with the same plot. I gulped red hard and told the Fox executives: 'Buy it.' They shelled out $400,000."

Editorial The Children Aren't At Fault

One day we'd like someone in the educational field to explain to us just what they conceive their role to be in the education of children.

Better yet we'd like someone to design some sort of accountability factor covering both administration and faculty for their success or failure in the school room.

Football coaches get new automobiles when their pupils win championships — presumably on the basis that they've proven themselves superior teachers. English and math teachers are all too eager to bask in the reflected glory of their superior students.

But has anyone ever heard anyone — teacher, administrator or school board member — step forward to take the blame for the failure of those students who, after 12 years of school, can barely read or write.

This came to mind the other day when we chanced upon an Associated Press story out of Washington, D.C. quoting a National Center for Health Statistics report that one million U.S. children aged 12 to 17 cannot read even at the fourth-grade level.

No one, so far as we know, has either challenged the validity of the study or stepped forward to accept responsibility for this sorry state of affairs.

We haven't heard a school board member admit to pinching pennies at the expense of the students by the use of outdated textbooks, nor have we heard of a teacher's organization calling for a halt to the profession's incessant demands for more money on the basis that they just aren't doing their jobs.

Yet someone sure as hell is failing, and it can't be just the kids.

The study is particularly depressing in a nation that prides itself on making education compulsory. This isn't some 19th century society when children were pulled out of school in the third grade to work the fields or mine the coal. This is the 20th century, or more accurately it is the 20th century everywhere but in our schools.

The study is also a damning indictment of our society's prejudice against the poor and the blacks. Both are in trouble, and if you are both poor and black, well, you can largely forget it insofar as the public school system is concerned.

You think we are painting with too broad a stroke? Well, consider:

Illiteracy was found to be most prevalent among boys, especially those from low-income families where parents had little or no formal education. For example, 4.7 per cent of white males and 1.7 per cent of white females could not read, compared with 28.3 per cent of black males and 8.6 per cent of black females.

In families with less than $3,000 annual income, 9.8 per cent of white youths and 22.1 per cent of blacks were judged illiterate. But the inability to read dropped a 3.5 per cent and 12.6 per cent, respectively, in the $3,000-4,999 income level, to 4.9 per cent and 4.7 per cent in families earning more than $10,000.

For those whose parents had little or no formal education, 22 per cent of white youths and 39 per cent of blacks could not pass the test. When one parent had finished elementary school, the illiteracy rate fell to 6 per cent for white youths and 18 per cent for blacks.

In other words our educational system seems to be structured much like a Merry-go-Round. If you can't read then the chances are your children won't be able to read and the cycle continues without end.

Things have reached the point where it is time we stopped counting noses and admit that there is something terribly wrong with our whole approach to education. We don't pretend to know the answer, but we must somehow recognize that it exists and is apparently going to get worse.

And along those lines we've had, over a number of years, a series of conversations with exchange students and youngsters from other countries who spend a year living with an American family and attending our schools — and we've been struck time and time again by their observations that classes in their schools at home were much more difficult than in American schools.

That may or may not be significant. But it might provide a jumping off point for a honest look at the culture of education in the United States.

WASHINGTON — Almost every year, not too long after the federal budget is submitted to Congress, someone compiles a list of all the oddball projects that American tax dollars are paying for.

White House Victories Premature

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Celebrations may be premature in the White House and other quarters over the acquittal in New York of former cabinet officers John Mitchell and Maurice Stans on charges related to the Robert Vesco "influence" case.

President Nixon's spokesmen and some analysts here are suggesting that because former White House counsel John Dean, admitted perjurer, was not believed by jurors in New York, it automatically weakens the prosecution's case against Mitchell and John Mitchell. The latter was then preparing to step down as attorney general to become the President's campaign chief.

The plan was drafted by White House efficiency expert Fred Malek, who is now the President's deputy chief of budget officer. His 1973 co-schemers were Haldeman and John Mitchell. The latter was then preparing to step down as attorney general to become the President's campaign chief.

Matters are not that simple.

In the Watergate affair and related undertakings, two blatant crimes were committed: the burglary in June 1972, the Democratic party headquarters and an earlier break-in at the California office of the psychiatrist of Daniel Ellsberg, who leaked the Pentagon papers in 1971.

In the Watergate burglary, trial already has been held and seven men convicted of direct or indirect participation. Trial of others in the Ellsberg break-in begins shortly in California.

The Watergate trials center on these hard events, on what knowledge various White House officials had of them, and if anything they did to them, was what if anything they did to try to cover up the White House connection with these established crimes.

In the Vesco matter, the real core of the case is the government's allegation that investment man Vesco paid $200,000 into Mr. Nixon's 1972 campaign fund in return for a number of favors.

WASHINGTON — A master plan for using the government machinery to win votes for President Nixon in 1974 is laid out in memos which the White House is still trying to suppress.

The memos, stamped for the "Eyes Only" of top Nixon aides, assign former White House chief H. R. Haldeman the job of seeing "that (government) programs are responsive and coordinated with campaign needs."

One memo reveals that "we have already started a number of trials to ensure that the power of the incumbency is used." In plainer language, this meant that the President was using his power over the government to generate votes.

The master plan, at least in part, was put into effect. Grants were given to ethnic groups which supported the President. High-level Nixon aides were ordered to powerful politicians to lure them to the Nixon bandwagon. Government contracts went to the favored. Those who opposed Nixon were squeezed out.

The plan was drafted by White House efficiency expert Fred Malek, who is now the President's deputy chief of budget officer. His 1973 co-schemers were Haldeman and John Mitchell. The latter was then preparing to step down as attorney general to become the President's campaign chief.

Panel OK's State Lobbyist Registration

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A bill requiring state employees to register before every attempt to lobby legislators was approved today by the House Standards and Conduct Committee.

Rep. Curtis Kiser, R-Dunedin, said the bill, CS-HB2375, applies to every state employee except those specifically designated and paid as lobbyists.

"The bill is directed at the abuse of some state agencies holding the halls during the legislative session with state employees on state money," Kiser said.

He said he sponsored the bill because "I frankly got tired of Cabinet officer employees lobbying my bills to death."

State employees who violated the sign-up provision would have their pay docked for the amount of time they spent lobbying, Kiser said.

Meanwhile, Senate President Pro Tem Louis de la Parte said he was dropping a fight over

Bomb Threat Foiled

MIAMI (AP) — Attempted extortion charges have been filed against a part-time insurance salesman who allegedly threatened to blow up the counsel general of Panama here.

The FBI said agents foiled the bomb threat Tuesday with the arrest of Charles L. Shaffer, 36, of Homestead.

He was accused of attempting to extort $250,000 from Counsel General Pablo Luis Manzanera through the threat of violence.

Shaffer was arrested in the lobby of the Pan American Bank Building in Miami as he tried "to consummate the scheme," the FBI said, but declined to comment on whether Shaffer had a bomb when he was apprehended.

Fire Ant State Insect?

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida has a state bird, state flag, state song and now Sen. Alan Trask wants the state to have its own special insect and reptile.

"Most of the public thinks a bug is a bug and should be stepped on," Trask, D-Port Meade, said Tuesday before the Senate Rules Committee approved his bill, SB283, calling for a state insect and reptile.

"All my alligators are for this bill," joked Sen. Warren Henderson, R-Venice, as he voted for the measure and then suggested the love bug be nominated for the insect distinction.

But Sen. Ken Plante, R-Winter Park, suggested the fire ant be named.

Trask said the bill would allow Florida school children in grades three through 12 to vote for the insect and reptile from three nominees selected by a state-appointed panel of scientists.

House Approves 'Truth In Taxation'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A "truth in taxation" bill to limit property tax increases to no more than 10 per cent a year has won the unanimous approval of the Florida House.

The bill, HB4605 by Rep. Carl Ogden, D-Jacksonville, was passed 150-0. The measure was sent to an uncertain fate in the Senate, which has no similar bill.

The 10 per cent ceiling on property tax increases was added by Rep. Arthur Rude, R-Fort Lauderdale, as an amendment favored by Ogden.

House members adopted the Rude amendment, 62-50.

As written by Ogden, the bill was intended to limit property tax increases from year to year by public pressure, not by a ban on the size of increases.

The provision, retained after Rude's amendment, requires county and school board officials to place prominent ads in widely circulated newspapers announcing proposed tax hikes. The actual increase would have to be approved in two votes by the appropriate board.

Reasoning that officials seeking property tax increases to tread gingerly, Ogden said his original bill "will hold taxes to zero."

He attacked Rude's proposal, a direct copy of language removed from Florida law in the late 1960s, as giving local officials permission to raise property taxes 10 per cent every year.

Under the old law, Ogden contended, taxes "went up 10 per cent every year. You will end up mandating a tax increase."

Rude defended his proposal as a guarantee to property owners that their taxes cannot be raised beyond a certain point. The amendment by Rude allows a 10 per cent increase under normal circumstances and provides another 5 per cent in event of emergencies.

Under Ogden's "truth-in-taxation" provision, local officials would have to print notice of proposed tax increases in ads occupying at least a quarter of a newspaper page. The ads would have to be in type at least one-quarter inch high.

Present law requires advertising of tax increases but has no specifics on size.

"In my county when the school board ran the ad I couldn't believe that there was a type that small," Ogden said.

Officials Say State Radio Unmanned When Slain Agent Called For Help

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The state Game and Fish Commission's main radio station was unmanned when game warden Dan B. Crowder Jr. was allegedly gunned down by a poacher, state officials have acknowledged.

The radio station currently operates from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., while wardens are out at night tracking poachers.

And despite year-old recommendations from the state Communications Division, the Natural Resources Department's base radio stations for marine patrol and parks networks also shut down at 5 p.m.

A Game and Fish Commission spokesman, Eugene Wallace, said Tuesday, the main station might have heard Crowder's message clearly but it was doubtful help could have reached him in time.

Crowder, 23, of Jacksonville, was shot with a high-powered rifle Friday night near Mayo. His body was found by a search party Saturday night. Funeral services for Crowder, father of four, were held Tuesday.

Wallace said a call from Crowder was heard by a warden in a neighboring county but the call would have been picked up clearer at the main station.

"I never heard though he heard Crowder say '10' which means out-of-service but the message may have '10-27' which means 'any unit answer please,'" said spokesman Jim Floyd.

Wallace said he doubted any assistance could have been sent in time to help Crowder but "at least it might not have taken 24 hours to find his body."

The network is shut down at night because the commission does not have money for a 24-hour operation, he said.

A study by the state communications division a year ago recommended that the three radio networks of the Game and Fish Commission, the Florida Fresh Water Fish Commission and the Natural Resources Department's Marine Patrol and Parks Service be formed into a single 24-hour network.

All three normally operate only 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The report made three recommendations for joint systems ranging in costs from $1 million to $4.9 million.

Another communications study prompted the Florida Highway Patrol to spend $4 million to improve its communications system over the next four years.

The Game and Fish Water Fish Commission requested $85,000 this year for new radio equipment, but the request was rejected by the Administration Department which said the proposal would not implement the communications division recommendation.

New Law Bans Excess Mobile Park Fees

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Mobile home park owners in Florida will no longer be able to charge excessive entrance fees from mobile home owners.

Gov. Reubin Askew signed into law Tuesday a so-called mobile home owner "bill of rights" which bans fees moving home dealers who steer customers their way.

The present fee-splitting practice "borders on extortion of people living in mobile homes," Rep. Alan Becker, D-Miami, said Tuesday.

With the increase in mobile homes in Florida to an estimated 800,000, they have drawn considerable attention from the 1974 legislature.

Askew signed last week a law requiring the Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles Department to write rules exempting some mobile homes from the state tie-down law.

The House Monday approved a bill, HB3499, which would require one state inspector for every 750 mobile homes in the state to check on their construction.

House Passes Beach, Swamp Protection Bills

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Rep. Jack Shreve, D-Merrill Island, says a bill passed by the House will make it impossible to destroy a waste designated an endangered area even if the state takes a long time to draw up rules to protect it.

The bill, CS-HB3767 passed 91-7, was one of three environmental measures approved Tuesday by the House.

The other two would: —provide state grants for beach erosion control projects and set priorities for efforts to improve the shoreline. The bill, CS-HB2809, was approved 95-3.

—Increase the penalties for water pollution. The bill, CS-HB2131 and 2132, passed 88-7.

Shreve's bill provides that the Cabinet can impose temporary rules while the state is setting up permanent procedures for protection of areas of critical specialized training.

The Cabinet voted last year to accept 375 acres in Gadsden County just west of Tallahassee as a site, but the action brought more protests than the academy would be too remote from population centers.

The bill sets guidelines to "keep anyone from going in and wrecking the area," Shreve said. "It maintains the status quo until everything is put into effect."

The bill on water pollution sets a one year jail term for falsely reporting information required by the state or tampering with a state pollution control monitor.

The beach erosion control bill would require the state to pay up to 75 per cent of costs not paid by the federal to restore damaged beaches.

Appropriations Chairman Marshall Harris, D-Miami, said the exact amount of money available for beach restoration will be determined later.

The bill sets the following beach erosion control priorities: —1974-75, St. Augustine, Deerfield Beach, Indian River, Panama City Beach and Duval County.

—1975-76, Satellite Beach, Vero Beach, Port Everglades, Hollywood, Panama City Beach, Lido Key and Dade County.

Police School Doomed?

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The chairman of a House subcommittee says he will recommend that a proposed central police academy never be built.

Rep. Ralph Haben, D-Palmetto, also said he would recommend that $2.5 million collected for construction of the school be returned to the counties where it was collected.

Haben chaired a subcommittee which held hearings around the state on the proposal to build the central training facility, a subject of controversy since it was proposed four years ago.

The 1969 legislature ordered that a 50-cent surcharge on every traffic fine go toward building a central training facility for policemen, deputy sheriffs and other law enforcement officers.

However, sheriffs, big city police chiefs and others have objected that they could do a better job of giving basic training to their own officers and asked that community colleges around the state give advanced specialized training.

White House Victories Premature

Celebrations may be premature in the White House and other quarters over the acquittal in New York of former cabinet officers John Mitchell and Maurice Stans on charges related to the Robert Vesco "influence" case.

President Nixon's spokesmen and some analysts here are suggesting that because former White House counsel John Dean, admitted perjurer, was not believed by jurors in New York, it automatically weakens the prosecution's case against Mitchell and John Mitchell. The latter was then preparing to step down as attorney general to become the President's campaign chief.

The plan was drafted by White House efficiency expert Fred Malek, who is now the President's deputy chief of budget officer. His 1973 co-schemers were Haldeman and John Mitchell. The latter was then preparing to step down as attorney general to become the President's campaign chief.

Matters are not that simple.

In the Watergate affair and related undertakings, two blatant crimes were committed: the burglary in June 1972, the Democratic party headquarters and an earlier break-in at the California office of the psychiatrist of Daniel Ellsberg, who leaked the Pentagon papers in 1971.

In the Watergate burglary, trial already has been held and seven men convicted of direct or indirect participation. Trial of others in the Ellsberg break-in begins shortly in California.

The Watergate trials center on these hard events, on what knowledge various White House officials had of them, and if anything they did to them, was what if anything they did to try to cover up the White House connection with these established crimes.

In the Vesco matter, the real core of the case is the government's allegation that investment man Vesco paid $200,000 into Mr. Nixon's 1972 campaign fund in return for a number of favors.

Last Inning Raider Risk Backfires To Manatee

By J. RICHARDS
Sports Editor

Now for the payment. The Raiders this morning faced an angry swarm of upset Gulf Coast players, ranked third in the nation in what will be the last game of the week-long baseball festival for the loser.

Gulf Coast fell victim to a fifth inning three-run surge from Miami-Dade North in a 5-2 upset.

Other results in the first day of action were Valencia's 4-0 shutout by Gary Gronowick of Chipola and Miami-Dade South's 8-0 plastering of Hillsborough.

After trailing 1-0 for four innings, the Raiders tied the score on a 3-1 first round win in the double elimination tourney.

But Manatee came back in the top of the ninth inning and scored three runs on a sacrifice bunt by Tom McNeal. However, the Raiders weren't dead — yet.

In the top of the ninth inning, batter Kenny Kerr, who went hitless in the game, drew a walk and then moved to second on rightfielder Terry Jones' only hit of the day, a single through the middle.

With men on first and second, the Raiders' last hitter was coming to bat, Jim Joiner, a hulking left fielder who hefts a .365 bat.

But Joiner, who can hit for power even at Tinker Field, went down swinging for the first out. Catcher Jay Isler came up next, but SJC Coach Jack Pantelias ordered a double steal, which was successful, catching the entire Manatee team off balance and putting the tying run on second with cleanup man Isler still at the plate.

But, the bubble broke when Isler, with two strikes against him, tried a suicide squeeze that popped foul for the third strike and the second out.

"They can second guess me all they want," said Pantelias, who ordered the bunt, "I don't do it by the book. I gamble."

The gamble failed when Wayne Gray, a premier Freshman second sacker hitting .365 grounded out to second base for the last out.

Pantelias defended his strategy to questioning after-game followers: "I felt it was the only way we could score," of the suicide bunt after the double steal.

Chet Bobrowicki, a freshman first baseman who was clubbing at a 400 clip before a leg injury sidelined him late last year, went hitless in three appearances.

Manatee hurler Jackie Smith completely dominated the strong-hitting Raider lineup with just four hits and giving up only two bases on balls after taking nine strikeouts for his 10th win of the year.

after just a few weeks out of state to continue its climb in the state tourney, and overcoming the sheer power and talent of state title favorite and defending champion Gulf Coast.

Boston Execution: Bucks Against Wall

MILWAUKEE (AP) — It was simple execution, and this time it was the Boston Celtics' turn to pull the trigger.

John Havlicek, symbol of the matchless Celtic tradition, poured in 28 points and teamed with Paul Silas to smother Milwaukee's forwards Tuesday night as Boston went down the Bucks 96-87 for a 3-2 lead in the National Basketball Association championship playoffs.

Dave Cowens also hit 28 points, 17 in the second half, while Jo-Jo White sank 18 for the Celtics, who can clinch the best-of-seven series by winning in Boston Friday. A seventh game, if needed, will be here Sunday.

"We dug back deep for this one," said the 34-year-old Havlicek, veteran of six NBA championship teams and 135 playoff games in 11 magnificent seasons with Boston.

"We are a team with a great deal of pride, but not many of the players on this team were on any of those championship teams," Havlicek said. "They always hear about them, though, and now they want to win one for themselves."

The Celtics took permanent command in a third period surge, unleashing their fast break to outscore the Bucks 22-6 and transform their lead from one to 18 points.

The Bucks' defeat destroyed the home court advantage they had earned by winning in Boston Sunday. Moreover, it shattered the widely expected notion that the Bucks, by starting 6-foot-7 reserve forward Mickey Davis at guard, finally had found the matchup combination to neutralize the Celtics' tireless pressure defense.

Davis, who had scored 15 points Sunday and forced Boston out of its trapping defense by taking the 6-3 White to the baseline, barely was a factor this time.

Boston had a five-point lead and control of the tempo when Davis was benched with 4:48 left in the first quarter. He played 29 minutes and scored seven points. His replacement, Jon McGlocklin, played 25 minutes with a painfully torn calf muscle and scored just two points.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar fired in 37 points and Oscar Robertson 23 for the Bucks, but their teammates managed only 27 more combined. Bob Dantridge sank just four of 17 shots under pressure by Havlicek and scored only 10 points. Cornell Warner, Milwaukee's other forward, scored two.

"We didn't do a single thing differently," Celtics' Coach Tom Heinsohn said. "All the adjustments by both teams were made by game three. It's now a matter of execution. There's not much a coach can do."

The Wilbur Wood Show Gives Clue To 1-0 Win

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

Tuesday's episode of "The Wilbur Wood Show" was a mixture of drama and suspense with a surprise happy ending. It won't challenge many programs from top ratings on the Nielsen charts, but Wood doesn't seem to mind.

A videotape machine the Chicago White Sox purchased before spring training this season has helped Wood come back from a weak start. By reviewing tapes of his performances as a critic would a weekly show, Wood conquered a flaw in his style and conquered the Detroit Tigers 1-0 in 11 innings Tuesday night.

In other American League games, the Minnesota Twins blanked the Milwaukee Brewers 3-0; the New York Yankees trimmed the Texas Rangers 4-3 in 12 innings; the Cleveland In-

Nets' Title Hopes: Three To Win One

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The New York Nets have established a pattern which, if continued tonight, will bring them the first sweep of the championship tournament series in the young history of the American Basketball Association.

"We have played the first game with plenty to spare, the second one closer and the third one very close," says Coach Kevin Loughery. "The fourth has been cut out—so far."

Loughery sees the start of a Nets' dynasty in the ABA.

"I never really thought about a sweep," he said, "but we'd like to sweep now and we are playing at our best..."

Brian Taylor sank a three-point goal at the buzzer to force Monday's game into overtime. The Nets, led by Dr. J. Julius Erving, can end it tonight in the Salt Palace.

But the Stars are not ready to give up. "We can win it and it will be playing hard," declared 32-year-old Zelmo Beaty, Utah's center who missed the first two games of the series.

"But I have to be realistic and say it will be a heck of a come-back if we do win it all."

Good Arm, But No Throw

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

Tom Griffin and Fred Norman were brilliant while pitching to the plate Tuesday night but their throwing to other bases left something to be desired.

Griffin lurled a one-hitter—Willie Stargell hit a second-inning single—but his Houston Astro teammates made up for his throwing error by rallying to edge the Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1.

Norman wasn't so lucky, although he allowed only six hits and struck out 13, most by a Cincinnati pitcher in six years.

Hialeah Has One More Chance

MIAMI (AP) — Hialeah has succeeded in regaining the prime tourist-season thoroughbred racing dates, but apparently faces a shaky future unless it does well in its 50th anniversary season in 1975.

In a light 3-2 vote, Florida's Board of Business Regulation decided Tuesday to let Hialeah return from Jan. 17 to March 4 and drop Gulfstream back to the March 5 to April 19 dates.

Tropical at Calder, which made a bid for the prime dates, was returned to the fall with Calder scheduled for the summer.

Canada Thaw Late

OTTAWA (AP) — The Toronto Northerners are headed for Memphis regardless of proposed modifications in legislation before the Canadian Parliament, team owner John Bassett reiterated Tuesday.

Canadian Health Minister Marc Lalonde said Tuesday he was considering amending his bill to ban American football teams from Canada, but Bassett said that would have no effect on his decision to transfer the World Football League team.

"It is too late," Bassett said. "We've already gone to Memphis and gotten a lease there."

Trainer Doubles

BOSTON (AP) — Frank Challant, head trainer of the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association, has been named to a similar post with the Boston Lobsters of the World Team Tennis league.

Challant will continue as trainer of the Celtics, currently battling the Milwaukee Bucks for the NBA championship. He will be assisted with the Lobsters by William J. Riley, head trainer at Lowell Tech.

ATLANTA (AP) — A new corporation has been formed to maintain control of the Atlanta Hawks of the National Basketball Association.

John Wilcox, president of the Omni Group which also owns the Atlanta Flames of the National Hockey League, confirmed Tuesday that he and Atlanta developer Tom Cousins are the remaining two original owners in the nine-member group.

By amendment to their charter filed in Superior Court, the Hawks changed the name of the corporation from Atlanta Hawks Basketball Inc. to Magnolia Associates Inc.

The change resulted from a proposal last month seeking additional investment in the basketball team.

Billie Jean's Magazine Features Sports Women

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — "No centerfolds, thank you," promises Rosalie Wright, editor of an ambitious new magazine called WomenSports.

The first issue of the publication, part of Billie Jean King's growing business empire, will be on newsstands this month. An all-female editorial staff is aiming its efforts mostly at women who want to read about women.

"Someone sent me an article about mountain climbing, telling how it was a great way to meet guys. I sent it right back and told them to send it to 'Cosmopolitan.' It wasn't for us," Ms. Wright said.

The magazine backed by Ms. King—champion of women's rights as well as tennis—is sure to take some swings at the sport world's male chauvinist pigs.

But almost all the articles in the first issue are by male writers. A man will be the author each month of a guest column called "In a Pig's Eye." Editor Wright explained: "The column will be for humor—not sexual humor, just humor."

WomenSports' first issue stories include profiles of race car driver Glenn Scales, a Boston society woman best known for her all-round athletic ability. There is also an article entitled, "They Told You You Couldn't Compete with Men and You, Like a Fool, Believed Them."

The article, by Dr. Jack H. Wilmore of the American College of Sports Medicine, claims: "Learning that she shouldn't be athletic is what makes the female inferior—not the other way around."

"What will be WomenSports' party line?"

The magazine will tell women

Rob Ashby In Second At State Golf

MIRROR LAKES COUNTRY CLUB, LEHIGH ACRES — Seminole Junior College golfer Rob Ashby of Sanford led two strokes away from the lead of the state junior college golf tournament near Fort Lauderdale after three rounds, but the rest of the team is way back in the field.

Ashby, who trails Brevard Junior College's John Adams by two strokes in two over par, came up with a two over 74 Tuesday to couple with his first-round 75 to move into sole possession of second place.

Three other golfers are at 220, but if the local collegian can make today's score stick he stands a chance of earning the right to play in the national tournament at Mirror Lakes this summer.

Ashby, who trails Brevard Junior College's John Adams by two strokes in two over par, came up with a two over 74 Tuesday to couple with his first-round 75 to move into sole possession of second place.

Orr's Slap Shot Stops Flyers In Opener, 3-2

BOSTON (AP) — The Philadelphia Flyers figure they won everything except the game against the Boston Bruins in the opener of their showdown for the National Hockey League's coveted Stanley Cup.

Now all the Flyers have to do is figure out a way to change their luck on Boston Garden ice, preferably by Thursday night's second game of the best-of-seven championship series.

Philadelphia spotted the Bruins a 2-0 first-period lead, came back to tie and appeared to be stronger in the third period of Tuesday night's opener.

Then, just after the public address announcer sounded, "One minute to play in the period, one minute," the Flyers missed a golden opportunity to score. The puck slid across an open Boston goal and defenseman Bobby Orr set on it.

Broadway Community College led the tourney with an 87 score after 54 holes, with Brevard and Miami-Dade South at 92 and 204 respectively.

In fourth is Valencia Community College, Division II champion, and Seminole in 12th place after taking second to Valencia at the divisional tournament.

Home Town Boys Favorites At Houston Golf Tourney

HOUSTON (AP) — A couple of home town favorites are missing from the 14-man Blues and John Mahaffey rank high among the list of favorites in the $150,000 Houston Open Golf Tournament.

The 72-hole event gets underway Thursday on a beautifully conditioned, 6,905-yard, par 72 Quail Valley Golf Club course with a slim field of the famous going after a trimmed-down purse.

This tournament offered $205,000 in total prizes last year, one of the richest on the tour. But it failed to attract the glamour names and—very unusually in this area of skyrocketing purses—the sponsors cut back on the money this season.

Most of the great names still are missing from the 14-man field that includes 51 qualifiers.

The Houston event immediately precedes next week's Colonial National—the first of the newly designated tournaments in which leading players must compete. Many of the game's top attractions are taking off this week to rest and attend to business commitments.

Johnny Miller is in Japan on business. Jack Nicklaus and Tom Weiskopf are fishing in Mexico. Gary Player is at home in South Africa. Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper, Lee Trevino and Buddy Allin, winner of last week's Byron Nelson Classic, are taking time off.

Even with those absences, the Texas-dominated field—one quarter of the players is in this state—includes five men who have won tour titles this year, along with defending champion

Relax, Relax, Deep Sleep; Hypnotism Will Help You

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — As if Penn State's football team doesn't give opponents enough trouble, the Nittany Lions have a potential secret weapon lurking on campus—hypnotism.

Dr. G. Thomas Tait, assistant professor of health and physical education, said Tuesday he has successfully used hypnotism to help increase athletes' self-confidence.

The Lions have not tapped Dr. Tait's talents and they are not likely to, since the NCAA frowns on hypnotism, he says. Not that the players should have any reason to lack confidence in their performance on the field. Over the past seven years Penn State has rolled up a 78-1 record and ranked in The Associated Press Top Ten six times.

But if Coach Joe Paterno has any haggards lurking on his squad, Dr. Tait says hypnotism could help them play up to their abilities.

"It can also be used for those players who perform well in practice but who freeze or choke up during competition," he said.

He emphasized that hypnotism can help the most in sports that require many psychological factors—sports like baseball, basketball, and football. He said these sports require complex co-ordination, which is not likely to be affected by hypnosis.

"Most people view hypnotism in sports very negatively," Dr. Tait said. "Many major sports conferences and athletic associations, including the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Olympic Committee, have hypnotism on the same taboo lists as certain drugs."

He admits that hypnotism can be misused in sports by allowing an athlete to participate under hypnosis, or using it to ward off fatigue.

But hypnotism is a tremendous, positive, powerful force, if used correctly," Dr. Tait said.

Cougars Finally Find A 'Home'

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cougars' home games in World Hockey Association finals next week against Houston will be played in Twin Ice Arena, a Mount Prospect rink where they hosted Toronto in the semifinals.

The arena has a seating capacity of only 3,000.

The Cougars had hoped to use the International Amphitheatre

Glenn, Wallace Win Off-Year Elections

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF AP Political Writer
Former astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. won the Democratic nomination for senator from Ohio on his third try and Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace won renomination for an unprecedented third term on the first try Tuesday of the 1974 primary season.

The 52-year-old Glenn, who 12 years ago became the first American to orbit the earth, showed surprising strength in Ohio's urban areas to end the brief Senate tenure of Howard M. Metzenbaum, appointed last December when Republican William B. Saxton resigned to become attorney general.

Whether he could surpass the 50 per cent needed to win the Democratic nomination without a June 4 runoff. Former Rep. Nick Galifianakis ran second. State Rep. William E. Steves, a furniture manufacturer and brother-in-law of Rep. James Brody, R-N.C., won the GOP primary.

U.S. Aid To S. Vietnam Expires

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has spent all of its allotted military aid money for South Vietnam, forcing revision or cancellation of some munitions contracts and a likely suspension of U.S. military help for the Saigon government for the next two months.

Pentagon sources indicated American shipments to Saigon probably would be held up through the end of the fiscal year to remain in compliance with the Senate cutoff.

Though Warren indicated attempts may be made again to raise the aid ceiling, Pentagon sources said no attempt would be made to influence a conference committee of House and Senate members who might consider it again.

"After looking all through the perjury accusations, the rest was easy. We figured there couldn't be any conspiracy if there was no perjury. We didn't think we could find these men guilty on what we were shown."

"I guess I could be considered old-fashioned but, really, it's Biblical. If we say we are going to live by the guidelines the Bible sets down, then the wife must follow the husband."

"I have rules. Before we go on stage they can't drink, except maybe for one to loosen them up. I don't care if they get smashed afterward. Nobody comes in the dressing room before we go on. And the night before a gig, I try to make sure they're in their rooms to get enough sleep. They're pretty good that way, though."

"The hostess will demonstrate and comment on dressing up and dressing down basic fashions with accessories and accents."

Moscow Seeks To Influence Third World Countries

By EDWARD NEILAN
The Herald Services

WASHINGTON—Foreign aid has been the main instrument employed by the Soviet Union for pushing its interests in the third world for a score of years. Throughout these years, Moscow's objectives in foreign aid—actually almost all of the Soviet "aid" outlays must be repaid—have remained basically the same:

—To diminish Western—read it United States—influence and promote its own.

—To head off the Chinese challenge to Soviet leadership of national liberation movements.

—To convince third world nations that socialism (communism) holds the answer to their economic development problems.

These political and ideological motivations remain the main factors for Moscow's aid programs, but economic considerations apparently are increasing in importance.

For example, several recent aid agreements have been designed to increase imports of fuels, raw materials and consumer goods and to generate markets for Soviet-manufactured goods and equipment.

Since 1964, the Soviet Union has offered $16.7 billion of economic and military aid to third world, or less-developed, countries. The figure splits fairly evenly between economic and military aid and applies only to non-Communist nations.

expanding its influence in the third world. Soviet literature frequently refers to development of international specialization of labor and techniques in Socialist countries and less-developed nations.

D. Cherkov, a Soviet economist, recently outlined the program whereby Soviet-built plants in countries such as India are supplying goods geared to the Soviet market.

The Russians have worked long and diligently with India in this respect, but with mixed results.

A Moscow proposal that New Delhi link its next five-year plan hand-in-glove with the Soviet economy was viewed with some suspicion by a majority of Indian Parliament members.

But, as Tansky and other experts have noted, economic returns are not the major concern in Moscow's policy considerations for the near future.

Specialists at the U.S. State Department and the Agency for International Development (AID) see an increase in this pattern of manufacturing of goods by third world nations in Soviet-built plants for eventual consumption in the Soviet Union.

Some American businessmen have said this Soviet design is nothing more than the Communist version of the capitalist West's search for lower labor costs—such as U. S. reliance on low-cost Asian labor for textile production. The Soviet Union has extended about $2.2 billion in economic aid to 44 less-developed nations since 1964. Soviet aid has tended to have a large industrial content and this emphasis has increased in recent years.

It is estimated that as much as 65 per cent of Soviet aid is now being channeled into industrial projects compared to about 50 per cent during the 1960s. American foreign aid, in contrast, has tended to be heavy on agricultural products, especially during the 1960s.

About $1.7 billion, or more than 20 per cent of the Soviet aid, has been committed for the construction of steel plants.

Sending technicians to foreign countries to instruct in operation of new plants has been another important part of Soviet aid. In 1955, the Soviet Union had about 400 technicians abroad in non-Communist nations. In 1968, the total had jumped to 1,600 and in 1962 to 4,700. At present, the total is believed to be around 10,000 to 12,000. Costs for these technicians come out of the outlay and usually comprise about 15 to 20 per cent of a given project.

This means that Soviet technical assistance in the past was more costly than Chinese or even American technical assistance which, until recently, was largely grant aid. Moscow, in addition to training technicians on the spot or in Soviet-built centers in the host country, also invites local personnel for training in the USSR. This type of training is mainly one-year tours at industrial facilities although in some cases the training lasts as long as three years. About 20,000 technical students from less-developed nations have gone to the Soviet Union plus nearly 40,000 academic students.

15 Haitians Drown, 32 Caught

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — At least 15 Haitian refugees drowned after jumping from their sailboat into treacherous waters in an apparent attempt to escape Bahamian police officers said.

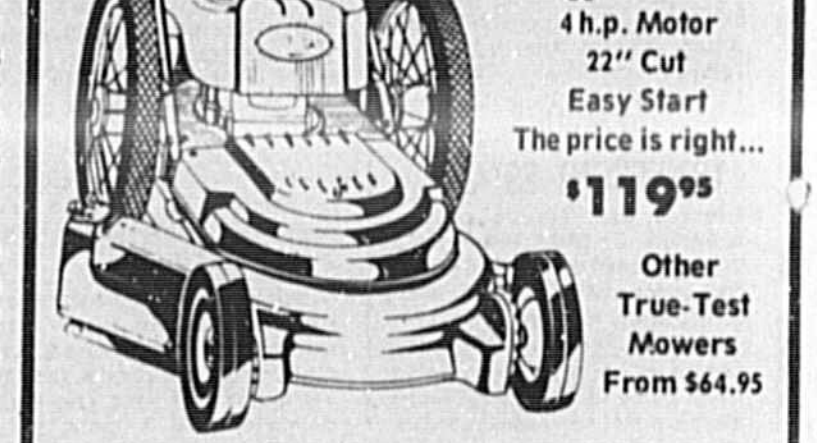

Another 32 Haitians were arrested and their 50-foot wooden sloop was seized as they tried to enter the Bahamas illegally Tuesday, police sources said.

"We're still searching for more bodies. We hope there aren't any more but there well may be," a police spokesman said. One witness said the boat may have held 50 people.

Accounts of the drownings differed. Witnesses told police that the Haitians panicked and jumped overboard when a Bahamian patrol boat approached the sloop near Nassau.

But other sources said the sloop struck a reef in the early morning darkness and the men jumped overboard to try to swim to safety. They said the police boat did not reach the scene until two hours later.

WORLD TODAY

W. German Coalition

BONN, West Germany (AP) — The two parties in West Germany's coalition government are meeting today to discuss a new cabinet lineup amid speculation about untold reasons for Chancellor Willy Brandt's resignation.

Foreign Minister Walter Scheel, heading the caretaker government left by Brandt's resignation Monday, called his Free Democratic party, the junior member of the coalition, into a separate caucus.

The two parties were agreed on Schmidt's nomination, and his election May 16 by the Bundestag, the lower house of parliament, was considered a certainty. The two parties hold 271 of the 496 Bundestag seats, a majority of 46.

In a televised interview, Schmidt termed the demand of the conservative Christian Democratic party for new elections "completely absurd." He declared that the coalition remains fully able to govern.

Summer Jobs Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is making available $91.4 million to help communities arrange summer jobs for 700,000 economically disadvantaged youths.

"We want to get this money out to prime sponsors right away so they can set up jobs for young people who'll soon be ready for work because of early school closings," Secretary of Labor Peter J. Brennan said Tuesday.

The money is part of $300 million earmarked by the administration for the job program, designed to subsidize jobs for teen-agers over a nine-week period this summer.

Kissinger To Damascus

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger shuttles back to Damascus today with a new Israeli offer.

The proposal: Israel would return two small pieces of territory captured from Syria in 1967 in exchange for a strong buffer zone and significant limitation of Syrian and Israeli arms along the Golan Heights.

As it had said previously, Israel also would withdraw from the 300-square-mile bulge it captured at the northern end of the Golan Heights in the October war, Israeli sources said.

State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said the new Israeli proposals were "a basis of discussions" and not a final, fixed, precise position on all of the elements on the Israeli side.

Other informants said Kissinger's negotiations for a Syrian-Israeli disengagement agreement were still at a deadlock and the next 48 hours would be critical.

One of the pieces of territory involved in the offer was about 90 per cent of Kuneitra, the abandoned Syrian provincial capital, which is half a mile inside the Israeli side of the 1967 cease-fire line. But the Syrians are demanding all of Kuneitra.

Stuffed Chops Suit The Season

By AILEEN CLAIRE
The Herald Staff

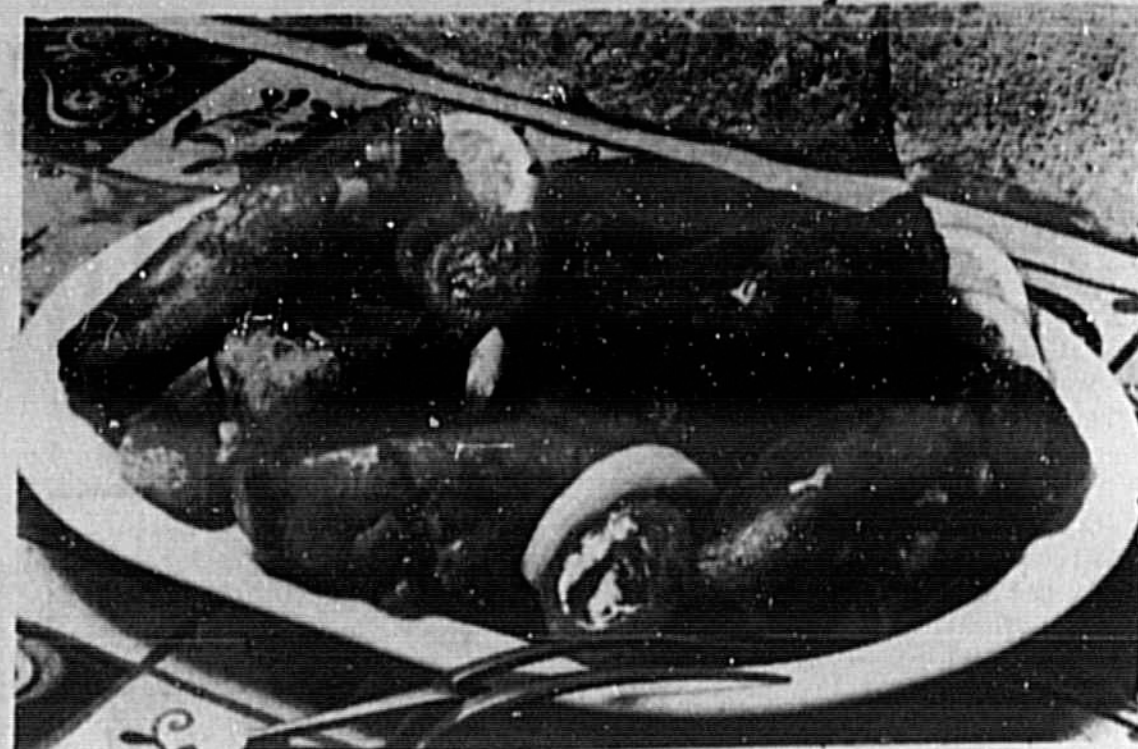

Stuffed pork chops are impressive and prove a thoroughly pleasing main course at this time of year. As the weather improves, most persons are lured into some form of outdoor activity such as gardening, golf and tennis. An evening meal served outdoors is especially relaxing, especially when it features thick pork chops stuffed with an apricot-corn bread mixture and served with an apricot sauce.

APRICOT STUFFED PORK CHOP
1-3 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped onion
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1-3 cup diced dried California apricots
1 cup corn bread stuffing mix (from 8-ounce package)
6 rib pork chops, 1-inch thick,

with pockets
1 can (12-ounces) apricot nectar (1-1/2 cups)
1/4 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1/4 cup dried California apricot halves
2 tablespoons corn starch
1 tablespoon sugar
To prepare stuffing for pork chops, saute celery and onion in 2 tablespoons of butter until crisp-tender. Stir in 1-3 cup diced apricots, 1/4 cup water and stuffing mix; toss lightly. Stuff pork chops with mixture. If desired, secure pockets with small skewers or thread. Brown pork chops in remaining 2 tablespoons butter in large skillet. To skillet, add apricot nectar, lemon juice and 1/4 cup water. Sprinkle in salt and pepper. Bring mixture to a boil; reduce heat. Cover and simmer 30 minutes. Add 1/2 cup dried apricots to skillet. Cover and simmer about 15 minutes longer, or until chops are tender. Place chops and apricots on serving platter; garnish with lemon slices. Skim fat from sauce. Combine 2 tablespoons water and the corn starch; pour into sauce, stirring constantly. Add sugar to taste, about 1 tablespoon. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Cook until slightly thickened. Pour sauce in small serving bowl. Serve with pork chops. Makes 6 servings.

DELICIOUS PORK CHOP TREAT

Southern Recipes Offer Delights

By SHIRLEY GALLINA
The Herald Staff
LOS ANGELES—"Oh, wow!" exclaimed Susan Dietrich, 12, as she opened the refrigerator door to get a glass of milk after school.
The delighted exclamation burst forth when she caught sight of her mother's, John Marshall Cream Pie chilling in the fridge.
The pie is one of Mrs. Cliff Dietrich's southern recipes she cooks so well.
"The recipe is an adaptation of a pie served at the famous John Marshall Hotel in Richmond (Va.)," Mrs. Dietrich says.

"The hotel's recipe is a closely guarded secret, but this one is very good, but this one is very close in both texture and taste."
To taste the pie is an experience. It's as light as a cloud, with melt-in-the-mouth goodness. It's delicate sweetness is tempered with the contrast of the grated unsweetened chocolate sprinkled over the top.
Mrs. Dietrich and her husband were born and raised in Newport News, Va. They came to California about 20 years ago, and have lived in nearby Manhattan Beach for the past seven years.

Parents of six children, only their daughters, Susan, Nancy, 11, and Anne, 7, are still at home. The Dietrichs also have two grandchildren.
"One of my favorites for a Saturday night dinner is Brunswick Stew, made with chicken, not beef.
"It's very simple to make, but everyone seems to enjoy it."
Following are two of Mrs. Dietrich's recipes.

BRUNSWICK STEW
2 whole chickens, 2 1/2 lbs. each
Salt to taste
4 (10 1/2 oz. pkgs.) frozen baby lima beans
4 (10 1/2 oz.) pkgs. frozen corn
2 (1 lb.) cans tomatoes
3 quarts water
6 pieces bread
Bring whole chickens to a boil in water. Lower heat, cover and cook about one hour. Remove skin and bones from chickens, cut in serving pieces.
Bring chicken broth to a boil; add lima beans and corn. Cover and cook 10 minutes. Add chicken pieces and tomatoes with juice. Thicken with six pieces of crumbled bread. Simmer for 1/2 hour.

Serves eight to 10
Serve with freshly baked cornbread.
JOHN MARSHALL CREAM PIE
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
2 cups milk, scalded
4 eggs
1/2 cup sugar
2 tps. vanilla
1/2 pint whipping cream
1 (1 oz.) square unsweetened chocolate, finely grated

1 (10-inch) pie shell, baked
Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup water. Separate eggs, combine yolks with sugar. Slowly add scalded milk. Cook over low heat until custard coats spoon. Cool custard and add vanilla.
Beat egg whites until stiff. Beat whipping cream until stiff. Fold both egg whites and cream gently into custard. Pour into baked pie shell.
Sprinkle with finely grated chocolate to cover top of pie. Chill in refrigerator at least 4 hours. Or may be chilled overnight.

Conch Cookery Highlights Key West Cuisine

The Herald Services
KEY WEST, Fla. — (NEA) — This spiny bone of an island blessed by the caressing Trade Winds is a pleasing anomaly these days, not yet overrun by vacation-site collectors.
 Key West is the southernmost settlement in the continental United States, bordered by the northern Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic. It is a paradise for fish and seafood lovers — an estimated 20-million pounds of food fish, crabs, lobsters, shrimp and sea turtles marketed annually help explain the outlook of those who were born and grew up here.
 History cuts as deeply into the core of the 3½-mile long by one-mile wide strip. "Key" is derived from the Spanish "cayo," or small island, and the Spanish explorers who found human bones there called it Cayo Hueso, or island of bones. Today, the bones and shells are those of seafood delicacies and other animals such as pigs, for example, which go into native recipes that make little small "conches" — natives of Key West — were English sailing captains who settled the Keys in the early 1800s. Their original recipes which they brought from England were blended with the lush foods they found growing in southern Florida. During the Cuban revolution of 1898, Cubans fleeing their strife-torn homeland added their own specialties to the island cuisine.

The true cuisine of Key West, according to Pamela Hanlon who works for National Airlines and discovered the foods of the area while on a busman's holiday, is referred to as "conch cookery."

 Even today the casual visitor will find a variety of interesting food combinations such as guava and ribs, black beans and rice with port wine, pork roast marinated with sour orange, and the tantalizing, diet-destructive Key lime pie. Also popular are the bollos, pronounced "bo-yahs," black-eyed pea fritters. These are sold hot — by the dozen or half-dozen — in brown paper bags and are at their best when eaten with buchitos, a thick, sweet Cuban coffee.

 The conch — from which the settlers acquired their name — is a sea snail that makes a delightful salad, spicy chowder or is good broiled. It is known throughout the Caribbean but many American travelers hesitate to try this special, inexpensive island food.
 Other favorites which Key West cooks proudly share are picadillo, ropa vieja and Cuban bread. For those planning a vacation trip, keep Key West in mind. Life here is about a millenium slower than that in Miami Beach and a pleasant day may include a visit to the rambling Spanish house of the late Ernest Hemingway, now a museum.
 Some of the native recipes used here were published in Patricia's Notebook (Florida Keys Cooking), 1946. They are as delicious as ever.
KEY LIME PIE
 4 eggs
 1 can condensed milk
 ½ cup fresh lime juice
 Break eggs in bowl and beat lightly. Add condensed milk and beat until well blended. Add lime juice slowly, mixing well. Custard will thicken as you add lime juice. Pour into baked pie shell and top with meringue. Bake in 325-degree oven until lightly browned.
Meringue:
 Beat white of 2 eggs until stiff. Add 3 teaspoons sugar and ½ teaspoon baking powder, beating constantly. Put on custard and brown.
BOLLOS
 ½ pound black-eyed peas
 2 cloves garlic
 1 bird pepper or other small red hot pepper
 In a bowl, soak ½ pound black-eyed peas in enough water to cover them by 2 inches overnight. Drain the peas and rub handfuls of them between paper towels to remove the husks. Put the peas twice through the fine blade of a food chopper with 2 garlic cloves and bird pepper. Put the mixture in a heavy saucepan and cook it over low heat, stirring constantly, adding water if it seems too dry, for 15 to 20 minutes or until it is creamy. Season the mixture with salt to taste.

 Drop the mixture by teaspoons into hot fat (375 degrees) and fry until fritters are golden. Drain them on paper towels and sprinkle them with salt. Serve the fritters hot as an hors d'oeuvre.
ORANGE MARINATED PORK
 6 oranges
 1½ Key limes, or 1 Persian lime and ½ lemon
 1 onion
 1 bay leaf
 ½ teaspoon oregano
 2 or 3 garlic cloves
 2 pound pork roast
 Salt, pepper
 In a large ceramic dish, combine the juice of 6 oranges with the juice of 1½ Key limes and the juice of 1 Persian lime and ½ lemon. # A Trifle Can Be Really Delectable

JELLY TRIFLE

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor
 One of the best of modern British food writers has this to say about that famous English dessert, Trifle: "The word 'trifle' conjures up a hideous picture of stale cake flavored with rum extract and covered with packaged custard. It need be no such thing."
 With which we totally agree. The latest trifle made at our house, and one that guests acclaimed, is a delightful combination of ladyfingers spread with raspberry jelly, sherry, whipped cream folded into homemade vanilla pudding and almonds. Note that we call for raspberry jelly. It is seedless, widely available in supermarkets and has superb fresh-fruit flavor.
 We feel no trepidation in offering this latest recipe because there have been many versions of Trifle over the years. In the 19th-century "revised, corrected and greatly enlarged" cookbook by Mrs. Isabella Bee-ton, great English culinary writer, there are four recipes for Trifle. In my 1960 edition of Mrs. Beeton, there are also a dozen.

JELLY TRIFLE
 Vanilla Pudding, see below
 3-ounce package (12 double) or 12 single homemade ladyfingers
 ¼ cup raspberry jelly
 1-3rd cup sweet sherry
 ½ cup heavy cream
 ½ cup slivered toasted almonds
 Prepare the Vanilla Pudding. If ladyfingers are packaged, separate them and spread each half with 1 teaspoon of the raspberry jelly and reassemble. If ladyfingers are homemade, cut each in half lengthwise and spread each half with 1 teaspoon of the raspberry jelly and sandwich together. Sprinkle top side of ladyfingers with a little of the sherry; arrange around the sides of a round 1 to 1½-quart serving dish — preferably straight-sided and glass.
 Sprinkle remaining sherry over ladyfingers.
 In a small mixing bowl beat cream until it holds soft peaks; fold into Vanilla Pudding; turn into ladyfinger-lined dish. Cover with plastic wrap, chill until serving time. Just before serving, sprinkle with almonds. Makes 6 to 8 servings.
VANILLA PUDDING
 ¼ cup sugar
 3 tablespoons cornstarch
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 2 cups milk
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
 2 teaspoons vanilla
 In a 1½-quart saucepan, thoroughly stir together the sugar, cornstarch and salt. Gradually stir in milk, keeping smooth. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and boiling; boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Add butter and vanilla; stir gently to combine. Cover tightly with plastic wrap and chill. Makes 2 cups.

More Junk From Mailman

By JANE GLENN HAAS
 The Herald Services
To: Postmaster General
 Washington, D.C.
 Dear Sir: This is to acknowledge receipt of your latest junk mailing, re: purchase of stamps via home delivery.
 We are taking the matter under advisement and will inform you of our decision upon prompt reply to the following queries:
 1. What was the cost of printing this rather shabby junk job?
 While we appreciate your restraint in terms of paper and typesetting, we are concerned that perhaps the two-cent increase in postal rates has gone to your head. Certainly the additional revenue can be used for something other than another piece of junk mail.
 2. Have you considered the paper shortage? Taster glue on the backs of those 10-cent stamps might have been a better investment. A glue stamp and paste them, willy-nilly, in trading stamp books, last year's valentines and on closed doors.
 Stamps posted from teddy bears and glued down with Elmer's are bound to be bumpy. Can your canceling machines handle bumpy stamps?
 3. While commending your efforts to assist us in saving energy through home delivery of stamps, we hasten, on tired tooties, to ask you to forebear. The excellence of your letter carrier's reading ability has made jogging in our neighborhood a nightly occurrence.
 Indeed, were it not for your letter carrier, I would not have met half my neighbors so quickly as I redelivered mail throughout the subdivision.
 Frugal housewives across the country are bound to order 1,000 stamps at this

France Loves Cheese

By TOM HOGE
 AP Newsfeatures Writer
 Winston Churchill is said to have muttered during one of France's political upheavals that "it must be difficult to agree on a government in a nation that makes more than 300 kinds of cheese."
 Be that as it may, the French agreed long ago on one thing: the art of making good cheese.
 I have never seen anywhere the total number of cheeses the French are supposed to make, but I'm told there are more than 100 varieties available in cheese shops and specialty stores in the United States alone, from soft-ripened Brie to sturdy Pont l'Évêque.
 Centuries ago, some of France's monasteries made a name for themselves as cheese makers. About 100 years back, the Trappist monks, for instance, experimented with bacteria and came up with a creamy creation known as Port du Salut, the name of the region where their abbey was located.
 There are far older French cheeses, such as Gruyere, with its delicate, slightly nutty flavor, which was first made in 1288. Or the piquant Cantal, said to be the oldest cheese in France. This is one of the relatively few hard cheeses that the French go in for.
 But my favorite of them all is Port du Salut, and my favorite cheese dish is Quiche Lorraine, that cheese and onion pie which can be served as both an appetizer or a main course for luncheon.
 Quiche was originally made from bread dough like the Italian pizza, but later it was replaced by pastry. And like pizza today, there is a wide range of Quiche fillings, from the traditional bacon, cream and eggs to calorie-crammed desserts filled with rich custards laced with cognac and topped with whipped cream and fruit.
 Here is a slightly different version of the cheese and onion quiche, with ham substituted for bacon.
 1 package standard pie crust mix
 1 egg slightly beaten
 4 oz. Port du Salut shredded
 1 tablespoon chopped onion
 ½ cup diced, smoked, cooked ham
 2 egg yolks
 1 additional whole egg
 ½ teaspoon salt
 ½ teaspoon dry mustard
 1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
 Dash cayenne pepper
 1½ cups scalded light cream
 Prepare pie crust mix according to package directions, substituting 1 whole egg and enough water for amount of liquid specified. Use pastry to line bottom and sides of ungreased 9-inch pan, fluting a high edge. With fork, prick sides and bottom of pie shell, and chill half an hour. Bake in 425-degree oven 15 minutes. Remove and reduce heat to 350 degrees. Combine cheese, onion and ham and sprinkle over bottom of shell. Combine egg yolks and additional whole egg, salt, mustards and cayenne. Beat till blended and beat in scalded cream. Pour over cheese mix. Bake 40-45 minutes or till knife inserted in center of pie comes out clean. Serve hot. Good with a chilled pale wine.

Menu Stars Patriotic Kabobs

By ALLEEN CLAIRE
 The Herald Services

Memorial Day is upon us and soon there will be the Fourth of July. It's time to plan that big cookout, the one that takes little work but offers great pleasure to the participants. Top off a holiday with Patriotic Pork Kabobs, with tomato, onion, potato trimmings, All-American Ice Cream, Memorial Day Flag Cake and a Holiday Weekend Beverage for all.

PATRIOTIC PORK KABOBS

1 (3 pound) boneless pork loin cooked and cut into 1 inch cubes
 3 apples, cut into wedges
 6 apricots, halved and seeded
 3 green bananas, cut into 1 1/2 inch pieces
 1 jar (19 ounces) concord grape jam
 2 tablespoons honey
 1/4 teaspoon curry powder
 1/4 teaspoon ground ginger

Arrange pork, apples, apricots and bananas on skewers. In a small saucepan, combine concord grape jam, honey, curry and ginger. Heat, stirring, until jam is melted. Grill kabobs 3 to 5-inches from heat, basting with grape sauce. Turn and baste several times, until meat and fruit are thoroughly heated. Serve with currant rice. Makes about 6 kabobs.

MEMORIAL DAY FLAG CAKE

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 8 eggs, separated
 2 cups sugar
 Grated Peel and Juice of 1 lemon
 Dash salt
 1 cup concord grape jelly

Sift together flour, cream of tartar and baking powder. Beat egg yolks until very thick and lemon colored, about 5 minutes. Gradually add sugar and continue beating until mixture is smooth and pale yellow. Stir in lemon peel and juice. In a clean bowl, beat egg whites with salt until stiff peaks form. Gradually fold egg whites and flour into egg yolk mixture. Pour into 2 greased and floured 9-inch square cake pans. Bake at 325 degrees for 30 minutes or until cake begins to pull away from sides of pan. Loosen edges from pan and turn out onto cake racks to cool. When layers are cool, split each in half crosswise. Spread concord grape jelly between layers. Decorate with frosting and miniature flags. Makes 10 servings.

HOLIDAY WEEKEND BEVERAGE

1 quart concord grape drink, chilled
 1/4 cup lime juice
 2 teaspoons pre-sweetened iced tea mix
 Lime wedges
 Mint leaves

Combine concord grape drink and lime juice. Add iced tea mix and stir until dissolved. Serve in tall glasses garnished with lime wedge and mint leaves. Makes 4 servings.

Dickinson Gave Charters After Loan

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Florida Comptroller Fred O. "Bud" Dickinson was paid $26,000 from Cocoa Beach banker Tom Dolan in 1973 while Dolan had two applications for bank charters pending before Dickinson, the St. Petersburg Times reported today.

The newspaper said in a copyrighted story that Dolan received both charters after Dickinson received the money last May.

Eight months later — after learning that agents of the Internal Revenue Service had begun a criminal investigation of his tax records — Dickinson returned the money to Dolan without interest, the Times reported.

Dolan subsequently asked Dickinson for interest on the money, the newspaper said. The money was referred to in correspondence between Dickinson and Dolan as a personal loan rather than bank loan, the report said.

The Times said details of the transaction were confirmed Wednesday by Dickinson's longtime personal secretary, Mamie Mitchell, 65, in a telephone interview from her Tallahassee office.

"The check (from Dickinson to Dolan) was in repayment of a loan," Mrs. Mitchell was quoted as saying. "It was in connection with his farm." Dickinson has a farm in the Tallahassee area. "We sent the check to Mr. Dolan and he wrote back and said how much the interest was and then we paid it to him," the newspaper further quoted Mrs. Mitchell as saying. "I don't recall how much the interest was. It was a personal loan."

Mrs. Mitchell testified for several hours last Thursday and Friday before a federal grand jury in Tampa which is investigating Dickinson. The probe reportedly centers on Dickinson's methods in granting state bank charters and on his personal financial dealings.

The 18-member panel recessed Wednesday and was scheduled to reconvene next Tuesday. The parade of witnesses in the 11-day-old investigation included Dickinson himself, his chief deputy, Burrell Mawhinney, Dolan, and a host of bankers and lawyers from around the state.

There are unconfirmed reports that Sen. President Mallory Horne, D-Tallahassee, will be called to testify about business deals he has been involved in with Dickinson.

Horne said in Tallahassee late Wednesday that he has not been subpoenaed. He has acknowledged that IRS agents have questioned him about his business dealings with the comptroller.

Dolan has received the last three charters issued for banks in Brevard County.

Board Picks Negotiator Hart

By MARK WEINTZ
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County Board Wednesday passed a bill giving approval to hire a professional negotiator from Washington D.C. to bargain collectively with county teachers in areas of the Florida Legislature says are open to negotiate.

(Related Story Page 2A)

The Florida Senate Wednesday passed a bill giving public employees (teachers included) the right to bargain collectively, but the bill was an amended version of the one passed in a House vote about two weeks ago. The main difference is the Senate added a provision to limit the scope of bargaining to cover only salary negotiations and eliminate grievance considerations. The Senate sent the bill back to the House.

The school board, unaware of Senate action, but anticipating it, opted to hire Jerry Hart on a variable contract. School Supt. William E. Layer said he is asking a flat fee of $10,000, the remainder of the year or $60 a day plus $100 a day expenses. The board tentatively hired Hart on a daily basis, keeping the option open to retain his services on a flat fee basis should the negotiations become lengthy.

The motion to fire Hart must be approved at the board's next meeting. It requires a second reading because the money has not been budgeted and must come out of contingency funds.

Bargaining collectively is a decade-old issue that was first proposed by the Seminole Education Association (SEA) in its first year of organization and in each subsequent year. Until recent Florida Supreme Court decisions gave public employees the right to bargain collectively and abolished their right to strike the bargaining requests were ungranted.

This year was the first teachers were able to put some bite in their requests. Earlier when the board said it would wait for state guidelines before implementing bargaining the teachers threatened to sue the school board.

The board affirmed its position to negotiate, but not until bargaining guidelines were passed by the legislature. Board Atty. Douglas Stenstrom said, "This is a new road and should we implement our own guidelines for bargaining. When the legislature later passes down its guidelines we would be required to follow them."

The board had voted April 24 to hire a unnamed negotiator and Wednesday they named Hart but the Senate still had not formulated guidelines and the Florida Supreme Court threatened to write them should they not be completed during this session of the legislature.

SEA spokesmen at the Wednesday meeting declined to set a time for beginning negotiations.

At a previous meeting SEA spokesmen charged the board had the right to begin bargaining despite lack of state guidelines. The spokesmen then said the guidelines would require interpretations and the process would be delayed unreasonably.

The board hired Hart despite a recommendation by Layer to utilize the free services of a local professional negotiator who wished to remain anonymous.

Board Member Stuart Culpepper said, "This is the Board's ballgame, not the superintendent's, and I move we hire Hart on a day to day basis."

When Hart is brought in the board indicated it will call an executive session — closed to public and press — to instruct him on terms.

The bill that passed the House and Senate and returned to the House for reconsideration gives stronger powers to negotiating "out of the sunshine." The board has already called two executive sessions, one of which was held and the other cancelled because it was ruled illegal by Stenstrom, who advised the board minutes before the second session was to begin that such sessions could only be called when the board wished to instruct negotiators or hear their reports. At that time the board had named no negotiators.

Impeachment Panel Gets Jury Evidence

WASHINGTON (A) — The House Judiciary Committee is getting its first look at the celebrated briefcase full of grand jury evidence relating to President Nixon's role in the Watergate cover-up.

(Related Stories 12A)
The material, forwarded to the committee for its impeachment inquiry by Judge John J. Sirica of U.S. District Court, has been examined by the chairman, ranking Republican member and chief staff lawyers, but has not been available to committee members until today.

Now, after months of being kept in the dark about it and other evidence gathered by the closed sessions probably would continue through next week, after which a decision will be made on opening them.

Another decision facing the committee is what to do about Nixon's refusal to give it any more Watergate material. The committee has subpoenaed tapes of 42 presidential conversations dealing with Watergate and has a request pending for 76 more.

At a Democratic caucus Wednesday there was unanimous support for issuing a new subpoena, but divided opinion on when it should be issued and what it should cover.

The most likely course to be followed was suggested by the senior Republican, Rep. Edward Hutchinson of Michigan, at a news conference with Rodino.

Hutchinson said that when gaps appear in the presentation of evidence and Chief Counsel John Doar says they could be filled by material sought from the White House, the committee could decide then whether to request it again.

Hutchinson said that rather than issue a subpoena, he would prefer to negotiate the matter with Nixon's lawyer, James D. St. Clair, who will be in the committee room during the presentation.

But the Democrats and Doar appear to prefer a subpoena. Doar said at the news conference the issuance of a subpoena is the orderly, lawful way to proceed.

"It isn't a question of whether we will issue a subpoena, but when," said Rep. Charles Rangel, D-N.Y.

Rodino said the opening phase of the presentation of evidence will be limited to Watergate.

JUDGE SIRICA

I have mixed emotions regarding the public disclosure law. I'm not against it per se. How comprehensive the report (and I'm told that it's more penetrating than even your annual income tax form), is what bothers me.

As an example, a public official would have to divulge such information as how much he paid for his wife's ring, etc. To give you an idea of what some others have to say on the subject, read the comments of Ohio Gov. John J. Gilligan—

"Five years ago I would have considered a request to make my personal financial records an invasion of my privacy. But in the light of the scandals of government in recent years, olimized by the continuing revelations growing out of the Watergate break-in, I now feel that the invasion of privacy is warranted if the people of this state and the nation are to regain their faith in their elected and appointed leaders."

Why do you think there's been all of this price juggling, 'shortages', etc., in the oil field? Obviously, some of it pertains to making a quick buck. But, I believe there's more to it. At least I'd be willing to accept the comments of William A. Vogel, acting U.S. deputy assistant secretary for Energy and Minerals — "The age of petroleum is a limited age... it is my opinion that the present value of petroleum in the next decade is much greater than its future value 30 years from now."

Is the man trying to tell us that a new fuel is waiting for us around the next corner, but before we can use it... we have to pay-off the oil moguls first?
